ANOTHER FACTORY LOCATES IN PLYMOUTH

Plymouth citizens will be pleased to know that Detroit parties have purchased the factory building recently occupied by the Detroit Plumbing Supply Co. and originally built by the Alter Motor Car Co. and will occupy the same for the manufacture of redrawn seamless tubing.

T. F. Clinton, formerly with the National Tube Co., of Pittsburg, Pa., and later with the Detroit Seamless Tube Co. of Detroit, will have the management of the local plant. Mr. Clinton has had a wide experience in this line of work, and the output of the Plymouth plant will be under his supervision. He is already upon the ground, and work has commenced in getting the building in readiness for the machinery, three carloads of which are expected here this week. The new company will manufacture seamless tubing for which there is a great demand.

The company will give employment to about forty men at the start, and this number will be increased as the work of production is gotten under way. Local labor will be almost entirely employed.

It was largely through the efforts of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce that the company have located in Plymouth, and the officers of the C. of C. are to be congratulated in securing this most desirable enterprise for Plymouth.

The Mail welcomes the new industry to Plymouth.

THIEVES ENTER DWELLING HOUSE

THE RESIDENCE OF ALBERT GAYDE RANSACKED BY THIEVES LAST TUESDAY EVENING.

Tuesday evening, as Albert Gayde entered his home about 7:30 o'clock, he heard the back door slam. He called, but received no answer. Switching on the lights, he found the rooms in confusion. The door to the linen closet was open, drawers pulled out, and the contents scattered about. The bedroom clothes presses presented a like appearance. The glass in the pantry window was broken, thus the thieves were able to reach the lock and open the window, by which they gained access to the house. Burnt matches were found everywhere. The pockets of Mr. Gayde's trousers were turned inside out. Nothing was taken except Mr. Gayde's gold watch, a gift of his parents years ago, and highly prized on that account. Mrs. Gayde was at the Woman's Club bazaar at the time of the burglary. As Mr. Gayde reached the kitchen, he saw retreating forms in the darkness, but could not tell whether there were one or two people. His coming evidently frightened the thieves away, as a diamond ring hung on a little ring tree on the dresser in plain sight, and this was not taken.

JOHN FORSHEE PASSES AWAY

John Forshee of Ypsilanti, and for many years a well known and highly respected resident of Superior township, died at the home of his grandson, Philo Forshee, on Mill street, in this village, Friday, November 30th. Mr. Forshee, who was in his usual health, came to visit his grandson, the Friday week previous to his death. He was only ill a few days. His wife died on May 30, 1923. He is survived by two sons, John Jr., of Detroit, and Rev. Archibald A. Forshee of Mt. Vernon, New York.

The funeral occurred Monday afternoon from Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Rev. H. E. Sayles of the Baptist church officiating. Interment took place in the Pray cemetery in Superior township.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce will take place on Tuesday evening, December 11th, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 8:00 o'clock. The meeting will be preceded by a banquet at the Plymouth Hotel at 6:30 o'clock. Every member of the C. of C. is urged to be present at both the supper and meeting next Tuesday evening.

"HUNGRY DOZEN" HOLD RE-UNION.

A reunion of the "Hungry Dozen" a former club of Plymouth young men, was held at the home of N. C. Schrader, Northville, last Wednesday evening. Ten of the members were present, and at six-thirty o'clock a fine venison dinner was served, after which a social evening was enjoyed. The following guests were present: Arthur Briggs, Don Voorhies and Floyd Remington of Detroit; Elmer Huston of Birmingham; Fred J. Stocken of Ypsilanti; Robert Hollaway of Walkerville, Ont., and Edgar K. Bennett, Frank Burrows and William T. Pettingill of this place.

BECKER-WILSON

Manford Becker of Plymouth, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Becker, and Miss Ellen Wilson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wilson of Salem, Mich., were married at the Presbyterian manse, Wednesday, December 5, 1923. The young couple, who are well known in this vicinity, will make their home in Plymouth. The bride's sister, Mildred Wilson Gayde, was married a month ago, Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, of the Presbyterian church officiating on both occasions.

SCHOOL RECEIVES A VALUABLE SET OF BOOKS.

Through the kindness of Charles E. Pitcher, the school library received, as a gift, fifty-one volumes of Harvard Classics. This set of books contains a compilation of the most valuable part of the world's science, literature and history. It is indeed a valuable addition to the school library, and will be much appreciated and used.

BAPTIST BAZAAR AND DINNER

Baptist Ladies Aid will hold their annual Christmas bazaar of aprons and fancy work articles, on Wednesday, December 12, 1923, in the church parlors. A chicken dinner will be served, beginning at 5:30 p. m., and continuing until all are served. Following menu will be served: Chicken and Gravy with Biscuit Mashed Potatoes Salad Squash Mince Pie Apple Pie Cheese Coffee Price—Adults, 50c; children, 25c. Your patronage is solicited.—Advertisement.

CELEBRATED FIFTY-FIFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pitcher entertained at dinner, Saturday, December 1st, the occasion being their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary, also the birthday of their only daughter, Mrs. W. B. Hubbell. There are only two people living besides Mr. and Mrs. Pitcher who attended their wedding. Mrs. Pitcher's brother, the Rev. C. A. Knickerbocker of Waterville, Maine, and J. H. Stiers, former editor of the Plymouth Mail, and a cousin of Mrs. Mrs. Pitcher, now a resident of Hollywood, California.

DEATH OF NANKIN TOWNSHIP RESIDENT.

Mrs. Josephine Nymshak, a highly respected resident of Nankin township, Wayne county, for the past twenty-eight years, passed away at her home there, Sunday, December 2, 1923. The deceased was born October 19, 1852. She came to this country the latter part of March, 1872. In 1874, she was married to Peter P. Nymshak, who survives her, together with three sons, John F. of Toledo, Ohio; Joseph F. of Wayne, and Edward F. of Detroit.

The funeral services were held from St. Mary's church at Wayne, Tuesday morning, at 9:00 o'clock, Rev. Fr. Connors officiating. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery, Wayne.

OPENING NEW LUNCH AND DINING ROOM SERVICE

We desire to announce to the people of Plymouth and vicinity that we will open a new lunch and dining room in the Plymouth Hotel, on Sunday, December 9th. We will appreciate the patronage of the public, and all we ask is a trial to convince you that we are going to give you service and quality food. Our motto is, "Courtesy, Quality and Service." We will make a specialty of Sunday dinners and banquets for all occasions. We like Plymouth and the people whom we have come to know, and we are going to stay. We will be glad to enlarge our acquaintance with the public, that we may know how to better serve you in our line. B. F. WERVE, Proprietor.

CHANGING THE CALENDAR

Should the calendar be changed so we'd have 13 months of 28 days apiece, with a "leap day" at the end of each year? Don't throw up your hands and say it's foolish, for some pretty learned men have been figuring it out, men who have devoted far more study to such a proposition than anyone around Plymouth, and they declare that there is merit in such a proposal. In fact there is an organization known as the International Fixed Calendar League, with hundreds of members scattered all over the world, and they are advocating the change to a thirteen-month year with 28 days in each month. The only drawback is that their calendar would have a Friday the thirteenth in each one of the twelve months, and nine-tenths of the people are too superstitious to take kindly to such an epidemic of thirteens. But outside this, there wouldn't be so much to complain about. If the month started on Sunday, every Sunday in a month would be the 1st, 8th, 15th, and 22nd. Other week days would also be the same date each month. But we don't know what we'd do with the odd day in each year, unless we'd use it as a holiday for wondering why we didn't let the calendar alone in the first place.

A NATION OF KICKERS

Any way you look at it, we're pretty much a nation of kickers. We lack appreciation of the good things that have come to us in recent years. Only the other day we asked a Plymouth man if he had anything to be thankful for this year, and he gave us an answer we believe you'll enjoy, as well as profit by. He said: "Sure, I'm thankful. Thankful I don't live back in the days when the land around here could be bought for $4 an acre; when a spring seat on a farm wagon was a luxury; when the only refrigerator in town was in a butcher shop. I'm thankful I live in an age when all I have to do is touch a button to get a light, turn on a faucet to get a drink of water, when school houses in the country are as good as in the city and children are hauled to them in automobiles, when men can ride to and from their work in fivers instead of on shank's mare. Of course all of these things are the result of toil and thrift, so I'm thankful for good health to toil and sense enough to save a little as I go along."

Maybe it wouldn't be a bad idea, next time we start in to kick about something, if we really haven't so many good things that we can well afford to put up with a few bad things now and then, or with something that doesn't just exactly suit us, since we've got so many things that do. It's human nature to kick, of course. And yet when we sit down and figure how the generation that went before us here in this community got along without about 80 per cent of the blessings and conveniences we've got, doesn't it seem sort of ungrateful to join that vast army of people who kick because they are not capable of making good use of what they have got?

METHODISTS PLAN NEW BUILDING

PROPOSED STRUCTURE WILL BE FINE ADDITION AND CREDIT TO THE COMMUNITY.

Seven years ago the members of the local Methodist society were facing a discouraging situation, after having lost by fire their newly remodeled church, the remodeling of which was accomplished by obtaining a mortgage. With this debt on their hands and no building to worship in, they set themselves to the task, and with faith in their God, built a new place of worship at a cost of some $25,000, under the efficient leadership of Rev. F. M. Field. The building put up at that time was well able to provide for the needs of the congregation. But today the Sunday-school connected with this organization has so far outgrown the capacity of the present building that the official board and congregation have decided that they must step out and move forward in their efforts for religious, educational, social and recreational features. The numbers in attendance have so increased even this last year that the classes are actually cramped for room, and the leaders of the church are puzzled to know what to do with the committee having the attendance at Sunday-school was 252, and last Sunday 231, without any special effort to urge folks to come. The average all fall has been around 215 or 220, and it is believed that with increased facilities, attendance can easily be raised to 350 or more in a very short time.

Consequently the Methodists have set forth a plan whereby they can provide for their future needs. They have started out to raise a minimum sum of $15,000 in pledges to provide a sinking fund to take care of increasing needs to keep pace with a growing community. This $15,000 represents in their plan, 1500 shares at $10 a share, and five years' time is granted in which to make payments on the amounts taken; 1227 shares have already been taken, and the committee having the matter in charge state they are confident that the goal will finally be reached. Local Methodists have always been loyal to their church, and in the face of growing needs and opportunities they are sure to make good in their plans.

The plans provide for clearing up the small mortgage on the present building this first year, and next spring or fall begin on a fine new community house. The basement of the new structure will probably be used as a banquet hall for suppers, banquets and other such occasions, with properly equipped kitchen for the ladies to work in. Also this room will be arranged for Sunday-school rooms. The upper floor will likely be arranged for a fine gymnasium room, with equipment for all the recreational work of the church, a room which can be used also for entertainments of various sorts, social gatherings, Sunday-school work, and also arranged so that it can be opened up to add to the capacity of the main church auditorium for religious services.

The proposed structure will be a fine addition and credit to the community, and will make the local church one of the best equipped for community service of any in the smaller communities in this part of the state. It represents an investment not merely in wood and stone, but in character, and will provide for the religious needs of the Methodists and their friends for generations to come.

Mrs. Frank King and son, Donika, who was home from Detroit, spent Thanksgiving day with Mrs. King's sister, Mrs. Oliver Miller, in Ypsilanti. Mrs. Miller, who is 78 years old, fell last Monday, and broke her wrist, so that the bone protruded through the flesh. The doctor says it is a very bad break, and she may never be able to use it again.

The Free Church school teacher and pupils are planning on Christmas doings at the school house, this year.

News of the death, Friday, of John Forshee came as a great shock to his many friends here. Apparently as well as usual, he came a week ago on Saturday from Detroit, to visit his grandson, Philo, at Plymouth, and died there Friday morning, exactly six months from the day his wife was taken. Funeral services were held Monday from Schrader Bros. Funeral Home in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thumm spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweitzer.

Miss Ruth Brady of the M. S. N. S. spent the Thanksgiving vacation at J. C. Hannon's. Thanksgiving day guests there were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hawthorne of Ypsilanti, and J. E. Hawthorne of Wayne.

Tom Squires and family moved last week from Gottfriedson's Farm, No. 1, back to their home at Highland.

The W. F. M. S. meets this week Wednesday at Mrs. Edith Moyer's.

Mrs. Grover McDougal returned home from Beyer hospital, Sunday. Her two small children have been with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Court during her stay there. Mr. and Mrs. McDougal and two older children and Mr. and Mrs.

Frank Court visited at the Court home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morgan and daughter attended a birthday celebration, in honor of Mrs. Morgan's aunt, Mrs. Sarah Towler, at the home of Mrs. Towler's brother, Thomas Knight, on the Saline car line. Mrs. Towler, who was 74 years old, entertained sixty relatives at a bounteous dinner. She was the recipient of many lovely gifts, and the best wishes of her guests for many more years to come.

Henry Priebe was in Detroit, Friday, returning home Saturday morning, accompanied by his son, Ed, who remained until Sunday evening.

Thanksgiving day guests at George McKim's were: Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Dolby of Denton, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nelson of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Union were Sunday guests of their niece, Mrs. Emerson Adams and family, in Ann Arbor.

Thurman Walters of Ypsilanti, has been assisting his father-in-law, Luis J. Kuhl, for the past three days, Saturday night his wife and two little daughters came out, and all spent Sunday together, returning home, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Glenn Bird is in Beyer hospital, where she has been very ill for the past week. She is thought to be a little better at this writing, for which her friends are very thankful.

Chris Bohnet of Bay City, who has been very ill for several weeks at the home of his sister, Mrs. L. E. Pettibone, is reported very low. A consultation of doctors was held last week, and a trained nurse is in constant attendance. His recovery is very doubtful.

J. E. Hawthorne has returned from his hunting trip to Trout Lake, bringing home a nice deer.

Jack Degan of Dearborn, visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. Peter Stommel, Sunday.

Elwin Pooler and family have moved to Ypsilanti, and are nicely located on North Prospect street.

Mr. Bastion returned home to Vicksburg, Tuesday, after an extended stay with his daughter, Mrs. George McKim.

Clinton LeFurge and family spent Sunday at Dwight Peck's in Ypsilanti.

The L. A. S. fair at Superior town hall was a very decided success. They took in about $110, and the little girls' sewing club also took in $10. There was a large crowd present, and all had a splendid time.

The George McKim family were Sunday afternoon callers at John Carven's in Wayne.

Erwin Shock buzzed wood at L. J. Kuhl's, Saturday.

Men who have been working on the good roads nearly all summer, have begun work now on the Plymouth-Ann Arbor road, near Dixboro. Several from this way attended a dinner at Willow, Saturday evening. Mrs. A. L. Wilbur still continues to gain very slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zimmerman and daughter, Dorothy, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Sutherland of Pittsfield.

There will be a dance at Joe Shock's, this week Saturday evening. Come and bring your friends.

SCHOOL NOTES

Probably few people realize the immense amount of work necessary to stage an operetta such as the "Captain of Plymouth," and how many people are necessary to insure its success.

The stage carpentry work was done by Perrin Hauk and Clair Travis, who erected the houses and tended to the shifting of scenes. Miss Wells took charge of the furniture. Snappy little dances that Miss Beals taught the people, added spice to the program. The attractive posters that Alice Hathaway and Katherine Wilcox made were noticed by everyone. Four bent, rheumatism stricken figures (Doris Whipple, Hazel Williams, Beulah Coe and Virginia Giles) endeavored to do a little clogging to the time of "Old Black Joe," and did remarkably well, after they got limbered up. Barbara Bake, Marie Miller and Ida Bennett, dressed in oriental costumes, danced a wordless Chinese love song. Vernor Lyke, who carved the block for the ship on the programs, displayed his talent for wood carving. Miss Simonson assisted with the speaking parts, and Virginia Giles rendered some engaging musical readings. The audience was pleasantly surprised to discover that Mr. Coatta possesses a splendid voice, as shown by his two numbers, "At Dawning" and "One Fleeting Hour." Mr. Holcomb and Miss LeVan had charge of the make-ups. Ione Bird took charge of the sale of tickets, and Marie Johnson, Camilla Fisher, Alice Ballen and Irene Truesdell acted as ushers and ticket takers.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Last Sunday evening, the rector gave the first of his discourses on "The Forward Movement," and a large congregation listened to the very interesting discourse, while the rector drew mental pictures of his experiences in the mission field. The second of these series will be given on Sunday evening, the 16th, a week from Sunday, as the service this coming Sunday will be in the morning. The service and singing, last Sunday evening was bright. The choir is being re-organized with Mr. Tracy as choirmaster. Some of our boys and girls have fair voices, and under Mr. Tracy's leadership, the singing portion of our services will quickly become more what they should be. Mr. Tracy is an old Episcopal choir-master, having sung for many years in the choirs of Grace church and Trinity church in Detroit, and therefore understands the choral pointings of the Episcopal service thoroughly. The congregation, last Sunday, appreciated Mr. Tracy's solo, "In a Pilgrim," which was very well rendered. Choir practices are being held every Thursday evening at Mr. Tracy's house on Main street, and those who can and who take an interest in the singing are asked to assemble there Thursday evenings. Wilbur Murphy will still retain his position in the choir as standard bearer, as well as assisting the rector in minor duties. On Thanksgiving day quite a few of our members joined in the union service, which this year was held in the Methodist church. The rector was the preacher on this occasion, and he very much appreciates the very cordial welcome extended to him by the other churches.

Our friends are reminded that next Sunday, the service will be in the morning. This will be the communion service, and the rector extends an invitation and welcome to all those who can be with us next Sunday morning at ten o'clock, when he will preach.

Advices just received from the bishop's secretary, Charles O. Ford, notify us that Bishop Page has signified his intention of visiting Plymouth on Sunday, February 17th. We are very fortunate in having the bishop visit us so soon, as the bishop does not come into residence until January 1st, and naturally all his time must be fully occupied for the first few months at least, nevertheless he has set aside that day for Plymouth. The rector wants to take that opportunity to present candidates to the bishop for confirmation. All those who desire to be confirmed, please hand in your names to the rector, or to any member of the vestry, so that the class of preparation can be formed at once. We believe there will be several candidates.

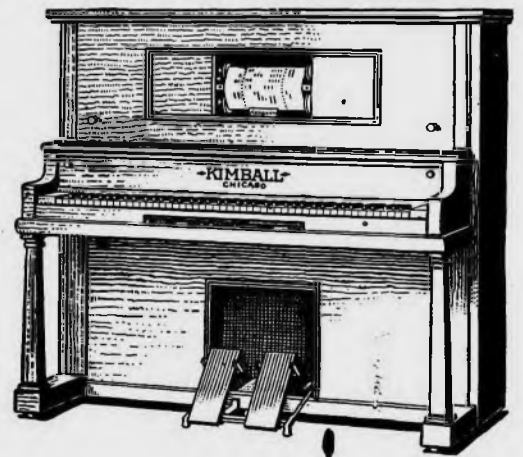

Don't forget the sale of work and baked goods tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at two o'clock at the gas office.

The meetings this week are: Meeting of the church-school teachers and others interested, with the rector, at Sidney Strong's home, to consider and arrange the Christmas program for the children. Meeting of the Ladies' Guild with Mrs. Copeland, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Torne. Meeting of the choir with the rector, at the home of Joseph Tracy on Main street.

Daniel Murphy, vice president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrews, is getting the members together again, and a meeting will be held in the near future, so that this fine organization will be in full swing again.

GRANGE NOTES

Saturday, November 24th, Pomona Grange was well attended, there being nearly 100 for dinner. In the afternoon there was an open session, with Mrs. Edith M. Wager, as mistress of ceremony. Following the songs, "America, the Best Place to Live In," and "The Old-Fashioned Girl," by Ross Gates, as soloist, and commended by the choir as just the kind of selections in this age of the world, Mr. Michener was introduced, and gave a very fine talk in a most comprehensive manner, which was appreciated by all his hearers. Mrs. Postiff then favored us with a couple of beautiful solos, accompanied by Mrs. James Gates at the piano. Mrs. Laird from Washtenaw county, was called upon for a few words, and gave the veil to be given on Michigan day at the Ohio State Grange, at Toledo, December 12th. A few others from Washtenaw county gave words of cheer. Our next meeting will be at 8 o'clock in January. Meeting closed with a piano solo by Miss Isabelle Campbell.

Beginning with November, regular meetings of Pomona Grange will convene on the first and third Thursdays of each month.

COMMUNITY HAPPENINGS

The Canton Community Club held one of its most interesting meetings at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hauk, Wednesday evening, November 21st, when Mr. Harvey of the Ypsilanti Normal, delivered an intensely interesting and instructive talk on, "The Worth of Man." By means of a chart, the Bivert system for measuring the human intellect, also results obtained in following out its findings was made a subject well worth our deepest consideration. Rev. Hathaway's talk, based on Thanksgiving Memories, was filled with uplifting ideas. Roll call for thankful thoughts was unusually well responded to. The duets and solo were worthy of special mention, and also Mr. Gill's reading. The December meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Spicer.

At the Home Economics meeting, Tuesday afternoon, at Mrs. Frank Hauk's, cleaning and pressing was demonstrated to a smaller attendance than usual, due to the weather and roads, but was a very satisfactory lesson. The January meeting will be with Mrs. Perry Campbell.

BAPTIST NOTES

Dr. Gullen of Detroit, was our speaker for the morning service, and he gave us a fine sermon on the Sabbath question, the text being, "The Sabbath was made for Man, and not Man for the Sabbath," Mk. 2-27. The address gave us, as citizens, a clear view of conditions as they really are in the United States. He recited facts strange to believe. During the last year, 119 bills were introduced into the different state legislatures of our United States asking to abolish our Sunday or some part of its laws to be repealed.

The duet was sung by Miss Alta Hamill and Miss Fannie Grainger.

At the Sunday-school hour, the people gave a vote of thanks for a basket of flowers for church service and Sunday-school, presented by Mrs. Noll's class. It is hoped that each class may have a part in filling the basket with flowers each Sunday.

The B. Y. P. U. social last week, was a great success, and all had a fine time. The Sunday evening service was led by Elbert Seger and his division, and it was a good meeting and good attendance.

At the evening service, Elbert Seger, Charles Duryee and Ira Kingsley played the offertory, which was enjoyed by all. The boys are improving day by day, and the horns are making splendid additions to our music.

Several gave on Sunday for the Near East Relief. The pastor will be glad to forward any amount. Hand it to him next Sunday.

Everyone enjoyed the Thanksgiving service last week Thursday. The music and sermon were grand. Let's have more.

The Aid Society met with the president, Mrs. George Wilkie, last Wednesday, and made their final arrangements before the annual bazaar and supper for December 12th.

KING'S CORNERS

The box social at the home of Mrs. Mary Hix, last Friday night, was well attended, and netted the Sunday-school a nice sum.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish were guests at the home of their son, Charles, Jr., and family, south of Ypsilanti, Thanksgiving day. They returned home, Friday afternoon.
Mrs. Theick, mother of Mrs. Vosk, who has been on the sick list, is better at this writing.
C. F. Jubenville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston and little son and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lockhart and son, Kenneth, spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roediger, in Southfield.
Rev. and Mrs. Paul Haven and little daughter, Vivian, were guests at a six o'clock dinner, last Friday, November 30th, at the home of Mrs. Mary Hix.
Mrs. Peter Nymeschak, a resident of this vicinity, passed away early Sunday morning, after an illness of only four days. The funeral services were held Tuesday morning at St. Mary's church, Wayne.
Chris Bakewell has raised his house, and put a basement under it, which makes a big improvement.
Herbert Bakewell has moved his family into the new house recently vacated by his daughter, Mrs. Kempf and family, at the intersection of the Wayne and King roads. They have moved back to the city.
Miss Olive Hix spent Tuesday night at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish, at King's Corners.

COOPER'S CORNER SCHOOL NOTES—DIST. No. 4.

The pupils are enthusiastically working on their Christmas program.
From November 26th to December 17th, special stress is being placed upon language.
During the last month, reading was emphasized most. At the beginning of November, a standardized silent reading test was given. In this test, June Wagenschutz, eighth grade, scored highest. On December 3rd, the pupils took another test similar to the first. This test was mainly to determine the advance made by each pupil. Ina Macomber stood first in the test given at the end of the month. She made an advance of forty-two points. George Macomber also advanced forty-two points. Both of the above are in the eighth grade.
The second grade did not let the older pupils outdo them. Their test was on word recognition. Madelyn Blunk answered thirty-seven out of forty questions correctly. Marian Macomber answered thirty-five correctly.
Mr. Fisher, assistant county school commissioner, and Miss Wellevor, rural helping teacher, visited school, Tuesday morning.

NEWBURG

Those who were out to church, Sunday, listened to a very interesting sermon.
There is quite a lot of interest being taken in the Epworth League contest. Several new members were out Sunday evening.
Mrs. Haven's Sunday-school class will meet at the home of Leona Joy, Saturday evening. The boys are invited to this meeting.
The regular meeting of the Newburg L. A. S. will be held at the hall, next Wednesday, December 12th. Dinner will be served at noon. Everyone welcome.
Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stevens and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gates of Plymouth.
Mr. and Mrs. Clark Mackinder spent Thanksgiving with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Norris of Strathmoor.
Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ryder entertained Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and Burt Paddock and two sons of Detroit, for Thanksgiving.
Rev. and Mrs. Haven's little daughter, Vivian, has been quite ill the last few days with tonsillitis.
The play, "Topsy Turvy," which has been such a success in Newburg, was taken to Salem, Tuesday evening. It being such a rainy night, only a few were out.
Mrs. Henry Grimm and daughter, Virginia, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith.
Miss Louise Geney will lead the League, next Sunday evening.

NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES

Our hot lunch club is well under way, and Mr. Wagner is coming next week Wednesday to give us a talk.
We have received our new piano, and it surely is appreciated. We will have our first entertainment (with piano) December 21st.
Mrs. Rousseau entertained Miss Reddeman, Miss Hall and Mrs. Hutzell for dinner, Wednesday evening. Mrs. Hutzell was here to address the P. T. A., Wednesday evening, at the school hall.
Mrs. Rousseau entertained her brothers, M. A. and C. F. LaFonce, and their families, on Sunday last.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The annual bazaar of the Woman's Club was held in the High school auditorium Tuesday afternoon and evening. No day could be more gloomy without, yet there was much cheer within. Gay decorations, tasty morsels, needle work of art, making gifts galore, a greenhouse, a second hand store, dainty Christmas cards, dolls and practical things for the kitchen; and a most delicious dinner in the dining room.
In the evening, the kindness of H. C. Robinson as auctioneer, was much appreciated. Everything was disposed of, and a beautiful cedar chest with hand-made towels, etc., was the leader. The public responded generously, and the members are glad.
A bazaar is a splendid thing for any community. It is a woman's exchange, and inspires everyone to better and finer things in the home, and social life of the town. Even the proceeds are used for betterment, the club keeping their money to build a new club house. New buildings are impressive, and speak well, therefore, let there be more.
Friday afternoon the club will have its business meeting at the usual hour. The program was postponed till evening, 8:00 o'clock, at the Presbyterian church. Each member may bring a guest. Refreshments will be served, and the program will be given by the Archdeacon Club of Wayne. Members, be ready.

LIBRARY OPENED AT SHELDON

Friday, December 1st, the Wayne County Library opened a library in Mr. Windsor's store at Sheldon, with a general collection of two hundred books. The library center at the Griffin home on the Canton Center road was discontinued on the same date, and the books transferred to Sheldon.
With the Cherry Hill center and the Plymouth branch library serving the Canton territory, the new location at Sheldon will make books more easily available to those living along Michigan avenue.

TWO PLYMOUTH BOYS ATTEND STOCK SHOW

Russell Partridge and Herbert Miller left last Saturday morning for Chicago, where they have been attending the International Stock Show, this week, from December 1st to 8th. Russell won first prize, Herbert being just a few points behind, in stock judging at the Northville Wayne county fair. The first prize entitled the winner to a trip to the International Stock Show at Chicago. The Wayne County Live Stock Club, of which both boys are members, are paying half of Herbert's expenses, in order that they might have two representatives of their club at this show.

These gifts were all done up in paper, and their size did not indicate their content. Much merriment accompanied the opening of the gifts. Miss Victoria Augustine, a Polish girl from Hamtramck, was present, and gave her life story in a very pleasing manner. Miss Augustine is giving her life for work among her people in Detroit.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Clara Hood, who died four years ago today, December 2, 1919.
There is a face that's haunting us ever,
There's a voice we're longing to hear,
There's a smile we will remember forever,
Though we try to forget every tear.
There's a sad but sweet remembrance,
There's a memory fond and true,
There's a token of affection, mother, dear,
And a heartache still for you.
Her loving Husband and Daughter.

PATROL OF COUNTY STARTED BY SHERIFF

OUTPOSTS ESTABLISHED AT FOUR POINTS NEAR CITY.

Sheriff George A. Walters announced, Saturday, the establishment of four outposts in Wayne county and the appointment of eleven new deputies under the appropriation recently granted by the supervisors.
The outposts, which in reality will be sub-offices, according to the sheriff, will be at Northville, Redford, Belleville and at Eureka and Telegraph roads. The latter outpost will be furnished by the farmers of the district. The former three will be maintained by citizens and merchants.
W. A. Sward of Northville, and Rudolph Trober, 2005 Warren avenue west, will be in charge of the Northville outpost. The other outpost appointees are: Redford, Benjamin A. Oakley and Earl Fontaine; Belleville, Leon J. Van Schoick and George H. Bryant; Eureka and Telegraph roads, George Frahm and William G. Maas of Wyandotte. All the deputies are new men with the exception of Frahm and Van Schoick.
"By the outpost system we can keep a regular patrol over the environs of Wayne county and furnish other bases of operations than the sheriff's office," Sheriff Walters declared.

ENJOYED A HUNTING TRIP

Roy Clement, Charles Schaffer, Bert McKinney, Charles McKinney, Dan McKinney and R. Smith, all went on a two weeks' hunting trip up in the north woods, and returned home last week, saying their trip was very successful, each of them getting an extra large deer. And by the way they talk, they surely had a good time, because they say they can't wait until next year to go again.

SAFE IN AFRICA

Hunter Claims Only Wounded Animals Attack Man.

No Danger From Natives as Long as They Are Not Molested and Customs Respected.

Any traveler is safe in the wilds of Central Africa—if he does not carry a gun, according to M. A. Wetherell of London, who has recently returned from twelve years in Africa as a big game hunter and movie director. "No wild animal will attack a man without provocation," said Mr. Wetherell. "But let a man wound an animal and it will charge upon him for a fight to the finish. Moreover, there is no danger from the natives. They kill one another wholesale, but they place the white man upon a pedestal and regard him with the utmost friendliness as long as he does not molest them and shows a decent regard for their customs."

"For instance, before a Kaffir will enter into business negotiations there must be an exchange of gifts. Ordinarily I gave a handful of raw rock salt, a substance highly prized by the natives, and the black reciprocated with a gift of skins. An accumulation of such skins led me into dealing with fur traders. Coming through London on my way home, I saw women wearing furs valued at from $15 to $20. The same furs I had sold by the dozen at 6 cents a skin.

"More valuable hides, such as those of the hippopotamus and rhinoceros, I got for myself in hunts. One hippopotamus would bring me about $200. Cut into strips, the hippo hide is made into walking sticks and riding whips. "The hide of the rhinoceros is even more valuable, one animal bringing at least $300. When made into a finished product such as a walking stick, the rhinoceros skin closely resembles polished amber.

"Of course, with the elephant, it is the ivory we are after, the skin being practically worthless. Ivory brings from $8 to $10 a pound and one tusk averages about 75 pounds. The biggest tusk I ever took weighed 122 pounds."

Playing Safe.

A vegetarian had an amusing experience the other morning at breakfast. His family was out of town, so he went to a restaurant and took a seat next to a stranger. The vegetarian took occasion to advertise his creed by telling the stranger all meat was injurious, and that the human diet should be strictly vegetarian. "But," replied the stranger, "I seldom eat meat."

"You just ordered eggs," said the vegetarian. "An egg is practically meat, because it eventually becomes a bird."

"The kind of eggs I eat never become birds," answered the stranger quietly.

"Good gracious," cried the vegetarian, "what kind of eggs do you eat?"

"Principally boiled eggs, sir,"—Los Angeles Times

Leading Question.

Sportsman (to Snobson, who hasn't brought down a single bird all day)—Do you know Lord Peckham?

Snobson—Oh, dear, yes. I've often shot at his house.

Sportsman—Ever hit it?—Tit-Bits.

Snobson—Ever hit it?—London Tit-Bits.

Poor Form.

"Tell me, doctor," said the patient in the hospital, nervously, "is there any chance of this operation proving fatal?"

"Really, young man," protested the doctor, laughingly, "considering that we are experimenting on you free of charge, I think your curiosity is hardly good form."

Chip Off the Old Block.

"My dear," said a young wife to her husband, "the baby has been trying to talk again."

"What was he talking about?"

"I think it must have been politics. He started very calmly, but in a few minutes he was as angry and red in the face as he could be. It is wonderful how he takes after you."

All Provided For.

Belated Passenger—It's a nuisance—these trains are always late.

Resourceful Station Master—But, my dear sir, what would be the use of the waiting rooms if the trains were always on time?

Do your Christmas shopping in Plymouth this year.

You can do better than elsewhere.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

A new lectern has been ordered for the church. Come next Sunday and see how you like it.

There were some welcome additions to the choir, last Sunday.

The prayer meeting of Christian Endeavor met Monday night at the manse and selected leaders for the next three months. After the business session a social hour was enjoyed.

Anyone desiring to hold a prayer cive at their home may arrange to do it through Elder Hummel or the pastor. Choose your own time.

Join the men's class.

The ladies of the Woman's Auxiliary held their monthly meeting, last Wednesday afternoon. At three o'clock they adjourned to hear Mrs. Frances J. Diefenderfer's address on Mormonism.

Let's have a K. K. K. of our own—Kuit Kicking Quickly.

Join the Thursday night crowds. Two more weeks of our special fall program.

Read the Christian Advocate, one of the finest religious periodicals published in the state.

Be sure to be on hand tonight to see the pictures.

One week from next Tuesday—men's big beefsteak supper.

Next Friday night, our third Friday Family Fellowship night. The young folks of the Epworth League are to have charge of the evening. Plan to come with the whole family and enjoy yourselves.

The special for next Thursday night at 8:30, following the study classes is to be a stereopticon lecture on "The Inside of Japan," depicting our work in this wonderful country, and also showing a few scenes where the recent great disaster took place.

The Ladies' Aid and Missionary societies enjoyed a splendid joint gathering at the church on Wednesday of this week. This meeting was the occasion of the annual Christmas party, and also the annual thank-offering of the Home Missionary Society.

Our building fund campaign stands now at 1232 shares taken, or $12,320 pledged. Quite a number of our folks have not taken any shares. We are sure they will want to have a part in this enterprise.

Our chorus choir will render a beautiful Christmas Cantata on Christmas, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schoof and son, Norman, and Mr. and Mrs. William Schoof and daughters, Jacquelyn and Jean, were Thanksgiving day guests at the home of the former's brother, Hugh Schoof, and family of Northville.

STATE COWS TO HAVE OWN ROLL OF HONOR

PRODUCTION MARKS IN COW TEST ASSOCIATIONS WILL QUALIFY FOR PERFORMANCE CERTIFICATES.

Michigan's best dairy cows are to have an honor roll of their own, with membership based on actual production figures, under a new record of performance certificate plan being established by the dairy extension division of the Michigan Agricultural College in connection with cow testing association work in the state.

Cows awarded the certificate will be a select lot, earning the honor only after checking in a high official butterfat production record. All cows enrolled in the official cow testing associations of the state will be eligible to compete for the honor roll, but is estimated that only about twenty per cent of this number will be able to establish high enough marks to win the certificates.

Requirements for admission to the Record of Performance will be as follows: Heifers calving under three years old, 280 pounds of butterfat or more in the year; cows calving under four years old, 310 pounds or more; under five years old, 345 pounds; and five years old or older, 385 pounds.

In addition to the individual certificates, a year book will be published giving records of all "certificate" cows for that year. This will serve as a "blue book" of the best animals in Michigan cow testing associations.

The Record of Performance will be supervised and controlled by the dairy extension division of M. A. C.

LOCAL NEWS

As part of the organized cow testing association work in the state. Seventy of these associations are active in the state at the present time, with prospects that the number will exceed 100 by next spring.

Mrs. Albert West and Mrs. H. W. Holman of Owosso, were guests for a few days at the home of Frank K. Learned.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Borck entertained at dinner, Thanksgiving day. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mitchell, Burt Mitchell and Miss Hildreth Moore, all of Detroit.

When You Have Finished

your new home, can you feel sure that it is right in every particular; that in no way you have sacrificed quality to unwise economy? It is a cheering thought to know that your new home is properly constructed of the best of materials—and it is real economy, too!

A few dollars, more or less, in the cost of construction are soon forgotten; a few dollars saved at the expense of quality may, and very likely will, prove costly indeed in the end.

When you build, build right!

Today's Reflections

If you're looking for a sure way to make a Plymouth woman mad and you can't do it any other way, try tracking mud in the house.

Before the dishrag and washboard become entirely extinct, museums should lay in a few of them for the education of future generations.

Joe Silvia, of Mexico City, is 122 years old. That's because there are no autos down there.

It's less than a year now until presidential election, but we don't see anybody around Plymouth acting as though they couldn't wait until it gets here.

It's getting so you can tell when you're coming to a railroad crossing by the pieces of autos laying in the road.

A man used to get into trouble by sowing wild oats. This year he got there by sowing wheat.

If some of our Plymouth citizens were as anxious to be good as they are to be good looking, the churches would be crowded every Sunday.

We'll still bet the notions part of a store never has as many notions as some of the women who patronize it.

Whether they're musical or not, most every married man in Plymouth knows how to play second fiddle.

Now would be a good time to start catching cold—you're pretty sure to get some handkerchiefs for Christmas.

You seldom hear "The Old Folks At Home" now. Since the auto came the old folks are seldom at home.

When a Plymouth man gets home and sees the best table cloth being put on, he knows it's time for him to put on company manners.

A republic is a land where everybody knows how the thing should be handled except the official who has the job in hand.

The dictionary is a comforting book. You can always find how to spell a word if you know how to spell it in the first place so you can hunt for it.

Our advice to the Plymouth woman who doesn't know how to manage her husband or her children is to ask her relatives. They always seem to know.

A navy aviator recently flew at the rate of 250 miles an hour. All right—but we'll bet he didn't see much of the country.

A Japanese editor says he prefers his earthquakes to our windstorms. All right. He has our permission to stay over there and enjoy them.

What this nation needs is more men who love the people when there isn't a political campaign on.

Few people suffer any more than some of our Plymouth citizens when there's a stranger in town and they can't learn his business.

Four-wheel brakes on a car are not going to help the driver who hasn't any brakes on the wheels in his head.

Here we've been without a vice-president of the United States for weeks and weeks, and we never noticed it at all.

A Plymouth girl who hasn't been married so very long tells us she thinks she signed up for "love, honor and no pay."

One of the compensations of this life is that a girl can be darned good looking and still not take the prize at a beauty show.

Maybe the reason women around Plymouth are not serving on juries is that they'd rather talk than listen.

PROPER CARE HELPS TWINS TO HEALTH

MARY AND ANNA GAIN 14 AND 16 POUNDS IN FOUR MONTHS

PREVENTORIUM AIDS CHILDREN

Christmas Seal Money is Sole Support of the Educational Campaign Against Tuberculosis.

When Mary and Anna first went to Sunnybanks Preventorium, Grand Rapids, the little twins were frail, listless children badly undernourished and in imminent danger of contracting tuberculosis. After a stay of four months at the preventorium Mary showed a gain in weight of 14 pounds and Anna tipped the scales 16 pounds heavier than she did on entering the institution. Both girls are now bright eyed, rosy cheeked little children with health and happiness showing in every look and action.

Not only have Mary and Anna regained their health, but they have also learned how to keep well. They think that the lesson was worth learning. At this time of the year, Christmas seals are sold all over the country in order that more people may be benefited as Mary and Anna were. Every seal bought helps to finance the educational program that has already caused preventoria and sanatoria to be erected for the care of Michigan's tuberculous. Tuberculosis killed 2,654 Michigan people in 1922. Christmas seals are now on sale to every community of the state. Every person who buys seals helps other Mary's and Anna's regain health and perhaps even helps to keep them from the final clutch of tuberculosis. Isn't it worth while to buy seals?

Spine and Lungs of Boy Affected By Tuberculosis

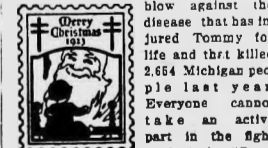

TOMMY TAKES A SUN BATH

"Back to nature" is Tommy's slogan as he sits in the open air at the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Howell. He is taking the sun cure for tuberculosis of the spine and lungs.

Tommy has bone tuberculosis. His head is sunken between his shoulders and his twisted body is crooked for all time. But Tommy is a plucky little fellow. As he sits in the sunlight with his companions—there are many children at the sanatorium in an almost similar condition—he gazes first into the sun and then into the future, wondering whether either or both have any promise for him.

How the Seals Help. Forty-two million Christmas seals are now on sale in the state of Michigan. Every seal that is sold is a blow against the disease that has injured Tommy for life and that killed 2,654 Michigan people last year. Everyone cannot take an active part in the fight against the "Great White Plague," but everyone can buy seals.

Christmas seals fight tuberculosis. Buy them. Give Health.

The auto always gets to the railroad crossing first—but the train is usually the first one to go on its way.

We'd like to know how it comes that it's always easier to love one's neighbor, as the Bible tells us to, if she is young and good-looking.

If the average Plymouth man were paid the kind of wages his wife thinks he earns, the U. S. might have to run 24 hours a day to make money enough to do it with.

YOUR STORE LIGHTING

Are you doing as much business as you feel you have a right to expect? If not, the trouble may be with your lighting.

It has been shown over and over again that as between a store with brightly lighted show windows and skilfully illuminated interior; and another where the lighting is of the old-fashioned kind so commonly found, the first will attract from 25 to 50 per cent more customers.

And the additional expense will be only a very small proportion of the increased profits.

Ask us to inspect your equipment and suggest improvements. No charge made for this service.

Christmas Seals Helped to Make These Tots Happy

TWO KIDKIES AT A SUMMER CAMP

Every summer hundreds of undernourished and sickly children enjoy the hospitality of summer camps scattered throughout the state. At these camps the kiddies are given an opportunity to play, eat and sleep in the open air, to eat the right kind of food and to get the proper amount of healthful exercise.

Summer camps are a part of the work carried on with Christmas seal sale funds. Every penny that is spent for seals is a contribution to the health and general welfare of hundreds of children. Every seal that is used becomes a weapon in the hands of skilled tuberculosis fighters. Buy Christmas seals and help make frail children strong.

AN INTERESTING LETTER

The following is a copy of a letter written by Mrs. Mary K. Hillmer, enroute Plymouth to Tampa, Florida, to her young grandson, Eugene D. Hillmer:

Fort Cumberland Hotel,
Cumberland, Md., Nov. 21, 1923,
Dear grandson Eugene:-

We drove through the principal portion of the mountain country yesterday. The "worst" mountain was just out of Uniontown, Pa. Had the roads been bad, or the car in poor condition, or the driver careless or ignorant, I surely would have been frightened. But the mountains were not half as "scary" as they tried to make us think before we left Plymouth. I really enjoyed every bit of the experience. We still have a few more mountains to encounter between here and Washington.

As we started out on the first steep up-grade, it did not seem steep at all, only just a little incline we might find almost anywhere. However, the car would hardly go, in fact would just barely chug along. Your uncle Homer thought the clutch was slipping, but your aunt Gertrude thought it was the same wheel trouble she and I had that time we went to Ypsilanti, when only the hub would turn. She got out to look at the wheels. Uncle Homer put on his overalls and worked on the clutch, and crawled under the car to fix up something there. (That time I did get a little bit nervous for fear the car had gone wrong, or that something would soon happen to it.) Well, they climbed back in and we started up again. But the car kept doing the same thing, just trying to drag and pull along. Just then they noticed that all the other cars on the road and passing us were having the same kind of trouble. The grade was so hard to climb that the car couldn't possibly go any faster. It all seemed so queer. When we were going up steep hills, they seemed not steep at all, yet when they did seem steep, they were not. Most of them had signs saying "Dangerous hill, go in second," or "Top of the Mountain, go down in second with ignition entirely cut off."

Sometimes we would go for a long way on a fine level stretch of road, but would be 2400 feet or so above sea level. On either side we could see farms, but with higher hills and mountains behind the farms; then we would curve round and round a mountain, gradually going down; then across bridges and up again. Once, in particular, we looked down upon a bright green valley with fine looking white farm houses, and cows and horses grazing. Several times we looked back to see a whole village spread out before our eyes on the mountain slope. Every little while there would be a little hamlet with its narrow streets, and with its houses and stores set close to curb to save room. Sometimes, when passing through the larger places, like Plymouth or Ypsilanti, the streets would be very narrow. The front door would step right out on to the street, while the back yard would climb a mountain. Between the steep sides of the mountains, the streets would be laid, and somehow room was made for the houses, street cars, automobiles, wagons and pedestrians. In the foothills, room had frequently also to be made for a railroad. But only a few times was there anything besides the paved National road.

The mountains were not bare and rugged, but they were covered with trees and with brown, red, violet and yellow green foliage. Twilight comes early in the hills. Upon the approach of evening, the shadows of the hill on one side of us would fall on the hill on the other side, making it dark, while above that big shadow would be the light yellowish or lavender sky. This looked very peculiar, yet beautiful. Once we were surprised by seeing the lights of a city far below us, and apparently on a mountain side. I thought we must be approaching Cumberland but it was only Frostburg, yet quite a little city at that. The night before last, we stayed all night at a little village in the hills called Clayville. We slept in an old fashioned house owned by two ladies who took roomers as chance permitted. We reached Cumberland, Maryland, about eight o'clock last night. We expect to remain here for yet another night.

We find this a fine, clean hotel with every modern convenience. Your aunt Gertrude and I went out to dinner while uncle Homer tended baby. It was a chicken dinner, and I had my mouth all fixed for one of those fine old southern chicken dinners that we hear bragged so much about. But it was not one quarter as good as your own mother's chicken dinners at home. By no means could it compare with that farewell dinner she gave us in Plymouth.

Well, Eugene, I haven't told you the half, but you will have to wait. Now—"On to Washington."

AROUND ABOUT US

Holly will have a community Christmas tree.

A new Seventh Day Adventists' church is being built at Holly.

Work has been started on Dearborn's new $120,000 library. The site was donated by Henry Ford.

The Community Welfare Association of Wayne, a new organization in that village, will give a carnival, December 14 and 15.

The village of Birmingham have authorized the Detroit Edison Company to install 107 boulevard lights of 600 candle power, on Woodward avenue.

Hall Bros. of Detroit, have leased the A. C. Balden hill on South Center street, Northville, and are erecting a slide for skiing. A tournament will be held in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eckles have sold their farm three miles east and one mile south of South Lyon, to Mr. and Mrs. Joslin of Redford, who will take possession in the spring. Mr. and Mrs. Eckles are undecided as to future plans.—South Lyon Herald.

Commenting on Plymouth's victory, foot ball boys say the best team would be Plymouth undoubtedly has the strongest eleven in the league because of the backfield and especially quarterback and full back, these boys being league choice for their positions.—Redford Record.

L. W. Lovewell, South Lyon auctioneer and livestock buyer, will have charge of the livestock sale at the Detroit Stock Yards on the 10th, 11th and 12th of December. The entire exhibit, consisting of between 40 and 50 carloads of choice stock, hogs, cattle and sheep, will be sold at auction. About two carloads of stock from South Lyon and vicinity will be entered at the show.

Some parties have secured options on a number of farms in the vicinity of Pleasant Valley, known as the "Bluffs," between Milford and Brighton. About 1100 acres have been purchased. Just who is buying the land and for what purpose it is to be used is a mystery, says the Milford Times. Some people surmise Henry Ford is buying the land for the purpose of establishing a public park. It is a very picturesque country, and some of the views from several locations in "The Bluffs" are not surpassed anywhere in Michigan.

Grading of Telegraph road through Dearborn Hills, preparatory to its paving from Michigan avenue, north to Redford, next spring, was completed last week, by the Wayne County Road Commission. Construction of the $50,000 bridge over the River Rouge on this road, just north of Michigan avenue, also was completed last week. The paving of Telegraph Road and the widening of Michigan avenue, to provide a two-way traffic street, between Dearborn village and Dearborn Hills, will be two of the largest projects to be undertaken by the road commission field forces next spring.

THE THEATRE

"THE LEAVENWORTH CASE"

One of the most exciting roof-top chases and fights ever screened will be seen in "The Leavenworth Case," a Whitman Bennett production, which will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre on Saturday, December 8th.

This sequence forms the unexpected in the presentation of this unusual mystery story. "The Leavenworth Case," which is based upon the famous novel of the same name by Anna Katherine Green, is the story of the solution of the baffling murder of Ira Leavenworth, a wealthy old recluse, who is found shot to death in his sound-proof apartment.

His two nieces, Mary and Eleanor Leavenworth, whose relationship with their uncle had never been more than ordinarily cordial, are the first to come to the attention of the police as possible guilty persons. Suspicion then swings to a strange caller upon Mr. Leavenworth on the night of his death. Two other men closely connected with the affairs of Mr. Leavenworth are not beyond suspicion. A secret marriage, a key, a woman's handkerchief and a charred letter are clues that concern investigators.

The crime is solved by Donald Robertson, a private investigator, who is one of the most famous fiction detectives. Revelation as to who the guilty party was proves a highly sensational climax to the mystery. Sena Owen and Martha Mansfield are seen as the nieces of Ira Leavenworth. Wilfred Lytell is a romantic and mysterious figure in the play, while Bradley Barker and Paul Doucet are prominent in the all-star cast. Charles Giblyn directed the production, which is rated as the best mystery story ever screened.

"POTASH AND PERLMUTTER" One of the most notable casts that has ever graced a motion picture will be seen at the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, December 9 and 10, when "Potash and Perlmutter," a First National picture produced by Samuel Goldwyn, will be shown. It is conceded to be one of the most important assemblages of dramatic personalities ever gathered for a film production.

Not content with securing most of the favored members of the original stage production, headed by Alexander Carr and Barney Bernard, the co-stars, Mr. Goldwyn signed up Vera Gordon and Lee Kohlmar, two celebrities in addition. Carr and Bernard play their original parts, as Mawruss Perlmutter and Abe Potash, and Vera Gordon, who attained instant fame in "Hunmoreque," is cast as Rosie Potash.

How Much Is Gas Today?

Don't ask that; the price per gallon does not determine its actual cost to you.

The kind of service it gives is the real test of its economy.

Judge gasoline by this standard and you will choose—

The Power Behind Your Motor

AMERICAN Certified Quality GASOLINE

Because it develops a steady flow of power at any speed.

Because it starts your motor quickly, saving unnecessary strain on your storage battery.

Because it vaporizes instantly, thus every particle of Gasoline is used to produce power.

Because it does give real service, it must be economical, and being economical it costs you less per mile.

Decide now to use American Gasoline.

Nervous Feeling Due to Gas on Stomach

Pressure of gas on heart and other organs often causes a restless, nervous feeling. Simple backthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Aderika, expels gas and relieves pressure and nervousness almost INSTANTLY. Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel. Aderika removes matter you never thought was in your system which poisoned stomach, causing gas and nervousness. EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis.—Finckney's Pharmacy.—Advertisement.
