The funeral of W. S. Harmon, whose death was mentioned in last week's Mail, took place from his late home, last Saturday afternoon and were very largely attended. Rev. F. M. Field officiating. Interment in Riverside cemetery, Plymouth. In the death of Mr. Harmon, Canton township loses one of her best known and most highly respected citizens. For more than sixty years, he had lived on the farm where he died. He was a man of sterling worth and character, friendly toward all and possessed those splendid qualities which made for his countless friends and acquaintances. He will be greatly missed in the community where he had resided for so many years.

William S. Harmon was born July 26, 1846, at Wayne, Michigan and was the oldest son of Spencer and Anne Harmon. He died at his home in Canton township, Sept. 8, 1920. December 25, 1869, he was married to Katherine A. Batty at Plymouth, Michigan. He leaves his wife and one son, Theron A. Harmon of Watertown, South Dakota, and two grandchildren.

Those who came from a distance to attend the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Mosher of Dazey, North Dakota; Theron A. Harmon, Watertown, South Dakota; Mr. and Mrs. Spencer H. Those who have heard Mr. Morrow speak remember him as a fluent and forcible orator with a vital message. His subject will be "America's Opportunity at Home and Overseas." No charge for admission.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Harkness and Mrs. Anne Stewart of Lansing, Mich., will be the guests of the church tonight.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION IN LOCAL SCHOOL

PLYMOUTH SCHOOLS WILL SOON HAVE INSTRUCTOR TO TAKE CHARGE OF NEW COURSE.

The state legislature of 1919 passed a law requiring all school districts having a population of more than 3000 to maintain a course in physical education.

The recent census revealed the fact that Plymouth school district has a population of nearly 3100, and the board of education is now securing a competent instructor to take charge of the new course.

According to the new law there will be no compulsory physical examinations nor the teaching of sex hygiene, but simply good physical exercise such as will change round shoulders to square ones and in general increase the vigor of all the pupils.

Too long has our educational system assumed that children will just naturally "grow" to be physically strong, while in reality the world war taught that unguided, they grow imperfectly, and that in order for our American boys and girls to have equal opportunity in the world's future, their physical development must be considered in our public schools along with their mental and moral.

It was with the above thought in view that the legislature passed the above mentioned law, requiring the training which will mean healthier, happier and stronger boys and girls because of their attendance at school.

AGED LADY PASSES AWAY

MRS. ELIZA M. CAMPBELL DIES AT THE HOME OF HER SON, DR. S. E. CAMPBELL, LAST FRIDAY.

Mrs. Eliza M. Campbell died at the home of her son, Dr. S. E. Campbell, in this village, Friday, September 10. Funeral services were held from the Campbell home, Friday afternoon at five o'clock, Rev. S. Conger Hathaway officiating. The remains were taken to Bovina, New York, for interment, Dr. Campbell accompanying them.

Eliza M. Bailey, the youngest of six children, was born to William and Mary Bailey in the township of Bovina, Delaware county, New York, November 26, 1838. She was married to James M. Campbell on April 19, 1855, who died October 4, 1908. She was a member of the Presbyterian church of Bovina, New York. WELL KNOWN PLYMOUTH LADY DIES

MRS. GEORGE A. TAYLOR PASSED AWAY WHILE VISITING HER SISTER AT SOUTH LYON LAST WEEK THURSDAY EVENING.

Mrs. George A. Taylor of this village, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sarah Bullard, at South Lyon, last week Thursday evening, Sept. 9th. Mrs. Taylor had gone to the home of her sister on the Sunday previous for a visit, and up until Wednesday afternoon had been feeling unusually well, although she had been in very poor health for some time.

For many years, Mrs. Taylor had been actively engaged with her husband in the bakery business here and by her kindly disposition and pleasant manner had won for herself a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She was a woman who found great pleasure in doing little acts of kindness for others, and it was with a feeling of genuine sorrow and regret that the whole community received the sad news of her death.

The funeral services were held from the Presbyterian church, last Sunday afternoon, at five o'clock, Rev. S. Conger Hathaway officiating, with the interment in Rural Hill cemetery, Northville. The many beautiful floral offerings bore mute evidence of the love and esteem of relatives and friends.

Lydia Elizabeth Cork was born at Novi, Mich., December 22, 1848. She was married to George A. Taylor, March 3, 1897, who with one daughter, Miss Hazel Taylor, survive her. She also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Mary VanDyne of Bentley, Mich.; Mrs. Sarah Bullard of South Lyon; Miss Tillie Cork of Plymouth, and one brother, George Cork of South Lyon.

MEETING OF CITIZENS CALLED

A meeting of citizens has been called for next Monday evening, Sept. 20, at 7:00 o'clock at the village hall, for the purpose of getting an expression of the people as to whether they favor holding a fair in Plymouth next year. There has been considerable sentiment expressed by a number of our citizens favoring a fair, and it is believed that there is enough interest along this line to organize an association and hold a fair here another year, if the right effort is put forth. In years gone by Plymouth had the reputation of having one of the best fairs in this section of the state, and there is no reason why we can't do it again. Everybody who wants to see a fair held in Plymouth is invited to come to the meeting next Monday evening. Be a booster for the fair.

COMMON TALK

Road talk has been common around Plymouth for years, and with the steady passing of the horse-drawn vehicle it has become more general. It seems to be a general idea that roads will take care of themselves after they are once built, but really the construction of the road is only the beginning. Water is the chief cause of destruction to the roads, and we are now in a season when we can expect much water.

Right now is a good time to try out the "split-log drag" argument, if you haven't done so. Every farmer knows what this means and needs no further explanation. Roads dragged with a split-log drag at this time of year, following each heavy rain, will become so packed during the winter as to be one hundred per cent better next spring and summer. And since the log drag costs nothing, and the time spent in using it is on rainy days when little else could be done, we see no reason why rural residents of this neighborhood shouldn't at least give it a fair trial. One thing, it can't make the roads any worse than they are.

PLACING THE BLAME

We don't suppose the time will ever come when some Plymouth men are perfectly satisfied with their surroundings, and when they will cease to find fault with the town. And yet we feel the number of those given to "knocking" is steadily decreasing. They go elsewhere to see other towns, and come home inclined to the belief that this community is, after all, pretty hard to beat.

The trouble with this class of people lies not so much in the town as in themselves. They refuse to take an active part in pushing needed improvements, they leave it to someone else to get things done, and if such things are not done they blame it on "the town." The minute such a man stops to consider his own shortcomings, and asks himself if he is doing his duty toward his home town, he peels his coat, starts boasting and quickly becomes worth more to himself, his family and the community at large.

The wonderful Flying Levans will head the free attraction features at the Northville fair, this year. They are marvelous aerialists, performing on horizontal bars, six in number. Two shows each day.

NEIGHBORHOOD HAPPENINGS

ITEMS GATHERED HERE AND THERE THAT WILL BE OF INTEREST TO OUR READERS.

Brighton has hopes of securing an automobile plant for that village.

Governor Sleeper has appointed Mrs. E. L. Calkins of Ypsilanti, as one of the Michigan delegates to the fifteenth international congress against alcoholism, which meets in Washington, Sept. 21-26.

The village of Plymouth, Wayne county made a very handsome gain in population during the past ten years according to the census figures just issued. The population is now given as 2,857 as compared with 1,671 in 1910. We congratulate Plymouth.—South Lyon Herald.

A good deal of interest is being taken in the coming Washtenaw county fair, which will be held Sept. 21 to 25, inclusive, at Ann Arbor. Business men of the county have contributed $200 for special premiums; banks have put up $300 for premiums on live stock; the Holstein club $50 and the Shorthorn club $50. It is expected that others will come forward with special premiums. Every indication points to a big fair. It is certain that the management is making every effort to give the people of the county a fair that they will be proud of.

Consistent rumor which would seem to have some foundation in fact to the effect that the Pennsylvania will cross Grand River avenue on its way to Pontiac has reached us. According to advices received from several sources, the road is to cut through from Dearborn or Wayne on its way to Pontiac, whence it will go to Flint, Bay City, Marysville and Port Huron. According to the report, options taken on several farms below Farmington Junction have been taken up by the railroad which it is said, is rapidly securing right of way to property in the district. The advent of the railroad would serve to increase property values south of the village greatly, and would pave the way for a growth in that direction.—Farmington Enterprise.

YPSILANTI LIKES HER NEW BOULEVARD LIGHTS

The Ypsilanti Record has the following to say regarding their new boulevard lighting system: "Are we proud of our new boulevard lights? I say we are! She don't look like the same town. When the Edison people turned on the juice Saturday night for the first time people on the streets stopped in wonder and had to take a grip on themselves to find out just where they were. It didn't seem possible that it was Ypsilanti, and it certainly wasn't the old Ypsilanti, but a new Ypsilanti that is coming out of the old foggy ideas and taking its place among the progressive and up-to-date cities of the day. It must seem funny to those who stuck for the old way of lighting and the old hitching posts to walk down the streets and see the changes that are being brought about by those citizens who are out for a bigger and better Ypsilanti. Wonder if it is possible that they would be still willing to go back to the old order of things. We hardly believe they would, and still there are those who for the sake of argument, or who hate to part with a little money, will still grumble about the tax rate and what it costs to live now against what they used to have to pay before the advent of the phone, free mail delivery, electricity and all the modern improvements that go to build up a community and make life worth living. Would they be willing to go back to the old way of things—the horse and buckboard, the kerosene lights, the old-fashioned grocery and the once-a-week mail? It may hurt some, who still cling to the old-fashioned ideas, but right down in their hearts they would hate to see the old methods come back."

SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Houston's Civics classes have been spending the first week of school in studying the charter of the village of Plymouth.

For the first time, Plymouth High school is offering a course in public speaking. At present fourteen students are enrolled in the class.

A large number of High school boys are out each night trying for places on the High school and Junior High school foot ball teams, under the direction of Mr. Holcomb and Mr. Eason respectively.

The new enrollments continue to come, taxing to the very limit the accommodations of the High school.

After putting in all the seats the rooms will hold, there was still an overflow in the High school, so that the commercial room is being used for the extra number.

In the department of agriculture there is being given for the first time, a course in animal husbandry.

The senior class has already selected the design for their class ring or pin, and given their order for the same.

The commercial department has been much improved from the teaching point of view by replacing the wooden partition between the typewriting and bookkeeping rooms with one of glass.

Today's Reflections

If France can make Germany deliver millions of tons of coal why wouldn't it be a good idea to have her step in and make our coal men deliver us enough for the coming winter?

We also want to call the attention of those living in Plymouth and vicinity that the census showing the largest gain in population this time were the ones that have good roads.

A "forefather" is a fellow who spends a half hour reading the bill of fare and then orders a ham sandwich.

Oh, mother, may I go out to vote? Oh, my darling daughter. But vote for that pretty candidate who smells of toilet water.

Pretty soon now a Plymouth woman can come home and tell her husband she has been down town waiting for the election returns.

Sugar around 20c a pound sounds too good to be true, but it doesn't seem long since we were getting 20 pounds for a dollar.

What's become of the old-fashioned campaign like the one in which they wore Ben Harrison hats?

"Everything is lovely," said a Plymouth man yesterday, "except the goose and potatoes and a few other things are hanging high."

And defeat has saved many a political candidate from a breach of promise suit.

The price of pork keeps up, yet we can't remember a time when there were as many hogs in this country.

Along about this time of year, the average Plymouth man takes a pledge to do a better job of weed cutting next season than he did in the one just passed.

Another reason we have for knowing Plymouth, people are growing wise is the fact that they are not changing their money on election bets.

Speculation sounds a little more refined than gambling, but a fellow loses just as much.

With twenty or thirty wars going on it begins to look as though the nations of the world are at last about to "get together."

Increased freight rates not only relieve congestion on the roads, but in the pocketbooks as well.

The apostle Paul urged women to obey their husbands. And any man in Plymouth will bet you that Paul wasn't married.

Near-beer has its faults, but it doesn't make a man go home and beat his wife and children.

DEER SEASON DATES FIXED

The deer hunting season limits for the coming hunting period have been fixed by the state public domain commission to run from November 13 to November 22.

PROTECT THE QUAIL

Game wardens claim quail are more plentiful than in many summers past and urge that farmers house the birds in their chicken coops in the winter, releasing them next spring.

WASHTENAW COUNTY FAIR NEXT WEEK

ANN ARBOR IS MAKING PREPARATIONS TO ENTERTAIN A LARGE NUMBER OF VISITORS DURING FAIR WEEK, SEPT. 24-25.

The revival of the county fair is certainly a most welcome step forward for Washtenaw. The management has been able to overcome what may readily be seen to be almost unsurmountable obstacles.

A number of farm organizations have entered for club exhibits. These are one of the best features of a fair and always interesting.

The fruit, grain, vegetable and honey departments all promise exhibits worthy of the great industries they represent, and the farmers should recognize the great advertising value of a good show in these classes.

The County Farm Bureau will occupy a large tent with a fine instructive exhibit of farm business methods.

The big celebration planned for Children's Day is the greatest event of the kind ever seen in the county. While the educational part of the fair is a big thing, the amusement and entertainment part will not be neglected.

A CARD—We wish to thank the dear friends who so kindly assisted us at the time of our sad bereavement. Mrs. W. S. Harmon and Son.

Look at the roads for twenty miles around on a Sunday

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

Houghton—Copper country sports men are urging a law to close the season on deer and partridge every other year. As far as can be learned this proposal has never been put before the state game and fish commissioner, but discussion has revealed a marked trend of opinion in favor of such action.

Flint—Alexander Johnston, 54, is being held here on a charge of murder following the fatal shooting of his son-in-law, Oscar Woods, during a family quarrel. Police say Johnston served a term in lonia for shooting his first wife and last winter, after marrying his present wife, was sent to the Detroit house of correction for beating her.

KING'S CORNERS

Carol, the three years and eight months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaiser and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish, was taken September 2nd to the University hospital at Ann Arbor, where she underwent a very serious operation for appendicitis and abscess on the intestines, and has since been in a serious condition, but at this writing she is somewhat better, and there are hopes for her recovery. School opened Monday in District No. 8, Nankin, with Miss Wheeler of Wayne, as teacher.

The Helping Hand society met this month at the home of Miss Mildred Jubenville. After the business meeting, they adjourned to meet the first Wednesday in October at the home of Mrs. Henry Klatt for dinner. The word for roll call will begin with J. All who wish can attend these meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jubenville and two sons of Royal Oak, were weekend guests of the former's parents at King's Corners.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lockhart and son, Kenneth, accompanied, by the former's two sisters, one from Walkersville, Ont., and one from River Rouge, were weekend visitors at Vassar, Mich.

Mrs. John Gorch passed away at her home, early Thursday morning, and the funeral was held Saturday afternoon at Wayne, with interment at that place. The surviving friends have the sympathy of their many friends in their sad bereavement.

Mrs. Otto Kaiser and son, Wesley, and Mrs. Charles Parrish went to Ann Arbor, Monday, to see little Carol Kaiser, and found her much better and on the road to recovery.

C. F. Jubenville, who is on the lake, spent Sunday at home with his family at this place.

Master George Hix, Jr., spent Saturday night with his cousin, Forest Kaiser.

Miss Lillian Kaiser went to Ann Arbor, last week, and had her tonsils and adenoids removed. She returned home, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Parrish were callers at the University hospital, Sunday, to see their little niece.

NEIGHBORHOOD HAPPENINGS

ITEMS GATHERED HERE AND THERE THAT WILL BE OF INTEREST TO OUR READERS.

Brighton has hopes of securing an automobile plant for that village. Governor Sleeper has appointed Mrs. E. L. Calkins of Ypsilanti, as one of the Michigan delegates to the fifteenth international congress against alcoholism, which meets in Washington, Sept. 21-28.

The village of Plymouth, Wayne county made a very handsome gain in population during the past ten years according to the census figures just issued. The population is now given as 2,857 as compared with 1,671 in 1910. We congratulate Plymouth.—South Lyon Herald.

A good deal of interest is being taken in the coming Washtenaw county fair, which will be held Sept. 21 to 25, inclusive, at Ann Arbor. Business men of the county have contributed $2,000 for special premiums; banks have put up $200 for premiums on live stock; the Holstein club $50 and the Shorthorn club $50. It is expected that others will come forward with special premiums. Every indication points to a big fair. It is certain that the management is making every effort to give the people of the county a fair that they will be proud of.

Consistent rumor which would seem to have some foundation in fact to the effect that the Pennsylvania will cross Grand River avenue on its way to Pontiac has reached us. According to advices received from several sources, the road is to cut through from Dearborn or Wayne on its way to Pontiac, whence it will go to Flint, Bay City, Marysville and Port Huron. According to the report, options taken on several farms below Farmington Junction have been taken up by the railroad which it is said, is rapidly securing right of way to property in the district. The advent of the railroad would serve to increase property values south of the village greatly, and would pave the way for a growth in that direction.—Farmington Enterprise.

The Ypsilanti Record has the following to say regarding their new boulevard lighting system: "Are we proud of our new boulevard lights? I say we are! She don't look like the same town. When the Edison people turned on the juice Saturday night for the first time people on the streets stopped in wonder and had to take a grip on themselves to find out just where they were. It didn't seem possible that it was Ypsilanti, and it certainly wasn't the old Ypsilanti, but a new Ypsilanti that is coming out of the old foggy ideas and taking its place among the progressive and up-to-date cities of the day. It must seem funny to those who stuck for the old way of lighting and the old hitching posts to walk down the streets and see the changes that are being brought about by those citizens who are out for a bigger and better Ypsilanti. Wonder if it is possible that they would be still willing to go back to the old order of things. We hardly believe they would, and still there are those who for the sake of argument, or who hate to part with a little money, will still grumble about the tax rate and what it costs to live now against what they used to have to pay before the advent of the phone, free mail delivery, electricity and all the modern improvements that go to build up a community and make life worth living. Would they be willing to go back to the old way of things—the horse and buckboard, the kerosene lights, the old-fashioned grocery and the once-a-week mail? It may hurt some, who still cling to the old-fashioned ideas, but right down in their hearts they would hate to see the old methods come back."

Many Plymouth citizens are living in hopes that we may have our business districts lighted with the boulevard lighting system in the very near future.

A CARD—We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to the friends for their many acts of kindness extended to us in our recent bereavement. Especially do we wish to thank those who sent the beautiful floral offerings; the singers; Rev. Hathaway for his comforting words and those who so kindly furnished automobiles.

George A. Taylor, Miss Hazel Taylor, Miss Tillie Cork.

A CARD—I wish to thank the many friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness, sympathy and beautiful flowers, extended to us at this time of bereavement; also Rev. Field for his comforting words and Mrs. Bako for her beautiful selections.

Mrs. Geo. F. Kincaid and Children.

ALICE JOYCE

Of all the reigning favorites of the early motion pictures, Alice Joyce alone shines as a star today. With such notable plays as Charles Klein's
"The Lion and the Mouse" and "The Third Degree," the famous Drury Lane melodrama, "The Sporting Duchess," Rex Beach's story, "The Vengeance of Durand" and "Sieves of Pride" as her mediums, Miss Joyce has entered an era of steadily increasing popularity. She occupies a place among the rulers of the screen.

Plymouth theatre goes, with whom Alice Joyce is a great favorite, will have the pleasure of seeing this popular screen star in "The Sporting Duchess," at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday evening, September 18th.

NEWBURG

Next Sunday will be the last Sunday before conference. It may be the last Sunday you will have the privilege of listening to Rev. Field in Newburg church. The first Sunday in October will be observed as rally day in the Sunday-school. The superintendent and assistant are planning for the upbuilding of the Sunday-school, which will commence on rally day.

The entertainment at the church,
last Friday night, given by a group of young people, who were accompanied by Rev. Dutton, of the M. E. church of Birmingham, rendered a high class program, which deserved a full house. Everyone was glad to meet and greet Rev. Dutton, and hear his reminiscences of former days and witty stories. The Newburg L. A. S. regret there were so few out to hear them.

For the past few weeks extensive work has been carried on on what is better known as the old Rutter farm, which was purchased last year by Henry Ford. The plowing was done by six tractors, all going at one time.
It is all to be set out to fruit trees.

pearance on Saturday and Sunday.
The road is lined with open air mar-and fresher than in the city.

Mr. Daggott of Plymouth, has just

FORMER PLYMOUTH MAN MARRIED

The notice below was taken from a Flint paper. Rev. Harvey is well known to a number of Plymouth people. While in Plymouth he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Ammon Brown on Union street.

"A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Homedale Baptist church, when Rev. George M. Vercoe married Rev. Charles William Harvey, pastor of the Homedale church, and Miss Effie Lavina Morden of Flint, before about 300 guests. The church was tastefully decorated.
The young couple stood in a bower of flowers. The impressive ring ceremony was used. The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with georgette and bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The matron of honor was Mrs. Rose Morden, a sister-in-law of the bride, who wore a gown of white organza and carried a bouquet of white roses. C. F.
Morden, the bride's brother, was best man. Mrs. Greenacre played the wedding march, and little Miss Elva Sanborn was ring bearer. After the ceremony the wedding party and guests dined at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. E. O. Foyner, 2107 Davison Rd., where dinner was served.
The young couple received many valued presents. After October 1, they will be at home at 2206 Davison Rd., Flint."

morning."

Mich., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough and Diarrhoea Remedy for my little Lyle, and it always gives

The Northville Fair people this year are going to try out a new idea —new at least for Northville—and that is a night fair with a gorgeous display of fireworks at a cost of $1,000. The famous Martin people put on the work and inasmuch as they have shown at some of the largest expositions in the United States, it may be depended on to be well worth seeing. The Women's department of the fair will give a dance each night.

Dependancy
Sufferers from indigestion are apt to become discouraged and feel that completed recovery is not to be hoped for. No one could make a greater mistake. Hundreds have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and can now eat anything that they crave. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally.
If you have not tried them do so at once.—Adv't
