Rev. Hathaway will take up his duties as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ypsilanti, on Sunday, November 1st. Mr. Hathaway was chosen from a list of over sixty applicants for the church in our neighboring city.

Rev. Hathaway was called to Plymouth in February, 1920, from Ann Arbor, where he had a position with the University of Michigan as an attendant in the graduate reading room of archeology and ancient literature of the U. of M. library. He moved to Plymouth in June 1920. He continued graduate work in the U. of M. summer school until June 1923, when he received his master of arts degree. He has preached about six hundred sermons and made nearly four thousand pastoral calls in Plymouth. The church membership has increased over 50%. Attendance of the men's class in Sunday-school has increased over 800%. Other departments of the church are in good condition. He served as superintendent of the Plymouth Board of Religious Education during 1922-23. The congregation has shown appreciation of his services by increasing the salary a thousand dollars over that stipulated in the original call, and is now paying twelve hundred dollars more than was paid to former pastors. They also presented Mr. Hathaway with an automobile during the first year of his pastorate, and have added many other valuable gifts from time to time. Last Christmas the members of the men's class gave their teacher a gold watch.

Mrs. Hathaway has served as teacher in the primary department of the Sunday-school, and as president of the Busy Woman's Bible Class.

Francis and Alice are both in the vested choir which was organized about two years ago and now has about twenty-five members.

The Christian Endeavor society has been maintained throughout the period, and at one time reached a weekly attendance of over a hundred. Francis Hathaway was president of this organization during the past year.

During the five years of Mr. Hathaway's pastorate here he has made many warm friends in the church as well as outside, who regret his leaving, but are pleased with his advancement to a larger field of labor. The family have been active in the church and social activities of the village, and will be greatly missed in these circles.

A public reception was held at the church last evening, for Rev. Hathaway and family, but the Mail goes to press too early to give any of the particulars this week.

L. O. T. M. INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

THIRTY MEMBERS OF THE DETROIT GUARDS GIVE A SPLENDID EXHIBITION DRILL.

On Tuesday evening, October 27th, the local Elks of Maccabees put on the public installation work of that order at the High School auditorium, at 8:00 p. m. Deputy Ivon Garner of Detroit, acted as installing officer, Mrs. Lavinia Honner as great mistress-at-arms, and Mrs. Margaret Daley as great chaplain.

Promptly at 8:00 p. m., to the strains of a march played by the live pianist, Mrs. Mamie Soth, the officers, escorted first by eight little flower girls gowned in white, each carrying a yellow chrysanthemum, and followed by sixteen guards, also gowned in white and carrying American flags, marched into the auditorium and took their various stations.

The audience joined the live in singing "America," after which the great installing officer, Deputy Ivon Garner, installed the following officers:

Commander—Ethel Micol
Past Commander—Grace Martin
Lieut. Commander—Zada Gorton
Recorder—Dora Wood
Finance Keeper—Edna Magraw
Mistress-at-Arms—Angie Blunk
Sergeant—Mildred Hower
Sentinel—Emma Bolton
Picket—Tena Bovee
Deborah—Vera Schauffele
Banner Bearer No. 1—Mary Gebhardt
Banner Bearer No. 2—Mary Sackett

After the ceremony of installation was pronounced duly closed by the new commander, Ethel Micol, the "Detroit Guards," thirty in number, under the leadership of Captain Bessie Sherman of Detroit, gave a very splendid exhibition of drill work. The retiring commander, Mrs. Grace Martin, was presented with a beautiful floor lamp, by the members of the live, as a token of their love and appreciation for her service among them. The retiring lieutenant commander, Mrs. Carrie Brown Hillmer was presented with a pot of yellow chrysanthemums in appreciation of her work in the live. The commander presented Deputy Ivon Garner with a dainty box, containing two pair of silk hose, and Drill Master Mrs. Bessie Sherman, a box of candy from the local live, in appreciation of their services during the evening.

Quite a goodly number of Plymouth citizens were present to witness this very pleasant evening's entertainment.

Plymouth's New I. O. O. F. Temple

NEW I. O. O. F. TEMPLE WILL BE DEDICATED SATURDAY

Handsome New Fraternity Home Will Be Dedicated With Impressive Ceremonies By Grand Lodge Officers.

New Lodge Home One of the Finest in the State; Many Visitors Expected Here for Ceremonies.

Saturday, October 31st, will mark an important event in the history of Tonquish Lodge No. 32, I. O. O. F. The handsome new temple on South Main street will be the scene of impressive dedication ceremonies on the afternoon and evening of that day. Grand Lodge officers and other prominent men of the Odd Fellows fraternity will be present to take part in the ceremonies and to commendate the completion and dedication of one of the finest I. O. O. F. temples in the state.

It was about five years ago that a building committee was first formed, and thus the first steps looking toward a new lodge home were initiated. About two years ago, the Tonquish Temple Association was organized, whose primary object was to acquire a permanent lodge home, that would not only be a credit to the local lodge, but to the village of Plymouth as well. Shortly after the organization of the association, the property at the corner of South Main street and Maple avenue was purchased. This property was known for many years as the Calvin Crosby place.

The interior of the large dwelling house was remodeled and converted into a business place for rental purposes. The new temple stands upon a part of this property; and it is easily one of the handsomest buildings in Plymouth today. The front of the building presents a striking appearance with its cream colored Ketanning brick and art stone trimmings.

The officers of the association, who have been in charge of the financing and building of the new temple, and the members of Tonquish lodge, and the Rebekahs as a whole, are deserving of much credit for their splendid achievement. They have successfully overcome every difficulty and problem with which they have been confronted.

The present officers and directors of Tonquish Temple Association are as follows:
President—Fred B. Rhead
Vice-President—Roy Wheeler
Secretary—E. A. Cochran
Treasurer—R. E. Giles
F. A. Flendling, Albert Williams, Moritz Langendam

The dedication services next Saturday from the viewpoint of the public, will be more than an I. O. O. F. service, because the new temple stands as a monument to the enterprise of the Plymouth Odd Fellows and the lodge of Rebekahs, and it also serves as a splendid example of the forward movement which characterizes the village of Plymouth.

THE NEW TEMPLE

The new temple occupies a ground space of 74 feet fronting on South Main street, with a depth of 100-feet. It is two stories in height, the ground floor being given over to three fine store rooms for rental purposes, entrance to the lodge rooms on the second floor, and the dining room at the extreme rear of the building. There is a basement under the whole building in which is located a splendid vapor heating plant of the very latest type.

The entrance to the lodge rooms from the street is made at the northwest corner of the building into a spacious lobby, and then into a large hallway, where stairs lead to the second floor. Entrance to the dining room is also made from this hallway. Before reaching the dining room one passes into a large waiting room, with French doors leading into the dining room, which is 54x32 feet in size. The room is well lighted and ventilated, and will have a table seating capacity for several hundred persons. A stairway leads to the kitchen on the second floor, and there is also an outside entrance to Maple avenue on the south side of the room. Two elevators for conveying food and dishes from the kitchen have been installed.

At the head of the stairway to the rooms on the second floor, a ticket office has been provided for. The first room at the head of the stairs is the lounge room, which is 22x48 feet in size, which has a large fireplace on the north side. The woodwork in this room as well as that in all the other rooms, is of walnut finish, while the walls are sand finished with a built up cornice.

Through French doors from the lounge room, at the front of the building, is the ladies rest room, 14x16 feet in size, which is provided with a lavatory.

Immediately in front of the lodge room proper, is a regalia room and an ante room, each 14x16 feet in size. The balcony is reached by a stairway leading from the lodge room.

The main lodge room is 42x92 feet in size, and is a very beautiful and commodious room. With its high ceiling, deep built up cornice and the fluted pilasters on the sides, it presents a most pleasing effect. An orchestra balcony is provided for on the north side of the room.

The kitchen, which is in the northeast corner of the building, is roomy and conveniently arranged with cupboards and work tables, and is fully equipped with modern kitchen equipment.

Off from the lounge room on the east side of the room is a large check room and the men's lavatory. Entrance can be made from the check room into the kitchen.

Hardwood floors are used throughout the building. The Star ventilating system has been installed.

The architect for the new temple was C. Howard Crane of Detroit.

Fred B. Rhead has superintended the work of construction.

Albert Williams had the plumbing and heating contract.

A. A. Hood was the contractor for the electrical work.

Moritz Langendam had the contract for the interior decorating.

The steelwork for the big building was furnished by the General Machine & Iron Works of Plymouth.

SPECIAL ELECTION IN LIVONIA TOWNSHIP ON GAS FRANCHISE

A special election will be held tomorrow, Saturday, October 31st, in Livonia township, on the gas franchise, which is being asked for by the Federated Utilities.

The present plans of the company are to extend their lines through Livonia township to Wayne immediately, and to the various subdivisions in Livonia as soon as they are developed sufficiently.

This is a great opportunity for the people of Livonia township to secure this most economical fuel, and will mean a great inducement for city people who expect to purchase homes in the many desirable subdivisions which are being developed in the township.

Granting of a gas franchise to the Michigan Federated Utilities has been given the unanimous approval of the Livonia township board after careful consideration, and the special vote in the township on Saturday, October 31, is for the purpose of sanctioning their endorsement of the franchise.

The bringing of gas service to Livonia township will be strictly in accordance with the greater growth of this community, and will be an important factor in its future growth.

Remember the election is tomorrow, Saturday, October 31st, and will be held at the Livonia township hall.

Nankin township votes on the franchise, Tuesday, November 3rd, and Wayne village, Saturday, October 31st.

A PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING

The Livonia Community church was crowded to capacity last Saturday evening, October 24th, when Miss Thelma Davey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davey, became the bride of Andrew Hann, Jr. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Helen Phelps, who used the modified form of the impressive ring service. Miss Helen Hubbard of Wayne, presided at the piano, while Miss Inez Kingsley sang "O Promise Me" by DeKoven, and "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs. Then followed the wedding march by Lohengrin by Wagner, played by Miss Lila Terge, and the assembling of the bridal party before an artistically decorated arch of white trimmed with autumn leaves and banked with palms, ferns and potted plants.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of blue georgette, and carried a bouquet of pink rose buds. The bridesmaid, Miss Corrine Howell, wore a gown of pink georgette, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Win. Hann, brother of the groom, attended the bridegroom as best man. After congratulations and showers of rice, the guests repaired to the dining room which had been tastefully decorated in pink and white and with fall flowers and dainty vines, where a reception was given by the ladies of the church. Dainty refreshments were served the many guests. About two hundred and fifty were in attendance at the wedding.

The bride received many useful and beautiful gifts. All unite in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

NEW BUILDINGS AT HOUSE OF CORRECTION FARM

A new steel greenhouse with an area of 5,000 square feet will also be constructed by the John Monier Co. of Chicago. This will be erected at a cost of $10,000.

THE PHILLIPS "PANEGRYZE" CIRCUS

IS COMING TO PLYMOUTH FROM NOVEMBER 2 TO 7 INCLUSIVE.

What promises to be the greatest event ever held in Plymouth, will be the Phillips "Panegrize" circus, which will open at the Tonquish Temple, Monday, Nov. 2nd.

Here comes the circus. Everything from peanuts to animals; funny clowns, and an army of them in grotesque and story-book antics; beautiful lady acrobats and gymnasts, gorgeously and glitteringly attired in silks and spangles, doing hair-raising and daring stunts; lady and gentlemen performers of every class and character.

The above and many other big top circus features will be presented at the Tonquish Temple Association first annual circus and bazaar, to be held at the new Tonquish Temple, commencing Monday, November 2nd, and continuing for a period of six days, ending Saturday night, November 7th. Wednesday afternoon will be children's special matinee, all children will be admitted for ten cents. Wednesday evening will be a big double bill, featuring Betty Bryden's Ambassador Girls, seven beautiful and talented young lady musicians with an international reputation, who will furnish the music for the dance from 9:00 to 12:00.

Chairman Edgar A. Cochran has spared no expense in bringing to Plymouth one of the highest class indoor organizations ever playing before the American public.

FATAL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

A fatal automobile accident occurred on the Plymouth road just outside the village limits near the bridge over the Rouge, last Sunday evening about 7:30 o'clock, when a car driven by Anthony Machine, coming into the village from the east, accidentally struck and killed Steve O'Brien, who was walking upon the pavement and stepped directly in the path of the oncoming auto, before the driver had a possible chance to stop.

Justice Phoebe Patterson empaneled a coroner's jury, and the inquest was held on Monday evening, at the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, where the body of the unfortunate man was taken following the accident. After hearing several witnesses, the jury brought in a verdict that the deceased came to his death by being struck by an automobile driven by Anthony Machine, and that the deceased was in an intoxicated condition and was on the wrong side of the road, and that the driver of the automobile was in no way to blame as the accident was unavoidable.

Mr. O'Brien had lately been employed at the Wayne County Training School, and had resided in Plymouth for the past year or so.

Funeral services were held from Our Lady of Good Counsel church, Wednesday morning at 9:00 o'clock, Rev. Fr. Lefevre officiating. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

A GOOD SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

A short time ago the Mail published an item about the perfect attendance record of a North Carolina school girl for a period of twelve years. Although she does not compete with the North Carolina girl, Miss Helen Herrick, a Junior in the Plymouth High school, has a splendid record. During the time she passed through the first eight grades, she resided in the country, living about one-half mile from school, and was absent just forty-two days and tardy three times. Miss Herrick now lives two miles from Plymouth, and has not been absent a day and tardy but once since she entered the High school, and that was because of a severe ice storm.

A DELIGHTFUL LUNCHEON

Mrs. Leroy Naylor, assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harvey Naylor, served a delightful twelve o'clock luncheon, Wednesday, to the following ladies from Redford, Mrs. J. Cooley, Mrs. N. Faber; Mrs. J. Q. Smith and mother, Mrs. Henry Ferrington, Mrs. Flora Cunningham and mother, Mrs. Eliza Ferrington, Mrs. Edward Stuebeling; and from Plymouth, Mrs. Charles Bentley, Mrs. C. G. Dwyer and Mrs. Minnie Hoops. The occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Lorraine Naylor, she received a number of very pretty gifts.

HEED THIS WARNING

Again the season is here when a heavy toll of death will be recorded among auto drivers, as a result of "monoxide gas." This gas is formed by running the auto engine on a chilly day without proper ventilation in a garage. Never start the engine on a cold or chilly morning without first being sure the garage is wide open, with fresh air enough coming in to drive out the monoxide gas. You can't smell it, see it or feel it until too late. It absorbs the oxygen in the air, and in many instances the victim is overcome before he can get out of the garage into fresh air. More than 4,000 deaths resulted from monoxide gas last year, every one of which could have been averted had the motorists used a little caution. We want every Plymouth car owner to heed this warning, and to tell his neighbor to be careful about starting his car in a closed garage on a chilly morning. There is no need of this community adding any names to the death list that will soon commence to mount up.

WHAT HAPPENED TO IT?

Wonder what has become of that old "Back to the farm" cry we heard so often a few years ago? Can it be that Uncle Sam has finally succeeded in convincing the rural youth that he is better off financially and morally on the farm than he is in the town or city? At any rate, we don't hear the old plaint any more, and the government is to send out a report in a few months now that will explain why we do not hear it. That report it is said, will show that the tendency of Young America to desert the farm is growing smaller every year.

We hear a good deal around Plymouth about work being hard to find—but we have grown used to hearing that. Today about fifty per cent of those who complain of not being able to find work are not particular whether they find it or not. Improved farm machinery hasn't reduced the demand for farm labor, because it takes labor to run the machines. Larger acreage is being planted, thus increasing the number men needed to plant, tend and harvest the crops. The auto has made additional work in the small towns, and garages are far more numerous than blacksmith shops in the old days. More and more land is being cleared and cultivated, too, and that means still more employment. And the fact that $10 a month and board is no longer considered a fair wage for a farm hand has helped to keep the farms supplied with labor.

We hope to get this new report when it comes out, because we believe it will contain some figures well worth printing—figures which will show exactly why we don't hear the old "Back to the farm" slogan as frequently as we once did.

THE REAL CAUSE

We read where a New York attorney recently declared that the chief cause of crime in this country today, is due to the laxity of parents in rearing their children, the ease of obtaining firearms, the easy methods in which bail is secured, short sentences and quick paroles and pardons. He says those things are back of all crime in New York, and if Plymouth citizens will go carefully into the question they will find that the same causes hold good in their own state. It is worthy of notice that he places the chief blame for crime on the laxity of parents. Correction begins at home, and parents who permit the town or the city to rear their children take long chances. The youngster who can face and overcome the temptations placed in his or her path today is certainly made of superior stuff. The properly reared child occasionally falls a victim to temptation—the improperly reared child is almost certain to. Easy spending, such as the younger generation now indulges in, begets easy getting, and pretty soon conscience is shoved aside and the question of right and wrong is forgotten. Temptations and lures are great in the city. But do not let yourself believe that our smaller towns are entirely free of them. The need of parental guidance is as great here as in New York. Lack of it will make wayward boys and girls in the small towns as quickly as in the city. If conditions are made better and life made safe it will have to be through the fathers and mothers of the boys and girls of both the towns and the cities.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

The premature winter weather is no help at all in laying water pipe. We have laid half a mile in the last week or so. The two crews have done remarkably well under very unfavorable and unpleasant conditions.

Ernest Smith has laid a cement walk on the south side of the village hall, to serve the new library and jail entrances.

The lathers are working in the village hall; and part of the steel ceiling is in place. The electric light wiring is practically all installed.

Statements are in the mail for the second installment of the Ann Arbor street pavement and sewer assessments. These should be paid before November 15th.

The village treasurer has turned in his tax books to the county treasurer. The amount of the unpaid village taxes this fall is $2,153.15, of which $1,387.25 is general tax; $378.90 special assessment, and $387.00 personal taxes. This is about the usual amount.

The contractor for the disposal plant is ready to pour the concrete of the filter beds. He doesn't like this weather for his work, either. His steam shovel has been excavating for the filters, sludge beds and imhoff tank.

Our little leaflet, "Plymouth in 1925," seems to be getting quite a distance from home. This past week we had calls for copies from the Chicago Municipal Reference Libraries and the University of Wisconsin.

Livonia Township is Waiting for Gas

A talk with any of the officials or business men of Livonia township will show that they consider the bringing of gas into this territory one of the most forward steps that has been proposed in recent years.

The people who are building homes in the new subdivisions in this township are eagerly awaiting the passage of the gas franchise so that mains can be laid and their homes connected up with the service.

Those who have had the opportunity to carefully read the franchise are thoroughly satisfied that in the granting of the franchise the people of the community have been given the utmost protection—both as to service and rates. The operation of the company has been carefully inspected and the quality of service now being given Plymouth and Northville is a criterion of what Livonia people may expect from the Michigan Federated Utilities with the extension of their lines to that community.

Endorsement of the franchise on October 31st means the endorsement of the ideals and purposes of a Greater Development in Livonia township.

BRIGGS SCHOOL NOTES

By Beulah Wagenschultz, 6th grade. We are very proud that the attendance of our school for the month of September was 96 per cent.

Thursday, October 22, Miss Cochran, our helping teacher, visited school. The children gave a History play, in which there were twenty-five characters. Mrs. Watson taught a history class, and our citizenship club, The Briggsville Sunshine Club, held a meeting.

Our health officer, Carl Peck, received a letter from Edward Rich, director of the department of health at Lansing, telling us that our drinking water of which we sent a sample, is pure.

Mrs. Watson's sister, Miss Edith Peck of Ortonville, visited school Tuesday.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Reporter—Val Dee Caughey

The second meeting of the Commercial Club was called to order by Irah Eckles, who was appointed chairman of the meeting during the absence of the president, Blanche Freeman.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Hazel Raynor.

At a meeting October 14, the executive board decided that the dues are to be twenty-five cents a semester, payable to the treasurer, Archie Crumm. This decision was made known to the members of the club.

A motion was made and carried to limit the membership to thirty-five.

The next regular meeting will be held the 11th of November. A representative from the Detroit Business Institute will talk on the value of shorthand.

This club was organized to interest the commercial students in the business world and community.

College and Cathedral

Christ church, the largest and most notable of Oxford (Eng.) colleges, is in the fifth century of its existence. For reasons of convenience the celebration already had been held, so the true birthday anniversary of this curious institution, which is both a college and a cathedral and yet is called a church, passed quietly during the long vacation.

Modern investigation has revealed a remarkable continuity in the history of English ecclesiastical foundations. The Saxons built their churches on the ruins of the great Roman temples, and the Normans in their turn rebuilt the Saxon churches.

This continuity is most remarkable in Oxford, where nearly every college has grown out of a medieval monastery.

Christ church stands on the site of a priory, a parish church and at least two older monastic colleges. Its bells were removed from a neighboring abbey, and both the stones and the funds used in its construction were obtained from the dissolution of more than forty monastic foundations.

Centenary of Match

The match recently had its one hundredth birthday, having been introduced in 1825 by John Walker, an Englishman, who conceived the idea of selling his matches in boxes at 1 shilling 4 pence a box.

The safety match, called "Swedish," did not appear until the year 1829. This was the first match which could be lit only when struck on the box.

The idea of the match, however, antedated Walker by nearly two centuries. As early as 1080 Godfrey Hawkwitz was using phosphorus to ignite little wooden sticks, dipped in sulphur. Various experiments were made by other scientists of the day, but it was not until 1825 that the match emerged from the laboratory and was placed on the market.

Stove Woodpecker's Nest

A constant, mysterious pecking that annoyed people in the Farmer's union office in Waldo, Kan., was finally located inside a heating stove that had been left standing, says the Topeka Capital. When the door was opened out popped a red-headed woodpecker, badly discolored from soot, but still game. The bird had evidently come down into the stove through the pipe, and the pecking noise came from his efforts to bore through to liberty. When released he flew to a telephone pole, got his bearings and then headed straightway for the nearest woods.

To Use Electric "Mules"

Electric mules are going to work in English freight stations to make the work for the porters easier. For some time past these industrial power trucks have been used in the great English passenger terminals just as they have been in the stations of this country. At present, however, a movement is on foot in the English Institute of Transport favoring the introduction of the same equipment for eliminating the back-breaking jobs incident to handling heavy packages, bales, etc.

TEMPLE THEATRE
Detroit, Michigan.

Joe Smith and Charles Dale, with the Avon Comedy Four, headline the bill at B. F. Keith's Temple Theatre, starting Sunday afternoon. The Avon Comedy Four is one of the most popular bill toppers in vaudeville. Smith and Dale adhere rigidly to their own type of fun, but have surrounded themselves with an array of melodists including Cooper Lawley, Triana, Jean Holt and Wallace Eames, and their offering is entitled, "From the Battery to the Bronx." The second feature is Mlle. Marguerite and Frank Gill, direct from the Paris boulevards and their vehicle is entitled "Smart Songs, Steps and Styles." Last season they were dance stars with the "Music Box Revue." Edith Clifford, a comedienne, pleasing to the ear and eye, assisted by Mabel Leonard, pianist; Lytell and Fant, "Two Chocolate Cake Eaters." Jack Princeton and Lillian Watson in a comedy skit by John F. Conner, called "Too Late." Boudini and Bernard, ultra accordionists; Siegel and Irving in feats of grace and strength; Madie Du Fresnoe and Evans Brothers offer "Dancers from Clownland," a Hal Roach comedy featuring Clyde Cook, entitled, "Should Sailors Marry," and the usual screen program.

GUNSTON HALL HOME OF GREAT AMERICAN
Built by George Mason, Far-Seeing Statesman.

In 1720, at a plantation in Maryland near the Potomac river, a wedding took place, and to it flocked the planters and their ladies from miles around in Maryland and Virginia, writes Mary Mayo Crenshaw in St. Nicholas. It was the marriage of George Mason, fourth of the name in this country and son of a very ancient family, to Ann Eilbeck, sixteen years old and already a great belle and beauty. Mason, then twenty-five years old, was described by a contemporary as "young, wealthy, handsome and talented."

Soon after the wedding the young couple began to build their now famous home, Gunston Hall. It was named in honor of George Mason's ancestral home in England. They threw themselves wholeheartedly into the task. Mason himself was the architect. He had woodcarvers come over from England, and for three years these worked on the classic designs which lend such charm to the home, and which have been copied by some of America's greatest architects. At the end of this time the stately mansion was finished and a house-warming was held. Scores of guests came from miles around in their gilded chariots and quaint coaches, or in boats from the Maryland side. Two of the nearest neighbors, Lord Fairfax and George Washington, must have been there to drink the health of the young pair—Washington then a tall young man eighteen years of age. And we can imagine the pride of the slender young wife in her beautiful new home, and seem to see her in the soft candlelight dancing the minuet or the Sir Roger de Coverley.

Mason was destined to become one of the most famous statesmen of America. He lived at Gunston Hall during the remainder of his life. John Este Cooke in his delightful history of Virginia has said:

"Mason was called upon to draft the Virginia bill of rights and constitution, and did so. The former is the most remarkable paper of the epoch, and was the foundation of the great American assertion of right. Jefferson went to it for the phrases and expressions of the Declaration, and it remains the original chart by which free governments must steer their course in all coming time."

All of it found its way into the Constitution of the United States, and the first ten amendments of the latter were taken bodily from the bill of rights.

The year 1925 is the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Mason. Proper observances are to be held on October 28 at Gunston Hall. But there is a perpetual memorial, not limited by time, not temporary, but unceasing, to this great man, in the country he helped so much to found and in the reverent hearts of a whole people.

"POPE JOAN" CENTER OF MANY LEGENDS

Fantastic Tale Embellishes by Chroniclers.

Of all the crabbéd, querulous, ecstatic tales of the Middle ages, none is more medieval, and none more provocative to doctors and sages, than the history of "Pope Joan," says John O'London's Weekly. About her and about her they have argued. She was a man, say some; a devil, say others; she occupied the throne of Saint Peter for any period of time from two and a half to nineteen years; she was named alternately Agnes, Gilberta, Gerberta, Margaret, Isabel, Dorothy, or Jutta; she did not exist at all. Probably not, indeed; she achieves but a small measure of verisimilitude in the hands of her chroniclers, and their differing stories do not help her. On one point only are they agreed; with one accord they wag their heads over her moral delinquency, and brand her as having, at a peculiarly inconvenient moment, given birth to a child.

It is between Leo IV, who died on July 11, 853, and Benedict, consecrated on September 29 of the same year, that legend endeavors to sandwich its woman pope. By the end of the Thirteenth century her story had won general credence. At the beginning of the Fifteenth century her supposed bust kept company in the cathedral at Siena with the busts of all authentic popes; and at the Council of Constance John Huss supported his claims by appealing to the case of "Agnes, who became Pope Joan."

The tale swells in extravagance as it grows in years. Stephen of Bourbon says simply that the woman was a clever scribe, who, became notary of the Curia and rose to be cardinal and pope. A later version sends her first on a visit to Athens, where by her diligence she becomes a subtle reasoner. The fame of Rome reaches her ears; straightway she packs up her books and journeys thither, to become a professor at whose feet the greatest teachers are eager to sit. Celebrated for her mode of life no less than for her learning, she is unanimously elected pope; but alas! fine living makes her voluptuous, and yielding to temptation, she falls.

A monk of Malmesbury, writing in 1386, says that, born in Mayence, Joan was sent by her parents to receive instruction in the sciences from male teachers. On one of them she came to look with more affection than became a pupil, and when he went to Rome, she donned man's dress and went with him; and there, because she surpassed everyone in learning, she was made cardinal by Pope Leo.

As to the punishment meted out to the disciple of Satan, when the birth of a child betrayed her, the authorities differ. One of them will have her discovered before her election, tied to the feet of a horse, dragged out of the city and stoned. Another allows her a two years' triumph and a natural death. A third merely deposes her; while Boccaccio (who, the wicked fellow, rather enjoys the tale) permits her to shed a few tears and retire into private life!

Childhood

Adults, whether parents or governesses or teachers, are phenomena of nature which children unquestionably accept. Unworried by philosophies which rend the souls of adults, to them today is today and yesterday was not, and tomorrow shall not be. Living in the moment, with the moment thus becoming eternity, to them we adults are as the rocks, the trees, the sky, the sun. We are neither to be liked nor disliked, loved nor hated. We just are. We have reality, but it is a sketchy sort of reality, bearing slight relation to important things. For we adults forget: food and drink and sleep are the realities to us, but not to children. Play, the words or deeds of their evils—these are the true realities. And how can we, benevolent automatons seated upon the throne of middle life, understand the vital things?—Arthur Somers Roche in Hearst's International Cosmopolitan.

PERRINSVILLE PARENT-TEACHER MEETING.

The parents of the Perrinsville school responded with a fine spirit at the first meeting of the P. T. A., Monday evening, October 19th. A goodly number of the folks attended, an indication of a live, strong organization. A short business meeting was held in which arrangements were made for the next meeting, and further business of the association determined.

In the course of the program of the evening, the following numbers were given:

Miss Lorraine Cochrane, helping teacher, gave a talk in which she told of the purpose of a Parent-Teacher Association and of the parents' and teachers' responsibility toward the boys and girls.

The lower grade pupils dramatized the story, "The Little Gingerbread Boy." The pupils taking part in it were: Orville Henning, Raymond Bock, Walter Love, Leona Theuer, Shirley Mae Bock.

The pupils of the upper grades sang two songs.

Several pupils gave a little play, "The Language Lesson," in which Edna Knorfske, Elmer McKee, Leona Theuer, Bernadine Berniski and Donna Bridger took part.

Miss Lois Corbett, Wayne County Home Demonstration Agent, gave a very interesting talk on Hot Lunches for the school.

The most delightful surprise of the evening came when the members of the school board offered to buy the Hot Lunch equipment for the school. The kind generosity and the keen interest of the members of the Perrinsville school board is greatly appreciated by the pupils and teacher. They wish to take this opportunity to thank them.

A light lunch of coffee, cake and sandwiches was served by the refreshment committee.

Those whose efforts made the first P. T. A. meeting a success, many thanks are due, especially Mrs. James Love, president. To those who were unable to attend, a hearty invitation is extended for the next meeting. Watch for the date. Come and enjoy yourself.

Picked Up About Town

"Nothing shocks an old-fashioned wife more," says Dad Plymouth, "than the way modern wives change the color of their hair, unless it is the frequency with which they change husbands."

No man ever wakes up to find himself famous if he went to sleep on the job.

Dad Plymouth says he can't understand why it takes a lover two hours to kiss his sweetheart good-night, when a married man can kiss his wife good-night in two seconds.

Dad Plymouth expresses the belief that women will start wearing long hair again about the time men start in growing long whiskers.

"There was a time," says Dad Plymouth, "when a bride was proud if you sent her a quilt for a wedding present, but if you tried it these days she'd want to have you arrested."

"Nothing seems to cheer the average fellow when he's in trouble," says Dad Plymouth, "as much as knowing that the other fellow is in trouble, too."

NO matter how carefully you buy gasoline, your car is bound to be power-shy unless you give it right oil.

Old, dirty oil is power-less. Cheap oil is power-less. Wrong grade of oil is power-less. Havoline—fine quality, correct grade—is power.

CHICAGO STOCK SHOW TO SET NEW RECORDS

Advance indications are that all records will be smashed at the twenty-sixth anniversary session of the International Live Stock Exposition to be held in Chicago, November 28 to December 5, according to Secretary-Manager, B. H. Helde. He reports that never before in the long and illustrious history of this show has there been so much enthusiasm shown by both exhibitors and prospective visitors.

More than ten thousand of the finest horses, cattle, sheep and swine will be entered in the numerous contests to strive for supreme honors at this acknowledged "Supreme Court of the Agricultural Industry." These animals include the champions of the state and sectional fairs and many others which will be shown at Chicago for the first time and they represent the highest attainments of the master breeders and feeders of the world. In addition to the leading live stock authorities of the United States and Canada, two noted foreign judges will assist in making the awards, J. Egerton, Quoted of Kent, England, serving in the steer and Red Polled classes and Robert Duncan of Forfarshire, Scotland, acting as judge of the Breeding Shortlorns.

Director G. J. Christie of the Indiana Agricultural Experiment Station, who is superintendent of the International Grain and Hay Show, which is a department of the Exposition, expects over five thousand samples of choice grains, small seeds and hay to be entered for world titles in these contests. Canadian entries have been especially strong this year. A new feature will be an exhibit of recently discovered varieties of crops contributed by the various experiment stations, which will be under the personal charge of Prof. M. O. Pence of Purdue University. The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural Colleges will stage educational displays dealing with a wide range of subjects.

Twelve hundred champion club members will attend the Fourth National Boys' and Girls' Club Congress at the Exposition. They will compete in various contests, exhibit the products of their skill and give demonstrations of the projects in which they have been engaged. A meat display under the auspices of the National Live Stock and Meat Board will appeal directly to the housewife.

A brilliant evening entertainment each night, pure-bred live stock auctions, association meetings, and other activities will crowd the visitors' program. Reduced rates on all railroads entering Chicago are expected to bring several hundred thousand guests to the metropolis to enjoy the educational and entertainment features of the world's greatest agricultural show in Chicago, the first week in December.

ADVERTISING

We publish below an article on advertising, written by a member of the 9th grade civics class:

There is a saying, "that it pays to advertise," and there certainly are a lot of attractive ways for the business men of today to advertise.

First, comes our daily papers, which devote a great deal of space to "ads" of all kinds. Some merchants picture their merchandise, describe the same and state prices.

Then comes our magazines. Almost every nationally advertised article can be depended upon as being good. There is a good housekeeping club now which puts a little red star on advertisements of articles, which they have tested, used and approved of.

There are also hand bills, which are passed out in stores, theatres, on the streets or delivered to the door by boys or men.

Another way is to have an "ad" thrown on the screen at a neighboring theatre.

Some people have a man masquerade on the street, carrying a banner or wearing a sign on his back to advertise, or have a machine to attract attention.

There are many merchants who sell certain articles from their stock at cost or below in order to get patrons into their stores.

Others have souvenirs to pass out to patrons or toys to give the children, such as whistles, pencils, tablets or the like. In this case, the result may have wonderful effects.

There is a merchant in our neighborhood who gives a ruler, pencil or tablet with each purchase of shoes. My brother and sisters always insist on going there for shoes.

Workmen often put cards on a house under construction, stating that the work is being done by them.

Most business men carry in their pockets, cards, stating their business, its location and usually their telephone numbers.

There are also a great many other methods of advertising besides the ones of which I have written.

DOROTHY TUCK.

"Big Game" Increasing in the United States

The rangers in the forest service took a census last year of the big game in the federal forests, and the recently published report allays the fear that such game is succumbing to the onslaughts of sportsmen.

"Big game," as technically used, includes antelope, bear, buffalo, elk, moose, mountain goat and mountain sheep. The census covers 159 forests, and for the first time enumerates the bear as big game.

The buffalo, as Americans miscall the bison, was for the first time dropped from the census, as bison in the United States no longer are "game," being in guarded herds. Nor did the rangers reckon game outside of parks and forests, though such animals are numerous.

There are about 5,000 antelope, or prong-horns, chiefly in Arizona and Idaho, though Nevada and Oregon jointly have a great herd not in a federal forest. The bears comprise 5,000 grizzlies, virtually all in Alaska, though Montana has a few, and 38,700 black or brown. Deer number 550,500, increasing by nearly 40,000 in the year. Every forest boasts an increase of elk, the number being 52,900. Moose, however, numbered only 5,100 in 1924, whereas in 1923 there were 8,000. Wild goats and wild sheep numbered, respectively, 17,200 and 12,400, each increasing slightly. The total of big game was 687,000 animals under protection by the national government.

Wild animals left to themselves in protected reserves steadily multiply. The bear is a costly nuisance to farmers and stockmen, but all other big game is harmless and an ornament. It should be given every protection.

Millions of Idle Money

There are, it is estimated by the actuary of the United States treasury, something more than 8,000 millionaires in this country, who are hoarding and keeping out of circulation more than $400,000,000, none of which is earning a dollar.

Contrast the miserly waste of money with the good which is being done with the $531,000,000 owned by the 65 leading colleges of the United States.

From their investments these colleges derive an annual income of about $27,000,000. Assuming that the smaller colleges not included in this list of 65 larger centers of education have an annual income of only $13,000,000 from their invested funds, we arrive at the annual educational fund of $40,000,000. This divided among the 380,000 students of both sexes in all the universities and colleges allows about $106 a year per student.

By making this money work, still other contributions are made to the wealth and progress of the country.—Thrift Magazine.

Lady Hypercritical

Miss Lorraine Elizabeth Wooster gave as one of her reasons for opposing the adoption of the Winston primer the fact that one of the pictures in the much discussed textbook shows a pair of billy goat horns attached to the head of a nanny goat. We have been quite a consistent supporter of Lorraine Elizabeth since our acquaintance was formed in a Salina boarding house in the dear, dead days beyond recall when we were both twenty-one, but this particular objection to the Winston primer appears to us to be rather far-fetched. Assuming that during the period of our acquaintance with Lorraine Elizabeth, the nanny goat has undergone the same wonderful changes as the female of our species, we see nothing wrong in a picture that represents a nanny goat with a pair of horns attached to her head.—Jack Harrison, in Beloit (Kan.) Gazette.

Too Blind

Dr. Cornelius Gurllit, of the Society of German Architects, said as he embarked for home on the Thuringia:

"The German people have awakened. Blind obedience was their trouble in the past."

"Hans," said a German school teacher, "supposing now, Hans, a tiger was to come at you to eat you up—what would you do?"

"Nothing, teacher," said little Hans quietly.

"What? Nothing? Wouldn't you even scream for help?"

"Oh, no, teacher."

"My goodness, Hans, why not?"

"Because, teacher, my papa says I mustn't never talk at meal time."

Gr-r-r!

Little Doreen Turner and Pal, the famous movie dog, are great friends. She is almost the only person besides Pal's owner whom the dog will obey.

One day, during the making of a picture, some of the extras began plaguing the little girl, until, in exasperation, she ran off the set. Presently she returned with Pal, and walking up to the group said:

"Now say those things again, and I'll bite you with my dog."—Los Angeles Times.

THE THEATRE

"PROUD FLESH"

The call of the primeval, a force that has endured through the refining influences of civilization, overcoming class distinctions and all other man-made barriers, forms the basis for "Proud Flesh," King Vidor's latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, which comes to the Pennington Allen Theatre on Saturday, October 31.

A go-getting, young Irish-American meets a girl of American birth, but who has been reared on the continent to disdain the crude mannerisms of the toiler class. This woman of refinement and breeding harkens to the call of the caveman as her instincts overcome the influence of environment.

Eleanor Boardman plays the part of Fernanda, the high-spirited girl.

The caveman, Patrick O'Malley, is played by Pat O'Malley. Harrison Ford depicts a young Spanish noble, Don Jaime.

The supporting cast includes Tricie Friganza, Priscilla Bonner, Sojia, Rosita Marstini, William J. Kelly, Evelyn Sherman, George Nichols, Lillian Elliot and Margaret Seddon.

"NEVER THE TWAIN SHALL MEET"

"Never the Twain Shall Meet" will be presented on the screen at the Pennington Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, November 1 and 2. The new film, presented by the Cosmopolitan Corporation, and released by Metro-Goldwyn, is a picturization of Peter B. Kyne's South Sea tale of the same name, and proved to be one of the most exceptional and enchanting pictures of the year. It combines an excellent cast, pictorial backgrounds of charm and beauty and a fast-moving story with drama, pathos and comedy mixed in exactly the correct proportion for perfect screen entertainment. In the making of this picture Maurice Tourneur, the director, took a notable company to Tahiti and Moorea for the filming of the scenes on the actual locale described by the author.

Anita Stewart, in the leading feminine role of Tamea, a half-caste island princess, has never been lovelier or more bewitching than in the native costume of the South Seas.

Bert Lytell, as the young American seton of wealth and social position, who gives up his ambitions, his mode of living and his wealth for the half-caste girl, has an unusual opportunity for displaying his powers of character delineation.

The other members of the cast are equally excellent in their respective roles. Justine Johnstone, as a beautiful young woman of society, is extraordinarily interesting, as is Huntly Gordon. Others who appear to excellent advantage include Lionel Belmore, George Siekmann, Emily Fitzroy, William Norris, Florence Turner and Princess Marie de Bourbon.

"THE WILD BULL'S LAIR"

Featuring a battle between a wild bull and the hero in which the latter overcomes the infuriated animal, Fred Thomson's latest P. B. O. picture is generally acclaimed as the best and the most unusual he has ever made. It is a unique story with a supernatural element in it not easy to catch with the camera; but the spirit of unearthly fear which broods over the cattle country because of the supposition that "The Wild Bull's Lair" is haunted, and the silhouette shots of the Wild Bull bellowing his screaming challenge from the desolate height, have the desired effect and give the production a mysterious atmosphere which it would be hard to duplicate. The picture, which is called "The Wild Bull's Lair" is replete with action and distinctive from start to finish. Thomson's great horse, Silver King, plays a prominent part in this breathless drama, and assists materially in the many comedy touches which relieve its intense tone. The cast is excellent and the direction beyond cavil. "The Wild Bull's Lair" will be shown at the Pennington Allen theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, November 4th and 5th.

The tea meeting held by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the home of Mesdames Phoebe Patterson and Clara Todd, Thursday, October 22, was well attended. Those present had the pleasure of listening to one of the most interesting talks ever given in Plymouth. The speaker, Captain Denniston, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, whose many years of experience in the management of that institution have amply qualified him to understand and sympathize with the unfortunate who are imprisoned there, told of his work among them, and of his efforts for their betterment. In the judgment of the speaker, the chief cause of crime is the lack of industrial training for the young, and the lack of discipline in the home. The talk was full of interest and was greatly appreciated by all.

The National Convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held in Detroit, November 13 to 18, and the Michigan State Convention will be held just before the National. It is hoped that many of the members of Plymouth Union will be able to attend these conventions. In place of the meeting of the local union which was to have occurred November 26, there will be a tea meeting held December 5th, at the home of Mrs. G. A. Smith.

Today's Reflections

An old-fashioned Plymouth home is one where parents can still tell their children bedtime stories at night, instead of at the breakfast table.

Wild riders of the old west once watched their guns for every man they bit. Now they watch their steering wheels.

Little on top and less underneath is the style for both a flapper's head and the rest of her.

In China children work for 12c a day. Around Plymouth they work hard for more than that.

All of us would be glad to live to a ripe old age, if only to get a chance to worry about a rising generation.

When you see a Plymouth man standing with his wife before a window full of hats, you know who's boss at his house.

Scientists say alcohol can be extracted from dough. Yes, but a fellow has to have lots of dough to get any alcohol.

Rome wasn't built in a day. That's where a lot of these Florida towns have her seat.

We don't suppose there is one man in all Plymouth who, felt a few years ago that he'd ever live to see the time when it wasn't safe to cuss in a barber shop.

If you are a pedestrian, an auto will kill you. If you own a car, you can work yourself to death supporting it.

Tough steak is best because the exercise of chewing one bite gives you an appetite for the next.

So far as Plymouth is concerned, we have no banking to furnish the season's first or deepest snow.

You don't have to go in swimming this day in time to have a shark pull your leg.

A man used to be rated by the amount of liquor he had in his cellar. Now it's by the amount of coal.

You might just as well get this fixed in your head now—the only dollar you can spend and expect to see again is the one you spend right here in Plymouth.

Every man needs a wife to look after him, but you've probably noticed that a bachelor is usually better dressed than a married man.

A petition was received from interested property owners, requesting a street light at the corner of Joy and Coolidge streets.

On motion the manager was directed to investigate the subject of additional lights.

It was then shown by property owners on Mill street that a sidewalk was necessary in front of a vacant lot owned by Mr. Oscar Freiheit, in order that mail might be delivered to the three (3) houses south of this lot. On motion Mr. Freiheit was directed to build this sidewalk at once according to sidewalk ordinance.

The Manager was then authorized to receive figures for new cave troughs and conductor pipes for the Village Hall.

The cleaning of Tonguish Creek was then authorized, providing the County Drain Commissioner would confirm in writing his verbal offer to repay to the Village next spring the cost of this work.

The monthly reports of the Village Treasurer and Police Department were then presented, and on motion received and ordered paid.

A petition was then received from property owners on Forest and Carol avenues for and extension of the storm sewers. On Forest from Brush to Carol avenue and on Carol west to Harvey. On motion, this sewer was authorized to be taken in turn.

The Commission then adjourned.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE VILLAGE COMMISSION.

Plymouth, Mich., October 19, 1925.

A regular meeting of the Commission held in the Commission room of the village hall, Monday evening, October 19th, at 7:00 p. m.

Present—Commissioners: Fisher, Rambo, Robinson and Wilcox. Absent—Commissioner Hillmer.

The minutes of the regular meeting of October 5th, were approved as read.

Acting under the authority given by the Village Traffic Ordinance, the Commission authorized Adams street to be a stop street with respect to Church street, and they also directed that the street light on Adams north of the Church street corner be moved to a position so that it would light the corner at stop sign.

Upon motion, the Plymouth and Northville Gas Company was directed to rebuild the manhole at the upper end of the Adams street sewer, where the drip water from the gas plant enters this sewer, in accordance with the plan discussed at this meeting in an attempt to remove the gas odor from this sewer.

Mr. Freiheit was present to discuss the matter of the sidewalk in front of his vacant lot on Mill street. The village agreed to fill in the gutter in front of this lot immediately, and to order the telephone company to move a pole in that this sidewalk might be built immediately.

A petition was then received from a number of business men requesting that Gravel avenue be open through to Main street. The Manager was authorized to investigate the required line.

The Ford roadster in the service of the Water Department having become unserviceable, the Manager was directed to purchase a second-hand car for not to exceed fifty and no-100 ($50.00) dollars, which might be used until spring.

Upon motion, the Manager was directed to notify the D. U. R. that within five days of the date of notice, tracks should be commenced to re-grade this company's tracks on North Mill street and on East Ann Arbor street and that the Main street crossing should be put in first-class shape to the satisfaction of the Village, and if this work is not started within the specified time action will be taken to keep the D. U. R. cars outside the Village until such work is done.

On motion, the Commission authorized a steel ceiling to be put on the rebuilt portion of the hall. The design and price being according to the proposal of the W. J. Burton Company, except that this company should be requested to install this ceiling themselves.

SHOOTING FOR BEEF FRONTIER PASTIME

Remarkable Marksmanship of Backwoodsmen

"Squirrel-barking," "driving the nail" and "shooting for beef" were among the most popular shooting pastimes among the early frontiersmen living on the border line of civilization in old "Kaintuck" and Ohio, Arthur Woodward, writing in Adventure Magazine, tells us.

In squirrel-barking the marksman selected the bit of bark underneath the animal, as it rested on trunk or branch of a tree, and endeavored to hit the bark at such an angle that it would kill the squirrel by the shivering of the bark and concussion, rather than a direct hit.

Driving the nail was the usual means of testing the marksmanship of a man on the border. To do this an ordinary nail was hammered into a tree for about two-thirds its length. The distance was generally set at forty paces or 120 feet. Powder for the charge was poured into the hole, as much as would cover a ball being considered about the right amount for any distance under one hundred yards. The barrel of the weapon was well cleaned and the ball, placed in a greased linen patch, sent home with vigorous strokes of a stout hickory "wiping stick."

A fair shot was one that struck alongside the nail, a good shot one that bent it, but the man who hit the nail thumb center was considered an excellent marksman. Not infrequently two or three nails would be needed before half a dozen men each had one shot apiece. The winners, after the indifferent shooters had been eliminated, then tried out for high place.

In the early thirties, shooting for beef was a popular pastime. These particular shooting bees were held in late summer when the cattle were fat and the marksmen would get the most for their money.

The usual procedure was for some one who owned cattle and wished to dispose of a beef at a fair price to advertise that on such-and-such a day a beef would be shot for.

When the appointed day came around all of the marksmen in the neighborhood gathered at the designated spot and a subscription paper was passed around stating that "Mr. So and So offers a beef worth twenty dollars to be shot for, at twenty-five cents a shot." Then each person present who desired to compete would put down the amount of shots he desired. Each man had his own target marked with a cross in the center as a bull's eye.

The winning shot was the hide and tallow which was considered the first choice. The next highest got his choice of the two hind quarters. The third took the remaining hind quarter. The fourth took first choice of the front quarters, the fifth the remaining quarter. The sixth man, not having any beef to choose from, was allowed all of the lead in the tree against which the targets had been placed. Occasionally some good shot would win nearly the entire beef.

In speaking of these beef-shooting matches it might be of interest to state that there was a story current on the Ohio in the early days regarding the famous—or infamous—boatman, Mike Fink, who, because of his remarkable ability with a squirrel rifle was generally barred from such affairs, being credited the best shot or "bang-all" in the country.

However, Mike didn't let the matter rest with his exclusion. His price for keeping out of beef shooting was the "fifth quarter," as the hide and tallow was called, in other words the best prize, which in turn was generally disposed of by the nearest tavern keeper for a gallon of "Macongheta" whisky, his favorite.

ODD CHANGES MADE BY MOTHER EARTH

Some of Them Are Worrying Her Many Children.

Queer things have been happening to Mother Earth of late. Her aque quakes probably have not been unusual, though America is prone to think them so because so many have happened in this land. But a new shoal, with rock coming within a few fathoms of the surface, has been found in a region where the ocean was supposed to be 2,000 feet deep; a new island is being built by a volcano in the Mediterranean, and the Humboldt current that chills the west coast of South America even as the Gulf stream warms the west coast of northern Europe has ceased to flow.

This last is by all odds the most amazing and important development recorded. The Humboldt current, coming out of the Antarctic ocean with the chill of ancient ice in its waves, and flowing up the west coast of South America to the neighborhood of the equator, has always kept low the temperature of the whole region. But that has not been its chief effect. Thanks to this drift of cold water, the ocean has been cooler than the land—therefore, winds setting landward got warmer as they went, and consequently were never chilled into rain.

There are places on the coast of Peru where rain has not fallen for 50 years, but it has been coming in torrents this year. The cold current is gone, why or whether no one knows; wind blowing over the hot equatorial waters is chilled as it strikes the coast, and there has been one thunderstorm after another.

If this condition persists, a host of changes will result. The nitrate beds of northern Chile and southern Peru have been saved by the absence of rain. A dozen years like the present will wash most of the nitrates into the sea. A thousand miles of coast land is now absolutely barren for lack of water. Rainfall like that prevailing for the last six months would make it a garden. One can understand why special commissions are heading for South America to learn, if possible, what has become of the Humboldt current.

Watch Growth of Embryo

For the first time in history the development of the embryo of a warm-blooded animal has been carried on under such conditions that it can be watched continuously. This feat has been accomplished by two scientists at the University of Leyden, Drs. J. P. M. Vogelaur and J. B. van den Boogert, who have placed common hens' eggs, with the shells removed, in small glass dishes in an incubator, and have succeeded in keeping the embryo alive and growing for five days. Inhibitory to the only way in which such embryos could be studied has been by placing large numbers of eggs in the incubator and removing and opening them one by one at intervals. By this older method it has been possible to study closely spaced stages of development, but not to observe the growth as a continuous process, now made possible by the new way.

Stealing Peggy's Act

A man and his trained dog were appearing at an Indianapolis vaudeville theater. The dog's ability to count was being displayed and her master was selecting patrons in various rows as subjects.

He pointed to two very small children on the front row and said: "Peggy, how many little boys are there in this row?"

A hush fell over the audience as the dog prepared to rinkle a bell by way of answer. Then suddenly a shrill, childish voice piped out: "Hey! I'm not a little boy!"

After the roar of laughter had subsided, Peggy was called on to distinguish on her bell the number of little boys and little girls on the front row.

Too Late! Too Late!

"Years ago, when I considered myself quite the debonaire youth around the home town, I always raved at the shirt of those days that I had to pull over my head," said a salesman in a Detroit hotel. "The operation nussed up my hair and I was forced to spend a lot of time recombining it. In later years, the now prevalent combstick came along, with all its virtues. But by the time it had arrived my dashing days had been curbed and I had lost most of my hair. So I'm not quite as grateful for the idea as I should be if the inventor had gone to work a few years before and turned out his product when it would have saved me a lot of grief."

Setting the Date

The stranger rushed up to the corner, where a group of villagers were discussing things. He waited for no introductions or invitation to speak, but burst forth with, "What's all the excitement about?" The group of villagers eyed him in silence for a moment. Finally one native removed his pipe from his mouth, spat to leeward, and replied, "About a month ago."

Didn't Stop in Time

A citizen in London made more than $1,000 by selling tickets for a fake concert, which he said was to help crippled and aged cod drivers. Just as he was selling the last ticket he had printed in his fraud scheme the police arrested him.

Photographs at Christmas Time

On account of the fact that—"Time waits for no one"—and that Christmas is rapidly approaching, we wish to urge all who plan on using Photographs as Christmas Gifts, to arrange to have their sittings made as early as possible.

Read some of the suggestions below as to why you should be Photographed at this time of the year.

Because Your Photograph Is:

- A present that your friends cannot go to the store and buy for themselves.
- A present that best represents you and your individuality.
- A present that your absent friends will prefer above all others.
- A present that will delight the members of your family.
- A present that you can purchase at one time, for everyone on your Christmas list, with a minimum of trouble and expense.

The Old Folks

Have they a good portrait of you? But when was it taken? Not recently? Imagine them, with trembling hands opening a big flat package, and taking out a splendid likeness of you. It's such a little trouble and it would mean so much to them.

They are wishing they could see you; if you can't go send them

Your Photograph

The Kiddies

At this season of the year, many parents are bringing their children to the Studio for Gift Portraits.

It's a happy thought, for what a dull place this would be without the kiddies.

Perhaps some of your dearest friends will never see your baby, but you can send them

Texas Woman Sick For Six Long Weeks

Mrs. Almond Finally Relieved of Miserable Stomach Trouble By Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

When people come forward from all parts of the country and voluntarily offer their unqualified endorsement of a preparation that has relieved their sufferings and made them well and strong, no better evidence could be wanted as to its real worth to the sick and afflicted.

Such evidence is constantly being presented from sources widely separated, showing the great esteem in which Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is regarded by people everywhere.

Among the latest of those who declare their unbounded faith in this preparation is Mrs. M. W. Almond, of Jacksonville, Texas, who writes: "I was sick for six weeks and suffered so terribly I just couldn't keep anything on my stomach. I was under treatment all the time, but never got any better, so one day I begged my husband to get me a good stomach medicine from the drug store. He brought me a bottle of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup. I had never taken it before and was so nervous and discouraged I began to cry and said I didn't want it. But he insisted on giving me a dose, and after taking a few doses I felt so much better I just kept on with it till now I am as strong and healthy as I could wish."

No doubt there are many people right here in Plymouth who have the same trouble that afflicted Mrs. Almond and who would be as quickly relieved if they followed her example. For sale in Plymouth by the Dodge Drug Store and other leading druggists.

Tree Named for Secretary

In honor of Secretary of Agriculture William M. Jardine a giant Juniper tree, recently discovered in Logan canyon, near Logan Utah and said to be the oldest and largest one of its kind in the world, has been named Juniper Jardine. The tree has a circumference of about 25 feet and is asserted by local residents to be the oldest living thing with the possible exception of the redwood trees in California. Secretary Jardine was present at the naming, which took place at a reunion of the class of 1901, Utah Agricultural college, of which he is a member.

Take 600 Years a Day

The daily average of local and long-distance telephone conversations in the United States is about 90,000,000, or 22,000,000,000 a year. As a basis for estimating we will assume that the length of the average conversation is five minutes—it may not be so long in the very large cities, but in small cities, towns and in the country districts the average conversation exceeds five minutes. On a basis of 90,000,000 five-minute talks per day, the nation would consume 300,000,000 minutes, 5,000,000 hours, more than 208,000 24-hour days or about 600 years.—Thrift Magazine.

The show window is your bid for public attention. On its attraction, its power to arrest the attention of the public, largely depends the success of your business.

Light is an essential factor in window display—abundant, skillfully disposed light. Modern window lighting has been reduced practically to a science. It is a business-getter.

It will stop before your window from 100% to 300% more people—more potential buyers—than the old-fashioned, unattractive lighting so commonly seen.

SCHOOL NOTES

The football notes are by Ted Hickey, the High school notes by Benton Fisher, the grade notes by Roger Payne.

GRADE NOTES

The pupils of the Five B class have been making booklets of Argentina and Brazil, in which they have put maps and descriptions of how these countries were founded. The teacher of their class induces her students to learn their multiplication tables by having automobile races. At present an overland car belonging to row five is in the lead.

Mrs. Andrew Clark and Mrs. Conrad Hammond visited the Third grade last week. Carol Hammond of the same grade left for Florida last Tuesday.

The pupils of the Sixth grade are studying the parts of speech. They also have to learn a new memory gem every week.

The Fourth grade held a Halloween party Wednesday afternoon.

The pupils of the last half of the Seventh grade have finished reading "The Great Stone Face" and "The Mystery of White Mountain" and they were very much enthused over these stories.

The manual training class of the Sixth and Seventh grades, have been making airplanes and two and four wheel cars. At present they have about one hundred and fifty toys made for the sanatorium.

The girls of the Eighth grade cooking class feel that they could get breakfast without their mothers' help. I suggest that their mothers let them try.

The First grade children have finished the Elson Reader, and are starting in on review. They also had a Halloween party Wednesday afternoon.

Claude Anderson entered the kindergarten last week. The kindergarten children also had a Halloween party Wednesday.

Miss Doucen, the teacher of the Sixth grade, has been sick for about ten days, but it is hoped that she will be back in school by Monday.

School was not held Thursday and Friday, because of the Teachers Convention at Detroit.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

tain the rest of the pictures for the Plymouth.

During Miss Knowles' absence Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, she was replaced by Mrs. Hillman in her History and English classes.

Miss Wiggins' first year French class is beginning to count in French.

The Junior class had a class meeting last Thursday, to elect a new treasurer. Alice Hathaway, who was elected at the first of the year is moving to Ypsilanti, and it was necessary to have a new one. Beulah Fisher was elected.

The debating squad of seven are now at work on the material for their first debate which will be held November 20th. The question is The Child Labor Amendment.

The Girl Scouts are to have their tenderfoot test completed by Tuesday.

The Juniors have cooperated with the Seniors in selling the Redpath Lyceum tickets.

Posters have been made by the advanced classes in domestic science, advocating what to eat to gain health. They have been put up in the lunch room.

Mr. Smith let Mr. Ross ^{think} he would sell more football tickets to the Rotary Club than Mr. Ross would to the Kiwanis Club. Both have sold 100, although Mr. Ross claims to have sold more than Mr. Smith. They have not come to a settlement yet.

FOOTBALL NOTES

The Plymouth Rocks went down to an overwhelming defeat last Friday, when they met the heavy Redford team. The Rocks showed little of the fighting spirit that won for them against Dearborn and Northville. Plymouth was handicapped by the fact that Captain Mills, who furnishes a goodly share of the line's strength, was unable to play his usual hard game because of injuries.

The first half of the game was a pushing through our lines and around our end continually. Plymouth came onto the field the second half and launched a futile, but nevertheless brave attack on the Redford goal-line.

but the Redford fellows seemed everywhere, and a good share of our passes were smothered. So short was the time left that we were unable to gain any points.

For the winning team, Lowry, Nutter and Reynard were the outstanding players. For Plymouth, Mills did well considering his injuries. The final score was 46 to 0.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

REV. ROBERT BROWN OF ANN ARBOR, WILL OCCUPY THE PULPIT NEXT SUNDAY. MR. BROWN WAS AT ONE TIME MODERATOR OF THE SYNOD OF MINNESOTA. AN INVITATION TO HEAR HIM IS CORDIALLY EXTENDED TO ALL.

BAPTIST NOTES

Last Sunday morning, the pastor spent all the hour giving a report of the Baptist state convention, held at Lansing, October 19th to 24th. The program was exceptionally good this year, and the delegation was very large. The convention will be held at Adrian next year. Rev. Herman Burns is to preach the convention sermon. He was one time pastor of the Plymouth Baptist church. Pastor Sayles was elected on the nominating committee, also to serve on the board of managers for three years.

Roy Preston, one of the teachers of South Lyon High school, spoke a few moments at the close of the Sunday-school.

Last Monday evening a social was held in the church parlors, the occasion was the collecting of articles for the Baptist Children's Home, near Birmingham. Quite a number spent the evening in games, and the last was a spelling down contest. Doris and Madeline Shackleton were the last to stand. All had a good time and left a large amount of canned fruit, groceries, vegetables, clothes and money. Because of the rain, the donation will not be delivered until next week, so all may have an opportunity to assist in helping homeless children.

Joseph Stanley led the prayer meeting, last week Wednesday, while the pastor was in Lansing.

The evening service last Sunday was taken up, and all attended the closing meeting of Rev. Hathaway at the Presbyterian church. We are sorry to lose such a pastor and family, and wish him Godspeed in his new field.

The ladies of the church will have charge of the service next Sunday morning. Ladies' quartet will sing.

METHODIST NOTES

A most delightful reception was held in Community hall, last week Thursday evening. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Naylor, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Hammond and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas. As these guests were soon to leave for the south, the members of the church gathered to wish them not only a pleasant winter, but also "a safe return." G. W. Richwine was chairman of the evening.

The Boosters' Class held their regular monthly banquet and business meeting, last Friday evening. About fifty sat down to supper. Plans for the coming winter months were decided upon.

Guests at the parsonage for the week-end were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Maunier, Miss Ida Vie Lendrum and Miss Virginia Lendrum of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Mannear and Miss Ida Vie Lendrum are sisters of Dr. Lendrum.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Doerr, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Tait attended the rally meeting of the Ann Arbor district, held in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Ann Arbor, last Friday.

The Ladies' Aid Society held their meetings in three divisions on Wednesday of this week. Interesting programs were enjoyed, and work for the coming bazaar kept the ladies busy during the afternoon. Large attendances were reported at all sessions.

There was no service at the Methodist church, last Sunday evening, the congregation uniting with the Presbyterians in the closing service of Rev. Hathaway's Plymouth ministry.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold their annual bazaar and supper in the Community hall, Thursday, November 5th.

Next Sunday is "Partnership Day" in the Methodist Sunday-school. Special music and a special program. Mrs. Lendrum will relate some experiences and some impressions of the inebson field.

The Woman's Missionary Society, assisted by the junior department of the Sunday-school, have sent a Christmas box to the Mary J. Johnson hospital in Manila.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

Last Sunday evening the Methodist and Baptist congregations joined with ours to fill the auditorium to overflowing. A fine musical program had been prepared under the leadership of Miss Ruth Forsythe, the choir director. There were twenty-three in the choir, and vestments were worn. The pastor preached on the theme, "The Abiding Word." In the morning he spoke on "The One Essential." Dr. F. A. Lendrum and Rev. H. E. Sayles both assisted at the evening service.

The Ready Service class met Monday, with Mrs. I. N. Inuls on South Main street. There was a large attendance and a splendid pot-luck dinner. After the dinner, Mrs. W. L. Freyman, the class president, presented the pastor's wife with a half dozen silver knives, forks and spoons, as a token of their esteem. A business session was then conducted.

The Beginners' Department of the Sunday-school gave a party last Saturday afternoon at the church, for Bobadill Hathaway, who will leave this week for Ypsilanti. There was a good time, and a number of "hefty" gifts were received. Alice Hathaway was honored again Monday evening with a party given by the members of the Daisy-Weaver class, and was the recipient of many additional gifts.

The pulp committee met at the church last Sunday night. Rev.

Locomotive Efficiency

Locomotives in use by the railroads 25 years ago were available and efficient for regular service about 75 per cent of the time, whereas today they are available and efficient only about 45 per cent of the time. This drop in available efficiency is due, it is said, to refinements in construction and to increasing the hauling capacity of the individual engines. The American Railway association is not convinced that all of the trouble can be found in these causes, but indicates that some of it may be due to a deficient understanding of the possibilities of the modern locomotive.

A year of watch service
...what is it worth to you?

Imagine planning a day's work without a watch to check you up on the time! You'd simply have to get the time from someone else—or guess at it.

Yet the cost of this invaluable service is amazingly slight.

For example, you pay $40 or so for a suit of clothes which lasts you perhaps a year.

The price of your suit invested in a watch gives you many years of faithful timekeeping service, at a cost of only two or three dollars a year!

Just consider what this service is worth to you, and you will readily see the advantage of owning a really good watch dressed in the most modern and beautiful case designed by Wadsworth.

We have an exceptionally fine assortment of high grade watches from which you may choose the one that best suits your taste and purse.

AMERICAN LEGION ENDOWMENT FUND CAMPAIGN

LLOYD H. GREEN POST NO. 147, OF NORTHVILLE, WILL CARRY ON CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS IN NORTHVILLE AND PLYMOUTH.

Lloyd H. Green Post 147, of Northville have inaugurated a campaign to raise the quota for the American Legion Endowment Fund for the disabled and the orphans of veterans, which has been assigned to Northville and Plymouth, in the drive for Wayne County. The campaign opens here on November 7th, and will remain open until the quota is raised. This is a most worthy cause, and should receive the hearty support of every citizen in Plymouth. No canvass for subscriptions will be solicited, but any person desiring to contribute something to this fund can do so to L. H. Alexander, at the Plymouth United Savings Bank.

Below is given the purpose of the Endowment Fund: The American Legion Endowment Fund has been established as a perpetual trust with a corporation being organized for the purpose of the supervision, custody, investment and care of the principal, and supervision of the expenditure of the income. The American Legion, by declaration of trust, turns over to this corporation the net proceeds of all of the funds collected, to be held as a perpetual trust for the purposes outlined; it being understood that when the Legion ceases to exist, or the uses to which the fund are devoted are no longer necessary, the future of the fund will then be determined by a board to be appointed by the person then acting as President of the United States, it being provided, however, that the use at that time shall be as nearly analogous to the present uses as possible, and that the fund shall be held as a perpetual memorial to The American Legion and the income only expended.

The National Executive Committee of The American Legion, authorizing the raising of the Endowment Fund in accord with resolutions of the Sixth Annual National Convention of The American Legion, declared:

"That portion of this income expended for rehabilitation work will be used to make certain for our disabled comrades the physical, mental and vocational restorations to which they are entitled, both by insuring the proper application in every instance of the generous provision made by the nation through governmental agencies, and by supplementing such provision where necessary to give just relief to them and their dependents."

"That portion of this income expended for child welfare will be used to carry on the administrative and relief work for the care, education and training of orphan children of all ex-service persons."

The Best Coals

There are grades in coal just as there are qualities. Thus, coal may be anthracite, yet two different grades would vary greatly in their fuel value.

When we say that we carry any quality of coal, you may be sure that we mean the very best grade of that quality, yet our prices are no higher.
