A FATAL ACCIDENT LAST SUNDAY

ROBERT HUTCHINS OF HADLEY, MICH., FATALLY INJURED ON ANN ARBOR ROAD.

A fatal accident occurred on the Ann Arbor road, several miles west of this village, late last Sunday afternoon, when Robert Hutchins, a foreman with the road grading crew, sustained injuries from which he died about forty minutes later. The unfortunate man had given the order for the caterpillar shovel to move forward, and was in the act of getting on the platform when he slipped and fell between the platform of the shovel and the bank of the roadway, and he was badly crushed about the head. Medical aid was at once summoned from Plymouth, but the man was beyond all human aid. The remains were brought to the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home in this village, and Wednesday, were taken by undertaker F. D. Schrader to Clyde, Mich., where funeral services were held and the remains interred in the cemetery at White Lake. Mr. Hutchins was 58 years of age, and was a man highly esteemed by his employers and fellow employees.

HARRISON-WILCOX

An attractive wedding took place, Saturday afternoon, November 17th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wilcox, when their daughter, Helen Louise, was united in marriage to Kenneth Harrison, son of Mrs. Hadley Underwood of Highland Park. The ceremony took place at four o'clock, in the presence of intimate friends and relatives of the families. Rev. Crisman of the Highland Park Presbyterian church, read the impressive service, during which "O Promise Me" was played by Daniel Patterson on the violin, with Miss Czarina Penney at the piano.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, was lovely in a white net frock, embroidered in silver. Her long tulle veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was of white hebe chrysanthemums and roses. Her only attendant was Miss Mildred Fay of Detroit, who was charmingly gowned in orchid taffeta, and carried pink roses. Albert Harrison assisted his brother as groomsman. Little Marguerite and Katherine Moon, cousins of the bride, made dainty flower girls, dressed in white and carrying baskets of rose petals. In each room the color scheme of pink and white was carried out most effectively by the artistic arrangement of chrysanthemums in those colors massed against a background of ferns.

Refreshments were served during the informal reception, which followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison are well known and popular young people, and both graduated from the Plymouth High school in the class of 1915. After completing a secretarial course in the Detroit Business Institute, Mrs. Harrison has been employed in the office of the Daisy Manufacturing Company for the past three years. Mr. Harrison holds a position with the Wayne County Roads Commission. They will be at home after January 1st, at 84 Tyler avenue, Highland Park.

MANY SEE CORNERSTONE LAID

There was a good attendance at the laying of the cornerstone of the new addition to St. Peter's Lutheran church last Sunday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. Charles Strasen, pastor of the church and was very impressive. The various papers mentioned in last week's Mail were placed in a receptacle, and placed in the corner stone with proper ceremony.

A REUNION

A party of former Mayville ladies from Detroit and Royal Oak, came to Plymouth on Saturday of last week, for a reunion with Mrs. Adella Markham, at her home on Starkweather avenue. Mrs. V. Parks, Mrs. J. T. Moore, Mrs. E. Robinson, Mrs. J. Ghos, Mrs. Dr. Mitchell, Miss M. C. Road, Mrs. I. Ranney, all of Detroit; Mrs. J. A. Trend, Miss F. Trend, Mrs. Dr. Bradshaw, all of Royal Oak, were the ladies present.

The first feature for pleasure was making use of a substantial one o'clock luncheon, after which a program was presented by the hostess, for entertainment, followed by an interesting social period. A very enjoyable occasion it proved to be.

IT'S A SUCCESS

From the comment of newspapers reaching this office we are justified in saying that the first celebration of "Educational Week" in this country is a success, and especially is this true of its observance in towns the size of Plymouth, and even smaller. Rural schools all over the country, too, have found it so beneficial to parents, teachers and pupils that out of it will grow thousands of community meetings, held on a regular schedule.

There is no reason why the people of this community should not get into closer touch with each other, and at the same time add to the interest of our boys and girls in school by setting a definite schedule for community meetings, and then attending those meetings as faithfully as we try to meet our financial obligations. For, after all, we have a greater investment than a financial investment in our boys and girls; we have more to be gained by making good men and women than by making dollars and cents. Our state school authorities will gladly cooperate by helping us to get the very best speaking talent for community meetings, and we have talent right here at home capable of putting on a clever evening's entertainment if we would but encourage them.

We hear enough of politics and talk about poor crops. Why not a few evenings scattered through the week to mingling with each other, encouraging our boys and girls and their teachers in their work. We are only going to pass this way once—so let's get all the good it is possible to get out of the trip while we are making it.

TIMES AHEAD

According to an interview in the daily papers with Jesse L. Livermore, known in Wall street as America's largest stock market operator, the business outlook in America is good. He says:

"During the past few years the people of this country have become accustomed to living on a higher standard than heretofore, and they are not going to be satisfied to live any other way in the future. The money they spend must necessarily mean a large purchasing power, and that purchasing power is bound to keep business going at a good volume."

We believe the average Plymouth citizen will agree that Livermore is right. Thrift and saving is a fine thing, but spending money makes prosperity. For instance, people become accustomed to buying autos, and this buying makes jobs for an army of people. In turn, the men who make the autos spend the money they receive, thus keeping the people who make and raise the things they have to have also employed. The more we spend for legitimate purposes, the more jobs there are and the more prosperity to be divided among all of us. Common sense, of course, has long ago shown that when a man makes more and spends more, he also saves more. We can't have luxuries and necessities unless we create them—so it's plain that we have to produce if we want more. Humanity can't consume more than it produces, and the only time that men could sit down and depend on the ravens to feed them passed thousands of years ago. We've got to produce and we've got to spend to have prosperity. And we can do both and still save a little at the same time.

HUMAN SWALLOWS

We read where England has had a contest of "air babies," little airplanes limited to six and seven horse-power and small enough to pass through a 10-foot gate. Many planes made the tests successfully and some of them can be built and sold for as low as $1,000. Nothing of the kind has yet been developed in this country, but you can depend on Americans not to overlook anything. If this new method of transportation—said to be the cheapest known—is fully developed you can depend on our own countrymen to do it. We can remember when Plymouth people couldn't make themselves believe the automobile would ever be as common as they now are. Possibly the same people will scoff at the idea of a family airplane in the years to come. For our own part, we've come to the conclusion that nothing is impossible any more, and airplanes replacing the auto as a means of transportation wouldn't give us such a deep-rooted surprise, after all.

LET US GIVE THANKS

We hear a bit of complaining here, and a slight grumble there, but where is the man, woman or child in Plymouth—or in all America, for that matter—who can face this Thanksgiving season and truthfully say they have nothing to be thankful for?

Possibly the crop upon which some depended did not turn out as bountifully as hoped for—can't the reaper still find cause for thanks in that he has the land and another year ahead? Possibly death has removed some relative or friend since last year we were called upon to return thanks. Cannot you still thank Providence that you have been spared to carry on, and to help send sunshine into the lives of those who even now may be stricken with sickness? Mayhap the investment on which you laid much store turned out badly? Is it not well to be thankful for the experience, that you may not make the same mistake twice?

We care not how poor in pocket, or how seemingly bereft of friends any human being may be, if his or her heart is right they can still find much to be thankful for. We can be thankful that we live in a country so broad and fruitful that even though the harvest may be sparse in one section it can be bountiful in another, and that, being brothers all, we need not worry where our next crust is coming from. We can be thankful that we live in a land where birth and royal strain do not monopolize life's blessings, but where every boy and girl is a king and queen in his or her own right.

Men may trick you in politics; men may deceive you in investments; but men cannot rob you of that great blessing which you should now and for all time be thankful—your right to live in a free country and to share in the dictation of how that country shall be governed.

Through the schools and the churches and even in our everyday life in America, we are sowing the seeds of love and kindness, and we come to another Thanksgiving day with joy in our hearts and true happiness as our companion. We weigh the good against the bad, and we are thankful that the good far outweighs. We measure our losses against our gains, and if we are honest we must admit that our losses are offset by the gains we have made, or stand to make. We feel the sunshine of neighborly smiles, we feel the handclasp of those we call friends; we enjoy the love and esteem of those who know us best—and we are thankful it is so.

And as we come to another day of Thanksgiving let us lay aside whatever petty grievances with the world that we may have. Let us look upon life in a broad, fair-minded way. Let us ask ourselves—"Has anything yet been so bad but that it might have been worse?" and we will join with our neighbors and friends, with all America in praising Providence for the manifold blessings He has caused to be showered upon us during the year that is now nearing its end.

SCHOOL NOTES

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Aggie Club gave their second dinner of this year in the lunch room last Wednesday, November 14. Mr. Coffey, Deputy state superintendent of Public Instruction, and Mr. Fisher, assistant county commissioner of schools, were called upon for speeches, by Margaret Amrhein, the president of the club.

In order to earn money to buy uniforms, the Girl Scouts are selling chocolate bars each noon. They gave a bake sale last Saturday afternoon at the gas office. The scouts plan to go camping in tents next summer instead of renting cottages.

The date for the operetta, "The Captain of Plymouth," has been set for Nov. 27. Assisting Miss Hall, are Miss Simonson, who has charge of the speaking parts; Miss Beal, who is coaching the dancing, and Miss Miller, who has charge of the costumes.

Girls basket ball practice has been started with about forty trying out for it.

The High school notes and football write-up were furnished by Helen Fish, and those for the grades, by Camilla Fisher.

GRADE NOTES

The sixth grade is divided into three divisions, each of which marches out separately. The division which marches the best is given a white star. A colored star is given after five white ones are obtained.

A drawing of the lungs has just been completed in the sixth grade physiology class.

Two scoreless games of soccer were played last week, one between the fifth and sixth grades, and one between the sixth and seventh grades.

Irene Strong of Detroit, and Dorothy Cook of Newberry, have entered the B-1 grade.

Early French explorers are being studied by the sixth grade history class.

A prize to the one having the greatest number of perfect lessons is to be given at the end of the semester in the B division of the sixth grade. Lawrence Blunk is in the lead.

Those from the second grade who were neither absent nor tardy during the last five weeks are: Frederick Hixley, Ruth Hixley, Sheldon Baker, Margaret Maulet, Helen Ribar, Harold Schmidt and Margaret Stoneburner.

The second grade children are busy making canoes, wigwags and other Indian work for Thanksgiving.

Verbart Burley, Philip Doerr, Delbert Holtz, Elmer Howard, Katherine Mandel, J. D. McLaren, Russell Michael, Howard Schreyer, Gertrude Smith, Howard Strebbling, James Williams and Woodrow Wilson of the B division of the third grade were neither absent nor tardy last month.

Proper clothing for the school girl was discussed at the last Parent-Teachers' meeting. They were all of the general opinion that clothing which would not attract attention should be worn. One should wear clothes to school in which she would feel at liberty to play.

SECOND TEAM GAME

Our second team was defeated at Strathmoor, last Wednesday, Nov. 15, with a final score of 13 to 0. Strathmoor scored a touchdown in the first period and another in the third. Both touchdowns were made by men taller than ours, catching passes in the end zone.

In the last quarter, Plymouth managed to work the ball inside of the five-yard line, but lost it on downs, the game ending with a score of 13 to 0. Our team was handicapped chiefly by a very rough field and the fact that the Strathmoor line outweighed and outcharged that of the home team. Both played a smashing game however, in this, their last of the season.

PLYMOUTH DEFEATS REDFORD

Slipping and sliding over a muddy field, Plymouth won a 12 to 0 victory from Redford, Friday, November 16, on the home grounds. Redford kicked off, and Millard, Plymouth's quarterback, caught the ball, and made a forty-yard run behind perfect interference before a Redford man could stop him.

In the second period, Cline of Plymouth, made a touchdown. We failed in try for point. The next touchdown was made in the last quarter by Stevens of Plymouth. We again failed our try for point.

Plymouth's line was far superior to that of Redford. The work of Stevens, Cline and Trimble was exceedingly good, although all the members played better in this game than in any preceding games.

This Friday, we play Farmington here, at 3:30. If we win, it will mean an excellent chance for the championship. Will you be there to cheer for your home team?

PREDICT SHORTAGE OF GOOD SEED CROP

TESTS SHOW STATE CROP UNUSUALLY HIGH IN MOISTURE; CAREFUL DRYING IMPORTANT

Indications are that good seed corn will be scarce in Michigan next spring, according to Prof. J. F. Cox, head of the farm crops department at the Michigan Agricultural College.

Seasonal conditions that have prevailed this fall are held responsible for the condition, brought about by high moisture content in the state crop.

"Ear corn throughout Michigan carries an unusually high percentage of moisture at the time it is harvested from the field this year," says Professor Cox in discussing the situation. "Samples tested run from 20 to 28 per cent of water. When placing corn in cribs, great care should be taken to provide proper ventilation. If cribs are large, specially ventilated ones should be provided, or the crib should be divided to leave an air space through the center—one or two feet wide.

"Special care should be taken to select and dry seed corn thoroughly, in view of the general situation. Farmers having high yielding fields of good varieties may find it profitable to save and handle for seed more than the usual amounts of seed stocks.

Today's Reflections

You can't hope for much in the way of prison reform until we take to sending a better class of people to the pen.

A wild candidate for president next year won't do, says a down state editor. Neither will one that's tame enough to eat out of everybody's hand.

One of the funniest feelings that ever comes to a Plymouth man comes when he's carrying a jug of vinegar along the street.

Most of us will have to go on working, since there are only a few who can get rich quick by writing crazy songs.

When nations are as willing to make sacrifices for peace as they make in time of war, the world is going to be all right.

Those Plymouth boys who want to get along in the world might follow the example set by the sons of Pres. Coolidge, and go to work.

A farmer near Pontiac, Mich., found dynamite in his oats bin. Suppose he had fed the oats to his horse and it had kicked him?

The best definition of wives we've heard yet, was given by the little Plymouth boy, who said "wives are women who tell husbands when to change their socks."

Staying up late nights may make you as wise as an owl, but owls don't have much sense during the daytime.

Come to think of it, where else in the world outside of America, can the people find very many things to be thankful for?

Christmas is getting so near that it is almost time for little Plymouth boys to want to go to Sunday school.

What this country needs most is an alarm clock that will warm up the room just before it goes off in the morning.

We see stores advertising "shot silk" hose as the latest thing for women. They can't be any worse than ours are at times.

A CARD—I want to take this manner to endeavor to reach all who have been so thoughtful during my time of recovery from my recent accident. The calls of inquiry, the flowers, fruit and many things sent me, both at the hospital and since my return. Especially do I appreciate the kindness of the officers and members of Tonquish Lodge, No. 32, and Plymouth Rebekah Lodge, No. 182. To you all I extend my many thanks. I am truly grateful.

Claude L. Burrows.

BAPTIST NOTES

The Sunday morning audience and Sunday-school was a little larger than common, last Sunday. Every boy and girl and members of the Sunday-school voted to ask someone who is not in Sunday-school to come, next Sunday.

The orchestra gave us some good music in Sunday-school, and the quartet of horns played the offertory last Sunday evening.

After the sermon, Sunday evening, slides that were used on Thursday evening at prayer meeting, were repeated. They showed the relief work the Baptists are doing in Europe, rebuilding churches and chapels and schools, feeding hundreds of orphan children left in the wake of the war, clothing them and teaching the bible to them. A few slides showed some of the Baptist churches inside the Arctic circle of Norway and Sweden.

The special Echo meeting, announced to have been held, last Monday evening, was a disappointment. The church was open, but no speakers arrived. So it was found afterwards the plan was not carried out as was announced, and the pastor had not been notified.

Be sure and come to prayer meeting. The pictures of Baptist work in all countries on the screen, after the hour of prayer. It's always free.

Everyone is expected to attend the Thanksgiving service at the M. E. church, next Thursday morning, at usual hour.

A LETTER FROM FLORIDA

November 11, 1923.
The Plymouth Mail,
Plymouth, Mich.

Dear Sirs:
We have arrived in the land of sunshine, and would like our home paper sent to us.

We would also like our Plymouth friends to know through your paper that our trip here by auto, was very interesting. Camped out most of the way, and found lots of tourists and camps. Roads were good most of the way; covered a distance of seventeen hundred and twenty-one miles. Came by way of Washington, Greensboro, Charlotte, Columbia, Augusta and Jacksonville to Daytona Beach, where we expect to stay for the winter.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. James R. Kincaid
and Children,
Daytona Beach, Fla., Gen. Del.

A CARD—We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to the many relatives, friends and neighbors, who so kindly assisted us during our recent bereavement; also for the beautiful offerings and those who furnished automobiles.

GRANGE NOTES

Very successful was the meeting at the hall, last Friday evening, when the third and fourth degrees were conferred on six candidates by the team.

Special attention is called to an all-day meeting at the hall, next Saturday, November 24th, of the Wayne County Grange. IMPROVEMENTS AT HOUGH SCHOOL

The Hough school in Canton township furnishes a fine example of co-operation. Under the leadership of the teacher, Miss Elvina Schaefer, the community, through its Parents-Teachers Association and school board, has remade the old building into a very attractive school. New floors, desks, slate blackboards, chemical toilets, building repainted and redecorated, are but a few of the real improvements this community has given its school.

A PARK FOR PHOENIX

In laying out the Five Mile road, the County Road Commission eliminated two right angle turns and shortened the distance at the intersection of the Northville road at Phoenix. It was advantageous in this road development to acquire the whole strip, and the land not used along the highway went to the edge of the large mill pond of the Phoenix Ford plant, has been turned over to the County Park trustees for development. There is a dense growth of trees and undergrowth on the site and when properly developed, it will afford a most excellent place for tourists and picnickers. Additional trees will be planted to perpetuate the present state of existing trees which, if trimmed, undesirable brush will be cut, and comfort stations, tables, benches, concrete stoves, etc., will be provided. It is expected that these improvements will be made during the coming season. This is a most suitable location for a park and will not only prove popular with tourists and motorists, but will be a delightful spot for Plymouth motorists to go for a picnic or weenie roast.

"ZAZA"

Director Allan Dwan, Gloria Swanson, H. B. Warner, Ferdinand Gottschalk, Lucille LaVerne, Rileen Hatch, Mary Thurman and others had a silver jubilee of their own at the Paramount Long Island studio during the filming of "Zaza," a Paramount picture which was produced twenty-five years ago in Paris.

The play was first produced in the French capital in 1898 with Mme. Rejane in the title role. The following January, David Belasco produced the play in New York for Charles Frohman, with Mrs. Leslie Carter in the role. It was this part that placed Mrs. Carter in the front rank of actresses on the American stage.

An interesting anecdote of how "Zaza" came to be produced on the American stage was related recently. When "Zaza" was playing in Paris with Mme. Rejane in the title part, the late Charles Frohman was in London with Mr. Belasco. Frohman went to Paris to see "Zaza." He returned to London and said to Belasco:

"I couldn't understand a word the woman said, but it is the greatest play I ever saw. Go over and see what you think of it."

Belasco went to Paris and came back with a report of the play equal to his enthusiastic as Frohman's. Frohman bought the rights of the play, and in January 1899, it was produced in New York with Mrs. Leslie Carter in the title role.

"Zaza," which gives Gloria Swanson the best role of her screen career, will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday and Monday, November 25 and 26. H. B. Warner is her leading man and heads a strong supporting cast.

"WOMAN-PROOF"

More than six months were spent in research, in revising the plot and in selecting the cast for Thomas Meighan's new Paramount star vehicle, "Woman-Proof," before a scene was filmed. The story was written by George Ade, noted humorist and short-story writer, and it was revised again and again until in its present form it is claimed to be perfect in plot, drama and heart interest.

This Paramount picture, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 29th, was directed by Alfred E. Green. While the picture is filled with comedy situations, it has a vein of seriousness which mirrors modern American life. It is one of the best Paramount pictures to be produced under the new policy of fifty two pictures a year instead of the usual production of from seven to ten pictures a year.

The story concerns a young civil engineer, Tom Rockwood, the part played by Thomas Meighan, who is too busy with a big industrial project to think of matrimony. The boy's father had left a will stipulating that all his sons and daughters must marry and settle down before they can inherit his fortune of several million dollars.

Tom's brother and two sisters find little difficulty in choosing mates, but Tom cannot interest himself in women. As the time limit when all must be married approaches, Tom's family grow frantic in their attempts to induce him to enter matrimony.

A garden party is staged and Tom is surrounded by women of varied personalities. But he is bored and leaves before the affair is over for most work. His best friend, Louise Halliday (Lila Lee) and falls in love with her. Miss Blouch, executrix of the Rockwood estate, will lose his job if all the Rockwoods marry.

He therefore tries to make Tom's proposal of marriage to Louise Halliday look like a business deal. Louise and Tom accidentally meet on board a steamer as she is leaving dock and a reconciliation is effected. A radiogram instructs the Rockwoods on shore to marry and with the wedding seen Tom and Louise, the fortune is saved for all the Rockwoods.

Permanent-Reliable-Safe Heat in every room

No matter how large or small the building, "heat by radiators" has proved reliable, economical and satisfactory in every way.

Radiator heat saves fuel and provides constant, healthful warmth in every room. It is the cleanest, safest, most modern and most easily controlled method of healthfully heating any building.

Radiator heat has made sky-scrapers possible and convenient to live or work in. Imagine tending fires on the twentieth floor! It has also made the heating of the smallest building a matter of proportionately small expense.

"Heat by radiators" is the modern, reliable, permanent, safe, clean and economical way of heating. It lasts as long as the building. In practical terms, it alone has salvage value.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

Those who attended last Sunday morning, report a delightful service, with extra music by the choir and a strong sermon by the visiting pastor, Rev. George H. Gibson of Detroit. The pastor will speak to the Men's class, next Sunday, on the subject of prayer. Invite your neighbor and let the room be filled. The class meets at the Sunday-school hour. The pastor gave an address at the Canton Community Club meeting on the theme, "Thanksgiving Memories." The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hauk last Wednesday night.

Attend the Union Thanksgiving Service announced elsewhere in this issue.

The pastor goes to Detroit Thanksgiving Day to baptize the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira T. Bardwell, and to share in their family gathering. Remember especially in your prayers, the pastor, the committees, the homes in which meetings are held, and the special workers who are invited for January. Make out your own prayer list of those who need help and present them daily before the throne of His grace.

WATERFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gotts and children spent Sunday, with Miss Cora Drummond in Detroit.

John Lang and family have moved into their new home which has just been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gibson announce the birth of a baby girl, Saturday, November 17.

School was closed Monday, on account of the illness of the teacher, Mrs. Covell.

The Waterford Club met Thursday, November 15, with Mrs. Archie Herick. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Delor, Thursday, Dec. 6th.

COMMUNICATION

Now that winter is close at hand, we begin to think of snow and ice, and ice brings skating to our minds. Every winter there are many deaths by drowning brought on by people, especially children, venturing on thin ice over deep water to play or skate.

A level piece of ground with a back furrow plowed around it, and flooded when freezing weather starts is all that is required to make a safe place. Two or three acres is large enough. The athletic grounds at the High school could, I think, be made a very good place for this purpose at a small expense.

An occasional flooding and the expense of a team and snow plow wouldn't be very much. A small admission could be charged if necessary. Then we would have a place where children could go and enjoy themselves in safety. Also the older people who enjoy this healthful recreation.

PATCHIN SCHOOL NOTES

The girls' teams are, "The Stickers," with Irene Beck as captain, and the "Sandhurs," with Lily Vander Velde as captain. They had a game of base ball last Thursday, the score being 7 to 3 in favor of the "Sandhurs."

John Schultz visited school this week.

The fifth graders are learning Thanksgiving pieces for language work.

The grammar grades are designing book covers for drawing.

School notes written by Eric Beck.

Plan of Operation Fails.

A young man entered the office of a loan company here and asked to borrow $37.50. When asked what security he could give he said: "I haven't any now, but I'll have some as soon as I get the $37.50," he replied.

When asked what he wished to do with the money, he said: "Want to buy an automobile."

"Cars are getting cheap," said the agent, "but you can't get one for $37.50, can you?"

"Nope," said the young man, "but I've got $12.50, and with the $37.50 I get from you I'll have $50, and that'll be my first payment, see," he said cheerfully.

"But what security will we have," continued the agent, "if you buy the car as soon as I get it," he said.

"That would only be a second mortgage," said the agent, "as the automobile company will hold a chattel mortgage on the automobile until it is paid for."

"Well, I didn't know that," said the youth, "I guess I'm out o' luck."

Inflation.

They are telling in Moscow a good story of a profiteer who sat in the best restaurant guzzling away regardless of expense. "How can you gorge yourself like that," asked a friend, "when so many millions are starving on the Volga?"

Capitalizing Enthusiasm.

"You can't get something for nothing," remarked the ready-made philosopher.

"Several of my constituents think they can get pretty near it," replied Senator Sorghum. "They don't do anything but lift up their voices in the confident expectation that they can exchange three cheers for a government job."

As Long as the Money Lasts.

"Oh, I think his money will last longer than that."

METHODIST NOTES

The interest and attendance at our Thursday night gatherings are keeping up in fine shape. If you haven't attended yet, it isn't too late to get into the game. Join the Thursday night crowds.

Next Thursday being Thanksgiving, the usual program for Thursday evening will be omitted, and continued the following week.

A Thanksgiving service, a union meeting of the various churches, will be held in the Methodist church at 10:30 next Thursday morning. Rev. Copeland of the Episcopal mission will preach.

The Epworth League Win-My-Chum meetings being held each night this week, have shown a fine interest. The meeting tonight will be in charge of the Epworth League cabinet. Sunday night will be the closing of the special meetings, though we hope to keep the same spirit alive throughout the whole year.

Rev. Harry Biddlecombe of Wayne Methodist church is to preach the 7:30 service. Every one of our young folks should hear him, and the older folks as well.

Our campaign for pledges for our building and improvement association is progressing nicely. We have at present $10,800 toward a goal of $15,000 as the first unit of our building program. This assures the carrying out of our plans for the wiping out of our present mortgage of $2450, and of starting on our new building next spring. Let's give a big shout of rejoicing.

But we ought to have the $15,000 pledged. It will be easier to pay a little along each year now than to have to raise it all as fast as we can after the building is completed. Every member of the church ought to have at least one share in the enterprise. Each share is $10, or $2.00 a year for five years. It can be paid all at once, or distributed along over five years time. And $2.00 a year isn't much for a building for the service of Christ. Let us have a response from every single member of the church. If you can take more than one share, so much the better. "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver," meaning thereby, a generous giver who is delighted to the point of hilarious laughter from the pure joy of giving.

We rejoice in announcing that Eli Nowland was baptised in the Christian faith last Saturday, at his home, and is to join the church at a later date.

SUPERIOR

The L. A. S. of the Free Church held their annual chicken-pie dinner Thursday, Nov. 22, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Grammel on the old Wm. Gates farm, on the Plymouth-Ann Arbor road.

Mrs. Adah M. Kuhl received the sad news Monday, of the death of her cousin, Mrs. May Mosebar, of White Bluffs, Washington. Mrs. Mosebar, who was 44 years of age, was born in Superior township on what is now the Fred Kercher farm. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George VanBuren. Most of her life was spent in Exeter, Monroe county. She was married 24 years ago to Henry Mosebar of Exeter, and they moved to Washington about 16 or 18 years ago. Surviving her are both of her parents, one sister, Mrs. Clara Mosebar of Wapato, Wash.; two brothers, Lonnie of Wapato, Wash., and Frank of Yakima, Wash., besides a large circle of other relatives and friends.

Dealing Exclusively in Raw, Dressed and Ready-Made Furs from all Sections of the Great Lakes

Why ship or sell your furs elsewhere? We accumulate large lots of furs consisting of every kind from a ground mole to a silver or black fox that is caught in any section of the Great Lakes and at such a small expense you cannot afford to take a risk of some one else paying you as much as we will. If you think some one else will pay you as much or more you are endangering the value of your hard-earned catch and are much more likely to take a lot less, especially if you ship.

When we sell we have several thousand dollars worth in any lot we offer and many times sell to houses who are not interested in buying only large lots and direct from dealers who know the value of such merchandise. There is a big expense attached to express or parcel post shipments that have got to go a long distance which amounts to more than the profit we would get for handling your furs, besides we are able to get much more accordingly for large lots, which we accumulate from trappers and buyers from all sections of the Great Lakes, than you could get for smaller ones.

There are some very unexpected changes in the Fur Market which are of much importance to anyone interested. Write, phone or call personally and I will arrange to call on you or meet you at your place, if far away will send price list and shipping tags upon request. We send out several thousand lists to all sections of the Great Lakes and obtain large portions of our furs through this source and have had no complaint from a shipper in two years or more. At home before 9:00 a. m., and after 8:00 p. m. Buyer at house for small lots at any time.

We also have some Alabama Skunk and Coon Dogs at reasonable prices. These dogs are rabbit proof and real hunting dogs.

WAYNE ROAD BOARD ENDING STAR YEAR

REPORT SHOWS TOTAL OF 557-161 SQUARE YARDS OF CONCRETE HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTED BY CHAIRMAN HINES AND HIS BOARD.

The road building season just ending has been one of the most successful in the history of Wayne county. And that is saying much for this county was the pioneer in road building, not only in Michigan, but in the nation. It was Wayne county that first proved the practicability of the concrete highway as now constructed universally.

The seventeenth annual report of the board of county road commissioners has just come from the concrete highway department. It contains many interesting facts. For one thing, it shows that during the 1923 road building period the county constructed a total of 557,161 square yards of concrete roads. This is the equivalent of 40.9 miles of new highway, and the widening of 6.6 miles of roads previously built.

Another 62 Miles. To show that Wayne is continuing with its road work, the report reveals that there is in progress the grading and draining of another 62 miles of roadway. This work has been about one-half completed and will be ready for the paving crews with the opening of the building season next spring.

Bridge work is another important part of the board of county road commissioners' activities. A total of nine bridges have been completed and opened to traffic this year. These range in price from $30,000 to $1,000,000, the latter being the magnificent bascule structures over the River Rouge at West Jefferson and Fort Street. Five bridges are under construction at this time.

Separating railroad grades on main highways is another big task. Two of these have been opened this date, both on the main line of the Michigan Central. One is on Telegraph road just west of Dearborn, and the other is at the easterly end of Dearborn on Oakwood boulevard. Four more are under construction, one on Oakwood boulevard, one on Telegraph road, and the others on Ecorse road.

Thousands of Trees. Highway beautification is given attention, too, by the road commission. In the last year 4,000 trees have been set out on the principal highways of the county. These are all American elms and Norway maples, two of the hardiest and most beautiful trees grown in this section of the North American continent. Excellent care is being given these trees to keep them free from borers and other pests that so often destroy trees. Additional trees will be set out from year to year.

Proper marking of the county's highways receives ample consideration. On every paved road the board strips down the center of the highway is placed and maintained to keep traffic divided and to make for safety.

At every intersection on the concrete roads the county has placed substantial direction signs, made of concrete and steel. At points where paved roads cross, the county has placed beacons which flash steadily during the day and night to warn motorists that they are approaching an important cross road.

Much of the 1923 road building was on north and south highways, which links up the many east and west roads. In years past most of the development has been on the east and west routes, because the flow of travel has been greater that way. But with the increased use of the motor car and truck it was found necessary to have north and south roads to connect the others. Among these latter now completed are the Division road, formerly called Town Line road; Telegraph road south, Middle Belt road, Farmington road, Wayne road and the Canton Center-Belleville-Sumpter road, which is a part of the Outer Belt. Telegraph road north, from Michigan avenue to Grand River, will be built in 1924.

The principal east and west roads are Seven Mile, Five Mile, Plymouth, Warren, Michigan, Ecorse, Eureka, West and Huron River. Of these all are completed except a few miles on Five Mile road and on Ecorse road.

Widening of Gratiot and Grand River roads to relieve traffic congestion and to make these highways safer for travel has been an excellent thing. Gratiot has been widened to a distance of 30 feet. Grand River has been completed from the city limits to Mill road. Car tracks have been placed in the center of the right of way and a 24-foot strip of concrete, nine inches thick, has been laid on either side, giving a 48-foot road. Eventually this project will be continued west to the county line.

Plans have been completed for taking care of snow removal during the coming winter. This branch of the service has been highly developed by Wayne county's road organization. Crews are scattered at advantageous points over the county so that all paved roads can be cleared within a few hours after a storm.

To Edward N. Hines, chairman of the board, belongs much of the credit for Wayne county's fine concrete road system. He has been chairman of the board continuously since it was organized in 1906. His work in behalf of good roads dates beyond 1906. As the head of the Detroit Wheelmen's League he was an ardent advocate and worker for good roads before the coming of the automobile.

Henry Ford and the late Cass R. Benton of Northville, served on the first board with Mr. Hines. Mr. Ford and Mr. Benton were succeeded in 1907 by John S. Haggerty and the late William Murdoch of Wayne. In 1910 William F. Butler of Trenton, took the place of Mr. Murdoch and the board has been intact for 13 years, during which time the greatest development has taken place.—Free Press.

WOMAN'S CLUB

In contrast to the day, was the very pleasant meeting of the Woman's Club last Friday. The president presided over the business meeting, and Mrs. W. Freyman over the following program: Mrs. Howard Brown sent a report of the Fine Arts meeting at the Federation building, Detroit. Roll call—present day writers and something about them. Paper—"Notable Books of the Past Year," Mrs. Charles Caughy surely inspired her audience with her keen insight. Two talented young men delighted all with their gifts, both being assisted by Miss Penney. Wayne Van Dyne of Northville, sang "Pale Moon," Logan, and "If I Were You," Wells. Daniel Patterson gave the classic violin solos, "Tambourin," Kreisler, and "Mazurka," Mlynarski. For the hour review, Mrs. R. E. Cooper chose "If Winter Comes," by Hutchinson. The interpretation was splendid, filled with charity for the weakness of the characters and assisting all to get the author's view point.

Tuesday, December 4, is the club's circus day. Everybody goes to buy Christmas gifts, and to have a good time both afternoon and evening, buying supper on the "grounds."

W. C. T. U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held the last meeting for 1923, at the home of Miss Hattie Hoisington, Thursday, November 15. The report of the District Convention, recently held in Northville, was given by the delegate, Mrs. C. F. Smith. It was full of interest, and was listened to with great attention by all present. Through the kindness of Mrs. M. S. Weed, the guests were permitted to hear a delightful letter from Mrs. E. C. Vealey, who is spending the winter in California. Mr. and Mrs. Vealey went by auto, and their description of the journey was very entertaining.

A resignation having been sent in by the treasurer, Mrs. Mary Hillmer, who is to spend the winter in Florida, Miss Hoisington was appointed to fill her place. It is hoped that all members, whose dues are still unpaid, will kindly lighten the work of the new treasurer by handing in their dues as soon as possible. Members who are missing the tea meetings, are missing a good deal. The one at the home of Miss Hoisington, with Mrs. D. Jolliffe as chairman, was especially enjoyable.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Last Sunday the rector found it necessary to alter the service, substituting the evening for the morning service, and not in time to change the notice in the Mail, but from now on the services will be as originally arranged, that is, morning and evening alternately. Next Sunday, the service will be in the morning at 10 o'clock. The rector will preach, and there will be baptisms at this service. Mr. Tracy, who was to have sung the solo, "The Plains of Peace" (Barnard), last Sunday, will render this solo next Sunday morning; Miss M. A. Pearson, accompanist. Last Sunday evening, the service was bright, and the singing of the hymns, the "Magnificat" and "Nunc Dimittis," were heartily joined in by the congregation. The rector preached a very impressive sermon, taking his text from Isaiah 2:3, "Come ye and let us go up to the Mountain of the Lord, to the House of the God of Jacob."

There was a fine turnout of the church-school at 11:30, and four new pupils were enrolled. The rector has chosen the "Christian Nurture Series" to be taught, and we have a good start on these series. We want another man teacher to divide up with Mr. Torre's class of boys. See Mr. Strong, the superintendent. At last Sunday's session, Ernest Henry was appointed treasurer of the church-school, and the treasury books will be handed over to him. We ask that the parents try to get their children to the church earlier, next Sunday, so that they can attend the baptism service.

The sale of work and baked goods was well patronized, last week; another sale will be held Saturday, December 8th, of which details will be given in a later notice.

He wants to pluck a wonderful Overcoat, but he doesn't want to be plucked for a wonderful profit.

Never has such an assortment of Overcoats been carried in Plymouth, and never has a store tried harder to give them to you at reasonable prices—and the patterns and models—well, they will probably make such an impression that your mind will urge your check writing hand to get near an ink well.
