ALWAYS A SAFE GUIDE

Every driver of an automobile knows the importance of keeping on the right road. A wrong turn at a fork will take the tourist miles from his destination—unless he discovers the error and cuts over into the right road. The church is a road guide to every man, woman and child in this community. It helps show which is the turn to make when the sign posts on life's road are indistinct. It also points the correct way when the wrong turn has been taken. Regular church attendance is the best way to keep in touch with the influence which holds one to the right course.

FAMOUS REGIMENT HELD 42ND REUNION HERE

SURVIVORS OF THE SIXTEENTH MICHIGAN VOLUNTEER INFANTRY HELD ANNUAL REUNION IN PLYMOUTH, THURSDAY, AUGUST 10TH.

The 42nd reunion of the Sixteenth Michigan Infantry was held in Plymouth, last week Thursday. The reunion was not as largely attended as have been these annual events in the past years, only fifteen of the survivors of this famous old regiment being present to answer to roll call. Thomas Davey of Detroit, secretary-treasurer of the regimental association, was at the headquarters established at the village hall, early in the day, to register the names of the veterans as they arrived.

The business meeting was held during the afternoon, and the report of the secretary showed that twenty comrades had been reported to have died since the last reunion. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Charles Pitcher, Plymouth.
 Vice President—Franklin B. Abbott, Fowlerville.
 Sec.-Treas.—Thomas Davey, Detroit.

Plymouth was chosen as the place for holding the next reunion of the regiment.

At six o'clock a banquet was held at the Plymouth Hotel Restaurant, and a splendid menu was served by the proprietor, Arch W. Mathewson, which was thoroughly appreciated by all present.

There was no program, but the veterans enjoyed themselves immensely in renewing acquaintances and recounting their army experiences and living over again the scenes of those days of '61 to '65. Those present at the reunion were:

Chauncey Bunyea, Plymouth.
 Lucius Spurn, Detroit
 Thomas Davey, Detroit
 Joseph Stadler, Detroit
 James Davison, St. Johns
 Charles Pitcher, Plymouth
 Charles Nisbett, Pontiac
 John Wilkinson, Birmingham
 Ira B. Ormsbee, Flint
 David Scott, Flint
 William F. Nisbett, Big Rapids
 William C. Ely, Plymouth
 Franklin B. Abbott, Fowlerville
 Frank Wilson, Indianapolis, Ind.
 Frank Keeler, Saginaw

The regiment while in service took part in engagements at siege of Yorktown, Va., April 4 to May 4, 1862; Hanover Court House, Va., May 27, 1862; Mechanicsville, Va., June 26, 1862; Gaines' Mills, Va., June 27, 1862; White Oak Swamp, Va., June 30, 1862; Turkey Bend, Va., June 30, 1862; Malvern Hill, Va., July 1, 1862; Harrison's Landing, Va., July 2, 1862; Ely's Ford, Va., August 29, 1862; Bull Run 2nd, Va., August 30, 1862; Antietam, Md., Sept. 17, 1862; Shepherdstown Ford, Va., Sept. 19, 1862; Snicker's Gap, Va., Nov. 4, 1862; Fredericksburg, Va., Dec. 13, 1862; U. BLOOMER GIRLS' BASE BALL CLUB WILL PLAY HERE

C. E. Baker of the Western Bloomer Girls' Base Ball Club, has made arrangements for the first appearance of the Western Bloomer Girls' Base Ball Club in Plymouth, which will be on Wednesday, August 30th.

General Agent Baker states that in introducing this club of high-class lady players to the public in general, he wishes it to be understood that they do not travel with the intention of drawing crowds, just through the novelty of ladies playing ball, but really draw the people through their ability to play a wonderfully interesting, exciting and scientific game of ball, and when taken in consideration that the Western Bloomer Girls are composed of young ladies, the games they play are all the more remarkable. Kate Becker is the star lady pitcher of the world, and is supported by a team composed of the very best players that money can hire, who in themselves are each a star player, making the strongest organization of its kind ever organized. There have been other lady base ball clubs, but they have come and they have gone. Their life upon the green diamond was one of short duration. They came and tried to out-rival all other competitors, but like the present slang phrase, they had to "go way back and sit down," leaving the original Western Bloomer Girls to stand in all their greatness in the very front rank, where they will stand season after season as the only real champion ladies' base ball club of the world.

The game will be played at the High school athletic park. Plymouth will have a good team on the field.

A NEW BUSINESS FIRM

Ernest J. Allison and Raymond Bachelor of Detroit, have purchased the building and business of the Beyer Motor Sales Co., of Wm. Beyer, and have taken possession of the same. The Messrs. Allison and Bachelor come to Plymouth with the highest of recommendations. Mr. Allison has been in the employ of the Ford Motor Co. for the past eleven years, and has held the position of paymaster at the River Rouge plant. Mr. Bachelor has been connected with the time, cost and educational department of the Ford Motor Co., and has also had considerable experience in the sale of automobiles and accessories.

The new firm will take over the sales agency for the Chevrolet motor cars and trucks for which Mr. Beyer has had the sale. They will also maintain a first-class service and repair department. Both members of the new firm are young men whom it is a pleasure to meet, and the Mail welcomes them to the business circles of Plymouth.

During the years that Mr. Beyer has conducted the business, he has built up a large patronage, and has seen the business grow from a small beginning to one of a large volume, with a modern garage building. His many friends regret his retirement from the local business field, but wish him success and happiness in whatever work he may take up in the future.

Mrs. Murna Burnett was the guest of Mrs. Clara Tousey in Detroit, last Sunday.

James Kincaid has the thanks of the Mail office force for some delicious peaches.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Clibbe of Detroit, are visiting Mrs. Minnie Noyes at J. O. Eddy's residence.

Charles Rathburn and Frank Whitbeck made a business trip to Lansing Monday.

Mrs. E. McKnight, son, George, and daughter, Elizabeth, who have been visiting her sister, Mrs. Oliver Goldsmith at "Auburn" and other relatives in Michigan the past few weeks, expect to leave for their home in Chicago, tomorrow, Saturday.

BRIGGS SCHOOL REUNION

The annual reunion of the pupils and former teachers of the Briggs school, District No. 3, Livonia township, was held under the beautiful trees in the school yard, Saturday, August 12th. A large number were in attendance. A basket picnic dinner was the feature of the noon hour, after which a fine program was rendered. Among the speakers were Prof. George A. Smith, superintendent of the Plymouth schools and Supt. Edward Denniston of the Detroit House of Correction Prison Farm. Miss Lina Durfee read an interesting history of the school. Patterson's orchestra of Plymouth, furnished splendid music for the occasion. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Miss Lina Durfee.
 Sec.-Treas.—Mrs. John Melow.
 Historian—Miss Nellie Riddle.

Mr. and Mrs. Edge T. Cope and family, who have been living here for the past few years, moved to Strathmoor, near Detroit, Wednesday. They will reside on Lauder Boulevard.

TRY THIS ONCE

Did you ever go to a Plymouth merchant and ask him to give you a quotation on a $25 or a $50 order of merchandise? Try it once. It's a hundred to one that you will get concessions that will surprise you. But do it, understand, just as you would send your money to a mail order house. The chances are that your local merchant if oftentimes handicapped in purchasing power by the fact that he has all his money tied up in giving credit to the people that will come to his place, order a week's supply on credit and when the wages come in at the end of the month, send the bulk of it to the mail order house. When an order is sent to one of them it is always for a quantity of goods—not just one little purchase. So if you want to be fair, if you want to actually test the local merchant's prices, ask him for quotations on quantity purchases. You'll find that you can do better right here at home.

TWO VITAL NEEDS

There are two very important things that go toward making a good live town—one is persistent, thorough and attractive advertising, and the other is backing up the advertisement with performance. There is no use advertising if you haven't the goods, and there is no use having the goods if you don't advertise them. No town has ever benefited by the man who sits down and waits for more enterprising and public-spirited persons to bring trade to him, and neither is it by the man who fails to deliver the goods when called upon. Both help make a cow pasture of a town. When the business houses of a community know how to advertise and how to follow up the advertising by giving good service, the community is sure to grow, and that helps all the people, for a part of every dollar stays in town. A part of every dollar spent in a town goes to taxes, churches, charities, street and sidewalk improvement. Isn't that argument enough to convince you the dollar ought to stay here?

WHY NOT?

We have read of many recent conferences at the White House. President Harding has had railroad magnates in conference, with a view to getting better freight rates. He has had mine operators together to talk over coal prices and conditions, and there have also been conferences of leading manufacturers. Now, since he hasn't a real honest-to-goodness dirt farmer in his cabinet, why not call into conference a number of real farmers—not men who own farms and live in the city, but men who actually live on and cultivate farms? Such a conference would be worth something to every citizen of this nation, because in a large way every citizen is dependent upon our farmers. There are enough important matters needing adjustment to make such a conference worth while, and no one has any means of knowing just how much benefit might come out of it. We are not trying to tell the president his business. But we can't believe he would make a mistake if he called a conference of farmers and got their views on present conditions and their opinions as to how those conditions could be bettered.

OBITUARY

The deceased, Mrs. Johanna Wollgast, was born August 31, 1846, in the village of Lichtenheim, Province of Prussia, Germany, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schroeder, and was christened in the Lutheran faith of that country. In the year 1869, she came to this country, and two years later, May 12, 1871, was united in marriage with Herman Wollgast and lived with him on a farm in Livonia township, until 1903. From 1903, Mr. and Mrs. Wollgast lived in Plymouth, where Mr. Wollgast died, May 2, 1917. From this time until her end, Mother Wollgast lived with her son, Julius, here in her home. For several years she has been ailing, and when several months ago her illness became more severe, she said that she would not get well. Life's strength slowly ebbed away until the Lord came and took her home at 12:20, Friday morning, August 11th. She leaves to mourn their loss, five children, eleven grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Her age was 76 years, less 20 days.

The funeral services were held from her late home, Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, Rev. Charles Strasen officiating. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Jennie Showers, wife and mother, visited relatives here Sunday, Mrs. Jennie Showers remaining over for a longer visit.

Prayer meeting at Second Congregational church at Salem, Thursday, 7:30. Everyone cordially invited.

Rev. Wittich, who at the present time is visiting his uncle, the Rev. Ph. Wittich of New Bremen, Ohio, is steadily improving in health, and expects to return to Salem next week, after an absence of three months, due to his serious and prolonged illness in Detroit. Rev. Wittich expects to have the services in both Congregational churches, August 27th, when communion will be commemorated, and it is the pastor's wish to see the faithful members and friends present.

PERRINSVILLE

There was a good attendance at church last Sunday to hear Rev. Wise.

A very interesting church meeting was held at Newburg, where all three charges were represented. They all gave the best reports ever given. All are wishing Mr. Wise to be returned to these charges.

Miss Charlotte Baehr and friend, Trena Catherman of Farmington, spent Sunday at George Baehr's.

Recent callers at Mrs. L. M. Decker's were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bock and baby, Shirley May of Inkster; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee of Detroit; and wife of Raport.

Mrs. John Shotsky entertained a few girls friends of Miss Mary, to celebrate the latter's birthday, last Sunday.

Mrs. Adelaide Baehr attended the Aid society at the home of Mrs. Mabel Hanchett.

KING'S CORNERS

The picnic and home-coming on the Patchen school ground, Saturday, was well attended. The program was very interesting, and all were well pleased. It was decided that a like occasion be held another year, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Fred Geney; secretary, Miss Emma Spiet; treasurer, William Smith. A committee was appointed to look after the entertainment program as follows: Mrs. McNabb, Mrs. McLaren and James Norris, all of Detroit. Guests were present from Plymouth, Wayne, Ypsilanti, Detroit, St. John's, Caro, Wyandotte and Northville. They adjourned to meet next year in August, on the Saturday nearest to the fifteenth of the month.

Mrs. George Hix and son, George, Jr., accompanied by the former's mother, Mrs. C. Parrish, took George Hix, Sr., to the University hospital at Ann Arbor, where he underwent a serious operation, Monday. At last report he was doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Pettibone spent Monday evening at the home of Mrs. George Hix and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Parrish and two sons, Francis and Carl, and little daughter, Marian, were Sunday visitors at the parental home. George Hix, Jr., was also a visitor of his grandparents, Sunday.

Olive Hix has been on the sick list several days, but is some better at this writing.

There will be a picnic and home-coming this week Saturday on the Perrinsville school grounds. All school teachers who have ever taught there, and all who ever went to school there, are invited to come and bring their families and enjoy meeting old friends and schoolmates.

NEWBURG

The fourth quarterly conference held last Saturday afternoon at Newburg church and presided over by Dr. Leesan, district superintendent, brought a good delegation from Beech and Perrinsville. Favorable reports were given from all three charges. A request that Rev. Wise be returned was made. Dr. Leeson stated that he would spend the first Sunday in September preaching at the three places.

Our L. A. S. held a pleasant and profitable meeting at their hall, last Friday afternoon. Two comforters were made. It was decided to have their annual home-coming and bazaar some time in October.

Several from here attended the Farm Bureau and Grange picnic, last Wednesday, at Carpenter's Grove, near Wayne. It's unusual to see such a fine Paw Paw grove as they have there.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown of St. Johns, is visiting at the home of her brother, William Smith, and also attended the home-coming at Patchen school, last Saturday.

Mrs. Jesse Jewell spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Barlow of Howell, last week. Mr. and Mrs. Barlow have a twelve-pound daughter, Betty Anne, born August 7th. Their friends extend congratulations.

Miss Harriet Casterline of Flint, is a guest of Beulah Ryder.

Mrs. C. Mackinder spent two days last week with her daughter, Mrs. James Norris. Her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Graw is spending the week with her.

Raymond Grimm, who is under the doctor's care, is slightly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bassett have moved their household goods from Jackson to Wayne. Mrs. Bassett is visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Clara Grimm is having a week's outing in Detroit, visiting her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. James McNabb and daughter, Joy, of Detroit, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Joy.

Newburg road has always been a difficult road to keep in repair. The way they are fixing it now with crushed stone on the hills, looks as if it might be all right.

Newburg school begins to present a fine appearance.

The W. C. T. U. will hold their tea meeting next week Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. Clemens, just off the Plymouth road. Pot-luck lunch will be served on the lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Raider attended the Nacker family reunion at Southfield, Sunday. They report a large crowd and a fine time.

The many friends of Henry Thompson, father of John Thompson, and a former resident of this place, will be sorry to learn of his sudden passing away at his home in Plymouth, Wednesday morning at one o'clock. He was a member of the Newburg G. A. R. Post, as long as there was a Post here.

FRAIN'S LAKE

Mrs. O. K. Wales and daughter, Gertrude, spent a couple of days last week with their cousin in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Nellie Bush and aunt, Mrs. Rena Clements of Detroit, were callers at Ed. Lyke's, Wednesday.

Albert Staebler and family were callers at John Selder's of Plymouth, Sunday.

Word comes from Salem of a new arrival at the home of Harvey Proctor formerly of this place, a little girl. Harvey says if he counts right this makes eleven.

Lloyd Lyke, wife and father motored to Detroit and Wyandotte, Sunday.

Fred Fishbeck and family spent Sunday with Ernest Fishbeck in Detroit.

William Lyke and wife and George Lyke, wife and daughter spent the week-end with friends in Lansing. Marilyn and Donald Lyke of Salem, were caretakers during their stay.

William Grammel and wife attended a family reunion, Tuesday.

Ed. Lyke, wife and daughter, Evelyn, spent the week-end with Mr. C. Augustus and family at their cottage on Base Lake.

Little Everett Whipple, who broke his arm, is getting along fine.

John Harwood of Pittfield, was a guest of his son, Monday.

Ed. Lyke and wife spent Friday in Detroit, and attended the theatre.

Please keep in mind the Frain's Lake school reunion, next Wednesday, August 23rd, on the school grounds.

The annual Lyke reunion will be held Saturday at the home of Dewey Lyke, near Plymouth.

Mrs. William Ruthuff of Detroit, was a guest of her niece, Minnie Judson, last Friday.

Everett Whipple and family attended a home-coming at New Boston, Thursday.

W. C. T. U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold a picnic, Thursday, August 24th, at the home of Mrs. L. Clemens of Newburg. Members desiring to attend should be at the D. U. R. waiting room at 1:30 p. m., and a truck will be there at that time to convey them to the picnic. Those preferring to go by electric can take the one o'clock car and conveyances will meet them at Newburg. A pot-luck lunch will be served, and in addition to her contribution of food, each member should bring plate, cup, fork and spoon, as this will be a help to the hostess.

Mrs. E. G. Vesley asks that members not receiving the Michigan Union, will notify her, and she will give the matter personal attention.

The Finest Model "45" Buick Ever Built

A New Principle

The new Buick six cylinder models are perhaps the easiest-riding cars of the day due to a distinctive development in cantilever spring construction.

The 1923 Buick "45" has taken the country by storm. Always a favorite, this model reaches the highest pinnacle of value ever attained.

It is a beautiful car—it is luxurious—it is a mechanical masterpiece. Stand off and note the snappy lines, the higher hood, the full crown fenders, sturdy artillery wheels, drum-type head and cowl lamps, the low khaki-lined top. Then sit in the car. Here is comfort equaled only in the costliest automobiles.

Look about you—the upholstery and trimming are of the finest quality, the instrument board is equipped with richly finished instruments, the control lever is at finger's end, the cowl ventilator control and windshield wiper are within easy reach.

And the chassis shows far-reaching improvements. Lock the handy transmission control and know that this feature, with others, gives Buick a low rating by insurance underwriters. Even the famous Buick Valve-in-Head motor shows important changes—higher cylinder block, larger connecting rods and pistons, larger crank shaft, with pressure feed to main bearings. These are just a few of the sweeping improvements in the new Buick "45".

The Overland Touring car is that ideal combination of rugged reliability, continuous economy and buoyant riding comfort the public has long sought in low-cost motoring.

Everywhere the fame of Overland increases. It is the most successful light car ever produced. It is a light car that remains the most economical car on the road in all sorts of owner service. Its upkeep is so small an item because it has been built so sturdily from steels that resist wear. Overland owners average 25 miles and more to the gallon of gas. Your Overland comes completely equipped.

CHEVROLET UTILITY COUPE

$680

F. O. B. Flint, Mich.

Notwithstanding the large use of Coupes by salesmen, business men, physicians, etc., models heretofore on the market have been compromises between business and social vehicles.

Chevrolet Utility Coupe was designed especially for business and professional use.

Its distinguishing features are:

Single seat, accommodating the driver and one other.

Extra large rear compartment with more than 14 cu. ft. capacity.

Extra wide doors with large adjustable windows, ventilating windshields, and large fixed rear window.

Here is a car that gives the business or professional man all the room he wants for himself and extra large room for merchandise, trunk, instruments, advertising material, samples, etc.

It affords full weather protection at all seasons, clear vision in all directions, comfortable upholstery, and above all efficient, reliable and economical operation.

It will take him anywhere any car can go in clean comfort, and its evident quality makes it good company for a good man, and a credit to the house he represents.

AROUND ABOUT US

Nine commanderies of the Knights Templar will hold their annual field day celebration in Ypsilanti, October 3rd.

Harry C. Robinson of this village, will officiate as starting judge for the races at the Northville fair again this year.

Vernon Spencer of Wixom, has gone to Los Angeles, California, to play ball with the Los Angeles club of the coast league.

Several citizens of Stockbridge stood all the expense of a three-day Chautauqua in that village. Everybody was admitted free.

Miss Jessie Roe of the Northville telephone exchange, has resigned her position, after having completed twenty years of faithful service.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Yerkes and son, Edmund, spent last week at Edison Beach, near Port Huron, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael of Detroit, formerly residents of Plymouth. —Northville Record.

Mrs. Elmore Whipple, who returned from Harper hospital at Detroit, last Wednesday, is at present with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lisenberger, where she is rapidly recovering from her recent operation for appendicitis. —Northville Record.

A number of Northville business men motored over to the prison farm, Tuesday night to witness a ball game between the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce team and a team composed of officers of the institution. Plymouth won easily. Northville business men think they can defeat the winner. —Northville Record.

Florence S. Babbitt has in her possession a copy of the Ypsilanti Sentinel, published by Charles Woodruff, July 30, 1845. There are several interesting articles in the issue for Ypsilanti 77 years ago, one of which advocated the turning over of the Michigan Central railway, then owned by the state, to a corporation. Another article told of the proposed dredging of the Huron river to the Detroit river for navigation purposes. The paper was well edited and carried a fair line of advertising. —Ypsilanti Record.

A lively entertainment was held in Superior township on the farm of Floyd Markham, Monday afternoon, when a threshing crew attempted to thresh the oats from a field adjoining his apiary. There was no jazz music or anything like that, only the cheerful hum and buzz of honey bees. The way the boys danced around it was difficult for an observer to tell whether it was a fox trot or a one-step. After it was all over, it was found that a team of horses belonging to Charles Meyer were so badly stung that a veterinary had to be summoned, and several of the men had the appearance of having had a bout with Jack Dempsey. In order to secure the remainder of the oat crop, a tractor was hitched to the wagons and the men who worked in the field had to wear masks, such as are worn by a person when hiving bees. —Ypsilanti Record.

South Lyon's home-coming days, Wednesday and Thursday, August 23 and 24, are drawing near, and everything is being put in readiness for a grand and glorious celebration in that village. The first day has been set aside as a real "home-coming" day, when the village and community folk may renew old friendships and acquaintances with those who have settled elsewhere, but who are planning to return to the old home town, August 23 and 24. Through the courtesy of L. W. Lovewell, a large ox will be provided, and a barbecue will be held at noon of the first day, in the school house park. The menu for the free lunch consists of roast-ox sandwich a la barbecue, coffee, sugar and cream. The Northville band has been engaged for the home-coming celebration, snappy speeches by the "Old Timers," and a ball game arranged by the committee. There will also be dancing, a free picture show and another ball game during the second day. The second day will be devoted to sports of various kinds, ball game, free movies, dancing, etc. The town base ball team is expecting to play the Holly and Howell ball teams, during the two-day celebration.

Several citizens of Stockbridge stood all the expense of a three-day Chautauqua in that village. Everybody was admitted free.

Today's Reflections

Our idea of hard luck is a fat man at a dance on a hot night.

When a Plymouth girl thinks that she has a broken heart, it is a sign that it can stand a lot more smashing.

One way to make a living is to find a job of real work and make connections with a good pay-roll through the job.

A Spanish-American war hero has just been awarded a service medal which proves that our World War heroes may get their bonus if they live long enough.

We've some fairly old citizens in Plymouth, but we doubt if any of them ever saw a one-man auto top that one man could operate.

Don't refuse to marry a girl because she can't cook—she may have money enough to pay your board.

You never know how foolish some men can act until they suddenly break into the father class.

This may be an awful country, but lots of Plymouth people read these articles on how to live long.

One reason why America doesn't think much about war is because it can always work off its surplus steam by monkeying with the tariff.

If we ever go back to the farm, we should bend our efforts to produce a cantaloupe that doesn't taste so much like a pumpkin.

Our idea of the wisest woman in Plymouth is the one who won't admit a woman boarder to the house.

Maybe if we don't treat the European countries kindly, they won't invite us to their next war.

We can't call the name of a single American who remained at home and attended to his own business being killed in Mexico.

If they keep right on improving long-distance guns, it may be possible to stay right here in Plymouth and help fight the next war.

The man who says talk is cheap doesn't know what it costs to print by Congressional Record.

Plymouth girls are long on etiquette; but none of them has yet learned how to scratch a mosquito bite gracefully in public.

What most young Americans seem to want is a job that will enable them to loaf eight or ten hours a day instead of six.

OBITUARY

The funeral services of William Travis, Jr., were held at the farm home on Canton Center road, Monday afternoon, August 7th. Rev. H. E. Sayles, pastor of Plymouth Baptist church, officiated. Mr. Travis was born April 17th, 1874 at Port Lampton, Ontario, and departed this life, August 4th. William Travis, Jr., was a dutiful son and successful farmer, and will be greatly missed in his home. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, which represented the esteem in which he was held. He is survived by his father, four brothers and two sisters: Julia and Harvey, who reside in Long Beach, California, and who were unable to attend the funeral; Sylvester and George of Canton; Mrs. Ella Travis Roe of Detroit; and Mrs. J. H. Lamer and of Dearborn. The out of town friends, who attended the funeral were: Mrs. Oliver Steffes of Detroit; Mrs. George Bradley of Port Lampton, Ontario.

TAKE TO 'KIDDIES'

Writer Corrects Misapprehension Concerning Bachelors.

Really They Have a Better Understanding of the Childish Heart Than Have Many Parents.

I have long been convinced that the people who have no children are secretly maligned and treated with injustice by those who have, and it is for the purpose of defending them and setting them right that these lines are written. Thomas L. Masson writes in the New York Sun. There is a kind of confraternity of those who have children arrayed against those who haven't.

The thing has gone far enough. In the interests of good fellowship and all-around sport, it certainly ought to be stopped.

I frankly plead guilty myself to this sort of thing. I can recall the many occasions in which I have remarked to somebody else who had children, speaking of some one who had them not:

"You see, he doesn't understand. He has no children of his own. Great pity, isn't it?"

Yes, I have said this so often myself, and I have heard it said so often that it is now high time to record my sense of contrition. For it isn't true. The truth is that those who have no children quite generally understand them much better than those who do. They have a kind of sense about children, very much like a sixth sense, and which appears to have been given to them to take the place of the children themselves.

I could give many instances that occur to me to corroborate this view. I know two or three old bachelors who have devoted their lives to the bringing up of boys, and the astonishing insight into boys that they have, certainly could not be exceeded, if paralleled, by any parent. As for maiden ladies, their perceptions about children are uncanny.

I have seen boys considered thoroughly bad and denounced and trowned by their parents, and made to feel quite worthless and unredeemable crawl under the wings of some spinster lady, and he immediately revived and mentally and morally set upon their feet, merely by the fact that the spinster lady was able to look into their hearts and to have such faith in them as to accomplish this miracle.

For this is the real miracle after all—that one may touch a human being, perhaps only by the pressure of the hand or an understanding smile and a listening ear, and immediately restore him to moral health.

I am free to confess that there are so many things about those who have no children that indicate their superiority to those who have that I find it difficult to know where to begin. They may be lost in every other way. Owing to their freedom from responsibilities of this sort, and joyousness the heart of the crusty, in their ways and cracks, and all that sort of thing, it is nothing less than marvelous the way they will let children upset them.

I have seen an elderly gentleman who had lived in bachelor apartments all his life, and who, if his newspaper was ten minutes late, or was folded the wrong way, would fall into a profound rage. I have seen this gentleman submit to any indignity imposed upon him by a small band of children at a week-end—and cry for more.

Thus, you see, there are two sorts of miracles; there is the miracle of the childless person understanding and seeing into the child's heart when the parent is blind, and there is the miracle of the child bringing back to responsiveness and joyousness the heart of the crusty, childless person, who has become immersed in the machinery of his own selfishness.

Then, again, have you noticed that childless persons love all kinds of children. Their impartiality is as wide as the world. A nice little girl with flaxen hair blowing back of her as she runs in the wind, and who sits on one's knee in the twilight and asks for a fairy story—such a divine creature as this will appeal to any childless person, no matter who she is or where she comes from.

But the average parent sniffs at any other little girl like that who doesn't belong to him. The prejudice and intolerance of parents have never been measured!

MASS OF CAMELS.

The mass of Felsal's army filled the valley from side to side. There were hundreds of brushwood fires burning, with Arabs round them making coffee, or eating, or sleeping like dead men muffled in their cloaks, as closely as they could in the confusion of camels. I had never imagined so many camels together, and the mess was indescribable, as they were couched or tied up here and there all over the camping ground, and more were always coming in, and the old ones leaping up on three legs to join them, roaring with hunger and agitation. Patrols were going out, and caravans being unloaded, and some dozen of Egyptian mules were bucking angrily all over the middle of the scene.—World's Work.

RECONSIDERED.

Philippi—You know, I fell in love with Jack Higgins at first sight.

Ferdita—When is your engagement to be announced?

Philippi—Never. I took a second look.

HOT WEATHER DISEASES.

Disorders of the bowels are extremely dangerous, particularly during the hot weather of the summer months, and in order to protect yourself and family against a sudden attack, get a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. It can be depended upon. Many have testified to its excellence.—Advertisement.

IF YOU KNOW AN ITEM OF NEWS, phone or send it to the Mail office.

CAUSE OF APPENDICITIS.

When the bowels are constipated, the lower bowels or large intestines become packed with refuse matter, that is made up largely of germs. These germs enter the vermiform appendix and set up inflammation, which is commonly known as appendicitis. Take Chamberlain's Tablets when needed and keep your bowels regular and you have little to fear from appendicitis.—Advertisement.

PROUD OF LONG ANCESTRY

English Families That Can Trace Their Descent Directly for More Than Ten Centuries.

The Asshetons, in direct descent, have held land at Downham, Lancashire, during the reigns of 17 sovereigns of England. The present lord of the manor of Downham, compared with whom many dukes, earls and marquises are mere parvenus as far as pedigree is concerned, is Ralph Cockayne Assheton, who has been high sheriff of Lancashire and is a deputy lieutenant and an alderman for the county of Lancaster.

But the long record of this family is equaled by others in a humbler sphere of life.

William Purkis, the groundsman at University of College school, is a direct descendant of Purkis, the charcoal burner who picked up William Rufus' body in the New forest and took it in his cart to Winchester. Other descendants of Purkis still inhabit the New forest district, and until two generations ago one of them owned a small plot which had come down to him in the male line from Norman days. The groundsman Purkis claims that up to recent times his family had in its keeping a genuine spoke of the wheel of the cart which took the king's body to Winchester!

"It was kept in a glass case," he told an interviewer, "until one night when my grandfather in a fit of temper threw the spoke in the fire. The burning of the spoke caused a great stir and next Sunday the parson preached a sermon on it."

Not long ago there died at Gattonside in Roxburghshire, a farmer named Thomas Boston, whose ancestor settled there in the time of Robert Bruce. He went to Bannockburn as a harpist in the train of Edward II to celebrate in song the victory which the English king anticipated; instead, he fell into the hands of Bruce, who spared his life on condition that he compose a ballad in Scotland's honor. Boston fulfilled the condition so satisfactorily that he got in return the grant of Gattonside.

An inn at Lamberhurst, in Kent, has been held by the same family for over four centuries, and a blacksmith at Muckleston, Shropshire, claims that his forge has been in the family at least 500 years and that one of his ancestors shod Margaret of Anjou's horse in 1450.

HIS EXCUSE.

Service on a jury is a task that is shunned more generally than any other public service. Practically every excuse imaginable is presented by talesmen as a valid reason for relief of this onerous labor. But to stay awake until almost midnight before reaching a verdict and then to leave for home, only to find that during the jury deliberation your car had acquired a "master" for some violation of the city parking laws, would be too much for the average man's endurance. This predicament faced a juror in one of the Marion county courts the other night when he started for home after hours of jury sessions.

The jury reached a verdict late at night and the verdict was sealed. It was to be opened by the judge at nine o'clock the next day. Nine o'clock came but only 11 jurors were present and the reading of the verdict was delayed. It was later than 9:30 when the twelfth man came into the courtroom and related his story. He had spent the early part of the day explaining things at the City Court building, he informed the judge.—Indianapolis News.

ILLEGAL FISHERMEN'S SPY SYSTEM.

The Columbia river is as much a river of mystery, of adventure and of romance, even though the romance be unrecognized by the stern eye of the law, as it ever was, according to a dispatch from Astoria, Ore.

Deputy John Larson of the state fish warden's force, state department of fisheries, vouches for the mystery at all events. Larson patrols the river from Astoria to Multnomah Falls, 25 miles above Portland, in the patrol boat Governor Olcott. He believes illicit fishing is going on, but admits the fishermen have a clever system of evading detection.

Flashing signal lights from river bluffs warn of the approach of suspicious craft, even as the signal fire of pioneer days advertised for the suspicious Indian the approach of the white man's birch. According to Larson, the signal may be a blazing bunch of newspapers, or a spotlight, but when he gets there the quarry has departed for safer waters.

A GRACEFUL SURRENDER.

"You don't stand a chance," said the prominent citizen's campaign manager. "The best thing for you to do is to withdraw and escape being snowed under at the election."

"But confound the lack, how am I going to get out of the race without acknowledging that I can't win?"

"Easily enough. Just announce that however much you may desire to serve your country in a position of honor and trust, you are first of all a husband and father, and the claims of your family are such that you cannot afford to sacrifice a lucrative law practice to engage in the turmoil of a political contest."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Flowers Improve Citizens, Homes, Says G. W. Dickinson

This Department At State Fair to Be Enticing, Secretary's Promise.

That anyone who loves flowers looks upon this world in a different light and easily sees the finer side of life, is the philosophy of George W. Dickinson, secretary and manager of the Michigan State Fair.

Mr. Dickinson plans to make the fruits, plants and flowers department of the state fair at Detroit, September 1 to 10, so attractive none will be able to resist every minute detail of the exhibition.

H. S. Newton, of Hart, a member of the board of managers, will be in charge of the fruits division of this department. Arthur Peterson, of Escanaba, also a member of the board, will head the flowers and plants division.

"Flowers and plants go a long way toward making life worth while," says Mr. Dickinson. "Hardly anyone doesn't appreciate flowers. Those who do, view this world from a different angle. The finer side of life can be seen through a flower. A man who loves flowers, cannot help but become a good citizen, and flowers always have a mighty influence on a father or mother and in or outside a home."

The fair manager deprecates the fact all schoolhouses throughout the nation do not have flowers about them. He hopes for the day when more attention will be given in the schools to the cultivation of plants and flowers.

Oceana county is noted for the fruits it has sent to the Michigan State Fair and some fine exhibitions are anticipated from this section this year. Oakland county, too, has provided many fruit exhibitions which have been prize winners.

Mr. Dickinson believes there has been a gradual improvement in fruit produced in Michigan and says the farmers in this state are beginning to realize that, with a little of the right kind of attention, they can grow as fine fruit as can be found anywhere.

C. L. Brody, of Lansing, manager of the Michigan State Fair bureau, will head the farm products department at the State Fair this year.

"It is the purpose of this department," Mr. Dickinson explains, "to demonstrate what is grown in each county. To get the best, we make the exhibitions competitive. Every exhibition will be judged three times, once at the start of the fair, once during the fair and once at the finish. The manner in which an exhibition is maintained during the 10 fair days is of great importance."

Note these New Prices on U.S. Tires

ON July 29, 1922, the lowest prices ever quoted on U.S. Passenger Car Tires went into effect—Royal Cords included. These new prices should give confidence to dealers and consumers that no lower basis of quality tire prices will prevail.

Bear in mind that these prices apply to the most complete line of quality tires in the world. Remember, too—as you read the following table—that U. S. quality has been positively maintained.

| SIZES | Royal Cord | Nobby Chain | FABRIC | Uses | Plain |

Snake IS FIGHTER

South American Reptile Attacks Man on Sight.

Bushmaster Probably the Most Feared and Worst-Tempered of the Earth's Crawling Creatures.

The worst-tempered snake in the world is the so-called bushmaster of South America, writes T. C. Bridges in the London Daily Mail. There are three sorts of bushmasters, of which the largest, called by the Indians the "surucucu," is a yellow monster ranging, when full grown, from nine to thirteen feet in length.

This creature, which is extremely plentiful in the damp forest, attacks on sight. Without the slightest warning it comes hurtling out of a thicket and drives straight at the intruder. And its bite, to a white man, means a speedy and horrible death. The Indians, however, have some herbal remedy which protects them against the effect of this poison.

Last year a man sent on a message from one ranch to another did not arrive. Search was made and his body was discovered with a great "surucucu" wrapped round it. The brute was killed, and then it was found that the unfortunate messenger's body was one mass of bites. There were literally scores of punctures from the poison-denting fangs.

The "surucucu" has another peculiarity which, so far as is known, is shared by no other serpent only. This is that it is capable of making a sound, quite apart from hissing. It is described as a low whistling—a sort of "phew-phew." If one of these creatures is hidden in a hollow tree—a favorite resort—its presence can be detected by the sound it makes.

The smaller bushmaster is known by the Indians as the "apagafoeo." The name means "lover of fire."

Fire, instead of scaring this snake, attracts it, and by campers in wet forest the cooling fire is always kept burning before sleeping. Others tell the man who goes to collect it in the morning will probably find one of these deadly creatures coiled by the warm embers, and possibly pay for the experience with his life.

In the swamps of Brazil and in every forest pool anacondas abound. Of these, too, there are three sorts.

The largest is the "dermidora," the greatest and most terrible of pythons. It is black in color, and its native name means "the snorer." This is the other snake which makes an audible sound, apart from hissing, a sound comparable with the loud snoring of a sleeping man.

One of these snakes has been killed exceeding 60 feet in length, but trails seen in the swamps seem to indicate the existence of still more monstrous specimens.

Even the smaller anacondas will attack man, and it is highly unsafe to approach a forest pool to drink without first taking due precautions. The anacondas lie in the water, with heads just above the surface, silently awaiting prey.

The Indians of inner Brazil all speak of another snake which, so far, has not been identified by the naturalist. They call it the "babananda" and describe it as a sort of ten-foot, 20-foot long, but of enormous thickness.

Bert Extinguisher.

Mr. Budger and his wife were conditionally at variance regarding their individual capabilities of making and keeping a good fire. He contended that she did not know how to make a fire, or how to keep one after it was made. She, on the other hand, maintained that he never meddled with the fire that he didn't put it out—in short, that he was a regular fire dumper; and, as he was always anxious to stir up things in the various fireplaces, she made it a practice of hiding the poker just before it was time for him to come into the house. One night there was an alarm of fire in the village and Budger flew for his hat and coat.

"Where are you going?" asked the wife. "Why, there's a fire, and I'm going to help put it out." "Well, my love," responded Mrs. Budger, "I think the best thing you can do is to take the poker with you." —Everybody's Magazine.

Our Pear-Shaped Globe.

While Dowle insisted that the earth was flat, and his successor, Voliva, sticks to the same opinion, serious scientists now begin to hark back to the theory which Columbus formulated on his third voyage, that the earth is shaped somewhat like a pear.

The eminent geologist Solinas affirms that if the earth is tending to become round, it has not yet become so. It even appears that what is today the moon belonged originally to the stem end of the terrestrial pear, which in the course of violent rotation threw off the moon.

This, says the Petit Parisien, is a theory. It is perhaps as good as any other, but anyway it is well not to get tired over it. Men were just as well off when they believed that the earth was flat and did not suspect the existence of antipodes.

A Neater Crimman Gulch.

"What did you do with the bunch of ruffians who came over from Bearcatopolis and said they were going to clean up the town?" "They had it their own way," answered Cactus Joe. "We gave 'em brooms and scrapers, and organized a posse to see that they made good." —Washington Star.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Next Sunday in addition to the morning service, there will be a special community service in the evening at 7:30, when the Rev. Arthur T. Reasoner, of New York City, will be with us and will give a special address. Rev. Reasoner is a very fine preacher and we invite the people of Plymouth to join us in our service. Joseph Tracy will sing the solo. Everybody welcome.

Last Saturday afternoon, some of the troop No. 46 of the Boy Scouts of Detroit, came out to Plymouth again to camp out here for the weekend. There were not so many as expected on account of some of the troop having left for their three weeks' annual camp at Camp Brady, but those who came thoroughly enjoyed the camp out. We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell with us, who brought their tent and camped out with the boys, their son being one of them. Mr. Blackwell is treasurer of the Vestry of the Church of our Savior, in Detroit, and takes a keen interest in the Boy Scout movement in Detroit, and Mrs. Blackwell is an active member of the Ladies' Guild of that church. Sunday morning the boys were given the option of attending church, those who were Catholic attended the Catholic church and those who were Episcopalians of course attended the St. John's. During the singing of the National Anthem, one of the Scouts presented the flag at the Chancel steps.

We regret to receive a message from Philadelphia last week of the serious illness of the Rev. H. Bartow, late Archdeacon of Detroit. Mr. Bartow has been failing in health since he left Detroit to take charge of the very large and important parish of Christ Church, Philadelphia, and is now confined to his bed. The Rev. Bartow came to Plymouth several times and took quite a deep interest in the progress of Plymouth. It was he who suggested and proposed certain alterations in the work of the present mission under Mr. Gibson's charge, and he also selected the present vestry for the approval of the congregation. We trust that Rev. Bartow may quickly recover from his illness, and so carry on the fine work he has been doing in Philadelphia.

Everybody had a very fine time at the picnic last week given by Dr. and Mrs. Jennings, at their farm. All the games and amusements were heartily joined in by all, especially the base ball game, in which the boys won again, and what about the game of "The Fish." Our good host and hostess certainly made everybody feel "at home."

Same Old Story but a Good One. Mrs. Mahala Burns, Savanna, Mo., relates an experience, the like of which has happened in almost every neighborhood in this country, and has been told and related by thousands of others, as follows: "I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy about nine years ago, and it cured me of flux (dysentery). I had another attack of the same complaint three or four years ago, and a few doses of this remedy cured me. I have recommended it to dozens of people since I first used it and shall continue to do so, for I know it is a quick and positive cure for bowel troubles."—Advertisement.

OBITUARY

Henry H. Thompson was born in Superior township, Michigan, September 28, 1843. He spent his boyhood days there, until he enlisted in Company D, 7th Michigan infantry, August 22, 1861. He was honorably discharged, August 22, 1864; re-enlisted January 7, 1864, before his time expired, and again honorably discharged July 5, 1865. He was united in marriage to Mary Ann Armstrong of Milan, March 10, 1872. To this union, one son, John, was born, who resides on the homestead. Mr. Thompson had been in ill health for several months, but was able to be up and about until Saturday, when he suffered a stroke of paralysis and became unconscious and remained so until the end came peacefully, Tuesday night, August 15th, 1922, at the age of 78 years, 10 months and 18 days. He was a member of Eddy Post, 231, G. A. R., and Newburg Patriotic society. He will be greatly missed by both organizations. He leaves a widow, one son, John, two grandchildren; two brothers, Charles of Milan, and James of Hannibal, Mo., besides a host of other friends to mourn the loss of a loving husband, father, brother, friend and neighbor. The funeral will be held at Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Friday (today) at two o'clock. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

AMENDT MILLING CO. TO BUILD NEW MILL

Starting from a very modest beginning in 1895, until today they lead in their industry in the State of Michigan, is a record, which the shareholders of the Amendt Milling Co., makers of Lotus Flour, can be proud of and justly so.

Propounding the question to many: "Why do you prefer Lotus Flour?" Mr. H. W. Cassell, personal representative of Mr. George Amendt, president of the company, states the answer invariably is: "Because it gives the best results," some women folk just say, "because," and to the philosophic mind when a woman says, "because," that's reason enough.

In twenty-seven years of activity, the Amendt Milling Company has grown from that of the smallest flour mill to that of the mightiest in the state of Michigan, and their success has been largely due to that old saying, "A satisfied customer is the best advertisement." To this, add the fact that they enjoy the highest financial standing possible, and it immediately becomes apparent why, from an investing standpoint, the stock of this company is exceedingly attractive.

"Nothing succeeds like success!" With the Amendt Milling Company, the question is not, "Can we become a success," but instead, "How much of a greater success can we become than what we already are?" Their dividend record is one worthy of mention, the preferred stock has never missed a dividend since the company's inception, and they have been in business for twenty-seven years, while the earnings on the common stock have been vastly more—every thousand dollars invested as recently as 1908 has brought to the shareholders in cash or its equivalent three and a half times the original investment—three thousand, five hundred dollars. They are now planning further expansion, a step that spells success to those foresighted enough to grasp the opportunity. In addition to their mills, elevators and warehouses, located at Monroe, Norvell, Coldwater, Trenton, Petersburg and other points, they are planning the erection of a mill to be devoted exclusively to the manufacture of a stock feed that, quoting the words of many who have tested it out, will revolutionize stock feeding.

For the first time in years the old shareholders have been given the opportunity to increase their common stock, and this is the result of a recent letter of the president, Mr. G. Amendt: "It is the first time in fourteen years, and I am led to believe, will be the last time, that common stock will ever be obtainable from the company."

There is now offered for public subscription the unsold balance of the treasury stock that was set aside for the purpose described. Important to bear in mind is the fact that the shares share alike in the entire profits of the company. The offer is open to all on the unit basis, a unit consisting of three shares of preferred and two of common. In addition to being tax exempt, there are no mortgages or bonded debt on the properties, making the preferred stock a first lien.

The offer of the Amendt Milling Company is one that will stand the most rigid test, and therefore will appeal to the large or small investor alike.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received by the directors of the Patchen school, District No. 3, Nankin, until noon, August 25th, 1922, for furnishing all labor and materials, and for the performance of all work required for the construction and completion of a school house for the Patchen school, District No. 3, Nankin township, Wayne county, in accordance with the plans and as described in specification prepared by Raseman & Freier, architects, Detroit.

Copies of "Notice to Bidders," "Forms of Proposal," "Form of Contract," "General Conditions," Specifications and drawings may be obtained at the office of Raseman & Freier, 1301 Penobscot Bldg., Detroit, Mich., or Lloyd Lockhart, R. F. D. No. 2, Plymouth, Michigan, upon making a deposit of $25.00, which sum will be refunded upon return of plans and specifications in good condition, within ten days after the letting of contract or rejecting of tender.

Bidders must deposit with their proposals certified checks in the amount of $250.00, payable to the order of the school district, number Three, Nankin township. Said check shall be returned to the bidder unless, should the contract be awarded to him, he fails to execute the same within six days (not including Sundays) from the date said contract is presented to him for signature.

Bonds covering the faithful performance of the contract and the prompt payment in full of all just debts for labor and material incurred in connection with the work will be required upon execution of the contract. Said bonds shall be executed by Surety Companies satisfactory and acceptable to the School Board and of form to be approved by the School Board, each in an amount equal to 50 per cent of the contract. The cost of said bonds shall be paid for by the contractor.

The School Board, District No. 3, Nankin township, Wayne county, Michigan, reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Signed,
FRED G. GENEY,
Director District No. 3,
Nankin, Wayne County,

Mills, warehouses and elevators of the company are located at Monroe, Coldwater, Norvell, Petersburg, Ida, Trenton and Ypsilanti, Michigan.

The Amendt Milling Company is twenty-seven years old, started doing business in Monroe in 1895, and has steadily grown until it is now the largest milling corporation in Michigan.

THE EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY HAVE BEEN CONTINUOUS, NEVER HAVING MISSED A DIVIDEND ON ITS PREFERRED STOCK SINCE THE COMPANY'S INCEPTION, AND THE COMMON STOCK FOR THE PAST FOURTEEN YEARS HAS AVERAGED APPROXIMATELY TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT IN CASH AND STOCK DIVIDENDS.

The same efficient management, which has been responsible for the success of this business for the past twenty-five years will continue to direct it.

The completion of present financing will furnish sufficient capital to purchase or erect another plant to be devoted to the manufacture of stock feed for animals that should revolutionize stock feeding of the country.
