In these later years, he had been obliged to spend much of the time elsewhere. Of the eight brothers and sisters, who came to manhood and womanhood, two are now living, Mrs. Permelia Finton of Newport, Washington, and A. C. Laraway of Ann Arbor. He was buried in the Laraway family cemetery, where he long ago chose the spot for his last resting place.

LOCAL METHODIST CHURCH MAKES SPLENDID SHOWING

When Rev. Frank M. Field left for the session of the annual conference at Adrian, last Tuesday morning, he carried with him a report of which the Methodist Episcopal church in Plymouth can well be proud. It shows that this thriving organization has not only maintained its own work in Plymouth at an expenditure of something over $4,000, but has contributed $3,406 for the cause of christianity outside of the local organization. This includes a contribution for the cause of christian missions both at home and on the foreign field. Besides all these items, the society has reduced its indebtedness incurred in the erection of the new church, after the disastrous fire of 1916 by fifteen hundred dollars.

During the five years' pastorate of Rev. F. M. Field, the membership of the church has been more than doubled, it having been increased from 196 to an even 400 full members and fifteen preparatory members, besides 24 non-resident members. The Sunday-school has also seen a like increase, having now an enrollment of 544 in all departments, of whom 400 are in the main school, 104 on the cradle roll, twenty-eight officers and teachers and twelve in the home department.

During the five years Rev. Field has conducted over two hundred funerals, baptized more than a hundred babies and nearly one hundred adults, and officiated at sixty-six weddings. During the five year period 238 people have been received into preparatory membership and 142 by transfer, and of the present membership of 400, only 100 were members of the local church October 1, 1916.

Mr. Field's return for the sixth year was urgently requested by unanimous action of the Fourth Quarterly conference, but inasmuch as several large city churches in Detroit, Pontiac and other places are also seeking his services and offering him large opportunities for advancement, his return is rather doubtful. The place to which Rev. Field will go and the name of his successor will not be definitely known until the time of the reading of the appointments next Monday.

TO THE PARENTS OF BOYS

Not long ago unskilled labor received high wages, while many educated and trained men were poorly paid. It is probable that the boys of Plymouth became impressed with this, and that they reached the conclusion that it was better to go to work than to go to school. But the condition was abnormal and could not last. Now we're getting back to normal, and in the future more than at any time in the past, the abilities born of education and training will be in demand and command a high price. With a trained mind a man can multiply the usefulness and earning power of his hands many fold. Civilization is built upon this fact. Education brings real blessings, makes friendship valuable by teaching us how to serve and be worthy, and gives to life its deepest satisfactions. For these purposes education is indispensable. Give your boys—your children—the best education you possibly can. If you should reach a financial limit, inspire your boy to earn his way. Be satisfied with nothing less for your children than a complete education.

On the property is a modern farm house and buildings, valued at $15,000. There are also an orchard of 30 acres and deep flowing mineral springs. The sanatorium will use the water for drinking and in a swimming pool, to be constructed soon. The council approved the action of William H. Maybury, of the department of health, in personally assuming the six-day option on the property.—Detroit News.

STATE FAIR EXHIBITS SHOW MODERN FARMING

EDUCATIONAL BOOTHS TELL STORY OF EFFICIENT PRODUCTION METHODS.

Efficient production methods on the modern farm were illustrated in interesting fashion at the recent Detroit state fair. Booths prepared by the various departments of the Michigan Agricultural College were features of this part of the fair program, and attracted the attention of thousands of visitors who poured through the agricultural building each day.

A complete model farm, built in miniature by members of the college farm mechanics department, was one of the most popular features. Everything from a windmill that actually turned to the detailed fencing of fields was taken care of on the "table" farm.
"Old Red," a cow representing the Michigan average in production, was housed in one corner of the agricultural building. To her left stood an M. A. C. Heistein with a record of 40 quarts a day milk production, as compared with Red's 11 quart effort; and to the right stood a blooded Guernsey whose butter production figures were many times as large as those boasted by the average animal. Actual quarts of milk and pounds of butter above the stalls told the story of the difference in production graphically, showing the great possibilities for increased efficiency in Michigan dairy herds.

Horticulture, entomology, farm crops, soils, animal husbandry, botany, poultry, dairy products, engineering, farm management, forestry and home economics departments of the college were included in the displays, each having its own booth with a definite exhibit on some timely agricultural subject.

Lettuce and Conversation.
Lettuce to me is a most interesting study. It is like conversation; it must be fresh and crisp, so sparkling that you scarcely notice the bitter in it. Like most talkers lettuce is apt to run rapidly to seed. Blessed is that kind that comes to a head, and so remains, like a few people I know, growing more satisfactory and at the same time whiter in the center and more crisp. Lettuce, like conversation, requires a good deal of oil, to avoid friction, and keep the company smooth; a pinch of salt, a dash of pepper, a bit of mustard and vinegar, but so mixed there will be no sharp contrasts.
I feel that I am with the best society when I am with lettuce. It is in the select circle of vegetables.—Charles Dudley Warner.

The American Short Story.
The secret of the American short story is the treatment of characteristic American life, with absolute knowledge of its peculiarities and sympathy with its methods; with no fastidious ignoring of its habitual expression, or the inchoate poetry that may be found hidden even in its slang; with no moral determination except that which may be the legitimate outcome of the story itself; with no more elimination than may be necessary for the artistic conception, and never from the fear of the fetish of conventionalism. Of such is the American short story of today, the germ of American literature to come.—Bret Harte, "The Rise of the Short Story."

The tendency to create new designs in furniture has been kept down during the past few years because of the inability of the manufacturers to supply the demand owing to the limited supply of materials.

New creations in furniture for every room in the home are now coming in fast and every day brings new and novel pieces which have been placed on our floor in a wonderful exhibition—the equal of which has never been seen.

While this is an interesting bit of news for those who are looking for those things for the home that bring it charm and cheerfulness, it is also of vital interest to know that the prices on this furniture are all greatly reduced in comparison to the present manufacturing costs.

Come in and view this display. Our salesmen, trained in the art of home-furnishings, will gladly offer their helpful suggestions to you. No obligation is felt in showing you through the various displays, bringing to your attention many unusual "finds" which will mean great saving of money to you in furnishing the home.

IS OLD LONDON PLAYGROUND

Hyde Park Has for Centuries Been the Scene of Amusements Dear to Englishmen.

In Hyde park, London, nearly every game and sport known to the English has been practiced at one time or another. In 1350 the French ambassador invited there with the king. In 1578 the Duke of Savoy killed a hare and with his piece in Hyde park from among 300 other deer. In the reign of Charles I the park became celebrated for its foot and horse races round the ring, the "dusty mill-horse drive," as Lady Melapert calls it. "Shall we make a fling to London," wrote Richard Brome, "and see how the spring appears there in the spring gardens; and in Hyde park, to see the races, horse and foot; to hear the jockies crack?"

Racing in the ring was one of the greatest attractions in the park, and some of the meetings were thought to be of great importance, as even among the state papers there is preserved the agreement for a race that took place there. Charles I dined freely with his subjects on these occasions, but, looking on the royal park as his own possession, he once ordered the election of a Berkshire squire, whom he referred to as an "ugly rascal." The "ugly rascal" overheard the phrase. He went away quietly, but vowed vengeance, and gradually subverted the whole of his country against the king. He had, indeed, his revenge, for writ large on Charles I's death warrant was the name of the "ugly rascal."

MORE THAN MERELY ORATOR

Will Crooks, English Labor Leader, a Man of Most Remarkable Personality.

Although he had such a wonderful way with him when talking to an audience, the late Mr. Will Crooks was the despair of reporters.

It was impossible to transfer his spoken words into cold print without losing the very thing that captivated his audience—the personality of the man.

It was all personality with Mr. Crooks, and experienced reporters have been known to go to a meeting which Mr. Crooks kept in roars of laughter, and when they had written their report tear it up because it failed to convey any idea of what had happened.

Mr. Crooks was good at telling a story, but even better at reporting. At a recruiting meeting during the war a man tried to interrupt him, and provoked the withering retort: "Yes, I know you. You are one of those who could settle the whole thing in a barber's shop on a Saturday afternoon."

Mr. Crooks' favorite story concerned a woman who bought some flowers from a flower-girl at Piccadilly circus. She was so pleased with them that she promised to buy more on Wednesday, "when my daughter is coming out." "She shall have the best posy, ma'am that I can make," was the reply. "What has she been in for?"—London Tit-Bits.

Famines in History.

The famines of the ancient world, usually confined to comparatively small countries, such as Egypt or Palestine, were largely due to the smallness of the area depended upon for food. Unfavorable conditions were general and failure in one part usually meant failure throughout the country. And only one or two crops were depended upon.

Another cause of those ancient famines and of some of the famines in Europe during the Middle ages, was want of means of transportation. The land where famine prevailed might not be more distant than a hundred miles from a district where there was plenty, but it was impossible to carry some of the abundance of the latter to the stricken country, or carry it in sufficient quantities and with sufficient dispatch to succor the needy.

One of the great assurances against want are our means of transportation—the steamship and the railway, which make available the whole world's supply of food.

Why Hats Cause Baldness.

It is necessary for the hair to have sufficient air and good circulation of the blood as it is for the body. Both must "breathe," and both must be supplied with blood to carry off impurities. In the case of hair, the blood is supplied through tiny veins situated around the roots and any tight band around the upper portion of the head will cause the hair to die and fall out.

The construction of men's hats is such that they press rather tightly upon the forehead and the bulging portion of the head at the back, thus impeding free circulation of the blood.

The connection between a man's hat and his baldness is clear from the fact that there are but few men who are entirely bald. Most of them have a fringe around the ears and the lower portion of the back of the head, parts which are not covered by their hats.

Antoinette—Mrs. Black has called to see you, madam.
Mrs. White—Oh! Run to the drug store—now and get me some aspirin, Antoinette.

Baptist Notes

The fall attendance at church is increasing each Sunday. Quite a number of strange faces last Sunday. All are welcome to come and feel at home.
The choir last Sunday gave us some splendid music.
The B. Y. P. U. had a good meeting on Sunday evening. Miss Fannie Grainger led the service. The topic was, "The Bible," and many good things were said by the leader and others about its promises to comfort, to guide, to inspire, to correct, and its final hope for all who believe. The number was nearly double the usual attendance.
Sunday-school will hold its annual rally the first Sunday in October. The program is planned and will be fine.
The social last Friday evening was a real rally, and everyone had a good time. The first part of the evening was enjoyed in the parlors, where guessing contests were used to entertain all the people—contests of seeds, trees, birds, etc. Then a fine lunch was served with hot coffee. The people were then invited upstairs to the rest of the program. Mrs. Smith gave a reading, "Our Home Town Paper." Frank Hamill gave a brief review of his trip through Yellowstone Park, and the Sunday-school orchestra furnished the music, the pastor made a few remarks about the plan of work for the coming year.

Our next social evening will be on Sept. 23, when Miss Ruth Daniels of India, will be with us, and closing with the first number of pictures and lecture program for this year.
The Ladies' Aid society met Wednesday with Mrs. Murray, the president of the society, at the home of Mrs. William Pfeiffer on Plymouth road.
The Ladies' Aid society will hold an ice cream social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams on Friday evening of this week, three miles south of Plymouth. Everyone take your auto and carry a load. A truck will be at the church at 7:00 to carry any who desire to go.

"What is Threaded Rubber?"

Threaded Rubber Insulation is made up of sheets of rubber, each pierced by 196,000 tiny threads. The rubber insulates each plate from its neighbor and the threads allow the battery solution to circulate freely.
Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation stays on the job month after month unaffected by acid and without a sign of splitting, cracking or perforation. It lasts as long as the battery plates and helps the battery give more miles of uninterrupted service per dollar.
You'll need a battery one of these days, so the time to get your battery information together is right now. We'll be glad to show you a Threaded Rubber Battery inside and outside and tell you why it saves you money.

CLUB BOYS COP HIGH STATE FAIR HONORS

YOUTHFUL COMPETITORS SHOW "DAD" THE WAY IN LIVE-STOCK EXHIBITS.

Youth triumphed at the recent Detroit State Fair, when members of boys' and girls' club livestock teams won high honors in the open classes of exhibit. Competing against the best field of livestock ever entered at the annual state exposition, Michigan youngsters made the judges sit up and take notice of the fine stock they were showing.

First prize senior bull calf and champion junior bull calf (Holstein) fell to the Lenawee County Boys' and Girls' Club, as well as fourth place with senior yearling. Eaton county boys pulled down first and second awards with Berkshire sows under six months. Reserve Grand Champion junior Berkshire sow, third prize Poland China sow under six months, and other notable places. Hillsdale county youngsters also cut into the prize money, taking first in the Poland China class under six months, fourth with Chester Whites under six months, etc.

All of these winnings were made in open competition with the best breeders of Michigan, as well as entries from outside states, and indicate that the boys and girls are handling as fine stock as is to be found. Livestock clubs are scattered throughout all the counties of Michigan, under the direction of R. A. Turner, state leader of Boys' and Girls' Club work, which is the junior extension division of the Michigan Agricultural college.

Watch for Rough & Ready, Newburg game.

THE THEATRE

"Courage," a Sidney Franklin production, with Naomi Childers and Sam de Grasse in the leading roles, will be the feature attraction at the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday evening, September 17th. "Courage" is an adaptation of Andrew Soutar's powerful novel of the same name. Naomi Childers has the role of the plucky little wife, whose wrongfully imprisoned husband directs a great industry from behind his bars and helps his country in the winning of a war. He is released when the real culprit confesses, and the courage of his wife is rewarded not alone by her reunion with her husband, but also by the happy culmination of the romance of their son. Others in the cast of this Associated First National attraction are: Lionel Belmore, Adolph Menjou, Alec B. Francis, Ray Howard, Gloria Hope and Charles Ray Mailes.

Pleasurable anticipation greets the announcement that "Mama's Affair," presented by Joseph M. Schenck and released by Associated First National, will be seen at the Penniman Allen theatre, Tuesday evening, September 20th. The always engaging Constance Talmadge carries off the stellar honors. It is the screen version of Rachel Barton Butler's Harvard prize play, which enjoyed a Broadway success last season. The director, Victor Fleming, has succeeded, it is said, in making it even more pleasing than when presented as a stage play. The sparkling lines which gave the play such vogue are preserved in the titles, while the screen version, perhaps because the camera gives even wider scope to the scenes of merit, is even more replete with laughs than the play. It is a fittingly chosen starring vehicle for the dainty comedienne. Miss Talmadge is said not only to repeat her former triumphs, but to ascend to new heights in her interpretation of the role of Eve.

Penniman Allen theatre, Thursday, September 22nd. It is a Thomas H. Ince production for Paramount, and offers Mr. MacLean one of the finest roles of his screen career. The scenes of the story are laid in a small town and in a penitentiary where the hero does time for violations of the law. But if all crooks were as agreeable as Mr. MacLean is in his role, state prisons would be acceptable as residences for certain periods. Doris May plays opposite the star.

Today's Reflections

We are still on a war basis. When dinner is ready the whole family volunteers, but when the dishes are to be washed mother has to do some drafting.

A Plymouth man said yesterday that his idea of being badly mistreated would be to marry a woman who couldn't cook anything but liver.

Nothing is more exasperating than to have a man with a fine big auto crash into the back of your 1911 model and then find that he hasn't damaged your car at all.

Still another difficult thing to find in this world is a poor couple that hasn't got a lot of children.

One of the very first mistakes the average Plymouth married man made was to believe that his wife crawled back into bed the minute he went to work.

In Afghanistan the groom never sees his wife until the day before they're married. It's getting to be that way in this country.

If there is a man in Plymouth who wants to get rich quick let him invent an airplane that will stay up as long as rents.

Men generally denounce gossip, but we've noticed that they wait until they've heard every word.

As a general rule barbers are glad that women do not need to shave.

They don't want someone in the chair who can talk more than they can.

We wish we could get citizens of Plymouth to understand that a lot of the trouble in this world is caused by the well man forgetting the promises the sick man made.

The price of peaches this season strikes a lot of people as being a little bit out of plum.

Another thing you haven't heard for a good while is your neighbor admitting that he "took a little drop for his stomach's sake."

When some men start to tell a story, it's hard for a busy Plymouth listener to tell whether deafness is an affliction or a blessing.

Some residents contend that since hoboes have already commenced to go south we're in for an early winter.

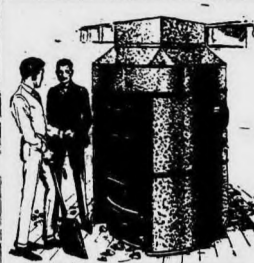

It has been our observation that the Plymouth citizen who criticizes a mother-in-law never had one.

HOMER PIPELESS FURNACE

Why a Homer

- BECAUSE it operates on the most natural heat travel. Warm air ascends, cooled air descends.
- BECAUSE one register is sufficient to allow warm air to circulate through the house, without the necessity of pipes.
- BECAUSE the heat is uniform. Every owner of a pipe furnace knows that there are always one or two cold registers.
- BECAUSE there are no pipes, no danger, no flues, no ashes in the living rooms, no need to maintain a big fire on mild days, no tearing out of wall to install it.
- BECAUSE it ventilates while it heats.
- BECAUSE it is the original patented pipeless furnace, the most efficient and the lowest priced to install and maintain.

The NEW EDISON

Muzio the magnificent; the enchantress of the Metropolitan; idolized by London, Paris, Madrid, Milan, Buenos Aires and New York such is Muzio. Behind the mysterious curtain, which screens the recording secrets of Edison, her divine voice is perpetuated, in every phase of its unsurpassed beauty.

Edison, the severest of all music critics, listens intently and is pleased with Muzio.

Bamboschek, principal conductor of the Metropolitan Opera, listened to Muzio sing in comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of her voice, and the following is his signed verdict:

"I have heard a comparison between Miss Claudia Muzio's voice and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. I consider that the quality of Miss Muzio's living voice and the quality of her RE-CREATED voice are identical."

The New Edison is positively the only phonograph that can sustain the test of direct comparison with living artists.

In the home, no matter where that home may be, Edison's new invention gives you the world's best music, just as it is heard in the operatic capitals of both hemispheres. The New Edison is the complete answer to Emerson's wish: "Could I only have music on my own terms, whenever I wished the ablution and inundation of musical waves, that are a bath and a medicine."

—the above is only half of it!

It proves that the New Edison brings the real artist—and the real opera to your home. It establishes, beyond doubt or conjecture, that the New Edison is the only instrumentality by which the full beauties of true music can be enjoyed in every home. Now comes a plan by which you can benefit from good music beyond mere entertainment—Mood Music.

It Banishes Unpleasant Moods!

Mood Music helps you control your mental and physical well-being. It soothes you when you are nervous. Refreshes you when tired. Cheers you when sad.  Mr. and Mrs. Findley Grandy and the latter's two sisters, the Misses Mary and Belle Beam of Detroit, and Mrs. Alice Beam of North Cochecton, New York, were visitors at William Pettigill's, last Friday evening.
 The Ready Service class of the Presbyterian church will hold its first meeting for the fall season, on Monday, September 19th, at 7:30 p. m. in the church house. As this is the annual election, every member is urged to be present.
 Among those expecting to go to Adrian today to attend the special laymen's section of the Methodist conference are R. E. Parrot, E. T. Cope, George W. Richwine, Robert Jolliffe, William Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Thomas and Mrs. F. M. Field.

 Last Friday evening, Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Field entertained forty young people with a rousing social gathering at the parsonage. Most of those present were the young people of the Epworth League, and this is counted as the first party of the League's social program for the year.
 Mrs. Bertha Groth and family were called to Farmington, Monday, to attend the funeral of the former's mother, Mrs. Charlotte Seidelberg. The deceased was 91 years of age, and is survived by six grown children, 21 grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren. She had been a resident of Farmington for the past five years.

While working on the new sewer on Hamilton street, last Saturday afternoon, the earth caved in, pinning Henry Whitmire underneath. He was extricated as soon as possible, and a physician summoned. It was ascertained that his right leg was broken below the knee. He has been taken to the home of his brother, Fred, west of Plymouth.
 Mrs. Cyrus Rorabacher was pleasantly surprised at her home on South Main street, last Friday evening, by her children and their families, the occasion being her birthday. Dainty refreshments were served, and a fine large birthday cake decorated in pink and white, made by Mrs. Jack Reamer and Mrs. Merle Rorabacher, added to the interest of the occasion. A good time was enjoyed by all, and after wishing their hostess many more happy returns of the day, the guests returned to their homes.

LOCAL RED CROSS WILL CONDUCT CAMPAIGN

Two events, scheduled for simultaneous occurrence during the coming month of November, have a tremendous bearing on the welfare of the world. The Fifth Roll Call of the American Red Cross, from Armistice Day, November 11, to Thanksgiving Day, November 24—a period which now has its national significance annually—offers to the American people the opportunity to renew allegiance to the program for the welfare of humanity, with especial reference to the relief and prevention of suffering and disease in our own country, but also to extend aid to suffering in lands where conditions require help from outside.

On Armistice Day, 1921, there also will begin at the capital of the United States, a conference of the great powers of the world, on the subject of the limitation of armament. The attention of the whole civilized world will be riveted on this international gathering of men who guide the destiny of nations, for it, too, is significant of the spirit of the times and the lessons that are in the minds of all thinking people—lessons that are the result of the experiences through which the world passed during a war which it is hoped will never lose its qualification of greatest—lessons that have been emphasized in consequence of the burdens that have had to be borne since the clash of arms ended.

The coincidence in the occurrence of the two events ought to give a tremendous impetus to the Red Cross Roll Call in this country. The attention that will be focused on the international conference will put men and women who have not as yet become members of the Red Cross, as well as those who must renew memberships for the ensuing year, in a frame of mind which logically will find its expression in the signing of the Red Cross Roll, for the Red Cross is doing in its given field just what the governments of the earth, through their premiers and cabinets, are seeking to do through the channels of diplomacy and mutual cooperation—making the world safer and happier and relieve burdens on the people which interfere with the pursuit of their peaceful activities.

As the greatest war recedes with the passing of time, the need for organized effort to meet the suffering and the burdens of humanity and to prevent unnecessary suffering, becomes constantly more pronounced. Service never was stronger in its appeal than it is today. And the Red Cross stands for Service. Because of the psychology of the situation existing with peculiar force this year, as indicated by the events which will command universal interest during the Roll Call period, the Fifth Roll Call should make a new record. Assurance that it will lie in the grasping of the situation by the Chapter workers, with all of its promises and possibilities.—The Red Cross Bulletin.

The Plymouth Branch of the Red Cross will conduct a campaign as usual again in keeping with the outline given above.

Is Wednesday Your Birthday?

People born on Wednesday (Mercury's day) will never make good fortunes, but will hold high positions, probably as judges. It will be a struggle till after middle life with them, and then a comfortable position. They are in danger of at some time losing their liberty, and their marriage may prove unhappy. They would make good orators, philosophers, doctors, astrologers, counterfeiters and vagabonds. They will be subject to heart disease, gout and nervousness, are not likely to live much over fifty years. They will marry three times, and have several children.

BENEFIT OF "LIGHT BATHS"

Rheumatism and Neuritis Yield to Treatment in Which Purple Rays Play Big Part.

The usefulness of "sun baths" for health has long been recognized. Unlimited sunshine has much to do with the beneficial effect of a vacation at the seashore.

Nowadays this matter is better understood than it used to be, and it is known that the heat rays of the sun have nothing to do with the physical benefit obtained from such exposure. It is the chemical rays in the sunbeam—particularly the ultra-violet rays—that do the good work.

Electric light is rich in these rays, and many cures of rheumatism and neuritis have been accomplished by exposing the affected part of the body to a powerful incandescent lamp, its rays concentrated by a hemispherical reflector. For curative purposes physicians have turned to useful account a sort of cabinet lined with such lamps, into which the patient, lying on a padded board, could be slid.

The newest method employs a quartz lamp containing mercury vapor, through which the electric current is passed. Quartz has the advantage of being extraordinarily transparent to ultra-violet rays.

Such a lamp, made in the shape of a tube of small diameter, can be introduced into the nasal passages for the treatment of catarrh or into the throat for the cure of infected tonsils, thus saving the patient an operation.—Philadelphia Ledger.

DON'T FAVOR WEDDING RINGS

Men Dislike Them, but Most Women Insist on the Gold Symbols of Matrimony.

"When I marry, I won't insist on my husband wearing a wedding ring, as people might think he was henpecked," said a pretty miss to a friend recently. According to a jeweler, 80 out of 100 brides do insist, however, says the Milwaukee Journal.

"During the month of May most of the newly engaged drop in for their rings. Occasionally the young man, after selecting a ring for the girl, tells the clerk that he doesn't want any for himself.

"The girl will look at him quickly and say: 'Oh, yes, you do, John dear,' and he buys one. In the majority of cases a plain gold band is selected, but lately a few carved and engraved rings have been sold."

This, of course, does not prove that men wear the rings. A certain young man, on leaving the house in the morning, places his ring in his vest pocket. When leaving the car, on returning home, it is again slipped on his finger. In this way both wife and hubby are perfectly satisfied.

Every House Numbered in India.

Numbering houses is an important preliminary to census-taking in India. Nearly 12 months in advance of the census date all the villages in the empire are scheduled, and every house is numbered. In some provinces the census authorities determine in advance the size of the number and specify the proportion of red ochre and oil, or other ingredients, forming the substance with which the number is to be painted.

Racial prejudices have to be considered. In Hyderabad objection is made to tar because of the color, while in other districts the natives consider red ochre unclean, and if it is used they erase the figures. In the case of huts made of leaves, and also when objection is made on account of caste restrictions to the numbering of houses by enumerators, the numbers are painted on bits of tin, tiles, or pots, and are usually treated with great respect by the natives.

"Burying the Hatchet."

The origin of the synonym for forgetting old quarrels, "Let's bury the hatchet," is traced to an ancient custom of the North American Indians. After indulging in the most ruthless warfare, tribes would assemble at what they believed to be the "spirit of peace." This, it was supposed, was uttered by the Great Spirit, and in the course of a great council and amidst singular ceremonies, they would smoke the calumet, or pipe of peace, and bury their tomahawks under a mound erected in the center of the smoking circle.

This was equal to an agreement that all enmity was at an end, and the spirit of peace had settled on the camp.

PRESBYTERIAN PARAGRAPHS

Start your children in the primary department now.

One of the men in the congregation said: "I don't want to miss one of these sermons on the Ten Commandments. Even if I am out of town, I will try to get back for Sunday night." There is a reason.

C. E. Stevens of Ann Arbor, will sing next Sunday at the morning service. There will also be a full quartette.

A. LaVerne Spafford of Grand Rapids, field secretary for the Michigan Christian Endeavor society, gave an inspiring address at the Presbyterian church, last Tuesday night. Mr. Spafford was a guest at the manse during his stay in Plymouth.

The Busy Woman's Bible class held their monthly meeting and annual election last Tuesday afternoon, at the home of the president, Mrs. F. L. Becker. Mrs. J. R. Rauch, who has been the efficient and well-beloved teacher of the class for several years, found it necessary to resign her active leadership on account of physical disability, and her resignation was reluctantly accepted. She was presented by the class with a beautiful plant as a token of their appreciation. Mrs. Asa Joy was elected to succeed her, with Mrs. F. L. Becker as associate teacher. After the election of officers, ice cream and cake were served.

An ice cream social for the benefit of the piano fund will be held Friday evening (tonight) at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melburn Partridge on the Sutton road, beginning at 7:30. Those planning to attend are asked to meet at the church at 7:00 o'clock, where autos will be found for conveyance.

Members of the Epworth League are invited to attend the Christian Endeavor meeting, next Sunday night. Miss Genevieve McClumpha will lead.

The mid-week service is being held on Wednesday night. Topic for next Wednesday, "Business Scenes of the Bible."
