FATAL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

FLOYD COMSTOCK DIES FROM INJURIES AND TWO OTHERS BADLY HURT SUNDAY EVENING, WHEN AUTO CRASHES INTO MOVING TRAIN.

Last Sunday evening about six o'clock, a Ford coupe occupied by Floyd Comstock and Charles and John Everhart was being driven south on Holbrook avenue, when the driver of the car, said to have been Charles Everhart, failed to see or hear the approach of a west bound passenger train at the street crossing, and before the driver of the car could bring it to a stop, it crashed into the moving train, and in a few seconds, was almost demolished as it was hit by several coaches of the train. All three of the occupants were thrown from the car, and how any of them escaped death is a miracle. Comstock, the owner of the coupe was terribly cut about the head and was injured internally. He was taken to the home of Harry Gottschalk, where he died a few hours later.

The two Everharts, both of whom sustained serious injuries about the head, were taken in Schrader Bros. ambulance to Eloise hospital, where both are recovering from their injuries.

It is alleged that the men in the wrecked car had been drinking. Charles and John Everhart, who are cousins, are from the state of Tennessee, and have been employed at the Detroit Piston Ring plant in this village.

Funeral services for Floyd Comstock, who was 35 years of age, were held from Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. D. D. Nagle officiating. Interment in the Baptist cemetery.

PLYMOUTH BAND CONCERT HONOR TO MR. MILLARD.

The two-day band concert given by Millard's Plymouth band in this city, last Saturday and Sunday was the finest entertainment of its kind ever given here. The only regrettable feature was the concert did not receive the patronage it merited. Saturday evening's attendance was light but a very large crowd was not expected on account of all the business places were open and a great many people were unable to attend. But there was no reason why the auditorium was not filled to its seating capacity Sunday afternoon.

The program was high class and every number was beautifully executed, showing that the members of organization had profited by the thorough and capable instruction Mr. Millard has the happy faculty of imparting to those who take advantage of his teaching. All we can say to those who failed to attend is they missed a grand musical treat, and one that seldom can be heard in a town the size of Sandusky.

In conclusion, this entertainment should prove a strong incentive to every member of the Sandusky Band to put forth every effort to perfect themselves to the same high standard the members of the Plymouth band have reached under Mr. Millard. If our young men show this willingness, we know Mr. Millard will do the rest.—Sandusky County Republican.

SOME TRAIN CHANGES ON PERE MARQUETTE.

A new time card went into effect on the Pere Marquette, Sunday, April 29th, and is in effect at this station as follows:

Two new trains on Saginaw division: No. 102 from Saginaw leaves Plymouth at 9:32 a. m., central standard time, for Detroit. No. 105 for Saginaw and Bay City leaves Plymouth at 1:32 p. m., central standard time.

No. 106 from Saginaw now runs daily and is made a fast train, arriving at 8:16 p. m., instead of 8:45 p. m., central standard time.

Railroad contractors have established a camp between Plymouth and Stark in preparation for the work of grading the road bed for the new double track the Pere Marquette are going to build this summer between Plymouth and Detroit.

PICTURE FANS HAVE GREAT TREAT COMING

MARY PICKFORD'S NEW VERSION OF "TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY" BOOKED HERE.

Devotees to the cinema art are going to have the opportunity of seeing "Tess of the Storm Country" again, and therein lies a tale of more than passing interest.

In the first place, this was the picture in which Mary Pickford scored one of those earlier big screen triumphs, which insured her immortal fame and inspired the populace of the whole country to proclaim her "America's Sweetheart." That was just eight years ago, for this epochal photoplay had its inning in 1914.

Now, in this 1922, in her new "Tess of the Storm Country," a United Artists' release, coming to the Penningan Allen theatre next Sunday and Monday, May 13 and 14, Mary Pickford will be seen for a second time as Tess in an elaborated version of Grace Miller White's celebrated story. The "Queen of the Screen" re-created this lovable character before the camera at the Pickford-Fairbanks studio at Hollywood, and this notable revival is now being presented internationally.

Although this particular story served to carry Miss Pickford to the foremost ranks of favorites among photoplayers, she had earned her rights to real stardom before its presentation. In fact, she attracted wide attention when she made her debut on the speaking stage at the age of five years. Her first role was that of a boy, Little Ted, and she did this so well that at the age of eight she went on the road in "The Little Red School House" and a year later was starred in "The Fatal Wedding," in which she played the part of Jessie, the little mother. Not long afterward she won the honor of originating the part of Betty Warren in "The Warrens of Virginia," a David Belasco production, which was this star's first play on New York's Broadway.

After completing her contract with Mr. Belasco the lure of the movies gained an upper hand, and, under the direction of David Wark Griffith, she made her first appearance on the screen, becoming a prime favorite from the inception. Her initial salary was $40 a week, but she was receiving $2,000 a week very soon afterward, and, ever since she has been climbing steadily until today she is paid $10,000 a week.

During the last year Miss Pickford has received thousands of requests from admirers to re-enact the beloved character of Tess and she has acceded to the wishes of her followers, being further actuated by a desire to improve upon her artistic achievements to such an extent as to make the characterization live.

The version of 1914 was in five reels and it was played until all the "prints" were worn out. Now with the improvements made in the film-making industry, it will be possible to preserve the new conception so that it may entertain generations of the distant future.

ATTENTION, PARENTS

The Parent-Teachers Association is expecting a large attendance at the May meeting, this week Friday evening (tonight) at the High school. A fine stereopticon and moving picture lecture will take place at 8:00 o'clock. All the rooms of the building will be thrown open for an exhibition of the pupils work. Come and see what your child has been doing.

With about two inches of snow on the ground and the thermometer at freezing, Wednesday night set a new record for the month of May in Michigan.

W. S. Bake and family have moved into one of the apartments in "Maple Croft Manor" on South Main street, which Mr. Bake has just recently completed.

The Choir Chapter Society of the Presbyterian church, held their 11th business meeting in the church parlors, Tuesday evening. Following the business meeting, a pleasing program was arranged. Miss Irene Humphries and Mrs. Lila Humphries, elocutionists, gave a group of readings, and Donald Patterson played several violin solos, all of which were greatly appreciated.

SLING A LITTLE PAINT

If you haven't a new house, and feel that you don't need a new one, then sling a little paint on the old one and thus help to make Plymouth more attractive this spring and summer than she has ever been. A little walk about town reveals many instances wherein the paint bucket could be brought into play with very beneficial results and appearances improved as well as an extension on life given to the property itself.

"Save the surface and you save all, has become a national slogan since it was adopted by the paint and varnish makers of the country. It has become popular because there is so much truth in it. The decline of a piece of residence property from a lack of paint is so slow that it is hardly noticeable for the first year or two. And then it is discovered that not only is the building shabby in appearance, but the elements have, in the absence of paint, wrought great damage to the woodwork. The beauty has disappeared and with it has gone much of the surface.

It costs money to paint a house, but it costs more to let it go without paint. New lumber and a carpenter's wages are more expensive than paint and varnish, just as new machinery costs more than oil. Keep this constantly in mind, and even though you don't feel like painting the house this spring or summer just for the sake of beautifying your own particular community, figure it out if it isn't a good idea to do so from an investment standpoint.

HOW THEY GET AHEAD

The man who saves nothing is always wondering how the other kind of fellow does it. Uncle Sam is issuing a little book which tells all about it. It is called, "How Other People Get Ahead," and any Plymouth resident can secure a copy by writing to the Treasury Department at Washington.

According to this book the man who saves sixty cents out of every dollar, expends thirty-seven cents for living and the other three cents for education, recreation and charity is a tight-wad. The man who saves nothing spends fifty-eight cents out of every dollar for living, forty cents for recreation, and two cents for education and charity. It is a spendthrift. But the man who saves twenty cents out of every dollar, spends fifty cents for living, ten cents for education, ten cents for recreation and ten cents for charity—he shall be praised—he is the really thrifty person.

It would pay almost anybody to get this little book and read and study it. Whether this is done or not, the classification of spenders is amusing and thought-provoking, and a few minutes devoted to comparing the figures would set most of us to a re-adjustment of our expenditures.

A wise old banker once said that it isn't what a man makes that counts as much as it is what he saves. There is a whole sermon in a sentence, if you want to think it over. And then if you want further proof of it, read the little book on saving that Uncle Sam is now giving away to his people.

THE NORTH CENTRAL ASSOCIATION

Since it is one of the smallest schools in Michigan belonging to the organization, it is a real mark of distinction for the Plymouth High school to belong to the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, which has for its purpose the prescription of certain standards and inspection to see that these standards are complied with.

Upon completion of a course in any one of the approved High schools, a pupil will be admitted to any university without examination. There are 112 schools in Michigan approved by the association. All teachers in a North Central High school must have an A. B. degree or its equivalent from some college or university. Teachers must have had fifteen hours of college preparation for teaching, and they must be paid salaries sufficient to attract and retain those competent to instruct. The buildings, libraries and laboratories must be modern.

North Central schools are approved by the University of Michigan for a period of three years. Plymouth's period ends June 30, 1925. Schools not belonging to the association are approved for one or two years.

THE STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX SEDAN $1550

Studebaker

—But You Can't Ride on the Paint!

Imitation diamonds can be made to look so real and sparkle so brightly that it is difficult to tell them from the genuine.

But try to sell one and you will find out its real worth in a flash.

Same with automobiles. Weakness of construction in a closed car can be hidden, for a time, with paint and varnish and fancy fittings. But all is not quality that glitters.

You can't ride on the paint. And when you place such a car in the second hand market, you suffer a heavy depreciation because it lacked real intrinsic value at the outset. Use will never improve a mediocre product.

The second hand floor is the melting pot for automobile values. Cars are stripped of artificial values and only inherent worth counts.

Motor car owners tell us that the trade-in value of any Studebaker car at the end of three or four or five years of useful life is greater than on any other car built today—the percentage of depreciation is the lowest.

No wonder the Studebaker Light-Six Sedan is the fastest selling quality Sedan in the world!

The name Studebaker stands for quality, durability, comfort and integrity.

Four wide-opening doors. Eight-day clock. Quick-action cowl ventilator. Attractive coach lamps. Heater. Mohair velvet plush upholstery. Glare-proof visor and windshield cleaner. Dome light. Thief-proof transmission lock.

Lumbago

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dann, Brockport, N. Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it, I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."—Advertisement.

When Money Kin: Losses Out.

When Rufus had a severe loss in property in frenzied business in Arthur Train's novel of New York, "The Children of Men," he undertakes himself to young Mattie.

"And the queer part of all is that since that time, ever since I've been down and out, I've had a sense of being in luck—of relief—silver-linings-to-the-cloud sort of business."

"Mattie had lit his pipe again and was leaning back against the wall."

"If you really feel that way," he said, "there must be a reason for it."

"Of course there's a reason," answered his client eagerly. "If you know the whole story you'd understand it—just as I do. We're all of us walking the tight rope—every man jack of us. The ones who have learned to keep their balance go right along as a matter of course—no danger at all! The others fall off. Well, I didn't have the balance. Over I went!"

Of course the case of Kayne in fiction puts a moral in fact.

But it's the kind that no climber will heed and every man on top regards with contempt.

Blackbirds Eat Grain Crops.

Blackbirds, which are attracted in immense flocks through the fall and winter months, cause great damage to crops of milo maize in the Imperial valley, California. Investigations made by the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture reveal an average destruction of about 10 per cent of the crop over an area of 20,000 acres. This loss, with lesser damage in adjoining areas, and expenditures for protecting the grain, totals about $50,000 annually. Poisons cannot be depended upon for control, it has been found. The possibility of employing toxic gases has been considered, but their practicality is doubtful. The only method so far found to alleviate the losses is the expensive practice of "bird minding." This is done by patrolling the fields with shotguns during the morning and afternoon feeding periods of the birds, the main effort being to frighten the birds by the noise rather than to kill large numbers of them.

English Language Puzzles.

The English language is still a puzzle to many Japanese wireless operators. As an illustration, an American operator on an Alaskan steamer heard a Japanese operator working and asked for his position and who he was. The reply came back that he was Taki somebody and that he was working in the radio room. Another American operator inquired regarding the report of a great typhoon in mid-ocean, and the Japanese replied that it was an ill wind that blowed no one any greater favor. Another questioner asked whether the Chinese had instituted a boycott on certain American-made goods. The Japanese operator answered that so far as he knew there had been no boys captured by the Chinese for some time.—Radio News.

DETROIT, PLYMOUTH AND NORTHVILLE BOYS TO MAKE TOUR OF NORTH

GEO. E. BUCHANAN, WEALTHY BUSINESS MAN, WORKS OUT PLAN TO GIVE DESERVING YOUTHS AN OPPORTUNITY TO ENJOY EDUCATIONAL TRIP TO VIEW ALASKA'S WONDERS.

The following is taken from the Alaska Weekly of Seattle, Washington: Happy is the man who has a commendable hobby; twice happy if he may have two worthy hobbies. Now it must follow that such a one will be supremely happy if he can combine his two hobbies in one grand venture to help a hundred good boys and make them happy.

George E. Buchanan of Detroit, Mich., is a coal and coke operator of large means. He is the president of three corporations. He has two hobbies—Alaska and helping boys with good business training. It is fairly safe to predict that he will enjoy one of the happiest summer vacations of any man in America during the coming summer.

In July, he will leave Detroit with a small army of boys for a tour of Alaska and will spend about six weeks on this glorious trip. A wonderful plan has been worked out whereby any good boy living in the vicinity of Detroit may avail himself of the opportunity of enlisting in the army that works under the fighting slogan, "On to Alaska with Buchanan in July, 1923."

When George E. Buchanan was a boy in Chatham, Ontario, a friend offered to pay one-third of the cost of a trip to Europe on condition that his parents would contribute one-third and that George should supply the remaining third by earning and saving it. The trip was made and Buchanan believes that it was one of the most potent factors in shaping his career.

Virtually, the same plan has been adopted for the Alaska pilgrimage. Briefly stated the plan is:

1. You must get the consent of your parents.
2. The total expense will be about four hundred dollars ($400) to be divided as follows:
  - (a) You to earn one-third. I am ready to help you (so are my friends) earn your third.
  - (b) Your parents to contribute one-third of the educational value of this trip.
  - (c) I will let you have the other third. Some day when you are older and able to earn this money, you may pay it back to me, to be used to take some other boy to Alaska.
3. Your school work must not be neglected, while you are earning your part of the expense.

The latest report from Detroit says that 179 boys ranging from 12 to 19 years of age are working to qualify for the trip. Mr. Buchanan in a letter of March 27th to The Alaska Weekly, says:

Detroit, Mich., March 27, 1923. The Alaska Weekly, Seattle, Wash.

I have your letter of March 13th, for which I thank you. Attached herewith, you will find clippings and letter that will give you a fair idea of the plan of taking good boys to see Alaska. This originated with one boy and then it occurred to me that the plan could apply to any good boy.

We now have 179 boys that have declared their intention of going. Of course we do not know how many of them will make good this year. We are encouraging the younger boys to earn their share and if they fail to do so this year, we will take them next year and if the plan proves satisfactory, I will be glad to make it an annual trip.

Would suggest you make a story out of this information, weaving in some of the wonderful sights the boys will see, including your invitation to entertain them in Seattle.

We will try and spread the news through this part of the country. We will go one way via Canadian Pacific Railway, taking the Inside Passage, returning via Seattle and U. S. Lines.

Yours very truly,

GEO. E. BUCHANAN.

One of the finest and most high-spirited ideas that have been given the plan is that idea of placing the problem right up to the boy himself of carrying his part of the expense; and the still finer idea of holding out the privilege that that part loaned to him may be returned to a revolving fund when he has become a man of affairs so that other boys may enjoy a like benefit in making this an annual tour.

Alaska has entertained scores of excursions, but it is safe to assume that no company of tourists that could make that memorable voyage will be more heartily welcomed. These are the men of tomorrow, and Alaska—the land of enchantment—will gain just as many friends and boosters as there are boys in the party. Already, we can make a fairly accurate measurement of this bunch of boys. Each and every one of them will have demonstrated that he has the ambition and energy and determination to go through. Right here, they will carry the stamp of men in the making worth while.

As for "weaving a story of the wonderful sights the boys will see," as Kipling says, that is another story, and will follow in succeeding issues. Sufficient for this story to advise our friends of Alaska and the Pacific Northwest that the boys are coming, and that they will visit Seattle on the return trip.

The itinerary has been completely worked out and announced as far as Seattle on the return. The party will leave Detroit on July 7th or 8th. Special cars to Chicago, Thence through St. Paul and Minneapolis to Moose Jaw and Calgary, where the annual round-up is held. They will stop at Banff and Lake Louise, then on to Vancouver, sailing on the C. P. R. steamer Princess Charlotte, July 18 for Skagway, from which point they will take the White Pass railroad for the head waters of the Yukon at White Horse. A detour will be made to Lake Atlin country before starting on the return trip.

The Alaska Weekly is delighted to reprint the letter from Mr. Buchanan announcing the return trip via Seattle. The trip would be sadly incomplete if the boys should fail to spend at least a little while in America. Speaking for Seattle and all proud friends of Alaska it will be a rare pleasure to entertain the boys in some suitable manner while they are in Seattle.

It will not only be a pleasure but a privilege, for they are mighty well worth while as raw material for friends.

In another story will be told some of the high lights of the glorious trip for which they may be prepared, as well as some suggestions that may be helpful.

There are at the present time three boys from our High school Glenn Mitchell, Wilbur Petz and Stuart Rambo, who are working to earn the necessary money for the Alaska trip.

We, at the school, feel that it is a wonderful opportunity which is extended to the boys of Plymouth and Northville, by Mr. Buchanan as a result of his friendship with Oliver Goldsmith of this place, and we surely appreciate such splendid cooperation as Mr. Goldsmith is rendering in making it possible for the boys in our community to take this trip.

If the boys should call at any of your places of business to explain any of their plans for making money, we, at the school, would very much appreciate the courtesy you will extend to them by granting them a hearing.

GEORGE A. SMITH, Supt.

YPSILANTI TO GO BACK 100 YEARS TO FOUNDING.

Ypsilanti city will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the founding of the first settlement in Washtenaw county, July 1 to 4 inclusive.

The settlement was made in Ypsilanti in 1823. The plan was carried by a pageant now being written by Thomas Wood Stevens of Carnegie Technical Institute, Pittsburgh. D. L. Quirk, Jr., originator of the Little theatre in Ypsilanti, will direct the production. The churches are planning to bring back hundreds of their former parishioners and leaders of the clergy. St. John's Catholic church, which for years was the home of the venerable priest, Rev. Frank Kennedy, will lay the corner stone for the beautiful memorial church to be erected in his honor. The Emmanuel Lutheran congregation will dedicate its new church on River street. Other churches will hold special services with former pastors as honor guests. Methodist people are hoping that health will permit the presence of Rev. Seth Reed, former pastor, now in his 100th year, who resides with his daughter in Flint.

An old-time stage coach used in the postal service a century ago, from the city hall of Detroit to the tavern at Ypsilanti will be called back into service to make one more trip and driven over the old route. Governor Alex. J. Groesbeck has been invited to ride in the conveyance. He will also attend the centennial ball, Monday night, where admittance may be had only by those wearing a costume of the early eighties.

AROUND ABOUT US

Dearborn is to have an artificial ice plant with a daily capacity of thirty tons.

Foundations are being laid at Brighton for a new business block, 28x100 feet, to replace an old block, smith shop, which has been a landmark for years. The new building will be two stories high, and will be of cement block construction with pressed brick front.

The Woman's Club of Royal Oak, has undertaken to provide a club house for the use of organized women's activities of that city. As a nucleus they have been given the old town hall and its site, and the building will be remodeled and modernized. The old town hall was built in 1839, and on its site in the early days stood a block house, beside which passed the Indian trail from Detroit to Saginaw.

The Northland Country Club, located on the Seven Mile road, is making extensive improvements in its property this season. The old house is being moved across the road, and a handsome and commodious club house will be erected on the site of the old building. The barns have been torn down, and the yard and grounds have been cleaned and graded. When all the contemplated improvements have been completed this will be one of the most attractive club properties in the county.—Northville Record.

When a complete, modern bathroom is installed. Invariably, the added value is greater than the cost of the improvement! A house cannot be modern unless it has adequate sanitary equipment.

Besides being an attractive investment, a modern bathroom greatly increases comfort in a home. It teaches children healthy habits, and protects the health of every member of the family. An alcove, a large closet, or any space five feet square is ample room for

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Franklin L. Gibson preached a very helpful sermon last Sunday morning on, "The Gift of the Holy Spirit," from Luke 11-13. Next Sunday will be Mothers' Day, and Mr. Gibson's subject will be "Mother." Mr. Gibson wants young and old to attend this service.

At a meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew last week, the young men offered to look after the ground around and in front of the church. Shrubs, seeds, etc. will be very acceptable, and those who wish donate shrubs and seeds are asked to communicate with George Merryweather, who will see that they are promptly placed.

Ascension Day this year is Thursday, May 10th. We will hold our Ascension Day service tonight (Friday) at 7:30, and Mr. Gibson wants to speak to a big congregation. His subject of address will be "The Ascension of Christ from Acts 1:9." The annual convention of the Diocese of Michigan will take place this year in Detroit, May 15, 16 and 17, in St. Paul's Cathedral. On Tuesday, the 15th, at 10:00 a. m., a bishop for the Diocese of Michigan will be elected by the vote of the representatives of all the churches in the Diocese. On the 16th and 17th, the general business of the convention will be taken up. We have nominated Dr. W. G. Jennings, one of our vestry, to represent the parish of Plymouth at the convention, and we have every confidence in entrusting him with the mission's affairs, realizing that they will be faithfully and truly represented.

The mission will undergo some changes this year, the most important probably, will be the loss of our dear and much beloved missionary, Franklin L. Gibson, who leaves next month to take up important mission work in Montana under Bishop Faber and Bishop Fox, both late rectors of St. John's, Detroit. Mr. Gibson has been given charge of a large missionary area in that district. In his letter to the parishioners just received, Mr. Gibson writes: "Some time ago, I received a call to Montana to do missionary work under two very dear friends of mine, Bishop Faber and Bishop Fox. I have accepted the call and leave for Montana June 21. My two years among the people of Plymouth have been most pleasant and happy, indeed, and I regret leaving so many dear friends. My earnest prayer is that you will all support the man who is to follow me here, as splendidly as you have supported me, by your prayers, your service, your love and your affection."

We are assured by the authorities in Detroit, that special care will be taken in selecting the most suitable man to follow Mr. Gibson's splendid work here in Plymouth, and as faithfully and conscientiously as Mr. Gibson has.

Evils of Constipation.

Perhaps the most serious of the diseases caused by constipation is appendicitis. If you would avoid this dangerous disease, keep your bowels regular. For this purpose Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent, easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.—Advertisement.

Today's Reflections

We heard a well-known Plymouth citizen declare recently that this world is full of willing people—some willing to work and the rest willing to let them.

Have you ever noticed how those bank cashiers who play the stock markets always happen to be on the wrong side of the market?

The average Plymouth man has found out that this thing they call culture is simply pretending to like something you don't like.

Don't let the man who sells you seed cheat you. There are 556,000 seeds in a bushel. Be sure and count them.

A Plymouth boy's idea of extreme cruelty is for his mother to make him keep on his heavy underwear after the first of May.

Our idea of an optimist is the Plymouth woman who thinks she can fool Father Time by putting a little artificial color on her cheeks.

A Kentuckian has patented a way to hold cow tails. Now there ought not to be so much crying over spilled milk.

The Plymouth man who doesn't want his children to learn to swear should never invest in a second-hand auto.

A girl will go crazy over a handsome man, but she'll never realize how crazy she was until she marries him.

About this time of year the land of promise is that part of the place devoted to a garden.

Gas on Stomach Won't Let You Sleep

Gas often presses on heart and other organs, causing a restless, nervous feeling which prevents sleep. Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, expels gas and relieves pressure almost INSTANTLY, inducing restful sleep. Adlerika often removes surprising old matter from BOTH upper and lower bowels which poisoned stomach and caused gas. EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. Pockney's Pharmacy.—Advertisement.

MILLIONS of FAMILIES

"I will build a car for the multitude"

SAID HENRY FORD IN 1903—READ HOW THE FULFILLMENT OF THAT PROPHECY IS NOW MADE POSSIBLE THROUGH THE

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the Universal Family Car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months—and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in the local bank, where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today? Stop in and talk it over with your local Ford dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford Car.

GIVEN BY THE

Boys' and Girls' Glee Club and Orchestra

Wednesday Night May 16

at 8:00 O'clock Sharp

It will prove not only attractive, but interesting as well, due to the quaint costumes, wooden shoes and Dutch scenery used.

A Rich Holland Farmer has two daughters, Wilhelmina and Hilda. Hans, a student of music, is in love with Wilhelmina, and Franz, a rich farmer's son, is in love with Hilda. Hertenbosch, the farmer, finds his workhands spending most of their time singing Hans' compositions. Vrouw Hertenbosch spends a large share of her time giving her daughters the advice they need. Hilda grows tired of Franz. Franz looks for another girl among the group of farmers' daughters he knows.

Along comes Bob Yankee, a travelling salesman from America. Wilhelmina falls for him. Hans feels very blue.

Bob Yankee endeavors to persuade Hertenbosch to tear down his old windmill and to install electrical equipment instead. Hertenbosch is about to decide when his family and workhands object. They decide to keep the old mill, and Bob Yankee makes up his mind to return to America. Hans wins Wilhelmina back, and puts word from a music publishing house that they are offering him a handsome price for some of his songs.

His dreams come true.

NO REAL CAUSE FOR ALARM

Chinese Fortune Teller Was Merely Wishing That Good Luck Might Follow His Customer.

To have your fortune told in China is likely to be rather an ordeal. In "Beyond Shanghai" Mr. Harold Speakman describes a curious experience that he once had with a fortune teller at Wuchang. What the fellow told him was something astonishing—considering the length of time he took to tell it.

Asking Ah Chow, my interpreter, to listen attentively, says Mr. Speakman, I sat down at the book-littered table of a large prophet with a benign expression and horn-rimmed spectacles. All that he had to work with was a pair of dirty hands with long, razorlike nails that he instantly began to play about my face with all the abandon of an excited orchestra leader. Hoping that the prophecy he was to make might not include the immediate loss of my eyesight, I sat still and waited. After he had felt my head, thumped my chest and looked at my palms he seized my left hand and began to about; his voice boomed out like a bell. In a minute I was the center of a large and eager crowd. In three minutes the crowd that listened breathlessly to every word blocked all ways of escape.

The fortune teller gave his prediction in short, precise sentences each of which began vociferously with the preface, "Yehalia!" What with the humdred of the crowd and the steady bombardment of yehalias, close to my ear, I decided after five minutes that it was time to depart. With a smile and a bow that I meant should convey thanks and finally I tried to withdraw my hand from the grasp of the prophet; but he only held on the tighter and fairly peppered me with yehalias. Should he cheat a foreigner? No—no! Four hundred cash had been paid, and the yehalias were only half finished.

At last after I had begun to have morbid thoughts of knocking him on the head and of escaping in the confusion he let go his talonlike grip. We rose moistly and made our way out through the sweating crowd, which opened in respectful silence in front of us. For nine minutes by the watch he had foretold just what the future would hold for me, and, though I thought him a faker, I was curious to know just what he had been saying during all that time. "What," I asked Ah Chow, "did the fortune teller say?" "Oh," replied Ah Chow, "he said, 'Good luck!'—Youth's Companion.

Whooping Cough

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given, is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.—Advertisement.

LACK POWER OF DESCRIPTION

Average Person Unable Accurately to Define Things That Are in Commonplace Use.

It seems rather strange, but there are a number of things which we know well enough and yet are totally unable to describe accurately.

In some cases, to give a description of an ordinary common object may require special scientific knowledge. In others it seems as though it ought to be simple enough to anybody—and yet nobody can do it!

An example of the former class is shown by the joke which was common a little while ago, of asking people what a spiral staircase is. It takes a mathematician to define a spiral, and the average person finds it easier to trace one with his finger.

But suppose some one is asked how he distinguishes between beef and mutton? That requires no specialized knowledge, but the chances are that he will be hopelessly floored. Yet when he sees them both he will know each in a minute. Even then he will probably still be unable to explain exactly how he recognizes them.

Again, suppose some imaginary person of ordinary intelligence had never seen any flowers and had no idea what they were. How many people could tell him so that he could recognize them in future? Probably no one, not even the greatest botanist!

Other things which would seem to be easily and simply described really often require quite a lengthy explanation. For instance, to make the appearance of a book plain to anyone who didn't know would necessitate a fairly complete and detailed account of the process of bookbinding.

A man was once asked to describe (without making any diagrams, of course) the appearance of a violin. He soon got into difficulties and gave it up!

The reason for this curious inability to explain common things is that we are never called upon to do it. Neither has anyone ever explained them to us. People are shown flowers from infancy and get to "know" them without realizing why or how they do it. It is the same with thousands of commonly occurring "familiar" objects.

A man having once seen a violin would recognize another at any time, but any amount of verbal description of it would leave him almost as much in ignorance of what it looked like as before.

KING'S CORNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lockhart and son Kenneth, and Mr. Jubenville, visited with the latter's daughter, Mrs. Albert Roediger, at Southfield, Sunday.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Mary Hix were, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish, also her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hix, the occasion being Arnold's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. McCracken and Mrs. Foster called on Mr. and Mrs. Parrish Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Cady Hix, who have been spending the past year in the west on account of Mr. Hix's health, returned home last Thursday. They brought with them quite a surprise, they being the proud parents of a little daughter, Winifred, born April 4th.

Norman, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kaiser, had the misfortune to fall Sunday morning, and break his arm. A physician was called who set the arm. He is doing as well as can be expected.

The Helping Hand society met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hix at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish this month, but owing to the busy time, there was not a very large crowd present. One new name was added to the roll. After the business meeting, they adjourned to meet the first Wednesday in June, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hix, in the afternoon. The word for roll call will be "Let."

Mrs. Foster is spending the week with Mrs. McCracken. She is a sister of the late Mr. McCracken.

OBITUARY

David McCracken was born in Welland County, Canada, May 11th, 1861, and departed this life May 1, 1923, at the age of 57 years, 11 months and 20 days. In the year 1887 he was united in marriage to Miss Georgia Clew, who with one brother, Edwin, of Frederick, Mich., and two sisters, Eleanor Baughman of Elberta, Mich., and Mrs. E. L. Foster of Sarnia, Ont., are left to mourn their loss. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. Mr. McCracken had been in poor health for some time, but was much improved in health until April 27th, when he was taken suddenly worse, and passed away early Tuesday morning. Eight years ago, they purchased a farm on the King road, which has since been their home. He was a good neighbor, and will be greatly missed in this vicinity. The funeral services were conducted at the home, Thursday afternoon, May 3rd. Rev. Biddlecomb of Wayne, spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing friends, and interment was in Glenwood cemetery, Wayne, conducted by the Odd Fellows at the grave.

A CARD—We wish to express our sincere thanks to friends and neighbors for the beautiful floral offerings and sympathy in our sad bereavement in the loss of our husband and brother.

Mrs. G. McCracken,
Mrs. E. L. Foster.

The Awakening

Important changes in public sentiment are usually slow in growth, but sudden in expression.

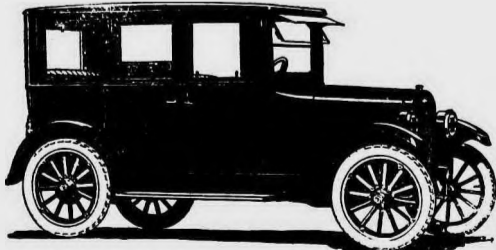

Success in any business depends on ability to sense a change and adapt one's action to meet it.

For several years the sentiment of automobile buyers has been shifting towards economical transportation.

The Chevrolet Motor Company has been fortunate in correctly interpreting this sentiment and in supplying a line of cars in harmony with it.

Witness then, the sudden rise of Chevrolet from seventh to second place in sales.

How does this change affect you? Are you with the tide of trade or against it?

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

We are glad to welcome back the travelers from the south. Several were with us again after an absence of several months.

At the Christian Endeavor meeting, last Sunday night, Lee Fisher told of his recent church experience in the city of Cincinnati. Mrs. W. B. Brownie led the meeting and told of religious work done in Scotland.

Indianapolis is the place where the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church meets this month. This church has over 1,700,000 members in 9,700 congregations in addition to 9,800 Sunday-schools. In a year the members freely give $47,000,000 to support the churches and the worldwide mission work of the denomination. Large sums are also donated toward the support of its 57 colleges in this country. It has 2562 schools and colleges in other lands. This church has $40,000,000 endowment to help support its missions and educational work, in addition to an investment of $175,000,000 in church property and $20,000,000 in manses; 46,600 business and professional men as elders, guide the churches in this country, and as many more give voluntary service as trustees of property. Through its representative elected by Presbytery, every local Presbyterian has a voice in General Assembly.

The Young Ladies' Choir Chapter held a business meeting and program at the church, last Tuesday night.

The Sunday morning attendance is increasing. Use your auto next Sunday morning for the transportation of aged and infirm mothers to and from church.

They Were Two of a Pair

By JUSTIN WENTWOOD

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

Three years before, when Jack left the city, he took Mary to dinner at a little Bohemian restaurant downtown. Over the table they vowed eternal loyalty. Jack was going West to make his fortune and Mary was staying on to make hers with her story writing.

"We'll meet here three years from tonight," said Jack, "and—"

"And we'll see what we shall see," said Mary.

For their engagement had all that machinery that attends the engagement of perfectly penniless people, who can hardly support themselves. And Jack was an unpractical idealist.

Neither of them had taken the appointment very seriously. Each, in fact, had been on the verge of getting married to somebody else. It was more or less an accident that made Mary say:

"Why tonight's Jack's night. Of course he won't be there. But I might as well go there—for old time's sake."

Jack mused. "Been back in town a week and haven't thought of looking up Mary. By George, tonight's the night. Might as well go."

Yet neither was very much surprised when Mary, looking up from the little table—their table—at which she had just sat down, saw Jack coming toward her.

And both concealed their emotion. Naturally it was a big thing for them. Jack, at any rate, suddenly discovered that Mary was the biggest thing in his life. How dearly her hair curled over her forehead! He had forgotten that.

How clean and spruce Jack looked. Mary remembered that. She hoped he would not ask her about her short stories. She had never sold one. She was a stenographer in a downtown office at twenty dollars.

"My stories? Oh, Jack, haven't you been reading the magazines? Oh, I forgot, you wouldn't know that. I'm Mary Russell Ames."

"What?" Jack stared at her. "Why, you must be making thousands!"

"More or less," answered Mary calmly. "You see, dear Jack, I just stuck to it—that's all. What have you been doing?"

"Oh, I'm eastern representative of the Western Products company," said Jack. "We're opening a city branch."

"But it's a big position, isn't it?"

"Five thousand," answered Jack.

Her heart sank. But she stretched out her hand. "Jack, dear old boy, I'm so glad. And they chatted of other things. And all the while Mary was thinking:

'DUST UNTO DUST'

Eternal Law Seen in the Case of Egypt.

Idle Thought That Death Could Be Conquered Overcome Only by the Teachings of the Savior.

Egypt, the rich spawning bed of all the infancies and all the magnificences of the first epoch, that African India, where the waves of history broke and died, where but a few years before, Pompey and Antony had finished the dream of empire and of life, this prodigious country, born of water, burned by the sun, covered with the blood of many peoples, inhabited by many animal gods, this country, paradoxical and supernatural, was by contrast the predestined asylum for the fugitive.

The wealth of Egypt was in mud, in the rich snake-breeding mud which the Nile rolled out each year upon the desert. Death was the obsession of Egypt. The soft, prosperous people of Egypt would not accept death, denied death, thought they could conquer death with graven images, with embalmings, with sculptured representation of flesh-and-blood bodies. The rich, portly Egyptian, son of mud, adorer of the sacred bull, and the dog-headed god, could not resign himself to dying. He manufactured for his second life immense necropolises full of bandaged and perfumed mummies, of images of wood and marble, and raised up pyramids over his corpse, as if stone and mortar might save them from decay.

When Jesus could speak He was to pronounce the verdict against Egypt: the Egypt which is not only on the banks of the Nile, the Egypt which has not yet disappeared from the face of the earth along with its kings, its sparrow hawks and its serpents. Christ was to give the final and eternal answer to the terror of the Egyptians. He was to condemn the wealth which comes from mud and all the fetiches of the pot-bellied river dwellers of the Nile, and He was to conquer death without sculptured tombs, without mortuary kingdoms, without statues of granite and basalt. His victory over death is won by teaching that sin is greedier than worms and that spiritual purity is the only aromatic which preserves from decay.

The worshippers of mud and animals, the servants of riches and the beast, could not save themselves. Their tombs, high as mountains though they be, decked out like queens' palaces, white and fair to see as those of the Pharaohs, guard only ashes, the dead bodies of animals. Death cannot be conquered by Egyptian life in wood and stone. Stone crumbles away and turns to dust, wood rots and turns to dust, and both of them are mud—eternal mud.—From the Life of Christ by Giovanni Papini.

Bird-Saving Expedition.
Dr. Alexander Wetmore of the biological survey of the Department of Agriculture, will leave soon for the Pacific at the head of a scientific expedition to explore the islands embraced in the national bird reservation of Hawaii. He will be accompanied by Charles E. Reno of the same bureau and the expedition will start from San Francisco about March 21. The Navy department will co-operate and furnish a 1,000-ton vessel to conduct the party from Honolulu to the various islands in the Hawaiian group.

Plans for the expedition have been perfected by the biological survey with the Bishop museum of Honolulu. The object of the expedition is to make collections and gather information concerning the bird life of the islands and destroy a large colony of rabbits menacing some of the bird birds through the destruction of the scanty vegetation upon which the birds subsist.

The Hawaiian Islands reservation consists of a dozen or more Pacific islands, reefs and shoals, stretching over 1,500 miles.

The Flapper Knew.
Something had happened. Some one had been injured. A crowd gathered around a fallen man on the sidewalk at Washington and Illinois streets. He writhed and then stiffened, exhibiting the symptoms of a person having an epileptic fit.

"The man is an epileptic," decided a bystander.

"Naw, he's a Bulgarian," corrected a flapper, disgustfully, shifting a wad of chewing gum the better for argument.—Indianapolis News.

The Vanishing Farm.
"The Big Town," said Farmer Corn-tassel, "is only 40 miles away."
"That ought to make it easier for you to market the products of your farm."

"I want you to understand that this ain't no farm. This here is suburban real estate."

Question.
"What was you reading?"
"A New York paper. It says the geese are still going south."
"Is that a society item or an ornithological note?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

One of His Favorites.
"Our coal dealer must like me."
"What makes you think so?"
"He actually consented to sell me a ton of coal this morning."

Right!
Customs Inspector—What have you to declare?
Returning Passenger—I declare that I am glad to get back.—Judge

The Wise Councillor.
Those men are the grace and strength of councils who are of that healthful nature which is content to take defeat with good humor, and of that practical turn of mind which makes them set heartily to work on plans which have been originated in opposition to their judgment; who are not anxious to shift responsibility upon others; and who do not allude to their former objections with triumph, when those objections come to be borne out by the result. In acting with such persons you are at your ease. You counsel sincerely and boldly, and not with a timorous regard to your own part in the matter.—Sir Arthur Helps

Timely Thoughts.
A well-known lawyer was chiding a legal friend for passing him in a motorcar without recognition.
"Sorry I didn't see you," said his friend. "Was — driving?"
"Yes," said the lawyer.
"Well," rejoined his friend, "when is driving you think only of your Maker and not of your earthly friends!"
