One Minute Sermon on Church Going

Text: "Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is" Hebrews 10:25.

Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, Pastor

Church-going is a means of grace, and is divinely appointed. It is inspiring and restful and a fine way to invest your time. It brings one into conscious contact with God and His people, and develops the best powers of the inner man. But how easily neglected. Absence from next Sunday's services will make it easy to stay away the next week. The slightest irregularity in attendance will work serious havoc with a good habit. Then an excuse will be sought. There are plenty of these except good ones. Most excuses analyzed mean simply, "I don't wish to." But you can cultivate your wish. If you will attend church regularly for a few Sundays, you will want to go. Try the remedy. Begin next Sunday if you have not already begun. We shall look for you.

WHAT KIND OF A CHURCH WOULD OUR CHURCH BE, IF EVERY MEMBER WERE JUST LIKE ME?

DETROIT FIRM GETS BOND ISSUE

AT A MEETING OF THE VILLAGE COMMISSION MONDAY EVENING THE $75,000 WATER WORKS IMPROVEMENT BONDS WERE AWARDED TO WHITTESEY, McLEAN & CO.

At a meeting of the village commission, Monday evening, for the purpose of considering the bids received for the purchase of the bond issue of $75,000 for improvements to the village water works system, the bid of Whittesey, McLean & Co., of Detroit, offering a premium of $1,570 was accepted. They took the entire issue. There were five bidders in all. The commission also authorized the signing of a contract with the engineering firm of Road & Decker of Ann Arbor, for plans and specifications, and the complete supervision of the work of the water system improvements.

A VERY PLEASANT GATHERING

Miss Flo Millard of 1737 Vinewood avenue, Detroit, entertained about thirty-five relatives on Thursday, November 11th, the occasion being the eighty-sixth birthday of her mother, Mrs. Caroline Millard. Mrs. Millard is the mother of twelve children, eleven of whom are now living, one son, Hugh, dying at the age of twenty-one years. Besides her eleven children, she has fourteen grandchildren, thirteen great grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. All the children were present at the reunion except two, Frank Millard of Lansing, and Mrs. M. Eugene Troost of Vineland, New Jersey, who were unable to be present. Mrs. Millard was once a resident of Plymouth, and the small joys in wishing her many happy returns of the day.

LOCAL THEATRE GETS FIRST NATIONAL ATTRACTIONS

PENNIMAN ALLEN THEATRE PATRONS WILL SEE SOME OF THE BIG PICTURES DURING COMING YEAR.

The management of the Penniman Allen theatre has secured the First National franchise for Plymouth, which secures for them all of the first national attractions for the coming year, which includes the Talmaadge sisters, Katherine MacDonald, Anita Stewart, Charles Ray, Lionel Barrymore, Mildred Harris, Chanin, Annika Kallerman, James Oliver Curwood stories, Marshal Neilan productions and many other big specials. "In Old Kentucky," with Anita Stewart as the star, which was shown here last Saturday night, was the first of the First National pictures to be shown at the local theatre, and if this is a sample of what is to follow, patrons of the Penniman Allen theatre are assured of seeing the best pictures to be obtained. It was the general opinion of those who attended that the picture, last Saturday night, was the best that has ever been shown here.

FISCHER'S ORCHESTRA COMING

What promises to be one of the best parties of the season will be that of Friday evening, December 3. Fischer's orchestra of Kalamazoo, has been secured for this party. This orchestra is one of the best that money can secure, and their services are in great demand. They are worth going miles to hear, and that the coming party will be largely attended is a reasonable conclusion.

Lutheran Ladies' Aid Dinner
The Lutheran Ladies' Aid dinner will be held at the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday afternoon, December 1st. All kinds of fancy and useful articles will be on sale, among them many soups and several comfortable. Baked goods will also be on sale, and during the afternoon, light refreshment will be served. Do not let this dinner pass you by. It is a very interesting and profitable evening.

THANKSGIVING DAY AT THE PRISON FARM

A FINE DINNER WAS SERVED TO THE FIFTY MEN AT THE NEW INSTITUTION.

The fifty prisoners at the Detroit House of Correction Farm, just west of Plymouth, were provided with a splendid Thanksgiving day dinner, by Superintendent Edward Dennison, and to say that the men were pleased with the big feed would be expressing it mildly. Here is the menu:

- | | |
|-----------------------------|---|
| Baked Chicken with Dressing | Soup |
| Cranberry Sauce | Light Bread |
| Mashed Potatoes | Coffee |
| Brown Gravy | Everything is progressing nicely at the prison farm, and Supt. Dennison is making every effort to get everything in readiness for the winter season, and rushing the work on the temporary buildings, which are nearly finished. The men are installing a boiler for heating purposes and providing for electric lights. They are also getting ready for the spring crops, clearing the underbrush from the roads, spreading gravel, which has been found in abundance upon the farm. A dairy is about to be installed and twenty-six cows, a number of chickens and hogs have been bought. |

Next spring the prison farm will be a busy place, and before another summer closes, a marked change will be made upon the site of what is to be one of the modern institutions of its kind in the country.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEAR SPEAKER

Last Friday afternoon, November 19th, Lent D. Upson, director of Detroit Bureau of Governmental Research, gave an interesting and instructive talk on "The Fundamentals of Effective Government," before the members of the Woman's Club. Said he, "Women here is your government, you are now a part of it, take it, and get at the bottom of some of the problems that today confront the state and nation." He suggested some changes in the state and county system of government, which he believed would be a benefit to the citizens.

During the afternoon, two selections were pleasingly rendered by the ladies' orchestra; also two vocal selections by Miss Verne Hall, director of music in the Plymouth High school. Miss Evelyn Thomas accompanied Miss Hall on the piano. At the close of the lecture the company was invited to remain for a social hour, and tea and wafers were served by the social committee.

FATALLY INJURED

Plymouth relatives and friends were greatly shocked, last Saturday afternoon, to receive news of the fatal accident and death of William Wehr, aged 34 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wehr of this place, and a former resident here. Mr. Wehr had been doing garden work near Ypsilanti the past summer and fall, and only Saturday morning commenced work in a gravel pit near that city. He had worked only about two hours when the pit caved in, completely burying him in the earth. He was extricated as soon as possible, and taken to the hospital in Ypsilanti, where he lay until three o'clock that afternoon. He leaves besides his parents, two children, Gladys, aged 11 years, and Mark, aged 9, and two sisters, Mrs. Arthur Wachob of Detroit, and Mrs. Chas. McCornell of Ypsilanti.

The funeral services were held from the home of his parents on Elm street, Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 23, at 2 o'clock. Burial in Riverside cemetery. Plymouth friends deeply sympathetic with the bereaved family.

RECEPTION FOR NEW PASTOR

The inclemency of the weather did not prevent a large gathering of people at the Baptist church, Monday evening, to give the new pastor, Rev. Horace E. Sayles, and family, a royal welcome to Plymouth.

After a fine program, refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed. Mr. Tracy, with Miss Youngs at the piano, delighted the people with his solos. Rev. S. Conger Hathaway and Rev. Frank M. Field, in pleasing and earnest words, extended a welcome in behalf of the ministers to the great work of character building and christian citizenship. Mr. Bennett, in behalf of the church; Mr. Williams, in behalf of the Sunday school; Mr. Allenbaugh, in behalf of the choir, and Mrs. Bartlett in behalf of the Ladies' Aid, extended welcome to the work and pleasures of the church services. We feel quite sure that Rev. Sayles and wife will make for themselves warm places in the hearts of Plymouth people.

CORN FOR FUEL

Great interest attaches to announcements from Kansas and Missouri towns to the effect that farmers, finding themselves possessed of the biggest corn crop in history, are threatening to use it for fuel unless the price becomes stabilized. Residents of Plymouth who have more or less trouble getting fuel are especially interested, for it may mean after all a step toward the solution of the heating problem. The price of lumber is better than it ever was before, and the price of corn is steadily declining. So if it reaches a point where corn is worth less than wood, why wouldn't it be from a financial standpoint, a good idea and a saving to substitute for wood in a cook stove? And yet, such a thing looks criminal when we know that millions are actually going hungry in other lands, who would welcome the corn as a blessing from heaven. But the farmers claim they can't feed their own families and run their farms on sentiment, and that prices must stop declining if they change their threat to use corn for fuel. There are two sides to the question, of course, and you can take your choice. But there is one thing to remember, and that is that the matter isn't worth worrying about. Someone is going to be found to raise corn next year, with the chance of making a profit. There will probably never again be a shortage of corn in America. The price will probably never again be where it was during the war. The real worry is that we don't believe ever again will be much cheaper, and that is coal.

A FOOLISH REQUEST

An exchange notes what happens to every editor at one time or another. It has happened in this office many times over. "You may print this, but don't give me away or print my name." "If anything happens in my family, don't mention it," etc.

All these petty and foolish requests confront an editor, and if he takes it seriously he will wonder just at what time this "funny" person does really want to see his or her name in print. It has happened right here in Plymouth, and no doubt in other places, too, when these same "I don't want to see my name in the paper" folks have become thoroughly enraged because on a certain occasion their name was not printed, as it might have been had they not made the request.

In another town recently, a citizen served notice on his home paper not to use his name under any condition. Shortly after he was elected to the office of clerk of town, and the paper omitted to note the fact. A little later a reunion of his father's family was held, and the names of all the children present, except his, were printed. Then came the death of a particular friend, and while he was a pall bearer his name was not printed in the list given in the funeral write-up. An hour later he was at the office of the newspaper, apologizing, and admitting that there are two sides to every case. You don't need to see his name in print even now to convince you of the foolishness of the "don't print my name" request. And we only print the incident in the hope that it may save you making the same foolish request he made.

YOUR CHRISTMAS BUYING

Now that we are fast approaching the Christmas season, it is but fitting to call the attention of Plymouth people to the advisability of making it just as happy for those nearest home, as we possibly can. And in this respect there are many ways of shedding sunshine right around home that a lot of people seem to be unacquainted with.

Take the matter of a Christmas present itself. Had you realized that a Christmas gift bought right here at home brings out the best serviceable and just as reasonably priced as you can get elsewhere. If the thing you want is not in stock, they will quickly get it for you. So why rush to a distant city and buy that which you can get at home, and hand your money to someone you will never see again, and from whom you couldn't get a favor, no matter how badly you need it. Think it over—and then watch closely the columns of this paper. Watch them for the ads of your neighbors—your friends—and read those ads with profit to yourself.

From now on until Christmas, this paper will contain announcements of those merchants who are in position to sell you Christmas goods that are just as pretty, just as serviceable and just as reasonably priced as you can get elsewhere. If the thing you want is not in stock, they will quickly get it for you. So why rush to a distant city and buy that which you can get at home, and hand your money to someone you will never see again, and from whom you couldn't get a favor, no matter how badly you need it. A NEW STORE OPENS SATURDAY

On this page of the Mail will be found an advertisement announcing the opening of Woodworth Bros. Bazaar and Phonograph Shop, in the Tighe block on Penniman avenue, Saturday, November 27. The room has been nicely re-decorated and presents a very fine appearance. Woodworth Bros. are conducting a similar store in Northville and have met with splendid success. They will carry a complete line of bazaar goods and will handle Operolla photographs and Emerson records. Read their ad.

A PRETTY SHOWER

Pink and white was the color scheme used by the Misses Helen Roe, Esther Wisely and Florence Newell at the shower Saturday evening, November 20, honoring Miss Pearl Shipley, a bride-to-be of this week. A miniature bride and groom upon a mound of pink and white formed the centerpiece. The pink rose-bud favors matched the pink and white dishes. "The wedding," a story of the bride, caused much merriment. Miss Shipley was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. The shower was given at the home of Miss Helen Roe.

BAZAAR AND SUPPER GREAT SUCCESS

The annual bazaar and chicken-pie supper held by the ladies of the Presbyterian church was a great success. The fancy work booth was very tastefully decorated in yellow and white, and had for sale many beautiful as well as useful articles. The booth, which sold baked goods, fruits and vegetables, was very pretty with blue and white decorations, and the candy booth was attractive in pink and white, and had a fine display of delicious confectionery. The chicken-pie supper was bountifully served, and surely did credit to the reputation of the Presbyterian ladies as good cooks. The total amount cleared from both the supper and bazaar was $325.

After dinner a program was listened to, which consisted of readings, selections on the Edison phonograph and remarks by Rev. F. A. Field. The whole day was enjoyed by everyone present. After the business meeting, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, society secretary, entertained the ladies at the home of Mrs. Brown on East Ann Arbor street in February.

FIRST NUMBER WAS SPLENDID

The first number on the Citizens' Entertainment Course was given in the Penniman Allen theater, last Friday evening, when Miss Gay Zenola McLaren gave an interpretation of the book, "Bought and Paid For," from the play, "George Broadhurst," by Arthur Hornblow. Miss McLaren has remarkable talent. Her presentation of the five characters of the book, and her power of mimicry almost made one feel that the play was being presented with a full cast, instead of by a single artist. As an impersonator she has rare ability that is possessed by few.

The Montague Light Opera Singers, Monday, January 17th, will be the next number on the course.

HOME TALENT DATE IS DEC. 8

The home talent play, "Jedediah Judkins, J. P.," is slated for Wednesday, December 8th, at the High school auditorium, instead of the 1st, as announced last week. Synopsis of the play, which includes four acts, and a full cast of characters, fourteen in number, will be given next week.

The shadow social at the Elm school house, Friday evening, was a decided success. The shadows sold from fifty cents to ten dollars and fifty cents, the proceeds being over eighty dollars. This money is to be used for a new victrola for the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Rohde entertained the latter's father, Willard Sherman, and brother, Leon and wife of Ferrisville, Sunday.

There was a large crowd at Beach church, Sunday, despite the inclement weather. Mr. Yokum, the new pastor, has awakened quite an interest in the church, and his sermons are worth going miles to hear.

CUT THIS OUT
Special Notice: Dr. Frederick Jacobson says that phosphates are just as essential to any woman who tires easily, is nervous, worn out or looks haggard and pale, to make a strong, robust, vigorous, healthy body, as they are to make corn, wheat or any vegetable plant grow strong and healthy. The lack of phosphates is the cause of all enemic conditions, and the administration of 5-grain Argo-Phosphate Tablets will increase the strength and endurance 500 per cent in a few weeks' time in many instances.—Adv.

SCHOOL NOTES

Final debate try-outs were held at the high school, Thursday afternoon, when the following teams were selected: First team—Lyman Judson (who helped win the state championship last year), Charles Chappel and Etha Wisely. The second team—Kenneth Bartlett, Eva Griffith and Lione Rattenbury. Too much cannot be said for the splendid ability shown by all of the people who tried out. The subject matter of their speeches was well organized, well prepared, and delivered in a spirited fashion. The try-outs not only selected this year's teams, but proved that Plymouth High school has splendid debating material for two years hence. The question is, "Resolved, that the adjustment of disputes between employer and employes should be made a part of the administration of justice."

The first debate is scheduled with Northville for Friday evening, Dec. 3, in the local auditorium. We hope that the people of Plymouth will aid us with their interest as well as they did last year. We certainly will try to have as successful a team as the one last year, which brought home the cup from Ann Arbor, last spring.

A number of the seventh grade boys are making skis in manual training classes.

Miss McClumpha's pupils are making Thanksgiving booklets for language work.

James Stimpson of the first grade has been ill this week.

The last foot ball game of the season was played at Dearborn, Friday.

Miss Lillian Micol was a High school visitor, last week Wednesday.

Tag Day on Friday last was a decided success, if making us think about our speech was the aim. The superintendent and principal, as well as one of two of the other teachers, were observing the wearing of the "green." The short farce, "Almost Everyman," given as assembly entertainment, completed the program for better speech week.

Messrs. F. R. and R. P. Woodworth, proprietors of the Woodworth bazaar and photograph shop in this village, have rented a building on Pennsylvania avenue, across from the postoffice in Plymouth, and will open a bazaar there about the first of December. These gentlemen have been very successful since opening their store here and being desirous of branching out decided upon the Plymouth enterprise. They will carry a full and complete bazaar stock besides photographs and records, and the two stores can be operated in connection very nicely. The people of Plymouth will find Messrs. Woodworth in every way worthy of their confidence, and their new store will make a valuable acquisition to the business interests of that village.—Northville Record.

The annual inspection of Northville Commandery, No. 88, Knights Templar, occurred Tuesday evening, and the affair was one of the most enjoyable of all the inspections held since the organization of the local commandery. Albert L. Smith of Howell, grand junior warden of the Grand Commandery of Michigan, was assigned to check up the Sir Knights and he was painstaking and careful in his criticisms and instructions. To several of the officers he gave special words of praise for their fine rendition of the ritual. There were 53 Sir Knights in uniform at the opening ceremonies, and 47 remained to the close, making 100 the number in appearance of Northville Commandery. The membership is now 158, and the commandery is still growing, with very bright prospects for the coming year. Dr. John H. Mowers of Bedford, was the candidate for the evening. A banquet was served at 6:30 to sixty Sir Knights.—Northville Record.

Serious Results from Cold
Colds not only cause a tremendous financial loss, but are also a source of injury to persons who contract them as they lower the vitality and compare the system for the most part. It is not at all unusual for people who have serious colds to say, "I had a hard cold, but I got it." Why? Why? Why? Cough, sneeze, and sniff, while you are...

Today's Reflections

Since the price of everything is going up, nobody feels cheap any more.

A Plymouth girl may learn a lot of ways of making herself attractive, but chewing gum isn't one of them.

The world war brought out 76 new words, but the one Sherman used in the civil war still best describes it.

Advertising pays in everything except telling the reading public your troubles.

Sir Oliver Lodge says dying is as easy as discarding an old pair of pants. With a lot of us in Plymouth it's easier.

If "a man is known by his works," then the average politician's must be gas works.

The Plymouth man who argues that all men are thieves will generally hear watching.

They are advocating jails for profiteers again, but for some reason, they never get any further than advocating.

And what will it profit Holland to become a republic, if the Kaiser and his family remain and become citizens?

Even the moon gets full when it sees what's going on in the good old U. S. A. these days.

A Kentucky man arrested for stealing chickens says they are his and he can prove it by having them run to him when he calls. He must have learned how to make a noise like a worm.

We want to warn the fair sex of Plymouth that the woman who falls at a man's feet finds out later that she merely stumbled over them.

Even in Noah's days there were people who didn't believe in advertising—or the ark wouldn't have been big enough to hold them.

A western editor says the ex-Kaiser is wrong in writing, "I, K." after his name. He says it should be "I ain't."

Plymouth citizens long ago learned that every bit added to what you've got makes just a little more tax.

The full dinner pail is all right, but the think that's worrying most people now is the full coal scuttle.

PIKE'S PEAK

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bingle of Romulus, visited their sister, Mrs. Robert McKee, Sunday.

George Hix has been repairing his house with a coat of stucco, which makes a fine appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klatt gave a farewell party, Friday evening, in honor of their son, Carl, who leaves for the west, Saturday morning.

The party given at the home of Charles Clement, Friday evening, was well attended, guests being present from Detroit, Plymouth and Wayne.

G. W. Dean attended the Taylor-Pfeister wedding in Detroit, Wednesday.

George Mecklenburg is driving a Ford, which he purchased the past week, as is also Earl Steinhauer.

Mrs. Charles Voss was a Dearborn caller, Saturday.

Herbert Bakewell is building a new garage this week.

Mrs. Virgil Newman of Redford, is spending a few days with her father, George Hix.

If It Is a Bilious Attack
 Take three of Chamberlain's Tablets and a quick recovery is certain.—Adv.

Baptist Notes

Last Sunday was a good day at the Baptist church—good attendance both morning and evening. The Sunday-school was larger than for some time—came near the one hundred mark.

The music committee are planning for an orchestra. Several have expressed a willingness to join, and thus assist the Sunday-school.

The Blue's will banquet the Red's at the church, Friday evening, Dec. 3, as a result of the Sunday-school contest.

The Ladies' Aid will hold a bake sale, December 15th, at Pfeiffer's meat market. Also fancy work and fruits will be sold. Remember the date.

The Ladies' Home Mission society met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bennett, Tuesday afternoon. The usual business was taken care of and then a committee appointed to look after the reading contest; also committee for white cross service work, looking after the needy. A dainty lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Don't Suffer

MANY men and women are suffering because they are treating effects instead of removing causes.

Why bother with ailments and lotions for rheumatic pains, backache, stiff joints, sore muscles, biliousness, nervousness, floating specks in the vision, dizziness, puffiness under the eyes, or other symptoms of kidney trouble when the kidneys can be made well and strong, thus removing the cause of the symptoms?

Kidney Pills

Have been used for kidney trouble and bladder ailments by men and women with success for many years. They clean to the roots of the trouble, invigorate and strengthen, soothe and soothe, ease or dispel the distress and suffering. They help the kidneys throw out of the blood the waste and poisons that cause the symptoms of kidney trouble.

O. W. Weisburger, 228 Howe Street, San Antonio, Texas, writes: "I have suffered from kidney trouble for many years. I have tried many remedies but only found relief in your pills. They have done for me what nothing else could do. I am now well and strong and my kidneys are well and strong."

GRANGE NOTES

The regular meeting of Plymouth Grange will be held in the Grange hall, Thursday, December 2nd. A pot-luck dinner will be served promptly at noon. Please bring plate, knife, fork, spoon and cup. Miss Johansen, the Wayne county nurse, will be with us.

Methodist Matters

The November meeting of the Methodist Ladies' Aid society held at the home of Mrs. Clifford James, last week, was well attended by about sixty people. Much interest was shown in the contest, which began with this meeting. The three divisions into which the membership is divided, are given credits for excellent work during each month, and at the end of the year the winning division will be guests at a banquet served by the other two divisions. After the business meeting, an interesting program was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

The Christmas party for all the women of the congregation, which was so successful last year, will be given again this season, the date being Wednesday, December 15th. This will take the place of the December meetings of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary societies. Dinner will be served at noon, and inexpensive gifts will be exchanged in some novel manner.

The rapid growth of the Methodist Sunday-school has made necessary the formation of a new class of boys, nine and ten years of age, which met for the first time last Sunday. Arthur M. Johnson is the teacher, and the boys are plugging for new members.

Last Sunday evening two families drove in eight and seven miles respectively to attend the evening service, setting a splendid example for the many who are within easier reach of the church. The attendance at the evening service has been growing steadily for several weeks, the most reaching one hundred fifty the past two Sundays. The chorus choir under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Cook, is doing fine work, and next Sunday evening will sing, "The Precious Friend," by Meredith. Rev. Field will preach the sermon, "Stomachs and Souls," which was announced two weeks ago, but gave way to the Red Cross pictures.

Evered V. Jolliffe conducted a very interesting Epworth League meeting, last Sunday evening, and gave the synopsis of a very unique Thanksgiving sermon, called "Thought and Nevertheless." The League orchestra led the music and furnished a special number. The orchestra will play again next Sunday evening, and Robert Jolliffe will lead the meeting with the topic, "Unchristian America, a Menace and a Challenge."

It is reported that last Sunday, the mayor of Ypsilanti, who is also president of the Brotherhood Bible class in the Methodist Sunday-school, used the Brotherhood Bible class of Plymouth as an example of a class that is alive and growing. He thought that his class in a church of a thousand members could learn something from the Plymouth organization. Whereupon, it is said, that someone remarked, "They are all boosters over at Plymouth." Now here is a reputation to live up to.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS

When you want newspaper favors you strike your home paper, don't you?

If you want your town boomed and your property increased in value, you expect the home paper to do it for nothing, don't you?

You kick because your home paper hasn't as much reading matter as the big dailies, don't you?

And you preclude the home paper from thinking this is a good place for it by not giving it sufficient patronage, don't you?

And you frequently sneak off to some big city print shop to get job work done, to save a few cents, don't you?

You are mighty free about telling what a good thing for the community a home paper is, but you are backward when it comes to helping that paper with the price of a year's subscription, aren't you?

The home paper doesn't charge you interest on back subscriptions, but you wait until the last thing before paying it, don't you?

You are mighty anxious to have the home paper spend money with you, but you are careful to spend as little as possible with it, aren't you?

You think the publisher can live on promises and pay his bills with the same material, don't you?

You think he can forever digest the fact that his paper is a good thing for the community, and not receive anything in return. But he can't do it, can he?—Free Press, Fulda, Minn.

Another thing about losing an election bet this year—the loser did not have to waste time lining the winners up to the mahogany.

"TRUMPET ISLAND"

a Tom Terriss Production adapted by Lillian and George Randolph Chester from the story by Gouverneur Morris.

What Would You Do?

If you were the wife of a man you despised and he were being worsted by two thugs?

If you were able to save him and by so doing it meant years of unhappiness, what would you do?

If by the death of this man you were free to marry for love, how would you act?

These are some of the problems that confronted Eve DeMerincourt as she stood on the cliff in the Tom Terriss production—"Trumpet Island."

What did she do? The answer is found among the thrills and spectacular scenes in the greatest of all pictures to be shown this season at the Penniman Allen Theatre.

A Reliable Remedy for Colds and Croup

I have recommended this remedy to many of my friends and neighbors, who have also used it with good results."—Advt.

The Largest Factory in the World Building Pipeless Furnaces Only

THE cut above is the new Homer factory at Coldwater, Michigan, the largest exclusive pipeless furnace factory in the world, and a monument to the success of the pipeless furnace principle.

S. D. Strong invented the Homer. He built the first Homer ten years ago. He has built over fifty thousand since. And he builds the Homer today. His first factory was in the rear of a country town hardware store. His present factory is a $75,000.00 plant, planned and fabricated to produce Homer Furnaces.

What does this signify?
That clean-cut quality will win, that the pipeless principle is right, and that the Homer Furnace is the heating plant for your home, whether it contains five rooms or fifteen.

The Homer trade-mark and the Thermo-Seal Inner Lining mark the genuine Homer Pipeless Furnace. Look for both. We will gladly show you a Homer, explain its principle, and quote you a price on a plant to fit your home. Call, phone or write.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Lydia VanAkin Tuell, beloved wife of Allen Tuell, died at their home in Chicago, Saturday, Nov. 8th, at 9 p. m. Her funeral was held Tuesday, Nov. 9th. Her remains were cremated, and her ashes are buried in Forest Home cemetery, Chicago, beside those of her sister, Mrs. Martha Cooper. Mrs. Lydia A. VanAkin Tuell was born in the township of Nankin, Wayne county, Michigan, May 8, 1846, and was united in marriage to Allen Tuell, Jan. 13, 1885. She spent her early life and school days at Wayne, and the State Normal at Ypsilanti and on her father's large farm near Perrinville. She was one of seven sisters and they were all frequent visitors in Plymouth, especially during the years when Peter Frick and other successful merchants were the leading business men, some sixty and seventy years ago, and during the Civil war days. She was the last of the seven sisters to take her departure for the great unknown beyond. She was a good Christian, a loving, faithful wife. She leaves to mourn her departure, her husband, many nieces and nephews and a host of friends.

Presbyterian Notes

There was a good attendance at the stereopticon lecture given last Wednesday night by the Woman's Missionary society. The slides were sent out by the Home Mission Board, and constituted a study of immigration and the problem of assimilating foreign types of the problem. Two basketsful of toys and miscellaneous gifts were brought to the young people's service, last Sunday night, to be sent as a Thanksgiving offering to the Albion Academy, a Presbyterian mission school in the south. One hundred five were present to keep the mercury climbing. Special features of the meeting were a story by Beka Hondrop, music by the High School Glee club, and a bible exercise by the leader, Miss Genevieve McCumpha.

S. Conger Hathaway was in Detroit, Monday, attending the New Era School and Conference of the Presbyterian church.

C. H. Bennett, W. R. Shaw, Calvin Whipple and Miss Genevieve McCumpha have been on the sick list, this week.

The pastor and a number of the members of the Presbyterian church attended the reception given last Monday night to the pastor of the Baptist church, Rev. H. E. Sayles.

Miss Gladys Schrader, secretary of the Christian Endeavor society, is reading the constitution and by-laws in installments at the Sunday night meetings. When the reading is finished the constitution will be ratified and adopted by the society.

An unusually large congregation attended service at the Presbyterian church, last Sunday morning. A number of chairs were brought in for extra seating.

Workmen are repairing the art-glass windows at the Presbyterian church.

DAIRY SHORT COURSE TO OPEN AT M. A. C. NOV. 29

A two weeks' short course in cow testing and dairy barn management will open at the Michigan Agricultural college on November 29, and run until December 10. This course is designed especially for men and women who want training for cow testing positions, or who are engaged in the production of A. R. O. dairy animals.

A series of practical subjects for dairymen are included in the course, animal breeding, feeding, Babcock test, livestock judging, dairy barn management and advance registry and cow testing work being given. The facilities of the college herds and dairy plant are used fully in the teaching work.

The dairy course is one of a number of special agricultural short courses, which will be given at the college during the coming winter. A sixteen weeks' course in general agriculture opened October 27. Several courses open on January 3, including an eight weeks' course in general agriculture; dairy manufacturing course (eight weeks); dairy production course (eight weeks); horticultural course (eight weeks); and a farm mechanics course (six weeks); a poultry husbandry course (four weeks); and an advanced poultry course (four weeks); open on Jan. 5th, while an ice cream makers' course, a gardening course and two truck and tractor courses open late in January and in February.

Information regarding registry in any of the work may be had by writing to A. M. Berridge, director short courses, M. A. C., East Lansing. All courses are open to any man or woman in the state over 16 years of age. There are no education requirements for entrance, but at least a good common school training is advised for those who would get the most from the work.

THE UNITED GUN CLUB

The November 21st meet of the United Gun Club was another fast one. For the size of the club (there are seventeen active members) this outfit is rather hard to beat. Frank Hills and Clyde Merritt tied on the forty-seven mark for first place, and second honors were also tied at forty-five between George McCall and H. Passage. Frank Hills was high over all for the day, breaking 98 out of an even hundred, also earning high run. The fifty target score, regular program are:

Clyde Merritt	47
Frank Hills	47
George McCall	45
H. W. Passage	45
Leo Cameron	33

The sixteen-yard practice events were:

F. Hills	49
G. McCall	48
J. Patterson	46
C. Merritt	45
Lou Cameron	44
H. Passage	41 out of 25

We have advertised the fact that we would shoot all winter, and will make good if the members will only turn out. Next regular meet will be on December 5th.

More Heat—Less Fuel

With the "Underfeed" method the smoke, gas and soot are consumed

If you want to get away from the disagreeable feature of the smoke rushing into your face every time you put soft coal on the fire, try the

"Renown" Underfeed Heater

The coal is fed under the fire and the smoke and gas are forced up through the hot coals, where they are mixed with highly heated air and consumed. Don't smother your fire by putting soft coal on top of it.

You will positively save 25% or more on your fuel bill and get more heat

We will guarantee that this stove will not puff or explode, if operated according to our instructions.

ONE WOMAN TOLD US

"Five minutes in the morning with an electric iron makes wash day so much lighter."

This woman realized how often blouses, frocks and even lingerie found their way into the laundry bag ahead of time, just slightly mussed.

Even a hint of untidiness made dainty things un-wearable and added to the weekly washing.

Now she uses an electric iron: With just a twitch of the switch and a few moments of gentle ironing, crumpled garments become smooth and lovely—all together wearable.
