METHODIST CHURCH DEDICATES NEW ORGAN

The events of the last few days at the local Methodist church witness the culmination of seven years of effort after the burning of the church. Six years ago the eighth of April the new church was dedicated by Bishop Theodore Henderson. Last Sunday, the fifteenth of April, the new pipe organ was dedicated with Dr. W. H. Phelps, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, preaching a wonderfully impressive sermon on "The Priceless Value of Knowing Christ." Dr. Phelps' genial wit and humor served but to give added emphasis to the message he sought to convey. His hearers will long remember both the message and the messenger, but still more will they keep ever before them the clearer vision of the Christ and all that He means to us, and to all the world.

A brief service of dedication included a dedication prayer by Dr. Phelps, while the members of the choir, the organist and the organ committee of the church stood together at the altar.

At the evening service Dr. Howard Field of Wesley Methodist Church, Detroit, held his audience for nearly an hour, with a gripping and heart-searching message on the application of the Golden Rule to our personal daily life, and to the world's life in general, clearly convincing all present that Christianity can be applied any time and everywhere, if we but will do so. After all, these principles of Christ are the only hope of this old world of ours, and those present Sunday evening, are grateful for this timely message.

Large crowds attended the services Sunday, in spite of the stormy weather, the church being filled morning and evening. Everyone was delighted with the new organ, and the organist, Miss Winifred Jolliffe, is to be complimented on her splendid efforts at handling a new organ. On Monday evening a packed house greeted the appearance of Guy C. Filkins, organist of Central Methodist Church, Detroit, whose playing is being broadcasted every Sunday. He easily proved his exceptional ability at handling an organ, and folks who heard him, have a deeper appreciation of the wonderful qualities and possibilities of a pipe organ. Each one of Mr. Filkins' selections were greeted enthusiastically by an appreciative audience. He was assisted by Harold Roberts, tenor soloist of Royal Oak, whose two pleasing numbers added richly to the delightful program. Plymouth is fortunate to have had this concert by two such capable musicians.

Tuesday evening nearly two hundred people sat down to one of the finest banquets of the year, prepared by the ladies of Mrs. Thoma's division of the Ladies' Aid, and served by the young ladies of the Sunday-school. Rev. Hathaway, who was present, returned thanks. After the feast, the pastor of the church introduced Rev. Frank M. Field of Detroit, former pastor of the local church during the time when the new church was built, and plans were laid for the purchase of the new pipe organ. His "home-coming" added much to the joy of the occasion, and his efficient leadership as toastmaster quickened the pulse of the whole program. Mrs. D. D. Nagle sang an opening number with a well-rendered solo, following which Robert Jolliffe responded with the toast, "In Battle Array," showing what the church had been accomplishing, and presenting what the church yet needs to be doing. We are now ready for the fray. The company present were then treated to a very exceptional piano solo by Ruth Allison, a very talented and promising young lady at the ivories.

The toast by Mrs. E. V. Jolliffe was one which left a deep impression on those present. "Under Fire," was her topic, and surely in the home, in the church, and everywhere while under fire, we will beat up courageously and our part. Dr. Leeson, District Superintendent, followed this with a note of "Victory," complimenting us for victories achieved, and encouraging us to go on to greater achievements. The program would not have been complete without this word from the genial leader of Ann Arbor District.

The main address of the evening was given by Dr. Russell Brady, pastor of Central Church, Pontiac, and also Mayor Pro Tem of that city, who, with impelling conviction showed us our duty as citizens of this community and of this great country, to stand by the highest and best interests of our own community, and in order to do this we must stay, by the christian church. It was one of the greatest addresses that has been delivered in Plymouth, and those present will not soon forget it. Dr. Brady's Irish wit and humorous anecdotes added quality to his impressive words. Folks will want to hear him again whenever they get a chance.

We were able to catch just a word from our good friend and brother, Paul W. Voorhies, who, with his wife, was present from Detroit. We are always glad to have these good folks come back to us, for we feel that they belong to Plymouth church and community. It was a pleasure to have them with us for the occasion. Among others present from out of town were: Mrs. Hudd and son, Leslie, of Detroit; Mrs. W. R. Pierce of Springport; Mrs. H. A. Leeson of Ann Arbor, and Mrs. Frank Field and Miss Nellie Huger of Detroit. After a closing word of greeting and counsel from E. V. Jolliffe, chairman of the organ committee of the church, Dr. Leeson dismissed the gathering with prayer and a benediction.

JOHN L. GALE PASSES AWAY

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS, MR. GALE WAS IDENTIFIED WITH THE BUSINESS LIFE OF PLYMOUTH.

Plymouth people were greatly shocked last Friday forenoon, when it became known that John L. Gale, one of our best known citizens, and for over half a century a prominent business man had been found dead in his yard, where he had been doing some work. Mr. Gale had been chopping down a bush in the back yard, when his niece, Ivaleta Cole, who resided with him, saw him lying upon the ground. She called to him several times, but getting no response, became alarmed and went to the neighbors to summon aid. A physician was called at once, but death had evidently come instantly as the unfortunate man had pitched forward on his face as he probably was in the act of swinging the ax.

Mr. Gale's death came as a great shock to his most intimate friends, as he had expressed himself to them lately as feeling unusually well, in fact better than he had been for some time. Mr. Gale just recently disposed of his grocery business, and had planned to spend his remaining years in ease and comfort, after over sixty years, as a clerk and proprietor in the mercantile business in Plymouth. Beginning as a clerk when only fourteen years of age, Mr. Gale had seen many changes in the business personnel of Plymouth. Merchants have come and gone, but with the exception of a single one, all are gone who were in business in Plymouth when he acquired an interest in the drug and grocery business conducted by his uncle, the late Dr. A. B. Coleman.

Mr. Gale was highly esteemed by all who knew him, and his death marks the close of a long and useful life. The funeral services were held from his late home, Monday afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. D. D. Nagle officiating. As a mark of respect, the business places were closed during the funeral hour. The interment took place in Riverside cemetery.

John L. Gale was born in Salem, Washtenaw County, Michigan, July 14th, 1846. He was the son of John L. and Sarah Packard Gale. His parents having died, he came to Plymouth when seven years of age, and lived with his uncle and aunt, the late Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Coleman, who were engaged in the drug and grocery business. At the age of 21, Mr. Gale was taken in as a partner, and upon the death of his uncle, he became sole owner of the business in which he was continuously engaged, until a few weeks before his death. On August 31, 1876, he was united in marriage to Fannie Deborah Cole, who passed away February 16, 1921. Mr. Gale leaves three nieces, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, Mrs. Henry Hare and Miss Ivaleta Cole, and several cousins.

SOME BIG PICTURES COMING

Manager Lush of the Penniman Allen theatre, has booked the following big pictures: Douglas Fairbanks in "Robin Hood," April 29, 30 and May 1; Harold Lloyd in "Safety Last," May 6, 7, 8; Mary Pickford in "Tess of the Storm Country."

PIPE ORGAN OPENING AT PENNINGMAN ALLEN THEATRE

The pipe organ opening at the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday and Monday evenings, drew large crowds, the theatre being packed both nights. The new organ proved a most delightful surprise to all who heard it. The instrument is wonderfully rich in tone, and the various attachments lend a most pleasing effect in making the pictures more realistic. Sidney P. Harris gave a short recital preceding the first show both evenings. Mr. Harris is a musician of much ability, and he rendered the various numbers on the program in a most skillful and artistic manner. The addition of the pipe organ to the local theatre is a most progressive step on the part of the owner, Mrs. Kate E. Allen, and one that will be appreciated by the patrons of this popular playhouse. The picture, Jackie Cogan in "Daddy," could not have been a better selected one for the pipe organ opening. It is Jackie's best and latest picture, and the acting of this wonderful little lad in this picture is truly marvelous.

WILL GIVE BOYS AND GIRLS A BANQUET.

Through the efforts of Karl W. Hillmer, the boys and girls of the Plymouth High school basket ball teams, the debating team and the oratorical members are to be given a banquet at the Methodist church on Wednesday evening, April 25th, at 6:30 o'clock. The ladies of the church will serve the banquet. Dean Bessie L. Priddy of the Ypsilanti Normal, and Dr. W. D. Henderson of the U. M., will be the speakers. The price of the tickets are $1.00 per plate, and tickets can be procured of K. W. Hillmer or George A. Smith. This is a good way to show the appreciation of our citizens for the splendid work of the boys and girls in athletics and declamation.

THE ATHLETIC CARNIVAL

The annual athletic carnival will be held in the High school, Friday, April 27th. Baked goods will be on sale during the afternoon, along with shrubs and bulbs for spring planting. These last will consist of spirea, roses (Dorothy Perkins), Excelsior roses, wisteria, Niagara and Concord grape vines, climbing roses, phlox, lilies and cut flowers, all at a satisfactory saving over usual prices. Then there will be popcorn, ice cream, hot dogs, two song and minstrel shows, a movie in the auditorium, a grab-bag furnished by the manual training pupils, a shooting gallery, all sorts of noise makers and some very much worth-while Japanese goods. If anyone needs summer lunch sets in Japanese materials, they can be bought here. The carnival comes in the evening, but the baked goods and plants will be on sale at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon of April 27th.

An Expensive
Meal for Mice

Just recently a daily paper printed an item telling about a man who had buried all his savings which amounted to over $13,000.00.

Later he wanted to use the money, but on digging up the jar in which it was placed, instead of finding his money he found only scraps of paper, the remains of what the mice had left after an expensive meal.

So the savings of a lifetime went to feed mice.

The only safe place to keep money is in the bank where it is invested by competent men for the benefit of the depositor, or kept in steel vaults not only mouse-proof but fire and burglar-proof as well.

Don't risk losing your hard-earned money. Deposit it in this strong bank.
