HIGHWAY WORK MAKES RECORD

WAYNE MILEAGE TO DATE AHEAD OF FORMER YEARS; CAISSONS FOR BRIDGES READY.

Excellent weather, plenty of rail-road cars, an abundance of materials and efficient labor have worked together this summer to give Wayne county a considerable amount of new improved road at an earlier date than has been possible in several years, Edward N. Hines, county road commissioner, said Monday.

"This was the first summer in my long career that we had all these advantages," Mr. Hines said. "This has resulted in an unusual amount of completed mileage early in the season."

The new concrete road connecting Oakwood with Dearborn has been completed, Mr. Hines said. This road is 24 feet wide, 36 feet overall, on a 100-foot right-of-way. It is a heavy truck road, offering facilities for hauling heavy freight and passengers from the industries in Dearborn to the plants on River Rouge. This stretch will be opened for traffic about August 15th.

There still exists an uncompleted gap in the village of Oakwood, for which a contract has been let by the village. This stretch is expected to be completed shortly.

The crew from this work has been moved to the Telegraph road to improve a 14-mile stretch between Flat Rock and Michigan avenue. Two crews are working on this stretch at present, and about ten miles are expected to be completed this year. The improvement is to be of concrete, 20 feet wide. It is one of the federal aid jobs.

The crew working south of Belleville on the Sumpter road will complete the stretch of six miles of foot concrete road at the end of this week, Mr. Hines predicted.

It will then be moved to Willow village, near the Monroe county line, in Huron township, where it will build a concrete road to connect the Sumpter road on the west and the Huron River drive on the east and north. This village has no outlet at present.

The improvement on the Warren avenue road has been completed, and the road opened for two miles west of Wayne village. Work has been started again at the Canton Center road. The crew now is working back toward the Pere Marquette tracks. The road commissioners expect three miles of this stretch to be completed this month. It is of concrete, 18 feet wide.

When this job is complete the crew will be moved to Cherry Hill, Wash-tenaw county line, and work back to Canton Center road, completing the entire stretch in Wayne county.

Mr. Hines reported good progress on the road in front of the Detroit house of correction farm, between Northville and Plymouth townships. Much of this is being done by prisoners. Only the grading will be undertaken this year.

The caissons for the big bascule bridge on the River Rouge, at Jefferson avenue, have been completed, and the men are now busy putting down the pits. Work of sinking the caissons for the Fort street bridge, over the River Rouge, will be started within a few days.

These caissons have been sunk for 86 feet, an unusual depth in this part of the country. This is explained by the need of efficient and hardy foundation for the heavy type of bridges to be constructed.—Detroit Free Press.

RED CROSS WORKERS BUSY

The Red Cross work rooms were opened in the domestic science art room on the second floor of the school building last Monday afternoon. Considering the extreme warm weather, there has indeed been a generous response to the call for workers. Many who are unable to come to the work room are taking the work to their homes. At present time the ladies are working on children's outing flannel gowns, pajamas and babies' layettes. Following is the list of chairmen: Monday, Mrs. Charles Draper; Tuesday, Mrs. William Pettigill; Wednesday, Mrs. H. C. Robinson; Thursday, Mrs. R. O. Mimmack; Friday, Mrs. Albert Gayde. Ladies are requested to bring their own thimble, needle and scissors. If anyone has a sewing machine that they would loan to the Red Cross for the work room, please notify the general chairman, Mrs. C. H. Bennett, or any of the chairmen of the various days. At present the work room will not be opened on Saturday. The women of Plymouth and vicinity are urged to come and help in this worthy cause.

WORK ON PRISON BUILDINGS WILL SOON START

ANNOUNCEMENT HAS BEEN MADE THAT CONSTRUCTION WORK WILL START LATE THIS SUMMER.

According to an article in a recent issue of the Detroit News, the construction work on the permanent buildings at the prison farm of the Detroit House of Correction, west of this village, will begin late this summer. This announcement came through Dr. Charles H. Oakman, president of the board of commissioners.

The board has a prison site of 835 acres, which is just west of this village in Plymouth township. This farm was opened last September, and temporary shacks built to house men. There are now 300 acres under cultivation, and a considerable quantity of produce is being raised to supply the House of Correction.

A new dormitory, also of temporary construction will be completed on the farm in 60 days. It will accommodate 100 men. Dr. Oakman said:

"We are determined to make our new prison farm one of the most sanitary in existence. A chair factory will be built there and long-termers put to work. Those who merit special consideration will be given work on the farm outside the prison walls. Short-termers and first-termers will be segregated from the more hardened criminals."

Supt. Denniston has the construction work of the new canning factory at the prison farm well under way, and will soon be ready to install the machinery and equipment in the new building. There are at present 340 prisoners at the prison farm.

DEATH OF DR. W. R. KNIGHT

He had been in poor health for several years. The doctor practiced dentistry in Plymouth for many years and by his genial and courteous manner toward all, had a host of friends here who will sincerely regret to learn of his death. He leaves besides his wife, a mother and one brother. The funeral was held in Geneva, yesterday afternoon.

We should like the pleasure of cashing this check for you.

While the amount you will receive, in no way represents the balance that is due you from your state and country for the services you rendered, it is still enough money to conserve for some useful purpose.

We therefore suggest that you leave all or part of your check upon deposit with us until you decide just what you will do with it.

Everyone knows times are dull but not all know why!

ROGER W. BABSON—authority on financial conditions says:

That depression and hard times are caused by extravagance, high living, pleasure seeking and forgetfulness of God and neglect of religion and morality.

That the way back to prosperity is by the way of the church, religion and goodness.

That a nation turning to God in humble penitence for sin and extravagance would soon be a prosperous people.

WHAT IT COSTS

According to figures just given out it's going to cost each citizen of the United States the sum of $82 to keep the government running next year. That doesn't mean that every man and woman in Plymouth, for instance, will pay that sum, because not all of them are taxpayers. But it means that those who do pay taxes will have to make up an amount equal to $82 for every man and woman living in this country. This is based on a budget of $5,500,000, which would mean a per capita of about $60. But state and county taxes average up another $22, so it really means a tax of $82 on every citizen to run this government one year. It's a lot of money. There's no getting away from that fact. But when we stop to compare this nation with any of all the others, we're forced to admit that $82 a year is pretty cheap for the privilege of living in the best country on earth.

A MAN-SIZE JOB

Roy Haynes, who has for many years been editing a weekly paper at Hillsboro, Ohio, has been named

U. S. Liquor Commissioner, and will have charge of enforcing the new dry laws. In starting out he says that his work would be much easier if so many people didn't wink at the dry laws—if so many didn't refuse to take them seriously. Coming from a small town, Haynes has doubtless seen a full measure of this, though he must know that the tendency to break the liquor laws is stronger in our larger cities than it is in the rural districts or in towns like Plymouth. He can be assured of pretty close cooperation, we feel sure, from the people of our smaller towns and out in the agricultural districts. His main trouble is going to be found in the cities, where the foreign population is large. But he is what folks generally term a "country editor." And that means that if anyone can hold down the very important job to which he has been appointed, then he can.

ANNUAL REPORT SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 1, FR. PLYMOUTH, MICH. 1920-1921

The annual meeting of the taxpayers of District No. 1, Fractional, Township of Plymouth, was held in the school auditorium on the evening of Monday, July 11, 1921. Meeting was called to order by President Henderson.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved. The secretary then read the financial report for the year just ended. On motion of Miss Lina Durfee, seconded by Mr. Fred Schrader, the report was accepted and adopted.

Nominations were then in order for a trustee to succeed C. H. Bennett, who had been appointed during the year to succeed Fred Bird. Mr. Bennett's name was the only one presented and the taxpayers proceeded to vote by ballot. The chairman appointed George Robinson and M. Willett as tellers. Of 27 votes cast Mr. Bennett received 26, and was declared elected.

Mrs. Ada Murray had been appointed a member of the board during the year to succeed Mrs. Jennie Campbell, deceased. On the next ballot Mrs. Murray was elected to succeed herself, she having received 29 votes out of 29 cast.

Mr. William Sutherland's term had expired. He was nominated to succeed himself. 29 votes were cast, of which Mr. Sutherland received 26. He was declared elected.

The secretary then read the budget figures, which the Board had prepared on July 6th, and which called for a total to be raised by taxation of $45,360.00. Following a short talk by Supt. Smith regarding larger plans for the coming year, the meeting adjourned.

Subscribed and sworn to this 15th day of July, 1921, before me a notary public.

BURTON E. GILES,
Notary Public for Wayne County.
My commission expires January 26, 1926.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES

ITEMS GATHERED HERE AND THERE THAT WILL BE OF INTEREST TO OUR READERS.

Actual work has been commenced on the Novi-Northville-Livonia-Farmington highway.

Wayne's new swimming pool, erected under the direction of the Wayne Moon Club, has been completed.

Former County Clerk, E. O. Smith, who became assistant cashier of the Saline Savings bank, when he retired from office, has resigned his position and returned to Ann Arbor. Mr. Smith expects to engage in business, but will first take a much needed vacation.—South Lyon Herald.

Two members of the state police have been permanently stationed in Wayne and will operate out of this town in the future. The increase in careless and drunken drivers, stolen cars and booze-running in this section are responsible for the placing of the state officers at this point.—Wayne Weekly.

Mrs. E. G. VanDeCar and small daughter of Phoenix, Arizona, arrived last Wednesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dixon, after spending three weeks in Ohio, attending the commencement at Oberlin college, and visiting college friends in Cleveland, Elyria and Akron. She will spend the remainder of the summer with relatives and friends in Northville, Plymouth and Detroit.—Northville Record.

E. J. VerDuyn of Novi, was a Northville business visitor on Monday. When asked regarding the condition of the apple crop in Oakland county he replied that he did not believe there would be 4,000 barrels all told. He has been contracting for a Chicago firm and has about everything spoken for. Upon his own place he said he would not have 150 bushels, when he ought to have harvested 2,000 bushels.—Northville Record.

Maintenance of the Wayne county jail cost $286,873.15 during the fiscal year ended June 30, according to the annual report of the sheriff, Irving J. Coffin, to the secretary of state. Of this sum, $539.45 went for furniture; $2,553.89 for medical attendance for prisoners, and $39,472.41 for repairs. Salaries and fees received by the sheriff and deputies and the sum received for the board of prisoners amounted to $180,049.98. Prisoners kept at the jail during the year numbered 9,872.

Installation of equipment, which has begun at the new Detroit Tuberculosis sanitarium at Northville, will delay the opening of the hospital to patients until the first of October, Dr. Henry F. Vaughn, health commissioner, said Thursday. "The construction of the building is all but finished," said Dr. Vaughn. "There are a few of the floors to be finished, but we have all of the laundry kitchen and other equipment to install." The hospital, when finished, will, it is said, be one of the most modern institutions in the world, located in a fireproof building designed to accommodate 300 patients, built at a cost of $2,000,000. There will be no wards in the sanitarium, unless rooms occupied by three patients are included under the term. Patients confined to their beds will be in rooms by themselves, while those able to be up and around will sleep two or three in a room. Each room will be provided with a porch, which may be used for sleeping purposes when the course of treatment demands outdoor sleeping.—Detroit Free Press.

PRESBYTERIAN PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. J. R. Rauch's class has undertaken the initial payment on the new piano.

Mrs. S. Conger Hathaway and children were in Ann Arbor from Monday to Wednesday last week. D. W. Hathaway of Bassie Creek, returned with them for an extended visit in Plymouth.

Those who expect to be away from Plymouth for several weeks are asked to leave their subscription envelopes with the treasurer, H. J. Green at Dibble's store.

Clarence Stevens of Ann Arbor, was in Plymouth Thursday and Friday of this week.

The new chapel in the basement of the church is proving popular these warm Sundays.

The whole church is being thoroughly cleaned by our excellent caretaker.

THE THEATRE

"The Oath," the E. A. Walsh production for Associated First National Pictures, Inc., which appears at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday evening, July 23, contains a scene which has been hailed by critics as being the most dramatic that has ever been filmed or staged. A series of fast moving, interesting circumstances has involved Hugh Colman in a situation where his conviction for murder is absolutely certain unless he breaks an oath given to his wife when he secretly married. But there is another woman whom he has loved. Although her love has been given to his dearest chum, she makes the greatest sacrifice a woman can make to save Hugh from the gallows and succeeds. The scene is one of the strongest ever put into a motion picture production, and the tangled net which results from her action in the lives of four persons provides a most absorbing double love story.

The photoplay attraction at the Penniman Allen theatre, next Wednesday evening, July 27, will be "The Right to Love," produced by George Fitzmaurice and featuring Mae Murray and David Powell. Quida Bergere adapted the story from the popular French play. It is a Paramount picture. Miss Murray has the role of an American girl, who leads a wretched life with her husband, Sir Archibald Falkland, English director of the Ottoman Debt at Constantinople. In an effort to compromise his wife so that he may marry another woman, Sir Archibald installs a Prince Stanislaus in his home. A Colonel Richard Loring, played by David Powell, arrives in time to rescue her from the Prince, though in the resulting mix-up Loring shoots Falkland dead. He is acquitted in the trial that follows, and he and Lady Falkland seek happiness together. "The Right to Love" is declared to abound in beautiful scenes, most of them in Florida. Besides Mae Murray and Mr. Powell, Alma Tell, Holmes E. Herbert, Macey Harlam and Frank Losee are also in the cast.

A LETTER FROM FAR AWAY SWEDEN

Evered Jolliffe has received the following interesting letter from Fred Ballen, who, with his wife and daughter, left some time ago for a visit in Sweden:

Lulea, Antnas, June 17, 1921

Dear Friend Mr. Jolliffe:

We have finally reached the end of our journey. We were just fifteen days during our trip—eleven days and eleven nights on the water. We had fine weather, hardly anyone seasick. During our trip from Gottenburg we saw lots of stone and hills. The timber of Sweden is mostly cedar and pine. The midnight sun is wonderful. The sun sets between ten and eleven o'clock and rises about twelve p. m.

The houses in Sweden are much different than they are in America. They are mostly of hued logs and then boarded up outside. The roofs are of wood and tile shingles. This is a wonderful country, but it seems to me it is about forty years behind America.

It is now 11:50 at night, and I am writing without a lamp. The only thing that bothers me is I stay up nearly all night waiting for it to get dark, and then I have to sleep the next day to catch up.

We have had very cool weather here so far, but they say it is lots warmer after midsummer. The crops in this part of Sweden consist of oats, barley, rye, hay and potatoes.

We came to Lulea today, and had to cross a lake on the ferry to get here. They caught 115 salmon in this lake yesterday that weighed 60 pounds apiece. The fishing here isn't very good with a hook and line, because they are mostly large fish caught with nets; so you see I am out of luck with a line.

There are not many automobiles in this country, and they are mostly Fords. They have some German and French cars here, too, and bicycles. Lots of them. They are so thick you can't walk along the road without danger of being run on to by one.

The Swedish Glee Club from Brooklyn, New York, was on the same boat with us. They were going to Sweden to travel around. They had their cars and trucks with them. There were thirty-one singers, and they gave us fine music all the way over.

We send our regards to all, hoping to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,
FRED BALLEIN AND FAMILY.

Visitors at Glen Clark's over Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. E. Keeler and Miss Frances Clark of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gardner, Mrs. M. Nissen and daughter, Meta, of Redford, called on Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Heese, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Beatrice Douglas is visiting her sister, Mrs. William Grammel. Mr. and Mrs. F. Durfee of Detroit, spent the week-end at C. E. McClumpha's.

Mr. and Mrs. John Porshee of Ypsilanti, and Mr. and Mrs. John Forshoe of Detroit, called at F. A. Heese's, Sunday afternoon. They also visited their old farm home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. John Root, Mr. and Mrs. William Grammel and George Wright motored to Silver Lake, Sunday, to spend the day picking huckleberries, but reported there were no berries.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McClumpha spent Sunday evening at F. A. Heese's.

If you know of an item of news, phone or send it to the Mail office.

DIDN'T KNOW DOGS

Mrs. Binks Classed Them All in One Tribe.

Anyway, the Animal Was Evicted From the Sacred Precincts, and Dignity of the Home Upheld.

Mrs. Binks must have had a disappointing afternoon at the bargain counters, for she returned to her Capitol Hill home with the quick, decisive tread that indicated a highly irritable mental condition to those who knew her well. This condition, Glenn Farley writes in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, was not improved by the discovery that her ten-year-old son Willie was entertaining practically all of the neighborhood children in the house, and that one of the most effervescent of the guests was a large, woolly, strange dog, whose booming bark assailed her from the depths of the dining room on her arrival.

Willie and his guests and the dog poured out of the front door like an audience from a burning theater, shortly after mother arrived, and it became apparent that she was in the back-ground, with a large, able-bodied broom.

Binks arrived home, and sat down to dinner in great exaltation. It appeared that Seattle had won a game with somebody.

"Class is bound to tell," he began enthusiastically. "I predicted from the beginning of the season that the boys would—"

He was interrupted by a Roman howl from Willie. His mother had reached him fleetly, in an unguarded moment and she had a firm grasp on the slack of his trousers. Two decisive whacks were administered amidst howls that would have put a normal welkin out of business.

"Before you eat I want you to go out and lose that dog," she began. "I have told you before that I won't have these stray, worthless curs about the place and, above all, in my house. A boy has no business with a dog, anyhow."

"Why, ma," Binks interposed, "when I was a boy no family thought of raising a boy without a good, husky dog for a—"

"I have no doubt of it," broke in Mrs. Binks. "Your whole conduct indicates that you were exposed to that atmosphere."

"But the dog—" began Willie.

"Not a word from you," said his mother. "You've got to get rid of that dog. I won't have him around."

"But the dog—" insisted Willie.

The boy evaded a swipe that would have put him out of business, but he got out of the danger zone and flushed the sentence.

"The dog belongs to Bennie Gunn and he is a St. Bernard and a prize winner," he said. "He's worth more than a thousand dollars. Bennie has him chained up now."

"Binks was about to smile discreetly, when his wife said:

"George, if you're through your dinner you may be excused."

Her husband looked around doubtfully:

"The question is," said he, "have I had any dinner?"

ANNE THERESE DAVAUT

Probably no platform reader has aroused more genuine enthusiasm or given such deep enjoyment as Miss Davault with her appealing charm and rare versatility. With keen insight and sympathetic appreciation of the fables, humors, joys and tragedies of every-day life, she has made human nature her study, as well as books and plays. Gifted with a voice of wonderful range and rich quality and with a dramatic instinct that makes her characters fairly live before her audience, Miss Davault gives an entertainment which critics are unanimous in pronouncing unique.

The best test of a platform attraction is the record of return dates. In this regard Miss Davault has a very unusual record. Her repertoire includes "The Melting Pot," "The Music Master," "Peg O' My Heart," "Dolly of the Circus," Dickens' "Christmas Carol," as well as many miscellaneous skits and sketches. On the fourth day of our Chautauqua, she is to give a miscellaneous program of readings in the afternoon and at night is to read "The Man Who Came Back."

Fordson Farm Tractor

The Fordson cuts the cost of preparing land almost to half of what it costs with horses. But even more important is the fact that the Fordson saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmer's time. And time saved—getting fields in shape to plant in the proper season; getting things done when they should be done—means money to the farmer. Besides it solves the labor problem.

As ever, the machine-way is proving more efficient, faster, easier than the old hand way. In the factory, the machine increases production, saves labor—produces more at less cost. And that is what the Fordson does on the farm. The Fordson way is the machine way of farming. Besides it solves the labor problem.

The Fordson's first cost is the lowest on the market; and the after or operating cost is the lowest. It is a compact easily handled tractor, backed by the greatest tractor service organization in the United States.

We are Fordson dealers. Not only do we sell Fordson tractors, but we carry a stock of Fordson parts and employ Fordson mechanics to help the farmers get the best results from the Fordson.

BETTER DAIRY HERDS

FARM BUREAU WORKING ALONG DEFINITE LINES IN NEW CAMPAIGN.

As soon as the announcement went abroad that a general campaign was to be put on in this county to eradicate tuberculosis from the dairy herds, requests went into the Farm Bureau office at Dearborn for information, hence County Agent Gregg is a busy man. No live stock can be exhibited at the State or any other fair unless so tested; also in all future auction sales in this county the cattle must be certified before sold. These two facts have caused the dairy owners to seek prompt service. This new work will be started by a representative of the bureau of animal industry, U. S. department of agriculture, on August 1st and continued until the entire county is covered. The first work will be done in Canton township, and it is desired to proceed systematically, except in emergency cases where it is desired to either exhibit or sell the stock.

County Agent Gregg was in Lansing, this week, conferring with Dr. T. C. Rich in regard to starting the work locally.

Owners of dairy cattle should send to the Farm Bureau office, Dearborn, for blanks to be signed to have the tuberculin testing done, for which they are under no expense. The Wayne County Farm Bureau is co-operating with the state and federal officials in this work, with the idea of placing the entire dairy industry upon a higher plane, at the same time benefitting the public health by decreasing the volume of tuberculosis in the human family.

OUR CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Chautauqua Committee Receives Outline of Big Program.

The Chautauqua committee has received an outline of the program for our Chautauqua and is well pleased with it. The five days will evidently be crammed with good things arranged in the most pleasing way. The Mutual has justified the confidence which led us to buy our Chautauqua from it.

The Junior Chautauqua is an outstanding feature for every boy and girl. A trained playground director will arrive several days ahead of the Chautauqua and will start the Junior Chautauqua at once. Thus the boys and girls will get either eight or nine days of happy directed play and games. Hikes, picnics, parades, ball games, a pageant, story telling, stunts and a ticket hunt are some of the events promised. Every boy and girl is invited to take part. Hours and place will be announced later.

The program of the Chautauqua is outlined as follows:

FIRST DAY.

The Craven Family of father and four daughters gives a grand concert in the evening, appearing in a five-piece orchestra, a trumpet quartet, a vocal quartet, comedy sketches in costume, xylophones, traps, drums, bells, clarinet and a saxophone quartet.

SECOND DAY.

The Venetians, a company of five Italian musicians, present a prelude concert both afternoon and evening, offering Italian folk songs, great Italian arias, the best of Italian instrumental music, American popular airs, and pleasing bits of humor. An experienced vaudeville and Chautauqua attraction of merit.

Judge Thomas B. McGregor, Assistant Attorney General of Kentucky, interprets a fundamental American philosophy of life in two lectures, "Normalcy" and "Mr. Average American." A powerful and sane analysis of our present national and world situation by a fine speaker.

LAND OF BEAUTY

Traveler Writes of Art Treasures in Old Mexico.

Among Them, Cathedrals and Churches as Fine, or Finer, Than Any Found Elsewhere.

The gullest tourist who throngs European picture galleries, because he is told it is the proper thing to do, will, some day, when he has got it out of his head that Mexico is a nation, entirely inhabited by murderers, find that there are artistic treasures just as worth while only a little way across the Rio Grande. There are a hundred great churches and cathedrals more beautiful than any yet dreamed of in his own country; there are pyramids that rival Cheops and his relics as striking as anything Nineveh could show; above all, for those in search of beauty in common things, there are a dozen handicrafts, the products whereof would drive collectors mad with rapture if they were bought in Naples or Istanbul. The blanket serapes worn by the men are familiar, chiefly through machine-made imitations; less so the rebusos worn by the women; of a special interest as showing the blending of East and West is the native pottery, as for example, the beautiful Talavera and Puebla ware. Although the introduction of this is usually ascribed to the Dominican monks, its Spanish or Arabic influence is, in actual fact, nicely overlaid upon the very much more ancient native craft of which examples are still preserved in the National museum and elsewhere.

It is safe to say that not one in a hundred persons if asked to name the three finest equestrian statues in the world would know that at least one of them is to be found in Mexico. It represents King Carlos IV of Spain and is said to have been the first bronze statue ever cast in America. It is without any question the finest, ranking second only to that of Bartolomeo Colleoni in Venice, yet I mention it here, less for what it is than for what it represents.

The Mexican people unfortunately for their reputation live in a country of unparalleled fertility and wealth. Were they only more enterprising and business like they would long ago have sacrificed its beauty to the benefit of their own pockets and thereby gained the admiration of their neighbors. Their cities, today mines of beauty in which you cannot walk 100 yards without passing some noble church or palace fit for the "Sleeping Beauty," or quaint detail of quaint public life, would be rectilinear nightmares where skyscrapers and factories and elevateds and smokestacks fought with each other which should most openly show its contempt for mere humanity. Perhaps if the advocates of progress and efficiency at the expense of your neighbor have their way, that day may still come. It will be a bad day for Mexico; it will be an even worse day for the rest of the western hemisphere, for it will herald the final victory of materialism in the new world and the permanent disappearance of that religion of beauty which is called art.—Oliver Maxod Hueffer in the North American Review.

"Safety First"

The following "Rules of the Road" have been forwarded by an English resident in Japan who has copied them from the central police station at Tokyo.

At the rise of the hand of the policeman stop rapidly.

Do not pass him by or otherwise disrespect him.

When a passenger of the foot hove in sight, tootle the horn; trumpet at him melodiously at first, but if he still obstructs your passage tootle him with vigor and express by word of the mouth the warning "Hi, Hi."

Beware the wandering horse that he shall not take fright as you pass him by. Do not explode an exhaust box at him. Go soothingly by.

Give big space to the festive dog that shall sport in the roadway.

Avoid entanglement of dog with your wheel spokes.

Go soothingly on the grease mud as there lurks the skid demon.

Press the brake of the foot as you roll round the corner to save the collapse and tie-up.—London Punch.

Eruption of Flames on the Sun.

There was recently the biggest disturbance on the sun that astronomers have ever happened to observe. It seems to have been an enormous eruption, during which masses of flames were thrown to a height of hundreds of thousands of miles!

A gigantic arch of fire, spanning a large section of the sun's edge (as seen through the telescope), rose, upheld, as it were, by two columns, one at each end. Rising still higher, it finally broke, assuming thereupon a spiral form. The arch was at least 200,000 miles high, and lasted four months before it disappeared.

Another eruption of flames, which attained a height of 300,000 miles, occurred soon afterward, stretched like a rubber band, the middle part rising rapidly and the sides straightening so as to form almost an isosceles triangle.

For the Litarati.

As a literary gent, my friend Abe says he don't care a hang about the week's best sellers. But he adds, without a blush, he's open to an invitation to any first-class cellar.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Mrs. Linda Harrod Endorses Chamberlain's Tablets

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and tried everything I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary, until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I got immediate relief from that dreadful heaviness and pain in my stomach after eating. Since taking two bottles I can eat anything I want without distress."—Mrs. Linda Harrod, Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Advertisement.

FIND SHIP IN HEART OF CITY

Hull Buried in San Francisco, Records Show, is a Relic of the Gold Rush Days.

San Francisco discovered an old wooden ship under the streets of its business section recently, relates Popular Mechanics Magazine. Contractors, excavating a deep foundation for a new skyscraper with steam shovels, were hindered in their work by strange massive timbers found 30 feet below the surface. They had accidentally stumbled upon the preserved remains of some strange buried craft.

The bronze-sheathed and copper-bolted hull measured 100 feet in length by 30 feet beam, and great interest was aroused by the puzzling construction of the relic, a mile from any water. The city's history revealed, however, that it was the Euphemia, a bit of whose historic and romantic existence is as follows:

In the days of '49, when the mad stampede around the Horn to the new California gold fields was on, numerous ships were abandoned by their crews at the end of the journey, and left to rot on the mud flats of San Francisco bay. But, in forming the municipal government of the fast-growing city by the Golden Gate, the first town council bought the Euphemia, and converted it into a prison ship. Those were "rough" days in San Francisco and this, the first jail the city could boast, was tied to a wharf, and soon filled up.

An old sketch of the scene at this part of the water front reveals another ship, the Apollo, converted into a saloon and lodging house. As the city grew and forced the waters of the bay back from the spot by filling in the shallows, the novel spectacle was formed of a strange ship sticking up out of the ground in the heart of the city, surrounded by substantial stone and brick structures.

During the next 56 years, the city attained great size. Then it was suddenly half leveled by a great fire. And had it not been for the necessity of a deep foundation for the latest edifice to rise over the spot, 72 years after the Euphemia became a jail, the old hull would have slumbered on for another fifty or one hundred years.

As it was, the contractors experienced considerable difficulty in removing the mud and sand-locked skeleton with modern steam tackle, but made a small fortune out of the sale of the heavy copper and brass junk found on it.

Revival of the British Beard.

A young man about town walked down Bond street in London recently, and the sight so shocked the sensitive British public that the London Daily Chronicle saw fit to run the item as a news item.

He was elegantly dressed, says the paper, and carried the familiar cane of Piccadilly, while a monocle reposed in his right eye. But his beard was the masterpiece of the outfit. It was very dark, it recalled the pictures of the Stuart kings, and created a sensation wherever it was seen.

The young man, except for his beard, was unmistakably English.

"I don't think that beards for young men are likely to be popular outside the West-end," a hairdresser in the neighborhood of Bond street told a Chronicle representative.

"But certain young men about town appear to be tired of looking like stung heroes, and have decided to grow beards. A beard makes some men look younger, and a man who has a weak mouth and a chin which slightly recedes should wear both mustache and beard."

Salting by Signs.

Silence never has been considered a characteristic of the deep sea captain, but a 60-day voyage was recently completed during which the ship's captain might just as well have been deaf and dumb. Capt. Darwin E. Stevens, who has just returned to the country, took the new steamer Josephine from Duluth to Barcelona, there delivering her to her new owners. His crew was made up of Spaniards, none of whom could speak a word of English. The result was that Captain Stevens had to do his talking with his hands, giving orders by signs. After the 60 days were at an end the skipper found himself so in the habit of making signs that when he finally arrived among people who could speak a language that he understood he had to make unusual effort to refrain from using the sign language.—New York World.

Airplanes Sold for 60 Cents.

The British government recently sold a number of airplanes for 60 cents apiece at the Lincoln airshow disposal sale in London.

The machines had become out of date after several years of service and had been junked, the wings and the engines being removed. Nevertheless, the purchasers who paid 60 cents for an airplane received the body of the machine with the copper fittings and pipes, which in all originally cost several hundred dollars.

The purchasers, for the greater part, were anxious to buy the planes to break up for firewood during the coal shortage. Small boys dragged their fathers along to buy a plane so that they might get the wheels to use on scooters and home-made automobiles.

Lover's Quarrel.

Betty (turning at door)—"I think you are perfectly hateful, and I'm never going to speak to you again, so there's no use coming into the music room after me—because I shall be in the hammock at the far end of the piazza."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Suffered Intense Pain

"A few years ago when visiting relatives in Michigan, something I had eaten brought on an attack of cholera morbus," writes Mrs. Celesta McVicker, Macon, Mo. "I suffered intense pain and had to go to bed. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, and one dose relieved the pain wonderfully. I only took two or three doses, but they did the work."—Advertisement.

The label on the paper tells when your subscription expires.

Today's Reflections

Don't all answer at once, but should a lantern-jawed man be called "light-headed."

An Iowa woman of 101 did all her housework up to her death. Some Plymouth girls may be doing all their housework, too, when they get to be that old.

If the high price of shoes is due to a shortage of leather, maybe fat men ought to be compelled to quit wearing belts.

The average man's idea of being happily married is getting to spend some of the money he earns.

Back in the old days our Plymouth girls would ask, "Does he drink?" Now the first thing they want to know is, "Has he got a car?"

A woman is just as young as she looks—and a man is young as long as he keeps on looking.

Moonlight and moonshine have a similar effect in one way—they make a homely girl good looking.

Ask any Plymouth man his idea of a good wife, and he'll say that it's one who never says, "I told you so."

A Plymouth woman will stand right up in public and say she has the best husband on earth, but she never says she expects to meet him in heaven.

It has been our observation that the fellow who says, "You can't believe all you see in the papers," is the one who keeps right on borrowing it from his neighbor.

If a man is ignorant he may learn. But if he knows too much there is no hope for him.

We see where the price of beef is declining in Brazil. That would be all right if we had time to go down there for our meals.

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth man who used to go to someone older than himself when he wanted a little advice.

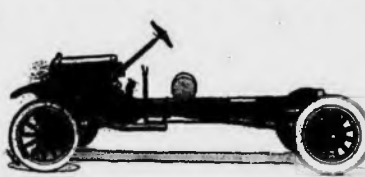

One of the biggest objections to engaging some fellows in a conversation is they seem to think it entitles them to tell the story of their life.

If a Plymouth man followed the advice he gives his wife about how to save money, he'd be a millionaire in two years.

Baptist Notes

All services of the church were carried out as usual last week.

The B. Y. P. U. was led last Sunday night by Henry Holcomb and was a good meeting. The subject, "What God Has Done for Man," was discussed in several ways. God provides the earth and all that come from it, food of all kinds from the cereal to the fruit of every kind of tree and vine that grows; every beast he made to serve for man; even the sun and moon for time and season, with no end to all God has done for him.

The Ladies Aid society met last week Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Beals on Plymouth road. After the devotionals by the pastor, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Bartlett each gave a reading. After the business was finished, a three-course supper was served. Everyone had a good time, and enjoyed the meeting. Next month they will meet with Mrs. Smith on corner of Mill and Spring streets.

The Sunday-school picnic will take place Wednesday, July 27th. The plan is to go to Walled Lake. The autos will be ready about eight o'clock in the morning. The old and young are invited to go. Come, bring your basket full, and have a good time.

William Smith of Milford, was a guest at the parsonage, last week Wednesday. He was on his way to army camp near Chicago for summer drill.

Rev. J. W. Folly of Hope, Mich., was a caller at the Sayles home, last Saturday.

A COMMUNICATION

Village Commissioners:

We who reside upon Starkweather avenue wish to give thanks for the sprinkling done, Sunday, it surely was a great help in the time of need.

I would like to ask the people of the village to please take notice when driving to Northville to see the difference in the grade of gravel used upon the highway through the country and that used on Starkweather. It looks to me as if the county road commissioners had screened out all the undesirable rock and boulders to use on our village street. Some years ago they put the same kind of material on the Plymouth road in Livonia, but Livonia made it so hot for them they had the stone raked off and drawn away, but then they had someone to represent them. Do we have here or not? It is just driving over a rock pile on this street.

Also we had good crosswalks, we have none at all now. We wade in mud part of the year and wallow in dust the rest of the time. Many times it is impossible for a lady to get across this street with a baby wagon without help. I suppose the moral to that is to do away with the babies.

Come on, Mr. Commissioners, and do something. This will be for the whole town. It is up to you. Please have our village limits moved back to where it belongs also.
E. N. PASSAGE.

Last Sunday afternoon while the ball game at Livonia Center was in progress, a young colored man was seen to drive away with a new Ford car owned by J. H. VanBonn of Livonia. Pursuit in another car was given at once, and the Ford car overtaken on the Plymouth road. When the driver of the car saw his pursuers were about to overtake him, he jumped from the car and started to run across a corn field, but was soon captured and later turned over to Chief of Police Springer. The prisoner gave his name as Osmand Diggs of Detroit. He was arraigned before Justice Phebe Patterson, Monday, charged with the theft of an automobile, pleaded guilty, and was bound over to the circuit court, with bail fixed at $1,000.

The Winsome New "Wirthmor" Frocks All Ready for Her to Put On

My such little beauties!

They're not only a delight to the eye, but they're a real joy to the mother who has, heretofore, been unable to find assembled in one garment, for daughter's wear, so many points of real superiority.

"WIRTHMOR" dresses are made of materials that will wear as they should—staunch gingham in the choicest of plaids, checks and plain materials are most popular, with the cleverest of trimmings used in various new ways.

Skirts are of the desired fullness and the wide hem—some have the tuck on the under side of the hem to add a couple of inches extra length.

There are pockets, of course, and nearly every dress boasts of a sash with ends long enough to make a bow that's amply full.

Nothing "skimpy" about a "WIRTHMOR"—you'll notice that right away—and each garment is correctly proportioned and true to size.

Every detail of the making is just as it should be and just as you would have it if you had actually planned the dress yourself.

"Wirthmor" dresses are characterized by better material, smarter styles and prices that appeal to your sense of fairness.

Just as surely as the sun rises and sets, many a mother who has always thought she could not dress her girl as she wanted to, unless she made the little dresses herself, is going to change her mind when she gets an introduction to "Wirthmor."

RIGHT NOW

There are such pretty models at $2 and at $3 for girls of 7 to 14 years, on display in our Children's Department.

A complete line of Wirthmor, $1 and $2 Cotton Waists.
