A TALK ON THE WATER SYSTEM IMPROVEMENTS

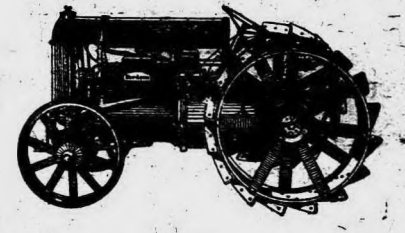

A CONVERSATION BETWEEN AN INQUIRING CITIZEN AND THE VILLAGE MANAGER, REPORTED AS OF INTEREST TO OTHERS DESIRING INFORMATION ON THE WATER QUESTION.

"Good morning, Mr. Manager. I am glad to see that something is going to be done with the water system. I know that we haven't water enough, but I haven't paid enough attention to know just what is the matter. I'd like to ask some questions if I may."
"All right! Our motto is, 'Tell your troubles to the Manager.'"
"Well, to start with, why is our supply falling short lately? It has done so for many years."
"The town has grown. It is two or three times as big as it was when the town was put in, and we have outgrown the ability of the present line to supply us with enough water. You see, at the site of the springs, the whole country is filled with water nearly up to the ground surface. Our pipe is laid only about four feet deep, and the only water that can come into the open joints of the pipe is what is above the level of the line. Our principal supply comes into the crock pipe as it passes through the woods east of the road where our so-called 'open spring' is. This crock line extends several hundred feet east of the woods, and connects there with a cast iron line that continues down to the town. It is just like a pail full of water. If you punch a hole an inch below the top, all that runs out is that above the hole. The rest stays in the pail. In the summer, when the most water is being used in town, we exhaust or nearly so, that upper four feet of water at the springs, and have to wait until our village water pail fills up again."
"I see. Well, how can you fix that?"
"The first thing we want to do is to sink a well in the woods, where our springs are. This is to be about twenty feet across and twenty feet deep. It will have an open bottom and concrete walls. On the top of the well we will install an electrically driven centrifugal pump, which will draw its suction from the well. You see, then we shall be able to command water from the upper twenty feet of water bearing soil instead of the upper four feet as at present. No one knows just how much this will increase our water supply, but we are perfectly sure that it will be a great many times before we should have to worry in the least as to the adequacy of the supply."
"Were will the pump discharge? You said something about open joints in the pipe. Won't the water be lost again in the ground?"
"No. We will have to lay about six hundred feet of new cast iron pipe from the pump down to where our present cast iron pipe line begins. There we will connect the new line to the old and so place a check valve on the old line that the water pumped from the well will have to come towards town and can't go back through the old crock line."
"What will you do with this old crock line?"
"We will leave it just as it is, so that if the pump should ever be out of commission, we will always have as much water flowing by gravity as we have now. The gravity line will act as a 'stand by' in case of accident to the pump."
"Well, that listens all right so far, but won't you have to lay a new main to town to take care of the larger amount of water pumped?"
"No. The present pipe line is nearly all ten inch class B pipe, good for one hundred and twenty-five pounds pressure. While it is true that it is carrying about all that will come through it by gravity, we can, by pumping, force three or four times as much water through it as is coming now. Of course, a more and more water is used in the village, the pumps will have to force the water faster and faster. But finally it will be a question of the cost of the pumping at so much more than an economical rate, rather than the actual capacity of the pipe that will determine the time necessary to vent in a large pipe. That time won't come for years yet."
"Will you have to pump all the time?"
"No. For some years it may be necessary to pump only in the summer when so much water is used for outside purposes. In the long winter, we may not have to work the pumps much at all for a long time."
"Well, Mr. Manager, it seems to me that there is a sticking point yet. Say, in the summer, when we are using lots of water, a summer storm should put the pumps out of business, then we wouldn't have any more water than now, and if that same storm started a fire here, we would be up against it wouldn't we?"
"No. Another item in our proposed improvements is the rebuilding of our old reservoir. You know that up near Waterford is an abandoned reservoir that used to be part of our system, and was capable of holding about 300,000 gallons of water. The old concrete lining is all broken up, but the old embankments are in fine shape. This old reservoir was connected to the main from the spring by a short stub pipe, and used to fill by gravity during the night until there would be about six feet of water in it, which would help on the supply during the next day. We propose to rebuild the water tank and build up the walls a few feet to gain added capacity and cover the thing over. We will pump the water into the reservoir until the water was ten or twelve feet deep, giving us nearly 300,000 gallons more of capacity. If the reservoir gets out of commission as you suggest, the water would still flow by gravity to the original level, and we would have the old 300,000 gallon reserve still at hand. This is quite an important item in our program."
"I see. Now, what about the 'leak' in the crock pipe? Won't you have to keep a man at that all the time?"
"No. The pump will have an automatic control operated by a float in the reservoir. When the level gets low the pump starts, and when the level is high the pump is stopped. There is nothing experimental about this. It is a standard outfit."
"Well, now, if instead of building this reservoir up higher, you dropped the bottom so as to give greater storage, you would get this added protection, wouldn't you, without going to the expense of the pump and well?"
"It is true that you could put as much in the thing if you lowered the bottom, but it would be at the expense of the pressure possible to get in town. But we wouldn't have any greater supply of water than we have at present, because, as I said before, all the water we can get now is from four feet or so of ground above our present pipe, and no amount of reservoir can increase that rate of flow. To increase the supply we must get the water at a lower level, and that we will do with the well and pump."
"I don't seem to have a leg to stand on. What about our steel tank, though; is that any good? Doesn't it leak?"
"No. The leak was fixed last summer. And the tank sure is some good. That 154,000 gallons that it holds is just that much more fire insurance."
"What becomes of those pumps at the north edge of town in this new scheme?"
"They will perform just as they were intended—boost the pressure for fire service, and pump the steel tank full when that is necessary."
"Are there any more improvements you intend to make?"
"Yes. We want to put in a venturi meter on the water main where it comes into the village. We have no means now of knowing just how much water is used in the village, and this meter with its automatic recording gauges will keep track of this matter for us."
"All this sounds very nice for now, but won't you have to scrap all these improvements when the time comes to enlarge the system again, and won't most of this money be wasted then?"
"Absolutely not! Everything we intend to do now is a permanent investment and will work right in with any scheme of extension or improvement done in the future. There isn't an experiment in the whole proposal. Everything is standard construction."
"When will you get the improvements done? Do we can have water next summer?"
"We hope to get the well and pump in this winter, if the bond issue is granted, and the reservoir in the spring. We should be in shape before another summer dry season."
"Well, Mr. Manager, much obliged for this explanation. Looks to me as if everyone ought to vote for the bond issue."
"I am glad to explain to anyone anything about this matter that is not understood. If you will look in Mr. Parrott's window on Main street, you will see a sort of chart that may give you some more ideas on the subject, or may make it clearer."

PLYMOUTH WINS ONE AND TIES ONE

Second Team Wins From Dearborn

Apparently Plymouth's second team feels that "revenge is sweet," for after a 27 to 0 defeat at Dearborn, they staged a comeback, last week Thursday, on the home grounds, by the closest of margins, 7 to 6.

The game was close as the score indicates, both teams seeming to have a better defense than offense. In the second quarter, Dearborn pushed the ball within four inches of the goal line, but lost the ball on the downs.

The Plymouth line-up follows:

- Center—Doud
- Right Guard—C. Chappel
- Right Tackle—L. Judson
- Right End—J. Birch
- Left Guard—K. Trucks
- Left Tackle—C. Tait
- Left End—K. Bartlett, D. Sutherland
- Full Back—H. Stevens
- Left Half—P. Millard
- Right Half—R. Wachter
- Quarterback—J. Hickey

Plymouth 6; Dearborn 6

The Plymouth high school foot ball team played at Dearborn, last Friday, and with practically the same line-up as that which fought Wayne so gamely, managed to emerge without a score on either side.

Dearborn's team is new to the game and light, but made up in "size" what they lacked in finish. They could make their downs only by the forward pass route, and this aerial attack failed most of the time.

Plymouth's team seemed at all times to have the capacity for scoring, but lacked the punch necessary to put the ball across the line. Poor generalship, hot weather, and constant delay of the game by the Dearborn quarterback in calling signals, all conspired to prevent Plymouth from scoring.

The line-up was as follows:

- Right End—Miller
- Right Tackle—James
- Right Guard—James, Schoof
- Right Half—Birch
- Quarterback—Freydl
- Full Back—Wilcox (Captain)
- Center—Strasen
- Left Half—McHale, Doud
- Left Guard—Newgrove
- Left Tackle—Doud, James
- Left End—Walker

THE GREATEST MOTHER IN THE WORLD

You who live in the country. What if you had a child who was sick and who in school seemed dull and unable to learn?

You know a great many times a child is not really stupid; it may be its eyes need attention and glasses would correct the trouble so the child could see. Or perhaps it has trouble in hearing. Maybe, the child is a cripple.

That's why the American Red Cross is doing such a splendid work in rural communities through its Public Health program. It is because it feels that if America is to grow strong in all good things, it must be through the strength of its citizens.

The children are the material from which this citizenship is to be made, and it is a sacred trust to be handed down, that these children be given the fullest chance to develop both mentally and physically.

Wouldn't you like to know what the Public Health program of the American Red Cross does?

It is divided into four main parts: (a) Public Health. This work is carried on by 12 trained nurses in every township in Wayne county, outside Detroit. Not only do these nurses go into the homes and the schools, but there are permanent clinics established now, in Wyandotte, Wayne, Dearborn and Grosse Pointe, and it is definitely decided to have a "traveling clinic," which will go to places not now served. At any of these clinics parents can learn how to take care of their children; and they are urged to come, bringing their families with them. You know the old saying, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Well, that's the very purpose of these clinics. Treatment of eyes and teeth and many other ills is given.

Then there's a clinic to take care of and make strong, crippled children. Can you imagine a finer thing than giving health and strength to a child with a badly defective body?

(b) Home-nursing promotes an educational program. Classes are formed in home-nursing and care of the sick, and the aim is to reach every woman in the county through these classes.

(c) What is eaten is a big and very important question to everyone and especially to children. They must have good food and properly cooked, if they are to grow strong. The American Red Cross provides a nutrition specialist for this. She teaches all about the different foods, and their comparative values in building up body waste.

Just to show you how important good food is, last year in the country communities in Wayne county 50 per cent of the children were underweight, because of malnutrition. In one rural school of thirty children, the total underweight was 200 pounds or 6 2/3 pounds per child.

This is entirely unnecessary, and it is to correct just such conditions that the work of the nutrition specialist is being done.

(d) Last but not least, children must play. This develops sturdy bodies, and these in turn beget a sound mind. This need is being filled by a trained recreation leader, who is now devoting a day a week in each of the following places: Wayne, Springwells and Belleville. / But somehow the days are not long enough for this very important work, so an evening session is soon to be added.

In addition to the work of recreation, the crippled or defective child has prescribed for it the best sort of corrective work by a doctor who in a specialist, and the recreation is carried on by the recreation leader.

In all, the work the American Red Cross is doing, in the rural communities, the hearty co-operation of these communities is of the greatest help.

Methodist Matters

Do you believe in ghosts? Some folks do, and there are people in Plymouth, who couldn't be hired to walk through a cemetery alone on a dark night. The pastor of the local Methodist church, Rev. Frank M. Field, has some pronounced ideas on this matter of ghosts, and since Halloween comes on Sunday, this year, he will incorporate some of these ideas in a special Halloween sermon next Sunday evening. His subject will be, "The Ghost that Haunted Harold." The chorus choir under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Cook will sing a special number entitled, "Be Not Afraid."

Next Sunday is rally day, both in the Sunday-school and in the morning church service. At the church hour, 10:30, the pastor will preach a special sermon for the boys and girls, and will have attractive souvenirs for children between the ages of five and sixteen. He will also have an interesting announcement for them concerning a contest for ripening a bunch of grapes. Parents are especially invited to come with the children for this special junior church service.

In the Sunday-school session at 11:30, every class is striving to have its largest possible attendance, and it is expected that the number present will shoot way beyond the two hundred mark. A worthwhile souvenir will be given to everyone attending the rally day Sunday-school session. An interesting feature of the session will be the promotion of a class of twenty-five boys and girls from the primary to the junior department.

Considerable interest was shown in the choice of a year text for the church by members of the congregation, last Sunday morning. As the worshippers entered the church they were supplied with ballots containing eleven selected verses of scripture, which were printed in the Plymouth Mail, last week. A first, second and third choice were indicated by each voter. The year text selected was, "Not to be ministered unto, but to minister, Mark 10:45, and this will be adopted as the church motto for the year. This text was clearly first choice in three different ways of figuring the results, by number of votes received, by averages and by percentages, although Phil. 4:13, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me," was a close second, receiving 35 votes, only one less than first choice.

The women of the Women's Missionary society are giving a "Ghost" party, this evening, at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Honeywell on the Ann Arbor road, five miles west of Plymouth. A charge of 35c is made for the evening's entertainment and refreshments, and the proceeds will go to the society's scholarship fund. Automobiles will be furnished for those going out from town, and will leave the Methodist church at 7 o'clock.

An all day group meeting of representatives of the Woman's Home Missionary societies from Redford, Farmington, Northville and Plymouth was held in the Plymouth church, last Tuesday with forenoon and afternoon sessions. Mrs. Palmer society president for the Detroit East District and several members of her cabinet were present and conducted the sessions. Lunch was served at the noon hour by the local auxiliary to about fifty guests.

The school amendment, the League of Nations, the wet and dry attitude of Cox and Harding, and other election issues will be discussed by the men in the Brotherhood Bible class, next Sunday morning at 11:30. This will take the place of the usual bible lesson, and is being arranged that the men have the fullest opportunity possible to inform themselves on election issues just before election day. The class meets in the foyer of the auditorium, and about forty men can be accommodated.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank M. Field are guests this evening at the opening of the new $10,000 parsonage of the Oak Park Methodist church in Flint, where he was the founder and first pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Field will return tomorrow.

aid Village of Plymouth, including the construction of a well, the laying of a gravity line, the installation of pumps, the re-building of the Village reservoir, the installation of a new line meter, and the same to be replaced by declared to be urgent and necessary public improvements.
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the report of Head & Decker, engineers, in relation to the said improvements, including the estimate as made by them covering the probable costs of such improvements, be and the same is hereby received and made a part of the records, said report being in words and figures as follows:
To the President and Commissioners, Plymouth, Michigan.
In conformity with your verbal instructions of September 23rd, we submit the attached report of making these improvements to the municipal water supply system, which we have recommended be immediately carried out.
The recommended improvements include the construction of a large masonry well, to be located near the upper end of the present gravity line, and equipped with suitable pumping machinery for raising water and supplying it under pressure to the present gravity line, with a vitrified pipe with 12 inch cast iron line, but leaving the present line in fact for gravity flow in a covered masonry reservoir at the side of the present abandoned open reservoir and equipping the same with apparatus by means of which the pumps at the well may be automatically operated as the water level in the reservoir rises and falls.
In addition to the above program of recommended improvements we have estimated the cost of a second, or lieby, pumping unit installed at the well. While we do not believe it essential that this second unit be provided at the time of installing the first unit, inasmuch as the system may be still operated with gravity as at present, and, in fact, we would not recommend this second unit be purchased until after some experience has been had with the operation of the first unit, we have included an estimate of its cost for the purpose of your information.
Also, we have included an estimate of the cost of equipping the system with a meter, preferable with the venturi type, with automatic indicating and recording apparatus, located on the 10 inch supply line at the pumping station in the village.
While there is no part of the proposed water supply system to which such a measuring device becomes essential, it is looked upon as a thoroughly worth-while adjunct to the plant. We recommend that it be purchased and installed whenever funds become available.
Very truly yours,
HOAD & DECKER, Engineers.
By A. J. Decker.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Village Clerk and Commissioners Goyer and Henderson be, and they are hereby appointed as a Board of Election Commissioners for the Village of Plymouth, Michigan, to hold office at said Village election of November 4th, 1920.
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that Mrs. W. Pettigill and Mrs. Murray be and they hereby are appointed as a Board of Election Commissioners to act at said special bonding election of November 4th, 1920.
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that all resolutions, or parts of resolutions, in conflict with the provisions of this resolution, insofar as they conflict herewith, be and the same are hereby rescinded and repealed.
Yours-Commissioners Burrows, Daggett, Goyer, Henderson, Robinson, Nays-None.
Upon motion the Commission then adjourned.
W. J. BURROWS, Village President.
SIDNEY D. STRONG, Village Clerk.

Today's Reflections
We know people with such large beams in their eyes that the mota in other people's eyes look like a saw-log.
Many a Plymouth man has been hounded by judging a woman's disposition by her smile.
Don't fail to keep an eye on the friend who offers you suggestions at the expense of another friend.
Experts say they're sure prices are coming down. We wonder how anyone gets to be an expert.
When a Plymouth man begins to discuss matrimony with a widow, it usually results in a tie.
Residents of Plymouth are beginning to believe that the price of coal is the best fire prevention yet discovered.
There are still quite a few people in this country who ought to be shipped out before the ocean goes dry.
Since all the genuine Turkish cigarettes are now made in America, what use is Turkey to us any more?
They say contentment is the best part of riches—but a lot of Plymouth people are willing to take chances with the riches.
Maybe the farmers come to town just to learn how the town folks find so much time to tell how farms ought to be run.
With the distilleries closed, our bumper corn crop ought to mean mush three times a day, if we want it.
Any Plymouth woman can tell you that a thing of beauty is a joy forever—so long as the cost mark does not show.
When a Plymouth man freely admits that his wife is not stubborn, he can afford to stop praying. He's sure to get to heaven.
A New York woman is going to sell her husband at auction, and we'll bet the auctioneer says more good things about him than she does.
It's a long head that knows no turning when a pretty girl passes.

SCHOOL NOTES
November 1 to 3 is "Better Speech Week," celebrated throughout the country. The Plymouth High school expects to celebrate Nov. 15 to 19, but during the preceding two weeks, the students will be making a survey of speech defects, the material of which will be used during our own Speech Week. A speaker from out of town is to be secured for Nov. 15, and a short play for the assembly of Nov. 19. One assembly program is to be taken over by the class in public speaking.
The public speaking class is studying the oratory of Henry Ward Beecher and of Daniel Webster.
The English literature class turned poets long enough to write some ballads of the olden time, when Samson and Ruth and Daniel fought and loved and prayed.
Presbyterian Notes
Miss Catherine Learned was awarded the bible offered to the one who should bring the largest number of attendants to the first four October meetings. Her score was thirty-five. Another contest is on for the month of November.
Miss Alice Bender of Ann Arbor, spent Sunday at the manse, and was driven home in time for school, Monday morning, in the new sedan. Miss Evelyn Thomas was also a member of the party.
John Harold Hathaway, the pastor's brother, has been appointed instructor in oratory in the literary department of the University of Michigan. Mr. Hathaway received his M. A. from the U. of M. at the last commencement.
The Christian Endeavor society is to hold a Halloween social at the home of the president, J. Maurice Williams, on the Ferrisville road, Monday evening, November 1st. Take cement road, pass second bend, and turn left at the next corner. Then it is the first house on the right. If you need conveyance send in your name next Sunday night.
Winter is ahead, but the C. E. thermometer has gone up to "summer heat." It registered 80 last Sunday night.
D. W. Hathaway, who has been visiting at the manse, left Tuesday for Detroit and Ann Arbor. After visiting his son in Ann Arbor, he will return to his home in Battle Creek.

Start the Morning Dressed for the Afternoon

You can do this if you have an Electric Vacuum Cleaner. You will not have to wear an old house dress and swathe your head in a towel as you do when you use a broom. And you need not rush to change your dress when you see the leader of your social club coming up the street. When your door bell rings you can just drop your work and entertain your caller without the slightest embarrassment.

That is the great advantage of household "electrical servants"—woman loses none of her charm and the work is done better and at less expense. We supply electrical servants—ask us for information.

Vote "NO"

on the School Amendment

Michigan's property owners paid last year an aggregate of over One Hundred Millions for taxes.

The Budget now being prepared by Commissioner Foote shows a demand for more State Taxes than last year's total by several millions of dollars.

The dumping of the Private School Pupils of Detroit alone on to its Public Schools would cost that city Twenty-Eight Millions for new buildings and Three and a Quarter Millions a year for maintenance.

The same cause would increase the School Taxes of Grand Rapids by Fifty Per Cent.

The Direct Taxes of every district would be increased, with no increase in Primary School Fund money.

The total amount of new money to be raised by taxes for Educational Purposes in Michigan if the Private and Parochial Schools are closed by law, in addition to sums already annually expended, is estimated at Forty-Five Million Dollars for Buildings, and Seven and a Quarter Millions Annually for Teachers and Going Expenses.

The Educators of Michigan unanimously agree that it would take ten years to provide the school facilities which would be demanded if the Private School Pupils have to be collected in Public Schools.

WEDNESDAY SERVICES

Sunday was a very important day at St. Peter's church, a class of ten being organized by the pastor in the morning service. The altar was decorated with bouquets of chrysanthemums. Miss Emma Strassen played a march on the church organ, and the pastor led the class to church where they were seated at desks. The pastor answered to questions put by the pastor, the young people proved that they had learned the way to salvation. The pastor preached a very impressive sermon, showing what a blessing it is to belong to Christ. After the solemn benediction, each one kneeling at the altar received the blessing, and was presented with a beautiful certificate and a prayer book by the pastor. The church was crowded to the utmost. A large collection was taken for the defense of the parochial schools. The names of the confirmed members: Mrs. Frances Fisher, Miss Hazel Koster's, Elsie Krauter, Emilie Schulz, Elmer Reddenman, Floyd Reddenman, Arthur Krauter, Clarence Dean, Peter Geyde, Alger Gottschalk. The Lutheran church shows a steady healthy growth in membership.

FRAIN'S LAKE

These Lyke had a narrow escape from having his finger amputated, but it was caught in two, without even scratching his finger. Mrs. Everett Whipple has been spending a week with her daughter in Ann Arbor and expects to spend another week with her mother at Lakes Orion. A rally day program was given at the church, Sunday morning. One Harbor pastor, Mr. Edwards, will compete with Mr. Heston in a potato race, as he had 35 bushels from one bushel of seed. Mr. Heston stated last week that he had 20. Miss Florence Willetts entertained a party, Saturday night. Mrs. Frank Beck had her collar buttoned last week, while engaged in a game of billiards. Mrs. Beck and wife were callers at the home, Sunday, and found Mrs. Beck, who has been very ill with sickness, slowly improving. Mrs. Bebler says, "Look out for the new moon car, for it's a real new one." The Debore L. A. S. entertainment Friday night, was a great success, the proceeds being $53. The Queen Esther Circle will meet with Emory Mulholland, tonight. The Misses Freeman will entertain at a Halloween party, Saturday night. On Friday night, Nov. 5, Mr. G. O. O. class will give a Halloween party at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rash. The public is invited. Mrs. Edwards was a caller at Mrs. Theobald's, Thursday. Mrs. Edith Bush, formerly of Detroit, had the misfortune to fall and break her hip. She is resting at her home in Pontiac. Mrs. Adam Bros and Mrs. Tillie Herman were callers at Mrs. Ed. Lyke's, Thursday. Mrs. George Lyke spent the weekend with friends in Pontiac.

DAILY FESTIVAL-DIG AFFAIR

TWO HUNDRED SIXTY-FIVE AT M. E. SUNDAY-SCHOOL BANQUET. If success can be gauged by the average power of a function on a rainy night, the Methodist Sunday-School Fall Festival supper, Wednesday evening, was a huge success. The banquet was for all members of the school above the primary department and plans were made for about two hundred, but every class had a full representation in spite of the rainy night, and there were two hundred guests present. In spite of the crowded condition of the banquet hall, everybody had a hilariously good time. The Baker orchestra played several numbers on the program following. Each class furnished one number on the program, and every number was heartily received. Some very clever stunts were given, the most elaborate being the appearance of the Newspaper Minstrels, representing the Friendly Bible class. Each class decorated its own table, and there was a variety of clever designs, mostly of the Halloween order.

SPECIAL ELECTION

Next Thursday. The citizens of this village should bear in mind that there is to be a special election held Thursday, Nov. 4th, for the purpose of submitting to the voters the question of bonding the village in the sum of $75,000 for improvements in the village water system. This is an important matter and should receive the careful consideration of every voter. See notice on another page of this paper.

NATURE PROVIDES THE INGREDIENTS

Argo-Phosphate, the New Herbal Remedy, now Endorsed by Local People. If the digestive organs are not properly performing the work which nature has assigned to them, then nutrition, which is absolutely essential to the health of the body, will be lacking, and there can be no permanent relief. When bodily nutrition is normal, the stomach digests the food, the blood absorbs and carries the nutriment to the different parts of the body, causing the various organs to properly perform their functions. Nature has provided a remedy for the improvement of Argo-Phosphate, the new herbal remedy, which is now being introduced here. It is purely vegetable and the stimulating power of the ingredients is maintained throughout the entire process.
