"Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them, 'What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the sabbath day?'"

"Did not your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Israel by profaning the sabbath."

Excerpt from Nehemiah 13:15-22

"Ye Shall Keep My Sabbaths and Reverence My Sanctuary: I Am the Lord." Leviticus 26:3

WORK STARTED ON NEW PRISON

PRELIMINARY WORK HAS BEEN STARTED ON WHAT WILL BE ONE OF THE MOST MODERN PRISONS IN THE COUNTRY.

Supt. Edward Denniston has a force of men, two steam shovels and a number of teams and scrapers at work on the excavations for the new prison buildings which are to be erected on the Detroit House of Correction Farm just west of this village in Plymouth township.

The Detroit News of Sunday, January 22, contained a long article about Detroit's new prison farm, and we take the following excerpts therefrom which will be of interest at this time. The article made special mention of the prison farm as it is today, and the scrupulously clean condition of all the buildings and the general splendid condition of the surroundings, which is a well deserved compliment to the management of Edward Denniston, the general superintendent.

It has been the aim of those who planned the new House of Correction to give Detroit, at a cost of $2,500,000, the most up-to-date penal and corrective institution in the United States. But because prison history is going to be made and Michigan penal methods revolutionized by this evacuation of the old House of Correction at Alfred and Russell streets, the final details of construction in the new building are being decided on slowly, with Mayor Couzens saying to the prison authorities, "show me."

And judges, humanitarians, psychiatrists, probation officers, architects, and prison administrators have varied but hopeful views as to just what the new institution should accomplish for its inmates and society.

Best Modern Features. "We have used the best features of the most modern prisons in the United States, which I studied with members of the board of commissioners for the House of Correction," said Albert Kasha, architect, who designed the new buildings, "and we have added several original features of our own."

"The House of Correction is designed in recognition of the advances in penology and criminology which have been made in the 87 years since the old institution was built. There will be landscaping done by the inmates on the surrounding grounds. The style of architecture I have used follows the lines of old Italian monasteries. And in the cell blocks there will be private toilet facilities in each cell and each cell will have its outside window and its ventilation flue. There will be no wall around the prison. The modern chair factory, in which inmates will work to contribute to the support of the institution, will be built with a wide front and two wings so as to eliminate all but two short reaches of wall.

Factory Built Efficiently. "The chair factory will be made of concrete, glass and steel, like any other factory designed for efficiency. In none of the designs have we gone to needless expense for ornate decoration, such as we felt had been done in the House of Correction at Kalamazoo."

The new institution, for which money was authorized by the Board of Prisoners, is designed to accommodate 1,200 male inmates.

C. OF C. NOON-DAY LUNCHEON A SUCCESS

The first noon-day luncheon given by the Chamber of Commerce at the Masonic hall, last Tuesday noon, was a decided success in every particular. One hundred and four men sat down to four long tables and after the invocation was pronounced by Fr. Lefever, a most appetizing luncheon was served, to which all did ample justice. At the conclusion of the餐, George A. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, called upon the chairman of the various committees, who made brief reports of what their committees had accomplished during the time the Chamber of Commerce has been organized. These reports showed that the committees had been busy, and had numerous projects under way. President Smith reminded the members present that they must not expect a great deal could be accomplished in the few months that the committees had been organized, as they were now only fairly started on their work.

President Smith then introduced the speaker of the day, James Schermerhorn of the Detroit Times. Mr. Schermerhorn proceeded to put his hearers in a most receptive frame of mind, by relating a fund of good stories, which were greatly enjoyed by everyone present. The speaker paid a splendid compliment to the progressiveness of Plymouth, and the many advantages we have to offer to homeseekers amid most favorable surroundings. He also impressed upon his hearers the importance of an organization, such as the Chamber of Commerce, and the great good which would come from such a body in the community. Mr. Schermerhorn is a most able speaker and his remarks made a most favorable impression upon all who heard him.

The luncheon was planned and served by the entertainment committee composed of the following: F. D. Schrader, chairman; Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, Fr. Lefever, Frank Rambo, W. T. Fettingill. The committee are entitled to much credit for the splendid success of the first affair of this kind given by the new Chamber of Commerce. It was the unanimous wish of those present that similar luncheons be given once each month.

FORMER PLYMOUTH GIRL WEDS

An out of town wedding of unusual interest to Plymouth friends was that of Miss Lucy Leone Shattuck to Emil O. Kiefer of Glendale, California, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shattuck, at Glendale, California, Sunday afternoon, January 22nd. The bride was robed in oriental silk, the gift of the groom on his return home from overseas, after having been in the service, and she also wore her mother's wedding slipper. Her veil was prettily arranged with orange blossoms, and the house was attractively decorated in pink and green. The bridal party marched to the place of the ceremony by a wedding march played to the happy by a young lady friend of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck and daughter, Leone, were former Plymouth residents, until they moved to California a few years ago. Several Plymouth friends, who are either living or spending the winter in the west, were present at the wedding. After a short waiting trip, Mr. and Mrs. Kiefer will reside in Glendale, where the groom is engaged in the underwear business. Friends of the family extend best wishes to the happy couple.

CHANGE IN FIRM

A business change took place last Wednesday, when W. T. Fettingill purchased the interest of his partner, F. A. Campbell, in the grocery firm of Fettingill & Campbell. Mr. Fettingill will continue the business alone in the future. He is now busy getting settled in the new location in the Plymouth Block at Penniman avenue, where he will be pleased to see all his former customers. He will be under the management of the firm which he will do in the future.

The new location of the High School will be occupied on Friday.

The management of the Penniman Allen theatre announce in their advertisements today, that they will give a Sunday evening picture show, commencing Sunday evening, February 5th. The picture to be shown next Sunday evening will be Mary Pickford in "Little Lord Fauntleroy." This picture is now being shown in Detroit, and is one of the real big pictures of recent production. For the Sunday evening pictures the management will exercise the greatest care to select nothing but the very best that money can buy. Two shows will be given, 7:00 and 9:30.

PLYMOUTH DEBATERS WIN AT NORTHVILLE

The Plymouth High school debating team defeated the Northville debaters for the second time this season at Northville, Saturday evening. The Plymouth debaters won their first decision in support of the closed shop. Saturday evening they proved their competency as debaters by winning a unanimous decision upon the negative side of the state debating question, in opposition to the closed shop. Both teams show a decided improvement since their first debate, but the local debaters, Eva Griffith, Etha Wisley and Kenneth Bartlett still held the lead in both argument and presentation. The next debate will take place on Saturday evening, February 11th, with Redford, at the local high school auditorium.

Petitions have been circulated by several of the churches of the village, protesting against the showing of moving pictures on Sunday in the local theatre.

Both Are Leaders—and Both are Reus

It is significant that two automotive models—both of which are the outstanding and undisputed leaders in the two great divisions of motor transportation—are products of the same factory. Which is to say, they both represent the same ripe experience, the same sound engineering practice, the same high quality of workmanship and materials.

For both are Reos—the New Light Seven Passenger Touring Car and that Mighty Speed Wagon. The New Light Seven has created a sensation and promises to revolutionize touring car standards. Hereafter, the Seven will be the accepted type of family touring car. Price is F. O. B. Lansing, plus Special Federal Tax.

A Chinese Proverb

There is an old Chinese proverb to the effect that, "A journey of a thousand miles begins with one step."

In these days when all things move rapidly, it is well to consider this bit of oriental wisdom. We are apt to forget that to save a thousand dollars we must first save one. A single dollar saved has been the basis of many a fortune. Save the first dollar and then another and another and the thousand will soon be reached. This bank gladly accepts deposits of one dollar.

"KEEP IT OUT"
Almost every day we get a request to "keep it out of the paper." And we want to say to the people of Plymouth and community that while the same thing is heard in every newspaper office it is a great mistake. Full and free publicity on anything is a help to it. There is no more effective way of stopping false rumors and conjectures than to have the straight of it printed in the newspapers. And, on the other hand, nothing makes trouble quicker and causes more misunderstanding than "keeping it in the dark." Our experience has proved to us that the plain statement of fact is not only due the public, but it is the safe plan. We believe in this policy so much that we are certain if anything should happen to us, no matter how disastrous it might be, the first thing we would think of would be to see that the newspaper got the straight of it and got it at once. Anything but "keeping it out." It's bad enough for the people to know about, but to have them conjecturing and guessing and surmising is a thousand times worse.

BEING AN EDITOR
Most any man can be an editor. All the editor has to do is sit at a desk six days in the week, four weeks in a month and twelve months in the year and edit such stuff as this:
"Mrs. Jones of Cactus Creek let a can-opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry. A mischievous lad of Picketon threw a stone and cut Mr. Pike in the alley last Tuesday. Joe Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week looking for a leak, and fell, striking himself on the back porch. While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green on the public square. Mr. Trimmer of Running Creek, was playing with a cat when it scratched him on the veranda. Mr. Fang, while harnessing a young colt last Saturday, had the misfortune to be kicked near his corn crib."

MRS. C. E. RYDER WRITES ANOTHER INTERESTING LETTER TO THE MAIL.

January 26, 1922.
17 Elmholo St.
Alhambra, Calif.
Editor of Plymouth Mail,
Dear Sir:

Since writing the last letter for the Mail, we have seen so many interesting things and places, it's hard to know where to begin.

On the 7th day of December, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Mr. Hyder and myself motored to Los Angeles, then went by trolley to San Pedro. From there we went by boat on the Pacific ocean, twenty-eight miles to Catalina Island, arriving at noon. As the boat comes in sight of the islands, a never to be forgotten picture is presented, with the huge rocks along the coast and the mountains with white peaks (the Spearhead) perched away up the mountain's side. He owns the islands and controls all the boats. These islands were first called Sanvidor.

After lunch, we put in our time picking up shells along the beach, until time to go on the glass bottom boat to view the beautiful submarine gardens, floating over the green and blue waters, one sees the goings and comings of aquatic life. Here are shell incrustated rocks; fishes, red, green and gold, zigzagging among the waving foliage, which is mostly kelp, which looks like trees with large leaves and fruit. Lodeine is made from this plant. There are also many beautiful specimens too numerous to mention.

We saw Ed. Harrison, champion deep sea diver of America, dive under the boat so that he could be plainly seen. He was under the water three minutes and forty-five seconds; depth, fifty-eight feet. We were out forty-five minutes, then had to leave for San Pedro. It was beautiful on the water, but rather cold.

Soon after this we made a trip up in to Puente Hills, over 1200 feet high. It was a beautiful ride, winding around and around until we reached the summit on which there was a large cross. A magnificent view of the valley and Turnbull canyon was had from here; beautiful orange groves and gardens with the mountains in the distance.

Returning by the way of Whittier, all of the towns are so pretty, with wide paved streets. Most of the houses are built mission style. All of the school buildings are of this architecture.

We spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith, picking oranges and lemons; coming back by the way of Devil's Gate dam, where the recent rains had raised the water to over ninety feet, also causing many wash-outs.

The first Sunday in January, we took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. George Cooper at Long Beach. Mrs. Cooper was formerly Miss Reta Holmington of Livonia. Mr. Cooper is interested in oil wells, which, by the way, there are a large number of them, about four miles from Alhambra at Montebello.

One afternoon we spent with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shattuck and daughter, Leone, who were entertaining in honor of Mrs. Lester VanDeCar, a former Plymouth girl.

We motored to Hollywood, and saw the studios of some of the famous movie stars—Will Hart, William Fox, Charles Ray and Mary Pickford. Of course, there are many others. Also called at the Markham home, which is very beautiful, and one of the show places of Hollywood.

On New Year's Day, we attended the great event of the season, the Rose Tournament at Pasadena. Arriving there about 9:30 a. m., we got our place along the line of march with thousands of other people, eager to see this wonderful pageant. A long wait of over two hours before the first float came in sight. Space will not permit a description of the beautiful floats, all the cities and towns for many miles around vieing with each other in unique designs and flowers.

The 12th of January, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Mr. Ryder and myself motored to San Diego, 145 miles from Alhambra. We stopped at Santa Ana, calling on Mr. and Mrs. Roy Langs, who are building a bungalow. Mrs. Mott was there, and was not favorably impressed with California weather, having arrived there during the heavy rainfall.

We took the coast route after reaching Capistrano, where is one of the old missions that are scattered up and down the shores of California. This mission was built by the Indians in 1776. We went through this and saw a great many old relics. A large stone church that was erected some years later was destroyed by earthquakes. The old mission, which was built of adobe, was not shaken.

We also stopped at LaJolla to see the caves and rock formations, which are beautiful. We saw a number of seals, and watched a whole spouting, which was a novel sight to us.

We arrived at San Diego at five o'clock, putting up at the Hotel Federal. The city is situated on San Diego Bay. There are a number of large warships anchored there.

The next morning we got an early start, and were ferried across the bay to Coronado, driving down the strand for seventeen miles, with the bay on one side and the ocean on the other, where we reached the border between the United States and Old Mexico. Having passed the custom house, we saw the famous race tracks at Pijuana. The town is the dirtiest place imaginable, nothing but booze and gambling. After purchasing a few souvenirs, we were glad to get back to the good old U. S. A.

Taking the inland route back to San Diego, we saw the great ranches being worked with sometimes as many as sixteen horses or mules hitched together. The hills and mountains look beautiful since the rain.

In the afternoon we went to Balboa Park, where the great exposition of 1915 was held. Quite a number of the buildings are still there; some of them we went through. We heard a famous Philippine dance play, and great outdoor pipe organ. Every afternoon, if the weather permits, recitals are held. It was just like summer there. One could hardly realize it was January.

Saturday morning, we started for Alhambra, by the way of Ocean Beach and over the Hairpin trail, reaching home before dark, having had a most delightful trip.

No doubt everyone back east has heard of the unusual cold weather that prevailed from January 19th until the 22nd, when the mercury dropped to 22 degrees, freezing the ground and all oranges and lemons, where the smudge pots were not in use. All the beautiful calla lilies, geranium hedges and roses wilted down. Monday, the 23rd, it was like a July day in Michigan.

Sunday, January 22nd, we all went to Glendale to attend the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shattuck's daughter, Leone, to Emil Kiefer, a prominent young man of Glendale, who is in the undertaking business. It was a very pretty wedding, and the bride looked lovely. They were the recipients of many beautiful presents. Quite a number of Michigan people were present, among the latest arrivals being Miss Helen VanDeCar. We all unite with the many Plymouth friends in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

We attend church every Sunday at the First M. E. church, of which Mrs. Armstrong is an active member. They have a membership of over 500.

We attended the mission play at San Gabriel, just a short distance from Alhambra. This is the eleventh year since it started, and runs for five months. Tourists from all over go to see it. The mission play is a historical pageant, showing the early days of California. It has been called the Oberammergau of America, but a different story. More than one hundred actors take part in it, mostly Indians and Spanish. It lasted three hours, with two intermissions. We went out and walked around to see the old missions in meantime, then were called back by the ringing of a bell. The leading part was taken by Frederic Ward, who is wonderful as Father Juniper Serra, the founder of the missions.

January 25th, which was a beautiful sunny day, we took the most wonderful trip of all, going to Mt. Lowe up on the incline car, which is built with three decks, so that every one can see. It's wonderfully constructed. The two cars are permanently attached to an endless steel cable. The length of the incline is 3,000 feet to Echo Mt. From there we took a trolley car, which took us five miles up to the Alpine Tavern, 5,000 feet above the sea level. The summit is two and one-half miles from there. We didn't try to make that. But we did take the mule train trip. You have heard of the cart before the horse, well, this is the cart before the mule—a funny little two-seated car on a miniature track, pushed by a mule. One can see for miles and miles, Catalina Island, sixty-five miles away, and the mountains and cities spread out before one, a complete panorama. It certainly gave one some thrills. One can look down the precipitous sides of the canyon 2,700 feet deep, while others are towering masses of rock, and crossed alpine trails, rounding 127 curves. It was a great experience, but can truly say we were glad to reach the foot, and on our way to Alhambra, a distance of four miles having taken the trolley at Pasadena.

We will soon be leaving this beautiful country, expecting to leave for Michigan, February 6th.

Sincerely,
MRS. CHARLES E. RYDER.

THAT SMALL BOY

Just a Word or Two Said Here in His Defense.

Pennsylvania Educator Issues Warning to Mothers of Danger of Errors in Training Methods.

Some interesting facts concerning proper treatment of children were brought out in an address at the Mothers' club recently by J. George Becht, first deputy state superintendent of public instruction, the Philadelphia Record states. In a talk on "Youth—Its Characteristics and Training," he defended the "small boy," who, he held, was blamed for much of which he was not guilty. Children between the age of five and seven and twelve and fourteen especially, as a rule, he said, were going through a process of development which was abnormal and in which the mind did not keep pace with the body. This lack of co-ordination to the child's system resulted in awkwardness, forgetfulness, etc., and as a result, boys especially, going through the "awkward age," were not treated with too much consideration.

The speaker criticized the mothers who are always nagging their boys and charging them with indolence, forgetfulness, etc., when in reality the youngsters should be kindly treated and given sympathy. He said a mother, through lack of knowledge, was often cruel to children, while she felt that she was over indulgent. In this connection he specially referred to the blame given boys because they forget to come in on time, or some other such trifle. What was very much worse, he said, and very common, was a desire to catch the boy in his error, and to corner him to explain it, which was responsible for the development of sneaks and liars. A boy should not be treated like a law-breaker, he said, because he was slightly delinquent, neither should a mother use the same method as a policeman.

The speaker said that now more than ever the parents should labor to make the hearthside attractive. In this age of restlessness and shift, when there was everywhere an effort made to gain money, social position, etc., the home spirit that our ancestors enjoyed was gradually dying away and the family circle had no place whatever. The mother should multiply her efforts to make home attractive, to establish a spirit of fraternity in the family, and to make sympathy and consideration qualities which encircled the hearthstone and made it the most sacred spot for both parents and children.

Mechanical Ticket Seller.

A machine for the rapid issue of railway tickets has been demonstrated in London, according to the Manchester Guardian. Outside the machine are slots in the walls, and below each of these a saucer-shaped receptacle. The traveler puts his coins in the penny, two-penny or three-penny slot, and the ticket shoots out into the receptacle. If he puts a six-penny into the two-penny slot three tickets emerge. If he puts a shilling into the five-penny slot he will get his ticket and a penny change. He need not have two pennies for the two-penny ticket. Four half-pennies will do. But had or foreign coins will be returned.

All the work is done by the operator in the box, who stands at the levers and shoots out the tickets as the coins tumble into a receptacle. Those who watched the machine at work said that undoubtedly the invention would prove its value, especially during the rush hours.

One Man's Reason.

Here is one man's reason for not supporting his wife and family, according to a report filed with Mrs. Lulu Runkle, head of the adult probation department of the juvenile court.

"I'm just not satisfied," he said, "I'm not contented. I don't like to stay in one place very long. I just want to live with her any longer. No—I haven't any other reason."

The man suggested that his wife, a cripple and partly deaf, with a three-year-old boy and a five-months-old baby to care for, should go to work. He didn't like the idea of providing for them.

With a jail sentence facing him, the man decided he would support them.—Indianapolis News.

If You Must Speculate.

"An oracle for some; a game for others" is the legend on a small paste board box now selling downtown. Within is a square piece of stiff paper, divided into 16 parts, with the names of four stocks in each, making 64 names in all, many of which are speculative favorites. On a pivot in the center is an arrow, waiting to be spun. With this new method of picking 'em, fully as reliable as some now in use, comes the announcement: "All the fun of Wall Street with none of its dangers."—New York Evening Post.

Domino Fans in Long Game.

A domino game has been in progress for the last quarter of a century in Riverhead, N. Y. The exact date of its inception is not known, but it was begun by four men some time in 1868. Since then the same four, the oldest now ninety-four, have gathered for several hours daily to match up the little black blocks. The first ten years were the hardest, the quarters asserts.

NEWBURG

All church services were well attended, last Sunday. The solo by Mr. Tracy, "The Ninety and Nine," was much appreciated. A little rivalry over the collection in the Sunday-school classes created some diversion. The Epworth League had invited the Ferrisville Epworth League to meet with them, and turned out in good force. A good meeting was the result.

Mrs. Robert Holmes has been quite seriously ill with quinsy, but is improving. Little Howard also has been ill.

Mrs. Gursolly entertained her cousin, Mrs. Farnum from Millington, Tuesday, also her mother and sister from Plymouth.

The election on Tuesday, held in the Gleener hall, on the consolidation of three school districts, resulted in the defeat of the consolidation project. Out of 197 votes cast, 122 were against; 71 for and 4 were spoiled.

Bert Paddock spent a couple of days at the Ryder home, this week.

Also on Sunday night following at 6:30, Mr. Judson will have charge of the Devotional service speaking on the topic: "Your Ambitions." A brief social hour will precede the devotional service at 8:30 which will be in keeping with the spirit of the day. Hot chocolate will be served, so that all can remain for the service following without having to go home for luncheon.

INCOME TAX FACTS

In making out his income tax return for 1921, the average taxpayer will find a considerable saving in comparison with the amount of tax paid on the same income in 1920.

The exemptions provided by the revenue act of 1921 are $1,000 for single persons (the term including widows, widowers, divorcees, and persons separated from husband and wife by mutual agreement), $2,500 for married persons whose net income was $5,000 or less, and $2,000 for married persons whose net income was $5,000 or more. Under the revenue act of 1918 the personal exemption allowed a married person was $2,000, regardless of the amount of net income. The personal exemption allowed a married person applies to the head of a family, man or woman who supports in one household one or more relatives by blood, marriage, or adoption.

The exemptions for dependents—a person who receives his chief support from the taxpayer and who is under 18 years of age or incapable of self support because mentally or physically defective—is increased from $200 to $400.

The act requires that a return be filed by every single person whose net income for 1921 was $1,000 or more, every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more, and by every person—single or married—whose gross income was $5,000 or more.

The requirement to file a return of gross income of $5,000 or more regardless of net income is a new provision. Net income is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, etc., which are fully explained on the form.

Returns must be filed by married couples whose combined net income for 1921, including that of dependent minor children, equaled or exceeded $2,000, or if the combined gross income equaled or exceeded $5,000.

The period for filing returns is from January 1 to March 15, 1922. Heavy penalties are provided for failure or "willful refusal" to file a return on time.

Forms 1040A for incomes of $5,000 and less and 1040 for incomes in excess of $5,000 may be obtained from the offices of collectors of internal revenue and branch offices. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15.

First Place at the New York and Chicago Shows

For the fourth consecutive year Buick has been awarded first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows. This honor is conferred each year by the automobile manufacturers who are members of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, upon the member having done the greatest volume of business during the previous year.

That Buick has retained this position year after year reflects convincingly the high regard in which Buick is held by the American public. Such regard is a logical outgrowth of Buick policy which has been rigidly maintained for twenty years—that every car which leaves the Buick factory must first, last and all the time give that thoroughly dependable and trustworthy service which will make every Buick owner a Buick enthusiast.

High School Boys' Game

The Rocks were defeated at Dearborn, Friday, by the score of 20 to 10, the chief reason being that the Plymouth offense was unable to take the ball down the floor, even when unguarded. On defense, Plymouth was the stronger of the two teams. It might be said that the game was a battle between Scott of Dearborn, and Doudt of the local team. Scott made sixteen of Dearborn's twenty points, while Doudt registered 8 for the Rocks. The Dearborn court is one of the largest and best in this part of the state, and for size, is the equal of any college gymnasium in the state.

The line-up: Dearborn—Scott, R. F.; McGargen, L. F.; Neeland, C.; Adams, R. G.; Webster, L. G.
Plymouth—Doudt, R. F.; Sutherland, L. F.; Williams, C.; Sayles, R. G.; Holmes, L. G.

The "Rocks" play Wayne tonight.

Young Men's Club Defeats Salem

Plymouth's Young Men's Club played basket ball at Salem, Thursday, January 26th. The ceilings were only a few feet higher than the baskets, which made it hard for the Plymouth team to shoot baskets from a great distance. The first few minutes played made it look doubtful for Plymouth, Salem shooting two baskets at the start. The first quarter ended in Salem's favor, as did the second, the score being ten to seven. The second half started somewhat different, as Plymouth used a five-man defence, holding Salem to one basket, while Plymouth made seven field goals. Birch starred for Plymouth at the forward position, while Wollgast and Grey starred at the guarding positions. The close guarding of these boys kept Salem at a low score. Salem has reorganized their team and expect to beat the Y. M. C. on their own court. Don't miss this game tonight, as both teams are evenly matched. Plymouth girls will play the Northville girls before the boys' game, the girls' game starting at 7:30.

Today's Reflections

We read in a book where the male bird sings less sweetly after the young are hatched than he did before. Maybe it's because he's too busy rustling up grub.

Formerly a still alarm had to do with a fire. Now we hear of a "still" alarm being sounded somewhere around Plymouth every day or so.

Sauer kraut juice is said to make women beautiful. Now watch for a bulge in the cabbage market.

If we had to pay for all the advice we get, there would be a lot less money and a whole lot less advice in circulation.

Another thing needed in this country is more girls trying for the milkmaid championship, and fewer for the beauty prizes.

We see in the paper where four circuses have combined. That is all right if it means three less steam calliopes.

Sometimes it seems to us that every Plymouth man knows just how the other fellow ought to do things.

Speaking of reductions, we wish Henry Ford would start selling white paper and printing ink.

That was quite a party they had at Boston that time, but we failed to find where they used any wood alcohol or raisin jack.

The engine chokes when the car goes too slow. What Plymouth needs is an appliance to choke a few fellows who drive too fast.

We also notice they're still singing, "Bonah Land," without changing that line about, "I've reached the land of corn and wine."

The old maid who tries to divide 1922 by four, now wishes that she had done her Leap Year shopping in 1920.

Quitcherbeliakin is a slogan a whole lot of Plymouth citizens should learn the meaning of now that prosperity has commenced to show her head around the corner.

The membership of Don't-Worry Clubs is usually made up of fellows who don't pay their debts.

A news item reports the finding of gold in sand from a Buffalo street. But we don't notice a crowd hurrying east from California.

We'd favor having Plymouth women for deputy sheriffs, if we thought they wouldn't cry every time they made an arrest.

RIFLEMEN! TRAPSHOOTERS!

PLYMOUTH R. & G. CLUB MEETS.

The first meeting of the new Plymouth Rifle & Gun Club was held Friday evening, January 27th, at Beyer's hall in north village, with an attendance of nineteen sportsmen. At this meeting those present discussed the problem of organizing in such a manner as to bring both the trapshooting section and the rifle section under the jurisdiction of their respective national associations. There was no misunderstanding of the magnitude of task before them, and there was an abundance of real enthusiasm. The meeting decided to carry over the election and installing of officers until such time as a larger and more representative attendance could be obtained.

It was moved by Henry Hornborg, and seconded by Warren Baxter, that the chairman, Harry W. Fasmage, appoint an organization committee large enough to carry on the necessary work of the club, the motion being carried unanimously. Those appointed are as follows, and all will report to Charles Rathburn or Sidney Strong, as soon as convenient: Charles Rathburn, Matt. Powell, Warren Baxter, William Fastingill, John Paterson, Chester Burley, Sidney Strong, Glenmore Passage, Henry Hornborg, Ezra Rotnour, A. J. Baker.

All who are interested should see one of this committee as soon as possible, giving in name and street address. The present outlook is fine, and Plymouth will in due course of time be very proud of this organization. We want men and women from all walks of life in this club. The one question is good character; this is the one thing that the club of Plymouth possesses as a village, and we want to reflect this in the personnel of the new club. Leave this out of the membership requirements and the club would be very short lived.

The shooting game is one in which all have an equal chance to win, and it is time we did all we possibly could to make this nation a nation of good shots. This condition once existed. It ought to exist now. A good rifle man or trapshooter, is usually found among the best fellows in any community. We bar no creed, no political faction, no white race on earth. Our aim is to weld them more closely together, that the community as a whole shall be benefitted thereby. We want the musician, the mechanic, the teacher, the preacher, the grocer, the lawyer, any merchant of any kind, the professional man, the laborer, the salesman, in short, the man or woman, it matters not what their place in life, so long as it is honest. This is surely wide enough. We mean business, and a diversion from your labors. We want your personal indorsement of this form of recreation. We will be glad to listen to any and all suggestions you have, and will try to answer all questions. Attention! Fall in! Company right! Help keep it right.

ORGANIZATION COMMITTEE.

Episcopal Notes

Rev. Harry Midworth was with us last Sunday morning, when he preached to a large congregation and administered the holy communion. Mr. Midworth, who has been for some months assistant rector of St. Peter's church, has accepted a call to the Church of Our Saviour from February 1st, and will hold his first services in that church on Sunday, February 5th.

Franklin L. Gibson, our missionary, had charge of the services at the Church of Our Saviour, last Sunday, and preached at the morning and evening services.

A week from Sunday, we expect to have E. E. Piper with us. Mr. Piper is superintendent of the Department of Religious Education of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, and we know there will be many who will want to hear Mr. Piper's address on this most important branch of church work.

The Ladies' Guild will meet this week at the home of Mrs. Paul Ware, our newly elected president of the Guild. This is the first time that Mrs. Ware has held this office that her mother, the late Mrs. A. J. Lapham, held so faithfully and conscientiously for many years and until her death.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a very interesting and pleasant meeting, Thursday, Jan. 26th, at the home of Mrs. Albert Stevens. There was a large attendance and all enjoyed the talk by Mrs. Norma Mudge, who had been secured as the speaker for the day by the Newburg members. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Lydia McNabb, a former member of the Plymouth Union, who is now an active worker in Detroit. Mrs. McNabb's remarks were well chosen, and the members were pleased to have her with them once more. Miss McGill and Mrs. Becker entertained the company with refreshments, after which a tea was served and a good time enjoyed by all. As Mrs. Jessie Riggs is unable to act as secretary for the remainder of the year, Mrs. I. Gonsolly will take her place. Next Thursday, the meeting will be held at 2:00 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Sewell Bennett. The program is in charge of Mrs. E. C. Vealey, who promises to have a worth-while meeting. Don't miss it.

Explorer's Memorial

On the Island of Esteves, in Lake Titicaca, Peru, a memorial designed in the style of the ancient Incas has been dedicated at the grave of James Orton, explorer and scientist. These ceremonies that were participated in by representatives from Peru, Bolivia and the United States were held on the forty-fourth anniversary of Orton's death, which occurred while he was returning under terrible hardships from a trip of exploration. The monument was erected by the alumnae of Vassar, where Orton was professor of natural history.

Professor Orton made three trips of scientific explorations to the Andean and Amazon regions of South America which brought to light many fundamental facts of natural history and geography and which added to the collections of many American museums.

Youngster Not Belligerent

The following amusing little incident occurred recently in one of the branch libraries of the city. A little Italian boy about eight years old asked the young woman behind the desk to find him a fairy tale book. "I wanna read about the prince what kills the dragon with a crystal sword," he announced. The librarian consulted the shelves and found that every single book of the sort had been taken out. She was extremely sorry that such was the case and smiling down at the little fellow, said, "Sonny, I'm afraid there isn't a story like that left." "Aw, teacher," he grinned broadly, "it don't matter, ye needn't be afraid, I ain't a goin' to do outbin' to ye." "Thank you," she said with a solemn face which belied the twinkle in her eye, "I'll try to do better next time." —Louisville Courier-Journal.

One Horse to 372 Motors

A recent check of traffic on a road near Hartford, Conn., made by the state highway department for the National Highway association, showed one horse-drawn vehicle to 372 motor vehicles, according to official figures made public. The road on which the check was taken was built largely to accommodate interstate motor traffic. During the period for which figures were taken, 23,000 passenger motor vehicles were counted, 2,365 trucks and 324 motorcycles. Against these figures only 63 horse-drawn equipages were checked.

A Judicious Inquiry

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade, says he has often heard druggists ask a customer, who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it and for colds, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed. Advertisement.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club was called to order by the president, Mrs. D. F. Murray, last Friday afternoon. There were thirty-five members present, and Mrs. Coello Hamilton was elected secretary pro tem in the absence of Mrs. Floyd Hillman.

Noteworthy among the reports at the business meeting was that of Mrs. Frank Millard, who had interviewed several competent physicians and nurses of nutrition classes, as to the best methods of furnishing milk to pupils in school. This work of the civic committee should receive strong support from every member.

Nearly every member at roll call gave the name of a former governor of Michigan.

After the business meeting, a recess was taken to introduce the new members. Then Mrs. Fred Campbell, leader of the seventh division, took the chair. The subject of the day was, Michigan, whose birthday Jan. 20th, made her eighty-five years old. The program opened with two songs, "To the Hill Top," by Cox, and "Eyes of Blue," by Orr, impressively sung by Mrs. R. A. Cassidy, and beautifully accompanied by Miss Evelyn Thomas.

Mrs. Carmen W. Root from the start, aroused the members to the highest pitch of enthusiasm by her "History of Michigan." Mrs. Root, who has seen much of the United States, was very competent to compare Michigan with other states, and proud were her listeners to know how the splendid highways attract one to the many lakes always blue and the sod green, instead of the asured look of the west. By the use of maps she gave the geology of Michigan, the early treaties by which the Indians lost out, and stories of the unconquerable and hospitable pioneers.

Mrs. Paul Bennett seemed to supply the second part of the story, so well did her subject, "Activities of Women," fit the first. She explained how public opinion year by year gave women more rights and raised pride to really do unselfish work for the public welfare. That home demonstration work is the biggest factor in helping country girls to be successful was explained by Mrs. Bennett, who also paid tribute to work accomplished by women such as Caroline Crane in pure food laws; Dr. Anna Shaw in politics; Virginia Mae Murray as police woman and many other community welfare workers. Many club members missed a very profitable and inspiring afternoon and the next meeting which will also be a patriotic one has a bright prospect.

The meeting adjourned after short talks by a few members explaining the D. A. R. organization and membership and singing, "Michigan, My Michigan."
