PLYMOUTH HIGH VS. DEARBORN HIGH

FIRST FOOT BALL GAME OF THE SEASON AT HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC PARK TODAY.

Plymouth High school takes on Dearborn High in the first game of the season, this afternoon at the new High school in the rear of the school building. Time, 3:45 p. m. The local boys are working hard and a good game is expected. The line-up is not yet complete, but T. Straesen is expected to play center, and Nor-grove will be back at his old guard position. The other line positions are in doubt between Wisely, Schoof, Tait, Doudt, Freydl and Stevens. Miller will hold down his old place at tackle unless playing at full. At ends, the contest is between Walker, Stevens, Judson and Doudt, and each may get a chance. Walker and Freydl are working at quarter, Harris at right half; Wilcox and Miller at left back, and Doudt and Freydl at left half. McHale is expected out this week, and will probably work in one of these positions.

Wednesday night the High school stacked up against the alumni and town fellows. The result was a good workout for the High school, and the team will be in good shape for a game this afternoon.

Next week, October 1, the local team plays Northville at the fair at 12:30 p. m. and the following week will play Wayne on the home grounds. Season tickets are now on sale.

SPRINGER-RENNICK

Harvey C. Springer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Springer of this place, and Miss Cora Rennick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rennick of Salem, were quietly united in marriage in Detroit, Thursday afternoon, Sept. 23rd, at four o'clock. Rev. Joseph Vance, pastor of the Woodward Avenue Presbyterian church, performing the ceremony. Both the bride and groom are well and favorably known here, having attended the Plymouth High school, and both were members of the 1915 graduating class. The bride is also a graduate of the State Normal at Ypsilanti and has taught very successfully in the Salem and Grand Rapids schools. The groom is one of Plymouth's popular young men. Shortly after graduating from the Plymouth High school, he entered the University of Michigan, but remained for only one year, as he gave up his college career to enlist in the great war. He spent nearly two years in service, fighting in the trenches with the U. S. Marines. He now holds a splendid position in the demurrage department of the Penn. Marquette R. R. office in Detroit. After a short wedding trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, they will be at home in the Madison Apartments on First street, Detroit, after October 1st. Plymouth friends extend best wishes to the happy couple for success and prosperity.

EX-SERVICE MEN NOTICE

Tuesday evening, September 28th, ex-service men will be able to file applications for victory medals, at the Legion Post room, over Pottgen & Campbell's store.

The new Episcopal church, which is under construction on Union street, behind the post office, is expected to be completed in a few weeks at Plymouth.

Mrs. Charles Brink of St. Charles and Mrs. H. A. Brink of St. Joseph, were in town at Plymouth, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Strang, who are teaching at Oron, visited here Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Strang, who are teaching at Oron, visited here Sunday.

WILL ORGANIZE BOARD OF COMMERCE

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO LOOK OVER FAIR GROUND SITES AND REPORT AT ANOTHER MEETING.

The meeting held at the village hall, Monday evening, for the purpose of discussing the question of holding a fair in Plymouth next year, was fairly well attended. It was the consensus of the meeting that Plymouth should have a fair, and with this idea in view a committee of five was appointed to look over several available sites and report at a meeting to be called later.

After disposing of the fair matter, there was considerable discussion on the advisability of organizing a Board of Commerce for Plymouth, an organization that this village has felt the need of for some time. It was finally decided that a Board of Commerce be formed, with a membership fee of $10.00, and twenty-four names for membership were obtained at the meeting. A campaign is now being made for membership, and it is hoped that when the Plymouth Board of Commerce is fully organized it will have a membership of at least two hundred boosters.

The need of a Board of Commerce in Plymouth has long been recognized by those who are interested in seeing the village go forward. The benefits which organizations of this kind have brought to other towns is an established fact, and they have proved their worth many times over. Standing as it does for the civic improvement and for the general betterment of the community in every way, it is the duty of the organization to lead its efforts in every movement that tends to build up a larger and better Plymouth.

RALLY DAY PICNIC SATURDAY

A rally day picnic will be given the members of the Presbyterian Sunday-school, tomorrow, September 25th. Those attending will meet at the church at eleven o'clock and proceed by automobile to the Caldwell home, better known as the Thomas place on Plymouth road. B. E. Giles will have charge of the sports and the several teachers are preparing for a basket lunch. Every member is urged to be present and enjoy the good time. If the weather is unfavorable, the whole program will be carried out in the church. Be there at eleven rain or shine.

FORMER PLYMOUTH CITIZEN DIES IN THE WEST

The following article taken from a Hillsboro, Oregon, paper tells of the death of a former Plymouth resident, who will be remembered by many of our older citizens:

"Julius Baxter Vincent, long a resident of Hillsboro, died at the family home on Sixth and Washington streets Monday, August 16, 1920, after an illness of several months due to a general breaking down. He died at the age of 77 years, and was born at Plymouth, Michigan, January 19, 1843, and was one of a family of seven children, all of whom are dead. He moved to Oregon in 1873, and for many years worked at the cabinet trade. He was a skilled workman and for many years conducted a shop in Hillsboro, Oregon."

PLYMOUTH BUICKS AND LOSSES AT MILFORD

BUICKS WIN FROM HOLLY FRIDAY AND LOSE TO STOCKBRIDGE, SATURDAY.

The Plymouth Buicks and the Millard band, accompanied by a large crowd of boosters were at the Milford fair, last Friday, where the local base ball team met the strong Board of Commerce team of Holly, on the diamond. The locals succeeded in clinching the game in the first inning, when they secured four runs. Bynearson, who was in the box for Plymouth, pitched a good game, and held the Holly boys safe at all times. The final score was 6 to 0.

Many fans went to Milford, Saturday, to see the final game in the series, between the Plymouth Buicks and Stockbridge, the winners over Redford on Thursday. The Buicks were minus several of their best players, and the line-up was not as strong as on the day previous. Krapp was in the box for the locals and pitched a fairly good game, but was given poor support. The score was 8 to 6 in favor of Stockbridge.

ANOTHER COMPLIMENT FOR MILLARD BAND

F. M. Millard, director of the Millard band of his village, has received the following complimentary letter from the general manager of the Farmington Home Coming and Community Festival committee: The Plymouth Band, Plymouth, Mich.

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the Home Coming Committee of Farmington, I wish to express our appreciation of the splendid service you gave us in connection with the Home Coming celebration on September 4th.

Your band gave us excellent service, both in the quality and variety of the music, as well as the generous amount of it. The willingness with which the band served us, and the splendid spirit in which it was given merit the highest commendation. Your band was all that could be desired.

Please accept our thanks.

Yours very truly,
Sidney D. Eva,
General Manager.

SYSTEM IN READING

The man who works and lives systematically gets the most out of life, no doubt about that. Nothing has yet been discovered that helps humanity on its way as much as this thing we call system. And just as system can be used to advantage in most everything we do, so it can be applied to newspaper reading. The Plymouth man who reads his paper systematically, page by page, and who is not content to merely glance at headlines or matter printed in bold-face type, gets the most for the money he has invested in reading matter. Therefore, read your paper with attention, thinking as you read, and it will enable you to talk ably and convincingly on all important topics. The student of the newspaper is an educated man before he has studied them long, for they are a printed university and have far broader and more comprehensive courses than any college can possibly have. Do not skip from page to page from column to column, so you may glean the news in a general way. Read your newspaper thoroughly and attentively. Read every article to the end. That will consume but little time, and after a few weeks of such reading you will be amazed at the benefits you have derived.

No man, however rich, could afford to search for himself the information that the newspapers place before the eye. Business men depend upon it, for they are more of a business necessity than the telephone or telegraph. They are also a necessity to you, whoever you may be. But unless you read them through and know what is in them you get only half the value out of them that you would otherwise gain.

CHEAPER MEAT

Many people seem to see in the tremendous corn crop of this country much cheaper pork that the people have been able to buy in the last four or five years. And pork is still our principal supply of meat. No other animal can compare with the hog in this respect, chiefly because of its early maturity. For instance, a hog is at its best as a meat source before it is one year old, while a beef animal is killed at a loss before it is two or three years old. And corn is the greatest hog fattening food, as farmers around Plymouth have long ago found out. A corn country is always a hog country and farmers in the corn belt figure with confidence that feeding 13 bushels of corn to a hog will under ordinary circumstances produce 100 pounds of live hog. Anyhow, the prices of corn and hogs go up and down together. If the young hogs in the country are in sufficient numbers to consume the coming corn crop the price of pork should come down within halting distance of pre-war figures. Corn prices have been falling for some months and that, too, at a time when the price usually rises. If all goes well with the maturing crop for the next few weeks corn prices will be lower than in 1915, pork and pork products will be lower, and the general public will be in position to see, for the first time since the armistice was signed, a tendency of commodities to get back to more reasonable figures, though of course not so low as we were used to before the world became upset.

UNABLE TO EXPLAIN GENIUS

Scientists of All Ages Have Admitted the impossibility of Determining Whence It Comes.

Science itself admits that it cannot explain genius, for genius simply is without explanation.

Handel was only seven when he insisted on following his father to the court of Saxe-Weissenfels, whose prince, hearing him play on the organ in church after the service was over, persuaded his father to give the boy a chance. By the time he was nine he began to compose church services for voices and instruments and did so every week for three years.

But Handel was a tremendous gourmand. He ordered dinner for three at a hotel, and when asked if he would wait for the others, replied: "I am the others, serve the dinner," and he ate all of it.

A story is told of Handel that while seated at dinner with some other musicians he exclaimed, "Oh, I have de taught!" Those about him begged that he go into another room and write down "de taught," lest they lose some wonderful composition. Handel did this several times, when one of the friends looked through the keyhole and saw him pouring down some Burgundy which an admirer had sent him and he did not wish to share with the others.

When a singer complained to Handel that the style of his accompaniments distracted the attention of the hearers from the singer to the musician and that if he did not accompany him better he would jump up on the harpsichord (the piano of that time) and smash it. Handel replied: "Fine! Tell me when you are going to do that and I shall advertise it, for more people will come to see you jump than to hear you sing."

MAN'S FIRST DWELLING PLACE

Scientists Claim That the Desert of Gobi Must for Natural Reasons Be the Spot.

The desert of Gobi, which is the summit of the central steppes in Asia, is the most elevated region on the globe, and it is here, scientists claim, man first lived, arguing that this point of earth must have been the first to emerge from the universal sea, and that as the subsiding waters gradually gave up lower regions of earth to man he was able to descend and spread himself progressively over new acquisitions.

It is from this region that the great rivers of Asia also take their rise and flow toward the four cardinal points. On the declivities of these highlands are the plains of Tibet, lower than the frozen regions of Gobi. Here are found not only the vine, the olive, rice, the legumina, and other plants on which man has depended for sustenance, but also those animals which he has tamed and led with him over the earth, as the ox, the horse, the ass, the sheep, the goat, the camel, the hog, the dog, and even the reindeer, run wild upon these mountains.

On the mountains of Cashmere, in Tibet, and in the north of China, grain has been found to be growing wild for years without ever being sown or tilled, and here also wild animals that have lived there while man has tamed others of the same species, are numerous.—Exchange.

Nature's Unchanging Way. Outstanding ability is the reward of using the power one has. The best athlete in the world will lose power by hanging around. Resistance is the response of nature to testings. Difficulties are never made easy by giving up. Nature demands that men gain strength by using strength. Turn what you have to account and nature will add to your store with interest. The more you love the larger capacity you have to love. The more you think the keener your thinking ability becomes. The harder and more earnestly you work the more you are able to. There's no secret about it. It's just nature's way of saying "to him that hath shall be given." And more than that, if you want anything from nature you must bestir yourself and get it. Nature is not a grudging giver, but she makes men earn all they get.

Only "Load Up" Right. The tasks you add to your already full program must be related to your life work. The magnet won't hold soap, and froth and wood. Its affinity is with things of steel. So your efforts must be related to your talents and experience if they are to be a help in your growth. One added task above your specialty would be enough to swamp a man who doesn't know your line. To you it's just another added opportunity. To be sure it will require some effort, but nothing in comparison to what it would require if others. You take the load on unconsciously. It's merely another turn or two of the kind you do right along. But in time those few extra daily turns make you a tower of strength. There is no limit to your development when you load up right.—Grit.

Too Tame for Him. "Gabson likes to hear the sound of his own voice."

"That explains his penchant for monologues. But if he loves the sound of his own voice so much why doesn't he talk into a phonograph and have his remarks 'canned' for future use?"

"He wouldn't have the satisfaction of seeing the phonograph write and sing."

Just What She Needed. "I need a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets some time ago and they proved to be just what I needed. I was suffering from a severe cold and my throat was so sore that I could hardly swallow. After taking a few of these tablets I felt much better and my throat was soothed. I am sure that every sufferer from a cold or sore throat should have a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets handy at all times. They are a real life-saver."

"They Don't Answer"

Perhaps you, too, have received a "They Don't Answer" report from central when you feel certain that the party you called is at home and your operator is simply neglecting you.

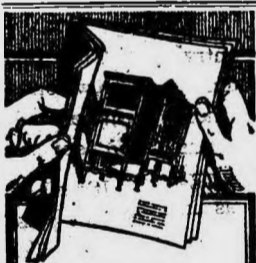

When you do, consider, for a moment, the many, many reasons why a subscriber may not answer—his temporary absence from the telephone—his inability to answer its call—the possibility of the telephone bell or other delicate mechanism being out of order without the operator's knowledge.

The operator, too, is human and may make errors—but she is never willfully neglectful of your service. It is much easier for her to complete your call than to make a "They Don't Answer" connection—for such connections involve additional work.

Your kindly consideration will go very far in assisting her to provide that better type of telephone service which we are all striving to give to Michigan.

Today's Reflections

What has become of the old-fashioned hired girl who received $2 a week wages and banked a dollar of that?

It has always been our observation that the Plymouth man who is first to argue is usually among the last to act.

There is a strong conviction that coal profiteers are headed for a place where there is never a fuel shortage.

Maybe the reason Russia doesn't join the League of Nations is she's afraid she'd first have to take a bath and get shaved.

The average Plymouth man may have his price, but he's slow about showing his cost mark.

Maybe when we have paper suits street loafers in our larger cities can pick a few dimes by letting enterprising merchants print ads on them.

There are two things a Plymouth man hates to take—castor oil and his own advice.

These photographs of candidates in the act of working mean little. Most of us would prefer to see the corns on their hands.

If the woman's vote doesn't accomplish anything else, it means husbands will get an hour or two longer down town on election night, awaiting the returns.

A lot of Plymouth men still think that a woman's place is at the foot of the table filling up the plates.

Now comes a southern editor with the explanation that alimony means the high cost of two people thinking they can live together.

With everybody demanding cash these days, the Lord gets by with the motto on the money.

Giving the women the ballot isn't going to change one custom. They'll still sit fat on the floor when they put on their shoes and stockings.

The Plymouth man who accomplishes half the things he intends to do is striking a pretty fair average.

A lot of Plymouth girls nowadays know too much about bobbed tongs and too little about skillets and coffee pots.

Even the man with a poor memory can recall the time the butcher "threwed in" a piece of liver with a quarter's worth of steak.

Look at the roads for twenty miles around, on a Sunday

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

Not suspecting any harm, she again retired. When she went to the store in the morning, she found the door standing open, and things scattered promiscuously. The thieves had secured entrance by removing a pane of glass from a window in the store, and then unlocked the door from the inside. The shoes, which were taken, were removed from the boxes, and the boxes were found the next morning at the side of the road. The robbery was a bold one, committed at such a late hour of the night.

BUICK

UTILITY is the dominating characteristic of the new Nineteen Twenty One Buick Valve-in-Head Series.

Buick engineers have always made service and power their leading principles and those who buy motor cars on this business basis will find in the new Buick series high-powered transports just as strong, durable and dependable as the highest engineering skill can make them.

While service and power are emphasized, the new Buick models are cars of striking beauty, highly attractive in lines and in appointments. Reduction In Prices of Ford Products

The war is over and war prices must go. Effective at once, Ford Cars, Trucks and Tractors will be sold f. o. b. Detroit, at the following prices:

Touring, regular	$440
Touring, with starter	$510
Runabout, regular	$395
Runabout, with starter	$465
Chassis	$360
Coupe, with starter and demountable rims	$745
Sedan, with starter and demountable rims	$795
Truck, with pneumatic tires	$545
Tractor	$790

The Ford Motor Company makes this reduction in the face of the fact that they have on hand immediate orders for one hundred forty-six thousand sixty-five cars and tractors. The company will suffer a temporary loss while using up the material bought at high prices. They are willing to make the sacrifice in order to bring business back to a going condition as quickly as possible and maintain the momentum of the buying power of the country.

Henry Ford says, "The war is over and it is time war prices were over. There is no sense or wisdom in trying to maintain an artificial standard of values, for the best interests of all it is time a real practical effort was made to bring the business of the country and the life of the country down to regular pre-war standards."

We are at your command with regular Ford efficiency in service and eagerness to fill your orders.

DESERVES PLACE IN HISTORY
Cecrops, illustrious Egyptian, Made Country an Asylum for the Innocent and Persecuted.
With the dawn of Attic civilization in ancient Greece, Cecrops an Egyptian, built a town on the site where later the citadel of Athens rose in magnificence. He introduced morals and judicial regulations, and the country under his rule became an asylum for the innocent and persecuted. From that time on festivals, compact and laws extended their beneficial influence. About 130 years after him the Phoenician Cadmus brought the use of letters into Boeotia; and at Thebes, in the same country, he erected a citadel. The greatest lyric poet and the greatest general of the Greeks were Boeotians, but nevertheless this people was accused of stupidity. While their value was not appreciated, their discoveries were brought to perfection by others and more usefully applied.
It is reasonable that Cadmus, the father of learning, who taught us to hand down our thoughts to future generations, came into Greece just at a time when Joshua, the leader of the Jews, drove the Phoenician tribes toward the sea and compelled them to seek refuge in distant colonies. This act of a despised people, scarcely known to Greek historians, was the occasional cause of all the intellectual and moral excellence which has arisen through the influence of literature.
