"A SCRAP OF PAPER"

FIRST SALE DAY HERE A SUCCESS

The Next Bargain Day Event Will Take Place Wednesday, March 1st; Watch Next Week's Paper.

The first bargain day event staged by the Plymouth business men, Wednesday, under the auspices of the publicity committee of the Chamber of Commerce, was a splendid success. The many attractive bargains offered by our business concerns drew a large crowd of enthusiastic buyers to Plymouth from the surrounding country, while about everybody in the village took advantage of the bargains offered. Shoppers from the country districts and in the village vied with each other in getting into the stores early, while the picking was at its best. In fact, some of our merchants did not anticipate such a rush for the bargains offered, and the demand far exceeded the supply in a number of instances. This will not occur again it is not likely, and every effort will be made by the merchants to have on hand a large supply of the articles offered, so that no one will be disappointed in getting their share of the bargains at the next sale. The next sale will take place on Wednesday, March 1st. Watch next week's Mail for the two-page announcement of the second bargain day event in Plymouth.

PLYMOUTH DEBATERS AGAIN VICTORIOUS

Plymouth High school debating team is still an undefeated team. The Redford-Plymouth debate, which was scheduled for Saturday evening at the Plymouth High school auditorium, was necessarily postponed until Monday evening on account of the illness of one member of the team. But the Plymouth debaters continued their success of the season by winning a two to one decision from Redford. Plymouth presented their argument in support of the principle of the closed shop, the affirmative side of the State Debating League question. The local debaters have now met both Redford and Northville on each side of the question and have won all decisions. They will meet Farmington next week Thursday evening, at the Plymouth High school auditorium.

WILL GIVE TALK ON SUNDAY MOVIES

The picture show last Sunday evening at the Penniman Allen theatre drew another large crowd, and the picture presented "The Three Musketeers," with Douglas Fairbanks as the star, pleased the large audiences immensely. On Sunday evening, February 19th, the attraction will be "Way Down East," D. W. Griffith's great masterpiece. During the evening Edward Denniston, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction Prison Farm, will give a talk on the Sunday movie question. Mr. Denniston is a most able speaker, and without a doubt will have something interesting to say about this most absorbing topic in Plymouth at the present time.

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Blake of Flint, is visiting her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Griffith, on Harvey Street.

Elmer A. Fisher of Goshen, Ind., was a guest and guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Hill on West Ann Arbor street.

Mrs. J. D. McLaren, J. J. McLaren and C. L. Wicox went to Oxford last Saturday, to attend the funeral of Mr. F. M. Sheffield, a former resident of this place.

The village of Plymouth has been for a long time trying to acquire title to an alley-way back of the stores on Main street and also on Penniman avenue. All but two of the property owners released possession, and these two cases came into Justice Phoebe Patterson's court, Tuesday afternoon for adjudication. H. W. Murray was one who owned 23 lineal feet, but before the case came to actual trial, he and his attorney agreed with the village attorney that an award of $75 would be satisfactory, and which amount was subsequently given him by the jury on instruction of the court. Ralph Lorenz, owner of the hotel property who had 80 lineal feet, went to trial, and after hearing witnesses, the jury awarded him $450 for the same.

The following out of town friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Conrad Springer, Wednesday afternoon: Mrs. George Wilkman and William Springer of Chicago; Mrs. Nettie Stewart and daughter, Mrs. Arthur Moon of Peru, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Springer, daughter, Beulah, and son, Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart and son, Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Longmate, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Springer, Mrs. Gordanier, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Helmsington, Mrs. George Brown, Miss Viola Adcock, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stief, John Strong, Mrs. Arthur Roberts and Mrs. Steve Stevens of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. William Springer of Northville; William Addison and daughter, Marjorie of Toledo; Henry Goshen of Ypsilanti, and Mr. and Mrs. John Renwick of Salem.

FARMINGTON DEFEATS YOUNG MEN'S CLUB

The Young Men's Club played basket ball at Farmington, Saturday, February 11. Plymouth looked like a million dollars in the first few minutes of play, but after that they played as though they were lost in a heavy fog, or dazed from their good start. Anyway they couldn't seem to see the basket. The game after those first few minutes was nothing except basket shooting for Farmington, which they proved themselves capable of doing. The final score was 51 to 9 in Farmington's favor. The Young Men's Club plays Wayne here tonight, and the alumni girls play Ypsilanti Normal girls. Both of these games are going to be close and interesting, so let's turn out and show our basket ball spirit in Plymouth by helping our teams win. Game starts at 7:30. Plymouth line-up was: Schradler, B. F.; Burch, L. F.; Cook, C.; Kuhn, R. G.; Wollgast, L. G. Substitutes were: Kirk, Hanchett and Roe. Fouls and goals for Plymouth were: Burch, 2 field goals, 2 personal fouls; Cook, 1 field goal, 1 personal foul; Kuhn, 1 field goal; Hanchett, 1 personal foul; Kirk, 1 free throw.

DEATH OF MRS. CONRAD SPRINGER

Mrs. Catherine Springer nee Beck, was born Nov. 20, 1842, in Groesse Point, Mich. From early childhood she was forced to earn her own living until Nov. 28, 1866, when she was united in marriage with Conrad Springer, and lived with him in Plymouth. This union was blessed with nine children, seven of whom are living. Grandma Springer was constantly very active to provide for her husband and children a pleasant home. The grief over her husband's death, six years ago, was never entirely overcome by Mrs. Springer, her spirits seemed to be broken and therefore her bodily health failed. The last two years heart trouble caused her great anxiety and many a restless night. Four weeks ago her ailment became so bad that she could not remain in her home, and was taken to her son's home, where she received the best care and nursing. Outside of experiencing several weak spells, she seemed to improve and expressed the hope to return to her own home in the spring. She spent a good day Saturday and retired cheerfully for the night at 10:30. At seven o'clock Sunday morning, Mrs. George Springer found her dead in her bed. She had died peacefully, for there was no sign of a death struggle, her body being in exactly the same position as when she retired.

She has gone home, for she has been a faithful christian, who always was sorry and dissatisfied when she would have to miss church services. She was loved by all for her kindness and pleasant disposition. She had attained the age of 79 years, 2 months and 22 days, and leaves to mourn their loss, four daughters and three sons, Mrs. William Stewart of Peru, Indiana; Mrs. George A. Wilkman of Chicago, Illinois; Mrs. J. F. Stewart of Detroit; Mrs. William Addison of California; George Springer of Plymouth; Henry Springer of Detroit; William Springer of Northville; sixteen grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Lutheran church 2:30, Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Charles Strasen. Interment at Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Fannie Barker of Sheldon, is visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Spicer, on Ann Arbor street.

Don Cortrite, who is seriously ill, and has been at Ann Arbor hospital under treatment for the past week, is now at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Brown, on West Ann Arbor street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Spicer and two daughters, Ida Jane and Katherine Margaret, of Detroit, spent the week-end at the home of H. A. Spicer in Plymouth, and S. W. Spicer in West Plymouth.

SABBATH DESECRATION:—

1. Creates a Disregard for all Law and Order, and brings in its Wake every other kind of Evil. History proves it.
2. Strikes directly at the Ideals, Aims and Purposes of the Christian Church. Yet the Church has done more for Education and the Advancement of Civilization than any other Institution. History Attests it.
3. Inculcates in the Minds of Growing Children Disrespect not only for Sunday, but for all things Sacred, and turns them away from the Church and from God.
4. And therefore Strikes at the very Structure and Foundation of Civilized Society. It is a Step Backward.
5. Is contrary to the Spirit of Law both of God and Man.

ARE YOU WITH US?

We believe in Plymouth because we believe in it. We believe in it because it is a good town, regardless of its few defects, and its people are the equal of those to be found anywhere on the face of the earth. We shall never grow tired of asking our readers to have faith in their home town. When you feel like criticizing it, check the facts before they are spoken and weigh the defects with the advantages. Compare it with other communities of similar size, and then ask yourself, after all, you are justified in criticism. You can always find something good to say without hurting your conscience or staining your reputation for veracity. And even then, there will be good things in the community that you'll overlook.

We've a good town now, but faith in it, loyalty to it and its citizens and business men and united action in pushing through improvements which all of us know are needed will make it still better. Don't stop with the statement that "something ought to be done." Get with your neighbors and figure out some way that it can be done. You will find the majority with you—and this town is just like every other good town in one respect—the majority are always in favor of the other things that will benefit and help the community at large.

UNCLE SAM KNOWS

We note some figures just sent out by the government to the effect that the cost of living has declined from 4 to 19 per cent in the past twelve months. That ought to interest every citizen of Plymouth, but what will interest still more is the further statement in the report to the effect that the greatest reduction in the price of food and clothing was in communities where the roads are in a high state of improvement. That ought to soak in and stay with us, and it ought to wake us up a little. Communities where auto trucks can be run quickly and during all kinds of weather get the necessities of life cheaper than in sections where most of the highways serve for fair weather traffic only.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's Club held its regular meeting Friday afternoon, February 10th, in the kindergarten room. In the absence of Mrs. D. P. Murray, Mrs. Geo. Hamilton presided. Roll call, responded to by Lincolnum, was most interesting. Forty-two members were present. One new member was added to the roll. After the business of the day, a short recess preceded the literary program. Order being resumed, Mrs. J. W. Glickenshaft, leader of Division No. VIII, became chairman.

The members were much pleased with the pantomime sketch, "The Holy City," by four first grade girls, Roberta Chappel, Marian Taylor, Mary Jane Hamilton and Elva Hill, assisted by Gladys Schrader at the piano, and impressively sung by Marguerite Hamilton.

A paper by Mrs. S. Conger Hathaway on "The Soul of Ann Rutledge," was a fine character sketch, and vividly portrayed the influence of the wonderful girl, who in life and death encouraged Abraham Lincoln. Mrs. Hathaway succeeded in making the tender sentiments strangely inspire her listeners who were fortunate to be present.

A great hit was made by the Ladies' Quartet, composed of Mrs. J. L. Olaver, Mrs. W. S. Bake, Mrs. R. A. Cassidy and Mrs. M. Moon, accompanied by Mrs. G. Brown. They rendered two numbers, "Carmena," by Wilson, and "Bedtime Song," by Nevin.

Mrs. William R. Shaw then read a splendid paper, "Lincoln Highway and Other National Highways." Mrs. Shaw began at the early history of the Lincoln highway, the first meeting of its founders, the plans to route, to finance and the publicity educational campaign to get success quickly. Surely 'tis a wonderful monument to Lincoln—like him, practical, friendly and far-reaching. By the use of maps, Mrs. Shaw showed numerous trails and points of interest in the highway, and left the patriotic thought, "See America first." This highway traverses thirteen states and the General Federation of Women's Clubs have a committee in each one to beautify it by trees.

The civic committee will be ready Monday to furnish milk to undernourished pupils up to the sixth grade, and any others of those grades who wish it. Local milk dealers, Mr. Eckies and Mr. Hills will deliver the milk to the committee. This milk from tubercular tested cows, will be put up in half pint bottles, and may be bought for three cents by pupils from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. Two Graham crackers and a straw will be given with the bottle. Should some undernourished child lack enough pennies, the club will share the cost. Parents can help make this a success, as everyone knows the value of milk and the value of a child's health, and the need of that hour.

Members should be prepared to vote on the question, "Shall This Club Join the Detroit Federation," in the near future. This afternoon, Mr. E. F. Down, principal of Frances Willard school, will lecture and members may bring guests.

Is Your Insurance "Guilt Edged?"

Due to heavy losses and expenses and reduced premium income, nearly all Mutual Insurance Companies are under considerable strain at this time. Old Line Stock Companies are not seriously affected, but many light weight concerns, which have been unwisely managed have already succumbed, or have been compelled to call for 80 per cent to 100 per cent Special Assessments, and the prevailing opinion is that others of this class have trouble ahead.

CROWD MEN FOR HONORS

Women No Longer Content to Allow the Sterner Sex to Take First Place in Swimming.

A dozen years ago a girl who could swim well was looked upon as unusual, or at least more physically proficient than nine out of ten of her sex. Now, when a young woman is seen to enter the water, the speculation of the onlooker is not whether she is a good swimmer, but whether she is a better swimmer than her brother.

In no branch of competitive sport has woman advanced more in the last decade than in swimming, remarks a writer in the New York Herald. Ten years ago the gentle users of the over-hand stroke had but a small place in the printed records of water racing. English women held most of the records up to half a mile, the only American girl swimmer of distinction being Miss Elaine Golding.

But now in every alluvial, every history of a year's contests, the woman swimmers take up almost as much space as the men. And in the picture parts of the newspapers they have left mere men at the starting place. What chance has a man swimmer to get his likeness printed when there are a thousand mermaids for the camera to choose from?

Girls from four up to fifty dive and race with a vigor that seems likely in time to drive men out of the swim. They compete in Honolulu and Highlands, in the Panama canal or off Hatley's beach, in the cold Superior or the warm Caribbean. They know all the kickoffs and crawls of the expert. Some grow thin at the sport, some fat; and more are made beautiful than homely by it. The pictures show a few venuses and many who hope to achieve perfection. Some get their pictures in the films through sheer beauty; others by breaking records.

There is always a reason for sudden popularity in sport or pastime. Often it is hard to find. But in the case of women and swimming it is easy to trace the lure back to the wondrous grace and speed of Miss Kellermann. Many of the young ladies of today have outdone Annette in speed, but her grace remains the standard.

Normalcy in Extra Cracker.
Digger has finally been convinced that prices are coming down and living is cheaper than it was at the height of the war inflation, says the New York Sun. Digger lives a sort of cant-to-mouth existence in the restaurants, and therefore does no regular food shopping, such as married men are supposed to do.

"I found an extra cracker in my package at the lunch room when I got my crackers and milk today," Digger said. "When the war was on and prices began climbing, one of the ways out of raising prices was to take a cracker out of the package fixed up for the milk-and-cracker boys. It was a great privation at first, but I soon got used to it."

"Now that lost cracker has returned and, having become accustomed to one less, I feel all filled up after lunch these days. Of course, I could refuse to eat the extra cracker, but that would be wasteful. Now, I suppose I'll have to get fat just because I'm too provident to waste that cracker."

Working as a Gentleman.
So to work as not to cease to be a gentleman is a modest precept, and it certainly does not bar a man from earning hard on himself or on others. But it bars egotism. There is no limit to the service that a man will get, to the help he may have in his work, provided that he can make his helpers feel that the work is theirs, not his only, writes Stephen Gwynn in the North American Review. Those who care most for the work to be achieved and least for the realization of their own personalities in it, must surely win this devotion; it is the reward they earn. Acceptance may be the supreme giving; for the worth of a gift lies not in its exchangeable value but in the way of giving, and there is no greater gift than to admit another to partnership. Great captains of all kinds have always had the secret of multiplying their power by thus extending and communicating their personality. If you think your work worth dying for, and are ready to die for it, there is no egotism in letting some one else die for it instead.

Not in the Ritual, but Effective.
General Pershing tells the story of a volunteer battalion of rough back-woodsmen that once joined General Grant. He admired their fine physique, but distrusted the capacity of their uncouth commander to handle troops promptly and efficiently in the field, so he said:

"Colonel, I want to see your men at work; call them to attention and order them to march with shouldered arms in close column to the left flank." Without a moment's hesitation the colonel yelled to his fellow ruffians: "Boys look wild that! Make ready to thicken and go left end-ways! Tote yer guns! Git!"

The maneuver proved a brilliant success and the self-elected colonel was forthwith officially commissioned.—Boys' Own Paper.

Too Late.
Reports that Santa Claus died in the World war are absolutely false, said Postmaster E. A. Purdy in response to horrified inquiry from a Minneapolis child. He also is preparing a statement promising to fix matters up for the tot who wrote:

"Please do not bring a mouse for our cat; because the cat died."—Minneapolis Journal.

A Judicious Inquiry.
A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade, says he has often heard druggists ask a customer, who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it and for colds, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed.—Advertisement.

Today's Reflections

Maybe Methuselah lived to a ripe old age just to spite some girl who married him for his money. Back in the days when Plymouth people kept the ten commandments better than they do now, nobody had to start a Ford on a cold morning. We have commenced to wonder which will get back first—the robin or normalcy. What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth business man who used to tell his help that, "I'll raise your wages regardless of 'tilly' conditions."

Wouldn't it be awful if the galoshes the girls are wearing now felt as bad as they look. The size of the head is no indication of brain power. It may be all bone. Every Plymouth man who has a bright son firmly believes that he inherits his brightness from his father. We have often wondered what the result would be if the unexpected should happen to those cheese-cloth stockings so many of them are now wearing.

Watch the reformers claim that coffee is dangerous, now that a Missouri woman is being sued for hitting her husband over the head with a coffee pot. About the first thing a Plymouth man does after making a fool of himself, is to try and explain how it happened. Probably ninety per cent of the men who are trying to reform the world would be better citizens if they'd go to work.

From the long drawn out strike in the Chicago packing houses, we are inclined to believe that the strikers are bringing home the bacon.

The Plymouth man who retires early each night, will not have to do it so early in business. Maybe it was the price of meat, and not fear of cold weather that caused the groundhog to hustle back into his hole.

The Plymouth citizen who can tell how all the organizations in town should be run, usually declines to serve on any committee if asked to take hold and help.

This country seems to be suffering now from a combination of hot air and cold feet. If you know an item of news, phone or send it to the Mail office.

IS UNDER SPELL

"Little People" Have Sway Over Stream in Ireland.

Waterway in County Fermanagh Avoided by the Dwellers Near It Because of Old Superstition.

Up in County Fermanagh, in the northern part of the Emerald Isle, there is a dark, deep, silent stream, which winds its way some 15 miles or more through a picturesque country. It is called the Sheelee, or the Stream of the Fairies, and there are many tales and legends told concerning it. It rises near the little village of Derrygonnelly. Its source being a small lake called Bunahone. Its course lies between the picturesque mountains of Bo and a beautiful level country on its other bank called the golden plain. The wild sedge grows down to its very waters, and above it the curlew sends out his eerie call in the hush of the evening. But beautiful as the stream may look to visitors, it is shunned by the country folk who live in its vicinity. Tradition says that at one time the little fairy people placed a curse upon it and from that time on death and disaster have come out of its treacherous waters many times. There are few who cure to wander along its banks, for in the minds of all who know there always lingers the old saying that has been handed down from sire to son for many years:

Bad shall it be for fish and fishing Good shall it be for drowning. Always unlucky shall it be to meddle with.

There is a strange peculiarity about the river, and that is that it runs in an apparently uphill course. The legend that accounts for this freak of nature is as follows: One day Saint Faber was fleeing from his enemies along the river bank. In her haste she dropped one of her precious books in the water. Deeply grieved over her loss, she raised her staff over the stream, and instantly the waters turned backwards in their course, and her precious book was restored to her.

Time and again various attempts have been made to drain this treacherous stream, which very often overflows its banks and does considerable damage to the farmers in the vicinity. But always, disaster and death have followed those who have meddled with the stream. At the last attempt made such a series of accidents and deaths befell those who undertook the project that it probably will be a long time before the thing is brought up again. Even those who are most injured by the stream's vagaries, the farmers whose lands are so often flooded, will now have nothing to do with the draining of the Sheelee, preferring financial loss rather than incurring the enmity of the Little People.

And so today the Stream of the Fairies pursues its crooked, treacherous course, at places shining like a dazzling silver ribbon in the sunshine, at other places lying in deep, dark, treacherous pools, waiting for an unwary one whose feet might step beyond the rank sedge that lines its banks. And tradition has it that very often under cover of the night the Little People dance for joy upon its dark, mystic waters, rejoicing in the fact that the stream has kept its faith with them.—Kansas City Star.

Postal Air Service. More than 10,000,000 letters were carried by the post office air mail service in the third quarter of 1921, Assistant Postmaster General Shaughnessy told the members of the Society of Automotive Engineers at one of its recent meetings on commercial aviation. During that period the air mail carriers covered 331,000 miles, 97 per cent of these scheduled trips were completed on time and all of the regular trips were made without failures. The cost of operation, which was $8 per ton mile in 1920, was reduced in 1921 to $6 per ton mile, and with the improved design of machine now being put in use by the Post Office department, the cost for the coming year is expected to be reduced to $2.60.

To Teach Hawaiian Youth. Alarmed at the trend of the youth of Hawaii away from agriculture and other productive pursuits and into non-productive clerical work, the American Legion, department of Hawaii, is initiating a territory-wide movement looking toward the establishment in all schools of industrial, agricultural and manual training. Statistics for the past few years show that a heavy majority of the boys and girls attending the territorial public schools, particularly those of Hawaiian and Oriental blood, are taking up so-called commercial courses, fitting them only for clerical work.

Literary Tidbits. From a British Book—"She was a good cook, as cooks go—and as cooks go she went."

One noticeable thing about our fiction characters is that they don't spend much time earning a living. No, Roger, "The Triumph of the Egg," though it is a story, does not relate how the egg reached its pecuniary eminence.

From Princess Bibesco's book, "I Have Only Myself to Blame," we call this literary flower: "When he was with her now he stammered. He didn't know that a stammer is the divine eloquence of love."

They Appeal to Our Sympathies. The bilious and dyspeptic are constant sufferers and appeal to our sympathies. Many such, however, have been completely restored to health by the use of Chamberlain's Tablets. These tablets strengthen the stomach, invigorate the liver and improve the digestion. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels. When you have any trouble with your stomach, give them a trial.—Advertisement.

DEATH WARRANT OF JESUS

Document of Wonderful Importance, if Genuine, is Hidden Somewhere in City of Rome.

Somewhere secreted in Rome is a document that if genuine, is to Christians people the most interesting and impressive legal document in the world.

It is the death warrant, served on Jesus Christ, and rendered by Pontius Pilate, acting governor of Lower Galilee, stating that Jesus of Nazareth shall suffer death on the cross.

In 1810 workmen, while excavating in the ancient city of Antium (now Anagnina) in the kingdom of Naples, found an antique vase in which lay concealed a copper plate, bearing on one side a long inscription in the Hebrew tongue—this, when translated, was said to be the death warrant of Jesus.

On the reverse side were these words, "A similar plate be sent to each tribe."

Faithfully transcribed it read as follows:

"In the year seventeen of the Emperor Tiberius Cæsar, and the twenty-seventh day of March in the city of the Holy Jerusalem—Annas and Caiaphas, being priests sacrificers of the people of God, Pontius Pilate, governor of Lower Galilee, sitting in the presidential chair of the praetory, condemn Jesus of Nazareth to die on the cross between two thieves, the great and notorious evidence of the people saying:

"Jesus is a seducer." "He is seditious." "He is the enemy of the law." "He calls himself falsely the Son of God." "He calls himself falsely the king of Israel." "He entered into the temples followed by a multitude bearing palm branches in their hands." "Ordered the first centurion Quintus Cornelius to lead him to the place of execution. Forbids any person whatsoever, either rich or poor, to oppose the death of Jesus Christ."

The witnesses who signed the condemnation were: Daniel Robanus, a Pharisee; Raphael Robanus, Joannus Robanus, Capet, a citizen.

It was also stated that Jesus should go out of the city of Jerusalem by the gate of Stratonus.—Los Angeles Times.

He and She. "There are three stages in a man's infatuation for a woman: Making his way, having his way and going his way."

"The reason that a love affair so seldom ends happily is that one of the lovers is generally unwilling for it to end at all."

"It is probable that if a woman cannot see the point of her husband's jokes she will see very little indeed of him."

"A woman cares most for a man when their love affair is over; a man cares most for a woman before their love affair has begun."

"It is the man who has no right who generally comforts the woman who has wrongs."

"It is more or less true that an attractive woman has no friends. The men are more and the women less."

"Oddly enough, the woman who looks most self-possessed generally belongs to some man."

"Men always say that they loathe being flattered, but don't take any notice—no man has ever known that he was flattered."—From "Tailings," by Sidney Treanour.

Croup "I have a little girl six years old who has a great deal of trouble with croup. I used Foley's Honey and Tar, giving it to her according to directions, and obtained instant relief for her. My wife and I always use it and will say it is the best cure for croup, a bad cold or throat trouble that I ever used." W. E. Curry, 130 Upper 6th St., Evansville, Ind. Safe, sure and satisfactory. Best for children and grown persons. No opiates. FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR Sold Everywhere in Plymouth

Baptist Notes

The prayer meeting at the home of Mrs. Daly, last week, had a large attendance. Over thirty were present. The prayer meeting this week Thursday evening was at the home of Mrs. Sarah Bartlett, corner of Spring street and Holbrook avenue. Miss Edith Scott led the meeting. The subject was the boys and girls of the bible.

The union meeting held at the Presbyterian church, last week Thursday, was very much enjoyed by the members of the B. Y. F. U.

The annual meeting of the B. Y. F. U. will take place some time near the beginning of March. Mr. Williams of Lansing, will be the speaker at the banquet. He is the head of the religious education work for the Baptists of this state. This will close the first year of our work as a young people's society. Election of officers will be a part of our program at that time.

A goodly number gathered at the parsonage last Monday evening, to listen to an address given by Rev. Chapman of Ann Arbor, on our work at the Guild House in connection with the University. The address was enjoyed very much by all. He gave to us a bird's eye view of their work, looking after and caring for in many ways over 400 young men and women, who come from Baptist churches to attend school.

Mrs. Sayles' Sunday-school class of young ladies met with Miss Esther Estep of Liberty street, last Tuesday afternoon, where they enjoyed a pot-luck supper, and did work on the quilt they will have on sale before long.

Remember the community supper to be given by the Ladies' Aid, Feb. 22nd, in the church parlors.

LIVONIA CENTER

The ladies "Help One Another Club," which met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Garchow on the base line road, was well attended, and all enjoyed a good time, men as well as ladies. The contest was very interesting. One may think the letter "T" is easy to make, but when you have to make it in as short a time as possible it isn't such an easy matter. Just ask Mrs. Tuck if it is. The prizes were awarded Mrs. William Garchow and Mrs. Barney Tuck. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Fred George's, Thursday, February 23. Everybody belonging to the club is urged to attend. Tuesday evening visitors at the William Garchow home were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ziegler and son, Gerald, Eloise Noez and Lee Destadon of Redford. Quite a number from around here attended the "hard times party" at Newburg, Tuesday, and a good time must have been had for it was in the wee hours of the morning when they returned to their homes. Fred Garchow and sons, Edgar and Harry, visited at William Garchow's Monday evening. The Pedro club, which was held at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seiting's, was an enjoyable affair, nearly all the members being present. The prizes were fine and were won by Mrs. Charles Wagenschutz, Mr. Bassett, Miss Mae Garchow and Carl Petach. The little girls of Livonia Center school were entertained by their teacher, Miss Hawkins, Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rhode. Games of different kinds were enjoyed and fine refreshments were served. They will meet next with Grace Lee on Saturday, February 18. Miss Lizzie Hewell of Detroit, has been spending a few days with her brother, Joe, this week. At last Herman Johnson has sold a share in his donkey to Matt Miller. Now Matt will do some speeding. All autos must keep out of his way. Harry Wolf from was a Detroit visitor, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Garchow and Mrs. William Hawley, Sr., called on Mrs. Dan McKinney, who has been ill for some time. ANTS ON MARCH

Seeming Proof That Instinct Is Not Infallible.

Small Creatures Dragged Themselves to Death Because No One of Them Had Any Initiative.

At six o'clock in the morning I was starting for a swim in a British Guiana jungle when, at the foot of the laboratory steps I saw a swiftly moving, broad line of army ants on safari, passing through the compound to the beach. I traced them back under the servants' quarters, through two clumps of bamboo, to an outhouse. Later, I followed along the column down to the river sand, through a dense mass of underbrush, through a hollow log, up the bank, back through light jungle to the outhouse again; and on a large fallen log, a few feet beyond the spot where their nest had been, the ends of the circle actually came together. It was the most astonishing thing, and I had to verify it again and again before I could believe the evidence of my eyes.

It was a strong column, six lines wide in many places, and the ants fully believed that they were on their way to a new home; for most were carrying eggs or larvae, although many had food. For an hour, at noon, during heavy rain, the column weakened and almost disappeared; but when the sun returned, the lines rejoined, and the revolution of the vicious circle continued. Careful measurement of the great circle showed a circumference of 1,200 feet. We timed the laden ants and found that they averaged two to two and three-quarters inches a second. So a given individual would complete the round in about two hours and a half.

All the afternoon the insane circle revolved; at midnight, the hosts were still moving; the second morning many had weakened and dropped their burdens and the general pace had very appreciably slackened. But still the blind grip of instinct held them. On, on, on, they must go! Always before in their nomadic life there had been a goal—a sanctuary of hollow tree, sugarcane heart of bamboo; surely this terrible grind must end somehow. Through sun and cloud, day and night, hour after hour, there was found no ant with individual initiative enough to turn aside an ant's breadth from the circle that he had traversed perhaps 15 times.

Fewer and fewer now came along the well-worn path; burdens littered the line of march, like the arms and accoutrements thrown down by a retreating army. At last, a scanty single line struggled past—tired, hopeless, bewildered, idiotic and thoughtless to the last. Then some half-dead ant straggled from the circle along the beach and threw the line behind him into confusion. The desperation of total exhaustion had accomplished what necessity and opportunity and normal life could not. Several others followed his scent instead of that leading back toward the outhouse; and as an amoeba gradually flows into one of its own pseudopodia, so the forlorn hope of the great Etonian army passed slowly down the beach and on into the jungle.

Would they die singly and in bewildered groups, or would the remnant draw together, and, again guided by the supermind of its mentor, lay the foundation of another army, and again come to rest in my outhouse?—William Beebe in the Atlantic Monthly.

Know Him Well.

One summer I visited in a fashionable little town in the West. I went to a tea one afternoon, and while there met a woman who said she knew some one who lived in the town in which I also lived. She asked me if I happened to know a certain man. I said: "Yes, I know who he is. And I remember that at one time he took a larrikin rope and tried to lariat a well-educated and charming school teacher because he wanted her to marry his son. She did not seem willing, so he used these measures to force her to do so." After this explanation of the knowledge I possessed of the man she added: "Well, my dear, he is my brother." I sought another part of the garden. —Chicago Tribune.

King Abandons Chapel Royal.

It is reported in English church circles that the king is thinking about unbending the civil list by ceasing the use of the Chapel Royal, St James' palace. The king and queen never attend services at St. James', preferring the private chapel at Buckingham palace. Historical students and sentimental Londoners will be much grieved to the service in that ancient building which belongs to the Holbein period of the palace, with the boy chorister—the children of the Chapel Royal—in their beautiful uniform of scarlet and gold, like pages of antique pattern, is one of the most curious and beautiful survivals of the time.

Rev. and Mrs. Hathaway were called to Jackson, Monday and Tuesday of this week, by the death and burial of an uncle.

The following young people attended the Christian Endeavor Conference in Detroit, last week: Alton Trumbull, Thelma Williams, Catherine Learned, Sterling Freyman, Genevieve McClumpha, Clinton Goyer, Byron Becker, David Polley, LeRoy Gottschalk, Ray Green, Agnes Green, Ivaleta Cole, Francis Hathaway, S. Conger Hathaway and Mrs. Clyde Alexander. Three of the above attended twice, making a total number of representatives from Plymouth to eighteen. The pastor, David Polley and LeRoy Gottschalk drove cars.

Two young men's classes at the Presbyterian Sunday-school have been made into three, with George A. Smith, S. Conger Hathaway and W. R. Shaw, respectively, in charge.

About eighty young people, representing the Epworth League, the Baptist Young People's Union and the Christian Endeavor society, sat down to a pot-luck supper in the dining room of the Presbyterian church, February 9th. After an inspiring address by A. LaVerne Spafford of Grand Rapids, Alton Trumbull was elected chairman of the meeting, and plans were made for organizing a Local Union society of Christian Young People. Committees were appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws, nominate officers and arrange time and place of next meeting.

Mrs. Ida Taft, D. E. Kellogg, Mrs. A. W. Van der Velde of Dearborn, and Rev. and Mrs. S. Conger Hathaway and family were entertained at six o'clock dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Mimmack, last Saturday.

BASKET BALL GAMES

Second Team Game

The recently organized second team played their first game of the season as the curtain-raiser of the Northville-Plymouth series, last week Friday. Northville's second team has been playing for some time, and their team work was much better than Plymouth's, but they could not locate the basket, and man-to-man defense saved the home team in the pinches. The defensive work of Campbell and Theodore Strasen was particularly good. Captain Sayles was particularly good. Theodore Strasen at center, had the tip-off throughout, and his foul-shooting covered the only two points of the first half of the game. For Northville, Hammond and Lefevre showed up the best.

Scoring was low throughout, each team's defense being much better than their offense. The score at the end of the first half was 2 to 0, and the final score, 8 to 2 in favor of Plymouth.

The line-up follows:
Plymouth—Kenyon, R. F.; M. Strasen, L. F.; T. Strasen, C.; D. Sayles, L. G.; C. Chappell, K. G.; H. Wilson, R. G.
Northville—Hammond, R. F.; C. Hall, L. F.; Markham, C.; Young, C.; Lefevre, R. G.; Blackburn, L. G.
Baskets—Kenyon, Sayles, M. Strasen, Markham.
Free Throws—T. Strasen, 2 of 3; Markham, 0 of 2; Hammond, 0 of 3; C. Hall, 0 of 5.
Referee—Crane, Ypsilanti.

Girls' Basket Ball Game

The Plymouth girls played Northville, Friday night, here. The game was not finished, as Northville decided not to play the second half. Referee parleyed awhile about the referee, Northville went on the floor again to finish the game, but walked off during the third quarter, forfeiting the game to Plymouth. The score at the time the game was forfeited was 25 to 6 in Plymouth's favor. The referee's work was considered very satisfactory by the majority of people.

The line-up of Northville was:
VanAtta, R. F., 2 personal and 2 technical fouls.
Smith, L. F., 3 2-point throws.
I. Thompson, J. C., 2 technical and 1 personal fouls.
Parmenter, S. C., 1 technical foul.
Cavell, 3 technical fouls.
Young, 2 technical fouls.

Plymouth:
Kieley, R. F., 5 2-point throws, 3 foul throws.
Amrhein, L. F., 3 point throws, 1 foul throw, 3 1-point throws.
D. Freydl, J. C.
R. Kidder, S. C.
B. Mueller, R. G.
W. Shutts, L. G.
The final score for a forfeited game is 2 to 0.
Referee—Venus Walker of Ypsilanti.

"Rocks" Defeat Northville

The Plymouth "Rocks" played their second home basket ball game of the season, last Friday night. The game was one of the fastest and cleanest that has ever been played on the local floor.

Northville came over with the hope of carrying away three victories, but misfortune overtook her. Plymouth's winning of the first two games was hard for Northville to understand, and consequently their fellows went into the game to win as decisively as possible. Northville, having already played eleven games, winning ten of them, had a record to be proud of.

The first quarter was all in favor of Northville, the score being 6 to 1. During the second quarter, the "Rocks" began to get underway, making one field basket and a free throw to Northville's two free goals. The half ended 8 to 4.

In the third quarter the "Rocks" were awake and showed a fighting and passing attack, which swept their larger and more experienced opponents off their feet. The quarter ended 11 to 9 for Plymouth. The last quarter was like the third, each team fighting every inch of the way. Up until the last minute of play, the "Rocks" were leading by from two to four points. In the last few seconds, Northville succeeded in making a field basket and tying the score at 17 all.

A five-minute overtime period was played to break the tie. Northville made one free throw, while the "Rocks" registered two field baskets. The game ended with the "Rocks" leading by three points, 21 to 18.

Hall starred for Northville, making two field baskets and ten free throws, for a total of 14 points. Sayles of the local team made five field baskets.

The line-up was:

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Aids Nature.

Medicines that aid nature are always most effective. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is such a plan. It always relieves the cough, soothes the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Thousands have testified to its good qualities. Try it when you have a cough or cold.—Advertise.

Episcopal Notes

Edmund Dunbar was with us last Sunday morning and preached the sermon, taking his text from Psalms 51:1. He gave a most impressive address. Mr. Dunbar belongs to the layworkers staff of the Cathedral at Cleveland, and is also an active worker in the Brotherhood of St. Andrews in that diocese.

On Sunday morning last Franklin L. Gibson presented two splendid brass candlesticks for the altar. These are placed in the church in memory of his late brother, Walter Gibson, who died during the war. A lady in Detroit has also expressed a wish to be allowed to provide for a brass cross for the altar, in memory of her mother, who has recently died.

Next Sunday morning service will be a Father and Son service, and we want all fathers and sons to be present, and to bring a friend, especially a young man or boy who has no father. Franklin L. Gibson will preach at this service. Next Sunday evening will be a special community service, when Rev. J. H. Leyer will give an illustrated address on "Social and Prison Life in the Diocese of Detroit." The address will be illustrated by lantern slides, and will be a subject of great interest to the community of Plymouth. We hope there will be a large gathering in the church, and that the community of Plymouth will be fully represented next Sunday evening.

We regret to lose two of our most promising pupils in the church school, Beatrice and Bernice Britcher, who left last Monday to attend college in New York. Before school started lessons, last Sunday morning, F. L. Gibson spoke very earnestly and feelingly about our two young friends who are starting out in a new sphere in life, speaking words of advice for their future life. The members of the church school then formed a double ring in the chancel before the altar, then holding hands they all sang very feelingly the hymn, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." This little ceremony will not easily be forgotten either by the school or by our two young friends, and we know that the children who promised will keep in communication by letter with Beatrice and Bernice, each week and by prayer. Beatrice and Bernice were baptized by Archbishop Widdifield and confirmed by Bishop Williams on his last visit to Plymouth. We wish them Godspeed and a happy future.

If you have anything to buy or sell, advertise it in the Mail. It will cost but a small sum. Try it.

BOARD OF EDUCATION TAKES ACTION

At the February meeting of the Board of Education, held in the superintendent's office in the High school building, on Monday evening, February 13th, the following resolution was presented and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, we as a Board, feel that Sunday picture shows tend to give the boys and girls a wrong attitude toward those institutions which have always stood for the best things in every community; and because their running means public approval of open defiance to law; and because the influence of such approval is detrimental to the teaching of good citizenship in our school; we are unanimously in favor of the pending ordinance.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.
E. V. Joffe, Sec'y.

Methodist Matters

Quite a number of Plymouth folks attended the group conference at Northville, Tuesday afternoon and evening. An interesting program was given emphasizing the phases of evangelism and stewardship. In the evening, Dr. Townsend of North Africa, gave a very interesting description of his work among the peoples of that section of the mission field, and Dr. Keeler of North China, presented a stereoscopic lecture of work among the Chinese.

The prayer hour on Thursday nights is being devoted to Excursions in Stewardship. It is hoped a large number will plan to spend this hour at the church for mutual profit and education in these fundamentals of the Christian life.

Teacher Training class follows the prayer meeting hour. Those who missed the trip to Palm Beach the other night, missed a real treat.

The Ladies' Aid society meets at the home of Mrs. Spicer, next Wednesday afternoon. Bring your purse.

Feature film for next Monday night at 7:00, "The Man Who," a Metro release. A large crowd saw "The Old Oaken Bucket," last week. Also there will be a reel of educational pictures for next Monday.

A report has been going the rounds this week that the Methodist church at Pontiac was showing moving pictures regularly on Sunday nights and charging admission. The report, we are glad to say, is absolutely false, and they do not even contemplate such a thing. Dame Rumor is doing her dirtiest these days, and we are glad to trace down one more of her falsehoods. The local pastor has personally communicated with the pastor at Pontiac, and received the above statement.

Read, study and practice the following:

1. Thou shalt not neglect to give the most place to thine obligations as a citizen of the American Republic.
2. Thou shalt not fail to familiarize thyself with the laws of thine own country.
3. Thou shalt not treat lightly or facetiously the violation of one jot or tittle of the law.
4. Thou shalt make a vow to thyself to obey the spirit as well as the letter of the law.
5. Thou shalt definitely aim to create in thy community a sentiment favorable to law enforcement.
6. Thou shalt uphold the hands of thy law enforcement officials.
7. Thou shalt persuade the editors of thy local papers that it is their duty to publish those facts and truths that make for the observation of the law.
8. Thou shalt prevail upon thy preachers, thy public school and Sunday-school teachers, and all thy friends and fellow townsmen to talk, think, sing and work for law enforcement.
9. Thou shalt seek to win to enthusiastic co-operation in the law enforcement campaign all thy citizens and especially the newly enfranchised women of thy acquaintance.
10. Thou shalt keep diligently all these commandments that thy nation may continue to flourish and be as a great light upon the world, for upon obedience to properly constituted authority depends the perpetuity of our democratic form of government.

C. OF C. BOWLING LEAGUE

Burley's Bums	11	7	5	.585
Dibble's Dubs	10	8	4	.500
Rambo's Ramblers	10	8	4	.500

High Scores—H. Lush, 225, 192, 187; W. Petz, 207; P. Wiedman, 198; Fr. LeFevre, 184; M. Powell, 186; C. Rathburn, 189; Dr. Olsaver, 185; R. Fisher, 182; H. Thornberry, 190; H. Crossman, 180.

Dubbs rambled over the Rambles three straight games, the only team to win three games this week. If a man fails to get what he deserves he ought to be thankful, for instance the 7-10 split.

It may be hard for some people to be poor, but for others it is the easiest thing in the world. "Same lines can be used for bowling enthusiasts," sorry some take it to heart.

One other feature worthy of mention is that G. A. S. was high man with 145 in the Moonshiners last game. Keep up the good work, George, and I'll refrain from spilling the beans any more. No, I won't say a word about your first two games, either, per your request.

The first man to average over 200 is Harry Lush.

Looking at the League standing reminds me of a menu for a banquet. Fish and prunes at each end of an eight-course dinner looks good to me. Be patient, boys, it's coming soon.

"The nicest and pleasantest medicine I have used for indigestion and constipation is Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Melard F. Craig, Middle Grove, N. Y. They work like a charm and do not gripe or leave any unpleasant effect.—Advertisement.

HOUR OF TERROR IN RUSSIA

When Women Wait for the Call of Death From the Drury Cells in Petrograd.

The dingy interior of the headquarters of the extraordinary commission in Petrograd, with its bare stairs and passages, is an eerie place at all times of the year, but never is its somber, sorrow-laden gloom so intense as on a December afternoon when dusk is sinking into darkness.

While we made our preparations, there sat in one of the inner chambers at No. 2 Gorohovaya, on wooden planks which took the place of beds, a group of women, from thirty to forty in number, their faces indistinguishable in the growing darkness. The room was overheated and nauseatingly stuffy, but the patient figures paid no heed, nor appeared to care whether it were hot or cold, dark or light. A few chatted in undertones, but most of them sat motionless and silent, waiting, endlessly waiting.

The terror hour was not yet—it came only at 7 each evening. Then each victim knew that if the heavy door was opened and her name called, she would pass out into eternity, for executions were carried out in the evening and the bodies removed at night.

At 7 o'clock, all talk, all action ceased. The white-faced women sat still, eyes fixed on the heavy folding door. When it creaked every figure became rigid. A moment of ghastly, intolerable suspense, a silence that could be felt, and in the silence—a noise. And when the noise was spoken, every figure—but one—would imperceptibly relax. Here and there a lip would twitch, here and there a smile would flicker. But no one would break the dread silence. One of their number was doomed.

The figure that bore the name would rise, move slowly, with unnatural gait, tottering along the narrow aisle between the plank couches. Some would look up and some would look down, and some would pray, or mutter, "Tomorrow, maybe I." Or there would be a frantic shriek, a brutal struggle, and worse than death would fill the chamber.—St. Paul Oakes (British Secret Intelligence Service), in Harper's Magazine.

Making a Fire.

Some months ago the press reported a man who, while hunting in the wilds of Canada, lost his way, and having nothing to eat but raw meat, and no fire, starved almost to death before he was rescued. And only recently a freshman from Syracuse university was hunting in the Adirondacks and, losing his way and having no fire, froze nearly to death.

Had they been brought up in the South before the Civil war and been accustomed, as I was, to hunting with a muzzle-loading shotgun, with paper for wadding, and had been accustomed to setting the paper on fire after firing the gun, they would have had no trouble in starting a fire, writes a Mississippi correspondent of the New York Times. During the Civil war, when a boy of about seventeen, a lieutenant and I were sent into north Mississippi, and on reaching Tallahatchie river in the night and finding the river nearly level with its banks, no way to cross and no one in calling distance, the weather being cool, we had to have a fire. I discharged one chamber of my pistol, cut a piece out of my shirt tail, put a blank cartridge in my pistol, rammied the cloth down on it, fired it, and in a short while had a good fire.

It would seem that the men referred to never thought of such a recourse. Whether they did or not, this may remind some weary, hungry sportsman how he may start a fire.

From Artist to Foreign Minister.
On her return to Chicago, Miss Jane Adams told how she recently met, in the lobby of her hotel at Budapest, a Hungarian whose acquaintance she had made at Zurich in 1918. At that time he was a struggling artist—an amateur who was a refugee from his native country and was earning a living by painting Swiss mountains and lakes and selling them to tourists. He was also studying commercial engraving. When she came across him again at Budapest Miss Adams discussed the political situation with him, and was surprised at the knowledge he showed of public questions, especially in the field of foreign affairs. Finally she remarked to him: "For an artist, you are singularly well informed on politics." He replied, with a smile: "Well, I ought to be, I suppose. You see, I am the minister for foreign affairs."

It was Count Banffy, the Hungarian foreign minister.

Illinois Holds First Place.
Illinois greenhouse-men have more square feet of space under glass than has any other single state. Illinois ranks first, with 19,628,001 square feet of space under glass, according to a recent census report. In fact, more than half of the total area under glass in the greenhouses of the United States on January 1, 1920, was reported in five states. The other four states are: Ohio, 12,807,138 square feet; New York, 12,288,628; Pennsylvania, 10,224,856; and Massachusetts, 12,982,028. Illinois sold $3,978,000 worth of flowers and plants in 1919, taking rank at the top of the list.

FATE OF BARS: SEATS, PULPITS OR FIREWOOD?

Detroit Police Have $300,000 of Tea, Walnut and Mahogany Taken in Raids.

Dozens of mahogany, walnut and oakwood bars, tables and fixtures from saloons raided in the Detroit district since the advent of prohibition, a display of highly polished and costly wood valued at upward of $300,000, may be chopped into firewood and distributed among Detroit's poor. Or these bars and tables, over which thousands of elbows have been crooked and that in years past have been made to glisten by constant application of towels in the hands of white-aproned attendants, may be converted into benches for august judges or into pulpits behind which clergymen will stand and voice the arguments for a saloonless world.

While state and city prohibition forces are making up their minds which course to pursue in disposal of the valuable store of wood, rats and mice are playing havoc with the bars and tables that have been dumped in a heap near one of the city police stations.

Under a state law prohibition officials confiscate the fixtures in any establishment found to be dispensing liquors. Lacking a place to store these articles the officials have piled them in a vacant place outdoors, thus creating what the police call the city's "mahogany dump."

Judge William M. Heston of Recorder's court has decreed the collection be cut into firewood and given to the poor. Others propose the water-soaked pile be salvaged and that the wood be used to make pulpits and judges' benches.

For display purposes the wood is worth a fortune, but for firewood it is no better than the more plebeian varieties. City officials say that to cut the bars into stove wood would cost more than it would be worth for that purpose. Therefore the proposal of Judge Heston will not be put into effect, for a time, at least.

While a solution is being reached the owner of the property on which the "mahogany dump" is located is frantically urging the officials to "take it away," as he needs the space, and also because the "dump" has become the home of scores of rats.

WILLIAM OF SWEDEN BAGS GIANT GORILLA

Not long ago a story came from Africa that Prince William of Sweden, who was there on a hunting expedition, had emulated Samson and killed a lion with his bare hands. The story at the time was taken with a considerable quantity of salt. Now comes evidence that the prince is a mighty nimrod. Here is a picture which the prince brought from the wilds of Central Africa showing him with a giant male gorilla of record size, which he brought down with a 350 magnum bullet on the slopes of Mount Mikeno, Central Africa.

PARIS MAY BAR HORSES

Officials Seek Method of Disentangling Traffic Jams.

The horse soon will be but a memory on the principal thoroughfares of Paris if plans of "traffic reformers" are adopted. The object is to disentangle the traffic jams which make the pedestrian's existence uncertain. The experts propose to bar all horse-drawn vehicles from the chief traffic arteries during daylight hours. The traffic authorities would even banish pedestrians, putting them all underground on a moving sidewalk.

Those who take a gloomy view of the traffic situation see one optimistic aspect of it. They say it can't get any worse. Accidents are of almost hourly occurrence.

The red bands of concrete at cross-ings, constructed to give protection to the walkers, prove a failure. Only a heavy rain reveals their presence and then the drivers ignore them.

"Cracking" vehicles add to the confusion and it is further suggested that this practice be prohibited.

HAD THE LAUGH ON JAILER

During that period in English history when it was "quite the thing" to be shut up in the Tower of London the prisoner, says a writer in Chambers' Journal, could live comfortably. He could order what furniture he pleased—and even plate and tapestries—but there was one condition: he could take nothing out of the tower again. If he went out by way of the scaffold it did not matter much; but if he was acquitted or escaped his expenditure was a total loss. All the furnishings became the perquisites of the lieutenant—a circumstance from which we may confidently infer that he encouraged his prisoners to make themselves as comfortable as possible, regardless of expense.

Sometimes, however, the lieutenant met a stone as hard as himself—in other words, Greek met Greek. Such a one was Sir William Seymour, afterwards duke of Somerset. Though not at all blessed with wealth, the knight ordered expensive tapestries, silver plate and the best of furniture while the lieutenant stood by and rubbed his hands in anticipation of his future inheritance.

Sir William Seymour, however, noticing that a cart came almost daily to deliver hay and fagots at the entrance under the Bloody tower exactly opposite his prison, conceived the idea of escaping. A friend smuggled a slouch hat, a false beard and a smock in to him, and one day while the cart was inside delivering his goods Sir William strolled out, mounted the driver's seat, turned the horse round and calmly drove out of the iron gate. There horses awaited him; he took boat opposite Greenwich and reached a ship that he had chartered to carry him to France.

The matter naturally made trouble for the lieutenant, but he consoled himself with the thought of the rich perquisites that Sir William had left. What, then, was his indignation to find that the fugitive had paid for none of the things, and that he himself was sued by the tradesman who had supplied them! Even so, he might have recovered at least some of his money by the sale of the goods, but to his disgust he found that the facetious knight had cut up the most valuable tapestries to fit the fireplace.

The output of the region was about 60 per cent of the production of all soviet Russia and about 70 per cent of the production of soviet Russia in Europe. In July, 1921, production had dropped to 161,230 tons.
