CANTATA, PARTIES, WHITE GIFTS

CHRISTMAS OFFERING OF $53.65 BY M. E. SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

The climax of a series of Christmas celebrations in the Methodist church came last Sunday evening, when the Sunday-school scholars brought their white gifts for the King's birthday, amounting to $53.65, besides a large number of other gifts, including toys, handkerchiefs and other articles.

This does not mean that the Christmas season was lacking in good times for the Sunday-school scholars. A number of parties have been held for the different classes, most of them coming last week. On Monday afternoon of this week about fifty boys and girls of the primary department, were entertained at a Christmas party, with the two adult women's classes acting as hostesses.

The Christmas program on Sunday evening was heard by a crowd which completely filled the church, a large number having to stand. After a miscellaneous program of songs and exercises by the boys and girls the cantata, "The Sign in the Sky," was presented by fourteen young men and women of the High school, assisted by a chorus of thirty voices from the Junior and Intermediate departments.

On Wednesday evening a group of the Methodist young people went carolling, singing some of the old Christmas songs for sick and shut-in folks.

Jesse L. Laakey presents, "FIRES OF FAITH," with Catherine Calvert, Eugene O'Brien and Ruby DeReamer. Men once loathed her. But the time came when other and better men called her "Apple-Pie" Lizzie—and loved her. Even the "holier than thou" society girl was glad to know and love her, when she knew her heart. It's the greatest story of the transfiguring power of love and faith ever told—and it's told from the experience of those who have sounded the hearts of all humanity.

You'll have your hands full too, holding your sides laughing at Bryant Washburn's antics in "Something To Do."

EVENING SUBJECT "Some Good Resolutions for the New Year"

F. A. LANKIN, Preacher

LET US REASON TOGETHER

Why not invest some of your spare change in lots? Perhaps you will say the H. C. of L. takes everything you get in the shape of money. But does it? If something forces you to economize, we think you will discover that you could have been saving a lot, enough, perhaps to have paid for a house and lot on Easy street.

Stop and think about it. We believe you will realize that you can save a little each week without denying yourself of a necessary thing. Then why not make a beginning; put all your spare change in Plymouth real estate, selected in the locality you favor. You can buy now at subdivision prices. A small payment down, a little each month, will bring assurance of future prosperity.

This New Year's Greeting bears with it our gratitude for your splendid patronage during the year that is closing.

May the New Year that is dawning treat you kindly as to prosperity, happiness and health.

We shall be glad to promise you our utmost efforts to be used in any line to your profit and pleasure.

What's Bone Dry —What's Not?

Not every storage battery that is called "bone dry" is really shipped and stored in bone-dry condition.

Some have solution put in at the factory, and poured out again before shipment.

Some are shipped with plates dry, and insulation wet.

These batteries are not bone dry.

Come in and get straight from us the story of Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation, the only form of insulation that permits of bone-dry shipment and storage of automobile starting, lighting and ignition batteries.

VICE CHAIRMAN OF STATE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

MISS BINA M. WEST.

Member of the National Woman's Republican Committee of Eleven, and Vice Chairman of the Republican Michigan State Central Committee.

The honor of being the first woman chosen to hold a political office on a Michigan State Party Committee has been given to Miss Bina M. West, the founder of the Woman's Benefit Association of Port Huron. This honor has been worthily placed as Miss West has made a phenomenal success in organization work. The Association she founded 27 years ago is today the largest fraternal organization for women in the world. Miss West brings to her appointment years of successful training and business experience.

MICHIGAN WOMEN ORGANIZED

District Leaders Named and Resolutions Passed for Party Recognition.

The recent very successful meeting of the Woman's Central Committee, jointly with the Central Committee in Detroit, December 16, has shown that the women have an intelligent grasp of what is required of them and the Congressional districts will be thoroughly organized early in the year. Mrs. Fletcher Dobyns, Chicago, vice chairman of the Illinois Central Committee, was the guest of honor at this meeting.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS the women of the Republican State Central Committee, and the members of the Woman's Executive Committee of the State of Michigan in joint session have expressed it as their belief that the preservation of our Republic, and the perpetuation of the American ideal of democracy in Government is dependent upon the success of the Republican party in 1920, the party which has always stood for exact justice to all groups, and for equal rights and responsibilities under the law, and

WHEREAS we feel that the success of our party in 1920 will depend very largely upon the work which is done by the women of this country, and

WHEREAS we feel that as representatives of the Republican Party in Michigan it is our manifest duty to make known our position on matters of vital interest to the women of Michigan, therefore, be it

RESOLVED by the members of said committee in joint session, that we do hereby instruct our Chairman to communicate with the State Central Committee, and urge upon said Committee that it recommend to the various conventions to be held in this State for the selection of delegates to the National Republican Convention in Chicago in June, 1920, that such delegates be instructed to support a change in the rules governing the formation of the Republican National Committee so as to provide for the selection of two members to each National Republican Committee from each State, one such member to be a woman. Be it further

RESOLVED that we do urge upon the State Central Committee the immediate appointment of a platform committee composed of members chosen from the State Central Committee, and a number of well known Republican men and women, representing the various groups within the State, so that all interests may have an opportunity to be heard and represented, and to the end that a platform may be prepared which will fairly represent the average opinion of the Republican citizenry of Michigan. Be it further

RESOLVED that we do urge upon the Republican State Central Committee, and upon the platform committee, if such be appointed, the serious consideration and approval of a law for the regulation and the supervision of women in this State, for the codification of the Child Welfare laws of this State, for the immediate enrollment of women into existing Republican Clubs in the State, and into Clubs which may be hereafter formed, so that every Republican woman in the State of Michigan shall be open alike to men and women. Be it further

RESOLVED that we do hereby extend to Hon. Chas. E. Warren, member of the National Republican Committee for the State of Ohio, and Hon. E. J. Culligan, Vice Chairman of the State Central Committee of Michigan, and the men members of said committee our sincere appreciation for the courteous assistance extended to the Republican women of Michigan on every occasion to organize and carry on the work of this State, our great party.

Women members of the State Central Committee are: First Congressional District, Miss Lottia Broad, Warren; Second, Mrs. Norman Bowdoin, Warren; Third, Mrs. Caroline Thompson, Kalamazoo; Fourth, Mrs. Dora E. Ketchum, Hastings; Fifth, Mrs. Alice E. T. Hale, Grand Rapids; Sixth, Mrs. E. P. Beck, Flint; Seventh, Mrs. Elizabeth Doe, North Branch; Eighth, Mrs. C. W. McChase, Jackson; Ninth, Mrs. Cora T. Holt, Muskegon; Tenth, Mrs. Flora S. Minnie, Searcy; Eleventh, Mrs. A. S. Searles, Cheboygan; Twelfth, Mrs. Amy E. Searles, Cheboygan; Thirteenth, Mrs. Wilbur Buchanan, Detroit.

These women assembled here at 10 o'clock today to have their Committee organized and to have their duties assigned. They were all very cordial and their meeting was a most successful one. The women of this State are very proud to have a woman as their Vice Chairman of the Michigan State Central Committee.

entered in the High school of West Bay City and Albion college, from which institution she graduated in 1897. After her graduation from college she taught for some years in the public schools of Howell, Albion, Chelsea, Lansing and Plymouth. During the past three years she has worked as a skilled anesthetist with her brother, Dr. E. W. Caster, of Highland Park. Miss Caster was a woman of the highest type of christian character, loyal, sympathetic, generous and helpful to all with whom she ever came in contact. Hundreds of young men and women in Michigan testify to her inspiring work as a teacher in the schools of the state. A host of friends, and all who knew her were her friends, mourn their loss and bear witness to the ennobling influence of her life. To the members of her immediate family, who best knew and appreciated her life of loving and service, her passing is an irreparable loss. The world is better because she has lived.

FUNERAL OF MRS. THERESA JOLLIFFE

SERVICES HELD AT METHODIST CHURCH WERE LARGELY ATTENDED.

The funeral services for Mrs. Theresa Jolliffe were held from the Methodist church, last Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and were largely attended. Rev. Frank M. Field, pastor of the church officiated, and Mrs. R. E. Cooper sang two beautiful solos. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, and bore tribute to the love and esteem in which the deceased was held. The remains lay in state at the church one-half hour previous to the hour of the services. The interment was in Riverside cemetery, by the side of her husband, who passed away about two years ago.

Theresa Whaley, the fifth child of Peter and Margaret Whaley, was born November 19, 1860 at Avon, Ont. Her girlhood days were spent in Avon, and it was there she received her education. On July 5, 1883, she was united in marriage to Harry B. Jolliffe. The latter preceded her to the higher life on January 10, 1918. Mrs. Jolliffe had been identified with and an active member of the Methodist church since early childhood. She passed away on Thursday morning, December 18, 1919, one week after she became afflicted with her fatal illness. Five children, Evered, Pearl, Winifred, Harold and Victor, together with three brothers and two sisters survive.

Hail and Farewell

FAREWELL TO THE OLD

Old Year, thy life is well-nigh spent,
Thy feet are tottering and slow,
Thy hoary head with age is bent,
The time is here for thee to go;
Already in the frozen snow
A lonely grave is made for thee;
The winds are chanting dirges low
Upon the land and on the sea.

Old Year, thou wert a friend to some—
To some thou wert of worth untold,
Thy days were blessings, every one,
More precious far than shining gold;
But unto others, thou a foe
Did prove thyself—an enemy,
Relentless as the chains of woe—
As ruthless as the maddened sea.

Some will rejoice to know thee dead,
Others will mourn thee as a friend;
Some will look back on thee with dread,
Others their praises to thee lend:
I neither offer praise nor blame,
Old Year, for what you brought to me,
For unto me both joy and pain
Your active hands gave lavishly.

Thy solemn death-hour draws a knell—
And hark! I hear thy funeral knell—
Slow pealing through the darkened sky—
Farewell, Old Year—farewell, farewell!

HAIL TO THE NEW

Hail! hail! to thee, O virgin year!
Not yet a day's length on thy throne—
Thou with the merry eyes and clear
And joyous voice of dulcet tone:
Hail! hail! to thee, thou strong of limb;
Our praise is thine, O youthful king,
For thou art pure of woe and sin,
Thy young hands yet but blessings bring.

The monarch who is laid away
Within the catacomb of years
Was harsh and ruthless in his day—
Seemed less to love our joys than tears;
We look for blessings manifold,
New Year, from thy pure sinless hand,
We trust thy heart will ne'er grow cold
Toward us—and our Native Land.

Bring healing to the hearts now sore
From wounds the cruel Old Year made;
The veil of peacefulness draw o'er
The woes at each heart-threshold laid:
We cannot love a tyrant king!
Our hearts refuse to loyal be
To one who takes delight to fling
Upon our hearts keen misery!

Be kind to us—that we may say,
When comes the time for thee to go;
"O darling year, we grieve to-day,
Because we all have loved thee so!"
—Good Housekeeping.

"BROKEN BLOSSOMS" HERE NEXT WEEK

In D. W. Griffith's masterpiece, "Broken Blossoms," there are some striking scenes showing the picturesque China that the poet Cheng Huan knew before he left the land of plum blossoms to settle down in the muck of Pennsylvania and the dock district of London's East End. One of these scenes shows a kindly old Mandarin who stops his "Kago" or sedan-chair to distribute sweetmeats and "cash" to a bevy of richly dressed little Chinese maidens.

The camera cannot tell you all the truth about China, but Mr. Griffith was quick to see that something of the truth, the contrast between the kindly treatment accorded children by the Chinese, and the brutality, viciousness and unthinking cruelty meted out to the children of the poor in other places, had to be drawn, so as to emphasize the naturalness of the Chinese chivalry that made Cheng Huan inevitably care for little fifteen year old Lucy, after her beast of a father, Battling Burrows, had driven her from his wretched one-room home.

Nothing could be more pitiable than the condition of the children who have to live through the "Limehouse Nights" in London. In Mr. Griffith's latest production—by far the greatest one he has made—you are made to see the noisome alleys; the wretched rooms, the calls to vice. Fortunately this "Christian" treatment of the little ones is in sharp contrast to the attitude toward youngsters in America.

In China, as in our own country, everyone has a kindly word for the little ones. In Hong Kong, where Mr. Griffith located his Chinese, there are magnificent palaces built high up on the Peak. The national flag flies over the Peak, and the children of the nation are by their side. And the picture is so sharp that it seems as if you were in Hong Kong, even though you are in the United States.

In London's East End, such children could expect to hear nothing but foul curses.

To understand something of the truth of such a contrast as this is necessary to comprehend at their fullest artistic value the nuances of "Broken Blossoms" and the striking moral lessons this work of art is intended to convey. And the inclusion of these scenes of Chinese childhood with their subtle suggestions of Oriental happiness is only another proof of the keen sense of artistic values that characterize every piece of photoplay drama that D. W. Griffith has done. This great picture will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre, December 31 and January 1.

Presbyterian Notes

Last Monday evening the Sunday-school presented its Christmas program. The exercises were held in the basement dining room, where a splendid stage has been built. The program was delightfully presented and the children are to be commended for their fine work. Mrs. George Smith and her helpers, Miss McCumpha, Miss Gardner and Mrs. Whipple deserve great credit for the splendid program, for it took a deal of hard patient work to accomplish such a program. All of the children received candy and nuts, and the classes gave white gifts, which were sent over to the Michigan Hospital for cripple children at Farmington. The room was crowded and all enjoyed the evening very much.

Next Sunday morning the Lord's Supper will be celebrated, and all are invited to this service. The whole membership is urged to be present and join in this service and fellowship. Let us make it one of the best. The Christmas decorations of last Sunday in the auditorium were the most beautiful we have ever seen. They added much to the spirit of the service. Mr. C. H. Bennett was responsible for them, and all the worshippers are grateful to him for her fine work. They will be kept over for this Sunday.

The evening services will be Mr. Bennett's last service, and it is desired that a full attendance will be present. The pastor is anxious to bring his farewell message to the church congregation. Let us plan to be on hand.

Mr. Bennett delivered a splendid message last Sunday night, and was most beautiful. A good crowd gathered for the service and was pleased to hear Mr. Bennett.

YEARS MERELY
LIFE'S CHAPTERS

Offer Opportunity for Each of Us to Write Therein a Record Better Than the Preceding.

THE coming year lies spread like the white plain that sweeps from the roadside to the distant forest where the gray squirrels are making tracks in the light snow. On this white sheet a little record may be written; not a full life story, but merely a brief chapter or two, like the chapters of squirrel life that may be read by one who to-day ventures into the white forest. It is a great mystery that lies ahead, a treasure house of endless possibilities. The span of a man's life is short; shorter in absolute measurement than the span of a year. For each year, when October fades into November, has wrought completeness. No human life can bring completeness. It cannot bring completeness of knowledge or completeness of happiness or completeness of good works. The best man can do, in his poor, limited way, is to glean as much wisdom and win as much happiness and do as much good as the number of his days permits. When the human October fades it may thus be rich and peaceful and without the scars of stormy days or the blight of wasted days and without any regret that what should have been seen and known and done has not been seen and known and done.

A YEAR'S completeness is but a twelvemonth. Our human incompleteness covers many twelvemonths. How fortunate that each dawning year means a new opportunity to live and learn. Again and again we may take up the thread and advance toward the goal of apprehension. We may study God's works and year by year come nearer to an appreciation of them. We can never fully appreciate them, for our minds are finite, and they are infinite.

The new resolution will be simply the same old resolve broken with such frequency.

It will be for most of the people of the earth a year of sacrifice, of sacrifice. But for all this it will not be a bad year. Not half of civilized mankind but all mankind that has not forgotten the meaning of civilization has been unselfishly, heroically engaged in the needful work of ridding the world of a noxious parasitic growth, the poisonous fungus of militarism. For those who gave themselves to this essential work it will be a good year. For all who are suffering that the years to come may be happier and healthier the year will be a good year. February will bring its crystal

Little old last year's resolution is as good as any, and probably will wear fully as long as a new one.

brightness. April will spread her feast of flowers. June will display her green perfection of beauty. August will offer the ripening grains; October the laden orchards. The year will take no heed of the crime that has been done by man or of the vengeance that marched inexorably.

POETS died in the trenches of Gallipoli and France, watching God's sunrise and the wispy clouds in the blue. British gentlemen caked with the mud of Flanders wrote detailed reports of their observations of migratory birds and of the effect of drum-fire on bird life. French students and scholars, bearded and dirty, made careful notes of the flora of the Meuse and the Somme.

These men visited Olympus and did not fall asleep while the gods conversed. Neither did they permit the roar of man's fury to drown out the divine voices.

So it must be a good year that is ahead. There can be no bad years. The years are measured by God and not by the evil that men do.

Joy That All Can Have.

The joy of living is best found in the real success of life. Take away success and there's no joy in life to one alive to opportunities and responsibilities. No live man is satisfied with mere existence, for he wants to contribute something to the world's progress, the world's good. And it is in such contribution that real joy is found, the satisfaction that comes from full realization that one has done what he could in the year given him. So this is the joy this journal wishes every reader may have the coming year; and will have if they fully appreciate that the new year is theirs, to make it truly a happy new year.

Day Means Much to All.

New Years suggest intimate personal views of self. The annual snap of goal resolutions shows how new year people are to become radically better. The day also brings a sense of the inexhaustible resources of life. It is the door into a wonderful future, new inventions, new discoveries, new achievements, of social justice and privilege and joy for the masses of men.

But each succeeding year is a new opportunity. It offers the perfection of completeness, and by even a partial comprehension of its fullness, we may move toward fulfillment of the measure of our lives.

"I am not afraid," said Thoreau, "that I shall exaggerate the value and significance of life, but that I shall not be up to the occasion which it is. I shall be sorry to remember that I was there, but noticed nothing remarkable—not so much as a prince in disguise; lived in the golden age as a hired man; visited Olympus even, and fell asleep after dinner, and did not hear the conversation of the gods."

ONE who loves only artichestity, who does not note the excellence of the world he has been set to rule, proves himself unworthy of his heritage, and is punished by bitter unrest. His life lacks the boon of contentment which includes all boons. There are, of course, the few whose mental scope is too narrow for self-satisfaction. They do not even know that they are discontented and may enjoy life as they do enjoy it. They are fortunate. The unfortunate man is the one who has, even dimly, an understanding that the world is good and beautiful and that he is failing to reap the richness that is rightly his.

The coming year is indeed a great opportunity, full of possibilities. Who ever has not watched and studied the
