FARM BUREAU PLANS FOR COMING YEAR

MANY IMPORTANT MATTERS WILL COME BEFORE THE ANNUAL MEETING TO BE HELD AT DETROIT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, TOMORROW, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 6.

A number of the farmers of Plymouth and vicinity are planning on attending the annual meeting of the Wayne County Farm Bureau, to be held at the Detroit Board of Commerce, tomorrow, Saturday, December 6th. One of the features of the meeting will be a luncheon at 12:30. The business session will be started promptly at 1:30 o'clock with Acting President Milton Carmichael presiding. Dr. Eben Mumford, county club leader of Michigan, will tell what is being done over the state along progressive lines through this organization work; Charles A. Bingham of Oakland county, will explain the new State Farm Bureau movement, of which he is secretary. It has already been decided that Wayne county will join in the state and national movement as soon as a campaign can be organized under the new system, which will be within a few weeks. G. V. Branch, municipal market director of Detroit, will give the farmers some idea of the plans under consideration for developing the local distributing system.

Other features of the afternoon will be the outlining of the general program for extension work in the county during the coming year by O. I. Gregg, county agricultural agent; G. O. Stewart, county leader of boys and girls clubs, and Miss Marion Rodgers, home demonstration agent, the executive staff working through the Wayne County Farm Bureau.

An open invitation is extended to the farmers of Wayne county and their wives to show their interest in their own organization by taking part in this conference.

During the day officers will be elected for the coming year, and this is something in which every progressive farmer is certainly interested, for upon the shoulders of the men named rests the responsibility of the success of the work in the future.

SAD DEATH OF SALEM LADY

A very sad death depressed the whole community, when Mrs. Carter, the young wife of Charles Carter, passed away last week Thursday. Two infant daughters, twins, are thus left motherless and the father must bear not only the sorrow of this heavy loss, but also shoulder the responsibility of rearing the baby girls left to his care. Mrs. Carter was Miss Emma Mary Washer before her marriage to Mr. Carter on August 19th, 1915, and was born near Flat Rock, July 1, 1894. She lived at that place most of her early life. The Rev. J. F. Hutchinson of Flat Rock performed the ceremony that united her in marriage to Mr. Carter. The joy that came into their lives at the birth of beautiful healthy twin girls was short lived as the shadow of death passed over their happy home and left the grieving husband and helpless daughters alone and motherless. The deceased leaves her mother and father, two brothers and one sister to share the husband's and daughter's grief. A host of friends and relatives manifested their deep grief and sympathy by their presence at the funeral services which were held on Sunday afternoon, by Rev. Luther Moore Bicknell of Plymouth. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Lucy Baird, who expects to leave for a winter stay in Florida, is expected to return in a few days.

STATE GUARDS TWO THEFT ROADS

CONSTABULARY STATIONS ESTABLISHED AT ROCKWOOD AND PLYMOUTH AS CHECK.

The following from the Sunday Detroit News will be of interest to Plymouth citizens: Patrol stations in charge of the state constabulary have been established at two points in Wayne county for the purpose of apprehending automobile thieves who attempt to leave the city with stolen cars. These stations were created by Col. Roy C. Vandercok, commander of the constabulary, following a conference with officials of the Detroit Automobile Club and J. W. Inches, police commissioner.

These stations are not unlike three established recently by the San Francisco police department in co-operation with the California State Automobile Association. The Wayne constabulary stations, which are in the Detroit district, commanded by Capt. A. A. Town, are located at Rockwood, the junction of the Dixie Highway and Huron River Drive and at Plymouth. The Rockwood station can check up every car going to Toledo. The station at Plymouth will protect Grand River avenue, Michigan avenue, the Plymouth road and other highways in that section.

Twelve troopers will operate out of the Plymouth station and eight from the Rockwood post. If necessary more men can be added, but Col. Vandercok believes this force adequate. Col. Vandercok was in Detroit to confer with Capt. Town, Commissioner Inches and officials of the Detroit Automobile Club.

The new stations will have direct telephone connection with police headquarters in Detroit, so that reports of thefts may be transmitted at once.

In addition to checking up and apprehending automobile thieves the new system will also enable the state troopers to watch for "bandit gangs" traveling in motor cars.

"The new system is an excellent one," said Capt. W. S. Gilyeah, manager of the Detroit Automobile Club. "Thieves will learn that escape with stolen cars is difficult, if not impossible. Most of the automobiles stolen in Detroit are driven out and sold in other cities. It is not unusual to recover stolen cars in cities from 300 to 500 miles from Detroit, and at times at even greater distances.

Chicago, Toledo, Indianapolis, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and other cities are known to have "fences" that receive stolen cars from Detroit. The Plymouth and Rockwood stations guard all roads leading to these points.

"We are going to watch the new arrangement with interest and offer every help possible."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Griffith of Detroit, and Dolph Ellington of Lenox, Idaho, were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Tiltonson, Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leonard and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sherman and son, Leon, Mr. and Mrs. Orson Westfall and Mrs. Iphigene Moroy of Wayne, were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds of Elm Heights.

PLYMOUTH CHOSEN FOR MODEL

SAMPLE RELIGIOUS CENSUS FOR MICHIGAN.

Within the next few days a census of Plymouth will be taken to reveal the religious affiliations and preferences of the community, Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, resident bishop of the Detroit Area of the Methodist Episcopal church, comprising the entire state of Michigan, has chosen Plymouth as a sample community for the obtaining of this information.

For the first time in the history of the Methodist church, a special session of an annual conference has been called, the Detroit conference meeting in Detroit, December 16 and 17, and it is for this special session that church leaders from all over the state that the sample constituency roll from Plymouth is desired, as a demonstration of what can be done in locating the responsibility of the different churches in any community.

As this information must be in hand by December 16th, some existing organization of workers must be utilized, and the work will be done by the Unit Leaders, who have already been assigned to well defined sections of the village. It will be necessary to visit every home in the village, but cheerful co-operation on the part of the citizens will greatly assist the visitors and will help to make the information accurate. As a result, it is expected that in a week or ten days it will be possible to announce a fairly accurate report of the present population of Plymouth.

AN EVENING'S ENTERTAINMENT EXTRAORDINARY

For those who do and those who do not dance, but appreciate an evening's entertainment—that is out of the ordinary, next Saturday evening, December 6, Mr. Stone in person and five of his best musicians will come to the Penniman Allen auditorium and play for your enjoyment. There will be with Mr. Stone and players, the best vocalist obtainable in this part of the country. This in itself will be enough to please the most critical. Spectators will be accommodated in the gallery. Dancing will commence at 8:35 and stop at 11:45. We are paying a considerable sum of money for this exceptional orchestra and singer. They will delight all who come. Spectators admission, 25c; dance tickets, 75c, plus tax—total $1.00. Be present at 8:45 if you want to get the full pleasure of this wonderful music.

THE MANAGEMENT.
Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Baum and daughter, Fern, of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dart of Milford, and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Scott of Detroit, are Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Scott. The ladies remained over Sunday.

MORE REASONS FROM ROOSEVELT

FOR ATTENDING CHURCH REGULARLY

4. Yes, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees, or by a running brook, or in a man's own house just as well as in church. But I also know as a matter of fact that the average man does not do this.

5. You may not hear a good sermon at church. You will hear a sermon by a good man, who, with his good wife, is engaged all the week in making hard lives a little easier.—Theodore Roosevelt.

STORM DOES MUCH DAMAGE
One of the worst storms that has visited this section in years was that of late last Saturday afternoon. A terrific wind accompanied by rain, came out of the west and for a few minutes shook buildings to their very foundations, snapped limbs from shade trees and played havoc with telegraph and electric wires.

USE PLAIN WORDS

Up-to-Date Young People Do Not Apply Soft Pedal.

Ancient Fashion of Vague Allusion to Things in Passes and All Say What They Mean About Things.

Americans used to come in for a good deal of teasing and "joshing" by Englishmen because of their tendency to show an exaggerated delicacy in their choice of words. Especially was this squeamishness apparent among American women 40 or 50 years ago, when so far from ever speaking of their own legs they actually called the uprights of a square piano limbs and would have blushed with mortification if you had mentioned the chair legs. In England they said that an American woman would never refer to the breast of a chicken, but referred to that portion of the bird as the bosom. Some who laughed at this overniceness made the comment that people who condemned so many harmless words must have evil minds or they would see no harm in them. But really it did not indicate evil-mindedness. It was just a natural phase of the general overcautiousness of the time. No wonder that the young woman who was cautioned never to show more than the tip of her toe beneath her voluminous hoopskirts and who couldn't save her life have taken a deep breath—no wonder she was overfastidious in the choice of her words. It was part of the fashion of the time. It really was bad form as manners were then framed to speak with even moderate frankness.

But now the pendulum has swung far in the other direction, and it is the well-bred thing to avoid those circumlocutions used once to soften words of too great realism. It is considered a little old-fashioned or countrified now to say that you are going to retire when you might say simply that you are going to bed. Likewise we speak of bedrooms, whereas our careful grandmothers would never have used to break a word. They spoke of chambers or sleeping apartments. Sometime ago it was considered the well-bred thing to use circumlocution when speaking of death. To a certain extent this is still done, but in general the progressive young American avoids such euphemisms as "pass beyond" and "pass away." People more frequently used to say "if anything should happen to me" or "in case I should be called beyond" when they meant simply "if I should die," which means exactly the same thing just as vividly and has the advantage of being straight Anglo-Saxon.

Old-fashioned folk used to use softened words to indicate poverty. They spoke about being "in reduced circumstances." They would have considered it rude to say a friend was poor, though they might have said that he was a "person of moderate means." If a woman found herself in a position where she had to earn her own living they said that "she had joined the army of toilers," never that she had "gone to work." People spoke of salaries, remunerations, compensations and honorariums, seldom of wages or pay. They spoke of positions and posts. Nowadays the thoroughly up-to-date young person speaks of her job.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Humbugs in Animal Kingdom.
In military stables horses are known to have pretended to be lame in order to avoid going to a military exercise. A chimpanzee had been fed on cake when sick. After his recovery he often feigned coughing in order to procure dainties. The cuckoo, as is well known, lays its eggs in another bird's nest, and, to make the deception surer, it takes away one of the other bird's eggs. Animals are conscious of their deceit, as is shown by the fact that they try to act secretly and noiselessly; they show a sense of guilt if detected; they take precautions in advance to avoid discovery; in some cases they manifest regret and repentance, an exchange says. Thus, bees which steal hesitate often before and after their exploits, as if they feared punishment. A naturalist describes how his monkey committed theft. While he pretended to sleep the animal regarded him with hesitation, and stopped every time his master moved or seemed on the point of awakening.

Fast Growers.
Customer—I should like to know why the potatoes at the bottom of the sack you sold me last week are so much smaller than those at the top.
Green Grocer—Well, mum, potatoes is growin' that fast now that by the time a sackful is dug the fast ones is about twice the size of the first.—London Ideas.

Two of A Kind.
"A scientist, eh?"
"Yes."
"What's his specialty?"
"He's trying to find a substitute for molasses."
"I have an eccentric friend he ought to meet."
"What is your friend working on?"
"Perpetual motion."

Wool Growers Use Press.
Wool-ranch proprietors are making use of a small press to get the wool into a compact ball, which cuts down their handling and transportation costs very materially.

Banner Sunday-school sessions are the rule now—every Sunday better than the preceding. Better church attendance is to be desired by the whole city. Big bunch of bright boys that in Mr. Allenbaugh's class. Baptist budget for missions is voted and will be all in by the end of the year. There's a reason.

Splendid Cough Medicine.
"As I feel that every family should know what a splendid medicine Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is, I am only too pleased to relate my experience, and only wish that I had known its value long ago," writes Mrs. Clay Fay, Ferguson Station, Mo. "I give it to my children when they show the slightest symptoms of being croupy, and when I have a cough or cold on the lungs a very few doses will relieve me, and by taking it a few days I soon get rid of the cold."

George Kuhn's children have been confined to their home for the past week with scarlet rash.

Saturday's gale worked considerable havoc in this community. The large greenhouse on Spring Lake farm owned by Jay Gould was damaged to the extent of $20,000. It was conceded to be the largest in the state, and the loss is sadly felt by all who know Mr. Gould, as well as by the community at large over the loss of so worthy an enterprise.

Otto Bohling and family spent Thanksgiving day in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bohl entertained friends from Detroit, Thanksgiving.

Electric lights in Salem now. Quite civilized we are.

Mrs. Chester Lewis' mother of Detroit, is visiting her for some time.

Vic Lewis is working in Detroit, and Mrs. Lewis is spending some time there also.

ley, Charles Rank, Eben Ashton and Richard Smith had silos blown down, and buildings were moved on the Bohring, Prindle, Fisher, Linehan, Burger and McKinney places.

One of the freaks of the storm was that in several instances lightning rods on buildings were badly bent, presumed by flying missiles. Shingles were torn from a new building on the Ashton farm as if they had been scraped off by a giant scraper, and pieces of the silo were hurled through the roof of the barn. The woods in the vicinity of Elm are certainly a sorry sight. Telephone lines are all out of commission, with no immediate prospects of being repaired.

The Ladies' Aid society of Beech church, will hold their annual chicken supper of the church, Saturday evening, December 13. A cordial invitation is extended to all. A fine supper is always served by the ladies at a nominal price, and all previous efforts are being outdone this year, in an effort to make this by far the most successful in years. Don't forget the date. Full particulars in next week's Mail.

Preaching services at Beech church: Sundays at 2:30 p. m.; Sunday school at 2:00 p. m. Rev. Reed is indeed a hustler, and has drawn a fine attendance.

Mr. Edison Said:

"If Period Cabinets are desired by people who are willing to pay several thousand dollars for an Edison Phonograph, why not put all Edison Phonographs into Period Cases and let everyone have the best there is in phonograph design?"

It was characteristic of Mr. Edison that he should desire that the pleasure beautiful possessions can give should not be the portion of the very rich alone, but should be the heritage as well of all lovers of art.

And now his cabinet designers HAVE encased the NEW EDISON in Period Cabinets of surpassing beauty. Sheraton, Jacobean, Chippendale, William & Mary, Heppelwhite—these and other of the world's most beautiful designs of period furniture have now been brought within reach of people of moderate income. His wish has more than been fulfilled.

The NEW EDISON

No Needles to Change
Even records of all other makes sound more human when played on the New Edison

Beautiful in their proportions—of graceful lines—distinguished in their rich color of mahogany—genuine mahogany—mellowed by the tints of fine white oak—these are cabinets that will lend an added distinction to ANY HOME. Their authenticity and beauty is attested by the unqualified endorsement of Miss Elsie De Wolfe, America's foremost authority on interior decorations.

Each model has its distinct charm. ALL will interest you. ONE is exactly what you want. Come in and see it—hear it. No obligation to buy. We are happy to simply show you these beautiful Period Cabinets. So come in—TODAY.

Christmas Shopping List

Once against the happiest and most welcome of all our holidays draws near. With the compliments of the season to all our friends, we ask the question of the hour, WHAT ABOUT CHRISTMAS? The children are asking it with wondering and hopeful expectations. The older people are asking it not so much as to what Christmas will bring to them, but rather as to where to procure suitable and satisfactory presents for relatives and friends. Remember, our up-to-date stock is in close touch with the times. We can supply you with The Nicest and Most Appropriate Gifts for Little or Big, Old or Young—at prices in harmony with your pocketbook.

Methodist Mention

Rev. F. M. Field attended an all day retreat of Detroit Methodist ministers at Cass Avenue church, Detroit, last Monday. Bishop Henderson had charge of the conversation and prayer periods, which mostly dealt with the preacher's personal preparation for the superhuman task set before them for the next six months.

Last week's issue of the Michigan Christian Advocate contains a full page letter by Bishop Henderson to the Methodists of Michigan, and the principal illustration of the letter is an incident from the ministry of Rev. Field, now pastor of the Plymouth church.

Six women of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of this church, attended a group gathering at South Lyon, last Tuesday. They were: Mesdames Tait, Dickerson, Wright, Doerr, Field and Griffith.

Eight new subscribers to the Michigan Christian Advocate have been secured from Plymouth church during the past week with an special campaign. It will require about twenty more to reach Plymouth's quota of seventy-two subscribers to the official church paper.

By action of the official board, last Monday evening the salary of the church pianist will hereafter be paid out of the regular church treasury. Formerly this item was carried by the Ladies' Aid society, who continue to provide the budget for the church music outside of the pastor's salary.

This action was taken as a recognition of the splendid efforts of the woman's organization toward the reduction of their pledge to the church building fund.

The officers and teachers of the Methodist Sunday-school will be together for a pot-luck supper and business session at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Doerr on West Ann Arbor street, next Tuesday evening. Further plans for the Christmas festivities, which are already being provided for will make this session a most important one.

Wednesday of next week will be a red letter day among the women of the different church organizations. All the members of all the women's organizations of the church are invited to a joint dinner and session at the church, Wednesday, Dec. 10. This will take the place of the monthly meetings of the different organizations and will be in the nature of a Christmas get-together.

On account of the storm, last Sunday, the pastor's presentation of the message, "Wanted, An Assistant Pastor," was postponed for one week. He considers this matter most vital one as touching the efficiency of the church and would much appreciate the opportunity of laying the matter before the entire membership of the church.

Do You Enjoy Your Meals

If you do not enjoy your meals your digestion is faulty. Eat moderately, especially of meats, masticate your food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals and take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper, and you will soon find your meals to be a real pleasure.

OUR NEIGHBORS TO ERECT LIVING MEMORIALS

ONE OF THE AIMS OF THE AMERICAN LEGION.

A state-wide campaign for the erection of memorial community houses to honor Michigan men who served against Germany has been started in this state by the American Legion. Putting up such structures in every city and town of Michigan in which the Legion is represented is urged in the campaign, which will follow lines similar to the organized effort being carried on by the Bureau of Memorial Buildings of War Camp Community Service.

Michigan communities, which will have social centers as living memorials to local men who served against the Kaiser, include Detroit, Adrian, Alpena, Big Rapids, Easton, Rapids, Fremont, Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Harbor Beach, Houghton, Ludington, Mt. Clemens, St. Joseph and Zeeland.

In their crusade to have communities erect the memorial centers, the heads of the Bureau of Memorial Buildings point out the need for perpetuation of the cause for which Americans fought and bled and died. The ideals for which they made their sacrifice, say the Bureau leaders, must be kept alive.

"There is a form of memorial which can do all this and more," says a recent Bureau statement. "This is a community building—a Liberty house—which at one and the same time is symbolic and practical. It symbolizes the ideals of democracy and service for which the war was fought, in providing a means by which those ideals may be carried into effect. It is practical because it enables our soldiers' fellow townsmen to give with their heads as well as with their hearts—for such a structure will help the living while commemorating the dead. Its main purpose would be to serve the town's common good.

This living memorial is appropriate also in that it would provide a meeting place and center both for the men who are home from service in the army and navy and for the citizens in general. Here rank and social standing would be left at the door and all would meet on a common level of human worth and good fellowship.

"In many vital ways," the statement says, further, "the Liberty House would meet the hitherto unmet needs of community life. Its social, recreational and educational value would be potentially immense and could easily be translated into facts."

THERE COMES a time in the life of every motor car when it is ready for either one of two things: The second-hand market—or a thorough overhauling.

Often the latter will make it almost as good as new.

Automobiles are built to give satisfactory service for several years. If you give yours proper care you make it deliver the service the maker planned.

We can help you. We are prepared to do everything necessary to keep it in the best of shape—to do it well—to do it at a most moderate cost.

Nice line of sensible accessories, too. And vulcanizing—in fact, a very complete motor service.—Try it and see.

Should Be Quarantined

Many physicians believe that any one who has a bad cold should be quarantined from the family and some believe that constructing the disease should be done by watching the patient. The doctor says that the best way to keep a cold from spreading is to have the patient isolated in a room which has been disinfected.

FREE CHURCH

On Thanksgiving Day, Miss Sophia Swartz of this place and Dr. Snow of Leslie, were united in marriage. A very pretty wedding was held at the Swartz home. The young couple will live at Leslie where Dr. Snow has purchased the practice of an old physician, who has recently died. We wish them happiness.

Again the wedding bells are heard as another of our young ladies is soon to be wed, and will be by the time you read this. More next week.

Lea Clark of Ypsilanti, ate Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rengert.

Misses Edith and Marie Brown and Walford, were home for Thanksgiving. Simon Brown came home from Northville Saturday to spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Forabee partook of Thanksgiving dinner with Marion and Ellen Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rengert of Plymouth, visited at the Rengert home Sunday.

Miss Alice and Joseph Jackson, spent Wednesday evening with Mrs. Wright.

Mrs. Frank Hesse entertained at dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Forabee and Clyde Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hesse and Ronald spent Thanksgiving at the Villerot home near Redford. Thirty guests were present, children and grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker of Detroit, spent Thanksgiving at the Jackson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Grammel Sunday with the Douglass family at Redford.

The wind storm Saturday evening played havoc in the neighborhood, taking down wind mills, barn doors, unroofing buildings, scattering fences and cots, stalks, making work for everybody.

Frank Smith of Plymouth and Miss Lois Streng of Ypsilanti, were married last Saturday. We wish them much joy.

M. C. Willetts of Reading, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boyle of Salem, were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Quackenbush and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Quackenbush were at Frank Boyle's Monday assisting with the barn roof the wind took off Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jarvis entertained Thanksgiving quite a party of relatives from Ann Arbor and Salem.

PIKE'S PEAK

Walter Schaufele and family of Plymouth, spent Thanksgiving at George Hix's.

Mrs. Ben Scholtz of Wayne, died last week Friday evening, at her home after being in poor health for nearly a year. Mrs. Scholtz's youngest son, Joe, was buried the day of the evening that his mother died. Her oldest son and his wife died last winter of the influenza within a few hours of each other. The deceased leaves a husband and one daughter to mourn their loss. The family have the sympathy of their many friends here.

Joseph Sanger purchased two thoroughbred Jersey cattle at a sale near Ann Arbor, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds of Detroit, visited at G. W. Dean's, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright entertained company from Plymouth, Thanksgiving day.

The wind storm last Saturday done considerable damage to orchards and out buildings through these parts.

Joe Niemycheck is moving several large houses in Redford this week.

Henry Klat has built a new basement under his house which makes a fine improvement to his place.

KING'S CORNERS

The Helping Hand society will meet at the home of Mrs. Hattie McIntyre at Wayne for dinner.

A severe rain and wind storm passed over this place, Saturday, doing considerable damage. Trees were uprooted, outbuildings and everything movable carried away or destroyed. A large tree (an old landmark) on the old King place was uprooted, car and telephone service were badly crippled, and people had difficulty in getting to their homes, many having to walk. However, no loss of life was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCracken entertained the latter's three sisters from Flint, Detroit, and Hanover, Ont., over Sunday.

We are sorry to hear that our old neighbor, John Haltinner, formerly of this place, but now of River Rouge, is suffering severely with carbuncles on his neck.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steinfeld and little daughter, Evelyn, spent Thanksgiving with friends in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers' little daughter, Margaret, is quite ill, and under the doctor's care. Mrs. Myers has recovered from her recent illness.

George Hix's new garage blew down in the recent storm.

Ward has been received of the safe arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish at Sheridan, Mich. They will spend some time with their daughter, Mrs. Treat, at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Jubenville and daughter, Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lockhart and son, Kenneth, spent Thanksgiving with the former's daughter, Mrs. Albert Roediger, of Southfield.

CHERRY HILL

Is Plymouth Real Estate

A Good Thing to Invest In?

Think it over, investigate and we know you will decide that it is.

There never has been a Starkweather Estate Lot that has not shown an increase in value within a very short time after the purchase. Many lots have been resold at large profit, because they were where people like lots—in the midst of good things—directly in the path of PLYMOUTH'S CERTAIN GROWTH.

We had hoped to sell the Starkweather home, together with a nice string of lots, not having done so, we reserve the house and a few adjoining lots, any and all of the rest are for sale on easy terms to any respectable citizen. Many of the lots now offered were surveyed several months ago. We have paid for the survey, but for some reason or another, the plat has not up to this time been submitted to the Village Commission for its approval and acceptance. However, the plat and survey has been approved by the Lansing office. Lots are all staked and we will be glad to show them to you at any time. There will be a choice of five of these choice and very desirable lots. They are a Christmas present that will be all right for you at any time, Christmas 1920.

LIVONIA CENTER

Irene and Harold Chilson of Detroit, were week-end guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer.

Miss Ruth Lindsey spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Livonia.

Frank Heis has purchased the Real Estate farm on the Waterford road, and will take possession soon.

The storm Saturday evening did considerable damage in the neighborhood, unroofing buildings, blowing down fences, and putting the telephone out of commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peck are entertaining a new daughter, who arrived at their home Monday morning.

A new gas-fired furnace has been installed in the school building by the Lansing Board of Education.

The school is working on a Christmas program to be given at the hall, Saturday evening.

Phyllis and Grace Lee were out on a party for the month of November.

John Kytman have returned to his home in Elsworth, Michigan, after a visit with friends in Livonia and at this place.

Miss Vivian Johnson was a visitor at home Sunday.

Brookings' Treasurer Paul Lee will be at his home this week Friday to receive the school money.

Miss G. Hobbins of Redford, and Edna Slaughter of Howell, were out on a party at home Wednesday, and the day following, Miss Valma Hobbins was married at the home of her brother, Fred, near Howell. The bride was Miss Valma Hobbins, and the groom was Fred Hobbins, of Howell.
