TO THE VOTERS OF THE VILLAGE OF PLYMOUTH

Concerning the special election to be held on January 9th for the purpose of deciding on the amendments to the Village Charter, the Women's Club of Plymouth has investigated and compared conditions under the Council form of government and under the present Commission-Manager form, and they wish to go on record as emphatically endorsing the present Commission-Manager form.

The relative expense of the Village administration under the two forms of government is under discussion. How is the Village Manager's salary of $3,000 justified? In the first place he is a trained executive spending his whole time carrying out the policies of the Commission. He performs the duties of the Village Clerk which alone, in a Village the size of Plymouth, are nearly enough to fill one man's time. He is a registered graduate civil engineer, who, except for design and inspection on the water works improvement contract, has done all the Village engineering for sewers, water works, streets and walks, and has done besides a large amount of drafting work in the office, all of which is in reality free to the Village.

Under the Council form a Clerk would be necessary, costing under present conditions not less than $1,200 a year. Engineering work equivalent to that done during the past year would cost nearly as much more. The street and water superintendent would be necessary in either form of government. It then appears that the Council form would cost about as much as the Commission-Manager form for administration and there would be no one man at the head to assume responsibility or direct affairs. The councilmen would be well meaning, but no men spending but a small fraction of their time on the job could give such important adequate supervision, especially for no compensation.

In Michigan there are over two dozen cities and villages governed as we are now. None have ever gone back to the old form of government. In our state the subject of charter revision has recently been voted on in Kalamazoo, Pontiac and Oshtemo and each city has by large majorities endorsed the Commission-Manager Government.

The Women's Club believes that for Plymouth to overthrow the present system of government would be a very serious step backward. They endorse very strongly the Commission management and hope to see it continued here.

When you vote, please look at your ballot carefully. At the end there will be two statements, each followed by a square. One statement is, "I favor the above proposed amendments—Yes []". The second is, "I favor the above proposed amendments—No []". These are just alike except for the "Yes" and "No." Be sure to place your crosses in the square after the "No," thus voting against making any change, and help to keep Plymouth in the line of progress and improvement.

Signed,
SPECIAL COMMITTEE,
WOMEN'S CLUB OF PLYMOUTH.

The foregoing communication was placed before the board of directors of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and endorsed, at a meeting duly held January 3, 1922.

If you wish to vote against the amendments, which is to continue the present form of government, the commission-manager form, you should vote "no."

BASKET BALL SCHOOL LEAGUE READY

SIX SCHOOLS WILL BE REPRESENTED IN THE LEAGUE THIS SEASON.

The schools of Wayne, Plymouth, Farmington, Redford, Northville and Dearborn will be represented this season in the basket ball championship series of the Four-Square League.

Farmington High, which won the basket ball honors last year, is said to be in good shape to repeat this season, but Wayne and Plymouth, have been greatly strengthened this year, and the series between these three school teams will be watched with much interest.

Dearborn is placing a quintet on the floor for the first time, and no doubt will prove a strong contender for the championship.

The local team has been strenuously training for the coming season, and will give a good account of themselves in the coming contest. The schedule of games is as follows:

Jan. 13—Plymouth at Northville; Farmington at Redford, Wayne at Dearborn.

Jan. 20—Northville at Wayne, Redford at Plymouth, Dearborn at Farmington.

Jan. 27—Redford at Wayne, Farmington at Northville, Plymouth at Dearborn.

Feb. 3—Plymouth at Wayne, Northville at Redford, Farmington at Dearborn.

Feb. 10—Farmington at Wayne, Northville at Plymouth, Redford at Dearborn.

Feb. 17—Wayne at Redford, Dearborn at Northville, Plymouth at Farmington.

Feb. 24—Wayne at Plymouth, Redford at Farmington, Dearborn at Northville.

FIRE DID CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE

About eight o'clock last Sunday evening, fire broke out on the roof of B. D. Brown's house on Union street, and owing to the dryness of roof, the flames spread so rapidly it was feared the house would burn down before the firemen could get control. The roof and rafters were burned and charred and considerable damage was done inside by smoke and water. Mr. and Mrs. Brown had just returned home from Pontiac, and the furnace fire being low, Mr. Brown rebuilt it and it is believed that the fire started from a spark from the chimney. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The firemen wish to express their appreciation for the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. William Rop, who furnished them with hot coffee during the fire.

SWEPT AWAY IN AVALANCHE

Tragedy in American Northwest Graphically Described by Army Officer Who Led Party.
An American officer tells a moving story of sudden and swift destruction in our Northwest. It happened on a February day, when a warm sun and a Chinook wind from the Pacific were melting the snow. All along the trail, as the officer and his party wound up the mountain side, great masses of snow seemed to overhang them, and more than once the officer noticed how anxious the grizzly-haired old guide seemed to be, that a narrow path had been cleared through the snow, and the 20 miles followed one another in single file.
Halfway up they came to four cabins occupied by miners. Three heavy men in red alpine coats and hats, and one of the cabins talking to the party had just. Salutes were exchanged, but the officer's party had no occasion to halt.
They had gone about three hundred feet, and were about to make a turn in the trail, when the leader halted to look back. The guide was ahead—the officer second. The line of men was strung out for a quarter of a mile, and on foot among them were five packers, all half-breeds.
The officer heard no signal of danger, no cry of alarm. With the swiftness of thought the snow, 500 feet up the mountain, began to move. The width of the avalanche was about half a mile, and it moved very rapidly. There were thousands of tons of snow, hundreds of trees, hundreds of great boulders.
In a few moments it was all over, and a cloud of what seemed smoke hung over the spot. It drove off down the mountain after two or three minutes, and the officer looked for his pack train.
Not a man nor a mule had escaped. He looked for the cabins and they, too, had disappeared. Indeed, the very trail had been swept down into the valley a mile below, and almost across it. For a space of half a mile wide there was neither tree nor shrub—not a yard of earth. The avalanche had ground its way down to the rocks.—New York Herald.
None Died of Laughter.
"Strange, when you come to think of it," says Max Beerbohm in "And Even Now," "that of all the countless folk who have lived before our time on this planet, not one is known in history or in legend as having died of laughter. Strange, too, that not to one of all the characters in romance has such an end been allotted.
"Has it ever struck you what a chance Shakespeare missed when he was finishing the second part of King Henry the Fourth? Falstaff was not the man to stand cowed and howled while the young king lectured him and cast him off. Little by little, as Hal proceeded in that portentous allocution, the humor of the situation would have mastered old Sir John. His face, blank with surprise at first, would presently have glowed and whitened and his whole bulk begun to quiver. Last he should hiss one word, he would have mastered himself. But the first words would have been the six out for the release of all the course pent up in him; the welkin would have rung; the roars, belike, would have gradually subsided in dreadful rumblings of more than audible or conquerable mirth. Thus and thus only might his life have been rounded off with dramatic fitness."

Skating on Thin Ice

Financially speaking, the man who drives his automobile without Full Coverage insurance is skating on thin ice.
He's just trusting to luck that he won't have an accident. Luck is fickle.
Damage awards to accident victims run high.
There's too much to lose, too little to gain by driving uninsured.
One fair sized damage award would pay the premiums on a Peninsular Full Coverage Policy for a life time.

Snowplow Pushed by Tractor.
A tractor-propelled snowplow has been developed in northern Michigan for use on snow-swept northern roads, says an illustrated article in Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is operated by two men controlling the individual units of plow and endless-tread tractor. It is a huge affair, with a "wing" spread of 12 feet, throwing the snow six feet to either side. On each side of the foreman's sled is a large plowshare which turns the snow. Set at any desired angle are outboards which carry the snow to the sides of the road. The plow unit is adjustable for height by means of screws turned by hand-wheels. It makes a road suitable for motor traffic, or for sleighs of any width.

MARK TWAIN WON THIS "TALL YARN" CONTEST

Mark Twain's humor is largely based upon incongruity and contrast. "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," of which the special William Fox film version is coming to the Wuerth Theatre, Ypsilanti, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, January 9, 10, 11 and 12, is crammed with examples. It is said to be the funniest thing Twain ever wrote, yet it contains a carefully reasoned argument.

Mark never was at a loss for an answer. One day he was telling a group of friends about a wonderful lake he had seen in Colorado.

"The water is so clear," he said, "that you could see a ten-cent piece on the bottom at a depth of one hundred fathoms."

A stony silence followed. Mark glanced around.

"Well," he said "I assure you that if you threw a ten-dollar bill in the lake it could plainly be seen on the surface."

RESOLUTIONS

LAFAYETTE DEAN

For Past Grand Lafayette Dean, who became a member of Tonquish Lodge, No. 32, I. O. O. F., in May, 1883, in which he held continuous membership until the time of his death, December 21, 1921.

He was also a charter member of Plymouth Rebekah Lodge, No. 182, I. O. O. F.; a member of Ingersoll Encampment, No. 29, of Detroit; and a member of the Grand Lodge of Michigan.

Roll back the records of swift flying years,
So filled with our hopes and blurred with our tears;

Turn back the chapters, and on sunny morn
Find this recorded: "Lafayette Dean is born."

In the Grand Temple of Greatness and Fame,
Is open a niche for every man's name,
Lower or higher, which ever it be,
His own hand must write it:

The work of his life—ah, what can it be?
Look over your journal's, there you may see.

On every page the work of his hand,
Living and speaking, forever to stand,
His labors are done and he is at rest,
The hard toil of years, the Master has blessed;

No pen can record, no language can tell
The work he has done, but it was done well,
No one who knew him in person of fame,
Can point to a blot upon his fair name.

Gentle and loving, yet fearless and bold,
A friendship with him was better than gold,
His life work is o'er, and ever will stand,
With Odd Fellows true in Michigan.

As better than shaft of iron or stone,
To mark what a life devoted has done,
We miss him, we mourn him, but bow to the blow,
For he has done well, and Lafayette Dean, we know,

Has ordered the Lodge of heavenly rest,
And forth his reward mid scenes of the best,
Bring the green laurel, a crown we would weave,
Such as the mightiest victors receive;

Gather the flowers of sweetest perfume,
Place a bright garland on Lafayette Dean's one tomb,
Victor more mighty than many a king,
Whose bloody triumphs the poets may sing;

Patron more worthy than many a saint,
Whose virtues, often, are tinsel and paint,
Bring the broad scroll of true Honor and Fame,
Write on it boldly Loved Lafayette Dean's own name;

Write there in letters of many a span,
Servod well his Maker and loved fellow man.
Be it Resolved, that this resolution be made a part of our Lodge record; also a copy be sent to the bereaved family, also to the Grand Lodge of Michigan.

Baptist Notes

New Year's day at the Baptist church was full of interest and there was a good attendance, both morning and evening. At the close of the morning service, the pastor extended to one young lady, the hand of fellowship, and a large number sat down to observe the Lord's Supper, said to be the largest number that has sat down together for several years in this special service.

Several of our teachers were away last Sunday or sick. Our superintendent, who has been at the bedside of his sick brother since Christmas, sent word Wednesday morning that his brother had passed away at his home in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan. The church and Sunday-school sympathize with him in this sad hour in the loss of a loved brother.

The prayer meeting for this week Thursday evening will be at the parsonage, and may be in different homes during the month.

The pastor went to Lansing on Wednesday to attend a meeting of the associations of the state, to convene at the First Baptist church of that city. He will represent the Wayne association as a pastor, and George Sutton of Pontiac, will represent the laymen. The meeting is in the interest of the "Forward Step Movement."

The receipt for packages sent from the Plymouth Baptist church to Russia via New York, when the Baptists were loading a ship for Europe, has been received, and also word has come that the ship has gone to distribute her cargo in several countries. Over 2,000 boxes of clothing of all kinds, 45,000 pairs of shoes, 10,000 blankets, 50,000 cakes of soap, 40 barrels of toys, besides barrels of hats and caps, etc. The cargo was sent on the good ship "Estonia."

The Christmas offering will also be sent to Europe to help buy food for the needy.

Methodist Matters

This week is being observed as a week of prayer with a short meeting each night at the church at 7:00. Each meeting has been a special subject of prayer. Also the whole month of January is being devoted to the subject of prayer.

Mrs. Peter F. Stair of Ann Arbor, superintendent of Young People's work in the Detroit area, made us a visit on Thursday of this week, and led a Mother's meeting in the afternoon, had a pot-luck supper with the members of the Sunday-school board, Epworth League Cabinet, and various committees that have to do with the Crusader's Conference to be held later.

The Young People's Crusaders' Conference is to be held in this church the 13th to the 15th of this month, opening with a banquet next Friday night.

The Epworth League begins a Mission Study course next Sunday evening. It will probably be a most interesting and lively affair with the members divided into two divisions as in a spelling-down contest, and the two sides will ask questions back and forth. The book to be studied is "John Wesley, Junior," a very interesting book, written in story form.

A movie program will be given again next Monday night at 7:00.

The Men's Brotherhood Class is in for a jolly time, next Tuesday night, at 7:30, with a social gathering at Brother Sutherland's establishment out South Main. We hope it will be better weather than last time such a gathering was attempted. Better go, brother.

Episcopal Notes

Last Sunday morning, Franklin Gibson gave a very fine address, and

New Year's message to the mission. He took his text from St. Matt. 5:16, "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Mr. Gibson spoke very earnestly about forming new resolutions for the New Year, both individually and of the mission as a body that their "Light may so shine before men."

After the church school last Sunday, Mrs. Murphy, the superintendent, addressed the school, and suggested certain plans for the coming year. Apart from the prizes, Mrs. Murphy is giving an extra special prize to the one who does not miss a Sunday attendance. This prize will certainly be worth working for.

There will be a vestry meeting this week, which will be held in Mr. Strong's office at the village hall, to discuss and lay out plans and estimates for the coming year. These will be placed before the annual meeting of St. John's parishioners, to be held during January, at which meeting the vestry and officers of St. John's will be elected for the coming year. Archdeacon J. G. Widdifield will preside. Date of meeting will be announced later.

LIVONIA CENTER

The Pedro party held at Jesse Ziegler's was largely attended. The prizes were awarded Herman Johnson and Hazel Rutenbar. The next one will be held at Charles Wagenschutz's, Saturday evening, January 7th.

Edgar Smith is a proud owner of a new Ford touring car.

Mr. and Mrs. William Staman and sons, Harry and William, were guests at William Garchow's, Tuesday evening.

Fred Lee has been called on jury for the January-February term of court, and began his duties, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Garchow and children spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John VanBonn; also called on Mr. and Mrs. Julius Landau.

New Year's guests at the Fred Lee home were: Miss Helen Huttenstein of Petersburg; Miss Eva Austin of Northville, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ladzick of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. John Redding and family were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Landau, Sunday evening.

The annual business meeting of the Lutheran church was held Tuesday afternoon, and the officers elected for the ensuing year were: Matt Miller, William Staman, Mrs. Tracy Baze and Mrs. Henry Pankow.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Halstead of Novi, and Irene and Harold Chilson of Detroit, were entertained at the Palmer Chilson home, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Canuelle entertained a family gathering at the home of Mrs. Canuelle's brother in Detroit, New Year's.

Mrs. Minnie Cook and son, Russell, of Plymouth, were callers at the John Baze home, one day last week.

John Hewett was a guest of his brother, Joe Hewett, between Christmas and New Year's.

STARK

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph VanTassel are entertaining a company from Saginaw for a week.

Mrs. Belle Fisher has been spending a few days in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Larden entertained a company from Detroit, Saturday and Sunday.

The dancing party New Year's eve, given at Mr. and Mrs. Ralph VanTassel's, was well attended and all report a very fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Winkler and children spent Sunday at Belleville.

NORTHEAST F.R.E. CHURCH

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Villeroi spent last week with their daughter, Mrs. F. A. Hesse.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grammel spent Sunday evening with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas of Livonia.

Thomas Gardner and wife were Sunday guests of Mrs. Gardner's parents near Redford.

Mrs. Charles Root called on Mrs. John Harwood, on Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gardner were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hesse, Sunday evening.

Farmers in this vicinity are busy husking corn.

CANTON

Mr. and Mrs. George Morton entertained George Morton, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Morton and family, all of Detroit, New Year's.

Mrs. Beare of Sheldon, is ill with gripe and a gathering in her car, which is very painful.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Doyle of Pinckney, spent the Christmas vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Sheldon.

Mrs. A. O. Huston was a Detroit visitor, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barker entertained Mr. and Mrs. Will Kelley, New Year's.

Mr. Coveyill has leased the Mott farm, and is doing some repairs preparatory to moving within a week.

Del. Avey and family and Will Avery and family were entertained

New Year's, by their mother, at her home on Tupper street.

B. A. Clark, his sister, Blanche, and his parents, all of Northville, visited Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Palmer and A. H. Griffin, last Thursday.

The circulation of the Canton Library Center was one hundred and twenty-six for the month of December.

Another robbery of the Sheldon store, last Thursday. The hold-up was staged at 6:00 p. m., with George Boldman, William Franklin and his brother-in-law and Mr. Winsor present. And the latter was the loser of all the money in the till and in his pockets.

W. C. T. U.

The meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held next Thursday at 2:00 p. m., at the home of Mrs. John Rattenbury, Ann Arbor street. Rev. S. C. Hathaway will be the speaker for the day. It is hoped there will be a good attendance.

All members of the W. C. T. U. who wish to retain the present efficient form of village government, should be present at the election, Monday, January 9th, and vote "No" on the amendment to abolish said form of government.

As a Union we should take a favorable stand for a good, clean, progressive form of government. Under the present form of government, Plymouth has advanced far beyond many of the neighboring villages, and a return to the old form would surely be a step backward.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Wm. Gates Sr., nee Frederica Peters, was born near Berlin, Germany, February 22, 1832, and departed this life December 25, 1921, at the age of 89 years, 10 months and three days.

On March 16, 1853, she was united in marriage to Wm. Gates, near Berlin, Germany and came to America in 1857. To this union, nine children were born, six sons and three daughters.

Her husband passed away March 15, 1915, two sons and one daughter having preceded him.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Louis Schaal and Mrs. Albert Trinkaus, of Plymouth, and four sons, William, James and Albert of Plymouth, Theodore, of Eaton, Colorado, besides several grandchildren, great grandchildren and one brother.

Her devotion to her home and loved ones was beautiful to see. Her heart's best wishes were ever theirs and her joys and sorrows were alike, as she stood ready to lend a helping hand to those in need and sorrow.

To know her was to love her, as her pleasing manner and winning ways were like a ray of sunshine and endeared her to everyone.

She was a devoted christian and her deep christian character will ever remain in the hearts of those who knew her.

The family, in their sorrow, have the sympathy of a host of friends.

'Tis hard to break the tender cord
When love has bound the heart.
'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the word
We must forever part.
Dearest mother, we must lay thee
In the peaceful grave's embrace,
But thy memory will be cherished
'Til we see thy heavenly face.

Today's Reflections

Winter has at least one advantage—you don't have to hoe in the garden.

We like to meet the Plymouth man who has learned that although a smile goes a long way, it always comes back.

Considering the prices they charge, it looks like bootleggers ought to throw in a lunch.

We wouldn't need any new resolutions if we'd handle the old ones more gently.

We're awfully glad that we haven't in all Plymouth a man who spoiled some kid's Christmas by denying there's a Santa Claus.

It's all right to junk ships, but if we could junk our hardships it would be a lot better.

Many a Plymouth man who doesn't profess to love art admires the pictures on our federal bank notes.

Burglars recently got $1,500 out of a Chicago woman's shoe. She must have been saving to buy a new pair.

Some Plymouth kids get everything they ask for, while others have no sensible parents.

It has about gotten so in our larger cities that they need street cars that can detour around the automobiles.

It only cost Columbus $7,200 to discover America—but look at all the free advertising he got out of it.

Practice makes perfect. That's why we advise Plymouth men to be careful what they practice.

St. Louis women spent $3,000,000 last year for face paint. But wouldn't it be interesting to know how much St. Louis men spent for nose paint?

As a usual thing when a man gets in hot water he has to be bailed out.

The good-looking Plymouth girl who can also cook never needs to worry about her future.

A Boston doctor says exercise will kill germs, but he doesn't tell us how we can get germs to exercise.

A CARD—We wish to take this opportunity to thank the Plymouth Fire Department, our neighbors and friends for the many acts of kindness shown us at the time of the fire in our home.
Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Brown.

Constipation.
Constipation of the bowels is a stoppage of the sewerage system that removes the waste matter from the body. It is necessary that your bowels move regularly once each day, to carry off this waste, as it is that the waste pipes of your home be kept open and carry off the waste from the house. If you would enjoy good health, keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed.—Advertisement.

CARITAS HOME NOTES

The children of the Caritas Home will not forget their first holiday week at the new home. It was some Christmas. Early Christmas eve, the children took part in an entertainment with the parents and friends as the audience. This was followed by a visit from Santa Claus who distributed gifts for all, which was made possible by a tree and gifts furnished by Palestine Ladies' Association of Detroit. The Sunday school of the Presbyterian church of Plymouth, gave the children a large basketball. Miss Merce and Miss Gardner furnished candy and fruit for each child and they finally retired at midnight, tired but very happy.

Sunday and Monday were spent by feasting and playing with the new toys. Followed Monday night by a visit to the Pennington Allen theatre. Thanks to the generosity of Mrs. A. Len.

On Thursday, the children visited the home of Miss Merce where they were elaborately entertained and most sumptuously feasted. Prizes were distributed to winners of games played and a good time was enjoyed by all.

New Year's day the usual Sunday-school was conducted by the Rev. Hathaway, assisted by Miss Merce, also the Misses Hathaway and Whipple.

PRESBYTERIAN PARAGRAPHS

The trustees have again engaged the High school auditorium for Saturday afternoons from 1:30 to 3:30, and offer it to the boys and girls of the community under the eighth grade in accordance with the following rules and regulations:

1. A nominal charge of five cents, to cover the cost of janitor service, will be made each week to those using the room, and this sum will be collected at the beginning of the hour by the overseers in charge.
2. Boys shall have exclusive use of the room from 1:30 to 2:30, and girls from 2:30 to 3:30. The doors will be open at 1:20, and none should come before that time.
3. Girls may remain in the room from 1:30 to 2:30 and boys from 2:30 to 3:30, as spectators, if quiet and orderly, but they must at no time interfere with the playing of those in possession.
4. All who use the floor shall wear gymnasium shoes, or their equivalent.
5. Two overseers, appointed by the trustees, shall be present whenever the room is in use, and shall have general oversight, appointing such referees or leaders, as may be needed in the games.
6. In all team games which require a limited number of players, the selection of players shall be made in such a way that all present shall have an equal share in the game, if possible; and, if numbers are unequal, an impartial method of "counting out" shall be employed at the beginning of each quarter, preference being given, each time, to those who have been longest "out."

7. Boys and girls above the seventh grade may be chosen by those in possession of the floor if necessary to make up a required number in any game. But these shall be the first to drop out when rotation or substitution becomes necessary or possible; and during the time of play they shall be subject to the general rules.

8. At 3:30 all shall leave the premises promptly and in good order.

9. The trustees shall have power to change these rules from time to time as the occasion may require.

By order of the Trustees of the Presbyterian Church.

Do not forget the annual meeting on the evening of January 9th.

A new type of evening service is being arranged. Watch for the announcements.

A good response was given in Christian Endeavor last Sunday night to the call for sentence prayers. Mr. Moore led the meeting in an interesting way and urged the members to specialize in religious training.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society has presented Mrs. Laura Alexander with a fine bible in appreciation of her leadership. Their meeting is held now on Wednesday afternoon instead of Friday.

The pastor reports that the manse baby is, so far, a "showing success," and he will soon appear in public in the handsome cap provided by the Ready Service Class.

SESSIONS—THOMPSON

Miss Myra B. Thompson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson, of Northville, and Harry D. Sessions, of Novi, were quietly united in marriage at five o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, December 28, by the Rev. A. W. Stalker at Ann Arbor. The bride was very becomingly attired in blue silk and carried a beautiful bouquet of rose-buds, violets and sweet peas. She is one of Northville's well known young ladies and highly esteemed. Since the retirement of her parents from the farm duties, she has been housekeeper for her two brothers, Walter S. and Thomas, Jr. The groom is a well known and prosperous young farmer, living near Novi. Their many friends join in wishing them a long and happy wedded life. They will reside on the groom's farm.

RESOLUTIONS

To the family of Charles Tiffin from Tonquish Lodge, No. 32, I. O. O. F., Plymouth, Michigan.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our worthy brother and friend, Charles Tiffin, be it

RESOLVED, That we as a lodge of Odd Fellows tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved children in their hour of affliction. We feel that in the loss of our brother, we have lost a friend indeed. During our association with him, we have found him an energetic and faithful member, as well as a useful brother, and while you mourn the loss of a father, we too, have lost an honored member, and his memory will live long in the hearts of his brethren. And we hope and trust that you as a family and we as an entire lodge may meet in that temple not made by hands whose light is the Lord. Be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be placed in the records of the lodge and one be sent to the family and also be published in the Plymouth Mail.

Signed in behalf of the Lodge,

Worth Considering.

The question is not so much how you contract a cold, but how to get rid of it with the least loss of time and inconvenience. If you will consider the experience of others under similar circumstances, who have been most successful in checking their colds, in their beginning, you will secure a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without delay, and use it faithfully. There are many families who have used this preparation successfully for years and hold it in high esteem. It is excellent—Advertisement.

If you have anything to buy or sell, advertise it in the Mail. It will cost but a small sum. Try it.

SOME HINTS FOR GAS CONSUMERS

Gas engineers, manufacturers of household gas appliances and home economics specialists have recently collaborated in the preparation of a number of suggestions as to the thrifty use of gas in the home. Their conclusions made a very weighty report and this was placed with the American Gas Association for distribution to the gas companies over the United States.

Working in a large number of kitchens, the investigators made their tests on actual installations during the progress of routine domestic work. It was found that most women used their gas appliances in a manner that did not return them maximum efficiency.

Here are a few notes from the findings of the investigators. Your local gas company wants you to have them so that you will use its service wisely. Ask about anything at any time that you may wish to know concerning the use of gas.

Keep gas burners clean by a monthly bath in hot water and soda.

See that burners are properly adjusted to give right proportion of air and gas. If your gas flame is long, yellow and smoky, the stove needs adjustment. You are using too much gas and getting too little heat. A small blue flame is the ideal one.

When about to use the gas oven, plan to use it to capacity. You can roast meat while making a pie or biscuits. There is plenty of heat to go around. Use the oven to capacity.

The same flame heats the broiler and oven. Both can be used at one time.

Get out of the habit of using the giant burner on your gas stove for everything. Smaller ones will do for half of your requirements.

Don't heat a kettleful of water when you want only a pint. And if you have an instantaneous heater, don't start it up every time you must have a tiny bit of hot water.

Scale in kettles and cooking utensils, accumulations of soot on the bottom of pans and other kitchen ware, are great little insulators to keep heat back. Scale is the result of chemical action. It can be easily removed. Soot is the result of poorly adjusted burners or careless accumulation. Either is wasteful and unnecessary, and works against good results. Your kitchen is your laboratory. Keep your instruments in such fine condition that they will give the best results.

Get acquainted with the simmer burner. It will keep boiling water at that temperature. It will furnish all the heat you need for a hundred purposes that you now require of the giant burner.

Don't try to use the gas for heating until you have learned about what it will cost. The woman who warms up her kitchen in the morning by lighting the gas in her oven and leaving the door open is running up a healthy gas bill.

When baking, heat the oven before using. Ten minutes is an average time for a baking oven and five minutes for heating the broiling oven. This is not wasteful, for if you put your dishes in right off, it takes that much longer to warm the oven anyway and results are less reliable.

Sheet iron and agate pans hold heat and burn your food on the bottom and sides. Tin is the best conductor of heat, and most satisfactory for oven use.

ATTENTION FORD OWNERS

Ford parts, like most everything else worth while, are counterfeited. The manufacturers of these imitation parts are obviously not as interested as we are in maintaining the high standard of quality and the complete satisfaction of Ford owners. Imitation parts are manufactured to sell at the highest possible rate of profit and the grades of steel used are consequently not the same high quality, specially heat-treated alloy steels specified in Ford formulas for the manufacture of GENUINE FORD PARTS.

Don't be misled—Insist up GENUINE FORD PARTS made by the Ford Motor Company. By so doing you will get from 35 to 100 per cent more wear from them, and you will pay the lowest possible cost—the same everywhere.

WORTHY WIFE OF HUN CHIEF

Attila, the "Scourge of God" Had Devoted Helpmate and Adviser in His Conquest of Rome.

Attila the Hun was a thoroughly horse-trained husband. Helga, the beautiful Norse wife of Attila, was a fitting mate in his barbaric warrior, Amazonian figure, gigantic in strength, she accompanied him on all his raids.

Helga was as courageous in death as she was in life. After the unsuccessful campaign at Chalons, when Attila was stopped by the Franks and the Romans, the Scourge determined to die rather than face defeat.

Alpine climbing by cinema has at last been achieved, with Middle, James, a popular Parisian danseuse, and Ernest Brod, son of a noted French theatrical photographer, as survivors of what is considered the most notable feat of mountain climbing ever recorded, according to an exchange.

The Secret of the Four. Anthony Swat was the clever boy of the mathematical class, while Billie Sport was a duffer at the lesson.

"I say, Bill, do you think you could do a sum? If you saw five chickens in a yard, and you caught one for your lunch, how many would be left?"

"No," smiled Anthony, with a superior smile. "That's where I catch you: the other four fly away."

Good Pipetam Ruined. U. S. Boling, deputy clerk of the Indiana Supreme and Appellate courts, while in a remiss mood recently, told the following story of the old days of Decatur county:

Old Dan Higdon, a pioneer, was out in the hills with two or three others, hauling logs. A big log got away and went down the hillside. Old Dan was only a few yards away and in the path of the log. He dropped to the ground, and the log in careening over his head, crushed him under its weight.

Following the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Richwine left for their home in Detroit, which was furnished and awaiting them, and after February 1st they will be at home at No. 5012 Ivanhoe avenue. Friends here extend best wishes.

When the white pines of the northern lake states began to disappear, some of the old lumberjacks followed "the boss" down into the southern provinces, but the climate and environment were seldom to their liking, and he soon drifted to the West, the last frontier. Here it was a new game to him, for donkey-engine, flume, and overhead cable skidding had replaced the horse, the sled-haul, and the animal spring drive.

While a few of the typical lumberjacks are still found in the West, they are fast disappearing. When we sing the praises of our sturdy pioneers don't forget the old American lumberjack: he was a good soldier in time of war and a hard-working, reliable householder in time of peace.

Unfortunate Infants. The craze for war names is one of the many interesting things that the census just completed in the United Kingdom, has shown.

"Filming" the High Places. Alpine climbing by cinema has at last been achieved, with Middle, James, a popular Parisian danseuse, and Ernest Brod, son of a noted French theatrical photographer, as survivors of what is considered the most notable feat of mountain climbing ever recorded, according to an exchange.

Great Was the Fall Thereof. In certain remote county districts in Scotland it is still considered a great sin for a clergyman to read his sermon. Such a preacher generally employs four distinct headings in his sermon—first, second, third and "lastly."

Lignite as Fuel. Lignite in its powdered form has long been used as fuel, but it has had many disadvantages up to the present, consisting chiefly in the difficulty of drying it, and of saving its by-products.

Constipation of the bowels is a stoppage of the sewerage system that removes the waste matter from the body. It is necessary that your bowels move regularly once each day, to carry off this waste, as it is that the waste piles of your body are kept open and carry off the waste from the house.
