BASKET BALL SEASON OPENS

PLYMOUTH SECOND TEAM LOSES TO REDFORD WHILE FIRST BOYS' AND GIRLS' TEAMS WIN FROM WAYNE.

Plymouth High school opened the basket ball season at the High school gymnasium, Wednesday night. It was previously announced that the Wayne girls and boys would play, but since their car was delayed almost two hours, both coaches and crowd were agreeably surprised when the Redford coach, who was to referee the boys' game, appeared with his whole team. The Plymouth boys' squad was hastily divided and five players sent against Redford. This game ended just as the delayed Wayne team arrived on the floor. Redford looked well in the games last year, when Plymouth was beaten 41 to 3, and it is a fair index of Plymouth's improvement that the second string men could hold them to a 21 to 5 score, and in the second half, to 2 lone field baskets. The work of the Redford guards was excellent, and at center, Reid was good, but except at basket shooting, they were well matched by our greener men, four of whom were playing their first game for Plymouth.

The girls' team played the Wayne basket ball team, winning from them 58-0. Lenore Wright and Marion Kiehl played forward, with Margaret Streng and Ione Bird substituting in the last half. Edith Fines and Merle Roe played center, with Bonnie Mueller and Wanda Shutt guarding the first half, and Ila Roe and Hanna Strasen guarding the last half. Perhaps the size of the score indicates the fact that the Wayne girls are inexperienced, but it also shows that the Plymouth girls have hit their old stride.

In the boys' game with Wayne, the first team tasted the sweetness of revenge, as the final score, 27 to 13, helped to atone for the foot ball defeat, last fall. Here, every man seemed a star, Cook, at center, outplaying his man at every stage of the game. Miller's guarding was even better than last year, and Walker's floor work was good. Tait, at forward, hardly missed a chance at the basket, and Doudt annexed twelve points to match the six of the man he was guarding. The teams gave "their money's worth" to the record-breaking crowd. The gate receipts, including season tickets were over $80.

The line-up for each game follows: Redford—L. F. Sawyer, Merritt; R. F. Dennis, Sherrick, Miller; C. Reid; G. Ewles; R. G. Burt. Plymouth Second Team—L. F. Stevens; R. F. Sayles; C. Wisely, Freydl; L. G. Strasen; R. G. Amrhein, Wilcox. Goals—Dennis, Reid, 4; Merritt, 3; Miller, Sayles, Stevens. Free throws—Reid, 1 of 3; Merritt, 3 of 4; Sayles, 1 of 4. Referee—VanAvery, Holcomb. Final score—Redford, 21; Plymouth, 5.

Wayne—L. F. Luke, Captain; R. F. Crook; C. Lee; R. G. Carpenter, Cozadd; L. Sherrick. Plymouth First Team—L. F. Tait; R. F. Walker; C. Cook, Captain; R. G. Miller; L. G. Doudt. Goals—Luke, 2; Crook, Lee, Cozadd; Tait, 5; Cook, Miller, Doudt, 5. Free throws—Luke, 2 of 5; Crook, 1 of 3; Tait, 1 of 3; Doudt, 2 of 5. Referee—VanAvery. Final score—Wayne, 13; Plymouth, 27.

EDDY POST ELECT OFFICERS

At the last meeting of Eddy Post 231, G. A. R., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: P. C.—Oliver P. Shower; S. V.—Charles Westfall; J. V.—E. W. Maynard; Adj.—P. Perkins; Q. M.—W. J. Stewart; Surgeon—James Parry; Chaplain—Oliver Westfall; O. D.—C. J. Bunyes; O. G.—James Manser; M. S.—James King; S. M.—Henry Thompson.

FORMER PLYMOUTH LADY DIES SUDDENLY

Friends and relatives were shocked Monday morning, to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Ellen Packard Woodard, wife of the late James P. Woodard, who died Sunday evening, January 2nd, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Hecker, with whom she resided at 8820 Dexter boulevard, Detroit.

The girlhood days of the deceased were spent in Plymouth, being a daughter of the late Cyrus Packard of this place. She was a member of the 1883 graduating class of the Plymouth High school. During her married life, she resided in Detroit, but two years ago, after the death of her husband, Mrs. Woodard returned to Plymouth and made her home for several months with her cousin, Miss Alice Safford. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. E. W. Hecker, and one granddaughter; one sister, Mrs. Maude Andrews, all of Detroit, and one brother, Elsworth Packard, besides several more distant relatives. The funeral services were held from the home of her daughter, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Plymouth friends deeply sympathize with the bereaved family.

PLYMOUTH CATHOLICS BUY CHURCH

The Catholics of Plymouth and vicinity have purchased the Universalist church property on Union street, and are now holding services there every Sunday morning at 9:00 o'clock. Fr. Lafever is the priest in charge of this parish and also the parish at Northville, where services are held at 10:30 a. m. Fr. Lafever will reside in Plymouth as soon as he can find a suitable dwelling. We understand that the present building will be remodeled somewhat and some improvements made in the near future.

NEW MOVIE OUTFIT IN CHURCH

METHODISTS PUT IN NEW IMPROVED EQUIPMENT. By action of the Official Board of the local Methodist church last Tuesday, a new and approved equipment for motion picture projection is to be installed in the church at once. Negotiations have been under way for some time for the purchase of an equipment which meets all the requirements of the State Fire Marshal and the National Board of Fire Underwriters and at the same time is thoroughly standard. Such an arrangement will be given at the church in the very near future. A purchase will no doubt follow immediately.

NEW YEAR'S PARTY GREAT SUCCESS

New Year's eve a very pretty dancing party was given in the Penniman Allen auditorium. The hall was filled not only with home people but many visitors. Punch, ice cream and cake were served during the evening. Just before the hour of twelve the dancers were asked to form in line and as they marched around the hall each person was given a paper horn. Needless to say, the New Year was ushered in with considerable noise. Stone's orchestra of Detroit, furnished the music.

Mrs. Harry Brown is quite ill with typhoid fever at her home east of town. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bunk, who have been ill for the past five weeks are improving at this writing. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Petz pleasantly entertained several relatives from Detroit, at their home here on New Year's day. Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Beyer, Mrs. Peter Gayle and Mrs. H. J. Fisher were calling at Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Coppell's at Wayne last Monday. The Boy's Women's Bible class of the Presbyterian Sunday school will hold their January meeting at the home of Mrs. I. W. Hummel, west of town, last Tuesday, January 12th. There will be an all day meeting and

MET WITH SERIOUS ACCIDENT

SEWELL BENNETT AND HERMAN KRUMM HURT WHILE BUZZING WOOD LAST TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

A very serious accident occurred at the home of Mrs. Paul Bennett on Golden road, last Tuesday afternoon, when Sewell Bennett of this place, and Herman Krumm, who resides on the Sewell Bennett farm, were buzzing wood with a saw run by a tractor. Mr. Krumm was feeding the saw, while Mr. Bennett was passing the wood to him, when the pile of uncut wood fell over, throwing both men toward the saw. Mr. Krumm's hands were badly cut and lacerated, all of his fingers were taken off the left hand, and the end of his thumb was cut off. The tendons of his index finger on his right hand were also cut, but it is thought his right hand can be saved. Mr. Bennett was thrown against the frame of the saw, and was pinned under the wood. He was badly bruised about his chest. He was immediately taken to his home in north village, where he is resting comfortably at this writing. It is believed his injuries will not leave any serious results. In forty-five minutes from the time Mr. Krumm reached the doctor's office in Plymouth, he was in Harper hospital, Detroit, due to the quick service of Schrader Bros.' new ambulance.

I. O. F. INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of the I. O. O. F., held at their hall, Tuesday evening, January 4th, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year: N. G.—F. S. Ray; V. G.—Ivan Gray; R. S.—Earl G. Gray; F. S.—Fred Wagner; Treas.—F. S. Wilson; R. S. N. G.—Roy Wheeler; L. S. N. G.—Richard Vealey; R. S. V. G.—Fred Drews; L. S. V. G.—Harold Stuart; R. S. S.—John Furman; L. S. S.—Homer Williams; Warden—Archie Collins; Conductor—Lester Cooper; I. G.—Frank Henderson; O. G.—John Mastic; Chaplain—Edgar Cochrane.

A special meeting of the O. E. S. was held in Masonic hall last Tuesday evening, when the degrees of the order were conferred upon four candidates. After the work refreshments were served to about eighty members and guests. Visitors were present from Stockbridge and Ypsilanti; Truth chapter, Durand, Wisconsin, and Naomi chapter, Frederick, South Dakota.

BLAMING IT ON THE WAR

It has grown to be a habit with some people to blame all of our ills on the war. We have quite a few citizens right here in Plymouth who have become addicted to this habit. They point at the high price of coal and say it was because the government scrambled up the railroads so during the war, they haven't been tangled yet. Listen to another man, and you'll hear that the war has so raised the miner's pay that he can earn in one day as much as he earned in three days before the war, and that he is, therefore, not inclined to dig as much coal as he used to. Another man will declare that meat is up because cold storage people stocked up so heavily during the war, and found such high prices abroad, where cattle raising has been impossible during the past few years, that they don't want to get back to pre-war prices.

Another will tell you that the people have been, as a whole, too careless in providing themselves with the necessities of life, like food and fuel, and have been too much occupied in paying for the luxuries of life, like automobiles. That, of course, is not true, though the rush by some for luxuries has prevented the supply of the necessities to others. We are all dependent, one upon another, and we must learn to strike a better level between the necessities and luxuries.

LET'S BE PATIENT

When you go to a circus, a theatre or any place where a crowd is striving to gain admission, you take your place in line and patiently wait until you get up to the main entrance. You don't fret about the time that is being consumed, and you keep your temper and finish up in a good humor.

And yet, unless you are far different from the average citizen of Plymouth, if you start to call someone by telephone and don't get the number within a second or two, you are angry, and want to give the telephone operator "a piece of your mind." Haven't you noticed it? And haven't you noticed that the very people who can stand in patience in most any form, can't hold their temper when they're trying to get someone by phone? Certainly you have, and we daresay you have been guilty of the same offense.

FARM BUREAU NEWS

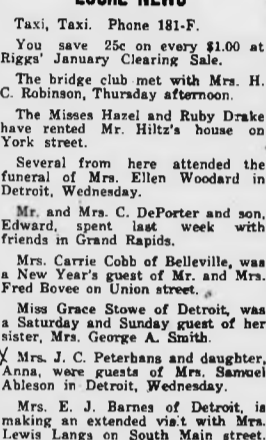

Round trip railroad fare to the Michigan State Farm Bureau annual meeting and Farmers' Week, at M. A. C. has been cut down to one and one-third fare through the efforts of the traffic department of the State Farm Bureau. Farmer's Week begins January 31st and extends to February 4th.
Persons desiring the cut rate should follow these instructions: When you buy your ticket to Lansing any time within three days of the opening of Farmers' Week, ask your local agent for a certificate of purchase. At the convention provision will be made so that someone in authority can sign your certificate. With this in hand you can secure a return fare for one-third the usual cost.

Instead of a set program of speakers the state farm bureau is providing for a session of thorough discussion of important questions involving its co-operative organization. The executive committee has instructed the secretary to prepare a tentative 1921 program, which will be a basis for consideration.
M. A. C. however, has arranged for one of the best programs of important speakers on agricultural subjects ever presented in the state. The speakers include S. S. McClure, founder of McClure's Magazine; George Livingston, Chief of the U. S. Bureau of Markets; Dean Davenport of the University of Illinois; A. E. Roberts, former member of the Roosevelt County Life Commission; Mrs. Alma Binzel of the University of Minnesota; Congressman A. L. Lever, member of Farm Loan Board; Governor W. L. Harding of Iowa; President Burton of the U. of M.
A women's conference will be held at the same time as the meeting of the various associations. M. A. C. will have an educational exhibit. Conventions will occur in the mornings, and the M. A. C. speakers will appear in the afternoons and evenings. Farmers' Week is the occasion for the annual meetings of the following organizations: Feb. 1-2, Michigan Potato Producers' Association; Feb. 2, Michigan Horticultural Society; Feb. 1-2, Agricultural Section of the Michigan Bankers' Association; Feb. 2-3, Michigan Muck Farmers' Association; Feb. 2-3, Michigan Crop Improvement Association; Jan. 11-Feb. 1, County Agents' Association; Feb. 1-2-3, Boys' and Girls' Club Leaders; Feb. 1-2-3, Y. The European Relief Council, which seeks to raise $33,000,000 at the Christmas season, has been formed for the purpose of throwing the entire charitable energy of the United States into the vital task of providing food and medical assistance to 3,500,000 children in eastern and central Europe this winter. Representatives of eight great relief organizations, working independently, gathered overhauling evidence that the plight of these unfortunate nates should take precedence in world charity until they are saved. The co-operating agencies which form the Council are the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. TURKEY HELPED BY GERMANS

Jute Bags, Designed to Block Suez Canal, Are Now Being Put to Peaceful Use.

It is always a pleasure to acknowledge a debt of gratitude to one's foes. The German occupation has left many a nightmare in this poor land; but some benefits as well. One of these has recently come to light. Hundreds of poor are peddling on the streets of Constantinople jute bags, with handles, which are very convenient for carrying home rice or olives or bread or puffed-up (egg-plant) or any other purchase. For six or seven cents, one can have a good strong bag.

The story of these is interesting. During the early days of the war, when the campaign against Egypt was undertaken, the plan was conceived of driving the British back to the Suez canal, filling up the canal with the sands of the desert, and walking over into the new Promised Land, and thus "delivering" Egypt from the yoke of tyranny. To facilitate this project, the Germans sent into this country millions of jute bags, which were to be filled with sand and piled into the canal in a hurry when the conquering invaders reached its banks.

When the American committee for relief in the near East sent out its shipments of supplies for the starving of this country, and no warehouses could be had for boxes or money at Constantinople, the fine large German warehouses at Baghdad, on the gulf of Mesopotamia, were requisitioned for this humanitarian purpose, and granted to the relief committee. In these were found about one million of these German bags. For a long time they were left alone, but recently some enterprising firm has got hold of them, cut each one in two so as to make it of two different sizes, stitched up the ends, and handles or handles of the population of Constantinople. The Germans for their unintentional gift. And the Suez canal is still open for traffic. From the Orient, Constantinople.

WAGE WAR ON ALFALFA PESTS

Parasites Will Be Imported to Fight Destructive Work of Weevil in Many States.

Within the last dozen years a dangerous insect called the alfalfa weevil has appeared in many of the northern and western states of the United States. It is a small beetle, and does a lot of damage to one of the most important foreign crops.

The United States bureau of entomology has been called upon to fight this pest, and in addition to devising means for destroying it has gone so far as to import from Europe (whence the insect came) its parasites, that prey upon it ever there. The parasites are washed and bred in little white cages covered with cheesecloth, which are scattered thickly over the alfalfa fields.

What is most desired is to prevent the spread of the beetle into other regions. By adopting the control measures already worked out the farmer can prevent injury to his alfalfa at a cost of only $1 an acre per annum—a cheap rate.

New Sign Posts

One of the things most admired in France by the doughboy intrusted with the delivery of important messages, or truck loads of ammunition, was the sign posts telling him precisely how far he was from his destination. But they were antiquated in some instances, and so small that they could not be read at a distance. Just before the outbreak of the war France was planning to have them replaced by larger ones arranged on a more scientific basis. Then came the war. It now costs 125 francs to set up one sign post, and France needs 25,000 of them.

The French government, being unwilling to finance the scheme at the present high cost of iron, concrete and paint, Andre Michelin, president of the Aero club of France, has undertaken to supply the requisite with the necessary guides.

Villa New Good Citizen

Revolutionary to ranchmen operating in a big way is the transition through which Francisco Villa is now passing, says the Nation's Business. The ranch given him by the Mexican government measures up in area to the requirements of a particular estate, as it runs into the thousands of acres. Work is to be on a corresponding scale. The initial equipment includes tractors, mowers, plows, harness, picks, shovels and all other old and new mechanical aids to agriculture is to cost about $150,000.

Economic Novelties

Economic novelties continue to be the order of the day in international trade, says the Nation's Business. American ship plates are now being used in British yards for steamers that will be the union jack. Not to be behind the times, South Africa has come forward as a textile manufacturer, and has actually shipped woolen goods to London, thus committing an economic feat that exceeds shipping coal to Newcastle.

As the Neighbors See It

Walter Pultizer met a lady at a concert who proudly informed him that no less than six of her children were vocal students. "Our home," she wound up, "is a veritable nest of singing birds."

"No doubt," said Mr. Pultizer, "the neighbors wish some cruel person had stolen the eggs."—New York Post.

JESSICA

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD.

© 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

So this was the answer! Jessica folded the bit of paper, her lip curled scornfully. Well, any one who mixed up her letters in such a careless fashion certainly needed a secretary. Here she had been waiting and waiting for a reply to the long letter she had sent her aunt, and now had come this brief note addressed to the head of some vocational bureau asking said head to "Please secure me, as soon as possible, an efficient secretary, not too prepossessing in appearance."

Jessica had spent her life in a tiny western town with her invalid father, released by his death from years of bedlam, if affectionate, devotion, she had followed his last wishes and written to his sister in New York, from whom he had not heard in many years. A note requesting a secretary! Efficient—but not prepossessing. That was the old requirement, raised, Jessica, Aunt Louisa had no sons.

Started at the idea which occurred to her, she jumped up, ran to the dresser and leaned toward the mirror, undling with rapid fingers her gold-tinted, softly curling hair.

Two weeks later Aunt Louisa, a vigorously intellectual woman, sat in her library interviewing a simply groomed, sober-eyed young woman who had presented herself as applicant for the secretaryship.

"The only trouble," said the aunt, "is that when you smile—well, you show possibilities. To be quite frank, my dear young lady, I am through with attractive secretaries. With one lives my ward, the son of an old friend, and although an estimable young man, I may say that he has an eye for beauty. My last secretary was one of those flighty, blue-eyed—er—baby dolls, as they say, and—but you understand what I am getting at."

Never before had Jessica been so happy as she was in the days that followed.

Then home came Slade Tremont.

And if Aunt Louisa had seen possibilities in Jessica, no less did Slade.

"I say, Miss Boardman, why don't you wear your hair more—more fluffy or something?" he asked the second morning of his arrival.

"Please do not be personal, Mr. Tremont," said Jessica, coolly. For the first time in his young life Slade was hard hit.

The afternoon that Slade announced his intention of running on to Boston for a day or two, her aunt also decided to visit a friend who had a model farm in the country. Jessica, left in charge of the house, yielded to a sudden whim to forget for a moment that she was the very plain Deborah Boardman.

Going to her room, she took out her one frock, feminine gown, and laid it on the bed. Then, her eyes sparkling, she did up her hair, but as she had worn it in the old days, but in the latest, most daring fashion she had observed in the fashionable city.

At this animated woman with the smiling lips, the soft throat rising from the lace fichu—this was not the unprepossessing Deborah—nor yet the old Jessica! This was a quite new person, touched with the magic wand of love!

Jessica ran lightly down the stairs and out into the garden. She drank in the penetrating fragrance, lifted her head, and looked straight into the eyes of Slade Tremont.

"I beg your pardon—why, Miss Boardman—you!" The look of surprise on Slade's face became one of puzzled, but happy bewilderment. "You wonderful, wonderful girl. I got as far as the station and came back to tell you I loved you. And I adore you!" Jessica's eyes filled with happy love—then fell.

"My darling," said Slade. "My darling Deborah."

"Otherwise Jessica," interrupted a voice dryly.

"You?" cried Slade.

"Just me," said Aunt Louisa. "I came home for something I had forgotten. I found more than I expected—wait!" She lifted a hand to ward off Jessica's rushing explanations. "But not more than I hoped. My ward has given me several uneasy moments—yes, you have, Slade—and when you, Jessica, wrote to me, it occurred to me that you might be just the wife for my ward. But how to tell if you were? So I tried that little ruse of apparently mixed letters. Thought I to myself, if the girl is worth anything and clever, she'll see the chance and take advantage of it, and I will get a light on her real self. Didn't you ever wonder why you didn't hear again, or why the position wasn't filled before you came?"

"Yes," murmured Jessica, "of course, but—"

"Exactly," continued her aunt. "All so, I wanted Slade to see you under the least favorable circumstances. If, then, he fell in love, I would be sure it wasn't just with a pretty face, although yours is pretty enough," she concluded graciously.

"I can't thank you enough," began Jessica, but her aunt, perhaps not aware of her irrepressible ward's blinding glance and gestures toward the house, moved slowly away.

"Jessica!" cried Slade, holding out both arms. "Now what do you say when I say 'Will you marry me?'"

What Jessica said, as she went to his arms, was not loud enough for even the nodding Richmond rose to hear, although it reached straight to Slade's happy heart.

For a Persistent Cough
Some years ago H. P. Burbage, a student at law in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for a long while with a persistent cough, which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, he concluded to try it. "I soon felt a remarkable change, and after using two bottles of the small size was permanently cured."—Adv.

Today's Reflections

We have also learned that the most annoying thing about a stand-patter is his patter.

The only Plymouth man who has not time to enjoy a feeling of importance, is the one who is really important.

Since coal has gone so high, maybe Cupid is whispering into the ears of lovers that two can keep warm as easily as one.

A lot of physical ailments are cured by sunshine, but every now and then we learn where some fellow has died from trying to bolster himself up with moonshine.

We've always felt that the most sensible girls in Plymouth are the ones who don't believe they're become movie stars.

One thing about Christmas nowadays is the style has fixed the skirts so a fellow no longer has to guess how much it will take to fill his girl's stocking.

In the matter of wages and prices, we would do well to remember that all went up together, and we'll all have to tumble together.

The Plymouth man who is always hunting something for nothing usually has less than anybody else and pays more for it.

Science is a great thing, but it has never yet explained why the rooster does the crowing while it's the hen that lays the egg.

When a Plymouth man runs across a few of the old love letters he wrote before he got her, he can easily understand as he reads them why some people believe man sprang from monkeys.

There comes a day into the life of every girl when she learns to distinguish the difference between a dimple and a wrinkle.

The Plymouth man who is too good to have a good time, isn't too good to envy the man who does.

The nations are going to agree not to use poison gas. So there won't be any danger from that source—until the next war.

Uncle Sam's probe has revealed the price of coal at the mine, but he hasn't yet found out the price of an all-wool suit at the cotton field.

Now comes a story to the effect that bootleggers are so numerous in New York City, they often catch themselves selling to each other.

After a Plymouth man has been married for quite a while, he learns to sympathize with the smaller nations.

Bad Cold and Cough Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Several years ago C. D. Glass, Gardiner, Me., contracted a severe cold and cough. He tried various medicines, but instead of getting well he kept adding to it by contracting fresh colds. Nothing he had taken for it was of any permanent benefit until a druggist advised him to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says, "I was completely cured by this remedy, and have since always turned to it when I had a cold and soon find relief."—Adv.

LIVONIA CENTER

Mrs. John Baze entertained the Needle Club at her home, Thursday afternoon. Nine members of the club were present and the afternoon was spent sewing. A fishing contest was the entertaining feature, and prizes were awarded Mrs. Denbeck and Mrs. Gergee. A pot-luck supper was served at 4:30. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. F. Smith, Thursday, January 13.

A number from this place attended the party at the home of Mrs. John VanBonn, Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hayball and son, Junior, of Detroit, are spending a few days at the Fred Lee home, this week.

Mrs. Palmer Chilson is sick and under the doctor's care.

The four-weeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hayball passed away, suddenly, Monday morning. Funeral services were held from the house, Thursday at 2:00 p. m. Burial at the Center cemetery.

Grace Lee was a week-end guest of Dorothy Bentley at Elm.

Burton Snook and sons were guests of friends at Rochester, over New Year's.

Marion Lee is visiting friends in Ohio.

School Notes

Everyone returned to school after Christmas vacation, except Miles Helm, who has a cold.

The fourth grade reading class have memorized the Star Spangled Banner.

Whittier's "Snow Bound" is being read by the eighth grade.

Hazel, Mabel and Alvin VanBonn have moved to District No. 3.

The first and second grade language classes are studying Landseer's picture, "Saved."

This is the thirteenth week for the Health Crusade. Many have received their Squire and Knight pins, and are now working for a Knight banner.

Those who were not absent during the month of December are: Leona Garchow, Lilly Hayball, Lena Rieger, John Rieger, Albert Sump, Cleo Vorbeck, Sarah Vorbeck and Grace Wolf from.

NEWBURG

Rev. Raycraft preached a fine sermon Sunday last. There were sixty in Sunday-school. Every child is asked to bring one with them to Sunday-school. In the absence of Miss Youngs, Mr. Meeker of Plymouth, presided at the piano. The Men's Bible class are planning a social time to be held soon.

The L. A. S. will hold their regular meeting at the hall, Wednesday, January 12th. Pot-luck dinner at noon. The committee, the Mesdames Mackinder, Stevens, Davey, Holmes and Sanders. Everyone invited.

About twenty little folks from the Sunday-school primary department had a fine time playing games, eating popcorn, apples and candy at the home of Ruth Cochran, Monday afternoon.

Ernestine Roe of Plymouth, spent last Thursday with Beulah Ryder.

Mrs. C. Mackinder spent New Year's at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Norris, in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grimm, Sr., entertained Mrs. Hannah Gilstroff, son, Harvey, and daughters, Hilda and Viola, and Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols of Detroit, over New Year's.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens and children of Detroit, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kramer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryder, son, Leigh, and daughter, Beulah, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ryder took New Year's dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ryder at Salem.

Miss Ellen Gardiner and Milton Labell spent last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grimm, Jr.

Newburg School Notes

December was a very busy month: First, the examination; after that we practised for our evening entertainment, "School Songs and Christmas Carols." This we gave Monday evening, December 20. Many came. Everyone enjoyed it.

We gave our presents at school on Thursday, December 23. School closed on that day and commenced again on Tuesday, January 3. Miss Safford, our nurse, called on the day we closed.

Miss Lawton, our teacher, went down to Cincinnati to spend Christmas at her sister's home.

The roll of honor for December has thirty names.

All are rested and happy and ready for work.

A Happy New Year to all.

Presbyterian Notes

The usual "good time" was enjoyed last Monday night at the pot-luck supper. This was followed by the annual meeting of the church and congregation, at which reports, formal and informal were given, the proposed budget for 1921 adopted, and the following officers elected: Trustee for term of three years, M. G. Hill, D. G. Brown; to fill vacancy, Albert Gayde; member of session for three year term, O. H. Loomis; deaconess, Mrs. Mary Chaffee, with Mrs. H. J. Green as assistant; treasurer, H. J. Green; superintendent of Sunday-school, W. R. Shaw; assistant superintendent, Sidney D. Strong.

When he completes the present year of service, W. R. Shaw will enjoy the unique distinction of having served thirty years as superintendent of Sunday-schools in this and other places. He is now asking the church to provide him with an Elisha upon whom he may let his mantle fall.

Mrs. S. Conger Hathaway has been ill since Thursday of last week, but is on the way to recovery.

Mrs. E. J. Alexander is recovering from an attack of ptomaine poisoning.

Services in harmony with the week of prayer were held Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The last service of the series will be held tonight at 7:30. The general topic considered was, "The Power of the Kingdom of God." You are invited to attend.

Rev. S. Conger Hathaway and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Schrader at New Year's dinner; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Green, Sunday, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bennett, Monday. Mrs. Hathaway's "portion" was sent in. Many friends have kindly remembered her with gifts of fruit and flowers during her brief illness.

Methodist Matters

Mrs. Field has charge of the Epworth League meeting for next Sunday evening and has several special features planned. Everyone is asked to bring a Bible or New Testament to the meeting. The topic is "My Favorite Bible Passage."

The January meeting of the Sunday-school board will be held next Tuesday evening. Mrs. B. J. Holcomb and Mrs. F. M. Field are the hostesses for the pot-luck supper in connection. The report of the nominating committee and the annual election will be the order of the day.

The "White Gifts" Christmas offering has been sent on its mission of helpfulness, $100 to the Methodist Children's Home in Highland Park and $151.64 to the starving children fund. Besides this, about $15 specially designated, was devoted to local objects.

Those who were disappointed in not seeing the stereopticon views which we expected may know that next Sunday evening is surely provided for, because the slides are here. It is a beautiful set, too, containing some of the best of the world's masterpieces in religious paintings. "In Wanderings With the Twelve" is the general theme, covering the third year of Jesus' ministry. A new Bausch and Lomb stereopticon will be used, giving perfect results upon the screen.

The fire proof booth, which was formerly used in the village hall by Mr. Fisher and was purchased by the Methodist church, has been resold to the Methodist church at South Lyon, being removed to its new location by truck this week. The South Lyon church has purchased a rebuilt Powers machine and equipment, costing about $500 and will begin next week with regular weekly programs, the only pictures shown in town. It thus joins the company of a number of Methodist churches in Michigan which are absolutely controlling the moving picture situation in their respective towns and keeping out the objectionable pictures.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank Field were the recipients of a purse of money at Christmas time from "Some Church Friends." They feel deeply grateful for this kind remembrance at the holiday season.

The young people of the Epworth League and their friends will enjoy a pot-luck supper at the church this evening at 6 o'clock, with a short business meeting and a long evening of pleasure following. Lyman Judson is planning the fun.

Sunday-school class parties seem to be the vogue now. Mr. Holcomb's and Mrs. Doer's classes had supper at the church Tuesday evening, ending up at the picture show. Mrs. Cook's class, with its seventeen lively girls, have a party scheduled for next week.

The Official Board met at the parsonage Tuesday evening for its January meeting. Home-made candy was served to the men present.

ARE GLAD TO GET THE MAIL

Gardena, Calif., Dec. 23, 1920

Friend Samsen:

Inclosed find money order for $1.50 for renewal for another year. It seems mighty good to get the Mail, and note the progress Plymouth is making. The Building Association, an institution Plymouth has long needed, will add materially to the town's growth, and I see no reason why you should not have a population of at least 5000 in the next five years, and I hope for better than that.

Changes are rapid out here. A year ago my house was the only one on this tract, one and one-half miles square. Today there are more than 150 and they are still coming. We think we are in a section where we will make something on our investment. Land has increased $500 per acre in the past year.

Venice pier, valued at a million dollars, went up in smoke last week, and they are working night and day and say it will be ready for New Year's celebration, so you see they are not so slow along the ocean front.

I would like to write more about people I have met, the climate, quakes, etc., but cannot at this time, but hope to in the near future.

With best regards to all, and wishing everybody a Happy New Year, I am

THE UNITED GUN CLUB

Semi-monthly shoot was held Jan. 2nd. The champion of the United Gun Club, F. E. Hills, again demonstrated his ability as a target buster by winning high average at the regular semi-monthly club shoot, with a score of 45 out of 50. Harry Passage carried away the money in second place, with 43 breaks to his credit. H. Hall and L. Cameron tied for first place in the special eighteen yard handicap event.

A stiff, cold wind rendered conditions rather difficult. However, eleven devotees of the sport were in attendance. The following scores were made:

F. Hills 45 out of 50
H. Passage 43 out of 50
M. Powell 39 out of 50
H. Hills 35 out of 50
H. Hall 39 out of 50
L. Cameron 38 out of 50

Special 18-yard handicap:

H. Hall 22 out of 25
F. Hills 21 out of 25
L. Cameron 22 out of 25
T. Passage 19 out of 25
M. Powell 19 out of 25

As Kate Prentice in Caroline Lockhart's gripping story of the open range

The Fighting Shepherdess

The greatest woman's book in years. It has thrilled countless thousands with its story of the tireless, remorseless, implacable struggle of Kate Prentice, beautiful daughter of Jezebel, whose mothering is confined to running the bar in her roadhouse.

The big open range, desperate, hard riding, merciless cattlemen, who recognize no sex in their efforts to drive Kate and her flocks from her domain. They seek her life, her good name and bar her way to love—but she fights alone, and wins her battle with man's weapons, but not in man's way.

UNTANGLED. By W. A. PEACH.

It was lunch hour in the restaurant run by the big mail order firm for the use of its employees. The girls were seated about, talking or reading. Ruth was the only one to whom no young man of the many men in the great building had seemed to turn an interested eye—that is, no man of the kind she wanted to know.

Thinking of her in her room, Ruth felt tears come to her eyes; but a glance at the clock started her into action. She put on the simple dress that was her sole evening gown, and with unwilling fingers prepared herself for her ordeal.

The fateful hand moved round on the big hall clock to the train time, then to a little after. Perhaps he would not come; and she prayed that her hope might be true. She had not reached the conclusion he had not when a slight confusion at the door drew her attention and she saw Mary heading down upon her.

Setting her will to the effort, she went down the hall and up to the tall young fellow who was watching her with an odd expression on his face.

LAW-MAKERS TO DISCUSS STATE CONSTABULARY

MICHIGAN, ILLINOIS AND OHIO WILL CONSIDER ENTIRE QUESTION.

Other States Likely To Increase Pay of Their State Police Forces. The State Police system will be a live legislative topic in at least three states at the present legislative session.

Michigan, which has had a State Police since the need for such a force became imperative during the war, has before it the question of increasing the numbers of the troopers and giving them broader duties.

During the past two months there has been a widespread expression of sentiment throughout the state with regard to the State Police. Four of the more important agricultural associations, the Michigan State Grange Association of Farmers' Clubs, Michigan State Horticultural Society and the directors of the State Farm Bureau have passed resolutions favoring the continuance of the State Police and the widening of their duties.

Among the state-wide organizations which have expressed themselves in a similar manner are the Anti-Saloon League, the Association of Mutual Automobile Insurance Companies and the bankers of the southwestern part of the state.

PROPER TIME TO ADVERTISE

Fact Should Be Recognized That Period of Slackness Demands Increase of Publicity.

The best time to advertise and to use every other means of bringing in orders is when orders are most needed. Yet quite a few people, including some very large concerns, are cancelling their advertising and cutting down other selling expenses at the very time they want orders more than they have needed them in several years. Any old concern could sell its product while the boom was roaring along like a prairie fire and people were spending money with thoughtless abandon. A change has come. It is beginning to take salesmanship to sell many lines of goods. Yet many concerns are dismissing their best advertising. Not all are, however. Those longest and best acquainted with advertising and its power are not dropping it now that they have increased need for it. Recent converts to advertising should take a leaf out of their older and wiser competitors' notebooks.—Forbes Magazine (N. Y.).

German Taxicabs a Torment.
Present-day German taxicabs were not primarily designed to stimulate the liver; but after hitting a few rough spots one is left with a distinct impression that they exist solely to shake up the internal organs, writes Kenneth L. Roberts in the Saturday Evening Post.

As for their meters, they can be read properly only with the assistance of a slide rule and a table of logarithms. Each meter possesses seven clocks—one for the passenger, one for extra passengers, one for luggage, one for waiting, one for the luxury tax, one for the tax on capital and one for good luck. All the clocks work busily all the time—even the one for waiting. This is probably because the passenger, due to the hard tires, is either waiting to bounce up or to fall back after a bump during the entire ride. After determining the amount registered by each clock at the end of a ride, these sums are added together and multiplied by four.

Monastery Sells Famous Painting.
An investigation conducted by the civil governor of Toledo, Spain, regarding the reported sale of the painting of St. Veronica, the work of Theococopus, by the clerical authorities of Santa Domingo monastery, confirms that the picture was disposed of with the consent of the government and the religious authorities in August.

The monastery offered to sell the work to the Spanish government, but it did not possess sufficient funds to purchase it, and thereupon the painting passed into the hands of a Madrid dealer.

There is considerable agitation in art circles over the sale of the painting, and reports are in circulation that there have been sales of other art treasures by the monastery of Santa Domingo.

Ordered Hen's Eggs by a Pigeon.
An order for twenty cases of Petaluma eggs was delivered to San Francisco from Redding by a carrier pigeon owned by a merchant in the bay city, and soon after the note was delivered the San Francisco firm telephoned the order to its local manager. The pigeon flew from Redding to San Francisco in four hours, and at noon the eggs were on their way from Petaluma to Redding.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Freezing Fruits Proven Successful.
The United States Department of Agriculture has recently conducted experiments for preserving fruits by freezing instead of canning. The experiments are said to have proved that not only is it cheaper to freeze fruit in larger quantities than it is to can it, but it is more palatable and far superior to canned fruit for sherbets, preserves and jellies.

Wouldn't this be a grand old world if we could go back to when folks knew how to have a good time without spending money?

STUFF O' DREAMS

By CRAWFORD LUTTRELL.

(© 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

She unfolded the scrap of yellowed paper, punctured with pin holes, and read again, after a lapse of eighteen years, the words that had accompanied a fraternity emblem sent her in the faraway days of youth. "As this 'Star and Crescent' binds thousands of hearts together in the United States, so may it bind our eternal friendship.—M. M." He had underscored the words "hearts" and "our."

She had gone back home on a visit and, following the proverbial rule of rummaging the attic on a rainy day in search of entertainment, had found by chance a packet of old letters that she thought had been burned before she married and went away. The little fraternity pin that had graced her schoolgirl blouses had been fastened through that scrap of paper.

At the thought, memory turned the tide of time backward and she saw herself, a long-legged, big-eyed girl standing timidly at a window in the post office, asking for a package.

Clare looked through the little dormer window at the gentle, soaking summer rain. Mechanically she opened one of the old letters, still bravely flaunting the crimson and black of his college colors. He had written with the ardent assistance of twenty-one that he could never love anybody else and that her influence would mold his life. She could make of him what she willed. Age had its compensation, she reflected. She could never blindly trust again, never be hurt with the sharp blade of disillusionment whose keen edge only time could wholly dull. She looked at life through the fading eyes of thirty-five. They were too worldly wise to glimpse visions of such stuff as dreams are made of!

It was when she was passing through the hall below on her way to her room to freshen up a bit before dinner that she heard a deep, musical voice inquiring for her at the front door. Thinking that it was an old-time neighbor, she went quickly downstairs.

She recognized him immediately, although the aliveness of youth had given place to the rotundity of middle age. His black hair was thinning. Only his eyes and his voice were the same.

"How very much like a fairy story this is," she laughed when they were seated in the candle-lighted old parlor. "I have been in the attic all the afternoon. I found some of your old letters there and a little yellowed slip of paper which still bears the pin holes of the fraternity emblem you sent me long ago."

"I still have that pin," he said and looked at her without smiling. "It is locked in a little black box in my desk."

She laughed, although her lips were not quite steady in her mirth. "It has been so long since those far days when we flirted and pretended to know all about love. Oh, well, I rode for a hard fall and the tumble was sufficiently painful to guard against another one."

"You aren't bitter?" He leaned forward, his blue-veined brown eyes never wavering from her face. "You wouldn't be you, if you were?"

"You don't believe, surely, that this aging shell covers the girl you used to know, Milton? She died, ever so long ago."

"She couldn't die," he corrected her, and his eyes smiled as they had years before. "Tell me about yourself, everything," he urged.

She twisted the narrow gold band on her finger. "There is really nothing to tell. I've had quite an average life."

"You married—let me see—how long ago?" he questioned.

"Fifteen years."

She was wholly unprepared for what followed. "Clare, I am sure that you and your husband, too, will understand what I am about to say to you. It would be foolish not to refer to my love for you—it has played too important a part upon my life. Your abiding faith made me what I am, and today I stopped off here, in your little home town, to try to get your present address in order to write to you and gratefully acknowledge all that I have been privileged to tell you."

"Your wife—"

"I told her, before she died, just what I am telling you."

"I hadn't heard, Milton. I'm sorry—you must know—"

She wondered what to say to him, and, finding no words, sat silent, clasped tense hands in her lap. He rose to go. "Surely your husband will not mind my pilgrimage here to tell you this, to thank you for the beautiful part you have played in the great scheme of things for me. The human equation—no man escapes it or wants to escape it," he amended. "I believe my train goes in a short time. I will have to say good-by now, although I say it reluctantly."

"He would have been glad," she whispered, sudden tears coursing down her flushing cheeks. "If he could know."

"Then he—"

"I have been a widow, Milton, for many, many years."

"Would you mind," he asked gently, taking her hands in his, "if I stopped over and waited for another train?"

She looked up at him and something deep in his brown eyes that the years had failed to change, made her know that even at thirty-five one can believe in the gossamer fabric of such stuff as dreams are made of.

HAD ANSWER IN READINESS

Ellen Terry's Display of Tact Won Enthusiastic Admiration of Miss Ethel Barrymore.

Ethel Barrymore, apropos of a witty remark made by a young actress at a garden party, said:

"This young lady reminds me of Ellen Terry, who was the wittiest and most tactful woman I ever knew."

"I once heard a story which is characteristic of Miss Terry's ready wit. She was sued by her dressmaker for an unpaid bill and the case went against her. Asking to be allowed to appeal, she gave as one of her reasons that the judge who rendered the decision was too old to understand the case."

"The judge of appeals reminded her that once before, in another suit, she had complained that her case had been tried by 'a bit of a boy.'"

"What age, may I ask, madam, do you want a judge to be?" the judge of appeals inquired.

"Your age," Miss Terry smilingly replied.

Poppy a Memorial Flower.

The poppy seems fated to go down into history as the "memorial flower of the American Legion." It is the common scarlet variety of that flower growing so freely in waste places that won the regard of the men overseas, for it bloomed on about them, and often the flower was the only beautiful thing the soldiers saw for days upon days.

The poppy is one of the oldest flowers in the world's literature, and has been sung in verse and mentioned in holy books by all races. The oriental poppies are of orange-crimson with black centers and large seed bags, which burst and scatter the seeds in all directions. Other varieties include the slender Iceland poppy, the yellow California variety and the big double flowers. None of them has any perfume, but they depend upon beauty of form and color to attract and hold the senses.

Mystery Machine.

There was much mystery about a perpetual motion machine, set up as a sign and advertisement over a street in Los Angeles not long ago. It had the form of a huge wheel that revolved slowly all day and all night, being driven by a number of metal balls which ran along spokes from the center to the circumference and back.

Gravity was supposed to furnish the power, and thus the machine could go on forever without depending upon any other sources of energy. Unfortunately, however, there came a day when the city's electric plant was shut down for repairs, and the wheel stopped turning.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Encouraging Prickly Pear Growth.

The Department of Agriculture is promoting the distribution of the best varieties of prickly pears, and is aiding farmers in starting a plantation of them throughout regions of the Southwest, adapted to the growth of the plant. The crop is seeded by plowing under stubs of the cactus, cultivating the crop, which is harvested and usually hauled to the feeding lots. As eight times as much tonnage can be obtained under cultivation as where grown on pastures unutilized, the intensive method is preferred.

STARK

The Pedro party given at Mr. and Mrs. Emil Larden's last Friday evening, December 31, was largely attended. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Larden at twelve o'clock, and all enjoyed a good time.

Miss Catherine Paloni and friend and mother spent Friday afternoon and evening in Detroit with her aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Larden entertained for New Year's dinner, Mr. and Mrs. George Flint, Mrs. Fred Slater and daughter of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Cook and son of Plymouth.

Leo Cook has been spending the last week with Mr. and Mrs. Emil Larden.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bentley and children of Detroit, and Mrs. Anna Hutchinson took New Year's supper with Mr. and Mrs. William Maynard of Stark.

Thermo-Seal Inner Lining

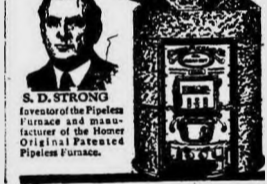

THE Thermo-Seal Inner Lining is the very foundation of successful heating with a pipeless furnace. Consider this carefully. Because—Warm air must keep on coming from the furnace, and cold air must keep on going in. If this circulation is retarded there will be no heat! Circulation will be retarded unless the cold air is kept cold until it reaches the bottom of furnace. (Note the direction of travel shown by arrows.) The Thermo-Seal Inner Lining, consisting of heavy asbestos covered with heavy galvanized steel plates keeps the cold air chamber permanently cool. It maintains air circulation—is assurance of plenty of beautiful heat.

It Heats Less Price
It Ventilates Gas Fuel
It Satisfies More Heat

The Thermo-Seal is an exclusive Homer feature. Come in and investigate its importance. Call, phone or write for catalog.

ONE WOMAN TOLD US

"Five minutes in the morning with an electric iron makes wash day so much lighter."

This woman realized how often blouses, frocks and even lingerie found their way into the laundry bag ahead of time, just slightly mused.

Even a hint of untidiness made dainty things un-wearable and added to the weekly washing.

Now she uses an electric iron: With just a twitch of the switch and a few moments of gentle ironing, crumpled garments become smooth and lovely—all together wearable.

To Our Trade
 We Hand This Report for the Last 12 Months:

On the eve of the New Year, we look back with pride upon the accomplishments of the past twelve months. We are proud of our splendid service, extended to our trade in the past, which has made possible this record of output of Ford products, and confident that with the service we have rendered and the pull together spirit in our organization has been the means of our success. We hope the coming year will be even more pleasant and profitable for all of us.

1920 has been a wonderful year with us, a record since January 1, of 99 cars and trucks, and the last few months of adverse conditions have demonstrated more than could anything else, the accomplishment of our organization, and brought forcibly before the buying public the superiority of Ford products, having made delivery of 42 cars and trucks since October 1, 1920.

It is the quality of product and aggressive representation that inspires confidence for the future.

So let us, therefore, welcome the New Year with eager, high ambitions and with greater resolve to make 1921 surpass all previous records.

You have our sincere wish for a happy and most prosperous new year.

Yours very truly,

War Time Tax on Jewelry

With us and we (the jewelry trade) are surprised and shocked to find the recommendations of the Secretary of the Treasury, that among the other increased taxes on commodities, jewelry should pay 10 per cent tax instead of the present tax of 5 per cent or a 100 per cent increase. If this recommendation passes there will be no cut in the prices of jewelry.

First Church of Christ, Scientist. First Church of Christ, Scientist, corner Main and Dodge streets. Sunday morning service, 10:30 o'clock. Subject, "Sacrament."

Wednesday evening testimony service, 7:30. Reading room in rear of church open daily from 2 to 4 p. m., except Sundays and holidays. Everyone welcome. A lending library of Christian Science literature is maintained.

Bible Students Rev. 2:19 and on gives us the most wonderful picture in holy writ of "The Holy City," the church triumphant in "power and great glory." And in the "spirits" wonderings we are taken up into that "great and lofty mountain" (spr kingdom) yet so lowly ("descending") as to "tabernacle with men." Her light is pictured "clear and crystal," "her wall (protection—God himself) great and high," her "twelve gates" and "twelve angels," the "twelve (mortal) tribes," her "twelve foundations," etc., etc. Surely, what a picture, indeed. Can we find the significance to every feature? David Birch's, 2:00 p. m., January 9th. Welcome.

Lutheran Rev. Charles Strasen, Pastor There will be Sunday-school with both classes at the regular hour. The morning services will be in German. Text, Matthew 2:1-12. Theme, "The Wisdom of the Wise Men from the East." The evening services will be in English. Text, Luke 2:41-52. Theme, "Jesus fulfilling the third and fourth Commandment." On Thursday evening there will be bible lecture.
