NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORY OUT

MANAGER HALL GIVES MAIL SOME INTERESTING INFORMATION REGARDING GROWTH OF BUSINESS AT LOCAL EXCHANGE.

Manager Albert Hall of the Michigan State Telephone Company announces that the delivery of the company's new directory of subscribers for Plymouth commenced November 14th, and will be completed about Nov. 16th.

There are listed in the new directory 874 subscribers numbers, compared with 848 in the last issue. Throughout the state the company has shown a very considerable growth, Manager Hall states, making it possible for local subscribers to secure telephone connections with many more thousands of telephone users than a year ago. 924 copies of the new directory will be distributed to local subscribers. The manager requests that subscribers not receiving copies of the directory notify him.

The principal change shown in the new directory is noted in the size of the type in which the listings are printed, being much larger and more easily readable than heretofore. Manager Hall declares that the telephone company believes the new type will find favor with all subscribers.

Besides being a directory of telephone subscribers, the new book will largely be used as a city directory, as it contains the latest information on street addresses published locally. The book's use as a city directory increases considerably with each issue.

In the front of the directory is much valuable information concerning the telephone company and its dealings with the public, the proper use of the telephone, making of emergency calls and the use of toll or long distance. Special note is made of reduced toll rates of evening and night calls to other cities.

Manager Hall states that local use of the long distance wires is growing rapidly, an average of 3960 calls being made from here to other points each month. The social use of long distance, particularly for congratulatory messages and greetings, is increasing, he says, and commercial salesmen are finding more use for the toll wires here, many firms making the telephone office headquarters for their travelers while covering this portion of the state. Manager Hall makes special arrangements to handle the long distance telephone calls of traveling salesmen, who wish to call customers near Plymouth, thus helping increase the importance of this city as a business center of the surrounding area.

DEATH OF CHARLES MINING

Charles Mining died at his home in this village, Wednesday, after an illness of six months. Mr. Mining was 70 years of age. The funeral will be held from his late home, Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. A more extended notice next week.

BUILDING ADDITION TO STORE

Work has commenced on a twenty-five foot addition to the rear of the Blank Bros. Department store. The new addition will be the full width of the present building, and will be two stories high. An archway will open from the main store to this room, which will also provide space for an elevator.

St. John's Episcopal

Since the church news was printed, we are advised that the service on Sunday at St. John's, will be in the evening at 7:30, and not in the morning. The rector was obliged to make this alteration. Sunday-school as usual.

The management of the Penniman Allen theatre has taken a half page ad in today's paper, to announce the coming of Pola Negri, in "The Spanish Dancers," at the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, November 18 and 19. This is one of the big pictures of the year, and has been greeted by packed houses in every theatre where it has been shown.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL STILL CONTINUES

PLYMOUTH HEADQUARTERS AT R. R. PARROTT'S OFFICE.

Secretary E. V. Jolliffe hands us the following, relative to the Red Cross membership roll call campaign here:

Without doubt many people of Plymouth and vicinity are unaware of the fact that the annual Red Cross Roll Call, which was officially launched on Armistice day, November 11th, by President Coolidge, is to continue until Thanksgiving Day, November 29th.

Of course, Plymouth workers, under the enthusiastic leadership of Mrs. C. H. Bennett, put on their first week intensive campaign, and were much gratified at the response shown in enrollment of new members and the general of present memberships. But even though a splendid spirit has been shown, the workers are frank in their expressions of disappointment when, in comparing this year's cards with the records of previous years, they find that many former members have not renewed their memberships. Many representative citizens of Plymouth are known to be interested in the work of the "Greatest Mother in the World," yet this year at least, they appear not to have shown their interest in the only real tangible way, the giving of a dollar to renew their Red Cross membership.

Through the generous offer of R. R. Parrott, Roll Call headquarters will be maintained at his real estate office on Main street from now until November 29th. Those who have not yet renewed their enrollment still have the opportunity of doing so by going to Mr. Parrott's office. Or, any who wish, may telephone 175 or 48R, and someone will call to arrange the renewal.

As President Coolidge has said in his appeal for renewals, the Red Cross is truly an American organization, and it is upon popular membership that it relies for its strength of organization and for funds to carry on its important work.

It is expected that the Red Cross will spend $12,000,000 during the next year in humanitarian work, either in the unusual mans of war or in unexpected upheavals, such as the Japanese earthquake. Communities everywhere are doing their share in this splendid work, and, as usual, there is no doubt but that Plymouth will measure up in every respect.

WILL LAY CORNER STONE SUNDAY

Next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, will occur the laying of the corner stone for the new addition to St. Peter's Lutheran church of this village. The services will be conducted in English by the pastor, Rev. Charles Strassen. The public is most cordially invited to attend these services. A space has been provided in the corner stone, which will contain the membership roll of the church, a list of the contributors to the building fund, the names of the members of the building committee and this week's issue of the Plymouth Mail.

SCHOOL GLEE CLUBS WILL GIVE OPERETTA

The Plymouth High School Glee Clubs will give the operetta, "Captain of Plymouth," under the personal direction of Miss Fern Hall, at the High school auditorium, on Tuesday evening, November 27th, at 7:30 o'clock. This entertainment promises to be one of the best of its kind that has ever been given in Plymouth. Watch next week's paper for the complete program and cast of characters.

BAKE SALE

Mr. Patrick has made many friends in Plymouth during the time he has been in business here, who will wish him continued success in his new location. On another page of this paper he announces a formal opening, on Saturday, November 17th, when he cordially invites the public to call and see the new store. Read the ad.

THEY EDUCATE

Vernon Reigel, Supt. of Education of the state of Ohio, has issued a circular letter to the school teachers of his state asking that they give special attention to the reading of newspapers in the schools.

He points out that reading newspapers is one form of reading that every pupil will be interested in, and that it will serve to make the boys and girls discriminating users of the public press, as well as keeping them informed on the current events of the world about them. Reigel points out that the newspapers of today is one of the most important educational agencies in existence, with valuable departments and the kind of articles they are most apt to be able to utilize to advantage. They get an insight into affairs of government they could not get in any other way—and it must be remembered that upon their shoulders a little later on will fall the responsibilities of government.

A study of the world's news from day to day, and a knowledge of what is going on in the town and county in which they live is the kind of history that will interest them most. They will learn of the mistakes of others and not make the same mistake themselves—they will learn the mistakes other nations make and will some day be in position to aid this one in steering clear of the same mistakes. Newspapers, both weekly and daily, seem with interesting items, and there is so much that is good in the way of news that it is not necessary to read or dwell upon the bad. We believe Supt. Reigel's suggestion could well be put into practice here in our own community.

WHY HE DID IT

Lloyd George has returned to England after visiting this country and he goes back as that nation's "man of the hour." In America he visited the birthplace of Lincoln, the birthplace of Washington, the grave of Roosevelt—and then he asked to be taken to Moosehart, Ill. He wanted to see the 1200 children in an institution there, he wanted to visit this place made possible by members of the Moose lodge, of which another Welshman, James J. Davis is the head. He wanted to see with his own eyes how fraternal institutions in America look after those who are without a paternal guiding hand. And he went away satisfied, he said, that there is no danger in store for any nation that is bringing up even without parents to guide them, boys and girls fully fitted to take on the responsibilities of government. Lloyd George is a wise man. He wanted to see if the orphans of America are getting the same kind of wise counsel and patriotic training as those more fortunate from parental standpoint. And he went home satisfied that they are.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Last Sunday, the rector spent his first Sunday in Wayne, and our service was in charge of Mr. Wesley, layreader of Trinity church, Detroit.

The vestries of Plymouth and Wayne met last week with the rector at the offices of C. C. Mabin, warden of St. John's, Wayne. The meeting was a very interesting one. The rector formulated his plans and suggestions, and spoke at some length on the specific duties of each officer of the vestry and of the vestrymen. The principal discussion was for the arrangement of the services for each parish, and it was unanimously agreed that morning and evening services should be held alternately in Plymouth and Wayne; for instance, next Sunday the service will be in Plymouth in the morning, and Wayne in the evening; the Sunday following it will be Wayne in the morning, and Plymouth in the evening, and so on; these services will be announced each week in the church notice column of the Plymouth Mail. It will be noticed, too, that the time of the services will be 10:00 and 7:30, in uniform with the other churches.

The Church-school will hold sessions every Sunday morning at 11:15, and regular meetings are being arranged by the rector for the Church-school teachers and for choir practices. Watch the church notice column in the Mail for the services and meetings.

Permanent-Reliable-Safe Heat in every room

No matter how large or small the building, "heat by radiators" has proved reliable, economical and satisfactory in every way.

Radiator heat saves fuel and provides constant, healthful warmth in every room. It is the cleanest, safest, most modern and most easily controlled method of healthfully heating any building.

Radiator heat has made sky-scrapers possible and convenient to live or work in. Imagine tending fires on the twentieth floor! It has also made the heating of the smallest building a matter of proportionately small expense.

"Heat by radiators" is the modern, reliable, permanent, safe, clean and economical way of heating. It lasts as long as the building. In practical terms, it alone has salvage value.

FISH CLIMB TREE

Anabas Scandens Have Thirst for Palm Wine.

Certain Kind of Parch Performs Remarkable Feat—Has Lungs as Well as Gills.

Several hundred years ago some European travelers returning from a visit to India told a fish story rivaling some of the animal fables invented by Baron Munchausen. They affirmed that they had seen, or at least heard of, a fish which apparently feeling the need of a bit of stimulant now and then emerges from the water near a convenient coconut tree and then climbs the latter to have a drink of palm wine.

The learned men of the day scoffed at the absurdity of this nature tale, but about the beginning of the Eighteenth century the story was repeated, with some modifications, to be sure, by a more reliable authority.

A certain Danish lieutenant, named Daldorf, made a formal report to the newly-founded Natural History Society of London, named in honor of the famous Swedish naturalist, Linnaeus, that he had really seen in the waters off the coast of the East Indian city of Tranquabar a fish which left the water at intervals and actually climbed the stem of a palm tree. It accomplished this remarkable feat by attaching itself to the trunk of the tree, by means of the ends of the extended gill covers and at the same time pressing the tall fins and anal fins against the bark, thus managing by suitable motion of its body to hang on and climb higher and higher.

The Danish sailor did not reveal where it was seen, but said when captured it showed no distress at being out of water and gambled happily in the sand for hour after hour.

The assembled naturalists were unconvinced. They were quite sure that fish are able to breathe only by gills, and that when these are dry, as they soon must be when a fish is taken out of water, the fish inevitably quickly dies.

Strange as it may seem, however, the story was true. There is a climbing fish which can live out of water for quite a long time. This is the climbing perch, Anabas Scandens. To be sure it climbs only occasionally and then upon palm trunks, which ascend not vertically but at a convenient slant. It does make a practice, however, of climbing out of the water and spending hours in the dry grass on the bank. This fish has lungs as well as gills, which accounts for its unusual powers.—Review of Reviews.

Shrine Vields Heathen Relics.
Relics, estimated to be about 4,000 years old, have been found by scientists in a tomb and shrine of heathen worship built during the Stone Age. Located in the southern part of Sweden, it lay buried beneath ten different strata of earth. Constructed of large rock slabs, it has a central chamber, ten by five feet. Around this is a circular pavement, from which radiate a number of curious walls marked by stones. A considerable quantity of human and animal bones, together with flint daggers and spearheads, were unearthed. Also, there were about 7,000 fragments of ornamented vessels, which had been thickly strewn outside the tomb. The shattering of these containers probably took place in connection with heathen religious ceremonies.—Popular Mechanics.

She Had Company.
Thompson was coming home from a dance, when all of a sudden he collided with some one who was running wildly in the opposite direction. When the two had sorted themselves out he saw that the other was his friend, Wilks.

"Why, Wilks!" he exclaimed. "Where are you going in all this hurry?"

"I—I am going for the police," replied his friend.

"For the police! What is the matter?"

"We've got burglars in our house."

"But surely you haven't left your wife alone?"

"Oh, no! She's holding the burglar!"

Last Words of "Bob" Ingersoll.
Robert G. Ingersoll, the agnostic, died suddenly and did not talk about religion and the after-life just before his death, as popularly supposed. On the day he died he suffered an attack of acute indigestion and lay down to rest. About an hour later he put on his shoes. Noticing that he looked pale, his wife offered to have his dinner brought to him. But he refused, saying, "Oh, no, I don't want to trouble you." Then Mrs. Ingersoll offered to give him some medicine, but again he refused with a smile, saying, "I'm better now." Those were his last words. He sank down in his chair, dead.—Detroit News.

Honesty in Shoes.
"No," said the old man sternly, "I will not do it. Never have I sold anything by false representations, and I will not begin now."

For a moment he was silent, and the clerk who stood before him could see that the better nature of his employer was fighting strongly for the right.

"No," said the old man again. "I will not do it. It is an inferior grade of shoe, and I will never pass it off as anything better. Mark it A Shoe Fit for a Queen, and put it in the window. A queen does not have to do much walking."

REFUSED TO AID REFUGEES

Eyewitness to Burning of Smyrna Declares Ships Stood by Without Offering to Help.

Just a year ago, while 200,000 panic-stricken men, women and children huddled in a three-mile wall of human misery on the quay of Smyrna, hemmed in between the scorching flames of their burning city on one side and the Aegean sea on the other, there were only two boats that could take the refugees to safety.

One was the Hog Island, a United States Shipping Board vessel. The other was the Winona, an American freighter.

The Hog Island sailed away without taking a refugee.

The Winona lifted anchor and left when it could have taken at least a thousand more of the stricken people on shore who watched it go.

These statements are made by a well-known Near East Relief nurse and eye-witness of the tragedy, Miss Agnes Egan.

While flames and smoke and terror tortured the maddened throngs on the quay, destroyers and cruisers of Italy, France, England and America stood by watching them. A few rowboats were filled with refugees, rowing around and around these ships. They were not permitted to get on board.

The water between the quay and the ships was full of bodies of men and women, drowned while swimming. The destroyers were warships; it was against regulations for them to take on board any one save citizens of the countries they represented.

Yet in the case of the Italian and French destroyers those citizenships could be bought. Refugees who had been able to reach the quay with some money and had not yet been robbed by the Turks, paid five hundred and a thousand liras each for these so-called citizenships, which meant life.

The destroyers carried them as far as Mytilene and dumped them on that island, penniless. In writing thus of the Smyrna tragedy, which began on September 13, 1922, after the rout of the Greeks by the Turks, Miss Egan gives the first really complete eye-witness account of the entire disaster.

"Smyrna was more than a Turkish atrocity; it was rather a failure of humanity," she concludes. "Smyrna shakes the fundamental faith that keeps us alive. The concerted greed and cruelty of nations and of thousands of individuals created the horror on the quay of Smyrna."

"But if our faith in life survives, then there is a value in knowing the things that were done at Smyrna. They are scientific data showing what humanity is. The atrocity of Smyrna was the crime of the organized politics of the world, and the cruelty and cupidity of individual Turks were matched by the cupidity and indifference of Western men."—McClure's Magazine.

Never Saw One of Them.
A New Yorker, visiting English friends, was lamenting leaving at home two beautiful daughters who were just budding into womanhood. Turning to a man to whom he had just been introduced, he asked if he had any family.

"Yes, I have a wife and six children in Australia. And I never saw one of them," he added, quietly.

"The two sat in silence. Then the introduction began.

"Were you ever blind, may I ask?" said the American.

"No," was the reply.

"Did you marry a widow?"

"No." Another silence.

"Did I understand you to say you had a wife and six children living in Australia and had never seen one of them?"

"Yes, that is how I stated it."

Then the American inquired: "How can that be? You say you never saw one of them. I do not understand it at all."

"Because," was the reply, "one of them was born after I left."

Error Costs Life.
Worried by a clerical error of 10¢ in his accounts, William Roberts Alloway, a Durking rate collector, committed suicide, leaving the following note:

I am going to take a holiday from my beastly business, having kept my end up for about ten years, during which time nearly £3,000 passed through my hands, and not a shilling missing. Like Saul, I have lost the battle, and would like some young man to stand upon me and slay me."

The coroner's jury attributed Alloway's suicide to his having worked for years without a vacation, until he had broken under the strain.

Motorcycle Football.
The latest novelty in the way of sports has just been introduced in Great Britain. It is a game of football played on motorcycles, with the same number of men on each side as in the game of rugby. The same rules apply in the motorcycle football game. It is not permitted to touch the ball with the hands at any time, but only with the feet, head and knees can come in contact. The idea of gaining goals is the same as in the older game.

The players attain high speed on their motorcycles, and it is difficult to make sudden turns or stops. Spalls are not infrequent. Through good fortune there have not been serious accidents to date.

Keeping Up With Movies.
"So your movie theater must have been struck for more money?"

"Yes; they say they are unable to live in the style they are accustomed to seeing on the screen."—Boston Transcript.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The choir had a delightful social gathering last Thursday night, after the practice hour, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Draper. Games were enjoyed, and light refreshments served. Good Work.

Prayer meeting this week was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Hummel on Ann street. From the days of the Book of Acts until now, prayer and evangelism have been inseparable. Whoever truly prays for others, will want to do something more than pray, he will offer himself as the channel through which perhaps God may fulfill his prayer. There is need today of prayer and of time for prayer, when men can speak with God about other men by name, and can think in prayer of the ways in which these other men can be won to the faith and service of Christ. Robert Speer says that the next great spiritual awakening will come about in this way.

Chairmen for the several Christian Endeavor committees have been appointed, and instructions given them by the president, Miss Ida Bennett. Now, let's get busy.

A general exchange of pulpits will take place in Detroit Presbytery next Sunday. Rev. G. H. Gibson of the Olivet Presbyterian Church of Detroit, will preach in Plymouth in the morning.

C. H. Bennett and Miss Ellen Gardner have been added to the sick list this week. We pray for them a speedy and complete recovery.

Two Bible classes held all day meetings this week. The Ready Service Class met with Mrs. W. Kaiser on Blunk avenue; and on the same day, Tuesday, the Busy Woman's Bible Class met at the farm home of Mrs. Rose Fulton. Both of these classes are active and are doing good work for the church.

The pastor is arranging for special addresses to be given soon by Dr. McGraw, on "The Banished Book and the Bad Boy;" by Dr. Womer, on "Sabbath Observance," and by Mrs. Frances J. Dieffenber on "The Menace of Normality." These are all eminent authorities in their respective fields.

The second number of the Detroit Presbyterian is out and is being distributed this week. Be sure you get a copy.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Club women of Plymouth, were given an opportunity of meeting a well known Detroit woman, Sara Moore McLean, last Friday. Her work was two-fold—the first the lecture on "The Drama," deeply instructive, and the second, cleverly entertaining with monologues. Equally enjoyable were the group of songs by Miss Marjory Pollock, accompanied by Miss Olive Merz—"Dawn," "A Pastoral" and "Dreaming Time." Regular meeting this afternoon. Book review, etc. A big crowd is the best inspiration.

LUTHERAN AID SOCIETY ELECT OFFICERS

The Ladies of the Lutheran Aid Society held their annual meeting at the parsonage, Wednesday. The following officers were elected: President—Mrs. A. Kehrl; Vice President—Mrs. William Petz; Secretary—Mrs. C. Strasen; Treasurer—Mrs. William Gayde. The usual committees were also appointed. The treasurer reported an unusually large amount of money in the treasury. There was a large attendance at the meeting, and a good time was enjoyed.

TITLES MATTER OF COURTESY

Proper Terms Indicated for Addressing Sons and Daughters of Peers.

Some interesting points dealing with the legal positions of the sons and daughters of peers were given in a society paper some time ago. According to the writer, the eldest sons of dukes, marquises and earls are called by one of their father's second titles; but in the eyes of the law they are only esquires, and possess rank and coronets as a mere matter of courtesy.

It may be noted that the eldest son of a duke holds the same precedence whether he bears the title of marquis, earl or viscount; while the younger sons of dukes and marquises are called by courtesy "lords," and their daughters are styled "ladies," but legally they have no handles to their names, and are, in fact, commoners. Thus, "Lord John West" is by law plain "John West," and "Lady Alice West" is simply "Alice West." However, custom accords them honorable mention, and their letters must be addressed "The Lord John West," "The Lady Alice West." In the case of all these titles, from that of a duke downward, the "The" must never be omitted.

It must be remembered, however, that this is not the case with regard to foreign titles of nobility. A foreign baron or baronesse, count or countesse, marquis or marquise, should be addressed as "Baron Fernstein," "Comtesse Delorme," and "Marchesa Viria," and letters to them would begin "Dear Baron," "Dear Marchesa," and so on. The magic "The" must be omitted.

To return to the British peerage. The younger sons of earls and all the sons and daughters of viscounts and barons are styled "honorable," and of course, the sons' wives also.

To write "The Hon. Miss South" is incorrect; the Christian name should be used, and the letter be addressed: "The Hon. Sylvia South." An earl's eldest son who takes one of his father's second titles is styled "Viscount South" or "Lord South," but if he happens to marry the daughter of a duke or marquis, which is higher than his, and thus becomes "Lady Grace South" and not "Lady South," as she would be if she were a commoner.

Peers sign the name of their title only, and never their Christian name. Thus the Duke of Somerset would sign a letter "Somerset." If the title happens to be a double one, the name is written in full, "Brougham and Vaux," "Mowbray and Stourton" and peeresses practically have no Christian name.

They sign a letter with the initial of their first name as a prefix to their husband's title. Thus Lady Derby would sign a letter "C. Derby."—London Tit-Bits.

Art Very Important in Japan.

In Japan and China art collecting is done on a broad scale and the collection is equal in class. Also, Japan has art in showing and using art, and has art in looking and admiring. A Japanese house is decorated with one painting, and one vase with flowers and few other things, and that is all, in one room. It may look bare, but if you are invited often you see different decorations, according to the season, in assortment and harmony. In a western home everything is exposed at one time and you know what is in the home the first visit. The Japanese way of showing art is admirable because the Japanese select objects according to the taste of the guest and also according to the season. Art is regarded as very important—next to life.

Green the Coolest Color.

There are "hot" and "cold" colors, according to advertising experts. A picture containing red or its affiliated colors will make a spectator feel warm, while one containing green or blue will produce a sensation of coolness.

The reason is simple. The mind subconsciously connects red with the glowing embers of a fire, while green carries with it the memory of cool shady trees. Blue is symbolic of ocean depths and conveys the impression of coolness, but not so vividly and effectively as does green.

A motion picture theater in New York bathed its entire front in soft green lights recently to entice patrons from the hot street. The effect was evidenced in an increased sale of tickets.

Camphor Acts Quick

People are surprised at the quick action of simple camphor, witchhazel, hydrastis, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash. One small bottle helps any case weak, strained or sore eyes. Aluminum eye cup free. Pinckney's Pharmacy.—Advertisement.

Dealing Exclusively in Raw, Dressed and Ready-Made Furs from all Sections of the Great Lakes

Why ship or sell your furs elsewhere? We accumulate large lots of furs consisting of every kind from a ground mole to a silver or black fox that is caught in any section of the Great Lakes and at such a small expense you cannot afford to take a risk of some one else paying you as much as we will. If you think some one else will pay you as much or more you are endangering the value of your hard-earned catch and are much more likely to take a lot less, especially if you ship.

When we sell we have several thousand dollars worth in any lot we offer and many times sell to houses who are not interested in buying only large lots and direct from dealers who know the value of such merchandise. There is a big expense attached to express or parcel post shipments that have got to go a long distance which amounts to more than the profit we would get for handling your furs, besides we are able to get much more accordingly for large lots, which we accumulate from trappers and buyers from all sections of the Great Lakes, than you could get for smaller ones.

There are some very unexpected changes in the Fur Market which are of much importance to anyone interested. Write, phone or call personally and I will arrange to call on you or meet you at your place, if far away will send price list and shipping tags upon request. We send out several thousand lists to all sections of the Great Lakes and obtain large portions of our furs through this source and have had no complaint from a shipper in two years or more. At home before 9:00 a. m., and after 8:00 p. m. Buyer at house for small lots at any time.

We also have some Alabama Skunk and Coon Dogs at reasonable prices. These dogs are rabbit proof and real hunting dogs.

The game here Wednesday, November 7th, between Redford and Plymouth second teams, began with Redford kicking off. Wilson of Plymouth, threw a wide pass, which was intercepted by a Redford man. It seemed as though it would be a touchdown until Draper caught the runner and pulled him down. After this both teams fought hard and there was no score in the first half.

In the second period, Plymouth advanced the ball from their 30-yard line to Redford's 15-yard line, where on a fumble by Wilson, Doudt recovered it and made a touchdown.

When Redford received, she began a vigorous overhead attack, which netted a touchdown. Then with the score a tie, 6 to 6, the teams played the rest of the game without another score. Line-up—Kurze, l. e.; Rodman, l. t.; Raviller, l. g.; Becker, r. g.; Beyer, c.; Draper, r. t.; Holcomb, r. e.; Carruthers, g.; Sump, l. h.; Wilson, r. h.; Taylor, f. PLYMOUTH WINS AGAIN
Plymouth's high school team journeyed to Belleville, last Friday, for a game with the latter, and won by a score of 6 to 3. The game was bitterly contested on both sides, at the end of the first half Belleville being in the lead 3 to 0. Plymouth went back in the second half with a determination to win, and after pounding the line for 85 yards, Holmes carried the ball across for Plymouth's only score. In the fourth quarter, he broke through for another touchdown, but it was not allowed, as one of Plymouth's backfield's was in motion.

The Plymouth team as a whole played their best game of the season. This Friday, we play Redford here at 3:30. Come out and help us win.

GRANGE NOTES

COMMUNITY HAPPENINGS

The meeting of the Home Economical Group at the home of Mrs. L. C. Kelley Tuesday afternoon, November 6th, had for its subject, "Patterns and Re-modeling." Many helpful ideas and timely suggestions resulted. Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Frank Hauk Tuesday afternoon, December 4th, with "Cleaning and Pressing" for the lesson.

METHODIST NOTES

We rejoice in the splendid start made by our people last week toward our goal of a new Community House. We set our goal for these next five years at $15,000 to wipe off our mortgage, and begin a fund for a new building in addition to our present structure.

Before the service began Sunday morning we had just an even $5,000 of it pledged, half of that being taken by the loyal Ladies' Aid Society. At the close of the service Sunday night, the figures stood at $9,100, nearly two thirds of the whole amount which assures us of the fulfillment of our plans and dreams.

Folks are responding generously and joyously. The pledges run for five years. Payments can be made any time within the five years to suit your own convenience, just so the final amount is paid by April 1, 1928. We are taking pledges on the basis of so many shares at $10 a share. Take as many shares as you can.

If you have not yet subscribed, call W. B. Lombard, E. V. Jolliffe, Wm. Sutherland, Robert Jolliffe, C. H. Hammond, or the pastor, who have in hand the canvass to complete the goal.

Hear the sermon next Sunday night on "A Masked Religion."

Tonight at 7:30, in the parlors of the church, is our second Family Fellowship, and Frolic night. This one is in charge of the official board members and their wives. You will have the time of your life. Don't fail to come and bring the whole family.

Our Thursday night crowds are increasing right along. Over fifty per cent increase last week—53 at pot-luck supper, 71 at the devotional hour, 77 present in the four classes. It's worth the investment of the evening spent in this way.

Next Thursday evening, Dr. Leeson, district superintendent, will lead the devotional hour, and also conduct the quarterly conference session at 8:30.

Beginning Sunday evening, our Win-My-Chum meetings, conducted by the Epworth League. Every member of the church, young and old, should enter into the spirit and purpose of the campaign. Meetings as follows:

Sunday, 6:30—B. J. Holcomb, leader. Church service, 7:30; topic: "A Masked Religion." Monday evening—7:00-8:00, George Smith, leader. Tuesday evening, same hour, Miss Mildred Grant, leader. Wednesday, C. R. Ross, leader. Thursday, Dr. Leeson of Ann Arbor, leader. Friday, Mr. Sawyer of Redford, leader. Closing Sunday night, the 25th, Rev. H. Biddlecombe of Wayne will preach.

Company B meets at the church next Wednesday, for an all day meeting to do some sewing. Pot-luck dinner.

Miss Viola Wilkin and Miss Lola McCallum were received into the church in Preparatory Membership, a week ago Sunday evening. We are indeed glad to welcome those fine young ladies.

THE THEATRE

"THREE AGES"

"Three Ages," Buster Keaton's first full length feature, is coming to the Penniman Allen Theatre on Saturday, November 17. Keaton has deserted the two-reel slapstick comedies, and will henceforth star in comedies of feature attraction.

"Three Ages" is classed as a burlesque on love, marriage and business. Beginning with primitive man, Keaton depicts vividly the life of the cave man era, and then swings into the triumphant period of the Roman Empire. Here there are several massive scenes, principally among which is a duplication of the famous Colosseum. Several thousand people participate in this scene where Keaton makes a brilliant hit as a Roman noble matched in a chariot race with an envious rival.

The modern age comes in for its bit also, as it is Keaton's purpose to show how little human nature has changed in the course of the centuries. Apparently inventive ingenuity has changed little, too, for Keaton's remarkable satire is based on a duplication of scenes and events in these three far-flung settings.

Keaton leaps lightly over the centuries. In each age the dominant note is comedy. "Three Ages" is said to be the funniest picture Keaton has ever made, and in addition is a great departure from the beaten track of screen stories.

"Three Ages" was directed by Buster Keaton and Eddie Cline from the story by Jean Haves, Joe Mitchell and Clyde Bruckman. It was photographed by William McGann and Elgin Lessly. Fred Gabouri was art director. It is a Joseph M. Schenck presentation through Metro.

"THE SPANISH DANCER"

The tallest candle ever built in America recently was made in California. Lifting its waxy head to the height of thirty-eight feet, the giant candle has a circumference of over six feet. It was built for the interior of a reproduction of the cathedral at Seville which is used in Pola Negri's current star picture, "The Spanish Dancer," which Herbert Brenon produced for Paramount, and which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre next Sunday and Monday, November 18 and 19.

Candles of such enormous proportions are new to America, but in European cathedrals they are not uncommon. A metal ladder imbedded in the wax, makes it possible for the lighter and trimmer to reach the top. A candle of this dimension will last for hundreds of years and is only lighted for a few minutes during the celebration of high mass.

In reproducing a section of the beautiful Seville cathedral for "The Spanish Dancer," it was found that the part where the action of the picture takes place included the corner where stands the wax giant. About midway to the top heraldic designs of the church are secured and covered with a coating of pure gold.

Hundreds of other candles are used in this scene which gives some idea of the splendor of medieval church ceremonials. "The Spanish Dancer" is placed in the early part of the seventeenth century. Many of the sets are unusually large and as much of the action takes place at night, thousands of candles were used during the production.

"The Spanish Dancer" is Pola Negri's third Paramount picture. Antonio Moreno is featured opposite her. Heading a strong cast are Wallace Beery, Kathryn Williams, Gareth Hughes, Adolphe Menjou and Robert Agnew.

"THE SILENT PARTNER"

Some wives dig into a man's pocket for money, others make him dig. If you wanted to cure your husband of gambling in stocks, and at the same time keep his money in the family, how would you do it?

Leatrice Joy, as the wife of a stock gambler, shows one way in the intensely interesting Paramount domestic drama of New York life, "The Silent Partner," which will be the big feature at the Penniman Allen theatre next Wednesday, November 21st.

In this Charles Maigne production, Owen Moore takes the part of a small salaried clerk in a stock broker's office. When he suddenly gets the speculation fever, success turns his head. He resigns his steady position, and moves from a modest kitchenette flat to exclusive Park avenue apartments.

How woman's wit prepares for the crash that comes—how she stands by her husband even though he neglects her in the excitement of his newly acquired wealth—is revealed in the film version of this human Saturday Evening Post serial of Maximilian Foster's, adapted by Sada Cowan.

He put his idea into practice with a valve that shuts off the water at the proper time, and Mr. Gilkes patent works perfectly on the tank at his son's farm. He says it is simple in construction, works automatically and is always on the job, and he calls it the Gilkes Automatic Regulator for the Barnyard Tank.—Howell Democrat.

BAPTIST NOTES

The get-together supper and social, a week ago Wednesday evening, was a happy event, and although it rained and snowed at the supper hour, about seventy-five ate supper. The plan was self-serve. After a social hour, all came upstairs, and the program was given to the satisfaction of all. Special music by choir; solo on French horn by Elbert Seger, accompanied by Mrs. Sayles on the piano, and congregational singing. The treasurer gave a brief report, and at this writing every debt is met, and one-half of the church year is gone. The bin is full of coke—all paid for. After this report, we listened to some splendid readings by Doris, Alta and Frank Hamill, Mrs. Nettie Moore and Mrs. Noll. It was a pleasant time in church life. After the program, the pictures of "The Children of the World," from every country and clime, were given.

The pastor's sermon, last Sunday, was about "Peace," suggested by Armistice Day, Jer. 6:14.

B. Y. P. U. was led by Elbert Seger, and the topic was in accord with the day. The World Court and League of Nations were discussed.

Fourteen young people attended the B. Y. P. U. rally at Northville, last Friday evening, and listened to a good program. Rev. Davis of the First Baptist church of Redford, gave the address.

Mrs. Noll's Sunday-school class have formed themselves into a club, known as "Wide Awake Club." They will hold a bake sale at Pfeiffer's Market, next Saturday, at 2:00 p. m.

Remember the echo meeting of the Detroit Bible and Missionary Conference, next Monday evening, at the Baptist church.

AN ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE to regulate the use by vehicles of the streets, alleys and public places within the Village of Plymouth, State of Michigan.

THE VILLAGE OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

PART I—General Provisions

Sec. 1. This ordinance is adopted in the interest of public safety and convenience and is designed to promote the general peace, health, safety, welfare and good government of the Village of Plymouth. Every person, firm or corporation shall comply with, observe and obey when applicable to him or it all the provisions, requirements and regulations contained herein and the regulations and orders of the Village Commission adopted or issued in pursuance hereof.

Sec. 2. Any person, firm or corporation who violates or fails to comply with any provisions of this ordinance or any regulation or order of the Village Commission adopted or issued in pursuance hereof shall, upon conviction, be subject to a fine of not more than One Hundred Dollars or to imprisonment in the Detroit House of Correction for a period not to exceed ninety days, or to both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Sec. 3. This ordinance and the various parts, sections and clauses hereof are hereby declared to be severable. If any part, section or clause is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid, it is intended that the balance of the ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

Sec. 4. For the purposes of this ordinance, except where the context requires a different meaning, the following words shall be deemed to have the following meanings:

Street: Any highway, avenue, boulevard, alley or other road, square or public place open to public travel.

Roadway: That part of the street set aside for the use of vehicles and usually bounded on paved streets by curbstones.

Crosswalk: That part of the roadway connecting sidewalks at or near street intersections and at such other places as may be indicated by lines drawn upon the pavement under the direction of the Village Commission.

Safety Zone: That part of the roadway adjacent to street car rails designed for the accommodation of persons waiting for or alighting from street cars and other places within the roadway designated and marked as refuge aisles or zones for pedestrians. Where practicable the limits of safety zones shall be marked as instructed by the Village Commission. Where not marked, they shall be deemed to exist at every established street car stop and to include a strip of roadway adjacent and parallel to the outer rail five feet wide and as long as the longest car which stops at such point.

Parking: The standing of a vehicle upon a street whether accompanied or unaccompanied by an operator.

Double Parking: The standing of a vehicle upon a street alongside of and parallel to or back of another vehicle which is parked at the curb.

Operator: Any person driving or operating a motor vehicle.

Commission: The Commission of the Village of Plymouth.

Limit Lines: Chalk, paint, white-wash or similar lines marked upon the pavement or sidewalk to indicate direction and regulations to be observed by pedestrians and others.

Day-time: Time between one hour before sunrise and one hour after sunset.

Night-time: Time between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise.

Commercial Vehicle: A vehicle designed for the carrying of freight or merchandise, or which bears a designation or sign denoting that it is being used at the time for other than pleasure purposes.

Whenever any regulation contained herein is imposed upon a "vehicle" it shall be construed to refer to the operator thereof when such reference would be applicable.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the Police Department of this Village to enforce the provisions of this ordinance and the rules of the Commission adopted hereunder. Subject to the provisions hereof it shall be the duty of the Police Department to direct and control traffic of vehicles and pedestrians.

Sec. 6. The Commission shall have power by rules adopted by it, to:

(a) Designate the streets or parts of streets upon which there shall be no parking of vehicles or upon which there shall be parking for a limited time.

(b) Exclude or restrict parking on designated streets during certain hours.

(c) Permit angle parking in designated streets.

(d) Cause limit lines to be marked upon pavements and sidewalks for the direction of pedestrians and others.

(e) Prohibit left-hand turns by vehicles at street corners designated. Provided, however, that notwithstanding the above, parking shall not be allowed under any circumstances or at any time.

(a) At the nearest curb opposite a safety zone.

(b) In the space between a safety zone and the curb nearest thereto.

(c) At a crosswalk.

(d) Within ten feet of a fire hydrant.

Sec. 7. Such rules may be applicable to the entire Village or to particular districts or streets as shall seem advisable to the Commission. Any rule adopted by the Commission may at any time thereafter be amended or repealed by it. Printed pamphlets containing all rules and amendments thereto shall be published from time to time by the Commission for public distribution.

Sec. 8. No rule adopted by the Commission in pursuance of Section 6 shall become operative until one or more suitable and durable signs or standards containing the substance of the particular rule shall be placed upon or affixed to the street or place affected. The number of such signs shall depend upon the length of the street or the size of the area affected by such rule, but shall be in sufficient number to apprise an ordinarily observant person of the existence of the rule or regulation upon the street or in the district affected. Provided, that regulations evidenced by limit lines need not be further called to the public attention by signs.

Sec. 9. No unauthorized person shall willfully move, destroy, deface, change the wording of or otherwise interfere with any sign erected or established under the provisions of this ordinance. Except as herein-after provided, no person shall establish, erect or maintain a sign, standard or limit line in imitation of one ordained by the Village Commission.

Sec. 10. To assist in the direction and handling of traffic, the Police Department may, under direction of the Village Commission, install and use semaphores, discs, "crow's nests," so-called, raised safety zones and other signals and devices which to the Commission may seem advisable.

Sec. 11. Officers of the Police Department shall by voice, hand or mechanical signal direct traffic, but shall not forbid or prevent anyone from proceeding or standing in a manner required or permitted by law. Provided, however, in case of fire or other emergency or in case of a parade or other concourse of people, traffic may be directed as conditions may require, notwithstanding the provisions of any ordinance or rule. It shall be a violation of this ordinance for any person to disobey or refuse to comply with any lawful or der, signal or direction of a police officer pertaining to the control of traffic.

Sec. 12. The Commission shall have authority when it deems it in the interest of public safety or convenience, temporarily to close any street, alley or portion of the same to vehicular or foot traffic or to divert such traffic therefrom, and generally shall have authority to designate where vehicles of all descriptions may stand or park or stop for unloading or taking on passengers upon any street in said village.

PART II—Traffic Regulations

Sec. 1. Street cars shall stop on the near side of intersecting streets and not on the far side, for the purpose of taking on or discharging passengers; provided that, when, in the opinion of the Commission, a near side stop is necessary for the safety, convenience or discomfort to passengers at a particular intersection, it may order the far side stop at such intersection, and upon notice of such order the street car company operating such cars, its agents and employees, shall comply with the same.

Sec. 2. Hand and foot propelled conveyances, push carts and similar wagons and conveyances shall comply with all regulations contained herein pertaining to vehicles insofar as the same are applicable to them. Any such cart, wagon or other conveyance when standing in a place where parking of vehicles is allowed, shall move from such space upon the request of a police officer or operator of a vehicle trying to park there, tend to cause danger, inconvenience or discomfort to passengers at a particular intersection, it may order the far side stop at such intersection, and upon notice of such order the street car company operating such cars, its agents and employees, shall comply with the same.

Sec. 3. Lights. Every motor vehicle being operated or driven or standing on any street within the limits of the Village of Plymouth shall be provided at night time except where such vehicle is standing at a distance of not to exceed fifty feet of a public light or street light, with two lighted lamps, the light of which shall be visible at least one hundred feet in the direction in which said motor vehicle is headed or proceeding.

Every motor vehicle standing or being driven upon any street within the Village at night time, except where such vehicle is standing at a distance of not to exceed fifty feet of a public light or street light, shall also be provided with one or more lighted lamps, which shall display a red light visible from the rear at least two hundred feet and a white light, the rays of which shall shine upon the number plate carried on the rear of such vehicle.

Provided, that bicycles and motorcycles shall be required to display one white lighted lamp on the front of such vehicle so that it shall be visible at least one hundred feet in the direction in which the vehicle is heading or proceeding, and one rear lighted, red lamp visible from the rear at least one hundred feet.

Provided, also, that if any motor vehicle is equipped with acetylene, electric or other head or side lights producing an objectionable glare, such light shall be extinguished or the glare eliminated by dimming or other means so as to prevent interference with the vision of others on the streets.

Sec. 4. Each automobile and motorcycle operated upon any of the streets of the said Village shall be provided with adequate brakes and with a suitable bell or horn for giving warning of its approach. Horns or other sound signals shall not be used except when necessary as warning signals.

Sec. 5. It shall be deemed a violation of this ordinance for any person in charge or control of any vehicle to make excessive noise to annoy the public or unnecessarily to race his motor while running idle or to open the muffler on any vehicle or to permit such vehicle or any device thereon to emit an unreasonable amount of smoke, obnoxious gas or vapor within the streets of the said Village.

Sec. 6. In case of accident to or collision with a person or property upon any of the streets of the said Village due to the operation of any vehicle, the person operating such vehicle shall stop and give such reasonable assistance as can be given and shall give his name and address, and if not the owner, the name and address of the owner, to such injured person or to any persons who may request it, and he shall also give such person or persons the proper license number of such vehicle and also exhibit his state operator's license card.

Sec. 7. Vehicles shall be driven in a careful manner and with due regard to the safety and convenience of pedestrians and of other vehicles.

When one vehicle overtakes another, it shall pass to the left side of the overtaken vehicle and not pull over to the right until clear thereof.

All vehicles meeting shall pass each other to the right.

Vehicles shall keep to the right side of the center of the street except when necessary to turn to the left in crossing the street or in passing another vehicle headed in the same direction, and in the last two cases, shall keep as near to the right side of the street as possible.

No vehicle shall pass to the left of a street car when going in the same direction as such street car.

No person shall operate a motor vehicle on the streets of the Village recklessly or while the same is not under control or at a rate of speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the width, traffic and use of the thoroughfare, or so as to endanger the property or the life or limb of any person.

No person operating a motor vehicle shall pass two moving vehicles moving in the same direction which are abreast or so nearly abreast as to occupy the width of two vehicles on a Village street, except where otherwise directed by the Police Department by means of signs, lines upon the pavement, signal of a police officer or other appropriate means.

Sec. 8. Reckless driving within the meaning of this ordinance shall be deemed to include the following offenses which are hereby prohibited:

(a) Driving while under the influence of liquor or drugs.

(b) Driving through an occupied safety zone.

(c) Driving to the left of a street car going in the same direction.

(d) Driving at more than half the legal rate of speed when entering an intersecting street.

(e) Driving a vehicle when it is not under control.

(f) Passing or attempting to pass two other moving vehicles going in the same direction which are abreast or nearly abreast, except when directed by a police officer.

(g) Violating the right of way regulations as contained herein.

(h) Turning a street corner in a manner endangering the safety of pedestrians or property.

(i) Failing to give to those approaching a sufficient warning, signal or notice before making a left-hand turn.

(j) Driving into or out of an alley or driveway over a sidewalk or crosswalk at a rate of speed faster than a walk.

(k) Driving to the left of the center of the street except when necessary to turn to the left in crossing the street or in passing another vehicle headed in the same direction. But in the last two cases a vehicle shall keep as near to the right side of the street as possible.

Sec. 9. No person while under the influence of liquor or drugs shall drive any kind of vehicle upon the streets of the Village.

Sec. 10. When a street car has stopped, or is about to stop for the purpose of taking on or discharging passengers, the driver of any vehicle which is being driven in the same street and in the same direction as such street car and which has not yet passed all doors of such street car or cars shall bring his vehicle to a complete stop and shall remain standing until such street car has finished loading or unloading its passengers; provided, that a vehicle which at the time such car stops has not yet passed the rear of such car, shall stop at point six feet from the rear of such car.

Sec. 11. The Commission may provide safety zones for pedestrians and such zones shall be designated in a visible and suitable manner. It shall be unlawful for any person to drive a vehicle upon or through any safety zone, or part thereof, while the same is occupied or about to be occupied by any person.

Sec. 12. Any vehicle turning into another street to the right shall turn the corner as near the right-hand curb as practicable and any vehicle turning into another street to the left shall turn as near the center of the intersection of the two streets as possible.

Sec. 13. Motor vehicles shall be driven at a rate of speed not to exceed fifteen miles per hour in the business portion of the Village and outside of the business portion of the Village, at a rate of speed not to exceed twenty miles per hour. No vehicle shall cross a street upon which there is a street car track nor turn any corner at a rate of speed exceeding one-half the legal speed limit at that place.

Sec. 14. The driver of a vehicle shall not materially vary the course in which his vehicle is proceeding nor turn nor attempt to turn to the left for the purpose of leaving the street upon which he is proceeding nor for the purpose of proceeding in the opposite direction without first looking back to ascertain whether it is safe to make such turn.

Sec. 15. The following signals shall be observed:

Before turning to the right or the left to leave a highway, and before turning around or stopping thereon, the driver of a motor vehicle shall give a timely warning signal to other drivers by extending the arm beyond the outside of the side of the vehicle, holding the same in such position for a sufficient time to apprise approaching drivers of vehicles of his intention to change his course or stop, as the case may be. Provided, however, that when, because of the construction of the vehicle, the above signals cannot practically be given, some other appropriate, timely and visible signal shall be given. In lieu of such signal above required signals may be given by any mechanical or electrical device which conveys an intelligible signal or warning to another driver approaching from the rear. In all such cases the driver of a motor vehicle to whom such a signal has been given, as required in this section, shall bring and keep his vehicle under such control as to be able to avoid an accident resulting from any misunderstanding of such signals, and shall in all cases heed any such warning as shall have been given him.

Sec. 16. A standing vehicle about to start shall give moving vehicles the right of way and the operator thereof shall give a timely and visible warning signal in some unmistakable manner before so starting; no vehicle shall start or pull away from the curb while a street car is passing abreast of such vehicle.

Sec. 17. No vehicle shall be driven through a parade or other procession except with the permission of a police officer.

Sec. 18. Slowly moving or heavily laden vehicles shall not be driven upon the streets and highways abreast but must follow one behind the other and keep as near to the right hand curb as possible.

Sec. 19. Standing vehicles shall be parked parallel to the curb where not prohibited by rule of the Commission and shall be placed so that neither right wheel shall be further than six inches from the curb; provided that angle parking shall be permitted and required at such places as the Commission may designate.

Nothing contained in this ordinance or any rule of the Commission shall be deemed to prohibit a vehicle from parking at the curb of any street while taking on or discharging passengers, freight or merchandise, but a vehicle may not stop for this purpose between a safety zone and the curb nearest thereto, or at any other place specifically designated by the Commission. No vehicle shall be parked between a safety zone and the curb nearest thereto at any time.

Double parking is prohibited upon all the streets of the Village except under direct personal supervision of a police officer.

Vehicles other than commercial shall not park in public alleys. Commercial vehicles shall not park in alleys longer than is required to load or unload. When so parked such vehicles shall stand as close as possible to one side of, and in any case, shall not stand as near to other vehicles to pass. Vehicles in alleys shall comply with directions and orders of police officers.

Sec. 20. No vehicles shall stop or remain standing at the curb in front of or within ten feet of any fire hydrant.

Sec. 21. No vehicle shall be permitted to stand in front of the entrance of any theatre, church, office or public building, public dance hall, driveway, public or private, or building in which a large number of people are accustomed to gather except for the purpose of stopping to take on or let off passengers or merchandise.

Sec. 22. Special "no parking" spaces may be provided and established by compliance with the following conditions: Any owner or occupant of a building and adjacent to a street or alley desiring a certain "no parking" space shall make application to the Commission setting forth all relevant information and stating the number of feet desired for such purposes. The Commission shall have authority to grant or refuse such application in its discretion to grant the same with such restrictions or limitations as it may fix. In case such application is granted, there shall be issued to the applicant a permit or certificate setting forth the location of such "no parking" space, the number of feet frontage fixed and such other limitations as may be pertinent. Such permit may at any time be withdrawn or further limited by the Commission. To enforce the provisions of such permit, the holder of the same shall have the right to place "No Parking" signs on the sidewalks marking the limits of such no-parking space. Such signs shall be of the exact size, character and description required by the Commission but shall be provided at the expense of the holder of the permit and shall bear the number of the permit as issued. No vehicle shall be allowed to stop or remain standing in any such no-parking space except for the purpose of taking on or discharging merchandise, freight or passengers.

Except as provided for above, no person shall place or exhibit a sign or standard similar to those used by the Village upon any street or in any public place or attempt by signs or written or printed instructions to regulate traffic or the parking of vehicles.

Sec. 23. No motor vehicle shall be left standing at a curb unattended unless the operator shall first shut off the motor and apply his brakes.

Sec. 24. No vehicle shall stop on any crosswalk in any such manner as to restrict free passage upon all parts of such crosswalk.

Sec. 25. No person shall turn a vehicle around in any street nor shall such vehicle be reversed or backed unless the driver shall first ascertain by observation if such operation can be safely made, nor in any case without first giving an unmistakable warning signal to pedestrians and approaching vehicles.

Sec. 26. A vehicle, upon the approach of fire apparatus, upon hearing a warning signal, shall immediately drive to the curb or side of the street and stop so as not to interfere with its passage; and shall not follow nor approach, going in the same direction, nearer than 200 feet, nor park nearer than 50 feet from the scene of fire or the fire trucks.

Sec. 27. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Today's Reflections

The trouble with some Plymouth men is they think if they are nice to everybody else they have a right to be like a bear to the wife and kids at home.

The price of coal has about gotten up to where it pays a fellow to save even a cinder when he gets one in his eye.

We've also reached the point where you hear more talk about the full gasoline tank than you do of the full dinner pail.

Back in the good old days when a Plymouth couple bragged about their machine, they meant their sewing machine.

There are many causes of war, but we'll bet the next one comes through some nation's belief that it can lick all the others.

We heard a Plymouth woman say yesterday that men are just like eggs—they're either fresh, rotten, hard-boiled or just spoiled.

What has become of the old-fashioned woman who used to borrow eggs when they were high in price and returned them when the bottom had dropped out of the egg market?

You are also safe in betting that as long as they can pass the cost of the strike onto the consumer, there's always going to be strikes.

Our idea of a genius is the Plymouth man who can compliment his wife's new hat before he knows what it cost him.

About this season of the year it's a common thing for a fellow to have someone mention him for office, whether he goes any further or not.

We really have to smile now when we think of the Plymouth man who just a few years ago wanted to know what the papers would find to print when the war was over.

There was a time when a dime novel was a dime novel, but now they call it "literature" and ask $2 a copy for it.

That Kansas City man sent to jail for stealing four clocks, probably realizes that he doesn't need them where he is now. He hasn't any trains to catch.

The average Plymouth man is a funny fellow. He seldom kisses his wife, but he's always ready to lick any other fellow who tries it.
