BIG POULTRY SHOW HERE NEXT WEEK

The stage is all set for the biggest poultry show ever held in Plymouth, next week, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 10-13. The members of the Plymouth Poultry association are leaving nothing undone to make the show a success in every particular. It is expected that every bit of available space in the Penniman hall, where the show will be held, will be needed to accommodate the exhibits.

The chicken fanciers in our neighboring towns will have exhibits on the floor, and there is sure to be keen competition for the 16 silver trophy cups, which the association are offering as prizes, aside from the regular cash prizes and special premiums. The grand premium of the show is offered by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, and is a beautiful silver trophy cup suitably engraved.

William A. Wise of Lansing, will judge the birds. The show room will be open each day of the show, from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. The admission has been placed at 25c for adults and 15c for children.

County Agent Carr will be present on Friday, January 12th, and give a flock culling demonstration, that will be of particular interest and benefit to all poultry raisers. Everybody in Plymouth and vicinity should visit the show and encourage the officers and members of the local association in their efforts to promote a greater interest in the breeding of better poultry.

LECTURE COURSE NUMBER TONIGHT

The next number on the Citizens' Entertainment Course takes place this Friday evening, January 5th, at the Penniman Allen theatre. The Southern Musical Company will furnish the entertainment. This splendid company will present a program of instrumental and vocal music, readings and costume sketches, featuring Edward Stallings, violinist.

Each member of the company is a thoroughly experienced artist. Every part of the program is of a high order and the program numbers are widely selected and admirably presented.

For the special numbers, sketches, etc., there are beautiful costumes, some in Colonial costumes, some in Spanish costumes and others. Every detail of the program is worked out with professional finish.

For the past four years the Southern Musical Company has been a leading Lyceum and Chautauqua attraction.

Single admission tickets are 50c. Don't miss this big number.

PERKINS-BROWN

David Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Perkins, of this place, and Mrs. Jennie Brown, also of Plymouth, were quietly united in marriage in Detroit, Saturday, December 23rd. Mr. Perkins is in the employ of the Ford Motor Company, and at present they are residing on South Main street, but Mr. Perkins has purchased the residence of his sister, Mrs. Jennie Stay-Smith on Hamilton street, and they expect to move there soon. Plymouth friends extend best wishes.

PLYMOUTH-YPSI DEBATE

The debating team of Plymouth High school will appear in the second debate of this year's series, next week Thursday night, January 11th, in the auditorium of the high school. Their opponents will be the debating team of the Normal High school of Ypsilanti.

It will be remembered that Plymouth defeated Howell in the first debate, held at Howell on December 28th. Though the team of Ypsilanti Normal High are formidable opponents, the Plymouth team is entertaining strong hopes of a second victory.

The question for debate is stated as follows: Resolved, That the United States and Canada jointly should construct a deep-waterway to the Atlantic by way of the St. Lawrence river, as proposed in the report of the International Joint Commission, and submitted to congress in January, 1922. The proposed waterway is important to our nation as a whole, and is especially important to the middle west. Eighteen states have united in an organization to further the project. A commission, composed of the prominent engineers of the United States and Canada, spent a year and a half in consideration of it. The acceptance or rejection of the St. Lawrence waterway plan will affect every tax-payer in the country. It is, therefore, important that every good citizen should possess information upon it.

For the sake of obtaining information on so important a question, and incidentally for the purpose of standing back of the Plymouth debating team, the public is urged to attend. Remember the time and the place—the auditorium of Plymouth high school, at eight p. m., on January 11th. The admission will be 25c.

LITTLE DODO REID TO APPEAR PERSONALLY AT PENNIMAN ALLEN THEATRE

Dodo Reid, niece of Wallie Reid, who appears in person at the Penniman Allen theatre in conjunction with the showing of "Burning Sands," Wednesday and Thursday, January 10th and 11th, is a cute and lovable personage of six years, who has spent three of them "in pictures."

Miss Dodo was "discovered" by George Fitzmaurice when he made a picture for Alice Brady, called "Her Bridal Night." She appeared in two other Brady pictures and then came under the eye of the late William Desmond Taylor, who fell in love with the youngster and introduced her to every director and star within a mile of Los Angeles. As a result she appeared with Douglas Fairbanks in "When the Clouds Roll By," with Mary Pickford in "Through the Back Door," with Anita Stewart in "Her Mad Bargain," and with Wallace Reid in "Don't Tell Everything." In fact Wallie was one of the last to employ her, because he didn't wish to appear as favoring one of his own relatives.

Dodo was the star of "A Child for Sale," a rather lurid melodrama that was produced last year, but which she, of course, couldn't understand. She sings, dances, indulges in funny little recitations and can answer a multitude of questions. A special matinee for school children only, will be given on Wednesday afternoon, January 10th, at 3:45 o'clock. Admission, 10c.

AN OFFICER FOR 24 YEARS

George W. Springer has been re-appointed deputy sheriff for Plymouth by Sheriff George Walters, and was sworn in by that official last Monday. In the re-appointment of Mr. Springer as deputy sheriff for this township, Mr. Walters could not have made a better selection or one that would have better met the general approval of the citizens of Plymouth. For 24 years Mr. Springer has served Plymouth in the capacity of deputy sheriff, and during these years he has made a splendid record as an officer. He has more than ordinary ability in bringing to justice, offenders of the law, and he has done some clever work along this line, that has won for him the highest praise of his superior officers. Deputy Springer's many friends extend congratulations.

A NEW YEAR'S THOUGHT

A Question---

How do our ideals and habits measure up to the standard of the Man of Galilee?

A Suggestion---

No one with reason presumes to question Christ's ideals of life. If applied, they would produce peace, brotherhood, justice and the highest welfare of humanity.

An Answer---

Put Christianity into application, individually and nationally, by living Christ's way. The Christian church seeks to help you.

WHEN NOBODY'S LOOKING

It's easy to enforce speed laws in the large cities, and it is easy to keep an eye on motorists in towns like Plymouth, but as yet no good way has been found to curb the speed fiend on country roads, and whose recklessness is at its height when he is out on a highway with nobody in sight. More and more as our roads get better, the lives of careful drivers and people residing along the roads are endangered by the speed fiend, who wanders until he gets outside the limits of a town or city to "cut loose." Of course arrests are made, and fines are assessed from time to time, but these appear to be inadequate to stop the practice. It seems to us that right here would be a good opportunity for some of our patriotic legislators to do something for their people by getting their heads together and devising some law, and the enforcement of it, that would make life safe on our country roads from the speed fiend who persists in becoming reckless the moment he thinks nobody is watching him.

Constipation of the bowels is a stoppage of the sewerage system that removes waste matter from the body. It is as necessary that your bowels move regularly each day, to carry off this waste, as it is that the waste pipes of your home be kept open and carry off the waste from the house. If you would enjoy good health, keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when

OBITUARY

Carl Aaron Carlson, son of Carl John and Johanna Charlotte Carlson, was born in Sweden, November 16, 1864. There he received a good education, and was brought up in a Christian home. In the year 1888, he came to America, and lived in Wilcox, Penn., working first in a lumber camp and later at the carpenter trade, and as a cabinet maker. On August 10, 1895, he was united in marriage to Miss Ida Sophie Anderson, which union was blessed by God with three children, Hildur, Amy and George, all yet at home. Eight years ago,
Mr. Carlson moved to Plymouth with his family, and has been a quiet and good citizen and a faithful member of the local Lutheran church. Here in Plymouth he worked for a short time at the carpenter trade, and then for years had been employed by the Daisy Mfg. Co. For months he has been ailing, but would not take a rest and receive medical treatment, until five weeks ago, he collapsed.
At first it looked as though he would soon be out again, but two weeks ago it was found that he had a growth in his stomach, which would prove fatal.
Although at times he was suffering severe pains, he bore them like a christian, and prepared to go home.
On Friday afternoon, his desire was fulfilled, and he was released by God from all evil, peacefully going to sleep. He leaves mourning his departure, his wife and three children, one brother in New York, and one sister in Sweden, many distant relatives, the Lutheran congregation and many outside friends. He attained an age of 58 years and 13 days.
Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, at the house on Mill street, and at the Lutheran church. The body was placed in the vault at Riverside for later interment.

HIS LIFE AN EPIC

Capt. Arthur Jackman a Hero to Newfoundlanders.

Lives in Their Memory—"Honest as de Sun He Was, and as True as Steel."

Among the sealers of Newfoundland certain figures loom gigantic. Such a one is Capt. Arthur Jackman, dead but never forgotten. Long before I reached Newfoundland on the steamer from New York, I began hearing about Jackman's incredible exploits. Many people in St. John's told me about him. And at the ice sealers were constantly recalling bits of the Jackman legend. Jackman seems almost a national hero.

It was Jackman, most famous of seal killers, who once when he had an infected thumb called for a hatchet and calmly chopped that thumb off, "standin' dere on de ship's bridge, air, bare-handed an' in a green split-tail coat." It was Jackman who once knocked a man down into the hold, jumped after him, filled him around; whereupon the man sank all his teeth in Jackman's leg and went faving crazy.

The sealers tell you how Jackman was never drunk at sea or sober on land; how he used to trick all the other sealing captains and clean up the patch before they could reach it; how one time though short of coal himself, dumped 20 tons on the ice for a rival captain to pick up; how another time, when the funnel was tipped off by a blizzard, he built a wooden funnel and carried on to success.

"Roughest man in the world, sir, but inside of him a real man! Seven foot high he was, wid a hand, like a bucket. Big-boned, sir, an' hard as de devil's 'id. Only one man ever loked 'im—dat was a Scotch engineer he loked into de cabin to give a beatin' to. De engineer hammered him stiff, and Jackman loked him fer it. "Honest as de sun he was, an' true as steel! He had prayers every night, sir, an' 'it he had a calendar printed without no Sundays on it, at all, so dere wouldn't be no Sunday'n' abird. He'd putt de Sunday men on de ice, an' keep 'em dere all day.

"Very polite he could be, too. One time he says to a man he was fightin' wid, 'Please don't come a-nigh me or I'll have to split ye wid dis hatchet!' Oh, Jackman was 'id of 'em all! He made up to seven 'ousand dollars a year"—fabulous wealth for Newfoundland—"an' died clean broke. Give away every cent, he did. His funeral procession was de laigest ever seen in St. Johns. Oh, dere never was nary un like Cap'n Jackman!"

The Jackman epic is interminable. Jackman is by way of becoming a Newfoundland solar myth. The reference to Sunday men requires explanation. Before the Sabbath law went into effect certain men refused to kill seals on Sunday; and these were Sunday men. Today, seal killing is taboo on Sunday. —George Allan England, in Saturday Evening Post.

Couldn't Please Her Husband.
Husbands are curious animals. They have odd tastes and likings. Really their fancies are fickle. Their appetites and passions are not easily restrained. The clerk of any divorce court knows that. Here was the case the other day of the husband who complained because his wife was taking on too much figure. He said that she had the waist of a walrus and could wear a meal sack for a kimono. He said that nobody could love a fat wife.

So the spouse took up the matter of reducing. She read all the literature pertaining to the anti-fats. Finally she got hold of some powerful dope that bit into her frame like a buzz saw. She shed weight as if it were being swept off with a broom. From being fat she went into reverse English. She became really thin.

All for the love of a husband! Now the man is suing the wife for a divorce. He says that the wife took drugs and cosmetics that made her wan and ethereal and that she lost and forfeited his love in the doing. He doesn't care for any pale and sickly companion about his home. —Los Angeles Times.

Necessities of Life.
Schnapps and cognac were officially ruled to be necessities of life by a German court when two baronesses, Maria Rhodes and Lyda Bock, with their employer, were fined recently for profiteering in brandy.

According to the German law, necessities of life must be marked in plain figures and sold for no more. Luxuries need not be marked and the marked prices may be raised at will. When it was proved that a price higher than that marked had been collected for brandy the baronesses were fined 3,000 and 1,500 marks respectively, and the proprietor, Herman Loewer, 7,000 marks.

Cost of America's Wars.
The Revolutionary war cost the government $135,000,000 and 395,000 troops were engaged. The War of 1812 cost $107,000,000 with 471,000 soldiers engaged. The Mexican war cost the United States $100,000,000 and engaged 101,232 troops. The Civil war cost the North $6,189,929,000 and the southern troops numbered 2,859,132. The World war cost Uncle Sam the huge sum of $24,000,000,000 and there were over 4,000,000 men in the service of the country.

TWO DOORS TO MAN'S MIND

Explaining Why All of Us Cannot Awaken From Sleep to Instant Action.

Some of us wake up instantly, but most of us have to lie for some time before we are really awake. How quickly can you wake up? It has nothing to do with being a hero or a strong man, neither has it anything to do with lassiness or being tired the night before.

It all depends on our minds. Every one of us has got two distinct minds, the front mind with which we do our ordinary daytime thinking, and the back mind which comes into action only in the hours of sleep.

Between the two minds lies a door. When you go to sleep you pass into your night mind, when you wake up you step through the door into your day mind, and close the door behind you.

But with a great many of us this door between our two minds has worked a little loose. The hinges of that door work slowly; it doesn't slam, and through it float out the broken remnants of your dream in hopeless confusion with the real life of the new day's work.

Then gradually, with an effort, you manage to pull yourself out of the fog and push the dream things back through the door. Then at last you are awake.

This difficulty of waking varies with your circumstances. If something pleasant is going to happen to you in the coming day you can wake up comparatively easily. Your real self is anxious to be finished with the dream world, to shut the door, and to wake to your good fortune.

But when you are troubled, or expecting worry, your dream self invests your sleeping hours with a kindly mantle of romance to make up for the worries of the day. You are loth to leave that pleasant land of dreams, and consequently wake up slowly.

Coffee Taste Improves.
Americans are becoming coffee connoisseurs. Coffee is no longer just coffee. It must now have bouquet, body and sufficient kick to satisfy those who like it strong. Or the heavy body and the caffeine content must be all but missing, while the aroma remains high and fine, for those who like it weak.

So sophisticated is the taste of the United States becoming, says the New York Sun, that cheap coffee is wanted less than ever before, and high-grade coffee that was previously sent to Europe is reaching our ports at an unprecedented rate.

There has been nothing less than a real revolution in the notion of the public as to what good coffee is. As a result coffee beans are sorted more carefully than ever before, and mild coffees with a high, clear flavor are being increasingly shipped North.

Most of the mild coffees of the trade come from the countries of the Gulf Coast, especially Colombia and Venezuela. A considerable quantity reaches us from Mexico.

Authorities credit the roasters and the distributors with much of the responsibility for changing the taste of the public. State coffee beans are now rarely sold, and the general public has a chance to know what fresh coffee tastes like. This was not so a generation ago.

Airplane Landing.
A recent invention permits the conventional landing gear with rubber-tired wheels to be dropped from a plane in flight, the subsequent landing being effected with a pair of skids mounted beneath the plane, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The object is to eliminate the weight and wind resistance of the usual landing gear and to make possible landing in a short space and on rough ground. Landing on water is safer with skids than with the wheels, because of the lowered center of gravity, which reduces the tendency to turn the machine over on its end, the arrangement of shock absorbers, some of which are double-acting, interposed between the skids and the body of the plane, is one of the most important features. In this design the propeller blades must be horizontal when making a landing.

Britain's Shipbuilding.
Shipbuilding at cost is said to be the basis on which the British yards are willing to work, in order to get orders. British owners of vessels, however, apparently do not find the offer so attractive as it sounds, for they declare that before they can place many orders for new steamers the cost of building must come down by 30 per cent. Seventy-five per cent of England's shipbuilding capacity is idle. Prospects seem to be brightening, however, for it is reported that inquiries which precede contracts for new boats are increasing. —The Nation's Business.

Tribute to "King Woman."
Jane heard her brother say Columbus discovered America and that he had been assisted by Queen Isabella. Later in the evening, she meant to tell her father all about what brother had said but, not being able to remember all the words, she told him that the King Woman had been good to Columbus.

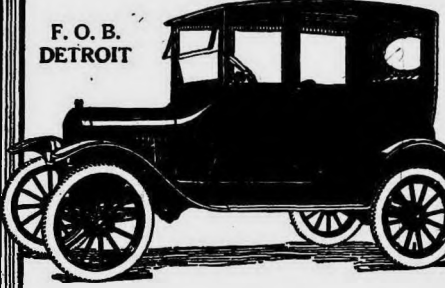

Jean "Made Good."
Jean passed her plate with a most respectful request at a time when the relative politeness of son and daughter had been the table discussion. "Don't you hear me pouting, daddy?" she asked.

FARMERS' CONFERENCE TO HEAR FAMOUS MEN

AGRICULTURAL AND POLITICAL LEADERS SCHEDULED TO ADDRESS M. A. C. FARMERS' WEEK CROWDS.

National leaders in the agricultural business, and political worlds will address meetings of the annual Farmers' Week at the Michigan Agricultural College, from Jan. 29 to Feb. 2 this winter. Advance announcement of the general program, made here this week by A. M. Beridge, chairman of the Farmers' Week committee, shows that the strongest list of speakers in the history of the annual conferences has been booked. Congressman Sidney Anderson, of Minnesota, chairman of the Joint Congressional Commission of Agricultural Inquiry; Eugene Davenport, former Dean of Agriculture at Illinois University and famous writer; Dr. G. F. Warren, nationally known farm management expert from Cornell University; Signora Agresti, of Rome, Italy; Chas. E. Snyder, editor of the Drovers Journal, Chicago; and President David Friday of M. A. C. are among the leading speakers who will address one or more of the general meetings at the big conference.

Thirty state farm associations and groups will meet at M. A. C. during Farmers' Week. Special agricultural exhibits and entertainment features which will be more complete than any ever planned for Farmers' Week are being worked out under the direction of the college officers. More than 5,000 farmers and their families attended Farmers' Week in 1921, and an even larger crowd is expected this year.

COMMUNICATION

Plymouth, Mich., Dec. 30, 1922
Plymouth Mail:

We humans are queer animals. We refuse to profit by the experience of others. We are from Missouri. We learn at school that "Two things cannot occupy the same place at the same time." Yet daily I see autos speeding over railway crossings with utter indifference.

Last year there were about 200 automobile accidents on the P. M. alone, resulting in 17 deaths and several times that number injured.

I think it is Alabama that requires autos to come to a full stop before crossing railroad tracks. Can not we Michiganders at least have our autos under control, and know the coast is clear before crossing? The 200 hit are probably a small percent of the number who took a chance. Does it pay? Safety first.

F. H. Hamill, Agt.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

There was a good congregation last Sunday morning when the Rev. C. Resiner of New York City, was the special preacher. Mr. Resiner took his text from Gal. 4:4. "And when the fullness of the time was come, God sent forth his son," and he preached a most inspiring sermon. Next Sunday morning Franklin Gibson will be the preacher and will take as his subject, "No Room, from Luke 2:7.

On Wednesday, January 10th, the Ladies Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. Paul Ware, in north village. All members of the Guild and ladies of the congregation are asked to be present, as the election of officers for the ensuing year will be made at this meeting. In the evening of the same day there will be a meeting in the church of the members of the joint vestries of Wayne and Plymouth. Several matters will be taken over, and the prospects of both parishes for the year will be discussed. And as this will be more of a "get together" meeting, every member of the vestry is requested to be present.

We are very fortunate in securing this month two special men to come to Plymouth, the Ven. Chas. L. Ramsey, Archdeacon of the Southern peninsula, and the Rev. E. W. Pullinger, Rector of Grace Church, Detroit. Both of these gentlemen are known to most of us in Plymouth. Archdeacon Ramsey, who with the late George Swift, was one of the organizers of the present mission in the fall of 1911, and he also had charge of the old mission when he was curate of Christ Church, Detroit. The Rev. Pullinger, or "Captain" Pullinger, as "the boys" know him, made a visit to Plymouth soon after the war, to attend a meeting of the Plymouth Masons. He will be the speaker at a special community service to be held one week day evening during this month, and Archdeacon Ramsey will have charge of a Sunday service, notices of which will appear later.

During this month the annual meeting of the parish will be held for the purpose of election of members to the vestry, election of a delegate to the House of Church Women, to receive reports of the different societies and church school, and for open discussion of church matters.

The Junior Brotherhood of St. Andrews, Plymouth chapter, will meet in the church this week. Two of our boys of the Brotherhood spent a few days in Detroit last week, for the purpose of attending the annual conference of the Chapters of the Brotherhood, which was held in Detroit this year. They report a very splendid and instructive time at the conference. The report of their attendance at the conference will be given at this meeting by one of the boys, probably by Dan Murphy.

Franklin Gibson has issued his monthly letter to the parishioners of the vestry, for some reason or other, who have not received their letter, and those whose friends may be interested in the work of the church, and who wish to have one each month, please send names in to Mr. Gibson, or to any member of the vestry. Mr. Gibson will be in the vestry of the church every Thursday afternoon from 4:00 to 5:00 o'clock. Those who wish to consult him on any matters or to bring any matters before him, can do so on that day each week.

Now is the time to start the New Year with a package of envelopes, "The Lord's Treasury." There are fifty-two weekly envelopes in a package and the purpose is to place a thanksgiving donation each week, in the envelope so dated. By this act we derive a double benefit; we are helping in extending the kingdom of Christ throughout the world, and we are fulfilling the command of St. Paul, "Upon the first day of the week let everyone of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him." Send your name in to any of the members of the vestry, or speak with Arthur Torre, the treasurer, and he will explain to you or your friends. It is not always the amount of the donation, even to the smallest coin, but it is the act of offering a donation as a thanks offering for the many benefits, "Even as God hath prospered us," that counts. A lady in Plymouth, deeply interested in the work of the church and in the extension of Christ's kingdom, who has been for eighteen years on a bed of helplessness, sent us a special donation at Christmas as an offering to God for the many blessings extended to her—in prolonging her life—giving her the joy of watching and following the work of the church in extending Christ's kingdom on earth—a thanks offering for the Master's use.

A Good Thing—Don't Miss It.
Send your name and address plainly written together with 5 cents (and this slip) to Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa, and receive in return a trial pack containing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchial "flu" and whooping cough and tickling throat; Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for stomach troubles, indigestion, gassy pains that crowd the heart, indigestion and constipation; Chamberlain's Salve, needed in every family for burns, scalds, wounds, piles, and skin affections; these valued family medicines for only 5 cents. Don't miss it.—Advertisement.

LOW PRICES BRING FARM RECORD NEED

CAREFUL ANALYSIS OF BUSINESS AIDS EFFICIENCY—GOOD TIME TO START ACCOUNT BOOK.

That only the economical farm producer who studies his business carefully can withstand the strain of low prices, and that no one thing will help the farmer more in analyzing his business than the keeping of farm records, is the contention of F. T. Riddell, farm management specialist at the Michigan Agricultural College.

"The farmer is undergoing a most trying period of depression, due in part to unbalanced commodity prices and to the inability of foreign countries to buy our goods," says Riddell. "Thus, although conditions are apparently beginning to improve, relatively low prices for farm products are resulting in low farm incomes."

"There is a wide range in farmers' incomes, however, costs varying on different farms. Some farms produce at a loss, while others produce at a profit. Only the economical producer can withstand the strain of low prices. He studies his business, and is thereby able to cut costs to a minimum."

"No one thing will help the farmer more in analyzing his business than the keeping of farm records, and this is a very good time of the year to start such accounts."

Farm account books which are simple and can be kept easily by devoting a few minutes each day to the work are published by the Extension Division of the Michigan Agricultural College, and may be secured at cost from county agricultural agents or directly from the M. A. C. Extension Division, East Lansing, Mich. One book entitled, "Farm Account Book No. 1" costs twenty-five cents, while another called "Farm Business Record" costs fifteen cents.

Today's Reflections

Some Plymouth men swear off on New Year's, and then swear off and on all the balance of the year.

When the average Plymouth man is talking to himself, he believes everything he hears.

Cutting off advertising saves expenses the same as cutting off your feet would save shoe bills. But the damage is much greater than the amount saved.

We see in a daily paper where a man claims to have found where Noah's ark landed. But what most of us would like to know is what became of the dove.

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth man who used to refer to an automobile as a "horseless carriage."

After all, it's pretty hard to find a second-hand article as valuable as a rich widow.

You can't tell the size of results by the size of the man. The melon vine raises bigger fruit than the oak tree does.

We might also take a little space to state that the Plymouth man born to trouble will not die until he gets all that is coming to him.

There is one woman we've never been able to understand, and that is the woman who finds pleasure in attending funerals.

Another thing that makes life worth living is to occasionally run across a Plymouth child who doesn't know more than its parents.

The trouble with too many of us is we are anxious to get up in the world, but we never want to get up in the morning.

Before prohibition we used to wonder how a Plymouth man could get that way. Since prohibition when we see one weaving we wonder where he got that way.

Miss Helen Rorabacher visited Mrs. Coda Savery and May Mager, Thursday afternoon.

BAPTIST NOTES

The New Year's services, last Sunday, showed a fine spirit of sympathy and co-operation. The attendance was not large owing to the rain. The pastor spoke from Luke 4:23, 24, for the New Year sermon.

Alton Sayles led the B. Y. P. U. last Sunday evening. Let every member try and be at the meeting each Sunday evening at six o'clock, and bring some young person with you.

The Sunday-school has been enjoying the readings of Miss Scott, which were taken from a missionary book. For nearly a year, each Sunday, just before taking up the study of the lesson, she read a chapter about Japan, China, India or South America, giving the customs of the people and the benefit derived from the christian religion as it comes to them through the missionaries sent to them.

The Young People's Bible Study class, which meets every Wednesday evening from 7 until 8 o'clock, had a social hour after the study of the lesson, last Wednesday evening, and a good time eating popcorn and playing games. Irene Switek won the prize, carrying the most popcorn on her knife in three trials. Gaylord Sayles caught the most corn in his mouth in one second. The last Wednesday evening of each month is for social pleasures.

Last Sunday evening, the pastor spoke on, "The Great Commission." At the close of the sermon several young people were baptized. It was a very impressive service.

Remember the district missionary rally and conference at Pontiac, January 8 and 9. National speakers. Plan to go.

SCHOOL NOTES

School notes this week are furnished by Mona Burrows.

Velma Farkas, Marie Beegle, Iris Robinson and Albert Dolocsek are ahead in the third grade spelling contest.

Seventh and eighth grade art class have been doing black printing.

The seventh grade boys were beaten in a game of basket ball, Friday night, by the eighth grade. The score was 14 to 12.

The seventh grade spelling classes have organized base ball teams. Jack Caldwell's team, the Invincibles, played against Francis Hathaway's team, the Champions. At the end of the third inning, the Invincibles had 6 scores to the Champions 3. Dorothy Hillman's team, the Beavers, played against Mac Donnelly's team, the Eagles, and at the end of the fourth inning the Eagles had 4 scores to the Beavers 3.

Ten of our group of loyal Girl Scouts "hiked" to Northville, Tuesday night, covering the distance in one hour. A good time was reported by all.

The Christmas program given by the Girls' Glee Club proved to be a great success.

Don't forget that the first basket ball game is here, January 12th, with Northville.

The High school physical training girls are starting formal Swedish work this week.

The Caesar class has organized a Latin club, which will meet from now on as the "Defessi Milites Caesaris." The members upon whom the fates bestowed offices are: Primus consul—Carl Ash; Secundus Consul, Margaret Amrhein; Scriba—Dorothy Caldwell; Quaesitor, Marian Bennett; Aedilis, Frank Millard. The motto is "Ad astra per aspera." The Defessi Milites Caesaris are going to be Roman nobles and ladies each time they meet to indulge in Roman life of centuries ago.

After irregular attendance in our school due to causes over which the children had no control, they are nearly all back again, trying to make up their work in order to start the new semester square with the world.

Superintendent George A. Smith represented the teachers of this part of Wayne county at executive session of the M. T. at Lansing, December 27 and 28. Our school is a very kind letter expressing thanks from the children of the tuberculosis sanatorium for the Christmas cheer, in the way of toys, gifts and candy, which the J. C. Cross of our school presented.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The church sends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Samsen.

About forty turned out to the watch-night service of the Christian Endeavor society, last Sunday night. Miss Agnes Green led the meeting, and Alfred Bakewell acted as pianist. Three minutes before midnight, a season of silent prayer was called for. When the clock struck twelve, all joined in the doxology, and then went down stairs to sandwiches, cocoa, apples and fudge.

The annual meeting of The First Presbyterian church and congregation of Plymouth, Michigan, will be held at seven-thirty p. m., Monday, January 8, 1923, in the dining-room of the church, following a pot-luck supper to be served at six-thirty. At this meeting reports from the several organizations of the church will be heard; a budget for the ensuing year will be presented for adoption; the following officers will be elected to succeed those whose terms of office expire, namely: two trustees to succeed F. D. Schrader and C. H. Bennett; two elders to succeed W. J. Burrows and J. R. Rauch; one treasurer to succeed H. J. Green; one Sunday-school superintendent and one assistant superintendent to succeed W. R. Shaw and James Stephens, respectively; and such other officers as the Articles of Association, the Form of Government and the Congregation may require.

At this meeting, also, a motion will be made to amend the Articles of Association By-Laws as follows: In article one, section one, the word "March" to be substituted for "January" so that the annual meeting of this church and congregation shall be held on the first Monday after the second day of March, each year. All members should attend this meeting.

METHODIST NOTES

There were 160 folks present at the beginning of the Watch-Night service, last Sunday night. After a good rousing song service led by Kenneth Bartlett, and a sermon by the pastor, the evening was spent with singing and speeches by various laymen and laywomen until 10:00 o'clock, when the program was changed for an hour. Relaxation was found in a quiet social hour, during which the ladies served light refreshments. At 11:00 o'clock, sixty brave souls were still present, and remained through till the new year was on hand. After several more short speeches and singing, the meeting closed near the midnight hour with testimonies and prayers. The old year passed and the new year was born while at prayer. After the sounding of the town clock, announcing the New Year, all rose and joined in a hymn of praise, and then joined hands—around the church and sang, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds." Then the benediction, and a joyous shaking of hands and exchange of New Year's greetings.

The thought of consecration of self, service and substance to Christ for the coming year was the central theme running the whole of the evening's program. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts' solos were much enjoyed by all, and the various speeches. The pastor wishes to thank all who participated in making the evening's program a success.

The Sunday-school board will hold its annual meeting next Tuesday night. Election of officers will take place. Read the Michigan Christian Advocate.
Prayer meeting on Thursday night, January 16th, plans are being made for a big, happy, get-together, church family banquet at the church, with good things to eat, and a delightful program of music and speeches. At that time also will be discussed various plans of our church work for this new year. Keep this date in mind.
On Wednesday afternoon, January 17th, the Ladies' Aid society will hold its monthly meeting. A special program is being arranged with a short play, to be presented under the leadership and direction of Mrs. Karl Hillmer. Every lady will want to be there.

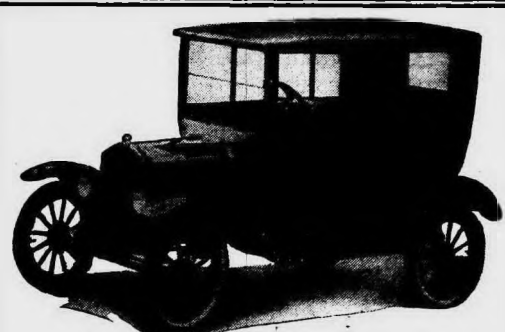

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This is a pleasant, safe and reliable medicine for coughs and colds. It has been in use for many years and is held in high esteem in those households where its good qualities are best known. It is a favorite with mothers of young children, as it contains no opium or other harmful drug. Try it when you have need of such a remedy.—Advertisement.

Hawaiian Volcanoes Are Unique in Many Respects.

No Explosive Eruptions, Such as That of Vesuvius, Which Destroyed Pompeii and Herculaneum.

The activity of Kilauea, a volcano of Hawaii, is interesting more for the character of the eruption than for any other phenomenon. The popular description of the volcano as "a mountain which emits fire, smoke and ash" was long ago discarded. The mountain, or cinder cone, is not the volcano; it is the product of many eruptions. The fire is the glare of white hot lava that flows into minute particles by explosive steam. In general a volcanic eruption is a tremendous steam explosion. The mingled steam and dust shot a mile or more into the air resembles smoke in appearance. Frequently they form a cumulus cloud from which pour torrents of rain.

The eruption of Kilauea, the most active and also the most famous of Hawaiian volcanoes, exhibits none of these features. Kilauea is a pit crater, about eight miles around, in a lava field not quite 5,000 feet above sea level. The walls of the crater are all the way from 100 to 600 feet high, measured from the crater floor.

At times, indeed most of the time, the crater floor is like the surface of a frozen lake. Then, with scarcely a warning, the floor melts and the crater is a lake of molten lava. Occasionally the level of the lava rises until it flows over the lowest notch in the rampart wall. Then a stream, which may be a tremendous flood, flows away toward the sea.

That is an eruption of Kilauea, or of its nearby neighbor Mokuaweweo, at the summit of Mauna Loa, more than two miles above sea level. Explosive eruptions, like those of Vesuvius, may have occurred within historic times, but the record of them does not appear, except as boulder-like masses of lava and great fragments of pumice in the vicinity indicate them. Tremendous force is required to push a column of lava to the crater floor of Kilauea, half a mile higher than the summit of Vesuvius; a still greater force to push up to the floor of Mokuaweweo, nearly two miles higher.

Perhaps the expenditure of force in pushing the lava to such great heights may explain why there are no explosive eruptions like those of Vesuvius. They stand strongly defined as a type by themselves. Nevertheless, the successive eruptions have built Hawaii atop the rain clouds, spreading it over an area as large as Connecticut.

Civil War Lovers Finally Wed.

A romance of Civil War days culminated in Pittsburgh, Pa., the other day when a marriage license was issued to John Danks, aged seventy-eight years, a retired farmer, and Mrs. Amanda M. Thomas, aged seventy-six years. They were sweethearts when that war began, they told newspaper men, but Danks joined the colors and they drifted apart.

Since then both married, Danks going to Oregon, where he farmed until last year, when his wife died. Returning to Pittsburgh, he learned that his old sweetheart, a widow, was living in the Hazelwood district. He called on her, and for several weeks they met daily and discussed days gone by. Finally the path of destiny led them to the marriage office.

Vessel Tonnage.

As explained by the United States shipping board, deadweight tonnage expresses the number of tons of 2,240 pounds that a vessel can transport of cargo, stores and bunker fuel. A vessel's capacity for weight cargo is less than its total deadweight tonnage. Gross tonnage applies to vessels, not to cargo. It is determined by dividing by 100 the contents, in cubic feet, of the vessel's closed-in spaces. A vessel ton is 100 cubic feet. Net tonnage is a vessel's gross tonnage minus deductions for crew, by machinery for navigation, by the engine room and fuel. A vessel's net tonnage expresses the space available for the accommodation of passengers and the stowage of cargo.

Champion Letter Writers.

Some remarkable facts have been brought to light recently regarding letter writing in the various countries of the world. It is not a surprise, however, to learn that in the two great English-speaking countries the average number of letters per inhabitant is far and away above that in any other country. In actual figures, it works out at 112 a year for each person in America and eighty-four in England. These figures may not seem to be extraordinary at first sight, but when it is realized that they mean that in the United States there were handled almost 11,500,000,000 letters last year, a slight idea of the enormous development of the country's postal facilities necessary for such a task, may be gained.—Christian Science Monitor.

Years Make a Difference.

Esther, three, had decided ideas along certain lines. She very much enjoyed her warm bath, but objected to the cold spray following. "But mother takes a cold spray," coaxed the mother. "Well, I don't care," wailed the indignance Esther. "You're forty years older."

FAMED NEW ENGLAND CHURCH

Edifice Erected at Bennington, Vt., 160 Years Ago, Known All Over the Country.

Early this month the First Congregational church in Bennington, Vt., which has the double distinction of being the first church built in the state of Vermont and the reputation of being the most beautiful example of colonial church architecture in northern New England, celebrated its 160th anniversary.

The Bennington church is famous all over the country. It has been photographed perhaps as often as any church in the United States, a day seldom passing without some tourist halting for a snapshot. It is located on the heights at the western side of the township overlooking Bennington village.

The First church was organized the first week of December, 1762. This was before Vermont had become a separate state, and while it was a part of New Hampshire.

In connection with its construction, there is an entertaining legend. In the days when the Bennington folk decided that they must have a church, there was but one book on church architecture in the whole district, and this was owned by an architect in Bennington. The local folk studied the book and devised the church after suggestions contained in it.

After the church was built it became famous throughout the district and, soon, other townships wanted to build and sent to Bennington to borrow the book. Bennington informed them they would have to come and do their studies in architecture on the spot, as the book would be kept in the town.

From village and hamlet, came committees of builders, carpenters, stone workers and window and interior finishers. The book was lent to them and they met in the church to read and digest it. After their studies were done, the committee used to assemble and discuss the plans for their own church, devising modifications of the design used in Bennington, in order to get original results.

Thus the church became the model for all Vermont's church builders.

Flamingo Curious Bird.

A curious combination of beautiful coloring and ungainly form is presented by the flamingo. In shape it is midway between a goose and a stork, ranging, when full grown, between 5 and 6½ feet in height. Its humped body is supported on legs amazingly long and thin, while its slender neck curves upward like a big letter S, and ends in a small head with a great flat down-curved beak.

The lower part of this beak forms a deep, broad box, into which the upper part fits like a cover. When the bird is feeding on shellfish or water plants in the shallow mud flats the neck is twisted like a corkscrew until the head is upside down; then the top of the beak is pushed along through the mud like a scoop shovel, gathering in the food morsels.

During the nesting period the female builds a curious mound of mud like a tiny volcano, in the crater of which a single egg is laid. On this the mother bird sits with legs drawn up like a grotesque statue on a pedestal.

Oldest of Reptiles.

The "tutuera lizard" is said to be the most remarkable creature now living in New Zealand and the oldest existing type of reptile. So deeply are naturalists interested in this curious species of animal, which seems to be as closely related to turtles as to lizards, that legislative protection has been secured for it, says the Washington Star. Unfortunately, the eggs of the creature do not appear to be covered by the protective act, and gratification has been expressed in certain quarters that only one man, Mr. Henaghan, who can be trusted, knows where to look for the precious eggs. Before they are all destroyed it is hoped that the biologists will have an opportunity to determine how the strange animal is developed, and whether it is more a lizard than a turtle or more a turtle than a lizard.

Young Russians Illiterate.

What struck me most, as I went through the Russian villages, was the fact that the young generation—the boys and girls under sixteen and even up to eighteen—were mostly illiterate. I could not quite believe that the revolution had not given the people what was their most elementary demand. But the more I questioned the people, the more I realized that it was so.

As a result of revolution, civil war, famine, and all the other evils, a generation was growing up in the villages that had not seen the inside of a school. Throughout the entire country—in the cities as well as in the villages, but especially in the latter—the schools have perhaps suffered most from the turmoil. Millions of children of school age are without schooling.—Louis Levine in the Atlantic Monthly.

According to Size.

A certain bakery makes bread of two sizes, a large 10-cent loaf and a smaller 6-cent loaf. It also has some customers of large proportions and some small.

A few days ago a salesman was making retail deliveries and stopped at a double in which live a very large and a rather small woman, both of whom are good customers. The two came out at the same time, the stout one calling out "two large"; the other calling immediately, "two small."—Indianapolis News.

MANY MR. SPARKS

Most of Us Have Met Men of His Exact Type.

Self-Made and Highly Worthy, of Course, but They Are Forgetful of One Fact.

Mr. Spark likes to tell about his early struggles and puff with pride over the material things he has been able to accumulate in spite of them. After he has regaled the company with expensive opera records on his superlatively fine phonograph and has called their attention to numerous furnishings, he will begin telling how he started life without a dollar and look-at-him-now. He carefully explains how, 20 years ago, they were only paying rent on a small four-room house that was not modern and he was earning about $15 a week. You get the idea after he has been talking a while that he is absolutely self-made, having been equipped with a self-starter that never needed the batteries recharged.

Through it all Mrs. Spark sits quietly and beams on her husband. She isn't much to look at, in spite of her grown daughter's efforts to give her a little more "tone" at the price of comfort. You even find yourself wondering why a man who is such a whiz as Spark ever married a dull little person like Mrs. Spark. But Mrs. Spark is the secret of Mr. Spark's success.

When they were first married he had to give the miser who tied the knot a bushel of potatoes, since cash was so scarce, and that was a good potato year. She went right to work making him save a little of the few dollars he did earn and even did a few things on the quiet herself to make a little extra money. Her chickens and the cow she cared for, and milked kept them all of one winter when Mr. Spark got a job only now and then, and she had a knack of making a dollar go farther on the family table than most women. She kept Spark looking so neat that he soon got a steady job where they wanted a man who had some regard for his personal appearance and were willing to pay a little extra for it. Mrs. Spark was the one who insisted they quit paying rent, even if they did have a mortgage hanging over their head for a long time.

Like a lot of other men, Mr. Spark never had more than a dollar or two ahead of him until he happened to ask Mrs. Spark to come and keep house for him. But Mrs. Spark is just as happy as he is, letting him have the credit for being a self-made man.—Kansas City Star.

Astronomical Fact.

Mars, although retreating rapidly away from us, still is a notable point of red light. His distance, which was something like 42,000,000 miles from the earth June 18, now has increased to 75,000,000, and will become 140,000,000 by the end of the year.

During the early months of 1923 Jupiter and Saturn will be conspicuous in the morning sky, and, together with Venus, will delight early risers who love the glories of the stellar realm. There is no more fascinating study for old or young than astronomy, and the boys and girls should be encouraged to learn the "geography" of the sky as well as that of the planet on which they live.

Business Promoter.

The Woman was wondering where she would eat. She had a task to perform in a neighborhood new to her, and she had time now for a delayed meal. She looked about her, when suddenly she heard a raucous voice cry: "Come in; come in!" There in the window of a little restaurant was a parrot. It was too amusing to resist. And later when the restaurant was filled, the parrot was given a little meal and was covered partly with a shawl, so that he would know that it was night time and bed time for him. But many had been the smiling one or couple who, like the Woman, had come in because of the parrot's urgent cry.—Chicago Journal.

Centenary of Great Drought.

That the drought which prevailed during the summer in Pennsylvania and many other parts of the country was not the worst in history is shown by the following paragraph reprinted from the Miltonian of Milton of October 26, 1822: "The drought of the summer just passed is and will continue a memorable one in the eastern section of Pennsylvania. A gentleman from this place on a ride through York and Adams counties saw a mill dam on the Big Conowing creek perfectly dry that 'all hands' were in it loading wagons and drawing the rich deposits in its bottom, to the neighboring fields."—Philadelphia Record.

Near Top as Rail Center.

The bureau of railway economics has just prepared a list of cities having a large number of railroads entering from outside sections, says Railroad Data. Terminals and electric railroads are not included, and the list is confined to cities having eight and more lines entering: Chicago, 33; St. Louis, 20; Kansas City, 14; Toledo, 14; New York, 12; Birmingham, 11; New Orleans, 11; Cincinnati, 11; Houston, Tex., 10; Fort Worth, Tex., 10; Memphis, Tenn., 10; Des Moines, Ia.; Detroit, 9; St. Paul, 9; Shreveport, La., 8; Atlanta, Ga., 8; Denver, 8.

A concert given by the Havana Telephone Co. in Havana, Cuba, was heard by radio in Brighton, one evening recently. The voice of the announcer was heard clear and distinct over more than 1,500 miles. He announced each number in both the Spanish and English language. The vocal selections were high class, but the words were unintelligible to the audience here, being sung in Spanish.—Brighton Argus.

In 1838, Sarah Forsythe Merritt, Ypsilanti, who lives on South Adams street and who is now 91 years of age, clearly remembers seeing Indiana pass up and down the crooked trails that are now automobile speedways and vividly describes many a thrilling scene in the early days when Ypsilanti was a trading post, and these winding trails were the only routes to Chicago and Monroe.—Ypsilanti Cor. Washnews Post.

Farmington is to have a new industry. The Detroit Silver Black Fox Co. has secured a tract of land on the Burton road, between Grand River road and the Seven Mile road, two miles from Farmington, and work is well advanced toward establishing a fox ranch there. Peter G. Jolman, who for the past six years has conducted a fox ranch at Muskegon, Mich., where some of the most extensive ranches in the country are located, is at the head of the new enterprise and will be in charge.

One of the most unusual characters of the year is that of Cheney in the picture, "The East is Unusually Good." Cheney, who appears in a Pennine, Aless. Theatre, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, and who later is to appear as Cheney in the picture, "The East is Unusually Good," is bringing happiness to the people who befriend him.

The East is Unusually Good. Aside from Cheney, there are Marguerite De La Motte, Harrison Ford, John Sainpolis, Walter Long, Buddy Messenger and Priscilla Benner, all of whom do good work. The photography is exquisite. Considerable technical skill is seen in the storm sequences which serve to introduce Yen Sin to the austere New England villagers. The production standards are remarkable for their vividness of details. Fishing village scenes make up the picture, but each scene has an "atmosphere" touch that is out of the ordinary.
