Quality Cleanliness Skill

THESE THREE THINGS MAKE

Liggett's Chocolates

Most preferred by lovers of good candy. Every ingredient is the purest obtainable. Every precaution is taken to provide absolute cleanliness, even to dust-proof packages. Every white-clad worker is an adept at the art of highest-class candy making. That's why Liggett's Chocolates are so delicious. That's why they are so delightfully different and so much more satisfying than many chocolates that cost you much more. That's why we handle Liggett's—because we feel that in them we have the kind that will do more than any other to build and maintain the high reputation of our candy department.

WOOD-BENNETT

Possibly the most brilliant social event of the season and it can be said with candor for many seasons, was the marriage of Miss Madeleine Louise Bennett, daughter of Mr. Edgar K. Bennett, to Mr. William L. Wood, last Tuesday evening at six o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Luther Moore Bicknell, M. A., pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The beautiful home of the bride, where the ceremony took place, was most artistically decorated with ferns, smilax, palms and white and pink chrysanthemums. The fire-place in the parlor was a mass of palms, smilax and white chrysanthemums, and made a most beautiful wedding bower. The dining room was decorated in smilax and pink chrysanthemums with pink shaded lights.

The bride was played by Miss Louise Wilson, who played most beautifully Sousa's wedding march, to the strains of which the bridal party took their places under the bower at the altar. The bride was given away by her father. She was most becomingly gowned in white satin with an over dress of georgette, made with a court train of white tulle, caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, baby chrysanthemums and orange blossoms.

The maid of honor, Miss Louise Wilson, wore a gown of pink tulle, silk, embroidered in silver, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bridal party was preceded by two ribbon bearers, little Junior Bennett and Lois Bennett, cousins of the bride. Little Miss Bennett wore a bewitching gown of white net over pink tulle with ruffled trimmings. Master Bennett was becomingly attired in a white suit. They preceded the party and formed a ribbon pathway for the bride party to the altar.

Four young ladies, friends of the bride acted as ushers. They were Miss Pauline Peck, Miss Caroline Penney, Miss Ruth Hixson and Miss Velda Bogert of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. E. C. Leach, grandmother of the bride was gowned in a handsome gown of black lace over steel satin. Mrs. Wood of Beausville, Ontario, mother of the groom was gowned in a beautiful gown of black tulle. George, Miss Galton, who played the wedding march, wore a most bewitching gown of pale blue net over chiffon.

The best man was Mr. A. Clarence McArthur of Beausville, Ontario, a close friend of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at which congratulations and best wishes were extended by the some sixty guests present. The bride presented to her maid of honor and the pianist beautiful gold fillet bracelets set with sapphires. The little ribbon bearers received pretty little booklets of children's stories.

tions of the village and community are extended to the happy couple and we welcome them as members of our community life in this new relationship.

OPENING NUMBER NEXT WEDNESDAY

ROBERT WASSMAN WILL APPEAR AS FIRST ATTRACTION ON THE CITIZENS' ENTERTAINMENT COURSE, WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 26, AT THE PENNIMAN ALLEN THEATRE.

Robert Wassman, magician, who comes here on the Citizens' Entertainment course, Wednesday evening, November 26th, at the Penniman Allen Theatre, is most highly accredited. He has appeared in many of the largest cities of the country, and his work has been highly commended everywhere.

"Mr. Wassman," says the Paducah, Ky., News-Democrat, "for an hour and a half entertained the audience with such magic as is rarely seen outside of India. The audience expected something good from a performer of Mr. Wassman's reputation, but were more than pleased that he surpassed their expectations."

Concerning Mr. Wassman the Chicago Evening American recently had the following comment: "They clapped their hands and concluded the magician was the most wonderful man who ever existed."

The Wabash, Ind., Daily Times said after one of Mr. Wassman's entertainments: "The magic feats of Wassman are marvelous."

Seats tickets are now on sale at Pinckney's Pharmacy, Schrader Bros., Pettigill & Campbell, Gayde Bros., and Beyer Pharmacy. Price, $1.50. Single admissions are 50c. There are no reserve seats this year. There are six numbers on the course this season, and each and every one is a headliner. Buy your tickets now.

FREE BAND CONCERT NEXT SUNDAY

The Millard band will give a free band concert in the High school auditorium next Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. A fine program to last one and a half hours has been arranged, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Calvin Whipple will sing several numbers during the concert.

REUNION OF SCHOOL FRIENDS

Miss Rose Hawthorne, assisted by Mrs. E. C. Robinson, was pleasantly entertained ten ladies, some of whom were Detroit, Michigan, and Plymouth friends, on Saturday, November 15, the occasion being a happy reunion of school friends. A delicious dinner was served at one o'clock. The table was most attractively decorated by a large, colorful arrangement of fresh flowers and unique place cards of original design, which furnished considerable amusement for the guests.

A FINE CONCERT

The concert given by the Detroit High School Orchestra at the Plymouth High school on Friday, November 15, was a most successful one. The program consisted of a variety of pieces, and the performance was of a high order. The concert was well attended, and the audience was most appreciative.

THE RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

1920 RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP NOT YET COMPLETE.

The recent drive for renewal of old memberships and for the securing of new members in the Plymouth Branch of the Detroit Chapter of the American Red Cross has up to date brought in, in membership fees and donations, $718.48. It is very gratifying to the officers and workers to know that not only a large number of the old members have renewed their memberships, but a great many new members have joined. Nevertheless, it is also noted that as yet a large number of old members have not yet availed themselves of the privilege of renewing their Red Cross affiliations. Therefore, an opportunity will be given for all old members, who have not yet renewed their memberships, to do so without delay.

The officers of the Plymouth organization take this opportunity of extending their sincere thanks to Messrs. Pettigill & Campbell, the Corner Hardware Company and Beyer's Pharmacy for the privilege of using space in their stores during the period of November 3rd to 11th. Because of lack of time and space the names of the workers will be given next week.

FOOT BALL THANKSGIVING DAY

Plymouth High and Dearborn High school teams will meet on the local gridiron, next Thursday afternoon, in what promises to be one of the best games of the season, as these two teams are very evenly matched. Both elevens are out to win the big game of the season. The game will be called at 2:00 o'clock. Admission, 25c.

HILLS-WERVE

Raymond Hills, junior member of the firm of S. H. Hills & Son, milk dealers of this village, and Miss Hope Werve of Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, were married at the bride's home in that city, Wednesday, November 19. The bride has been a popular teacher in the public schools of her home city. The young couple left after the ceremony for a short wedding trip, and will be at home to their friends after December 1st, at 246 Blank avenue, Plymouth. The party Plymouth friends of the groom extended hearty congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous married life.

Mr. and Mrs. William Felt pleasantly entertained at a family dinner at their home on Fairground avenue, Plymouth, on Saturday, November 16, fifty-six guests, being Mr. Felt's sixty-third birthday. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Booth of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lundquist of Detroit; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Felt and son, Carl, of this place.

Furnace Time

If you are going to need a new furnace this fall do not delay placing your order another minute, as it is almost impossible for us to get them from the factory, so great is the demand. We were fortunate in placing our order some time ago, and consequently we have several of the Welcome Universal Furnaces on our floor at the present time. We can fully guarantee this furnace in every particular. Give us your order today and thus save delay.

of the boulevard system of lighting in the business districts of Plymouth. The business streets are dark and gloomy after the stores close in the evening, and do not present a very attractive appearance. Every up and going town has them, and Plymouth we hope will be among the number in the very near future.

DEATH OF MONROE PADDOCK

A DISCOURAGED EDITOR

The editor of a certain Minnesota paper seems to be discouraged. Otherwise he would not talk in this vein:
"Things have gotten into such a mess all around that it is difficult to write intelligently about anything. It is next to impossible to fix the blame for the awful conditions on any particular body or class of men or people. The world is topsy-turvy. It does seem that way at first glance, but all we need to do to find that the world is not topsy-turvy, nor the human race going to the dogs, is to go back over history and think to understand that present conditions are not new. Ask the older residents of Plymouth and they will tell you that the same conditions prevailed for almost eight years following the civil war.

There has always been trouble in the world—and disarrangements among the people. There has always been more or less unrest. There has never been a moment when the entire human race could say, "Now everything is all right, and we won't need to worry." There have always been problems, and it has taken the best thoughts of the best brains of all ages to solve them.
As for writing about it in the newspaper, why, there is so much to be done by the average editor to keep his head and his paper above water that he should be thankful we have brainy men who will, we firmly believe, bring us through our present "mess" and land us safely and happily on the other side of the turbulent stream we are forced to cross.

WE NEED THEM

At a meeting of the village commission, last Monday evening, the commission instructed the manager to prepare an outline for a fire district within the village, and also to have a building ordinance drafted. Both of these measures should have been enacted years ago, and the commission have acted wisely in providing a means of controlling these two matters, before the village gets any larger.

If you are not willing to do your part to help make your village cleaner and better, to bear your share of the burden necessary to build on a sure foundation, who do you expect is going to do your share of work in addition to his own, for every man has his own duty and his own obligation.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Post Will Meet—Regular meeting of Sergeant Myron H. Beals Post, No. 206, Veterans Foreign Wars, will be held at the village hall, Monday evening, November 24th, at 7:45 o'clock.

Entertained Playmates—Master Chase Willett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Willett, entertained seventeen playmates at his home on Holbrook avenue, last Tuesday afternoon, in honor of his eighth birthday. Games were the entertainment and refreshments were served.

Former Plymouth Man Promoted—The many Plymouth friends of L. C. Sherwood, a former Plymouth citizen, will be pleased to know that he has been promoted from assistant cashier of the Dime Savings Bank, Detroit, to the rank of one of the vice presidents of that growing institution.

Enjoyed Pot-Luck Supper—The members of the Pionette Dancing Club enjoyed the second pot-luck supper and informal dancing party of the season, given in the Penniman Allen auditorium, last Friday evening. Nearly fifty were in attendance. Music was furnished by Miss Gladys Schrader, piano; Daniel Patterson, violin; and Chas. Millard, trombone. All report a pleasant evening.

Water Line Survey Nearly Completed—Village Manager Brown has nearly completed the survey of a water supply line to the springs preparatory to making an estimate of the cost of a new pipe line that will have to be built, if Plymouth is to have water available for users and fire protection. The village commission are giving the water supply question considerable attention, that the matter may be brought to the attention of the voters at the spring election.

A Big Corn Crop—Michigan 1919 corn crop is the largest and best in years; the yield of beans, buckwheat and sugar beets are above the average and the yields of other crops are very close to the ten years' average. The acreage was large and if it had all been utilized as grains, the crop would have been $4,850,000 bushels. The yield of buckwheat is placed at 15 bushels per acre, compared to 10 bushels last year. The total potato crop is estimated at 29,304,000 bushels, as compared with 28,560,000 last year. The outlook for sugar beets improved materially since the first rains, but the conditions being 92 per cent as compared with 80 per cent one year ago.

Manager Occupying New Office—Manager Brown is again nicely settled in his office in the village hall, which during the past few weeks has been remodeled to make room to house the new fire truck, which is expected almost any day now. The manager's office is at the left of the entrance, while the council chamber takes in a part of what was the old auditorium. Back of the council chamber is a room with a seating capacity of about 150 people, which can be used for small meetings, etc. The rooms have been redecorated and new linoleum has been laid upon the floors. Everything is neat and clean, and altogether presents a most comfortable and inviting appearance.

Uncle Sam Returns Binoculars—When the United States entered the world war, the navy found itself short on binoculars, and as most of the lenses for these glasses had been imported from Germany, it was impossible to supply the officers on the many additional boats put into service. A call was sent out asking that individuals having a pair of binoculars loan them to the government. E. C. Mough of this village, was one who responded to the call of the navy department, and Monday the glasses were returned to him from Puget Sound, Alaska, where they had been in use on a submarine chase. This little incident just goes to show what a wonderful system Uncle Sam has for keeping "tab" on every man's affairs in the great affairs of our army and navy.

SAW COSSACK AT HIS BEST

Writer Waxos Enthusiastic Over Camp of Tired Men, "Soldiers to the Manger Born."

If you have read "Tarus Bulbs," Gogol's story of the Cossack, then you will know what I mean when I say that last night I had a chance to see a real picture of the Cossack, writes William V. Duncan in the Yale Review. It was at sunset when over the tops of the white birches the heavens looked as if on fire, while to the right the clouds were like waves rolling over a sea of pink. I heard a shout, "The Cossacks are coming," and through the opening in the woods rode these lovers of war. The horse and the rider are one; both were tired, but there was something that told you that if the bugle had blown all the tiredness would have fallen away. They are soldiers to the manner born. War is life to them. If a thing is worth having it is worth fighting for. Even when they gathered in groups around the common pails and borrowed one another's spoons to eat the common meal their bearing was that of soldiers. Pigs can feed from a trough and you go away disgusted, but when you see these fellows back from a fight, delving into their mess, you stand to admire. Their leader was fully six feet seven inches tall, with a beard that said he was Russian of the Russians. All were well-formed, strong men, hardened to the out of doors. Their eschelon was not there, so they made themselves at home for the night on the ground. It was a sight to remember as our train pulled out of from the station, those Cossack groups around the fire, singing the songs of war in which their spirits revel.

OWE APPLE TREES TO FRANCE

Canadians Got Their First Shoets From a Nobieman Who Was Associated With Champlain.

It was from France that apple trees were first brought to Canada. A French nobleman named De Monts was associated with Samuel de Champlain in France's earliest colonizing projects in part of North America. Their first colony was planted on the rocky island of St. Croix, now Doucett's or Neutral Island, at the mouth of the River St. Croix, which forms part of the present boundary between New Brunswick and the state of Maine. After spending there the winter of 1604-05, the colonists removed to Port Royal, now Annapolis, Nova Scotia. The colonists were getting a foothold when their charter was revoked by the king of France in 1607, and the enterprise came to an end. However, in the following year Champlain founded Quebec, and shortly afterwards De Monts sent out to Champlain some young apple trees. They were well grown in Canada. Twenty years later apple trees were introduced into that part of ancient Acadia that now forms the province of Nova Scotia.

Famous Women.

The comedy that was felicitously presented a season ago written around the life of George Sand was scarcely fair to her, though highly entertaining. George Sand, the genius, had her foibles, but she had a great brain. In her veins was the blood of kings and heroes, so, naturally, she was highly romantic and gathered into her category of passions the names of famous men of her time—the blazing epoch of genius, when Hugo, Balzac, De Musset, Dumas were at their zenith. Chopin, Heine and De Musset were George Sand's adores. Her real name was Amantine Lucile Aurore, Baroness Dudevant. As the author of "Consuelo," "Lella," "Valentine," she has a sure niche in the hall of fame. Her morals could bear reproach; she seemed to exact and excite love without loving. That she turned her varied sensory experiences into "copy" may or may not be true. That she was an inspiration to gifted men is an established fact. The perfect Nourture of Chopin arose in large measure, from her sorrows and joys with George Sand. She made $40,000 by her writings.

Gastronomic Animals.

One occasionally hears the question: "Is it Welsh rabbit or Welsh rabbit?" It is Welsh rabbit. "Rabbit" is only an altered form of the "rabbit," an afterthought intended to stimulate an absurd derivation from "rare" and "bit," as the Century dictionary characterizes it. "Welsh rabbit" itself is "genitive slang" and belongs to the class of names of jocular origin. There are many others; an Essex lion is a calf; a Fieldine duck is a baked sheep's head; Glasgow magistrates or Norfolk capons are red herrings; Irish apricots or Munster puns are potatoes; and Gravesend sweetmeats are shrimps, to name over a few examples taken from English usage. At the moment the only American samples that can be offered are the Albany beef (sturgeon) and Cape Cod turkey (codfish).

Pity for the Poor Post.

Many poets have complained to us because newspapers do not pay for poetry. Really, we do not think that poets should ask pay any more than someone should ask pay for sunshine, rain, the dew of the morning, starlight or the moon.

For all that those things are to the body, poetry is to the soul. Poetry, like virtue, should be its own reward. Moreover, there is an old maxim which says "Poets are born, not paid."—Los Angeles Times.

PENNIMAN ALLEN THEATRE

PROGRAM

Saturday, Nov. 22nd

D. W. Griffith presents "TRUE HEART SUSIE." She didn't wear the Paris fashions, didn't dream of a "coming out." She only loved, and helped him, and waited for him to speak. When he married another—a woman of a different sort—True Heart Susie helped him still, smiling to hide the tears. Tears? Yes, a few. But many smiles, and big scenes that thrill the soul, and a glorious joy at the end. Another great Griffith drama of human hearts, with Lillian Gish, Robert Harron and Clarine Seymour.

Douglas Fairbanks in "THE KNICKERBOCKER BUCKAROO." Hang the track! Go ahead! Let's go! That's "Doug's" policy! If the track's "gone on a bust" or if there's no steam—let's go anyway! "Damn the torpedoes; go ahead!" "Doug" starts out to do something for somebody in "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo." Doing it takes him through rip-roaring Arizona, into devil-riden Mexico, in—and out!—of a non-escapable jail. You know Fairbanks! And the story's as good as the best he ever had.

SCHOOL NOTES

Mrs. Shingleton visited the second grade, Monday.

Charles J. Miller, one of our first grade boys, has moved to Detroit.

Some of the children of the first grade are getting ready to participate in our Thanksgiving program.

Mrs. Randall visited school Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Williams visited the first and second grades on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. George A. Smith and Mrs. Mary Start of Detroit, visited the kindergarten on Wednesday, November 12th.

The sixth grade boys of the manual training department are beginning to make toys.

The seventh grade sewing class finish their aprons this week.

The entertainment Friday evening, given by Mrs. Underwood, assisted by her pupils and the Girls' Glee Club, directed by Miss Jewell, was exceptionally fine. Those who missed it, missed without doubt one of the best entertainments of the year. The playground debt was made about twenty dollars less through its share of the proceeds of this entertainment.

"Thanksgiving Song" by Gaynor; "Harvest Song" by Eleanor Smith—Second Grade.

The first and second grade overflow will be represented by four children, Gayland Doublt, William Brinkerhat, Helen Baker and Doris Dietrich in "The Strange Feast."

Recitation, "A Thanksgiving Letter to Grandma"—Beulah Coe, Third Grade Overflow.

"Sing the Shining Sickle" by Gaynor—Third Grade and Third Grade Overflow.

"Tiny Puritans," by Stanley Schell. An exercise of marching, pantomime, and song, by sixteen boys and girls from the Fourth Grade.

Recitation, "Thanksgiving Exercises"—Marion Williams, Fifth Grade Overflow.

"The First Thanksgiving," a little playlet given by seven members of the Fifth Grade, closing with singing, "Thanksgiving in Turkey-Land" by the entire Fifth Grade.

Thanksgiving Pantomime, given by children from the Sixth Grade and 6th Grade Overflow.

Local merchants are already beginning to arrange their Christmas displays of merchandise. The largest Christmas trade in years is predicted for this year.

CHURCH MEETINGS AT TRACT YOUNG PEOPLE

AT M. E. CHURCH THIS WEEK

Friendly meetings for the consideration of the appeal of the Christian life to young people, have been held every evening this week in the Methodist church, and considerable interest has been shown. With the exception of Thursday evening, when T. O. Huckle of Ypsilanti, business manager of the Evening Press, addressed an open meeting, the meetings have been conducted by the young people themselves with messages from local leaders. F. L. Barrows, president of the Epworth League, spoke Monday evening on "Simon, the Backslider." "The Young Man Who Wouldn't Pay the Price," was the theme presented by Coach B. J. Holcomb, Tuesday evening, in an appeal which every young man and woman in the community ought to have heard. Miss Adah Leach of the High school faculty, was the Wednesday evening speaker.

The meeting tonight at seven o'clock will be conducted by Howard Burden, and on Sunday evening the week's series will be completed by a message from Rev. F. M. Field on "When a Young Man Has Grown Old."

NEW ORGANIZATION STARTS BUSINESS

PLYMOUTH HOME BUILDING ASSOCIATION NOW NICELY UNDER WAY.

The Plymouth Home Building Association is now nicely under way. Subscriptions for stock in the new association are being received every day, and there is every indication that the organization will be as successful in Plymouth, as similar associations are in almost every live town in Michigan. During the past week, Secretary W. R. Shaw has sent out copies of the constitution and by-laws of the association to shareholders. Anyone desiring a copy can secure one at the office of the secretary at the village hall on Saturday evenings from 6:30 to 9:00, as well as any other information regarding the affairs of the association, which will be cheerfully given. The officers of the association have already received applications for loans by persons desirous of building homes, and there is every reason to believe that next spring will see a number of new homes erected through the Plymouth Home Building Association.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Becker, Mr. and Mrs. James Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spicer of the Plymouth Grange, attended the National Grange at Grand Rapids from last week Wednesday until Saturday. They were among 1561 candidates who took the 7th degree of the Grange.

LIVED LONG WITHOUT FOOD

Many Cases of Genuine Fasting Recorded Among the Many That Were Palpably Fakes.

When the cupboard is bare, and housekeeping funds are low, the poor taxpayer thinks of the fasting of the Carthusian monks, and wonders if that is the practical answer to his problem.

Apart from the obvious tricksters of the traveling fairs, there are many notable cases of genuine fasting.

In the year 1347, Cicely Lidgway was charged with the murder of her husband, and in order to impress the judges with her innocence, she fasted for 40 days and was acquitted, folks considering her salvation as a direct divine intervention.

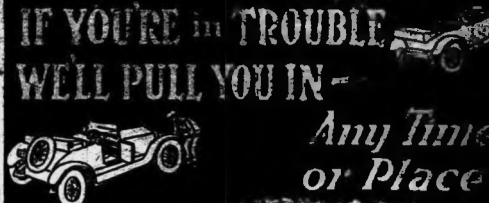

A well-known American medical man, Doctor Tanner of New York, fasted for 40 days in the summer of 1890, and lost nearly 42 pounds' weight in the process.

Louis Latteau, who died at the age of thirty-three in 1883, was said to have gone without food for 12 years!

Amongst the most famous of the fake fasters was "The Fasting Woman" of Tutbury, who claimed to have abstained from food for 20 months. She created a furore before being finally exposed in 1808.

A man named Cavanagh astonished the world by declaring that he had lived without food from February, 1830, until November, 1840, that is nearly two years, but on his statement being disproved he was imprisoned.—London Tit-Bits.

LIGHT THAT YET SHALL DAWN

Glorious Sign Promised, to Denote That All Men Are Determined to Be Free.

Look you, a while ago was the light bright about us; but it was because of the moon, and the night was deep notwithstanding, and when the moonlight waned and died and there was but a little glimmer in place of the bright light, yet was the world glad because all things knew that the glimmer was of day and not of night. Look you, an lounge of the time to betide the hope of the fellowship of men. Yet forsooth, it may well be that this bright slay of summer, which is now dawning upon us is no lounge of the beginning of the day that shall be; but rather shall that day-dawn be cold and gray and surly; and yet by its light shall men see things as they verily are, and no longer enchanted by gleam of the moon and the glamor of the dreamlike. By such gray light shall wise men and valiant... see the remedy, and deal with it, a real thing that may be touched and handled, and no glory of the heavens to be worshipped from afar off. And what shall it be, as I told thee before, save that men shall be determined to be free.—William Morris, in "A Dream of John Ball."

Franklin Had His Doubts.
The following speech was made by Benjamin Franklin at the convention which adopted the United States Constitution:

"Mr. President, I confess that I do not entirely approve this Constitution, but I am not sure that I shall never approve it. I have experienced many instances of being obliged by better information or fuller consideration to change opinions even on important subjects which I once thought right and found to be otherwise. In these sentiments I agree to this Constitution, with all its faults. If they are such, I doubt, too, whether any other convention we can obtain may be able to make a better Constitution. The opinions I have had of its errors I sacrifice to the public good. I cannot help expressing a wish that every member of this convention who may have objections to it would with me on this occasion doubt a little of his own infallibility and to make manifest our unanimity put his name to this instrument."

Siam's Amazon Guard.
Siam is one of the few countries which boast of a corps of women police. The members of this amazon guard are all old and homesly. They wear a uniform, but are not armed. Their chief duty is to act as gate keepers of the inner, or women's palace at Bangkok.

They follow any stranger who enters the palace and remain with him until he takes his departure. They see that there is no mischief made and that no one makes love to the royal wives and women. Men who have business inside the palace—doctors, architects, carpenters, electricians, etc.—enter the palace freely, but are always accompanied by some of the amazon guard. The palace has some difficulty in recruiting these guards, as the work is hard, they pay poor and the qualification uncomplimentary.

ICE AND RABBITS KILL FRUIT TREES

YOUNG ORCHARDS NEED PROTECTION AGAINST WINTER INJURY BY ANIMALS.

The trunks of young orchard trees need careful protection at this season of the year against injury during the winter from mice and rabbits. Fruit tree bark furnishes such a palatable food for these small animals that serious loss is very likely to occur in orchards that are not protected.

Trees that have been grown in sod or that have corn shocks stacked between the rows are particularly liable to injury from mice," says Prof. C. P. Halligan, head of the horticultural department at the Michigan Agricultural College. "On the other hand, trees that are in the neighborhood of thickets or brush run the same risk from rabbits.

"There is no patent paint or wash that we can recommend to apply to trunks of trees to prevent such injury. Many of the materials that are often recommended are very likely to injure the bark. The most desirable protection of the trunks is given by the use of one-fourth inch mesh galvanized screen. This should be wrapped around the trunk and pressed into the ground for a depth of from 4 to 6 inches. It should extend up to the frame-work branches. "Protection of this kind will effectively stop the animals from feeding."

FARMERS HAVE HEAD-QUARTERS AT SHOW

Michigan farmers who will attend the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago from Nov. 29 to Dec. 6, or the Hay and Grain Show at the same time, are planning to have a central headquarters so they can all be together.

The Hotel Brevoort, 120 Madison street, has been designated as "Michigan Headquarters," according to an announcement sent out by Frank Sandhammer, assistant state leader of county agents. Those who plan to attend the shows are advised to secure their hotel reservations at least a week in advance, as Chicago accommodations are expected to be taxed to the limit by the great crowds of farmers will gather from all over the country.

JACK TUTORS SELF ON TRACTOR POINTS

BELIEVES HE CAN BECOME EXPERT WITHOUT AID.

"Railroad Jack," the man who has his way of learning things and who claims that to be a genius it is necessary to possess original ideas in the line of memory training, is putting in his spare time revising the Fordson Tractor Manual that when he goes on the road demonstrating the machine he may teach prospective buyers the simple methods by which each one may do his own repair work, thus reducing the expense account to the lowest possible expenditure of time and money.

So confident of success is Jack that he will teach himself about all that can be known concerning his new field of activity, and to prove his ability he will give public exhibitions in the streets of Dearborn by taking a machine apart and putting it together again. He will then request those of his audience who wish to do so to question him as freely as they wish to for he likes to be quizzed about things he claims to understand.

When he was asked who is to furnish the money necessary to equip him in his transcontinental trip with a Fordson tractor, starting from this village next May, Jack instantly replied that the general public will be pleased to do so when given a chance to witness the original means employed by the memory expert in his lectures along the road and before the many colleges he expects to visit.

Ann Arbor students, who have all ways stood by Jack during his many visits among them within the past 25 years, will be the first ones to be given a chance to come across, he said.—Dearborn Press.

"Railroad Jack" visited Plymouth one day last week, and called at the High school building and the Mail office.

WOMAN'S LITERARY CLUB MEET

The fourth regular meeting of the Woman's Literary Club was held in the Kindergarten room at the school building, last Friday afternoon. The president, Mrs. C. H. Bennett, called the meeting to order at the appointed hour with twenty active, eleven associate members and one guest present. In the absence of Mrs. George Robinson, recording secretary, the vacancy was filled by Mrs. Robert Jolliffe. Roll call was responded to by giving the name of a Spanish explorer.

The program was in charge of the fourth division, Mrs. W. S. Thomas acting as leader. The first number was a violin solo by Miss Anna Baker, with Miss Evelyn Thomas at the piano. Two interesting papers on Ecuador were given during the afternoon, one by Mrs. Hulda Knapp and the other by Mrs. O. D. Pierce. Mrs. W. S. Thomas also read a short article on the same country. This concluded the program for the day.

The club adjourned to meet Friday afternoon, December 5th.

AGRICULTURAL ASSO. HELD MEETING

The past season has been a most successful one for the association, and the members are pleased with the showing made.

LIGHT STRAW DRESSING HELPS EXPOSED WHEAT

"A light top dressing of straw or straw manure is of great value as a protection against winter killing of fall wheat," says J. F. Cox, head of the farm crops department of the Michigan Agricultural College. Rye and new seedlings of alfalfa are also helped greatly by such protection. While the benefits are worth while on any field, they are particularly valuable on fields that are exposed badly to winds. Snow is, of course, a very effective covering for these crops, but damage when there is only a light snowfall and after spring thaws have melted off the covering makes the straw dressing advisable at all times.

By plowing their orchards in the fall whenever conditions permit, Michigan fruit growers can avoid much of the spring rush work according to Prof. C. P. Farmers in the Flat Rock and Willow sections of Wayne county are worried because they cannot get enough help to harvest the sugar beet crop, after working all season to insure a big yield. Late rains brought the beets to the front so that the yield is ranging from 12 to 16 tons to the acre and tests show a high percentage of sugar, but the regular workers have all returned to the city, and now the farmers are finding it impossible to get enough help to do the harvesting.

The work of improving the property about the new Ford dam at Phoenix is still progressing, and one would hardly know the surroundings. The land that is to be flooded when the dam is in operation is being cleaned of all rubbish and underbrush, and the trees which lined the banks have been cut down, and nothing is to be left that will mar the sightliness of what will be, when the work is completed, one of the beauty spots of Wayne county. Work on the new concrete bridge, to replace the old iron one, which is being built by the county, is going forward rather slowly.

While hunting rabbits in the marsh between the Conway and Keelan farms, two miles west of Chelsea, Sunday morning, Reuben Heier and Ed. Burton were considerably surprised to run across a number of safety deposit boxes, which had evidently been stolen from some bank vault, broken open and rifled of their contents and then dumped in the Conway-Keelan marsh. There were parts of two sections of safety deposit box rack, one arranged for 12 boxes and the other for 10 boxes. Only 17 boxes were found. The only scrap of paper found was a business card reading as follows: Harroum Motor Car, Detroit, W. W. Turner, Special Representative. It is presumed that the card was in one of the boxes and was dropped by the robbers who evidently removed all other paper of any nature whatever to avoid being traced.

You will find nothing better for coughs and colds in children or for yourself. It keeps the cough loose, expectorates it away and soon frees the system.

ENDED IDOLATRY IN HAWAII

Brave Act of Kapiolani, Daughter of Chief, Resulted in Establishing Christianity There.

No longer do the fire lakes in the great crater of Kilauea carry terror to the soul of Hawaii as a message from the dreaded fire god, Pele. It is a century since Kapiolani, daughter of Keawimanahili, high chief of the district of Hilo, and wife of Nathe, high chief of Kona, and the national orator, defied the fire goddess, and turned her people from the idolatry. Prior to that time the superstition ran that whenever Pele stamped her foot on the bottom of the volcano Mauna Loa, her "House of Everlasting Fire," there were earthquakes. If she became angered with hapless lovers, or any who failed to worship her, she was credited with pouring out torrents of lava and liquid flame. All who went near the crater were expected to do so with humility and sacrifice, and high priests of the goddess kept the people in awe. People gave their dead to the volcano, hoping they would become ghost gods to aid them. Then Kapiolani, in 1820, after three years teaching at the feet of missionaries, accepted Christianity, and did what is recorded as one of the greatest acts of moral courage ever performed. She visited the volcano against the advice of her husband and friends, and buried stones into the pit, and ate of the enchanted berries near it. She defied the goddess. Before going up she left a message, saying that if she didn't return, her people should continue to worship Pele, but if she did they should accept the new teachings. Her return safely banished the hold of idolatry in Hawaii.

FIRST POST SERVICE CRUDE

That Between New York and Boston, However, Was the Beginning of Great System.

The first regular postal service between two American cities was established December 10, 1872, when the government of New York inaugurated a regular monthly post to Boston.

Some thirty-three years before that a post office had been opened in Boston at the house of Richard Fairbanks, "for letters which are brought from beyond the seas, or are to be sent thither."

In 1857 the Virginia assembly provided for the "rapid transmission" of official communications from plantation to plantation on penalty of one hoghead of tobacco for each default. Four years after the establishment of the New York-Boston monthly mail, the colonial court of Massachusetts founded an official postoffice in Boston, with John Heyward as postmaster.

The first parliamentary act for the establishment of a postal system in the English-American colonies was passed in 1692, and a royal patent was granted Thomas Neale, who was authorized to transport "letters at such rates" as the planters should agree to give. Neale began operations in Virginia, and the other colonies soon joined in the movement, although the system was very imperfect.

Whale's Breathing Apparatus.

An eminent naturalist says concerning the breathing apparatus of the whale: "The windpipe does not communicate with the mouth; a hole is, as it were, bored right through the back of the head. Engineers would do well to copy the action of the valve of the whale's blow-hole; a more perfect piece of structure it is impossible to imagine. Day and night, asleep or awake, the whale works its breathing apparatus in such a manner that not a drop of water ever gets down into the lungs. Again, the whale must of necessity stay a much longer period under water than seals; this alone might possibly drown it, inasmuch as the lungs cannot have access to fresh air. We find that this difficulty has been anticipated and obviated by a peculiar reservoir in the venous system, which reservoir is situated at the back of the lungs."

Insist on Facts.

When you have lived your life long enough and consistent enough there will be no occasion to question your standing. Each year added to its predecessors with the same consistent goal adds to the stability of character that makes character for the community. Such lives unconsciously stamp themselves upon everyone they touch, and the world is made better in consequence. It's the hope of the future that there will arise a class of men who will take nothing for granted—who will seek bed-rock facts for every new venture. Then will come the days when our civilization will be founded on truth and the results attained will abide. You can be one of these framers of the new age if you want to. Lend your aid in making the world better and its people happier. Teach people not to take things for granted.—Grit.

Animals Worth Owning.

A performing animal often has a greater earning capacity than a successful man of business. The first kangaroo to enter the boxing ring in America earned a sum in five years that allowed himself and his owner to retire from the limelight and spend the rest of their lives in peace and quiet. This was the first of a long line of pugilistic kangaroos who "made" their masters. Much of the success of Hagenbeck's Wonder Zoo at Olympia a few years back was undoubtedly due to the engagement of Max and Moritz, the "human ape."

Cards on the Table

You can't make any storage battery last forever—that's a fact.

You've got to keep it filled with water and test it, just like a tire has to be kept filled with air, or it will cost you money.

Some day—if you have an ordinary battery—it's sure to have to be re-insulated, no matter who made it.

But—if you'll buy a Willard Battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation, you'll get clear away from the biggest cause of battery trouble. The insulation will probably last as long as the plates.

Drop in and ask us any question you can think of. We're here to give you the kind of help, service and advice that make friends.

WILL PUT BAN ON FREAK DANCING

PLYMOUTH AS WELL AS DETROIT REALIZES THAT CHEEK TO CHEEK DANCING MUST STOP.

The article following was taken from a Detroit paper. This article certainly expresses our views in regard to incorrect positions of dancing. We wish to make this statement to people coming to the Penniman Allen auditorium: We want you to have the best time possible and will do all in our power to help you have a good time, but you must dance correctly. We want you to understand that the management has arranged for a floor manager, whose business it will be to see that our wishes regarding this freak dancing are carried out.

"Slowly but none the less certainly cheek dancing is getting the gate in Detroit. Recently it was counted out at the Detroit Golf Club, and now it has been barred at the Detroit Athletic Club. Keen followers of dancing say it soon will be banned in all but the toughest dance halls.

"Do you know what cheek dancing is? It's great stuff. It's that quaint fashion that decrees that the man and his girl partner rest their heads on each other's shoulder, cheek to cheek, and shuffle around a dance floor in a sort of placid stupor.

"The D. A. C. News has this to say about that particular type of dancing:

"These earnest disciples of Terpsichore that shake the light fantastic toe in the D. A. C. will do well to disregard the scriptural injunction to turn the other cheek. The house committee has decided that hereafter all cheek-by-jowl capers are out so far as the club's dances are concerned. The committee has been against the intermingling of features right from the start, but hoped that the few complexion mixers would take a hint from the good example of the majority of more decorous dancers and desist.

"Evidently, however, some of the cheeky ones are too much engrossed in blending brands of face powder to observe that it really isn't done in the nice places. So the committee has decided that hereafter anyone that can't dance without leaning carelessly against his partner's whiter cheek than snow, as Mr. Shakespeare put it, will be led quietly aside and told that he will not use the dance floor any more on that or any other evening.

"It is believed that the disappearance of one or two of the conspicuous offenders from the list of those present when the band strikes up will bring about the desired reform. The club is happy to say that those offenders, against good taste have been infrequent here and confined to a very few of the members.

MANAGEMENT PENNIMAN ALLEN AUDITORIUM ORGANIZE AMERICAN LEGION POST

At a meeting held on Friday evening, November 14th, at the village hall, about thirty veterans of the great war, organized the Scott B. Coprite Post of the American Legion. The meeting was addressed by Col. A. H. Ganser of the 32nd division, and a good deal of enthusiasm was manifested by all present. Plans are now being made for an oyster supper to be held at the next monthly meeting, the first Monday in December, and an effort will be made to get every ex-service man of Plymouth and vicinity out on that occasion. The following officers have been elected:

Commander—Herbert Warner
Senior Vice Com.—Ray Smith
Adjutant—Kenneth Harrison
Post Historian—Alton Richwiese
Post Chaplain—Harold Jolliffe
Post Sergeant—Albert Groth

SHORT PARAGRAPHS

A Modern Store Front—One of the finest store fronts in Plymouth is that of Huston & Co. on Penniman avenue. It is modern in every particular, and the large display windows will give a splendid opportunity for the display of merchandise. The entire front of the Huston store has been remodeled, and it makes a splendid improvement to the appearance of the street.

Have Building Nearly Ready—The troop of state constabulary here their portable building in the old cemetery grounds at the rear of the Presbyterian church nearly ready for occupancy. We understand there is some talk of making Plymouth a permanent headquarters for a troop of the state police, and if it is decided to do this, a permanent and more substantial building would be erected somewhere in the village.

No Money for Bounties—Miss Lina Durfee, township clerk, has just received a letter from the county clerk, stating that through the failure of the Board of Supervisors to make any provision for the payment of money as bounties for noxious animals, there are no funds available for this purpose, and she will not be able to issue any certificates for the same. This will be a great disappointment to the boys who expected to earn a little extra money from this source.

TRACED DESCENT OF HORSE

Horses of the miocene tertiary times, and during the pliocene age, which came later, roamed around the marshes of Oregon, according to Professor Condon of the University of Oregon. A letter which the professor wrote a woman in Nashville, Ore., thirty years ago, has been discovered, in which he referred to some of his own specimens of the early horse.

"There were in Oregon three or four species of the small horse," the professor wrote. "I have fragments of many individuals of several of these species. The one of which I have the most complete skeleton was about two feet high. He lived during the miocene tertiary times.

"My fossils would not warrant me in speaking of more than three hoofs on each foot; the center one on each foot being large, and the other ones small. Each fetlock bone furnished him with what was an external hoof.

"Belonging to a later period, the pliocene, I have other horse remains. The older classification gives the name Hippoparion to the pliocene horse. The side hoofs of this animal were still external, and, therefore, to some extent, functional. These horses multiplied in species, as well as in numbers, varying in size until the horse proper, or equus, came on the stage with only rudimentary fragments of the menarthal hoofs of the side hoofs provided for."

Insects That Walk on Water.

Insects that walk on the water by means of pneumatic floats are the familiar spider and the pond skater. The pond skater really walks on pneumatic floats. There are tiny hules on the feet of this insect, so fine that they cannot be seen, that are arranged to collect air. The amount collected in and about these hairs is sufficient to allow the insects to walk or float on the surface of the water. As each foot is put down it forms a cuplike depression, or tiny pit, in the water. The foot does not sink, because the air bubble that has been formed is too light to let it. A fine covering of hair protects the water spider, too, and even if it is submerged in the water it is never really wet; the hair keeps a layer of air between its body and the water. It looks like a white pearl when below the surface.

The Farmer's 8-Hour Day

When organized labor, at the Industrial Conference, demanded the 8-hour day for all industries, the nation's organized farmers smiled. "Fine!" said they; "but you must remember that just as your factory 8-hour day makes manufactured goods cost me more, our farm 8-hour day will make food cost you more." For, says the farmer refuses longer to be the goat in the round-robin argument between labor and capital.

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

If the 8-hour day is forced upon the country the farmer will welcome it as a relief from his present 14-hour, 7-day schedule, with unpaid help from his wife and children—but both capital and labor must pay his price or starve! Wheat at $3 instead of $2.26; pork at 20 cents instead of 14; milk at 20 cents instead of 14—these are 8-hour farm-day figures. You ought to read "The Farmer's 8-hour Day" in next week's COUNTRY GENTLEMAN. It will open your eyes. Look! Listen!

You who have bought lots on Amelia, Farmer, Spring, Liberty, Rose or Mill streets, do not sell your lots at a fifty per cent and more advance, that we know some of you have been offered, because you think you may be troubled to get drainage.

Don't worry. Last spring when there was water, water everywhere and the cellars and basements were flooded, in many sections of Plymouth, not a single family who built on the Starkweather estate were so annoyed, due to the fact that Lou Hillmer saw to it that people had drains as soon as needed, and he will continue that policy, and will do more for you than the village authorities would consider doing. Think it over before you sell.

KING'S CORNERS

Robert Rhead of Eaton Rapids, is visiting his brothers, Jacob J. and E. J. Rhead of this place, this week. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish spent Sunday with Mr. Parrish's cousin, George Barker in Sheldon, whom they found in very poor health, and there is no hope for his recovery.
