

NEEDED ADDITIONS TO VILLAGE WATER SYSTEM

The Voters at the Coming Election Will Have Opportunity to Vote on Bond Issue.

One of the penalties of Plymouth's growth and extension, is the necessity for making additions to our water works. This problem has been complicated by nature who has sent us so many dry seasons that our ground water source of supply has been seriously cut down.

As is known, we have done a lot of work at the springs this winter, putting in a new pump, adding infiltration leads to our present brick well, and boring new wells, besides doing some exploratory work to find the nature of the underground strata beneath the spring property. This has all been in the nature of emergency work, in order that the supply of water and the mechanical equipment might not fail the village. When this work is finished, it will have cost something over $12,000.00.

The building of new houses all over this rather widely spread out town is bringing up this year the absolute need of extension of our water mains to give domestic service and fire protection to a larger territory than ever. Especially in the west and northwest section, there have been few mains, and there must be more, even to take care of houses already built or building. It will require some two miles of pipe with the necessary valves and fire hydrants to serve this rapidly growing section, and other less extensive areas in other parts of town. The cost of this work, not necessarily all to be done at once, is estimated at nearly $28,000.00.

Neither this extension of mains nor the additions to the source of supply can be financed from the ordinary receipts of the water department. They form a permanent investment, the benefits of which will be shared by our children and grandchildren. The logical method of paying for them is by bond issue, with some principal and interest falling due each year, in order that the burden of cost may be distributed among all those who benefit from the work.

The Village Commission is putting up to the voters at the regular election on March 9th, the question of bonding for these improvements. Water is the first necessity of any town, and if Plymouth wants water and protection for its growth, the judgment of the Commission is that the voters cannot logically do anything but grant the bond issue. Part of this, remember, is for work already done, but which ought not to be paid for out of general funds.

"THE DIXIE HANDICAP"

"The Dixie Handicap," Reginald Barker's new production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which is coming to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, March 8 and 9, is a screen version of the story called "Dixie" by Gerald Beaumont, that appeared in the Red Book Magazine.

It tells how the lost glory of an aristocratic Southern family was brought back by a horse and the young man who trained her. Full of the most thrilling incidents imaginable, and also possessing an unusually beautiful love angle, the story makes perfect screen material. Waldemar Young, who wrote the continuity for "The Great Divide," was the adapter of "The Dixie Handicap."

DEATH OF WILLIAM MAYNARD

William Maynard was born in the township of Redford, October 13, 1844, and passed away at his home in Stark, Saturday, Feb. 21, at the age of 80 years, four months and eight days.

He leaves a wife, two daughters, Mrs. Louise Johnson of Stark; Mrs. Ann Hutchinson of Davisburg, and two sons, Dell Maynard of Stark and George Maynard of Canton. He also leaves fifteen grandchildren and seventeen great grandchildren, besides several nieces and nephews, friends and neighbors to mourn their loss. Funeral services were held from his late home, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. H. E. Sayles officiating. Interment in Livonia Center cemetery.

PLYMOUTH IN NATIONAL ORATORICAL CONTEST

With enrollment still continuing, and the number still growing, students in two hundred high schools of Michigan, located in more than 50 different counties, are engaged in an earnest study of Constitutional Government. They are preparing to write essays which will be the basis of the first eliminations in the greatest forensic struggle the schools of the Nation have ever known: the National Oratorical Contest. The stake is at once high honor and great material rewards, for the national champion will receive a small fortune in state awards and $2,000 of the $6,000 in capital prizes to be bestowed upon seven boys and girls at Washington, D. C., May 8th.

The subjects upon one of which each student will write an essay, later to be declaimed in the oratorical contests, are Constitutional Government, the Constitution, and the relation of Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson, Marshall, Madison, Webster or Lincoln to the Constitution. The only restrictions are that the essays shall be original, shall not require more than 10 minutes for declamation and shall be of such a character as to increase interest in and respect for the Constitution. In all competing high schools, these subjects will be made the theme of assignments in English, history or civics classes. Teacher-judges will select the four best for declamation before the students of the school, and will decide the school championship, following which the inter-scholastic, zone, state and national contests will occur.

In Michigan, a diploma will be given to every class-final winner in a school, and a bronze medal will go to the school champion. The winners of district contests will receive silver medals; and zone champions will receive gold medals. Ten zone champions will meet in the state finals, competing for a first prize of $500, a second prize of $250, and a third prize of a set of the rare and very valuable author's edition of "The World's Best Orations." The remaining seven will receive sets of the 28-volume classic, "The American Nation: A History." The schools represented at district and zone contests will receive diplomas, giving the record of their representatives, and the school producing the state champion will receive a plaque bearing a replica of the medals won.

May 8, the seven winners of the National semi-finals will meet in Memorial Continental Hall, Washington, before distinguished statesmen, diplomats, jurists and citizens. President Coolidge will speak, and Justices of the United States Supreme Court will act as judges of orations. Prizes will be distributed as follows: first, $2,000; second, $1,000; third, $500; fourth, $450; fifth, $400; sixth, $350; seventh, $300.

Students and competing schools in Michigan will at no time meet any expense whatever, even the traveling expenses of every contestant and of a coach or chaperon accompanying him, or her, being paid except to Washington, where the lowest prize is more than sufficient to meet that expense.

DEATH OF MISS CATHERINE MESSER

Catherine Messer, daughter of the late Philip and Martha Messer, died Saturday morning, at Shurley hospital, Detroit, after a brief illness of pneumonia. The deceased was born in Birmingham, Mich., September 10, 1878. She spent the greater part of her life at Newburg, Mich. Her loss is mourned by two brothers, Henry of Plymouth, and Albert of Detroit; and by two sisters, Irene Wilake of Plymouth, and Margaret Pierce of Detroit.

The funeral was held from the home of Mrs. Charles Wilake, to Our Lady of Good Counsel church Tuesday morning. Interment at Riverside cemetery. Fr. Lafevre officiated at the Mass, assisted by Fr. Peck of Pilsanti, and Fr. O'Mahoney of Dearborn.

Events in the Lives of Little Men

WOMAN'S CLUB

Friday was another lucky day for the Woman's Club, because it had a live hostess, Mrs. William Wood, with her home for its background.

Mrs. Charles Humphries, president, conducted the business meeting. During a ten-minute intermission, expressions of sympathy were heard for Mrs. Albert Gayde, who is ill in Ford hospital; Mrs. Gilbert Brown, who is carrying a broken arm, and Mrs. Fred Tighe, in the loss of her husband.

Friday, March 6th, is Anniversary Day, and as members of the New Century Club of Detroit, will give two plays, "Ever Young" and "For Distinguished Service," it was gleefully announced that the Penniman Allen theatre had been offered for the day, and each member might invite four guests, which ought to include her husband. The program will begin at 2:30, but it would be pitiful if members in their eagerness forgot to loyally attend a business meeting at 1:45 in the music room at the school.

Division VII, with Mrs. W. R. Shaw, leader, gave the program. Mrs. Irving Blunk gave an interesting talk on, "The Mound Builders." Women are credited as lovers of poetry and were treated to poems and their modern authors. Mrs. Martin Stringer gave a short lesson on the man Carl Sandberg and his pen products, and Mrs. Robert Chappell read his classic, Chicago.

The Misses Barbara Bake, Ruth Allison and Alice Hathaway, accompanied by Miss Marian Miller, favored the club with two songs, "Twilight Star" and "Croon, Croon."

Mrs. Stringer then gave a group of readings from Sandberg's poems in her talented manner.

Mrs. D. F. Murray presented the life and works of another modern poet, Edgar Lee Masters, lamenting

LOCAL MARINE NOW ON CRUISER

Starting on a period of sea duty with the prospect of visiting many ports along the Atlantic Coast, David Alphonse Minthorn, of Plymouth, Mich., is now a member of the U. S. Marine detachment on the cruiser Rochester, according to the official records at Marine Corps Headquarters at Washington.

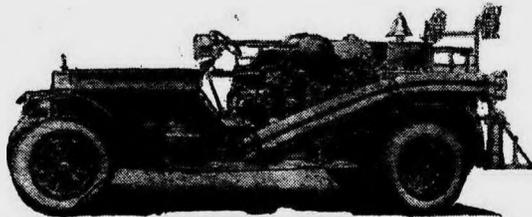

David is 19 years old, was born in Plymouth, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Minthorn of this place. He joined the Marine Corps at Detroit last September, and in recent weeks has been stationed at Norfolk, Va., where he took a special course of training for sea duty. His transfer to the Rochester followed.

The Rochester recently returned from a cruise in the West Indies, and is now lying at anchor in New York harbor. It will probably start on a cruise very shortly, affording the local Maine an opportunity to view many of the interesting ports along the Atlantic Seaboard and in the West Indies.

PLYMOUTH STUDENT AT ALBION ADDRESSES FLINT STUDENTS.

Lyman V. Judson, senior at Albion College, gave three addresses before the High School and Junior College at Flint, last week Wednesday, as a part of the program sponsored by the Flint Club of Albion College, the object of which was to arouse interest in Albion College on the part of the Flint students. The program as given before some 1300 students, consisted of talks by Professor Phil H. Hemdt, representing the faculty of Albion College, and Mr. Judson representing the student body; in addition to a group of songs by a mixed quartette.

Plymouth's New Fire Truck

The above picture shows the fire engine Plymouth has ordered—one just like it. It is a "type 75" American-LaFrance triple combination pump, chemical and hose truck. It is like those which the company demonstrated here last summer on three different occasions. With the generous equipment furnished with the machine, it is the last word in fire fighting apparatus. Plymouth may well be proud of it.

As is, or should be, well understood, the cost of this outfit is beyond what can be properly put in the budget for any one year. Twelve thousand, two hundred and fifty dollars is a lot of money. But it represents a piece of machinery which will be in service, barring accidents, twenty years from now. This machine has been purchased as a result of a very strongly expressed opinion on the part of many taxpayers, as to the necessity of more fire protection.

The Commission intends that $2,250.00 of the cost of the pumper shall be paid from the 1925 budget, and that $2,000.00 each year for five years shall be included in the budget for those years. The immediate cost of this $10,000.00 should be met by a bond issue, in the judgment of the Commission. $2,000.00 of these bonds should be retired each year with the budget allowance for that purpose. Therefore, one of the ballots at the regular election of March 9th, will be on the question of the authorization of this $10,000.00 bond issue.

It is felt by the village authorities that there can be but one way to answer this question. The voters have indicated that they want the fire engine. They should now help out the Commission by giving them the authority to pay for it in this clean-cut, up-to-date manner.

THE PATRIOTIC COMMUNITY BANQUET

GIVEN BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF THE PLYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL, TUESDAY EVENING, WAS A SPLENDID SUCCESS.

The Patriotic Community Banquet given by the Senior class of the Plymouth High school, which was held in the dining room of the Methodist church last Tuesday evening, was one of the most pleasant social functions of the season. Over one hundred and fifty persons sat down to the well arranged tables shortly after 6:30 o'clock. The tables were prettily decorated in red, white and blue. The members of the Senior class assisted by their mothers, served a delicious dinner, the menu being as follows:

- Chicken a la King
- Mashed Potatoes
- Buttered Peas
- Pickles
- Carrots
- Rolls
- Coffee
- Fruit Salad
- Cherry Pie a la Mode

After the eats had been disposed of B. J. Holcomb in a few words introduced the toastmaster of the evening, Rev. Frank M. Field of Flint, a former pastor of the local Methodist church. Rev. Field presided over the program in a most pleasing manner, introducing each one of the speakers with some witty and timely remarks. Every one of the speakers was at their best and each one received a hearty applause at the conclusion of their remarks. The two musical numbers, which interspersed the program were especially good and won generous applause.

The following program was given: Toastmaster—Rev. Frank M. Field Civic Responsibility—Harry C. Robinson The Schools' Contribution to Patriotism—Julia Wilcox Piano Solo—Czarina Penney Patriotism as Rotary Sees It—Sidney D. Strong Patriotism and the Church—Rev. Horace E. Sayles Ladies' Quartette—Meadames Bake, Cassidy, Moon and Olsaver. Address—Dr. H. M. Crooks, Pres. Alma College

The Senior class are deserving of much credit for the splendid success of the banquet.

A PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT

The entertainment given at the High school auditorium last Monday evening by Betty Bryden and her "Seven Ambassador Girls," was one of the best musical programs that has been given here this winter. The orchestra numbers of the young ladies were splendid, as also were the vocal and instrumental solo numbers. The large auditorium was filled by an appreciative audience. The Booster Committee of the I. O. O. F., under whose auspices the entertainment was given, will realize a nice sum from the proceeds to go to the new temple fund.

OPENS NEW WALL PAPER STORE

D. A. Hollaway has an ad in this week's Mail, in which he announces the opening of a new wall paper and paint store, at the rear of his residence at 263 Union street. Mr. Hollaway has just had completed a neat little building, in which he has a complete and up-to-date stock of wall paper, covering a wide range of patterns. He also has a stock of paints and varnishes. See his ad in today's paper.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid will meet in their church parlors Wednesday afternoon, March 4th.

Northville Commandery will give their annual dance in the Northville High school auditorium, on Friday evening, March 20th.

Northern Division, Zone A, held their second meeting, Saturday, February 21, at the Waterford school, with Miss Iva Jackson as hostess. Miss Loraine Cochrane, the helping teacher in the Northern Division, called the teachers' meeting to order at 10:30 o'clock.

Since geography was the subject upon which particular emphasis had been placed, Miss Cochrane called upon several teachers to tell of some interesting devices used to make the study of geography more interesting. This was very interesting and instructive.

A demonstration lesson was taught in seventh grade geography, by Miss Cochrane. Following this a review lesson in fifth grade geography was taught by Miss Helen Farrand, the upper grades teacher at the Patchen school. Miss Farrand used the fifth grade pupils of the Patchen school.

Since arithmetic is the subject to be emphasized this month, Miss Cochrane taught a demonstration lesson on problem solving in fifth grade arithmetic. Miss Cochrane used the fifth grade pupils from the Waterford and Patchen schools. This was followed by a discussion of the lesson, which concluded the morning meeting.

A splendid luncheon was served at the school by the Waterford ladies.

The afternoon meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Reddeman. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The roll was called, and all the teachers except one, were present. The visitors at the afternoon meeting were: Deckay, 4; Waterford, 20; Base Line, 1; Newburg, 2; Patchen, 5. Mr. Gleason and Mr. Sterner, teachers from the Southern Division, were also visitors.

The appreciation for the luncheon was shown by a rising vote of thanks.

Miss Farrand extended an invitation to all to attend the meeting next month at the Patchen school.

Following the business meeting, Miss Berrington, the county school nurse, was introduced, and gave a very interesting talk. The Waterford pupils gave several recitations and songs. Mr. McFarland of the Detroit Teachers' College, was introduced, and gave a very interesting talk on, "Community Interest." F. C. Fisher, assistant county school commissioner, who needed no introduction, added a star to the "Gold Star Card," which hangs in the Waterford school.

The meeting was adjourned by everyone singing "America."

Secretary, Margaret Griffith.

The second meeting of Zone "C" was held at the Cady school, two miles north of Wayne. The morning session opened with exhibits brought from the different schools in the zone. Miss Schauer, one of the Inkster teachers, taught a lesson in Fifth grade geography. The problem was to find out why Argentina is called the U. S. of South America. Miss Wellever, Wayne County Helping Teacher, taught two classes, one in 7th geography and one in 5th arithmetic. The aim in the geography class was (1) to teach the pupils to use the index, and (2) to show the world distribution of petroleum. The aim in the arithmetic class was to teach pupils to analyze problems using six steps.

Dinner was served by the ladies of the Cady District.

The afternoon program consisted of the following:

Music—Orchestra
A Scotch and Irish Dance—Hannah Lumsden

Solo—Mr. Leitner
Remarks—Mr. Fischer, County Commissioner and Mr. Van Vleet, Director of Inkster school
Four selections by Mr. Nichols, a whistler

Address—Supt. Tape
Mr. Tape emphasized the need of children being developed physically and morally as well as mentally. The next meeting will be held at the Palmer school.

Our idea of a waste of time is listening to a Plymouth man tell of the old days when he could not get a big meal at a hotel or a restaurant for a quarter.

PASSING THE BUCK

The other day several well known Plymouth citizens were discussing a matter of local interest, and agreed that something should be done about it. But they also agreed it was unpleasant and unprofitable for any individual action to be taken, so they were inclined to think that it was an opportune time for the home town newspaper to jump in with both feet and force the desired action.

There isn't anything strange about such proceedings as this. Hardly a week passes but the mails bring at least one letter to the editor from someone asking him to "jump on" somebody, and nearly always the writer wants his own name kept secret. If the newspaper were to do all that is asked of it by these people it would be a growling, snarling thing—and it would accomplish nothing.

The newspapers are always ready to oppose wrongs, and always ready to fight for the right, to demand practical reforms, to support every movement that is for the betterment of the community, and to aid in every worthy cause. They are not afraid of making enemies when they know they are serving the public. But the truth is that most of the demands that the paper "jump in with both feet and demand action" are generally based upon selfish motives and are usually urged by people who are unwilling to do exactly what they request the newspaper to do. And about nine times out of ten they stand in the background and refuse co-operation when the newspaper does try to get something worthwhile accomplished.

WHERE WILL IT END?

Plymouth citizens may think this country has gone crazy over crossword puzzles, but it's because they haven't heard from abroad. We see in a news dispatch that it has hit Great Britain even harder than it has the U. S. A., and that even Queen Mary is a rabid crossword fan. Well, it's all right with us if our British brethren want to join with us in the greatest pastime that has swept over the nation in its history. And if the League of Nations wants to offer prizes to the champion crossword puzzle experts of the world, we're in for it. It's a harmless pastime, and as long as it keeps one hunting in the dictionary it ought to be worth something from an educational standpoint. Who can tell, either, but that if all the nations in the world get so deeply absorbed in the puzzles as this country and Great Britain they will forget all of their bitterness toward each other and lose all desire for war.

A LONG WAY OFF

Next to getting a man out of a Kentucky cave, nothing has created greater national interest lately than the attempt of a California religious sect to bring about the end of the world. Now they're busy explaining why it didn't come to an end early in February, when they said it would.

We've got to have something to focus our attention on in America else we would become morbid and possibly revert to revolutionary and morbid thoughts. So such predictions as these do no harm, and keep a lot of other people from brooding over other worries. Even here in Plymouth, where every fellow is kept on the jump trying to get his own affairs attended to and to keep the wolf from the door, there is always time to read a few lines about unusual topics that the nation is interested in, and to use them for brightening up conversation when the old subjects of crops and the weather grow stale.

But we didn't find anyone worrying whether or not the world would come to an end in February. If any of our citizens were doing any extra amount of praying it didn't show on the knees of their trousers. In fact, many people are still sending away for mail order goods, so it is pretty safe to go ahead and make your spring gardening and clean-up plans instead of taking such dire reports seriously.

NEWBURG

Rev. Paul Havens preached a fine sermon last Sabbath on "True Greatness," taking his text from Isaiah 55:4. During the Sunday-school hour Mrs. M. Eva Smith read a short sketch of the life of Washington. There was a goodly attendance at both services. Mrs. Henry Mellbeck's class of little folks had the banner last Sunday. There was also a large attendance in the evening, to see and hear the pictures and talk by the pastor. Instead of China, the pictures were of India. Don't forget the Thursday evening prayer and Bible study at the parsonage. Everyone urged to attend these services.

Little three-year-old Eugene Bakewell, who has been very sick, with pneumonia and other complications, is better at this writing. The L. A. S. will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Jesse Thomas, next Wednesday, March 4th. Dinner will be served at noon. The annual reports will be given at this time. A charge of 25c for the dinner will be made, to apply on the church fund. Everyone cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Greer entertained her Sunday-school class from 2:00 to 5:00 last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Zielsko has purchased the Messer place at the Burg, where Burt Paddock now lives.

The Hoisington farm has been sold to Detroit parties.

Mrs. Caroline Hatt of Jackson, visited her niece, Mrs. James Norris of Strathmoor, last week. This week she is spending with her sister, Mrs. Mark Mackinder.

Mrs. Schaum and son of Detroit, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Joy.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. L. B. Langs, last Friday. She resided near Newburg for several years, and was loved by those who knew her, sympathizing with her in her great suffering before she was called home.

MEETING OF NEWBURG PATRIOTIC SOCIETY.

An exceptionally pleasant meeting of the Newburg Patriotic Society was held last Thursday, at the M. E. parsonage. Thirty partook of an oyster dinner, after which the following program was enjoyed:

Singing—"America."
Scripture Reading—Mrs. C. E. Ryder.

Prayer—Rev. D. D. Nagle.
Reading, "When the Battle Was Over"—Mrs. M. Eva Smith.

A Sketch of Washington—Miss Ada Youngs.

Two readings, "The Moo Moo Cow" and "The Old Garden Gate" by Will Carleton—Mrs. Nagle.

Rev. Havens then gave a talk on Abraham Lincoln's belief in the Bible.

Little Vivian Havens sang, accompanied by her mother at the piano.

Song, "The Star Spangled Banner."

It was decided to hold Decoration Day services, the same as usual, with Rev. Paul Havens, speaker, and Mrs. Paul Havens and Mrs. Jesse Thomas, program committee. The president, Mrs. Hattie Hoisington, appointed Wm. Smith and Donald Ryder to set an elm tree on the church lawn in honor of all American soldiers, the bowlder with inscription to be attended to later.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thomas.

There were three comrades present, James Manzer and John Rhead, Civil War veterans, and John D. Blair of Custer's Brigade. It was reported that comrade Chas. Westfall was quite ill. The society extend sympathy.

Ancient Vikings Had Skill in Navigation

American naval officers who visited Iceland in connection with the globe-trotting flight of the American aviators, were greatly interested in the navigation methods of the old vikings who, more than 1,000 years ago, sailed their little vessels, without compasses or other instruments, across the storm-battered north Atlantic to Iceland, Greenland and even the shores of North America.

Even today the charts of these waters are largely based on observations and soundings made by whalers and the early explorers, scores of years ago, and the few large vessels that today visit these seas proceed with the utmost caution. Sailing directions, the "Bible of the Sea," are carefully consulted, and when new soundings are made the results are sent to the different governments for incorporation in the charts.

But when Left Eriksson and the other adventurous old Norsemen of more than ten centuries ago set out on their dangerous voyages there were no charts, and the stars were the only directional guides. The observations they made were for centuries the only sailing directions, and were charted in the form of sagas, as the galleys swept over the rough seas. Some of these sagas exist today, and old pilots at Reykjavik are familiar with the lore they contain.

One of these, describing the journey from Norway to Greenland, not only takes account of the physical features to be watched for, but advises the navigators to keep a lookout for the birds and whales that mark the approaches to the Icelandic coast.

A naval officer who made a study of this route found it almost a perfect great-circle, or shortest sailing route, worked out without any scientific aids by navigators who probably could neither read nor write.

Marks Historic Spot

The Verendrye National monument, established in 1917, marks the spot on the left bank of the Upper Missouri river where the celebrated French explorer Verendrye and his sons escaped during their explorations in 1738, more than sixty years prior to the expedition of Lewis and Clark. It is associated with the first explorations of North Dakota and the interior of the Northwest, says the New York Times. The records of their journeys are the subject of conflicting interpretations, but there is no question that the Verendrye party was the first to enter North Dakota and to look upon the Upper Missouri. Thus it is that picturesque Crowhigh butte, rising 565 feet above the river on its left bank, which is the central feature of the monument, is one of the most important landmarks associated with the Verendrye explorations. Like LaSalle's imperial dream of French colonization, Verendrye planned and partly completed a fur trade empire of continental dimensions, but like LaSalle, it crumbled away to nothing.

Costly Indian Ornaments

Some say turquois or turkis is named after Turkey, from whence came the stones that were used in old European jewelry. Really the finest ones came from Persia, but that was before the wealth of the blue and green stones of America had been commercialized. Long ago the Apache and Pueblo Indians of the southwestern United States used them in quantities, for turquois, unlike most stones, do not have to be mined, but appear on the surface of the ground in bright greenish-blue spots and veins. The Indians used to gather the turquois and rub them down into the shape of beads, which they wore in long strings. Imagine how costly such a string would be today when one small stone, while it does not rank in value with the gems par excellence, namely the diamond, sapphire, ruby and emerald, is still of sufficient value to bring a good price.

Reversed

I have been in embarrassing situations at various times, but the worst incident occurred at a boarding school which I was attending some years ago. I helped to pay my way through school by waiting on table, and had been assigned to the table occupied by a visiting basketball team. One of the school girls was acquainted with a young man on this team and asked me to deliver a note to him. To avoid comment, I arranged to carry the note under a dish of ice cream so that, by releasing one finger, it would drop into his lap. I released the wrong finger and saw the dessert delivered instead, while I held the note conspicuously in front of him. I have as yet found no language capable of describing my feelings at the time.—Chicago Tribune.

Present—Commissioners Daggett, Henderson and Wilcox. Absent—Commissioners Hillmer and Murray.
The report of the election board was received, showing the results of the Primary Election of yesterday to be as follows:
Harry C. Robinson 178
Henry J. Fisher 182
Frank Rambo 139
John W. Henderson 134
George H. Robinson 125
Frank L. Barrows 109
Byron P. Willett 92
Theodore F. Chilson 70
and that the first six of the above be candidates for Commissioner at the regular election, March 9th.
On motion this report was received and result confirmed.
The Commission then adjourned.
J. W. Henderson, President.
Sidney D. Strong, Clerk.

Plymouth, Mich., Feb. 16, 1925.
A regular meeting of the Commission, held in the Commission room of the Village hall on Monday, February 16, 1925, at 7:00 p. m.
Present—All five Commissioners.
On motion the minutes of the regular meeting of February 2nd, and special meeting of February 10th, were approved as read.
On motion the application of B. I. Underwood for a billiard room license was laid on the table for further investigation.
(See elsewhere for Fire Engine Bonding resolutions.)
The following resolutions were offered by Commissioner Hillmer who moved their adoption, supported by Commissioner Daggett.
BE IT RESOLVED, That the construction of a sewage disposal plant and building of certain main trunk line sewers to constitute a part of the sanitary sewage rights of the said Village of Plymouth be, and the same hereby are declared to be expedient and necessary public improvements.
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the report of Messrs. Hoad and Decker, Engineers, in relation to said improvements, including the estimate as made by them, covering the probable cost of said improvements be, and the same is hereby received and made a part of the records, said report being in words and figures as follows:

"You will please find attached estimates of cost of various sewer lines in the Village of Plymouth, which you contemplate building in 1925, and which correspond with the list of sewers for which you desired estimates of cost recently sent by you to this office. As explained to you over the telephone two estimates have been prepared for the sewers lying in the streets north of Union street. One estimate, indicated under the heading "New Plan" is estimated on the basis of having the main trunk sewer built in Holbrook avenue, whereas the estimate under the heading "Old Plan" contemplates the building of sewers with the main in trunk outlet in North Mill street. The estimates cost of this new plan totals $34,772.25. The estimates cost of the old plan is $38,918.00. Inasmuch as it will cost less to sewer this district under the new plan, we would recommend that you use the new plan estimate. The estimated cost of the South Branch is $51,692.00.
You will note in the estimates that 15 per cent has been added consistently to the cost, which you understand is intended to cover the cost of engineering and contingencies. A great many times a smaller percentage is added, but in this case it seems advisable to add 15 per cent for the reason that this percentage includes the cost of engineering, the cost of all Y-branches for house connections (no Y-branches were included in the cost of pipe), also the possibility of using bituminous compound for sewer joints, in wet trenches, and such other contingencies as might arise in sewer work. You will recall that I discussed with you briefly the other day relative to the use of bituminous sewer joints such as Jointite and G-K Compound. In wet trenches such as is contemplated will be found in this work, we believe it would be highly desirable to use some such material for making tight joints.
You will also find hereto attached an estimate of cost of the sewage disposal plant, which was designed by this firm about seven years ago. At that time an estimate of cost was prepared based upon conditions then existing. This new estimate which we are now submitting is based on present day conditions and the total of $35,000.00, which we have estimated we believe will be approximately correct, providing it is necessary for the contractor to import all of the gravel and sand used in the construction. We have been informed that there is considerable gravel and sand that may be obtained locally, in fact, very close to the site of this disposal plant. If such a condition is found to exist it is barely possible that $2,000.00 of the $3,000.00 may be cut off this estimate, but in view of the uncertainty concerning this local supply of gravel and sand, we do not feel that in submitting an estimate for bond issue purposes it is advisable to give this serious consideration. We will, however, previous to the drawing up of the specifications, thoroughly investigate the matter of sand and gravel in Plymouth, and if it is of a quality that is suitable, we can draw our specifications that the city will get the benefit of the reduced costs of this material."

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this Commission do, and it hereby does, adopt the estimate of ninety-two thousand ($92,000.00) dollars, as the estimate of this Commission as a necessary cost of said improvements to be paid by the Village at large.
Yeas—Commissioners Daggett, Henderson, Hillmer, Murray and Wilcox. Nays—None. Carried.
(See elsewhere for Sewage Disposal Plant Resolutions.)
The following resolutions were offered by Commissioner Hillmer, who moved their adoption, supported by Commissioner Murray:
BE IT RESOLVED, That improvements to be made in the present water works system of the said Village of Plymouth, including improvements at the wells, the purchasing and installation of a new electric pump, and the laying of a quantity of additional lateral water mains, be and the same hereby are declared to be expedient and necessary public improvements.
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the report of Hoad and Decker, Engineers, in relation to the said improvements, including the estimate as made by them covering the probable cost of said improvements, be and the same hereby is received and made a part of the records, said report being in words and figures as follows:
Development of further supply of water at the source, including pumps, etc., thirteen thousand ($13,000.00) dollars.
Extension of water main including installation of necessary fire hydrants twenty-seven ($27,000.00) dollars. Total forty thousand ($40,000.00) dollars.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this Commission do, and it hereby does adopt the estimate of forty thousand ($40,000.00) dollars, as made by the said Hoad and Decker and Village Manager, as the estimate of this Commission of the cost of the necessary improvements to be made to the present water works system.
Yeas—Commissioners Daggett, Hillmer, Henderson, Murray and Wilcox. Nays—None. Carried.
(See elsewhere for Water Works Bonding Resolutions.)

Song Service Next Sunday Night

This is the way it will look next Sunday night when you come and bring your family and neighbors and friends to join in the old familiar songs that lift the soul and slip the message into your heart before you are aware of it.

And this is the way it will look next Sunday night when you come and bring your family and neighbors and friends to join in the old familiar songs that lift the soul and slip the message into your heart before you are aware of it.

Home-Coming Sunday

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

Next Sunday is Home-Coming Sunday, and you will want to be present. In the evening, a special song service will be held, and the old time gospel songs will be used.

The members of the men's class were royally entertained last Friday night at the home of Charles S. Bichy on Penniman avenue. Berries, fresh from the garden, on short-cake—who can forget that?—or equal it?

The annual meeting of the church and congregation of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth, Michigan, will be held after the men have served supper to the ladies of the church on Monday night, March 9th. At the business session trustees will be elected in place of J. W. Henderson, R. O. Mimmack, H. J. Green and William Kaiser; elders in place of Calvin Whipple and Robert Gardiner; whose terms of office then expire; and such other officers will be elected as the Articles of Association of our church require. Rev. M. E. Anderson, D. D., pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church of Detroit, will give an address and reports of the several departments of the church will be read, and a budget adopted for the ensuing year.

Prayer meeting was held this week at the home of Mrs. S. Ashton on Ann street. The Church Session met following the meeting.

Plymouth is included in the Home-Coming advertising this week, in the several Detroit papers.

The trustees met at the church last Monday night to formulate the budget for the ensuing year. See that all your financial obligations are met before the time of annual meeting, that the report may be complete.

Assistant superintendent C. R. Weaver is making the opening and closing exercises of the Sunday-school very interesting, by the use of special numbers from the various classes. Last Sunday, June Jewell told an excellent story. Next Sunday, Virginia Giles will give a reading. As the auctioneer says, "Other items too numerous to mention." Come and stay through.

Additional chairs are needed for our growing primary department. Arthur Bichy of Detroit, was on his way to Plymouth last Sunday morning, to sing a duet with his brother, Charles, at our morning service, when his auto skidded on the slippery pavement and smashed a wheel. We appreciate his purpose, and extend sympathy.

METHODIST NOTES

The Northville Male Quartette sings at church next Sunday evening. Official Board meeting at the church next Tuesday night, 7:30. Ladies' Aid Society monthly meeting next Wednesday, at 2:30. All the ladies of the church urged to be on hand.

Wednesday night at 7:30, continuing the studies in the Life of Christ. The "Booster" Class of the Sunday-school, made up of young married couples, had a delightful pot-luck supper at the church, last Friday night. They meet every Sunday at the Sunday-school hour, and the third Friday of the month. You will enjoy the fellowship, the fun and the study on Sundays. "Come and see" next Sunday.

The church basket ball teams had two interesting games with the High school teams last Friday night. The girls were defeated, but the boys won a good, fast game. This week Thursday night, they play the return game with the Pontiac Central team at Pontiac. They are fast developing some esprit de corps.

Next Monday night, the Epworth League holds a big social at the church, in the big basement room. Hear further announcement next Sunday.

Epworth Leaguers are asked to remember to hand their dollar in to the president, Pierre Kenyon, or the secretary, Grace Lee, for the piano fund. This must be in by next Sunday.

"Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled." Hear the Northville Male Quartette at church next Sunday night. They have quite a reputation through this section. You will want to be on hand. The pastor also preaches on "Haunted."

The Epworth League Missionary Committee will serve light lunch on next Sunday evening during the brief fellowship hour before the League service. Come at 6:00.

A number of our folks are attending the Area Conference in Detroit, this week. Fine, inspirational gatherings are being held.

BAPTIST NOTES

Sunday morning, Rochester Irwin preached to the people and gave a splendid sermon from Luke. In the evening, he gave us his travelogue, "Through America the Beautiful, and Mexico." The descriptions he gave were very vivid, and real. All seemed to follow him very closely in his long journey of ten thousand miles.

Several of the teachers were absent from Sunday-school Sunday, on account of sickness. The prayer meeting next Wednesday evening, will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stanley.

LIVONIA CENTER LUTHERAN CHURCH.

There will be regular services at the Livonia Center Lutheran church on Sunday, March 1, in the English language. Sunday-school at the usual time, also in the English language. Everybody welcome.

On Wednesday evenings, March 4, March 18 and April 1st, the Lenten services will be in the English language. An offering plate will be conveniently set in these Lenten services to receive the special offerings for Indian and other missions. Let our offerings prove our gratefulness to our suffering Saviour for His sacrifice for our sins. "Christ died for our sins," I Cor., 15:3.

If you know an item of news, send or phone it to the Mail office.

Put On Your Thinking Cap!

The leaders of the best thought in the world today are turning their attention to Christianity, and acknowledging Jesus Christ as the one true leader of all life, and entitled to their allegiance.

You are a thinking man—not a dumb animal. Follow in the procession of the best thinkers of the day.

The Christian Church is the one concrete organization of Christianity, that truly represents the principles and teachings of the Man of Nazareth. It alone above all other organizations proclaims the Brotherhood of Man, along with the Fatherhood of God and the Saviourhood of Jesus Christ.

Go to church somewhere next Sunday, and there think these things over. Get the thrill of the public worship of God. The truths of Christianity cannot but convince you, if your mind is open and unprejudiced.

NEXT SUNDAY AT 7:30 P. M.

DIGNITY OF POLICE FORCE MUCH JARRED

Whole Department Placed in Stocks by Revelers.

It happened in Maplet, a little mud-and-cane town from which an exploring expedition under my command was to hop off into the uncharted interior of Bolivia. In approaching the town a wild chorus of yells, howls, shrieks and bangs came to greet me long before the place could be seen. As I reached its outskirts something soft and warm and unpleasant, which caused my horse to snort and caper, flew over the churchyard wall and slapped my face. Wiping my cheek and wondering what it all could mean, I rounded a corner—and saw. An extraordinary sight it was. The day was one of their numerous national feasts. In addition to this a party of natives, returned with accumulated wages from a long river trip, had "bought the town." White rum, which is practically pure alcohol, was on limitless tap for all who wished; and the wish was practically unanimous; not one dissenting voice was raised.

This rum accounted for the yells. The bangs were owing to small sticks of dynamite which were used as a substitute for firecrackers. One of the Indians—the town was inhabited by Indians and half-breeds—had lighted a joy-stick and then, tugging his legs, had pitched forward. Forgetting the dynamite with its sizzling fuse, he decided to take a nap where he lay. It was a part of him that had slapped my face.

This, and many other things, would not have happened had the police force been functioning, but it—rather, he—was not. The would-be revelers had seen to that. This man was the entire police force for chief down. So, wishing to proceed with their festivities undisturbed, the populace "jumped" him from behind, overpowered him by force of numbers and bore him, fighting like a wildcat, to the contrivance that served them for a jail.

This was a pair of stocks—the only pair I ever saw in active use. Clad in a red-piped pair of uniform trousers, a fragmentary shirt and an air of intense disgust, there he was sitting when I appeared: his bare feet, appearing disproportionately large on account of their undue prominence, sticking out before him. So enraged was he at the supposedly "better element" of townstolk for allowing him to be placed in such a position—and small blame to him—that he resigned by the simplest process of joining my expedition—Major Wolcott Le Clear Beard in the Police Magazine.

Compliments From Boys

The compliment paid by Leslie Stephen, when a boy, to his mother is well known. The father was what in America would be called a "grouch." When he had vetoed some family excursion the mother exclaimed: "Did you ever know your father to do anything just because it was pleasant?" "Yes, mother, once—when he married you!"

This pretty speech is matched by one in Cornelia Stratton Parker's book, "Paris and Happy Places." Mrs. Parker had taken her nine-year-old son on a pilgrimage to see his birthplace. He was surprised to find how attractive the house was. He gazed at it long and earnestly, then turned to his mother and said: "I can't tell you how much I thank you and dad for letting me be born in such a nice place."—From the Outlook.

Butchers Taught Trade

London now has a Meat Trades "university." Here is taught by practical and fully competent instructors the whole duty of butchers—from animal physiology and hygiene to shop management and the making of sausages. Other trades organizations are co-operating with the London county council to incorporate as the Smithfield Institute. There will be a junior course for boys who have just entered or intend to enter the trade, and a senior course to enable men to study the more advanced side of their work. There are no fees for juniors, and fees for other courses are from 75 cents to $2.50 a session.

They All Talk

A young man talks with pleasure, and an old man talks with ease; an orator talks like a man who has six days, go as you please.

The preacher talks of sins and things, of hell, of glory; the lawyer burlesques a mad but helpless jury.

Thus each one talks and talks and talks, each of his own speech proudest, forgetful of the patent fact that it's money that talks loudest.—"A. P." in Boston Transcript.

SALEM

Get acquainted games will be played from 8:00 to 8:45. Business meeting from 8:45 to 9:15. Rural school score cards put out by the Farmer's Wife Magazine, will be the feature of the business meeting. This score card was made up by seven experts in rural education, so will give you a definite basis for judging whether or not our schools need to have all parents get together and take an interest in them.

Kenna home, and Mr. and Mrs. Cassey, son and daughter of Northville, were Saturday evening callers there, renewing their friendship with the H. J. McKenna's. Miss Adeline and Miss Lillian have been in several dancing contests together, and also attended the same dancing school in Detroit.

J. Herrick was in Ann Arbor, Monday.

Glenn Burnham was in Detroit, Tuesday.

Salem was especially favored last Saturday evening with the entertainment given by the "child dancer," Adeline McKenna of Grand Rapids, assisted by Lillian Cassie, also a talented "child dancer" of Northville.

In addition to these splendidly trained and very talented young ladies, the unusual work of George Wilson upon the drums, lad of only eight years; the recitations of Miss Ione Bird; the violin offerings of Kalmon Karay and the songs of Mr. Bryan and Miss Ruth Halliday, constituted a program of real entertainment. The ladies of the Federated Aid are deeply grateful to all these aforementioned people for making the entertainment a reality.

Do not forget about the St. Patrick's dance given at the Penniman Allen auditorium, March 17, by members of Our Lady of Good Counsel church.

BETTER EXPRESSION IS "BAD OLD DAYS"

Truth About Conditions of Three Centuries Ago.

England gets ready to celebrate, in 1932, the three hundredth anniversary of the first use of forks by the British. Before then they ate with their fingers.

Three centuries seem a long time ago. It is. But in 1632, when some unknown English progressive brought the first fork over from France, "the good old days" were at their best.

Shakespeare had been dead sixteen years. The immortal bard never used a fork. He never even saw one. It must have been a sight to watch people eat in those "good old days," says the Lewiston Journal.

Sewage systems were not in use in the "good old days." Refuse and dish-water were tossed into the gutters. Small wonder plagues made people die like flies.

No one had running water for kitchens and bath. Carrying water in buckets a long distance or buying it from vendor carts—these are not attractive. People bathed so seldom that they had to invent high-power perfumes in order to get within speaking distance of each other without suspecting that a regiment of skunks was at large.

It was an age of discomforts and inconveniences. No labor-saving devices had been invented for homes. Women worked themselves into their graves prematurely.

Ignorance and medical superstition were frightful.

Morals several centuries ago were so lax that by comparison the jazz tendency of our generation is tame.

Crime was far more prevalent than now. No one could take a short stage-coach trip between towns safely without carrying a brace of pistols. Men were imprisoned for debt.

The "good old days" have been painted in romantic colors by fiction writers. That's why they seem attractive to people today. But if you could turn the clock back a few hundred years and live the life of those times, you'd buy a return ticket promptly.

A fiction writer makes an old-time dungeon romantic, adventurous. Truth is, the dungeon was damp, cold, dark, infested with rats, reeking with lice. Guards were brutal. Justice was slow. Penalties were severe. Food was mainly mouldy old bread and water.

Romance? Good old days? It's a joke.

Fine from a distance. The good old days are now. And they'll be better yet.

Great Writer Dope Fiend

It is not generally well known that Wilkie Collins took "dope," that being one of the interesting revelations of the late Harry Furniss' contributions to the literature of personal recollection. Sir Hall Calne once related how he was discussing a knotty point in authorship with Wilkie Collins, who was much worried.

"My brain is not very clear," he said once or twice, taking a turn across the room. Presently, and as if by a sudden impulse, he opened a cabinet and took out a wine glass and what seemed to be a bottle of medicine.

"I'm going to show you the secrets of my prison house," he said, with a smile. Then he poured from the bottle a full wine glassful of a liquid resembling port in color. "Do you see that?" he asked. "It's laudanum." Straightway he drank it off. "I was all but dumfounded."

Collins said he had taken the drug for 20 years, much more than once a day, and reminded his amazed listener that De Quincey used to drink laudanum out of a jug.

Bernhardt Memorial

A French garden village is being planned exclusively for writers, painters, sculptors and musicians. It will occupy a beautiful wood on the outskirts of Paris, and may, it is thought, somewhat relieve the housing problem. The village will contain a hundred houses and a number of studios, all of which rent for a low price. The government, which owns the wood, has contributed nearly 4,000,000 francs towards the project, and has stipulated that every resident must have at least three children and an income less than 20,000 francs a year. The place is to be named for that great artist, Sarah Bernhardt.

The "Widow's Mite"

A widow had to dig deep when she gave $1 to the cashier of a fund for a destitute family in Indianapolis. The envelope bore in pencil, "One dollar for building fund for destitute family. No name." Apparently she had dug deep into a little store of money, for in the envelope was a crisp note of 50 cents denomination, of an issue of 1833; a 3-cent piece, whose date was obscure, but seemed to be 1863; two half-dimes, one dated 1838 and the other 1841; a Canadian half-dime of 1856; a two-cent stamp and a modern nickel and a modern quarter.

DAY OF REJOICING AND LAVISH REPAST

Fijians Celebrate Anniversary Whole-Heartedly.

In Fiji, which has just celebrated 50 years of British rule, amid public rejoicing, the art of feasting has, according to Sir Maynard Hedstrom, commissioner from Fiji, been brought to a more robust pitch than in any other country in the world.

On the anniversary day nearly every village in the 250 islands of the Fijian group had its ceremonial feast, at such enormous quantities of food were divided among participants who have been talking the event the chief topic of conversation for many months past.

Hospitality and good-fellowship are inborn characteristics of every native Fijian. They are characteristics that have been handed down to him from long lines of savage ancestors, who, when not engaged in fighting their enemies, delighted in entertaining their friends to lavish repasts.

In his everyday eating the Fijian is frugal enough, but upon ceremonial occasions all his inherited traits come into play, and he organizes feasts upon a gargantuan scale.

In the center of the feast ground, upon a structure of bamboo, the food is thickly piled. The delicacies are numerous and remnant; pigs roasted whole, wild birds stuffed with spices, baked snakes, taro, yams, pineapples, and all the luscious fruits of Fiji.

About this edifice the guests group themselves. They sit on their haunches, gay in ruffles of dyed feathers and kilts of colored cloth. They maintain a rigid and respectful silence, but every brown face is turned upon the stack of food with an expression of the keenest interest and pleasure.

To and fro about the stack move the masters of ceremony. They scan the food and the guests with anxious eyes, for theirs is the difficult task of making a fair division. A careless distribution of the food may very easily cause serious offense or even lead to blows among the guests.

At a recent feast a huge shark, wrapped up like a mummy in palm leaves and baked whole, formed the supreme culinary achievement.

The method of catching the monster was spectacular in the extreme. From his canoe a valiant native lassoed the shark by the tail and then played it like a salmon, until, exhausted, it fell an easy victim to the spears of his friends.

Actor's Ready Wit

As a young man, Walter Plechard Eaton had the good fortune to hear the famous comedian, Peter F. Daley, spring one of his best impromptu jokes during a burlesque performance of "The Merry Widow."

In his book, "The Actor's Heritage," he describes the scene in which Daley is leaving a restaurant where the prices were something terrific. As he was making his exit, the comedian accidentally stepped on something and started to fall. Being an extremely heavy man, there was actual danger.

The other players sprang to catch him and the audience gasped. But he lighted himself and then in silence leaped down and picked up a tiny object on which he had slipped.

The play stopped. In an expectant silence, Daley drew out a pocketbook, counted the money in it and then deposited the total sum in the head waiter's hands.

"Here," he said, "is $12. I stepped on a bean."

Yes and No

Tommy had been looking forward to Wednesday, on which day the druggist promised to give all the children a bird with each chocolate soda. Wednesday arrived and Tommy hurried to the drug store so he would get his "prize" before they were all gone. When he paid his check he looked at the clerk and asked whether he might have his bird. "Why," answered the man behind the counter, "you got a swallow, didn't you?"

Peking's Trolley Line

The first trolley line in China's capital was recently opened with great formality, and with the drinking of tea. After an address by the chairman of the French board of directors and Chinese officials the eight gaudily decorated cars started on an inspection trip over the new road, which is limited to the western part of the city. Other tracks are being laid. Opposition of the rickshaw men was overcome with the promise to build factories in which they would be employed when thrown out of work by the street cars.

Airbrake Thirty Years Old

The airbrake, the invention of George Westinghouse, which revolutionized railway operations, is now more than thirty years old, and it is used on more than two and a half million freight cars, not to mention all passenger cars on railroads throughout almost the entire world. This is the only railroad device that has a universal use throughout the world.

Often Works

"Almost every girl wants to marry a rich man."

"There aren't enough rich men to go around. What's the next step?"

The Busy Shoppers

The crowds observed during the early part of the Christmas shopping season were evidently getting warmed up for the real fray.

How to Save Your Current

You can economize in your electric lighting in three ways; first, by using lamps only when and where they are required; second, by using Mazda high efficiency lamps; third, by directing and conserving your light by means of suitable shades and reflectors.

There should be ample light at points where illumination is required often, as for reading, sewing, at the piano or the dressing table. Extra outlets for portable lamps or brackets make it unnecessary to light the whole room too brightly.

Heating appliances, such as percolator, toaster, flat iron, etc., should be disconnected the moment you are done using them. When you forget to switch them off, you waste current and perhaps injure the appliance by overheating.

With proper equipment and by avoiding waste, electricity can be employed in a wide range of household uses at small cost.

MENTAL POWER OF SEXES ON EQUALITY

Old Idea of Women's Inferiority Is Disproved.

Ever since Adam exchanged his rib for a woman, men have been wondering whether he made a good bargain. James Weiland remarks, in Popular Science Monthly. Many points of the question have led to controversy, but one in particular there is, and always has been, surprisingly little divergence of opinion; the vast majority of men are quite certain that women have "no brains," this despite all the famous women of history.

Recently, though, psychology has got right down to cases and measured both men and women scientifically with the same yardstick, and reported that men and women are just about equal in intelligence.

Very elaborate intelligence tests were recently given at Colorado college to 115 men and 111 women. The average score for both men and women was exactly the same—142 points. A combined study of the student bodies of several western universities shows that the percentage of students getting "A" and "B" grades in their studies through a long period was for men 75.4, and for women 75.2. In a joint psychological test of men students of Harvard university and women students of Huddell college a few months ago, a man and a girl tied for first place, while for the men the average score was 50.5 and for the women 55.

There rarely appears any appreciable difference between male and female students, taking them all the way from kindergarten through college. Neither will you find any considerable difference in the quality of the output of men and women performing tasks that lie within the capabilities of each.

It is only recently that women discovered certain positions as possible careers. The United States bureau of census reports, for example, that the number of women chemists and metallurgists has more than tripled in ten years. In the same time the number of women college presidents and professors has increased from less than three thousand to more than ten thousand. With about eighteen hundred women lawyers and judges, we now have three times as many as there were a decade ago. We find more than four thousand women bank officials, almost as many women officials in manufacturing and similar enterprises; women doctors, dentists, and clergymen in legion. There are even more than one thousand women who earn their living as chauffeurs.

Do not these figures indicate that the past found "women ineffective" in these fields merely because their training and opportunity had not directed their interest to them?

Words That Work Hard
There are words it is almost impossible to avoid using, however carefully we may try to do so.

It is said that a quarter of the task of expressing oneself in the English language is borne by nine words—and, he, have, it, of, the, to, will, and, you. It is asserted that these nine, with 34 other words, form half the words the average talker uses in ordinary conversation.

The additional 34 are as follows: about, all, as, at, but, can, come, day, dear, for, get, go, hear, if, in, me, much, not, on, say, she, so, that, these, this, though, time, we, with, write, your, her and one.

It would be an interesting and instructive occupation for readers to underline on any one page of this paper the words included in this list of 43 and see how near the total number comes to being half of the whole.

True to His Clan

A Glasgow business man, named Campbell, tells of the strange survival of a clan feud which was brought unpleasantly to his notice during a Highland tour. He was driving in the Glencoe district when he happened, unwisely, to remark to the Jehu, "Perhaps it would be dangerous for me to say in this district that my name is Campbell." The driver's response to the pleasantry was impressive, for he stopped the machine at once and told his fare that he would drive him no farther. "I am a McDonald," he said with dignity, "and I will never drive a Campbell, if I can help it." And he left Campbell in the glen.—London Morning Post.

Brilliant Man of Letters

William T. Stead's knowledge of the Bible would have put some bishops to shame, a friend of the great English writer declared. He would finish from memory almost any verse from the Scripture, the first half of which was given to him and the bewildering names of obscure Scriptural characters had literally no terrors for him. His conversation was fascinating. He knew everything and he threw an explosive energy into the talk that was both captivating and overwhelming. Stead's genius was overshadowed by his fanaticalisms. He was capable of almost superhuman feats of writing.

Too Many Animals Harmful to Ranges

Deterioration Is Largely Due to Overstocking.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Competent authorities in the range states estimate that the condition of the native pastures of that area is now only 10 to 50 per cent of their original productivity. This deterioration, says the United States Department of Agriculture, has been largely the result of overstocking. Another result of this condition has been smaller size of cattle even where they are well bred.

During periods of high prices stockmen are tempted to put on more cattle than the range can support without showing the effect in following years. There is also a tendency to stock heavily when pastures are especially good to recover losses sustained during bad years, with the frequent result that the gamble is carried too far.

The conservative cattlemen, says the department, who have developed the industry to its present high standard and "acquired greater success in the range area, have learned to stock their pastures to meet adverse or subnormal years. When very good years come along additional stock is bought and held for a short time to make profitable use of the extra grass without taxing the range too much. On the other hand, many stockmen use up too much of the pasture and reduce the vigor of the palatable plants.

The department says it is next to impossible to give definite figures on the carrying capacity of the range. The extremely wide variation is shown by an investigation of a range area in New Mexico where the rainfall was practically the same. Here the average varied from 25 to 125 acres per cow per year.

Favor Dormant Spraying Because of Idle Hours

When speaking of pruning, the words "dormant pruning" are generally used when "dormant pruning" is really meant. Much of this dormant pruning can be accomplished during the winter months. At this season there is more slack time in the orchard than at any other. If pruning is left until spring, the rush of spring work often arrives before the trees are all worked over in the orchard. The habit of leaving the dormant pruning until early spring, as a rule, results in one of two things, either a continuation of operations long after the sap has begun to move, with consequent poor healing of wounds; or results in unavoidably slipping work over a large part of the orchard due to a desire to finish the pruning and get at other important seasonal operations. By making a start in the early winter, working on days when climatic conditions are not too severe, the work can be completed early enough in the season to avoid interference with early spring duties.

Fewer and Better Bulls Help Success of Dairy

The Wayne County (Pa.) Jersey Bull association has a record of accomplishment to which members point with pride. In three years' time the butterfat production of the herds in this association increased 47.7 per cent. At the same time the milk production went up 13.9 per cent, according to S. J. Brownell, dairy specialist at the Pennsylvania college.

Cow testing association records show that the increase in fat production alone meant a profit of approximately $3,000 per year. Other financial advantages of the bull association were a $2,775 increase in the inventory value of herds and a $420 decrease in the investment in bulls. Fewer and better bulls account for the smaller amount now invested in sires.

FARM NOTES

Protect your woodlot and it will protect you.

Keeping accurate accounts is the foundation of profit in farming.

One can't be too cautious around the barns with lighted lanterns.

Successful farmers are generally willing to learn and adopt new practices.

Much of the winter-killing of clover can be avoided by sowing native red clover seed only.

The poultry specialists say that greens for the poultry make greenbacks for the poultry keeper.

Farm woodlots believe in the Golden Rule: Protect the woodlots and they will protect you with a lot of wood.

In order to get all the plant food in manure returned to the soil, the manure must go back as soon as produced.

Co-operative marketing associations are business enterprises formed to render marketing services for their members.

Plenty of air and a temperature of around 34 degrees F. in the potato storage cellar will prevent potato black heart.

Rural co-operation will probably solve some of the farmer's problems, but most farmers need to learn how to co-operate successfully with others.

Left Ear Is Keener

Left ears are becoming more efficient than those on the right side of the head, according to a professor of the Yale Medical school. He attributes this to the fact that Americans use the left ear almost exclusively for hearing over telephone receivers. Although both ears are of equal size, constant use of the left ear in telephoning has made it more efficient than the right one.

SCHOOL NOTES

Francis Hiery furnished the High school notes, and Pierre Kenyon, the grade notes.

The announcement was made Monday morning that Juanita Coe, with an average of 92.49 for the four years, would be valedictorian of the class of 1925. Doris Coleman, with an average of 90.7, won second honors, and will be salutatorian.

BASKET BALL—GIRLS' GAME

Plymouth High school girls overwhelmed the local Methodist church team by the large score of 27 to 9, last Friday night. Regardless of the score, the game was hotly contested from the very start. The M. E. church team was made up almost entirely of the Plymouth Alumni, and it could be plainly seen that with more practice together, the church team would give our High school girls a good run. However, we are conceited enough to think that it would be impossible for them to best us.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Wednesday of last week, the second team journeyed to Farmington to play. The game was hard and fast, but in the end Plymouth won by a score of 12 to 19. The high scorer was Lawrence Holmes with 12 points. Line-up—Forwards, Holmes and Lockwood; guards, Hickey and Hiery, (third quarter, Mills); center, Kurze.

Last Friday, Plymouth High school boys played the Methodist church team and lost by a score of 32 to 20.

On Thursday, the 20th, Mr. Ball presented his prices and photos for approval of the class, but the class decided to leave it to a later date.

On Friday, the 21st, the Seniors had a class meeting in which Mr. Camp presented his photos for approval. The class also looked over some invitations.

GRADE NOTES

Jean Jolliffe and Jean Cassidy were promoted from the second A to the third B.

The second graders are making health posters. George Washington's birthday was celebrated by the second grade this week.

The fourth graders have finished their February patriotic booklets. Miss McClumpha's fourth grade entertained Miss Kimball's room, last Friday.

Mary Corcoran is absent from school with scarlet fever.

Miss Bird's fifth grade room entertained Miss McClumpha's fourth grade pupils.

Miss VanTassel, the sixth grade teacher, is out of school because of illness.

The third grade had a Valentine party for their mothers, last week.

THE THEATRE

"A MAN MUST LIVE"
"A Man Must Live," directed by Paul Sloane from James Creelman's adaptation of the story, "Jungle Law," by I. A. R. Wylie, will be the feature at the Penniman Allen theatre on Saturday, February 28. It's Richard Dix's second starring production for Paramount. Jacqueline Logan, Edna Murphy and others appear in support.
When Geoffrey Farnell (Dix) returns to America after the Great War he spends months in fruitless search for a job, during which time he all but starves to death. He is given a job as reporter on a paper run by the unscrupulous Job Haddock. At almost the same time he meets "Mops" Collins, once the toast of the town, now a dancer in a cheap cabaret. She is ill and Farnell cares for her, although he is hardly earning enough to keep himself.
Several weeks pass. One day Haddock calls Jeff into his office and warns him that unless he brings in a "live" story pretty soon he will be fired. Farnell suddenly realizes that life is but a jungle where every animal keeps alive by preying on other animals. He can't afford to let anything stop him from getting this story—a man must live.
The picture goes on to show how Dix lands his story and almost ruins things in general for himself.
George Nash, Charles Beyer and others appear in the supporting cast.

"THE ONLY WOMAN"
A country club, a London cafe, a French village and a Mexican hamlet, as well as a luxurious private yacht figure in Norma Talmadge's new picture, "The Only Woman," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, next Sunday and Monday, March 1 and 2.
A great part of the action takes place on the high seas aboard the yacht. The scenes were made in the Pacific ocean off Catalina Island.
The yacht was wrecked during the making of the picture. Later, however, it was raised from the ocean bottom.
Besides Eugene O'Brien, Norma Talmadge's leading man, the cast of "The Only Woman" consists of Matthew Betz, Edward Davies, Winter Hall, Percy Williams, Stella di Lanti, Murdock MacQuarrie, Neal Dodd and Louis Dumar.

"IDLE TONGUES"
Skillful direction, a capable cast and a tense dramatic story combine to make "Idle Tongues" which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, March 4 and 5, one of the season's most interesting pictures.
The story is an adaptation from Joseph C. Lincoln's novel of New England life, "Dr. Nye," and hinges upon a battle of love against small town gossip. Percy Marmont and Doris Kenyon hold the leading roles, with the inimitable Claude Gillingwater at the head of an excellent supporting cast.
Marmont in the role of Dr. Nye, physician in a Cape Cod village, serves a term in prison to protect the name of his wife, who had cheated him of the girl he really loved. Upon his return from prison he resumes his practice, only to become involved with the town boss, the brother of his wife, who has since died.
He endures persecution in silence and is finally set upon by a mob, incited by the boss. In the end, however, he finds justice in the most unexpected and dramatic situations that ensue.
Marmont gives a convincing and sincere interpretation of the village physician. His work, and that of Miss Kenyon, as "Katherine Minot," his sweetheart, is far above the ordinary, and has much to do with the success of the play.
Malcolm McGregor and Lucille Rickson are happily cast as youthful sweethearts, and rare character bits are done by Gillingwater, David Torrence, Vivie Oden, Dan Mason and Ruby Lafayette.
Lambert Hillyer, who directed the film has added another success to his long list of screen plays, and the photoplay by Karl Struss is unusually good.
"Idle Tongues" was produced by Thomas H. Ince for First National release.

Today's Reflections

The airplane is 21 years old and in speed, high-flying and recklessness it comes up to about what we would expect of that age.

Most any Plymouth auto driver will tell you that sometimes the biggest nut holds the steering wheel.

Uncle Sam says he will put 30,000,000 silver dollars into circulation. That's going to create a brisk market for suspenders.

An Ohio woman lost 20 pounds during her campaign for public office. So we suppose all the women in the country will soon be going in for politics.

So far as Plymouth is concerned, its a race between the seed catalogue and spring hats as to which is the real forerunner of an early spring.

One thing about the radio, it never broadcasts family troubles. The party-line telephone still looks after that.

An eastern doctor says "a man is as strong as his stomach." It's a good thing some of them are not as strong as their breath.

If you want to see something funny, watch the Plymouth man who has dug up an old composition book he used at school and see how proud he is of himself.

The average woman believes that when her husband begins to preach economy around the house, he has been doing something he shouldn't have done.

Right now our idea of a get-rich-quick scheme would be to have 10,000 hens and each one of them laying an egg a day.

Most Plymouth citizens realize that family trees are no different from the other kind. They all need pruning occasionally.

It may be that a girl's face is her fortune, but that doesn't mean that she is twice as rich if she is two-faced.

We certainly hope we'll have everlasting peace, so we can go ahead and spend the balance of our lives paying for the war.

The average Plymouth boy's idea of a square deal is usually ninety per cent the best of it.

If all kisses lasted like the first one, most of the courts in this country would close up and stay closed.

Men are supposed to be superior to women, but you never saw a woman standing on a street corner cleaning her ears with a match.

THE Ford car has remained the undisputed leader for value in the motoring world.

There are certain fundamental reasons why this is true. It is a car, properly designed and staunchly constructed, having a motor which has proved itself reliable, long-lived and economical.

It is adequately serviced by an organization reaching to every community and neighborhood.

These combine to give the Ford car the highest resale value in proportion to list price.

And as production volume of the Ford has grown the purchase price has been steadily reduced.
