PLYMOUTH WINS TWO GAMES

PLYMOUTH HIGH BOYS' AND GIRLS' BASKET BALL TEAMS WIN FROM WAYNE HERE LAST FRIDAY EVENING.

"ROCKS" BEAT, 26-11
Coach Walker was speaking, his voice scarcely over a whisper, yet the dead silence in the room made it sound like a cannon to the six "Rocks" assembled in his office. As he talked on, faint cheers could be heard coming from the court, where six of their team mates were warming up. He was telling them of the importance of this game—if they won, fourth place—if they lost, last place. He was diagnosing Wayne's probable team play; he was breaking down over confidence, yet giving confidence to those who did not have it. It was all in the coach's business, yet when the final whistle blew, with Plymouth winning by a score of 26-11, it should be remembered that it was not only the team, but the coach as well that won the game.

Plymouth was the first to score, Stevens ringing up a basket four minutes after the start of the first quarter. This was quickly followed by three other "Rock" baskets, making the score at the end of the first quarter, 8 to 0, in the home team's favor.

During the second quarter Capt. Sutherland was the only "Rock" to get a basket, while Wayne scored 3 points. The score at the half was 11 to 3.

Coming back for the third quarter, only eight points behind, Wayne promptly started playing the best basket ball they showed during the game. They soon added three field goals, making the score 12 to 9. This was the closest the lads from the "long-wait station" could get to overtaking the "Rocks." Just before the end of the quarter, Strasen shot a basket, which saved the locals the humiliation of being held to a low score by such an inexperienced team.

Starting with Strasen's basket, and all during the fourth quarter, the locals played their best basket ball. Baskets by Stevens, Sutherland and Williams soon gave us a commanding lead. The final score was 26 to 11. Wayne was inexperienced; Plymouth lacked team work. The result was that the game lacked thrills, and seemed slow compared to the fast games played last year by practically the same teams.

The line-up—
R. F.—Sutherland (Capt.)
L. F.—Stevens
C.—Strasen
E. G.—Bartlett
L. G.—Holmes
Substitutions—Williams, Birch, Palmer, Sayles
Referee—Groves of M. S. N. C.

REAL GIRLS' GAME

With four victories and but one defeat, Plymouth girls defeated Wayne last Friday, and made the total five games won and one lost.

Both teams started the game with a fighting spirit (not often seen in girls' cage play) and each team held the other in doubt all through the first half, by adding baskets, one team after another scoring respectively.

With odds against them, the visiting girls returned to the floor, and to all appearances, lay down on the job, allowing Plymouth to run her score so far out of reach, that the game was won by the end of the third quarter.

Plymouth girls seem to be in fighting mood since they lost their only game to Dearborn, and they are "marching on to victory," with the help of Miss Hall, and, as the last game showed, they are going to try for a few tournaments next.

Line-up—
Amrhein, R. F., 3 free throws, 1 technical and 1 personal fouls.
Kiely, L. F., 1 technical and 1 personal fouls.
Whipple, R. C., 1 technical and 4 personal fouls.
White, R. C., 2 personal and 2 technical fouls.
Freydl, R. G., 1 technical foul
Mueller, R. G., 1 personal foul
Hake, L. G., 1 technical foul

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Volmer and son, Junior, of Ecorse, also friends from Highland Park, were callers, Saturday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Mrs. B. E. Champe.

WOMAN'S CLUB

A regular meeting of the Woman's Club was held in the club room, last Friday afternoon, February 23rd, with about thirty persons in attendance. The president, Mrs. George H. Robinson, called the meeting to order at the appointed hour, and a short business session followed. "Famous Brides" was the response given to roll call. The program hour of the afternoon was given over to Mrs. B. F. Williston of Detroit, who gave an instructive talk on "The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence River Tidewater Project and Inland Waterways." Mrs. Williston is deeply interested in this work, and told many noteworthy and important facts in regard to this great project. It is to be regretted that there were not more members out to hear her. The music for the afternoon was in charge of Miss Anna Youngs, and Joseph Tracy rendered two pleasing vocal solos accompanied by Miss Youngs. The program closed with a fine piano solo by Miss Thelma Wheeler, after which ice cream and cake were served by the ninth division, with Mrs. Luther Peck, chairman.

The next meeting of the club will be held Friday afternoon, March 9th.

DEATH OF MRS. FRED W. BRAND

Mrs. Fred W. Brand passed away at her home in Detroit, last Saturday, February 24th. Mr. Brand purchased the George Miller farm in Canton township three years ago, and since that time Mr. and Mrs. Brand have resided through the summer months on the farm and during that time have made many friends in Plymouth and vicinity, who will regret to learn of her death. Besides the husband she leaves three children. The funeral was held from her late home, Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

FIRE DESTROYS JOHN GRAY'S HOME

Fire destroyed the home of John Gray on Junction avenue last Thursday night. Nothing was saved, the family being away from home at the time. The fire department responded quickly to the alarm, but the building was a mass of flames before they arrived. Just how the fire started is not known, but is thought to have originated from the chimney or an overheated stove. The building and contents were insured. Mr. Gray will rebuild. This is the second misfortune that has befallen Mr. and Mrs. Gray within a short time. They had their home swept away in the great flood at Pueblo, Colo., several years ago.

The regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star occurred Tuesday evening. There was a very good attendance and several guests were present. A very interesting program was given.

REV. J. J. PEASE

Rev. J. J. Pease, Baptist State Evangelist, will begin special meetings at the Baptist church, next Sunday, March 4th. Everyone is invited to attend these meetings. They begin at 7:30 each evening, except Saturday, when no meeting will be held. Rev. Pease comes well recommended. He just closed a great meeting in Bad Axe, many accepting Christ. Be sure and come. H. E. Sayles, Pastor.

MRS. FOREST ROHDE DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Plymouth friends were saddened to learn of the death of Mrs. Forest Rohde of pneumonia, at the home of her brother-in-law, Clayton Rohde, in Livonia township, last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Rohde's husband died seven weeks ago last Wednesday. She leaves two sons, Guilford, aged 16 years, and Gilbert, aged 7 months. The funeral services will be held from the home of her brother, T. P. Sherman, on Penniman avenue, in this village, Saturday afternoon, at 2:00 o'clock. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the grief stricken family.

PLYMOUTH 100 YEARS OLD IN 1925

The year of 1925 marks the 100th anniversary of the settlement of Plymouth by the first white settlers. While the time is nearly two years away, yet it is none too early to begin planning on the proper observance of the event at that time. Some sort of a celebration should be planned that will eclipse anything of like nature that has ever taken place here. Every former resident of Plymouth should receive an invitation to come back to the old town on its 100th anniversary. Hundreds of former Plymouthites would be glad of the opportunity to return for an event of this kind. Ypsilanti will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the founding of that city next July.

PRIMARY ELECTION, MARCH 7TH

A general primary election will be held on Wednesday, March 7th, for the purpose of nominating candidates for circuit judges, one county auditor and one commissioner of schools for Wayne county. The successful candidates will be voted for at the annual township election to be held in April.

LOOKING BACK

In late April, 100 years ago, the first steamboat on the Upper Mississippi made its maiden trip. It went from St. Louis to Ft. St. Anthony, now St. Snelling. The white inhabitants of that region were much excited, and the Indians were terrified, thinking the ship a monster. Today we don't believe there is a citizen of Plymouth who fully appreciates the value of that first steamboat trip 100 years ago. It opened up a new and wonderful section to steam navigation and the changes that have since taken place on the river, the increased prosperity and the development of agriculture for hundreds of miles on each side of it are almost too tremendous for the mind to grasp. In the course of 100 years people are apt to be forgetful of the brave happenings which made it possible. There are few thrills at great today, even considering the airplane. Yet anyone who will try to turn his mind back 100 years will get some idea of how far we've traveled in that time.

WILL TRY NEW STUNT

We believe this state would do well to watch the outcome of a new stunt being tried out in Ohio, where prominent bankers are proposing to loan $250,000 to farm boys who want to raise pigs or calves, or put in a crop of their own, just as many boys around Plymouth are interested in doing.

The bankers will loan the money along the same line Uncle Sam loans to the farmer, and in doing so they believe it will go a long way toward keeping the boy on the farm. Once they find they can get real financial backing, and that they can make as much money as the city jobs offer, they are going to be better satisfied, the bankers believe, and there won't be such a temptation to go to the city. Their profits will increase enthusiasm among other boys in the end, and the quarter of a million dollars will prove a good investment. It is certainly going to be worth watching.

GETTING PUBLICITY

Almost everyone at some time or another has to make use of the local newspaper as a means of securing some sort of publicity. Of course it is the fashion with a good many to insist that they do not like to see their names in print. However, there are times when one cannot help permitting it. If you are active in some charity work, or there is a wedding or death in the family, the name goes in. So since it is going in it is well to remember that only through cooperation can it be put in to your complete satisfaction. The right way is to tell the editor or someone connected with the paper, all the particulars, or better still, write it out and mail it or send it or take it to the newspaper office. This insures its correct appearance in the paper and prevents just such mistakes as some people contend the newspapers make too often. Co-operate with your home paper; give out items of interest without forcing the news man to get them in a round-about way. And you'll soon see how much more valuable to you is your home paper than you may now consider.

AGED RESIDENT OF LIVONIA DIES

He is survived by his wife, three daughters—Mrs. Bertha E. Fisher, Mrs. Clinton Gates, Mrs. Ray Rorabacher, and one son, Ed. Meining. The funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral home, last Sunday afternoon, at three o'clock, Rev. D. D. Nagle of the Methodist Episcopal church of this village, officiating. Interment in Livonia Center cemetery. ### “MOLLY BAWN” TO BE GIVEN BY LOCAL PLAYERS

On the night of March 14th, a comedy drama in four acts, will be given by a group of local players, for the benefit of the Methodist pipe organ fund.

This play has been given with such success both by amateurs and professionals, that in 1922 it was considered to be one of the finest plays of the year. The setting is in Ireland, where Michael Bawn, a typical laughable Irishman, by reusucitating a carpet industry, he becomes several times a millionaire. He lives with his daughter, Molly Bawn, in an old ramshackle mansion in the city of Dublin. Michael has been estranged for some years from his sister, now the late widow of a titled Englishman, and residing near London. The latter finally craving for her kin, invites Michael and Molly to visit her. Michael, suspicious of her motives, hesitates, but Molly, learning that she has a girl cousin of her own age, coaxes him into acceptance. Michael however, holding out for the proviso that they shall go as old fashioned poor relatives.

At this point Philip, a dishonest agent of the estate, tries to get Marcia, Michael's sister's daughter, to marry him, so he can obtain from the family some stocks, which, unbeknown to them are worth a large sum of money. Marcia agrees to go with him. Does Philip marry Marcia and get the stocks? Are the Bawns treated well in London by Michael's sister? Will Molly marry? Are there any love scenes in it?—P. S.—Three. Guess who the characters are. These are just some of the questions that will be answered on the 14th in that comedy of comedies, and drama of dramas, “Molly Bawn.”

BAPTIST NOTES

Sunday found many of our people on the sick list, and their places vacant. The pastor spoke in the morning about "Sowing and Reaping," urging the people to be ready for the special revival meetings, beginning next Sunday, March 4th. Rev. J. J. Pease of Reed City, Mich., Baptist State Evangelist will be here to conduct the meetings. Let every member of the church and congregation plan to be there every night for the next two weeks, and help in every way they can to make the meetings a blessing. The pastor's text in the evening was, "The City," Luke 18:2. Mr. Hamill and daughter, Miss Alta, sang the duet. Alton Sayles sang the offertory in the morning, and Fletcher Campbell sang it in the evening.

Many during the Sunday-school hour subscribed for the school of religious education, and hope the amount for our school will soon be met.

Last week Wednesday evening, more than twenty-five young people of the B. Y. P. U. sat down to their annual banquet in the church parlor. The society started two years ago with a few members, but with a steady growth, has become quite a factor in the church, holding their meetings every Sunday evening at 6 o'clock for one hour. After the supper, Mr. Henry Holcomb, vice president, called the meeting to order and spoke a few words of encouragement to the society, with a brief review of the work for the past year. He introduced the pastor, who spoke briefly and then introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. A. K. MacRae, pastor of the Northville Baptist church, who gave the young people one of the best addresses ever given to the society. Several songs were sung during the evening. The election of officers for the ensuing year was as follows:

President—Elbert Seger
Vice Pres.—Henry Holcomb
Secretary—Florence Cline
Treasurer—Madeline Shackleton

Prayer meeting committee—Alton Sayles, chairman, Edith Holcomb, Ira Kingsley. Entertainment committee—Esther Eatop, chairman, Frank Millard, Doris Shackleton. Membership committee—Dorothy Hinman, chairman, Gaylord Sayles, Kenneth Wilks. Mr. and Mrs. Westfall, directors.

Last Monday evening the members of the Baptist church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stanley for a benefit social. A pleasant time was enjoyed by those present, and they left a nice lot of provisions and some money. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley have taken good care of the church this year, and this was an expression of appreciation and good will.

There is a contest on in the Sunday-school—ask "Jimmie" Stephens for particulars.

During March, we shall make preparations for Easter. The pastor will teach a communicant class at the Sunday-school hour each Sunday, for those who desire to unite with the church on Easter Sunday. By the way, Easter will be on April 1st.

A regular meeting of the church and congregation for the election of additional trustees and elders and for the transaction of such other business as shall be brought before the meeting, will be held Monday evening, March 5th, following a pot-luck supper.

Mrs. E. M. Joy has been ill with pneumonia, but she is now on the way to recovery.

Alton Trumbull led an interesting Christian Endeavor meeting, last Sunday. Next week, the orchestra is planning to play. The music will not be broadcasted, so you are invited to come and hear it in person.

Arrangements are being made to bring the Covenant choir of Detroit, to Plymouth. Yes, of course, the young ladies are back of it, and will tell you when.

Despite a tumble of 159 in his last game, Harry German, of Northville, easily beat all hands in Detroit sweepstakes bowling tournament Friday afternoon. Rolling along six alleys in as many games, German completed a total of 1,257 pins. He was the only one of six entries to move beyond the 4,200 mark. Four scores in the double century circle were included in German's record. His best was 246 attained in his first game. The others were 235, 224, 213, Charlie Smith, otherwise the Deacon, was next to the Northville speller.

With three 200 counts on his roster, he finished with a total of 1,162. Tony Gabriel was third, 16 pins behind. German made 1,257 in six games.—Northville Record.

It is announced that Henry Ford has offered to build and equip a museum within the park which Dearborn proposes to set aside along the Little Rouge at that place. The museum collection would consist of the wonderful collection which Mr. Ford has gathered together of agricultural implements and machinery of both ancient and modern times. An idea of this collection was gained by his exhibit at the state fair last summer. It is now on the Ford premises at Dearborn and draws interested people from all over the globe. This paper also bears it rumored that Mr. Ford will probably build the needed dams along the Rouge in the new 1200 acre park which the city is just securing and which extends from the Pere Marquette railroad two miles south of Redford, to Warren avenue.—Redford Record.

All persons are hereby warned to keep off the premises owned by me, known as the Rayville farm, or become liable to prosecution for trespass.—FRANK A. RAY.

Frank H. Ward has been appointed acting postmaster of Redford.

24,000 brook trout have been planted in the streams about Chelsea just recently.

C. B. Cook, Oakland county farm agent: "The winter so far has been very favorable for wheat. We have had a long period of weather in which the wheat has been kept covered, and all fields that were in good condition when the cold weather started, should do very well this summer. March, however, is the critical month for wheat, but with average conditions the prospects will remain as favorable as now."—Rochester Era.

Another thing we can't understand is why spring clothes are on the market before we get our winter overcoats paid for.

When you see a Plymouth man out at the elbows it's a sign of poverty, but when a woman is, it's a sign she's keeping up with the fashions.

The flax seed crop was short last season. Be careful not to get anything in your eyes.

A Plymouth man will admit his wife may be wrong, or that his political party is wrong, but did you ever see one who would admit that his watch was wrong?

Another thing about the woman who has a homely husband—she does not have to be worried by jealousy.

Money is so cheap in some European countries that they pay their bills by express instead of by mail.

Give a Plymouth boy all the money he wants and he'll probably live to be 100—for he'll never be worth killing.

Or course none of us can change the weather. But this winter has convinced us that most of us can do a good deal of grumbling about it.

A CARD—We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness, the beautiful flowers and expressions of sympathy shown us in the loss of our dear father; also Rev. Nagle for his comforting words.

Mrs. Christian Meinung and Family.

THE THEATRE

"PEG O' MY HEART"

The work of bringing the masterpiece of the stage within reach of home, into communities never reached by stage performances, has another striking contribution in the translation to the world of the screen of the famous stage play, "Peg O' My Heart," in which Laurette Taylor made her memorable characterization of Peg, which has become world-wide in fame.

"Peg O' My Heart," now a Metro picture, with Laurette Taylor appearing in her famous role, comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, March 7 and 8. This fascinating tale of J. Hartley Manners' conception, with Ireland and England as the background, and the elin ways and humors and pathos of the motherless little girl providing the main theme, has had 6,608 stage performances in the United States. Laurette Taylor created the role and has been identified with it ever since, even being known as Peg Taylor.

It's a tale of an Irish father and an English mother, of the Chichesters and Kingsworths, and of Sir Gerald Adair, Peg's legal guardian; and of the circumstances, amusing as well as heart-stirring, that attend the young girl when she leaves the little Irish farmhouse where she was born and ventures among strangers to whom good form is the cardinal requirement.

As in the stage play, Miss Taylor has the assistance of Michael, the famous canine actress with the masculine name. Michael has been with Miss Taylor in all her performances of Peg.

The screen production of "Peg O' My Heart" as directed by King Vidor. Miss Taylor's brilliant supporting cast includes such capable and popular players as Mahlon Hamilton, Russell Simpson, Ethel Grey Terry, Nigel Barrie, Lionel Belmore, Vera Lewis, Sidna Beth Ivin, D. R. O. Hantswell, Aileen O'Malley and Fred Huntly.

SPLENDID ROMANCE IS "THE PRISONER OF ZENDA"

"The Prisoner of Zenda," which has thrilled thousands who have read the book or seen the play, has been made into a photoplay by Rex Ingram, the man who leaped into the front rank of motion picture directors by his production of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." This Metro picture, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre on Sunday and Monday, March 4 and 5, preserves all those elements which made the Edward Rose litage version of the novel by Anthony Hope, on which the photoplay is based, so popular.

It is a story of the adventures of Rudolf Rassendyll, a young Englishman who for a time became the king of the mythical country of Ruritania and who won the love of the Princess Flavia, after a series of plots and counterplots during which he is compelled to fight for his very life. Beautiful settings, gorgeous costumes, and an exceptional cast contribute to make this romance one which will be talked about by all lovers of good pictures.

Another thing we can't understand is why spring clothes are on the market before we get our winter overcoats paid for.

The flax seed crop was short last season. Be careful not to get anything in your eyes.

A Plymouth man will admit his wife may be wrong, or that his political party is wrong, but did you ever see one who would admit that his watch was wrong?

Another thing about the woman who has a homely husband—she does not have to be worried by jealousy.

Money is so cheap in some European countries that they pay their bills by express instead of by mail.

Give a Plymouth boy all the money he wants and he'll probably live to be 100—for he'll never be worth killing.

Or course none of us can change the weather. But this winter has convinced us that most of us can do a good deal of grumbling about it.

A CARD—We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness, the beautiful flowers and expressions of sympathy shown us in the loss of our dear father; also Rev. Nagle for his comforting words.

DETROIT'S PROPOSED BELT LINE

Work on the proposed Detroit Belt Line railroad will be started during the present year if the interstate commerce commission gives the necessary approval. It is announced by Peter N. Jacobsen of Detroit, who is promoting the plan to relieve Detroit freight congestion. The railroad would be 60 miles in length and double-tracked over the entire route, which would extend from Wyandotte through Wayne, Farmington and Pontiac to Mt. Clemens. About two years would be required to build the line and put it in operation. The road would cost approximately $5,000,000. The plan, endorsed by many Detroit manufacturers and other shippers, is declared to be a step toward creation of a great industrial district to extend many miles along the Detroit river and out into the surrounding country. In effect, the district would be in the shape of a half circle, the base resting along the river and the apex being in Pontiac. Creation of a steel industry center down river from Detroit is a part of this major program. One large steel plant now is being constructed, and other like enterprises are being planned.—Michigan Investor.

Methodist Notes

All out for the big event. What is it? Why, the Father and Son banquet. Haven't you heard about it? Well, it is to be next Tuesday night, at 6:30, at the church. The ladies are preparing a fine supper, and the committee of the Men's Bible Class are preparing a fine program, and the boys are preparing a good old-fashioned appetite. Come on, dad, let's go. If you've got a boy of the age of about 12 to 21, just see what happens when you invite him to this banquet with you. And if you haven't got one of that age, borrow someone else's, and show him a good time. A. F. Tull, President of the Detroit Business Institute, and teacher of the Tull Bible Class of Wesley Methodist Church, one of the largest in Detroit, is to be the big speaker. And the price? Oh, well, that's not very much when you consider all that you are going to get, and that you are showing that boy of yours a good time. Just 50c a plate, which means a dollar for dad. Don't you think it will be a worth while investment? You can get your tickets at Parrott's Real Estate Office. But—get in on the first rush.

Mrs. Sallow's company gives a birthday supper at the church tonight, at 5:30. We are all going, of course.

The Primary Department gave a very delightful program at the opening of Sunday-school last Sunday. Something special for next Sunday.

Mrs. Hillman's Company gives a Home Talent play at the High school, Wednesday, the 14th.

Well, well, we crossed the $3,000 mark in our pipe organ fund yesterday, which leaves just $845 yet to go. Have you subscribed yet? No? Then call, yell, phone, write or send your subscription to the pastor or William Sutherland today, before you forget it. Time is getting short. The workers will be here within a week or two to begin installing the organ. If you've got $5, $10, $25, $50, or $100 or more or less, to invest in good music for our church, let us know. We won't refuse.

Has your Advocate subscription been paid for 1923? It must be in by April 1.

How about coming to church next Sunday, and bringing the whole family? Try it, and see if the day and the whole week doesn't go lots better, and life seem sweeter.

Prayer service Thursday evening, at 7:30.
The pastor is away for several days this week at Monroe, helping in the canvas for Christian Education.

SAY PLYMOUTH HAS GOOD TEAM.

The following, regarding the recent basket ball game between the girls teams of Redford and Plymouth High schools, played there recently, from the Redford Record, will be of interest to our basket ball fans: "The girls' game was hotly contested throughout with Plymouth keeping in the running in the first half because of the ability of their foul shooter. In the second half Plymouth drew ahead because of the large number of fouls called on Redford, and finally DePotty, Redford's star guard, was forced out of the game which allowed Kieley, Plymouth's star forward, to take more time on her shots. She made two, making the final score not very close. Redford made five field goals while Plymouth only made one until the closing minutes of play. Bacon, who substituted for DePotty, also played well although lacking experience. However the Redford girls have nothing to be ashamed of as Plymouth has a fine team."

GOOD AND BAD LUCK SNEEZES

Peculiar Beliefs Have Been Handed Down From the Earliest Days of the World's History.

When everyone seems to be sneezing, it is interesting to recall the many queer superstitions which have been associated with sneezing from the earliest times.

The Greeks always regarded it as lucky to sneeze between noon and midnight, but most unlucky to sneeze between midnight and noon. In fact, it is said that they used to get back into bed for a while if they happened to sneeze while getting up in the morning.

The old custom, which still survives, of saying "God bless you" to those who sneeze, undoubtedly originated in the days when plagues and epidemics were rampant over Europe. It was noticed that those who sneezed died shortly afterward from the prevailing epidemic, and they were therefore greeted with the words, "God bless you," meaning "God help you." In those days people used to accompany these words with the sign of the cross, but this custom now seems to be extinct.

Another old superstition maintained that to sneeze to the right was a lucky sign, but it was unlucky to sneeze to the left.

Sneezing is associated even with bridegrooms, for it was always thought a sign of coming good luck if they sneezed on their wedding day.

A Good Thing—Don't Miss It. Send your name and address plainly written, together with 5 cents (and this slip) to Chamberlain's Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa, and receive in return a trial package containing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchial, "flu" and whooping coughs, and tickling throat; Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for stomach troubles, indigestion, gassy pains that crowd the heart, biliousness and constipation; Chamberlain's Salve, needed in every family for burns, scalds, wounds, piles, and skin affections; these valued family medicines for only 5 cents. ### EASY TO POINT OUT MORAL Present Generation Should Take Lesson From the Fate of the Pre-historic Baluchitherium.

Behold the Baluchitherium come again into public notice after laying down his wearied bones possibly two or three millions of years ago.

He was built, say the paleontologists who broke open his resting place, after the general design of the modern rhinoceros. His skull was five feet long, and from this you can make a fair guess as to his total size. Mentally the Baluchitherium was reactionary. His skull was almost entirely bone. The brain cavity was hardly larger than a cavity which might have formed in one of his back teeth. And because he carried conservatism to its farthest lengths he and his kind perished from the face of the earth.

There came a period in the career of the genus when environment greatly altered. The weather may have grown colder or warmer. An arid climate may have succeeded a humid one. Marsh may have humped itself up into mountains or highlands become depressed to stagnant levels. Whatever the changes were, the Baluchitherium did not change with them. He did not fit himself to new circumstances. A reactionary horn, a reactionary by breeding and temperament, his eyes on the past rather than on the present and the future, he committed racial suicide. Nature became impatient with him and, save for his skeleton—now become the wonder and pride of science—wiped him out.

The moral in the ancient Baluchitherium for us, dear readers, is this: March with the times. As environment alters, make ourselves suitable to it. Seek happiness in our own days instead of mourning about days and conditions gone forever.—Don't make nature querulous with us.—Toledo Blade.

Porky Hero of Zoo.

There is a new hero in the grounds surrounding the small mammal house in Bronx zoological park and all the small animals are chattering about the deeds of Porky the porcupine, the New York Sun relates.

Porky was never thought much of by the raccoons, opossums and his other neighbors. He would not help entertain visitors, did little beside sleep and wait for the keepers to bring his food, and recently has been growing very fat.

It was this lazy attitude, perhaps, that impelled a stray poodle dog that eluded the watchful gate keepers and made his way into the park to try to arouse some signs of life in the indolent Porky.

He succeeded. At the first bark he discovered that the humpback looking ball was very much alive and by the time Porky finished shouting his quills it was too late for the poodle to do anything but cry pitifully for help.

Several keepers rushed out to see what had happened, but by that time the poodle was making tracks for the Buffalo range and Boston road entrance, and probably never stopped till he landed in the arms of his mistress, who surely had a job pulling out the dirt and binding up the wounds.

Metaphor Not an Ornament.

A metaphor is the result of the search for a precise epithet. It is no more ornamental than a man's Christian name. For most of the things whose quality a writer wishes to convey there are no precise epithets, simply because he is always engaged in discovering their qualities, and, like the chemist, has to invent names for the elements he discovers. Moreover, I suppose, three-quarters of the epithets we have are old metaphors. Try to be precise, and you are bound to be metaphorical; you simply cannot help establishing affinities between all the provinces of the animate and inanimate world; for the volatile essence you are trying to fix is quality, and in that effort you will inevitably find yourself ransacking heaven and earth for a similitude. That is the simple truth which underlies the Aristotelian dictum on the importance of metaphor; so long, moreover, as we remember that metaphor is essential to precision with which a thought is expressed, then it is unnecessary and to be sacrificed without compunction.—J. Middleton Murray, in "The Problem of Style."

Unusual Feat of Arms.

The name of the Maritza, the river which appears likely to form the boundary of Thrace, is associated with one of the most unusual feats of arms in modern history. In 1885 Bulgaria, under Prince Alexander, found herself unexpectedly at war with Serbia and only short of ammunition. Most of the fighting in the three days' battle of Slivnitza had to be executed by bayonet charges, and to stimulate the troops, the Bulgarian bands came into action, playing the national air, "Djumi-Maritza." The charges were irresistible.

Got Warning in Radio.

A woman in California, listening to on a radio set, heard a warning from the state board of health as to the dangers of rabies. She had been bitten shortly before by a sick dog. The advice coming through the ether caused her to have an analysis of the dog's head made, which showed that the dog had been suffering from rabies and she reported for treatment in time to save her life from the dreaded disease.

DOING AWAY WITH LEAKAGE

All electric contacts should be soldered. There are plenty of reasons why this step should never be omitted. In radio work the aerial currents are always feeble. It does not do to lose any. No better leak device is known than a hackle of sharp points. Electric charges escape by this route into the surrounding air at every opportunity.

When electrons find a region set with narrowing edges and points they crowd into it driven by their powers of mutual repulsion. Voltages become high out on narrow areas. Electrons find it easier to leap to molecules of air nearby than to stay among their kind on the point. There is a remedy that is easily applied. Bend down all projecting ends of wire and melt a large drop of solder over the whole spot. Electrons find it most difficult to get off a sphere.

Soldering provides a continuous metal contact between wires, and does away with losses by resistance, to a large extent.

Frogs for Bad Throats.

Even today many people have strange beliefs and superstitions. All sorts of quaint rites are carried out, particularly in connection with children.

Some mothers, for instance, believe in cutting their baby's hair at the waxing of the moon. This ceremony dates back for thousands of years to the days when people regarded it as a safeguard against evil.

Another silly superstition is that of giving children live frogs to suck. This is supposed to prevent and cure "thrush," or injury to the throat. Again, there are still women who think that they will improve their children's health by eating raisins and placing the stones on the baby's stomach.

Modern science is rapidly abolishing these old ideas, but they still hold their ground in certain places.

A. PETER KENNEDY

One of the candidates for county office at the primary on next Wednesday, March 7th, A. Peter Kennedy is trying to reach the voters with a message that will interest every individual taxpayer. In seeking the support of voters for County Auditor, Mr. Kennedy is pledging to give the public not only service, but to work for a closer co-operation between the city and county governments, under existing laws, that will not only result in saving money, but also increase the efficiency of the various public departments. While making a short campaign Kennedy has devoted a large portion of his time to Detroit, yet found time to touch every village and nearly all the townships in Wayne county for a brief visit. He just kept telling the voters and taxpayers what he proposes to do if elected County Auditor, nothing revolutionary, but plain business with a lot of activity. Candidate Kennedy is a life-long resident of Detroit, veteran of the World War, competent accountant and salesman, so by friends pronounced competent for the position.—Political Advertisement.

ARTHUR E. GORDON

JUDGE GORDON HAS MADE GOOD
"Of unusual capacity"—Detroit News.
40,000 cases in four years.

Arthur E. Gordon, one of the justices of the peace for the city of Detroit, and candidate for circuit judge, claims to have saved the residents of Detroit at least $6,000 per day during the past two years in the price of bread alone. Sitting as a grand jury, at the request of Prosecuting Attorney Paul W. Voorhis, he investigated the price-fixing by the big bakers of Detroit, and forced a reduction of three cents per loaf, two years ago. More than 200,000 loaves of bread are sold per day in Detroit and suburbs. This figures out nearly $2,000,000 per year.

Judge Gordon was born in Detroit, educated there and was for many years a reporter and city editor for the Detroit Journal. He was admitted to practice of law in 1910, and has since then, earned his living by the practice of his profession, save for a year spent in the service of his country, on the Mexican border, and has been a justice of the peace since his release by the government three months after the armistice was signed. During his terms as justice, he has tried 40,000 cases, so has had remarkable experience as a judge. "Of unusual capacity" is what The Detroit News said of him editorially, Feb. 27.—Political Advertisement.

SCHOOL NOTES

The High school girls are now having work on heavy apparatus. This consists of exercises on the horse, learning to dismount lightly. On the parallel bars the girls mount by the assistance of their arms, and do various exercises on them. Suspension exercises are performed on the horizontal bar; practice has also been given in chinning. The different walks of animals have been imitated on the mats; also track events, such as hopping and broad jumping are tried. At the end of the period, the girl in each squad who has succeeded in doing the best on the mats, competes with the other which decides the champion. These different exercises help to develop the muscles, and the brain, because quick thinking is needed that no serious accident may occur.

In learning the good old-fashioned Virginia reel, the eighth grade girls are having lots of fun. They are also being taught two new folk dances, which are the Ace of Diamonds and the Pied Piper.

To make more proficient leaders and give each girl some responsibility, the seventh grade girls are practicing teaching a part of their own class in Swedish gymnastics. These leaders are required to get their exercises a few days before and practice them, so that they may handle their whole class efficiently.

As yet no definite time has been set for the first team games at Northville.

The orchestra pupils are to be commended for the manner in which they played at the Washington's Birthday banquet, held at the Presbyterian church, last Thursday evening.

To show the proper pruning necessary in removing branches that rub against each other and branches that grow in an awkward position, drawings of trees are being made by the seventh and eighth grade art pupils.

The following pupils have been promoted from the fourth A to the fifth B, because they did such excellent work, and will try to do the advanced studies: Jean Strong, James Roberts, Carol Simcock, Ruth Hetsler, John Randall and Marion Hadley.

A contest has been started in the first grade for punctuality. At the end of March a little present is to be given to those neither absent nor tardy.

In the first grade Norval Bovee and Halvor Burden were the only pupils neither absent nor tardy during February.

Three new pupils entered school last week: Wilma Hunt from Shiawassee, Mich., and Beulah Mitchell from Newburg, entered the first grade; Houston Mitchell of Newburg, was enrolled in the sixth grade.

Perrin Hawk and Walter Klinski of the ninth grade manual training class, are constructing a rack for the dinners of the country children. It is to be placed in the lunch room.

We can tell spring is near once again, as the three divisions of the seventh grade are making various kinds of bird houses, which are to be put up around Plymouth.

In the history class of the sixth grade, the French and Indian war is being studied, and in language, they have started the study of myths.

Plymouth school is one of the schools of Michigan which give Courtiss tests. One of these was given to the sixth grade in arithmetic, last week.

Mr. Walker of the sixth grade, is collecting penmanship papers, which are to be sent to the A. N. Palmer Co. Some pupils will probably receive buttons, while others are hoping to get a diploma.

Material from every source possible is being gathered by the fifth graders for their booklets about China and Japan for geography.

The fourth A section have started the study of Hiawatha.

It was estimated fifteen per cent of the pupils in the lower grades were absent last week; the flu and grippe were the cause of a great many of these. The tardy marks may be accounted for by the cold and slippery weather.

The Central Market received visitors from the eighth grade girls last week. Our school cooks were taken there to learn about the different cuts of meat.

After an operation for the removal of tonsils, Gladys Schrader has returned to school. Her return has been a great help to Miss Fern Hall in accompanying the orchestra and Glee clubs.

Mr. Smith is attending the meeting in Cleveland of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association. The National Association meeting is held in the summer time, and the various department meetings during the school year.

Mr. Noon, vice president of the State Farm Bureau, spoke here Wednesday evening. Several reels of movie films were also shown.

Roasted weenies n' everything were cooked by the Girl Scouts for their dinner a week ago last Tuesday evening. The girls left Plymouth about four o'clock, and hiked two miles out on the Plymouth road until they came to River Rouge, where they stopped and had their dinner and played games. Afterwards they all hiked back home.

The pupils in the commercial geography class are preparing special reports on methods of production of particular food products. The main points to be brought out are history of the plant, methods of production, where it is raised, and how much food value it contains.

The animal husbandry class has been testing milk. Some of their tests have been found satisfactory, while others have not been. The class is willing to make herd tests on Tuesdays or Thursdays for any farmer who requests it.

The seventh grade spelling class have organized their base ball teams for the second semester. The teams and captains are as follows: The Invincibles, Jack Caldwell; The Champions, Elizabeth Murray; The Beavers, Leona Bayer.

The seventh grade class now has sixty-one members, and their class treasurer, Dorothy Lombard, has been collecting all the dues from the members of the class, so they will be able to pay their share of the Plymphean expenses.

The following furnished the material for the school activities this week: Kenneth Bartlett, the boys' basket ball game; Glenn Mitchell, the girls' basket ball game; Genevieve Butler, the Babcock test; Clara Hawk, Mr. Pearson's visit; Dorothy Hinnau, grade reporter; Bonnie Mueller, High school reporter; Fannie Grainger, Mrs. Ferry's address.

THE VALUE OF THE #### BABCOCK TEST

At the present price of milk, dairy men are not making a great profit, and it is necessary therefore for them to know exactly the quantity and quality of the milk they are receiving from each cow. The Babcock test is a method of ascertaining the amount of butter fat in milk and its products. This tester was devised by S. M. Babcock, Ph. D., chief chemist of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station, and was made public in 1890. With this invention, the problem of a rapid, accurate and inexpensive method of testing milk was solved. The following results have come from its use. First, the payment for milk according to its fat content has been made practical; second, makers of butter and cheese have been able to detect and prevent losses of fat in the process of manufacture; third, milk producers have been able to detect unprofitable cows; fourth, to a large extent the watering and skimming of milk has been prevented; fifth, it has been of great service in scientific dairy investigation, and has in general been a source of educational inspiration. The animal husbandry class have all learned to use the school tester.

MRS. FERRY TALKS TO #### HIGH SCHOOL

Mrs. Ferry, the curator of the State Historical Collection, talked to the High school, last Thursday, in assembly. In the first place more people study the United States as a whole, and forget or seem not to be interested in the study of our Michigan. In most of the schools of this state little time is spent on incidents occurring here. At first Michigan was thought of as only a large swamp, where nothing could be grown excepting mosquitos, fever and ague, Indians and snakes. One of the national surveyors reported that there would be only five hundred acres of tillable land. When it was found that something could be done, the people elected a governor, Steven T. Mason. The king at Beaver Island was very powerful, had good morals, and would not allow any intemperance of any kind. He was well liked, but when he began telling the women what to wear, his downfall came rapidly. This ended Mormonism in Michigan. Michigan is now booming. At one time she led in producing copper and iron. The first agricultural college in the world was founded at Lansing. Some of the students who have graduated from this college have gone on and established similar colleges elsewhere. One of the governors of Arkansas once stated that his state was the only state mentioned in the bible. Noah looked out of his "ark-and-saw." Mrs. Ferry replied that the lumber used to build the ark was grown in Michigan. She told this little incident to show us that we should be proud of our Michigan, to stand up for her always and to study her history more than we have in the past.

MR. PEARSON VISITS PLYM-

OUTH AGGIE CLUB

Mr. Pearson, one of the M. A. C. Extension workers, spoke to the Aggie Club members last week, while he was here going over some work with Mr. Wagner. His work is helping to organize livestock clubs throughout the state. Mr. Pearson spoke about club work and what it means to the boys and girls, and the value of M. A. C. to the farm boy or girl.

Mr. Pearson and Mr. Wagner organized a calf club for boys between Plymouth and Northville. This club will be under the supervision of Mr. Wagner and a local leader. These men will try to teach the boys how to judge stock, and the value of pure-bred animals.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

The service last Sunday was bright and impressive; the hymns were joined in heartily, and the singing of the Venite, by the congregation, was fine. Joseph Tracy sang the voluntary solo, "Just for Today." Franklin Gibson was at his best and preached a very helpful sermon. Next Sunday, Mr. Gibson's subject will be, "The Light of the World," from John 8:12.

Mid-week Lenten services are held in the church every Thursday evening at 7:30 during Lent. This week Mr. Gibson's subject was, "Jesus—His Firmness." Next week Thursday evening his subject will be "Jesus—His Greatness," from Isaiah 9:6. Mr. Gibson wants every member to attend these services and to bring a friend. They will prove to be most helpful at this season of the year. After the Thursday evening services, there will be a practice of new hymn tunes and chants. Those members who can be asked to remain for these practices.

Next Wednesday, March 7th, the Ladies' Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. Arthur Torre on East Ann Arbor road, at two o'clock. The Ladies' Guild of St. John's, Wayne, has invited the members of the Plymouth Guild to meet them next Thursday afternoon, March 8th, at two o'clock, at the home of Mrs. C. C. Mabin, Wayne. It is hoped that every member will endeavor to be there. Most of the members will probably take the one o'clock car.

The sickness among our Church-school pupils is diminishing, and we were glad to see some of those who were absent through this cause, back again in their places on Sunday. We are especially thankful at the recovery of little Alvin Angelo, one of Mrs. Jennings' kindergarten class, and little grandson of one of our oldest members, Mrs. Sweet, who has been seriously ill. We want all the pupils to be present during the next few Sundays in Lent, as Mrs. Murphy is giving an essay each Sunday, the first of which was the life and work of Bishop Tuttle, that "grand old man" as he is known in our church, who has devoted all his life to mission work among the Indians. Last Sunday was an essay on, "The baptismal class of Indians who learned about Christ and were baptized with their children."

A letter has been received from Charles O. Ford, secretary of the diocese, thanking the members of St. John's, Plymouth, on behalf of Mrs. Williams and the members of the executive council, for their expressions of sympathy and affection in this time of great sorrow, caused through the death of our beloved bishop.

W. C. T. U.

The meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held Thursday, February 22, at the home of Mrs. E. R. Daggett, was well attended. A patriotic program was given, with readings bearing upon the life and work of both George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. A beautiful story of Lincoln, prepared by Mrs. F. W. Hillman, was read by Mrs. J. Rattenbury. Two vocal solos by Mrs. Cassidy were greatly enjoyed and little Miriam Brown delighted the ladies with a cunning recitation. The next meeting will occur Thursday, March 22nd, at the home of Mrs. S. L. Bennett.

Don't forget the village caucus to be held Saturday, March 10th, at 2:00 o'clock p. m., at the Village Hall. All women voters should make an effort to be present.

DIVERS IN CONSTANT PERIL

Aggressive Denizens of the Deep by No Means /11 They Have to Contend With.

"When a diver sees a shark," said Captain Smith, "he nips the valve of the tube through which he receives air from the surface, and then lets it go again. This makes great air bubbles in the water and usually the shark swims for its life when it sees them. Another trick to escape a shark is to hide behind a clump of seaweed until it has gone."

"Another peril of deep-sea diving is a disease which is caused by a diver being hauled to the surface too quickly. The pressure of the water when he is in the sea is relieved by compressed air inside his diving suit. When he is brought to the top suddenly the air in the suit rushes into his veins. He becomes like a soda-water bottle which bubbles up suddenly when it is opened.

"The diver's veins fill with air bubbles, and if these reach the heart he is a doomed man. The only remedy is to get him back again into the water and lower him to the same depth from which he was brought up. This draws the air out of his veins, and he is cured by the time he reaches the surface again. If they did not put him back in the water he would die in three minutes.

"Other dangers which divers have to face are blanket fish and the octopus. A blanket fish is a great flat beast which floats over the diver and suddenly comes down on him and envelops him. Like the octopus, it absorbs him into its system.

"My diving suit is of the latest pattern, and has a telephone attached. I can communicate with the men on the surface with it, or with another diver near me. Divers, if they are not brought to the surface carefully, will leap out of the water to a great height, like fish. Few divers go down more than 200 feet, and at this depth they only stay down about ten minutes."

Dislike the Telephone.

Most of us who are accustomed to the telephone as a constant instrument in business and social life find it hard to remember that some of our leading public men will not and even cannot make use of it. Lloyd George is well known to have the strongest objections to speaking on the telephone, and there are few people who can boast that they have "rung him up." That, perhaps, is sufficient foundation for a story that is circulating in the political clubs. Mr. Balfour (so the story runs) had occasion to telephone the other day on urgent business. A secretary was called to the telephone and told that Mr. Balfour wished to speak. After that the secretary could hear nothing for some moments except a distant and confused mumbling. The secretary was much abashed and was summoning up courage to request Mr. Balfour to "speak up" when Mr. Balfour's voice suddenly came through clearly as follows: "I'm very sorry; I'm afraid I'm as bad at the telephone as Lloyd George himself. I've been talking for the last two minutes into the thing you ought to put to your ear."—Manchester Guardian.

"Thread of Discourse."

The term "thread of discourse" has done very well as a figure of speech. In reality, of course, the main relation between thread and it of course or what not, and discourse, has been purely one of transmission. But now, if a Swiss inventor makes good his claims, thread of discourse will have more than a metaphorical meaning. It will be possible to have a spool of thread which will take dictated messages and repeat them as required. In other words, this thread, which is of cellulose, will record speech in the same way as disks and cylinders. Such a device would seem to entail interesting improvements. For example, records should go comfortably into the vest pocket. Used for dictating business letters, it might lead to an abandonment of the usual colorless brevity. With a mile of thread at his disposal, why should not the business man expand into all the florid affability of the Victorians? Used for amusement, a whole Wagnerian opera might fit neatly into a single spool.—Christian Science Monitor.

Some Snake Story.

At the Bruce Museum of Natural History at Greenwich, Conn., there is quite a collection of snakes, some of which were captured during the past summer upon country expeditions of patrons of the institution. One of these contributions, a garter snake, was viewed with unusual interest as it was suspected it was a mother snake and that she was about to make some interesting contributions to the museum's collection. This occurred on August 15, when 30 tiny snakes were ushered into the world. In five days the same sort of event occurred, when presided over by the same snake 23 snakelets were added to the first brood. Five died; but the others seem in a fair way to reach adult snakehood. Toward night the mother snake coils up her body and is at once covered by her offspring.

The Pneumonia Month.

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When given cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in an expectorant and cleans out the germ-laden mucus and not only cures a cold, but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.—Advertisement.

A CARD—We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their assistance, Monday night, at the fire, which destroyed several out buildings. Especially do we wish to thank the telephone operator who called help. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McDonald.
