PLYMOUTH HONORS MEM- ORY OF SERGEANT BEALS

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD LAST SATURDAY AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH LARGELY ATTENDED; BUSINESS IN VILLAGE SUSPENDED DURING FUNERAL HOUR.

The funeral services for Sergeant Myron H. Beals, held at the Presbyterian church, last Saturday afternoon, was one of the largest that has been held in Plymouth in many years. During the funeral hour all business places in the village were closed in memory of the gallant soldier, who made the supreme sacrifice on the altar of his country. Sergeant Beals was one of Plymouth's brightest and best young men, and the large outpouring of friends and acquaintances attested the love and esteem in which he was held in the community, where he grew to young manhood.

At 1:30 o'clock the funeral cortege formed at the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, where the remains had been since Thursday morning, and headed by the Millard band and a large escort of ex-service men in uniform, moved to the church, where the services took place. Eight members of the U. S. marines, of which Sergeant Beals was a member, acted as pallbearers. Rev. S. Conger Hathaway conducted the services most impressively, and Mrs. R. E. Cooper sang two beautiful solos. Many beautiful floral pieces covered the altar rail, silent tributes from comrades, relatives and friends.

The interment took place in the family lot at Riverside cemetery. A firing squad from Sergeant Myron H. Beals Post, Foreign War Veterans, fired three volleys over the grave, and as the last sweet notes of taps, sounded by a bugler from the marine corps, died away in the distance, the flag draped casket was lowered to its last resting place.

Rest on embled and sainted dead,
Dear as the blood ye gave;
No impious footsteps here shall tread
The herbage of your grave.
Nor shall your memory be forgot,
While Fame her record keeps;
Or honor marks the hallowed spot,
Where valor proudly sleeps.

MORE HOMES ARE NEEDED IN PLYMOUTH

There is every indication that the coming summer will see a large number of new homes erected in Plymouth. The Plymouth Home Building Association has already had many applications for loans to aid those who are desirous of acquiring a home of their own. The Plymouth Home Building Association is a local concern, doing business under the state laws of Michigan, officered and financed by local people. It is co-operative, each stockholder shares alike in proportion to his investment in its earnings.

The association guarantees five percent on savings accounts, with the possibility of being able to pay even better than that. Every week sees new stockholders added to its membership. It is an association organized to aid those who are seeking to gain a home for themselves, and thereby build up Plymouth. It has already accomplished a great deal in this line, and its future possibilities depend entirely upon the interest and encouragement of those who are able and should subscribe for stock in this most worthy enterprise. We need homes in Plymouth if we are to grow and prosper. The Plymouth Home Building Association will bring them, and at the same time offers a good and safe investment.

Mrs. C. J. Crane of Detroit, visited her sister, Mrs. Albert Stever, Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Sheffield and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Jenson of Detroit, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stever, Wednesday afternoon.

"Mrs. Tubbs of Shantytown," the home talent play, which was repeated at the Fenimore Allen theatre, last Friday evening, was well attended, and a substantial sum was netted for the building fund of the Woman's Club. The members of the third division desire to thank the business men for their generous response in occupying the program, and all who assisted in any way in making the play a success.

THE ELECTION IN PLYMOUTH

ONLY ONE TICKET. THERE WAS NO CONTEST EXCEPT FOR THE OFFICE OF SUPERVISOR.

The annual township election, last Monday proved to be of more than ordinary interest, although the Republican ticket was the only one in the field. The only contest was for the office of supervisor, friends of W. R. Shaw circulating slips bearing his name for this office. The total vote in the two precincts was 868; 528 in precinct No. 1 and 284 in precinct No. 2. The community nurse proposition received 493 votes yes and 295 no.

At the meeting held shortly after the noon hour, the following recommendations of the township board were voted upon favorably: $2,500 for the contingent fund, same as last year; $4,000 for the highway improvement fund, same as last year; $300 for the poor fund, $100 more than last year. The road repair fund rate was fixed at 50c, instead of 75c, as it was last year. This only applies to taxpayers outside the village.

The meeting also voted a special tax of $500 to be used in improving the west town road leading to the House of Correction Farm.

A CARNIVAL AT HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

The High School Athletic Association is planning a round of fun and profit, too, for this Friday night, April 8th, at 7:30 o'clock. Funds are needed for the athletic field and for base ball. The meet of the 4-Square League is to be held in Plymouth in June, and the field must be in shape by that time. So much for the worth of our efforts.

There will be a sale of baked goods, eggs, jams and jellies, cakes, and best of all, home-made candy. The painting gallery and the African Dodge will test your aim. In the auditorium, a comedy by Booth Tarkington, entitled, "Edgar Takes the Cake." Edgar is a character similar to Tarkington's delightful Penrod. Then a Eray pictograph, a combination of nature picture and cartoon comedy will be run. Popcorn, a fish-pond, ice cream cones, noise makers, fortune-telling and a pantomime show are features you'll enjoy. Two minstrels will be run—a boys' and a girls' show. Everybody likes a coon show. Come, Friday night to the Athletic Association Carnival, April 8th, in the High school.

OPENING OF NEW NASH SUBDIVISION

On another page of this paper will be found a full page ad, announcing the sale of lots in the new Nash Plymouth Subdivision. This property is well located, being only one block from the business center of the village, which makes this an ideal residence section. The lots are large and roomy and are most reasonably priced. The Laurence-Wellenden Company of Detroit, are selling agents for this property, and Mr. E. Parrott is their local representative. Mr. Parrott will be pleased to show this property to anyone desiring a home-site, where nothing will be lacking in the way of modern conveniences and improvements. Read the ad.

Rev. and Mrs. George P. Dayer and son Arthur of Marquette, Mich., spent Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Wm. E. Meeker.

A RECITAL EXTRAORDINARY

THE BEYER PHARMACY TENDERS COMPLIMENTARY ENTERTAINMENT AT THE HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM, WEDNESDAY EVENING.

Plymouth citizens enjoyed a rare musical treat, Wednesday evening, when the Beyer Pharmacy, who have the local agency for the Edison phonographs, tendered a complimentary recital at the High school auditorium, to demonstrate the wonderful re-creations possible upon the Edison instruments. The large auditorium was filled with a most appreciative audience, who marveled at the wonderful tone tests which were given by noted artists, together with the Edison phonograph.

The entertainment was given by Miss Marie Morrissy, contralto; Harry Lyman, flutist, and Walter Chapman, pianist. Miss Morrissy is a singer of great ability, and her rendition of her various numbers on the program in tests of direct comparison with the Edison, was truly wonderful. One could not distinguish between the voice of the singer and the re-creation of her voice upon the phonograph. The piccolo and flute numbers by Mr. Lyman were beautifully rendered, as were the piano solos by Mr. Chapman, with the re-creations upon the Edison. Every number on the program was roundly applauded, and it was the sentiment of all who were fortunate enough to be present, that it was one of the very best musical entertainments that has ever been given in Plymouth.

Mr. Beyer of the Beyer Pharmacy, is to be congratulated on the splendid success which crowned his efforts to give the music lovers of Plymouth a most delightful evening of music and song, and clearly demonstrates the wonderful possibilities of The New Edison.

FORMER RESIDENT OF PLYMOUTH DIES

The remains of Daniel N. Severance were brought here for interment last Thursday evening, from Kansas City, Kansas, where he passed away after a short illness the Monday previous. The body was taken to Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, where funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon, by Rev. H. S. Sayles of the Baptist church. Mr. Severance was a veteran of the Civil war and was a member of Eddy Post, G. A. R., who attended the services in a body. The deceased was 75 years of age, and resided in Plymouth for some little time. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Percy Smith was at University hospital, Ann Arbor, Tuesday.

A. D. Whipple of Owosso, was a guest of relatives and friends here Wednesday.

SUNDAY DINNERS AT HOTEL LYON, SOUTH LYON

The Hotel Lyon at South Lyon wishes to announce to the people of Plymouth and vicinity that they are making a specialty of serving Sunday dinners. When out for an automobile drive arrange your trip so that you can get one of the fine dinners that this popular Oakland county hostelry is serving. The hours are from 12 to 2:30 o'clock. Price, $1.00.—Adv't.

Perfume at $90 Per Ounce.
The harvest of Bavarian roses for last year, being one of the worst on record, the price of the essence has gone up very considerably. The wholesale price just now is round about $20 an ounce. Before the war it was $7. Contrary to popular belief, however, attar of roses is by no means the most expensive scented oil on the market. Civet is worth wholesale just now $25 an ounce, and musk $90; ambergris, which forms the basis for nearly all the best quality scents, costs $60 an ounce, and is hard to get at that. These prices refer to the case of perfumes to the essential oils, one or two drops of which will make quite a decent-sized bottle of scented perfume. The most valuable stock in a small space than the dealers in these highly-concentrated essential oils. A quite moderate-sized made in the office of a firm of wholesale perfumers will frequently contain stock worth $125.000.

Hawaiian Volcano Active.
The great volcano, Kilauea, 32 miles from Hilo, Hawaii, which for two years has been exhibiting tremendous volcanic force, recently overflowed the rim of its active throat and burst forth in fresh activity and brilliance. After weeks of steady rising of the lava in the pit of Helemaunau, the "House of Fire," the molten column reached the rim and poured over it toward the southeast side of the great crater, while simultaneously another lava stream burst through the crater floor some distance from the first. Hundreds of fire fountains began playing on the numerous lava lakes and sheets of flame gushed intermittently from beneath the crust surface. Along the main line of the old rift which the new flow is following, several lava cones of small craters have formed and these add to the weird scenes with their thundering blasts of steam and fire.

A Realist.
"Did you ever see that good old play, 'Ten Nights in a Barroom'?"
"No," answered Cactus Joe.
"I didn't like the title. It wasn't true to human nature. I never knew a man with money enough to last ten nights and I never heard of a bartender who would let him hang around after he was broke."

BEECH
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bakewell have gone to Detroit to live. We sure will miss them.
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ford and little daughter Elyma spent last Sunday at J. E. Glass'. Miss Elyma has recovered from her recent serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. George Raitzenbury were callers at E. J. Glass' Sunday. The church services which were changed from afternoon to evening, will be changed once more, beginning next Sunday and continuing until conference, the church service will be at 10:30 a. m. and Sunday-school at 11:00. A cordial invitation is given to everybody to come.
Clarence Hobbs has gone to Chicago to visit his mother.
Mrs. Magee is spending a few weeks in Chicago.

NOTICE
There are several places in the village that are being made or used as public dumps, where no such purpose was intended. These places are becoming nuisances and a detriment to surrounding property. The village manager hereby directs that no more rubbish or cans or other metal be dumped at the following places: The corner of Ann Arbor street and Elizabeth street; the intersection of the Park Marguerite railroad and Farmington street; the block of Junction avenue between Ann street and Harvey street.

Wednesday Night's Audience Mystified by Phonograph

Hears famous contralto

compare voice with RE-CREATION by Edison's new phonograph---could not tell the two apart

MARIE MORRISEY, the great American contralto, gave an extraordinary recital last Wednesday evening in the High school auditorium.

Miss Morrisey walked on to the stage and stood beside a stately cabinet. She began to sing, "Dost Thou Know That Sweet Land." The audience immediately yielded to the spell of her beautiful voice. Then suddenly there was a stir—a subdued murmur of surprise—and a perplexed rubbing of eyes. Miss Morrisey's voice continued to fill the auditorium with undiminished sweetness—your ears were proof of that—but her lips had become absolutely silent—your eyes told you that.

What wizardry was this? It was the test of direct comparison with the living artist, which Thomas A. Edison has developed to demonstrate that the Official Laboratory Model of his new phonograph will sing any song exactly as it was sung by the artist, and that his RE-CREATION of a singer's voice, as it comes from his wonderful new phonograph, positively cannot be distinguished from the singer's actual voice, when both are heard in direct comparison.

Miss Morrisey made repeated comparisons—always with the same result. It was truly wonderful. This master achievement of the great wizard, Edison, marks a new epoch in music.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With A Soul"

You can have a duplicate of the wonderful instrument used at the High school auditorium and, if you act quickly, we can furnish you with an engraved certificate (signed by Miss Morrisey) certifying that it is an exact duplicate in tonal quality of the instrument she used in her amazing comparison; also that it will sustain precisely the same test.

We have several of the famous Official Laboratory Models and Marie Morrisey has certified every one of them. Come to our store at once and ask to see and hear the Official Laboratory Models on which Miss Morrisey has issued her Certificate of Authenticity.

WHY SEEK MOSS?

Writer Takes Issue With Old, Well-Worn Proverb.

Keep Rolling Until a Good Place to Stop is Found, is Advice He Hands Out.

"The rolling stone," we are impressively told, "gathers no moss." But who suggests that moss is a desirable article to accumulate? Uncle Dudley writes in the Boston Globe.

One of the penalties of being young is having it dinged into our ears: "You ought to settle down."

When ought I to settle down? At eighteen? At twenty-five? At thirty-five? If "settling down" is taken to mean what it means on most lips one ought never to settle down at all. For on most lips "settling down" means nothing more nor less than stale stagnation.

Every intelligent reader knows that many, if not most, of his luckiest finds have come while browsing along the book shelves. To be sure, one needs to know how to use a library; how to choose a topic and use catalogues and indexes to dig up the material. But there is something to be got by personal contact with the book shelves which no catalogue can give. You wander along, plucking down now this volume, now that. That one is mildly entertaining; this one is dull; another might be valuable, when—

Hello! Here it is! Every page embellished as with letters of gold; and the day on which you discovered it was one of the high days.

There are a few fortunate people whose natural bent is so pronounced that they know at quite an early age exactly what they wish to do as a life work. But such people are relatively few.

Do they tell you that it is important to get your life work started early? It is far more important to find the life work which you were meant to do, whether you find it early or late. One ought never to be so settled down that he cannot take up a new kind of work if he is convinced that it is more valuable to himself or to the community than the kind he is in; convinced, in short, that it provides a better outlet for his powers.

The spectacle of a man or woman tied for life to the wrong mate is not half so pitiable as the spectacle of a man or woman tied for life to the wrong job.

The father who says to the son in his teens or early 20s, "It is high time you made up your mind what you are going to do," is as ridiculous as a physician telling a baby it is high time he went out for the football team. In one's teens or twenties it is, to be sure, high time one is busy and active about some sort of productive labor, but to suggest that the job at this age should be one's permanent choice is ridiculous folly. It may prove to be the very thing, but if it should not, one will want an emergency exit.

Does it ever occur to us that the hope of the world lies mainly in just these untamed spirits who refuse to settle down?

Valparaiso Outdoor Elevators.

Sailors attached to the United States fleet that is now cruising up the west coast of South America will find a familiar feature about the port of Valparaiso, in the event that their home town be Pittsburgh or Cincinnati. For the Chilean city has outgrown the confines of the narrow sea-level strip along the water front and has scaled the heights above. There is the finer residential part of the city, and the citizens, like those of the Pennsylvania and Ohio cities just mentioned, reach the level or business elevators by means of the many outdoor elevators or "ascensors."

The waters of Valparaiso harbor are so deep that breakwaters have been built only with the greatest difficulty. Instead of the ordinary blocks of concrete or stone, great hollow cement cubes, measuring 50 feet from corner to corner, are cast on shore, towed into position, and sunk by filling them with stones. Such a breakwater gully might have descended in his tale of the Braiding-nagians.

Photograph Clock.

Little clocks and big clocks, slow clicks and fast clicks, grandfathers and o'berwise, take a back seat before the twentieth century timepiece invention, just hot from the operating room. This clock "speaks for itself."

Neither did our hands appear: the works are contained in a neat oblong box, measuring 10 inches in height by 10 in width and 3 inches deep. A handle appears at the side for winding purposes. A voice record is carried on a band of film, this band being very similar to the standard motion-picture film. A phonograph reproducer is used to translate the latent sound record into actual sounds. Precisely on the stroke of each quarter of an hour, the voice announces the correct time in deep, bell-like tones. A hidden button, on being pressed, will cause the hidden voice to repeat the time; while another button quenches its ardor very effectively.

A Disease, Probably.

"Don't you think bolshevism is largely a state of mind?" asked Mr. Gadspur.

"No," said Mr. Dubwaite. "I don't believe a mere state of mind could make people talk and act the way bolsheviks do. It must be constitutional."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Living.

"The cost of living is coming down." "So I've heard," said Farmer Corn-tassel, "but cheaper food won't solve the expense problem for folks who don't believe they are living unless they attend all the parties and see all the motion pictures."

For a Severe Cold

"Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured my daughter, Anna, of a severe cold and cough a few years ago, and ever since then I have never missed an opportunity to recommend this medicine to anyone suffering from throat or lung troubles. I cannot speak too highly in praise of it." writes Mrs. D. J. Shady, Earlville, N. Y. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no narcotics and may be given to children with perfect confidence. It is a pleasant remedy, so they do not object to taking it.

SIAMESE RULER IS SUPREME

Rama VI Perhaps the Most Absolute Monarch That is Left on This Old Earth.

You forget, when you are in London, that you are in the king's capital. You forget it in every king's capital in the world—except Bangkok, Siam.

I had not been in my hotel for half an hour when I heard whistles blowing and bells ringing and trumpets sounding strange fanfares. I asked my "boy" (the name with my hotel room and was my shadow during my entire stay in Siam) what the noise signified. He knelt down and put his hands pliously together, as custom decrees that a servant must do when addressing a superior, and made me understand in his queer, pidgin-English that the king was passing by.

Later, I came to know that the passing of the king was not a rare occurrence. Often the trumpets announced him two or three times a day, as he took the route to or from the golden-roofed palace in the center of the city and the audience hall two miles distant. Every time he passed, the highway was lined with a crowd eager to pay homage. For in Bangkok, a king is a reality, not the mere figurehead that he has come to be in most other countries.

The hotel at which I stopped was owned by the king. So, I found, was everything else in Siam, including the inhabitants, body and soul. Rama VI—Oxford graduate, playwright, poet and keen administrator—is perhaps the most absolute of all the monarchs left on earth. (He does not appear in the Siamese archives as Rama VI. His real name, with his titles, is Somdet Phra Paramendit Maha Vajiravudh Phra Mongkut Klao. But for the sake of convenience, foreigners call him Rama VI.)

Rama VI is an autocrat, but his government, strangely enough, is more like an advanced state socialism than anything else. The state owns the main lines of the railways, the oil fields, the forests and the mines. The street cars and the water works and the lighting system of Bangkok are state property. Of course the state is the king. But the king draws a very firm, straight line between his rights as an individual and his rights as the head of the government, and governs for his people more truly than does many an elected executive. He is democratic in spirit. I know of just one act of his that might be called tyrannical—his recent order that the women of Siam must let their hair grow long.—Florence Burgess Meekam in Asia Magazine.

Biblical Truths Revealed.

Work by archeologists has thrown a great flood of light and rich understanding on the Bible.

This point was emphasized by Josiah Pennington, acting president of the University of Pennsylvania, in a recent address on the literary background of the Bible.

"Their discoveries of records do not confirm the Bible," he said, "for it needs no confirming, but they give us a clearer understanding of the Bible."

The story of the prodigal son was cited by Doctor Pennington as one example. When it is known that the laws at that time made it possible for a young man to ask for and receive his inheritance, and to go "into a far country," the story is more clearly understood.

Records have been unearthed which show that the selling of Joseph to the caravan of merchants bound for Egypt was one of many similar transactions that happened along this road.

The greatest literary background of the New Testament is the Old Testament, said the speaker, but there are a number of books, among them the "Wisdom of Solomon" and the "Last Days of David," which throw a profound light on the parables and incidents recorded in the New Testament.

Smugglers in Clover.

Smuggling over the Dutch and Danish frontiers, which the German government had gone to great efforts to suppress, again is flourishing "on a colossal scale," and at some points with the full knowledge and connivance of many government officials, according to reports.

Smugglers are declared to be outbidding the government for the aid of dishonest officials, and the "veritable army of customs officers on the border have permitted millions of marks' worth of tobacco, cigarettes, coffee and sugar to cross the border duty free within the last few months."

Flying squadrons of customs officers have been organized by the government to catch the smugglers, who are said to have so thoroughly systematized their operations that "customs receipts are rapidly falling back to nothing, for custom control is again only on paper."

Women Rat Catchers.

The latest sphere of women's activities is rat-catching!

Two women at Red Shanks, France, caught 28 rats in one morning. Wearing suitable clothing and accompanied by two dogs, the woman rat-catchers attend at farms where threshing is in progress. It is said that the women enjoy their job and that the farmers are enthusiastic in their praise.—London Times.

CANTON REPUBLICANS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP

The entire Republican ticket in Canton township was elected, Monday, with good majorities. The vote on the community nurse proposition lost out by two votes. The soldiers' bonus proposition won by more than three to one. There were 140 straight Republican votes cast, and 38 straight Democrat. The vote for each candidate was as follows:

Table listing candidates and their vote counts for various positions including Supervisor, Justice of the Peace, Highway Commissioner, and Constables.

Baptist Notes

The pastor's sermon last Sunday morning was on "The Ascension of Jesus Christ."

The report of Mrs. Daily and her daughter, Sarah, of the B. Y. P. U. and Sunday-school convention at Bay City, was enjoyed by all the Sunday-school. A vote of thanks was given for the splendid report of both; also a vote of thanks was given to the committee who had charge of the Easter services.

Charence Grimm led the B. Y. P. U., last Sunday night. He urged the young people to make good preparation for life's work, and especially for christian work. The church needs consecrated bible christian young people.

Quite a number of young people from Walled Lake came over for the evening service.

You'll Save Money by remodeling now...

You who have been waiting for lower prices before you laid that hardwood floor, renewed those old walls and ceilings, re-roofed the house or barn, or built the garage—this message is directed to you.

Do you know that lumber and building material prices are down forty per cent?

Do you know that you can repair or remodel cheaper than at any time in the past five years?

Do you realize that every day you wait not only inconvenience you but costs you real money?

Building material prices may come down more—we think not—but every day you delay in getting the new garage deprives you of the use of it, and causes you to pay out money for garage rent.

Every day you delay roofing the barn and the home, makes your property more liable to damage from storm. Every day you put off inside repairs the trouble increases and the total expense becomes greater.

Do your repairing and remodeling at the present bargain prices and get the benefit now.

Come in today and let us figure your job. Begin getting the benefit now.

EVE WAS JEALOUS

Kabyles' Version of Tragedy in the Garden of Eden.

Serpent Said to Have Used Mirror to Induce Woman to Partake of Forbidden Fruit.

The Kabyles of northern Africa are an independent people—as mountain climbers are apt to be. They are not Arabs, and are far superior in honesty and integrity to the Arabs of Algeria.

Kabyle women go unveiled and enjoy considerable freedom. The people as a whole are said to be descended from north European races, perhaps remotely the same from which came the ancestors of our own Pilgrim Fathers. They are white, fresh-skinned folk, often blonde.

At one time they were Christians. Now, although they are nominally Mohammedans, they still retain many Christian customs, and their legends abound in curious distortions of Bible tales.

They have a peculiar version as to how Eve came to eat the apple. The serpent asked Eve if she knew the real reason why the fruit of the apple tree had been forbidden her. She was all curiosity at once. "So cause," explained the serpent, "the apples are wanted for Adam's second wife."

Eve was sure he was lying—for was not she the only woman in the world? "No," said the serpent, "you are not. Come to the corner of the garden tomorrow and I will show you another woman." The next day she came to the place appointed.

The serpent held up the world's first mirror and Eve looked through the bushes into the mirror and saw what she supposed was another woman. In a rage of jealousy Eve went and ate the apple.

Such warped versions of the Bible are slowly being corrected nowadays by all too few Christian missionaries. One athletic, cliff-climbing preacher has told the story so constantly that he has been called the "Lord Jesus man"—or "Lord Jesus" for short.

In a certain village he has a special Kabyle friend called Moses. So when he visits this particular village, everyone calls to him, "Hello, Lord Jesus, are you going to the house of Moses?"

He is a good tooth puller and a fair physician and combines these arts with his preaching.

Although a learned man, he makes himself a friend of the people and will help a man catch an errant goat, or sit down with a family in a cobblestone hut and eat with them a meal of "ous-cous, acorns and thrushes' brains as easily as he will lecture before a learned society on the etymology of the Berbers.—Willard Price, in the Christian Herald.

First Phonograph Disk

The first phonographic disk is still in existence, in the Smithsonian Institution at Washington. It was made in 1887, by Emil Berliner, and the first song sung on a phonographic disk was "The Sweetest Story Ever Told."

The original disk that Berliner experimented with is of glass. A coat of soot was rubbed over the surface. The revolution of the machine caused the needle to scratch the sound into the glass, and thus make lines. Thus the voice of a person singing into the horn was recorded. From it a zinc disk was then made, and a copper matrix was the next step. From the matrix all records were cast. Thirty-four years ago all finished records were of rubber. Today the finished record is made of various chemical compositions, with a good proportion of rubber.

There were five steps in casting the first disks, whereas today only three steps are necessary. First, there is the wax disk, which records the voice. Then the matrix is cast, and finally the complete record.

To Increase Goats' Milk

Milk goat experiments in grading up from native and grade Toggenburg and Saanen does with purebred Swiss bucks, begun in 1911, were continued last year by the United States Department of Agriculture, at the government experimental farm at Beltsville, Md. The flock comprises 20 does and eight kids of one-half, three-fourths, seven-eighths and fifteen-sixteenths blood. The average daily milk yield per doe in 1919 was 3.92 pounds, an increase of 2.42 pounds over the yield of the ten selected native does which formed the foundation stock of the herd. The highest milk yield for an individual doe in one day is 8.8 pounds. For 1919 the flock showed an average of 3.7 per cent butterfat.

Never Waste

Caution against wastefulness as practiced by many persons is apt to show itself regardless of time or place. Pedestrians attempting to round one of the busiest downtown street corners in Indianapolis recently found their path blocked by a little shawl-clad woman whose very dress and manner bespoke thrift. She was picking up a pin.

THE THEATRE

Wesley Barry's debut on the screen as a star in "Dinty," which is the attraction at the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday evening, April 9th, is the crowning achievement of the freckle-faced youngster's meteoric career and a triumph for that wizard of the silent drama, Marshall Neilan, who created and produced this remarkable photoplay. As "Dinty" O'Sullivan, a fighting San Francisco newsboy, young Barry, under the masterful direction of Neilan, has completely captivated his audiences. In his own inimitable way he brings out the tears and laughs at will. There is a touch of pathos in Neilan's fascinating story when Dinty loses his old Irish mother, but for the most part it is brimming over with humor, a pretty romance and thrilling adventure constituting the backbone of the plot.

Lavish costumes, pretty ladies and luxurious surroundings are characteristics of "The Fighting Chance," the big motion picture version of Robert W. Chambers' famous novel, which will be on view at Penniman Allen theatre, Tuesday evening, April 12. New York society, both in the city and vacationing in the country, forms the background for the story, which centers around Stephen Sward, young descendant of a long line of alcoholic ancestors, and pretty Sylvia Landis, who constantly fears that her love for the unconventional will involve her into scandal, or worse. The two agree to unite in their battles against their weaker natures, and the result is a highly interesting series of dramatic events, which finally ends happily.

An experiment which will no doubt be adopted by all producers within a short time, was successfully tried out in the technical department of the Charles Ray studio during the filming of "Peaceful Valley," which will be the attraction at the Penniman Allen theatre, Thursday evening, April 14. This was the blending of the art and technical departments so that the directors of these two departments will work in tandem. Clarence DeWitt and Robert Bennett, art and technical directors, were appointed technical supervisors, and the new plan eliminated much lost motion and resulted in more harmonious production.

IN OLD TIPPERARY

Valley of Slieve-na-Mon Land Rich in Historic Interest.

Long Famed as a Storehouse of Folklore and Fairy Legends—On Devil's Bit Mountain.

Recent news dispatches from Ireland contained the story of an ambush and battle between Sinn Feiners and crown forces in the Slieve-na-mon country, County Tipperary.

To those who have read and studied the history of Ireland the name will strike a familiar chord.

The valley of Slieve-na-mon is a country rich in historical interest. Many of the stirring events which grace the annals of Irish history have been enacted there. Perhaps in no other section of southern Ireland will you find such a wealth of historic events, such a storehouse of folklore and fairy legends and such typically Irish people as you will find in this section.

It was here in 1848 that Smith O'Brien and the Young Irish party gathered their forces; it was here a pitched battle took place between them and the royal Irish constabulary and the British military, and it was here occurred many of the stirring events of the Fenian rebellion.

The valley of Slieve-na-mon is so called from the mountain of that name which at times towers aloft, cold dark and repellent, but when clothed in the soft gray mists of early morning or bathed in the glamor of an Irish sunset is truly a sight to gladden the senses. The valley embraces part of that section of Tipperary called the Golden vale of Munster, said to be the richest farming land in all Ireland.

Away to the northeast is the famous Devil's Bit mountain, another of the Galtee range. It was on this Mountain that Cromwell is said to have stood when he turned to his soldiers and said: "This is indeed a land well worth fighting for."

The sides of the mountain are very steep and the climb a hard one, but the view well repays for the trouble. Away to the north a vision of wonderful blue hills and little green valleys, and afar off a glimpse of the lordly Shannon and to the south the beautiful Golden vale dotted over with little whitewashed cottages and farmhouses. Further south is the famous Rock of Cashel, the seat of the kings of Munster, a very interesting series of ruins and well worthy a visit.

There is a story attached to every place of note in Ireland, and it goes without saying that the Devil's Bit has one. If you visit any of the peasant homes in the valley, the woman of the house will tell you this story as she bustles about preparing you a cup of tea:

One day, the devil, through mistake, landed in the Emerald Isle and, having lost his way, became very hungry. He dare not enter any peasant's cabin and ask for food or shelter, for he knew that few and far between were the homes where a little wooden cross was not hanging on the wall.

He sat down at the foot of the mountain a while and was sorely troubled. But on looking up he saw a goat making his way up the rough mountain side and instantly he was on his feet. He started in hot pursuit, but the goat being very nimble, as are most of his kind, seemed to be getting the best of the race.

Enraged with fear of losing his prey the ruler of the lower regions let out a terrific roar, and opening his huge mouth, bit a hole out of the mountain side. And the "bit" is there today to show itself. And if you are a doubting Thomas, you will find the rocks which he could not swallow scattered over the mountain side, some of them large enough to build a good-sized house.

Wonderful Farm Machinery.
The first mower was invented in 1832, but few were used for many years. Now one man with the average mower can cut 12 to 15 acres in a day, instead of two with a scythe. The cost of handling is vastly reduced with the use of the present side-delivery rake, self-loader and hay fork for unloading.

In 1834 the reaper was invented but did not come into general use for 20 years after. Then came the self-rake harvester, and the self-binder. The modern self-binder with one man and three horses can cut and bind as much grain in a day as 15 men could do in 1840. Even greater efficiency is secured in very dry sections where the combined harvester is used, which cuts, threshes and sacks the grain in one operation.

Pennsylvania's Good Record.
The state of Pennsylvania owns 1,100,000 acres of land and there is half as much yet suitable for tree-growing that the state should own, says the Chicago Journal. The state maintains 2,000 fire wardens, 16 steel lookout fire towers and 175 buildings which have been erected or put in condition for use by the state fire department. The commonwealth's investment in forest lands has netted for it $3,000,000.

Philippines Like Electricity.
Applying characteristic American methods to the development of electric service in Manila, P. I., now a city of 250,000 people, the local electric light and power company supplies some 12,000 customers.

Life seems short to every Plymouth married man except the one who has to wait for his wife to change her dress.

They Speak Well of It
"I frequently hear Chamberlain's Cough Remedy praised by friends and acquaintances, which only tends to strengthen my good opinion of it," writes Mrs. Fred Arter, Zanesville, Ohio. "Try it when you have a cough or cold and see for yourself what an excellent medicine it is.—Advt."

SUNK BANK'S MONEY IN WELL

How Gold Belonging to Georgia Financial Institution Was Kept Out of Sherman's Hands.

How the money of the State Bank of Georgia was successfully hidden during Sherman's march to the sea, and how the entire sum, which was between $150,000 and $200,000, was returned to the bank virtually intact, makes a strange story. An old scribbler sends us the tale.

On the evening of November 23, 1864, Wallace Cumming, cashier of the Bank at Savannah, was ordered to take the money out of danger, for Sherman was approaching the city. Cumming's wife, who subsequently wrote the story of the adventure for her grandchildren, accompanied him on a special train that was hurrying to cross the Altamaha river before the southern troops cut the bridge. The gold was packed in mill kegs. At Thomasville they hired an empty store and placed the kegs of gold there. Jerry, one of Cumming's servants, took turns with a man named Ross in guarding the store at night.

Later they transported the money to Macon, where the State bank had a branch office. In April, 1865, news came that another federal force was making its way southward, and what to do with the money became again an anxious question.

Finally they decided to wear what gold they could, bury some and sink the rest in a deep well. Each member of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nesbit, with whom the Cumming family had lived for six months, wore wide belts made of heavy linen, which they had stitched full of $20 gold pieces. That of course took care of a comparatively small sum. Every day Mr. Cumming made several trips between the house and the bank, and on each trip came home loaded with money. Nesbit, who owned a large iron foundry, cast a long, round iron bar, about the width of a $20 gold piece, and sharpened at one end. One night Nesbit and Cumming went out into the front yard, which was a mass of rosebushes in full bloom. They thrust the rod down close to the roots of a bush and as deep as their united strength could sink it; then they filled the hole with gold eagles, which they dropped in one by one, and threw loose earth over the top. In that way they buried between $30,000 and $40,000; and they kept a record of how much was buried under each rosebush.

The rest of the money they sewed up in little bags, which they placed in boxes and let down into a deep well. Three days after the gold was buried the Yankee army took possession of Macon and seized the assets of two or three other banks in Savannah. Cumming was captured, but all that the army found in his vault was several barrels of Confederate money and a few hundred dollars in silver that he had not had time to hide.

The money remained in the garden and in the well more than two years, and all of it was recovered and returned to the bank at Savannah except one small package of gold $1 pieces, which was lost in the mud and water.—Youth's Companion.

Hard Fate of Brilliant Woman.

French newspapers are making terrible revelations of the poverty in which many of the greatest French savants are found to live.

The first woman doctor to practice medicine in France, Mme. Madeleine Bres, has just been discovered by the newspapers living in extreme poverty and completely blind. She is 82 years old.

Mme. Bres was a poor man's child, and when a child was employed in the hospital conducted by the Sisters of Charity at Nimes. When she was 15 years old she married a bus conductor, who was jealous of her attainments. After marriage she took lessons in Latin and gained her degree at 28. Later, by special intervention of the Empress Eugenie, she was enabled to attend examinations in medicine and study under the most noted French physicians.

After practicing for 50 years, however, her sight failed and for some years she had lived on the verge of starvation, refusing the invitation of the public charity authorities to enter the paupers' home.—London Herald.

Not Needed.

A certain Democratic candidate for a state office in the last election tells a story on himself, and he evidently appreciates the humor in it, now.

"I was billed for a speech at a county seat," his story goes, "and the Republican county chairman saw my announcement. He immediately wired to his state speakers' committee: 'Send one of the best speakers you have for Thursday night. So-and-so is to speak here the night before.'"

"I went to the town and made my speech. The next day the Republican county chairman wired his speakers' bureau: 'Cancel all arrangements for meeting tonight. It is not needed now.'—Indianapolis News.

Today's Reflections

A whole lot of scenery in this section would be a good deal more attractive if we didn't have to watch the ruts in the road.

No sensible Plymouth man would swear to the foolish things he said during courtship, and no sensible woman would want him to.

Maybe the reason those 15,000,000 immigrants didn't come to the U. S., as it was reported they were to do, was because they heard we were sending free grub over there already.

We see a lot of citizens around Plymouth upon whom prosperity is smiling, but it looks as though she's giving the most of us the horse laugh.

If you want to see the value of anything climb, then just make that thing difficult to secure.

Debs went from prison to Washington unattended. That isn't hard to do if your railroad fare is paid by somebody else.

If moving pictures cause all the trouble, what caused it before we had moving pictures.

Most of us are glad that we lived in the old days when you could kiss a girl and not taste anything but girl.

There are two good reasons why a sensible Plymouth man never lies to his wife. One he knows it's wrong and the other is he knows she isn't going to believe him anyhow.

It is mighty encouraging to note that the great American hen is once more back on a normal basis of production.

Many a Plymouth man goes broke letting his wife have the money—rather than argue with her and lose both argument and money.

Maybe sometime a smart legislator will figure it out so we can make a dollar without having to pay $1.09 tax on it.

It's human nature to borrow—and it's just as much human nature to forget to take it back.

We sometimes feel confident that more Plymouth men would join the church if it had some sort of a secret pass-word and a grip.

Relieves Rheumatic Pains

"I am subject to rheumatism and when I have a spell of it one or two applications of Chamberlain's Liniment relieves the pain and makes rest and sleep possible. I would not think of doing without it." writes Mrs. O. Owaley, Moberly, Mo.—Advt.

EXIST AS OF OLD

Persians Far Behind on the Road of Civilization.

Country May Be Said to Have Made No Progress Since Dawn of the Christian Era.

The next time I see a railway system I am going to make a deep salaam to it—even if it is government owned. Picture a country almost three times the size of France without any railroad to speak of. If you could float over that territory you would see most of the people living exactly as their ancestors did in the centuries before Christ.

In seed time you would see men plowing with one hand, two oxen and what looks like a piece of crooked stick, writes Maude Rufford Warren in the Saturday Evening Post. In harvest time you would see the oxen trampling out the wheat from the chaff. You would see mills consisting of a couple of stones and a stream of water. You would discover in this vast area only one waterway, no rivers to speak of, and but four main roads. Of these four only two are fully practicable for vehicles, and even they do not equal third-class European roads. They were made or repaired by foreigners. On them you may see a few motor cars, also imported by foreigners. And by no means do they travel with the ease and cheapness of the cars of the West. There is a good telegraph system, but letters nowadays take weeks and even months to travel from one side of the country to another.

You would see no real mines of coal or copper, no quarries, no cotton mills or clothing factories, no foundries or machine shops, no big electrical installations; none of the modern improvements that we westerners consider essential to prevent stagnation. It is medieval, this land, as no country can possibly be nowadays that has railways, with all which that connotes. Here time does not matter; nothing matters. There is but little sense of isolation, little consciousness of backwardness, little urge of progress, little realization of the necessity of surveying the country to find out its resources, little moral obligation to develop all powers and promises.

Sometimes resources are not even conserved. Wood is appallingly scarce and coal seventy-odd dollars a ton, and yet many who cut down trees do not replant. The industries are simple—copper and brass work, silk collecting, tanning, rug weaving, dyeing. The one great industry, oil wells, is under the control of foreign power. And if the tentative observations of outsiders are to be trusted, the country is amazingly rich in oils, in minerals, including coal and iron, and in parts its agricultural products are abundant and of first quality. It is Persia.

Mystery Grass.
In England a mysterious grass which grows in muddy flat land and bears the name of Spartina Townsendi, is giving the scientists "furious to think" just at the moment. This reedlike grass was first observed in 1870 in Southampton Water, but for many years it attracted little attention except from botanists. Lately, however, it has started to grow at a positively alarming rate. It has spread rapidly over the mud-flats about its place of origin, until now it occupies dozens of square miles. It has a remarkable capacity for holding mud, and in this respect it acts as a protector of the coast-line and a reclaiming of land. This is all right in some districts. On the other hand, in such places as Poole Harbor the channels are in danger of becoming choked by it, because by matting the mud together it prevents the scour of the tide from carrying it out to sea. If this danger can be counteracted, the new grass may be useful as a food for stock and as raw material for paper.

Improved Fuel Oil Engine.
A Louisiana inventor has succeeded in developing a new fuel oil engine of semi-Diesel design, in which the excessively high compressions of this type are eliminated, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Owing to the use of an improved fuel-injection jet and a method of preheating the oil, it is claimed that the power impulses are smooth expansions rather than abrupt, racking explosions, and that, for this reason, the engine can be built lighter than existing models of heavy oil burners, making it suitable for installation in passenger automobiles and motortrucks.

Schools and Museum Co-operate.
Natural history study in Cleveland, O., will be enhanced by affiliation of the public schools with the museum of natural history to be established in that city. At consultations of the museum director, the superintendent of schools and the staff of each, tentative plans were formed by which the resources of the museum may be utilized by the school children. The museum probably will not be built for two or three years.

TWO FAMOUS YANKEE SHIPS

Old Gunboat Marblehead and Cutter Bear, in Humble Service, Still Are "Making Good."

Trading along the west Mexican coast carrying paucoha, hides, bees-wax and other freight is the fate of the once proud American gunboat Marblehead.

The vessel has been sold to Jose Delaliva, a Mazatlan ship operator, by the United States government for a few thousand Mexican dollars. Delaliva has renamed the Marblehead the Aguc Prieta.

"Thus passes the old 'pepperbox,'" Capt. Bowman H. McCalla's ship of Spanish war fame, with a proud record of achievement right up to the days of the last Victory loan drive, when the Marblehead left San Francisco as the navy's "victory ship," remarks Our Navy.

The announcement of coast guard authorities that the U. S. C. G. cutter Bear probably never will sail into the North again marks a sharp turn in the history of one of the most famous adventure ships flying the American flag.

After more than two-score years of battling with ice fogs and arctic gales, the Bear is under orders to make San Diego her base and serve as a training ship for coast guard recruits.

Since the Bear, in charge of Commodore Schley, later admiral, rescued the seven survivors of the Greeley arctic expedition in 1884 she has been devoted to service in the northern seas with the navy, the frontier revenue service and in recent years as part of the coast guard fleet. She was built in Scotland in 1874 as a whaler and sealer.

The full story of her career would constitute a library of stirring tales. Among her many duties she has kept watch and ward over the Eskimos, carried the law to the shores where Klipping said no law extended, protected the fur-seal herd from poachers of the "Sea Wolf" type, and given the sanction of the white man's standards to marriages beyond the arctic circle.

Natives, teachers, missionaries, traders and marines in the North have for a generation regarded the annual cruise of the Bear as a routine part of their existence.

Not a season has passed—including the present one—that the Bear has not saved lives by imperative operations performed in her sick bay, by the rescue of marooned or shipwrecked crews or by landing provisions to the inhabitants of isolated shores.

Reforestation of the Plains.
In the state of Nebraska there are twenty thousand square miles of country that is absolutely treeless. The soil is nothing but sand on which no plant grows except a long grass that is good for grazing. Anciently, perhaps seven million years ago, the area in question was part of the floor of a sea. Hence, of course, the sand. But within comparatively recent times the region must have been forested, for here and there are discovered stumps of trees as much as two feet in diameter.

Discovery of these old stumps led the United States forest service to believe that trees might be made to grow there again. Accordingly, the experiment was begun about eighteen years ago, and as a result, about five thousand acres of young forest have been successfully established. Some of the trees today are as much as twenty-five feet high.

The trees planted in this area are all of them of coniferous varieties—jack pine, Norway pine and yellow pine. At Halsey, Neb., is maintained a nursery, which produces two million of these little trees each year. For planting them, a novel method is adopted. Instead of setting each little tree in a hole by itself, a plow is run along through the sand, and the baby trees are planted in a row in the furrow.

GIRLS OF WHOM TO BEWARE

Japanese "Widowed Physician" Hands Out Some Words of Caution to Susceptible Male Sex.

In "What to Tell Our Grown-Up Sons About Women," a pamphlet which calls himself "The Widowed Physician," has made a list of the things he dislikes in girls. He admits that he deals with "objectionable characteristics," but dismisses the criticism that he fails to indicate positive virtues by saying that "the nice youth needs no qualities of the opposite sex."

Beware of the girl who manures her nails to the shape of a claw. I do not know why, but beware of them.

Beware of girls who prefer to dress in purple or scarlet colors.

Beware of girls who are heavily scented.

Beware of the girl who is too obviously modest and demure. She dithers too much.

Beware of the girl with low, sloping forehead and dry, straight, coarse, jet-like hair. Any experienced magistrate will tell you that this type of woman frequently summons her husband for assault and battery.

Beware of the intensely religious girl. She does not mean to be dangerous, but the fact that she is so devout indicates that she possesses an unbalanced temperament.

Beware of the girl who slides up to you, or lays hands on you; or comes so close to you as to lead you readily to lay hands on her.

Specially beware of "married women" of reputed responsibility, whom you have formerly had every reason to believe in and respect, when these same women, by acts obvious or guarded, show you that they would not object to your being more intimate with them than you know in your own conscience you ought to be.

Beware of the mothers who are anxious as to the future of their daughters.

Beware of the girl who drinks wines freely; she will make a poor wife and a worse mother.

Beware of the girl who dresses in a slovenly, artistic manner.

The "Widowed Physician" recommends two types—the tomboy and the "pert, modern, self-sufficient learned young woman." He adds: "She would sharpen your wits every time."

Artificial Limbs of Metal. At St. Thomas' hospital, London, Dr. Alfred M. Corner, one of the most famous surgeons in England, has been conducting experiments with light metal artificial limbs on soldiers who had lost limbs during the war and whose recovery had been slow. These show that about 60 per cent of light amputations can advantageously be fitted with light artificial limbs with which the men are able to work with less fatigue and more satisfaction.

WENT UP IN RECORD TIME

Comfortable House That Was Begun and Practically Completed in a Single Day.

A farmer in one of the Middle Western states bought material for house and then discovered that for lack of means he could not go on with it. The stuff lay on the ground for months, when one day a generous thought came into the mind of a contracting builder. He called his men around him and asked for volunteers to build the farmer's cottage, telling them he would undertake to do it within one day if they would contribute their work. Twenty-six carpenters, masons and painters agreed, on the condition that the farmer would furnish a chicken dinner, and a time was fixed for all to report at the site of the proposed building.

Every man appeared on time and all went at once to work. Each worker was assigned to a particular part, and the house began to go up with a rush. When noon came the framework was all up and the chimney was started.

Then came dinner. The wife of the farmer had fried two dozen chickens. There were ten loaves of bread, four dozen ears of corn and neatly a bushel of mashed potatoes. The dessert consisted of cherry cobbler and various kinds of pie. The contractor had to call off his men for fear they would eat so much they would not be able to finish the job.

The hurry began again. Before the roof was on the plasterers were at work, and at exactly six o'clock the cottage was finished, all but the second coat of paint and the skim plaster, neither of which could be put on before the first coat dried. Everything else, even to putting on the locks and hinges, was done before the men were called off, and done well.

The contractor complimented his men when the job was complete. He said that although he had done "hurry" work before, he had never known a house to be begun and completed in a day.

Magnesium in Alloys

Magnesium in massive form, as sticks or rods, is used to deoxidize other metals in foundries and is a constituent of alloys. More magnesium is now used as a deoxidizer or scavenger in metallurgy than for any other purpose, but its employment in alloys is increasing and may eventually become the largest one. An alloy of magnesium and aluminum is used in making castings for aircraft engines and parts of airplanes. The skeleton of the British airship R-34, the first dirigible to cross the Atlantic, is an alloy of aluminum and magnesium, and the yacht Resolute, the defender of the America's cup in the races in July, 1920, as well as the alternative defender the Vanite, carried gains made of this alloy.

W. C. T. U.

The meeting of March 31st, held at the home of Mrs. Arthur White, was a very pleasant one, about thirty-five being present. A very pleasing program was given by the young people and was much enjoyed.

The annual meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church on April 14, beginning at two o'clock.

At the meeting held on March 17, it was voted to raise the annual dues to one dollar per year, so please come to the meeting next Thursday with your dollar ready. A dollar is not too much for the yearly dues. Every other society, lodge and club have far higher dues and no greater benefits.

A few have not yet paid last year's dues. Let us have the book all straightened up at the annual meeting and start the next year clear. Each member is permitted to bring a guest, and if that guest will become a member we shall all be very glad. Our motto for this year is, "Every member win a member," so try to get a new member if you can. Be sure and come to the Presbyterian church, April 14. Everybody! Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

NOTICE There are numbers of small boys this spring who evidently think that the Fourth of July is several months long. The number of cap pistols and caps being used now is beyond the limits of reason. After this week if boys are found with pistols or caps in the village, the pistols and caps will be taken up by the police and kept until just before the Fourth of July.

LEGION HIKERS ARE GREETED

Two California Ex-service Men Report Cordial Treatment by Posts of the Southwest.

The hospitality of the Southwest is reflected in its American Legion posts, according to Van W. Bishop and C. G. Allison, California Legionnaires who are well on their way on a little walk from Los Angeles, Cal., to Mexico City, Mexico, a distance of more than 1,500 miles. Bishop belongs to Los Angeles Post No. 8, and Allison to Irwin Post No. 83 of San Francisco.

Wary with tramping the dusty kilometers and burdened with packs and other impedimenta, the archers found rest at a number of Legion posts along the way, according to a letter received from them by the adjutant of the Los Angeles post.

"The posts of the American Legion in the towns where we have stopped have treated us royally. Legion members at Yuma, Ariz., started the good things for us. Then Tucson post fixed us up for two days in a room fitted with bunks for the accommodation of a few fellows who come in and want a place to stay.

"Our next stop was at Bisbee for three days. They have a regular home with several rooms and a sleeping porch. A number of the fellows make their home at the club. We arrived in time to attend the funeral of one of the boys brought back from 'over there.' Now, we are at Douglas, where Legion post officers obtained quarters for us. Our plan is to enter Mexico at El Paso or Laredo, Tex."

Foreign posts have been formed at Buenos Aires, Argentine; Brussels, Belgium; Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Montreal, Canada; Chungking, China; Hsinan, Cuba; London, England; Guatemala City, Guatemala; Paris, La Rochelle and Gievres, France; Cologne, Germany; Tokyo, Yokohama and Kobe, Japan; Mexico City and Tampico, Mexico; Carro de Pases, Peru; Balboa, Cristobal and Gatun, Panama; Warsaw, Poland, and Santo Domingo, Santo Domingo.

An A. E. F. play library has been opened for the use of posts of the American Legion, which produce plays for home talent production. The musical comedy, "Sittin' Pretty" is one of the feature plays now offered to posts. It tells the story of a dough-boy who poses as a girl welfare worker in France, saves a party of A. W. O. L. soldiers from court martial, chaplains two charming daughters of a French nobleman, and saves the boys from drowning in the River Cognac. The address of the bureau is A. E. F. With her strange antics, Anne is in hot water most of her time, and keeps the villagers there, too. The picture is full of wholesome laughs, such as when Anne picks up the skunk thinking it a nice black kitty and breaks up the Sunday school picnic.
