Let Music
Brighten the Lives of Your Children

After all, it's not the school training, but the home atmosphere which molds the child. Children brought up in the cultured home betray that fact during their entire lives. It leaves a lasting imprint. A home with any claim to culture is a home in which good music is enjoyed and understood. A child whose interest in music is fostered will become a man or woman who possesses a resource which makes for lasting happiness. You want to give your children every advantage. That is just one reason why you want

MONTAGUE OPERA COMPANY COMING

THE NEXT NUMBER OF THE CITIZENS' ENTERTAINMENT COURSE TAKES PLACE NEXT MONDAY EVENING.

The well known Montague Light Opera Company will appear here on the Citizens' Entertainment course, next Monday evening, January 17th. This company has made several tours of the United States, and has earned a splendid record for substantial artistic achievement.

Newspaper comments of the Montague Company are unfailingly enthusiastic. The following from the Lansing, Mich., State Journal is a typical newspaper notice:

"Memories of the best and most tuneful light operas of bygone days were called to the minds of the elders, and new appreciation of 'Robin Hood,' the 'Mikado,' 'Gaiety' and others of that type, was held in the minds of the audience."

The first half of the program consisted of solo numbers, and scenes from several light operas. Of the solos Hayden Thomas' basso number, "When I Myself Was Young," greatly pleased the audience, and he was forced to respond to two encores, the last of which was "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep." John Eichenberger, tenor, sang the part of "Nicolini" from Victor Herbert's opera, "The Red Mill," in excellent style. Mr. Eichenberger has a sweet tenor voice.

The last half of the program consisted of an operetta given by all four members of the company, "A Japanese Romance." This consisted of numbers from "Madame Butterfly" and the "Mikado." It was given in costume. Mr. Thomas in the role of the Lord High Executioner, "did some clever acting."

Miss Altha Montague read a cutting from J. M. Barrie's play, "Quality Street," in a manner that pleased.

The entertainment will be given at the Penniman Allen theatre. Single admission tickets are 50c. Don't miss it.

COMMUNITY ASSEMBLY ROOM

The Plymouth United Savings Bank wish to announce that the community assembly room in the basement of the bank building, is now available to the public for the holding of any meetings. The public is most cordially invited to make use of this commodious and well appointed room at any time, either through the day or evening. This room will provide a convenient place, where committee meetings, etc., can be held, where a larger room is not needed, and will be greatly appreciated by the public.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEET

About thirty members attended the regular meeting of the Woman's Club held in the kindergarten room at the school building, last Friday afternoon. The president, Mrs. D. F. Murray, called the meeting to order at the appointed hour, and a short business session followed.

The program of the afternoon was in charge of the seventh division, with Mrs. Pierre Bennett, leader.

Quotations from Mark Twain was the response to roll call.

Paper, "Mark Twain," written by Mrs. Robert Jallife, was read by Mrs. Floyd Hillman.

A piano solo, with encore, was pleasantly rendered by Mrs. William Wood, and the program was concluded with readings from "Recollections from Joan of Arc" by Mark Twain, read by Mrs. William Shaw.

Mrs. William R. Alvord, vice president of Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs, who was to speak before the Plymouth club this (Friday) afternoon, is unable to attend at this time, and will come to Plymouth later in the month. Notice of date will be given later.

The next regular meeting will be held at the usual place, Friday afternoon, January 21st.

DEATH OF MRS. DANIEL BLUE

A HIGHLY ESTEEMED PLYMOUTH LADY PASSES AWAY AT ANN ARBOR HOSPITAL, MONDAY EVENING.

Mrs. Daniel Blue, a most highly esteemed lady of this village, passed away at Ann Arbor hospital, last Monday evening, January 10th. Mrs. Blue, who had been in poor health for some time, was taken to the hospital on Tuesday, January 4th, for treatment. Heart trouble was the immediate cause of her death. Mrs. Blue was a member of the Woman's Club of Plymouth, and was a lady much beloved by all who knew her.

Luella M. Blue, daughter of Luther and Alta Briggs of Livonia, was born in the town of Livonia, December 7, 1850. At the age of seventeen, she was married to Daniel A. Blue of Livonia, where she lived for thirty-eight years on the old Blue farm.

Mrs. Blue was survived by her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Patterson of Plymouth, and her son, Mr. H. A. Hamilton of Colorado Springs. These daughters, together with the husband and one grandson, Daniel Patterson of Plymouth, survive. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Helen Cable of North Portland, Oregon, and one brother, Eugene Briggs of Ionia. In the spring of 1911, her home was transferred to Plymouth, and was maintained here until January 10th, when "God's finger touched her and she slept."

She was a devoted mother and wife, sacrificing to a fault to the interests of those she loved and lived for. Those who knew her best found her life a song, and a constant tribute to all who forget the less fortunate ones within our midst. She found joy in such religious service as her strength would permit her to offer, joy in the church, and comfort in the word of God.

Funeral services were held at the home of J. H. Patterson in Plymouth, Thursday, January 13, 1921, conducted by Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, pastor of the first Presbyterian church. Harold Jarvis of Detroit, sang several beautiful numbers and interment was made in the family lot in Redford cemetery.

LOCATES IN ALABAMA

The following article from the Citronelle, Alabama, Call, will be of interest to our readers:

Van Voorhies, who has just moved here from Plymouth, Michigan, and has purchased the Ira Turner home and farm west of Citronelle, is a Boy Scout worker. He is going to have that pretty pine grove in front of his house called the "Capt. Barr Encampment Ground for Boy Scouts" but will not limit it to the Boy Scouts, as he wants the Camp Fire Girls to have the use and advantage of it too. Mr. Van Voorhies states that as soon as power is available from the electric light plant, he will have it lighted. This has long been known as one of the splendid little farms on the edge of Citronelle. It has forty-two acres in it, lays well and has always produced mighty good crops. We are glad Mr. Van Voorhies got it, as he will make one more citizen to help push things along. He will name it the "Pine Rest Farm."

LITTLE GIRL DIES

Plymouth friends were saddened this week to hear of the sudden death of Betty Hill, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Hill sold their home here recently, and about two weeks ago went to Grand Rapids for a few days' visit with the latter's sister, before leaving for Florida, where they were going to spend the winter. While in Grand Rapids, Betty contracted diphtheria, and died Saturday morning, January 8th. She is survived by her parents and an older sister. Mr. Hill and family have the deep sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

The Happy-Go-Lucky Club will hold a sale at the Sweeney Meat Market, Hotel Block, all day and evening, Saturday, January 15th.

The deceased was thirty years old last April, and is survived by his wife and three sons, Lester, Dale and George, Jr.; three sisters, Mrs. Mable Stuart of this place, Mrs. Zedra Jones of Chicago, and Mrs. Grace Trouten of Chicago, and four brothers, Anson and Clark of Plymouth, Louis of Wayne, and Mark of Portland, Oregon.

FARM HOUSE BURNS

The farm house of E. D. Whipple, who resides about six miles west of town, burned to the ground, last Friday afternoon. It is believed the fire started from a defective chimney, and it was discovered by children returning from school. Mr. and Mrs. Whipple were in Plymouth shopping when word came to them that their home was burning down. Only a few of their household goods were saved. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

TIME TO BE CALM

The calmness of Americans in the past few years, and right now when serious industrial conditions confront us, is a matter worthy of note. They accepted the hardships of war with composure, and they stood up bravely in the face of the highest prices ever known immediately following the war. They did so because work was plentiful, and as long as they could get the money they did not hesitate to spend it. Today, in the face of tremendous losses being suffered by producers, and we include a lot of our rural neighbors in the vicinity of Plymouth in the list, they are remaining calm and hoping markets will soon become stable and everything will get back on a sound basis. They are determined to bite their lips, keep at work, save every penny possible and trust to Providence to pull them safely through.

And it is this calmness that is going to be our salvation. A people who refuse to become excited when the besets them can be depended on to work out any problem. It is a people who ~~lose their heads~~ ~~who~~ ~~do not~~ ~~trust~~ ~~to~~ ~~settle~~ ~~their~~ ~~troubles~~ ~~as~~ ~~they~~ ~~arise~~. Faith governs all of us at this time, faith in the final prevailing good sense of both labor and capital; faith in the stability of our country, no matter how blue the outlook may now be. Faith has brought us through strenuous times, so let us continue to have faith that the threatening clouds will soon roll away, and we will walk out into the bright light of the greatest prosperity this nation has ever known.

THE FAMILY CELLAR
Citizens of Plymouth and community will be interested in a statement just issued by Secretary Lincoln of the Farm Federation Bureau, to the effect that a large, roomy cellar under every house in town or city would do more than anything else to reduce the living costs. He contends the cellar is a necessity if there is to be direct trading and co-operation between the producer on the farm and the consumer in town and city. The farmer is not provided with storage facilities, he cannot hold his fall crops that are perishable until town and city people take his surplus in small lots. His apples and potatoes, turnips and cabbage must be marketed ahead of cold weather, and the roomy cellar is worth something to the farmer as well as the consumer. Mr. Lincoln argues the consumer would profit because with a roomy cellar he could buy his winter supply of foodstuff at bushel rates, thus affected a big saving.

There were days when the completeness of the stores in the cellar pretty nearly fixed the standing of the family in the community. An empty or poorly filled cellar was a reproach to the owner, who would be considered shiftless, a poor manager and slack in making preparation for winter. There are many cellars well stocked with food supplies and good things now in this community, but there are many others with room that is not put to service. Mr. Lincoln, in making his plea for better filled cellars and pointing out how expenses may be reduced, has certainly furnished us something to think about.

LIQUOR VALUED AT $1,500,000 HAS BEEN TAKEN

WAREHOUSES AT LANSING HOLD GREAT AMOUNT OF INTOXICANTS.

New Law Needed for the Disposal of Beverages Seized in State.

It permitted to sell all the booze confiscated by State Police officers and members of the Food and Drug Department, Michigan would be a million and a half dollars better off financially, according to Fred L. Woodworth, food and drug commissioner. Commissioner Woodworth, however, has no alternative other than store the stuff as confiscated, and thousands upon thousands of bottles of whiskey, brandies and other goods with kicks in them are accumulating in Lansing. And the storage space costs money. Not only that but it is rapidly filling up.

The commissioner is now framing legislation which will be presented to the next legislature for consideration. In event this legislation is accomplished, the commissioner will be able to dispose of the great quantities of "hard" stock that have accumulated. Such legislation will also provide for future contingencies, as Michigan is said to be getting more booze than any other state in the union.

A part of the big stock confiscated has been distilled into alcohol and disposed of in various ways in this form. The process is more or less of an expense, however, and the market is limited. There is a question whether the commission has the right to turn any of the whisky over to hospitals for medical purposes. There is no precedent to govern such act.

Laws to govern the disposal of the stock are not easily framed, as there are many angles to the proposition. But there is a bill now in the process of formation which may cover the situation and be acceptable to the legislature.

Many stills are being confiscated every day by the State Police and the representatives of the Food and Drug Department. When the operators are discovered actually making liquor, they are arrested and tried under the state laws. When the stills only are uncovered, the case is turned over to the federal authorities.

The possession of an unlicensed still is a punishable offense under the federal law. The state law, however, covers only those instances where the operators are found actually distilling.

COPIES METHODS OF AMERICA

New Zealand Will Use Gold Dredge Long in Successful Operation Throughout Alaska.

An example of the far-reaching activities of American industry is to be found in a gold dredge that has been designed and constructed in this country for the purpose of operating in New Zealand gold fields. This dredge, says the Electrical Review, is built by a New York company and is along the type of dredge constructed for operations in Alaskan fields. Power for dredging, pumping and shifting position is furnished by electric motors, while twelve men working four to a shift constitute the crew.

The general method of dredging is as follows: The digging ladder carrying the buckets is lowered and dirt is scooped up. This dirt is dropped on the conveyor belt and is carried to the screen. Here it is screened and washed and the refuse is dropped to the slusher and deposited. The pay dirt that remains is further washed on gold tables or laundries, and then passed to a gold box, where the gold is recovered. Remaining deposits in this gold box are treated about once a week with mercury, so that all the gold is obtained either in nugget or in the form of an amalgam.

GAMBLERS MUST QUIT THE STATE

POLICE PREPARE TO STAMP OUT GAMES FOR MONEY.

Since the advent of prohibition, State Police records as well as local police blotters all over the state show that Michigan is being swept with an epidemic of small-town gamblers. This tendency for open gambling on an ever-increasing scale is not entirely confined to the smaller cities and towns, but it is in these places that the first efforts are being made to check it.

The Michigan State Police are putting forth every effort to break up the more vicious forms that this gambling has taken. Several of the larger gambling houses have been raided already and paraphernalia of every description confiscated, from roulette wheels to dice games of many kinds. Further raids may be expected which will serve to help break up the business.

As an outlet for recreation since the departure of the saloon, many communities have turned to card playing and other forms of gambling, and the tendency has become so strong that in many cases money is thrown openly across the tables with no thought or fear of interruptions. In some cities and towns students join the card games and also play billiards and pool for money.

For the most part, no concerted action has been taken to break up these practices, but the State Police believe that they have reached the stage where definite and decisive action must be taken. Gambling has brought the lid upon itself and much of the activity of the troopers during the next few months will be made to clean up the cities and small towns which appear to be swept with the spirit of chance.

A CARD—As time and circumstances have not permitted us to personally acknowledge the many tokens of sympathy and the beautiful flowers sent in to brighten the sick room of our dear one during her illness, we therefore unite with her in extending our sincere thanks and appreciation and to wish for all a healthful and Happy New Year.
W. J. Burrows and Family.

"More Food"

demanded the city consumer. Farmers responded with the biggest crops they had grown for years. Then what happened? Poor transportation facilities, high freight rates, concerted consumer effort to lower prices on farm products. How can farmers sell at a fair profit?

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

for next week carries a great story showing how farmers are shouldering marketing problems that really belong to the city consumer and are solving them where he has failed.

Careful farming methods had resulted in bumper crops in New Jersey. New York City needed the food; but New York City offered little cooperation toward getting it. How the State Bureau of Markets stepped in, securing adequate transportation and developing a unique system of direct marketing, is the theme of this most suggestive and helpful article. In marketing, as in every other farm problem, THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN presents the up-to-date, useful fact stuff that will pay you to read. And the $2 big weekly issues that reach you during a year cost but $1.00—and they're a bargain.

THE THEATRE

Annette Kellerman was given an all-star cast in her first modern comedy drama, "What Women Love," a First National attraction, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, January 15.

After the story was purchased from Bernard McConville, the famous screen scribe, for $10,000, Sol Lesser instructed Harry Caulfield, his production manager, to spare no expense in securing the best available talent for Miss Kellerman's support.

Wheeler Oakman, who played the masculine lead in "The Spoilers," "The Ne'er-Do-Well," "Mickey," "The Virgin of Stamboul," and other successes was chosen to play opposite "the diving Venus."

Walter Long, who has been chosen as the ideal heavy by D. W. Griffith, ever since Long played the part of the negro Gus in "The Birth of a Nation," was picked for the part of the villainous Larsen.

Ralph Lewis, the veteran character actor; Bull Montana, who is now being featured by Marshall Neilan and host of other well known players complete the cast.

That there is good in every man, no matter how despicable he may be, is clearly shown in the new Paramount Aircraft picture, "The Ladder of Lies," starring Ethel Clayton, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Tuesday, January 18th.

Irving Cummings, is said to have one of the strongest heavy roles in which he has yet appeared. Throughout the picture he incurs the hate of an audience, but at the last moment, he does something that will go a long way toward restoring a person's faith in his fellowmen.

"Old Mammy" is one of the quaint characters in "The Inferior Sex," a picture starring Mildred Harr's Chaplin, and released by First National, which will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre on Thursday evening, January 20th.

The old negroes had their married, and as she expressed it, "Four oh dem hav'ng promised to lub and obey me."

As the cook in the home of the young married couple, she gives some wholesome advice to the wife, who spends all her time trying to please an indifferent husband.

"Keep him guessin'," said Old Mammy. "De onliest way to get along with men is to keep 'em happy. And de onliest way to make 'em happy is to make 'em unhappy. Keep 'em guessin' and dey will be onhappy and den dey'll lub you and be happy."

A-a-a-h—the Soothing Difference!

Training for a college cheer leader

Long Distance Telephone Service has changed.

It used to be that calling forty miles was as trying to the temper as calling, say, an absent young son at dusk.

You waited an interminable length of time, the line clattered and sputtered, and when finally you did get your party you had to shout like mad to make yourself heard.

But Today—ah, the soothing difference!

Service is prompt, quiet, efficient. You can usually get cities outside the state in ten minutes—Michigan towns in less. And every word spoken in an ordinary tone is heard distinctly.

Have you realized that YOU can use toll service profitably in business and personal affairs?

Such affairs, you know, are best "put over" when they are talked over.

And Long Distance Service affords the quick, convenient, economical means of communication. Try it.

Transact your affairs with Long Distance Telephone.

CENTENARY OF THE AMPERE

Effect of Wire Carrying a Current on a Magnet Was Discovered 100 Years Ago.

From the observance of this year, the centenary of the discovery and issuance of the fundamental electromagnetic laws, the derivation of the often heard volt and ampere wherever people speak in terms of electricity, are brought to mind. To Ampere, after whom we have named a unit of measurement of electrical energy, "the ampere," is credited the announcement on Sept. 18, 1820, of the laws governing the effect of a wire carrying a current upon a magnet, and also on Sept. 25 of the same year, the force action of one wire carrying a current upon another was announced. The paper by Ampere was frankly based upon the earlier work of Oersted, who discovered the effect of an electric current upon a compass needle and who explained the concentric nature of the magnetic field set up about a conductor carrying an electric current, but Ampere, nevertheless, is credited with the discovery. Volta, in Italy, had already produced the voltaic pile, made of layers of copper and zinc separated by a wet cloth, in 1790. To him is also credited valuable research in electrical science, and from his name the unit "volt" is derived.

CHEWING GUM 50 YEARS OLD

John Adams, Photographer of Staten Island in 1870 Discovered the Possibilities of Chicle.

Chewing gum began its history in 1870. Up to this time the chicle or sap from the chiclezapote tree of Mexico was known only to the Indians. A photographer on Staten Island secured a lump of it and sought to turn it to some account. For two years he attempted to make it a substitute for gutta serena or soft rubber. This having failed, he was about to throw it away when he happened to break off a bit and chewed it, according to the Detroit News. In his photograph gallery back room the photographer, John Adams by name, continued to experiment with it, and in time evolved something resembling the gum of today. He began to peddle it about in small lots to nearby candy and drug stores, and by 1880 he was employing 250 hands in a six-story building. He died, leaving a fortune to his four sons of many millions. The "white gum," or "chewing wax," as it was known, was almost driven from the market by the new offering, and today is seldom seen. It is made from the gum of the New England spruce and from a paraffin that is the residue of crude petroleum in process of refining.

Mental Culture.

Mayor Lunn of Schenectady pointed to a two-page advertisement extolling the marvelous efficiency of a mental gymnastics correspondence school. "Did you ever try a correspondence course in mental gymnastics?" he asked the reporter. "No; I don't take much stock in such things," the reporter answered. "Well, I know a man," answered Mayor Lunn, "who took a three months' mental gymnastics correspondence course, and he's a millionaire today." "Impressive pause." "To be sure," Mr. Lunn added, "the man was a millionaire before taking the course, but the extraordinary fact I want to bring out is that since taking it he hasn't lost his money."

Pharmacy for Females.

Pharmacy as an occupation for women is gaining favor rapidly. A very large number of women took the course at Columbia last year and a still greater number have applied for the course about to begin. "Until recently," said Dean Rusby, "we had a few women in this field. Pharmacists did not wish to employ them. In the first place it was a novelty, and there was the usual hesitation to accept a novelty." Now, according to Dean Rusby, many women are making good in pharmacy, and some of those who have taken advanced courses and become analysts are doing very good work in chemical laboratories and for manufacturing houses.

Use of Electricity Increases.

Sweden proposes to electrify the Gothenburg and Stockholm railway, Chile, following the example of other European countries and Japan, is preparing to operate a section of the state railways with electricity. The government proposes to float a loan of 32 million dollars, partly abroad and partly in the country, for this purpose. It is expected that this movement will reduce railway operating expenses by three million or four million dollars annually.

German Women Students.

There are 7,724 women students at the various German universities. Of these, 2,080 are studying medicine, bringing the total of medical students up to 22,000. Before the war Germany had one physician for every 2,000 inhabitants. She now has one for every 1,800 inhabitants, and fears that in a short while there will be one for every 1,600.

Alcohol Supply.

Around seawalls alone, it is said, 27,000,000 tons of seaweed is available, from which 500,000,000 gallons of alcohol can be made.

WATER RATES.

The water tax for the first half of 1921 is now due, and should be paid to Mr. Richardson, Water Treasurer. Bring with you the check-book which has been mailed to you.

WHAT DID YOU MAKE IN 1920?

UNCLE SAM BEGINS COLLECTION OF FEDERAL INCOME TAX FOR LAST YEAR—SAME RATE AS IN 1919.

REVENUE OFFICERS TO VISIT EVERY COUNTY TO ASSIST IN MAKING OUT RETURNS.

Work has begun on the collection of the income tax for the year 1920. Uncle Sam, through the Bureau of Internal Revenue, is addressing to every person in the United States, the question, "What was your net income for 1920?" The answer permits of no guesswork. Every single person whose net income for 1920 was $1,000 or more, and every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more is required to file a return under oath with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which he lives on or before March 15, 1921.

The penalty for failure is a fine of not more than $1,000 and an additional assessment of 25 per cent of the amount of tax due. For willful refusal to make a return, the penalty is a fine of not more than $10,000 or not exceeding one year's imprisonment, or both together with the costs of prosecution. A similar penalty is provided for making a false or fraudulent return, together with an additional assessment of 50 per cent of the amount of tax levied.

WOMEN MUST PAY

The income tax applies to women as well as men. Husband and wife must consider the income of both plus that of minor dependent children, and if the total equals or exceeds $2,000 a return must be filed. A minor who has a net income in his own right of $1,000 or more must file a separate return. To be allowed the $2,000 exemption a married person must be living with husband or wife on the last day of the taxable year, December 31, 1920. Divorced persons separated by mutual agreement, widows and widowers, unless they are the sole support of others living in the same household, in which case they are allowed the $2,000 exemption granted the head of a family, are entitled only to $1,000 exemption.

TAX RATES FOR 1920

The normal tax rate for 1920 is the same as for 1919—4 per cent on first $4,000 of net income above the exemption and 8 per cent on the remaining net income. This applies to every citizen and resident of the United States. In addition to the normal tax a surtax is imposed upon net income in excess of $5,000.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FORM

Full instructions for making out returns are contained on the forms, copies of which may be obtained from collectors of internal revenue. Persons whose net income for 1920 was $5,000 or less use Form 1040A. Those with incomes in excess of $5,000 should use Form 1040. Revenue officers will visit every county in the United States to assist taxpayers in making out their returns. The date of their arrival and the location of their offices will be announced by the press or may be ascertained upon inquiry at the office of collectors. This advisory service is without cost to taxpayers.

The last regular meeting of the Sunlight Arbor, A. O. O. G., was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Gates on Ann Arbor road, January 7th. About thirty-seven members were present and seven new members were taken in. After luncheon was served, dancing and cards were indulged in for the remainder of the evening. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strebins on the Plymouth-Evonia town line, February 18th.

Miss Beatrice Davey's Sunday-school class met at the home of E. Cochran, last Saturday afternoon. Howard Cochran was elected president. Ten members were present. They had a merry time, with lots of good things to eat. Business meeting once a month. Social time every two weeks.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

At last you can learn What Edison Did during the War

YOU wondered—everybody wondered, and practically nobody knew how Edison "did his bit." At last the official announcement is out! Come in and get your copy of the bulletin: "What Did Edison Do During the War?"—or write, if you can't call. It tells what Edison did while Chairman of the Naval Consulting Board—how he spent months at sea, experimenting and inventing devices for foiling the German submarines. The bulletin also tells how Edison stood the gaff and kept the price of the New Edison down to bed-rock during the era of high costs and soaring prices. The New Edison has increased in price less than 15% since 1914—part of this increase is war tax. The bulletin also tells Mr. Edison's views on our Budget Plan which makes the New Edison easy to buy.

A COMMUNICATION

A recent number of the Plymouth Mail reports me as finding a child in the school who was "physically 100 per cent perfect." The item was no doubt sent to the paper with the best of intentions, but in justice to myself and my work, I feel that an explanation must be made.

GEOMETRY

By BETTIE H. McDONALD.

(© 1920 W. McCune Newspaper Syndicate.)

He applied the symbols of geometry to all things. He pronounced the cat and collie parallel, meaning, of course, they would never come together.

All on account of this his country sister, whose guest he was, bestowed upon him the nickname "Arc." Also, in spite of his neatness, he drew angles and figures on her white tablecloth at every meal.

"Arc" was standing in the one-seated buggy waiting for his sister. He slipped the perspiration from the edge of his curly, blond hair.

"Well," she came out laughing, "you needn't be so alarmed. You are in no immediate danger. Old Meteor never ran away yet," she said, knowing something unusual must have happened.

"Just the same your dependable old racer ran me into a flock of geese."

"Where did you see geese?" "Just outside the village."

"Which way were they flying?" "Flying," he echoed disdainfully, "handing over the parcels to her."

"Yes, flying southward indicates an early winter," she replied eagerly. "Suppose they are riding?" He posed.

"Are, if I didn't know you are a total abstainer I'd suspect you of resort association with woad alcohol."

"Your horse did all the flying, I tell you."

He recoiled, laughing inward and long until she made him expiate.

"Geometrically speaking," he laughed, "the plain solid zoose had on a white silk shirtwaist and a black skirt."

"I suppose she is square," coughed Miss Brill.

"Coming back from the village, I met a big touring car. She was driving it. About six others were in it chattering and cackling like they were on their way to save home. I admit that I couldn't keep my eyes on Meteor. Belle doesn't always make a matter true and he shattered mine."

"The cackling ceased. She stopped the car, jumping down quickly. 'Twasn't I viewed the symmetrical form of the prettiest proposition."

"She ran in front of Meteor, grabbed his bridle and held him, swaying and twisting. I was saved," he concluded, gaily. After a moment: "Now I've given you the synopsis." He looked at his sister as he gathered up the reins.

He dropped the reins again and Meteor stopped.

"sis, for once our initials converge!" He paused then added, "which was to be proved."

"Then I gave Miss Rogers my card," he confessed.

"It was May Rogers!" exclaimed Miss Brill, who had thought as much all along.

"You said I might invite someone to dine with us tonight, and she thought it would be perfectly proper to come. It was staggering. She reached quod ergo facendum almost instantly," he rejoiced.

"I know we haven't been introduced," she said, "but Miss Brill is a very dear friend of mine. Call for me at six. You needn't drive over, we can walk it in twenty minutes."

"And guess what she said about the runaway! She said: 'So you worked yourself out of the wreck tangle.' 'Rectangle,' she said, just like that. The girl is perfect."

At the dinner table Miss Rogers did not admire his application of geometrical terms to the food and dishes.

"She had just finished college, and told him he was slow. She said she didn't like geometry, that she preferred to study silk."

"Silk finds its own expression," she said, "and is vastly more popular than geometry. My conclusion is, silk is similar to geometry in dealing with forms."

"And the designs can be illustrated," conceded Arc. "Some skirts hang at right angles, some at most every angle, circle at the band, or plain, straight and short. You are right. Silk and geometry amount to the same."

"And the axiom states, 'things equal to the same thing are equal to each other,'" she offered, ever so sweetly.

"After all," he eagerly concluded, "silk is more interesting than geometry and certainly as useful."

"Geometry and silk seem to be in a sort of partnership," ventured Miss Brill. She smothered a titter. They got up from the table. Crushed. Arc straightened up abruptly.

"Miss Rogers, do you play?" "I play baseball fairly well." He thought her the loveliest girl and the most charming. Miss Brill slid to third base and stole home.

Arc and Miss Rogers enjoyed a delightful evening and a duet at the piano. Then he took her home.

It was very late when he returned, but his sister met him at the door and acted sleepily.

"Arthur Wellington Brill, have you the proof of your analysis of May's theorem?" she asked.

"I have her scholium," he flushed, "which is, she has no equal; the corollary is, she is perfect!"

For a Persistent Cough Some years ago H. F. Burbage, a student at law in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for a long while with a persistent cough, which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the final stage of consumption."

Methodist Matters

The January meeting of the Ladies' Aid society will be held on Wednesday afternoon of next week at the home of Mrs. F. L. Barrows, 837 Church street. A special feature of the gathering, a representative from the Detroit chapter of the American Red Cross will be present and speak. Refreshments will be served, and the entertainment will be provided by Mrs. Newton's division.

Forty-five people were present, last Tuesday evening, at the monthly supper of the Sunday-school board, nearly every officer and teacher being on hand. Mrs. Fie and Mrs. Holcomb were hostesses for the occasion. Officers for the ensuing year were chosen as follows: Superintendent, E. V. Jolliffe; assistant, C. H. Hammond; secretary, Eva Griffith; home department superintendent, Mrs. C. S. Saylor; cradle roll superintendent, Mrs. Henry Wright; primary superintendent, Mrs. E. V. Jolliffe; enrollment superintendent, Mrs. Wellington Newell; partnership superintendent, Mrs. H. S. Doerr; assistant, Mrs. W. J. Griffith. The next meal will be on February 8th, with Mesdames Doerr, Griffith and Hammond as hostesses.

The primary department of the Sunday-school is in a thriving condition with an attendance of about fifty each Sunday. A new class has been organized for the beginners four years old, and Mrs. Frederick Thomas is the teacher. Mrs. W. B. Lombard, Miss Ione Bird and Mrs. Charles Larkin have the other classes, and Mrs. E. V. Jolliffe takes up the work of superintendent, which she laid down five years ago. New equipment has been added to the primary room, including a book-case and cabinet for supplies.

The last session of the general conference created a new office in Methodism, providing for a director of social and recreational life in every church. This person is supposed to work out a plan of positive leadership in the recreational life of the young people, with basket ball, gymnasium activities, moving picture entertainment, social gatherings and other wholesome means of social enjoyment. It has been felt that the church has confined its attitude on amusements to a negative stand, warning the young people against the amusements, which are harmful, and not showing them how to have a good time in more wholesome ways. A director to fill this important position will be chosen at the next meeting of the official board of the local Methodist church, and plans are being made to minister to the social side of life more largely than ever before.

The January meeting of the missionary societies was held at the home of Mrs. A. V. Jones on Church street, Wednesday afternoon. The societies are in the most prosperous condition in many years.

Bad Cold and Cough Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Several years ago C. D. Glass, Gardiner, Me. contracted a severe cold and cough. He tried various medicines, but instead of getting well he kept adding to it by contracting fresh colds. Nothing he had taken for it was of any permanent benefit until a druggist advised him to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says, "I was completely cured by this remedy, and have since always turned to it when I had a cold and soon find relief."—Advt.

Today's Reflections

When some fellows speak of a "close" friend, they mean one who gets close enough to permit them to make a "touch."

There are mighty few men in Plymouth but who would rather be hung than to have their old love letters printed in a newspaper.

From the vast number of youthful bandits now operating, we're inclined to believe there hasn't been enough of the old-fashioned back-to-the-woodshed movement in this country.

Some fellows forget their manners when parting with money, but they are usually pretty polite when collecting a profit.

Those who used to gather at the livery stable now gather at the garage—and there hasn't been much improvement in the odor, either.

We went a little slower in the days of horse and buggy, but we didn't lose any time at filling stations after we once handed Dobbin his oats.

We overheard one Plymouth citizen say yesterday that his children have the "galloping consumption." They just eat and run.

Maybe if nature had known what a lot of worry the world was coming to, she'd have made an apple that wouldn't ferment.

And still another difference between death and taxes is that death is sometimes painless.

The world may owe every man a living, but the wise Plymouth man is the one who knows it takes a hustler to collect it.

It certainly would be nice for Europe if home rule in Ireland was as popular as home brew in this country.

We agree with the Plymouth man who said the other day, that he'd hate to have a whole orchard if every tree was as expensive as a Christmas tree.

Occasionally we meet a man so full of self-importance, he thinks heaven is a place where everybody takes off their hat to the boss.

It has about gotten around to the point where some Plymouth men never smile until they almost run over you with their automobile.

SCHOOL NOTES

Mrs. Sidney Strong was a second and fifth grade visitor, Friday afternoon.

Basket ball teams go to Trenton, Friday night.

The manual training department of the High school is now making wands to be used by the physical training classes. Wand drills will be given in some of the Swedish gymnastic classes.

Friday, January 14, the boys' and girls' basket ball teams go to Trenton to play basket ball. They will make the trip in automobiles. The girls going will be: Marion Kiely, Lesora Wright, Margaret Strong, Edith Pierce, Merle Roe, Bonnie Mueller, Wanda Shuttis, Ella Roe and Hanna Strasen.

Plymouth High school will hold its third debate for this year at Ypsilanti, Saturday evening, January 22. Ypsilanti Normal High school has already defeated Ypsilanti High school 3 to 0, and defeated Ann Arbor High 2 to 1. Consequently the Plymouth-Ypsilanti Normal High debate promises to be an exciting one. Normal High has the affirmative, and Plymouth the negative. Furthermore this debate seems to be the decisive one for the first five debates. If we can win this one, we have a fair chance to win the state contest again; if Ypsilanti Normal High wins, their chance for the state contest is much increased.

Last year when Plymouth debated Ypsilanti, approximately thirty-five people went over to hear the contest. We sincerely hope that an equally large number will be interested enough to go again this year, because your support is of great assistance to our team. As in the Plymouth-Hamtramck debate, our Plymouth team will consist of Lyman Judson, Etha Wisely and Charles Chappel.

This afternoon, Friday, the members of the public speaking class are giving talks for Better Speech Week: 1. Declaration, "The Dreamers"—Lyman Judson 2. Talk, "Better Speech for Better Americans"—Olivia Williams 3. Declaration, "John Brown's Spirit"—Charles Chappel 4. Talk on Slang—Laverne Sly 5. "Life Through Socialism"—Etha Wisely 6. Declaration, "The Call to Arms"—Ira Kingsley.

The boys who take the trip to Trenton are: Cook, Doudt, Miller, Tail, Wilcox, Stevens, M. Strasen. Last year each team won on its home floor, but the locals are hoping for better luck this year on Trenton's slippery dance floor.

Monday night, Mr. Holcomb and Robert Randall, president of the Athletic association, attended the meeting of the Four-Square League at Wayne. Supt. Heinrich of Northville was elected president for the winter term; Coach Millard of Dearborn as secretary-treasurer. Dearborn and Plymouth each put in a bid for the annual track meet, but it was finally decided that the meet will be held at Plymouth on June 10. The following base ball schedule was also made out:

Base ball schedule: April 15—Northville at Plymouth; Dearborn at Wayne. April 22—Plymouth at Farmington; Wayne at Northville. April 29—Dearborn at Plymouth; Farmington at Wayne. May 4, Dearborn at Northville. May 13—Northville at Farmington. May 13—Plymouth at Wayne; Farmington at Dearborn. May 18—Wayne at Dearborn. May 20—Farmington at Plymouth. May 27—Plymouth at Northville; Dearborn at Farmington. May 31—Wayne at Plymouth.

Last Friday, Mr. Holcomb spent the day visiting the High school at Howell, and inspecting the agricultural department, which is one of the oldest in the state. Howell has a fine new building, plenty of equipment, and about 50 per cent of their pupils from the nearby farms.

The senior-junior class games, postponed from the week before Christmas, were played last Monday afternoon. The "dope" of the previous games was all upset, as the juniors were unable to score only with difficulty, against the superior guarding of the seniors, while Merle Roe, at forward, was able to keep shooting till she could drop the ball through the ring. The outstanding points were the weakening of the junior team, due to the absence from the line-up of Fay Herrick and Ruth Shattuck, and the spectacular work of Edith Pierce at center for the seniors. The final score was 16 to 13 for the seniors.

In the game, which followed, the juniors led throughout the first half, due largely to Cook's work, but in the second half the seniors staged a comeback by Wilcox, Tail and Co., and won out, 19-11. The line-up:

GIRLS' GAME
Senior—Forwards, M. Roe, H. Hill, L. Sly; Center, E. Pierce; guards, H. Strasen, I. Roe.
Junior—Forwards, L. Wright, M. Streng, W. Willett; center, W. Willett, M. Streng; guards, M. Clemens, W. Shuttis.

BOYS' GAME
Senior—Forwards, Tail, Wilcox, center, Wisely; guards, Miller, F. Miller.

STARK
Mrs. William Johnson and Mrs. William Dethloff visited at Redford, last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kehl were in Detroit last Wednesday.

Miss Catherine Poloni is on the sick list this week, but is somewhat better at this writing.

Miss Lillian Frank was a Saturday and Sunday visitor of the Misses Frances and Catherine Poioni, and also attended the dancing party given at Mr. Tracey's, Saturday evening.

The dance given at Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tracey's, Saturday evening, was largely attended. Those present were from Plymouth, Stark, Elm, Redford, Wayne, Newburg and Inkster. At twelve o'clock dainty lunch was served and all reported a very fine time.

Mrs. Etha Lancia, Mrs. William Johnson and Mrs. Hazel Fisher and daughter were Plymouth callers, Friday afternoon.

If you know an item of news, please send it to the Mail office.

The best resolution any Plymouth citizen can make for this year is to resolve to do the best he can under all circumstances.

FAMOUS SPEAKERS TO TALK FARM PROBLEMS

VITAL ISSUES UP FOR DISCUSSION AT M. A. C. FARMERS' WEEK, JAN. 31 TO FEB. 4.—EXPECT 5,000.

Speakers of national and international reputation as authorities on agricultural, economic and government affairs will address the big general meeting of Farmers' Week at the Michigan Agricultural College this year, from Jan 31 to Feb. 4. The most extensive program ever lined up for the annual farm congress has been announced by the committee in charge and plans are being made at East Lansing to care for a crowd of 5,000 or more visitors during the week.

A. F. Levers, member of the Federal Farm Loan Board, ex-Congressman, father of much of the country's most important agricultural legislation, and internationally known economist, will be one of the leading speakers of the week. No one is better qualified than Mr. Levers to discuss intelligently the vital farm questions of the day.

S. S. McClure, founder of McClure's Magazine, traveler, writer, editor and lecturer, will talk on "World Conditions as They are Today"; Eugene Davenport, Dean of Agriculture at Ohio State University, and one of the best known thinkers and writers on agricultural matters, will discuss, "Agriculture in Reconstruction"; while Gov. W. L. Harding of Iowa; Pres. M. L. Burton of the U. of M.; Miss Alma Binzel of M-nesota University, and vice president of the International Kindergarten Union; L. L. Driver, Director Bureau of Rural Education, State of Pennsylvania; A. E. Roberts, rural life leader, New York City, and others will be among the outstanding figures in the general programs.

Nearly a dozen state agricultural associations are to hold their annual meetings at M. A. C. during Farmers' Week. The State Farm Bureau will also hold its annual meeting at the college, and a liberal representation of its more than 95,000 members are expected to be in attendance.

Special fare on all railroads, giving the round trip for only one and one-third times the regular one way fare, have been granted for all Farmers' Week visitors, and are expected to swell the attendance materially at the various meetings.

THE UNITED GUN CLUB

The records of the doings of the United Gun Club for the 1920 season brings out the following facts and figures:

The entire number of targets thrown by the club is 14654.

Eighty-seven individuals have taken part in contests held on the club grounds.

The 49 mark at 50 targets was reached by Warren Baxter, Merle Murray and Harry Passage.

The season long run was made by H. Passage, October 24, with 69 straight breaks.

The most consistently good shooting of the club is usually done by Pres. Frank E. Hills.

The club finished the season with 21 members.

The highest average on 100 targets was made by F. Hills, who broke 115 out of 120 on December 22, at the poultry shoot.

Two members shot at over 1000 targets, with averages less than one per cent apart: Frank Hills, 1074 out of 1210, per cent, 8876; and H. Passage, 1392 out of 1556, per cent, 8946.

Dues are $5.00 per year with no initiation fee.

Your application for membership is solicited, whether you shoot or not.

DEATH OF FORMER LIVONIA TEACHER

The many friends of Miss Mollie Guenther were shocked to hear of her death last week Thursday, at the home of her mother in Detroit. Miss Guenther had been a great sufferer with gonorrhea for the past year, which caused her death, and the news of her demise came as a great shock to her many friends. Miss Guenther graduated from a school in Detroit in the spring of 1903, and came to teach the Rough and Ready school the same fall. During her stay there she made her home with George Chilson and family, and was highly respected by all who knew her. That term was the first and only one she taught, as she gave up her work to be with her father and mother, who were both invalids. As the years passed, after her year of teaching, she longed for the girls and boys, and to renew their acquaintance, and so planned our club, which met the last Sunday in July.

No words can speak to tell the ache that is in our hearts at the sudden taking away of our beloved teacher and faithful friend. She would listen to our tales of woe, delighted in our joy, and spoke cheering words in our sorrow. She will be greatly missed by us, and her beloved invalid mother, who was her only thought and for whom she had sacrificed so much. She also leaves a fiancé in Boston and several cousins.

The funeral was held from her mother's home, Monday afternoon at two o'clock. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, but could hardly express the feeling of sympathy of the friends who filled the house and yard.

A precious one from home is gone. A voice we loved is stilled; A place is vacant in the home, Which can never more be filled. The gentle hand that which so often clasped is cold, The body laid away to mold;

Still memory will ever keep. Our many dearest thoughts of thee for ever more. In Behalf of R. & R. C.

SOUTH FREE CHURCH

Rev. C. E. Edwards, our popular minister, is visiting this week in Washington, Mich. While there he will give several lectures. January 7th the second lecture on the course will be given at the church. Let us have a good attendance.

Last Sunday a splendid address was given in the church by Dr. Conrad of the U. of M. Dr. Conrad has served as a missionary in China for thirty years, and will return there to take up his work next summer. About fifty were out to hear him. A chimney burned out on the Will Rooke farm, Sunday. Fortunately, not much damage was done. Dr. and Mrs. L. Wood Snow visited their parents, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Switzer have a new Ford sedan. Mr. and Mrs. John Forshee were in Detroit, Sunday, to attend the silver wedding anniversary of their son, John D. and wife. Guests from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Royal Oak, Plymouth and Highland Park were present. Twenty-five big silver dollars, besides many more presents were given the happy couple, and the best part of it was, it was a complete surprise.

Mrs. Ben Huston of Cherry Hill, is looking for a house to buy in Ypsilanti. She and Mrs. Alice Lewis were callers at John Forshee's Tuesday. On January 20th, the L. A. S. will hold a roast beef dinner at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Strang. The ladies are going to try and serve as tempting a dinner as the men did at T. P. Geer's. A good program will be given, so turn out and have a good time while the going is good.

FRAIN'S LAKE
The home of Everett Whipple was totally destroyed by fire last Friday night. Nearly everything was destroyed, as the fire started in the kitchen and gained a great headway before neighbors could get there. Miss Bernice Downer, aged 18, of South Dixboro, passed away at her home, Monday night. She will be greatly missed by many friends.

MIND IS KEENEST AT NIGHT
Fact That is Recognized by Most Writers and Other Workers With Their Brains.

Many writers sleep with pencil and notebook under their pillows and a lamp at hand, so that they may dash off the thoughts that come to them in the watches of the night. It is said that Mary E. Wilkins Freeman has a typewriter handy on an extension spring, which she draws out from the wall on its shelf and places in position before her if she cannot sleep.

There is about these thoughts a clarity that does not come with daytime thinking—a awareness of vision that approaches the clairvoyant.

A problem with which we have wrestled in the daylight, weighing it with all our intelligence, is settled in a certain way, calmly and judicially, and after mature reflection. Our decision seems the right one. And then, suddenly, in the dead of the night, that selfsame issue bores up before our mental vision, wakes us from a sound sleep and settles itself in quite another way. In one great flash! A strong white light has been turned upon the brain and has revealed there a conclusion of which we had no feeling before. The processes of arriving at it are a closed chapter. The clairvoyant brain has registered a result only. And again and again it will be found to be the right, the expedient solution.

Memory, too, is peculiarly keen in the silences between midnight and 4 o'clock in the morning. All cobwebs have been swept from the brain by the first hours of sleep; the body and nerve centers are singularly rested; there are no noises to disturb and some subconscious power is at work within us.
