PRAYING FOR DEATH

QUESTION.—When we find life absolutely hopeless, and ourselves a useless burden to all our friends, is it wrong to pray for death?

The pastor will answer this question in his sermon next Sunday evening. If you are interested in the practical problems of Christian experience you are invited to consider his answer to the above question.

PLYMOUTH DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

The New Plymouth Road Opened for Traffic With Proper Ceremony, Last Week Thursday Afternoon; Large Crowd in Town to Enjoy the Many Attractions.

Last week Thursday was a big day in the history of Plymouth, when the village was host to the largest crowd that ever assembled within our borders for any like occasion. The primary object of the day was to celebrate the opening of the newly paved Plymouth road, the main artery of traffic between Plymouth and Detroit.

The village streets, homes and business places were gayly decorated for the occasion, and it is safe to say never before has anything quite so elaborate in the way of decorations been attempted here.

Band Concert and Dinner

The program of the day was opened at 12:00, when the Ford band of River Rouge, one of the best musical organizations in the state, rendered several selections that delighted everyone. Following the band concert came the big dinner, which was given to several hundred guests, including the officials of our neighboring towns and cities, representatives of the Wayne County Road commission, the men who have been actively engaged in the construction of the Plymouth road and a number of wives, gathered at the High school auditorium, where an elaborate dinner served by the ladies of the Lutheran church awaited them.

The guests were welcomed by the guest committee, under the direction of W. T. Conner, who supplied each with a badge and tickets for the dinner and the Penniman Allen theatre, where many of them later in the day saw the great picture film, "The Covered Wagon." The visitors were made welcome by the committee, who saw to it that they were royally entertained and every courtesy extended to them. At the prettily decorated tables, each guest found a pretty souvenir booklet of Plymouth, containing a map of the good roads leading into the village, and embellished with a number of views of the business section and residence streets, and also a program of the afternoon and evening events. More than three hundred persons sat down to the first tables and everything moved off with clock-like precision. During the banquet the visitors were delightfully entertained with music by Daniel Pasterson's orchestra, the Ladies' Quartette, the Dixie Eight, Edward McGrath, vocal soloist, of Detroit, and Carl Landegern, head of the vocal department of the conservatory of Ypsilanti State Normal. Every number on the program was splendidly rendered, and was given generous applause.

Northville Arrives

Soon after the dinner hour, the citizens of our neighboring village of Northville, arrived in several hundred autos decorated with flags. The procession was met at Phoenix by the local committee, who escorted our neighbors into the village. The parade, which included the Northville band, wound its way down Main street and around Kellogg park, and thence down Penniman avenue and disbanded. Northville people certainly did themselves proud, and the big turnout shows the fine community spirit that exists between the two villages.

Road Opening Ceremonies

At 2:30 o'clock a large crowd gathered at the intersection of Main street and the Plymouth road, where the road opening ceremonies were to take place. At this point a beautiful arch, constructed of lattice work and decorated in blue and white, together with the national and village flags, over the gates there hung a great sign, bearing the inscription, "The Gates of Plymouth are Always Open."

The Ford band rendered a selection, after which Chairman Harry C. Robinson called the assemblage to order and introduced Edward McGrath of Detroit, who rendered two vocal numbers in a most pleasing manner. Robinson then introduced John W. Henderson, president of the village, who in a few well chosen words, accepted the new road in the name of the village, and spoke words of appreciation of the splendid highway, which now connects us with the metropolis of the state.

Mr. Henderson also took this occasion to thank our neighboring village of Northville for the fine spirit of neighborliness, which they had shown by coming over with such a large representation of her citizens to help make Plymouth day such a splendid success. President Henderson concluded his remarks by introducing Edward N. Hines, chairman of the Wayne County Road Commission, who made the dedication speech. Mr. Hines prefaced his remarks by saying that he was once a resident of Plymouth, having been employed on the Plymouth Mail more than 35 years ago. He spoke in warmest terms of his interest in Plymouth, and characterized it as one of the most progressive and beautiful villages in Wayne county.

In explaining why it was that Plymouth had been deprived of a paved road to Detroit until this time, Mr. Hines said that it was the existence of the excellent gravel road, which had caused the delay in paving.

"Plymouth was one of the first villages in the county to be favored with, what then was thought as an excellent thoroughfare, to Detroit," Mr. Hines said. That was back in 1906. And it is solely due to this fact that Plymouth has had to wait so long for such a highway as this, the finest concrete highway in Wayne county."

Mr. Hines took occasion to compliment the men who did the actual work of directing, the men who handled the pick and the shovel, and all others who had any part in the construction of the new road, for the excellent work which has been done. Mr. Hines said that the Plymouth-Northville road would be concreted next spring, and that now the road leading out Center street, Northville, to Plymouth, was being put into condition to be used as a detour while the Plymouth-Northville road was under construction. This information was received with hearty applause from the big crowd. Mr. Hines also stated that American elms would be planted along the Plymouth road, which in years to come would form a beautiful archway over the roadway.

At the conclusion of Mr. Hines remarks the audience joined in the singing of America, led by Mr. McGrath, with the band accompanying. Then, while the band was playing "The Star Spangled Banner," Edward N. Hines and President J. W. Henderson threw wide open the gates, and the Plymouth road, the finest in the county, and of which Plymouth is very proud, was officially opened for traffic.

The Base Ball Game

The next event which claimed the attention of the big crowd was the ball game at the High school athletic park, between the Detroit Fire Department team and the Daniels Sales team, also of Detroit. A great deal of interest centered in this game, as both teams are among the best amateur teams in the city, and both were out to win this game. At 2:30 o'clock the ball teams, Charles Daniels of the Daniels Sales Co., and Capt. Harry Callahan of the Detroit Fire Department, Grant and Carl Stimpson, who had charge of the base ball arrangements, and the Northville band, marched around the field, led by F. D. Schrader, mounted. Through the courtesy of the Detroit Park Commission, who loaned the committee a large number of circus seats, several thousand people were seated around the field. After the preliminaries of Capt. Harry Callahan pitching the first ball and Charles Daniels catching it (1), the game was called.

In the opening inning, the fire laddies succeeded in sending five tallies across the rubber, and it looked like an easy walk away for the firemen, but when the sixth inning closed, the Daniels Sales team had one run to the good, which gave them the game. It was an interesting contest, and the firemen enjoyed every minute of it. The score by innings:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

The umpire was Thomas O'Meara.

PLYMOUTH DAY AT THE NORTHVILLE FAIR

The Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday night and it was unanimously voted to attend the Northville fair. F. D. Schrader was appointed chairman of the day. A band will be arranged for, and we will parade to Northville, forming at Kellogg Park at 11:30 a. m., and leaving promptly at 12:00 noon. It is requested that autos be decorated only by using Plymouth banners which can be secured at small cost. This will decorate automobiles uniformly, and it is thought that it will make a better appearance. We hope to be able to show Northville our appreciation of the way in which they responded and rallied to us on September 11th. Their parade was fully three miles long. They entered Plymouth with their own band, and not a single advertisement appeared on their automobiles.

Thursday, September 25th, will be known as Plymouth Day at the Northville Fair. All stores in Plymouth will close at noon.

Join the procession! Go with us and have a good time. Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

SALVATION ARMY BAND COMING HERE

The Salvation Army band, one of the best in the state, will give a band concert in Kellogg Park, Plymouth, Saturday evening, September 20th, at 8:00 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited to come and hear this great musical organization.

DEATH OF REV. CARL STRASEN

Plymouth citizens were greatly shocked last Monday morning to learn of the death of Rev. Carl Strasen, son of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Strasen of this village, which occurred the Sunday night previous, at McIntosh, S. D., where he was pastor of the Lutheran church. Rev. Strasen had been in the hospital for three weeks with an illness resulting from appendicitis. He was 27 years of age, talented, and was making a splendid success of the ministry. He leaves a wife and two children. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the whole community in their sorrow.

The remains will arrive here Saturday evening, and funeral services will be held from the Lutheran church, Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

An obituary will appear next week.

A CITIZEN'S CREED

If you belong to a church you're supposed to have a creed—and live up to it. If you belong to a lodge you subscribe to a creed. So why not a citizen's creed, one that we can all subscribe to and carry out as faithfully as we would carry out our religious creed or our lodge obligations. We've been thinking it over of late, and we've devised one we feel every citizen can adopt with benefit to himself in particular and the whole town in general. Here it is—memorize it; paste it in your hat, and then see how faithfully you can live up to it:

"I believe in Plymouth and its possibilities, and I shall do my part to make it a better place in which to live.

"I believe in good government for my home town, and I shall assume my share of responsibility that rests on the shoulders of all our citizens.

"I believe in supporting local enterprises that help community development, and I will contribute my moral support and energy to any movement for the best interest of the town.

"I believe in patronizing home merchants, for they are greatly responsible for our having good schools and churches and streets and roads.

"I will boost my home town at every possible opportunity, and always speak a good word for it wherever I may be—I will do my part toward making it the best town in America—because it is my home town."

BUGS GOING TO WAR

Grasshoppers have been so thick in Texas the past summer that people have had to fight them with trainloads of arsenic. Daily papers report a plague of locusts in South Africa, and Great Britain has appropriated the sum of $1,500,000 for stamping them out. The peculiar weather of the past few years has been very favorable to insects of all kinds. Army worms have been devastating crops in the middle western states, and further progress by the boll weevil is reported from the south. Altogether it looks as though the bugs of the world have gone to war against mankind. Grasshoppers could ruin the nation's corn crop in one season, and the boll weevil could destroy the entire cotton crop of the south in a few months. We've been pretty fortunate around Plymouth even though insect pests have cost residents of this community many hundreds of dollars. It might be worth while remembering that anything which destroys is our enemy—and nothing destroys more rapidly in this country than our vast insect armies.

BURR-LOSEE

Vida H. Losee and Jack L. Burr were married Friday evening, September 5th, at Detroit. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. A. Yeoman, pastor of the Whitfield M. E. church. Only the immediate families were present. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lena Losee Caughey of this place, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Burr of Detroit.

Henry Ford visited the Ammon Warner farm home, last Monday, and purchased a number of articles that have a good old age, which claims them as relics. Among the articles purchased by Mr. Ford for his big collection of antiques were old wooden sap buckets, a Chase plow, sap barrel, ox yokes, scythe, log chains, etc.

Mrs. Karl S. Hflmer received word Monday evening that her father, Ross Feigley, of Delta, Colorado, was very low. Accompanied by her youngest daughter, Doris, she left Detroit for that place on Tuesday, and was expecting to arrive in Delta late Friday afternoon. A few hours after her departure, another message came saying that Mr. Feigley had passed away. Delta is in the far western part of the state.

Relatives here have received announcement of the marriage of Miss Ora Pelham of Iron Mountain, to Joseph Patrick Lannan. The marriage took place in Hancock, Mich., Wednesday, August 20th. The bride was a daughter of the late Herbert Pelham, and is a neice of the Misses Cora and Nettie Pelham of this place. Mr. Lannan is an electrician at the Iron Mountain Ford plant, and they will reside in that city. Plymouth friends extend best wishes.

PLYMOUTH GIRL HONORED

Miss Marie Johnson of this city, won a scholarship to Albion college, in a State Oratorical contest held at Jackson, Mich., Saturday evening, September 13th. One of contestants had defeated eight others in a district try-out. Marie is being showered with congratulations, and Plymouth is surely proud of her success. THE THEATRE

"FLIRTING WITH LOVE"

Flapperdom has lost its greatest exponent, but only for the time being.

Colleen Moore, whose incomparable flapping talents made possible the production of such outstanding photoplays as "Flaming Youth," "Painted People" and "The Perfect Flapper," has temporarily forsaken the cause.

The reason is the attractive role of a temperamental young actress in First National's "Flirting With Love," in which she is co-featured with Conway Tearle, and which comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, September 20th.

Instead of the jazz girl of former pictures, she will appear in the character of a hoydenish Kiki type of Broadway farceuse. Conway Tearle, too, will have a somewhat different role, perhaps the first of its kind. He plays a psychiatrist, whose hobby is being chairman of the "Better Plays Committee."

"Flirting With Love" was directed by John Francis Dillon, who has directed Miss Moore in three of her most recent successes.

"THE ENCHANTED COTTAGE"

With "The Enchanted Cottage," Richard Barthelmess' newest production under the direction of John S. Robertson, Mr. Barthelmess adds another type of motion picture to the long and varied list which he has already made.

In "The Enchanted Cottage," which will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, September 21 and 22, Mr. Barthelmess plays the role of a broken down war veteran, a youth who has lost all interest in life and who is physically ruined as the result of the war. This role not only gives the star an opportunity to add another character portrait to his gallery, but "The Enchanted Cottage," with its whimsical comedy and its subtle theme that love makes all things beautiful, promises to be the sort of picture which has a general appeal to all types of movie fans.

In May McAvoy, who plays opposite Mr. Barthelmess, "The Enchanted Cottage" finds an exceptionally well cast heroine. Miss McAvoy possesses the acting ability to appear in the double role of a plain, almost homely, and colorless girl, and a beautiful woman, rich with youth and fire.

Furthermore, the direction of John S. Robertson is a guarantee that "The Enchanted Cottage" will be one of the finest of the year's productions. Its theme has something in common with "Sentimental Tommy" and it has been said of Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, when he wrote "The Enchanted Cottage," that for the first time in his life he turned aside from the society plays he had been in the habit of writing, and attempted to do something along the lines of Sir James Barrie, author of "Sentimental Tommy."

"MANHANDLED"

Gloria Swanson and Allan Dwan have added another picture to their production belt in "Manhandled," due at the Penniman Allen theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, September 24 and 25. The story by Arthur Stringer, which ran in the Saturday Evening Post, gives Miss Swanson a wide range of possibilities and those who have seen parts of the new picture say that she has put another crowning performance on top of "Zaza," "The Humming Bird" and "A Society Scandal."

"Manhandled" deals with the problems of life confronting a New York shop girl, and Miss Swanson runs the whole gamut of emotions, trying the white lights of Broadway, taking a whirl at being a sculptor's model, spending some time posing—all for a "good time." But she learns in the end that honest love is far better than the temporary luxuries showered upon her by hosts of more or less ardent admirers.

Mr. Dwan has surrounded Miss Swanson with an excellent cast for this picture. Tom Moore plays a mechanic, and others in support are Lilyan Tashman, Frank Morgan, Ian Keith, Paul McAllister, Frank Allworth, Carrie Scott and Arthur Housman. Ann Pennington and Brooke Johns are also a part of the cast and furnish some very lively film entertainment.

Frank Tuttle, who was recently appointed a director of Paramount pictures, adapted the story for the screen and Hal Rosson photographed the picture.

OBITUARY

William G. H. Minehart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Minehart, was born in Brandenburg, Germany, December 17, 1861. On February 5, 1882, through baptism in the church of his country, he was received into the Lutheran church. When seven years of age he came to this country with his parents, and lived near Plymouth nearly all his life. After being instructed in the Lutheran doctrine by the Rev. George Tuerk, he was confirmed in St. Peter's church, April 14, 1878.

On April 10, 1890, William Minehart was united in marriage with Miss Mary Engler, and from this union came nine children, six sons and three daughters, of whom two sons and one daughter preceded the father and mother in death. Mrs.

Minehart died February 9, 1921. Saturday, September 6th, 1924, Mr. Minehart was again united in marriage to Mrs. Augusta Prietzkow. As Mr. Minehart was apparently well and happy, his sudden death was a shock to his family and the whole community. On Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Minehart entertained friends all the evening. About an hour after they had retired, his wife noticed Mr. Minehart's heavy breathing, and tried to arouse him, but failed. She went to call the daughter, and both returning to the bedside, they found him dead. A doctor was called, who pronounced his death due to heart failure. Mr. Minehart had attacks of heart trouble for several years. He died at the age of 62 years, 8 months and 21 days, and leaves to mourn his death, the widow, two daughters, four sons, one stepson and three grandchildren; also two sisters, one brother and other distant relatives. Funeral services were held at the Lutheran church, Friday afternoon, Rev. Charles Strasen officiating. Interment at Riverside cemetery.

KNOWLES-STURMAN

A very pleasant and joyous occasion took place at the Baptist parsonage, last Saturday afternoon, when Raymond Knowles and Miss Jessie Sturman, both of Pontiac, were united in marriage by Rev. H. E. Sayles. The ring service was used, and the congratulations were very happy. About fifteen people accompanied them. Both young people have been employed in the office of the Oakland Motor Co. for several years. They left for Indianapolis, Indiana, on their wedding trip.

DEATH OF A YOUNG CHILD

Madeline Marguerete Cool, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cool, was born at Plymouth, Mich., May 29, 1919, and passed away at the home of her parents in Gregory, September 13, 1924, at the age of five years, three months and fifteen days. Her death came after ten weeks of patiently endured illness. During her short life, she endeared herself to all who met her, by her winning ways. Besides the parents, there are left to mourn their loss, two brothers, Max and Darryl, and sister, Dorothy, and a grandmother and grandfather.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. E. Sayles of Plymouth, at the Gregory Baptist church, last Monday afternoon. The room was filled with friends, who showed their sympathy in many ways. The flowers were many and beautiful, four flower girls carrying them in and out of the church. The burial was at Riverside cemetery, Plymouth. The family has the sympathy of their many friends in Plymouth.

BAPTIST NOTES

The male quartette furnished music for the morning service, also sang at the Sunday-school rally day service at the opening of the Sunday-school hour. The school listened to several recitations, and also remarks from the superintendent in regard to attendance, urging the parents to attend the school, and set the proper example for the boys and girls. It was the largest attendance the school has had since the present pastor has been in Plymouth. The Sunday-school prolonged the cheer as the number of scholars and the amount of the collection was read. Everyone was happy as the little badge each one wore as they left the church indicated.

The B. Y. P. U. had a large attendance Sunday evening. Pierce Owen led the meeting.

The flowers were beautiful last Sunday, especially the basket. Everyone is thankful to all who furnished flowers.

Quite a number have been in attendance at the Wayne Association in Northville this week. A report will be given next week.

The Hartsough sisters have presented Mrs. Sayles with a beautiful bed quilt, which was pieced by their mother, more than thirty years ago. The Ladies Aid put it together and quilted the same. The pastor's wife appreciates the gift very much, and says thanks many times.

BREAKING SAD NEWS TO FRIEND HUSBAND

Wife Failing to Honor and Obey Confesses.

With tears in her eyes and a sob at her heart, she stood gazing out of the window—waiting. Soon, all too soon, she told herself between her choking sobs her husband would be coming home—to what?

He, whom she had promised to love for better, for worse, to honor and obey. She loved him, it was true; but—but—

And he must know. The thought throbbled through her aching head and seemed to set her brain on fire. He must know!

No less than three times that afternoon she had gone to the telephone to tell him, says London Answers. The first time she had given the number to the operator, but it was engaged. And after that, each time she had left the receiver fall—afraid.

Her heart beat cruelly as she waited. Her knees trembled as she watched for his approach. Every now and then she felt as if she must swoon. With a mighty effort she pulled herself together.

There was a way out. She could leave a note, telling him all, and fly. Yes, fly from the terrible reproach in his voice and the accusations in his eyes—those steely gray eyes that she now dreaded as much as she had once loved them. And she knew that those words of anger would be justified. The thought made her position a hundred times worse.

She crossed to the writing table and drew pen and ink toward her. Hastily she bent her head to her task. She had scribbled but a line or two, when suddenly she raised her head and paused—listening.

For a few moments her heart seemed to cease its fluttering; then it commenced to thump more wildly than before.

Steps could be heard on the graveled walk without. Too late! It was he—her husband. Oh, how she quailed at the thought of his stern gaze.

There was only one thing for it. She rushed, like one possessed, to the electric switch. Click! The room was in darkness. She would tell him in the dark. Then she would not see those terrible eyes; he would not see the same in her frightened face; she would not have to meet his accusing gaze.

There was a sound from the other side of the room and the door opened, admitting a long, lean shaft of light. "Miriam!" he said sternly. "Miriam!"

With one choking sob she stretched out her hands.

"Morton," she sobbed, "I have had my h-h-hair s-shingled!"

Deep-Sea Sounding

Deep-sea sounding is part of the work of the hydrographic survey. It is accomplished with a mechanical reel instead of by hand and a thin piano wire takes the place of the lead line. Depth is measured by the number of revolutions of the reel, the diameter of which is known, as the lead moves through the water. If the depth is great steam is used to wind in the wire, as the pull would be too much for a hand reel.

The place of the sinker of the hand line is taken by a mechanical device holding a weight, usually a 100-pound ball, which is released at the bottom, thus facilitating the haul. Sometimes other devices are used; which bring up samples of the deep sea bottom.

When the work is done in sight of shore position angles are taken with sextants from small boats.

Impetuous Norseman

The famous Eric the Red had a somewhat lurid history. He was born in Norway about 950 A. D. Charged with homicide, he fled from his own land and settled in Iceland. Here his impulsive temper and aggressiveness led to another murder being laid to his charge, which forced him to leave Iceland. He went to Greenland which had been discovered about a century earlier, but had never been settled.

In 985 Eric returned to Norway to recruit colonists for a colony in Greenland. He named his chief town Gardar. After flourishing for about 400 years the colony completely vanished, and no trace of it has ever been found. Eric's son, Leif Ericsson, is supposed to have landed on the New England coast in about the year 1000.

Meanings Long Forgotten

Heels were put on shoes to prevent a horseman's foot slipping in the stirrup. Buttons on the coat cuff date back to Frederick the Great, who put sharp buttons there to stop soldiers using their cuffs as handkerchiefs. The wedding ring originally symbolized a chain. Thousands of the things we use and things we say and do are remnants of a long-forgotten past. Habit keeps them alive, even though their real meaning is as obscure as their origin. —Capper's Weekly.

Bells With a History

Rye church bells, which have a history dating back to 1890, are to be rebung. They had a great adventure in 1868. When the French landed at Rye, then a seaport, pillaged the town and carried off the bells to Normandy. Ten years later the men of Rye and Wincelsea sailed across the channel to recapture the bells, which they brought back in triumph. The famous peal has called Rye people to church on Sundays ever since.—London Times.

UNUSUAL CHANGE BEING OFFERED BY STUDEBAKER

REAL AUTOMOTIVE EVENT IN NEW CARS ANNOUNCED TODAY IN OPEN-CLOSED CARS.

One of the sensational automotive developments in many years is given today by Studebaker in the announcement of a car of entirely new principal design.

Studebaker—after two years of research, study and scientific experiment—today announces a car that combines, at open car price, the advantages that have heretofore been exclusively open-car in character, with the protection and snug comfort of closed cars.

This, it is claimed by motor car engineers and motorists in general, will enable a car-owner to enjoy the alert performance, the freedom and airiness of the open car—and yet to be sure of instant comfort and protection during the very stormiest of weather.

There are 15 entirely new Studebaker models, and each model is a complete refinement of the previous line. The designs are new—something never before seen on an American automobile. Studebaker has again pioneered in distinctive vehicle building.

Motorists are now offered by Studebaker the following new line: An entirely new type of open and closed car, a new medium weight six, a new 4-passenger closed car, optional 4-wheel brakes of remarkable design, genuine balloon tires—15 original and distinctive new bodies.

Open Plus Closed

A creation originated by Studebaker, which some say, may supersede the present day open car, is the new Duplex body. This new Studebaker is an open car which can be converted magically in five seconds into a waterproof, snug and dry, closed car of unsurpassed beauty.

Studebaker announces an entirely new Standard Six, which takes the place of the former Light Six, and while it follows mechanically the general design of that car it has a new and larger motor, the entire car is larger, heavier and more beautiful and has much more room. Of course the new duplex body entirely supersedes the former open touring car and open roadster bodies, not only in the new Standard Six, but in the other two models the Special Six and the Big Six.

Among the fifteen bodies there is an entirely new four-passenger Victoria on the Special Six chassis. This is the cozy, compact, comfortable four-passenger car with the driver's seat slightly forward and for the fourth passenger there is an auxiliary seat which folds under the dash when not in use. The lines of this new four-passenger Victoria are especially original, distinctive and beautiful. The finish is in lustrous varnish in dark blue similar to that of the Special Six and the Big Six Sedans and Coupes.

Three New Berlins

On each of its three chassis Studebaker provides a Berline type of body, a five-passenger on the Standard Six and Special Six and a seven-passenger on the Big Six. This type of car separates the driver's compartment from the rear compartment with a sliding glass partition.

Three of the closed models in the Standard Six chassis introduce an innovation in beautiful colors. The lower panels are in light gray and the upper panels in dark gray. The separation is marked with parallel hair line red striping.

All of the Studebaker closed bodies are made by the Studebaker Corporation in its gigantic new body plant, the last of which costing ten million dollars, was finished in 1923. It is claimed that these modern plants with the very latest modern machinery are responsible for great savings effected in manufacture, and this accounts for the obvious splendid quality of Studebaker cars at the prices offered.

Balloon Tires

Studebaker was among the very first of automobile manufacturers to introduce genuine balloon tires as regular equipment. Instead of the compromise on low pressure cord tires, Studebaker has gone all the way, and offered the public big genuine balloon tires in 20-in. and 21-inch wheels.

Studebaker probably is the first American manufacturer to design a car, not only mechanically but from the standpoint of appearance for genuine balloon tires. Big wide fenders, which deeply crown over the tires are the first designed by any manufacturer for balloon tires, so Studebaker claims. Body lines are low and massive and doubtless balloon tire equipment was held in mind by the designer in shaping the new Studebakers. Wood wheels in especially light natural finish, together with full nickel plated radiators, are in bright and sparkling contrast with jet black fenders and the dark blue of the bodies and they blend especially well with the light grey and jet black bodies of the Standard Six models.

Changes in Engines

Of course, Studebaker has made a great many minor changes, betterments and refinements in all the mechanical parts of its car.

Notably the engine now is in unit with the clutch and transmission, but even more important than that a new force feed oiling system has been designed introducing an entirely new feature. The returning oil is strained before it goes back to the crank case; thus the pump has the entire crank case supply of oil strained and cleaned. There is no possibility of clogged screens or a lack of supply of oil for the highest speeds.

The entire amount of oil is pumped through the motor three times for every mile of travel under a varying pressure of fifteen to twenty-five pounds, according to the speed.

Studebaker still retains the medium compression low speed design the same as that employed by practically all of the leading makers of this country. There has been an increase in the weight of crankshafts on all models. There are bigger bearings and longer connecting rods in two models. Studebaker is one of the very few manufacturers of medium priced cars that uses the expensive system of machining its crankshafts on all surfaces. By this process it secures perfect balance and thus reduces vibration to the lowest possible minimum.

CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. FRANK LOOMIS MARRIED FIFTY YEARS AGO LAST WEDNESDAY.

About a hundred guests assembled at the Plymouth Grange hall, last Wednesday night in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loomis, of Plymouth. A unique feature of the gathering was the presence of several persons who attended the original wedding when the ceremony was performed by Rev. Boals of Plymouth, fifty years ago. Among them was Mrs. Huldah Everett of Plymouth, who made the dress in which the bride was married, a beautiful creation of drab silk albatross elaborated with the many frills and ruffles which were in vogue in that day. The bridesmaid was also present, Mrs. Martha Hatten of Ypsilanti, being gowned this time in blue velvet and carrying a large bouquet of tea roses. Other original guests were: Lewis and Albert Stevens, brothers of the bride, Mrs. Czar Penney and Andrew Lapham of Plymouth, and John Loomis, brother of the bridegroom, of Omaha, Neb. Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, pastor of the Presbyterian church, presided, and, after an invocation of the Divine blessing, announced the following program:

Violin Solo—Daniel Patterson
Reading—Alta Hamill
Solo in costume—Zerepha Blunk
Piano solo—Czarina Penney
Vocal trio—Whipple brothers
Reading—Alta Hamill
Vocal solo—Calvin Whipple
Violin solo—Daniel Patterson

All of these responded to encores, Miss Czarina Penney acting as accompanist throughout. After a few congratulatory remarks, Mr. Hathaway closed the program with the reading of a poem written for the occasion and with a prayer of benediction.

The hall was beautifully decorated with baskets of flowers, yellow and white being the predominating colors. On a table in the foreground many beautiful gifts were displayed, including a very liberal sprinkling of gold coin.

The bride was gowned entirely in white, and both bride and groom appeared very youthful and happy in spite of the weight of fifty years, and entered most heartily into the festivities of the occasion. In fact, with their abundant and slightly gray hair, it was hard to realize that they had even lived fifty years, married or otherwise.

After the program, the guests repaired to the dining room, and were seated at tables decorated in gold and white, and crowned with two elaborate wedding cakes. A delightful two course dinner was served. Altogether it was a happy and auspicious occasion, and Mr. and Mrs. Loomis may well be proud to have made it possible. Those present from out of town, were: Mrs. Tunis Hicks, of Washington, D. C.; John Loomis of Omaha, Neb.; Walter Loomis of Des Moines, Iowa; Mrs. Martha Hatten and Miss Mary Hatten of Ypsilanti; Mrs. Rose Olsvater and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Nugent of South Lyon; Dr. and Mrs. Harold Bennett of Dearborn, Mrs. Dr. J. Bennett of Eloise, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whipple, Miss Pauline Turner, Nathan Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stevens, Warren Stevens, Jay Loomis and Mrs. Anna Rhoad of Detroit.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

This church is on the Plymouth Road and on the road to heaven. We trust that for many people the one is a cross section of the other.

We congratulate two members of our congregation, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loomis, on the happy occasion of their golden wedding which was celebrated last Wednesday night. May they have many other anniversaries crowned with joy. Incidentally, it was a full night for the pastor, prayer meeting, golden wedding and a real wedding. The elders kindly helped him out by taking charge of the prayer meeting.

We extend our sympathy to Rev. Charles Strasen, his wife and family in their sad bereavement in the loss of their son. They may be sure our prayers are for them, and our hearts with them in this trying time.

Elder O. H. Loomis was elected commissioner to the meeting of Presbytery at Trenton, Tuesday of this week. Henry the Third conveyed him and the pastor to the place of meeting. Elder A. D. Stevens also attended as a visitor. Elder Stevens is a life member of our session, and was honored by Presbytery, being called upon to say grace at the dinner served by the ladies of the Trenton church. After the dinner, the commissioners inspected the new high school building, which is finely appointed, and is a credit to the community. Phillips Elliott, eldest son of Rev. Carl Elliott, pastor of Ypsilanti, was ordained by Presbytery, witnessed a good confession, and was taken under care of Presbytery as a candidate for the ministry. Rev. Elliott may well be proud of as fine a son.

The pastor is a member of the committee of Presbytery on Sustentation and Ministerial Relief and attended two meetings of the committee, Tuesday.

Rally day is not far ahead. Get ready for it.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will hold its annual bazaar, Thursday, November 20th. This notice is to remind the ladies that an early and continued effort is necessary if the bazaar is to be a great success. Signed by the secretary.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES

Plymouth Day is over. The wonderful spirit of helpful co-operation that the entire population of Plymouth willingly extended to the committees in charge is gratefully appreciated.

While every citizen of Plymouth is entitled to his or her share of the credit, a few outstanding acts of helpfulness and co-operation are worthy of special mention. First, Mrs. Kate E. Allen, who came to the rescue of the committee in the eleventh hour when rain threatened to put an end to the evening's dancing on the pavement, and opened the Penniman Allen auditorium to the public, in which to finish the evening's entertainment. When we realize the cost of maintaining this auditorium we can fully appreciate Mrs. Allen's kindness. This was only a very small thing in comparison to the many things Mrs. Allen has done for Plymouth in the past. We hope Mrs. Allen knows that her generosity was appreciated. The real joy that one gets in doing things that benefit others and the community in which they live, is a compensation that a great many miss in this life. This community is blessed when it is so fortunate as to have so many public spirited, unselfish citizens striving for its welfare.

Appreciation is also due the Plymouth Police Department under the command of Chief Springer, for their natty appearance as well as for the efficient manner in which they handled the crowds and the traffic.

The Plymouth Fire Department celebrated Plymouth Day by making their first public appearance in their new uniforms. Under Chief Frank Dicks, they materially assisted in making Plymouth Day such a successful manner in which they assisted the Police Department. Plymouth should appreciate the loyalty of these men to their department, when they serve their community without material recompense and then, through their own efforts, raise the money with which to buy their own uniforms.

The road opening ceremony at the corner of Mill street and the Plymouth Road, was attended by a large crowd. The address by County Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines, and the response by Mayor Henderson, were well received by an enthusiastic crowd. Commissioner Hines remarked that the new Plymouth Road was the finest paved road in Michigan. This road has shortened the distance between Plymouth and Detroit by several miles, and will do more than any other one thing to stimulate the healthy growth of Plymouth.

Plymouth Day was a huge success, free from any undesirable element. Not a money grabbing device was in evidence. Plymouth was a real host to its guests, and Plymouth paid the bill. Not a scheme was afoot to relieve our guests of their dollars. The kiddies packed the merry-go-round for a ride. The ball game was free and well attended. The horse shoe pitching contest attracted a large crowd, and not a cent was asked of those who attended. Plymouth has shown her mettle to her guests, and has proven that we live in the finest town on earth.

CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eichler quietly celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their pleasant home on Main street, Sunday, Sept. 7th. The occasion was also the seventy-eighth birthday of Mrs. Eichler.

Mr. and Mrs. Eichler were married in Germany in 1874, and came to America in 1882. They resided in Detroit for six years, and then came to this place, where they have lived for thirty years. A splendid dinner was served, at which nineteen guests were present, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Eichler's son, Herman Eichler and family, and their daughter, Mrs. Charles Miller and family. The bride and groom of fifty years requested the hearty congratulations of all present, and were also the recipients of many splendid gifts. It was a most happy occasion for all in attendance.

"THE COVERED WAGON" DRAWS BIG CROWDS.

"The Covered Wagon" at the Penniman Allen theatre, last week, drew large crowds at every showing of the great picture, which was the attraction at the local theatre, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, with a special matinee on Wednesday afternoon for the school children. A singer and musical number, both extra good, were added features at each show.

At the show on Tuesday evening, the handsome new drop curtain was used for the first time, and it drew forth many pleasing comments on its beauty. It is a metal cloth screen, which, when the various colored lights are thrown upon it, produces a most wonderful and beautiful effect. It is certainly a fine addition to the already modern and up-to-date equipment of the Penniman Allen theatre.

HOUGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Hough school held its first meeting of this year in the school building, Wednesday evening, September 10th. Considering the time of the year, the meeting was well attended. After the business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. M. Swegles, several of the children entertained the audience with appropriate and pleasing recitations. This was followed by a short talk by the teacher, Miss Eva Griffith; after which refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.

During the afternoon recess periods, the pupils of the upper four grades have been playing long ball. The captains of the two teams are Chrystal Swegles and Edward Pray-bylowski.

The work of the language classes last week consisted of the study and memorizing of poems.

It was decided at the Parent-Teacher meeting, to give a Halloween social. Watch the Mail for further details.

A CARD—The Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran Church wish to thank all those who helped in any way to make the Plymouth Day banquet a success, especially to those who loaned dishes and tables.

Watches that last a lifetime!

ANY other kind of watch is not worth the buying, for watches have a heritage value—they should be passed on down to successive generations. When Scammy Boy hears the first tick of his first watch, it is an important event in his life.

But then there must be cheaper watches for him—watches which will stand the wear and tear of childhood—and finally the watch that will remain with him during all his life.

We have both kinds and all kinds—particularly those delicate watches for women, which must combine perfect utility with beauty.

By the way—we have just received a complete new W. W. W. line of pearls and rings. Pearls—yes, this concern is now putting out a wonderful guaranteed pearl in a special jewel case. You will want to see it.

And the W. W. W. White, green and yellow gold wedding and engagement rings—they are worth a visit alone.

Two old bedspreads that are very interesting relics of long ago, were on exhibition at the village hall on Plymouth Day. They were brought in by Miss Ada Safford. One of the spreads was made in 1817, by Mrs. Archibald Y. Murray, whose maiden name was Abigail Horton. The other spread was made by Mrs. Rufus Safford, whose maiden name was Elethea Crawford, about the time of her marriage in 1835. Very appropriately the spreads are in blue and white, the official colors of the village today.

The Horseshoe Pitching Tournament
The horseshoe pitching contest in the park at the rear of the Presbyterian church was another event that proved a very popular form of athletic competition.

Mrs. Mayne Francisco, world's champion woman horseshoe pitcher, was the attraction that drew the crowds away from the base ball diamond. She met all comers, all of the challengers being men and succeeded in vanquishing each of them in turn.

Among her victims was Ben Hawkins of Howell, Mich., 45 years old, who says he is the oldest horseshoe pitcher in the state. After an auspicious start, in which he tossed two "ringers," Mr. Hawkins was forced to give way to the superior skill of his rival. The final score was 58 to 3.

Grant Smith of Howell, won first prize, and V. Newman of Farmington, second prize, in the tournament.

The Vaudeville Acts
The vaudeville acts, three in number, claimed the attention of large crowds at each performance, which were given on the platforms erected on Main street and Penniman avenue.

The Dance
Al Strasen's orchestra furnished splendid music for the dance, which was given during the afternoon on the Penniman avenue pavement. Titus Kuff officiated as caller for the old time dances, in a manner which evening that he has not rode and rode. On account of the light rain, which began to fall toward evening, the Penniman Allen auditorium was opened, through the kindness of Mrs. Kate E. Allen, and the dancers enjoyed themselves immensely on this splendid dance floor until late in the evening.

The Merry-Go-Round
The merry-go-round was of course the most popular place in town for the kids. All the afternoon and evening the children rode and rode, and it is needless to say they enjoyed every minute of the time. Karl Hillmer, was in charge of this amusement, and he and his assistants handled the excited and shouting children without a mishap. Mr. Hillmer, who always has a large place in his heart for the children, has made himself more solid than ever with the little folks. Messrs. Felt and Kinyon, owners of the merry-go-round, assisted Mr. Hillmer in every way possible, and it is safe to say that this feature of the day's program will never be forgotten by the children.

It was surely a great day, and one that will do much in advertising Plymouth, as the biggest and best little town in the world.

Now just a word about those who composed the committees which made the day the success that it was. Every one of the committees did their work in a splendid manner. But with all of the work that was done by these committees, the real success of the big day is due in a large measure to Harry C. Robinson, the general chairman. For weeks Mr. Robinson has given generously of his time and efforts in making this day a grand success. He has worked indefatigably in looking after the many arrangements and details, and he is entitled to the hearty thanks of every citizen in Plymouth, in putting across the biggest and best celebration that Plymouth has ever had.

PLYMOUTH DAY NOTES

Many former residents were here for the day.

If we have left out anything it is unintentional.

There was not a single accident to mar the pleasure of the day.

The high school auditorium was handsomely decorated for the occasion.

The members of the Plymouth Fire Department looked "spiffy" in their new uniforms.

Our Northville neighbors were here in large numbers, and we will return the compliment next Thursday.

A number of the business places gave away toy balloons, caps, toy pistols, frost bites, etc., which pleased the crowd immensely.

Many of the display windows in business places were handsomely decorated, and they attracted considerable attention from the big crowd.

The Ford River Rouge band delighted everybody with their music. Plymouth people would be pleased to have this splendid musical organization visit the village again.

Everybody who partook of the splendid dinner served at the High school auditorium by the ladies of the Lutheran church, were loud in their praise of the "eats" and the promptness of the serving.

The Northville band, which accompanied the contingent from that village, were generous with their music, and they added not a little to the enjoyment of the ball game by the selections which they splendidly rendered.

The great picture film, "The Covered Wagon," at the Penniman Allen theatre, drew a large crowd during the afternoon and evening. Manager Lush had two acts of vaudeville and an orchestra as extra attractions.

One of the pleasing features of the ball game was the big modern score board, which had been erected. It is a dandy, and will be much appreciated in the time to come. Manna Blunk had the supervision of erecting the board, and it is a fine piece of work.

Willard Losey of this village, received the score card, whose number corresponded with the one on the score board, and received the five-dollar gold piece from Harry C. Robinson. Mrs. Wagoner of Detroit, got the score card whose number corresponded with the one on the score board, and received the five-dollar gold piece offered by W. T. Pettingill.

Chief-of-Police George W. Springer and the members of the local police force, assisted by the members of the fire department, did a splendid job in directing traffic. Sheriff George A. Walters also sent out Chief Deputy Sheriff McLeod and six deputies, and Captain Denniston, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, sent six officers from the prison farm to assist the local officers. This courtesy on the part of Sheriff Walters and Captain Denniston is much appreciated.

One of the pleasant affairs of Plymouth Day was the reception given by the Plymouth Branch of the

MINEHART-STIERS WEDDING.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized last Wednesday night, September 17th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Warren F. Stiers in Canton township, when their daughter, Ethel, was united in marriage to Walter Minehart of Plymouth. Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth, officiated, and read the double ring service making them husband and wife. Lucile Crane of Detroit, acted as bridesmaid, and Obediah Crane of Detroit, acted as best man.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin, trimmed with jet beading, wore orange blossoms and white veil, with a necklace of strung pearls and golden slippers of pressed satin. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white ribbon. The bridesmaid was gowned in white canton crepe, wore a white rosebud head-dress, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

After the ceremony about thirty-five guests sat down to a bountiful wedding supper. Both of these young people are well known in Plymouth, where, after a wedding trip, they will be at home to their many friends.

MASONIC NOTES

Man was created the most dependent and helpless of all beings, that he might realize the value of society, and only those societies have survived the ravages of war, ignorance and superstition, which have become christianity's hand-maids.

Masonry is the only society, antedating the christian era, whose light has been undimmed, because it advocates a study of the liberal arts and sciences, teaches equality, morality and devotion.

Its members in this community are now striving to erect a home, which will become a credit to the fraternity and an ornament to our village.

The soliciting committee appreciates the liberal donations, and hearty co-operation, which has been nearly unanimous. It can only be accomplished by united action, and feels confident that all thoughtful members will put their shoulders to the wheel.—Com.
