SPECIAL ATTRACTION AT LOCAL THEATRE SATURDAY

CHARLES W. WEIGLE OF DETROIT POLICE DEPARTMENT WILL SING AND A SPLENDID PICTURE IS OFFERED.

As an added feature of the Saturday night entertainment at the Penniman Allen theatre, the management has secured Charles W. Weigle of the Detroit Police Department to give several vocal numbers. Mr. Weigle is a singer of rare ability, and he is one of the most popular soloists in Detroit, and has appeared in the largest theatres of the city.

The feature picture will be "Cheaper to Marry," a screen version of Samuel Shipman's drama of husbands and demi-husbands. It is a Robert Z. Leonard production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and is the first picture made by that director in several years in which his wife, Mae Murray, has not appeared.

The cast is headed by Lewis S. Stone, who has shown to such good advantage in "Scaramouche," "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Why Men Leave Home," "Husbands and Lovers" and "Inez from Hollywood."

Faulette Duval, a new face—and form—from the Ziegfeld "Follies," has the leading feminine role, that of a "Broadway Butterfly." Previously she played Madame de Pompadour in Valentino's "Monseigneur Beaucaire," and the lady lion tamer in "He Who Gets Slapped."

Conrad Nagel and Marguerite de la Motte appear as the young married pair, and others in the cast include Louise Fazenda, as a cynical woman about town; Claude Gillingwater, as a wealthy old grocer; and Richard Wayne, as a young musician.

The picture tells a smart, sophisticated story of the manner in which two men manage their romance in life. One, the junior partner of the firm marries the girl of his dreams and they struggle along like most young newweds. The other, the senior member, believes that mutual freedom is the only solution of the sex problem, and induces the woman of his dreams to agree with his theory, only, however, because of her love for him.

PEOPLES STATE BANK CELEBRATE FIRST BIRTHDAY

The Peoples State Bank have a large ad in today's issue of the Mail, in which they announce the completion of the bank's first year of business. During the past year the bank has enjoyed a steady growth, and at the close of business on June 30th, the total amount of resources was more than a half a million dollars. This is a splendid record, and not only speaks well for the management of the officers and directors of the bank, but also to the prosperity of the village and surrounding community.

RICHARDS FAMILY REUNION

Sunday, June 21st, ninety members of the Richards family met at the home of Henry Kiet at Perrinsville, for their annual reunion. Those present were from Plymouth, Northville, South Lyon, Brighton, Detroit, Pontiac and Flint, practically all of the Michigan descendants and relatives of Thomas and Eliza Richards, who make this annual pilgrimage to some common meeting place, and renew the old ties of friendship and relationship. A pot-luck dinner was served under the beautiful trees, and the rest of the time was spent in visiting and a program furnished by the entertainment committee.

DEATH OF MRS. E. E. FOSTER

Mrs. Edward E. Foster, for the last nine years a resident of Plymouth, died at Ford hospital, Detroit, on the morning of July 3rd, and funeral services were held from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Harold H. Roberts, at Royal Oak, Monday afternoon. Interment was in the family lot at Clarkston; Rev. S. Conger Hathaway officiating.

Mrs. Foster was born on the 10th of May, 1863, the daughter of Philip and Elizabeth Grow. She was educated in the Waterford, Oakland County, and Pontiac schools, and resided on the home farm till her marriage on October 13th, 1887.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster came to Plymouth nine years ago, and shortly afterward became members of the Presbyterian church, where she found many warm friends, with whom she engaged in all the activities of the different societies—a church home that afforded her great happiness. She was also a member of the Plymouth Woman's Club, and was always an interested and active member.

Mrs. Foster was a niece of Rev. William Grow, the founder and first pastor of the Plymouth Baptist church, and Mrs. Wm. Bassett, whose husband was for many years in the furniture business in Plymouth.

She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Helen Clise and Mrs. Harold H. Roberts, both of Royal Oak; two sisters, Mrs. G. F. Gross of Waterford, Oakland County, and Mrs. F. B. Fox of Minneapolis; a brother, Judson P. Grow of Waterford, and numerous nieces and nephews.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

The Village Treasurer has sent out the tax notices for village taxes for 1925. He wishes especially to emphasize the fact that people MUST bring their tax notices and water bills with them to receive proper credit for their payments. He cannot receive any payments after 4:00 o'clock p. m. This regulation is necessary in order to allow him time to check up his day's collections.

Dirt is being hauled to the south side of the Plymouth road east of Mill street, to widen out the bank so that a sidewalk may be rebuilt there. The one originally laid to the cemetery was destroyed when the pavement was constructed. It may be necessary to wait until next season to build the walk, for the new fill will have to have some time to settle.

Sunday morning, the new fire truck answered an alarm from near the Dabys plant, where the grass was burning along the railroad tracks. The flames were put out before they reached the buildings. Monday evening, both trucks made a run to the bakery on Penulman avenue, where smoke was coming out from the basement. Evidently the oven was responsible for the smoke, for no fire was found.

The firemen appreciate very much a check for $100.00 sent them by the Detroit House of Correction Board through Captain Dennison, for their services at the fire at the Farm last week. Some new pieces of fire fighting equipment will be purchased with the money.

More space is being made for the Manager's office at the village hall, by moving a partition near the entrance door. A new floor will also be laid and the room repainted. This will make the office much easier to work in. The Commission has authorized the contracting for the building of a warehouse, back of the village hall, to hold the valuable machinery that has no home now, and also for the rebuilding of the inside of the village hall to make a larger fire truck room, and to provide several more rooms on the first floor. This will end the usefulness of the old theatre room and stage, but there are several auditoriums in Plymouth now to care for meetings of any size, and elections and board meetings can still be accommodated.

Last week's notes mentioned the fact that we were getting cinders from the Detroit Edison Company for Theodore street, next to the P. M. tracks. We were surprised and pleased to receive receipted freight bills from the Edison Company for these cinders. That means that up to date that very accommodating corporation has furnished the village with some 300 tons of cinders of first class quality for road work absolutely free. The village appreciates very much the courtesy of the Edison people.

Albert Smith, who for a number of years conducted a pool room and confectionery store in north village, near the Pere Marquette depot, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Amy Bennett in Detroit, Friday morning, July 3, 1925. Mr. Smith had been in poor health for a number of years. He came to Plymouth from South Lyon about twenty years ago. He was 70 years of age, and besides his sister, Mrs. Bennett, where he made his home since leaving Plymouth, he leaves another sister, Mrs. Dora Ryder also of Detroit. Interment was made in the South Lyon cemetery.

WASHTENAW COUNTY WOMEN PLANNING CAMP

Last week a committee of rural women met at the county agent's office and made plans for the second annual camp at Camp Hickett during the first week in August. Last year 35 women were in attendance at the camp and they were all unanimous in requesting another camp this year. Members of the committee selected by the women at camp last year, to make arrangements for this year's camp are: Mrs. N. W. Laird, Salem; Mrs. I. R. Johnson, Salem; Mrs. Bert Kouney, Webster; Mrs. Gertrude Beckington, Ypsilanti; Mrs. W. H. Every, Bridgewater; Mrs. Fannie J. Jameson, Superior; and Mrs. Everett Collins, Saline.

At the last meeting of the officers of the Pomona Grange it was decided to cooperate in holding this year's rural women's camp; and asking each subordinate Grange to send at least one delegate to the camp. Miss Jennie Buell and Mrs. Strang, members of the Pomona Grange, attended the meeting of the committee, last Friday. Miss Buell and Mrs. Laird were selected on the program committee to assist Mr. Oster in arranging this year's program.

There will be lectures and demonstrations, which will include special features relative to recreation, health and music. Among the subjects to be emphasized will be household management, millinery, interior decoration, basket making, and study of birds. Special attention will be made to secure instructors for games, which can be used in community meetings, such as Grange, Farmers' clubs and Parent-Teacher associations and so forth.

Every evening there will be a special assembly and camp fire meeting, including singing, music and lectures from prominent speakers.

Some rural women have already registered for this year's camp with the county agent. Accommodations are limited to sixty persons. Women in the county interested should send in their names at once to County Agent Oster, so that when general programs and announcements are ready they can be mailed to those who are interested in going to camp.

This year the camp for the boys and girls is in July just previous to the rural women's camp.—Washtenaw Post.

ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Every taxpayer who is interested in the welfare of our public schools, should be present at this meeting.

PICNIC A GREAT SUCCESS

The picnic given by the members of Our Lady of Good Counsel church at the new Shoreham park, on July 4th, was a most enjoyable affair and a great success. There was a large turnout, and everybody was delighted with the splendid facilities with which the park is equipped for occasions of this kind. One of the pleasing features of the day, was the program presented under the direction of Miss Mary Mertens in honor of the anniversary of Fr. Lefevre's ordination to the priesthood. Fr. Lefevre was presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses from Miss Mertens and the children of the parish.

ROTARIANS WILL HAVE PICNIC

A joint picnic of the Wayne and Plymouth Rotary Clubs will be held at the tourist camp in Plymouth, today, Friday, July 10th, at 4:00 o'clock. The Plymouth Club is furnishing the cars, and the Wayne Club the program. The two clubs have been looking forward for some time to an inter-city gathering, and the members are anticipating a most pleasant time.

ANDERSON-MUELLER

Miss Cornelia Mueller and Mr. Ray Anderson of Detroit, were married Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Mueller, 381 Main street, Plymouth, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. H. Halliday of Salem. The wedding party then repaired to the Detroit Yacht Club, where an elaborate dinner was served. The bridal couple left later on a honeymoon trip to Northern Michigan resorts. They will reside in Detroit, where Mr. Anderson is engaged in the real estate business.

MUSIC TO PLAY PART IN FARM DAY PROGRAM

Music will play a prominent part in the entertainment side of the program for the eighth annual Farmers' Day at the Michigan State College on July 31, according to tentative plans announced this week by the committee in charge.

In addition to the band concert, which has been an annual feature of the day, a big community church choir singing contest will be staged. The preliminaries of the singing contest will be run off in the morning, with finals at the general meeting in the afternoon. Business and recreation are to be mixed in even portion at this year's Farmers' Day. The picnic lunch under the beautiful campus trees at noon, the interesting horse pulling contest, and the various musical features will all contribute to the entertainment of the day.

Serious side of the program will not be missing, however, and farmers who attend the big round-up will find plenty of useful and instructive features. Inspection of the extensive experimental fields in the morning will occupy the time of most of the visitors. Definite routes will be mapped out so that things of chief interest to the individual may be reached easily. In addition, outdoor exhibits based on timely agricultural problems in the various departments of the college work, will be displayed on the campus. Climaxing the whole day will be the general meeting in the afternoon. The whole Farmers' Day crowd will gather around the speakers' stand on the campus to hear state and national farm leaders discuss vital problems, and to hear the musical numbers on the program.

WILSON-LESTER

Ralph A. Wilson of Birmingham, and Miss Mildred Lester of Sandusky, Mich., were married at the Methodist parsonage, Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock, Rev. D. D. Nagle performing the ceremony. The bride was a former member of Rev. Nagle's church, while he was pastor at Sandusky. She is a niece of Mrs. Elsie Fisher of this village. The young couple left after the ceremony for a motor trip to Ohio and New York.

WOMEN'S ACHIEVEMENT DAY SUCCESSFUL

MEETING HELD AT WAYNE HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM, FRIDAY, JUNE 26TH, WELL ATTENDED.

For the past few years certain lines of adult education have been fostered through the medium of agricultural extension service. During the season of 1924-25, the major project in Wayne county has been that pertaining to clothing. The year's work closed with an Achievement Day, held at the Wayne High school gymnasium, with an attendance of nearly two hundred women.

Exhibits illustrating the various phases of the work were arranged by participating clubs, along the walls of the gymnasium. These consisted of necessary sewing equipment; various machine attachments mounted and labeled; samples of the use of machine attachments; the inset pocket; bound buttonholes and how to make them; the one hour dress, how to measure, fold material, cut and fit; the one hour dress ready made showing variations of different kinds; the alteration of patterns; fitting of altered patterns; applications of fitted pattern to various styles of dress as well as undergarments; silhouettes of the ages; also the smart, beautiful and poor silhouettes; the effect of line and design in dress; posters showing appropriate dress for various occasions and occupations.

The forenoon program, with Mrs. Albert Ebersole of Plymouth, in charge, consisted of a one hour dress demonstration by Mrs. Frances Shook of Wayne. Explanation of its fitting and variations, also its value in remodeling was made by Mrs. Rose Anderson of Belleville. Miss Agnes Norcross, state clothing specialist, gave a very interesting discussion of the clothing project, its aims and purposes. At the close of the session, Mrs. Shook proved to the ladies that the one hour dress was not impossible, since she was able to complete it in forty-five minutes and put it on for inspection.

Having adjourned for a box lunch and social hour at noon, the afternoon session began at 1:30 p. m., with Mrs. E. T. McElhugh in charge. Music and club roll call awakened a lively interest in the meeting. The various clubs responded with stunts, music and yells, which were both original and entertaining. A report was given by Miss Lois M. Corbett, on extension work in Wayne county during the past year. Miss Corbett Williams, state clothing specialist, told "What Home Economics Extension Work Means," in which she said that "Extension work is a nation-wide movement for adult education or the development of people. It means: (1) better informed individuals; (2) fairer minded individuals and more efficient homemakers. Education is a change: (1) in knowledge or things known; (2) in attitude or things felt; (3) in skill or things done. Ruskin was quoted as having said, 'All knowledge is lost which ends in the knowing, for every truth is a candle to knowledge.' With the foregoing statements to work on much can be accomplished through organized efforts, for organization means: (1) getting people with similar ideals together; (2) establishing definiteness of purpose; (3) dividing responsibility; (4) developing initiative and keener thinking which leads to well directed competition; (5) appreciating folks to a greater extent; (6) attaining greater achievements."

Mrs. Louise Campbell, state home demonstration leader, with her unusually enthusiastic spirit, held the audience enthralled to the last. Other projects relating to the home and community were discussed in detail, including nutrition and health, household management and clothing. The explanation speeded with bits of humor and experiences common to all homemakers proved very entertaining as well as enlightening. The open discussion following served to show that a majority of the women present wished to continue with an advanced clothing project next year, and with a minor project in nutrition.

The day closed with the sun shining within as well as without, and the women departed for their homes feeling it had been a day well spent.

LOIS M. CORBETT,
Home Demonstration agent.

NOW YOU'RE SHOUTING

President Coolidge has told government officials that the revenues of the country are now sufficient to warrant curtailing off another $300,000,000 from our taxes, and preparations are being made to reduce them accordingly. We have no means of knowing where the cut will be made, but we are hoping that the little fellow gets it first and deepest. For eight long years we have been paying dearly for the war, and even a few dollars relief comes as a blessing. It isn't going to hurt business any, either, to lop off a few dollars on everyone's income tax, because the money saved will be put directly into the channels of trade. Experts figure that revenues can be reduced without endangering the government budget, so the president is taking them at their word and ordering a reduction, with a suggestion that the cut be made in time to again relief for those who must step up again next March and fill out an income tax blank. Add this good news to the fine crop reports reaching Plymouth lately, and it looks like we've got a lot to be thankful for.

HARVEST YOURS NOW

Without entering into an argument as to what crops are good or bad in this community, there is one that everybody in Plymouth will agree is a "bumper" and never more flourishing—and that's the weed crop. It has certainly been a weed-growing season around here. The worst part of this tremendous weed crop is that too little of it is being harvested. Vacant lots are being overlooked, with the result that in some places ridding them of weeds at any time now is going to prove a big problem. Residents with gardens have had a hard time to keep their vegetables from being smothered out, with the result that where it did not seem absolutely necessary to destroy weeds they have been permitted to flourish undisturbed. And many who do not have gardens have weeds, but not the time or the inclination to get rid of them.

We have often called attention in the past to the grave danger arising from weed-grown yards, vacant lots and fence corners. They furnish ideal breeding grounds for insect pests and flies, and these in turn carry deadly germs into every part of the community. Doctors trace many summer epidemics and many deaths to that source, and that is why they are so persistent in their demands that weeds be kept out or plowed under. We've never been able to see just what good purposes weeds serve, but there is no need in wasting time trying to find out. All of us know they are a menace to the health of the community. And that is sufficient excuse for getting rid of them now, before they have done their part toward visiting a deadly epidemic upon the community.

TAKE A LITTLE REST

When the word "vacation" meant about as much to the average citizen of Plymouth as the word "limousine" means to a lot of us today, a fellow didn't do much worrying in advance, for vacations were enjoyed only by those whose pockets were well lined with coin of the realm. It is true one could ride a long distance on a railroad for a dollar, but in those days it was far more different that it is now to get hold of the dollar. And it also seemed that there were more places to put a dollar when we did get hold of it.

Now it is different. Now everyone seems to feel that a vacation, two weeks to go where he pleases and do what he pleases, is a part of summer living. The auto has made it possible for the entire family to take much longer trips than would be possible if railroad fares had to be reckoned with, and cooking outfits carried in the car also enables its occupants to escape costly hotel bills along the route of travel. If we had nothing else to praise the auto for, we could spend a lot of time in praising it for getting the American people out of doors and into the open air.

Ask your family doctor if he thinks you need a vacation—if you are in doubt about it—and he'll tell you truthfully that you do. Time to relax and rest from your work, time to take it easy and plan ahead, time to see just how your neighbors in other communities are spending their time is better than all of the medicine the doctor could give you. Don't figure a two week's vacation is an unnecessary expense. It will add to both your health and your happiness, and that is enough to make it worth all that it costs.

Frank Francisco, caretaker of R. M. Brownson's farm in Pleasant Valley, thinks he has a crop of alfalfa that cannot be beaten. His eight acre field was covered with a growth of thick hay that measured more than three and a half feet in length. It went about three tons to the acre.—Brighton Argus.

The Detroit Recreation Camp at Euler lake, four miles north and west of Brighton, opened Monday. The city owns better than 300 acres on both sides of the lake. Plans are complete for giving 2,000 children an outing during their vacation. A 150-foot oven is being installed to take care of the baking for the entire camp.

The contract for Northville's new theatre will be let this week. The Record is assured by Harry Lush of Plymouth. The new building will provide 710 seats all on one floor and will be the very latest design in theatre construction. It is expected that active construction work will start about the 15th of July.—Northville Record.

Few preachers have the chance to go back to a church which they served nearly half a century ago. This was the privilege of Rev. James E. Jacklin, Sunday, when he faced the Methodist audience. As a young man he came to Northville in 1878 as pastor of this Methodist charge. Mr. Jacklin was one of the founders of the Epworth League, which was started in 1888. For the past 20 years he has had charge of the Old People's Home at Chelsea.—Northville Record.

ELM

The Elm Sunday-school is still meeting with the Community church school at Livonia. The services are very interesting and Mrs. Phelps invites all Elm friends to come and join.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bentley entertained Prof. and Mrs. G. S. Corwin of Princetown University, for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ableson of Detroit and Cass Lake, entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Bentley and their guests, Prof. and Mrs. G. S. Corwin, at their summer home on Cass Lake, on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Michelin entertained Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Chabot of Detroit, over the Fourth of July week-end.

The Ladies' Aid of the Community church at Livonia Center will give an ice cream social at the home of Mrs. Richard Smith at Elm, on Friday, July 17. Everybody come and bring your friends and have a good time.

Mrs. George Bentley, Mrs. Fred Wolfrom, Mrs. Walter Sharrow, Mrs. Richard Smith and Miss Grace Wright of Elm, and Mrs. Ralph Stringer of Redford, motored over with Mrs. George Michelin to Wayne, to attend the Achievement Day program and demonstration of all the sewing clubs in Wayne county, under the leadership of Miss Lois Corbett, home demonstration agent of Wayne county. The program was most interesting, the speakers including Miss Sorenson, and Miss Clara Williams, state clothing specialist, and Mrs. Louise H. Campbell, state home demonstration leader from the M. A. C. at Lansing. At the beginning of the afternoon session each club had to respond to the roll call with some yell or feature, and some proved very unique and interesting. Elm club responded with a yell, rooting especially for Miss Corbett. The yell—

Rah! Rah! Rah! for Ma! Ma! Ma! She's joined the sewing club, Sewing like a lightning bug; Making such a lot of duds. One bet, two bet, you bet.

For CORBETT.
Rah! Rah! Rah!

The Elm demonstration included set-in pockets and buttonholes, bias bindings and hem stitching.

Work on the new school house is being rushed through, and Elm will be proud of the new building when completed. Next Monday evening, July 13th, will be the annual school meeting at Elm, and every good American should come out to plan the year's work. You cannot expect your board to please you if you do not come out and tell them what you want. This year you will elect your director. We all think we are wonderful parents, and we would be very angry if any one told us we were not, and yet how many of us neglect the most necessary part of our child's training—the school. Let us all turn out and have a real meeting, as we did last year. Fifty votes were cast last year against seven the year before. Let's make it a hundred this year.

Mr. and Mrs. George Michelin and family motored to Milford, recently, to spend a day with Mr. and Mrs. Louis LaLonde, who have a cottage at Lovejoy Park, on Seven Lakes.

Picked Up About Town

It remains for Dad Plymouth to discover, using his own language, that "a little money can make big snobs out of little people."

Some young fellows will drive a 1915 model car, but they don't like to drive with a 1915 model car.

"About the biggest fool in the world," says Dad Plymouth, "is the man who thinks he can keep his wife happy without providing her with something better than the neighbors have."

We don't have to fight Mexico. If we supply the ammunition the Mexicans will fight each other.

Dad Plymouth declares that "some girls think that the height of immodesty is for father to appear in company minus his coat and with his trousers held up with suspenders."

Chicago gunmen are now going after the police. That's what comes of being kind to them for so long.

"The best man doesn't always get the bride," asserts Dad Plymouth, "but the bride never realizes it until after the honeymoon is over."

"My idea of a loving husband," contends Dad Plymouth, "is the fellow who could take his wife to a ball game and answer all of her fool questions without getting mad."

GARDEN GROVE

"OUR RESTRICTIONS ARE YOUR PROTECTION"

ALL OURS

A little house of our own have we,
With neither turrets nor towers,
No balustrades nor stately halls,
But it's all ours, all ours.

Our works of art are very scarce,
Our Turkish rugs are few,
And yet the thought that all is ours
Thrills us through and through.

We have a small tidy lawn,
And beds of fragrant flowers,
A hedge, a shady tree or two,
And they're ours, all ours.

Our happiness is quite complete,
Through sunshine and through showers,
We're masters of our domain,
For it's ours, all ours.

—Iva Clare Downey.

It is the inborn desire of every man to own his own home. There is no greater satisfaction than that of knowing that the house you live in is yours, all yours. Sooner or later you will build your home. The best time to get started is right now. But, before you build,

THINK OF THESE FACTS

What kind of a house are you going to build and where are you going to build it? The kind of house and the conveniences are important, but the most important factor in planning your home is the location. The price of the property on which you are going to build means a lot, and our prices in Garden Grove are lower than in any other well restricted subdivision near us or within miles of us. The restrictions in Garden Grove are high enough and such that you or any other person no matter what his station in life, would be proud to own a home or lot there.

BUT THE LOCATION OF GARDEN GROVE Cannot be duplicated outside the city of Detroit.

Ten years ago that could not have been said, but today, the day of automobile transportation, it can well be said. The location of Garden Grove makes for increased values, resulting in a profit for the investor and the home owner. The ideal location of a subdivision or a home is near an intersection of two main highways. Price, improvements, conveniences and restrictions all count, but most important of all is location.

In finding the location for your home you will want to come to Garden Grove because:—

You will live in an American community, occupied by Americans.

You will live in a community where other modern, well built, well restricted homes will beautify your home and community.

You will live on the intersection of two great highways, the Seven Mile road and the Farmington road (both paved), where you have access to any part of the state of Michigan on good concrete roads without having to go a mile of dusty, dirty roads.

You will live where there is Bus Service by your door to Detroit and Northville on the Seven Mile road.

You will be within Five minutes' drive of Farmington.

Your children will have a good school and a good church to go to.

You will have good gravel roads and good water.

WHAT MORE COULD YOU ASK FOR?

So call us by phone, mail the coupon below, write us a card, or come out and see us at the office on the property, located at the intersection of Farmington and Seven Mile roads, and look at the location of our property. A look will convince you that you will want to build in Garden Grove.

We Will Help You Build

Trapper's Gun Wiped Out Enemy Snipers

General Bullard, who is writing his war memoirs for the public print, has been taken to task recently for speaking disparagingly of a certain American fighting unit. The man who spoke up for his old "outfit" was a sergeant major. This could only happen in America. In the old European countries there may at one time or other arise a dispute between staff officers about battles, tactics or strategy, but no man from the noncommissioned ranks would think of raising his voice against the "brass hats" as Tommy Atkins calls his "betters." Of course it was a well-known fact in France that there were about five or six million potential Fochs, Feringhs and Haigs in the ranks who could have "cleansed up" on the enemy a good deal quicker than was done by the high command, but as a rule all war-winning talk never went any further than some arguments in rest billets, which always ceased abruptly when the officer of the day came along. This writer recalls only one case in which a soldier's idea of eliminating a grave danger in the Somme sector was acted upon. One day there arrived in the line an old man who had lied and lied about his age to get into the army. He was a trapper from the northern Canadian woods. Besides his service rifle he toted a long-barreled Mauser of his own. Patrols had been cut to pieces in No Man's land and it was hard to get volunteers to go out for wire repairs work. The old boy volunteered and by his cautious trapper's procedure, discovered that the enemy scouts had painted the barbed wire stakes with luminous paint on the side facing his line. When our scouts crawled past those posts in the night they were an excellent mark for snipers. The old trapper asked permission to upset the enemy's plan. He proceeded out in eerie No Man's land alone. With him he carried a straw sack, which he pulled slowly past the painted posts. The enemy snipers fired, thinking it the form of a man. And by the flash of the sniper's rifle the old fellow picked out his quarry. His long Mauser spat death and destruction each time a bullet came whizzing at his straw sack. He wiped out the most effective enemy snipers on the Somme that way—Pierre Van Passen, in the Atlanta Constitution.

May Displace Cocaine

A new anesthetic, which ultimately may result in the abandonment of cocaine for this purpose, has been discovered by Doctor Schulemann, German scientist. It was announced by a bulletin of the American Chemical Society.

The new compound, known as tutekain, is said to have been discovered among the intermediate products in the manufacture of artificial rubber. Unlike cocaine, it is nonpoisonous in practical use, it is said, and can be sterilized without decomposition.

"Cocaine," according to the society's report, "is so much in demand in Germany today that because of its habit-forming properties attempts are being made to discontinue its use and gradually forbid its manufacture and traffic."

Both in chemistry and pharmacy, it is said, German scientists are endeavoring to substitute synthetic chemicals for medicines obtained from plants.

Originality

A very able German by the name of Goethe once said that "those who remain imprisoned in the false notion of their own originality will always fall short of what they might have accomplished."

I know men who almost never accept new ideas or new suggestions which are brought to them. They have a false pride. They want all the ideas and all the suggestions to come from themselves.

There was once a city editor of a widely known newspaper who looked blithely on any reporter who ventured to come to the desk with a suggestion.

"I will furnish the suggestions," the city editor used to say, "you do as you are told."

Expert Advice

Some of our builders of new homes have a weakness for outdoor urns; others let architects persuade them to grace their lawns with these works of art. Recently, it is said, the mistress of a very elaborate establishment sought the advice of a florist as to the planting of a pair of particularly large creations of this kind.

"Have you seen them?" she asked the florist.

"Yes," was the subdued reply.

"What do you think I should put in them?"

"Dynamite, madam, dynamite."

Vampires

Practically all women—at least practically all those with whom I have had the misfortune to come into contact—are at heart vampires. Their demands on the egos of their lovers are blood-drawings, insatiable and insatiable. To maintain, as a writer in this magazine recently maintained, that women are men's playthings, is the illusion of a bachelor. But the converse, that the lover is the plaything of his lady, is utterly true.—Gilbert Frankau, in Hearst's International-Cosmopolitan.

The Sorrows of Sport

"What I don't understand about this here game of golf," said Uncle Ike, "is why some people play it when it makes 'em so darn mad"—Brooklyne Eagle.

After Years of Suffering

Will Browning, Pattonsburg, Mo., says, "Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured my wife of serious bilious attacks and constipation from which she had suffered for years." So easy to take, so pleasant in effect, and so small a cost—only 25c.—Advertisement.

ROUTE TAKEN BY PILGRIM FATHERS

Sailing From Plymouth Was Merely Incident.

The building of a Pilgrim monument by the side of Immingham (England) creek is a most praiseworthy undertaking, both to mark a spot of peculiar historic significance and to remind Americans of some too little remembered details of that Puritan migration which meant so much to this country. It is to be feared that many Americans of generally good information share the error which Mrs. Wintringham, M. P., in her address at the cornerstone laying charged against Lady Astor, of supposing that the Pilgrim fathers belonged at Plymouth and sailed from that port on their departure from England. The Immingham monument should teach them better, and remind them of the fact that the Pilgrims had nothing whatever to do with Plymouth, save to be, much against their will, driven into harbor there by stress of weather and need of repairs to their ship, declares a writer in the Washington Post.

It was in a very different and remote part of England that they originated, in Nottinghamshire, Lincolnshire and Yorkshire, with headquarters at Scrooby in the first named county. It was from an unfrequented and desolate spot in the fens of Lincolnshire, where Immingham creek flows into the estuary of the Humber, that they took ship for Holland. That was early in 1608, their first attempt at flight in the fall of 1607 having been frustrated by the authorities. After a dozen years at Leyden they embarked at Delfthaven for Virginia, in the rickety ship Speedwell, stopping at Southampton to be joined by friends from London on the Mayflower. Next, because the Speedwell was leaking, they were forced to put in at Dartmouth. Finally, after coming several hundred miles west of the British Isles, they were forced to put back to save the Speedwell from foundering. They made Plymouth their port of refuge, whence as quickly as possible they set out again, all in the Mayflower, the Speedwell being shut for further service.

The Pilgrim way begins, then, at Scrooby, in Nottinghamshire. The second spot worthy of marking is where this monument is being built at Immingham creek. The third is Leyden, the fourth Delfthaven, the fifth Southampton. So far as their intention was concerned, those five places should have comprised their entire European pilgrimage. But grave mishaps compelled them to add Dartmouth and Plymouth to the list, and all seven may well be commemorated. As for the Plymouth in New England where they finally settled, after first landing on Cape Cod, it had been thus named long before by Capt. John Smith, and they retained that name on finding that they were within the domains of the North Virginia or Plymouth company, instead of those of the Virginia or London company, as they had intended.

Old "Pilgrim's Progress"

An Old Testament Pilgrim's Progress has been found in four of the psalms by Dr. Herbert H. Gowen, professor of oriental language and literature at the University of Washington.

Doctor Gowen's translation differs from the standard one. He says he has preserved as nearly as possible the original meter of the Old Testament songs and has diligently connected the four chants into a continuous story of the pilgrims' return to the Promised land. "The conception behind the four psalms, which begin with the 120th, was the return of the Jewish exiles from Babylonian captivity," Doctor Gowen said. "The joy of the returning captives as they noticed the hills of their native land and the towers of Jerusalem is reflected in the songs."

Rough on the Cat

A professor of Harvard university has recently demonstrated in the same experiment both the power and the awfulness of science. Everybody knows that when a cat is mad or excited his hair stands on end, he arches his back and holds his tail toward the starry firmament. This professor operated on the brain of a cat and made the cat permanently mad and excited. And all this was done without the least pain to the cat. But the poor cat's hair stands up, his claws are drawn out and he continuously scratches and spits.

Collie Held the Sheep

Wonderful sagacity was displayed by a sheep dog of Cliviger, near Burnley, Scotland. A farmer driving a flock of 50 sheep along a lonely road had a heart attack and collapsed by the roadside. When he regained consciousness his dog was whining and keeping the sheep in a compact bunch near the farmer's prostrate body. The dog's feet were swollen and sore with constant running in circles to prevent the sheep from breaking away.

Mushroom Broke Stone

A Nanrucker mushroom with a yearning for the sunshine has proved a wonder. A bump was noticed in the concrete walk on Independence lane. A few days later the surface of the walk was found to be broken. Examination revealed a mushroom, about five inches in diameter, which had forced its way up through two inches of solid concrete.

Helps Children Over Hot Weather

Summer complaint makes little headway with children whose careful mothers use Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy for stomach and bowel complaint, severe and sudden intestinal cramps and weakening diarrhoea. It acts almost instantly, and given in a little sweetened water is easy to take. Good for grown persons, too.—Advertisement.

Today's Reflections

Our idea of the biggest optimist in Plymouth is the man who uses the rent money to make the first payment on a car.

People who earn their living "by the sweat of their brow" ought to be doing pretty well these hot days.

The 1925 model bedtime story starts out this way: "Are you sure that you've locked the garage?"

By this time a good many Plymouth men have found that the easiest thing to grow in a garden is to grow tired.

The country is safe for another year. We've finished harvesting another bumper crop of college graduates.

There may be ideal husbands and ideal wives, but they don't always marry each other.

It's hard to be a leader in America. You can't tell which way the darned crowd's going.

There are two things that get nowhere—eating a dill pickle just before going to bed and wearing a $50 suit of underwear.

Now and then some Plymouth woman gives us the impression that the only reason she married her husband was to have him around where she could devote all of her time to telling him what ails him.

When a Plymouth young man talks about himself a good deal, he is bound to be a bore to everybody except some fool girl who is in love with him.

About the only fellow who is not happy while learning nature's lessons is the chap who has ivy poison and chiggers.

The first thing the married women read in the newspaper are the death notices, and the first thing the old maids read are the marriage licenses.

We had a warm spot in our heart for the Prince of Wales until he started writing poetry, and now we're against all monarchies.

We have also reached the stage where the washerwoman is about the only person entitled to have three sheets in the wind.

We've wondered why they don't vaccinate Plymouth girls on their ears. Then nobody could see the scar.

Here's a good sign. Mothers have quit naming their daughters after Pullman cars and gone back to the Mary's and Jane's.

Most Plymouth men are just like grown-up babies. It only takes a minor dislocation to make them think the whole world is out of joint.

in one year

The people of Plymouth and surrounding territory have hung up another record. Through hard work and real thrift they have demonstrated that they can get ahead. They have proven that with the right kind of help and encouragement they can save money.

Listen to this:

One year ago the doors of THE PEOPLES STATE BANK of Plymouth were opened for the first time. They were swung wide for all the people. Poor and rich, young and old, working girls and housewives, farmers and preachers, shopmen and merchants—all were invited to enter and were made to feel a welcome.

More than HALF A MILLION DOLLARS of resources for June 30th was the result.

That's a record of which Plymouth may be proud. Every depositor is congratulated by the directors and officers of this bank. Keep up the good work. And we in turn will promise to do all we can to help continue your prosperity.

THE THEATRE

"CHEAPER TO MARRY"

"Cheaper to Marry," Samuel Shipman's dramatic success from the New York stage has been brought to the screen by Robert Z. Leonard for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and will be seen at the Penniman Allen theatre on Saturday, July 11th.

And at last a play has been filmed without a single fundamental change in the plot. "Cheaper to Marry" was screened with unusual fidelity to the playwright's original story.

Based around a man's contempt for conventions, the picture, with its startling ending, brings out with realism that "free love" does not pay. The basic story is a powerful one, and under the skilled direction of Mr. Leonard, producer of all Mae Murray's biggest successes, a beautiful pictorialization of the gay whirl of modern social life provides the background for the intense dramatic action.

On the screen "Cheaper to Marry" has an exceptionally fine cast, including Paulette Goddard, Conrad Nagel, Lewis S. Stone, Marguerite de la Motte, Louise Fazenda, Claude Gillingwater and Richard Wayne.

Jim Knight, played by Mr. Stone, is a cynic who does not believe in marriage. He sets Evelyn Gardner up in a luxurious apartment. This role is played by Miss Duval.

Dick Tyler, portrayed by Mr. Nagel, holds that matrimony is the best policy, and he marries Doris Parker (Marguerite de la Motte). As the story comes to its conclusion in a thrilling scene in the stock exchange the wisdom of his course becomes apparent.

Louise Fazenda and Claude Gillingwater are seen in two of the best characterizations these prominent players have ever given, providing the picture with an endless chain of laughs. Richard Wayne is also in the cast.

"THE FIGHTING DEMON"

Lured into South America on the promise of a big job as a safe and vault expert, a profession in which he is pre-eminent, in his smashing new photodrama, "The Fighting Demon," Richard Talmadge runs the gamut of comedy and thrills as only this remarkable stunt star can do. Eventually he finds that the "big job" offered him is the somewhat unethical business of opening other people's safes and vaults; and right there he splits with the gang of crooks who have imported him for this purpose. "The Fighting Demon," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre on Wednesday, July 15th, contains a whole of a fight sequence between Dick and a South American champion down in Los Alvia, as well as a lot of excellent comedy play and romance. The cast which has been chosen to support Mr. Talmadge gives evidence of Director Rosson's ability to choose good actors and actresses. The story and scenario, were written by Charles Metz and James Bell Smith respectively.
