The history of the Army and Navy Union dates from March 1, 1898, when veterans of the United States army obtained articles of incorporation for an organization to be known as the Regular Army of the Union of the United States of America. A Dirty Feeling

"Have you ever taken a tall spin in an airplane?" "No, but I've been called upon to do so."

PRACTICALLY ON CASH BASIS

Little Real Credit Business is Done by Foreign Firm Operating in China.

When a foreign firm opens up in China one of its first cares is to select a comrade, writes "Americana" in Asia magazine. This individual is usually a wealthy merchant of the town with considerable property. He becomes, not an employee, but a kind of associate of the foreign business man, and while keeping up in many cases his own independent commercial ventures, he establishes an office connection with the firm's office, where he acts as intermediary for all transactions with Chinese customers. No Chinese order is booked without his approval, for he takes the place of our "credit man" and knows who can be trusted and to what extent. In that he differs from the credit man in that he, in return for a commission on the transaction, assumes full responsibility for it and pays up himself if the customer defaults. Being a man of property he can do this, and to make assurance doubly sure, the foreigner usually requires him to deposit security in the form of title deeds to land or even cash in some cases. When the goods are finally delivered it is not usual to give long credits. In one of the principal parts of China payments are usually made at once through what are called native bank orders, i. e., checks dated five or ten days ahead and certified by some Chinese bank. In other words very little real credit business is done, according to our idea of that term, and it is consequently not surprising that there are so few losses.

The Friendly Water Trip

It's a queer world. Sunday we spent in a friend's boat, making the trip to Wallaceburg, Ont. Along that stretch of blue water we passed every sort of people in every sort of boat, and in every instance we waved a hand in greeting to them and they waved to us. It was no trick at all to get a warm and genial sign of friendship from passersby. The people on land saluted us. It seemed as though we were continually being welcomed as we arrived in sight and wished good luck as we departed.

Yet on land we could have passed by the same people time after time and not one of them would have turned to look or wave a hand. Why can't people be as friendly to land travelers as they are to those who travel by water? It's a queer world.—Cleveland Leader.

ABOUT LOVE AND MARRIAGE

Signs Reveal Something, but Fact Remains That We All Have to Take a Chance.

No man is ever really in love who can say so with all the ease, ardor and ecstacy of a stage lover. No man ever loved a woman just because she was good. The man who says pretty things to his wife all the time may have had lots of practice either before or since his marriage.

The husband who never gives his wife a decent word or a compliment would knock down any other man who would treat her in the same way. The sincerest lovers are those who are tongue-tied, and don't know where to put their feet.

A man who seems very stupid in a crowd can often be extremely interesting in a dimly-lit, cosy corner with only one other person present.

There are two kinds of courage—the courage of the limelight, which prompts a nice young man in white ducks to jump overboard after a girl's handkerchief, and the real courage that makes a man face the horrors of a fashionable wedding, the torture of meeting the hills of a housekeeping apartment, and the agonies of walking the floor all night with a baby. The two are seldom coupled in one young man.

The first wife of a widower never was such an angel as she seems to him after his second marriage.

A man is like a piece of cloth—warranted to wash—and matrimony is the laundry. It may improve him, give him stretch and freshen him up, or it may take all the color out of him. You have to take the chances.—Pittsburgh Inquirer.

wouldn't Give Up Easily. Mother was to entertain company, so Billy was put to bed earlier than usual. Billy resented this, and as an excuse said he didn't like to have the women see him in bed when they went upstairs to lay aside their wraps.

Mother explained that as the women lived near by and because it was such a warm night the guests would come without hats or coats. It looked like bed for Billy, but as a last resort he said, "Oh, but, mother, surely they will wear their summer furs."

Willard STORAGE BATTERY. Uniformity. Uniformity is the secret of success of any good product. It's the reason Willard Batteries with Threaded Rubber Insulation are making such a wonderful record of long life without repair. Ordinary materials used for insulation between battery plates are taken just as they come from nature and can't be made uniform by any process. But Threaded Rubber Insulation is built up by scientific manufacture. Every piece of it is like every other and almost invariably Threaded Rubber lasts as long as battery plates. No wonder many of these batteries have given three and four years of unbroken rapid good service. Drop in and get the whole story. Plymouth Storage Battery Co. C. V. Since Sunday hunting is illegal in Oakland county, the farmers over the Livingston county line are getting more than their share of the Sunday nimrods. One Pleasant Valley resident says the big woods over that way, last Sunday, sounded as if the German army was thereabouts. There is some talk of having an organization that will post all the farms in its territory and prosecute trespassers.—Milford Times.

An inquest into the death of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Knaggs was held in Ann Arbor in the court house, Thursday night. After most of the evening had been spent in hearing the various testimony, the decision was rendered that death was caused by an accident at Lay crossing, and that the death of Mr. Knaggs occurred first, which means that the property left will go to the relatives of Mrs. Knaggs. Mr. and Mrs. Knaggs were killed recently when their automobile was struck by an interurban car.—Ann Arbor, Washtenaw Post. Mr. Knaggs was a former resident of Canton township.

One of the new highway projects for this section is the plan now in view for converting the Novi-Northville road to the Base line, thence five miles east on the Base line, and thence north to the Grand River road into a 16-foot gravel road. This will make traveling around this part of the country easy and pleasant in every direction.—Northville Record.

Excitement prevailed in Ypsilanti, Sunday forenoon when two of the local sportsmen took a little stroll in the woods south of the city. As they were walking through the timber they were unexpectedly confronted by a human skeleton suspended from a limb of a small tree. Around the neck was tied a handkerchief, and to it was fastened a rope, the other end of which was fastened to the limb above. Little remained to prove the identity of the body, but it is believed to be that of a young man by the name of Schaffer, 19 years of age, who left home in June, last, and no word or trace of him has since been found.—Saline Observer.

HOT LUNCH IN OUR SCHOOLS

With the approaching of winter days, the boys and girls from the farm are wondering why something can't be done to make their school lunches better.

The Boys' and Girls' clubs come in here and assist the teacher in organizing a Hot Lunch club. A number of schools in Wayne county are already lining up on this. Last week the Brainard school in Dearborn township; the Hanford school in Canton; the Buckhorn school in Van Buren; the Belleville school, the Maple Grove school in Brownstown, and the Sand Hill school in Taylor, were organized.

Miss Margaret Hutty of the M. A. C., assisted County Leader Stewart in the work. Mr. Stewart expects at least fifteen schools to start serving one hot dish as a part of the lunch by December 1st.

This Means You. When you get up with a bad taste in your mouth, a dull tired feeling, no relish for food and are constipated, you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only cause an agreeable movement of the bowels, but cleanse and invigorate the stomach and improve the digestion.—Adv't.

When Harold Bell Wright began work on "The Eyes of the World," he was a resident of Redlands, Cal. This story, which has had a sale of nearly 2,000,000 copies (which means, according to the publisher's accepted ratio of five readers to each sale, about 10,000,000 readers), has been put into elaborate cinema form by the Cline Company, and is to be seen for the first time in Plymouth at the Penman Allen theatre on Wednesday evening, Nov. 19th.

An interesting incident in connection with this fact was related recently by Mr. Wright when the work of translating the book into motion pictures was under way. Much of this work was done in Redlands, for it is the common belief that the author put into the story people whose prototypes he observed while pastor of the church there.

The author's indictment of "society" did not refer specifically to Redlands, but applied equally well to any other community where wrongful social tendencies are in evidence—and that means practically every good-sized American community nowadays.

So it seems Fairlands, the scene of many of the incidents of the story, is not a thinly disguised pseudonym for Redlands, but only happens to be the name that sprang into the mind of Mr. Wright for the purpose of his tale of fiction.

Methodist Mention

Fifteen men from the Plymouth Methodist church have been attending the great Laymen's Convention at Central church, Detroit, this week, at which has been presented the evangelistic program of the year, involving the winning of a million lives for Christ and the church before July 1, 1920. The Plymouth men, all of whom were registered and paid a registration fee, are: Wellington Newell, William Sutherland, Howard Burden, E. T. Cope, Robert Jolliffe, G. W. Richwine, I. N. Dickerson, William Tait, C. H. Hammond, Rev. F. M. Field, E. A. Hill, E. V. Jolliffe, Charles Sedley, Blake Fisher and W. B. Lombard. The convention closed Thursday evening with Bishop E. H. Hughes and Bishop Henderson as speakers. Almost the entire official board attended some of the sessions.

The members of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary societies and their respective husbands and wives enjoyed a pleasant supper at the church, Tuesday evening, in honor of the new members and the honorary members. Rev. F. M. Field acted as toastmaster and called upon Mrs. W. J. Stewart, Mrs. I. N. Dickerson, Mrs. F. M. Field and Mrs. E. T. Cope, who gave reports of recent missionary conventions at Detroit and Flint.

Chicken pie, the mention of which carries one back to the days of long ago, is to be the main attraction at a supper given by the Third division of the Ladies' Aid at the church tonight, Friday.

Mrs. Louisa B. Packard, whose genial presence is so much appreciated at church when she is able to attend, was seventy-nine years old last Monday, and a number of friends met at her home, 270 South Mill street, and helped her spend a pleasant afternoon.

A needed and much appreciated addition has been made to the equipment of the church through the kindness of Mrs. Nelson Cole, who has loaned a piano for use in the basement social rooms. The piano is especially appreciated in the prayer meeting and Epworth League meetings, as well as in the social gatherings of the church organizations.

Our district superintendent, Rev. E. J. Warren of Detroit, will be out next Wednesday evening to conduct the first quarterly conference at 8:00 o'clock. This will not interfere with the young people's meeting, which will begin at 7:00 o'clock.

Next Sunday will be a big day in the Methodist church, with all the services conducted by the gospel team from the University of Michigan. Followed by the special meeting next week Sunday should mark a high mark in the evangelistic life of the church.

Sunday, November 23, is the first of the four high days of the year, for the gathering of new recruits to the Christian forces. Several have already made the great decision and are ready to confess their Lord by uniting with the church that day.

Sunday, November 30, is Good Literature Day, when a drive will be made to put the Michigan Christian Advocate into every Methodist home in Michigan.

If you know of an item of news, tell us about it.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Charles E. Birch:

He was a young American hero,
A mother's eldest son;
Ready to fight on the battlefield,
His duty nobly done.

Sad was the news
I received Peace Day:
That the life of our dear Charles
Had been taken away.

He nobly answered his country's call,
Bravely stood at his post
To live or to fall.
Little we thought when we bade him good-bye.

That it was the last and he was to die.
Our loss is great, will not complain,
But trust in God to meet again.
His loving Mother, Brothers and Sisters.

Overland 4

Tested 250,000 Miles Three-Point Cantilever Springs Greatest Improvement Since Pneumatic Tires

OVERLAND 4 has been put through the most thorough and severe test possible. 250,000 miles of mountain trails, desert sand, heat, cold, mud and dust, demonstrated the quality of every part of the car long before we began manufacturing.

This remarkable test showed conclusively that Three-Point Cantilever Springs, exclusive with Overland, are the greatest improvement in riding comfort since the introduction of pneumatic tires.

They protect the car from road shocks and prolong the life of every part. They enable the wheels to hold better to the road. They give greater comfort under all road conditions. They do away almost entirely with side sway and rebound which twist and rack the car.

Diagonal attachment of the Three-Point Springs at both ends of a 130-inch Spring-base gives the steadiness and smooth riding of the heavy car of long wheelbase.

Equipment is complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting System to Marshall Divan Spring Upholstery.

Come in and see this car. Ask for Booklet. Overland 4 Touring, $845; Roadster, $845; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375; Prices f. o. b. Toledo.

SCHOOL NOTES

The fifth grade have just finished some very interesting booklets of South America.

The pupils in the first and second grades are learning "Thanksgiving Day," written by Lydia Maria Child.

The following second grade pupils were neither absent nor tardy for the month of October: Lawrence Birch, Edward Henry, Carlos Peck, Claud Rucker, Ruth Miller, Grace Smith, Roger Hoffman, Velda Larkins, Lewis Klinsky, Loretta Grove, Allan Postiff. The following received A's and A-: Clarice Hamilton, Eileen Arthur, Francis Learned, Marguerite Wood, LaVerne Birch.

Mrs. Max Hoffman, Mrs. August Miller and Mrs. John Williams visited the second grade recently.

All of the grades from the Kindergarten through the sixth grade are preparing for a Thanksgiving program.

The Plymouth Alumni played Northville High school in a game, which took place in Plymouth on Tuesday of this week. The former winning with a final score of 36-0.

Although the Northville boys were a trifle lighter than the Alumni boys, they put up a good fight. Penney and Eckles starred for the Alumni.

Plymouth's kick off to Northville started the game. No gain was made by Northville so the ball went over. Then the ball was carried down the field by the Alumni; finally Eckles made a touch-down. They missed the goal, the score was 6-0.

The rest of the game progressed in like manner. The first half ended with a score of 19-0 and when the final whistle blew the score was 36-0 in favor of the Alumni.

SCRATCH HEADS OVER INCOME TAX REPORT

Many Michigan farmers are already pondering over the details of the income tax reports, which they must fill out during the next few months, and many of them are finding that the job is going to be a difficult one. The man who does his bookkeeping in his head is finding that the tax report sheets call for much more fact than he has at his command.

"These reports are simple," says H. Graves, farm management specialist at the Michigan Agricultural College, "if the farmer has kept an account during the year and taken an annual inventory. If he has no record of his year's business, however, making the report is a difficult process."

"Rulings of the Commissioners of Internal Revenue permit farmers to report on the inventory basis, provided they keep some system of farm accounts that is accredited by the department. This is by far the easier and better method, because each year's business is reported according to the cash receipts."

Simple and practical farm account books, suitable for this purpose, can be secured from the county agricultural agents in all parts of the state.

MONSTER PREPARATIONS

A small army of mechanics and laborers are at work preparing the mammoth structures for the 1919 International Live Stock Exposition. This essential preliminary task, in order that we may fitly celebrate the Twentieth Anniversary event, is being conducted on a more elaborate scale than ever before.

Since the inauguration of the exposition, it has been the policy of the management to spare no expense to insure perfection in every detail. Owing to increased cost of material and labor, these details might have been neglected this year.

When the gates of the exposition are opened on November 29th, for the great live stock round-up of the season, the public will realize that regardless of obstacles and abnormal conditions nothing essential to the success of the exposition has been overlooked.

Brilliant Thoughts That Have Come to Men of Genius in Their Hours of Repose

There is a photograph, with which most of us are no doubt familiar, of Mark Twain at work in bed—holding his writing pad on his knees, and having the things he needed for his labor disposed about on tables on either side.

One of the best known lines in English poetry came into its author's head when he was actually asleep. While visiting at Minto, Thomas Campbell one evening went to bed early, with his mind full of a new poem.

Seizing his pen he put down the happy thought, changing "events to come" into "coming events," and over the nonheating cup, he finished the first draft of "Lochiel's Warning."

CHANGES IN ORBIT OF MOON
 Explains Fact That Eclipses Do Not Occur on or About Same Dates Every Year

Lunar eclipses always occur at full moon, or when the sun and moon are in opposition, and are caused by the moon passing through earth's shadow. As the moon in her course passes the sun once every month, and also places the earth between herself and the sun once a month, it is evident that if she moved in the plane of the ecliptic there would be either a total or annular eclipse of the sun and a total eclipse of the moon every month. They do not happen every full moon because the moon's orbit is inclined to the ecliptic the great circle of the heavens round which the sun seems to travel from west to east in the course of a year, allowing her to pass the sun to an angle of nearly 5 degrees and 9 minutes to the north and south of his track, preventing such a frequent occurrence of eclipses. From the magnitude of the angle of inclination of her orbit to the ecliptic an eclipse can only occur on a full moon happening when the moon is at or near one of her nodes, or points where her orbit intersects the ecliptic. Therefore, if the moon does not travel on the ecliptic, which would result in a lunar eclipse every full moon, it is logical to say that the moon does not follow the same orbit year after year. If the moon followed the same orbit year after year lunar eclipses would occur on or about the same dates every year, but the fact is that they might occur any full moon.—Kansas City Star.

GRIZZLY IS FAST VANISHING
 Final Disappearance of Really Noble Animal Will Be Regretted by All Who Know Him.

The grizzly bear has been known to the white race little more than a century. Lewis and Clark wrote the first official accounts of him in 1805, and he was first discussed publicly in 1814 by Gov. De Witt Clinton in New York city. Guthrie's geography says that he was named Ursa horribilis by Naturalist George Ord in 1815. Fossil records indicate that the grizzly is of Asiatic origin. He appears to have come into America about a million years ago over one of the pre-historic land bridges that united Alaska and Asia. Bears and dogs are descendants from the same parent stock. The grizzly bear never eats human flesh, is not ferocious and fights only in self-defense. He leads an adventurous life, is a horn explorer and ever has good wilderness manners—never makes attacks. The numerous cases in which the grizzly has been made a pet and companion of man, where he was thoughtfully, intelligently raised, show him to be a superior animal, dignified, intelligent, loyal and uniformly good-tempered. Not a grizzly exists in any of the four national parks of California, and that animal, once so celebrated in that state, is extinct there. He is also extinct over the greater portion of the vast territory which he formerly occupied, and is verging on extermination.

Presbyterian Notes

On account of illness the pastor was not able to conduct the evening service, last Sunday evening. He had been confined to the house for several days and was not able to go out on Sunday at all, but conducted the morning service and the T. F. S. class. He will deliver the sermon that was scheduled for last Sunday evening on next Sunday evening. It is the third in the series on questions that are asked. He was confined to the house Monday and Tuesday also. Mrs. Bicknell and the children are also suffering with severe colds, and Mrs. Bicknell is having great difficulty with her throat.

The board of trustees held a very interesting and important meeting at the Mansie, last Monday evening, when important matters were discussed. The night of meeting was changed to the last Monday night in the month instead of the second. The next regular meeting will be on November 23rd, when the budget of the church will be considered and the plans made for the financial drive. A full meeting of the board is expected at that meeting.

The Girls' Community Club gave a semi-banquet and handkerchief show in honor of their first bride-to-be, Miss Madeleine Bennett, Monday evening. Twenty-four pieces were laid, and after a most delightful feed, Miss Bennett was surprised to discover a delightful assortment of handkerchiefs attached to baby ribbons. The handkerchiefs were hidden under the beautiful pieces of the banquet table. Miss Bennett was a most happily surprised young lady. The girls report a delightful time. The club is to be congratulated upon its fine interest and activity. They are planning some splendid times for this winter and some fine services for the church. It is to be regretted that more of the congregation did not attend the social and party the girls gave last Friday night, and to which all were invited. They had a most delightful time in spite of the cold turn-down by the members of the church and congregation. The people do not know what they missed. The girls cleared a neat little sum for their treasury.

On account of Mr. Bicknell's illness, the Sunday-school conference was postponed until next week. It is hoped that the conference can be held some time next week to plan for the Christmas work.

The Women's Missionary society met with Mrs. Park, last Wednesday afternoon, and enjoyed a most delightful meeting. Mrs. Park is a royal hostess and everyone was assured of a warm welcome and fine meeting at her home, and they were not disappointed.

The women are working hard getting prepared for a big day, and all anticipate a splendid time and abundant opportunity to purchase beautiful and useful things.

The Radish.
 Who disdains the humble radish? Certainly not Miss Trouard-Ridde, a young French woman who has chosen the radish as the subject of her thesis for the doctor's degree of the Faculte de Paris. The radish, it now turns out, is no mere mushroom of the vegetable world. Besides its edible qualities it wears the halo of tradition. Hence the enthusiasm of Miss Trouard-Ridde. She has discovered, after arduous research, that the radish was known of the Egyptians and of the Chinese. As yet research has not provided any clue to the whereabouts of the radish from the early times to the beginning of the fifteenth century, when it entered France in varied coats of black, of white, and red. It must be left to Miss Trouard-Ridde, or others of the same indefatigable curiosity to discover.

Biscuit of Ancient Origin.
 The biscuit is in reality the oldest form of bread. Nobody knows when the process of fermentation was introduced in baking, but it is certain, that the making of simple cakes with flour and water and without yeast—that is, biscuits—dates from the highest antiquity, for such biscuits have been found among Neolithic remains. The Greeks and Romans had advanced from the primitive form of bread, but they baked biscuits for special occasions, for use in military campaigns and on voyages. The Romans called this form of bread "panis nauticus," while the Greeks used for it a term meaning "bread twice put into the fire." The word biscuit means, of course, twice baked, but the ancient practice of a double baking has long been abandoned.

Real Butterflies as Ornaments.
 The mounting of real butterflies as military ornaments is a work of great skill, and one in which the clever fingers of the Frenchwoman are almost indispensable. The insect to be utilized is first left for a day upon damp sand in order to soften it and make it easier of manipulation. Both sides of the wings are then covered with a transparent white alcohol varnish, and it is at once backed with infum of an appropriate shade, according to a writer in Wide World. When dry, this stuff is carefully cut round so as to exactly fit the butterfly, which is then mounted on a wire—a light and graceful object for a soldier.

A Good Cough Medicine for Children.
 Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Boston, Ga., pleased to J. M. Floyd, the merchant there for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and said she had bought a bottle of it at his store recently, and that it was doing her child so much good that she wanted to keep the bottle. You will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in children or for yourself. It keeps the cough loose, expectation easy and soon frees the system from the cold.—Adv.

UNIVERSITY MEN ARE COMING

U. OF M. TEAM HERE SATURDAY AND SUNDAY.

The arrangements are perfect and I am sure there is much in store for all of us," is the message received from the bunch of University of Michigan fellows, who are to be in Plymouth, Saturday and Sunday, this week-end. The team is captained by Neal Ireland, a senior law student, and the other members of the team are Joyce M. Stedman, Junior Business Administration; Mr. Dillon, Junior English; Leslie Bettison, Sophomore Medicine, and Mr. Truscott, Freshman English.

The boys will arrive Saturday, and Saturday evening will stage a big University party in the social rooms of the Methodist church, to which the young people of the community are invited. There will be songs and yells, plenty of "Michigan" spirit, and games and stunts that college students know best how to put on. Ice cream and nabiscoes will top off the evening's pleasure.

To demonstrate that college men not only know how to have a good time, but have considered the deeper things of life, the team will have charge of all the services in the Methodist church on Sunday, and deliver straight out messages on the claims of christianity. Some of the boys will speak at the morning and evening services, 10 a. m. and 7 p. m., and also have charge of the Epworth League meeting at six o'clock.

ROMAN HOMES IN ENGLAND

Researches of Antiquarians Have Brought to Light Many Things of Historical Interest.

A side road leads to the left from the Fosse Way of ancient memory, and winds along a valley beside the early wanderings of the Colne, in the English Cotswold country, a writer in the Christian Science Monitor says.

The car, chugging its way up the road comes to rest at last beneath the trees which crowd around the Roman villa, at Chedworth, and a patchwork carpet of sun and shadow invites to idle loitering in the warmth of a spring day. But suddenly one is ushered into the twilight of the Roman occupation, to gaze on fragments of mosaic flooring and scattered pillars and bricks and stones, all that remains of the prosperous home of some rich Roman who settled here in the dawn of English history.

The beautiful coloring and design of the mosaic floors are not more striking than the hollowed bricks, and furnaces which tell of wonderful heating arrangements, of greater efficiency than that of which most modern English houses can boast.

Here, beside the villa, laundries and baths would appear to have been a small bustling establishment, which must have once made the place a little hive of industry amid the wild surroundings of Britain.

All this lay undiscovered through the centuries till men came and unearthed it from the dust and debris and fallen leaves of well-nigh two thousand years.

Friendship.

You must make your own friends. Some men are born with a natural disposition to be friendly. Other men with equal brains are born with natures that do not easily make friends. The man needs to be careful that he does not make too many friends, and the other needs to cultivate his few, and cherish them. Both men need a shipwreck of life by which the natural bent of their lives is dominated. Some folks may say a man should make his friends among those he is able to help. That may be all right, but as a rule a better rule is to make friends who will help themselves. The tendency is to make friends of those whom life appeals to us without regard to profit. But the wise man will take stock of the friends he makes and cultivate those who help him to be a better man. He needs the incentive and is able to group with a man. To make friends you must show yourself friendly.

Look! Listen!

You who have bought lots on Amelia, Farmer, Spring, Liberty, Rose or Mill streets, do not sell your lots at a fifty per cent and more advance, that we know some of you have been offered, because you think you may be troubled to get drainage.

Don't worry. Last spring when there was water, water everywhere and the cellars and basements were flooded, in many sections of Plymouth, not a single family who built on the Starkweather estate were so annoyed, due to the fact that Lou Hillmer saw to it that people had drains as soon as needed and he will continue that policy, and will do more for you than the village authorities would consider. Think it over before you sell.
