NEW RIDING AND HUNTING CLUB TO OPEN NEW CLUB HOME

The Cass Benton Park Riding and Hunting Club Will Open to Public Saturday, September 5th.

New Club is Located Midway Between Plymouth and Northville and Will Cater to Public as Well as Club Members.

The Cass Benton Park Riding and Hunting Club, located on the six mile road about one quarter mile west of the Plymouth-Northville road, will be open to the public, commencing Saturday, September 5th. The formal opening of the new club house will take place a little later.

The site of the new club takes in the original Cass Benton farm, and there is also three hundred acres of other property that will be available for the club activities in fox hunting and riding.

The club house is situated upon a high elevation, and it is a most picturesque and slightly location, presenting as it does to the eye a beautiful stretch of country in every direction.

The original house upon the farm has been remodeled, and a large addition has been built upon the front and two sides. The front and east side of the building have been given over to the dance hall and dining room. The east end of the building contains dressing rooms, lockers, lavatories and shower baths for both ladies and men. Ladies and gentlemen's lounging rooms have been fitted up with comfortable rest furniture for the use of the members and public. The interior decorations of the rooms are done in gray and ivory. The dining room furniture is in blue and gold, and is very attractive.

Back of the dining room are the kitchen, serving room, etc. The kitchen is fitted up with every modern convenience. The managers of the club have secured the services of an expert colored chef and waiters, and the cuisine and service will be first class in every respect. A specialty will be made of Sunday chicken dinners, although meals will be served every day in the week. The general public will be served at the new club at all times, the same as club members.

The stables at the rear of the club house contain fifteen head of splendid riding horses, which are available to the public for hire.

Next spring a base ball diamond and tennis courts will be laid out, and in all probability, a nine-hole golf course will be available for those who love this great pastime.

The club will hold fox hunts several times each week during the season.

The club has a membership of nearly one hundred. J. L. Johnson of this village, and Scott W. Cole, manager of the Michigan Builders Supply Co. of Detroit, are the managers of the new club.

The public is most cordially invited to visit the new club at any time, and enjoy the hospitality which it offers.

The new club will provide Northville and Plymouth people with a convenient and well appointed place to go for a little recreation and an excellent meal.

Carnes of Ceresco, Mich., well known over this and other states as authority on the mining and use of marl, was married to Mrs. Mabel Belle Chapman of West Ann Arbor street, Wednesday, at three o'clock. The ceremony took place in the presence of Robert Carnes and wife and Mrs. Glen Eyre, son and daughter of Mr. Carnes, and Miss Ilda Hanchett and Ralph and Harry Hanchett, daughter and sons of the bride; also Miss Minnie Proctor, sister of the bride. The Rev. W. W. Dichi officiated at his home in Abilene, Mich.

A FAREWELL RECEPTION

A farewell public reception will be given Rev. D. D. Nagle and wife, at the Methodist Community Hall, Wednesday evening, September 23, at 8:00 o'clock. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

Colin Morrison of Wayne, who has been living in California for several months, is home on a business trip, and visited at L. B. Warner's a few days this week.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

Our water record hasn't been so bad during August. The average daily use of water has been 443,100 gallons as against the 565,000 for July. The water level in the reservoir has averaged one inch less than seven feet. The lowest level for the month was fifty-seven inches and the highest one inch less than nine feet.

We have put in fifty-seven water taps so far in 1925. In all of 1924, we only put in 50. In 1923, we only put in 53. In 1922, we put in 46, and in 1921, 62. Plymouth still grows, it seems.

Our 1925 installment of street signs has come and will be placed in position soon. Included are nine very effective signs for the village limits on the nine roads entering the town.

The sewer contractors are having better luck with the ground conditions in the north part of town. By the time this is read the big ditcher will have finished York street, and will be making good progress on Pearl street towards Starkweather avenue. The arch culvert over Tonquish Creek was finished Tuesday. That is one good job done. The rest of the creek will have to be treated likewise eventually.

The diagonal walk through Central Park, from Main street to the High school, has been raised six inches to get it above the flow of water across the park, which has been the cause of so many wet feet among the school children on rainy days. The edges have been sodded, and the whole park looks much better for this work.

The old sewer on North Holbrook avenue is being relaid to a lower grade. The water was supposed to run up hill in a part of the old drain, but it never seemed to do it.

We answered a fire alarm Tuesday night about midnight, sent in from Warner's home near the north end of Blunk avenue. As usual, we had trouble getting the right way for the trucks. One man was arrested for not giving up the road. There might reasonably be ten firemen's cars, six police cars and three village cars that can legally race to our fires. All others are violating the law if they drive more than twenty miles per hour or do not obey the various regulations applying to driving at the time of fire alarms.

The contract has been closed for the five traffic lights mentioned in previous municipal notes. As soon as arrangements are completed with the Detroit Edison Company, the lights will be ordered shipped.

THE NEW GLENGARRY GOLF CLUB OPEN FOR PLAY.

The new Glengarry Golf Club, situated about two miles north of Walled Lake, opposite Wolverine Lake, is now open for play on the temporary greens. Many have already availed themselves of the free playing privileges, and the opportunity to improve their game under the direction of the professor, Adam L. Campbell.

The permanent greens are rapidly rounding into shape, being seeded with creeping bent, and when complete, this course promises to be one of the best in this section.

The public is cordially invited to play as long as the free playing privilege lasts.

A gasoline lamp exploding in the home of E. R. Warner on Elmore avenue, called out the fire department at midnight, Tuesday. Very little damage was done.

PLYMOUTH LADY WINS CUP IN SWIMMING CONTEST

Mrs. Edna Cokinos, whose husband, Harry Cokinos, operates the restaurant formerly known as the Strong restaurant, opposite the Pere Marquette depot, was the winner of a beautiful silver loving cup in the swimming contests held under the auspices of the Lake Forest Club of Cleveland, recently. Mrs. Cokinos won first place in the four-mile contest, from Gordon Park to Euclid Beach, a distance of four miles. The time was two hours and fifteen minutes. There were four and fifteen starters, and only four finished. This is the third time that Mrs. Cokinos has been among the winners in this event. Mrs. Cokinos was also the winner of the American Red Cross life saving certificate, button and emblem, which was also one of the special features held in connection with the swimming contests at Cleveland.

Mrs. Cokinos has participated in a number of swimming contests, and is the possessor of several medals and cups.

WILL MOVE OFFICE TO NEW BUILDING

Russell A. Wingard, realtor, will move his office from its present location on Starkweather avenue, to the new building he is just completing at 247 West Liberty street, just around the corner from Starkweather avenue. Mr. Wingard will have a neat little office when the new building is completed, and he invites all his patrons and friends to call and see him when he gets located in his new quarters. The building occupied by Mr. Wingard on Starkweather avenue, was sold some time ago to Daniel Murphy.

1926 AUTO LICENSES ARE BLACK AND WHITE

Manufacture of 950,000 Michigan automobile license plates for 1926 is nearing completion at the Michigan State Prison. It was announced by Warden H. H. Jackson. The plates are inscribed with white numerals and letters on black back grounds. Of the 950,000, commercial license plates will number 150,000. According to the warden, stamping operations will be completed this week, and enameling will be finished during the first part of September.

The state industries at the prison will also manufacture more than 100,000 1926 license plates for Vermont.

GOOD BUNCH OF PRIMARY SCHOOL FUND FOR PLYMOUTH

State School Superintendent Johnson announces that the primary school fund of the state, totalling $15,396,688, is ready for distribution. Last year the appropriation was $14 for each child of school age. This year it is 30 cents less. There has been an increase of 100,000 in the number of school children in the state.

Plymouth's share of the fund will be better than $14,000.

In 1920, the school census was 975,412. This year it is a little over 1,200,000.

NORTHVILLE FAIR DATES ARE SEPT. 22 TO 26

For the past eight years the Northville Wayne County Fair has been an unqualified success, and everything indicates that the ninth annual fair will exceed all former efforts. A number of improvements have been added to the grounds and equipment, which will provide better accommodations for both exhibitors and visitors. Applications for space indicates that every available foot of space will be occupied when the gates are thrown open on the morning of the opening day—Tuesday, September 22nd. The fair will be held five days and five nights, as in former years, and every hour will be crowded full. On Tuesday and Wednesday there will be a horse show that gives promise of being an event seldom witnessed in Michigan, outside of the exclusive circles of Detroit. There will be a base ball tournament continuing over five days, and the race program will provide pleasant amusement for all who enjoy racing. There will be three big free attractions each afternoon and night, each day's program to be concluded with a brilliant display of fireworks.

Liberal premiums are being offered in all departments, and the Northville Fair always pays its premiums in full. The people of this section are cordially invited to attend and to enjoy the splendid programs that will be presented.

The Plymouth Buick Sales Co. reports having taken forty-four orders for the new 1926 series of Buick cars, during the month of August. C. G. BRIGGS SCHOOL HELD ANNUAL REUNION

The annual reunion of the pupils and former teachers of the Briggs school in Livonia township, was held on the school grounds last Saturday afternoon, with a goodly attendance. A short impromptu program was given, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President—Frazier Smith; Sec. Treas.—Miss Nellie Hiddle; Ice cream and cake was served, and everybody enjoyed themselves during the afternoon with visiting and recalling incidents that happened in the years gone by when they were boys and girls attending the Briggs school. It was a most happy event and each year the occasion is always looked forward to with much pleasure, by those who ever attended this school. During the afternoon, several letters were read from former pupils who were unable to be present. We are privileged to take the following excerpts from a letter written by our former townsman, John E. Wilcox, who now resides in Venice, California: "I find, in looking back, that, since the death of Seneca Everett and Mrs. Westfall in Plymouth, that I am the only person now living that attended school in the old Red School. I left the district school when I was about eighteen years of age and I think there are none of the pupils living that attended at even that late date. "In those days, none of the district schools were graded, and for some time after I left, a pupil could take up any branches of study he wished—some young men taking only two or three studies. Also, there was a Rate Bill, and each man paid according to the number of children he sent to school. Of course, it was always the poorer families that had to pay the largest tax. "I believe I can recall the names of all the teachers that taught in our district, and I think our school district was favored with a lot of very good teachers. I think there is just one of my old teachers living—a Mrs. Loud, who lives at Waterford—a most excellent lady and teacher. Of course, the teachers boarded around, and it did not require much time for the teachers to learn where were the best boarding places. "I think young people enjoyed themselves just as much then as now, and it did not cost half as much money. "Our school was kept open every other Saturday. Also, in the evenings there were held special schools for such studies as geography, singing, writing, etc. There was need, too, of some blue Beech switches always standing in one corner."

A reunion of the Nathaniel Ryder family was held at the tourist camp, last week Thursday afternoon and evening. There were twenty-four present from Grand Rapids, Birmingham, Ann Arbor and Plymouth. A delicious supper was served, and a most enjoyable time was had, all hoping to meet again next year.

A PRETTY HOME WEDDING

ONE HUNDRED GUESTS WITNESS WHIPPLE-HUSTON NUP-TIALS.

A beautiful home wedding was celebrated last Tuesday afternoon, September 1st, at 4:30 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edson O. Huston on Penniman avenue, when their only daughter, Ruth Evelyn Huston, became the bride of Anstin Whipple. Rev. Dow Nagle, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church officiated, using the double ring service.

Miss Florence Paddock of Detroit, opened the ceremony by singing, "O Perfect Love," after which Miss Carzina Penney played Liszt's "Love's Dream," to the accompaniment of which six friends of the bride, Mrs. William Wood, Miss Dorothy Taylor of Northville, Miss Olive Jane Brown of Ann Arbor, Miss Maurine Jones of Grand Rapids, Miss Pearl Jolliffe, and Mrs. Donald C. Youngs of Detroit, entered the spacious living room, bearing the white bridal ribbons. They were followed by the flower girls, Dorothy June Whipple of Detroit, a niece of the groom, and Lucille McCloughry of Pontiac, a cousin of the bride, who wore pale pink chiffon dresses and carried white baskets of butterfly roses.

Then to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, the maid of honor, Miss Frances Treat Gill of Ann Arbor, a cousin of the bride, descended the stairs. She was attired in orchid pink chiffon, with silver slippers and a silver head-band, and carried Columbia roses in a white garden basket.

The bride was charming in a white gown of heavy satin ornamented with pearls and hand embroidery. Her veil was white tulle with a head-dress of orange blossoms, and her flowers were a shower bouquet of white roses and valley lilies.

The best man was Mr. Wendell Miller, of Northville, a cousin of the groom.

The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Edson O. Huston.

The mother of the bride was attractively gowned in French blue flat crepe, and carried a corsage of Premier roses and corn flowers.

The living room was effectively decorated with tall wicker baskets of pale pink gladioli, pink snap dragons and mug-wort. The couple spoke their vows before an arch festooned with clematis paniculata and lanked with palms. Kenta palms and Boston ferns were also lanked around the piano and fireplace, and ropes of clematis paniculata were festooned over the stair railing. In the dining room were white and green burlap colors to harmonize with the wall decoration. A bank of white roses and maiden hair fern formed the center piece for the dining table, which was also ornamented with tall white tapers tied with white satin ribbon. Baskets of white roses and taller baskets of white gladioli completed the decorations.

After the ceremony, a two course wedding supper was served the guests. Following this, the bride and groom departed for a three weeks' motor trip to New York City, Boston, Philadelphia, and Ashtabula, Ohio. On November first, they will be at home to their friends in their beautiful new home at 938 Penniman avenue, which was formerly the home of the bride's grandmother.

The bride is a graduate of Plymouth High school in the class of 1913, and of the University of Michigan in 1918. For the past seven years she has taught debating and argumentation in Durand, Plymouth, and Northwestern High school, Detroit. The groom is also well known in Plymouth, and for the past three years, has been associated with the firm of Huston & Co.

Many beautiful and costly gifts were presented to the couple.

The out of town guests included: Mr. Wendell Miller, Mr. and Mrs. E. Miller, Mrs. Angeline Simmons and Miss Dorothy Taylor of Northville; Mr. and Mrs. John Metcalf of Ashtabula, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gill, Miss Frances Gill, Miss Vera Andrews and Miss Olive Jane Brown of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Ballard and Mr. and Mrs. Eimer C. Huston of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whipple, Miss Dorothy June Whipple, Miss Norma Greene, Mr. Earl Gremel, Miss Dorothy Cline, Miss Dorothy Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Johnson, Miss Grace Randall, Mrs. Addie Field, Mr. Russell Sanderson, Miss Monica Evans, Miss Maude Blair, Mr. William Allan, all of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. James V. Bates of Hillsdale; Miss Maurine Jones of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCloughry and Miss Lucille McCloughry of Pontiac.

The rehearsal dinner was given at the home of the bride's parents Monday evening.

COMING TO LOCAL THEATRE

"THE TEN COMMANDMENTS" WILL BE SHOWN AT PENNIMAN ALLEN THEATRE, SEPT. 6, 7, 8.

Cecil B. DeMille's picturization of "The Ten Commandments" is coming to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, September 6, 7 and 8. It has come to us with more superlative advance notices than any other picture which has ever been shown in Plymouth. Oddly enough, this picture deserves most of these adjectives. It is great, stupendous, colorful and moving. It has comedy, spectacle and drama. A perfect cast, a fine story and inspired direction, what else could one ask for?

The production takes a little over two hours to show. It is divided into two parts, ancient and modern. In the former the picture opens on the Israelite slaves building the city of Rameses in Egypt. They are being cruelly treated by the Pharaoh, and things look dark until Moses emerges to lead them. He asks for their liberty, and when it is not granted ten plagues are visited upon Egypt. After Rameses' son is killed in the last of the plagues, Rameses orders the Hebrews to leave. They go with aching bodies and glad hearts over the desert sands. This part of the picture is done in natural colors and in its sweep is overwhelming.

Then follow scenes showing Moses receiving the commandments on the mount, the children of Israel worshipping the golden calf in a wild orgy, and finally the fade-out in which Moses, wrathful at seeing his people's treachery, flings the tablets which he had received on the rocks, smashing them into a thousand parts.

The modern story was written by Jennie Macpherson. It shows that the commandments are as great a moral force today as they were five thousand years ago. The lives of two brothers are followed. One lives a life in which he creates and breaks his own laws, while the other keeps the decalogue as his guiding force. In the end evil is punished and good is triumphant.

A cast of five thousand people is headed by Lou La Roque, Richard Dix, Lawrence Gray, Agnes Ayres, Nita Naldi, Theodore Roberts, Estelle Mann, Robert Edson, Edythe Chapman, Robert Edson and Charles de Roche. Don't miss this picture. "The Ten Commandments" is one of those photographs which the whole world should see.

There will be two shows each night, at 7:00 and 9:00 o'clock. Admission—Adults, 40c; children, 20c.

GROWING SERIOUS

Within twenty years, says a recent bulletin issued by the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse University, paper as it must be made, will become too costly for ordinary use. Materials now considered of little value in the manufacture of paper will have to be used for the printing of newspapers, magazines and books. There are but two alternatives—either a good substitute for wood pulp, or a reduction in the amount of printed matter turned out, and the American public will never consent to the latter.

While some time ago lumber mills moved their chief operations to the Pacific coast and the South, some plants still exist in the East, with their raw materials being brought a considerable distance. Because their costly equipment cannot be readily removed, paper plants remain for the most part in New York and the New England states, but each year the source of supply of wood pulp goes farther and farther into the north. In New York state, it is said, only four companies have enough spruce forest to insure steady operation for ten years, and only one company is prepared for a twenty-year run. Should the Canadian government carry out its threat of an embargo on the exportation of spruce wood and wood pulp a large part of the $200,000,000 investment represented in the American paper industry would be of little value.

Reforestation, the very thing we have urged for years, as citizens of Plymouth can testify, is the only salvation. Otherwise 20 years from now any use as at the mercy of the world so far as paper for printing purposes is concerned.

THE WORD "DADDY"

We wonder if the average Plymouth man or woman really knows what the word "daddy" means to a child 4, 5 or 6 years old? Should the father of an ideal, a man so skillful that he can set the pace in any impossible game; so wise that he can build boats and slingshots and kites that soar high; so heroic that he can go out each morning into the big world and come back each evening without a scratch. To the girl, Daddy is the source of candy and nice dresses; the father of stories that delight her; the big, strong man who catches her in his arms and squeezes her "most to death." He is her ideal, too, of manhood.

All around us as we go and come, we see these little manifestations of child-life, but we don't think much about them. They are taken just as a part of every-day life. Then there comes through the columns of the newspaper, perhaps, a call from a little child whose father has strayed from home, and we begin to realize just how powerful Daddy is, and what he really means to someone. A few days ago we read of an instance of this kind, the case of a little Milwaukee girl who died of a broken heart because her daddy has taken sick and "gone away." Her playmate, her child's ideal, was absent and she refused to eat or to be consoled. Impossible, you say, in a child of 4. No it isn't. Just multiply a few times the intensity of child love that you see about you right here at home, and you will have just that thing.

What does the word "Daddy" mean? Well, joined with the word "Mother" it means just about everything in the child's life, including at one end the material playmate and the other divine power and love.

IT MOUNTS UP

Loss of a barn by lightning is not an uncommon occurrence around Plymouth. The total loss from such fires in the entire county may not be great in a year, and yet when we get hold of figures for the entire nation it is apt to set us thinking. The government has just reported that property loss by lightning last year amounted to $12,000,000. Illinois stood first, with a loss of more than $1,000,000; Texas was next because of its large area and many oil-storage tanks, and New York was third. The report does not go into the insurance end of the matter, though we feel sure that it would have totalled but a small part of the entire amount involved. This is one thing the modern farmer has not given the attention it deserves—and that is protection through insurance. He can't always get the protection of a fire company, but he can secure an insurance policy, no matter where he lives. Insurance is one thing that can be made to cover as much territory as lightning.

A COMMUNICATION

The Mail is in receipt of the following communication:

Note to Editor: This is a copy of a letter placed in the same mail with this, and addressed to the Village Commission. We would be pleased to have you publish the same in the Mail.

M. K. HILLMER AND FAMILY,
711 Starkweather Ave.,
Plymouth, Mich., Aug. 29, 1925.
The Village Commission and
The Cemetery Board,
Plymouth, Mich.
Honorable Gentlemen:

I have just noted, in the issue of the Plymouth Mail for August 14th, a statement concerning a plan whereby the village proposes, or may propose, to reserve or set aside an area of from four to five acres in the new addition to Riverside cemetery as an exclusive burial place for members of the Roman Catholic faith. Before this idea progresses to a point of completion, I earnestly desire that your honorable body listen to and consider my few words of protest.

While to me it seems perfectly right and proper to permit the burial of all persons in the cemetery owned and controlled by the village of Plymouth, and irrespective of what during life had been the religious faith of the persons buried, yet to me it does not seem right that the village should permit any section of the cemetery, or of the new addition of the cemetery, nor any land intended for village purposes, to be reserved or set aside for the exclusive use of any particular sect, society or class. My idea is that the Riverside Cemetery, owned as it is by the village, is wholly a general community cemetery, and that its entire area should be open to all, with no segregated portions, and without special let nor particular hindrance to anyone.

I especially emphasize the fact that I bear not the slightest prejudice against the Roman Catholic faith, nor any other Christian faith, and this even though my own religious views may be at great variance with these others; yet I believe that any person, of any sect or body which may desire an exclusive burial place for followers of their teachings, should go outside and establish a cemetery entirely independent of the cemetery, or lands, owned by the village of Plymouth. I am personally much opposed to the use of any part of Riverside Cemetery, or its new addition, for any purpose other than that of a GENERAL COMMUNITY CEMETERY. I make a possible exception to the Plymouth road frontage, should the village sometime decide to convert this portion of the addition into a public park.

When the new addition to the cemetery was sold, on contract, by my late husband, Louis Hillmer, neither of us had any idea that any part of it would ever be set aside for the exclusive use of any particular sect or creed. Our understanding was that the entire area would be used only as a cemetery BY THE VILLAGE AS A WHOLE. Had we known that any such proposition as that now proposed would ever come up and become effectual, then no doubt the contract would never have been written.

I further emphasize the fact that I am sincere in all these opinions, and that I would not care to do anything, nor propose anything, contrary to the good and welfare of the village as a whole. I stand ready, at any time, to do whatever I can for my native village of Plymouth, and according to my ability may permit. In connection with this it might be mentioned, incidentally, that only a few short years ago my late husband and myself offered to the village a considerable tract of land, and quite centrally located, which land I believe had been used by the High school as a ball park, for a public park or playground. But the offer was placed on the table and our would-be gift to the village was never accepted.

Once more, in closing my communication to you, I would reiterate my opinion that if our beautiful Riverside Cemetery is acceptable, just as it is, to Baptists, Methodists, Episcopalians, Lutherans, Presbyterians, Christians, Scientists and followers of the late Pastor C. T. Russell, that it then should be equally acceptable, just as it is, to the Romans. Roman Catholics already have as much welcome to bury their dead here as any others. But if it is not acceptable to the Romans, and just as the cemetery is known and understood by all, then let this faith establish a cemetery in some other section of our township, and entirely independent of special co-operation or connection with the village of Plymouth and the Cemetery Board. I feel confident that I not only express the opinion of my own family, but of the people generally throughout this village. I sincerely trust and urge that the matter here presented be given one and careful consideration before the village takes definite action on any such proposition as outlined in this letter, or as published in the Plymouth Mail of the issue mentioned. Respectfully submitted,
MARY K. HILLMER.

AROUND LAKE HURON

BY STANLEY NEWTON

At Waters, between Grayling and Gaylord, there is a stone fence that is a curiosity. It contains dozens of bottles carefully imbedded in the concrete. The bottles are empty. The contents were surrounded in the days that are no more, by the man who built the fence as a sort of memento or a mute protest, as it were. There isn't another fence like it anywhere.

Osego Lake is a lovely vision skirting the road for miles south of Gaylord. You could linger there for a week and enjoy every minute of the time. If it were not such a long way around Lake Huron, you could do a marathon like the Around-Lake-Huron drive, you've simply got to keep turning the wheels over.

Once Greenville, over near Grand Rapids, was the greatest potato shipping point on earth. Now it's Gaylord that bears the honor, and potato fields stretch away for miles in all directions in the sandy loam. Good state roads cross to Alpena on Lake Huron, and to Boyne City and the Lake Michigan resorts.

Gaylord is the highest point in the lower peninsula, 1,400 feet above sea level. M14 is down hill from Gaylord all the way to Burt Lake, and there is a stretch where one can coast for over two miles. The little town of Indiana River on Burt Lake, hasn't grown much in twenty years, but the summer colony along the lake has developed to great proportions.

The same with Mullet Lake. Pike's Hotel at Topinabee has been replaced by a much more pretentious structure with staff of 60, and room for 400 guests. Summer cottages line the whole west shore of the lake, which is many miles in length, culminating in the beautiful resort of Mullet Lake on the northern shore, voted the most charming of the many seen on the trip to Mackinac.

Cheboygan is an up-to-date town of 6,000, with beautiful streets, country club and golf links. It is 10 miles from the Straits, with a paved road part of the way and dusty gravel for several miles before you reach blue water.

If you are in a hurry to cross the Straits, don't make the mistake of going down town into Mackinaw City. It is a pretty little town and will repay a visit, with its wonderful park and camp site on the Lake Michigan shore. Folks who had intended to hurry along, often tarry for a week to loaf and dream on the lovely white-surf beach.

A rather remarkable situation prevails this year at the Straits. For several years after automobile tourists began flocking north, the big railroad ferries handled the cars at a charge of from six to ten dollars each. The railroad people didn't want to be bothered with automobiles. The cars had to be driven down the long stocks, over railroad tracks on land, and on boats. The ferries weren't built to handle the growing car and truck traffic, their docks were a mass of criss-crossing rails, and breakages and bad feelings were inevitable.

Something had to be done. Under the constant prodding of upper peninsula state representatives and senators and civic and public organizations, the state of Michigan built ferries of its own at Mackinaw City and St. Ignace, and installed two automobile and passenger ferries arranged especially for this traffic. The venture has proved enormously successful, and no other enterprise in which the state is interested pays such great returns in satisfaction and in profits.

Already the two ferries are swamped with business. Right now Michigan is getting ready to put on more boats next year. They carry from 35 to 38 cars each, according to size, and are built as all-out carrying cars should be built, with the car deck absolutely free and clear from end to end. The charge is $2.50 for cars not over 110-inch wheel base, and $3.50 for everything over that, with a little extra for trucks and trailers. At these prices, the little boats are taking in $200 or better on each trip of two hours time, and it is estimated that they will net the state over $100,000 this year. As it is not intended to run them for profit, but rather for the convenience of the traveling public, a substantial reduction in rates is contemplated for next season, probably to $1.50 and $2.50. The prices given include the carriage of the car occupants. Foot passengers pay twenty-five cents a charge, and of sixty cents on the railroad ferries.

You often hear tales of the far-sightedness of the long-headedness of big business, as exemplified by our manufacturing and transportation interests. Lying idly at her dock in St. Ignace is an immense railroad ferry, a duplicate of the Wawatam, which carries the passenger and freight trains across the Straits for the three railroads centering there.

This ferry isn't bringing in a dollar this year. Its presence is a necessity, however, a provision in case the Wawatam is temporarily out of commission. Taxes, interest on investment, and the rest of the overhead must be paid.

Why didn't the owners think her car decks flush with the rails, do the same with the approaches to the docks, and get into the exceedingly lucrative business of ferrying automobiles? Presumably because they didn't have the vision to foresee that their ship might be earning, at greatly reduced rates, from five hundred to a thousand dollars per round trip in automobile tolling, instead of accumulating rust and overhead at the dock.

It isn't too late right now. Something must be done to relieve the steadily growing congestion at the Straits, which is one of the most significant phenomena of late years in transportation. If the state does not provide additional facilities, private enterprise will have to, and it will reap a rich reward.

The state dock is well out on the south side of town at Mackinaw City. Many cars in a hurry shoot down town without seeing it, and thus lose their places in the long line usually waiting on the dock. So great is the traffic that a wait of three hours or more has not been uncommon this summer, showing the necessity for increased accommodations. The thing to do is to get into line and stay there, moving up close as the boats load from hour to hour. Those who attempt to wiggle in ahead of their rightful turn are spotted, and they generally are punished by being kept out of line for a few hours. The ferry company is uniformly courteous and efficient. Women drivers get especial consideration, and if they are at all dubious about driving on or off the boats skilled drivers are there to handle their cars for them. The ride is quite an experience for most tourists and they enjoy it thoroughly.

On the right as you cross the Straits, Mackinac Island, the Fairy Isle, looms up green and imposing and alluring as ever. Its old white fort brooding above the little town, with its long, shooting parapets, lends a suggestion of foreign and oriental beauty, which a closer view confirms. Once the island was the metropolis of the north country, the fur mart and outfitting exchange for a million miles of territory. It has been ruled in turn by the Huron Indians, the Chippewas, the Troquois, the French, English and Americans. In 1812, the British took it from the American forces, ceding it back at the close of the war.

Automobiles have never been welcome on Mackinac Island. The islanders, many of them, have made their living for years by driving tourists around to points of interest with horse teams and three-seated buggies. Many of the drives are so steep and winding and narrow that cars could not be permitted without great risk of accident. The whole island is a state park, and a compromise has been effected whereby cars may be brought across to British Landing on the west side of the island and parked nearby. But not many cars come in because of the restrictions against driving them on the island. Eventually arrangements may be made whereby cars will be allowed on the shore drive of nine miles, which circles the island at the water's edge, and then which there is nothing more beautiful in all America.

The automobile is changing the life of everybody. Whether we admit it or not, it has its effect on all of us. The people of St. Ignace, where the ferries dock on the north side of the Straits, are inclined to look upon the present situation with favor. In the old days Mackinac Island was thronged with visitors who came by train and boat, while St. Ignace was neglected and deserted. Now the shoe is on the other foot, and St. Ignace is one of the busiest summering places in the state. All the business is on one street, which winds and winds at the edge of the Straits. There is a standing joke that St. Ignace is two miles long and an inch and a half wide. Now, with its camp site on the point, and its growing accommodations for travelers, it is four miles long and not much wider than before.

The automobile has transformed St. Ignace. The new Northern Hotel is one of the most successful on the chain around the "Eddie Thomas, formerly situated on the private car of James J. Hill of the Great Northern Railway, has come down to St. Ignace and opened a restaurant and is gaining money. He has an extraordinary reputation as a skillful chef, and it is bringing him great reward.

It is interesting to know that while the ferries are packed through the summer season, the biggest month last year was not July or August, but November. Once upon a time the deer hunters swarmed across the Straits in special trains and extra coaches, swamping railroad facilities and making all trains hours late. The hunters are still coming, but they travel by auto now, and the hunting season means little to the Michigan Central, Pennsylvania, South Shore and Soo Line Railways.

Ten miles across the Straits to St. Ignace and 62 miles to Sault Ste Marie, brings you to Sault Ste Marie, Michigan, the terminus of the Around-Lake-Huron tour in American territory. Tourists say the camp site there is the best north of Chicago, with competent care-takers, free fuel and water, and a good bathing beach near by. A country club with a nine-hole golf course offers pleasant accommodations to visitors, and there is a fine state park on the shore of Waikoa Bay an arm of Lake Superior, fifteen miles out over paved roads. Good hotels and innumerable side trips induce many visitors to stay over a few days or longer.

The St. Mary's Falls Ship Canal and the locks are of course the objective point of many. The enormous and unceasing traffic, amounting to 100,000,000 tons of freight per year, and hundreds of thousands of passengers, is astonishing to those who view it for the first time. Four locks on the American side and one on the Canadian afford passage to over 100 ships daily. At night the canals and locks are brilliantly lighted, and the movement of boats is continuous.

THE THEATRE

EVE'S SECRET

Betty Compson and Jack Holt are co-stars in a picture for the first time in "Eve's Secret," directed by Clarence Badger for Paramount, and which comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, September 5th.

"Eve's Secret" adapted for the screen by Adelaide Hellbron from the Broadway stage success, "The Moon-Flower," tells of Eve, a little French peasant girl, who becomes a Duchess.

Eve is a cobbler's daughter, who carries on an across-the-street flirtation with Pierre, a tailor's apprentice, played by William Collier, Jr. Holt, playing the Duke of Poitava, sees Eve and is struck with her beauty and spirit. Disgusted with all women of his own rank, as the result of a disillusionment, he decides that here is the girl he is going to make his wife. He sends her to Paris to be educated, and that is the last we see of her for three years, when we again come upon her as the center of attraction at the Ville d'Or, on the Riviera. The Duke keeps a jealous guard over her.

Who should arrive at the resort but Pierre. He has fallen heir to a small fortune and, rather than live in comfort back in the little French village for the rest of his life, has come to the Riviera to realize the ambition of a lifetime and "live like a Prince" for a week. Boylike, he pursues Eve (neither recognizes the other at first) with invitations that she dine with him. She finally consents, and when the Duke walks in on them, there is the dickens to pay.

A duel at dawn brings the picture to a close. It is a case of winner loses. The picture will show what we mean.

After "Wanderer of the Wasteland," "North of 36" and "The Thundering Herd," it's good to see Holt in a "dressed-up" role, though his trusty old six-shooter comes in handy in this one, too. Miss Compson, also, has the finest role of her career in "Eve's Secret." Collier is ideally cast.

"NIGHT LIFE OF NEW YORK"

It has been many many a long week since a cast such as is seen in the new Allan Dwan-Paramount production, "Night Life of New York," has been gathered together for any one picture. Rod La Rocque, Dorothy Gish, Ernest Torrence and George Hackathorne are featured in the leading roles.

—and that's not all either. Helen Lee Worthing, former "Follies" beauty, Arthur Housman and Riley Hatch are prominent in support.

"Night Life of New York," which comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday, September 9th, is an original screen story by Edgar Selwyn, noted playwright and producer.

Rod La Rocque scored a tremendous hit in "The Ten Commandments," and has since appeared in several Cecil B. DeMille productions. Ernest Torrence, of "Covered Wagon" fame, has been winning new laurels in such spots as the West as "North of 36," and in the totally different role of the Scotch shopkeeper in "The Dressmaker from Paris." Dorothy Gish is famed for her work in D. W. Griffith's pictures, and is one of the most popular feminine players in filmdom. George Hackathorne is a well known player of juvenile characters who was seen recently in the leading role of "Capital Punishment," and also in support of Norma Talmadge in "The Lady." Arthur Housman is also favorably known for his playing of juvenile "heavies," and Miss Worthing, who was outstanding in "The Swan," is worth going miles to see as a typical Broadway gold digger.

The adaptation of Edgar Selwyn's story was made by Paul Schofield, who adapted Thomas Melgan's "Coming Through" and Bebe Daniels' picture, "The Crowded Hour." Allan Dwan has given "Night Life of New York" a production which brings real life to the white light taxi-doggers before the eyes of picture patrons.

"Night Life of New York," was taken entirely in New York.

BASE BALL

PLYMOUTH MERCHANTS DEFEAT DETROIT AUTOMOBILE CLUB TEAM.

Plymouth Merchants defeated the Detroit Automobile Club Sunday, shutting them out, 9 to 0. Milross, pitching for Plymouth, was in fine form, allowing only two hits and walking one man. M. P. Man and Grey led with the stick for Plymouth.

There will be no game Sunday, September 5th. Monday, September 6, the Merchants play the strong Shoreham not able to make the trip notify Manager Barley.

BASE BALL AT HOUSE OF CORRECTION FARM.

Saturday, August 29th, the officers of the Detroit House of Correction Farm defeated the Detroit Police Department's Seventh Precinct base ball team, 7 to 5.

The Seventh Precinct Cops came loaded for bear, ready and anxious to avenge the defeats suffered by their comrades of the Hunt street station, the Bethune station and the Third Precinct station on the farm grounds previously. Though the spirit was willing the flesh was weak, and the pick of the department went away from our midst, sadder but wiser men.

Hurley for the Cops pitched a splendid game, but weakened in the eighth, and was driven to the showers to be replaced by Gunn.

Roman for the Farmers, hurled a consistent game, working himself out of two holes the Cops had battered into his offensive. Hank Perry, the Farmers latest addition, smeared the Cops' offerings into the backgrounds, until he was recognized and thereafter allowed to walk to first.

Sunday, August 30th, the Detroit Independents, who some time ago suffered a 1 to 0 defeat on the farm diamond, came out and avenged themselves at the House of Correction Officers by defeating them 11 to 9, in a game replete with thrills.

The Officers started with a savage onslaught that netted them three circuits in the first inning, followed by two more in the third. The Independents woke up in their half of the third, and slugged Kuhn out of the box, tying the score.

Denniston coming to the mound cold, attempted to stem the Detroiters' avalanche of hits, but they plugged five more runs through. Arnold Jaska was then placed in the breach and held the tide.

In the fifth the Officers made a sortie on Watson, the independent hurler, pushing four runs across, in a vain endeavor to retrieve their losses.

The Independents retallied, in the seventh with one run. The eighth and ninth innings were fought to a finish, the Independents guarding carefully their two run lead in the face of the Officers' efforts to overcome it.

Game Umpires were Thompson and Harvel, Nash and Murphy.

Next Saturday, the Officers will play Brightmoor; Sunday at 2:30 p. m., the Standard Oil of Detroit, and Labor Day, the Army and Navy Club of Detroit.

Sunday afternoon, Northville band will give a band concert before the game.

All base ball fans are cordially invited to attend any or all of the games on the farm grounds.

Probably Not Your Eyes

Many people think their eyes are failing when the only trouble is with the lamps they use.

You should realize that lamps slowly and gradually lose candlepower. Small particles are continually thrown off by the highly heated filament and accumulate on the lamp walls. In time, this will produce eyestrain, dimness and anxiety.

You can tell this condition easily. Examine your lamps. Are they blackened? If they are, bring them back and exchange for new ones. Costs you nothing.

Today's Reflections

It's an ideal marriage if she can read him the love letters he sent her ten years before without making him want to go out and get gloriously drunk.

What a lot of Plymouth children of today can't understand is how their parents have managed to live so long knowing as little as they do.

If there is anything easier to start than a domestic fight, it's a church fight—and love is supposed to rule in both places.

People might stop at grade-crossings if they'd keep a man there painting a sign or digging a ditch.

A regular fellow is the Plymouth man who thinks that table manners should be suspended during the corn-on-the-cob season.

Many a fellow who was at the head of his class in college wears a dunce cap in the school of experience.

A girl agrees with the man who says he is not worthy of her—but she always waits until after she marries him to tell him so.

Maybe one reason why more Plymouth women do not get divorces is that their husbands are not nearly as bad as the neighbors assert.

This old world is full of queer nuts, including the one who can't enjoy an auto ride unless he drives carefully.

They could save a lot of money on signs if they'd put them where you can park instead of where you can't.

Most of the violent exercise that is done around Plymouth in warm weather, is done with a knife and fork.

We suppose that from now on when they lay out new towns in this country they will have foresight enough to put the cemetery close to the railroad crossing.

The fellow who can memorize the license number of the car that hit him can really be said to have presence of mind.

We imagine that the saddest sight on earth would be to see a one-armed man trying to tell about a fish that got away.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says that it isn't safe any more, now that we have so many autos, for a politician to put his car to the ground.

Money may not bring happiness, but it gives a fellow a wider choice as to what he will worry about.

"A reformer," says Dad Plymouth, "is the fellow who tries to enforce the law, no matter how many laws you have to break to do so."

We read where a movie actress denies that she has had her face rebuilt. She must have had only a some retouching done.

"All things come to those who wait," declares Dad Plymouth, and then he adds that a fellow doesn't have to wait long for the brickbats.

In this summer's battle between the porch swing and the auto, it looks like the former lost by a wide margin.

According to Dad Plymouth: "There are magazines printed now to enable you to keep up with everything but your expenses."

"The girl who is always acting kittenish," asserts Dad Plymouth, "will always find the neighbor women catly when they talk about her."

THE PENCIL MAKES A FARM PAY BETTER

Farm Accounting Reveals Losing
Methods and Points Way to Bigger Profits.

(From Banker-Farmer)
A farm cannot properly be called successful unless it pays a fair rate of interest on the investment and returns fair wages for the farmer's labor. Agriculture is considered by all odds the most important industry in the world, and yet in no other industry is the business end so neglected. It is common to find a farmer with an investment of fifteen to twenty thousand dollars, yet does he keep books? Perhaps he may jot down a note now and then of an important deal, but this is of no value in an analysis of his business as a whole. No other industry, however small, is carried on without books of some sort. Farming is a business and to be successful must be conducted in a businesslike way. The business man's mind should have indelibly printed upon it two questions: What profit is my business making? How can that profit be increased? To know the latter, one must find out the former; and to find out about profits requires the keeping of books. It is not necessary for a farmer to have a course in bookkeeping. Almost every agricultural college in the country has issued a simplified farm accounting book which it sells at cost, and only a few minutes are required each day to jot down the day's happenings. Accounts Increase Profits Instances number a thousandfold where farmers have profited by knowing their business. Accounts kept by nineteen farmers in Illinois led them to improve the organization and operation of their farms in ways that added approximately $650 to their average net income in 1922, the seventh year they had kept accounts. An Iowa farmer found at the end of the first year he kept books that crops fed to livestock brought more money than when sold outright. His figures showed that his cows were poor; compared with other farms in the state, he found the number of acres cultivated per man on his farm, as well as the number of acres per horse, were below average. He rented more land and replanned his fields, so that the crop areas per man and horse were increased. He sold some of his scrubs and bought good cows. The second year his income from the farm, after paying all expenses and interest on the money invested, had been increased over $350. Costs Can Be Regulated "I have discovered," says one farm bookkeeper, "that the kind of man you have on a job, as well as the particular team, often makes quite a variation in the cost of performing certain tasks. I have learned from the pages of my book that if I could have increased the yield of my wheat field by two bushels and my corn by five bushels I would have realized a substantial profit from them." While the farmers may not be able to fix prices on their products, they do have a voice in determining the costs of production. To reduce this cost they must first know what the costs are. The number of farmers who are keeping books on their business has increased remarkably in recent years, but the number of businesslike farmers is woefully small when listed alongside the sum total of the farmers in the country. Inventory is Indispensable The basis of any system of farm accounting is the annual property list or inventory. It is the starting point of the farm records. One must take into consideration decreases or increases in the value of all property owned to gauge the progress of the business. Lacking facts as to the value of his property, no business man can form an accurate estimate of how he stands financially. Increased cash may be due to property which was sold, or increased debts may be due to improvements made. If a farmer is falling behind, the inventory will emphasize this fact. Often when a man is discouraged and thinks he is making no progress, his inventories will tell him that he is better off than he thought. At the end of each year a financial statement is drawn off. This is the farmer's rating and no farmer with a good financial statement need fear walking into a bank and asking for a loan. BANKERS HELP A bank in Monrovia, Ind., tests seed corn for farmers. A basement room was fitted out last season for the purpose and 25,000 ears were tested for fifty-six farmers. One-fourth of the seed tested last year was unfit for seed. This year the percentage will run even higher. The work is done under the supervision of the high school agricultural teacher. He reports that the community will have a surplus of seed corn this year. The banks of Conway, Ark., have offered prizes for the most marketable sweet potatoes produced on one acre of land. A first prize of $150 is offered, along with three district prizes of $50 each. The county agent and the banks are working out the details. The County Bankers Association will help to employ a full time county leader this year for boys' and girls' club work in Calhoun, Cherokee and Buena Vista counties, Iowa. If you know of an item of news, phone or send it to the Mail office. If you have anything to buy or sell, advertise in the Mail. It will pay you. NEWBURG

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Greer and family spent Sunday in Ann Arbor. Their daughter, Dorothy, has gone to Niagara Falls with her grandparents, to be gone a month.

Freeman and James Gunnell of Detroit, little nephews of Mrs. Marvin Guthrie, are spending a week at her home.

Rev. Charles Bayless, who recently graduated from the Boston Theological Seminary, filled the Newburg pulpit Sunday.

Raymond Ryder of Chicago, spent over Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryder. Raymond and his brother-in-law, Prof. Francis Ross of the U. of M., had been on a two weeks' trip to the Algonquin National Park, Ontario, going 400 miles by auto, then by rail and canoe, until in the very heart of the wilderness. They came back by the way of the Soo and Mackinaw, making a trip of 2,000 miles from the time he left Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horton and daughter, Gladys, and Mr. and Mrs. William Lomas and two daughters, Zedra and Hazel, returned Saturday from a month's auto trip through the east, visiting many points of interest.

Miss Margaret Beulker of Five Points, visited Mrs. Laura Maitlan, at Burt Paddock's, the forepart of the week.

Mrs. Lillian Rutter Cromey and three children of Detroit, spent last week with Mrs. Hattie Geer.

Miss Ernestine Roe of Plymouth, spent last week Thursday night with Mrs. Clyde Smith.

Gay Custerline of Flint, spent last Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ryder.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles VanBlaircom of Wayne, took six o'clock dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Joy, Tuesday evening. They are just about to leave for Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Mackinder called on their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, at Salem, Tuesday.

E. Harsbarger of New Carlisle, Ohio, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. George Hallam.

The L. A. S. contest, which had been running since last March, came to a close Tuesday evening. A short program was given, consisting of a solo by Miss Gladys Horton, accompanied by Miss Leona Joy at the piano; reading by Mrs. M. Eva Smith, entitled "The Mortgage," by Edgar Guest; piano solo by Mrs. Havens. The president, in a pleasing manner, introduced the captains, Madeline Greer and Thomas, giving them words of commendation for the efforts they had put forth in making this contest a success. The members were then called on to give their experiences of how they earned their money. Mrs. Robert Holmes earned the most of anyone individually of the first division, $28.00; second, Mrs. W. R. Greer, $16.00; Mrs. Jesse Thomas, second division, carried off the honors for landing in $242.50, $167.00 of this being on the advertising quilt, doing all the soliciting work on the blocks herself. Mrs. Fred Geary earned the next largest sum, $46.00. From all sources the first division raised $258.25; the second division, $413.02, making the total receipts, $671.27. The quilt was to have been auctioned off. However, the ladies thought Mrs. Thomas deserved the quilt. Rev. Havens, in behalf of the L. A. S., presented her with it, showing their appreciation of her untiring efforts put forth in this contest. The quilt will be on exhibition at the Northville Fair.

Rev. and Mrs. Havens entertained Rev. and Mrs. Charles Bayless of Detroit, for Sunday dinner.

the ladies, added much to the joy of the occasion. Beautiful flowers were furnished by Mrs. Smith, and with the lovely gifts she received, made the event a day long to be remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Foreman of Detroit, spent Sunday with their parents.

METHODIST NOTES

The Missionary Society meets for its first meeting after the summer vacation at the home of Mrs. Whitney on Ann Arbor street, next Wednesday. It is to be an all-day meeting. Members are urged to be on hand for this first meeting.

Mid-week service on Wednesday night at 7:30.

Letters are being sent out to all families this week, containing a pledge card, which the finance committee desires to be used. Will each one make out their pledge for at least as much as they were paying last year, and "as the Lord hath prospered you," make it out for as much more as possible. Please mail it to Olin P. Martin, the financial secretary, right away, or put it on the collection plate at church next Sunday. Thank you.

This method will save the time of the committee calling on each one personally.

If you are still owing on your last year's pledge, will you kindly pay up in full next Sunday?

The pledge cards are to be used for both a pledge to the local church budget, and also for our benevolence budget. Every true Christian desires to share in the world-wide enterprises for the kingdom.

If you did not get your package of envelopes last Sunday, be sure to get them next Sunday.

"Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled."

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

So few were present at the trustee meeting, Monday night, that it was necessary to call a special meeting for tonight, Friday, September 4th. Every trustee should be present.

A special meeting of the Session is called for next Sunday afternoon, September 6th, at four o'clock. Members of the Session besides the pastor are: A. D. Stevens, O. H. Loomis, W. R. Shaw, I. W. Hummel, J. R. Rauch, Robert C. Gardner, Frank Hauk and Charles Weaver.

Last Wednesday was an ideal day for an ideal picnic. One hundred seventy-five persons attended in about fifty autos. Mr. Stewart's truck was well loaded with food on the trip, and was not entirely empty coming back. Ed. Leach, who will be ninety years old November 7, 1925, was the oldest person reported, and Olive Mae Calkwell, the youngest. The largest family present was twins—Alfred Bakewell and Raphael Metcalf. There are fourteen in the two families. The Greens won the tug-of-war and the Golds won the ball game. A number of individual prizes were also awarded to the successful entrants of the several events—foot races, mail driving, ball throwing, etc. A good time by a good crowd in a good place on a good day—this would make a good summary account of our biggest and best picnic.

E. C. Venable made such a good temporary officer that the members of the men's class elected him permanent treasurer, last Sunday. Other officers elected were: President, C. H. Bennett; vice president, R. O. Mimmack; secretary, Floyd Kehrl. Inaugural addresses will be in order next Sunday. Incidentally, the pastor let out what has up his sleeve; and now it is up the pastor's sleeve. Watch them keep it there until it goes up higher.

The Woman's Auxiliary will hold its regular monthly meeting for business, in the lecture room of the church, at 2:30 p. m., Wednesday, September 9th. As this is the first meeting since vacation, a most earnest invitation is extended to all our ladies to be present.

A joint meeting of the Ready Service Class and the Busy Woman's Bible Class will be held at the home of Mrs. R. O. Mimmack, next Tuesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

In the eighteenth century, the great French infidel, Voltaire, prophesied that within a hundred years from the time that he wrote the Bible would be an obsolete book. He declared that it would go entirely out of circulation and would be found as a curio on the shelves of antiquarians. But observe, one of the most remarkable facts of modern times is that the Bible is still the world's "best seller." Two Bible Societies alone are printing it at the rate of one every five seconds, 720 and hour and 17,280 every day in the year. The Bible has not died, but has lived on and on with increasing vigor because it is God-given and eternal truth. But there is scarcely a scientific text-book that is ten years old that is not out of date and discarded.

BAPTIST NOTES

The school year as it opens, brings back home the people and children, and always the activity of the church is renewed, after the vacation season. People become regular in attendance on Sunday at all the services of the church. We are working for every member of the church and congregation, next Sunday.

The pastor spoke on "Co-operation," last Sunday morning, working together—one helping the other. Is. 41:7.

The Sunday-school and R. Y. P. U. are looking up each Sunday, working and praying. Let every young person be at both meetings.

Last Sunday evening, Duane Sayles gave a review of the National Convention of the B. Y. P. U. held at Indianapolis, last July. Seven thousand delegates from all parts of the United States were enrolled, and a great meeting was held. He took the entire evening and gave a splendid report. He was made a delegate from the First Baptist church of Kalamazoo, where he is president of the B. Y. P. U. We hope our young people will all be at their meeting next Sunday evening at 8:30.

The Aid Society will meet next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Schryer on Whitbeck road. An urgent invitation is extended to the church and congregation. A pot-luck supper is to be served. The B. Y. P. U. expect to come over at the supper hour and spend the evening in a social way and have a good time.

The Wayne Association will meet with the Baptist church of Rochester, Mich., the 29th and 30th of this month. Plan to go.

If you have anything to buy or sell, advertise it in the Mail. It will pay you.

She also told of the baby clinic that is now held at the school, and of the instruction and help that is thus given the mothers.

The next meeting will be held September 24th, with Mesdames Carrie Hillmer and Clara Todd as hostesses. The place of meeting will be announced later.

Richard Dix, Theodore Roberts, Leatrice Joy, Agnes Ayres, Nita Naldi, Lawson Butt, James Neal, Charles De Roche, Robert Edeson, Clarence Burton, Julia Faye, Charles Ogle, Noble Johnson, Estelle Taylor, Edythe Chapman, Terrence Moore.

It is a great, tremendous drama dealing not only with the ancient but with the modern as well. A story that has incorporated within its multitudinous thrills the backings of the ancient as well as the modern.

To sit in your theatre chair and witness, with your own eyes, the destruction of Pharaoh's Mighty Hosts in the Red Sea; to see the Mighty Ocean Split in Twain for the Passing of the Israelites; to thrill at Scenes of Tremendous Action, so Realistic, so Thrilling that the Tumult Almost Can be Heard; to marvel at the Wondrous Scenes in Natural Color Passing Before Your Eyes; to Live, Love and Suffer the trials and tribulations of this Modern San Francisco Family—is to Live Centuries in the most spectacular manner in a period of Two Marvelous Hours!

AROUND ABOUT US

There will be 135 teachers employed in the Redford schools during the coming year.

R. J. Thompson, champion stacker and fence builder of the Base Line road, built the largest straw stack of the season for E. M. Starkweather recently, putting the straw from forty acres of oats in one stack.

The Brighton Mfg. Co. is the name of a new organization just formed at Brighton, for the manufacture of water filters, pumps and machine parts. Thomas S. Lefth, former Plymouth boy is vice president of the new company.

Miss Doris Irene Banta, a bride-to-be, was the guest of honor at a delightful miscellaneous shower and "wienie roast" given by her co-workers at the Phoenix Road Plant at Plymouth, where she has been employed the past three years.—Farmington Enterprise.

The Northville Chemical company which has been successfully conducted at Northville for the past few years, by Messrs. E. C. and C. E. Langfield, is now a corporation, articles of incorporation having been recently filed with the secretary of state at Lansing.

The main barn on the farm of John Hickman in Superior township, was burned to the ground on Wednesday afternoon of last week. Nearly all of the farm machinery was lost in the fire. Four hundred bushels of oats and twelve tons of hay were destroyed.

The fourth annual reunion of the former pupils and teachers of the Franklin Lake school was held on the school grounds last Saturday, with a good attendance. A pot-luck dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour. It was a most pleasant occasion for all who attended.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Cooper and family attended a school reunion near their old home at Perrinville, Wayne county, Saturday. There was pot-luck dinner served and a program of sports enjoyed. Miss Esther Cooper won first prize in the girls' race. Mrs. Cooper informs us that quite a town is being built on the site of their old farm and that the residents wish to incorporate it under the name of Garden City.—Brighton Argus.

Some unnamed booze runner ran into a bunch of hard luck on Plymouth road near the Livonia township line Saturday. His coupe, especially designed for the concealment of booze, inadvertently tipped over into the ditch and the driver thereupon made a lee line for the nearby wood. Neighbors seeing the car in the ditch phoned the local sheriff's office and Officer Scheel went to the scene of the accident, confiscated the automobile and inside of it 65 gallons of moonshine whiskey in tin containers. An effort is being made to locate the driver, and a John Doe warrant has already been issued for his arrest. In the mean time the booze is aging under lock and key at the village calaboose.—Bedford Record.

According to statement given out today by prison camp officials here, September 19 is the date set for opening of the new section of Ecorse Road from the west terminal, where work was discontinued last year, to the intersection at Michigan avenue near the overhead bridge in Ypsilanti. A special quick-setting cement is being used to shorten the time necessary for the road to set after the final surface is poured and it is expected that the road will be open to traffic on schedule time. Estimate of traffic at the point of intersection in Ypsilanti, 30,000 vehicles a week during the months of heavy traffic.—Daily-Ypsilanti Press.

ELM

On September 13th, a week from next Sunday, Sunday-school will again be held in the Elm school house. All the children of this community are invited to come and join.

School opens Tuesday, September 8, at 9:00 a. m. The school house is finished and is most attractive. It is a two-room type, strictly modern. Mrs. Davis will again return to the primary room, and Mrs. Sowden will have the intermediate room. There will be a complete description and a history of Elm school in next week's paper.

Rosedale Gardens, the new subdivision at the Plymouth and McKinney roads, have started about fifteen new houses and expect to start several more very soon. They have already sold thirty-five homes to be built this fall.

A week ago Sunday nearly a hundred friends and relatives, all former residents of Cheboygan, Mich., gathered for a picnic dinner at George Michelin's new home on the River Rouge, in honor of Mr. Michelin's parents from Cheboygan, who are visiting relatives at Elm, Detroit and Ferndale. The feature of the day was a ball game played by the old men against the boys and young men, and there was much rooting and fun when the old men won the honors.

Al. Rohde has started his new home on McKinney road.

After this week kindly phone all news to Redford 7010-7111. Mrs. Bentley will edit the column for the Plymouth Mail hereafter, as Mrs. Michelin will soon move to her new home near Plymouth.
