CLOUDS ARE LIFTING

How fortunate we are to have men of clear vision, men possessing a spirit of hope and cheerfulness. Such men assist in carrying us over rough places and through periods of depression, and point out to us our duty.

In the report of Mr. T. C. Atkinson, representative of the National Grange at Washington, made to the members in their annual meeting, we find several paragraphs which seem to go straight to the heart of our agricultural conditions as well as to that of the nation. We present his statement to readers of Plymouth and community, feeling sure they will serve to bring about a better understanding of our duty, and a better understanding of conditions. He says:

"In spite of the gloomy outlook at the beginning of the year, and desperate as the situation has been for many people on the farms and elsewhere, there is, I believe, a lifting of the economic clouds that have depressed us. The readjustment, which all thoughtful people know must come, has found many thoughtful people poorly prepared to meet its distressing consequences. The higher we fly in years of prosperity, the harder we fall in years of adversity, and there is no divine statute or economic law to protect people against their own follies or mistakes. Agriculture has seen hard times before and came up smiling, just as it is going to do this time. With our magnificent country, our splendid citizenship and the best government ever devised, however disfigured we may be, we must continue to lead the world in agriculture, in industry, commerce and statesmanship.

"The best remedy—the only remedy—for much of the present-day unrest and discontent would be a little more good, old-fashioned hard work."

YOU CAN TELL THEM

When you find a man who is well posted in the details and principles of his own business, who is well acquainted with conditions and their effects on business in general, who is always familiar with the many subjects that affect one's life today—directly and indirectly, commercially and socially—when you find such a man (and there are quite a few right here in Plymouth), you have found a man who READS.

The reading of good literature is an education, and the reading of weekly and semi-weekly and daily newspapers brighten any man or woman to the point where their advice or their suggestions are worth having. The man or woman who reads profits by the experience of others, and they always seem to get along better than those who depend upon snatches of conversation picked up here and there for their information of world affairs and business conditions. You can always tell the man who reads, because he answers quickly questions put to him about subjects that are of vital interest to humanity. He realizes that the earth doesn't come to an end just out at the edge of town, but that events which may mean woe or happiness to the entire human race are transpiring somewhere else, and will be felt here later on. In fact, he is usually the one in the community best prepared for whatever comes, be it sunshine or cloud.

Next to being a good man, religiously, nothing is of more value to you—and to those about you—than to be well-read.

A LITTLE BIT OF PEP

Here's a little sermon from an exchange that is as full of truth as a watermelon is full of meat—read it twice to be sure you don't miss any of it:

"Tell me not in mournful numbers advertising is a dream, for the business man who slumbers has no chance to skim the cream. Life is real! Life is earnest! Competition's something fierce, if you dividends thou yearnest, learn to parry thrust and pierce. In the business field of battle, molly-coddles have no place; be not like dumb driven cattle, be a live one in the race. Lives of great men all around us remind us we must bring the bacon home, and departing leave behind us footprints on another's dome. Let us then be up and doing, otherwise we may be done; still achieving, still pursuing—advertise and get the Mon."

WEST TOWN LINE

Norman Stacey was a Detroit shopper, Saturday, remaining over Sunday for a visit with his aunt, Mrs. Bert Hayward.

Ruth Smith and brother, Ernest, called on Gertrude Stacey, Thursday evening.

Sunday callers at Mrs. Forshee's were: Mrs. C. O. Dickerson, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Harry Stanley and son and Foster Brown.

Mr. Reitzke has decided to remain in Detroit for another year, having rented the farm he recently purchased of Mrs. Forshee.

Dorothy Stacey spent the week-end with her grandmother in Plymouth. Messrs. Gaylord Sayles and Floyd Stanley called on Mrs. Forshee and sister, Nancy Macomber, on Tuesday, and favored them with several selections on the kekele. Many thanks.

Miss Macomber has been suffering with neuralgia, and under the doctor's care ever since moving to Plymouth.

Lloyd Williams and Fred Truesdell were in Detroit, Tuesday, with a load of pork.

PERRINSVILLE

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spider, Jan. 19, a baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hjerpe, of Detroit, spent a part of last week at George Baehr's.

The dinner given by the L. A. S. was well attended. The net sum of $21.50 was added to the treasury.

There will be a dance at the A. O. G. hall, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Baehr spent Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bills at Wayne.

Mrs. Grace Hanchett and Mrs. Bell Saehr spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. M. Steinhilber.

No Settlements for Him. Highland Light, on cliff 90 feet above the sea at the tip end of Cape Cod, is credited with being the scene of a real tragedy.

The profoundly moving story concerns Bill, one of the keepers of the light, and incidentally one of the guides to the hundreds of tourists who flock to the lighthouse. Bill, according to his own version of the affair, formerly worked on a railroad. He used to be a conductor, and he necessarily came in contact with many people. In fact, there never was a time when he did not have people around, and Bill grew weary of his kind.

Looking about for a more desirable occupation he hit upon lighthouse keeping as the perfect job for a man who wanted solitude. And it just happened—such things do happen—that instead of the lonely spot he hoped for, Bill drew Highland, one of the most frequented spots of the great-ly frequented cape. Every motor-car going to or from Provincetown stops there, and in addition buses from two or three companies make the trip daily from Provincetown. And Bill's life now is one long business of guiding young women up the narrow stairs of the lighthouse and of explaining to them what it is that makes the wheels go around. Bill is bearing up under it, but he feels that fate has not dealt fairly with him.—Brocton Enterprise.

Ancient Store Destroyed. The old Ford store, known as the first department store in America, one of the most famous of South Shore historic landmarks, was destroyed by fire, says a Duxbury (Mass.) dispatch. The property was worth about $80,000, but there is no chance of estimating the value of the heirlooms and relics that were burned.

The store was a long, wooden building a story and a half high. It was built in 1828, and the business was begun by Nathaniel Ford & Sons. From the plan of this store present department stores were made, according to many business men here.

Daniel Webster was a patron of the store for years, and on display there since Webster's death, have been his favorite moccasins, several of his hats and a coat. The first copper measure used in America were also on display in the store. These and many other priceless relics were lost in the fire.

BASKET BALL

PLYMOUTH BASKETBALLERS WILL PLAY DEARBORN TONIGHT.

Plymouth High started off its first home basketball game, Friday night, with a bang. The "Reds" were opposed by the strong Redford High school team, who had defeated Farmington the previous week by one point. The Redford team is composed of veterans, all having played last year. Regardless of these odds, the local team was able to register baskets regularly during the first quarter. At one time the score was 8 to 4 in favor of the "Reds." Plymouth, playing the fastest game since it has shown in some time, was apparently on the road to victory.

To start the second quarter, Redford made two substitutions, which to all appearances greatly strengthened their team, both offensively and defensively. From then on till the end of the game, Plymouth appeared helpless, as they were unable to locate the basket.

Holtzra, the only dependable stationary guard, was forced to leave the game in the second quarter because of personal fouls. The second half was merely a continuation of the second quarter, as Redford had things her own way.

Plymouth made many substitutions, using eleven players during the game. Many faults are expected to be corrected during the present week, and it is hoped that a smooth fast working offense and defense can be perfected.

The team goes to Dearborn tonight (Friday) where a close game is expected. Wayne and Farmington have both defeated Dearborn.

We ask the support of the community as a whole, and especially that of the alumni in raising our standard of athletics to the highest level. Your attendance at games, both at home and away will be greatly appreciated. Get acquainted with the players and yell masters.

The line-up:

Plymouth (14)—Stevens, Capt. E. F.; Sutherland, L. F.; M. Doudt, C.; Selver, E. C.; Holmes, L. G.; Redford (85)—Miller, R. F.; James, L. F.; Dennis, C.; Krey, R. G.; Burt, L. G.

Score first half—Plymouth, 11; Redford, 19.

Field goals—Sutherland, 2; Stevens, 2; M. Doudt, 1; Dennis, 6; Merritt, 6; Miller, 2.

Fouls—Stevens, 3 in 6; Doudt, 1 in 2; Miller, 6 in 15; Merritt, 1 in 3.

Substitutes—Merritt, Lester, L. Doudt, Strasen, Miller, Millard, Williams, Hickey.

Referee—Crane of Michigan State Normal College.

Farmington at Northville.

Girls' Basket Ball Game

The basket ball game, Friday night was played with Redford on the Plymouth floor. Redford came over in a special car, bringing a large number of the school and townspeople with them. Both teams started out to win and the game kept even. It was only by fighting hard that the Plymouth girls finally got ahead. At the end of the first half the score was 7 to 5 in Plymouth's favor. The last half Redford made a one point goal and Plymouth made 2 one point field throws, a 2 point field throw and one goal throw making the final score 12 and 6 in favor of Plymouth.

A new ruling this year makes the scoring a little different from what it has been in previous years. A two-hand throw with arms straight above the head counts but one, while a two-hand shot from the chest or over one shoulder counts two as it always has before.

Following are the Plymouth and Redford line-up with their fouls and scores:

Plymouth—M. Kieley, R. F.; 2 technical fouls. Score—5 one-point field throws, 1 two-point field throw; 1 goal throw.

M. Amrhein, L. F., 1 personal foul. Score—1 two-point field throw, 2 goal throws.

D. Freydl, J. C., 1 technical foul.

D. Hinson, S. C.

H. Bolton, S. C.

E. Mueller, R. G., 3 technical and 1 personal fouls.

W. Shultz, L. G.

Redford—D. Wehby, R. F., 1 technical and 1 personal fouls. Score 3 one-point field throws, 2 goal throws.

E. Crawford, L. F., 1 technical foul.

Score—1 goal throw.

M. Dickson, J. C., 2 technical and 1 personal fouls.

M. Hinkle, S. C., 1 technical and 1 personal fouls.

I. Burek, R. G., 1 personal and 1 technical fouls.

D. Hinkle, L. G., 1 personal and 3 technical fouls.

Referee—Verna Walker of Ypsilanti.

FRAIN'S LAKE

The Ladies' Aid dinner last Thursday, was well attended, there being about eighty present, and the men gave a very interesting program.

The next meeting will be February 11th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lyke, when the men will serve a chicken pie dinner, and the ladies the program.

Ed. Chase is visiting his sister in Jackson.

Lloyd Lyke and wife are nicely located in their new home on the Ann Arbor road, formerly owned by the late Thomas Lyke.

Methodist Matters

Continued—The discussion and practice of prayer throughout January. Subject, Sunday morning, "Is the Home a Slacker?" Studies at the prayer meeting hour of the booklet, "Teach Us to Pray."

The moving pictures on Monday nights are of excellent quality and have a good moral tone.

Come to the Ladies' Aid Supper, Friday night this week, served by Mrs. Cook and her division of Cooks.

The Teacher Training Class meets each Thursday night after prayer meeting.

Mrs. Howell's division presents a home talent play at the theatre, next Tuesday night.

A conference of Ann Arbor districts, including both ministers and lay workers, is called by the bishop for February 2nd at Chelsea. Important matters will be discussed concerning the working program and activities of the church. It is hoped a good delegation will attend from Plymouth.

A printer's error occurred last week in the report of the Crusaders' Conference, in the list of those from Plymouth church, who are giving their lives to christian work, and are represented by a star on the christian service flag. Lyman Jackson's name should have appeared in the list. He is at present attending Albion college, preparing for medical missionary work.

The Epworth League contest in mission study takes up the first chapter in the book, "John Wesley, Jr.," on Sunday night at 6:30. Every member of the League and of the two opposing sides should be on hand for the opening.

Baptist Notes

A good attendance at the prayer meeting at Mr. and Mrs. Grainger's, last week. Sewell Bennett led the meeting at Mrs. Estep's, this week.

A good attendance at church and Sunday-school, last Sunday. The evangelistic party from Detroit, had charge of the services, and the seven young men were enjoyed very much.

The regular church service will be held next Sunday, and the pastor expects to be home to speak to his congregation, so everyone be on hand.

Mrs. Beal's Sunday-school class will hold a bake sale, Saturday afternoon, January 28th, at Smith's market on Liberty street. They solicit your trade.

MOTHER INTERESTING LETTER

JOHN E. WILCOX, A FORMER WELL KNOWN CITIZEN OF PLYMOUTH, WRITES ANOTHER INTERESTING LETTER TO THE MAIL.

Twin Falls, Idaho, January, '22.
Editor Samsen,
Dear Sir:

I see by the label on my Mail that my subscription has expired, and if there is one thing above another that a person ought to do at the beginning of the year, is to pay his debts, and especially the printer. So enclosed please find draft for $1.50 if you can. The Sunday Free Press and the Mail comes to us on Wednesday; the Farmington Enterprise of Thursday, and the Daily Free Press comes most any old time, sometimes we get three papers at once. Then for a daily paper, we have the Twin Falls News; then for a Sunday paper, we have the Idaho Statesman; then we have two magazines. So we are long on periodicals, if we are at times short of flour in the pillow case. Mrs. Wilcox was saying the other day, that if it wasn't for the home papers we get, she might be a little homesick at times.

Well, we have had the finest weather here this fall and winter so far, that I think I ever saw. We picked strawberries and raspberries way into November. The summer was very dry here, and yet Idaho never grew bigger crops than in 1921. More wheat that went over forty bushels to the acre, than under, and some smaller pieces that gave a yield of sixty or seventy bushels. One farmer here threshed 100 acres and had something over 5,000 bushels. What is very cheap here, selling at $1.20 per 100 lb. sack. One man here threshed 100 acres of red clover, and had a yield of ten bushels of clean seed to the acre. Some crop, too. Used to think in Michigan that two and three bushels was a good crop. Some fine crops of alfalfa seed were raised here last year, from eight to twelve bushels to the acre.

Potatoes were a great crop here. One man close by us had twelve acres, and they averaged him 300 sacks of 400 pounds to the sack. Several farmers around Twin Falls who planted 100 acres apiece of spuds. Potatoes sold early here as high as $1.50 per sack, but when the late crop came on they had an Irish tint and went down to $1.00. Now they are paying $1.25. When they dig spuds out here, they do business. They put four horses on a digger, and have a sorter drawn by one horse, and a man who looks after that. Then they have two pickers on each side. They dig every other row. These pickers dump their potatoes into this sorter, and the man who runs it fills the sacks and sets them off, and another man comes along with twine and sews them up. Some pleasure to raise potatoes where there are no bugs, and you can have rain any time you want it.

Idaho had apples galore last year. I never saw anything like it. I thought I had seen some fine fruit in Michigan and I have, but they do not have the size and color. But water will do just as much for an orchard as any other crop. Most all fruit out here is sold by the ton. They are picked either in baskets or boxes and brought to town and weighed, and then repacked and handled with care. There are some orchards here of two and three hundred acres. It is estimated that over eight thousand cars of fruit were shipped out of Idaho last fall. The following prices were paid here for fruit in 1921: Apples, $50.00 per ton; prunes, $35.00; peaches, $30.00; pears, $50.00; cherries, $100.00. Farmers out here are getting the idea of doing a little diversified farming—raising more corn, keeping more stock, selling milk and cream, and not depending on two or three crops.

A man who lives neighbor to me here, rents a ranch out about eight miles; raised 5,000 bushels of wheat and cut 500 tons of hay, says he lost money.

A great many farmers here who thought they were worth forty or fifty thousand dollars, find themselves broke. Land values depreciated 150 per cent, and some cases more. Business men and farmers are optimistic as to what 1922 will bring forth. But then, any man who sits around and nopes will never get out of the rut. You simply have got to fly your kite.

I see by the Mail that Henry Ford has the Plymouth Mills about torn down. The mill was about as much of an old landmark as anything I can recall. My father came to Plymouth in the year '47, and at that time the mill was owned and run by uncle, Henry Holbrook. He also ran a dry goods and grocery store in north town, and a saw mill and carding mill or woolen mill. That mill must have been built close to 90 years ago. I heard my uncle say that twice he filled the mill with fifty cent wheat. I heard my uncle say that one time he fed fifty or more hogs, and in the fall when he got ready to sell them, all he could get in Detroit for dressed pork was $2.50 per hundred pounds. So he packed that pork into barrels, and sent it to New York, and the freight, inspection, storage, etc., cleaned the platter, and he never realized anything out of the deal.

I see Plymouth voted quite decidedly not to return the old council form of government.

I extend to all, the season's greetings and trust that Plymouth may have a bright and prosperous New Year.

Sincerely,
JOHN E. WILCOX.

SCHOOL NOTES

The reporter for this week is Carol Pierce.

Report cards for the High school will be out next Wednesday. These will contain the final records of the whole semester.

Several members of the agricultural course are preparing for the state judging contest, to be held at the Michigan Agricultural College during Farmers' Week, January 30th to the 3rd of February. Live stock, fruit and grain contests will be held, and it is planned to enter a team in each.

In the agricultural course for the second semester, the tenth grade will study horticulture and the twelfth grade farm management.

Our debaters will debate Saturday night at Northville at the High school auditorium. We have the negative side of the question.

First semester examinations began this week Wednesday and ended Friday.

The fourth grade have memorized the one hundredth Psalm.

Lola Mae Barlow visited the fourth grade, Friday.

Audra Moore visited the fifth grade last Friday.

Mrs. Sharrow visited Mrs. Root's room, last Friday.

At the High school assembly, last Friday, the first grade presented the pantomime called, "The Holy City." Five of the little girls from the grade, Roberta Chappel, Jean Weeks, Mary Jane Hamilton, Alva Hill and Marion Taylor, acted the pantomime while Marguerite Hamilton sang.

The following have not been absent this month, in the first grade: Melvin Blunk, Roberta Chappel, Raymond Ford, Frederick Hadley, Chester Jones, Sanford Knapp, Gordon Petite, Dorothy Wnuk, Gladys Zietach, Woodrow Wilson, Billy Ray, Wilhelmina Rucker, Gertrude Smith, Marion Taylor, Jean Weeks, Virginia Kincaid, J. D. McLaren, Russell Micol, Ralph Minehart, Alice Postiff, Leon Parks.

The following first graders have not been absent nor tardy this year: Ralph Minehart, Leon Parks, Wilhelmina Rucker, Jean Weeks, Gladys Zietach.

Friday noon, January 20th, the Aggie Club held its regular monthly dinner in the High school lunch room. As the speaker who was first asked to talk to the club could not be present, the committee decided that they would ask no one else to come. Thirty-eight members sat down to a bountiful dinner, and it would not have taken a keen observer to say that all did justice to it.

The Junior campaign for the Ladies' Home Journal ended Monday. They wish to thank the people who subscribed, as they were very successful.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH HELD ANNUAL MEETING AND ELECT OFFICERS

The annual meeting of parishioners of St. John's was held in the church, last Thursday evening, and there was a good gathering of members. The officers of the different organizations gave in their reports as follows: Dan Murphy, treasurer of the church school; Mrs. Charles Wilcox, treasurer of Ladies' Guild; Mrs. Arthur Torre, president of Altar Guild; Sidney D. Strong, secretary of the mission, who gave the minutes of the vestry meetings, and put forth plans for several alterations in the church, which will be commenced at once, and A. J. E. Torre, treasurer of the Mission, who presented the financial statement for 1921, and the estimate of expenditures for 1922, explaining in detail the different items in the statement. After some discussion on the estimated expenditure for 1922, the meeting then proceeded to elect officers for 1922, which resulted in the following:

The Vestry—
A. J. Lapham—Warden
Sidney D. Strong—Secretary
A. J. E. Torre—Treasurer
Dr. Wm. G. Jennings—Vestryman

The Altar Guild—
Mrs. Paul Ware—President
Mrs. Annie Henderson—Vice Pres.
Mrs. Charles Willis—Treas.—Sec'y

The Church School—
Mrs. A. J. E. Torre—President
Mrs. D. Murphy—Superintendent
Daniel Murphy—Treas.—Sec'y

The meeting was presided over by Frank E. Torre, the missionary, and the Ven. J. G. Widdifield, dean of Detroit, attended on behalf of the diocese of Detroit.

In closing, Archdeacon Widdifield said he was very pleased to find such a satisfactory and healthy state of affairs in St. John's Mission, and one could not help but notice such a marked progress the mission had made within the last six months, which he considered was most successful, and he urged its members not to rest here, but to forge ahead and to make the church a real use to the community and for which it is intended—a church for all people.

After the business of the meeting had been disposed of, the members spent the rest of the time in social visiting, when coffee, sandwiches and fried cakes were handed round by the ladies, the meeting finally breaking up at a rather late hour.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This is a pleasant, safe and reliable medicine for coughs and colds. It has been in use for many years and is held in high esteem in those households where its good qualities are best known. It is a favorite with mothers of young children, as it contains no opium or other harmful drugs. They give it freely, and it cures their children's coughs and colds.

The Face at the Window

A drama in three acts given by Home Talent, under the auspices of the "Me-Work-e" Division of the L. A. S. of the M. E. Church.

Tuesday Eve., Jan. 31, '22

—AT THE—

Penniman Allen Theatre, Plymouth

Under the direction of L. L. Ball

Vera Stanley, who has been wronged, lives in a village near New York. She rejects her suitor, Reginald Spofford, one of New York's 400. Her husband, LaGrange, alias "Second Story Bill," whom she supposes dead, returns and demands money. Reginald appears on the scene and learns that LaGrange is her husband. After a year passes LaGrange returns for more money, but fails. He meets Vera's old school friend, Lillian Stanhope, falls in love with her and influences her to elope, but is prevented by her aunt, Mrs. Spofford and Vera. The last act presents Vera in exciting situations between LaGrange and Swartwood, a detective employed by Vera. Mose, a reformed negro, and Dinah, Vera's colored maid, furnish some real comedy, which will cause many laughs. It finally turns out just right and everybody is happy.

This is a pleasant, safe and reliable medicine for coughs and colds. It has been in use for many years and is held in high esteem in those households where its good qualities are best known. It is a favorite with mothers of young children, as it contains no opium or other harmful drugs. They give it freely, and it cures their children's coughs and colds.

PRIMARY REGISTRATION AND ELECTION NOTICE

There have been filed with the Village Clerk, six nominating petitions for the positions of Village Commissioner, two of whom are to be elected this spring on the 13th of March. As there are, therefore, more than two times as many candidates as there are persons to be elected, according to the Village Charter, Chapter 2, Section 6, a PRIMARY ELECTION is hereby called for Tuesday, Feb. 14th, 1922, to be held in the Plymouth Village Hall, in said Village, for the purpose of selecting four candidates to be voted for at the regular election on March 13th. The polls of said primary election will be open at 8:00 o'clock a. m., and will remain open until 6:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard time, on the day of said election.

There will be a session of the BOARD OF REGISTRATION for the Village of Plymouth, in the Village Hall, on Saturday, February 4th, 1922, from 9:00 o'clock a. m. until 5:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard time, for the purpose of completing the registration of the electors of the said village for the above Primary Election.

Dated, Plymouth, Mich., January 17th, 1922.
Sidney D. Strong, Village Clerk.

Get Your Share

Get your share of business all next year. You can—but you've got to make a bid for it. You must advertise—a little more than ever.

The buying public has not suffered any material impairment in purchasing power. Your merchandise can be sold in larger volume than you have ever sold it—and as good a profit as any honest man could desire—

IF YOU'LL TELL THE PUBLIC WHAT YOU WANT TO SELL

Large sales of seasonable and reputable merchandise will mark your business during the coming year if your values and your prices are right and if you advertise wisely—a little every week—instead of making a splash one week and then keeping silent for a month.

Get your share of business.

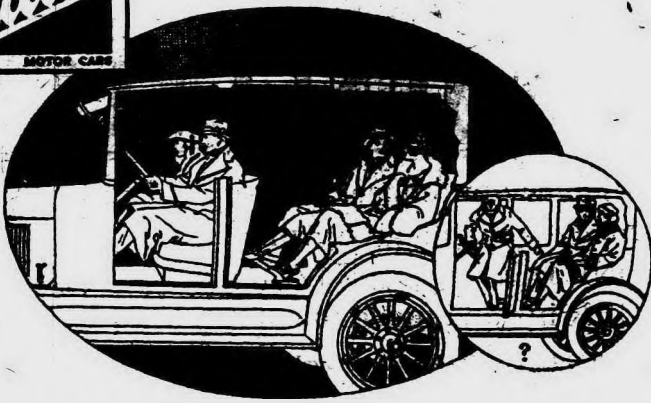

You can—but you've got to be up and doing.

Every dollar spent in advertising will come back with dividends in the year ahead.

Every dollar of sales will mean a step nearer normalcy and permanent employment.

CAN YOU NAME ANY OTHER BUSINESS IN THE WORLD OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES MINT THAT CAN MAKE MONEY WITHOUT ADVERTISING?

MAKE ODD WILLS

Many Freakish Documents Filed for Probate.

One Drawn at the Time of the "Black Plague" Placed in a Bottle of Spirits.

All wills for which probate is granted are filed in Somerset House. They can be inspected by the public on the payment of a fee. The only exception to the above rule applies to the wills of the King and queen of England, which are kept in the records but are sealed.

Almost every day the principal probate registry office has to deal with wills of original construction.

One of the most recent was the portrait of a pretty girl upon which the testator had simply written, "I leave all to her." The legator, a soldier, had duly signed it, and affidavits of identity being forthcoming, the will was admitted to probate and filed in the archives of Somerset House.

A quaint will, yet these same archives contain others just as fanciful and some that are remarkable for their historical interest.

One of this collection, interesting from a medical point of view, was made by an unfortunate who died of the black plague that raged at one time in London. This will was placed in a bottle filled with spirits and then corked.

A precaution, no doubt, to preserve his majesty's law officers, who would have subsequently to handle it in the course of their duties, from infection by the deadly bacilli.

Another will is in shorthand. Considering its date, somewhere round the year 1730, this is not a little remarkable, for the well-known cipher invented by the famous Mr. Pitman saw the light of day over a hundred years later.

Luckily the testator left a key, else the authorities would have been put to no little trouble to decipher it, for shorthand was unknown in those days.

A will salvaged from the bottom of the sea supplies the nautical interest. This will was recovered after a long period of immersion, and the only damage it received was in the way of shrinkage.

It was made on parchment, and this when fished up was found to have shrunk to about a tenth its normal size. But so beautifully had it been inscribed that the writing remains as clear as print to this day, and though very minute it can be read easily with the naked eye.

Another quaint, though cumbersome record is the leg of a four-poster bed. The will of a certain earl was hidden in a recess at the top of this leg, and as there was a dispute over the grant of probate the leg and its large wooden castor had to be filed and kept as evidence.

Shakespeare's will with its remarkable signature, Nelson's will written in a common or garden exercise book on the eve of Trafalgar, and which toward the conclusion contains these words, "The enemy are now in sight," a soldier's will made in a black-covered note book through which a bullet has passed without making it illegible—these and many more go to make a collection that many a curio hunter would give his soul to possess. —Solicitor in London Daily Mail.

Canada Has No National Flag. Canada has no national flag. A so-called Canadian flag is in use, but its use is unauthorized, and it no longer represents Canada. It is the red ensign of the British mercantile marine with the coat-of-arms of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick in a quartered shield on the field of the flag.

This flag, by warrant dated February 2, 1882, was authorized by the British admiralty "to be used on board vessels registered in the Dominion." This limits its domain to Canadian merchant ships, as no authorization was given to fly it on shore. When it is flown on land it is out of its formal jurisdiction. In any case it has not been formally adopted by the Canadian people, and it now has decided limitations. Its shield contains the devices of only four of the nine provinces which now form the Dominion of Canada.

Joke on the Bank. Woman's limited knowledge of banking and money matters has long been the subject for jokes on the stage and elsewhere. The story of the woman who believed that because she still had blank checks in her check-book she still had plenty of money in the bank is an old one. But the other day an Indianapolis woman was notified that her account had been overdrawn and instead of accepting the bank's stereotyped invitation to "come in at your earliest convenience and attend to the matter," she chose a new method of procedure. The bank received the following letter from the woman: "Please find inclosed a check for $12.72 to settle my account."

The Synagogue. "Was Mr. Grabco in his office when you called?" "No, he must have been playing golf." "Are you sure about that?" "Absolutely sure. The office force seemed to think he wouldn't be back soon. Most of the clerks had their feet up on their desks and those stenographers were making dates by telephone." —Birmingham Age-Herald.

Constipation. Constipation of the bowels is a stoppage of the excretory system that removes the waste matter from the body. It is necessary that your bowels move regularly once each day to carry off this waste, as it is that the waste pipes of your body are kept open and carry off the waste from the system. If you would keep your bowels open, you will feel better and your health will be better. —Advertisement.

Episcopal Notes

There has been organized in St. Paul's Cathedral in Detroit what is known as the "Church Normal School." In an effort to make the instruction given by the teachers of church schools in the diocese more beneficial and comprehensive, this "Church Normal School" meets once a month in St. Paul's Cathedral for instruction. There is already an enrollment of more than 250 teachers and this number is being added to each month. Among the subjects are "The Christian Nurture Series," which is now being taught in our Plymouth church school, "Principles and Methods of Teaching," Church School and Character Building. Any of our members of St. John's, who desire to join this school of instruction can have full particulars from Franklin L. Gibson. It is all free.

Last Thursday evening, the annual meeting of parishioners took place in the church. The officers of the different organizations gave in their reports and officers and the vestry for the year were elected. Before leaving, coffee, sandwiches and fried cakes were handed round by the ladies, the meeting breaking up at rather a late hour.

There was a merry party down at the Bats, last Saturday afternoon. The members of the church school and some of the church members spent the afternoon in sleighing to bobbing and skating, and the weather was ideal. The afternoon's merriment ended up with "weenies" and cookies round the campfire, and everybody returned home expressing themselves as having spent a very jolly time. No accidents beyond a few bruises and bumps.

Next Sunday morning, the Rev. Harry Midworth will preach and administer the holy communion. The Rev. Midworth was the first missionary of this present mission, holding that office from 1912 to 1921. Since leaving this parish he has had charge of St. Peter's church, Trumbull and Michigan avenue. He has now been appointed rector of the Church of Our Saviour, and before taking up his duties at that church on February 1st, has expressed the desire of meeting his old parishioners again, so Mr. Midworth will be out here next Sunday morning, and we hope there will be a large congregation on that occasion to hear his address.

An eastern man has invented a metal necktie that will never wear out. Wouldn't it be fine if we could get pants made out of the same material?

Quite a few Plymouth men stay away from church simply because there's no admission charged at the door, and you don't have to give a pass-word.

WIRELESS GRAND OPERA TO FEATURE FARMER WEEK

STAGE ALL SET FOR ANNUAL CONFERENCE AT M. A. C. NEXT WEEK—COMPLETE PROGRAM ANNOUNCED.

With arrangements completed for a fifteen minute program of "wireless" Grand Opera to feature each evening, and exhibits rapidly assuming final form, the stage is all set for thousands of Michigan farmers who will gather at M. A. C. from Jan. 30 to Feb. 3 for the annual Farmers' Week and Housewives Congress. Final programs of speakers have been announced, entertainment features are ready, and all that remains to make the conference the greatest in the history of Farmers' Weeks is favorable weather, according to college authorities.

The heads of Michigan's two great universities, M. L. Burton of the U. of M., and president-elect David Friday of M. A. C., will address the general meetings. H. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau; Congressman J. C. Ketchum, of Michigan; G. I. Christie, of Purdue University, and many other famous speakers have sent final confirmation on their engagements to speak.

Prominent agricultural associations of the state have completed plans for their individual meetings. These include the State Farm Bureau, the Crop Improvement Association, the Muck Farmers' Association, the State Branch of the American Poultry Association, the Beef Producers Association, the Potato Producers Association, and others.

Exhibits as announced are to be unusually instructive and attractive. Horticulture, farm crops, soda, farm machinery, livestock, poultry and rabbits, and many other phases of agriculture are to be covered in the displays.

Plans for entertainment of women guests have been finished by the college Home Economic Dept. Exhibits on clothing, food, linens and home furnishing will be a display, special speakers and meetings will be held, and every effort will be made to give the women as good features as the men enjoy.

Among entertainment features will be the annual parade, in which more than a mile of movable equipment of M. A. C. lines up for a great pageant.

Mrs. Tracy was a visitor at the Livonia Center school, Monday afternoon.

NEWBURG

All interest this week centered on the meeting in the Ladies' Aid hall, about the consolidated school question. Over 150 people listened to an enthusiastic address by Miss Isabelle Becker of Lansing. Everyone must have been impressed with the importance of the consolidation plan in rural education. The clash comes on whether this is the best consolidation for the three districts represented. Apparently Newburg is not considered the natural community center of these districts by many who were present. The result of the election on January 31st, will be looked forward to with great interest by all concerned.

The stereopticon lecture in Newburg church Sunday evening by Rev. Wm. Wise, was very interesting and instructive.

Miss Beatrice Davey entertained her Sunday-school class at her home Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Gansolly spent from Thursday till Sunday in Detroit, visiting with her aunt.

Mrs. Mary Stevens entertained company from Detroit last Sunday.

Mrs. H. A. Elliott is making an extended stay in Detroit where she is receiving treatments. We hope she will soon regain her old time vigor.

The fourth and fifth grades in school have been having some very interesting physiology.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John K. Cool, Wednesday, January 25th, a daughter, Virginia Mavis.

Miss Anna Brinkerhoff is spending the week-end with Miss Lovernie Sly.

Mrs. Norval Ayers and son, Welch, of Detroit, were over Sunday guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Spicer.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Chambers of Wayne, were dinner guests of the former's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers, last Friday.

Today's Reflections

A dog can say more with his tail in a minute than some Plymouth men can with their tongue in a year.

It has about gotten around to the point in this country, where a peace-loving man is one who will fight at the drop of the hat.

Maybe, after all, the fellow who walks in his sleep is only trying to save a little gasoline money.

We have also observed that very shortly after Plymouth men get married, they act as if they have conferred a great favor on their wives by leading them to the altar.

Mail robbers have fallen off since Uncle Sam put the machines on the mail cars. They possibly prefer that to being carried off.

Take a look at Dad's check book, and you'll understand just why Santa Claus only makes one visit a year.

You've probably observed that most Plymouth girls eat like a canary when there's company in the house. But they make up for it when they get to the kitchen.

Just now a lot of fellows are interested in work—so long as it's cider doing the work.

When it notices the way some people drive, no wonder the horse is thankful that this is a horseless age.

We'll lend an attentive ear to most anybody, but we'll be dog-goned if we don't hate to lead it to the Plymouth man who is always telling us how to run our business.

Some of these days the nations of the earth are going to reform. But that's going to be when there isn't anything left to grab.

Last year there were not enough freight cars to move the crops, and we suppose the alibi this year will be that there are not enough crops to move the freight cars.

Lots of Plymouth people who own autos know that a man doesn't have to become pinned underneath one to be "stuck."

The fiddler isn't hard to pay if the dancing you do is always square dancing.

We are also nearing the time when the fellow who is afraid to say it to your face will say it with a comic valentine.

We heard one Plymouth man say yesterday that to him the saddest thing in the world is to see a woman who thinks she knows it all, married to a man who thinks he's pretty.

CLOVER SEED PRICES ADVANCING

Farmers are much interested in the price of clover seed, both those who have seed for sale and those who will have to purchase their supply this spring. The State Farm Bureau seed department reports that both American and Europe are short of clover seed and that 80 per cent of the American crop is already marketed, and there appears to be no perspective stocks anywhere in the country. Toledo, the world clover market is reported to have about 11,000 bags on hand, while last year they shipped 55,000 bags. The corn belt states are urging more clover and less corn. Seed merchants are wondering how they will supply the demand, so one knows where prices will go. All indications point that seed will be going to be scarce. The seed department says farmers to assemble their orders immediately, and when they do purchase to be sure that the price is all right, and that the seed is in fact with the quality of seed purchased. The seed department offers that all farmers need to know is that the seed is available and to secure their supply.

NEW RATES ON D. J. & C. RY.

On Wednesday, February 1st, increased fares will become effective on the D. J. & C. Ry. The new rates are based on a rate of two cents a mile instead of one and one-half cents as formerly. The increase was made in accordance with the Gaspie Act and with permission of the State Utilities Commission. The company's gross revenue under the old fare fell below $14,000 a mile of main track, and it was therefore, according to the act, entitled to increased fares. The Utilities Commission is now making an appraisal of the company's interurban lines for the purpose of fixing a permanent rate of fare.

The new rate is in accordance with and under the authority of the Gaspie act governing interurban fares," explained E. J. Burdick, assistant general manager of the combined system. "The Gaspie Act authorizes the commission to appraise interurban railway properties and fix rates of fare in accord with operating expenses, maintenance of the property and a fair return upon the investment. This appraisal is now under way and when completed the commission will be able to officially act as to the necessary rates. The Gaspie act, however, has an interim provision fixing certain temporary rates in accord with the gross receipts of the lines but absolutely without regard to the expense of operation. Under this temporary provision when the gross receipts per mile of main track exceeds $14,000 a year then the fare rate shall be one and a half cents. The Detroit United earnings in 1920 were such as to compel this rate and a half rate. In 1921, however, there was a marked recession in business with the result that our gross interurban earnings fell to slightly over $12,000 and this gross earning automatically placed our temporary rate at two cents a mile."

While it would be permissible for the company to collect an interurban rate to and from the interurban depot in Detroit, the company will continue to apply the present rate of fare within the so-called one fare zone. The interurban mileage rate will continue from Addison on the D. J. & C. railway.

Interurban fares for children under 12 years of age will continue at half rates with a minimum collection of five cents.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

We take the following from the Daily Ypsilantian Press of Monday, January 23, regarding the death of a former resident of Plymouth: Mrs. Philander Merritt of this city, formerly of Sumpter township, died at the home of her son, Bert Merritt of Willis, Sunday morning, January 22. The remains were brought to her home at 117 Tower street, Sunday, where the funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. city time. Rev. Hugo Penker officiating. Burial will be at Udell cemetery, near Tuttle Hill.

Fitima Eckles was born in Plymouth, Mich., March 21, 1858. She was married to Philander Merritt, May 4, 1876, who survives her.

They located after their marriage in the vicinity where she died, having lived there nearly 46 years, with the exception of two months, which she spent in this city.

Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Merritt, one son and one daughter dying in infancy. The remaining are: Mrs. Grace E. Lawrence of Dexter, Arthur P. of Detroit, Bert of Willis, and Harrison

E. of Pontiac. There are also 14 grandchildren and four brothers all living in the vicinity of Plymouth, Albert A. Eckles, William, Frank and Arthur, and three sisters, Mrs. B. Shaker of Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Anna Bond of Plymouth, and Mrs. Susie Palmer of Detroit, and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Merritt has been a great sufferer for many months. In November she went to Beyer hospital and submitted to an operation. It was found there was no help for her, and after learning of her condition, she wanted to visit her son at Willis where she was taken.

During the last few weeks of her illness, she made her own funeral arrangement, selecting her minister, undertaker and also pallbearers, the latter being, Charles Winter, H. A. Butler, Jacob Breining, Joseph Bird, Thomas Thorn, and Albert Avery.

If you know of an item of news bring or phone it to the Mail office.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Longley of Detroit, were callers on the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts on South Main street, last Monday.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

We take the following from the Daily Ypsilantian Press of Monday, January 23, regarding the death of a former resident of Plymouth: Mrs. Philander Merritt of this city, formerly of Sumpter township, died at the home of her son, Bert Merritt of Willis, Sunday morning, January 22. The remains were brought to her home at 117 Tower street, Sunday, where the funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. city time. Rev. Hugo Penker officiating. Burial will be at Udell cemetery, near Tuttle Hill.

Call Us Up

There are three things—and only three—that wear out batteries. (1) Miles of service—(2) Months of service—(3) Neglect and abuse.

The way to get the most months or the most miles—or both—is, of course, to get the right battery and then take care of it.

We'll sell you the right one—the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery—and more than that, we'll help you look after it.

Call us up. Or better still—come in!

Business is picking up (the pin boys say so, too). We have added an extra man to each team, making eight four-men teams now.

The poor bowlers are improving wonderfully, and the good bowlers are—well, it's sure getting more interesting anyhow.

In base ball you should put the ball where they ain't; in bowling you should put it where they are. By the scores of some, they seem to be playing baseball.

Some of the bowlers are expecting the writer to criticize himself for his poor bowling. Alright, but that does not make any fun for me. Don't you bowlers think I was razed enough the night of the disaster?

The Big Bills were below par all Monday evening. Their lowest quotations were given at 87 and 88.

The Champe team sure looked like champions. They made the Burley bowlers curl up in all three games.

Burley's pets, Horand in with a Champ. Many of them they bowled to a record, 396 pins for a four-man team. Some score "Glad it's out of your system."

Team No. 6 is rising. Their Baker used Butter for their 3 winning loaves. Their opponents said 'twas to hi for them to handle.

It's hard to have a wife to watch your every move, isn't it, Stan? I sympathize with you. My better half watched me, too. I tried hard to make her feel proud of me, but. So says he knows just how we feel. Sh! his wife was there, too.

It is the wish of the above three that the good bowlers bring their wives or sweethearts along next time. Absolutely a sure way to pull your average to shreds.

JUSTICE COURT NOTES

Nicola Quintolo was arrested, last week Thursday afternoon, by Chief of Police Springer and Harvey Holand of the State Police, and taken before Justice Phebe Patterson on a charge of violating the prohibition law. Quintolo pleaded guilty and was bound over to the circuit court.

Bail was fixed at $500, with two sureties, which was furnished.

Quintolo roomed at the home of John Amiello, and while making a search of the premises for liquor, the officers found a gun in one of the rooms. Upon inquiry by the officers, it was ascertained that Amiello was not a naturalized citizen, and he was taken before Justice Patterson on a charge of the unlawful possession of firearms. He paid a fine of $20, including costs. The public acts of 1921, No. 14, section 4, provide that the presence of firearms of any description in any room, house or building occupied by or controlled by an immaterialized foreign born resident, shall be prima facie evidence that such firearms are owned or controlled by the person occupying or controlling the property in which firearms are found, and will render such person subject to the penalties imposed therefor. Each and every magistrate or justice of the peace of this state shall have jurisdiction over violations of any provisions of this act.

Edward Smith of Detroit, was arrested, last Saturday by District officers at the request of Chief of Police Springer, on a warrant issued by Justice Phebe Patterson, for cruelty to animals. Smith owns property in Plymouth, and kept a "freak" horse in a barn on the premises. The horse was supposed to get subsistence from a straw stack on the lot, but couldn't do it and gradually starved, becoming unable to stand last week, when complaint was made by persons in that vicinity, who witnessed the sufferings of the animal and notified Chief Springer, who made the complaint. Humane Officer Curtis was also advised of the matter, and came out from Detroit, Saturday, and after consultation with Dr. Jennings, veterinary, the animal was shot. Smith appeared before Justice Patterson, Monday afternoon, pleaded guilty and received a sentence of fifteen days in the Detroit House of Correction and to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

DEATH OF EDWARD GROGAN

Edward Donald Grogan died Sunday, January 22nd. Mr. Grogan was born February 14, 1888, at Brighton, Colorado. He was united in marriage with Miss Daisy Perkins, June 8, 1918, who, with one sister and other more distant relatives are left to mourn their loss. The funeral was held, from St. Barbara's Church, Brighton, Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 24, at 10 o'clock. The remains were taken to Colorado on the evening train, for interment.

SELECT NEW OFFICERS

The new directors of the Plymouth Agricultural Association met last week and elected the following officers for the coming year:
President—Walter Postiff
Sec. Treas.—L. Clemens

The following with above officers are the board of directors: L. A. Wiseley, William Kobbehan, S. W. Spicer, Clifford McClumpha, Winfield Birch and James Gates.

WHY WOMEN TALK SO MUCH

Nervous System of the Sex More Responsive to Stimulus, Is English Writer's View.

Why women talk more than men appears to be a trifling matter for discussion by eminent physicians, but, lunching with a number of them the other day, I put the question, and was surprised to find that it is one of importance from the medical point of view.

The opinion of one doctor was that greater capacity for talking in men or women indicates greater vitality.

When attending a very talkative woman patient he never despaired of her recovery from the most serious disease, because this power to talk continuously indicates an immense reserve of nervous energy. The members of parliament, he argued, who talk the most live the longest and retain their vital energy to an age when silent men are long dead.

This was one view. Another is that a woman's nervous system is more responsive to every nervous stimulus than a man's nervous system. Hence every slight thought finds instant expression, and if it does not, the woman suffers from mental discomfort. The stimulus that urges a man to say something passes slowly to the brain, and before it gets there someone else has lolloped in and he has lost his opportunity, or, by the time it reaches his brain, he does not think it worth while giving expression to the idea.

But this physician agreed that the more a person talks the healthier he is. Talking, in a measure, promotes health by increasing circulation of blood in the brain, but it is in itself a sign of good circulation, a strong heart, and an alert nervous system.

Someone remarked that women are only larger editions of children, and children, even with their very limited vocabulary, find it imperative to talk through all their waking hours. This is probably a provision of nature to develop the brain and intelligence. But it was admitted that the greatest talkers are often the shallowest thinkers, although not always by any means.

It is really a question of deep physiological significance. Our first real advance in civilization was attained when we developed the power to express our thoughts in words, and the people most capable of expression made the quickest advance.

Talking is the greatest agent of intellectual development. The silent man or woman contributes nothing toward it.

It is the talkative people who spread enlightenment by the interchange of ideas, and hence, in a way, women contribute more to the growth of intelligence than men.—From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.

Odd Geological Formation.
There is located immediately west of Junction City a few miles south of Danville, Ky., a wonderful geological formation known as "Bald Blue Knob." This is a member of the chain that branches off from the Cumberland mountains and extends along the route of the Knoxville division of the Louisville & Nashville railway. From its foot to its crest is about 200 feet and except on the large flat top, with a small knob in its center, it is covered with shrubbery and vegetation. The top, however, is absolutely barren. Not a sprig of any kind has ever grown on it. The soil is as blue as indigo and this coloring has never been affected by the ravages of time.—It is believed by many that this knob was at one time a volcano and that the surface of the crest was belched forth from the bowels of the earth. The "Bald Blue Knob" has been an object of wonder for many generations, and hundreds of visitors ascend its steep sides each year to view its crown of richest azure.

Fine Place for Teachers.
Teachers in the consolidated school at Alberta, Minn., live in a modern apartment conducted in the club plan. Electric light, hot water heating, kitchen, linen closet, laundry, study room, piano, telephone—every convenience is there. The high school principal, an experienced business woman, manages the club. The club employs a house-keeper, who prepares and serves the meals, does the washing, etc. The teachers' apartment is on the upper floor of the building and the principal and family live on the first floor. The rents from the two apartments are placed in a sinking fund so that the debt will be paid off in ten years. It is, therefore, a self-supporting business project, costing the taxpayers nothing. The teachers pay about $34 a month each.

Not Such a Good Buy.
"Buy now! It may soon be too late!" urges an advertisement in an English magazine which reads: "Fifty shirts and 6 pairs boys' £1,000." But (to seem any mad rush to acquire this seemingly easy means to wealth) the £1,000 is the approximate value of 10,000 rubles as quoted in 1910. The 10,000 rubles (Denkings) can be had for the equivalent in our coinage of less than $1. The advertisement fails to state that Denkings was chased out of Russia, or that the Russians now give halves of rubles in exchange for a loaf of bread.—New York Evening Post.

Much Gas and Oil Used.
There were 437,579,000 barrels of oil, 43 gallons to a barrel, consumed in the United States last year. Of the total amount produced, there still remained 5,312,000 barrels. The production was 442,891,000 gallons for the same period last year.
