METHODISTS WILL HAVE PICNIC

Next Thursday morning at 9:00 a. m. there will be a picnic in front of the Methodist church a great concourse of Methodists, forming into a grand parade to traverse the highway and Grand River Pike between here and Island Lake, to spend a gala day in sports and recreation. Under the auspices of the Methodist Sunday-school, a special big day is being planned. Ball games, races, swimming, and a general good day of fellowship will be the order. It may be you have attended other picnics and outings, but you have never attended one just like this one is going to be.

Con. Hammond is in charge of sports, and George Burr, our new superintendent, will have general supervision of the day's activities, and will be in charge of the parade. Anyone who disobeys his orders will be fined five ice cream cones or more, in accordance with the enormity of the offense. If you haven't a car of your own to go in, come anyway, as there will be room in other cars. A special truck will be provided for children who have no other means of conveyance.

Each one driving is asked to "dollar up" his car in some special way. A big wonderful parade will be formed and kept all the way to the lake, and a picture will be taken before the start. All children under twelve must be accompanied by their parents, or under the supervision of their Sunday-school teacher or some other person, or they cannot be allowed. Parents and teachers will please attend to this matter. Remember the day—next Thursday, September 3, at 9:00 o'clock. And bring your own lunch. Every member of the church and Sunday-school, and any others who would like to join them for the day are invited.

PARAMOUNT WEEK IS COMING

WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 6-13 HAS BEEN DESIGNATED AS "PARAMOUNT WEEK"

Determination by the exhibitors to give the public only the film attractions in connection with Greater Movie Season has led 8000 of them throughout the country to band together to book Paramount Pictures exclusively during Paramount Week, September 6-13, it has been announced by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

This will mark the eighth annual Paramount Week, an event that now has come to be looked for both by the exhibitors and the motion picture public. It is significant that the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation has chosen the medium of the newspaper through which, in cooperation with the local exhibitors, to advertise Paramount Week. More than 3500 newspapers, daily and weekly, will be used in an advertising campaign.

It is customary during Paramount Week to review the accomplishments of the past year and forecast that which is to come. Paramount did much to hold the affection of the movie-going public during the past twelve months. Among the outstanding films it released were: "The Ten Commandments," "The Covered Wagon," "Peter Pan," "North of 36," and a long list of others of equal note.

Since then the Paramount fold has been enriched by additions of seven notable, namely, D. W. Griffith, the director; Harold Lloyd, the comedian, whose films will be released through Paramount; and Douglas MacLean, who has a similar arrangement with the corporation.

The season will see the release of such pictures as "The Pony Express," directed by James Cruze; "The Vanishing American," a George B. Seltz production of the American Indian, and many others.

The complete list of Paramount's "Greater Forty" to be released during the coming season follows:

"Night Life of New York," directed by Allan Dwan; "In the Name of Love," with Greta Nissen, Wallace Berry and others; "The Lucky Devil," with Richard Dix; "Rugged Water," directed by Irvin Willat; "Bogart on Horseback," directed by James Cruze; "The Street of Forgotten Men," directed by Herbert Brenon; "Wild Wild Susan," with Bobe Daniels; "Not So Long Ago," directed by Sidney Olcott; starring Betty Bronson; "Wild Horse Mesa," the Zane Grey story, directed by George B. Seltz; "The Coast of Polly," with Gloria Swanson; "A Son of His Father," from the Harold Bell Wright story; "The Trouble with Wives," with Florence Vidor, Tom Moore, Ford Sterling and others; "The Man Who Found Himself," starring Thomas Meighan.

"Flower of the Night," starring Pola Negri; in the Joseph Herzogheimer story; "New Brooms," the William de Mille production; "Lovers in Quarantine," starring Bobe Daniels; "The Pony Express," directed by James Cruze; "The Golden Princess," starring Betty Bronson; "Seven Keys to Baldpate," starring Douglas MacLean; "He's a Prince," starring Raymond Griffith; "The Best People," directed by Sidney Olcott; "The King on Main Street," with Adolphe Menjou and a star cast.

Seltz; "Cobra," with Rudolph Valentino; "That Royle Girl," directed by D. W. Griffith; "Lord Jim," from the Joseph Conrad story, featuring Percy Marmont.

"A Kiss for Cinderella," with Betty Bronson, directed by Herbert Brenon; "Crossroads of the World," with Pola Negri; "Womanhanded," with Richard Dix; "Polly of the Ballet," a William de Mille production; "Stage Door Johnny," with Raymond Griffith; "The Enchanted Hill," directed by Irvin Willat; "Conquered," with Gloria Swanson.

Fare will be 45c. Coming out, the city bus fare will be 10c, and the Plymouth bus fare, 35c, making the total each way the same.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN IDAHO

The remains of Mrs. Charles H. Sherman, who passed away at her home in Lewiston, Idaho, Tuesday, August 18th, arrived here last Saturday night, accompanied by Mr. Sherman. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Rev. D. D. Nagle officiating. The interment took place in the Newburg cemetery.

Mrs. Sherman was a lady greatly beloved by all who knew her.

Those from out of town who were here from out of town who were here to attend the funeral were: Dr. E. B. Holcomb and wife of Farmington; Mr. and Mrs. Axford, Mrs. Maggie Sherman and son, Welton, of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Booth, Mrs. Mary Wight, Mrs. Cherry, Theodore Sherman, Mrs. Alice Keltch, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Neeland and two sons and Mrs. Ina Condon of Detroit; William Phillips of Highland Park; Arthur Appleton and son of Redford, and J. BURGLARS ROB OIL FILLING STATION

Burglars broke into the gas filling station of Fleussling & Lang on Main street, late last week Thursday night or early Friday morning, by prying open one of the windows. The thieves broke off the hinges on the safe and then broke the combination, thus gaining access to the strong box and $305 in cash. The thieves also visited the Indian Oil filling station, and gained entrance by prying open a window at the rear. The safe here was unlocked, as no money is ever left in it, and the thieves found nothing of any value.

Chief of Police Springer had finger print experts here from Detroit the next day, and they went over the ground thoroughly.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tait accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bender of Worden, to Litchfield, Mich., for a week-end visit with Mrs. Bender's parents.

LADIES' DAY AT NORTHLAND COUNTRY CLUB

Northland Country Club was the scene of a pretty affair, Wednesday, August 19th, it being "Ladies' Day." There were about forty present. Golf was the feature of the morning. After a dainty luncheon in the grill room, which was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, the ladies gathered in the ball room, where the afternoon was spent in bridge, nine tables playing. Daily prizes were given the score winners, one of the first being awarded to Mrs. Luther Pock of this place. Mrs. Hull of Detroit; Mrs. Bicking of Farmington; Mrs. Greer of Redford, and Mrs. C. G. Shear of Plymouth, were the committee in charge. This was the beginning of a series of events the ladies are planning for the coming season.

CELEBRATION A GREAT SUCCESS

The Livonia Home Coming and Greater Brighton celebration, held at Bentley's Old Dutch Mill on the Five Mile road, last week Thursday, Friday and Saturday, was a splendid success in every way. There was a large attendance, and the attractions were all very good, indeed. The ball games were closely contested and very interesting. The Wayne county horseshoe tournament brought horseshoe pitchers from all over the county, and this sport proved one of the big features of the celebration. Many attended the dance every evening. Eddie Stinson and his flying squadron, were there, and many took the opportunity to take a ride in one of the planes. Clyde Bentley, who had the management of the celebration in charge, is to be congratulated upon its success.

HILLMER FAMILY REUNION

The Hillmer family held their reunion at Phoenix Park, last Sunday, with about thirty in attendance. A basket picnic dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour. During the afternoon, a photograph of Mrs. Louis Hillmer and fourteen grandchildren, ranging in age from one to fourteen years, was taken. Mr. and Mrs. Max Hillmer and two children of Anderson, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hubbard and two children of Wayne, were here to attend the reunion.

A HANDSOME OIL FILLING STATION

The new Palmer Service Station, located at the corner of Canton Center and Golden roads, is one of the finest gas filling stations in this vicinity. The building, which is constructed of fancy red brick with stone trimmings, is very attractive, and it is modern in every respect. The interior of the building is very conveniently arranged. The basement is given over to a hot water heating plant, air compressor and the storage tanks for lubricating oils. The ground floor contains a salesroom and the office, with a lavatory and toilet opening off this room for men. The west end of the building is given over to a rest room, lavatory and toilet for ladies. The station is equipped with two gas pumps and has a drain pit for cars. Two wide approaches lead from the Canton Center and Golden roads to the station. The Standard Oil Co's products are sold at the new station, and it is open from 9:00 a. m. to 10:00 p. m. G. W. M. Palmer is the manager. The new station is a credit to the fast growing section of Plymouth in which it is located.

NEW REAL ESTATE BOARD HELD FIRST LUNCHEON

The Plymouth Real Estate Board met at an informal luncheon, held last Tuesday noon at the Lutheran church dining room. Besides the board members there were several invited guests and several officials from state and national real estate organizations. After partaking of a most appetizing repast, served by the ladies of the Lutheran church, the meeting was called to order by R. R. Parrott, president of the local organization.

Mr. Parrott then introduced J. Elwood Andrews of Flint, president of Michigan Real Estate Association. President Andrews congratulated the local real estate men on their splendid organization, and gave them a brief outline of the work the new organization is expected to do. He urged them to formulate a plan of activities and then work to that plan. He also urged them to cooperate in every way with the village officials in the development and growth of Plymouth.

L. C. Baidorff of Lansing, executive secretary of the state association, was next introduced, and he spoke briefly upon the coming state convention to be held at Port Huron.

The next speaker introduced was William E. Hygren of Chicago, director of the extension department of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Mr. Hygren is a very able speaker, and he told in a very interesting manner the objects of a real estate board, such as has just been organized in Plymouth, and the work of the national organization with which he is connected. Cooperation among real estate dealers, selling methods and a spirit of community helpfulness were some of the important things the speaker emphasized.

It was a most pleasant and instructive meeting and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

INTERESTING NEWS FROM NEIGHBORING TOWNS

The first meeting of the Clarenceville Lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 427, was held last Wednesday evening.

Last Sunday, August 16th, the Evangelical church in Farmington celebrated the 80th anniversary of the founding of the church.

It was estimated that more than 10,000 persons attended the Oakland County Fair at Milford on Friday, and the attendance throughout the fair was a large one. This year's event was said to be a huge success.

Charlotte, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Gittins, had the end of her thumb badly mutilated by having it caught in the door of the car was closed, while the family was at Ann Arbor Sunday afternoon.—Milford Times.

Floyd Bradley has sold his farm of 80 acres to Delbert Avery of Plymouth, who takes possession in about two months. The Bradleys expect to locate in the village of South Lyon. Mr. Avery has a wife and son.—South Lyon Herald.

W. H. Elliott & Son who operated a grocery and hiked goods store in the building formerly occupied by Wright & Parker on Grand River avenue, closed their store here the latter part of last week and moved their stock to Northville.—Redford Record.

A bust of a young girl in her early teens has been unearthed in a gravel pit near Chelsea. Residents are at a loss to know whether it is the remains of a petrified body buried years ago or a stone image. It was found buried a distance of about 12 feet. The head and bust are almost perfectly formed, but the balance of the body is missing.

A summer resort project is under way at Highland which looks very favorable for being carried through to completion. This plan includes the building of a dam just east of the county road. This will raise the water at the site of the old mill dam to the level of the Springs Mills water head and create a fair sized lake, the shores of which will be developed for summer resort purposes.—Brighton Argus.

Wm. Lavers, who has been resident district engineer for the State Highway Department, having offices in Redford the past 18 months, has moved his offices to Plymouth, where he has an office in conjunction with the superintendent of bridges for this district. Mr. Lavers is the engineer supervising State highway construction in Wayne, Monroe, Oakland and Macomb counties. The moving of his office was directed by the State Highway Department in an effort to reduce overhead expenses of field employees.—Redford Record.

A DOUBLE WEDDING

Of interest to a wide circle of friends in South Lyon, Duluth, Detroit and Salem, was the double wedding that occurred Saturday evening, August 22, at 8:00 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Foreman, when Miss Florence Foreman of Salem, and Merrill Renwick of South Lyon, and Miss Agnes Kronen of Duluth, and Harold Foreman of Detroit, were united in marriage by Rev. J. Halliday. The brides, Mrs. Renwick, wore a lovely creation of pink georgette, and Mrs. Foreman was gowned in pansy crepe de chine. Each wore a corsage of beautiful flowers. After the ceremony and amid exquisite decorations of pink and white, with an abundance of beautiful gladiolas and dahlias, the happy couples were showered with good wishes, and were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Following this a delicious wedding dinner was served. Just the near relatives and a few close friends were present. Mr. Renwick is employed in Ypsilanti, where the happy couple will reside, and Mr. Foreman has employment in Detroit, and they will reside there at 1476 West Grand Boulevard.

The Plymouth public schools will open on Tuesday, September 8th. For several weeks past the buildings have been undergoing a thorough cleaning and renovating in readiness for the opening day.

The new school building has been decorated during the past summer, and it now presents a very pleasing appearance. One of the biggest improvements in the main school building is the installation of 400 full length steel lockers. In these lockers the pupil will keep his hat, coat and books. This is a fine improvement and one that should be appreciated by every pupil.

Saturday afternoon, September 5th, and Monday forenoon, September 7th, the school building will be open for the enrollment of pupils. All present indications point to the largest attendance this year of any previous year in the history of the local schools.

An exceptionally strong corps of teachers has been engaged to direct the affairs of the school this year, and everything points to another successful school year. The following is the list of teachers for the coming year:

A TOWN RESOURCE

Charles Pack, head of the American Tree Association, has started a movement whereby he hopes to promote a "Town Forest Plan," and in a short time citizens of Plymouth may be called upon to join hands with him. He says the plan will serve to increase interest in town beautification, and will instill a greater community pride in the children of every section of the country.

Everyone on beholding a mighty tree is impressed with feelings that are not easily put into words. Its majesty and beauty give a sense of awe and satisfaction scarcely conveyed by anything else. But the tree has something besides strength and beauty to commend it. Man needs the trees, for as yet he has found no substitute for wood in the arts and manufactures he carries on. The town forest will impress this fact on the citizens. When the development reaches the point, as it will in time, where forests become a revenue producer, then the value of the tree will be understood.

In the United States, 81,000,000 acres of land are idle and useful only for growing trees. Nebraska has, possibly, larger tracts that could be devoted to this purpose than any other state. The federal government is planting a reserve supply of forests systematically and effectively. In time the people of the nation will realize what a resource is being allowed to go unexploited. We believe we are safe in saying that citizens in this section are ready and willing to join in a movement for the growing of more trees at any moment it is launched.

THINKING AHEAD

A hundred years ago the world made its first feeble attempt at photography. Now it is as full of pictures as the trees are full of leaves. When the century of the airplane has been rounded out, we cannot help but wonder what conditions will be. Already flying man is transporting his merchandise and mail through the air. Will the rails all be rusted out and the roadways overgrown with trees in another seventy-five years? Will the horse be extinct and the automobile a mere museum and side-show relic. Perhaps. Few of us will be here to see, but it is doubtful if even our imagination can picture the amazing living habits of the people of the earth in the year of our Lord 2000.

The corn crop in the United States is estimated to be worth close to three million dollars. What does a dry nation want with all that corn anyhow?

MUNICIPAL NOTES

A new United States flag is a beautiful thing. We have two new ones for special occasions, one 9x15 for the Kellogg Park staff and one 5x8 for the village hall.

A field note book with tan leather cover, belonging to the engineering firm of Hoard, Decker, Shoecraft & Drury of Ann Arbor, our consulting engineers on the sewer job, was lost on Ann Arbor street near the Pere Marquette tracks, last week. It contains valuable notes, and if found should be returned to the village manager's office. A reward is offered for its recovery.

The sewer contractors are preparing to lay their pipe under the Ann Arbor street crossing of the Pere Marquette. The cut from track to here is 24 feet. On Holbrook avenue, the contractors are having a little easier time, as the banks are of more solid gravel and there is not quite so much water, so there is less caving of the trench sides. As a gravel pit, this street would yield a fortune if it were private property.

By the time these notes are read, the road oil will be all distributed. The weather and temperature have been more in our favor, and the oil has spread better than it did in June. We went over all of the streets first with two six-foot strips of oil, and then went back with more over the heavier traffic streets.

The fire in the country the other day, at which our boys were unable to be of much assistance, brought out one good suggestion. At some places outside the village, where several houses are fairly close together, it might be possible to build a sort of community cistern, to be filled with clean water, which could be used as a suction well for our pumper. This would be especially practical in some of our outlying subdivisions.

The foundation for our warehouse has been poured, and the brick walls will soon be going up. If you know of anyone wanting to buy our steel bell tower, send him around. This tower is no longer of use to us and is in the way.

People seldom believe in signs. Most patrons of the branch library in the village hall must know that the librarian is never on duty in the morning, except Saturday. Under the instructions of the county librarian, we, in the manager's office, cannot allow books to be left or give any other library service, so there is no use sending or bringing books to the hall until afternoon—except on Saturday.

If you know of an item of news, phone or send it to the Mail office.

Demand for space is greater so far this year than it has been at any previous fair and everything indicates that every foot of space will be occupied. This will insure some wonderful exhibits again this year, and each superintendent is striving to make his department better than it has ever been.

The horse show for Tuesday and Wednesday will be something very unusual for a county fair and the Northville Wayne County fair will be the only one in the state with such an attraction. A large space within the enclosure opposite the grandstand has been leveled off and it will be properly fenced and inside the fence will be erected a sufficient number of box seats to encircle the exhibition ring.

Base ball fans may expect some excellent sport again this year because some of the best teams in this section will take part in the base ball tournament to open on Tuesday and to continue until Saturday.

The race program, which will consist of two racing events each day, will be supplemented with running races, a feature that will please a great many fair visitors, and a new departure for the local fair.

These are great days for corn and potatoes. Remember there is to be a real corn and potato show at the fair again this fall. Liberal prizes are being offered to stimulate interest in corn and potato growing in this section.

More silver cups will be presented to prize winners at the fair this fall than at any previous exhibition.

Three tickets of admission will be sold again this year for $1.00 to all who make application up to and including Monday night, September 22. Here is a chance to save some money.

Thursday has been designated Plymouth Day again this year. Friday Farmington and Redford Day and Saturday Detroit Day. On Saturday it is expected that the members of the Detroit city council and the members of the Wayne county board of supervisors will be the guests of the fair management.

The free attractions to be presented this year will appear only at the largest and best fairs in the state this fall. Four American Aces and a Queen, acrobats of nation-wide fame will appear in a thrilling act. The Robbins Family, consisting of father, mother and five children, all of whom are contortionists, will present a program that will delight all, while Happy Herdson's animals will delight both old and young. A baboon rides a bicycle, a pony waitzes and dogs and a "bucking" mule perform and create great fun.

An all breed dog show is to be one of the attractions this year and will be in charge of Dr. E. B. Cavell. The show will take place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday and competition will be for ribbons, cash prizes, championship points and trophies. It is not necessary that your dog be of pedigreed stock in order to compete, neither does the dog have to be registered.—Northville Record.

The quickest way to make two blades of grass grow where one grew before is to plant a vegetable.

"At last," says Day Plymouth. "Ford has found a car that will run smoothly over the bumpiest road. He has gone into the airplane business."

An Italian scientist says he can predict earthquakes, and if he is a married man perhaps he can.

Nobody loves an egotist, but at that it's better for a man to talk about himself than to have the neighbors talking about him.

Dad Plymouth declares that it takes as much courage for some men to be good as it does for a hen-pecked husband to be wicked.

THE THEATRE

"THE BANDIT'S BABY"

Swinging alone in his rollicking comedy-melodrama, with another crackerjack story to back up the great popularity of rider and horse, Fred Thomson and Silver King climb to new heights of merriment, speed and suspense in "The Bandit's Baby," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre on Saturday, August 29th. A plot with more than the usual amount of intense action, jammed from first to last with hearty laughs, furnishes Thomson and his mount with a great opportunity, of which they avail themselves to the full. For "nailing" laughs and keeping an audience in an uproar, this combination is fast reaching a plane beside Harold Lloyd. Silver King is a real "horse laugh" all the way, and if that steed hasn't a sense of humor, then Pegasus was a truck horse! A fine cast and splendid direction have combined to make "The Bandit's Baby" a production above even the high standard which the public has come to expect in Fred Thomson pictures.

As an extra attraction there will be a film showing Lewis Munn and Stranger Lewis wrestling for the world's championship, and also one reel of Hodge Podge and the News reel.

"THE MAKING OF O'MALLEY"

Heart interest, pathos, tragedy, love, suspense, thrills, laughs, excitement—all these are found in "The Making of O'Malley," the big First National feature picture, with Milton Sills, in the stellar role, which comes to the Penniman Allen, Sunday and Monday, August 30 and 31.

This is Milton Sills' first starring vehicle, and he is seen at his best in the role of a New York policeman. The story is laid in New York, and interweaves the lives of a society girl, who has tired of her social position and the policeman. There is a beautiful love theme running through the plot, at the end of which the policeman wins the wealthy girl. But the refining influence of the woman has had its effect on this two-fisted man of the force, and lifts him up to a higher and finer appreciation of life. In short, O'Malley is a re-made man when the picture ends.

Not even in "The Sea Hawk" did Sills battle more effectively than he does in this picture. But beneath the gruffness of the "cop" lies a kindly spirit. Within his breast is a heart softened by pity and sentiment.

"The Making of O'Malley" is a powerful story. It was adapted from Gerald Beaumont's recent magazine success of the same name by Lambert Hillier. Hillier also directed the picture under the supervision of Earl Hudson, head of First National's Eastern units, the man who produced the screen sensation of years, "The Lost World."

Today's Reflections

One of the most disgusting sights in the world is another fellow in a couple with your best girl.

Have you ever noticed that the Plymouth woman who loves to worry usually does so over the things that never happen.

It is a good idea to remember that a dollar in the fortune teller's hand is worth more than the prediction you get for it.

One way to prevent a lot of idleness in this country would be to pass a law against work.

Some of these days we're going to offer a prize for any Plymouth man who will go on the witness stand and swear that he ever heard a farmer say, "By Heck."

After he had delivered a tray of sandwiches to a room in a New York hotel, the waiter was thrown out of a ninth-story window. Maybe he forgot to take along the mustard.

We're willing to wager all we can rake and scrape that no Plymouth woman ever lost a man's love by having his meals on time.

Maybe croquet would become as popular as golf if they'd invent some kind of funny breeches to play in.

A Plymouth woman writes to know if we can print a recipe for keeping peach preserves. Yes. Lock 'em in a closet where the children can't find them.

It begins to look as though they'll have to change the name of that apparatus on the front of a locomotive from cow-catcher to Lizzie lifter.

It has about reached the point where it would shock some fathers around Plymouth more to have their daughters put on something more than it would to have them take off something else.

Railroad crossing accidents continue to furnish evidence that the American people do not believe in signs.

We heard a Plymouth man wondering yesterday what has become of the old-fashioned street that a fellow could cross without risking his life.

LARGER ACREAGE OF WHEAT AND RYE

A larger acreage of wheat and rye is to be sown this fall according to a preliminary survey of intentions to plant made on August 1. Reports from approximately 24,000 individual farmers scattered throughout the principal winter wheat and rye states indicate that they expect to increase their plantings of wheat 9.7 per cent and of rye, 21 per cent over the acreage sown last year. Their actual plantings will depend upon prevailing weather and soil conditions at seeding time and the influence of reported intentions. Should these intentions be fully realized the acreage sown will be 46,411,000 of wheat and 5,089 of rye as compared with 42,317,000 of wheat and 4,206,000 of rye in the fall of 1924. The percentage of increase in intended wheat acreage is large in the North Central, Eastern and Southern states, but rather small in the heavy producing states of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, according to a statement made by Verne H. Church, U. S. Agricultural Statistician and L. Whitney Watkins, Commissioner of Agriculture. A similar report of intentions made in 1924 showed an increase of 7.5 per cent over the previous year in wheat and 14.1 per cent in rye. The actual increase in wheat planted was 6.5 per cent and in rye harvested three-tenths of one per cent. In 1923, the intended wheat acreage was 84.5 per cent of the previous year and the actual, 86.2 per cent. In the same year, the intended rye acreage was 91 per cent and the actual harvested was 80.7 per cent. Michigan farmers' intentions this year indicate an increase in wheat of 22 per cent. That they have evidently given consideration to the intention to plant reports in the past is evidenced by the fact that in 1924, they intended to sow an increase of 10 per cent but actually increased the acreage only five per cent, and in 1923 they intended to decrease it 23 per cent but actually decreased it only 10 per cent.

FORD ANNOUNCES IMPROVED LINES OF BODY TYPES

CHANGES ARE MOST PRONOUNCED—BODIES LONGER, LOWER AND ALL STEEL.

GOES TO COLORS IN CLOSED CARS, MANY OTHER REFINEMENTS MADE—BRAKES ARE LARGER, MORE POWERFUL.

Body changes and chassis refinements more pronounced than any made since the adoption of the Model T chassis were announced here today by the Ford Motor Company. There will be no advance in price, it also was stated.

Outstanding features of the improvements in both open and enclosed types are lower, all-steel bodies on a lowered chassis, complete new design in most body types, a change from black to color in closed cars; larger, lower fenders; newly designed seats and larger, more powerful brakes.

Longer lines, effected through higher radiator and redesigned cowl and bodies are apparent in all the improved Ford cars, but are especially pronounced in the open types. Wide, crown fenders hung close to the wheels contribute to the general effect of lowness and smartness.

While runabout and touring car remain in black, the closed bodies are finished in harmonic color schemes, enhanced by nickel radiators. The coupe and Tudor bodies are finished in deep channel green, while the Fordor is rich Windsor Maroon.

Greater comfort is provided for driver and passengers in both open and closed cars by larger compartments, more deeply cushioned seats and greater leg room.

Many new conveniences are also incorporated in the improved cars. In the runabout, touring car, coupe and tudor, the gasoline tank is under the cowl and filled through an ingeniously located filler cap completely hidden from sight by a cover similar in appearance to a cowl ventilator. One-piece windshield and narrowed pillars in the tudor and coupe offer the driver greatly increased visibility and improved ventilation.

Driving comfort is materially increased by lower seats, scientifically improved back rests, and lowered steering wheel. Clutch pedals are wider and more conveniently spaced.

Four doors are now provided on the touring car, and two on the runabout, permitting the driver to take his place from the left side of the car. Curtains, held secure by rods, open with the doors.

Most important in the mechanical changes are the improved brakes. The transmission brake drum and bands have been considerably increased in size, which gives the foot brake softer and more positive action as well as longer life. The rear wheel brake drum are larger and the brake of self-energizing type.

Good tires are now standard equipment on all Ford cars.

At the suggestion of the company, the new line is under way in all available plants of the company throughout the country, and the improved cars are being sent to dealers for showing.

MOTIVES OF MIRTH MANY AND VARIED

But Adults and Children Are Much Alike.

What do children laugh at, always and everywhere? Kurt Pinthus asks in Ubu (Berlin). They laugh because things are breakable. They laugh at smaller children whom they can trip up, and at the naughty pranks with which they disturb the normal order of events.

In general, we may say that they laugh from a feeling of superiority over the weaker or the injured; and they laugh whenever they can show themselves apparently superior to the older persons in charge of them—perhaps by misbehavior before a teacher.

A child laughs from malicious enjoyment, from the triumphant consciousness of another's humiliation, from an impulse which the child knows is "naughty" by the traditional moral code.

As a result of the hindrances involved in our ordering of society, most grown-ups attain in early youth a mental level not too far removed from the child's. So that the laughter of adults, even though they have learned—or should have learned—to understand the traditional distinction between good and evil, springs for the most part from the same roots as the laughter of children.

The motives of adult laughter are mere variations of the things that children laugh at. The adult laughs at physical oddities or their imitation. He laughs because somebody else has fallen down or because somebody else has caused a second somebody to tumble, or because somebody who thinks himself in safe superiority goes sprawling.

The adult laughs, above all, at anyone to whom he himself feels superior and in whom some antisocial quality is represented with very one-sided exaggeration. Thus he laughs at Don Quixote, who forgets the world of reality while he plays at being a knightly hero in a world which no longer knows such heroes. In comedies he laughs at the greedy man, the vain man, the boaster, the timid man, and the sham—because in every situation these types show themselves to be exaggeratedly greedy, vain, boastful, timid or deceitful, and because the preponderance of these typical characters which dominate each like a kind of fixed idea leads to unusual and surprising situations.

Give and Take

Representative Clint Cole was talking about the aircraft controversy: "First one side scores," he said, "then the other side scores. It's like the doctor and the man with the mumps."

"The man with the mumps halted the doctor and said: "Doc, what ought a chap to do when he's got the mumps?"

"The doctor's lips closed tight at the thought of being buncoed out of a free prescription, and then he gave a harsh laugh and said: "Such a man, my friend, ought to consult a good physician."

"The man with the mumps laughed harshly in his turn.

"Thanks, Doc," he said. "That's what I'll do, then. So long!"

NEWBURG

All were glad to see Rev. Havens back in the pulpit once more. He made the announcement that it was expected Dr. William H. Phelps, editor of the Christian Advocate, would be with us September 6th. This will be great honor to have so talented a man come to our little burg. Further particulars in regard to his being with us, next week. K. D. Green, who sings in the Jefferson Avenue Baptist church, Detroit, sang "The Earth is the Lord's," by Frank Lyon, last Sunday; also sang "Hold Thou My Hand," by C. S. Briggs, in Sunday-school. These solos were greatly appreciated by all.

The L. A. S. contest will come to a close next Tuesday evening, September 1, at their hall. This has been one of the most exciting contests the L. A. S. have held. All should avail themselves of hearing each lady tell how they earned their money; also the captains, Mesdames Greer and Thomas, tell how their divisions have worked and schemed to outwit each other in winning out. The advertising quilt will be auctioned off to the highest bidder at this time. Everybody welcome.

Twenty-three partook of a fine dinner at the Patriotic Society, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Titus Ruff. A short program with several readings and an interesting talk by Rev. Paul Havens on his recent trip to Ironwood and Calumet. The next meeting will be held in November, at the home of Mrs. W. R. Greer in Newburg. There were three old veterans present. It was reported that Comrade James King is very ill. He has the sympathy of his many friends.

The Mark of Quality

25 Years of Firestone Service

to Highway Transportation

25 years of anticipating the requirements of motorists—making manufacturing processes more certain—producing a higher standard of quality—25 years of unswerving adherence to the Firestone pledge, "Most Miles per Dollar"—summarizes Firestone's record of service to car owners.

Firestone factories have grown from a small building approximately 75 x 150 feet to mammoth plants having floor area of over 60 acres—from a capital of $50,000 to over $50,000,000—from an annual sales volume of $100,000 to over $100,000,000—all in the short period of 25 years.

This Firestone record could only have been made through furnishing the public with outstanding values and is, consequently, your assurance of quality and lowest prices.

If you would like to know more of this wonderful record, ask your Firestone dealer to send you an illustrated folder.

With today's high cost of crude rubber and other raw materials, Firestone's opportunity to serve the public was never better, due to its great volume and special advantages in buying, manufacturing and distribution.

Why She Is Tired Out

A woman who does her housework in the manner of her grandmother, that is to say, without the aid of electrical appliances, walks in the doing of her regular domestic tasks, an average of 15 miles a day, or 5,475 miles a year.

With electrical help the footwork is cut down to an average of 2 1/2 miles a day, or less than 1,000 miles a year.

These figures are the result of tests made with the aid of a pedometer. Surely it is better to wear out machinery than human beings.

MICHIGAN TRAFFIC

CONFERENCE SEPT. 8

The Michigan Traffic Conference, to be held in General Motors building, Detroit, Tuesday, September 8, promises to be a meeting of national importance. The fact that Michigan is the first state in the union to attempt to bring about a state-wide uniform regulation of traffic has attracted the attention of traffic officials in all parts of the country. If the representatives from all parts of the state attending the Michigan Conference succeed in agreeing upon one set of driving regulations, Michigan is certain to be credited with inaugurating the movement that at last is to bring about interstate agreement in the control and direction of motor car travel.

That the Michigan Conference is to be successful from the standpoint of attendance is already certain. The Detroit Automobile Club, the organization responsible for this effort to end the confusion caused traveling motorists due to the multiplicity of laws—most of the different, forwarded 700 invitations to mayors, city managers, safety committees, traffic commissions, police chiefs and sheriffs of the state and already enough acceptances have been received to predict that more than 500 safety and traffic experts and officials will be present in the General Motors building when Thomas P. Henry, president of the Detroit Automobile Club and of the American Automobile Association, calls the conference to order.

The fact that the chairman of the conference is the head of the American Automobile Association, will have an important bearing on the deliberations of the conference. President Henry's national organization is made up of practically all of the automobile clubs of the nation and if the Michigan Conference brings forth a model uniform traffic control measure, this result will receive prompt, country-wide attention. Michigan's agreement to have uniform traffic control will be broadcast by the state and city A. A. A. automobile organizations of other states and then the organized motorists of the country will swing in back of the long delayed campaign to accomplish something concrete toward securing national uniform traffic laws.

Charles T. Bush, chairman of the Safety and Traffic Committee of the Detroit Automobile Club, has a tentative draft of a model uniform traffic ordinance ready to lay before the conference. This draft is the result of a long survey made by a sub-committee, composed of Detroit police traffic officials and other traffic experts, under the direction of L. J. Van Schoek, director of the Safety and Traffic Section of the Automobile Club.

The ordinance will cover regulations for left and right turns in the streets of the different cities of the state, will fix maximum and minimum speed limits for city streets and county roads, set down rules for the regulation and control of headlights, design one set of rules for light-signal and semaphore traffic direction and define what constitutes reckless driving.

Says Earth Stands Still
An instrument which, the maker says, proves that the modern ideas of the solar system are wrong, has been invented by Chang Chung-shan, a Chinese astronomer. He says his instrument demonstrates that the earth does not move, but stands still, suspended in air like a soap bubble. He says further, he can prove with it that the sun and other heavenly bodies revolve around the earth. With the aid of two colleagues he has written a book in support of this theory but it has not yet been translated into a foreign language.

Growth in Savings
The intensive educational thrift campaigns conducted in this country by the banks, schools, American Society for Thrift and other groups has shown splendid results. Savings deposits increased from $3,425,000,000 in 1912 to $20,875,000,000 in the period between 1912 and 1924 or at the rate of 150 per cent while the number of savings bank depositors increased 208 per cent in the same period.—Thrift Magazine.

Poet's Home in Danger
Longfellow's early home at Portland, Maine, will be preserved and maintained permanently if sufficient money is raised by members of the International Longfellow society. The home stands at Fore and Hancock streets in Portland. It is in danger of being lost through foreclosure of mortgage, and Edwin Markham is active in raising the money to prevent the foreclosure.

Autos in United States
The number of motor vehicles owned in the United States, it is noted in Good Hardware, is still continuing to increase. In the year 1924 the total registration was 17,700,000. This is a gain of approximately 2,500,000 over 1923. There is, roughly, one car to every six people.

AROUND LAKE HURON

BY STANLEY NEWTON

"The whole blamed world must be on the road."

This is the observation of a man who halted his car in a traffic jam on Grand River avenue in Detroit, and contemplated the swarming, chugging mass of machines about him.

You'd think so too if you started out to tour Michigan, Ontario, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, or any other locality in the north in this month of August, 1925.

Michigan is said to have the best road system in the Union, with the possible exception of California. But the latter is over twice our size, and while she owns more cars than we do, there is a good deal more room for them, especially during the summer months, when many California license plates may be seen as far east and north as Michigan.

Years ago, when Dan Smith, John Gale and many another Plymouth good old-timer was alive, the writer spent a day or two in Plymouth each week selling packing house products for a Chicago concern. Automobile trucks were unknown then, and the Chicago refrigerator cars supplied Plymouth and neighboring towns with its fresh meat. The orders were taken a week ahead, loaded in the cars and marked for each dealer. Now, the fresh meats come from Detroit in a large degree, and orders are filled in a few hours' notice.

Times have changed. When Bill Gayde and Carl Heide and I went fishing at Walled Lake, we loaded a row boat in a democrat wagon and picked our way laboriously up through the sand to the lake. There wasn't a summer cottage in sight. Walled Lake was out in the country then. It wasn't fished to a finish, and we always came back with a fine mess of bluegills. We had the lake all to ourselves. We loaded around from one good fishing hole to another. When we were hungry we ate rye bread sandwiches and pie—lots and lots of pie. Those were the happy days. I never shall forget them.

That was in the year 1902 or thereabouts. There were 1200 people in Plymouth. Now there are said to be nearly 5000. Some day Plymouth probably will be a part of Detroit. A Detroit paper says that the big city is growing faster toward Plymouth and Farmington than in any other direction.

The people of Plymouth are proud of their village and justly so. In a trip of 2000 miles I saw nothing prettier, cleaner, showing more evidence of the right civic spirit. There is every evidence of prosperity, but the inhabitants have wisely kept the brakes on and have not permitted the town to be overhauled.

There is a rhythm in growth that cannot be denied. For that matter, rhythm rules in everything. Just as night follows day and as winter follows summer, and the ocean tides flow in and out in endless succession, so is a period of prosperity followed by one of depression. If the pendulum swings too far one way, back it goes too far to the other. A steady growth in a town or a man is the thing to be desired. When it is gradual and healthy it brings no regrets in its train. I should say that right now there isn't a finer place in the world to live in than Plymouth, with its sound American citizenry and its wonderful prospects. Who wouldn't prefer to live there rather than in the big city to the eastward?

This Great Lakes country of ours is a natural summer outing place. It is so huge, so diversified, that not only the thousands of visitors from thousands of places, but the home folks of Michigan can traverse their playground for weeks without crossing their own trails.

There is an Around-Lake-Michigan tour that will be taken. It is estimated, by 200,000 people this year. The roads are so good that a couple of bus lines are making the trip weekly from Chicago, up through Milwaukee, Green Bay, Escanaba, Manistique and St. Ignace, and down the eastern shore of Lake Michigan. You can now drive three-quarters of the way around Lake Superior in comfort. The Canadian government is completing the link along the north shore as quickly as possible.

This article is about the Around-Lake-Huron tour. Ontario recently put the road from Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, to North Bay in shape to travel, and hundreds of American tourists are trying it out. It is a scenic marvel. Plymouth folks who contemplate a summer trip next year will be interested in knowing something about it.

It was a leisurely journey that we made from Plymouth up through the Straits of Mackinac and the twin Soos over into Canada and back to our starting point. There are interesting things everywhere on the route, and interesting people.

Roads are being made over so fast that the official log of the Detroit Automobile Club can hardly keep pace with them. This is especially true in the territory north of Bay City. We logged 102 miles from Plymouth to Bay City, via New Hudson, Milford, Holly, Flint and Frankenthum. This is the shortest line, with good roads all the way.

One hundred miles from Detroit one begins to notice a letting down in the feverish activity and buoyant mental-

A family once said: "Yes, we think the church is necessary, but we have not attended for weeks." They were By-standers.

Another family said: "Yes, we believe in the church. We never miss a meeting except for sickness." They are Stand-byers.

WHICH ARE YOU?

METHODIST NOTES

The big picnic is next Thursday. Meet at the church at 9:00. See announcement elsewhere in this issue.

Mid-week service of prayer and study next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Next Sunday is the last of our church fiscal year. If you are behind on your pledge either to the local church or to benevolences, the finance committee will appreciate very much your spirit of co-operation by paying up in full next Sunday. If for any reason you cannot be present at church, please send it in, as the treasurers need your pledge to pay current bills.

New envelopes will be distributed next Sunday, and during the following week. The finance committee asks for each one to make a pledge for the coming year's work, generously, joyously and according as the Lord has prospered each one.

Our earnest sympathy and prayer is extended to all those of our number who are sick and passing through affliction.

Next Sunday morning will be our last Communion Service of this Conference Year. Every member of the church ought to be on hand to join in this service of rich fellowship and consecration. A number are to be received into the membership of the church at this time. If you are contemplating joining the church and follow Christ's way, next Sunday will be a most acceptable time. Also, if you are contemplating being baptized in the name of Christ, the pastor will be pleased to perform such service next Sunday morning.

Be at church next Sunday night. An hour of rich fellowship will be your reward.

Remember the big picnic. You are invited.

BAPTIST NOTES

The service last Sunday was in charge of Rev. Hoffman of Walled Lake, and he gave a real bible message to the people. Several have spoken in praise of the discourse.

Many of the teachers were away last Sunday, but we hope they will be in their places next Sunday, for the vacation will be about over by that date. Your scholars will be looking for you. Let every B. Y. P. U. member plan to be on hand, next Sunday evening at 6:30. Let's start with determination and make the young people's society a real help to the church this coming year.

The prayer meeting next Wednesday evening will begin at 6:30 as usual. The pastor will look for the members of the church to be present. It's important for everyone to attend.

The pastor spoke at the Walled Lake Baptist church, last Sunday morning. It is one of his former pastorates.

Rev. Palmer Hartsough of Ontario, Wisconsin, has been visiting relatives here the past week.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The attendance in the men's class was above the average, last Sunday. Wait till all have returned from vacation and see the walls of the class room bulge out. One side of the room is removable, anyway.

Visitors were present last Sunday morning from Cleveland, Columbus and Detroit. Surely, the gospel in Plymouth gets a wide hearing.

Those notes were written before the picnic took place, but judging from the preparations made, it will be reported next week as "some event."

Greater Wayne is advertising her churches in the Detroit papers in these words: "Splendid churches of different denominations throughout the Greater Wayne district afford opportunity for worship according to the faith of the individual. There's an open-mindedness about religion, too, that promises for the continued development of the district." Here's a suggestion for the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Advertising Department. Churches in Plymouth are not on the wave and deserve some credit for the additions they make to all local values.

Did you hear the choir sing "The Old Rugged Cross" last Sunday? It was worth coming for.

We welcome Ivan Delbert Campbell, son of Perry and Elsie Campbell, to our cradle-rod. Born, August 15, 1925. Cosmos and golden-glow are blooming at the manse. Some unusually tall artichokes on the south side of the garage are getting ready for business. All the lilac bushes recently set out are flourishing and the chrysanthemums are nearly four feet tall. Hollyhocks, black-eyed Susans and Shasta daisies are done for this year and are storing up energy for next spring. The vines are budded and will soon be white and fragrant. These are only a few of the Presbyterian beauties.

LIVONIA CENTER LUTHERAN CHURCH.

FAT FEE ALMOST LOST TO LAWYER

But He Recovered Himself in Nick of Time.

In a Missouri town there resided a lawyer who had become rather successful in getting people out of trouble. H. K. Ford tells us in the Docket. Most of his clients were white people, and those who were in good circumstances would be charged "all the traffic would bear." But occasionally an impecunious white person or darky, whose feet had become entangled in the meshes of the dragnet of the law, would call on him and seek his professional services in getting the aforesaid feet extricated from their inhospitable surroundings. From these people he sometimes received very small fees; but he went on the theory that "half a loaf is better than no bread at all," so he accepted their business, and collected what he could from them.

One day an elderly negro, plainly clad and humble looking, entered his office. The lawyer told him to be seated, and inquired: "What can I do for you?" The old darky said: "Boss, dey's got my boy-in-jail. What will you charge to get him out?" The lawyer, sizing up his prospective client as one who was not very prosperous, replied: "Oh, ten dollars."

Thereupon the negro, who had been away from the community for some time, and who had, without the home people knowing anything about it, accumulated a little money, pulled out a large roll of bills and commenced turning them over, presumably in an effort to find one of as small denomination as the fee demanded.

The lawyer saw the bills, and hastily said: "What jail is it where they have your boy?"

"Why, boss, it's de county jail, dey calls it, up heah on de hill."

"De, you mean he is in the big stone jail up there, with steel bars on all the windows?"

"Yas, sah; yas, sah; dat's de place, boss."

"Oh, well when I answered your first question, I thought you meant they had him in the little wooden building down here that they use as a holdover. If he's in the stone jail, with the barred windows, it will cost $250 to get him out of that."

The old darky slowly counted out the required amount, the while muttering: "Dat pestifous boy can't be satisfied wid no little wooden jail; seems lak he allus picks out dem 'spensive places."

Imagine

The statistician of a large manufacturing plant states that the time may come when historians will look back on our mechanical age as a curious freak, for, he says: "Merchandising our processes undoubtedly lowers the intelligence of all who have to do with production except the experts who make the machines. It also makes possible the rapid depletion of natural resources. We are now going a mile deep for copper here in Michigan, where we used to get it from the surface. Just what our mechanical age will do to the human race is a nice problem. Among other things, the ease with which we get great quantities of natural resources converted into usable supplies appears to make possible the rapid increase of the population of the earth to a point where we seem to be reaching a state of over-crowding."

Royalty Taken Seriously

Imperial portraits are serious matters in Japan, though the incidents in connection with a certain set cannot appear other than comic to the outside world. Eight years ago copies of the portraits of the royal family disappeared from a schoolhouse near Osaka. The authorities immediately prohibited the press from mentioning the fact. Though the mystery has never been solved, the government, doubtless feeling that the danger to the public weal lurking in the episode had died with time, has lifted the censorship, and the Japanese press may now publish the fact that the portraits have disappeared.

Her Choice of Suits

"What a lucky girl you are, Daphna, to be able to choose between two such handsome and stylish young men! Have you made up your mind which is to be your husband?"

"To tell you the truth, I'm in a bit of a fix. If I decide to wear my cream-colored dress at the wedding, I shall take Alphonse, as he is dark-complected, you know; but if I decide to go in my blue dress, I rather think that Algy will make the better match of the two."

FEAR POTATO BLIGHT WILL FOLLOW RAINS

WET WEATHER SAID TO FAVOR OUTBREAK—M. S. C. MAN GIVES CONTROL MEASURES.

Possibility of a costly outbreak of late blight among Michigan potatoes is being pointed out by the crops department at the Michigan State College, the wet weather of the last few weeks having provided ideal conditions for the appearance of the disease.

"The potato crop is already fairly short," says H. C. Moore, potato specialist with the college extension division, "estimates by the United States Department of Agriculture placing the 1925 production at one hundred five million bushels less than last year. Loss from blight would be felt more seriously than usual, therefore, and added care should be taken in caring for the crop.

"The best control measure is to spray with Bordeaux mixture (4-4-50) every ten days or two weeks. When it is raining rather frequently, it is even safer to spray every week.

"Use a good high-pressure machine to get the spray on the under side of the leaves, where the blight usually starts.

"The blight is one of the worst potato diseases in its effect upon the keeping quality of the tubers in storage. An outbreak would result in great damage. It has been twelve years since the last bad epidemic of blight in Michigan."

Bordeaux mixture is also said to be effective against the leaf hoppers, which seem to be always present.

WASHTENAW COUNTY FAIR NOTES

Plans and arrangements are complete for Washtenaw County's Greatest fair, September 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. Neither time nor effort have been spared to make the fourth fair on the new grounds interesting and helpful to every fair visitor, and a matter of pride to every citizen of Washtenaw County and adjacent territory.

Among the improvements fair visitors will notice this year are the Boys' and Girls' building; new fence at entrance; baseball diamond; better lighting system for attractions and grounds in general; additional parking space; judging ring for cattle and horses; steps and path from Main midway to parking grounds; a new fifty foot flag pole near the main entrance donated by Sam C. Andres. In addition to the above, substantially increased premiums and later date than 1924 are encouraging many to exhibit who have not done so previously.

The horse and cattle barns on the fair grounds have been thoroughly cleaned and disinfected under state veterinarian supervision.

Tuesday evening, September 1, a public wedding will be held immediately following the vaudeville entertainment.

WASHTENAW COUNTY FAIR OFFICERS

Washtenaw County Fair officers and directors have secured the best program of entertainment ever offered a Washtenaw county audience. Fred's pits; A. Golem & Co.; Gus Henderson; Four Car Auto Polo; The Balloit Troupe and wonderful displays of gorgeous fireworks will please all fair visitors. "A good time for all" was the idea foremost in the minds of the fair board in arranging the program for September 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

His Guess

"What kind of a store is that fellow over at Toad Rock running?" asked a motorist.

"Well, he has auto parts for sale," replied the attendant in the filling station at Ten Degrees. "buys butter, eggs and poultry, deals in real estate, public houses, marries the folks in his capacity as justice of the peace, runs the post office, sells stamps, hams, molasses, etc., and takes boarders upstairs. I reckon you'd call it a drug store."

Modesty Insisted Upon

Men at Marshfield, Mass., may not parade the shore clad only in bathing suits. The movement to censor women's bathing attire was extended to include that worn by men also, with the result that this famous old town, once inhabited by Daniel Webster and Thomas Lawson, requires that neither men nor women parade the streets or avenues unless they are covered with wraps that extend at least to the knees.

Anglo-Jap Air Project

A four-day non-stop transoceanic airship service between England and Japan is promised, the route to be across Scotland, Norway, northern Russia, Siberia and Saghalien, a distance of 5,000 miles.
