REDFORD AND PLYMOUTH MEET ON GRIDIRON TODAY

One of the Biggest Games of Season Will Take Place On the Tourist Camp Field, This Friday Afternoon, at 3:30.

What promises to be one of the best foot ball games of the season will take place this (Friday) afternoon, October 23rd, at 3:30 o'clock, at the tourist camp field, when the local High school team and Redford will battle on the gridiron. Plymouth has not lost a league game this season, and Redford is playing a snappy game, too, defeating Detroit Central last week 8 to 0. Plymouth is going to make a great effort to win this game, as it will make the local team a very strong contender for the championship. Every foot ball fan is urged to attend this game, and thus get behind the home team, which after all is one of the big elements in winning a game, so come out and "root." Admission, 25c.

ANDREW TAYLOR SR. PASSED AWAY SUDDENLY

Andrew Taylor was born in Detroit, Michigan, January 17, 1867, and departed this life October 17, 1925, at the age of 58 years and 9 months. On March 19, 1886, he was united in marriage to Margaret Colquhoun. To this union five children were born: David A., William, and Mrs. Margaret B. Carley of Plymouth; Mrs. Jessie M. Williams of Detroit, and Andrew R. of Saline.

In 1898, he moved from Detroit to Plymouth, where he has since resided, making a large circle of friends and acquaintances. During his twenty-seven years in Plymouth, he has been connected with the Daisy Manufacturing Co.

On October 19, 1900, he was raised in Plymouth Rock Lodge, No. 47, F. & A. M., of which he was a Past Master. He was also a member of Union Chapter, R. A. M., No. 55, Northville; a member of Plymouth Chapter, No. 115, O. E. S.; Moslem Shrine Temple Court No. 1 Sublime Masters, and a Past Commander of Northville Commandery, No. 39, Knights Templar.

He leaves to mourn their loss a devoted wife, five children, one sister, Mrs. Jennie Smith of this city; one brother, Charles, of Detroit, and three grandchildren; also several nieces and nephews and a host of friends. He was always a devoted husband and father, always thinking of the welfare of others more than of himself.

Funeral services were held from the Masonic temple, Monday, at two o'clock, Plymouth Rock Lodge, No. 47, F. & A. M., having charge of the services, and Northville Commandery, No. 39, Knights Templar, acting as escort. The Rev. F. P. Knowles of Northville, officiated, and the Northville male quartet sang two beautiful selections. The remains were laid to rest in Riverside cemetery.

The following out of town relatives and friends attended the funeral: Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Taylor of Saline; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hitchings, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuhnlein, Mrs. Maude Taylor and daughter, Maude, Mr. and Mrs. George Haas, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, Charles Smith, Mrs. Nellie Smith, Miss Jessie Colquhoun and Mrs. Anna Colquhoun of Detroit; also Mrs. Caroline Duquette of Romulus.

SALEM BOY BECOMES CHAMPION RAT KILLER.

This is a tale of a rat—several of them. A rat may be the curse of a farmer's life, but the tail of a rat is worth ten cents, and the tails of 224 rats, will, if taken to the office of the county clerk, be worth to the owner or finder $224.00.

The 224 rats in question were caught by Merritt Korabacher, who lives on the township line between Salem and Superior townships. He caught the rats in the barn of Henry Brinkman.

Upon producing the evidence, Merritt was given a check, Friday, at the office of the county clerk for the sum of $224.00, the bounty paid by Washtenaw county for his work.—Ypsilanti Daily Press.

SLUICeway COMPLETED THE FIRST OF THE WEEK.

The new sluiceway for the Ford factory at Waterford, was completed, Tuesday. The trench will be filled and the ground adjoining the water course will be leveled off and put in an attractive condition, because the Fords never leave a job half done.

The machines are being installed in the new factory building, and it is expected that active operations will begin there soon after November first. Everything about the plant and premises adjoining are being put in fine condition, with a broad expanse of lawn laid out under the direction of a landscape gardener, who understands his business. When all completed, the grounds about the building and sluiceway will be as attractive as a park.—Northville Record.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO. WILL BUILD HANDSOME NEW BUILDING HERE

The Telephone Co. Will Spend More Than $140,000 for New Central Office Building and Equipment on Site Recently Purchased on Ann Arbor Street Opposite Kellogg Park.

It Is Planned to Hold a Public Ceremony On the Occasion of the Laying of the Corner Stone by Judge Franz C. Kuhn, President of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

More than $140,000 will be spent by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company here during the coming few months, in providing Plymouth with a new central office building and equipment, according to R. E. Crowe, telephone manager in this district.

The officers of the telephone company have decided to erect a two-story brick structure on a site recently acquired on Ann Arbor street, between Deer and Main streets. The site and building will cost $55,000. Mr. Crowe says. Ground for the erection of the building will be broken about October 24th, and construction will be pushed. It is anticipated that the structure will be enclosed before winter sets in, and that building work will be entirely completed by April 1, next.

According to present plans, the cornerstone of the new telephone building will be placed by Judge Franz C. Kuhn, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. The occasion will be made one of public ceremony, in which, it is anticipated, village and other officials and prominent citizens will participate.

The new central office equipment will be of the latest common battery type, Mr. Crowe states, and will represent an additional expenditure of approximately $72,800. In addition, the telephone company will expend in the neighborhood of $15,000 in making changes to subscribers telephone sets here. The new telephone will be of the type with which the subscriber merely will lift the receiver to secure the attention of the operator. There will be various other features that will give the subscribers added conveniences in the use of the service. Installation of the new equipment will commence upon completion of the building, or about April 1st, and it is expected that the new plant will go into service about August 1st of next year.

The new telephone building will house all three local departments of the telephone company, the Commercial, which deals with the public in handling orders for service, handles collections and so on; the plant departments, which build and maintain the plant, and the traffic, which operates the service at the switchboards and over the lines. The new central office equipment will have an initial capacity of 1,800 telephones, which will provide considerable room for immediate growth of service. At present 1,050 telephones are served in Plymouth, a gain of 90 to date this year. The officials of the telephone company, however, anticipate that Plymouth will show considerable residential and business expansion, and that the increase in telephones next year will be more than 100. Mr. Crowe declares that Plymouth is expected to have 1,530 telephones in service by 1930.

A HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

The L. Y. P. S. of Livonia, will give a Halloween carnival Thursday, October 29th, at 8 o'clock at the Livonia town hall. There will be plenty of sweet cider and doughnuts, a home-made candy booth, a fish pond, fortune telling, a guessing contest, and various other attractions. A good time for all. Everybody welcome. Don't forget the date, Thursday, October 29th.

PLYMOUTH TO AGAIN HAVE ENTERTAINMENT COURSE

The Senior Class of Plymouth High School Have Arranged for a Redpath Course of Five Numbers.

The First Number On the Course Will Take Place On November 10th, When the College Singing Girls Will Open the Season.

FIRE INSPECTION WILL BE MADE NOVEMBER 12

A meeting of the fire insurance agents in town was held, last Monday evening, relative to the Michigan Fire Prevention Association coming to Plymouth on Thursday, November 12. As stated in these columns in recent issues, this association goes into one town in the state each month, and makes an inspection of the mercantile and industrial places. Plymouth is very fortunate in being selected the town for this inspection for the month of November.

The local agents will endeavor to put on a most interesting day in Plymouth, relative to fire prevention. There will be a luncheon at noon, to which all business and professional men will be asked to attend and anyone interested in fire prevention. There will be able speakers from the association on the program. Supt. George A. Smith of the Plymouth schools, has very kindly consented to cooperate with the association and the local agents in the matter of talks to the children on fire prevention. Harry R. Lush of the Dominion Allen theatre has also agreed to help during the day, in that he will allow the association to run pictures on fire prevention, at some period during the afternoon for the children of the schools. Watch for further announcements.

NEWBURG HOME COMING AND BAZAAR TODAY, FRIDAY

The annual Newburg L. A. S. Home Coming and Bazaar will be held in their hall, Friday, October 23rd, afternoon and evening. Supper will be served from five o'clock until all are served. Children, 25c; adults, 50c. Come and enjoy meeting old friends and help in a good cause.

DEATH OF MRS. GEORGE WOLLGAST

Helien Hanchett was born at Perrinville, Michigan, April 20, 1863, and passed away at Harper hospital, Tuesday, October 20, 1925. On April 20, 1893, she was united in marriage to George H. Wollgast of Plymouth. Besides her husband she leaves her father, three brothers and several other relatives and many friends who mourn their loss.

Funeral services were held from the home of Mr. Wollgast's parents, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, with interment at Riverside cemetery. The family have the deepest sympathy of the community in their sorrow.

PLYMOUTH HIGH DEFEAT COMMERCE HIGH HERE

The Commerce High school foot ball team of Detroit, were defeated here last Friday by the local High school team by the score of 7 to 0. The low score does not show the difference between the two teams. Coach Costta cautioned the local team about using any kind of open playing, due to the condition of the field and the rainy weather, therefore our best offensive attack was eliminated. At present Plymouth leads the Suburban League with two, won and none lost. If we can beat Redford here today, our chances for another championship are very good. Come out and root for your team today, they will certainly need it.

The Redpath Lyceum Course, under the auspices of the Senior class of Plymouth High school, consists of five numbers, to be given at intervals during the coming season. All of the numbers are exceptionally worthwhile, being entertaining as well as colorful and educational.

All of the numbers are distinctively different in their presentation, each having a load of individuality in their program.

The season opens on November 10, by presenting the College Singing Girls—a quartet of college girls in a musical program of snappy, up-to-date musical numbers, ranging from popular numbers to classical selections, interspersed with lightning changes of costume. This will appeal to everyone's ears.

The ensuing number on the program is on November 24th, introducing Wierabiko Rawel, a South Sea Islander by birth, with all the advantages of a European education. Mr. Rawel's program gives a delightfully vivid insight into the life and customs of the South Sea Islands. Those who are planning to winter along the Pacific, might consult Mr. Rawel as to such a trip—you may get sooner than you expected.

December 1st ushers in the next number in the person of R. B. Ambrose, a scientific man with an unlimited knowledge of radios and electrical subjects, who with instruments constructed by himself, lectures in a humorous, clear-cut manner on electrical problems. Mr. Ambrose will undoubtedly solve many perplexing radio problems that are bothering our local fans.

The Enchanted Entertainers will be presented on January 14, 1926. This company of three offers a clever arrangement of character sketches, novelty numbers and musical selections. As a group of impersonators and musicians, they are bound to receive a hearty welcome and undoubtedly Mr. Enchanted will be able to recall to some of our minds those "dear dead days."

February 19th, presents the last of the Redpath entertainers, in the persons of Duval and Baldi, two clever exponents of music and witchery. Mr. Baldi offers the musical side in an accordion solo program. Having a large range of musical numbers, he is able to offer a very impressive musical program. Mr. Duval presents a riot of magic, jokes and slight of hand, coupled with a novelty called "Rag Pictures," which must be seen to be appreciated. This pair are very clever entertainers, who will keep you interested from beginning to end.

The Senior class has endeavored to arrange a program combining educational and entertaining interests and hopes for your co-operation in making the Redpath Course a success.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION

The local Hive of L. O. T. M. will put on their public initiatory work of that order, in the High school auditorium, Tuesday evening, October 25, at 8:00 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend. After the initiatory work, the Detroit guards, who are widely known for their fine work, will give one of their splendid exhibitions of drill work. It is hoped many will avail themselves of this privilege.

RECEPTION FOR PASTOR AND FAMILY.

A farewell reception for Rev. S. Conger Hathaway and family will be held at the Presbyterian church, next Wednesday evening. Rev. Hathaway will leave Plymouth about the first of the month for Ypsilanti, where he has been called to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church of that city.

Several from the Methodist church are in Ann Arbor today (Friday) attending the Ann Arbor district rally.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

A steel ceiling was authorized for the rebuilt portion of the village hall.

A sewer extension on Forest avenue and Carol was included, to be built in order.

The Commission Monday night did several things of general interest to the village.

The fire chief was given authority to act as inspector for the state in the matter of the installation of oil burners.

Two crews are laying water pipe—one on Ann street and one on Moreland avenue. Trench digging machines are aiding both jobs.

The Gravel avenue extension is again under discussion. Many business men want this street opened to Main street.

The traffic lights have arrived, and the Edison company will proceed to install them for the village. The lights are very handsome.

Two night watchmen were added to the police force—one for the north end of town and one for the south end. These men will be sworn in as soon as equipment, including time clock stations can be purchased.

Adams street at Church street was made a stop corner. Several accidents and near accidents have happened at this place, and if traffic on Adams street stops before entering Church street, it will add much to the safety of the corner.

At the suggestion of the editor of the Plymouth Mail, the manager expects to list the former presidents of this village, and then attempt to collect photographs of all these gentlemen, for a record here at the hall, either to be framed or to be kept in a suitable book.

Two fires have called the department out lately. Two piles of ties on the Pere Marquette burning too near the American gasoline tanks, caused a run a week ago Wednesday evening, and the morning of the 16th, a small fire in the charging floor of the Detroit Ring Casting Co., called out the boys. There was small damage at this fire.

Miss Bailen has brought two interesting pictures (to the office) which were the property of the late J. B. Pattison. One is the interior of the Presbyterian church before the rebuilding; the other is of Main street looking from the corner of Church street towards the stores. Wooden sidewalks; dirt surface on Main street; gas street lamps, etc., make a picture which is quite a contrast to present conditions. The date of this picture is evidently between 1894 and 1896.

The L. O. T. M. have a banquet for all the members, Tuesday evening of next week, in the Methodist dining hall, preceding the initiatory work at the High school at 8:00 p. m. Dinner will be served at 5:30.

THE SPENDING AGE

There is one question we have heard in Plymouth more frequently in the past few years than any other, and that is: "Where do the people get so much money to spend on autos, fine houses, luxurious clothes, radio sets, shows, etc?" We suppose it is being asked just as often everywhere else, and that the residents of other communities have also been predicting that "it will have to come to an end." But it hasn't.

Where does all the money come from? The answer is not an easy one. In the first place money is actually more plentiful than in the old days. But the main reason is that in this day in time everybody works. Today father is not the only bread-winner in the family, and it is not uncommon to find four or five wage-earners living under one family roof. They are all producing, they are all well paid, then enjoy spending their money for the things they like and, altogether, they keep the army of manufacturers and middle-men and retailers busy.

This "home market" in the United States is worth more than all the world markets put together. Our people are paid the highest wages paid to any of the world's workers, and since they earn good wages they can spend more liberally than the workers of any other country. They are not "cheap," and yet they are not spendthrifts. They have worked hard to bring their standards of living up to the highest point in the world—and they are not going to quit earning and saving and spending and let that standard of living drop. That's the nearest answer we can offer to the frequently asked question: "Where does all the money come from?"

MORE COMMANDMENTS

Just recently we gave Plymouth citizens the new ten commandments of home town loyalty going the rounds of the press. Now we want to take motorists and pedestrians into the fold, so here are ten commandments for their special benefit:

1. Cross streets only at regular crossings.
2. Don't cross directly behind an automobile.
3. Wait until traffic stops or slows down before crossing street.
4. Don't cross streets diagonally—go straight across.
5. Look both ways as you cross any street or road.
6. Motorists—always watch out for children in the street.
7. Give pedestrians more of a chance than he is expecting.
8. Drive carefully and always use your hand signals.
9. Keep your brakes in perfect condition.
10. Study traffic regulations and obey them—and don't forget that they are a part of the law of your land.

TRY THIS AWHILE

We don't know whether everyone is acquainted with the fact or not, but the editor of this paper makes it a rule to always have a pencil and a scrap or two of paper, or the back of an envelope, in easy reach. If you stop him on the street and tell him of visitors at your home, of a visit you have made or expect to make, or if you call his attention to something your neighbors have done that is worth repeating, you'll find that he can easily get hold of that pencil and paper. Later on you will realize that you have helped your home town paper by giving it something of interest to its readers. Papers in towns like this cannot employ a staff of news gatherers. They have to depend upon the people of the town to furnish them items of interest. It takes but a moment of your time, and your reward comes in knowing you have aided in making your home paper a better paper. Try it.

Livonia Township is Waiting for Gas

A talk with any of the officials or business men of Livonia township will show that they consider the bringing of gas into this territory one of the most forward steps that has been proposed in recent years.

The people who are building homes in the new subdivisions in this township are eagerly awaiting the passage of the gas franchise so that mains can be laid and their homes connected up with the service.

Those who have had the opportunity to carefully read the franchise are thoroughly satisfied that in the granting of the franchise the people of the community have been given the utmost protection—both as to service and rates. The operation of the company has been carefully inspected and the quality of service now being given Plymouth and Northville is a criterion of what Livonia people may expect from the Michigan Federated Utilities with the extension of their lines to that community.

Endorsement of the franchise on October 31st means the endorsement of the ideals and purposes of a Greater Development in Livonia township.

OLD HOME OF LEES TO BE RESTORED

Rehabilitation of Historic Arlington Assured.

Arlington is to be restored—not the cemetery, but the house, the old home of the Lees. No announcement could be more agreeable. The cost of restoring the house to the condition in which it was before the Civil war is estimated at $225,000.

The house is worthy of such care merely for its own sake, as one of the most admirable examples still existing of that colonial architecture which gave to this country two hundred years ago a charm and a distinction scarcely surpassed by any other in the world.

Arlington is prized for its personal associations, as the home of the Lees. Members of that illustrious family had, indeed, other homes; but no other is so inseparably associated with the name of Lee. In that capacity it embodies much of the history of America, and some of the most stirring passages in the history of the world for more than eight centuries. At sight of Arlington, and at thought of the name which it recalls, one thinks of Launcelot Lee, foremost among the knights who followed William the Conqueror; and of Lionel Lee, the right-hand man of Richard the Lion Hearted in the Third crusade, who won an earldom by his valor at the siege of Acre.

One thinks still more of Richard Lee, who planted the family in America, and who constrained Charles II to grant Virginia the unique privilege of quartering its colonial arms with those of England, Scotland, Ireland and France with the proud motto, "Eu dat Virginia quantum," thus recognizing that colony as the fifth equal member of the kingdom, and giving it for all time the name of "Old Dominion." One thinks of Richard Henry Lee, co-organizer with Samuel Adams of those formidable "committees of correspondence" which were the germ of the American revolution; and of his brother, Francis Lightfoot Lee, signer of the Declaration of Independence. One thinks of "Light Horse Harry" Lee, the incomparable leader of Lee's legion, who not only again and again "encountered Tarleton's charge of fire" but smote and vanquished that warrior and his hitherto unconquered dragoons; and who, as the chosen orator of congress at the funeral of Washington, gave to his memory the immortal epigram, "First in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen."

And finally one thinks of Robert Edward Lee, the last of his line to possess Arlington, the peer of all who had gone before in intellectual genius, in moral exaltation, in what Lincoln called "firmness for the right as God gives us to see the right," and in the noblest qualities of American manhood.—Washington Post.

SCHOOL NOTES

The grade notes are by Donna Finnean, the High school notes by Doris Rittenhouse, and the Girl Reserve notes by Barbara Horton.

SCHOOL NEWS

Illness has kept Miss Harris and Miss Doneen from teaching this week. Miss Hallahan's Sixth B class has finished their product maps of South America.

Evelyn Greenan, a Four A pupil of Mrs. Bird, moved to Detroit this week. All her classmates were very sorry to see her go.

The Fifth, Sixth and Seventh grades are now having reading and arithmetic tests.

Mrs. Franklin Forsgren visited Three B, Wednesday.

Julia Blizman, a Three B pupil, has moved to Detroit.

The One A and Two B room has a border of autumn leaves as decoration, representing this month. The pupils in this grade are starting a goal behavior race.

The First B room is very prettily trimmed with different Halloween decorations. Also the First B pupils are saving their pennies, and have started stamp books.

The pupils in J. Dixon's room, who were neither absent nor tardy so far: Jane Adams, Miriam Brown, Harold Parry, Darwin Cline, George Curtis, Lucille Derrick, Leonard Weeks, Harold Williams, Jack Wilcox.

THE GIRLS' ASSEMBLY

On Friday, October 16th, an assembly of all the girls in the Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth grades was called to open the membership of the Girl Reserve Club, and to give all girls who wished to join and who would pledge to live up to certain standards required to be a member of the Girl Reserves, a chance to become a member.

A group of Girl Reserves songs was sung by all who knew them. Katherine Wilcox and Barbara Bake each gave an interesting talk on their outing at Camp Caylet this summer. The description of the good times and the friendly spirit that was present among the girls, were very impressive. Julia Wilcox and Elsie White each gave a report of the Girl Reserve Conference at Camp Grey. There were new states represented at this conference. Copies of the Girl Reserve Code, Purpose and Local Purpose, with the required standards, were distributed among the girls. All those wishing to become members were to sign these copies and submit them to the vice president before a certain time.

All clubs in the High school are not to have more than thirty-five members. If there are more girls wishing to join the Girl Reserves than the number needed to bring the membership up to thirty-five, there will be a junior order formed, and another adviser will have charge of that group.

Last year the membership was very limited, because no one knew very much about the organization, and it was felt that a small number would function better, but with increasing familiarity with the organization there came the ability to plan for more members. The following is the statement of Girl Reserve ideals, together with the pledge to which conduct is to agree:

National purpose: To find and give the best.

National Code. As a Girl Reserve, I will be:

- Gentle in manner
- Impartial in judgment
- Ready for service
- Loyal to friends
- Reaching toward the best
- Earnest in purpose
- Seeing the beautiful
- Eager for knowledge
- Reverent toward God
- Victorious over self
- Ever dependable
- Sincere at all times.

Local Plymouth purpose: To encourage each girl in the attainment of a true christian character; to raise the morals of High school girls, and to be a true friend to all.

I will stand before both boys and girls in this High school as a girl who does not give nor receive help in tests and examinations.

Does not smoke.

Does not approve of petting parties.

Is at all times clean in speech, in spirit and in life.

GIRL RESERVE CONFERENCE

Saturday and Sunday, October 10 and 11, the Girl Reserves sent their cabinet and two advisers to the semester "setting-up" conference, held at Center Camp, near Rose Center. A remodeled farm house served as the camp, with an extra "bunk house," which once had been a cattle shed. Because of cold weather, all the meals were eaten indoors, where the girls overhauled the rooms and stairs. The weather also made sleeping rather uncomfortable for some—although plenty of blankets had been provided.

Under the leadership of Miss "Mac" and Miss Frazer, two of the peppiest Girl Reserve leaders from the Detroit "Y," they met and exchanged ideas with over 50 other girls from Detroit and Birmingham. How to Make Better Clubs, How to Make Money, Pretty and Strands of the Club were only a few of the many topics discussed. A hike to an old saw mill nearby was greatly enjoyed, and the elder they gave us there was certainly delicious. The girls who went were: Elsie White, Julia Wilcox, Barbara Bake, Helynn Tyler, Zetta Travis, Alice Hathaway, Katherine Wilcox and the two advisers, Miss Wells and Miss Allen.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Aggie Club had a dinner, Wednesday, October 21st, at which a talk was given by Mr. Holcomb. Plans were laid for a High-school agriculture show.

A new lumber rack and stain chest have been added to the manual training room. Unusual interest is being shown this year for this work. The boys want to form a manual training club. Herman Backher has completed a washstand and has taken it home.

English ten sections have started to read short stories.

A new saw stove has been installed in the cooking room. The girls are very proud of it.

Seniors are now selling tickets for the Redpath Lyceum entertainment course.

The Girl Scouts are working on their tenderfoot tests, and expect to pass them in November.

The High school physical training classes are having a soccer tournament. The captains of the teams are: Ruth Allison, Alice Hathaway, Margaret Denzie, Marie Miller, Elsie

White, Genevieve Bird, Lillian Schryer and Dorothy Hillman.

The High School Debating Squad for 1925 was chosen at final try-outs Monday night, with Mr. E. H. Mercer, Mr. Smith, Miss Allen and Mrs. Whipple as judges. The squad, consists of Malcolm Cutler, Dorothy Hillman, Julia Learned, Julia Wilcox, Franklin Atkinson, Josephine Schmidt and Blanche Freeman. The team is busy preparing its case, as the first debate is November 20.

Picked Up About Town

"I suppose that by now," says Dad Plymouth, "New York realizes that there are at least two cities that can play base ball."

A Boston scientist is trying to find a substitute for coal. Why not try to find a substitute for coal strike?

"They say the silk stocking was discovered in the sixteenth century," comments Dad Plymouth, "but not all of it was discovered until just recently."

You've probably noticed that the people who can do as they please, usually don't know what to do.

Dad Plymouth says a lot more men would be sowing wild oats if they could get someone else to harvest the crop.

According to Dad Plymouth, the man who trims his toenails in the morning, usually has more time on his hands than nails on his toes.

"As I look at it," declares Dad Plymouth, "the fellow who quits smoking is entitled to all the satisfaction he can get out of bragging about it."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

REV. S. CONGER HATHAWAY, A. M., PASTOR

RELIGION THE ONLY REMEDY

President Coolidge, in his most recent address, said: "Lawlessness is altogether too prevalent and a lack of respect for government and the conventions of enlightened society is altogether too apparent. If there are any general failures in the enforcement of the law is because there have first been general failures in the disposition to observe the law. I can conceive of no adequate remedy for the evils which beset society except through the influences of religion." The church is the only institution in Plymouth which stands exclusively for the religious life.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The Northville ladies were present in numbers last Wednesday afternoon, and gave a splendid program. This included excellent reports of the synodical meeting recently held in Grand Rapids. The Plymouth ladies served refreshments.

Last Thursday the Busy Woman's Bible class held its annual meeting, and election of officers at the home of Mrs. Ida Stevens on the Five Mile road. A fine pot-luck dinner was served in which two birthday cakes were featured: one in honor of the hostess whose birthday anniversary coincided with the time of meeting, and the other for Mrs. George Cramer whose birthday was near at hand. Those elected were: President, Mrs. Phoebe Patterson; vice president, Mrs. Rose Thorton; secretary, Mrs. George Cramer; treasurer, Mrs. Rose Fulton; teacher, Mrs. Ed. Hawk. A short program followed the election, at the close of which Mrs. Cramer, with a few well chosen words, presented the retiring president, Mrs. S. Conger Hathaway, with a beautiful white gold wrist watch, on the back of which was engraved, "B. W. B. C. Plymouth!" Mrs. Hathaway was too much overcome with emotion at this unexpected gift to make a full response—so her husband had to do the talking. Then he in turn was overwhelmed with a monetary gift for which no response was needed inasmuch as "money talks." It was much appreciated, however, and the pastor plans to invest it in a long-wanted illuminated-faced alarm clock; which will cap the climax of the family's good "times" in Plymouth.

Sunday night the pastor preached on "The Unexpected," and it happened when the choir marched in in force and numbers—including our important and ever-welcome Detroit accessories, "Marjorie" and "Jimmie." Thus was the poem quoted in the morning discredited and its Detroit composer routed.

Plymouth and Ypsilanti elders and the pastor were present last Monday and Detroit Presbytery did; so it's done. The pastor appreciates the good words spoken on his behalf. Elder Shaw, in his usual happy way, assured the Ypsi folks that Plymouth was coming over to hear their new pastor—and if they liked him they might give him a call. O psaw!

The members of the men's class had an unusually pleasant time last Monday evening, at the home of E. C. Vealey on East Ann Arbor street. Doughnuts and sweet cider of recent make and excellent quality paved the way for a number of interesting and appropriate stories, such as men love to hear. There was a very full attendance, even though some could not be present. A picture of the class was taken after the meeting last Sunday, as was also the Ready Service class, of which Mrs. Vealey is the teacher.

The R. W. B. C. emphasized the busy part of their caption last Wednesday, by tying off two quilts at the church; which will doubtless net them a comfortable profit at the coming bazaar.

Remember, the state Sunday-school convention will be held in Detroit, November 3, 4 and 5. Registration fee is two dollars. Plymouth should be well represented at this meeting, which promises to be one of the best in recent years. Dr. E. R. Erdman, moderator of the General Assembly, will be present for several addresses, Wednesday night, November 5th, will be "moderator's night," and a dinner in his honor will be served to four hundred guests at seven o'clock in the General Motors dining room. Price, per plate, $1.50. See Elder W. R. Shaw for reservations.

METHODIST NOTES

The Boosters class of the Methodist church will hold their regular supper, Friday evening in the community hall.

The choir of the Methodist church will hold a bake sale at the gas office on Saturday afternoon.

A complimentary reception was given at the community hall, last evening for the members of the church, who are soon to leave for the "Sunny South."

Dr. John Martin, the newly appointed superintendent of the Ann Arbor district, has called a meeting of the ministers and laymen to be held in the First church, Ann Arbor, Friday. Several interesting speakers are scheduled, among them Bishop Nicholson. The Plymouth church will be represented by the pastor and several of the laymen.

Mrs. Gill's circle will hold a bake sale at Stever's meat market on Penniman avenue, Saturday, beginning at 2:00 p. m.

HOMES OF PILGRIMS HAD PAPER WINDOWS

Glass Not Common in Early Days of America.

"Bring oil paper for your windows," wrote one of the Plymouth Pilgrims to some who were about to come over.

Window glass was not then in general use in England, and oil paper for a long time let a dusky light into the obscure rooms of many settlers' houses.

The Swedish pioneers on the Delaware used sheets of mica—"muscovy glass." It was called—for the same purpose. Farther toward the south where winter was less feared, a board shutter, sometimes "made very pretty and convenient," was at first the main device for closing a window, but about 1700 "window sash with crystal glass"—that is, with glass that one could see through—are spoken of as a luxury recently affected by the Virginia gentry.

Five years after the first landing, the Jamestown colonists began to build the lower story of their "competent and decent houses" of brick of their own burning.

In New England some substantial houses were erected very early; New Haven people built city houses at the outset; but primitive Carolina dwellings were of rough clapboards nailed to a frame; and the houses of the poor were generally left unplastered, not only in Carolina, but as far north as Connecticut. Paint was rarely seen outside of the larger towns.

Oglethorpe, true to his military ideals, had all freeholders' houses in Savannah, his own included, made exactly alike; 24 feet long and 16 broad, inclosed with feather-edge clapboards roofed with shingles and floored with deals.

It was a city of shanties—a fixed military encampment.

Penn planned a somewhat larger house for his colonists, to be divided into two rooms, the walls clapboarded outside and in, the intervening space filled with earth, the ground floor of clay, and a loft floor of boards.

To these pioneer dwellings we must add the New Jersey house, introduced by the Swedish pioneers. The sides of this were palisades of split timbers, set upright. Nor should one omit from the list the abodes of some of the aquatic Dutch, who dwell with their families all the year round aboard their sloops plying in the rivers and bays about New York and up the Hudson to Albany.

But there was another class whose congenial home was the pincheon floor and mud-daubed walls. These people, who had not yet emerged from Saxon barbarism, were hereditary plowmen. As soon as neighbors approached them, the log-cabin dwellers sold their little clearings to a race of thirder men and pushed farther into the woods, where wild food was plentiful.

Their social pleasures were marked by rude polity without any attempt at luxury or display, or any regard for the restraints of refinement; they were hospitable, generous, fierce, coarse, superstitious, and fond of strong drink; given to fighting and some of them to the barbarous diversion of gouging out one another's eyes.

The finer American houses were for the most part imitated from the forms prevailing at the same period in England. The large room called "the hall" was the most striking feature of many of the better dwellings of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth centuries.

Mansions were built not for domestic retirement, but for festivity. They were the abodes of rich and hospitable planters, whose delight it was to live surrounded by friends and guests and to rival one another in the magnificence of their great assemblies.

William Penn built a similar mansion on his Manor at Pennsylvania, the great room of which was called the audience hall; here the proprietor met his council and held parleys with the Indians.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Royalty Annoyed

One of the peculiarities of King George of England is that he is very cautious about the photographs of himself which he allows to be published. When he was prince of Wales he went to Germany to review a regiment of which he had been made an honorary commander.

In McClure's magazine Ernest Brooks, the official British court photographer, tells of the trip and the reprimand that he received from King George after the royal family had seen the photographs that were published.

"Fancy taking my picture when I had my helmet off," shouted the prince. "I might as well have had my trousers off."

Mystery Hangs Over Prophecies of Enoch

The first trace of the existence of the Book of Enoch is found in the Epistle of St. Jude, verse 14, in which reference is made to the prophecies of Enoch from which St. Jude quotes, but it is uncertain whether he derives his quotations from tradition or from writing, although the wide spread of the book in the Second century seems almost decisive in favor of the latter supposition. Considerable fragments are preserved in the "Chronographia" of Georgius Sincellus (about 782 A. D.), and these, with the scanty notices of earlier writers, constitute the sole remains of the book known in Europe till the close of the Eighteenth century.

A report was current that the entire book was preserved in Abyssinia, and at length in 1773 Bruce brought with him on his return from Egypt three manuscripts containing the complete Ethiopic translation. The Ethiopic translation was made from the Greek, and probably toward the middle or close of the Fourth century. But it is uncertain whether the Greek text was the original, or itself a translation from the Hebrew. In its present shape the book consists of a series of revelations supposed to have been given to Enoch and Noah which extend to the most varied aspects of nature and life, and are designed to offer a comprehensive indication of the action of Providence.

Notwithstanding the quotation in St. Jude and the wide circulation of the book itself, the apocalypse of Enoch was uniformly and distinctly separated from the canonical Scriptures.

It's Worth the Money

"Golfers certainly are persistent, even when persistence is costly," declares a seller of supplies at the Sylvan Glen course. "Not long ago a well-knickered chap with plenty of clubs and a terrible slice brought three balls to start his game. At the first tee he drove all three into the creek below, a creek that holds enough water to make recovery impossible. He came back and sought three more and shot two of this new supply into the creek with the others before he finally drove over. After that he played all the way around with the one ball. His experience is not unusual, either. Others suffer the same way. But they keep on buying balls until they make a successful drive. And that one drive always seems to compensate them for their losses."—Detroit News.

Sunday-school service will be held in the school building, Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, followed by a church service, with some special music and a speaker from Detroit.

The entertainment given Friday evening, October 16th, for the benefit of the Sunday-school, was well attended and enjoyed by all present. The program arranged by Miss Grace Wright, was as follows:

Song—Redford Quartet
Reading—Mrs. Erkfitz of Detroit
Duet—Little Jene Davis and Bruce Buchanan

Musical Number—Walter Hanaford and Family
Solo—M. Venus of Redford
Solo—Elizabeth Sands of Detroit

Saxophone and Banjo Selection—June Hanaford

Mr. and Mrs. George Michelin and family have moved to their new home, "Glen-Eden," near Plymouth.

A meeting of the Farmerette Thimble Club will be held Friday evening, October 23, at 7:00 o'clock, at the home of Dorothy Bentley. All members are requested to be present.

On Thursday afternoon, October 15, Mrs. George Michelin, Mrs. Ralph Stringer of Redford, and Mrs. George Bentley attended the executive committee meeting of the Wayne County Council of P. T. A., held in the River Rouge High school building. The council is making plans for the work of the coming year, and will hold the next regular meeting November 21st, in the River Rouge High school.

On Tuesday evening, October 20, the children of the Elm school entertained the members of the Parent-Teachers Association, with a splendid program, which was highly appreciated and enjoyed by a large attendance of members and friends. The program given was as follows:

Welcome P. T. A.—Song by School
Thanks—George Stringer
Ironing—Rhea Rathburn
Oats, Beans and Barley Grow—Eight Pupils

The Duet—Geraldine McKinney
Pussy Willow, song with ukulele accompaniment—William Wolfrom
Booster—Edward Cunningham

Falling Waters, piano solo—Philip Kieger
Mother's Face—Molly Zimmer
October's Party—King Zimmer
Drill—Number of Intermediate Boys
An Accident—Richard Smith
A Question—Answered—Three Small Girls

Schaffer Trio—Piano, Violin and Saxophone
It Couldn't be Done—Philip Reiger
My Shadow—Willie Esch
Mother—Six Girls
Our School Will Shine—Song by School

Following the program, Mr. Robson, Pathfinder instructor of Detroit, gave a very helpful and interesting talk on "Things That Make a Community More Valuable to Life." He made it clearly understood that the responsibility of every community is to make sure that the influence of the period of time between that of recreation, or the time spent outside of the school and home influence, be of a constructive nature. The building of character depends upon the things which tend to elevate the standards of life, and it is the duty of parents and community in general to make real men and women of our boys and girls for the future welfare of our nation.

During the regular business meeting, the members received and accepted the letter of resignation tendered by Mrs. George Michelin, as president of the association. Mrs. Michelin has been a very much interested worker for the community and school, and her leadership will be missed by all.

As the vice president, Mrs. Richard Smith, did not wish to accept the office of president, it was necessary to select another member to take her place. Nominations and votes taken by ballot resulted in the election of Mrs. George Bentley.

As president, and in behalf of the association, I wish to thank the boys and girls and the teachers, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Scowden, for their splendid cooperation in giving the entertainment, which created such an interest in our organization—seven new members being added to the association—and the fine spirit of co-operation shown by all.

Mrs. George N. Bentley.

THE ROTARY LIFT—Speeds up service and saves bother of climbing and backing down racks. More "elbow-room" for attendants assures better job.

One perfectly sensible thrill

Ride on the Rotary Lift if you want to—but the real thrill is in seeing what the "Motor-n-All" system does for your car.

It's the newest thing in Filling Station Service—Another good reason for giving our stations a try!

"Motor-n-All" means complete lubrication at a low flat price. It means Havoline Oil for your crank case, Havoline Oil and Grease for your differential and transmission, and Havoline Oil for your springs.

Easy to buy. Just say "Motor-n-All." Easy to pay for. See our complete schedule of low, flat-rate prices at any of our stations.

Try it! You'll come back for it. It's that kind of service.

BARTLETT SCHOOL NEWS

Albert Schorer received cotton, nuts, peanut root, cane sugar and cane syrup from Georgia, which he put in the museum. Last year the geographical museum was one of the most interesting things in the school and it is still a source of interest.

We have had the following visitors: Mrs. Reader, Mrs. Blackmore, Miss Margaret Griffith and Miss Hazel Reddeman, teacher of Newburg school. Mrs. Hewer and Mrs. Tegg attended the zone meeting at Canton Center last Saturday, also the eighth graders.

A "backward party" will be given at the school Tuesday evening, November 3rd, by the P. T. A. A cordial invitation is extended to all, and a good time is promised everyone that comes.

Extensive Irrigation Plan
A striking scheme of irrigation which will tap the Huacabamba river on the eastern Andean slopes and divert the water through a nine-mile tunnel to the western side of the range, where it will be connected with four or five other rivers and form a permanent water supply for 150,000 arid acres on the coastal plain, is an innovation in irrigation plans now under way in northern Peru. Forty million cubic feet of river water will reach the rice fields and sugar plantations of Chiclayo and Lambayeque by means of a dam about forty-five miles from the seaport town of Pimentel.

China's Gifts to the World
The Chinese, before 1857 B. C., invented water cocks, improved weapons, wheeled vehicles, musical instruments and junks. The Emperor Yao built roads and canals. The compass was invented in 1115 B. C. and engraving in 1900 B. C. and gunpowder, drepets, firecrackers, which they used extensively at celebrations, etc., and also in battle to frighten horses, etc., and repeating crossbows and printing were also invented by the Chinese.

No Need to Worry
Talk about overcrowding the world is nonsense. On a conservative estimate there are enough unoccupied building lots laid out in the United States at this writing to accommodate 500,000 people with plenty of purchasable acreage for allotment just beyond—Miami Tribune.

SOAP AND ECONOMY

You will be switching on your lights earlier and earlier as the fall days steadily shorten. Your lighting bills will tend to increase.

You can check this unpleasant tendency to a considerable extent by the use of soap and water; that is to say, by washing your lamps and keeping them washed.

A dirty lamp may hold back as much as half the light it ought to give you. Why stand for such robbery?

THE THEATRE

"SILENT SANDERSON"

Harry Carey is undoubtedly the finest interpreter of "western" roles on the screen today. If there is any question about this, it will assuredly be cleared up by "Silent Sanderson," his latest production, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, October 24th.

In this photoplay, Carey gives what is unquestionably the finest performance of his enviable career. His virility, sincerity and artistry are the direct antithesis of the lackadaisical methods employed by too many screen actors who think that, merely because they look well in chaps and can handle a gun, they are first class "westerners."

The story is an unusual one, in that it combines a warm, red-blooded "western" with a withering tale of the frigid Yukon. Among its thrills are a dreadful blizzard, which is an epic of photography, and a sanguine wolf-attack which has been executed with such dexterity that it becomes a powerful bit of realism. And, of course, there are several real Carey fights—you know what that means. Throughout the entire action, to alleviate the stark dramatic tension, Carey's famous comedy talents have been put to work with delightful results. Trilby Clark, the sensational Hunt Stromberg "girl," plays the leading feminine role. She is as lovely as she has been claimed, and in addition, she is an extremely capable little actress. The supporting cast is an exceedingly competent one, comprised of John Miljan, Gardner James, Stanton Heck and Sheldon Lewis.

"A SON OF HIS FATHER"

Young Lochinvar's come out of the west. And with him he's brought the best "western" of the year. In this case Victor Fleming, well-known producer of movie thrill-dramas, is our Lochinvar, and the name of his picture is "A Son of His Father."

Harold Bell Wright, the favorite author of millions of Americans, wrote the story. After seeing it on the screen the secret of his popularity is easily seen. There is never a quiet moment or the least drag in the action. "Big Boy" Morgan, the "son," Nora, the girl who comes to find her brother, Charlie Grey, the sick friend, Holbrook, the villain; Zoster, the head of the smugglers, and all the rest are just such people as one is apt to meet every day.

It is a tale of cattle rustlers and their never ending quarrel with the ranchers. Morgan is a young rancher, who has sworn to clear Arizona of those men who over-run it. Then—little Nora, a young Irish girl arrives on the scene. Morgan asks her to stay at his house till her brother returns. He tells her that he has gone to the hills after some cattle. In reality he has joined the smugglers. A tale of intense drama ensues.

The beauty of the surroundings and the fast action of this tale will rouse you as nothing else ever has. It is entertainment with a capital "E."

A fine cast is headed by Warner Baxter, Bessie Love and Raymond Hutton. Other players include Walter McGrath, Carl Stockdale, Billy Engvall, James Farley, Charles Stevens, Valentina Zolotareva and George Kowa.

It's a Paramount Picture, coming to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, October 25 and 26.

"WILD, WILD SUSAN"

Bebe Daniels comes to the screen at the Penniman Allen theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, October 28 and 29, as "Wild, Wild Susan," a girl who can't live without excitement. In the Paramount picture, by that name, which was directed by Edward Sutherland and from Stuart Emery's Liberty magazine story, "The Wild, Wild Child." Its characteristics are comedy, speed, romance, pop, thrills and general fast-moving entertainment.

Red La Roche has a featured role opposite the star, and Helen Holcomb, whom Ernst Lubitsch, director of "Gaslight," called "the girl with the Mona Lisa smile," has a prominent part in the supporting cast—that of Susan's prim and proper sister, whom Bebe's parents in the picture advise her to imitate.

One gets a pretty good idea of the type of picture "Wild, Wild Susan" is from the very first scenes. A fire engine starts around a corner blowing and clanging for all its worth. Everything gives way except a sporty racing car. It's Bebe! Even pacing fire engines are too tame for this up and going metropolitan miss, who, in the ensuing scenes, takes to trailing shoplifters and hoodlums after receiving a correspondence school book on detective work.

The closing scene of the production is that of a haunted house on the outskirts of the city. It's midnight, and there's nothing quite as creepy as a haunted house at midnight. But this is a riot of laughs.

Combine all the big thrills and laugh scenes in "Miss Bluebeard" and "The Manicure Girl," then multiply by the size of your hat and then you just about begin to get an idea of what "Wild, Wild Susan" is like. It's a thriller. If there ever was one!

Today's Reflections

Experience isn't such a great teacher after all. If you spend all your time on the same lesson.

There was a time in Plymouth when a kid got a spanking for talking back to his parents, but now he acts as though parents were only put here to listen.

The honeymoon is generally over when the groom quits raving about the bride and goes to raving about his meals not being ready on time.

It's hard to get a woman to believe that all men are liars—unless she has been married to one of them.

We suppose Plymouth citizens who went all summer without cutting their weeds will now explain that they knew the frost would kill them anyhow.

"Keep the home fires burning" seems to have been supplanted in this country by "Keep the home brew brewing."

The way of the transgressor is not only hard, but it has a number of mighty dangerous detours on it.

One of the first things a Plymouth boy learns after he begins courting, is that the older a girl gets the more her candy costs.

Who'd have thought he'd live to see the day when one little old Ford would use up gasoline enough to clean all the clothes in North America.

Sometimes we refer to certain Plymouth men as optimists, when the fact is they are merely too lazy to kick.

Things might be worst. Suppose Henry Ford had started in to make as many saxophones and ukuleles as he makes flyovers.

Economy is the thing that makes $14.98 sound to the average Plymouth woman like a whole lot less than $15.

A New Jersey man says he carried one million 665,000 miles. He must have had it riveted to his back.

America is a land of opportunity. Maybe that accounts for so much knocking.

We are also getting back to the season of the year when the wise little Plymouth boy knows it isn't a good idea to dispute the gentleness of Santa Claus.

AROUND ABOUT US

Sixty men on two shifts are employed in the plant of the Forged Seamless Tube Co. at South Lyon.

John Dawson of near Milford, has a tree in his five-year-old orchard, which has fourteen perfect, good-sized apples as close together as can be grown on one branch about a foot long.

While drilling for water, Howells struck natural gas near that city last week. Other such wells are reported to have been located in that locality from time to time, and when sanitary sewers were put into the city, coal was thrown out of the trenches. A Howell newspaper says it is only a question of time when someone will develop the wells.

We have just learned that our auctioneer, livestock buyer and gardener, L. W. Lovell, received first prize at the Northville fair this year on his exhibit of onions—yellow, red and white. It is deserving of mention for he was competing with many other growers. The "yellow" prizes he is in auctioneering and cattle buying.—South Lyon Herald.

The brick work on the new theatre building is going forward rapidly, a large force of men being employed. The steel will all be in place this week. It may be of interest to know that the steel for the new building was furnished by the General Machine & Iron Company of Plymouth, and that it was manufactured in the company's modern new plant located in our neighboring city—Northville Record.

Harry S. Wolfe, the owner and developer of Garden Grove subdivision, and who has opened a real estate office in Farmington for the purpose of conducting a general real estate business, has formed a partnership to care for the increasing volume of business, which is coming his way. The members of the partnership are Harry S. Wolfe, Jesse Ziegler, Charles L. Wilson, all of Farmington. They will be known as the Harry S. Wolfe Realty Company.

A LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

ENTITLED, MAN'S UNITY WITH GOD AS REVEALED BY CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

BY MARGARET MURNEY GLENN, C. S. B., OF BOSTON MASS., MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF LECTURESHIP OF THE MOTHER CHURCH, THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, IN BOSTON, MASS.

There was a large audience at the Penniman Allen theatre, last Friday evening, to hear the lecture on Christian Science, given by Margaret Murney Glenn, C. S. B., of Boston, Mass., a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Christian Science reveals that a scientific, indestructible unity exists between God and man, and that man's health, intelligence, and perfection are dependent upon, and the result of, this unity.

That which led Mrs. Eddy to the discovery of Christian Science was her own healing accomplished by prayer, after the physicians had given her up.

MAN'S UNITY WITH "I AM" The inseparability of God and man was revealed to Moses when he recognized God as the great I AM, the Ego, of Mind of man and the universe.

Jesus stated clearly that he had not revealed the whole truth to mankind and he designated the character of the complete revelation.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE FULFILLS PROPHECY Jesus stated clearly that he had not revealed the whole truth to mankind and he designated the character of the complete revelation.

Take With Sweetened Water Saves the babies, helps the grown-ups, comforts elderly people—that's Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.

demonstrates that such a conception of man is untrue, and it restores our spiritual sense of man, which reveals him as beloved of God and man, surrounded by friends, joyous, and free.

MARY BAKER EDDY It remained for a woman to further reveal God's nature and man's oneness with God. Some have questioned the fact that this revelation has come through a woman, but does not this questioning emanate from the world's concept of a God as Father only, a concept which does not recognize the tender, pure, loving, gentle, womanly qualities as "Godlike"?

PRAYER OF AFFIRMATION Mrs. Eddy writes that Jesus' prayers were deep and conscientious protests of Truth—of man's likeness to God and of man's unity with Truth and Love.

Throughout the Bible are examples of affirmative prayer. Jacob's prayer of affirmation when he was about to meet his brother Esau, whom he feared.

DAVID DECLARED: "I have kept the ways of the Lord, and have not wickedly departed from my God. Therefore the Lord hath recompensed me according to my righteousness; according to my cleanness in his eye sight."
