PLYMOUTH AND YPSILANTI DEBATE

PLYMOUTH WINS OVER THE NORMAL CITY TEAM LAST FRIDAY NIGHT.

The debate between the Ypsilanti and Plymouth High school teams on the proposition of compulsory military training for all able-bodied male citizens between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five, occurred Thursday evening, February 19, in the High school auditorium at Ypsilanti. The local team upheld the negative, the same side of the proposition that it had been debating upon for three previous contests. Although the three judges decided in favor of the Plymouth team, the contest was thoroughly exciting from the first word until the last thump of the gavel. The Ypsilanti team had perhaps a more easy stage presence, due in part to familiarity with the audience and its surroundings, but in the mechanics of English, such as matters of enunciation, sentence structure, emphasis and clearness of style, they were not the equal of the home team, nor did their delivery seem as earnestly impressive. In the rebuttal, the locals showed the result of their careful preparation, whereas that of the opponents seemed more spontaneous, commendable if it is not a result of previous lack of study of the opposing side.

The Ypsilanti team was composed of Miss Emery, Mr. Ford and Mr. Pettit. The local team consisted of Lyman Judson, Hanna Strasen and Lillian Lundy. Grace Hawkins, the alternate, who so ably filled the place of the third speaker in the previous debate, was the timekeeper for the local team. The judges were Mr. Stitt of the Ann Arbor High school mathematics department; Mr. Monroe of the faculty of the Northwestern High school, Detroit; and Professor Lyman of the Michigan State Normal College.

Besides giving all due credit to the team for its splendid work in this series, the work of the coach must not be overlooked. Miss Ruth Huston has spared nothing in time and effort toward training the team; and to her faithful, careful preparation is due in a large measure this success of which the school is so proud.

The next debate, which is between the Flint and Plymouth teams will occur here in the Plymouth High school auditorium, Saturday night, March 6. The Plymouth team will change sides in this contest, upholding the affirmative of the military training proposition. Come and show that you are as keenly interested in a matching of mental skill and strength as you are in a physical contest. Remember the date—Saturday, March 6, at 7:30, High school. Admission 50c to pay expenses only.

CELEBRATED 88TH BIRTHDAY NEW SUBDIVISION FOR PLYMOUTH

A pleasant gathering was held at the home of Mrs. William Gates on Holbrook avenue, last Saturday, when twenty-six children, grandchildren and other relatives gathered there in remembrance of her 88th birthday, which occurred the following day, Sunday, February 22nd. The guests went in the morning and remained with their hostess the entire day. A fine dinner and supper was served. During the evening other friends called, and Mrs. Gates was the recipient of several gifts, cut flowers and many post cards. Monday afternoon ten ladies of the Lutheran Ladies Aid society called on and presented her with a basket of delicious fruit. Mrs. Gates is very active and quite well for a person of her years. It is the wish of her friends that she may enjoy many more such pleasant occasions.

LOCAL TEACHERS SURVEY EXPENSES

SOME INTERESTING INFORMATION IS RECEIVED AS TO TEACHERS' SALARIES.

In January a survey was made by a committee of the expenses of Plymouth teachers. It will be noticed in Prof. Roberts' letter printed elsewhere in this issue, that the Normal College set $300 as the minimum that should be spent for clothes. According to the table given below, local teachers averaged only $67 a year above that minimum, and housewives at least know that $67 in a whole year is not allowing one to be extravagant. And so it seems that Plymouth teachers are sailing very close to the wind in the matter of clothes. Some people claim that they are extravagant; others that they are shabby. It depends upon what your standard is. They ought to be able to dress well enough to be extravagant. And so it seems that to be respectable as well as to command it from others.

Board, a year	$261.00
Room, a year	88.00
Clothes, a year	367.00
Laundry, a year	39.00
Other expenses, a year	213.00
Total	$968.00
Average grade salary	$333.00
Deficit a year	$135.00

All other expenses, including books and magazines, charity, insurance, pension fund, doctors' and dentists' bills, immersions, in fact everything not included in the life essentials of food, room, clothes and washing amount to $213 for the year. Traveling expenses are entirely eliminated from these estimates. The total is $968 a year. The average salary for grade teachers was in January, $333. This means that these teachers are paying from the funds of their parents or are earning in other ways, if they have no parents to depend upon, the sum of $135 for the privilege of teaching in the local schools. Nine get help from home. Three have dependents. Five attended a summer school in order to advance professionally. None receive any salary for two months of the year and yet they must be clothed and fed for this period.

Since January a bonus of $50 has been granted to be paid at the end of the school year, but this is not available for current expenses. We are publishing this merely as a matter of public education. Everyone hears much general talk about the situation, but no one has definite figures upon which to base an opinion, and we have hoped to supply a basis for discussion as to what ought to be done.

The following is from the Department of Education at the University of Michigan:

"The prospective women teachers who will graduate this June from the University of Michigan will receive a minimum of $2200 in view of the fact that well prepared teachers are in demand. Our graduates will be called upon to accept a salary of $1200 a year. This is a very heavy burden for a young woman to bear."

THE LEINBACH-HUMPHREY CO. OF DETROIT, HAVE PURCHASED THE CHARLES ROBERTS FARM AND WILL OPEN NEW SUBDIVISION THIS SPRING.

The Charles Roberts farm of about sixty-five acres located at the southern limits of the village, has been sold to Leinbach-Humphrey Co., a prominent real estate firm of Detroit, by A. E. and W. S. Bako, who purchased the property from Mr. Roberts last fall. The Detroit purchasers will plat the property and make the necessary improvements that will make it one of the finest residence subdivisions in Plymouth. The name that has been chosen for the new subdivision is "Maplecroft". It is planned to plat the property on the market the coming spring. The Leinbach-Humphrey Co. will open a branch office in Plymouth in the near future. The plats will be submitted to the village commission at their meeting next Monday evening, for their acceptance and approval.

EASTER MEETINGS IN METHODIST CHURCH

FLINT PASTOR: WILL ASSIST LOCAL PASTOR IN THESE MEETINGS.

The Easter meetings being planned for the local Methodist church, are now definitely announced to begin Sunday, March 14th, and will probably continue up to Easter Sunday, Rev. Ralph M. Pierce, pastor of the Oak Park M. E. church, Flint, has been secured to assist in the services here for two weeks, preaching every night. Rev. Pierce is considered to be one of the best preachers in the Detroit conference, a young man full of life and energy and with a fitting passion for the evangel of the gospel. Neighborhood prayer meetings will be held at stated times during the next two weeks in preparation for the special campaign. Six meetings are being planned for next Tuesday evening. The places to be announced next Sunday.

BASE BALL MEETING

There will be a meeting of every one interested in having a ball team in Plymouth, the coming season, at the village hall, Wednesday evening, March 3rd, at 7:30 p. m. Important business.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Holmes and two children of Grand Rapids, were guests of Mrs. Fred Williams on Holbrook avenue.

Something to Know About Plumbing

Here is a way in which you can save money. When a leak develops in your home, or a faucet needs repairing, try to find out before you call us, the exact nature of the work, to be done.

The sizes and shapes of piping, joints and elbows vary in each home. It is hard to tell, from the brief information gained in a hurried phone call, just what the nature of the trouble is.

Sometimes we are able to make the necessary repairs without having to procure special parts. Generally, however, we have to send back to our store for fittings, which we would have brought with us had we known the exact nature of the work to be done.

One unacquainted with the plumbing business cannot always explain just what is needed. But the more complete the information which you give us before we call, the better prepared we shall be, to make the necessary repair. This will save not only our time, but your money.

Customers find our repair work neat, satisfactory and our prices fair.

Call on us when anything goes wrong.

Two good-sized farms changed hands the past week in which Harry S. German was somewhat interested. The two places were formerly the homes of his grandfathers, George German and L. W. Simmons, their fathers each taking their respective farms from the government back in the early pioneer days. The George German lands are located in West Bloomfield township, and Harry German, who has owned the place for the past few years, sold the 150 acres to William Muirhead of Orchard Lake, for a consideration of $30,000. The L. W. Simmons farm, late years owned by August Goebel, was transferred to Mrs. Detroit parties for a consideration said to be $33,000 and consisted of 103 acres. Mr. German is much elated that both of his grandfathers' former homes will have plenty of money expended on them for improvements and appreciated the sales made to industrious parties. The two sales were made during the past week.—Northville Record.

MEETING SUCCESS IN FLINT ONE GLASS OF MILK A DAY

REV. F. M. FIELD PREACHING EVERY NIGHT.

For the past two weeks, Rev. Frank M. Field, pastor of the Plymouth Methodist church, has been preaching every night in special evangelistic meetings being conducted in the Oak Park Methodist church in the city of Flint. The special effort is meeting with splendid success, the congregations increasing nightly. Already over one hundred people have made a start in the christian life, including those who had made their decision just before the special meetings opened.

The music for the meetings is being conducted by Mrs. W. J. Robinson, a song leader and soloist of great ability, who is assisted by a chorus choir of fifty voices.

The Flint Daily Journal, commenting upon the meetings, says: "The Field-Robinson evangelistic meetings at Oak Park M. E. church are attracting a greater interest and attendance each night. Rev. F. M. Field is a forceful preacher, and is winning his way with all the people of the north end of the city."

Rev. Field was home for services in his own church last Sunday, and will return to Plymouth tomorrow for next Sunday's services.

SCHOOL NOTES

Thurber Becker, Bernard Jacobs, Beulah Coe and William Bake are ahead in the 3rd and 4th Overflow spelling contest.

Having Washington program in 6th hour civics class. Claude Gebhardt leads in the fifth grade in the Courtis tests. He has completed twenty-two tests in twenty-four trials. Mary Merryweather is close second, having completed twenty-one tests.

The second grade children were given a surprise party Wednesday afternoon for Marguerite Wood, by her grandmother, Mrs. E. D. Wood, the occasion being Marguerite's eighth birthday. Feet of candy were given a generous supply of popcorn, peanuts and candy. Games were played and all enjoyed themselves.

Mrs. E. D. Wood visited the second grade, Wednesday afternoon.

Washington's Birthday was observed on Friday in the second grade. Stories were told and a very attractive blackboard border was made in drawing.

The third grade is learning, "The Barefoot Boy."

Mrs. E. F. Brunson visited the kindergarten on Friday of last week. The kindergarten children observed Washington's Birthday making very attractive soldiers' caps. They held a dress parade with the kindergarten band leading, and marched in the first and second grades.

Several pupils of the junior and senior high school, who have credit for penmanship, have entered a class to work for a final certificate in penmanship.

The girls' basket ball team played against the Belleville girls' team, last Friday night, at Belleville. Sarah Wilson, one of the forwards and captain, was not playing, so Edith Pierce, our jumping center, played forward with Doris Proctor, and had never played that position before, but got along famously. Although she was just practicing basket-shooting, she made two field baskets, and what left it to her to get the ball, but she surely did. The score ended 67 to 13, in her favor, and of the 67 points, 63 were made by Proctor. The line-up was as follows: Hanna Strasen, J. C.; Merle Roe, R. C.; Edith Pierce, R. F.; Doris Proctor, L. F.; Florence Greenlaw, R. G.; Mildred Hood (acting captain), L. G.

Accepting defeat gracefully seems to be the regular habit of the boys' team lately. Belleville, in the first basket ball game ever played in that place, defeated them by a score of 23 to 17. The Plymouth boys were handicapped by the absence of Waller and Captain Wilcox from the line-up, but the score of 7 in the last half to one lone point for Belleville, showed that the team simply didn't get together during the first half, which ended 22 to 10 for Belleville. Simpson and Hubbard divided the scoring honors for Belleville, with 8 points each. For Plymouth, Birch got 12 points on field baskets, and Harris 5 of 6 tries from the foul line. Randall replaced Clemens toward the end of the first half. Millard refereed in a satisfactory manner. Belleville is to be congratulated on making such a good showing so early in their season. The line-up: Plymouth—Birch, R. F.; Clemens, L. F.; Miller, C.; Roe, R. G.; Harris, L. G.

Belleville—Simpson, R. F.; Ammerman, L. F.; Hubbard, C.; Day, R. G.; Robson, L. G.

Dearborn girls' basket ball team will play the Plymouth girls, and the boys' class teams will play off the final game for the championship, next Friday evening. Game called at 7:30. Admission, 10c and 20c.

Detroit—City and county officials are strongly backing the project to replace the city hall with a 37-story building in which city and county officials could be centralized. It is estimated that the cost would be $2,000,000. The present structure has a floor space of but 75,000 square feet. The county building's space is a little more than 300,000 square feet. A 20-story office building on the present city hall site would give 654,000 square feet. This would permit the city to move all its offices into a centralized building.

Bible Students. Rev. 8:3 speaks of an angel as "another angel." Who or what is this angel? What the meaning of the word altar in this verse? Why did this angel come and stand at the altar? What the meaning of the golden censer and the "much incense" that this angel offered? Why did this angel take the contents of the censer fire of the altar and cast (deliberately hurl—Greek) it into the earth? "And there were voices" and an earthquake. What the meaning of these symbols, etc., etc. A most interesting study. Welcome.

Lot Owners Attention

This is in answer to your question relative to Water Main Extensions.

This is an answer to your question relative to water main extensions. Many of you have asked if there would be any difficulty about getting water onto some of the new subdivisions. DON'T WORRY about water very much, before the time that you will need it, then present proof of your need and wants to the proper authorities in the right and legal way, be on hand at the right time and place to back up your request, perhaps it will be granted. When it comes to what authorities may do for a citizen or taxpayer, we have not and cannot guarantee anything. If you lived outside of the village limits you might find it comparatively easy to get the village water onto your premises.

During the summer months, we are restricted to half-hour periods for sprinkling purposes. Some of those living outside the village limits, supposed to have the village water for domestic needs only, may use it when and for what they please. Mighty fine people too, whom we count among our friends, we say of them, they are fortunate, indeed. They never would be using the village water under the present arrangement with our sanction.

Some of our citizens years ago urged that steps be taken for the laying of a larger main to the spring, yet as late as last fall, the authorities permitted connection to be made with the village main and water to be piped onto properties far beyond the southern village limits. CAN YOU BEAT IT?

We served the village six consecutive terms. During that time, not a single tap was made for a person outside the village. We took the position that those who wanted to enjoy the benefits of our public utilities should come inside the lines and also share its burdens of taxation and government.

Just call attention to that fact when you present a petition for extension of main onto lots WITHIN the village limits.

MOLINE

UNIVERSAL TRACTOR

Saves 1-3 Men and 5 Horses per Farm

Through the most comprehensive tractor survey yet attempted, we have found by figures from Moline-Universal tractor owners—not by guess work—that the Moline-Universal actually saves an average of 3 1-3 men and 5 horses per farm.

Over 200 farmers in 37 states from Maine to California and North Dakota to Texas were closely questioned, and their farms range in size from 40 to 800 acres. Everyone of the Moline-Universal owners whose data form a basis for these conclusions was selected at random from our list of owners, so that these results are average—not exceptional.

That the Moline is really a Universal Tractor and fits any size farm is proven by the fact that 400 farms reporting ranged in size as follows: 5 per cent, 100 acres and under; 37 per cent, 100 acres to 200 acres; 21 per cent from 200 to 300 acres; 13 per cent from 300 to 400 acres, and 18 per cent, over 400 acres. In their report 76 per cent agreed they could use the Moline-Universal whenever they used horses, and 68 per cent said they could do better work—and thereby make more money.

Owners are positive in their statement that the Moline-Universal is a good investment, and 73 per cent of the Moline owners state that they wouldn't farm again without the Moline-Universal Tractor, while the rest say they would dislike to go back to horses.

In reply to the question, "Can you operate and maintain the Moline-Universal Tractor for what it would cost you to keep three or four horses?" 92 per cent said, "Yes." Many reported they could do so for less.

TELLS OF HIS WESTERN TRIP

F. W. HAMILL LATELY RETURNED FROM THE WEST WRITES AN INTERESTING LETTER FOR THE MAIL.

We stopped off at Williams on the main line of the Santa Fe, and took the side trip of sixty-four miles north to Grand Canyon. The scrubby evergreens gradually become good-sized trees as altitude is gained, until at the rim of the canyon, we alight in the midst of a large forest full of game. From the station, going up two flights of stairs past the Hopi House, where we attended an Indian dance at 8:00 p. m., and around the large Hotel El Tovar, we stop very suddenly, for in front of us is the largest hole in mother earth. The first drop is about one thousand feet, then slants off a few hundred feet and drops another seven hundred feet, and so on until three miles away and one mile below, the Colorado river winds its maddening way. We are standing on the rim and a panorama most majestic and wonderful confronts us.

The Grand Canyon is 217 miles long, ten to twenty miles wide and more than one mile deep. It has been called the most famous mountain chain in America turned upside down. It is said to elude all sense of perspective, to outstretch the faculty of measurement, to overlap the confines of definite apprehension. All descriptive superlatives in the language have been used, but the Grand Canyon has never been adequately described and never will be. It is the one thing that one must see to comprehend. Geologists have spent years in the study of the region and volumes have been written of the conditions that have caused the vari-colored deposits, their apparent upheaval and subsequent partial erosion by the river. We, who know little about geology, can make our own guess in what age the black granite river gorge lay at the surface to receive deposits that now bury it thousands of feet deep. We can only guess—how much time was required for sediment carried by the seas that in different eras covered all the Grand Canyon region, to be precipitated in the layers of quartzite, of green, and brown and white sandstone, of alternate layers of gray and red-colored limestone and of white limestone that comprise the canyon walls. We can guess at the period the river has been wearing its way down through all these strata, but whether we know anything of geology or not one cannot help appreciating the grandeur of the canyon and form our own opinion of how it came to be, feeling sure at least that millions on millions of years passed in its making. To give those of you who have seen Niagara Falls some comprehension of the magnitude of the side walls of the canyon, multiply the height of the falls by three, then place seven such falls, each back and above the other until the combined altitude is one mile, and length three to five miles, and you will have some idea of the scale of the Grand Canyon. The river is about 300 feet wide and 30 to 70 feet deep, but owing to the last drop being a thousand feet in solid granite, the river is not visible except from certain points, where a view up or down the canyon can be had. At these points the river looks like a muddy creek only a few feet wide. Small because miles away, muddy because the erosion which made the canyon is still going on.

There are but two places to get down into the canyon. Bright Angel trail, which is very some seven and one-half miles, commencing at Bright Angel Hotel, descending Jacob's Ladder, and ending with the Devil's Corkscrew at the brink of the river. This trip takes nearly all day—party starts at 8:30 a. m. with guide, the price five dollars per donkey. The donkeys are trained not to hug the rocks too closely to prevent injury to the rider, but most riders lean to the rocks in fear. The Hermit trail goes down one day and back, the next, about fourteen miles one way. If you see anyone who dreads or has difficulty in getting up or sitting down—any have been on one of these trips.

At lookout tower is a free large telescope to watch your friends on the Bright Angel trail, and get close up views of the hundreds of interesting features, as O'Neill Butte, Newton Butte, Tower of Set, Glacie Peak, Dana Butte, Isis Temple, etc. It is necessary to locate parties with the telescope for they look like flies with the naked eye. About half way down the Bright Angel trail, one sees what looks to be three short rows of sage brush. On looking through the telescope we discover it to be what is called "Indian Gardens," just 3000 feet below and a mile and a half away. The small sage brush grows in rows of large shade trees, and underneath their hangings some good-sized buildings and beautiful lawn. This is a resting place where your picture is taken.

One hundred and fifty horses and mules are maintained at Grand Canyon. It is interesting to know that there is no water on the south rim of the canyon for 100 miles east and west of El Tovar, and all the water for these animals as well as for the hotel, power house, laundry and other facilities is hauled by rail from Del Rio Springs, 125 miles north. There is a great volume of water some miles away in the Colorado river, which is 240 feet wide, but it is not available. No equipment has yet been devised to pump water from a reservoir in Del Rio from 25 to 70 feet above at the bottom of a mile deep canyon.

The rim drives are very interesting. The Hermit river extending seven and one-half miles west from El Tovar, is built on the very brink of the canyon. The 2500 ft. drive, commencing at the top of the canyon, is a very interesting sight. At the top of the canyon, the "Hermit" river is very beautiful. The drive is very interesting. Today's Reflections

For our part we believe New York is worrying more over the disappearance of cases of whiskey, than she is over the appearance of new cases of flu.

As a rule the Plymouth man who refers to newspaper articles as "silly gossip" kicks when his own name is left out of the paper.

And when they begin making arrests, there'll be a lot of German officers wishing they'd never been promoted.

Some Plymouth men are going to fail to reach the two score and ten mark because they try to crowd two years into one.

Reports from Washington are there'll be plenty of sugar when the price in Cuba is settled. And there'll be plenty when it gets up to 25c a pound, too.

If you would win the undying respect of a homely Plymouth woman, call her handsome.

From the number of political candidates entering the field, it looks as though every baby in America will be kissed this year.

March is known as the month of much wind—but this is presidential year and every month will be a good deal like it.

Again we repeat, there is no hope for the Plymouth man who spends his time in arguing with women and babies.

The best defense a "moonshiner" can put up these days is that he's a better citizen than the man who sells wood alcohol.

We never expected to see money so plentiful in this country that it would be hard to find a man to sit on a jury.

Just because a Plymouth man persists in blowing his own horn is no sign he possesses a musical education.

The big magazines say they are hard hit by the zone war. So they raise their subscription price and not only get it back but a lot more with it.

We see where an editor has sued a subscriber for $5,000 for striking him, and we presume if he gets it he will become totally disabled for life.

You have also doubtless noticed that the Plymouth man, who is quick to lose his temper is also quick to find it again.

Chronic Constipation
There are people who never have a movement of the bowels without it is produced by a cathartic. Most of them have brought that condition on themselves by the use of mineral waters and strong cathartics that take too much water out of the system and aggravate the disease that are meant to relieve. A mild laxative tonic like Chamberlain's Tablets afford a gentle movement of the bowels that you hardly realize has been produced by a medicine, and their use is not likely to be followed by constipation.—Adv.

TEACHERS' EXPENSE SURVEY

(continued from page one) The following letter was sent to a committee of local teachers. After deducting the $630 which Prof. Roberts says is necessary for clothes and professional advancement, there is left, with the recommended minimum of the Normal College, $870 for food and room and for saving. This amount might suffice for the first year, perhaps, but it is no inducement toward entering the teaching profession. The University is recommending its graduates at a minimum of $1,200. If these are salaries for absolutely inexperienced teachers, it is logical to conclude that those of experience should receive more salary, to be based on efficiency and experience. There should be a gradually ascending scale from these minimums, just as in any other business where experience counts for much. The normal school should be a place where are graduating nearly five hundred less teachers than last year, which will emphasize more than ever the shortage in teaching product. Of course this means that the salaries of good teachers will go up. It is the policy of the normal school to give the lower percentage not to send out such life certificates graduate who can be recommended at a minimum salary of less than $1,000. Even at this salary there will be ten calls for every teacher turned out. I happen to know of several training schools for teachers in the state which require by contract or seven hundred students—this year are enrolling but a few more than one hundred. In fact the time has now come when school authorities will be obliged to pay a reasonable salary in order to secure satisfactory results. In my opinion a teacher's expenses may be based on two-thirds of the year than upon the period which he is employed in the school. In estimating what one's salary should be first of all one should take into consideration the cost of living in the community and cost of necessary living. To this should be added about $30 to pay for incidental debts and doctor bills, to this should be added not less than $300 for clothes and winter apparel. Then in addition to all the above, the teacher should plan on having paid no less than $100 for travel, for the purchase of books for attending summer school, and in general for further improvement along lines which will always make her a better teacher. Very truly yours, D. H. ROBERTS, Supt. of Training School.
