WILL BUILD NEW MASONIC TEMPLE

PLYMOUTH MASONS HAVE PURCHASED SITE AT THE CORNER OF PENNIMAN AVENUE AND UNION STREET.

Plymouth Rock Lodge, No. 46, F. & A. M., have purchased of J. H. Patterson the property located at the corner of Penniman avenue and Union street, opposite Kellogg Park, now occupied by Hilday & Kincaid as a garage. As soon as arrangements can be completed to do so, it is the intention to erect a modern lodge home upon this site to cost between $30,000 and $40,000. This property has a frontage on Penniman avenue of 66 feet and a depth of 130 feet on Union street. It is a most desirable location for a building of this kind, and the local lodge are to be congratulated in the progressive step they have taken in purchasing this valuable site, the erection of another handsome building in Plymouth and providing themselves with a modern and commodious lodge home. The local lodge have enjoyed a splendid growth in the past few years, and have entirely outgrown their present quarters.

The building occupied by the lodge at the present time and known as the Masonic temple, was sold recently by the Masonic Building Association to F. D. Schrader. As soon as the postoffice is moved to the new bank building, Mr. Schrader intends to make some improvements in the building that will make it a modern store, and another fine improvement on Penniman avenue.

A PLEASANT EVENT

Several members of the Northville and Plymouth Women's Clubs went to Wayne, Tuesday afternoon, where they were guests of the Woman's Club of Wayne, at a musical recital given by Carl Lindergren, basso cantante, and Harold L. Reck, organist, members of the faculty of the Normal Conservatory at Ypsilanti, and the Conservatory Trio, Jas. Breakey, piano; Edward Mosher, violin, and Harold Laing, cello. It was indeed a musical treat and greatly enjoyed by all who attended. After the program daily refreshments and a social hour were enjoyed.

WILL REPEAT PLAY

The Daisy Employees Association will repeat the performance, "A Poor Married Man," Friday evening, April 2nd, at the Plymouth High School auditorium. So well did the members of the cast take their respective parts when the play was put on February 4th last, that a repetition was suggested. The general public may witness a thoroughly enjoyable program. April 2nd—Admission will be 50c for adults and 25c for children. Other features including songs and recitations are being prepared. The D. E. A. is a dignified, progressive organization, always doing and trying to do something worth while, and the public may rest assured that the entertainment will be of more than ordinary merit.

DANCE FRIDAY EVENING APRIL 2

Scott D. Corbitt Post, American Legion, of Plymouth, will give a dancing party in Penniman Allen auditorium, Friday evening, April 2nd. Music will be furnished by Hedrick's Jazz Kids of Detroit. Bill, $1.10, including war tax. Spectators, 25c.

WILL HOLD EASTER BAZAAR
The Baptist Ladies' Aid society will hold an Easter bazaar, Wednesday afternoon and evening, March 31, in the basement of the church, beginning at 2:30. Dinner will be served at 5:30 until all are served.

ONE BELATED NOTICE
The April 2nd of Old February will be observed on the 1st. Don't miss the opportunity at the High School auditorium, 7:30 p. m. The program will be as follows: "A Poor Married Man," at Plymouth High school Friday, April 2nd.

MEETINGS CONTINUE THROUGH HOLY WEEK

METHODIST EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN WILL RUN THROUGH TO EASTER SUNDAY.

The special Easter meetings, which have been in progress at the Methodist church during the past two weeks as a part of the "million convert" campaign, will be continued all through holy week, closing with Easter Sunday. There will be services every night next week, except Saturday. The meetings have been gaining in interest and power during the past two weeks, the church being filled with interested worshippers night after night.

Rev. Ralph M. Pierce of Flint, has won many friends and admirers by his winsome personality and his clear, forceful sermons, which have been much appreciated by all who have heard him.

The musical leadership and solo work of Arnold H. Kehrl, the genial and talented soloist, has added much to the attractiveness and influence of the meetings. It is a real treat to hear him sing the gospel message in his beautiful solo work. Mr. Kehrl will be here all next week and will sing every night as well as at the Sunday services.

Another of the popular children's meetings was held Thursday afternoon, attended by a host of youngsters, who are interested in Mr. Kehrl's object lessons and tricks. They also learned a number of new songs, which they will sing at the service next Monday night, and next Thursday afternoon the last of the children's meetings will be held.

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY HERE SUNDAY

J. C. FIELD FROM SOUTH AMERICA WILL SPEAK AT METHODIST CHURCH.

J. C. Field of Evanston, Illinois, who returned from South America last summer, after serving six years as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Buenos Aires, Argentina, will speak at the Methodist church, next Sunday morning concerning the religious conditions in South America, which he says is really the "dark continent." Mr. Field, who is a brother of Rev. Frank M. Field, was in Bolivia for five years and was president of the American College at La Paz. After a two-year tour in Michigan when he was secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Jackson, he returned to the southern continent as a Y. M. C. A. secretary in Buenos Aires. During the last year of the war he served as port secretary for the continent. Mr. Field has been spending a year in the states, and is at this time making a visit to his brother, Rev. F. M. Field, before his return to South America next month, when he goes to Lima, Peru, to have charge of the Y. M. C. A. there.

Edgar Geisinger of Detroit spent Sunday at the home of Edgar Thomas and George Meyer. Auntie Nell is coming from Redford and will be in town. "A Poor Married Man," at Plymouth High school Friday, April 2nd.

KRYL'S ORCHESTRAL SEXTETTE

Kryl's Orchestral Sextette, which appears here on the Citizens Entertainment Course, Wednesday evening, March 31st, consists of a company of real artists, selected by Bohumir Kryl, famous bandmaster and cornetist.

The program given by the sextette is one of exceptional merit. While the ensemble work of the program is always a delightful part of the program, the work of the artists in solos, duets, trios and quartets is equally notable.

Miss Irene Stolofsky, well-known violinist, is leader of the sextette. She is one of the most prominent young violinists of today.

Mr. Kryl states that this is one of the best companies that he has organized in years.

Don't miss it at the Penniman Allen theatre. Single admission, 50c.

CELEBRATES HIS BIRTHDAY

Fred Harer was given a pleasant surprise party last Sunday, the occasion being his seventy-third birthday anniversary. His children, grandchildren and friends to the number of thirty were present. Mr. Harer was the recipient of a number of fine gifts. One of the features of the day was a sumptuous dinner. The table was prettily decorated with hyacinths and carnations. It was a most pleasant occasion, and Mr. Harer enjoyed it immensely. Those present were: Ernest Frank and family and Miss Rany of Farmington; August Harer and family of Dearborn; Charles Harer and family, John Karrick and family, William Raffel and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gardechalk, Miss Kulewatz, Miss Hagen and Miss Johnson of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harer of Plymouth.

PRESBYTERIANS CALL NEW PASTOR

At the congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church held Tuesday evening, a unanimous vote was given to extend a call to Rev. S. Conger Hathaway to the pastorate of the local church. Rev. Hathaway has been supplying the pulpit of this church for the past several weeks. The new pastor and his family are now living in Ann Arbor, where he is taking a course at the U. of M. He will move to Plymouth next June, when he finishes his studies at the University, and in the meantime will fill the pulpit every Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Hathaway has been the pastor of the Presbyterian church at Caro, where he had a very successful ministry. The local church are to be congratulated in securing so able a pastor as is the Rev. Hathaway.

Reserve Friday evening, April 2nd, to see "A Poor Married Man," at Plymouth High school. Alright, Sarah, and we'll take Bobby, too.

How Will You Spend Holy Week?

As We Commemorate the Passion and Death and Resurrection of Our Lord
MEETINGS CONTINUE THROUGH PASSION WEEK
SONG SERVICE EVERY NIGHT 7:30

Solo by Mr. Kehrl Each Evening

Every Protestant church in America is supposed to be holding evangelistic meetings next week in connection with the great Lenten Evangelistic Campaign of the Interchurch World Movement.

Many are considering the need of religion and the claims of Christ. Numbers have decided for God in the past two weeks.

ONCE MORE THE HOUSING PROBLEM

The Mail has upon several occasions exploited the necessity of more house room, and we again call the attention of our citizens to this very important question in our growing community. People arrive in the village every day inquiring for houses to live in. Factory managers are unable to secure skilled workmen, not because they are not to be had, but because there is no house room for them when they get here. There are only a very few houses even, for sale, and these are being snapped up at almost any price. Something must be done, if the village is to continue its rapid growth, and it must be done quickly. There must not be any half way work about it.

Mr. Lee, of the H. S. Lee Foundry Co., stated to the Mail a few days ago that his concern, now employing 35 men, would double its force immediately if house room was to be had for the additional employes. They are ready today to erect another building as large as their present quarters, but are holding back to see what Plymouth is going to do about the housing problem. All other factories are in need of mechanics, if house room could be secured for them. These are the men we want to induce to locate here. They make the best kind of citizens.

The Mail has no suggestions to make as to how this matter is to be brought to a successful issue. But here is a pointer. There are minded people in Plymouth, who seem to lose all sight of efforts to "boost Plymouth," but are busily engaged in "boosting Detroit." Why not at least direct some of this energy for Plymouth. If financial gain may be secured in Detroit, the same result in the same direction may be secured in Plymouth. Concerted action will bring it about. Let's get together and "boost Plymouth first"—not Detroit, or any other town. We believe the village is having a straight, legitimate and healthy growth, which may be stimulated immensely if capital will interest itself. If it can be made safe in Detroit, it can be made safe in Plymouth. We need houses and we need them worse than does Detroit.

Mrs. J. D. McLaren is visiting relatives in Chelsea.

Mrs. John Johnson and children visited relatives in Detroit, the first of the week.

Miss O. Hillman of Lyons, Mich., is visiting her nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hillman.

W. P. Holmes of Salem, is quite ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Tait, on Adams street.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Seldon, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia at their home on East Ann Arbor street, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lorenz, who have been in charge of the Wayne Red Front grocery store for the past few months, have been transferred to the Plymouth store.

Miss Alice Hawkins of Detroit, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. F. L. Barrows. Miss Hawkins will leave the first of next week for the Chicago University.

Gerald Hondrop happily celebrated his eighth birthday, last Wednesday afternoon, by entertaining about twelve of his little playmates. Games were the entertainment and refreshments were served.

A pretty wedding was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Starke street, last Wednesday afternoon, March 24th, when Miss Helen C., youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Chisholm, was united in marriage to Pedro Lamomaco, also of this place. The ceremony was performed at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. F. M. Field, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, in the presence of the immediate family, the ring service being used. The bride was becomingly gowned in taupe satin and georgette, and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. Shortly after the service the happy couple left for Detroit, enroute to New York City for a few days' stay. The bride has been in the employ of the Bell Telephone Co. for some time, and is well and favorably known here. The groom is in the employ of the Pure Margarine, and is also favorably known. Plymouth friends extend best wishes for happiness and prosperity. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Lamomaco will reside with the bride's parents.

W. R. LeVan says he expects to build several houses in the village this summer. Walt has engaged with Contractor Patterson as foreman.

Mr. and Mrs. Coello Hamilton and children were the guests of the former's cousin and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Tunis Miner, at Birmingham, Sunday.

Supintendent Little of the Pere Marquette, has had his office transferred from Detroit to Saginaw, and has moved his family and household effects from Plymouth to that city.

Dr. J. L. Olaver has moved his dental office from the rooms over Riggs' store to the front suite of office rooms in the new bank block with entrance on Penniman avenue.

Mrs. Ross Sutherland and little daughter, Betty, of Chicago, who have been guests of the former's sister, Mrs. A. E. Patterson, for the past two weeks, expect to leave tomorrow (Saturday) for a visit with relatives in Canada.

Several parties have been in the village lately looking for sites for manufacturing purposes. The sites are here, but the big "stick" is, where is the house room for more families? Suppose a syndicate should form to build fifty or a hundred houses? That would help some, together with houses single individuals will build.

There will be a regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star next Tuesday evening, March 30. Dinner will be served promptly at six o'clock, for which a charge of twenty-five cents per plate will be made. After the dinner a short business session will be held, followed by the initiatory work of the order. Please bear in mind the hour of the dinner and be prompt in your attendance.

P. S. Bennett won first prize for the best French male bull dog weighing under 22 pounds; first on one weighing over 22 pounds, and first on female French bull dog, finally winning first for the best male and female French bull dogs in the Cleveland dog show, held at Cleveland, last week. Mr. Bennett is attending the Cincinnati show this week, and will also attend the shows at St. Louis and Chicago, which are to follow.

The following out of town friends were here Wednesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Esther Loomis: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnes and daughter, Winifred, of Lansing; Vincent Loomis, wife and daughter of Grand Rapids; Mrs. Ellen Woodard and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hecker of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. John Scanlon of Lamont; Eugene Streng, wife and daughter, Camilla, of Ypsilanti, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smith and son of Wixom.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Axie Anna Steers, wife of John H. Steers of Detroit, formerly of this place, who passed away at her home 1187 Pingree avenue, Thursday, March 18th. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Edward Hines and Mrs. Jessie Steers of Detroit. A private funeral was held from her late residence, Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Mr. Steers and family were at one time well known residents of this place, as Mrs. Steers was the first editor of the Plymouth Mail and was in business here for several years. Plymouth friends extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

OBITUARY

MRS. ELIZABETH STEVENSON

Mrs. Elizabeth Stevenson passed away early Monday morning at the home of Mrs. Rachel Mott, where she had housekeeping rooms. Elizabeth Greenlaw Stevenson was born on the fourth of April, 1850. She was the daughter of Robert and Mary Greenlaw and the granddaughter of Sir Robt. Greenlaw of Castle Reagh Hill, Ireland. The estate falling to the eldest son, left the rest of the family comparatively poor, and Elizabeth and her mother emigrated to this country in May, 1875, the brothers having gone on before, established a home in Detroit, where she cared for her mother for many years. She had been a patient sufferer for many years from neuritis of the spine, which recently developed into an acute form of heart trouble, from which she died. During the late war she was an inveterate knitter, contributing upwards of sixteen sweaters and many pairs of socks to the war relief work. She leaves one brother, Charles Greenlaw, of this place, to whom she was a devoted sister, as he was a devoted brother to her; also several nieces and nephews. Two brothers, Robert and John, preceded her to the great beyond several years ago.

The funeral was held from the Universalist church, Friday afternoon, at two o'clock, Rev. Midworth of the Episcopal diocese of Detroit, officiating.

MRS. ESTHER M. LOOMIS

Esther M. Loomis was born in Livonia township, Wayne county, Michigan, March 31, 1852, and was called from Lansing, Michigan, March 22, 1920, to that beautiful home beyond where there is no more suffering and which is especially prepared for those who live as she lived, modest, unassuming, God fearing and whose greatest ambition was to do her duty and be of assistance to her associates. No higher tribute can be paid her than to say "She spoke ill of no one and always had a cheerful word for everyone she met." In early life she was united in marriage to Philemon Woodward, who died on the field of battle during the civil war. One son was born to this marriage, James P. Woodward, who preceded her in death in 1915. Late in life she was again married to Albert S. Loomis of Ypsilanti, who died several years ago. No children were born of this union, but she was a true mother to the children of Mr. Loomis by a former marriage. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary Russell of Northville; a granddaughter, Mrs. Edwin Hecker of Detroit, and many other relatives and friends. She was a member of Newburg Methodist church. Her life was the beautiful life of the christian.

'Tis hard to take the burden up,
Where she has laid it down,
She brightened all the joy of life,
She softened every frown.
But oh, 'tis good to think of her,
When we are troubled sore;
Thanks be to God that she has been,
Although she is no more.

LEE FOUNDRY CO. A BUSY PLACE

The H. S. Lee Foundry & Machine Co. is doing a very prosperous business. In fact, it could do much more if it had the capacity, and capacity would be furnished immediately if there were more house room for the additional employes. Mr. Lee, who was for several years factory manager of the Saxon Motor Car Co., has given up his position there, and is now devoting his entire time to the promotion of the Plymouth plant. Their business is showing a very fine growth, they are paying good wages, and have also adopted the profit-sharing plan with all employes. Mr. Lee is also directing his attention to the housing problem, and is ready to co-operate with any other citizen in bringing about the much desired result of more houses. "Boost Plymouth."

Why Colds Are Dangerous

You are often told to "beware of a cold," but why? We will tell you: Every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases. People who contract pneumonia first take cold. The longer a cold hangs on the greater the danger, especially from the germ diseases, as a cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of consumption, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The quicker you get rid of your cold, the less danger of contracting one of these diseases. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a reputation as a cure for colds and can be depended upon. It is pleasant to take.—Adv't.

DELPHIAN CHAPTER MET

The Plymouth Delphian Chapter met at the High school building, Wednesday evening, with a very good attendance. After a short business meeting, a very interesting literary program followed. Papers on the "Life Sketch of St. Patrick" was read by Mrs. George Smith. Many new thoughts were brought to us by this interesting paper. The chapter will meet with Mrs. Smith on Union street, Wednesday, March 31st, at 7:30 sharp. Roll call, current events.

LAPHAM'S CORNERS

Miss Velona Nelson is ill with the measles.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tait and son Clifford returned to their home in Plymouth, Monday after spending a few days with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Golden Bender.
Mrs. Coda Savery has been ill.
The children of the Stone school enjoyed a St. Patrick's party last Wednesday afternoon.

Myford Sietoff and Richard Wilson of Rushton spent the week-end with their parents here.
Mrs. Effie Baird returned home Wednesday, after caring for Mrs. Wm. Mager for the past ten days. Mrs. Mager is much improved.

Mrs. Fred Brown and Miss Elsie, were callers at William Mager's Saturday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mager and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jarvis and children were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Smith, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Clifford Casteline, who underwent an operation at Maplehurst hospital, Ann Arbor, returned home Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jarvis, Richard and Evelyn spent Sunday afternoon at Ed Quackenbush's.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mager called on Mr. and Mrs. William Mager Sunday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. Coda Savery were in Ann Arbor, Saturday.

Mrs. Golden Bender was in Plymouth, Saturday.
The Hills family have moved onto the Soar farm.

Those who were neither tardy nor absent during January in District No. 3 were: Vivian Crost, Ethel Smith, Glen Werner and Victor Sietoff.
Marion Fisher and Ruth Mager motored to Northville, Monday afternoon.

Friends of Mrs. J. R. Warn of Pontiac, will be sorry to hear that she had the misfortune to break her wrist last week.
Mrs. Charles Cole, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Warn of Pontiac spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Cole. Doris Cole returned home with them for a visit.

NEWBURG

Those who did not attend church Sunday last missed a treat in the way of singing. Mr. Kehrl, the evangelist, led the singing and sang a beautiful solo entitled, "The Old Fashioned Religion." The pastor made an earnest plea for better church attendance. We raise large sums of money to convert the heathen, when people living within a stone's throw of the church, never darken its doors only on some special occasion. Most of the country churches are being closed today on account of the Sunday newspapers, auto riding and Sunday company. For the sake of the young people in this community, let us see that the Newburg church does not close its doors. Mr. Kehrl will be with us again next Sabbath and sing. Everyone most cordially invited.

Those who were out star gazing Monday night saw a wonderful sight, the Northern Lights, extending way over to the north, something we very seldom see here.
Several Newburg people attended the revival meeting at Plymouth Tuesday evening.

Miss Faye Ryder returned from Chicago, last Saturday.
Andrew Komora of Detroit, spent over Sunday as the guest of Clarence Clemens.

The Misses Hilda and Viola Gilstruff of Detroit, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grimm.
Clara Grimm is convalescing from the measles.

The remains of Mrs. Esther Loomis, who died at the home of her niece, Mrs. North Barnes, in Lansing, Monday morning, were brought to Newburg for burial, Wednesday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Field. Aunt Esther was greatly loved by all who were fortunate enough to know her.

If you have anything to buy or sell, advertise it in the Mail. You will be surprised how quickly you will get results.

FARMS!

I present these farms and many others for your inspection:
140 Acre Farm—Four miles out of Northville; nine-room house in good repair; two large hip-roofed barns; new silo; good black loam soil. $125 per acre. A great bargain.

160 Acre Farm—On State road near Salem; 10-room house; 2 large barns; silo; other outbuildings; good fences; orchard; very pleasing as well as one of the best producers in this locality. Very attractive price on application.

60 Acre Farm—Four miles from Salem and three miles from South Lyon on State road; all A-No. 1 buildings; house has eight rooms finished in oak, has full basement and cistern, well water on back porch, situated in a nice grove; new barn with hip-roof; orchard; wire fences; clay loam soil; ten acres of woods and pasture. Price, $7,000.

71 Acre Farm—Complete with stock and tools; one-half mile off state road from Northville to Ann Arbor; seven-room house, barn 30x55, new silo, and cow stable, tool shed, hen house—ideal dairy farm. Price, $9,500 including stock and tools, three horses, seven cows, two heifers, four hogs, hay and grain tools, 50 hens.

60 Acre Farm—Two miles from Northville, ideally located, being one mile off cement road; fairly good eight-room house with good basement, cistern, good well water; buildings need repairing; good hog house and garage. Fine orchard (about fifty full bearing trees), cherries, pears and small fruits; crossed by branch of the Rouge. Forty acres of this is black level loam. Price, $11,000.

160 Acre Farm—Two sets of buildings; level clay loam soil; no better farm, is situated one mile off of State road between Northville and Ann Arbor. This is an ideal farm for a tractor, and has always been one of the best producing farms in this locality. Price, $18,500.00. $5,000 down. Let me take you for an auto ride. I will show some great bargains to you.

WOMAN'S LITERARY CLUB

The twelfth meeting of the Woman's Literary Club was held at the school building, last Friday afternoon, March 19th. About thirty members and two guests were in attendance. The president, Mrs. C. H. Bennett, presided over the business session. Several new names were received into membership, both on the active and associate lists.

A communication from Edith B. Munger, chairman of the State Aid work, was received, asking aid for the Near East Relief fund in caring for the starving children overseas. On motion the club voted to start a fund for this worthy cause, and all desiring to give one dollar or more toward this fund are asked to hand in the same as soon as possible to any of the three following committees: Mrs. George Wilcox, Mrs. F. A. Dibble and Mrs. William T. Pettigill. We who live in the land of plenty ought to be thankful, and show our thankfulness by giving what we can toward relieving the suffering of the thousands of people in the war-stricken districts of Europe who are facing starvation.

An invitation from the Wayne Woman's Club was received, inviting the members of this club to attend a recital at the Wayne Methodist church, Tuesday afternoon, March 23. The invitation was accepted.

The members of the club also voted to go to Detroit this Friday afternoon to hear Mr. Burrows give his interesting talk on "Art," also his gallery talk at the Detroit Institute of Art. Each member has the privilege of inviting one guest.

The program, in charge of the fifth division, with Mrs. Luther Peck acting as leader, was given as follows: Paper, "Women and Home Life in South America," written by Mrs. Robert Jolliffe, was read by Mrs. F. A. Dibble.

Piano Solo—Miss Evelyn Thomas. Paper, "Education and Religion in South America," written by Mrs. William Shaw, was read by Mrs. George Wilcox.

Mrs. Winn Hubbell and Mrs. William Bake acted as hostesses. On account of the school building being closed Friday afternoon, April 2nd, Mrs. Hu'da Knapp's kind invitation for the club to meet at her home on Penniman avenue on that date was unanimously accepted.

BEN HUR AT NEW DETROIT OPERA HOUSE

THIS GREAT PRODUCTION WILL BE PRESENTED IN DETROIT FOR ONE WEEK COMMENCING MONDAY, MARCH 25TH.

Klaw & Erlanger's stupendous production of General Lew Wallace's biblical romance, "Ben Hur," as dramatized by William Young, will be presented at the New Detroit Opera House, Detroit, for one week commencing Monday, March 25th, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. A new and massive presentation of the greatest play ever produced on the twenty-first season of "Ben Hur." During its career it has been witnessed by more than ten million people, and it has been endorsed and recommended by educators, the pulpit without reference to creed, the world's greatest thinkers and discerning critics. The character of Ben Hur in the public eye as Billy Sunday, who is the foe of the theatre; William Jennings Bryan and Judge Elbert H. Gray, have advised seeing it. No one will combat the statement that it is the greatest play in the history of the world, its production cost over three hundred actors are employed, and in the thrilling chariot race twenty horses are used in the most hair-lifting scene human ingenuity has ever devised.

The play presents scenic panoramas of scenes from the famous novel rich in color and warmth of Oriental atmosphere, and yet tinged with a spirit of reverence which seems to permeate every characteristic situation.

From the first scene in the desert where the Wise Men fall in reverence beneath the rays of the Star of Bethlehem, the fall of the tiles from the roof of the house of Hur, the galley and the rescue from the waves, the house of Simonides, the Grove of Daphne, the Orchard of the Palms, the circus and the thrilling chariot race with its twenty living horses, to the last symbolic scene on the Mount of Olives, preceded as it is by the shades of the accursed Valley of Hinnom, and the healing of the mother and sister of Hur, the pageant moves on, now in the mist of a Jewish evening, now beneath a moon that kisses the dawning of Isis, now in the shades of Hinnom, dark and dreary enough, and finally in the broad light of day on the hills outside of Jerusalem with the multitudes waving palm branches and singing their glad hosannas.

And through it all, so feelingly have the author and adapter portrayed the episodes in the life of Judah, son of Hur, with which the Nazarene was associated, it is with feeling of reverence that one watches the unfolding of the miraculous cleansing of the leprous mother of Hur and Tirtza beneath the clear white light which represents a presence felt but never seen.

Not only is "Ben Hur" impressive as a moral lesson, but it is educational as well. Nowhere else has been so graphically portrayed the mystery and solemnity of the birth of Christ and the death of paganism. The whole production balances so well with its vocal and instrumental numbers, its dances in the Grove of Daphne, its songs beneath the moonlight upon the waters near the Orchard of the Palms, and its plunging, madened atonement in the chariot race, that, although requiring three hours in the presentation, it holds the breathless attention until the final curtain.

The prices for night performance range from 55 cents to $2.75. Matinee Wednesday and Saturday, 55c to $2.20. Seats may be reserved by mail, the order being accompanied by money order and self-addressed envelope.

NEIGHBORHOOD HAPPENINGS

Milford's board of commerce will try and get into the game and organize a ball team to represent that village this year.

The bonding issue at Holly carried by a big majority. They will bond for $1,000 to improve and extend the water system there.

Northville Republicans have nominated Supervisor William J. Lansing for re-election, while the Democrats have chosen Louis Van Valkenburg to head their ticket.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hicks, who have been staying with her mother in Plymouth for some time, expect to move from the Jim Russell tenant house to Plymouth in the near future. —Sheldon Correspondence Ypsilanti Record.

Contractor J. H. Patterson of this village, has secured the contract to build a new garage for D. B. Bunn of Northville. The new structure will be 87x121 feet. The new building will be erected on the site of the Frank Perrin livery barn.

A movement is on foot to put the schools in Wayne county, outside of Detroit, under a county school unit. This would give all districts the same rights and privileges and would make the school taxes uniform throughout the county and be just to all. At a meeting of the Wayne County School officers held in Detroit, March 10, a committee consisting of Raymond Gardner, Greenfield; E. E. Bryan, Dearborn; George M. Bentley, Plymouth; E. G. A. Leitner, Nankin, and Benjamin S. Warren, Grosse Pointe Shores, was appointed to look up the matter.

But few towns the size of Northville can boast of a more modern or more attractively appointed funeral chapel than this village possesses at the present time. Schrader Brothers, furniture dealers and funeral directors, have completed their chapel, and the new rooms are a distinct credit to Northville and to this enterprising firm. The store has been redecorated throughout and the rooms on the north side have been given over, exclusively to the undertaking department. The front room has been arranged into a handsomely appointed reception or assembly room; and in the room adjoining they have a fine display of caskets and burial coaches in the newest and latest models and patterns. Back of the display room, the work rooms and casket rooms are a distinct credit to Schrader Brothers. The floors and walls have been refinished and redecorated in a becoming combination of colors, and the rooms are lighted with handsome electric light fixtures. The rooms on the second floor have also been made attractive and converted into light and convenient show rooms in which rugs and floor coverings, mattresses and furniture in many styles and patterns are displayed. The store throughout presents an inviting appearance, and the newly decorated walls and ceilings give everything an atmosphere of freshness—as welcome and appropriate for this season of the year.—Northville Record.

ELM

The Beech L. A. S. met at the home of Mrs. James Glass last Wednesday afternoon. The ladies made plans for their Easter bazaar and supper, which will be held at the church, Saturday evening, March 27. The society always has a fine crowd on these occasions and the committee in charge are busy with the decorations, etc. A charge of 75c and 35c will be made for supper. The following is the menu: Escalloped Potatoes, Pickles, Fried Cakes, Beef Loaf, Rolls, Cheese Cake, Ice Cream, Coffee.

Gulford Bohde is the proud owner of a fine new piano. Mrs. F. J. Barnes, who has spent several weeks at Jas. Glass' is visiting relatives in Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shaw, formerly of this place are the proud parents of a baby girl. Everyone is busy making maple syrup these days. If you have anything to buy or sell, try a liner in the Mail. Pretty dolls, homely dolls, fat dolls, slim dolls, all colors and nationalities, at "Fi-Fi in Toyland," Friday, April 23rd.

GRANGE NOTES

It is important that every member be present at the next Grange meeting, April 1. Mr. Gregg will give a demonstration on the testing of seed corn and the variety for this section of the country. The subject of rural school problems, and the cost of productions and state owned warehouses will be discussed. Beware of the desert. Judging from the country along the Santa Fe, most of New Mexico and Arizona is desert. Not what some imagine a desert looks like—the middle of a sandy road—but nevertheless alkali sand with a sage brush here, a cactus tree there, scattered around some twenty feet apart as if it took all the moisture in a rod square to support the plant. Not far from the railroad, winds, the old Santa Fe trail. Along this trail many tourists come to grief in the summer months. Cases of death are not infrequent. I visited with friends in San Diego, who had lived at Winslow, Williams and Needles along this route. At Needles on the boundary of California, the temperature stands around 130 for about three months. All the women, except Indians and Mexicans, go to the seashore during those months. They say when a person dies at Needles they put an overcoat in his coffin as he would be chilly in any possible hereafter abode. A man who was superintendent of bridges for Santa Fe at Needles, said one night last summer it had been 123 all day and was 120 at midnight. He was trying to sleep on the lawn and going in and taking a plunge in the bath tub about every half hour. About one o'clock he succeeded in getting to sleep, when his neighbor who had been doing likewise yelled over and asked him if it wasn't about time for another plunge. A story is told of a man in a large touring car driving up to the garage, jumping out and asking the attendant, "Will you give my car a little attention?" The garage man said, "Think your wife needs more attention than your car." She sat in the back seat—dead. She had been complaining of the heat along back. Another lady was overcome with heat on the road. Doctor ordered her packed in ice on the lawn. Her friends did so all too well. The doctor was so busy with other heat prostrations he didn't get back until morning. The lady was dead. The undertaker said, "Froze to death." She partly came to at midnight. Had her friends unpacked her, rubbed her and given her hot coffee, they would have saved her. Towns and water are a long way apart in the desert. Travelers are so famished by the hot winds blowing alkali sand and the ever blazing rays of the sun that it is almost a fight to keep the wind away from ice water barrels in the towns. A fill of ice water would mean death. Hot coffee is usually given such cases. A conductor says he can keep the temperature down to 105 by keeping the windows closed, and a fan going in each end of the car. But if they open windows, hot wind blows alkali sand and it is all off. Says he has to threaten to stop the train and put some people off to make them keep windows closed. States grown people stand it very well, but children are great sufferers crossing the desert in summer by train. Arizona usually has mild winters, but there was about six inches of snow the entire length of the state the middle of January. It only lasted a few days. When we returned it was all gone, and the red sand wet with the melted snow was stickier than any blue clay I ever saw. Autos sure rolled up the mud when they strayed off the gravelled roads. They tell of a sand storm in Winslow when the sand was so thick one couldn't see across the street. Electric lights turned on at mid-day. The school children began to cry and rub their eyes, and soon were a pitiful sight. The teacher didn't dare to let them go home for fear getting lost and had to stay with them, all crying, until their parents came after them. This same red sand when wet up and rolled in balls makes cheap and durable building material for the houses, and they are very much in evidence in this region. There are a considerable number of Indians in New Mexico and Arizona. They are mostly sticking to their old customs. A little boy died in Williams. They put all his clothes and belongings in his grave, and then burned the house where he died as in their custom. The squaws weave rugs, which they sell at from $25 to $50 each. Notwithstanding their pure wool blankets, a squaw is not dressed up unless she has four red bandanna handkerchiefs sewed together for an outside cape. A few years ago a party was going over the Santa Fe trail. One fellow boasted he would shoot the first Indian he saw. He did. It was a squaw. The Indians followed the party, and at night surrounded the camp and demanded the guilty man. As a refusal would result in the extermination of the entire party, they finally complied. The Indians skinned him alive and turned him loose. When we attended the Indian Hopi war dance at Grand Canyon, with their blood curdling yell we could not help thinking of this true story. We also saw a high plateau, where in olden times a company of U. S. soldiers took refuge and were surrounded by Indians, then hostile, until every man died from heat and thirst. When visiting a battleship in San Diego harbor, I was amused by this incident. A colored cook had been put in chains and on bread and water for letting the water run over on the galley. The boys showing me the boat pointed out this cook to me. He had a book and I remarked he wasn't getting very thin on bread and water. The fellows laughed and said: "He was a good guy and we don't let him go hungry." They explained that they cut a loaf of bread in two, put out the middle and filled it with all the good things, and put it back together, and took the "loaf of bread" down to him. It would take a chapter to tell of all the interesting things seen on my day's visit to the Pacific fleet. Another about the Armour stock yards, Kansas City, another about "Ramona's Marriage Place," in old San Diego, which was made immortal by Helen Hunt's beautiful story, "Ramona," etc. But I fear your readers would be weary. Will close with the following interesting bit. I thought I found under an old family portrait in Ramona's marriage place, "She is a girl, and while you smile and look there's miles and miles of water in your eyes."

TELLS OF HIS WESTERN TRIP

F. W. HAMILL LATELY RETURNED FROM THE WEST WRITES AN INTERESTING LETTER FOR THE MAIL.

Beware of the desert. Judging from the country along the Santa Fe, most of New Mexico and Arizona is desert. Not what some imagine a desert looks like—the middle of a sandy road—but nevertheless alkali sand with a sage brush here, a cactus tree there, scattered around some twenty feet apart as if it took all the moisture in a rod square to support the plant. Not far from the railroad, winds, the old Santa Fe trail. Along this trail many tourists come to grief in the summer months. Cases of death are not infrequent. I visited with friends in San Diego, who had lived at Winslow, Williams and Needles along this route. At Needles on the boundary of California, the temperature stands around 130 for about three months. All the women, except Indians and Mexicans, go to the seashore during those months. They say when a person dies at Needles they put an overcoat in his coffin as he would be chilly in any possible hereafter abode. A man who was superintendent of bridges for Santa Fe at Needles, said one night last summer it had been 123 all day and was 120 at midnight. He was trying to sleep on the lawn and going in and taking a plunge in the bath tub about every half hour. About one o'clock he succeeded in getting to sleep, when his neighbor who had been doing likewise yelled over and asked him if it wasn't about time for another plunge. A story is told of a man in a large touring car driving up to the garage, jumping out and asking the attendant, "Will you give my car a little attention?" The garage man said, "Think your wife needs more attention than your car." She sat in the back seat—dead. She had been complaining of the heat along back. Another lady was overcome with heat on the road. Doctor ordered her packed in ice on the lawn. Her friends did so all too well. The doctor was so busy with other heat prostrations he didn't get back until morning. The lady was dead. The undertaker said, "Froze to death." She partly came to at midnight. Had her friends unpacked her, rubbed her and given her hot coffee, they would have saved her. Towns and water are a long way apart in the desert. Early Spring Showing of New Coats, Skirts and Dresses
It seems that everybody wants to get a new outer garment this season, and each wants to be the first to wear it. We have been urging the makers to deliver our goods early, and the response has been so exceptionally good that we have a most comprehensive showing right now.
Don't come in expecting to see garments built on lines but slightly modified from last season, for these new REDFERN garments are radically different from anything you have seen. First, there is the Sport Coat, with all the dash and pep that anyone could demand. Then there is the Redingote, a graceful longer garment adapted for motor wear and every sort of service.
We are also showing new Spring Dresses and Skirts, Serge, Silk, and Silk Poplin, all the newest colors and styles to select from. New Spring line of Georgette Crepe, Muslin and Crepe de Chine Waists. An important little item your guarantee of satisfaction is the REDFERN label, factory wear.
