EVER WATCH THE BEE?

The bee is worth studying and, perhaps, imitating. It visits 56,000 clover blossoms to get a pound of honey. Each blossom has sixty florets, or flower tubes, each of which must be visited. Think of the patient, persistent, repeated action!

But the bee does the work; and gets the honey.

Likewise in the building of character and in the maintenance of spiritual life thousands of repeated actions are needed; but the honey is there for the "go getter."

WAYNE COUNTY TAX APPROVED

BUDGET AS ACCEPTED PROVIDES FOR FIVE-CENT RAISE OVER LAST YEAR'S FIGURES.

Wayne county's budget as approved in final form by the county board of supervisors, last week, at the last meeting of the autumn session is $7,635,512.11.

Income to the county treasury from various sources provides approximately $2,000,000 of the amount required to run the county this year, leaving $4,774,191.22 to be spread upon the county tax roll.

City Pays More Than Half
Property in the city of Detroit, which pays 79 per cent of the total county tax will be required to pay $3,863,744.39 of the total county tax. On the basis of the present assessed valuation the county tax rate will be $1.83 per $1,000 of valuation this year.

In addition to the regular tax the board of supervisors have also approved the levy of a mill tax for county road purposes, which based on the assessment of last year will be slightly less than one mill, the rate being 92 cents per $1,000 of valuation.

Have Special Road Tax
This tax, it is estimated, will bring in $2,448,351.06 for county road purposes, of which Detroit will pay $1,937,986.21.

Wayne county's proportion of the state tax this year will be $6,519,247.84, which with the county tax will make a combined county and state tax rate of $5.19 per $1,000, an increase of five cents over the rate of a year ago, which was fixed at $5.14.

THE NUTRITION WORK FOR PLYMOUTH SCHOOL CHILDREN CONTINUED THIS YEAR

The nutrition work carried on in the Plymouth school for the past two years is being continued this year. The first of the nutrition stories was given in October, to the boys and girls of the first six grades by the County Home Demonstration agent, who has charge of the stories.

The object of these stories, one of which is told each month, is to interest the children in the relation of right food to health and growth. Each story is accompanied by a roll chart on which each child's daily record for the month's work is recorded. Sixty-seven boys and girls last year had perfect records for nutrition habits for a period of five months.

The coffee story told in October interested the boys and girls very much. About twenty-five per cent of the children in these grades reported drinking coffee at least occasionally.

These nutrition stories are a part of the extension program of the Home Economics Department of the Michigan Agricultural College and are used by hundreds of schools in Michigan. They are used in the Plymouth schools at the request of Superintendent George A. Smith.

BERNICE WOODWORTH, Home Demonstration Agent.

PLYMOUTH MEN RECEIVE DEGREES AT U. OF M.

More than 300 degrees were awarded by the regents of the University of Michigan, at their meeting last week. Among those who received degrees were: George A. Smith, A. B., and Benjamin J. Holcomb, B. ### FAREWELL SERVICES

NEXT SUNDAY

THE MEMBERS OF ST. PETER'S LUTHERAN CHURCH WILL MEET FOR THE LAST SERVICE IN THE PRESENT BUILDING.

October 14, 1883, the present house of worship of St. Peter's Lutheran church was dedicated to the services of the Lord. The congregation will assemble once more in this present building next Sunday morning, to thank the Lord for his mercy of keeping and protecting this building from harm, danger and destruction for forty years, and for the blessings bestowed upon all, who heard the preaching of the gospel therein and were permitted to partake of the holy sacraments.

Sunday's service will be a farewell service to the old church, for when the work of remodeling is finished it will practically be a new church. All members should attend Sunday's service and join in thanking the Lord for His past blessings and to ask Him to bless the undertaking of renovating and enlarging the church. Everyone is welcome to attend this service, which will be in the English language.

MANY ENROLL IN RED CROSS

The annual Red Cross membership campaign, which is in progress in Plymouth this week, has seen a large number of our citizens renewing their memberships in this great organization. The campaign closes Saturday night, and it is urged that everybody who has not already done so, take out a membership before that time. It only costs a dollar to become a member of the Red Cross. Plymouth has always gone over the top in former campaigns—help put her over again this year.

Last year, alone, the Red Cross administered aid in 72 great catastrophes and spent nearly a million and one-half dollars in so doing. Since 1881, it has spent $20,000,000 on relief in a total of 372 disasters. The work of the organization has been such that when the recent Japanese earthquake took place President Coolidge asked the Red Cross to be the official collectors of the $10,000,000, which were to be used to relieve the stricken peoples of the east.

WATCH THE SIGNALS

We've heard several Plymouth auto drivers complain recently of men and women who disregard the customary hand signals while driving about our highways. They complain that many drivers make left-hand turns in a haphazard manner, without extending the arm from the car, as should be done, to notify the driver in the rear of their intentions. Or they come to a sudden stop without first dropping the left hand outside the car to show that they are going to stop. The driver of every car should remember that the man driving behind him is watching closely for such signals as he may give, and that it is really the only safeguard against an accident. One little bit of carelessness in using the hand signal may result in a bad collision, with a possible loss of life or, at least, costly damage to machines. It's easy to signal, and it's only pure carelessness that keeps anyone from doing so. Remember that the next time you go to make a left-hand turn or when you stop your car.

COUNT YOUR COIN

Citizens of Plymouth will be interested in a statement just issued by the U. S. Treasury department to the effect that there is now in circulation $42.85 for every man, woman and child in this country. Three years ago this per capita was $57, and when the Civil war started it was but $14. As the business of a country expands the amount of our currency has to be increased or money will be "tight," prices will sink to a disastrous point. If too much money was issued we would experience just such conditions as now confront Germany. Money wants to be just "tight" enough so people will have to work for it and it will buy enough to supply their needs. But keeping it at the right point is the problem we will always face, and always we will have those who complain that they can't get hold of their share. So long as the per capita wealth of this country is $42.85, financiers declare the nation is in good shape and on a solid foundation. And even though the other fellow may have a part of our $42.85, we still hope the financiers are right about it.

WATCH FOR GOOD THINGS

It is the aim of makers of this paper to put into every issue many things we believe will prove useful to our readers. We vary them week by week, so it is necessary for you to look through the paper closely that you may find the things that are meant to interest you. Some of the things intended to help you are in the news columns, but many of them are always to be found among the advertisements. And haven't you noticed that advertising is much more useful to you than it used to be? It is now the part of wisdom to read the ads in every newspaper. If you will read and act upon the ads you will find our home merchants are striving hard to give you honest, sincere information about what and where to get what you want at fair prices. If you will read and act upon the advertising in this paper, you will find it not only to your immediate advantage, but you will make Plymouth a better and better place in which to trade, a thing that will work to the permanent advantage of all of us.

PUSH THIS ALONG

When most of us went to school recess meant a brief game of ball or "hide-and-seek" or something like that. But times and customs have both changed, and now Plymouth youngsters, like those in every other section demand modern equipment in their play. They're coming more and more to see the advantage of regular, scientific exercise, and we are not the ones to argue against it. Thousands of schools are being supplied with modern playground equipment, and we believe it is as good an investment as a board of education can make. Then, too, the teachers and parents of many school districts are now organizing Parent-Teachers Associations, holding regular meetings, discussing matters of interest in study. This we also endorse. We believe such an organization tends to bring the residents of a community into closer touch, and we know that when people rub elbows in neighborhood communion, good to the entire school district will result. Let's have a Parent-Teachers Association in every school district.

It's easy to get some one to come once a month for a good, wholesome talk on education subjects, and many helpful pointers can be gained thereby. Let a part of one meeting be devoted to discussing ways and means for securing additional playground equipment, additional books for the school library, or, if there isn't a library in the school, to ways and means for starting one. We're not going to do too much, for the boys and girls who are coming on to take our places, and the sooner every school district organizes with this fact in mind, the better off that community will be.

SCHOOL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION OPENS AT METHODIST CHURCH. EVERY THURSDAY NIGHT FOR SEVEN WEEKS.

"He lives best who serves most." A Night school of Religion to help folks to be better prepared to live a life of efficient usefulness opened November 1st at the Methodist church, next to the school house, and will continue for seven weeks. No expense involved except the purchase of a text book, and that is not compulsory. The people of the church and community are invited to enroll for the classes. Following is the program:

6:15 to 6:55—Pot-luck supper for the whole family.

7:00 to 7:40—Popular praise service with singing and devotions.

7:45 to 8:30—Study classes will meet with rooms assigned.

Bible Study—"Comrades in the Great Cause." (O. S. Davis). A devotional study in Paul's Letter to the Philippians. Teacher, D. D. Nagle.

Missions—Applied religion. "Creative Forces in Japan," (G. A. Fisher). The book that young people's societies all over the country are studying this year. Teacher, Mrs. H. S. Doerr.

Teacher Training—"The Worker and His Bible," (Eiselen-Barclay). Particularly for Sunday-school teachers and otherwise who desire to make themselves more proficient in their knowledge of the Bible. Teacher to be assigned.

Bible Stories for the children. Teacher, Mrs. O. B. Borck.

8:30 to 9:00—Steriopian slides, pageants, educational films, etc.

At the first meeting last Thursday evening, the teachers were introduced, enrollments taken for the various classes, and courses outlined. If you cannot come for the earlier part of the service, come for the study hour. This is not a substitute for the customary prayer meeting, but an enlargement of its possibilities.

This is the big opportunity for study of world problems in the light of religion, a training school for larger service. You will enjoy the study, and the fellowship, and will rejoice in the enrichment of your life. Join the Thursday night crowd.

A PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING

Miss Ella Bernhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bernhardt, was united in marriage, last Saturday afternoon to Richard Reinholdt of Plymouth, the ceremony taking place in St. Paul's Lutheran church in this village. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers, and presented a very attractive appearance. The bride wore a gown of white canton crepe, while the bridesmaid's gown was blue canton crepe, and the maid of honor wore a gown of robin's egg blue.

About 90 friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Carl F. Eisfeldt. Henry Schmutz played the wedding march, assisted by his sons on the violin.

After the wedding a bountiful six o'clock dinner was served to the friends and relatives at the home of the bride. Mrs. Huffman and Mrs. Martha Kregger sang during the evening.

Guests were present from Lansing, Detroit and Northville. Mr. and Mrs. Reinholdt will reside in Plymouth. Many friends in this vicinity will extend hearty congratulations. The bride received many useful and pretty gifts.—Northville Record.

Do You Farm for Fun or Profit?

Either way—have running water on your farm! Think of the many things that demand water. The livestock, the garden, washing the car; the dairy and poultry house; the kitchen, laundry and bathroom; all together, take many, many gallons. Without a farm water system, this represents hours of hard work.

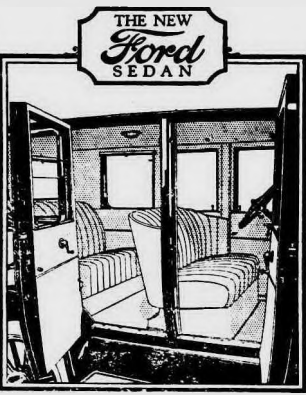

There's enough hard work on the farm without performing this labor. A farm water system will do it quicker and cheaper.

Work horses, beef cattle, hogs, milk cows and poultry—all thrive better, and return greater profits, when there is an ample supply of fresh, pure water. Often, they don't get it, when it has to be pumped and lugged by hand.

In the house, it means years added to the life of the women folks; and the health protecting comfort, for all, of a modern bathroom and indoor toilet.

OBITUARY

Mrs. E. K. Simonds, one of Northville's oldest residents, passed away in Plymouth, at the home of her niece, Mrs. W. T. Conner, October 25, 1923, aged 85 years.

Adaline Owenshire was born on a farm in the township of Novi, Oakland county, November 7, 1838. When a young girl, she moved to Northville, and resided there until her marriage to George B. Morse, December 15th, 1858. They moved to Holly, and Mr. Morse's death occurred March 5, 1863, when Mrs. Morse returned to Northville, and resided with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Owenshire, until her marriage to Capt. E. K. Simonds, which took place October 13, 1880. After 32 years of wedded life, Capt. Simonds passed away April 2, 1912. Mrs. Simonds continued to live in Northville, until three years ago, when she took up her residence with her niece, Mrs. W. T. Conner. Her thoughtful and unselfish character endeared her to all.

She leaves three nephews, Clinton L. John C. and George H. Wilcox, one niece, Mrs. W. T. Conner; three great nieces, three great nephews, two great great nieces, and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

OBITUARY

Isaiah Gleason was born in Detroit, Mich., in 1834. Two years later his father and mother died, during the cholera epidemic in the state. He was afterwards adopted into the family of a Mr. Baker. He came to Plymouth to live when about 16 years of age, and has made his home here ever since. He was married to Elletta McKay, January 20, 1856. She died six years before his death, on the same day of the month, and almost the same hour. For many years he was the village shoe maker and cobbler, and by honest work and earnest effort, was known and respected by all.

He was a member of the original Plymouth band, and loved music very much. While he never joined any church, he was accustomed to reading the Bible and believed in it. Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Gleason, two of whom remain to mourn their loss, Marshall Gleason, his son, of Mill street, and Mrs. Edith McCarthy, who resides in the home, and has been constant in her care for him in his sickness.

AROUND ABOUT US

The 39th commencement of Cleary College, Ypsilanti, was held last Saturday.

Preparations are being made for a monster celebration in Detroit on Armistice Day.

Ed. Dyer of Detroit, is the new owner and manager of the Exchange Hotel at Northville.

The Commerce Truck Company of Ypsilanti, commenced production the first of the week. This plant was formerly located in Detroit.

The Presbyterians of Royal Oak, will raise $30,000 to spend on their church edifice. Rev. J. E. Webber, formerly of Northville, is the pastor.

A new industry, which will be known as the Bigelow Cement Products Co., will begin operations on the Bigelow farm in Farmington and West Bloomfield townships, as soon as a factory building can be erected.

A new well will pour 2,000,000 more gallons of water into Royal Oak's mine daily, as soon as the pump installation can be finished. This will fortify the city for some time to come against a water shortage.

OBITUARY

The Northville village council has had a census taken of that village, and the result shows a population of 2,351. This is a gain of 613 since the census of 1920. These figures would indicate that Northville is enjoying a steady growth.

The Board of Commerce of Farmington, has erected a beautiful monument in front of the Farmington town hall, to the memory of the men of that township who have served their country in the Civil war, Spanish-American war and the World war.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Last Sunday morning the congregation was addressed by Ralph Darian, who made a special appeal on behalf of the Near East Relief. During the service, the Rev. T. W. Marchant, who had charge of the service, made some mention of the Rev. Frank Copeland's work here in Plymouth; he also spoke on the Red Cross campaign which is being observed in Plymouth, this week.

We want a full attendance next Sunday morning, both at the church service and also at the Sunday-school, as this will be the Rev. Frank Copeland's first Sunday, and the rector would like all the members of the church and Sunday-school to make a special effort to be present, and also all friends of the mission church who can be present at the service.

The Sunday-school will meet in full numbers, next Sunday morning, when the rector will speak to the pupils and teachers. Sidney D. Strong has consented to be the superintendent. New sets of very interesting lessons have been ordered, and will arrive in time so as to make the start after next Sunday. All scholars and teachers make a special effort to be present, and bring your friends, who do not attend any Sunday-school.

A very pleasant social evening was spent last Friday, in honor of George Merryweather, when some of his friends, with Rev. C. H. McCurdy, rector of Birmingham, gathered at his home on East Ann Arbor street, the occasion being the presentation of the silver cup, which he won this year while at Camp Williams, Port Sanilac. Charles Latham, the winner last year, presented the cup, and George in a neat little speech, acknowledged the honor.

BAPTIST NOTES

Sunday morning the pastor spoke on the "Keys of the Kingdom," and "Peter Opening the Door of Faith to the Gentiles." Acts 10:12. Mr. Allenbaugh and Mr. Hamill sang a duet.

The B. Y. P. U. was of unusual interest on Sunday evening, led by Ira Kingsley, whose subject was, "Our Relation to the Foreigners." About five per cent of the population of Plymouth are foreign. It was discussed from every side, and very interesting. Charles Duryee gave a cornet solo.

The B. Y. P. U. held a very interesting Halloween social last Wednesday evening, at the Shackleton cottage at Bass Lake, and had a great time.

The young people gave us some good music Sunday evening. Every seat was taken in the choir. The duet by Mr. Campbell and Mrs. Sayles, and the offertory by Elbert Segar, were enjoyed by all.

Rev. and Mrs. Sayles and Mrs. Daly registered for the Baptist Bible and Missionary Conference in Detroit, this week.

We were all glad to see Mrs. Sewell Bennett back at the morning service, Sunday, for the first time since their accident at Jackson, some weeks ago.

LIVONIA CENTER LUTHERAN CHURCH

There will be regular services at the Livonia Center Lutheran church on Sunday, November 4th, 1923, in the German language. On account of the illness of the pastor, the Rev. H. H. Hoemcke of Detroit, will preach, Sunday-school as usual at 1:45, in the English language.

On November 18th, 1923, Livonia Center Church will celebrate its annual mission festival. Two divine services will be held. At 10:00 a. m. Eastern time, in German, and at 2:30 p. m. in the English language. Watch for further announcements.

THE THEATRE

"SALOMY JANE"

Proving itself an artistic treat from start to finish, George Melford's Paramount picture production of "Salomy Jane," featuring Jacqueline Logan, George Fawcett and Maurice Flynn, will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, November 3rd.

The picture is based on Bret Hartle's splendid story of the gold rush days of '49, and it is graphically presented by a cast of exceptional merit. Many pictures of this romantic period have been seen on the screen, but it is seldom that one sees so delightful a creation as this. From the robbery of the old stage coach in the beginning, the arrest by the vigilantes, trial and conviction of an innocent man for the crime, and his romantic meeting with Jane on his way to execution, his escape, and a thousand and one dramatic incidents that follow, there isn't a dull moment in the action.

"Salomy Jane" has been artistically produced by Mr. Melford, and it is 100 per cent pure entertainment. Screened in the Santa Cruz mountains, it is scenically a marvel of its kind. Dramatic action and thrills are the fitting concomitants of every scene, and even the most blasé picture fan will find in this offering bits that are new and satisfying to his jaded taste.

"THE FIGHTING BLADE"

There is nothing new under the sun, avers Richard Barthelmess who will be starred at the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, November 4 and 5, in the John S. Robertson production, "The Fighting Blade," a First National picture.

"A couple of years ago we were startled by the craze for bobbed hair, introduced by the flapper. At the time we gave these maidens credit for having evolved a new way of wearing their hair. However, there was nothing original in this coiffure at all, it was simply borrowed from masculine fashion of the 17th century."

Mr. Barthelmess is right. His own hair was permitted to grow so that it might be bobbed for this current picture. For in it he is a Roundhead. And the Roundheads were the Parliamentary party in England in the Civil War of 1642-1649, so-called because their hair was bobbed (or what is today termed bobbed), giving them a round appearance. Their opponents, the Cavaliers, wore theirs in the conventional long style. The Roundheads were followers of Oliver Cromwell and succeeded in deposing Charles I after defeating the Cavaliers.

Barthelmess plays the part of Karl Van Kerstenbroock, Flemish soldier of fortune and the deadliest duelist in all Europe, who goes to England to avenge the death of his sister and remains to wreak his vengeance against all Royalists. Daring exploits, hair-breadth escapes, secret amours and honorable love, thrills and suspense mark the course of "The Fighting Blade," most ambitious of all pictures in which Barthelmess has been starred.

A Boston preacher says young people should be taught how to make love. That's about as useless as teaching ducks how to swim.

MAKING THE MINE

Things That Are Necessary Before Operations Start.

If You Cannot Drill and Shoot Rock Yourself, Hire Miners Who Are Experienced.

In order to "make the mine" you've got to open up the ore in shape to be mined and shipped. If you cannot drill and shoot the rock yourself, hire miners who understand working rock. If your ore bodies are in a vein running up a hillside, drive a tunnel, 5 by 7 in the clear, along the course of the vein. At places where good ore shows for 100 feet for the same distance up, then connect the aprises by drifts parallel to your lower tunnel along the vein. This "locks out" your ore on four sides and puts it in shape to be sampled, mined and run to the lower level through wooden chutes and trammed to surface at the portal of your main tunnel.

Keep doing this ahead and upward every place where you have ore. Make your costs less than the smaller returns from your ore course. If you cannot do this, you have no mine.

If you have a shaft proposition, you've got the added expense of raising the ore to the surface, together with pumping the mine free from water, and your ore must be correspondingly richer.

Block out all the ore you can, so that an engineer may go through the mine and sample extensively to determine the amount and average value of the ore. Open it by open cuts, benches, etc., along the surface exposures, for the same purpose. Then have a buyer, estimating your selling price from the gross amount of ore in sight, plus a sum for possible and probable ore head, and your profit.

Or you can form a stock company, incorporate for a stated number of stock shares, issue enough for control and aside a certain number as development stock and make a contract with a broker to sell this share allotment for the cash to develop your mine.

Gold ore must be tested by fire-assay, but if the gold can be seen you can tell it this way. It is yellow, but does not alter color when viewed at different angles; it can be flattened with a hammer, or under the point of a knife it feels soft; nitric acid has no effect, but if the yellow material is sulphide of copper or iron (pyrites) there will be fumes escaping.

Silver can be tested by dissolving a little in a test tube with a few drops of nitric acid. Boil until all red fumes disappear. Let this cool and then add a little water. Filter the whole and add a few drops of muriatic acid, which will throw down a white chloride of silver.

Dissolve this with ammonia and add nitric again. When this result is exposed to light a white it will show a violet tint if there is silver present.

Platinum is rather hard to treat. You mix a mixture of nitric acid and muriatic aqua regia and add your powdered ore to it and boil it for about two hours. Add a small amount of alcohol and filter, after which you add ammonia chloride. The platinum will be then thrown down as a precipitate.—Adventure Magazine.

Old Way Is Better.

How It Happened.

A lumberjack with a broken leg was taken to a hospital for treatment. After the leg had been set, the nurse asked him how the accident occurred. He replied:

"You see, ma'am, it was this way: I was skidding for the Dutch Lumber company and I had only one ground mole. He sent up a big blue butt and she was a heavy one. I saw her yawn and yelled to him to give her a St. Croix, instead of which he threw a sag into her and gunned her, and that broke my leg."

"Yes," the nurse replied, "but I don't exactly understand."

"Neither do I," said the lumberjack. "That darn fool must have been crazy."—Judge.

EMPLOYER SIZED UP HIS MAN

Incident Which Occurred on Road Revealed Character of Prospective Employee.

A successful Maine business man was sitting on his porch one day talking with a visitor. An automobile in which a party of young friends rode, passed the house and then swung into the side of the highway. The young man who was driving got out and looked at the tire on the front wheel. It was flat. He walked to the rear of the car, looked at the spare tire and then said something to one of the other young men who had gotten out. The other made a reply and both got into the car. It was turned around and driven down the street. The business man watched the operation but said nothing.

Half an hour later the party came back along the road and proceeded out of sight.

"I suppose you noticed that?" said the business man to his guest.

"I don't know as I understand," replied the other.

"That car which just passed had a flat tire the first time they came by here. They turned around and went back and now they have passed again."

"I remember that car now, but did not notice that it was the same," was the reply.

"It was," said the business man. "I had a particular reason for noticing it, as the young man driving it has been seeking a place with me. I had about made up my mind to give him the chance, but I wouldn't take him on after watching this incident."

His friend expressed surprise and the business man went on to explain. He called attention to the type of car the party was using and said that the work of changing the tire would not have required more than twenty minutes while it ought to be done in considerably less time. The car should have all the necessary equipment for making the change. If it didn't, the young man showed carelessness in not having his tools in place when he started on the trip. "It is true," said the business man, "that he might have gotten a bit of dirt on his hands and trousers, but the one could have been washed and the other brushed. By making the change himself, he would not have lost the time necessary to go back to a garage to have it done and would have saved that expense, but he wouldn't take the chance of the little dirt. It is unfortunate for him that this took place in front of my house for it cost him the place with our firm; I don't want that sort of youngster working for us."

Mrs. Malaprop's Husband.

Mr. Brown was calling on an old friend.

"I declare," he remarked to the friend's wife, "it quite cures me of home sickness to drop in here and see a little of your home life—er—er—not that your home life is anything but the—what I mean to say is that it makes me all the fonder of my own home—er rather, that, on the home-patch principle, a hair of the dog that bit you—which isn't of course, what I mean. But when a man is lonely he can enjoy the society of almost anybody."

"Sir," said the lady, jolly.

"I mean," returned Mr. Brown, as he inquired the permission from his fare, "that, he it ever so humble—no, yours is not that—but there's no place like one's own—but, I mean—well, I must be going, good day!"—Detroit Free Press.

Animals Easy Prey to Hunters.

The advisability of breeding big game animals in captivity for the purpose of restocking covers is questionable, due to the fact that big game species become so tame when propagated artificially that they fall easy prey to both the hunter and predatory animals when liberated.

Twelve mountain sheep were recently presented to the United States bureau of biological survey by the Canadian national parks service, to be liberated on the Montana national bison range.

The sheep were brought to the range from Rocky Mountains park, Banff, Alberta, without accident. They arrived in splendid condition and their future will be watched with a great deal of interest by big game enthusiasts.—Exclamation.

Drawing the Line.

An actress who had retired from the stage and bought a little house in the country, decided to start a chicken farm.

Accordingly, acting on the principle that all big businesses have small beginnings, she bought a hen and a setting of thirteen eggs.

As she had no knowledge of poultry at all she wrote to a poultry expert and asking how long the eggs would take to hatch out. The paper replied:

"Three weeks for chickens and ten weeks for ducks."

Some weeks later she again wrote to the paper:

"Many thanks for your advice. However, at the end of three weeks there were no chickens hatched out, and as I did not want any ducks, I took the hen off!"—Poultry Journal.

At This Distance.

Today we spent an hour picking the woolly aphs off of grapevines, alternately scratching chiggers from black-berrying.

And, we reflected, how foolish, at this season, to worry about sprinkling ashes on the icy sidewalk!—From the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

SCHOOL NOTES

FIRST TEAM GAME

(By Doris Van Arsdale)

Plymouth foot ball team went down to defeat on the home grounds before Howell, with a final score of 14 to 7, Wednesday, October 25, but with the tacking and blocking of Kenyon and Holmes, and the kicking of Kenyon, Plymouth was able to score for the first time in a number of years on Howell's much heavier and more experienced team.

Nothing spectacular occurred during the first half, except a forward pass to Kenyon, who carried the ball 45 yards, bringing it within nine yards of the goal line, but here the strong Howell team showed its strength and held for four downs. The first half ended with the ball in mid-field, score 0 to 0.

During the third quarter, Plymouth's team weakened, and Howell crossed our goal line twice. A forward pass from Trimble to Kenyon enabled Plymouth team to cross Howell's goal line once, and to be within scoring distance again at the close of the game.

Mr. Coatta, the coach, was well pleased with the performance of the team as a whole, and nothing will be left undone during this week's practice in preparing for our biggest game of the season with Dearborn, Friday, November 2nd, on the home grounds at 3:30 o'clock. A team as good as ours deserves your support, so come out and help our boys win.

Our line-up for the Howell game was as follows: Hickey, I. E.; Wilson, I. T.; Hiery, I. G.; Reiman, C.; Mills, R. G.; Stevens, R. T.; Trimble, R. E.; Holmes, F.; Cline, R. H.; Kenyon, I. H.; Millard, P. B. Substitutions—Ambrus for Stevens; Mitchell for Ambrus.

NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES

Don't forget the shadow social tonight. The teachers and children are working hard to make it a success, so let us all get together and show them we appreciate their efforts to entertain us. There are many things needed in the school for the children's comfort, and they are trying to raise the money. There will be lots of eats, and a good time is assured to all. Ladies are requested to bring a lunch for two, and we especially invite the men. Come on. Let's go!

St. Paul's school was closed Thursday and Friday of last week, to allow the teachers, Miss Reddeman and Miss Hall, to attend the Michigan State Teachers' Association Institute held in Detroit.

Mrs. Harmon Gates, president, and Mrs. J. F. Rousseau, secretary, of our Parent-Teachers Association, attended the meeting of the P. T. section of the State Teachers' Association held in Detroit, and listened to some very interesting talks by Miss Carrie Dickens of Ann Arbor; Miss Ellen Lombard, Child Welfare Bureau of Department of Labor, Washington, and Mrs. Charles E. Stewart of Battle Creek, who is Honorary President of Michigan P. T. A. It is gratifying to hear that the P. T. A. has grown from 8,000 members in 1921 to 31,000 in 1923, under the leadership of Mrs. Edgar Kiefer, State President of the association. The slogan is, "Every Parent A Member." Why not join? The dues are only 25c a year. Why not help to put our school on a par with the rest. It can be done—by our cooperation with the teachers. Next meeting will be held, Tuesday, Nov. 13th.

VEGETABLE STORAGE GIVES WINTER SUPPLY

HOME GARDEN CAN BE MADE YEAR-AROUND INSTITUTION BY PROPER SELECTION AND CARE.

The home garden may be made the source of a winter as well as a summer supply of vegetables, if proper storage facilities are made use of.

The following pointers on home garden storage are given by E. P. Lewis, of the horticultural department at the Michigan Agricultural College:

"Cabbage, beets, carrots, turnips and parsnips require cool, moist storage conditions. Potatoes demand the same low temperature, but somewhat drier atmosphere. Onions keep best with a low temperature, dry atmosphere and free air circulation. Squashes and sweet potatoes require much higher temperatures with dry atmosphere.

"In selecting vegetables for storage, it should be borne in mind that many organisms, causing decay, enter through wounds or bruises on the surface. Therefore, only perfectly sound specimens should be selected.

"Three places are ordinarily used for home storage of vegetables: the cellar, the outdoor pit, and a permanent outdoor cellar. The house cellar is probably the most common. These vegetables demanding cool, moist conditions should have a compartment partitioned off from the furnace room. Often some medium, such as sand, is ideal for the root crops. Cabbages may be wrapped in paper and placed on shelves. Squashes and sweet potatoes keep in an ideal condition in the furnace room.

"A well-drained place should be selected for the outdoor pit. Ordinarily a slight excavation is made and lined with straw. A layer of straw eight inches thick and an equal layer of soil is placed over the conical pile to be stored.

"The permanent outdoor cellar is usually constructed on a hillside and completely covered with earth except at one end, where the entrance is located. Ventilation is supplied by ventilators through the ceiling and cold air intake chambers through the floor."

At the top a new weatherstrip, steel reinforced, excludes all air that might enter between the windshield and top, and side curtains button to the windshield, instead of the posts, covering the slight crack between them.

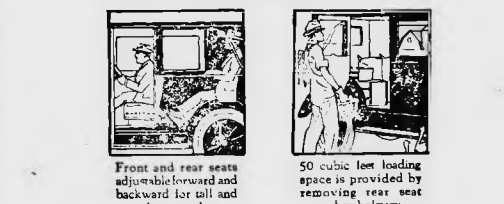

In addition to these and numerous other refinements, Buick four-wheel brakes afford a greater degree of safety on all models.

Master Billy Petz entertained eight little boys at a Halloween party at his home Tuesday evening, from five to eight o'clock. A delicious dinner was served the little folks at six o'clock, by the small host's mother. The home was trimmed in orange and black, and each little guest came in costume. A very pleasant time was enjoyed.

The Primary department of the Sunday-school of the M. E. church was entertained in the church parlors Saturday afternoon from 2:00 until 4:00, at a Halloween party. There were ninety guests present including the teachers. The afternoon was spent playing games, and ice cream cones were served. Each child was given to carry home as a souvenir, an all day sucker dressed up as a witch. Every kiddie came away with a beaming face attesting to the enjoyable afternoon he had had.
