PLYMOUTH DAY AT THE NORTHVILLE FAIR

PLYMOUTH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS MAKING ARRANGEMENTS FOR ANOTHER MONSTER PARADE.

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce is planning for a big parade on the occasion of Plymouth Day at the Northville fair, Thursday, September 27th. It is planned to have a larger parade than last year, and that was some parade. The committee in charge wants everybody to get together in this movement and beat our last year's turnout. The manufacturers and merchants are all going to have floats and decorated cars in the parade. Pleasure car owners are expected to decorate their cars for this occasion also. The parade last year did much to advertise Plymouth far and wide, and many favorable comments were heard on every side for the large number of decorated cars in line. Let's eclipse our efforts of last year, and make Plymouth Day the biggest ever at the Northville fair, September 27, 1923.

Anyone wishing signs painted for this occasion can get the work done by Joe Tessman, Jr.

FORMER PLYMOUTH GIRL SAFE IN JAPAN

Fears for the safety of Mrs. Eva B. MacMillan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Adams of Detroit, and former residents of Plymouth, were removed the latter part of last week, when her relatives received a message that she had escaped harm in the terrible Japan earthquake.

Mrs. MacMillan is registrar of the Union Medical college at Peking, and was visiting Yokohama at the time of the earthquake disaster. Mrs. MacMillan was safe on board the Empress of Canada, and enroute to Shanghai, according to the telegram received from the Rockefeller Foundation, New York City, by her parents.

DEATH OF CHARLES KNOWLES

Charles Knowles of Elizabeth street, died in Ford hospital, Saturday evening, at five o'clock, following an operation for cancer, performed a few days previous. He was in the real estate business here. He leaves a wife, an aged father, and several brothers and sisters to mourn their loss. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, from his old home in Redford. Interment in that village.

While a resident of Plymouth, Mr. Knowles made many friends, who will regret to learn of his death.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Grandy and daughters, Helen and Evelyn, of Grand Rapids, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reamer.

C. H. Bennett has the thanks of the Mail office force for a basket of delicious fruit, which was grown on his farm, Buena Vista Farm.

C. A. Fisher and mother, Mrs. Sarah Fisher, and sister, Mrs. Minnie Hannan motored to Walloon Lake, last Saturday, for a two weeks' visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollins Jeffries and daughter, Kathleen, of Piger, Neb., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Carruthers, last week. Mrs. Jeffries is a niece of Mrs. Carruthers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers of this place, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holmes and daughter, Kathryn, of Royal Oak, were Sunday afternoon visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Holmes' in Ferrisville.

With the aid of smoked or colored glasses, Plymouthites Monday were able to see the portion of the solar eclipse, which was plainly visible here. The shadow could easily be seen across the lower part of the sun, and was visible for nearly an hour, reaching its height about 2:28.

SEPTEMBER WEDDINGS

WHITTAKER-MUELLER

An event of unusual social interest occurred Monday evening, September 10th, when two of Plymouth's prominent young people, Miss Conciola Mueller, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mueller of North Main street, and Clyde F. Whittaker, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whittaker of Salem, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents. There were about fifty guests present.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, preceded by "The Rosary," which were rendered by Miss Catarina Penney, pianist, accompanied by Daniel Patterson, violinist, the bride, gowned in beautiful white satin, trimmed in brocade and pearls, with a headband of rhinestones and a tulle veil, carrying a shower bouquet of salmon pink rose buds, and leaning on the arm of her father, descended the stairs, and marched slowly to the front of the fireplace, which was banked with palms and decorated with pink and white flowers. There she was met by the groom.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Cornelia R. Mueller, who looked very charming in a gown of yellow georgette, beaded in crystal, and carrying pink American Beauty roses. The groom was attended by Ray Anderson of Ann Arbor. Little Miss Alberta Bronson, three-year-old cousin of the groom, daintily dressed in white, bore the ring embedded in the heart of a rose. Rev. John G. Halliday of Detroit, chaplain of the Rainbow Division in France, and now honorary chaplain of the same division, read the solemn ring ceremony that made the happy couple man and wife.

The bride's mother was gowned in brown and cream pleated georgette, trimmed in steel cut beads. The groom's mother wore a gown of black beaded georgette. Following the wedding ceremony, the guests were served an elaborate buffet luncheon. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts of linen, cut glass and silver.

The bride is a graduate of the 1917 class of the Northville High school, while the groom is a graduate of the Plymouth High school of the same year. He was in active service in the navy during the world war. After a motor trip to Washington, D. C., the happy couple will reside on East Ann Arbor street.

The following guests were present: W. B. Harris of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Flanagan of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Connolly, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Harwood, Miss Olga Hammill, Robert Lodge and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sutton of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bake, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Buzzard, Sanford Shattuck, Miss Lulu Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Joffe of Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts of Royal Oak; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whittaker, parents of the groom, Henry Whittaker, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Whittaker of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Warner and Mrs. Lyda Bronson of Milford; Mrs. Anna Bronson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bronson of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bronson and Miss Mabel Bronson of Chelsea; Mr. and Mrs. William R. Whitacre of Howell, and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Titus of Ypsilanti.

The young couple have the best wishes of their many Plymouth friends for a long and happy wedded life.

HOAG-GOTTSCHALK
The home of Mr. and Mrs. August Gottschalk was the scene of a very pretty wedding Tuesday at 3:30 p. m., when their youngest daughter, Mable, was married to Orville Hoag of Detroit, Rev. King of Detroit performing the ceremony.

The house was beautifully decorated with pink and white asters. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chene, and carried pink rose buds. Her bridesmaid, Mrs. Emma Kay, also of Detroit, was gowned in brown canton crepe, and carried pink roses. The groom was attired in conventional black. Lewis Willet of Detroit, acted as best man.

About twenty members of the family were present, besides guests from Plymouth. There were also relatives present from Park Lake and Detroit.

After the wedding ceremony, the bridal party retired to the dining room where an elaborate wedding dinner was served. The table was decorated in pink and white cut flowers, carrying out the general color scheme of the house. The groom is manager of the Belle Isle Creamery branch, which position he has held for the past five years. The happy couple left by boat for Cleveland, and from there they will go to Niagara Falls and New York City. After the wedding journey they will return to Detroit, where they will make their future home.

SEPTEMBER WEDDINGS

HANSEN-ARMSTRONG
Word has been received that Edmund A. Hansen, formerly of this place, was married to Miss Dorothy Armstrong of New York City, Monday, September 10th. The groom is a son of Mrs. Eva Hansen of this village, and has a fine position with the New York World. Bud's many Plymouth friends extend congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Another new subdivision is about to be opened on the Plymouth-Northville road, between the village limits and Phoenix, to be known as the Phoenix Park subdivision. The new development consists of sixty-seven desirable building lots. The streets are to be cindered, also cement sidewalks, shade trees and sewers. Electricity, city water and gas will be available. This property lays on the east side of the highway and the interurban electric road. Being in the very heart of the Ford activities in this vicinity, these lots will find a ready sale, there is not a doubt, when they are put upon the market. The company who are promoting the new subdivision is known as the Plymouth Land Co. Bert Giddings of this village, is the local representative of the new company. It is expected that the sale of lots will commence within a few days.

ANOTHER NEW SUB-DIVISION WILL OPEN

ASSOCIATED MANUFACTURER'S SUPPER
As announced in last week's Mail, there will be a supper at the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday, September 19, at 6:00 p. m. This supper is given by the Associated Manufacturers, under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary. As the dining room of the church will seat only 209 persons, we wish to advise all who desire to partake of the "good things" provided, secure their tickets immediately, and to be at the church so that all may be seated promptly at 6:30 o'clock. The supper is to be served in courses, and a talk on the food values is to be given as each course is served, thus making it possible to serve any who are not on time. Do not fail to be on hand at six-thirty.—Advertisement.

Could You Get Your Money on Short Notice?

Your investments may be safe and may bring you an income at various times during the year, but if you needed some money on short notice, it would be almost impossible to liquidate your investments in time to meet the emergency.

That is why it is important to have money on a savings account at all times. You can get it the very day, yes, the very hour that you want it.

On a savings account your money is not only ready for you, but it is earning more in the form of interest.

No matter where else you may have money invested, part of it should be in this strong bank on a savings account.

MR. HARDING'S EXAMPLE

Shortly after the death of Pres. Harding, it was announced that he had drawn a new will just before leaving on the journey to Alaska. He had prepared one some years before, but conditions in his own private affairs changed, so he changed his will to meet them. He had sold his newspaper, had been elected president, and his financial affairs were all new within a few months time. His death while on tour brought out forcibly, the wisdom of making a new will when conditions change.

His example is worth something to every citizen of Plymouth who has any property, or whose financial or domestic affairs have changed since their will was made. The prudent man knows, and does not put off making a will or keeping it up to date once he has made it. Most people look upon such an action with awe, while many are superstitious enough to believe it is a premonition of impending danger to execute such a document when they are in perfect health. But the task of drawing a will, whether one has much or little, is not the task of a dying man, but for one in full health, to be approached with clear thought, and the full possession of all faculties, the man who cannot lose sight of the duty he owes those whom he will someday leave behind. The man who has dependents ought to regard the drawing of a will as one of the most important acts of his entire life.

IT'S HUMAN NATURE

People are continually going to a newspaper office with articles they want published or to keep something from being published. Usually they know much more than the newspaper man about what should or should not be printed, and their modesty doesn't prevent their telling him about it. Often they take it for granted that all that is necessary to get something in the paper, or to keep something out, is to make known what they want. Because they subscribe for the paper or carry advertising in it, they feel free to dictate its policy under a threat of "stopping the paper" or discontinuing their advertising.

Such people forget that each of them is only one of hundreds who are reading the paper, and that the other hundreds may want to read the very story that they want suppressed. They forget that a newspaper owes fair treatment to all of its readers, and that it betrays trust if it plays favorites by printing news about some people and withholding news about others. When they have done something that does not reflect credit on themselves, they ask the paper to protect their family or friends from publicity they have brought on them, although it is as much the newspaper's duty to print the news as it was the duty of the offender to protect those near to him by doing nothing that would cause them pain or sorrow.

A newspaper must have and follow rules governing the character of matter it prints in its columns. The best rule we know anything about is to print all the news that is fit to print, just as we aim to make the paper worth the subscription price, and our advertising worth the space charged. Scandal and gossip are not news. And when it comes to preventing sorrow or pain, we expect to continue doing just as little of it as any human being possibly can and still keep his conscience clear.

GRANGE NOTES

At the September 7th meeting, it was decided that the Grange put on an exhibit at the Northville fair, with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Root, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Root, Mr. and Mrs. Ammon Warner, Mr. and Mrs. James Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Campbell, Mrs. Alma Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. William Blunk to have charge, and will be very glad to hear from those having anything of interest to display and suggestions. Said committee will meet Friday evening, September 14th, with Mr. and Mrs. James Gates. All try and be there. By order of committee.

SCHOOL NOTES

High school notes were furnished by Marion Bennett.

With Louva and Joseph Rowland, Irene Truesdell and Elizabeth Beyer making High school in three years, it gives the senior class of '24, consisting of thirty-eight members, the honor of being the second largest class to graduate from the Plymouth school.

Two and two-tenths miles out the Plymouth road was the stopping place for the Girl Scouts on the first hike, Friday night. The girls cooked their supper and also enjoyed watermelon.

Plymouth day at Northville fair will see the first foot ball game of the season.

The foot ball schedule is as follows:

- Oct. 5—Ypsilanti Central, there
- Oct. 12—Open
- Oct. 19—Farmington, there.
- Oct. 26—Howell, here
- Nov. 2—Dearborn, here
- Nov. 9—Ferndale, here
- Nov. 16—Redford here
- Nov. 23—Open

Thanksgiving Day—Wayne.

Mr. Walker, our former coach, is coaching Ypsilanti Central High. This will be the hardest game of the season.

A fine new stock of boy's athletic goods has arrived.

The new terrazzo floors are quite an improvement to second and third floors.

The traffic having been very congested at the one drinking fountain on third floor, a new one has been installed.

No more losing of keys for the physical training classes, as we now have combination locks.

The beautiful new fifteen-inch silver cup is the evidence of another state championship, which will remain in the trophy case this year, and continue to remain indefinitely if won for three consecutive years.

It is given for poultry judging by E. E. Gallup, state supervisor of vocational education. The team consisted of Iris Palmer, Edith Macomber and Herbert Miller, who went to Lansing in February, 1923.

As deciding to elect officers for their class, as possible, the seniors had a meeting, Monday night after school. The girls did not show up very strong in this election:

Clifford Cline, president; Harold Stevens, vice president; James Hickey, secretary; Alton Sayles, treasurer. The dues will be two dollars a year, one dollar a semester.

Mr. Ross, Miss Schmidt and Miss Hayes are patrons.

AROUND ABOUT US

2,000 pupils are enrolled in the Redford schools.

Redford poultry fanciers will hold a poultry show October 11 to 13.

A stalk of ensilage corn is on exhibition in the village of Brighton. It measures 12 feet in height, and was grown in North Brighton in 90 days.

While Mr. and Mrs. Julius Landau were returning from Pontiac Monday, the auto in which they were riding was struck by an interurban car at Lock's corner and both were severely injured. Mr. Landau suffered a broken rib, and Mrs. Landau several bad bruises. The car was badly wrecked. Mr. and Mrs. Landau had been to Pontiac to visit his brother Charles, who is in a hospital there with a broken back received in an auto accident recently.—Farmington Enterprise.

The remarkable production of the Ford Motor Company's plant at Northville, Michigan, singles it out as one of the most outstanding of the several smaller manufacturing units located throughout the country. Although the Northville plant is seldom heard from publicly, nevertheless, in whatever part of the world the Ford car is to be found it carries with it the product from this plant. Having been engaged in the manufacture of Model T and tractor valves since it was opened in March, 1920, the Northville factory has produced more than 44,000,000 valves.

At the present time the plant employs 350 men working three 8-hour shifts and turning out 85,000 Model T valves and 10,000 tractor valves daily or approximately two and a half million valves a month.—Ford News.

LIVONIA CENTER LUTHERAN CHURCH.

There will be regular services at Livonia Center Lutheran church on Sunday, September 16th, in the English language. Sunday school begins at 1:45. Everybody welcome. We are in hopes to have our church completed and ready for re-dedication by the first Sunday in October. More definite announcements will be made later.

PERRINSVILLE

Rev. Stringer preached from the second chapter of Acts, for his last sermon before conference.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hanchett and Mrs. M. Steinhauer spent Sunday at Milan.

Master Lawrence Hanchett had the misfortune to fracture his collar bone last Wednesday night. While returning home with his brother, Raymond, and Harold Holmes, their machine collided with another on Warren avenue, throwing them into the ditch, and damaging Mr. Holmes' machine.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hjerpe and daughter, Isabelle, spent Sunday and Monday at George Baghr's.

Rev. Leason will occupy the pulpit next Sunday. Everybody come and hear a good sermon at 9:30.

Mrs. James Cousins was called to Canada, to see her brother who is critically ill.

Miss Shepard has opened her school in Cooper district, with a good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woods and Mrs. Thomas Woods visited Mr. and Mrs. James Odella and family at Gagetown, Tuscola county, last week.

Five Thousand for an Ear

By ANTHONY REIMERT

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

GEORGE, the elevator boy at the hospital, has a very pretty car, delicately shaped, like a girl's. On the other side he wears his long hair brushed low.

Miss Van Dyce, the society beauty, had shell-like ears, like George's. George had often seen her, for the Van Dyce home is not far from the hospital. Everybody knew the beautiful Miss Van Dyce, who used to drive the powerful car. She is driving it again, by the way.

Miss Van Dyce was brought into the hospital unconscious. She had been doing social work, had gone into a factory, and had a piece of her scalp torn away by a machine to which she stood too close. The ear was missing, too. The girl was disfigured for life. "Can nothing be done?" asked the distracted mother.

The doctor shrugged his shoulders. The ear had not been found. Every one knew where it was, before they stopped the machine, but—"Unless some person would be willing to give up an ear."

"I would pay five thousand dollars!" exclaimed the distracted mother. The beautiful Miss Van Dyce without an ear was simply unthinkable.

"There's George. He has ears of the exact shape," said the nurse.

Somebody broached the subject to George. "Five thousand dollars, George, and you can wear your hair long. It won't matter in a man."

"Five thousand nothing!" said George stoutly.

"You won't eh, George? Don't blame you," said the surgeon.

"Sure you can take me ear—both ears—for her," responded George, "but I won't take no money for it."

A volunteer had been found. The mother was strictly cautioned not to let her daughter know that it was a strange ear she would be wearing on her head when she came out of the ether. To her dying day Miss Van Dyce was to be ignorant of the heroic George's sacrifice.

The day came when George, feeling the ether come upon his nose, put his right hand up to his ear in last farewell.

He awoke with only one ear, but so happy! Two weeks later he was running his elevator up and down again, and his hair was growing nicely. He was the hero of the hospital.

Once, on one wonderful occasion, passing the passage, he peeped into the room in which Miss Van Dyce sat with her head bandaged. She was in a chair, reading a novel of heroism and young love. She did not even glance up when George passed. She was never to know anything about it.

George was a willing martyr. The thought that he had contributed to Miss Van Dyce's continued social career was infinitely joyous to him. He went about in an ecstatic dream.

The day came at last when Miss Van Dyce was to leave the hospital. George had been fully informed of the progress of the illustrious patient. She was doing very nicely indeed. The ear had grafted quite well and now formed an integral part of Miss Van Dyce's physical mechanism.

Best of all, the ear resembled Miss Van Dyce's private ear so closely that it was practically impossible to see any difference between them.

Now Miss Van Dyce emerged from her room, walking a little weakly still, but radiant at the idea of going home. With her walked her mother. The nurse pressed the elevator bell. George, below, flew up on wings.

He knew that it was Miss Van Dyce, ready to depart for home.

The door was opened. Miss Van Dyce and her mother stepped into the elevator. George's hand trembled so that he could hardly pull the rope.

He shot a shy glance at his divinity, but the divinity's eyes were upon the ground. The mother, who knew all about George, of course, and was afraid he was going to ask for the five thousand dollars, kept her eyes on the floor of the car.

George stole a look at Miss Van Dyce's head. There was his ear, her ear now, growing nicely, and looking particularly pink and shell-like.

Conscious that George was looking at her ear, Miss Van Dyce looked at George's. Suddenly she screamed:

"Oh, mother, take me away, take me away! That boy has only one ear! It oughtn't to be allowed in a public hospital. I shall get father to write to the directors."

Romans Take to Canoeing.

The American Indian canoe, which for centuries has plied only the streams and lakes of the North American continent has at last found its way to the classic "yellow river."

Canoeing has become a favorite river sport of the Romans. On Sunday a dozen or more of the frail Indian craft can be seen in the yellow waters glistening along the shores in company with skiffs, shells, sculls and motor boats. The graceful Indian water conveyance has become so popular that an Italian firm has commenced the manufacture of them. They took several American canoes as models and then began turning them out by the scores. A canoe club also has been organized, and many Americans have joined.

In addition to the perfection of the Indians has not yet been achieved. The Romans make vain efforts to keep the canoe headed straight but a change of paddles is necessary after every few strokes.

No Substitute Offered

Say what you will about the drug-gist offering something "just as good" because it pays a better profit, the fact still stands that ninety-nine out of a hundred druggists recommend Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, when the best medicine for diarrhoea is asked for, and do so because they know from what their customers say of it, that it can be depended upon.—Advertisement.

BAPTIST NOTES

next Tuesday evening, at the First Baptist church of that city.

The church decorations were above the average last Sunday morning, and after the evening service, many of the flowers were sent to the sick.

The flower bed in front of the church has a fine appearance these days. This is due to the efforts of Joseph Stanley who cared for it all summer.

We are glad to know that brother and sister Bennett are at home once more, and doing as well as can be expected, after the mishap they had west of Jackson. The church wishes them a speedy recovery.

We will have a new name on our cradle roll, as our superintendent has a fine baby boy in his home. Mother and son are doing fine. They will call him Robert Allenbaugh, born, Saturday, September 8, 6:30.

A goodly number hope to attend the banquet and rally at Ypsilanti, next Tuesday evening at 6:30.

The label on your paper tells how your subscription stands.

A Modern Bathroom Reduces Work....

Old bathroom fixtures that are streaked cracked and chipped are a needless source of extra housework. Then too, danger of contagion lies in every one of these germ catching blemishes. Keeping the floor clean, under and back of an old style tub and fixtures, is a matter of lots of hard work.

Join the long list of families who have improved their homes with modern built-in bath tubs and other up-to-date sanitary fixtures. They are a blessing to the housewife; and cost far less than they increase the property's value.

The installation or replacement of plumbing fixtures is no longer a thing to be dreaded. Our new and modern methods enable us to concentrate and quickly finish a job, without musing up the whole house.

Visit our store, or let us visit you and tell you how moderately priced such improvements really are.

SOUTH SALEM

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fry and sons of Northville, were Sunday afternoon callers at Guy Rorabacher's.

A large crowd attended the barn dance at Walter Kruse's, Saturday evening. An Ann Arbor orchestra furnished the music.

Leslie Curtis suffered a severe injury while putting new knives on his silo filler, Saturday evening. He lost his footing when the wrench slipped, and was thrown upon the knives, cutting a vein in his wrist. He was taken to Beyer hospital, Ypsilanti. He was able to come home Sunday afternoon, but is very weak from loss of blood.

Mrs. Theodore Siefelf and son, Victor, were on the Detroit market with produce, Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Richter and Miss Murray of Kensington, were over night guests at Charles Richter's, and attended the barn dance at Mr. Kruse's, Saturday evening.

The B. W. L. club met Thursday afternoon, September 6th, with Mrs. Louis Braun.

Jocelyn and Ida Freeman, Mildred Fishbeck and Louise Rorabacher are driving into Ypsilanti to school, each day.

James Spencer and Helen Spiegelberg of Whitmore Lake, were married at St. Patrick's Catholic church, Northfield, Wednesday morning, September 5th. They are at home in Salem, where Mr. Spencer is teaching his third year. Mr. Spencer, his sister, Mrs. Faye Perkins, and two brothers, Eugene and Leo, are alumni of Plymouth High school. Mrs. Perkins is teaching the Jarvis school; Eugene is in Ireland, completing his preparation for the priesthood, and Leo, who graduated at M. S. N. C. in June, is athletic coach in St. John's parochial school, Jackson. Mrs. Spencer was assistant postmistress at Whitmore Lake before her marriage. Many pre-nuptial affairs were given in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rorabacher were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McClumpha in Canton. Dr. Ford Smith, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Pullen of Fowlerville, were guests there also, and accompanied the Rorabacher's home, remaining till Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Whittaker were among the guests at the Whittaker-Mueller wedding, Monday evening.

LAPHAM'S CORNERS

The South Salem base ball team defeated Newburg 5 to 3 in a seven-inning game played Sunday. They will again play at Newburg on Sunday, September 23rd, at 2:00 p. m., sharp.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Groves and daughter, Florence, of Birmingham, and Mrs. Will Wint of Williamston, were Sunday visitors at John VanBonn's.

Miss Irene King was a Detroit shopper, Tuesday.

A large crowd attended the barn dance, given in the new barn of Mr. Kruse, last Saturday evening. A fine time was reported by all.

Mrs. Elita Smith has returned home from a few days' visit in Plymouth with her brother and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith entertained Mr. and Mrs. Will Euler of Pinckney, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith were in Ypsilanti, Wednesday.

THE WASHTENAW COUNTY FAIR

ONE WHOLE WEEK OF AMUSEMENT AND ENTERTAINMENT FOR EVERYBODY.

Washtenaw County's Gala Week, when everyone forgets their work and joins the throngs which will fill the big forty acre fair ground to overflowing, will be inaugurated on Tuesday morning, September 18th, at 8 o'clock, when Charles J. Hutzel, president of the fair, hoists the large American flag, which will complete the scheme of decorations provided for the fair grounds and on which the contractors have been busy for a week past. Thousands of yards of beautiful bunting and hundreds of American flags are being used to provide a patriotic and festive appearance.

Fair visitors this year, besides seeing wonderful exhibits of live stock, poultry, fruits, vegetables, flowers, fancy work and splendid displays of automobiles, farm implements and merchandise, will be entertained with elaborate programs of fireworks, day and night, and with the very highest class of platform acts, including world famous acrobats, perfectly trained animals and a bucking mule, which claims the proud distinction of never having been ridden by a human being. The fair will also feature Hiram and Aunt Sarah's, with their funny little old pig, will provide endless amusement and entertainment for the crowds that visit the fair, while the world famous Railroad Jack will be present each day, giving demonstrations of his remarkable powers of memory and his original Irish humor.

Fair patrons are assured of some of the fastest races this year, when seventy-five short ship entries endeavor to lower the record of 3:12 1/2, hung up last year by June Hal, on the new track. On Saturday, the final day of the fair, automobile races will be staged with a full afternoon program, one of the outstanding features of which will be a race between Sam Ross of Ann Arbor, who holds the state record, and Howard Taylor of Flint, the state champion, in an attempt to lower the state record for a mile on a half mile track.

Dance pavilion, five rides and six big shows will provide continuous amusement and entertainment on the midway.

NEWBURG

Rev. Stringer preached a good sermon last Sunday. Everyone should be out next Sabbath to hear Dr. Leeson, district superintendent. Two weeks from Sunday, Rev. George Davey of Marlette, will preach. Several years ago Mr. and Mrs. Davey were among our best young people. All should take an interest in giving them a hearty welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer King of West Plymouth, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Sunday.

Mrs. Minnie Hiker of Birmingham, spent over Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Emily LeVan.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barlow and family have moved into the Pickett house.

Miss Wheeler and Miss Mary Conner called on Mesdames Emily and Ada LeVan, Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Armstrong and children called on Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ryder, Tuesday evening.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Rosby McKinney was taken to Harper hospital, Tuesday, and underwent a serious operation for intestinal trouble.

A large number from Newburg attended the band concert, Saturday evening in Plymouth, given by the Salvation Army band. Everyone was delighted with it.

NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Reddeman and Miss Hall attended the Wayne County Teachers' Institute, Saturday.

John Bennett has been appointed librarian for the term.

Thomas Levandowski is at the head of the clean-up squad.

Angeline Rousseau was elected school reporter.

There are forty-five pupils enrolled in the first four grades under Miss Hall, and twenty-nine under Miss Reddeman, sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

Those who graduated to High school at the close of the school year are: Lelia Morrow, Helen Welzer, Mildred Bennett, Virgie Dunn, Howard Cochran and Raymond Levandowski.

Owing to the stormy evening, the Parent-Teachers meeting was poorly attended and little was accomplished. However, an entertainment was planned for some time in November, school committee to be appointed later.

METHODIST NOTES

The opening session of the annual conference is next Tuesday afternoon at Central church, Detroit. The various sessions are open to the public. Members of Plymouth church and friends are invited to attend and observe a Methodist conference at work. Morning sessions are given over to the business of the conference. Afternoons are usually taken up with addresses on various subjects, anniversaries of the various benevolent boards of the church, etc. The evening programs are in the nature of popular programs, with music and addresses by prominent speakers from various sections of the country and on various topics.

B. J. Holcomb leads the Epworth League service, next Sunday night. Special music will be rendered. Notice the sermon topic for next Sunday night, and plan to be at church to hear what the preacher has to say about it. There will be good music by the choir, too.

An informal reception will be held at the church parlors, next Monday evening at 8:00, in honor of our young folks who are soon to be leaving to enter college this fall. All members of the church and friends are cordially invited.

An Every Member Canvass is being conducted this week and next, to obtain pledges to cover our budget for the coming year.

1924 Model Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car $995

Don't Measure This Car By the Price

There is no product where price so fails to indicate value as in a motor car.

The difference in prices rarely represents a corresponding difference in values. Cars are being offered at prices greatly in excess of the Studebaker Light-Six which do not equal its intrinsic value.

Likewise, many cars selling for less, are high-priced compared with the Light-Six. They are not in the same class because they do not represent as great intrinsic value for the money invested. The Studebaker Light Six is the real quality car in the thousand-dollar field.

The low price of the Light-Six is due to Studebaker's vast physical and financial resources, the saving of middlemen's profits by reason of complete manufacture in Studebaker plants, and low manufacturing and sales overhead per car because of continuous large volume.

The satisfaction delivered by the Light-Six is universal. Its performance has won staunch friends everywhere. This is due to its advanced design and construction.

For example, the crankshaft and connecting rods are machined on all surfaces. This practice, which is largely responsible for its virtual freedom from vibration, is exclusive with Studebaker on cars within hundreds of dollars of the Light-Six price.

If you are thinking of investing about one thousand dollars in a car, then in justice to yourself, consider the Studebaker Light-Six first. Come in and see it. Drive it yourself. Driving is believing.

KEPT THE "NAILS"

How Trustees of Early Yankee Church Solved Problem.

Boston Merchant Made the Mistake of His Life When He Wrote "No Errors Rectified."

In one of the older churches of New Haven there is a quaint and beautiful baptismal service set of silver, and not less quaint is the tale of how the old church came by it.

The year that Yorktown fell the trustees of the church decided that the frame building must have repairs, and sent to Boston for six kegs of nails. In course of time the kegs arrived on one of the huge and slow-moving freight wagons of the day and were duly delivered to the carpenters.

Nails in those days were scarce and expensive, each one being the handiwork of a blacksmith, and, as a consequence of the methods followed in their manufacture, the smiths usually turning out a hundred or so on days when they had nothing in particular to engage their attention, they were apt to be very irregular in size and degree of perfection. The delight of the chief carpenter was, therefore, great when, knocking in the head of one keg, he found the nails of remarkably uniform size and indicating the best workmanship and material.

"Ye were in luck, demoin!" he remarked to one of the trustees who had been present to give receipt for the six kegs, "for these be Spanish nails, made at Toledo, helike they were taken from some Spanish ship by a sea rover."

He began to beat in the head of another keg and uttered an exclamation of astonishment.

"These be 'nt nails, demoin!" he gasped, his eyes staring.

They were not. The keg was full of Spanish silver dollars.

"So I see, Master Thomas," the deacon remarked quietly. "Suppose you head up that keg again, and I will call a meeting of the trustees to discuss this matter. We must write to the Boston merchant concerning it."

The meeting of the trustees was duly held that very day, and long and earnest were the arguments. What was the proper course for them to follow? Should they simply write the Boston merchant that one of the kegs had been found to be full of silver dollars? The church was poor and the lessons were Connecticut Yankees to the bone. It was obvious that the Boston merchant had obtained the keg in some unusual manner and it was a logical assumption that he had paid for it on a nail value basis, as he had sold it.

Then arose one who might have done mighty things in finance had he lived a century and a half later.

"Let us," he suggested, "write to this merchant of Boston town simply the facts that there was an error in shipment." And so they did.

In time came the merchant's reply. He said that he had bought the kegs from a privateer's man; that they were sold as bought, and that "no mistakes could be rectified."

And there is no doubt that the deacons chuckled somewhat dryly as they ordered the silver dollars. Spain melted down and cast into that service which can be pointed out today to the youth of New Haven as an example of—of, well, something.

The Araguaya Whale.

On the third day out, writes Reginald Pound in the July Wide World magazine, we were paddling vigorously along the Araguaya (Brazil) by way of keeping ourselves warm in the chilly morning air, when I was startled by the sound of a short, sharp explosion. Like that of a rifle shot, coming from behind me. Turning round, I spotted what is known as the "Araguaya whale," a big, gray-green fish, measuring seven or eight feet in length, and almost as much in girth. The hoto, as it is known, is perfectly harmless and will follow a canoe with the sagacity of a dog, indulging in all sorts of queer aquatic tricks. Occasionally it will take it into its head to dive with reckless abandon into the depths, following which the observer may see hundreds of smaller fish leap into the air in order to escape its violent rush.

New Substitute for Fur.

Certain kinds of fleeces not well adapted to spinning by a newly-invented process can be manufactured into a rich, fur-like material, which is supposed to present a valuable hygienic advantage over skin furs for clothing because the material is mounted on a wool foundation. It is reported by Consul General T. W. Sammons, from Australia. The inventor claims that this material has an excellent appearance, that it is suitable for all purposes for which fur is utilized, and for clothing where the utmost warmth, the least weight, and the maximum of protection are demanded.

Wren's Science Museum.

During the recent Wren celebration interest was focussed on St. Paul's and the beautiful London churches designed by him, but attention should be called to the fact that he designed the Old Ashmolean museum at Oxford. This was the first public museum of natural history and was only a few yards away from the famous Sheldonian theater, an earlier work of Wren. The original meetings of the Royal Society, of which Sir Christopher Wren was at one time the president, were also held here.—Scientific American.

A Pronounced Success.

The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the relief and cure of bowel complaints, both for children and adults, has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival and as everyone who has used it knows, is it without an equal.—Advertisement.

MUST HAVE ABILITY TO SELL

Without That Fundamental Knowledge Talent and Even Genius Will Avail Little in Life.

Nature has taught every man to be a salesman when it comes to making love, comments George Cromwell Blower, New York teacher of applied psychology, says the Louisville Herald. "Nature teaches the boy who would sell himself to his sweetheart as her husband that everything about him talks and that he must make it talk for and not against him.

"For that reason, he brushes his hair, washes his clothes and puts on his best manners and most pleasing smile."

Courtsip is the original form of salesmanship.

In primitive life the young man brings to his intended bride the choicest birds, fish and other game—to convince her that he will be a "good provider." And he brings her the rare colored stone for jewelry, or the rare bird plumage, to convince her that he can supply luxuries. He is selling himself to her.

In civilized life you will find the young man performing the same way—displaying to his sweetheart his bank book and the business prospects and the box of candy or flowers.

The more you study simple psychology the more it will occur to you that all life is a matter of salesmanship.

We "go out of the way" to please and hold our friends. That's salesmanship.

We cultivate attractive manners and common-sense demeanor and patiently build up a reputation for honesty and reliability. All salesmanship.

Instinctively we realize that we are keen in this material life on a short trip, with certain qualifications of advantage to others and certain handicaps that hold us back. We concentrate to overcome the handicaps and develop the qualifications. That's salesmanship—the super applied-science.

Two thoughts will occur to you as you ponder this discussion of salesmanship as a vital part of every business life:

First—it would be an excellent idea for every boy and girl to receive, some time or other in their education, a practical course in the fundamentals of the psychology of salesmanship. We can have much productive ability, but without the ability to sell (market) it we are designed to be candle-lights under a bushel.

Second—Salesmanship applies to nations as it applies to individuals. Amiable foreign relations are a matter of salesmanship, and it might be a good idea to let the sales engineers try their hand at so-called diplomacy—usually the science of selling gold bricks and then trying to keep the buyers satisfied.

The first lesson in genuine human salesmanship is Ralph Waldo Emerson's essay on "Compensation." Book stores have it in cheap copies. The libraries have it free. It's probably the sanest thing written in at least five centuries.

By JOHN PALMER

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

THOMAS DEAN had been an average young American before he voluntarily enlisted in the Canadian expeditionary force for service in the war. He had probably had some trouble with his young wife and enlisted in a moment of pique.

He had never discovered himself.
Men are capable of infinite heroism, of infinite baseness. The same individual will display both. Dean had been an average soldier, until the attack on Belleau Wood.

Then, running forward in a shower of lead and bursting shells, with his stomach upheaving and an awful sinking in the base of his spine, Dean found that he could go no further.

He dropped. The result of the attack was never known to him. He only knew that at nightfall a vast empty silence had succeeded the hell of earlier hours.

All about him were dead men.
Crawling forward, Dean encountered one of these corpses. The touch of his hand upon the cold face terrified him into hysteria.

However, Dean accomplished what he had set out to do. He exchanged identification disks with the dead soldier. Then he made his way back toward the rear.

It was a time of rout and confusion.
Regiments were undistinguishable.
Every man was put to whatever job he was at hand for. As a driver of a wagon, Dean found himself a little later back at the base.

He discovered that he was Thomas Jones, incapacitated for further service by reason of disability that had developed. He learned the symptoms and passed the superficial medical test. A month later he was back in Canada. Another month, and he was discharged—Thomas Jones, with a war pension.

A week later he was fleeing for his life. The news of the imposture had become known. As Henry Smith, Dean crossed the American border.

Thus an average young American who had quarreled with his wife found himself a nameless man and a fugitive—all because he had not known himself. He might equally have become a hero.

He imagined that the story was known in his home town. For years he wandered from place to place, until at length he thought it safe to return with the object of persuading Mary to accompany him West under the name of Smith.

His fate was with him. He arrived on armistice day. He had not thought of that. It was simply an example of the fatality that dogs one's footsteps.

On the town green a memorial had been erected to the men who fell in the war. In his shabby clothes, disguised with a mustache, Dean mingled with the crowd unrecognized.

He wandered aimlessly to and fro, looking at the statue with the wreaths, at the weeping women. He knew himself more clearly than at any time before for the scoundrel that he was.

Presently his heart gave a great bound. He saw Mary—Mary, leaning on the arm of a young fellow whom he knew as a former friend of his—one Williams.

They were walking very lovingly together. Dean watched them, clocking, incapable of moving as they approached him, even had they recognized him.

But they did not recognize him.
They did not cast a glance at the shabby tramp standing beside the monument, but halted a little distance away.

"I ought not to have brought you here today," said Williams.

"I'm glad you did, my dear," Mary answered.

Another glance at their demeanor showed Dean that they were married.
There was no possibility of mistaking that. Married, not long married, happily married—Mary happy, as she had never been with him.

"I wish I had been a better wife to him."

"He wasn't worthy of you, Mary."

"He was a good man, a brave man."

The mayor appeared. He was standing on the steps of the monument. He raised his hand to speak, and a hush fell upon the crowd.

The mayor was speaking. "Friends, we are gathered here today to commemorate the men who gave their lives for freedom—"

What was he saying?
"And above all, that hero who gave his life gladly to wipe out that machine-gun nest, at Belleau Wood, that hero whose name will remain immortal, Thomas Dean."

Trained to the Minute.

"Some people are born unlucky. I see where an obstreperous citizen picked a quarrel with a dapper little man and got the thrashing of a lifetime."

"The dapper little man must have been an athlete."

"You said it. He was a drummer in a jazz orchestra."

Mrs. F. L. Becker entertained the Busy Woman's Bible Class, Tuesday, at her home at Maple Grove. A pot-luck dinner was served to about twenty members and visitors. This was the annual meeting and officers were elected. After the meeting, a very enjoyable social hour was spent.
An invitation was extended by Mrs.
Leach to entertain the class in October, which was accepted. The treasurer reported better than $20 in the treasury at the close of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Voyle Becker and daughters, Marjory and Velma, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gordon and baby of Fenton, were Sunday visitors at the home of Ben Blunk.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Becker and Thurber and M. and Mrs. Otto Reamer attended the fair, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Jewell and son, Derward, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Reamer left Saturday noon on a motor trip to Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Pinconning and Standish, returning Sunday evening.

Miss Theo Swegles visited at the Becker home, last week.

The dredge that has been working in this vicinity all summer will finish the work in about three weeks.

Ernest and Richard Widmaier,
George Innis, Mr. and Mrs. James Mulholland and little son of Detroit, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs.
Fred Widmaier.

Mrs. Frances Durfee of Wayne, is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Don Packard.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The Busy Woman's Bible Class held its annual meeting, (and the first for the current year,) last Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. F. L.
Becker, on the Beck road in Northville township. There was a good attendance, and a "gooder" dinner.
The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs.
Inez Hathaway; Vice-President, Mrs.
Raphael Mettetal; Secretary, Mrs.
George Cramer; Treasurer, Mrs. I.
W. Hummel; Teacher, Mrs. Rose
Fulton; Mrs. Rose Tillston, organizer and charter member of the class, was the retiring president. She has served as president for seven of the ten years of the class' existence. As one item of business the class authorized the pastor to purchase a lectern for the church. The October meeting will be at the home of Mrs.
E. C. Leach.

The trustees and elders at their meeting last Monday night, "cut a melon." There were sixteen present.
There were several melons, however, so it was not "sixteen to one." Only one trustee and two elders were absent. That was quite a "full" meeting.

The session appointed elder W. R.
Shaw as its principal commissioner to Detroit Presbytery, which meets next Monday night and Tuesday in the Fort Street Presbyterian Church of Detroit. Elder J. W. Hummel was chosen alternate.

Rally day will be October 7th. A special program is being arranged by the Sunday-school.

Communion service will be held October 14. Those who desire to unite with the church are asked to see the pastor or some member of the session.

The "Willing Weavers" Sunday-school class held a meeting at the manse, last Tuesday night. This was formerly known as the "Daisy Class." A list of their officers will be given next week.

Paul Hamill led the Christian Endeavor meeting, last Sunday night.

There were nineteen in the choir, last Sunday. The trustees have authorized the purchase of a rackcover for the vestments.

There were three soloists last Sunday. Mrs. Max Moon sang in the morning, and Mr. and Mrs.
Harold Roberts of Royal Oak, in the evening.

Rev. Walter Albion Squires of Philadelphia, director of Week-Day
Religious Instruction, of the General Assembly's Board of Publication and Sabbath-school work, and Rev. W.
B. Shirey of Ann Arbor, who acts in a similar capacity for the Synod of Michigan, will attend the supper to be given in the church on Wednesday evening, September 19th, to meet all who are interested in that work, and explain the program for the current year. Be sure to meet them.

KING'S CORNERS

Mrs. George Smith of Sheldon, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roberts and daughter, Merle, from near Caro, were callers recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish.

School has opened in District No.
3, Nankin, with Miss Farrand as teacher of the higher grades, and Miss Wright of the lower grades.

The Helping Hand Society met this month at the home of Mrs. Mary Hix. The meeting was called to order by the vice president, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Pettibone, who was unable to attend on account of sickness. There was not a very large crowd present. Seems as though those near by might make an effort to attend, when Mr. King and daughter, Mrs. Walker, and son, James, can get to the meeting from near Salem. After the business meeting, they adjourned to meet the first Wednesday in October, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Utter in Plymouth. Dinner will be served next month. The word for roll call will be, "Cease."

Olive Hix is attending school in Plymouth, this year.

Mrs. Joseph Roach attended the state fair, last week Wednesday.

Mrs. Charles Kaiser and daughters were callers at the home of Mrs. Kaiser's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
C. Parrish, at King's Corners, Sunday.

Mrs. McCracken's sister, Mrs.
Buchanan, and daughter of Detroit, spent from Saturday until Tuesday at the McCracken home.

An Official Statement by the Governor of South Dakota

On August 29, Governor McMaster, of South Dakota, issued the following statement:—

"At a meeting with Colonel Stewart, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and other Standard Oil Officials, held in Pierre this morning, Mr. Stewart expressed unqualifiedly the willingness of Standard Oil to comply with the wishes of the consumers of the State of South Dakota in so far as those wishes could be expressed and interpreted by the governor of this state. These Standard officials, although they contend that the present prices do not properly reflect the costs of production, refining and distribution, plus a reasonable profit, were willing, at my request, to do one of two things—raise the price of gasoline immediately in the State of South Dakota where it would represent a six and six-tenths cent reduction over former prices, or maintain, for the time being, sixteen cent gasoline in the State of South Dakota, using Mitchell as a base.

"After due consideration, the Standard Oil officials were asked by the governor to maintain the present price of 16 cents for the time being. I wish to accept full responsibility for this situation and state that Standard Oil, by deed and act, is working in fullest co-operation with the governor of this state and therefore can in no respect be blamed for 16 cents gasoline from this date.

"I realize that the independents who have viciously assailed and attacked me will raise bitter complaint against this condition. However, after due consideration and investigation, I wish to say that if the former gasoline prices of this state were excessive, the independents of this state were just as responsible for that condition and were just as guilty of taking excess profits as was Standard Oil.

"At no time during the period which former gasoline prices prevailed did any independent of this state raise one objection or bring one complaint to this office in an effort to bring about any reduction in price but they were perfectly willing to profit to the fullest extent.

"I realize that all sorts of charges will be made against me because of this action, but in view of the fact that gasoline can be purchased at various refineries today for approximately seven cents a gallon, it will not work injury to the public cause if the Independents are forced for the time being to do business on a small margin of profit. There is no particular reason why the State Government should guarantee to the Independent Oil Dealers of this state, at least for the time being, fixed profits, especially in

"THE FRENCH DOLL"
Mae Murray in "The French Doll" comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday, September 16th. This great picture is being shown at the Capitol Theatre, Detroit, this week. The Detroit News, Monday, September 10th, had the following relative to this production:
"Cream puffs and marshmallows, feminine hysterics and faint perfume and dainty lingerie, and we have Mae Murray in 'The French Doll,' at the Capitol Theatre this week."
"No Mae Murray picture would be complete without a Mae Murray dance. So in 'The French Doll,' the irrepressible Mae Murray is revealed in golden wraps on the edge of a tiny mirror lake. Therefore, every twist and contortion is shown in double reflection on the screen, and yet after all, it is a simple little dance with a few innocent little wiggles and nothing more. But the setting for the dance number is truly astounding."
"The French Doll" concerns the adventures of a French family who go to America to sell fake antiques, but their jewel without price is a sole daughter. Then enters the wealthy fish king, whose education apparently does not extend much beyond the operation of a cash register. So there are plottings and intrigue among the members of the French family to sell the fish king much artistic and useless junk, but he slips through their fingers, despite the fact he is madly infatuated with the daughter.
"Although 'The French Doll' is mostly froth, it is really one of Mae Murray's best pictures so far. There are bursts of good comedy here and there, and, of course, a little of the tragic now and then. Nevertheless, all of the Mae Murray fans are going to like 'The French Doll.'"

"THE BRASS BOTTLE"
Maurice Tourneur's picturization of "The Brass Bottle," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, September 15th, is a novel mixture of Arabian Nights' Entertainment and a modern English love story, particularly well suited to the marvels of modern motion picture photography.
Some of the most unique tricks ever staged before a motion picture camera are claimed for it.
The story by F. Anstey is woven around the adventures and romance of a young English architect who obtains an ancient brass bottle from which, when the stopper is removed, a genie sallies forth to reward his liberator.
The scenes shift from an Arabian palace of nearly seven thousand years ago to the England of today and the general scope of the production affords an exceptional opportunity for the most spectacular effects in settings, atmosphere, photography and action.
The complications that ensue with the advent of the genie in these modern times are said to constitute some of the best and most fanciful comedy situations yet devised for the screen.
Harry Myers portrays the role of the young architect, while Ernest Torrence is to be seen as the genie. Charlotte Merriam plays the leading female role. Other important members of the cast are: Tully Marshall, Barbara La Marr, Clarissa Selwyn, Aggie Herring and Joseph de Grasse.
"The Brass Bottle," presented by M. C. Levee, is a First National picture.

Today's Reflections
There's no need in honking the auto horn at a railroad crossing until the railroad engine crosses to hear.
An epidemic called the "devil's apple" has spread from West Virginia to New York. What we can't understand is how it missed Chicago.
It will soon be time to take down the screens and let the flies out of the house for the winter.
It doesn't worry a Plymouth man much that his wife can't keep a secret; it's her habit of losing one that makes him miserable.
Living beyond our means wouldn't be so bad if there didn't have to be a day of reckoning.
The Plymouth man who complains that his wife cannot take a joke forgets that she took him for better or worse.
It probably wouldn't be so hard to enforce the dry law if a lot of stomachs could vote.
Baseball magnates have ruled that player's bats must be made of one piece of wood. Nothing is said about their heads.
Some Plymouth women can forgive their husbands for going wrong, but they can't forgive them for going broke.
You have probably noticed that it is no longer necessary to look at a clothes line to tell what women are wearing.
We don't really need a third party. Those who merely wish to waste their votes can just stay away from the polls.
Our idea of a perfect world is one in which our friends will be as liberal with their money as they are with their advice.
When a Plymouth mother says to her boy: "You just wait till your father gets home," we can't help feeling sorry for the poor old man.

FALL SAID TO BE SEED CORN SEASON
BEST GROWERS ARE SELECTING NEXT YEAR'S PLANTING STOCKS FROM FIELD NOW.
The fall of the year is seed corn season, and Michigan's best corn growers are preparing now for next year's crop by selecting their planting stocks in the field before the seed is damaged by freezing or molding. Those who put off thinking about their seed supply until spring, find good seed corn often hard to get.
"Successful corn growers know that next to the actual planting of the crop the most important step in profitable corn production is the selection and proper curing of the seed in the early fall, when the crop reaches maturity," says Prof. J. F. Cox, head of the M. A. C. farm crops department. "The opportunity afforded at this season to select in the field from the most vigorous and highest yielding plants makes possible an increase of from two to four bushels per acre, from superior heredity alone."
"Seed corn should be selected in the field just before the crop is shocked or harvested for the silo. At this time the kernels are usually glazed and dented, the inside husk is white, and the leaves are turning brown. In the case of corn being put in the silo, it is usually best to cut selected stalks and carry to the side of the field, shocking along the fence line so that the ears will have time for further maturity."
"Correct storage is important. The ears should be stored as soon as picked, in a dry, well ventilated place. The ears should be hung or laid out in such a manner that no two ears will touch. It is highly important that windows in the storage room be kept open until the corn is well dried. Artificial heat is a great aid in drying seed corn."
M. A. C. Bulletin No. 289, "Corn Growing in Michigan," gives a detailed discussion of field selection of seed corn. It may be had free on request from the Dean of Agriculture, Michigan Agricultural College, East Lansing, Mich.

THE NEW TYPE OF FORD CARS
The new type of Ford cars which recently arrived in this city are now on display at the show room of the Plymouth Motor Sales Co., local Ford dealers.
The higher radiator, now standard in all Ford types, has brought a general improvement throughout the entire line and the new radiator apron blending with similar apron effects on the fenders gives the front of the cars a highly finished appearance.
The Touring Car shows a decided improvement having a more streamline effect. It is lower in appearance, a feature adding much to the attractiveness of the slanting windshield and one-man top.
The Ford Runabout is likewise much improved and looks more sturdy.
The Coupe is entirely new in body design and construction. There is a more trim exterior appearance, more comfortable seating arrangement and greater luggage carrying capacity. From the dash there is a graceful sweep in the cowl to the radiator. The doors are wide and heavily framed. A larger compartment at the rear gives increased room for luggage, and the new type rear fender is more secure. Ventilator in the cowl and a visor over the windshield add to the exterior appearance, effecting a high quality aspect. Interior arrangement is most convenient, and the upholstery is choice. The seat is deeply cushioned and the cushions are divided, making it easy for filling the gasoline tank which is under the seat. A small recess shelf at the rear of the seat is handy for small articles. The door windows are equipped with revolving type window regulators permitting any desired ventilation. Doors are provided with locks.
The higher radiator has greatly enhanced the beauty of the Ford Four Door Sedan. This car, highly popular since its introduction a year ago because of its low, graceful lines, now presents a more sturdy appearance. Another feature coming as the result of the change made in the front of the car, including larger cowl, radiator and hood, is that occupants of the front seat are afforded more space, thus insuring added riding comfort. Many other little improvements and refinements are noticeable including revolving type window regulators for all door windows, and a dome light for illuminating the interior.

FRAIN'S LAKE SCHOOL REUNION
The reunion of Frain's Lake school was held on the grounds, August 22, and was considered the best of the season. Many brought well filled baskets of good dishes, and long tables were placed together, where all sat down and talked over school days. Promptly at two-thirty, the program was opened by the President, Philo Galpin. All joined in the singing of America. Address of welcome by Ivan Galpin; organ solo, F. Covert; song, Evalyn Lyke; short speeches, Miss Carrie Crippen, Viola B. Deurgess and Philo Galpin. Mrs. Carrie Lyke, secretary, read the minutes of the previous year, and Mrs. Belle Scottney acted as toast-mistress. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Belle Scottney; Vice-President, Thresa Maury; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Lulu Lyke; Entertainment Committee, Mrs. Mary Jealons and Mrs. Anna Freeman. It was decided to hold the next reunion the last Saturday in August.

Nervous Feeling Due to Gas on Stomach
Pressure of gas on heart and other organs often causes a restless, nervous feeling. Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, expels gas and relieves pressure and nervousness almost INSTANTLY. Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel. Adlerika removes matter you never thought was in your system which poisoned stomach, causing gas and nervousness. EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. Pinckney's Pharmacy.—Advertisement.

SEVENTH ANNUAL NORTHVILLE FAIR.

For the past six years the Northville Wayne County Fair at Northville has been pronounced the "biggest little fair" in the state, and the seventh fair to be held on September 25, 26, 27, 28 and 29, gives promise of being larger and better than any of those heretofore given. All departments will be filled and the grounds will present a scene of great activity when the gates open on Tuesday morning. Exhibits will be received all day Monday, and all must be in position by noon on Tuesday. There will be five free acts, concerts by the Ford Motor Company's band and by the Northville band, exciting races three afternoons and the Ford car races to take place on Wednesday—Ford day—will afford a great deal of amusement. There will be a poultry and stock show, and a fine display of live stock, fruit and vegetables, while the boys' and girls' clubs of the county will have interesting exhibits. Wednesday will be the better baby contest, which has created much interest in former years.

There will be the usual rides for the children and the fireworks display for four nights will be equal to anything ever seen in this section. Detroit Grotto drill team and drum corps will be present on Saturday afternoon to give an exhibition drill. The base ball tournament this year will be one of the biggest affairs of its kind ever given at any fair. Eight teams will take part and the two winning teams will play for the championship of the fair on Saturday afternoon. Eight of the best ball teams in this section have already signed up for the games.

There will be plenty of eating places on the grounds that all may be well cared for. Bring the family and spend a few days with old friends and neighbors. Wednesday will be Ford day; Thursday, Plymouth day; Friday, Redford and Farmington day, and Saturday, Detroit day.

COMMUNITY HAPPENINGS

At our meeting held with Mrs. Louise Hutton, August 29th, the following program was presented: Recitation, "A Fellow's Hat,"—Lawrence Miller; Song—Ruth Shuart; Instrumental Duet—Blanche and Henry Hutton; A talk on Einstein's Theory of Relativity—Mr. Wagner. Boys' and Girls' Club Leader, closing with a recitation by Walter Postiff.

The committee in charge of the community exhibit at the Northville fair is as follows: Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wisely, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McClumpha, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hauk, Mr. and Mrs. John Hauk, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. Swedes.

PLAIN SIGNATURE IS SAFEST

Forgers Who Can Easily Imitate Flourishes Generally Fall Down on Simply Written Names.

How many men contrive special check-book signatures full of flourishes in the simple hope that forgers will be baffled?

The fact that the simplest signatures are hardest to forge sounds paradoxical, though it is true. A plain, straightforward signature, without flourishes, must be copied with considerable skill in order to avoid detection by keen eyes, while the one that is scarcely decipherable, or which is characterized by unnecessary flourishes, presents a comparatively easy task, observes London Tit-Bits.

The forger, knowing that the customer's signature is identified more by the characteristic flourishes than by the actual name, concentrated his attention on producing a perfect copy of them; all signatures vary a little, and a slight deviation from the ordinary will not in this case warrant an investigation.

The forger usually lets himself down by a careless slip which seems unimportant when everything else is perfect; a bank cashier "spotted" a forger the other day, not by the signature, but because he knew the customer invariably put the date before the name of the month, whereas in the check before him they were reversed.

A most pernicious habit, common to many business men, is that of drawing checks on blank paper when their check books are not to hand. While the bank needs checks drawn in this fashion, they discourage the practice, which opens the way to the forger who studies his victim's methods.

No check should be drawn otherwise than on the special check forms provided for that purpose; no blank checks should be given to strangers; check books when not in use should be kept under lock and key; words and figures should be written carefully and close together, and all checks should be crossed.

Hot Weather Suggestions.

Wear as few clothes as possible. Of course you will be expected to keep within the law. And be careful of poison ivy—remember there's no place you can't get it.

Sleep three or four hours every afternoon. If this interferes with work give up the work.

Spread as much cheer as possible. If you see a person overcome with heat run up and tell him a funny story or anecdote.

Drink plenty of water and anything else you can get.

Call on any friends who have a habit of treating you coolly.

Think of last winter.

Associate only with Eskimos. An Eskimo valet, butler or cook cools the temperature of a house considerably.

Keep the head in cold water.

Sleep in the icebox.

Insult a policeman and let him knock you cold.—Robert C. O'Brien in Judge.

Like Sheba and Solomon.

Zantion, empress of Ethiopia, has recently enacted a historic repetition by sending gifts to Albert, king of the Belgians, her historic precedent being that of Sheba and Solomon. Zantion's gift to King Albert consists of a collection of precious stones found in the Abyssinian hills and valued at several hundred thousand francs and an Eighth century text of the story of Solomon and Sheba, says the Argonaut. The empress of Ethiopia charged her ambassadors to tell Albert of the excellent prospects for oil, coal and gold mining in Abyssinia.
