Houses for Rent

are scarce. Rent will pay for your home in a short time. If your landlord wasn't making money out of you he would sell, for the average rental on a house will pay for it in ten years. Buy a home of your own and let your rent pay for it, and don't forget that real estate grows in value as the years pass—an increase that will profit you if you are a home owner.

OFFERS SERVICE TO COMMUTERS

PERE MARQUETTE CO-OPERATES WITH DEVELOPERS OF LAND NEAR PLYMOUTH.

The first step toward commuter train service for Detroiters is in prospect, it developed today, with the announcement by Frank H. Alfred, president of the Pere Marquette Railroad, that that road will co-operate with the developers of 3,000 acres of land along the right of way between Detroit and Plymouth. The land has been bought by the Stormfitt-Lovely Co. from the Plymouth Land Development Co., which is composed of Detroit down-river men. The properties extend for a half mile on either side of the Pere Marquette tracks, between Plymouth and Schoolcraft roads, and runs from Townline road at the beginning of Redford Township, to Townline road at the beginning of Plymouth Township. The land has within its boundaries several small communities, including Oak, Beech, Elm and Stark.

"We are proceeding with a program of additional trackage on a basis of increased demand for service between Plymouth and Detroit," says Frank H. Alfred, president of the Pere Marquette. "Additional passenger service will be provided to meet the suburban transportation demand as the population grows."

The Pere Marquette will be double tracked to Plymouth through the property and there will be four tracks between Delray and the Fort Street Union station, at Third avenue. It is said the trains to serve the district probably will be gas-line-driven four-coach trains. There are now seven trains a day on the Pere Marquette through the district involved in the deal, and it is said the number will be increased as traffic grows.

Edward A. Loveley and Harry A. Stormfitt, officials of the real estate company, said that a tract of 1,015 acres would be made available immediately for home sites at Plymouth and Townline roads, near the new Municipal Aviation Field.—Detroit News.

CHAMBER COMMERCE BANQUET

A goodly number of the members of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce attended the regular monthly banquet, held at the Old Plymouth Inn, Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. After a most excellent dinner, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the members, President Edward Denniston in a few happy remarks introduced the speaker of the evening, Capt. W. S. Gilbraith of the Detroit Automobile Club. The speaker told in a most interesting manner what the Detroit Automobile Club had accomplished since its organization, and what they were trying to do for the automobilist. Capt. Gilbraith stated that the club was started with sixteen members, and today it had a membership of over 20,000. He explained that the organization maintained a free touring bureau service to its members, and an emergency road service that is proving a wonderful convenience to the motorist. The club also interests itself in good roads and the widening of roads already built, automobile legislation, etc. Capt. Gilbraith stated that the club had several branches throughout the state and were going to organize several more, and that they hoped to locate a branch in Plymouth among those to be organized. He said the club would establish a branch here if a membership of 160 could be secured. A branch office would be established here with a representative in charge. The branch would be under the management of its own officers. All money received for memberships here will be spent here, together with a sum to be appropriated by the Detroit Club for the maintenance of the branch here. The speaker concluded his remarks with the hope that the Plymouth Branch of the Detroit Automobile Club might become a reality.

President Denniston appointed a committee composed of the following members to secure the necessary memberships: W. T. Pettingill, chairman; P. J. Wiedman, Frank Rambo, W. B. Petz, Roy Parrott, H. R. Lush. For some time the automobile owners of Plymouth and vicinity have felt the need of an organization here, and there is not the slightest doubt but that the required number of members will be secured and more too. If you wish to become a member hand your name and the membership fee, which is $10 per year, to any member of the above committee.

HARRY BIRCH DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Harrison Reid Birch, son of John and Dora Birch, was born in Plymouth, Michigan, June 14, 1892, and died in Detroit, last Sunday morning, April 29th. September 24, 1911, he was united in marriage to Miss Edith Buer, who, together with their daughter, LaVerne, now survives him. His life was spent largely in Plymouth, where he engaged in the barber's trade until about a year ago, when his health began to fail. Mr. Birch was a member of the Presbyterian church of Plymouth. For about a year he was faithful sufferer in Plymouth and Detroit, where he was taken for treatment, and where at last "God's finger touched him, and he slept."

Besides his wife and daughter, he leaves a mother, Mrs. Dora Birch, two brothers, John and Myron, and two sisters, Eudora and Viola, all of Plymouth; also two married sisters, Mrs. Margaret Thomas of Detroit, and Mrs. Mable Darling of Port Huron.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, at Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Interment in Riverside cemetery. The family have the sympathy of the community in their sorrow. As a mark of respect the business places were closed during the funeral hour.

HUDSON ORCHESTRA AND DOUBLE QUARTETTE COMING

Through the courtesy of the J. L. Hudson Co., the complete Hudson orchestra, together with the double quartette, will give a concert in the High school auditorium, Thursday, May 10, at 2:30 p. m. This organization is appearing in the schools near Detroit. In the forenoon, it gives a concert in Northville, and arrives in Plymouth at noon. At one o'clock the domestic science classes serve the lunch for the company. Anyone interested in good music is cordially invited to be present, the only charge being a silver collection to defray the expenses of the lunch served by the school.

MINSTRELS HERE TONIGHT

The Doughboy Minstrels, under the auspices of the American Legion, of Northville, who are to give their entertainment at the Penniman Allen theatre, this (Friday) evening, May 4th, gave a performance in the new auditorium at the Detroit House of Correction Farm, Tuesday evening. Everybody was delighted with the splendid program rendered, and Capt. Denniston feels very grateful to the company for their most excellent entertainment.

Minstrels tonight. Penniman Allen theatre. Don't miss seeing them.

THIEVES ENTER TWO HOUSES ON BLUNK AVENUE

Last Sunday evening, while Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hake were away from home, thieves entered the house and ransacked it from top to bottom. Bureau drawers were pulled open and the contents scattered about the floor. The thieves took all of Mr. Hake's clothes that were in the house, and forty dollars in money and a gold watch were also stolen. Entrance to the house was gained through the kitchen door, which was found unlocked. This is the second robbery on Blunk avenue within a few days.

Last week Friday night, thieves gained entrance to the home of Leroy Naylor, while Mr. and Mrs. Naylor were away for the night, jimmying a rear window. Here, too, the bureau drawers were pulled open and the contents scattered about the floor. A gold watch belonging to Mrs. Naylor and a gold ring owned by Mr. and Mrs. Naylor's daughter, were stolen. The two robberies look like the work of an amateur.

SPRING CLEAN-UP TIME IS HERE.

Plymouth residents are already getting ready for the annual clean-up week, and are getting together the winter's accumulation of rubbish preparatory to having it hauled away during clean-up week, the date of which is Monday and Tuesday, May 7th and 8th. There is nothing that appeals to the stranger passing through a town more than the general neatness and cleanliness of yards, alleys and streets. Another way to add to the beauty of the home surroundings is the setting out in the yards of flowers and shrubbery. It does not cost much to do this, and the enhanced beauty of the home will more than repay the cost and effort.

Minstrel show tonight.

DEATH OF FORMER PLYMOUTH LADY

Mrs. John LeMunyon, for many years a highly esteemed lady of Plymouth, passed away at her home at Gageton, Mich., Sunday, April 29, 1923. The remains were brought to Plymouth, Tuesday evening, and funeral services were held from Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. S. Conger Hathaway officiating. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

Eleanor Rhodes was born at Lyons, New York, August 18, 1835. She came to Michigan in early life. On July 6, 1858, she was united in marriage to Robert Hunter, who passed away March 20, 1902. To this union two children were born, Emma E., who died April 14, 1910, and George W. of this village. On April 19, 1913, the deceased was married to John LeMunyon. Besides her husband and the son, she leaves one sister in California, two grandchildren, Mrs. Dave Taylor and Ivaleta Cole, and one great grandchild of this village.

THE SENIOR PLAY

ODD FELLOWS TO HAVE TEAM IN FIELD THIS YEAR.

Plymouth Odd Fellows will have a base ball team in the field again this year, which with Wayne and Dearborn will compose the Interurban League.

The three teams will probably work out their schedule by giving twilight ball a thorough tryout, the season closing with the athletic meet of the league on Labor Day, at Plymouth, with the consequent awarding of trophies.

The Interurban League Schedule is as follows:

Wayne at Dearborn June 4 and 25, July 16, August 6 and 27; at Plymouth June 11, July 2 and 23, August 13 and September 3.

Plymouth at Dearborn June 8 and 29, July 20, August 10 and 31; at Wayne June 18, July 13 and 30; August 20 and September 10.

Dearborn at Plymouth June 15, July 6 and 27, August 17 and September 7; at Wayne June 22, July 13, August 3 and 24, and September 14.

ELM

A musical entertainment will be given at Elm school house, Saturday evening, May 12. Sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake will be served, at the close of the program. Everyone come and help the boys and girls finish the payment on the piano.

NEW NEIGHBORS

Spring means moving time, and moving time means new neighbors for many families around Plymouth. Maybe even before this is in type a new family has moved in next door to you. Ordinarily the move means much to the new residents, for they come full of hope for the future and expectant of greater prosperity than they have enjoyed in the home they just left. To you it means much, too, because everyone wants, next to a good home, congenial neighbors, honest-to-goodness folks who are full of understanding and who have an optimistic look on life.

Don't let first impressions be lasting; don't size up your neighbor by his furniture or the pranks of the children, or make up your mind on the spot that you are not going to like them, that they are not "your kind," or that they can attend to their own business and well attend to ours. Don't be hasty in your conclusions, for only through association can you become thoroughly acquainted, and they may turn out to be the finest people you ever came across. Appearances do not count for everything. The best of us have set-backs sometimes, and maybe the new neighbors are going through that experience. Maybe they moved for that reason, and now they are trying to get a new start, they need and will appreciate your kind words and neighborly interest.

Don't pass judgment on the new neighbors too hastily. It may be that you will be moving some day—and the golden rule works both ways.

KEEP THIS IN MIND

Travel conditions are growing much better now and within a short time tourists will be motoring across the country in every direction and in greater numbers than ever before. Many of them are coming through Plymouth before the chill of winter comes again, and we sincerely hope there will be more of them than at any time in our history. Citizens generally should remember that as a rule the tourists are mighty nice people, and practically all of them members of the great American family. As they go along they spend good money for food and touring necessities, and their money is not to be spurned by this or any other community that is seeking greater prosperity. Extend a welcome to the stranger in our midst. Give him the information he seeks as intelligently as you can, and send him on his way with a good impression of the town and community. The good words he may say about us later on are not going to hurt us, and the money he spends while here is bound to circulate to the mutual advantage of all.

HAROLD LLOYD IN "SAFETY LAST"

CROWD THRILLED WHEN LLOYD PERFORMED CLIMB

Wherever "Safety Last," Harold Lloyd's latest feature comedy for Pathe is shown, it unquestionably will win the applause of the entire audience. But even the most enthusiastic applause can't compare with the cheering of the crowd that witnessed the filming of the climb in "Safety Last."

Somehow the news got about that the famous comedian was to use the Bank of Italy building at the corner of First and Spring streets in Los Angeles to film a scene for one of his forthcoming productions. Three hours before the comedian arrived, the streets around the tall building were crowded with admirers of the star. When Harold appeared on the scene, he was noisily welcomed, and as the directors and cameramen made their preparations, the crowd settled down, expecting to see the filming of a comic street scene.

They saw instead, one of the most daring stunts ever performed for the camera. As Harold continued his climb, the huge audience showed its appreciation by breathless interest, applauding now and then at some especially reckless performance by the star, but on the whole, watching the comedian in tense admiration.

When the climb was finally completed, the crowd relaxed into a veritable ovation, and the gratifying demonstration when Harold Lloyd stepped into his car to leave, surely must have been some compensation for the long hours of tedious waiting necessary to perform the clever feat in "Safety Last."

This great picture film will be seen at the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, May 6 and 7.

THOMAS-SHIPLEY

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shipley, on Wednesday evening, May 2nd, at 8:00 o'clock, occurred the wedding of Miss Ethelwyn Shipley to Earl Thomas, also of this place. A large number of relatives were present at the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. S. Conger Hathaway of the Presbyterian church. The happy couple will reside with the bride's parents.

THE NEW FORD PURCHASE PLAN

"The Ford Weekly Purchase Plan is going to be a boon to many families and permit them to buy a car much quicker than they ever dreamed." P. J. Wiedman, local Ford dealer, said today in discussing the new plan, which is creating such widespread comment and which is being enthusiastically received everywhere.

"In my experience as a Ford dealer, and I believe it is true with every other dealer and salesman as well, I have met many persons who expressed their desire to own a Ford, and who frankly told me that somehow they never could get together enough money to make the initial payment on one.

"The result was, of course, that they went on wanting a car and hoping that some day something would turn up where they could get a car.

"Now that 'something' has turned up. The Ford Weekly Purchase Plan simplifies it all and makes it easier to come into the ownership of a car.

"It is constructive automobile buying in the simplest and easiest form and presents to countless families all over the country the long-wished-for opportunity of enjoying motor car benefits and pleasures.

"Right here in our own city it will be more than welcome.

"Take the family where, say, the father is not the only wage earner, but where perhaps a son or a daughter or two are at work. The family never has enjoyed a car, yet every member times without number has expressed a desire to own one. "Under the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan there is no reason at all why such a family should not soon own a Ford car. If each member contributes just a little of his or her earnings each week, it will hardly seem any time at all before the whole family will be enjoying a car.

"What is true of the family is true also of the individual who wants a car.

"And one of the most appealing features of the plan is that it is adaptable to the means of practically everyone. The weekly payments, which are deposited to the credit of the customer in the bank and draw interest at the regular savings rate, may be fixed to suit the desires of each purchaser. What could be easier than that?"

PLYMOUTH WINS ANOTHER

Errorless fielding and timely hitting, together with splendid pitching, enabled Plymouth High to defeat Redford High, 13 to 6 here, last Friday afternoon, and as a result the "Rocks" are tied for the league lead with Dearborn, both teams having won three games in as many starts.

Taylor for the "Rocks," and Dennis, Redford, were the starting pitchers. Neither finished the game. Dennis went to pieces in the fifth, and Taylor, after pitching good ball for two innings gave way to a pinch batter. Butcher took up the burden for Redford in the fifth, after Dennis, who had pitched fairly good ball up to that time, walked off the field.

Dee Trimble took Taylor's place, and allowed but one hit. Taylor, allowed but one hit, thereby making Redford's total for the afternoon, 2 singles.

For the first three and a half innings both teams played shut-out ball, but in the fourth the "Rocks" paved the way for the first two "markers" of the game. One was down when Sayles singled to left. Milliman fied out, but Cline doubled to right, scoring Sayles. Holmes singled Cline home.

It was in the fifth that the deluge started. Hickey was given life at first when Redford fumbled. Bartlett singled, Hickey going to third. Trimble then came through with a home run scoring both runners ahead of him. Segar walked, and Sump singled. Redford muffed. Sayles' grounder two or three times, and Segar and Sump walked home on the errors. Cline singled, and the next three "Rocks" batters got on base so fast the scorer could not keep track of them. The rest of the scoring was done in the sixth, through consecutive singles by Cline, Holmes and Sutherland.

The "Rocks" fielded without an error, and this plus good pitching enabled them to win the first shut-out in the league this year. They play Dearborn today, at Dearborn.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The Covenant Choir of thirty voices gave an excellent program, last Tuesday night.

Pink eye has hit everyone in the manse except the pastor; so his turn must be coming.

The Ladies' Auxiliary held its monthly meeting last Wednesday. The trustees met on Monday.

There was considerable increase in attendance at Sunday-school, last Sunday. Keep it going.

Our sympathy and prayers go out for Rev. Sayles in his present sickness.

Out of twenty-five denominations associated in the United Stewardship Council, only two have a larger membership than our denomination; but thirteen have a larger per capita record of gifts to benevolence.

Premier Mussolini in conversation with a pocket visitor to Rome, drew out a recent testament and said, "This is the best of all books, and I am endeavoring to build my life and career according to its principles and teachings."

COMUNITY HAPPENINGS

A very pleasant evening was spent with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Postiff, Wednesday, April 25. A large number were in attendance. Mrs. Frank Miller and sons, Roscoe and Lawrence entertained the gathering with a pleasing talk on their winter in Florida. The next meeting occurs May 30, at the home of the vice president and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Gill. Program in charge of the committee to be announced later.

NOTICE OF MEETING

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
Whereas, on the 27th day of March A. D. 1923, an application was filed with Geo. A. Dingman, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Wayne, for the cleaning out of a certain Drain, which said Drain was described in said application as follows, to-wit: That said Drain needs cleaning out its entire length as per record in Liber ten (10) of Drains on page one hundred eighteen (118), and that it is necessary that said Drain be cleaned out for the reason that the same is necessary and conducive to public health, convenience and welfare, that said Drain will traverse the township of Canton in said county.

Therefore notice is hereby given that in accordance with the statute in such case made and provided, a board meeting of the Township Board of the Township of Canton will be held on the 9th day of May A. D. 1923, at the farm of Sarah Goldsmith Carlington in the S. W. 1/4 Sec. 35 of Canton in said county of Wayne at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day for the purpose of determining the necessity of said Drain and whether the said proposed drain is necessary and conducive to the public health, convenience and welfare. At said meeting any and all persons owning lands liable to assessment for benefits or whose lands shall be crossed by said Drain may appear for or against said proceedings, and may be heard in relation thereto.

Dated this 2nd day of May, 1923.
C. E. McCLUMPHA,
Township Clerk of the Township of Canton.

SCHOOL NOTES

Fannie Grainger furnished the grade notes, Juhvia Rowland those for the High school and Kenneth Bartlett the base ball game write-up.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The botany classes are now studying molds and yeast.

One hundred thirty-two rebound books have been returned to the library.

P. H. S. is going to Dearborn today to win her fourth game of base ball.

Muriel Bovee took fourth place in the declamation contest at Howell, last Friday night. Mason won first place.

The tenth grade English classes have finished "Idylls of the King," and will soon start, "The Tale of Two Cities."

GRADE NOTES

There are seventy-eight children enrolled in the first grade, forty-three of whom are in the A division and thirty-five in the B division.

Haldor Burden, Norval Bovee, Daniel Carmichael, Albertina Drees, Wilma Hunt, Herbert Lorenz, Robert Moore, Lucile Maynard, Gertrude Miller, Hubert O'Hara, Jack Russell, Bobby Soth, Goldee Toncray, Harold Williams and Pearl Smith of the first grade, were neither absent nor tardy during the month of April.

Mrs. Weeks and Mrs. Humphries visited the second grade last week.

The following pupils in the second grade are on the honor roll in spelling: Melvin Blank, Philip Doerr, Wilhelmene Rucker, Katherine Mandell, Blanche Curtis, J. D. McLaren, Margaret Cline, Billy Donnelly, Alice Lee, Irene Humphries, Dorothy Wnuk, Bernadette McDonnell and Howard Schryer.

Class A of the fifth grade are reading, Robin Hood.

The sixth grade pupils are writing business letters to give them some experience before entering High school.

Because of the illness of Miss Harris, Mrs. Thorne is filling her place.

Hueston Mitchell of the sixth grade, has moved to Ypsilanti, and will attend school there.

The fifth grade are studying Japan, Africa and East Indies by the use of pictures.

The following pupils in the kindergarten have been neither absent nor tardy during the month of April: Margaret Brande, Robert Champe, Geraldine Doudt, Donald and Dorothy Fonger, Isetta Mauti, Ruth Roffel, Levi Sackow, Adelaide Colby and Ione Perkins.

Evils of Constipation. Perhaps the most serious of the diseases caused by constipation is appendicitis. If you would avoid this dangerous disease, keep your bowels regular. For this purpose Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent, easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.—Advertisement.

BAPTIST NOTES

The pastor, Rev. Sayles, continues ill at his home. We all hope for a speedy recovery.

Do not forget the regular mid-week prayer meeting on Thursday evening, and be sure to attend.

Our Baptist sick list contains many names of sick ones who would be glad of a call from friends. Do not forget those who are shut in by illness.

Rev. Helen Phelps of Wayne, filled the pulpit very acceptably Sunday morning in the absence of Rev. Sayles.

Rev. Fred Corbett of Lansing, gave a very forceful address on, "Law Enforcement," Monday evening, at the Baptist church. He is a member of the Flying Squadron that is touring the state in the interest of prohibition.

On Thursday evening, April 26th, was held the annual church meeting. A delicious pot-luck dinner was served at six o'clock, after which those present adjourned upstairs, where the men's quartet favored us with some special songs, after which Rev. Helen Phelps of Wayne, delivered an address, which was greatly enjoyed by all. After this the various reports were read and accepted, showing a steady gain all along. The treasurer's report was very good, showing most of the pledges made last year being paid. Those who have not paid are urged to do so at the earliest convenient time. Pledges are being signed for the coming year. Those who have not signed up will be visited by a committee in the near future.

The following officers were elected: Church Clerk—Edith Scott. Treasurer—Charles Grainger. Benevolence Treasurer—Mrs. Florence Beals.

Superintendent of Sunday-school—Roland Allenbaugh. Sewell Bennett and Lewis Schaal were re-elected deacons, and Walter Postiff elected deacon for one year, to fill vacancy made by the death of Arthur Scott.

George Wilske and Albert Westfall were elected ushers, and Mrs. Joseph Stanley, Mrs. George Wilske and Mrs. Alisa Estep on decorating committee. The young people favored us with a splendid selection.

W. C. T. U.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held April 26th, in the pleasant home of Mesdames Phoebe Patterson and Clara Patterson Todd, was well attended. The election of officers resulted as follows: President—Mrs. E. C. Vealey; Recording Secretary—Mrs. L. Clemens; Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Phoebe Patterson; Treasurer—Mrs. Mary Hillmer.

The reading, "Our Yesterdays," by Mrs. E. R. Baggett, and the solos, with guitar accompaniment by Mrs. Karl Hillmer, were greatly enjoyed. At the close of the meeting a delightful little tea was served.

The next meeting will occur at the home of Mrs. Luther Peck, and it is expected that the new yearly programs will be ready for distribution.

MOTHERS' DAY PROCLAMATION

By the Governor.

In compliance with our beautiful custom, which in a few years has come to be universally observed throughout the land, the time has come to set apart a day in honor of American motherhood.

The American home is at once the cradle and the bulwark of all that is finest and best in our present day civilization, and the American mother is the heart of that home. If the home spirit is what it should be the major portion of the credit belongs to her.

It is impossible for us to compute the debt we owe our mothers, and it is only fitting that in this way we should pay our tribute of respect and devotion to the mothers of the nation, living and dead.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Michigan, I do hereby designate and proclaim Sunday, May thirteenth, 1923, as Mothers' Day, and I call upon our people, both old and young, to gather in their several places of worship and take part in services appropriate to the day.

And let absent sons and daughters take this occasion to visit the mother in the old home, or, where such a visit is impossible, let them send a message of cheer and greeting.

In accordance with a resolution of the Congress of the United States, I further request the people of Michigan on the day aforesaid to display the United States flag in their homes and in other suitable places, as a fitting expression of their desire to pay homage to American motherhood.

INFANT FOOD

At the Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago, (one of the most famous institutions of its kind in the country), the attending physicians prescribe tomatoes and tomato juice as a ration for the little suffering waifs and starving infants (not milk but tomatoes), and the babies are cooing in their cribs, bright eyed, rosy cheeked and getting well.

Doctor Hugo Friedstein of Chicago, says: "There is no doubt about it, the curative value of the tomato is extraordinary. Its vitamin content alone is accomplishing the undreamed of in the feeding of infants and invalids. It is invaluable for the kidneys and as a cleanser of the system."

Lemons

By ANTHONY REIMERT

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

Hawtrej, his name was. Anybody could fool him. The first recorded instance was in the case of the canary that he bought from the traveling peddler. It wouldn't sing.

"I tell you, Hawtrej, that is no canary, that's a lemon bird," said one of the town wits.

Some days afterward the dye began to wear away. At the end of a month a very ordinary sample of the sparrow family stood revealed.

The town roared. The "lemon" soubriquet remained.

Then, of course, there was the bull pup that turned out to be a cross between a mongrel and a mongrel pug. But these incidents were cropping up all the time. Hawtrej was so easy to fool.

There was the letter that he received from the Singleton corporation, stating that they had heard he was taking a correspondence course, and wished to show their appreciation by offering him a position. Hawtrej went there, flushed with hope. He made his way to the president's office. But the president disclaimed all knowledge of the offer.

"You have been hoaxed, Mr. Hawtrej," he said. "It was a—ah—lemon."

For by this time Hawtrej was indissolubly associated with lemons in the mind of every one.

Hawtrej went away. The next episode in this series is when he went courting Myra Blaine, the village belle. It was just like Hawtrej to attempt impossible things. Myra, who had a dozen suitors, looked on Hawtrej with mingled annoyance and amusement.

Myra was not altogether popular, especially among her rejected beaux. Two or three of them concocted a little plot. One day Hawtrej, who was not progressing with his suit, received a letter:

"Why do you not have courage to speak out like a man? No true man is ever daunted by difficulties. Often a girl cares most for the man whom she treats most badly. Precious opportunities, once permitted to slip, can seldom be regained.

"He either fears his fate too much, Or his deserts are small, Who dares not put it to the touch. To win or lose it all."

The letter was signed M. and Hawtrej went nearly mad with joy. He hurried round to Myra's house and proposed to her. Two or three of those in the secret were waiting near the house. The window was open, and they could hear every word that was spoken.

"Mr. Hawtrej, what you ask me is absolutely impossible. I never dreamed of such a thing. I like you, and I—I respect you, but I certainly do not care for you in any other way."

"But—but what about that letter that you wrote me?" stammered Hawtrej.

"I wrote you no letter, Mr. Hawtrej," answered Myra, with a touch of acerbity.

"It's in my pocket," said Hawtrej miserably, and even then he didn't understand.

"Well, suppose you let me see this mysterious letter," Myra answered.

There was a good deal of chuckling and suppressed mirth outside as the wretched missive out of his pocket and hand it to the girl.

Myra read it and her eyes blazed. "I wrote you no such letter," she cried furiously. "It's a hoax, a wicked hoax. You've been handed"—she commenced to laugh hysterically—"you've been handed a lemon again."

And he stood there before her, feeling all his hopes and dreams vanish into thin air. The iron entered into his soul in that moment and made a man of him. Can a man change in a single moment to become something quite other than what he has been? Hawtrej did.

And Myra knew it as she raised her eyes miserably to his. Her humiliation was crushing her. She, the proud belle of the town, to be made, equally with Hawtrej, the victim of a practical joke of such a character!

And, whether it was a desire for revenge, or whether at that moment the pathos of the man's love entered into her heart will never be known. But the astounded group saw her walk toward Hawtrej, and the next moment she was in his arms.

How was it all communicated to him? No one could say. One of the gang made the "noo" of the night, however.

"If he has bought another lemon, I guess he's squeezing it," he said.

Good Husbands and Wives.

What is a good husband? Dorothy Dix defines him thus: "A man who can tell a good story, who keeps his small change loose in his pockets, and who believes—or pretends to believe—in the myth that a woman is a mystery who must be worshiped, but never solved." Mere man, on hearing this, thereupon gave it as his opinion that a good wife was one who laughed at those good stories, who left that small change still loose in his pockets, and who, bless her heart, never expected her husband to try to solve the mystery.—Washington Star.

How to Do It.

"I wish I could earn a large fortune."
"You've got the wrong idea, my boy. Fortunes aren't earned; they're saved."

Whooping Cough

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codine or other opiate is given, is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.—Advertisement.

NEWBURG

There was a very good attendance at church, Sunday. A good interest is manifested in Sunday-school and Epworth League. Mrs. M. Eva Smith will read the bible story, Sunday evening.

All members of the official board of the church and officers of the L. A. S. and others interested, are requested to meet at the church, Saturday evening at 7:30, as there is business of importance to transact.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Mackinder and Mr. and Mrs. James Norris attended the dedication of the pipe organ installed in the new church where Rev. Irwin King preaches in Detroit.

The L. A. S. will hold their regular meeting at the hall, Wednesday afternoon, May 9th. A picnic supper will be served. All are invited.

Word received from Mrs. C. H. Armstrong states that her daughter, Irma (Mrs. Lester Black) has another son, born April 6. This makes six grandsons and one granddaughter that Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong have. Their friends extend congratulations.

Mrs. Burt Kahrl was greatly surprised, Sunday afternoon, when friends and relatives to the number of thirty-five arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kahrl to help celebrate her birthday. Mrs. Kahrl received a beautiful plant, cut flowers and several other nice presents. The guests came with baskets laden with all kinds of good things to eat, to which all did ample justice. The afternoon and evening were spent in a social way. Each one in leaving expressed many happy returns of the day to Mrs. Kahrl.

CHERRY HILL

The Gleaners held their regular meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Hattie Corwin.

Mrs. George Gill entertained the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, Thursday afternoon.

Miss Lillian Rubel, the Cherry Hill practice teacher from Detroit, returned home, Friday, after spending the past two weeks here.

Lester Corwin had an operation on his arm at University hospital, Friday.

Nellie Blackmore, Bernice West, Milton and Mabel Pool attended the banquet at the Young People's conference in Ann Arbor, Friday evening.

Luettia West, a pupil of Miss Thorne's played at a recital in Ypsilanti M. E. church, Thursday evening.

Several young people from here attended the Ypsilanti Central High Senior play, "The White Headed Boy" at the Wuerth Theatre, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Mager, Mrs. Shuart, Mrs. Salts, Mrs. Dunston and Mrs. West attended the Kiwanis banquet for rural teachers and school officers at

Ann Arbor Country Club House, Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nowlin, who spent the past month in Boston, have returned home.

A large crowd attended the dance given by the U. of M. orchestra.

Bernice West spent Sunday with friends at Wayne.

Miss Fanny Gotta of Detroit, spent Sunday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gotta.

LIVONIA CENTER

Mrs. Julius Landau and Mrs. John Redding were Detroit shoppers, Thursday.

Roy Garchow of Detroit, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Garchow, the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Heon Ziegler are "at home" to their friends in the Floye Eckles house on the Ridge road, near Plymouth.

The house of Mr. and Mrs. Terry burned to the ground, Tuesday of last week, about noon. Mrs. Terry was alone at the time of the fire, but with prompt assistance of the neighbors most of the household goods were saved and taken to the tenant house on the Frank Hake farm, where Mr. and Mrs. Terry will reside for the present. The Terry home was formerly known as the Alexander farm.

Mrs. Palmer Chilson and Mrs. Fred Lee spent Friday in Detroit.

It has been the custom of some person or persons to dump rubbish, by the truck load, along the highway, and the McKinney road between the Center and Waterford roads seemed to be the most desirable location, for, in the past two weeks, two loads have been placed there. However, the deputies got busy and found the guilty parties, and they were given a limited length of time to remove the rubbish, which they did, and it is hoped they fully understand that Livonia has no public dumping grounds.

Mrs. Charles F. Smith and Mrs. Dan Smith were in Detroit shopping, Saturday.

Livonia Center School Notes
Arthur Weiner and Max and Juanita Preston were enrolled in school this week.

Those who were neither absent nor tardy during the month of April are Elizabeth Hayball, Grace Lee, Carl Redford, Revard Redding, John Reiger and Cecil Booker.

The seventh grade is having the final examination in arithmetic and grammar this week.

A number of the pupils are suffering from "pink" eye.

The eighth grade is working overtime, preparatory to their examination, May 17 and 18.

The second and third grades are doing simple problems in short division.

Myrtle Bober visited school, Tuesday.

Is All Gasoline the Same?

Often you hear the remark, "All gasoline is alike," that "One brand is as good as another."

With many different refineries producing gasoline, with the difference in crude oil and the various methods of refining, it is impossible to expect all brands of gasoline to be alike.

The Power Behind Your Motor

American Gasoline is distinctively different

Because of the keen personal interest, vigorous co-operation and definite pride of service manifested by every individual responsible for the production of American Gasoline, it is possible and certain that these human attributes do primarily influence its character, and are responsible for the "Certified Quality" of American Gasoline.

These individual qualities do not cease with the production of the product. Each and every American representative has a personal interest in rendering all patrons courteous and intelligent service. You'll appreciate this service and quality excellence when you purchase American Gasoline.

The High-Grade Gasoline

Gasoline Service is expressed in terms of mileage. When you buy 10 gallons of gasoline, in reality you are buying 150 miles of service, if you get 15 miles to the gallon.

Gasoline becomes a propelling force only when you cause it to vaporize and mix it with air.

The service which you receive is in exact ratio to the manner in which the gasoline vaporizes.

Red Crown Vaporizes to the Last Drop

that's why there is no waste. Red Crown has a Perfect Chain of Boiling Point Fractions, ad justed so as to vaporize at just the correct temperature to produce instant starting Winter or Summer—a quick pickup—smooth acceleration—tremendous sustained pulling power—racing speed if you want it and a maximum of mileage.

All of which is summed up in two words "Real Service."

The Knights Templar of Northville Commandery No. 39, are to be our guests next Sunday morning. Be there to welcome them. Come early and get a good seat.

Also plan to attend the evening service at 7:30. A male quartette will sing.

New Camera Does Wonders.

Instant changeability from standard-size moving pictures to double-size still pictures, through aperture and shutter control; adaptation of the intermittent movement, replacing the customary claw movement; reduction in size, increased capacity, daylight loading; wider range of utility, with elimination of tripod, if necessary, are features of a new moving picture camera designed by a Seattle war veteran who served as aviation photographer in France for 14 months. The new camera, described in Popular Mechanics Magazine, can be carried about and used for snapshot or still pictures like an ordinary hand camera. Used in this manner it has a capacity of 3,200 pictures, either standard moving picture size, 1/4 inch by 1 inch, or double size, 1/2 inch by 1 inch, which latter can be enlarged with sharpness up to 8 by 10 inches. About 200 snapshots can be made in the time consumed in taking six with the ordinary roll film camera. This is, perhaps, the most important feature of the new camera.

Shows Power of Lenses.

An instrument, by the use of which the effective power of lenses may be ascertained, has been designed so that, although it will give accurate results, it is comparatively low-priced. The mechanism, described in Popular Mechanics Magazine, consists of an upright bracketed support carrying at one end a sliding telescopic lens system and a seat for the lens to be examined. Projecting from the other end of the bracket is a triangular bar marked with a dioptric scale, upon which is mounted a sliding carrier, fitted with an illuminated target and a rotating axis dial. The target is mounted inside a rotating dial, which is graduated so that the axis of the lens being examined may be easily read.

Reversal of Form.

"I met Lady Duff Gordon in a London beauty parlor last month," said a Chicago woman, "and she was in rather bitter mood on account of the failure of her dressmaking business. 'She showed me a pamphlet that an attendant had just given her—a pamphlet entitled 'How to Keep Your Husband'—and she gave, oh, such a bitter laugh, and said: 'Most women nowadays, I should think, are more anxious to know how to make their husbands keep them.'"
—Chicago Daily News.

Making Him Happy.

"Jack, dear, you remember before we were married you said that anything you could do to make me happy would make you very, very happy."
"Yes, dear, I believe I did."
"Well, I really must have a new gown. I hope you won't deny yourself that happiness, Jack."
—Boston Evening Transcript.

Marked.

"Has Tom showed you any marked attention?"
"Yes, he left the price tag on the ring he gave me."
—Boston Transcript.

The Path to the Great Beyond

By EDWARD LEVINE

(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union)

The very old man read:

"By this sympathy one can become all things, one enters into the fulfillment of his desires, and with peace there comes an ending of all sorrows."

It was a mystical book of the Middle Ages that the old scholar read, and at length, when he had come to the end, he lay back on his mattress and sent his wishes forth.

He was seventy-five years old. Years before he had been famous as an Egyptologist, but life had gone so hard with him, that he was satisfied at the end to shut his garret door and surround himself with his few books and pieces of furniture and dream of the past.

He had no kith or kin. Years, many years before he had loved a girl. She had married another. She must be an old woman now, the man thought—nearly his age. He wondered how life had dealt with her; whether she had children; whether she ever thought of him.

He did not know that Alice had been dead nine years, and that she had died with his name upon her lips. Her marriage had been happy, as marriage goes, but when one comes to the end things fall into their true proportions, and she knew then that the love of her youth had been the love of her life.

Because she was not free from the illusion of the world she lived again—not consciously, though at some period in her evolution long distant she was to remember each of the incarnations of the past. She lived, a child of eight years, the only one of a poor mother who earned her living in a small country town.

"I don't know what we'll do when the new baby comes," her mother said to her.

The father had died five months before in an accident.

"But I guess God will provide," she added.

The little girl played in the bare room while her mother was at work. Vague thoughts flitted through her mind. Although she did not know it, they were submerged memories of her past life, the longing for the companionship of her youthful lover, who now, an aged man, lay dreaming in his garret.

And he was thinking: "The grossness of that youthful love is burned away. I only want to see her, just to sit with her, be with her, and have her for my comrade."

That is the spiritual love, which is never unfulfilled and never fails of accomplishment, not only in one life, but in many lives.

And he read again by the falling lamplight the words of the strange book.

"By this sympathy one can become all things, one enters into the fulfillment of his desires, and with peace there comes an ending of all sorrows."

As he lay there upon his bed he sent his mind out to the girl he had loved in youth. He saw her not as an old woman, but young and fresh and beautiful as when they had loved.

And this makes no difference; the soul remains unchanged although the body changes.

And the child, playing in the bare room, stopped in her play, and felt the wish, flung out across a thousand miles of space, across the great chasm that bounds the separate lives of men.

It became translated, in her childish brain, into the longing for a playmate.

It grew stronger as the old man sent out all the intensity of his wish until he seemed to lose his own identity and to become one with the loved object.

And then he had no longer any personality of his own, for all souls are one in the Over-soul.

In the morning the old woman who cleaned his room found him lying back on his bed. He looked asleep; it was not until she shook his shoulder that she found he was dead.

"Death of an old scholar," the papers briefly commented. He had lived a tragic life, ending in failure. He was forgotten. It was sad, but thousands of lonely old people died every year under just the same conditions. His death was a blessing to him.

But a thousand miles away a child stopped in her play and a happy smile came upon her face. Softly she tiptoed to the door of the adjoining room and knocked.

"May I come in, Mamma?"

"Come in, dearie."

She went softly to the bed and stood looking down at the tiny form nestling in the hollow of her mother's arm. The babe stretched up his little arms toward her in hardly conscious recognition. And both were glad.

Gypsy Wedding Custom.

At a Hungarian gypsy wedding, one of the ceremonies is to hand the chief a pitcher of red wine.

The chief, having tasted the wine, touches it to the lips of the bride and bridegroom and then hurls the pitcher as far away from him as he is able.

The pitcher breaks, of course, and the number of fragments is taken as indicating the number of years the couple will live together.—Detroit Free Press.

California's Lion Hunter.

The only man in the world who is employed to shoot lions in the state lion hunter of California, Jay Bruce, in four years he has killed 153. It is estimated that there are 600 left in the state.

LOCAL NEWS

Miss Myrtle King and Glen Kime of Detroit, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer King.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church, will hold their monthly business meeting, May 9th, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Stanley on Mill street.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Naylor visited their son, who is ill and in the hospital for treatment, finding him somewhat improved in health. His wife and little son have come to reside with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Naylor on Blunk avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry and family of Rochester, and Hugh Archer and wife of Pontiac, spent Sunday at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Wilber Gould on Mill street. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Baker and Ardith were all Sunday dinner guests at the Gould home.

Plymouth Lodge, No. 238, Knights of Pythias, will take several candidates to Ypsilanti, Monday night, where they will receive the Rank of Page. All members of Plymouth Lodge are requested to meet at the lodge rooms and be ready to start at 7:00 o'clock sharp. Brothers, you should not miss this occasion as Ypsilanti boasts of having one of the best first rank teams in the state, and you are sure to enjoy the evening—so come on—"Let's go."

Schrader Bros.' ambulance made a quick trip to Belleville and Ypsilanti, last week Wednesday. A man was injured in an auto accident near Belleville, and was taken to that village for first aid. The physician there called the Beyer hospital at Ypsilanti to send an ambulance for the injured man, but the superintendent in charge was unable to get one in the city. She called the Schrader Bros. and in less than an hour the man was brought to the hospital. This is splendid service, and speaks well for Schrader Bros. promptness in answering emergency calls for their splendidly equipped Wolverine Flyer ambulance.

Lumbago

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dann, Brockport, N. Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it, I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."—Advertisement.

The dancing season has opened at Cenequa Shores pavilion at Walled Lake and the dances will be continued every Saturday night during the summer. A good orchestra will furnish a delightful program, and all who enjoy dancing will find this a good place to spend an evening pleasantly.
Thomas Leith has started and sold two houses in his new subdivision, "Brighton Heights." The first one started has been sold to his father, Rev. T. B. Leith, formerly of Brighton, who has just resigned his charge at Milan. He will return to Brighton to make his home. The other house will be for Dan Tompkins.—Brighton Argus.
A big "rat" campaign is on in Washtenaw county. Every township will be covered before the battle ends, it is announced. Out of 215 farmers called upon in two townships, 200 said they had rats. The recommendation of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture as to baits and poison is being used in the campaign. It is estimated that the average loss to each farmer in the country by rats is $64.75 annually.—Brighton Argus.

Today's Reflections

Perhaps they call it the "almighty dollar" because it takes an almighty lot of hustling around to get hold of 'em.
We deny the statement of an eastern editor that America has too many laws. There is yet need of one to make writing spring poetry punishable by hanging.
As a general rule the Plymouth boy who is forbidden to whistle around the house hasn't very much reason for whistling.
These endurance dancing tests are not only trying on the body, but they're quite a strain on the sole.
Washington announces that the plan to reduce taxes has been postponed. We thought it was too good to be true.
It's a wise young man who finds out whether the girl who tickled his fancy is going to tickle his palate when she takes over the job of getting his meals.
War would lose most of its attraction if the army officers had to wear overalls and slouch hats.
There's always hope for the Plymouth girl who spends as much time going to the grocery for baking powder as she spends going to the drug store for face powder.
Here's hoping we don't get into another war in Europe until the fish stop biting and the base ball season is over.
Our idea of a kill-joy is the fellow who has already started and predict hard times for 1924 because it's a presidential year.
Even though a Plymouth man does not want his wife to leave him, there are times when he does wish she would leave him alone a little more.
Another time when we wish we weren't here is when someone starts in to tell us something "purely for our own good."
Our idea of the worst pessimist in Plymouth is the man who thinks it is going to rain just because he has had his shoes shined.
Now they are asking us to send out old clothes to the famine sufferers in Europe. What do they want some of us to do—go naked

Ford ANNOUNCEMENT

Of Interest to

MILLIONS of FAMILIES

"I will build a car for the multitude"
SAID HENRY FORD IN 1903—READ HOW THE FULFILLMENT OF THAT PROPHECY IS NOW MADE POSSIBLE THROUGH THE

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the Universal Family Car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months—and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in the local bank, where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today? Stop in and talk it over with your local Ford dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford Car.

Charles Hirschlieb was happily surprised last Saturday night, when a number of friends and neighbors dropped in on him to remind him of his birthday. The evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner with cards, etc., until a late hour, when a beautiful repast was served from the baskets of good things the visitors had well supplied themselves with; one of them being a large angel food cake decorated with fifty-four candles presented by Mrs. James Horan. A number of useful presents were left by the visitors as tokens of remembrance, after which they departed for their homes, wishing their host many more such happy occasions.

ANNUAL CLEAN-UP DAYS

As has been the custom for several years, the village will again co-operate in a general clean-up campaign this spring. Let everyone next Monday and Tuesday, May 7th and 8th, clear out all rubbish from basement and yard, and pile it on the curb line. Then Wednesday morning the village teams will start their rounds to gather up the debris.

The village also has several places where clean ashes can be used. The manager or the treasurer can give information on this subject.

OWERRY-JOHNSON

Wednesday evening, April 25th, at 8:30, Miss Bernice Johnson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson of Detroit, was united in marriage to William Owerry. The bride was lovely, dressed in white crepe de chine, with flowing veil of embroidered silk net in cap effect, fastened with orange buds, and carried a bouquet of cream and white rose buds. She was attended by her friend, Miss Frances Waldon, who wore gray velvet gown, and carried pink and white rose buds. The groom was attended by Charles Johnson, Jr., brother of the bride. After the ceremony, a bounteous supper was served to about fifty guests. The young couple received many beautiful and useful gifts, and have the best wishes of many friends.
