SPELLING BEE TO START MARCH 19TH

THE DETROIT NEWS WILL CONDUCT ANOTHER SPELLING CONTEST THROUGH SCHOOLS OF DETROIT, WAYNE, OAKLAND AND MACOMB COUNTIES.

The Detroit News will conduct another great spelling contest through-out the schools of the city, Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, and the date for the first spell-down among the grades is Friday, March 19th.

These contests will determine the winners in the four grades that are to compete, the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth, in each school. The winner of each grade contest will receive one of the Standard Collegiate Dictionaries.

The next contest will be the School Bee, to determine the champions of each school. This also will be held on a Friday, and comes just three weeks later, or April 9th. Winners in this contest will be given one of the beautiful Rand, McNally & Co.'s International Reference Atlas of the World.

The third contest will be the District Bee, when school champions are pitted against other school champions. This date is Friday, April 30. There remains but one more date, and that will be the great finale, when the winner will be selected to go to Washington to compete for the national championship.

This will take place May 21st and the national spell-down will be during the second week of June. So there you are—three months of word battle before you, and the opening gun to be fired four weeks from last Friday.

It's going to be a great contest, with 500,000 children participating and with a grand finale that should be as exciting as the end of a World Series—then, of course, there are the prizes for the grade and school champs, more than 1,200 of them.

The schools in Plymouth and vicinity, who participated in the contest last year, will again be represented in the contest this year. Plymouth was represented in the final spell-down in Detroit by William Kirkpatrick. Who will be in the finals this year?

MANY ATTEND OPENING OF NEW BANK BUILDING

A large number of people attended the opening of the Plymouth United Savings Bank new branch building at the corner of Starkweather avenue and Liberty street, Tuesday afternoon and evening, and everyone expressed themselves as delighted with the handsome new building. The officials of the bank were present to greet the visitors and show them through the new building. The beauty of the interior of the bank lobby was enhanced by a number of baskets of beautiful flowers and potted plants. A group of four ladies from Detroit, furnished excellent instrumental and vocal music during the afternoon and evening.

The ladies were given roses; the men, cigars, and the children, apples. The opening of the new building was a splendid success in every way. The officials of the bank hope to be able to move into the new building and be ready for business next Monday.

LOCAL REAL ESTATE MEN AT EDUCATIONAL MEETING IN ANN ARBOR.

The Plymouth Real Estate Board was well represented at the two-day educational conference in Ann Arbor, Wednesday and Thursday, under joint auspices of the Michigan Real Estate association and the school of business administration at the University of Michigan.

The practical conference for brokers and subdividers was held at the Michigan Union building and was directed by Prof. Edmund E. Day, dean of the school of business administration. Speakers on the program included Dr. Clarence Cook Little, president of the University. The conference was planned primarily as an advanced course of study for realtors now engaged in business.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wolff very pleasantly entertained the Canton Community Club at their home on Arthur street, Wednesday, February 24th. Two special features on the program were the talk by Ralph Carr, County Agricultural Agent, on the "Schools for Crippled Children," and a talk by George Gill, on township affairs from a supervisor's standpoint. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hank will entertain the club Wednesday, March 31st.

A WEEK OF SPECIAL BIG PICTURES COMING

The management of the Penniman Allen theatre announces a special week of big feature pictures, commencing Saturday, February 27th, when Pola Negri will be seen in "Flower of Night." This is a colorful romance in a Spanish setting.

On Sunday and Monday, February 28th and March 1st, Douglas Fairbanks, always popular with Plymouth audiences, comes to the local theatre in one of his greatest pictures, "Don Q. Son of Zorro." Doug. has plenty of opportunities in this picture to demonstrate his ability to do daring stunts that eclipse anything he has ever done in this line before. The picture is filled with swift action, tender romance and a pleasing comedy.

Wednesday and Thursday, March 3 and 4, Fred Thomson in "The Tough Guy," will surely please those who like good clean western pictures. Of course, Silver King, Thomson's famous horse, takes an important part in the picture. Then there will be the amateurs besides.

Saturday, March 6th, the feature attraction will be those famous comedians, Larry Semon in "Stop, Look and Listen," and Charley Chaplin in "A Dog's Life." If you want to enjoy fun, your opportunity to do so will be on the above date.

SAD DEATH OF A LITTLE BOY

Little Kenneth M. Collins, only child of Archie and Blanche Collins, died at his home Monday, February 22nd, aged six years and twenty days. He was stricken with measles about two weeks ago, from which he seemed to recover, but other complications setting in caused his death. Kenneth was born in Plymouth, February 2, 1920, and had spent all his short life here, and by his sunny smile and happy disposition endeared himself to all who knew him. He was especially loved by his little playmates. He leaves to mourn their loss, a loving father and mother, a host of relatives and many friends.

The funeral services were held from the home, Wednesday afternoon, Dr. F. A. Lendrum officiating. The many beautiful floral offerings bore mute tribute of love, from relatives and friends. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

BARTLETT SCHOOL ENTERTAINS ZONE 3

The Bartlett district entertained the Zone Three group of teachers and helping teachers from the college, last Saturday. The morning meeting was held at the school with about thirty in attendance. Mr. Fisher and Miss Mary Jameson, helping teacher of Wayne County, were present. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Peterson, critic teacher at Denton; Miss Lehman, helping teacher in language for the past month, summed up her work by telling of the various things she had seen as she visited our schools. Miss Geraldine Everett put on an excellent demonstration of silent reading work with her second and third grade pupils. Miss Fuestone taught a history lesson, using the problem method. She demonstrated with Bartlett eighth grade pupils.

After the demonstration, we drove to the Methodist Community hall in Plymouth, where the folks of the district were waiting to receive their guests. They served a bounteous dinner in a very pleasing way, to about ninety. Mrs. Ed. Hank acted as dining room matron, and the girls of the district served. Songs and music manifested the spirit of those who were present, during the dinner hour.

The afternoon program was called to order by the president, Miss Griffith. It was opened by singing "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "It Isn't Any Trouble Just to Smile." Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Roll call was taken, and outside patrons were introduced.

Mr. Norton of Ann Arbor representative of the Beacon method, gave a short talk on his trip into Mexico, and greetings from other lands. Mr. Carr, Farm Bureau agent, told of the destructiveness of the Corn Borer. Miss Ollphant, representative of the Juvenile Public Library, told a very interesting story. Miss Heloise Travis and Thelma Wheeler played two very pretty selections on the piano. Our speaker for the afternoon was Prof. Hoyer, of the State Normal College. His topic was "Corn as a Crop." The meeting closed by singing several familiar songs.

The boys' basket ball team of Plymouth High school, plays at Dearborn this, Friday evening.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB ENTERTAINED AT WAYNE

LOCAL CLUB GUESTS OF ARCHE CLUB LAST FRIDAY.

The Woman's Club of Plymouth was delightfully entertained in the home of Mrs. James Hoole on Friday, February 19th, by the Arche Club of Wayne. After welcoming the Plymouth Club and the officers of the different Wayne clubs, who were also guests, Mrs. Zimmerman, the president of the Arche Club, presented Mrs. Kingsbury, who played a group by Chaminade, The Dance of the Fairies, Ballet de Dance, the Scarf Dance.

The speaker of the afternoon was Waldo Abbot, a professor from the University of Michigan. Professor Abbot has the distinction of being the nephew of Lyman Abbot and the son of the editor of the Christian Science Monitor. The topic of his talk was, "The Three Groups of the U. of M., Student Body, Faculty and Administration." He painted very vivid word pictures of University life, and left a better understanding of our youth of today, with all those who heard him.

The ladies were invited to the dining room, where delicious refreshments were served. Everyone enjoyed the program and social hour very much.

The next meeting of the club will be the anniversary meeting on March 5th, at the Penniman Allen theatre. The Woman's Club will entertain the Arche and Literary Clubs of Wayne, and the Club of Northville. Each member has the privilege of inviting five guests. Professor Frederick Alexander of the Ypsi Normal will play the pipe organ; Mrs. Annis Grey will sing, and Edward Mosher will play the violin. The Messes LeMoine Everhart and Leone Diver of the Joy Dancing School of Detroit, will give a character dance.

There will be a short business meeting at 1:30 p. m., preceding the program, which is at 2:15 p. m.

NEW ORGAN DEDICATED

The wonderful new pipe organ at the Penniman Allen theatre, was heard for the first time by the patrons of the local theatre, last Sunday evening, and it was a delightful surprise for all who were present. Sidney P. Harris, the organist, played one of his own compositions, "Twilight," the words being thrown upon the screen. Mr. Harris also played a medley of old-time pieces that were much appreciated. The new organ carries a much larger volume of sound than the old organ, and its tones are wonderfully rich and clear.

FORMER SALEM LADY DIES

Funeral services for Mrs. Lydia C. Bolgas of Ann Arbor township, were held from her late home, last Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Mrs. Bolgas died Thursday, February 18th, after a lingering illness. She formerly lived in Salem township, and was a sister of Mrs. William Blank of this village. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Abraham Steffe of Northfield township, and Mrs. Oscar Koch of Ann Arbor township, and two sons, Alton and Carl of Ann Arbor township.

ALUMNI TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

All enterprising people who are interested in getting on in this world, will profit by seeing "Promoting Romeo," at the Plymouth High school auditorium, March 12th, as presented by the Plymouth Alumni Association. Romeo's predicament was apparently hopeless, "no money, no job, no 'pendix, no delicatessum sto' and no gal," but Bob Fenwick, the master promoter's ingenuity, saved the situation.

Frank Peck has purchased a home in Ann Arbor, and expects to move there soon.

We Want To Hear From Former Plymouth Residents

The Mail is desirous of publishing an edition dedicated to those non-residents who have formerly lived in Plymouth. We mean by that that we want every person who has ever lived in Plymouth to send us a "personal communication," telling where they are living, what they are doing, about their family, the place in which they live, reminiscences of early days in Plymouth, etc.

In other places where this feature has been successfully carried out by the home paper, it has made a most interesting edition. Not only would a large number of letters from these non-residents be of interesting to the home folks, but they would be of especial interest to those old home town friends, who like the writers themselves, are living elsewhere and would be glad to hear from their old friends, who were once upon a time residents of Plymouth. Send in your letters, the longer the better.

THE PLYMOUTH MAIL

JUNIOR PLAY TO BE GIVEN MARCH 4TH

"Seventeen" is a comedy of youth, in four acts, by Booth Tarkington. It is a work of exquisite sympathy and delicious humor, affording an evening's entertainment.

"Seventeen" is the tragedy of William Sylvanus Baxter that he has ceased to be sixteen and is not yet eighteen. Seventeen is not an age, it is a disease.

In his heart, William knows all the tortures and delights of love. But he is still sent by his mother on errands of the most humiliating sort and depends on his father for every nickel, the use of which he must justify before he gets it.

"Silly" Bill fell in love with Lola, the "Baby Talk Lady," a rapid little flirt. "Silly" Bill has his embarrassments and difficulties—but come yourself and see the play.

The cast of players includes—William Sylvanus Baxter, Seventeen—Edwin Schrader

Mr. Baxter—Wilbur Murphy Mrs. Baxter—Barbara Horton Jane Baxter—Marie Miller Lola Pratt—Ruth Allison May Parcher—Ruth Bobl Johnnie Watson—Ted Hickey Genesis—Gaylord Sayles Joe Bullitt—Needham Lockwood Mr. Parcher—Elton Ashton George Crooper—Wendell Doudt Ethel Duke—Leona Garchow Wallie Banks—Clair Parrish Mary Brooks—Katherine Wilcox These characters are being coached by Miss Mercer and Mr. Ross.

The play will be given in the Plymouth High School auditorium next Thursday, March 4th, at 7:30. Tickets, 50c and 35c. Don't miss "Seventeen!"

PLYMOUTH BOOSTER CLUB GIVES SURPRISE.

Last Monday evening was the regular meeting of the Plymouth Boosters Club, and just as the meeting came to a close, they were pleasantly surprised by the Lady Boosters, who came with well filled baskets to help them celebrate their birthdays, which occur in January, February and March.

There were fifty-eight present. Roy Wheeler acted as toastmaster, and called upon Chevalier Coleman of Canton Enterprise No. 5 of Detroit; also Chevalier Gift, their secretary, who spoke of the "pifnd degree," which will be exemplified for the first time Saturday evening, February 27th, at Riverside Temple, Detroit, at which all Odd Fellows are welcome. Past President Fred Rhead responded with a short talk, and President Warner thanked the ladies for their surprise and invited them to do it all over again in the very near future. It was a most enjoyable occasion for all present.

A Shamrock party is being planned by the Plymouth Booster's Club. Watch for particulars later.

A PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Deep snow did not prevent relatives and friends from gathering at the Shotka home on the Perrinville road, last Saturday evening, to witness the ceremony that was to make Miss Grace Shotka and Harry Wagenshutz, husband and wife. At eight o'clock, the strains of the wedding march were sounded, and the bridal party emerged from the east room, and marched to the canopy in the parlor that had been arranged for the event, and where Dr. Frederick A. Lendrum, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, pronounced the words that made the twain one. The young couple was attended by Miss Rozelma Shotka, as maid of honor, and Mr. Carl Zarn, as best man. Nearly a hundred present. The home was prettily decorated for the occasion, and a bountiful repast was served. The young couple will make their home on South Mill street.

RECALLS HAPPY EVENT OF 62 YEARS AGO.

W. J. Stewart, one of the few surviving veterans of the Civil War, now residing in Plymouth, had good reason, last Monday, to recall an incident that brought him great happiness, which took place on Washington's Birthday, February 22, 1864, for it was on that day that Mr. Stewart was released from Libby prison, at Richmond, Va., where he was a prisoner of war for six months and eleven days. Mr. Stewart was captured with six other soldiers of his regiment who were on scouting duty, just before the battle of Winchester, and while being held a prisoner before his removal to Richmond, was an eye witness of that battle.

FORD TO BUILD CLOTH FACTORY

PLANT NEAR YPSILANTI WILL FURNISH MATERIAL FOR CAR UPHOLSTERY.

Purchase of a 1,705-acre tract of land between Ypsilanti and Rawsonville, to be used as the site of a $3,000,000 cloth factory was announced Tuesday by officials of the Ford Motor Company. The company plans to manufacture all the cloth used in upholstering its cars. This marks another step in the concern's progress toward complete dependency in the automotive manufacturing field, it was said.

Prior to the construction of the factory a huge power dam will be erected on the Huron river just south of Ypsilanti. This will create an artificial lake, varying from one-quarter to one-half mile across. The dam will be 34 feet high, the largest on the Huron river. The lake will overcome a variation of flow in the river ranging from 47 cubic feet a second in August to between 6,000 and 7,000 in March and April. The dam and hydro-electric power plant will cost around $1,200,000.

The cloth used by the company for upholstering cars last year, required wool of 2,500,000 sheep, officials estimated. This was approximately twice as much as the entire product of Michigan. The plant will be located in the center of the wool-producing section, Washtenaw county having 70,000 sheep, the greatest number of any county in the state.

In preparing for the artificial lake 1,000,000 feet of lumber has been cut from the Huron river valley.

Before closing the deal the company obtained permission to close the old Tuttle Hill road, one of the historic highways of the section.

The dam will be constructed by Stone & Webster, builders of other power plants for Ford, including the one recently completed on the Mississippi river near St. Paul. Work on the dam will start about April 15th, it was announced.

A LUSTY INFANT

It is said that one out of every three families in New York City owns a radio, and that the industry is now doing a $500,000,000 a year business. There are 600 broadcasting stations in the United States, and yet broadcasting is but five years old. Six years ago radio was a hobby, and radio sets were classed as playthings. Today it is one of the public's principal means of entertainment—and it is only in its infancy. We are glad to see the people of Plymouth and surrounding community welcoming, instead of discouraging, this newest and greatest means of communication. The radio not only brings pleasure, it brings all sections of the United States into closer touch with each other; it brings additional education to the young people of every home in which it is installed; it carries the gospel of good citizenship as well as the gospel of Christ to shut-ins and those in far away places who cannot get to church. In fact, the miracles already wrought by radio are small as compared with the miracles it is going to work within the next few years.

Nine men, including the village commission and the manager, went out to the new Wayne County Training School, Monday afternoon, and enjoyed a trip through the buildings, under the guidance of Mr. McLellan, the superintendent for the W. E. Wood Company. The county may well be proud of the work which Mr. McLellan and his men have done.

Another registration day will be on the docket for tomorrow (Saturday); also one on the 6th of March.

The fire department took the old truck down to Rosedale Gardens on the Plymouth road, last Friday evening in response to a call for help, and saved a house from destruction. An overheated furnace was the cause, and one hundred and eleven gallons of chemicals, expertly applied, were the cure.

The commission has revised the rate for outside calls for assistance from our fire department. The Manager now has his authority to send either of our fire trucks outside the village within a radius of fifteen miles upon the guarantee of the fee of fifty dollars. Now the Manager has one suggestion. To save our time and the embarrassment of having to ask for this fee, let those outside the village who are willing to pay this fee, let us know now, and we will put them on our list, and then if they have to call us, we can say, "we are on our way."

KEEPING COWS MEANS $272,740 EXTRA INCOME FOR THIS COUNTY.

An added income of $272,740 a year is enjoyed by Wayne county farmers, indirectly, as a result of keeping cows, according to the Larrows Institute of Animal Economics. This income is in the form of a more fertile soil due to the manure of the dairy cows in this county. On the basis of practically a $20.00 fertilizer valuation per animal per year, this means a total of $272,740 added to the richness of the soil in this country every twelve-month.

Manure is a source of the most valuable plant food obtainable, says the Institute, but to preserve it at its highest value or efficiency, it should either be put directly to the fields each day or conserved until such a time as the opportunity offers itself to spread it. Feeding trials have proven that an ordinary cow, while putting from 15 to 18 per cent of the total energy of the feed she consumes into milk, actually returns to the soil 80 per cent of the elements of soil fertility in her feed in the form of manure. This has led many dairymen to discover that the purchase of good concentrate feeds for their cows not only more than pays for itself in increased milk production, but that it also supplies necessary food to farm crops that are expensive when bought in the form of commercial fertilizer.

The straw that broke the camel's back came when the government refused to interfere, and when congress showed a willingness to let the operators and miners fight it out in their own way. Realizing that the jig was up when the people and the government showed no distress, they quickly got together and adjusted their differences.

All of which proves that a strike is like everything else—you've got to have public sentiment on your side to win. Citizens of Plymouth would do well to remember this, for they can help to prevent labor uprisings in our own state by refusing to let the principals make a public or a political issue out of their troubles. Just let the fellows who are calling strikes and promoting strikes, fight it out among themselves. It won't take them long to stop their healthy foolishness and get back to work when they find that the public doesn't care how the fight terminates, and since everybody knows that the public is going to be the "goat" if it lets its public officials take a part in it.

GOOD STORIES TOLD BY BRITISH JURIST

Lord Coleridge Relates Interesting Happenings.

Lord Coleridge, a veteran British judge, tells quaint tales of his experience.

A well-known counsel was cross-examining a witness who was giving evidence of having received from the prisoner a blow on the head which made him sick.

"Were you really sick?" asked counsel, "or did you only feel sick?" "Well, it's the same thing, isn't it?" the witness said. "Oh, no," said the barrister, pointing to the counsel for the other side. "My learned friend there is sick with me—very sick; but I do not apprehend that he will throw up his brief."

This story is told by Lord Coleridge in "This for Remembrance," his entertaining book of reminiscences. Lord Coleridge, of course, was for many years a judge of the high court, and his father and grandfather were also judges. It is only to be expected, therefore, that many of his stories should concern the law. Here is another example:

Most people have a rooted objection to serving on juries, and any excuse to escape the duty is welcomed. One man, a victim to gout, was forbidden by his doctor to touch port. "How soon would it affect me?" asked the patient. "It would bring on an attack in 24 hours," said the medical man. "Come here tonight, then," said the other, eagerly, "and we'll open a bottle and make a night of it. I'm summoned on a jury tomorrow, and you can give me a certificate for leave of absence."

A barrister, while playing golf, lost a ring. He was upset about it because, he said, his wife had given it to him. A search party of caddies was organized. "I wouldn't have lost it for anything," the barrister said to a friend; then, after a pause, "It's the third copy I've had made."

Lord Selridge quotes an amusing letter which was written to an Irish M. P. some years ago, when the Emerald Isle was experiencing a good deal of trouble over evictions. "Honored sir," ran the letter. "I appeal to you for justice. I am the gurl which broke a policeman's head with a spade. A subscription was got up for me. But they gave the money to Biddy Maloney, who only threw hot water on a balliff!"

The author also tells an amusing anecdote of Lord Sturdale, a former master of the rolls, who went for a holiday on the Riviera. Some time later he received a letter, which had previously been sent to Lord Devonport by mistake. It appeared that the French authorities had sent the letter to Lord Devonport because he had been food controller during part of the war.

In a Scottish trial for murder the prisoner was charged with having insured the man's life and then shot him while out shooting. The judge summed up strongly in the prisoner's favor and he was quite unexpectedly acquitted.

Some one expostulated with the judge on the verdict. "Surely," he asked, "you would not have liked to go out shooting with the prisoner?" "I wouldn't have minded," said the judge. "You see, he wouldn't have shot me, for then I shouldn't have been alive to try him."

Defective Vision
Rural districts generally report a larger per cent of defective vision than city districts. In Pennsylvania for instance, rural districts show 16.8 per cent of defective vision among 500,000 pupils examined, while the cities of that state show only 8.5 per cent among 370,000 pupils examined; rural districts in Iowa report 14.4 per cent defective vision and city districts in the same state 6.3 per cent defective vision. The explanation of this difference cannot positively be made, but it seems likely that it is due to such differing factors as conditions under which the tests were obtained, bad illumination in rural schools and homes and the small number of corrections of visual defects provided for rural children.

Mighty Policeman
The most important traffic policeman in the United States stands at the junction of Washington and Meridian streets, Indianapolis. With one blast of his whistle he can send automobiles to Miami, Fla., or Seattle, Wash. Then turning his back on Florida and Seattle (figuratively, of course), he can route cars to New York and Los Angeles. This intersection in Indianapolis is the crossroads of the main transcontinental highways of the United States. If he wasn't so busy this policeman might feel he was as important to the country as the man who sits in the White House.—Cap-per's Weekly.

New Niagara Falls Tunnel
The old Biddell stairway leading down past the "Rock of Ages" and into the Cave of the Winds at Niagara falls is to be abandoned, says Popular Science Monthly. A new subterranean passage 200 feet long has been bored through the great cliff over which the falls roar, connecting with a shaft sunk straight down from the surface of Goat island. At the mouth of the shaft is a peninsula named "Clearwater View," which affords a marvelous close-up view of the falls.

Wanted Band at Funeral
When Lorenz Herter recently died in Denver he left instructions in his will that he be buried with simple ceremonies, but that the funeral procession be accompanied by a "musical band," the further instructions being that there be no ostentation about the burial rites, other than that. His body was ordered cremated.

Petrifications in Park
A 250-acre tract in Kern county, California, containing a small petrified forest and a quantity of animal petrifications, has recently been set aside as a national monument.

Soldier Stole Gems From Hawaiian Crown

After resting in the vaults of the archives of Hawaii since 1905 in a more or less battered condition, the crown of Hawaii, last worn by King Kalanika, has been restored to beauty.

Last January the commissioners of the archives broke the seals on the leather case containing the royal headpiece and examined the contents. They found that the crown was badly battered and twisted and that several of its beautiful gems had been removed. Tracing back records, it was found that in 1893, after the overthrow of the monarchy, a man named Ryan, a regular in the enlisted forces of the new government, had discovered the leather case in a room attached to that of the former royal chamberlain. He broke the lock and stripped the crown of many of its gems.

According to the history of the case, the largest diamond was sent by Ryan to a woman friend in Missouri. It was later recovered by the attorney general of Hawaii through the attorney general of Missouri. The theft remained a mystery for some time, until detectives found a paper containing $2,500 worth of diamonds in Ryan's room.

A story was afterward current that Ryan had used some of the jewels as stakes in "seven come eleven." Ryan was arrested, tried and convicted. He later escaped from prison, but was recaptured and deported.

The 1925 territorial legislature appropriated $350 for the restoration of the crown. This has been done with "synthetic" gems, but nevertheless the former beauty and glory of it seems to have returned. After a public exhibition of the crown in a Honolulu jeweler's window it was again placed in the archives building on the capitol grounds.

Floating Stock
Some Angelenos who recently paid a visit to Manila were talking politics with the governor general. Inevitably the conversation turned to the politics of Japan and their relation to the Philippines. The governor general smiled.

"Expansion, the necessity for more room, is at the root of all present-day Japanese diplomacy," he summed up the situation, adding:

"Japan's plight reminds me of a dinner I attended at which the hostess was the wife of a Moro chief. In honor of the occasion she had prepared for me the one white man's food she knew of—beans.

"They were served hard and dry and a puzzled frown spread over the brow of my hostess as she noted them. Finally light dawned and calling the cook, she said:

"You boy, take 'em back. Put on more water. Beans too crowded."

"Movies" in Schools

Geography is being taught in the Sophie Charlotte lyceum (high school) in Berlin by the use of motion pictures. As an introduction to the geographical study of Spain, for example, the pupils show first a film recording a trip through that country. Pictures of the different types of people in the various districts were exhibited, then a series of superb views of landscapes, from the high mountains to the tropical gardens of Seville. There were picture excursions to Parsifal's Monsalvat and other points, pictures of the fight of "Christendom against the Moors and finally visits to the modern cities of Toledo and Granada. It is safe to say that never before in a Berlin class in geography was the interest so intense. It is planned to introduce this method in all Berlin schools.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Calls to the National Convention of the League of Women Voters, to be held in St. Louis, April 14th to 21st, have just been issued to the Michigan Leagues through the state president, Mrs. Henry G. Sherrard of Detroit. Extensive plans are being made for Michigan's delegation to the convention, and for the advance study of the program of work to be adopted there. Particular interest is centered in the St. Louis meeting because it was in that city that the organization was first projected by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt at the final meeting of the National Equal Suffrage Association. The call issued by the National Board of Directors, outlines the Convention purposes in part as follows: "To celebrate the anniversary of an idea brought forth there in 1919; to demonstrate that that idea is at work in our political life; to quicken understanding of the power of political education; to dissipate those doubts which cloud democratic government in this country today; to see us in a mirror the bright image of a government which is the concern of the whole people; and to grasp the patient processes by which that concern may prevail."

Between the time of issuing the proposed "program of work" and the date of the convention, local leagues all over the country are given an opportunity to study and criticize it, that their recommendations may reach the convention through their delegates and be instrumental in shaping the vital, composite program to be adopted there, suited to the needs of all sections of the country and adaptable to a variety of local civic and political problems.

Another important convention question is concerned with biennial instead of the annual conventions which have marked the League policy during the seven years of its existence, and on this point the views of the local organizations are also being sought.

Michigan's representation of fifteen delegates and fifteen alternates is based upon the Congressional districts of the state. In addition to the state president and one delegate at large, and the State League will also be represented by the chairman of the state departments of work and standing committees and their alternates. Miss Elizabeth Jankel of Adrian, treasurer of the Michigan League, is chairman of the committee on transportation.

Photographed Telegrams

Bellingham, the system of sending photographed telegrams by wire, is becoming popular in Europe, says Popular Science Monthly. The cost of sending an autographed telegram has been reduced in France to 25 cents.

Many advantages are pointed out for this new type of telegram. Messages need not be translated for transmission. One hundred words can be written easily on a form and go as a single photograph. The sender can be sure his message will be delivered exactly as he wrote it and the receiver can identify the sender by his own signature.

Moreover, the transmission is declared to be very rapid.

The Cheap Car

Representative Riley Wilson was talking in Washington about motor cars. "I know a man," he said, "who bought a cheap car, and a month or so later he called on the agent who had sold it to him.

"You sold me a car five weeks ago, did you?" he snarled.

"Yes, sir, I did," said the agent.

"And you told me it would last a lifetime. A lifetime? Ha, ha, ha! A lifetime? Whose lifetime?"

"The agent's," said the agent, "its own, of course."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Fred Beyer, who departed this life two years ago, February 28, 1924.

How sad and sudden was the call of one who was so dearly loved by all; how gone and left us mourning here. He's parted from this world of pain, but only died to live again.

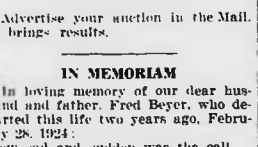

We loved him, oh, no tongue can tell how much we loved him and how well; God loved him too, and thought it best To take him home with Him to rest.

His loving wife and children.

SAVING KING APPLE

So long as we can have an apple a day, we figure that this world isn't a bad place to live in.

But the insect world is conspiring to dethrone His Majesty the Apple.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown." King Apple has no exception to the rule. What a host of enemies he has! Aphids, caterpillars, red-bugs, colling moths, tree-tent caterpillars, curculios, San Jose scales, scab, leaf-spot, apple blotch, bitter root, sooty scale and a thousand other insurgents are constantly after the old fellow's throne and scepter.

The National Department of Agriculture will show shortly in the movie houses of the country a film called "King Apple's Enemies." It has declared a counter-war upon these enemies and is mobilizing its forces for a great fight. Many parts of the country formerly noted for apple culture and production are slipping, and the Department is coming to their rescue with expert advice on the best means of fighting these pests.

There is one way in which we can all help, and that is by saving and protecting the birds. We can feed them in winter when their food is hard to get. We can do away with cats, which are the great destroyers of bird life. We can refrain from killing birds ourselves and help to see that others do the same. If it were not for the birds, insect life would soon overrun and impoverish the world. Every bird, no matter how small, is worth a dollar a month to somebody. Save the birds and you will help to save the apples.

STATE CORN KING

PICKED FOR 1925

HILLSDALE COUNTY MAN RAISES 112 BUSHELS PER ACRE AND LEADS MICHIGAN GROWERS.

A yield of 112 bushels of corn per acre was necessary to win the 1925 corn championship of Michigan, so keen was the competition among the state's best growers. Ernest Gilbert, of Waldron, Hillsdale County, is the man who has been crowned "Corn King" by extension men at M. S. C., have been checking up on the annual contest.

Profit above "cultural" costs on Mr. Gilbert's yield figured $70 to the acre. William Hilton, Coldwater, in Branch County, stood second in the state in total yield with 105 bushels per acre; while Paul Clement, of Britton, in Lenawee County, followed with 100 bushels to the acre. George Putman, also of Britton, produced but 95 bushels to the acre, but lower cultural costs enabled him to check in a profit of $64 an acre for second place in the state contest for efficient production.

Included in the costs as figured were labor charges for preparing the ground, fertilization seed and cultivation costs. Harvesting and general "overhead" costs were not included in the contest records.

The cultural costs varied all the way from $8 an acre to $19 an acre among the men who were entered in the competition, while the profit dropped to as low as $25 an acre in some places.

The three men who produced 100 bushels per acre are the first to reach such figures in the history of Michigan corn contests, according to crops specialists at the Michigan State College.

Like Coat Of Mail

The chain mail of old has given way to gentler styles of clothing, but the principle, which once made it invulnerable to lance and sword, still persists in this "Chain Knit" hose.

The Link A thread of twisted silk loops through another, in a close springy grasp.

The Chain A thousand loops are added, each one linked to its neighbors, tenacious as a steel spring.

The Mail Deftly the fabric is shaped; and doubled and trebled and bound at points of strain.

And thus a "Chain Knit" sock is built; not for everlasting wear; that was impossible even in the days when the links were made of steel; but it must wear longer than most.

SEE CROP INSURANCE IN CERTIFIED SEED

POTATO GROWERS URGED TO INCREASE PRODUCTION ECONOMY BY PLANTING FROM GOOD STOCK.

That the planting of certified seed potatoes is an effective form of crop insurance for Michigan farmers is being pointed out this spring by H. C. Moore, potato specialist, at the Michigan State College in charge of seed potato inspection service.

"Those state farmers who each year plant approximately 100,000 bushels of certified seed potatoes have found that such seed is a very good form of potato crop insurance," says Moore. "Certified seed has materially increased their yields and bettered the quality of their crop, so that they have been able to produce potatoes more economically and to market them to better advantage."

"Economy in production—lower production costs per bushel—should be the aim of potato growers. Numerous tests throughout the state show a production increase of approximately 50 bushels per acre for certified seed compared with non-certified or 'common' seed potatoes. This makes it possible in many instances for growers to reduce their acreage and still maintain their total potato output, by planting certified seed and following good cultural practices."

A general shortage of certified seed potatoes is said to exist this year, not only in Michigan but also throughout the entire country. For this reason growers have been urged to get their seed stocks early. Varieties included among those which are being certified in Michigan are: Russet Rural, White Rural, Green Mountain, and Irish Cobbler.

War's Toll Reckoned in Shattered Souls

Oldfield is one of the psychic disabilities of the war. He has been with us now two weeks, and he and I have taken a long walk each day across the fields, but I have never heard from him one word about the war until recently. Then it was Lucy who, woman-like, instinctively and understandingly met the situation and left me alone by the granary after she and Oldfield had gone (he tremblingly) to the house, leaving me cursing myself for a blithering and meddlesome and ivory-headed idiot. We had come from the lane and rounded the edge by the granary, when a great brown rat sped by from the corner to its hole; and in an instant the six-footer Oldfield was in my arms, gibbering like a cretin: "The rat. . . the rat. . . My God, get that d-d rat out of here—!" He shrieked and moaned piteously: Lucy came running frightened from the house. . . It seems that Oldfield, one night in 1917, was billeted with his regiment in the chalk caves at Arras. All night the rats—great, brown ones, went back and forth, back and forth. Some of the lads laid their kits or duckboards by their faces so the rats could not steal down over without touching their slippers; but Oldfield, being responsible for the men, and of an inquiring nature, decided after a time to reconnoiter. He flashlighted himself along the trail of the rats, one with them, unreckoned with by them, until he came to where there had been a cave-in. It all explained itself, both to eye and nostril; a detachment of Germans had been caught in a section of the caves some time before, buried alive with shot-caved earth, and the rats had tunneled through to the pantry. . . . Poor Oldfield—no wonder! He didn't know what minute the same thing might happen to his men. . . . Here he is, just thirty, his mind off balance, his talents abortive, soul and body struggling to attain that delicate relation to each other which we call commonsense. I wonder, sometimes, whether there are not too many fine souls, and war ends them, as it does too many fine bodies.—J. L. M. in Chicago Evening Post.

To Survey Salt Lake

The Great Salt lake has never been surveyed by the government and the work, an extensive task, is about to be begun by the geological survey and the general land office. The survey will be an investigation of its resources and possibilities as much as anything else.

Tracts of land found containing valuable salts will be designated and classified. The general land office through its government surveyors will undertake the running over the entire desert of the Salt lake base line, first standard parallels north and south, the third guide meridian west and such other controlling lines of the public land survey system as are deemed necessary.

Because of the saline and salts deposits throughout the area the surveyors will be compelled to use wooden posts or suitable material to mark the course of these lines across the desert. Should the regulation iron posts be used as markers in the survey, it is believed that they would soon be corroded.

Wrong Sort of Cake

Senator Porter Dale said at a dinner in Washington: "The debtor nations come over here one by one expecting great things of us. They don't get what they expect; they get something better, though they don't realize this at the time. But in the long run they'll come to see that it's better to pay up than not to."

"At the present moment the debtor nations are in the mood of the tramp."

"That lady in the yellow fur-hat," snarled the tramp, "told me if I'd chop her woodbox full of wood she'd give me a cake."

"Well?" said the tramp's mate.

"Well," hissed the tramp, "she give me a cake of soap."

Overzealous Official

In Ploenzig near Stettin a matrimonial registrar is such a friend of the capitalistic system and industrial production generally that recently he refused to marry a working man and his young bride on a week day, alleging as a reason that too many workers would abstain from their daily toil in order to attend the wedding. It took some weeks for the local landlord to take up the matter and convince the unruly official that his business was to marry people, not to stimulate their zeal for labor.

Some good housewives—out of pure habit—are still brooming rugs and carpets; rubbing clothes to pieces on a board; standing on tired feet to make coffee and toast; treading away like a bicycle racer when they sew.

Other good housewives have found that the tiring tasks of the home can be done easily, cheaply, and in quick time by electricity.

Come in and look at some of the electrical devices that lend rest and comfort to women folk.

Concrete Streets, like Concrete Roads, are built for permanence

Why Clare Paved with Portland Cement Concrete

When the business men of Clare, Michigan, decided it was time to pave the city's main thoroughfare, they wanted assured protection against costly repairs. They wanted a pavement that would remain true and even, firm and rigid under all kinds of traffic.

That's why they decided on portland cement concrete—the pavement you recognize by its non-skid surface and its pleasing, light gray color.

Tourists passing through Clare always praise its concrete pavement. Some day they will no doubt have the pleasure of driving on concrete over M-14, the heavily traveled highway leading to the famous summer resorts of the North Country.

Concrete on M-14 will mean a great deal to local prosperity in the years ahead. Don't just say "pave." Say "pave with portland cement concrete."

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.

PLYMOUTH DEBATORS EXCLUDED FROM STATE ELIMINATION DEBATES.

Although our Plymouth debaters won three of their four state league debates, they were excluded from the elimination debates by the state manager, Gail E. Densmore. He let 64 of the 200 schools that are members of the State Debating League continue. Fifty-three of these schools won twelve points in the series. The other eleven schools the state manager chose by lot. Two of the schools, whose teams were beaten by ours were allowed to go on, because one had twelve points and the other was lucky enough to be chosen by lot. Northville and Birmingham were both defeated by Plymouth's debaters, as they have always been for the past seven years.

Plymouth was unfortunate in drawing Ypsilanti for its first debates because according to the classification of the state manager we should not be compelled to debate against High schools of that size until the final series. We were also unlucky in not being among the eleven lucky schools drawn by lot. The debaters themselves have done unusually strong work, as is known by those who were present at the last three debates. One of the judges at our debate with Northville was a man who has heard our teams every year for the past eight years. He said that this year's team was the best Plymouth had ever had. He felt that this year's debaters ranked well even with those of our state championship team of 1920. So, although ill luck excluded our debaters from the elimination debates, they deserve credit for a season of good work. Exclusion from the state debating league leaves them free to turn their attention to the preparation of orations for the state oratorical contest. The first contest in this series will take place the first week in April.

THE PLYMOUTH-WAYNE GAME

On Wednesday night, February 17th, Plymouth High school basket ball team went to Wayne, where they won by a score of 20 to 8. It looked at the first of the game as if Plymouth would have a hard struggle to put this game in the winning column, for at the end of the half the score was 6 to 5 in favor of Wayne. But when the second period began the Rocks came back with their old dash, and they out-scored Wayne by 20 points. Lockwood was the outstanding defensive player, while Carney was high scorer with 12 points.

The starting line-up:
Plymouth—r. f., Doudt; l. f., Hekey; c., Hubert; r. c., Lockwood (Capt.); l. g., Carney.
Wayne—r. f., Wallace (Capt.); l. f., McLean; c., Selradner; r. g., Meinecke; l. g., Smith.

The fourth A is making a picture study of English, which is a picture of Washington crossing the Delaware River.

Miss Bird's fifth grade, last Friday, gave one minute speeches on the Life of Abraham Lincoln. Then the class voted on the best one, and Catherine Dugan and Irene Humphries tied for first place. On Washington's Birthday they did the same thing. Their "True American Society" elected their new officers and they are: Melvin Blunk, president; Doris Bridge, secretary, and Robert Johnston, treasurer.

Miss Hallahan's sixth grade has started percentage arithmetic.

Roy Williams is absent on account of sickness.

NEWBURG

On Saturday evening, the Epworth League did themselves great credit, in the splendid banquet they served in the L. A. S. hall, which was beautifully decorated in the national colors. The eats were all that could be desired, from the first course to the final, serving sandwiches, ice cream and layer cakes. During the banquet, the young people kept up their songs and yells led by Miss Marion Bennett with her mandolin, and James O. Finerdy, who made a lively yell leader. Preceding the dinner, the invocation was pronounced by Dr. F. A. Lendrum of Plymouth. After all had enjoyed the fine dinner, Rev. Paul Havens, in a few appreciative words to the young people for the manner in which they had stood by him since he had been pastor at Newburg, then introduced Howard Cochrane, president of the Epworth League, who in a neat little speech, thanked all those who so kindly assisted in making this banquet a success. He then introduced Edmore Carney as toastmaster of the evening, who in a clear manner, introduced each number on the program with appropriate remarks.

The first number on the program was a vocal solo by Joseph Tracy of Plymouth, who sang in his usual pleasing manner, accompanied by Mrs. Havens on the piano, Henry Hutton of Plymouth, played the violin, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Wagner on the piano, and J. W. Wagner on the flute, rendered fine music. Miss Lilly Denham of Ann Arbor, gave a lovely solo, responding to all eucore. Mrs. Havens and sister, Marion Bennett, sang two duets with Lenola Joy accompanying. They were well received. Dr. F. A. Lendrum being unable to remain for the program, Miss Mabel Chapman, Epworth League District Superintendent, spoke in his place, taking for her subject, the word "watch," each letter being a little sermon of itself. Miss Chapman is a very earnest and pleasing speaker.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. Martin of Ann Arbor, District Superintendent, gave a humorous and forceful address, taking for his subject, "Viewpoints of the Church in the Community," which will be long remembered by those having the pleasure of hearing him.

The program was brought to a close by all standing and singing "America." The Epworth League wishes to thank the ladies who waited table, especially Mr. Gilbert for assisting the ladies in the kitchen.

Although it was a very stormy day last week Thursday, it didn't dampen the ardor of 37 who assembled at the parsonage for the Newburg Patriotic meeting. All did justice to the oyster dinner and other good things, after which the meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Hattie Hoisington.

Singing, Onward Christian Soldiers. Scripture reading by the Chaplain, Mrs. C. E. Ryder. Prayer by Rev. Havens. Secretary's and treasurer's reports by Mrs. L. Clemens and Miss Ada Youngs.

After this, a Washington and Lincoln program was given in charge of Mrs. Edgar Stevens. A number of selections were read. Dr. F. A. Lendrum of Plymouth M. E. church, was called upon, causing a good deal of merriment by his first remarks, and then in a more serious vein, gave a splendid talk on what it means to be a christian and what our church is to the community.

There were three old veterans of the Civil War, present, Comrades Stewart and Manzer of Plymouth, and Rhead of Newburg; Dr. Lendrum and Thomas Stonehouse of the Spanish American War; also Henry Schmeedy of the World War. They were requested by the president, to rise, and three cheers were given them.

Arrangements were made for observing Memorial Day, and the following committees appointed:

Mrs. Havens—Music
Mrs. Donald Ryder—Speaking
Wm. Farley—To place the flags in the cemetery.

The next meeting will be held the third Thursday in May, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Clemens.

Good attendance at church service, Sunday, with seventy-three in Sunday school. Mrs. Haven's class of young ladies won the banner. One of the largest crowds so far for the evening meetings greeted H. E. Van de Walker of Ypsilanti, president of the Society for Crippled Children of the State of Michigan. He gave a talk that was intensely interesting, telling of the great good this society has accomplished since it was organized, citing cases of almost miraculous cures for these unfortunate ones. Music by the chorus choir was especially good, also the ladies quartette composed of Mrs. Havens, Mrs. Leonard, Miss Lillie Denham and Lenola Joy, accompanied on the piano by Joy McNabb. There will be a special service next Sun-

HOME

What does it mean to you?

Just a place to go after the long desk-ridden hours at the office?

Or a place that's as far removed from the clamor of commerce as the stars are from this pulsating, restless world?

There'll be an open fire, an easy chair, and those down-at-heels slippers that give you room to wriggle your toes in comfort.

At last! The familiar curve of the front walk. The lighted windows throw patches of radiance on the lawn. The dog, rushing to meet you, bounds and frisks and barks his wordless greeting. She's there. And the children, noisily ecstatic over your arrival, fling themselves upon you. It's welcome home.

We believe that home is the birthright of every individual—and now that spring is just around the corner, it's time to start planning. Then, when actual construction begins, the annoying delays and expensive mistakes so often encountered in hurriedly planned houses can be avoided.

You can begin your plans today by writing in for one of our free plan books. Or, better still, come by the office for specific information and advice on your particular problems.

Finer Transportation at Lower Cost

More Buicks are now being sold than ever before in Buick history. And an important reason is the fact that, though expensively built, a Buick may be inexpensively purchased.

Buick could spend less money building its chassis, and still keep the quality up to the average in Buick's price class. The famous Buick Valve-in-Head engine is a more expensive type to build. Buick could use a steering gear less expensive than the 5-control-surface steering mechanism which adds so much to Buick's driving ease. The Torque-Tube Drive also adds expense to Buick manufacture, as do the "Sealed Chassis," the "Triple Sealed" engine, full pressure engine lubrication, the Buick multiple-disc, dry-plate clutch, and Buick mechanical 4-wheel brakes.

Buick closed bodies are built by Fisher to the most exacting standards laid down by any manufacturer today.

Quality, regardless of its cost, rules Buick design. But thanks to the sustained popularity of this quality, purchasers actually pay less for it. Vast volume gives Buick owners finer transportation at lower cost. Your next car should be a Better Buick!

Supremacy Maintained through Features which Established Ford Leadership

Left-hand drive was originally introduced by Henry Ford on the Model T car in 1908. It caused a mild sensation in the motoring world, accustomed to nothing but right-hand drive and control—a feature adopted from abroad where the rules of the road are to drive to the left. The advantages of left-hand drive seemed so obviously better for the driving requirements of this country that the change was made. What has followed since in the industry, is a matter of common knowledge.

THREE POINT MOTOR SUSPENSION—

This type of construction was first used by Henry Ford in 1903, and has been a feature of the Model T power plant for eighteen years. The two rear supporting brackets of the engine are fastened to the frame, while the front bearing or trunnion, is designed to allow sufficient movement to compensate for any twisting of the frame caused by road irregularities, thus protecting both the crankcase and crankshaft from distortion, and minimizing the possibility of repairs due to misalignment of engine bearings. The three-point principle is used throughout the car, including front and rear axles.

DUAL IGNITION SYSTEM—

Dual ignition is provided for Ford cars, (1) the Ford magneto and (2) the generator and storage battery. This has been a great factor in establishing the Ford reputation for reliability. Even in remote sections where there is no battery service, the Ford owner may use his car without interruption—the magneto making him independent of battery current. Elimination of the magneto would reduce Ford production costs—but again Ford standards specify the additional value.

PLANETARY TRANSMISSION—

This type of transmission was used in the Ford six-cylinder car built in 1907. It was so successful that it was adopted for the Model T car. The Ford planetary transmission is the ideal speed control for a light car. It gives complete control through foot pedals and leaves the driver's hands free to manipulate the steering wheel. Since the gears are constantly in mesh, there is no possibility of clashing; speed changes are made instantly and noiselessly. This transmission costs more to build than the conventional sliding gear type but is used because of its superiority.

MULTIPLE DISC-IN-OIL CLUTCH—

The multiple disc clutch is generally conceded among engineers to be the best, the smoothest, and the most reliable type for any car. The Ford multiple disc clutch, has the further advantage of operating in a bath of oil. This complete and continuous lubrication assures smooth, silent action and extremely long life. The Ford clutch is so simple and reliable that many Ford owners have driven for years without being so much as conscious of its presence in the mechanism of their cars.

THERMO-SYPHON COOLING SYSTEM—

The circulation of water in Ford cars is entirely governed by engine temperature—the flow starting as the motor warms, and being most rapid at the points of greatest heat. On cold mornings the Ford engine warms up quickly, because the water does not circulate from the cylinder block until it becomes heated. In hot weather, too, the Ford cooling system is equally efficient, for the capacity of the radiator is unusually large in proportion to the heating surface of the cylinders. Since there is no water pump requiring frequent need for packing, the Ford cooling system is exceedingly simple and always efficient.

SIMPLE, DEPENDABLE LUBRICATION—

The Ford lubricating system is the simplest used on any automobile. The oil in the flywheel chamber is splashed over the clutch and all transmission gears by the movement of the flywheel. Some of this oil finds its way through a tube to the timing gears at the front of the motor and thoroughly lubricates them. Returning along the base of the motor to the flywheel chamber, it is picked up by the connecting rods which turn this oil into a spray that lubricates the camshaft, pistons and all other moving parts.

TORQUE TUBE DRIVE—

Henry Ford originated the Torque Tube in 1908. It is simply a heavy tube that surrounds the drive shaft which transmits the power from the motor to the rear wheels. The driving push is carried by this tube from the rear axle to a point forward on the chassis. By use of this construction the rear spring does not take any of the driving thrust and is free to act solely as a flexible support for the car body.

SAFEST INVESTMENT IS YOUR OWN HOME

Buy an automobile, run it down the street and then try to sell it. You are lucky if you can get 60 per cent of what you paid for it.

The same thing is true of practically every other commodity on the market —except one.

That one is a home. Buy a house today and you can sell it—if it's the right kind of a home—at a profit tomorrow. In the meantime you can use it and not have your use of it depreciate its value.

SUBURBAN EXPANSION TO IN- CREASE IN 1926.

Hiram S. Cody of Chicago, for the past four years treasurer of the National Association of Real Estate
Boards, and vice president of the Chicago Trust Company, predicts a great year for suburban development. He says: "The demand for cheaper homes and larger plots of ground is on the increase. Cheap money rates for the home buyer and the opening up of the installment plan for the purchase of automobiles have together greatly accelerated the spread of population to the suburbs." Plymouth has a great opportunity for expansion in 1926. We have water, sewers, electricity, gas, paved streets and plenty of shade. These are the things that count.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

It is every man's business what he makes of himself. If he wants to play and pay "off" hours away, it is his own affair. But playing and paying can develop to a point where it becomes a mighty expensive luxury.

Thrift of time, and thrift of money, is the seed of all success. Said John J. Hill: "If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or failure, you can easily find out.
The test is simple and it is infallible.
Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will lose. You may think not, but you lose just as sure as you live. The seed of success is not in you!" And Hill knew.

The American Bankers' Association found out that every hundred men who enter business, thirty-six die before they reach the age of sixty-five. Of those who remain, one is rich, three are wealthy, six are still at work and self-supporting.

Fifty-four, more than half are dependent on their children or on their relatives or charity for their support.
Surely here is food for serious thought! Save as you go.

BROKERS AND SUBDIVIDERS HOLD CONFERENCE

The conference of the Brokers and Subdividers of the Michigan Real Estate Association, which was held in Ann Arbor at the Michigan Union on February 24 and 25, has attracted a great deal of interest throughout the state, according to reports from the headquarters of the Michigan Real Estate Association.

Ex-Mayor George C. Kellar of Flint,
now president of the Flint Real Estate Board and chairman of the Educational Committee of the Michigan Real Estate Association, states that while the conference is primarily intended to be of practical benefit to the Realtor, it will also give a better appreciation of the business of the Realtor to those who may be considering it as a permanent vocation.

Doctor Clarence Cook Little, the new president of the University, spoke at the Thursday luncheon.

TORRENS SYSTEM—Continued

The abstract of title has proved a heavy burden on real estate, and instead of affording relief for the future it perpetuates all the complicated title questions the law has imposed on real property.

The examining attorney must carefully note and pass on every mortgage, release deed, warranty deed, tax sale,
partition and divorce suit, probate court and foreclosure proceedings shown on the abstract. He must know that each deed in the chain of instruments has properly conveyed title to the grantee or new owner.
He must not overlook a single error in the description, improper acknowledgement, omission of the name or signature of husband or wife; otherwise, the buyer may have a bad title on his hands.

The examiner must understand the legal points involved in foreclosure, partition, probate, and all court proceedings, and know that all interested parties have been properly notified.
These questions come up in almost every title.

Means Many Tests

If an abstract contains fifty different items, such as we have referred to, the attorney must apply the legal principles involved fifty different times before the examination is complete, and he can render a so-called opinion of title. If there are 100 different items to go over, he must make 100 different examinations before his task is complete.

Recently a certain abstract of title to property was brought to the Torrens office for examination. It was one foot thick and covered several thousand instruments or items making the chain of title. If during the next twenty-five years twenty-five different transactions (sales and loans) were made on this property, twenty-five different lawyers would, no doubt, cover the same ground in examining each item on the abstract, and the title company would have twenty-five different jobs continuing the title down to date.

Fortunately this will not happen with the property in question for the reason that it is now registered under the Torrens system, and all future examinations and abstract continuations are wiped out once and for all time.
Why not have the Torrens system in Michigan?

Through the registration proceedings, the lawful owner is given a clear title against the world backed by a court decree and a Torrens Certificate, which carries the guarantee of the county, better than the guarantee of any private firm or corporation in the world.

We may say:
First: The Torrens System is a
"Time Saver," because sales and loans can be closed in an hour's time, instead of consuming days or weeks under the old system.

Second: The Torrens System is a "Money Saver," because $3 (instead of $25) will pay for a transfer.

Third: The Torrens System is a

"Trouble Saver," because the Gordian knot of legal technicalities is cut in two.

Fourth, and final: "Safety First" is the foundation stone on which the Torrens System is built. Torrens titles are safe as the government itself.

BILL SEEN AS BOON TO SUBUR- BAN AREAS.

A bill prepared by Councilman John C. Nagel to go before the present special session of the state legislature would permit even more rapid expansion of population to outlying districts of Detroit than is the case now, it was pointed out Saturday by Charles F.
Brown, treasurer of the Thompson-Brown corporation, which specializes in northwest properties.

"The bill plans to divide Detroit into districts for special assessment purposes to enable the city to levy assessments against any particular district for the public improvements in that district," he explained. "After passage by the legislature, the bill would be tested in the courts and then submitted to the voters for adoption as an amendment to the city charter.

"If finally approved, probably at the state primaries in September, the bill would undoubtedly enable districts like the northwest district to proceed at a faster rate with installation of city improvements in accordance with the demand for more and more home sites in this section."

Fred A. Hearn of Detroit, has moved into his new home in Plymouth Park, purchased from G. A.
Bakewell, realtor. Mr. Hearn is an order clerk in Burrough's, having been in their employ for the last twelve years. Before locating in Plymouth Park, Mr. Hearn made a careful study of a number of west side subdivisions and found Plymouth Park most satisfactorily located.

Don't lose all your energy waiting for rich relatives to die. Invest your money in real estate.

The Ford Motor Company has started work in their new plant at Waterford, and employ about twenty-five men there.

Faith in Plymouth's real estate values is justified by the soundest of all good judgment—with its growing population it cannot fail. There is no necessity for the small investor to look for other places of "great opportunity," because right here in our own city, opportunities as good, if not better than elsewhere, are offered.

Approximately $156,000,000 was loaned on real estate in Wayne county during the first nine months of 1925.
This would indicate a total for the year of about $200,000,000.

The bone of contention usually has little meat on it. Deal with a REAL-TOR and you will not have a bone of contention to put up with.

Yet People Must Die
Funerals are a nuisance in New York city. In fact, a New York apartment dweller can hardly play a meaner trick on his family than to die. If he dies at home the body must be removed the first night after death occurs. If he dies outside the apartment his body cannot be brought home. Funerals must be held in a church or undertaking parlor.—Casper's Weekly.

Women in Higher Posts
By allowing women to compete in the first-class examination of the British civil service, opportunities are now open to them to reach the highest positions in the government service. This means that women may become undersecretaries for war or for foreign affairs or other departments, posts that carry with them salaries ranging up to $15,000 a year.

Swiftest Elevators
The swiftest lifts, or elevators, in the world are said to be at the Savoy hotel, London. There are three in the checkroom which speed at the rate of nearly seventy miles an hour. When a button is pressed the lifts with their cargo of hats and coats are shot like a rocket to a room 100 feet above in a little more than one and one-half seconds.

EXPLORERS FIND VIKING FORTRESS

Rains of Historic Buildings Uncovered in Sweden.

A powerful Viking fortress, the headquarters of a northern chieftain of at least thirteen hundred years ago, was uncovered and identified near the city of Norrköping, Sweden, recently by two Swedish archeologists, Dr. Arthur Norden and Col. N. D. Edlund. Since the name of the place, Ringstad, is identical with one mentioned in the Icelandic Edda, or collection of historic legends, as the estate of the heroic Helge Hundingsbane, this may have been the seat of one of the mightiest of Vikings. The location at the head of the Bravalla bay is of obvious strategic importance, and remains of primitive fortifications, or palisades, have been traced in several directions.

What was first unearthed was the stone foundations of an ancient dwelling with several adjuncts, characteristic of the Viking age. As the structures themselves had been built of wood hardly anything but charcoal remained of them, but on the site of what had formerly been the blacksmith shop, where horses were shod and swords forged, there was found in a good state of preservation a bronze clasp that had evidently been brought to the shop for repairs and had then been lost. An adhering bit of rust indicated that attempts had been made to mend the broken pin with iron. This clasp was easily identified as belonging to the Seventh century A. D., but a spear point found on the site of the women's building dated from the Third or Fourth century, while other objects classified themselves as late as the Fourteenth, so that the place had apparently been occupied as a human dwelling for a thousand years. In the course of time it had either been burned to the ground and had then been forgotten, or the occupants had moved to a stone fortress, Ringstaholm, about three miles farther south.

The stone foundations extend about 150 yards in one direction and 60 in the other. Besides the "women's house" and the blacksmith shop, there are traces of a banquet hall, with benches attached to the long side walls, as described in the sagas, and down by the river banks signs of a slaughter house where barbecues were prepared at Yuletide and when the warriors returned from their raids. Of the wooden spiles used in fortifications, the best-preserved remnants were uncovered by the drainage of the river.

Statuette of Socrates

What is believed to be the first statuette of Socrates made by a contemporary now reposes in a special niche in the British museum, side by side with portraits in stone of Demosthenes and Aristotle. The Socrates model, the only known genuine portrait in existence, has a romantic history. It was found recently in Alexandria, was smuggled out of Egypt and sold first to a Berlin antiquary and then to a Paris museum. An agent of the British museum learned of its existence, verified its authenticity, bought it and brought it to England. Though one foot has been knocked off, the statuette is in good preservation. It stands about eleven inches high and is in pure Parian marble. Authorities say it is no idealized conception, but a real portrait—with the Socratic snub nose, coarse features, and rough beard. The figure wears the himation and the chiton.

Italy Builds Many Ships

Italians are proud of recent reports that show Italy to be the third ship-building nation on earth, with nearly 250,000 tons of shipping on the docks last summer. Only Great Britain and Germany had more. Various economic factors make it difficult for Italy to compete, but the government often makes up the difference with a money subsidy. Italian shipping is in a flourishing condition, being similarly aided by subsidies. A government committee appointed for the purpose has recommended the establishment of new lines to West Africa and Capetown and lines to connect Italy with Brazil, Vancouver, Hongkong and Japan, besides the regular service from Trieste to Bombay and Calcutta.

Snakes Like Violet Rays

Violet rays for snakes is the new order at the London zoo. So many tropical reptiles were unable to stand the rigors of London winters, even when their cages were superheated, and so many died during fogs that the authorities concluded that it was light as well as heat, that the reptiles needed if they were to live and flourish. Therefore artificial sunlight lamps have been arranged in the reptiles' houses, and new cages made of vitreous glass which allows violet rays to pass through have been installed. So far results have been satisfactory. The snakes seem to be licking up the violet rays.

Over His Head

Dr. William Krusen, director of public health, said at a luncheon in Philadelphia: "Whenever I hear people talking about sex education for little children, I think of Jimmy." "Jimmy came home from school one afternoon and said: 'Teacher learned us a new commandment today.' 'Yes?' said his mother. 'What was it, dear?' 'Thou shalt not kick a ducky,' said Jimmy.

Picked Up About Town

"Credit may be a good thing," says Dad Plymouth, "but they say it's pretty hard to get a bootlegger to believe it."

When men stare at a girl she knows everything is fixed right, but if the women stare at her she knows something is wrong.

Dad Plymouth declares that one way to live to a ripe old age is not to be a nuisance in the community while you are young.

"What's the use in a man wasting his time taking a European trip?" asks Dad Plymouth. And then he adds that there are hotels over here that can rob you of just as much in the same length of time.

Old Father Time is good as a healer of wounds, but not as a wrinkle exterminator.

Dad Plymouth says that doing your best is all right if the other fellow's best isn't a little bit better.

Why is it that the average young man never learns what the upkeep of a wife amounts to until after he is married?

"If history is to be depended on," comments Dad Plymouth, "then Nero must have been the first fellow to stage an old-time fiddling contest."

"The rising generation knows everything but one thing," declares Dad Plymouth, "and that is that it pays to be good."

Dad Plymouth says the reason a woman knows there won't be any dishwashing or scrubbing in heaven is because it wouldn't be heaven if there was.

Two Texas sheriffs have decided that wearing golf pants isn't a strong enough crime to warrant hanging. But how about lynching?

"The young bride's idea of back-breaking work," says Dad Plymouth, "is having to manipulate a can-opener when her husband isn't around to do it for her."

Old-time dances may come back, but we believe the old-time album is gone forever.

What's the use in a woman making up her mind? Isn't she going to change it right away anyhow?

Farmington is now a city. The voters of that place so decided at an election held last week.

F. L. Hendryx brought to this office on Saturday, a beautiful brown butterfly which he found sunning itself in his barn one day last week.—Northville Record.

Elmer Smith on the Workmen's ticket, and R. A. Brooks on the People's, will head their respective tickets for the office of village president of Northville, at the coming village election in March.

Thomas Leith, owner of the new Lincoln hotel at Brighton, has found it necessary to enlarge the building, and will add a third story to the building, increasing the rooms from 16 to 36. He will also install an elevator.

Carpenters have about completed their work at the new and enlarged Schrader Brothers' block, and the painters and finishers are now doing their bit. The new store will be very attractive when completed.—Northville Record.

Judson Bamber of near Milford, has recently disposed of his 80-acre farm on the New Hudson road, to Harry C. Crawford and W. A. Gleason of Detroit. This farm with its alluring Huron valley view is said to have brought its owner somewhere near $25,000.—Brighton Argus.

Mrs. Henry Ford has completed the purchase of 120 feet of frontage at Grand River avenue and Division road, the last unit in the block on which stood the home in which she was born. She proposes to erect there a memorial building, such as a church or library, which will be of benefit to the community. The entire block was purchased lot by lot, as fast as occupants could be persuaded to sell.

A few years ago when acreage was bringing a few hundred dollars an acre, it was thought by some that the price was too good to last. Acreage in the vicinity of Redford is now bringing a few thousand an acre and the peak has not yet been reached. Just recently Mrs. George Vetal sold several acres of her property, located at Myers and Six Mile roads, at $14,000 per acre.—Redford Record.

Another big land deal was closed a few days ago when Tom Leith bought Conrad Weber's farm on M-16, just at the east edge of town, also Will Paddock's place on M-16 just beyond. This is one of the biggest deals ever closed in Brighton suburban property. Mr. Weber received $70,000 for his 290 acres with only 80 rods of Grand River frontage, while Mr. Paddock gets $15,000 for his 12 acres with about the same Grand River frontage. The occupants of both places will be allowed to remain where they are for one year as the new owners expect to do nothing towards the development for at least twelve months.—Brighton Argus.

Today's Reflections

It has been our observation that a rumor that has been denied three times is generally true.

A Plymouth merchant told us yesterday that everything is coming down. Yes—everything but print paper and postage stamps.

Reports of six and eight feet of snow in New York City convinces us that they are not satisfied with the same groundhog that furnishes us our weather.

Almost any man in Plymouth who is 60 years of age would have been rich if he had all he had dropped in trying to pick up more.

The sap will soon be back in the trees. And other saps will be leaving campfires burning where they can do the most harm.

Ever notice that the fellow who gets fired always wants the world to know what a "low character" he had for a boss?

Ford prices have again been cut. They'll soon be so cheap a thief won't steal one unless the tank is full of gasoline.

Somehow we can't learn to trust the Plymouth man who is always glad when he reads that a millionaire has been stricken with some serious ailment.

We read in a New York paper that they're now making booze out of acorns. So we suppose "great soaks from little acorns grow."

All that some women around Plymouth think about is pleasure—and all the pleasure some of them get is thinking about it.

The only way coffee will break down your health is losing sleep in trying to find a decent cup of it.

Some married couples find it so hard to stir up a fight that they quarrel over the best way to make each other happy.

A question that bothers nine-tenths of the people of Plymouth is how the other one-tenth lives without automobiles.

The only way to stop a daughter from crossing her knees is to put her into a pair of cotton stockings.

THE THEATRE

"FLOWER OF NIGHT"

"Flower of Night" was written especially for Pola Negri by Joseph Hergeheimer, whose romantic tales are familiar to all readers of the Saturday Evening Post and to all lovers of good novels.

The story offers Miss Negri one of the greatest roles of her career. Flaming tempestuous, romantic, vital, this star has in "Flower of Night" a role at once so exciting and so lovable that the picture—a Spanish romance that embodies a wealth of thrilling action and marvelous color, that deals with persons of vitally interesting types and that is laid in a setting of magnificent scenic beauty—is sure to score one of her greatest successes.

Willis Goldbeck, who adapted "Peter Pan" for the screen, wrote the scenario. Joseph Dowling, Warner Oland and Helen Lee Worthing head the supporting cast. Bert Glennon photographed the production, which is to be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, February 27.

Locale: San Francisco and vicinity in the year 1856. The gold mines where hydraulic mining made its first appearance in America. The hacienda and rancharia of one of the old Spanish families.

The high spots: This picture is a rapid succession of big, superb, dramatic scenes from the very beginning, when a thrill is handed audiences by showing a powerful hydraulic jet washing away the side of a hill to glean its gold. And a man who stealthily reaches for a bit of the gleaming, falls with a bullet through his heart.

A climax of startling swiftness, alive with the ardor of love, a duel between the wounded superintendent and the unscrupulous politician over Pola, the surrounding of the place by vigilantes, and an unexpected occurrence that changes the entire aspect of the situation, brings the story to an unexpected close. There's no question about it, "Flower of Night" is Pola's Perfect Picture.

"DON Q. SON OF ZORRO"

With the news that Douglas Fairbanks in his latest screen success, "Don Q. Son of Zorro," will be the feature attraction, next Sunday and Monday, February 28th and March 1st, at the Penniman Allen theatre, comes the added announcement that this famous star has, for the time being, stepped out of his role of the historic character—such as "Robin Hood," or the fantastic—such as "The Thief of Bagdad," and will be seen in his new photoplay as the romantic adventurer, winning hearts and plaudits with his inimitable athletic prowess.

This new film, "Don Q. Son of Zorro," is by no means a screen version of the Cervantes classic, "Don Quixote," as some have thought, but has been adapted by Jack Cunningham from the novel, "Don Q's Love Story," by K. and Hesketh Prichard.

Don Q, the son of Zorro, is sent from California to Spain to complete his education. There he wins high favor at the Spanish court, only to be accused of murder. To escape disgrace he pretends suicide, and becomes an outlaw. Of course, there is a most romantic love story, and Don Q's quest for the heart and hand of a beautiful senorita eventually meets with success though beset by many tribulations.

Never in all Fairbanks' career, it is said, by the critics everywhere, did he have such a photoplay vehicle that gave him such splendid opportunities for athletic stunts—the type of film portrayal which brought him his earlier successes, and in "Don Q. Son of Zorro," there are feats of nimbleness and daring that are said to be far in excess of anything the redoubtable "Doug" has ever presented.

Just think, if your house is painted this year, and it goes bad. You don't want it painted over next year. Also in decorating, there are not many skilled decorators in the whole country.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

This month has been especially active in all branches of our mission work. The "Men of St. John's" Club have held meetings at different homes, and they have proved very inspiring and successful, both for the church and socially. Their chief discussions are the extension of our church and its use and service to the community.
 A vestry meeting was held in the church last Sunday afternoon, when several important matters were discussed.
 The young people of the parish are organizing a branch of the E. Y. P. A., and in order to get the organization well started, we are having speakers from the association in Detroit to explain the working and organizing of such a branch. Last week a gentleman came out from Detroit, and last Sunday a lady spoke to our young people, both giving splendid suggestions. Next Sunday we hope to elect officers and get the branch started, and it is hoped that all young people will be present at the next meeting, next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.
 The pupils of the Sunday-school are certainly taking a keen interest in school affairs, and with the assistance of Rev. Charles Wesley, the elder pupils last Sunday evening, formed a school committee and elected the following officers: President, Ernest Henry; vice president, Louie Ribar; treasurer, Allan Strong, and secretary, Dora Gallimore. A splendid school board.

The Ladies' Guild has been especially active this month, and much success has attended their meetings.
 The choir has a practice every Saturday evening in the church at 7:30, and those who wish to offer their services in the choir are asked to be at the practice Saturday evening at 7:30.
 As already announced special preachers are coming to Plymouth from Detroit every Tuesday evening during Lent. The preacher this week was Rev. A. S. Gill, rector of St. Mathias, Detroit. Next Tuesday evening, the Rev. C. L. Ramsey, archdeacon of Detroit, will be with us, and our missionary, Rev. Charles Wesley, invites all those who can to come and hear these preachers.
 We were glad to welcome the Rev. Andrew C. Gill, rector of St. Mathias church, Detroit, last Tuesday evening. Rev. Gill is a very earnest speaker, and his address was appreciated by the congregation who heard him. Next Tuesday evening, the Ven. Archdeacon Ramsey will be the preacher.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Lenten devotions are being held Tuesday and Friday evenings during Lent. All are invited to attend.
 The children's choir will sing every Tuesday evening, under the direction of Miss Lehman.

 The party given by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph King at the Salem Hall, February 15th, for the benefit of O. L. G. C. parish, was a great success.
 At the last meeting of the Altar Ladies, in the home of Mrs. Peter Miller, it was voted to have a "fall festival" some time in October. The following ladies were appointed to work out some definite program for same: Mrs. H. P. Lezotte, chairman of entertainment, assisted by Mesdames Harvey B. Fish, F. Simpson, H. H. Maskell, Charles Finlan, R. Rheiner, Peter Miller, and Miss Phyllis LeDuc.
 Ladies will be very busy this summer collecting articles for the different booths.
 Mrs. R. Rheiner will entertain in her home Wednesday evening, March 3, for the benefit of the church. Cards will be the entertainment of the evening. All are invited.
 Elaborate plans are being prepared for the fourth annual ball to be held at the beautiful Pennington Allen auditorium, on the evening of March 17th, St. Patrick's Day. Watch for later announcements.
 A CARD—We desire to thank the neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness during our recent bereavement. Especially do we wish to thank those who sent the flowers and furnished automobiles.
