NEW C. OF C. OFFICERS TAKE OFFICE

C. G. SHEAR WILL HEAD THE LOCAL ORGANIZATION FOR THE COMING YEAR.

At the last meeting of the board of directors of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce for 1923, held last week Wednesday evening, the business of the past year was finished by the retiring board, and the reins of government of the local organization turned over to the newly elected board.

The retiring directors are John S. Dayton, C. A. Fisher, Wm. B. Petz, D. Schrader and P. J. Weidman. These gentlemen have all served two years on the board, have given freely of their time and efforts in promoting the affairs of the Chamber of Commerce and the best interests of the village of Plymouth, in all matters that have come before them, and they are entitled to much credit for the service they have rendered in helping make the C. of C. an organization that is bound to re-enact good for the further development and progress of Plymouth.

While the local organization is only in its infancy, it is already beginning to make itself manifest in every movement that means for a larger and better Plymouth. With all the knocks and the "monkey wrenches" that are tossed into the wheels of an organization of this kind, the local C. of C. has become a factor in the growth of Plymouth, whose future strength and accomplishments will only be in proportion to the willingness of our citizens to give it the support that it deserves and is entitled to. The retiring board of directors and officers are entitled to the thanks of the community for their efforts in behalf of the organization.

The new board is composed of the following members: E. J. Allison, A. E. Blunk, W. J. Burrows, H. J. Fisher, H. R. Lush, O. P. Martin, W. T. Pettingill, Frank Rambo and C. G. Shear. Messrs. Rambo, Pettingill, Lush and Fisher were members of last year's board.

The above directors have elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—C. G. Shear
1st Vice Pres.—A. E. Blunk
2nd Vice Pres.—H. J. Fisher
Treasurer—W. T. Pettingill
A secretary has yet to be chosen.

The new president is a member of Plymouth Buick Sales Co., being the president of that company, and is a most capable and energetic business man, who is especially well fitted to guide the destinies of the C. of C. most successfully.

GREEN-WHITNEY

Miss Ruth Whitney, daughter of Mr. G. H. Whitney, was very quietly married at her home on New Year's day, to William Green of Detroit. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, and only the immediate family were present. A sumptuous dinner was served following the ceremony. The happy couple will reside in Plymouth.

SPECIAL MEETING OF O. E. S.

A special meeting of the Order of the Odd Fellows will be held in Masonic hall, Friday, January 5, afternoon and evening, as there are several candidates to be initiated. The first session will call to order at 8:15 o'clock. Dinner will be served at 8:30 o'clock and continues until all the candidates have been initiated. All members of the order are invited to attend.

NEW CONVENIENCE STATION NOW OPEN

NEW BUILDING ONE OF THE BEST OF ITS KIND TO BE FOUND ANYWHERE.

The new public convenience station on Main street, owned by the village, is now open to the public, and provides for a long needed improvement of this kind. The new building which is situated in what was an alley-way between the Blunk Bros. store and the Woodworth Bazaar, is modern in its entire construction and equipment, and we doubt if there is a town of this size or even several times larger in the state, that has anything of this kind that compares with it. The ladies lavatory is located on the ground floor, at the rear of the building, the front part of which is given over to a small rest room, furnished with a neat rug on the floor, several easy rockers, library table, etc. This room is well lighter and ventilated, and the walls and ceiling are decorated in white.

The men's lavatory is located in the basement, with a stairway leading from the street. The heating plant is also located in the basement. Both lavatories are supplied with hot and cold water. Paper towels are available by placing a penny in a specially constructed box for this purpose.

The building is a credit to the village, and it will certainly be appreciated by the public.

SWARM-JEWELL

A pretty home wedding occurred last Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jewell on Harvey street, when their daughter, Helen, was united in marriage to Willard D. Swarm of Detroit, in the presence of only the immediate relatives. Rev. S. Conger Hathaway officiated, using the Presbyterian ring service. After the ceremony, a sumptuous six o'clock dinner was served.

SOME IMPROVEMENTS AT THE VILLAGE HALL

The improvements that have been made at the village hall in the past few weeks, have worked such a change, that one would hardly know the place. The first very noticeable change is a neat sign on the left side of the front doorway, bearing the words, "Plymouth Village Hall." On the right hand side is a sign reading, "Wayne County Free Library." On entering the building one does not have to grope his way through a dark hallway to the manager's office or the commission room and library. Window lights have been placed in the front doors, thereby providing plenty of light. Neat signs on the doors point the way to the several rooms opening off the hall. The hall-way and commission room have been re-decorated in a cream tint, that harmonizes well with a darker color on the woodwork. Shelves have been installed in the commission room, which also provides space for the Wayne County Library, and over a thousand books are now in place for the free use of our citizens. A long library table has also been provided and upon which it is planned to have several of the daily papers and current magazines during the coming year. Everything is neat and clean about the whole premises, and the improvements are a credit to the village, Manager Strong and the village commission.

FORMER PLYMOUTH GIRL DIES

Iola, fifteen-year-old daughter of Claude and Ruby Merritt of Detroit, former residents of Plymouth, passed away Monday evening, December 24th, after a short illness. Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Crumie and daughter, Mrs. Earl Ryder, and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Merritt attended the funeral services, which were held last week Thursday afternoon. Burial at Rose-lawn cemetery, Detroit. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of many Plymouth friends in their great sorrow.

H. S. Doerr has purchased the property owned by the late Ben Schultz on West Ann Arbor street, where he will soon establish an agricultural implement business. Mr. Doerr will build a warehouse at the rear of the dwelling house, which he will use as an office.

1923 WAS GOOD TO PLYMOUTH

"The year which has just closed has been a most prosperous one for the village of Plymouth," and the outlook for the new year which has just been ushered in is even brighter than the one just closed.

"During the past year our factories have been busy, and there has been plenty of work for all, which of course means much to the general prosperity of the community."

There has been considerable building activity during the past year. Several new business blocks have been erected, and in the neighborhood of forty new houses have been built. The building prospects for the new year are good. One contractor tells us that there are quite a number who are contemplating building in the spring. There is a great need for more houses, and it is to be hoped that there will be a number of moderate priced houses built that will be available for the working man.

IT'S A MISTAKE

We occasionally encounter in our rounds of Plymouth and the neighboring community, the type of man who believes that a newspaper is eager to publish derogatory things, or items about people that are sure to embarrass or render those same people unhappy. This is a mistake and one we regret to call attention to, because it is so unnecessary.

There isn't a newspaper man in this country but who could spring a sensation in his community if he wanted to, at any time, by merely printing the things he knows, but does not print. Deciding what not to print is the most troublesome part of editing a newspaper. How many news items are suppressed for innocent relatives and for the public good nobody outside a newspaper office has any idea of. In some instances the man who flies into a passion because a newspaper prints something about him, which he considers uncomplimentary, has every reason to feel grateful to the editor for publishing so little of what he knows about the case and the circumstances surrounding it. And often times the loudest bluffer is the man who is more guilty than the public generally credited him with being. A big noise is often a device to cover cowardice.

Newspapers put up with more bluffing than any other agency. Not because they lack the courage to "call the bluff," but because their editors are unwilling to use the power they have in hand to send sorrow into the innocent hearts of the relatives of the man who is doing the bluffing. No, gentle reader, an editor doesn't hunt trouble. On the other hand, he is kept pretty busy turning his back on that which he knows can only stir up trouble, and that cannot do anybody any good or make anybody happy.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. O'Brien of Detroit, and Edwin B. Markham of Saginaw, visited their aunt, Miss M. L. Markham, on New Year's day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merz and their daughter, Olive Mae, proved themselves royal entertainers last Monday night when, at their spacious home on the Plymouth road, they gave a "New Year's Eve Watch-night Party" to the members of the Presbyterian choir. Various games were enjoyed until about ten o'clock, when the grand march sounded, and the guests were conducted to the basement, where they beheld a candle-lighted "fairy land of feasting," the long tables, with holiday decorations, fairly groaning beneath the bountiful supply of choice viands. After the repast the guests again repaired to the parlors continuing their fun and frolic until the stroke of twelve, when they gathered round the piano and greeted the new year with a doxology. After the conventional New Year greetings had been exchanged, they departed to their homes, carrying with them the pleasant memories of two years—one happily ended and one happily begun.

MOST FIRES occur in homes—and most home fires are started in the kitchen, but the worst of it is that many of these home fires are attended by injury and loss of life.

More than 15,000 people are burned to death every year, and unfortunately most of these victims are women and helpless children. Ninety per cent of all fires are discovered before they are extinguished if the means were at hand. Preventable! It is a private misfortune; they are public responsibilities. It is the duty of every citizen to help win out this national scourge.

A limited number of customers may obtain our free service and the first fifty persons to make application will be added to the above list of patrons. For further particulars, see Jesse Hake, your Plymouth Hardware Merchant.

Our Watch Night Service Monday evening was a worth-while occasion. About 60 brave souls were daring enough to come out on the stormy evening, and watch the old year slowly die away, and the new year dawn. The service opened with an inspiring song service led by Miss Nellie Huger, which was followed by a sermon by Rev. Wm. Richards of Northville, on "The Old and the New." At 9:45 a short musical program was given, consisting of solos, duets, instrumental numbers, and also a New Year's reading by Dorothy Hillman.

At 10:20 all went to the basement for a social hour, in which a number of quiet, enjoyable games were played, every one seeming to enter into the spirit of the occasion. At the close of the social period, refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served by the ladies. Then came a screening of "Dickens' Christmas Carol," in one reel, which had in it a real Christmas lesson for all the year.

At 11:30, we were called to a more serious consideration of our obligations to Christ. Brother Blake Fisher spoke a few words on the subject of Prayer, and Mrs. Nagle spoke on "Service." An earnest testimony meeting followed, in which many expressed what God had done for them in the past year, and their desire to live a better life for Him during the coming year.

As the bells began to ring, all gathered about the altar in prayer, and then arose and each with each other in wishing a Happy New Year. The service closed, and the New Year was further set on its way, by all joining hands and singing, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

BAPTIST NOTES

The New Year's sermon was taken from Is. 6:1. The events of the past year were touched upon, and the preparation for a new year of service was brought out in the latter part of the address.

The Sunday-school had a good attendance, although some were away to spend New Year's in other parts of the state.

The B. Y. P. U. had an exceptional meeting Sunday evening, led by Duane Sayles. The resolutions which each one expressed as his or her purpose for the coming year ought to be mentioned, such as, "I'll try to read the Bible more, and be on time at the meeting; find more time to pray; ask others to come to our society; will plan to be at the morning service."

The B. Y. P. U. met with the pastor at the parsonage, for a New Year's party, and watch the new year in. The evening was much enjoyed by all, and everyone was happy. At eleven-forty-five they all sat down to the table, and sang "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow." About ten minutes before twelve the President, Elbert Seger, briefly reviewed the work of the year. Then all sang, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." As the clock began to strike, all bowed their heads in prayer, and as the new year arrived, they repeated the Mizpah, and after wishing each other a Happy New Year, left for home.

The annual meeting of the Ladies Aid Society will be held at Mrs. Estep's, Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 9. Supper will be served at six o'clock. Everyone invited.

THE THEATRE

"PLEASURE MAD"

Sudden wealth brings the Benton family from their cheap little suburban home to the lap of luxury on Riverside Drive in New York. No more need to economize or worry about money. They're all free to enjoy themselves without stint. Only the mother seems to lack the instinct for gay recklessness. Father, son and daughter take to the city's night life with the avid hunger of starved lives, and the mother, longing for her peaceful home in the Valley of Content, watches them climb to the dizzy peaks of self-indulgence. An attractive society woman captures the husband's interest. He demands that his wife free him by divorce.

The children—

It's all told in "Pleasure Mad," the thrilling screen version of Blanche Upright's novel, produced by Reginald Barker for the Metro-Louis B. Mayer forces, coming to the Penniman Allen theatre, on Saturday, January 5th.

"THE MAN FROM BRODNEYS"

The story of how Manhattan Island, now worth countless millions, was purchased from the Indians for $24 is known to every schoolboy. But suppose Manhattan Island, instead of being situated in the central part of the coast of North America, had been located in an obscure part of the South Seas. And that it had been rich in ruby and sapphire mines. And that the two men who bought it from the natives were the sole owners of it, and when they died left a will bequeathing it to the granddaughter of one and the grandson of the other providing the two legatees should marry within one year after the death of the testators. And that they both were already married, but not to each other, and a clause in the will gave the island back to the natives if the white heirs did not carry out the terms of the will.

This is one of the situations in "The Man From Brodneys," Vitagraph's special production directed by David Smith, which will be shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre on Sunday and Monday, January 6 and 7. The play is a picturization of the novel by the same name by George Barr McCutcheon. The all-star cast is headed by J. Warren Kerrigan and includes Alice Calhoun, Miss DuPont, Wanda Hawley, Pat O'Malley and Kathleen Key.

Grandma Theeck is still very sick at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Voss.

Peter Niemschack, passed away on Wednesday, December 26th, at his home on the Wayne road, after an illness of only four days, aged 84 years. The funeral was held last Saturday morning from St. Mary's Catholic church at Wayne. Mrs. Niemschack preceded him in death three weeks before. Three sons are left to mourn their loss. They are John of Toledo; Edward of Detroit, and Joseph of this place, and also three grandchildren of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Brando of Wayne, were callers at the home of Mrs. McCracken, Sunday.

Mr. Lockhart's people entertained the following on New Year's day: C. F. Jubenville, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jubenville and two sons of Royal Oak; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roediger and daughters of Southfield, and Mr. Mfs. Robert Johnston and son Stanley of this place.

The Helping Hand Society met New Year's day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pettibone on Warren avenue, with a good attendance. After the business meeting, they adjourned to meet the first Wednesday in February, at the home of Mrs. Fred Schiffe, Sr., in Plymouth.

Charles Parrish, while butchering, had the misfortune to have his hands bit quite severely and they are very sore and painful.

Mrs. Wykowski and two sons called on Mrs. C. Parrish, Sunday afternoon.

School opened Wednesday, January 2nd, after the holiday vacation.

BEECH

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Christmas and New Year's Eve have passed away again, leaving many happy memories and awakening new life and activities which are being planned for the coming year of 1924. The vestry is drawing up the budget, and the Ladies Guild is planning their activities for 1924.

Next Sunday the service will be in the morning, and there will be the service of the holy communion at 10:00 o'clock.

Church school will be at 11:15.

Choir practice will be every Thursday evening at 7:30, at the home of Joseph Tracy, 116 Main street.

The Ladies' Guild will meet this week, and at this meeting they will elect their officers for the present year.

Next week there will be a supper and annual meeting of parishioners, when the election of officers of the vestry for 1924, will take place.

Considering the stormy night the Watch Night service which was held from 8:15 to 12:15, was well attended, and the rector gave a very appropriate address from Matt. 4-4, "Man Shall Not Live By Bread Alone."

COMMUNITY HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Spicer, as is their custom, entertained the December meeting of the Canton Community Club on Wednesday evening, December 26th, and were greeted with a full house, which in turn was treated to an excellent program. Several of the rural schools reproduced parts of their Christmas exercises, each number being worthy of special mention.

The January meeting will be a day meeting at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hauk's, Wednesday, January 30th, with dinner at noon.

YOUR SHOW-WINDOW

The purpose of the show-window is to attract prospective buyers and make your business grow. A well-lighted window calls out to the passers-by to stop, look and be favorably impressed.

A dry-goods store reports a test in which it was found by actual count, that the number of passers-by stopped by its show window increased nearly 100 per cent after better lighting was put in. The effect on sales was equally gratifying.

Are possible buyers walking indifferently past your store and stopping at the better lighted window of a competitor? This is a question you ought to find an answer for. Ask us to inspect your lighting. No charge made.

SOME INTERESTING RELICS

The visitor to the village will find three objects of curiosity in the commission room. The one most noticeable is an oil street lamp of the period of 1880, mounted upon a neat pedestal, and inside of its glass top an electric lamp has now been installed, in place of the old kerosene wick and burner. This lamp, which had been in storage in the old electric light building, now owned by the Daisy Mfg. Co., was purchased, together with twenty-nine others, in 1880. The first lamp lighter of the village, was Melvin R. Weeks, who now resides in Detroit. The salary paid for the services of the first lamplighter was $75 per year. These lamps or similar ones were in use in Plymouth for many years, until the installation of the electric lights. It is quite a curiosity to the younger generation, but will be vividly remembered by the older ones.

Upon a staff mounted on a pedestal there is a spear head ornament, that once adorned the end of the staff of the regimental flag of the Twenty-fourth Michigan Volunteer Infantry of Civil war days. This spear head also adorned the flag staff on the old band stand that stood in Kellogg Park, and which was torn down several years ago, and the spear head given over to the keeping of the village. Manager Sidney D. Strong has traced the history of this historic ornament, and has gathered the following facts regarding its origin, through the courtesy of E. N. Pasage, in the loan of a book giving the history of the regiment. Mr. Pasage's father was a member of Company C of this regiment.

When the Twenty-fourth Michigan Infantry was organized, Plymouth had the honor of having a company in this gallant regiment of Wayne county volunteers. The Plymouth company was known as C Company, and was the color company of the regiment. Abel G. Peck of Nankin township, was the first color bearer of the regiment, and was killed at Gettysburg, where five color bearers were killed and all the color guard killed or wounded. The Plymouth company numbered 100 men, sixty-five of whom were residents of this township, and were enlisted in Kellogg Park in August, 1862, amid great enthusiasm.

When the Twenty-fourth left Detroit, a beautiful flag was presented to the regiment by the F. Buhl Co. of that city. It was on the staff of is flag that the spear head, now in possession of the village, was mounted. This flag was carried by the regiment in the numerous engagements in which it participated, until it was so shot-torn and tattered that it had to be replaced by a new one. The flag that had been carried to victory in many a battle, and whose starry folds had been drenched with the blood of its noble defenders, had come to be a dearly prized possession of the regiment, and especially to the Plymouth company, in whose keeping it had been. So the old flag was cut into pieces, and the pieces presented to the men of the regiment as mementos. The spear head came into possession of the Plymouth boys, and was brought back with them at the close of the war.

What a story this ornament of metal might tell if it could but speak. Through the terrible conflict at Gettysburg it passed unscathed, although the staff was splintered and the flag pierced time and again with bullets. The Plymouth company in defense of the old flag at Gettysburg made an enviable record for heroism. In the thickest of the fight, it lost heavily. Here it was that Lieuts. Safford and Shattuck lost their lives in defending the flag. Here it was that the late Asa Joy lost a leg and the late Roswell Root was wounded. It was here also that the Hon. Edgar O. Durfee, probate judge of Wayne county, and a former Plymouth boy, lost an arm. Here with other Plymouth boys were there that day with the flag and the spear head, where the battle raged the fiercest. We believe there are not two surviving members of the Twenty-fourth Michigan residing in Plymouth—Hart Weed and Charles Westfall, Sr.

The commission has authorized the purchase of a small silk flag for the staff upon which is mounted the famous spear head, and it will remain a prized possession of the village for all time.

The third object of curiosity is a black walnut table, which for many years has done service on election days, when it has been used by the election board. The table has been refinished and now presents a nice appearance, and is as strong and sturdy as when first placed in use. The table was purchased March 22, 1910, and was used in the council chamber for many years thereafter.

Today's Reflections

Many a boy who was the apple of his mother's eye turned out to be a winesap.

Maybe the reason some Plymouth people haven't discovered the secret of success is because it's hidden in the sweat glands.

This would be a much better world if we had more people laying brick and fewer people throwing them.

It's a wise farmer who knows his condition—after reading what the politicians say about it.

Our advice to every young man in Plymouth is: When she goes to pumping you about life insurance, look out.

A Vermont man says he has discovered a way to tell a good egg from a bad egg. All right. But we'll still depend on our nose.

They say auto production will jump 50 per cent in 1924. And we suppose pedestrians will have to jump in proportion.

Who can recall when about all we had to watch out for on the streets of Plymouth were runaway horses and careless bicycle riders.

This is leap year—the year the girls are supposed to propose instead of just talking the boys into it.

One thing some of our motorists never seem to learn until it's too late, and that is that gasoline vapors are always ready to meet a lighted match half way.

Any Plymouth woman who has been married a couple of years can tell there are two sides to every question—the right side and the side her husband takes.

They used to say the Lord took care of fools and drunks, but that was before the fools and drunks were trying to run motor cars.

We overheard a Plymouth man say yesterday that there are two things he'd like to have—one of the crisp rolls his mother used to make and the crisp roll his father used to carry.

Maybe they call them "third" parties because they always do three things—organize, get beat and quit.

The average Plymouth man is just about the difference between what his wife tells other women he is, and what she tells him he is.

The label on your paper tells how your subscription stands.

BELL COMPANY TIES NAME WITH SYSTEM

MICHIGAN UTILITY IS KNOWN
NOW AS MICHIGAN BELL
TELEPHONE CO.

Announcements have been received, with their January statements for service, by local telephone subscribers that the name of the Michigan State Telephone company has been changed to Michigan Bell Telephone company effective January 1. Similar announcement is carried in the advertising columns of this paper.

Reason assigned by telephone officials for the change of name is that its name should indicate the company's association in the Bell System as it does the state it serves.

It also is explained that the company is a Michigan corporation, organized in Michigan for the purpose of giving "Universal Service" to Michigan people, both designations, "Michigan" and "Bell," therefore being appropriately used in the company's name.

Officials of the company announce that the task of consolidating the properties and service of the former Citizens company with the Bell company, in some 63 towns and cities of Western Michigan, is progressing very favorably. Use of the unified toll service between the towns affected and to other points has increased considerably since the consolidation went into effect, indicating to telephone people that unified service was a greatly needed for interurban as for local business. The work of unification of the services has been completed in all but three or four of the towns affected, such as Grand Rapids, Lansing and Jackson, where the task is one of great magnitude but where it is well under way.

The company has a considerable program of expansion under way for 1924, it is stated. Approximately 10,000 people are now in the employ of the Michigan Bell company throughout the state.
