WILL HAVE ANOTHER BRAKE TEST

The Detroit Automobile Club and the local police department will hold another brake test here on Monday and Tuesday, April 12 and 13. The testing place will be on Starkweather avenue, where it was held before, and the hours will be from 10:00 to 11:30 a. m. and 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. on each day.

WILL BUILD NEW GARAGE

Earl Mastick, who for the past several years has been a salesman for the Plymouth Motor Sales Co., has severed his connections with that company, and has taken over the agency for the Dodge Bros. motor cars and Graham trucks.

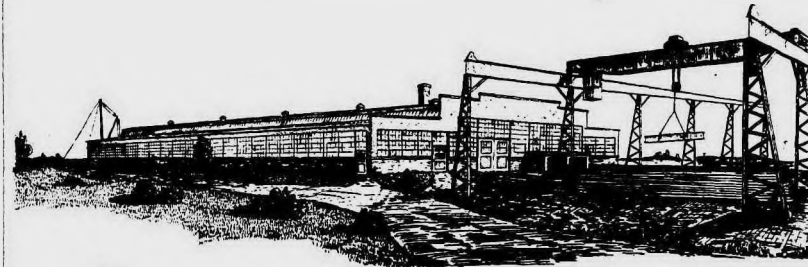

Mr. Mastick will build a new garage and service station on Ann Arbor road west, adjoining the Palmer oil station, at once. The new building, which will be 30x90 feet in size, will be of brick construction and will be modern in every way.

MICHENER WILL MANAGE TRIAL

Congressman Earl C. Michener of Adrian, Michigan, has been named chairman of the board of managers on the part of the House to present to the Senate the impeachment of Judge George Washington English, of the eastern district of Illinois. He will assume a task that will entail a vast amount of work and a great responsibility, but it is one that will bring him rewards far reaching in their possibilities.

C. F. Latover and family were guests of relatives at Columbus, Ohio, over the week-end.

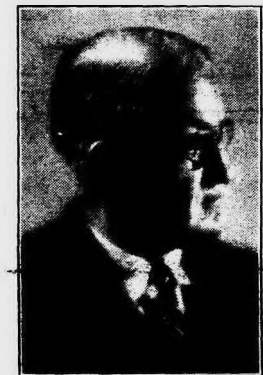

General Machine & Iron Works, Inc. Modern Steel Fabricating Plant

This company is now celebrating its tenth anniversary of steel service. The original plant in 1916 opened for small repair service, general blacksmithing and light structural steel, under the name of the General Machine Works. An incorporation was formed in 1919, the name changed to General Machine & Iron Works, and a decision made by the Board of Directors to enter the structural steel field on a more extensive scale.

The company still continued to grow, and in 1924 the officers of the incorporation, visualizing a real future in the steel industry, negotiated for a ten-acre tract lying on the main line of the Pere Marquette railway at Plymouth. Railroad frontage on this property embraces 1350 feet. A plant siding of 700 feet was installed in the fall of the same year, also foundation for the boiler room and building proper was laid.

Equipment of the latest type, including large cranes and runways for unloading null shipments, was installed. Materials move quickly from the shears to final production, thus enabling a large tonnage to be handled monthly, and again giving "Service" through prompt shipment.

T. GLENN PHILLIPS

proper development of Plymouth. Mr. Phillips will bring a message that will appeal to everyone who hears him. The great need for a city plan system is apparent in Plymouth today, and as we grow it will be absolutely necessary. Every citizen, man or woman, is urged to come out and hear Mr. Phillips this evening. There is no admission charge, and there will be no collection taken up.

The Village commission has been invited to occupy seats upon the stage. The following program will be given: Community Singing—Cecilia Whipple, leader; Miss Ozurina Penney, accompanist. Selections by Plymouth Quartet. Selections by Kivants Orchestra. Vocal Solo by Wayne VanDyne. Miss Ozurina Penney, accompanist. Remarks and introduction of speaker, T. Glenn Phillips, by Harry C. Robinson, village president.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's Club will hold its last regular meeting of the club year, on Friday, April 16th, at Mrs. George Wilcox's home on Penniman avenue. A short business meeting will take place at 2:30, followed by a talk on "The Education of Henry Adams," given by Miss Edna Allen. The rest of the program will be turned over to Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple and her pupils, and I hear we will have music by the Larkins orchestra. Let's all be there.—Cor.

Miss Cordula Strassen, who has been at Harper hospital for the past two months, has returned home, and her many friends will be pleased to know that she is greatly improved.

NEW SHOE STORE HAD FORMAL OPENING

MANY ATTEND FORMAL OPENING OF NEW WALK-OVER BOOT SHOP IN WOODWORTH BLOCK.

The formal opening of the new Walk-Over Boot Shop in the new Woodworth block on Main street, last week Thursday evening, brought out in the neighborhood of 2,000 people during the evening. Many came from Ypsilanti and the neighboring towns. The favors to the guests were a flower and a leather covered address book to the ladies, and a cigar and a key ring to the men.

A free dance and lunch in the vacant store room adjoining the new store was another pleasing feature of the evening for those in attendance. A number of beautiful baskets of flowers greatly enhanced the beauty of the store on opening night.

Willoughby Bros., who conduct a similar store in Ypsilanti, are the proprietors of the new store, and Robert Willoughby will have the management of the Plymouth store.

The new store has a very handsome front, with well arranged display windows on either side of the entrance. The store has been fitted out with modern fixtures and the whole presents a very pleasing appearance.

Blake W. Fisher has his shoe repairing business located at the rear of the store, and has everything very conveniently arranged to carry on his work.

THE AGGIE CLUB BANQUET

The annual Aggie Club banquet will be held in the High school auditorium on Friday evening, April 10th, at 6:30 o'clock. All members and alumni members, with their parents and other members of their families are invited and urged to attend.

One of the speakers on the program is J. B. Hasselman, director of publicity of Michigan State College, whom most everyone has heard speak quite frequently over the radio. Other very good entertainment, also, has been provided in the hope of making an enjoyable evening for all.

This is the fifth annual banquet to be given by the Aggie Club of the Plymouth High school, and it is hoped that it will be as successful as the preceding ones. Everyone is welcome and may be assured that they will enjoy the evening very much.

WILL HOLD AUTOMOBILE SCHOOL

An automobile school of instruction will be held at the salesroom of the Plymouth Buick Sales Co. Friday evening, April 9th, at 7:30 o'clock. The program will be conducted by an automobile expert from the Buick Motor Company, and instructions and information will be beneficial to every automobile driver, regardless of the make of car owned. The public is most cordially invited to attend.

Margaret Canning, 14 years old, of Mt. Clemens, was instantly killed Tuesday afternoon, when an automobile in which she was riding skidded and struck a tree on the Plymouth road, half a mile from Northville. Five others in the machine were injured.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR AGED RESIDENT

Mrs. Sarah Burch, aged 92 years, a highly respected resident of this place, passed away at the home of her son-in-law, E. S. Roe on Main street, with whom she has lived for many years, last week Thursday morning, April 1st. Mrs. Burch had been in her usual good health all winter, but Monday morning, March 29, fell at her home, and sustained a fractured hip, the shock of which, due to her advanced years, resulted in her death.

Sarah Westfall was born at Lyons, Wayne County, New York, December 10, 1833. In 1858, she was united in marriage to Lafayette Burch, who preceded her to the higher life several years ago.

The following year after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Burch moved to Michigan, and settled in the vicinity of Plymouth, where for nearly sixty-seven years she has made her home. Eight children were born to this union, three of whom are living, Charles Burch and Mrs. Frank Durban of this place, and Fred Burch of Cooley Lake. Four children died in infancy, and her youngest daughter, Mrs. Edith Roe, departed this life Nov. 18, 1905. After the death of Mrs. Roe, Mrs. Burch faithfully assisted her son-in-law in rearing his three small daughters, Ernestine, Ila and Marie. Their relations were always the most agreeable, she a loving and devoted grandmother, and he a gentle and kind son-in-law, greatly endearing himself to her.

Besides her children, she leaves five grandchildren, two great grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Isaac Everett of Fairgrove and Mrs. Ella King of this place, and one brother, Oliver Westfall of Plymouth; many other other more distant relatives had a large circle of friends who held her in the highest esteem. Noble in character, gentle and loving in disposition, she was always devoted to her home and family, and none knew her but to love and praise her. She was always interested in the activities of the Methodist church, and as long as her health would permit, attended church and the Ladies' Aid. Funeral services were held from her late home Saturday afternoon, April 3rd, at two o'clock, Dr. Frederick A. Kendrum, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, conducting the services. Burial in the family lot in Riverside cemetery. "Beautiful spirit, free from all stain, Ours the heritage, the sorrow, the pain. Thine is the glory and infinite gain—Thy slumber is sweet."

HOW IT HAPPENED

It ought to be a timely warning to residents of Plymouth and vicinity to know that recent government reports attribute most of the fires in the smaller towns and rural districts of the country to "defective flues." It is timely, because spring cleaning is here, once more, and this highly important part of it should not be overlooked. Don't wait until next fall and possibly be forced to forego it then because of a sudden turn in the weather—look at the flues now. Clean out the chimneys and make a careful inspection to see that the mortar has not been worn away by the elements. Take a close look at every joint of stove pipe, and be sure it has not rusted to a dangerous thinness. Make this your part of the house-cleaning, while the wife is looking after her part of it. The fact that a defective flue has not yet been responsible for your house catching fire means nothing. Be sure that it will never catch fire from that source by a close inspection now and the elimination of everything that looks dangerous.

GO OVER THE "OLD BUS"

"A penny saved is a penny earned," said wise old Ben Franklin—and never were the words more useful than today when thrift is the keynote of the best industrial and domestic establishments of the country. Just how many pennies can be saved by Plymouth auto drivers if they will make a close inspection of their machines before they are placed on the road for another season.

Many of the car owner's costly repair bills, as well as a considerable number of accidents, could be avoided if all motorists made it a point to give their cars the necessary clean-up and overhauling before they take to the open road. Based on the experience of a lot of trouble, a good local driver suggests that we broadcast these hints to motorists who are now getting ready for spring and summer driving.

Drain the crank case; clean out the cooling system; inspect wheel bearings; tighten all bolts; insure proper lubrication of transmission and differential; clean up gasoline distributing system; test alignment of steering gear and wheels; test tires, tubes and batteries—and by all means, test the brakes. The average man may not have the time or skill to give to the job, but he can save money in the end by having a garage man do it. Spring overhauling is an investment in comfort, safety and convenience. Wise motorists realize that fact, and always see that it is done.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

BY THE MANAGER

Monday night the Commission made a resolution to back up the custom of the manager's office, concerning the line on which sidewalks shall be built in the village. Hereafter all walks are to be laid so that the inner edge will be one foot outside the side line of the street, leaving this foot between the property line and the walk. This rule applies to all new walks and to replacements.

The special assessment rolls of the Sheridan avenue curb and gutter, Spring street storm sewer and Forest avenue storm sewer were confirmed by the Commission and turned over to the assessor for completion. The Holbrook storm sewer roll was held up because it developed that some properties were draining into this sewer, which were skipped on the roll. A new assessment district will be established.

The following changes in our street lighting were authorized: The light now on Mill road near the old Wilcox homestead to be moved one pole down hill. A new light to be placed at the corner of Holbrook and Hardenburg, and also one at the corner of Pearl and York.

The matter of the opening of Gravel avenue and the assessment for it came up, and protests were received from the interested property owners on the size of their assessments. The result was that the whole business was tabled until the Commission should have the opportunity to look the street over and determine upon a revised assessment district.

The president, with the confirmation of the Commission, made the following appointments, Monday night:
Assessor—Arthur V. Jones.
President pro tem—Henry J. Fisher.
Treasurer—George W. Richwine.
Member Cemetery Board—J. W. Henderson.
Auditing Committee—J. W. Henderson, Henry Hordorp.

For some time we have been talking about office hours for the manager. We are going to try out having two periods a day when he will be in the office ready to see anyone with business to transact. There may be days once in a while when the press of outside work will interfere with this scheme. Beginning Monday, the manager will hold office hours from ten to eleven in the morning, and from four to five in the afternoon. This does not mean that he will not see people at other times, but that they will run a surer chance of seeing him at those times.

A CARD—We desire to thank the many friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers sent and the kindness shown, also Rev. Sayles for the comforting words spoken, at the time of the death and burial of our dear mother.

Ready for any road

The Sealed Chassis "Shower Bath," displayed last week in many Buick showrooms, furnished striking proof of Buick dependability.

It may be difficult to believe that any motor car chassis could run under its own power for a solid week, with water hitting it in a drenching shower.

But the Buick Chassis did it. Water cannot get in, dirt cannot reach Buick operating parts. Even the electrical wiring is sealed inside water-proof, fire-proof, flexible tubing.

Buick is ready for any road and any weather, thoroughly prepared to give Buick owners thousands and thousands and thousands of care-free, trouble-proof miles.

Only a Buick could possibly stand the "Shower Bath" test. Buick, alone, has the Sealed Chassis with the Triple-Sealed Engine!

Records of Interest in Old Family Bible

We sometimes let ourselves be amused at our country cousins who cling to the custom of having a large, old family Bible enthroned in state on a table in the parlor—containing on some unprinted leaves bound between the Old and New Testaments various sundry vital statistics relating to the family to which it belongs, says a writer in the Boston Globe. It is barely possible, I suppose, that one reason some of us don't like that old custom is because among those records might be found the day and month and year of our own nativity. We may not be small enough to wish to lie about our age—but what is the good of advertising the fact that we are nearing 40 when we look at least five years younger?

Perhaps it was some such sentiment as this that put the old-time family Bible definitely out of fashion—as far as its statistic-recording went. And of course in more than one case those pages have been torn from the old Bibles or figures have been erased or altered by some member of the family who resented their truthfulness.

Still it is from those self-same family Bibles that most of our family records have been obtained. Genealogists could tell us how meager would be the facts of many family histories were it not for the records contained between the Old and New Testament in some old family Bible.

In place of the old family Bible, it would be a good idea to get a fire-proof lockbox in which to keep various birth certificates, marriage records and any papers relating to your family or personal history that would prove interesting in the future.

Glass That Bounces

"Glass" that bends, bounces and breaks without splintering is to be manufactured in England soon for use in motor cars. The inventors are two Austrians. Their invention has been surveyed by experts and a plant for manufacturing the glass is in course of construction. According to the magazine, Motor, the glass retains its water-clear appearance under all atmospheric conditions and is inflammable. The report goes on to say: "It is sufficiently hard to be safe from accidental scratching and yet is flexible enough under stress to bend to a marked degree without fracture. It can be broken with the bare hands without risk, because the edges of the fracture are neither sharp nor jagged." Recently a sheet of glass that was dropped twenty feet bounded part way back.

Nature's Adaptability

If rabbits in a laboratory are made dizzy for a brief period every day, the little semicircular canals in their heads will become adjusted to the new state of things, and finally their heads will not swim any more. Evidence on how the apparatus for balancing the body gradually adapts itself to situations has recently been reported by Dr. Knight Dunlap, professor of psychology at Johns Hopkins university. Doctor Dunlap produced the state of dizziness and the jerking of the eyes known as nystagmus in the rabbits by rotating them and applying cold water to the ears. It had been previously found that candidates for aviation need not be rejected because their heads swim easily when they were spun around in a chair, as they might become adapted to the unusual motion.

Sicilian Brigand

The Madonian mountains in Sicily have for a long time been infested with brigands who have been committing murders and robberies and kidnaping people without being molested.

The new Fascist prefect and the new chief of police determined to rid the terrorized inhabitants of these human pests. They surrounded all the small towns adjacent to the mountains with militiamen, policemen and mounted carabinieri, and after a four months' blockade they have captured the notorious brigand, Ferrarello, and his band of 50 men, who have been raiding the surrounding districts for the last 33 years.

All Is Vanity!

"Vanity of vanities, saith the preacher, vanity of vanities; all is vanity."

Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, agrees with the preacher. "America's beauty bill," he told the Des Moines Federation of Women's Clubs, "is $80,000,000 a year." And he attacked vigorously plastic surgery, cosmetics, "beauticians" and "cosmetologists" who share in this great vanity fund.

The doctor finds no merit in rouge or even beauty creams. Venus didn't have any, nor Cleopatra, he said triumphantly.—New Orleans Item-Tribune.

Sun and the Weather

The chief of the weather bureau, Dr. C. F. Marvin, is not one of those who believe that solar variation is of importance in forecasting weather. He thinks variation in the intensity of solar radiation is of small importance to the government meteorologist in prognosticating future climatic conditions. So far, says Doctor Marvin, he and his colleagues in the weather bureau have found little to substantiate the contentions of certain students in the Smithsonian Institution to the effect that the fluctuations in weather can be ascribed to the variation of the rays of the sun.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Ancient Birch Bark Canoe

Thomas F. Allen, of Bangor, Maine, has a birch bark canoe which is more than 100 years old. It is in perfect condition and is further remarkable from the fact that it is made from a single piece of birch bark. He bought the canoe from an Indian woman some 15 years ago and it was then more than a century old. It had been made by the woman's grandfather and when she said it she was an old woman.

SUCCESS NOT WHAT HE HAD IMAGINED

Seemingly Possible to Pay Too Much for It.

There once was a man who pegged along in an ordinary way, earning his bread and placidly enjoying his obscurity. He ate, worked and slept. That was the whole of his life, and so he might have continued to live if he had not read a go-getter article in one of the go-getter magazines.

Having read the article, he was filled with a great ambition to become a success and enjoy all the wonderful things that are reserved for successful men.

Success, of course, meant getting money; and money he got. The method of getting it was not unusual or spectacular; he simply made a better mousetrap.

When he had a million dollars in the bank and a mousetrap factory with seven acres of floor space, he leaned back in his swivel chair and said to his son: "We are there. Now we shall begin to enjoy all those peculiar advantages that kind fortune bestows upon those who arrive."

That ends that part of the story. He really and truly was a success, according to all orthodox standards.

The remainder of the story has to do with the peculiar advantages he enjoyed.

He received 88,742 begging letters. He was invited to head 631 subscription lists to raise funds for as many peculiar purposes.

His clipping bureau sent him an aggregate of nine columns a day; in seven-tenths of the clippings his name was spelled wrong.

Congress appointed a committee to investigate him.

He got an average of 32 invitations each week to quit his affairs and make talks to Kiwanis and Rotary clubs.

He helped a woman to her feet on a slippery walk and was sued by her husband, who demanded $50,000 for alienation of the woman's affections.

Federal agents filed with a zeal to "get" him for tax dodging prowled about his office.

When he got off a train, dead tired and irritable, 40 reporters wished to know what he thought of their town and he set his teeth hard and lied like a gentleman.

And at last, in desperation, he checked out his million and dumped it in the bay, burned his factory and got a job using a pick and shovel.—Baltimore Sun.

Carrying It Too Far

Judge Xenophon Hicks of Knoxville said in criticism of a foolish anti-vice crusade:

"These people carry the thing too far. They remind me of a contractor who was hired to build for a medical college a storage room where the cadavers, or corpses for dissection, could be kept.

"Well, when the dean of the college went to inspect the contractor's work he gave a start of surprise and said: 'How is this, man? You've built ten rooms for our cadavers. I only ordered one!'

"I know you only ordered one, but I built two, of course, said the contractor stiffly. 'Deceit, doctor, deceit. The sexes must be kept apart.'"

Woman's Important Position

Janie Adelaide Anderson, who is accompanying Lord Willingdon and Prof. W. E. Southill to China as a member of the commission which is to determine how the remaining Boxer indemnity payments due Great Britain are to be expended in China for the betterment of education, is an Australian, but was educated in England and has had a long and varied career as an educator and sociologist. So he was graduated from Girton college, Cambridge, and for many years was connected with the home office as principal woman inspector of factories. She has held many offices which had to do with the study of child labor. Professor Southill is professor of Chinese at Oxford and was for many years a missionary in China.

Little Money; Much Work

Trouble is beginning to develop among Shanghai's humblest class of workers—the lowly ricksha coolies. Always living on the slender edge of starvation they see increased hardships in the schedule for hire rates, which are to be raised to 85 cents. Mexican, a day—an increase of 5 cents over the present rate. Although seemingly small this additional 5 cents looms big to the coolies. But it means that the coolie must get another fare each day and run at least another half mile to make up for the pay increase. Coolies rent their vehicles by the day and work day and night. In the native city ricksha owners are reported to have raised their schedules 10 and 15 cents.

Others listed: Detroit's own Roy Cummings, famous acrobatic comic, with Irene Shaw in their latest skit, "One Afternoon." Snow and Columbus, assisted by Cynthia Macrae and Morton Howard in "Like This, Like That," by Irene Franklin and Jerry Jarnagan; Mollie Fuller and Co. in "An Even Break;" Bob Hall, the extemporaneous chap; Hurst and Vogt offer "Profiteering in Fun;" Conner Twins, vaudeville's favorites in a clever routine; Margie Clifton and Partner in classic poses and balancing; the Aerial De Groot's, sensational gymnasts, and the screen subjects.

NUTRITION CLASS MEETS
The North Canton Nutrition Class met at the home of Mrs. Ed. Hauk on Friday, April 2nd. Meal planning, fuel value of foods, nutrition and well being of the school child, as well as the child of pre-school age, were studied. There is nothing that affects the welfare of the family more profoundly than the food selected and prepared for it. We grow like what we eat. Bad food depresses and good food exalts us like an inspiration. A further study of the above subjects, also the planning of community meals will be the work for the next meeting, to be held at the home of Mrs. August Hauk on Tuesday, April 27th.

FOOT SOCIAL A SUCCESS
The muddy roads around Ferrinsville held no great horrors for the brave persons who attended the "foot" social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knorfske, March 26th. Those who weren't able to get through with cars, walked. The neat little sum of $26.45 was raised. This fund will go toward buying a phonograph for the Ferrinsville school.
Those who came and generously supported the idea both socially and financially receive the thanks and sincere appreciation of the members of the Perrinsville P. T. A., the pupils and the teacher. Mr. and Mrs. Knorfske are especially thanked for their kind hospitality and commended for their ability to entertain.

OBITUARY

Jannette E. Allen was born February 17, 1846, at Schenectady, New York. At the age of eight years, she moved with her parents to Howell, Michigan.

On September 10, 1870, she was united in marriage to Charles D. Geer. To this union was born six children, two of whom are now living: Mrs. Esther Munro of Novi, and Mrs. Lillian Bassett of South Bend, Indiana. Mrs. Geer died Saturday, April 3rd, after an illness of three weeks. Mrs. Geer was well known in this locality; of a retiring character, a good neighbor and a thoughtful mother, she will be greatly missed. The funeral was conducted from the late home, Monday at 2:30 p. m., in charge of Rev. Paul Havens, assisted by Rev. Thompson of Novi. Four grandsons acted as pallbearers. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, mute tributes of those who loved her. Interment in Riverside cemetery, Plymouth. The family have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

Those who attended the funeral from away were as follows: Mrs. Clark Bassett, South Bend, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Munro, Mr. and Mrs. Delos Leavenworth, Mr. and Mrs. Myrleen Clark, J. C. Geer, William Hauser and Rev. Thompson of Novi; Andrew

DEATH OF ORLOW W. BROWN

Orlow W. Brown was born in Nankin township, Wayne county, Michigan, October 21, 1880, and departed this life April 3, 1926, after an illness of several weeks. He was one of a family of nine children, five of whom survive him. He received his early education in the Nankin district school, the Wayne High school and the Ypsilanti State Normal. He later taught school for several years in the surrounding districts. After giving up that profession, he acted as traveling representative for the D. M. Ferry Co. of Detroit, for twenty-five years. On October 21, 1879, he was united in marriage to Olive Isabel Warner. Five children were born to this union, two of whom survive. His wife passed away August 31, 1889. On January 22, 1904, he was united in marriage to Maud Vrooman. She preceded him in death on May 30, 1912. He was a man of high moral character and deep affection; was always interested in world affairs, and the moral, physical and educational welfare of his fellowmen. He was one of the oldest living members of Plymouth Rock Lodge, No. 47, F. & A. M., and during his life always lived up to the ideals and teachings of the order. For the last few years he has lived with his son in Detroit. He leaves to mourn his departure, two sons, three sisters, two brothers, four grandchildren and many relatives and friends.

The funeral services were held from Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Rev. Mrs. Frank Adams, assistant pastor of the Church of Our Father, Detroit, officiating. Mrs. William Bake sang two beautiful selections, with Miss Evelyn Thomas as accompanist. The Masons had charge of the service at the grave. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

OBSERVANCE OF GOOD FRIDAY IN PLYMOUTH

At 12:30 o'clock last Friday, business places were closed and business was generally suspended between that hour and 3:00 o'clock, and the citizens in Plymouth, like those throughout Christendom, paused in adoration of Christ, and in sorrowful memory of the crucifixion. Services were held at the Penniman Allen theatre at 1:30 o'clock, and were largely attended. Rev. Charles Strasen, pastor of the Lutheran church, conducted the service. Miss Esther Strasen of Detroit, sang a beautiful selection appropriate for the occasion. She was accompanied on the organ by Miss Hanna Strasen. Rev. Strasen's sermon was very impressive, and he held the closest attention of his hearers throughout.

Good Friday services were also held at the Methodist Episcopal church from 1:30 until 3:00. Mrs. Lendrum, Nichol and Sayles took part in a most impressive service.

"TUMBLEWEEDS"

When the Government, in 1889, decided to open the Cherokee Land Strip to homesteaders, it meant the end of the gentlemen's regime. They had leased grazing lands and ranch sites on the strip from the Cherokees, but now they had to go with their vast herds. No wonder there was bitterness between the owners and landless.

This is the basis of "Tumbleweeds," William S. Hart's first production for United Artists Corporation release, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, April 10th, and in it the true tale of the famous strip between Kansas and Oklahoma is told for the first time on the screen.

Prior to the great rush for homesteads, when thousands of persons were camped on the borders of the strip waiting the signal to go, Don Carver, a range boss, hating homesteaders, capitulates to a pretty girl among the invading army and decides to stake a claim himself.

He is confronted, however, with the rascality of her half brother and of a rival for her affections, who obtain his arrest as a "sooner," (one who tried to grab a claim before the opening). But he escapes, gets the site which controls the water, and which his enemies were after, and wins the girl as well. This is the gist of the plot which abounds in many novel and thrilling situations with the magnificent climax of the great dash itself, when thousands of vehicles of every conceivable sort carried homeseekers into the strip.

There are great cattle ranch scenes which entailed distant locations in making the picture, which King Baggot directed. There are great street scenes representing Caldwell, Kan., which became a metropolis overnight when the homesteaders entered; wonderful shots of the human rush and many intimate and beautiful effects of the rolling prairies. The old dance hall and gambling days again came to life in Caldwell for a brief period and these are depicted with fidelity. And throughout runs a tender strain of love, and of human sweetness of character under primitive conditions.

Barbara Redford, one of screen's most beautiful actresses, plays Molly Lassiter, the girl for whom Don Carver, the "Tumbleweed," played by Bill Hart, conceives an affection that overcomes his prejudice against homesteaders in general and converts him from a roving cowboy to a homebuilder.

This is the strongest story William S. Hart has ever produced and one that will be welcomed by his thousands of admirers the world over.

"GO WEST"

The slang expression, "a wow," fits Buster Keaton's latest laugh-provoker, "Go West." By far the most elaborate and convulsing gloom-chaser in his career, the frozen-faced comedian's picture of the great open spaces comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, April 11 and 12.

Although made for laughing purposes, "Go West" has a thread of pathos and a dramatic sweep that mark a new note in feature comedies. Thousands of cattle stampeding through the streets of a large city and cowboys battling for possession of a train on the desert are among the thrilling scenes.

Keaton takes the part of a young man who leaves the old home town and endeavors to thrust his unprepossessing personality upon a skeptical world. After a series of disappointing and ludicrous adventures in Dixie's cotton fields, the northern lumber camps and other parts of the country, the youth arrives in the west.

Despite his treatment at the hands of the rangers, the newly made cowboy, with the aid of one "Brown Eyes," a "muley" cow, turns the tables on his tormentors, saves a trainload of cattle from a gang of desperadoes, earns the gratitude of a rancher and wins the girl. Some of the most mirthful situations in the picture occur when Buster, leading the cow, rounds up the steers in the city after they charge into department stores, bath houses, barber shops, beauty parlors and other places, terrorizing employees and customers.

Kathleen Myers, Keaton's leading lady, heads a capable supporting cast. The picture is a Joseph M. Schenk production and is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production.

"JUST SUPPOSE"

At the Penniman Allen theatre, Wednesday, April 14th, Richard Barthelmess will be presented in his latest film offering, "Just Suppose," a picturization of A. E. Thomas' famous stage play, which had successful runs in New York and London. The young star is surrounded with a production of unusual splendor and distinction, and Barthelmess has added another fine character to the long list he has created on the screen.

"Just Suppose" is ideal picture entertainment—bright, clean and sparkling in its comedy, appealing in its splendid quality of romance and gripping in its intensely dramatic moments. Few finer love stories have ever been shown on the screen.

The film takes the spectators from the tiny kingdom, "somewhere in Europe," with the splendid court life, to the society gayeties of Long Island. And then back again, to follow the Prince in his thrilling ride through the Tyrolean Alps.

The Prince created by Barthelmess is a lovable fellow, refusing to take his royal position seriously and rebelling against the restrictions imposed upon him. He is punished by being sent to America, burdened with serious affairs, and it is more serious since he has been unable to ascertain the identity of a girl he has seen in his country—and instantly loved.

But he meets her again in America, and, being but the second son, who may marry where he will, he makes love to her. Just as his happiness seems assured the death of his elder brother makes him the heir to the throne, no longer free, but a victim of state. He must marry a Princess selected for him. It might spoil the appreciation of the climax to relate how love removes the impassable barrier.

Barthelmess scores another triumph in this film. An added note of interest in his leading lady, a brilliant newcomer to the screen. She is Lois Moran, still in her early teens with a record of important roles in several big productions. Her work in "Just Suppose" indicates that there is an unusually bright career before her.

DECKAY AND BASE LINE SCHOOLS ENTERTAIN ZONE A.

In spite of almost impassable roads, all of the teachers of Zone A except the Misses Wise, Farrand and Blackmore, attended the last Zone A meeting of this school year, which was held at the Deckay school, which is across from the Northville sanatorium.

The forenoon meeting opened at ten o'clock. Our outline envelopes for April were explained and discussed. Miss Cochrane, our helping teacher, told of the interesting things she had observed while visiting our schools in March. Miss Olive Elden of Thayer school, taught a demonstration nature study lesson, using Miss Mulcaister's pupils.

Miss Cochrane taught a demonstration language lesson, showing how to teach a poem. She taught "The Coming of Spring" by Bella Geise. It was a very interesting and instructive lesson. This ended the morning meeting.

A splendid luncheon was served by the ladies of the community.

The afternoon meeting opened at 1:30. Miss Cavell of Northville, sang two solos. Miss Catherine Curtis of Detroit, gave a piano solo. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Mrs. Louva Waterman, in behalf of Zone A, thanked the ladies for the luncheon. Charles Ely played two saxophone numbers, accompanied by Miss Mulcaister at the piano.

The speaker of the afternoon was Dr. Charles Sharpe of Detroit. Other speakers were: Fred Fischer, Miss Weliver, Miss Jameson and Miss Gwinn.

WINDSTORMS Are With Us Again

Arkansas and Mississippi have inaugurated the 1926 Windstorm season. A tornado and heavy windstorm are responsible for the loss of many lives and considerable destruction of property. The entire town of Tisdale, Mississippi, was virtually demolished.

It recalls to mind the terrific destruction caused in five mid-western states just about a year ago. Then there was the visitation to New England last fall when wind ripped its destructive way through Woburn, Massachusetts, and adjoining towns.

WINDSTORM INSURANCE with this agency will protect you against this unpreventable cause of loss. The cost is very low, only $4.00 for $1,000.00 worth of insurance for three years.

FARM LANDS DEALERS WILL STUDY CITY RURAL EXCHANGES

SUBDIVIDERS WILL DISCUSS FORMATION OF SECONDARY
BUSINESS CENTERS.

Exchanges of city lots for farms and of farmsteads for urban property will be one of the leading subjects to come before farm land dealers of the United States and Canada who will meet at Tulsa, Oklahoma, June 8-11 inclusive, as one branch of the annual convention there of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Fred E. Clarke of Chicago, will lead this discussion.

Outlying shopping centers, their relation to transportation, and their development in such a way that they will compare favorably with the residential sections in which they are placed, will be a principal subject to come before the Home Builders and Subdividers Division of the Association. J. C. Nichols, of Kansas City, Missouri, nationally known for his development of highly restricted residential sections in Kansas City, will address the Division on the planning of the secondary business center.

Farm lands and subdivision groups will be two of the eight simultaneous Divisional conferences which will occupy one half of the convention period.

Capital requirements for the development of a subdivision will be discussed before the Home Builders and Subdividers Division by C. P. Gray, of Chicago. Other topics to be brought before this Division will be: Control of subdivision development to insure sound city growth, results of quick sales of unimproved lots, and the present state of the subdivision market.

C. R. Thomas, of Chicago, secretary of the National Drainage Congress and publisher of "Reclamation and Farm Engineering," will be a second speaker before the Farm Lands Division of the Association. He will take up the farm land man's advertising problem.

Large country estates, their development and sale, will be another subject to come before the Division. The farm land specialists also plan a discussion of land value insurance as it is being projected and practiced in certain sections of the country, notably in safeguarding developments in Florida.

HARVEY M. CAMPBELL TALKS TO MARQUETTE PARK ASSOCIATION.

Detroit is entering the greatest industrial era in its entire history. Harvey J. Campbell, vice-president and secretary of the Board of Commerce, told 100 members of the Marquette Park Association at its banquet recently held at the Book-Cadillac Hotel.

In the industrial growth that promises to take place, Campbell said, it is imperative that transportation facilities keep pace with increasing employment. The large number of railways which enter Detroit promise to play an important part in the forthcoming industrial development and he called attention particularly to the Pere Marquette railway, which serves the Marquette Park district.

"With the proper co-operation of the large property holders along this railway in Marquette Park, important industries are certain to avail themselves of its transportation advantages. Industries mean employment and employment means a better life."

ment always results in development and increased valuations," he said.

Mr. Campbell also spoke of the efforts Detroit is making to offer its citizens something else except a well paying "job." A splendid example of the manner in which the city is expanding its recreational facilities is to be found in the River Rouge park, which is planned to become Detroit's finest as well as largest park.

Mr. Campbell covered the aviation question thoroughly and told of the concentrated efforts being made to bring commercial aviation companies to Detroit.

Members of the association were told by officials of the Michigan Federated Utilities that the company has already laid gas mains to the limits of Marquette Park from Plymouth and that plans are being formulated to provide the entire district with service because of the rapid development now taking place in the district.—Detroit News.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE VILLAGE COMMISSION

Plymouth, Mich., March 22, '26.
A regular meeting of the Commission, held in the Commission room of the Village Hall, Monday evening, March 22, 1926, at 7:00 p. m.

Present—All five Commissioners.

The minutes of the regular meeting of March 15th were approved as read. On motion it was directed that the special assessment of two-thirds of the cost of opening Gravel avenue as heretofore authorized be spread over a period of three years, with six per cent interest on the deferred payments.

The clerk was then directed to write to Mr. Perry Woodworth, reminding him of his responsibility in keeping the water course open and free from destruction where it passes through his property, and advise him that this water course must be kept clear to avoid damage lying further up stream.

The question of water service for a hydrant situated back of the Fleuelling & Lang gasoline station on Main street was then brought up, and the manager directed to shut this water off, after investigation showed that it was not being paid for.

The manager was then authorized to enter into contract with the Badger Meter Mfg. Company for one hundred water meters for the season of 1926.

Messrs. Crumble & Wood brought to the Commission a bill for labor in connection with the laying of the Arthur street storm sewer, revised according to the request of the Village. On motion this bill was ordered paid.

On motion President Robinson was authorized to consult the Detroit Edison Company concerning the construction of a sewer to drain the Detroit Edison Co. property at the corner of Parker and Third streets, and also any possible grade separation of the Pere Marquette railroad at Main street, to see if that company would build this sewer, the Village to repay them in installments spread over future years.

The President and Clerk were then authorized to make arrangements for money to make up the full purchase price of the property bought for Gravel avenue opening, and to notify Mr. Giddings to prepare the abstract and deed, informing him that full payment for the property would be made as soon as these were forthcoming.

The report of the auditing committee recommended the payment of the following bills:

Election Board	$ 31.00
Sidney D. Strong	.50
Allee J. Ballen	.64
C. Heide	12.00
F. W. Samsun	110.50
J. T. Wing & Co.	20.45
The France Stone Co.	2378.33
Crumble & Wood	387.96
Totals	$2950.38

On motion the bills as audited were allowed and ordered paid, and the President and Clerk were authorized to obtain necessary money to take care of them in anticipation of collection of taxes.

The Commission then determined that in the future the bills as passed by the auditing committee should be read to the Commission before their final action of approval.

The Commission then adjourned, sine die.

H. C. Robinson, President.
Sidney D. Strong, Clerk.

Plymouth, Mich., March 22, '26.
The first meeting of the Commission of 1926, held in the Commission room of the Village Hall, Monday evening, March 22, 1926, at 7:00 p. m., called to order by the Clerk.

Present—All four Commissioners.

Upon motion Commissioner Henderson, supported by Commissioner Henderson, Mr. H. C. Robinson was again chosen to act as President for the ensuing year. Mr. Robinson then took the chair.

Upon the recommendation of the President, the Commission unanimously voted Mr. Frank J. Pierce as Commissioner to fill the unexpired term of Mr. John W. Henderson, who resigned his short term upon election for a full two year term.

The Commission then adjourned until Tuesday evening, March 30, 1926, at 7:00 p. m.

Plymouth, Mich., March 30, '26.
An adjourned regular meeting of the Commission, held in the Commission room of the Village Hall, Tuesday evening, March 30, 1926, at 7:00 p. m., called to order by the Clerk.

Present—All five Commissioners.

The bid of Don Ostrander, having come in after the expiration of the time set for the receiving of these bids, the Commission was asked as to their pleasure in receiving this bid for opening. The Commission on motion directed this bid to be opened with the rest.

Five bids for this sewer construction were opened as follows:

Bluhm & Dickinson	$85,089.90
G. K. Kobarger	76,372.10
Don Ostrander	72,522.25
Thos. D. Nolan	72,580.54
Phelps Drake Company	66,528.48

These bids were read item by item by Mr. E. C. Shoecraft, consulting engineer, and were tabulated and added by Mr. Shoecraft and Mr. Ketchum. This tabulation showed the Bluhm & Dickinson Construction Company of Muskegon, to be the low bidder, and after Mr. Bluhm of this company had been questioned by the engineer and by the Commission, Mr. Shoecraft recommended that the contract be awarded to his company, and the Commission on motion adopted the recommendation and awarded the contract to the Bluhm & Dickinson Construction Company of Muskegon.

On motion the clerk was then directed to return to the unsuccessful bidders the checks accompanying their proposals.

The Commission then adjourned.

Picked Up About Town

"This is a mean old world," declares Dad Plymouth. "When a girl worries about getting thinner, she gets thinner, and when she worries about getting fat, she gets fatter."

If a man could get back all the money he has spent foolishly in the past, the chances are he would find more foolish ways to spend it in the future.

"The demand for some things exceeds the supply," comments Dad Plymouth, "but the supply of trouble always appears to be adequate."

Anytime you ask a man how he's getting along and he says he is getting his share, you can bet he is getting a little more.

Dad Plymouth asserts that the trouble with some men's heads is that the part that they talk with works faster than the part they think with.

After looking at a new baby, an old bachelor usually wonders why the "prond father" is proud.

Dad Plymouth says that some fellows around here wouldn't be able to tell what day of the week it was if their wives took to hanging the clothes indoors.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Easter Sunday at St. John's Mission church was a very happy day for the congregation and their friends. The services were well attended, especially in the afternoon when there was a large gathering.

Upon entering the mission church, a pleasant surprise awaited the congregation, at the abundance of flowers in the church. Not only were the flowers massed at the altar and at each side of the chancel steps, but they were placed around the church on both sides. Besides the members of the congregation who brought Easter lilies, etc., as usual, the "Men of St. John's" club were also responsible for the larger portion of the flowers.

At the morning service, the Rev. J. Raymond of Ann Arbor University, celebrated the Holy Communion, and preached a very appropriate sermon. The afternoon service, at which members of the congregation, their friends, and pupils of the Sunday-school were present, was a very happy gathering. Some of the pupils of the Sunday-school gave recitations, and there was a baptism.

The Rev. Wesley held the attention of the children for about thirty minutes, as he vividly impressed on the minds of those present the scenes at Jerusalem, the crucifixion and the rising again of our Lord Saviour.

At the end of the service, the children formed in line at the back of the church, and to the singing of the hymn, "Holy Offerings Rich and Rare," marched up and presented their mite boxes at the altar, the proceeds of which will go to foreign missions.

After the service, the flowers were distributed among the members of the congregation, and each child carried away a pot of geraniums. The sick and the aged members who were unable to attend, were not forgotten, and flowers were sent to their homes.

Bishop Herman Page has signified his intention of visiting Plymouth again on April 21st, as which time he will confirm a class. Bishop Page is taking a keen interest in Plymouth, and the very satisfactory progress in the mission's work here. The secretary and treasurer of the mission are by appointment, again meeting with the Diocesan officials at supper in Detroit, this week.

The Rev. Charles Wesley, our missionary, invites all who can to attend our services, and to join with us in the mission's work.

All Episcopal men are asked to meet with Rev. Charles Wesley next Sunday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock, in the church. A matter of much importance is to be brought forward, effecting every Episcopalian in Plymouth and district. Don't fail to be there.

METHODIST NOTES

Anthems, quartets, solos and congregational singing all put forth an effort to keep up with the sunshine of Easter. A dozen of our young people, home from college for the Easter vacation, added to the joy. The junior choir under the direction of Miss Pearl Joffe, heard for the first time Sunday evening, was greatly enjoyed.

Wayne VanDyne will sing next Sunday morning, and there will be a selection by a quintet of male voices. In the evening there will be a duet by the Misses Barbara Bake and Ruth Allison.

Dr. F. A. Lendrum attended the World Service Conference at Lansing, Tuesday, and he and Mrs. Lendrum attended the opening of the new church house at Monroe, Wednesday. Dr. Lendrum was formerly pastor of the Monroe church.

The regular meeting of the Missionary Society will be held at the home of Mrs. W. B. Lombard, West Ann Arbor street, next Wednesday, April 14th. Pot-luck dinner at 12:30. Business session at 2:00 p. m., followed by program. Mite box opening for the home society. Our dolls for the box going to Manila will be there. Come and choose the doll that you are going to send.

BAPTIST NOTES

Sunday was a day to be remembered at the Baptist church, and everyone seemed to enjoy the services. The pastor spoke on the Resurrection, and the music corresponded in thought. The offering in the morning was delayed until the close of the morning service, when the surprise promised the week before came. Mrs. Howard Brown of Detroit, (Grace Campbell), came to the platform and in a few words spoke in memory of her father and mother, who in years gone by, had been such a help and support to the church. Then she presented to the church, in memory of her parents, two silver collection plates. They were received by the pastor, who spoke a word of appreciation, and in behalf of the church thanked Mr. and Mrs. Brown for the gift. The ushers, Messrs. Charles Grainger and John Hancock, came forward and after prayer, the offering was received for the first time on Easter Sunday on the new plates.

The Sunday-school was much larger than for several Sundays.

The missionary banks were brought in Sunday, for the month of March. The total amounted to nearly fifty dollars.

The young people's meeting was led by the new president, Stillman Warner. It was a splendid meeting, for the first one after the election.

The evening service was in charge of the Sunday-school, and the Easter program was well rendered. Besides the music, there were class exercises and recitations. The two special numbers, "Rock of Ages" and the drama, "Women at the Tomb," were very impressive. The orchestra gave a good touch to the program.

The prayer meetings from this time on, will be held in the church, Thursday evenings at 7:30.

The Ladies Aid did very well at their bazaar and supper last week Wednesday, even though it did rain and snow nearly all day. They are thankful to all who helped.

Last Friday evening, April 2, was the annual meeting and banquet of the B. Y. P. U. Although the storm was intense, a goodly number sat down to a nice supper. The president, Miss Sarah Duly, called the meeting to order, and several of the young men and others spoke on topics touching on young people's work. The following people spoke: Duane Sayles, Ira Kingsley and Roland Allenbaugh, and Ray Howard of Farmington; also Rev. Klenke of Detroit. The speaker of the evening was Roy Preston of South Lyon High school, who gave us many strong illustrations of the power of Christianity in human lives. Reports were heard from the secretary, Miss Doris Shackleton, and from the treasurer, Stillman Warner. The election which followed resulted as follows:

President—Stillman Warner
Secretary—Doris Shackleton
Treasurer—Garland Sayles
Organist—Sarah Duly
Several new members were received.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

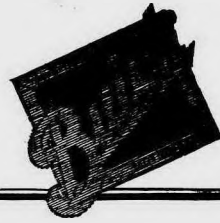

The Sunshine Circle Girls, Mrs. Buzzard leader, had a pot-luck supper at the church, Monday evening. A fine time was enjoyed.

Several of the women attended the annual meeting of the Detroit Presbyterian Society, which met in Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian church, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will hold its regular monthly business meeting in the lecture room of the church, at 2:30 p. m., Wednesday, April 14. As this is the first meeting of the new fiscal year, may we not have a large attendance to start the year's work in an enthusiastic and systematic manner. Signed by the Secretary.

A CARD—We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to the neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness extended us during our recent bereavement. We especially wish to thank those who sent the beautiful flowers.

As Old As the Nation

Mount Vernon

and BUILT of WOOD

HOME of our first President here, indeed, is a truly great monument to his memory. Overlooking the Potomac—it still stands for all that is really American.

Perhaps nothing else in our national life holds such a place in the hearts of Americans as Mount Vernon.

Built of wood, it has stood for years in all its quiet and imposing dignity. Quiet—beautiful—it radiates a feeling of hominess and hospitality, a striking example of the desirability of wood as a building material.

"For Generations of Joy and Comfort"—BUILD OF WOOD. Economical—long-lived—attractive, as only nature can make things, it is, without doubt, the best for your home.

We'll be glad to show you how wood can be used in almost any architectural treatment. Come in and let us know what you have in mind. There are ideas and suggestions here, aplenty—all offered freely, and without obligating you in the least.

INDIANS HELD CORN AS HEAVENLY GIFT

One of the Four Original Celestial Blessings.

The Indian is the real advocate of corn. To him it was the staff of life. Both he and it are distinctly American. The sailing vessels which carried back to Europe news of the discovery of the one bore also samples of the other. Corn has meant so much to the Indian in his economic life that he came to reverence it. It was one of the four original celestial blessings sent down to him from heaven, the Indianapolis News says. The others were squash, beans and tobacco. Corn meal is used by the Pueblo and other Indians in all their religious ceremonies. No tribal undertaking is complete, no official pronouncement is effective, unless they are accompanied, at their reception, by the sprinkling of the sacred meal. The medicine man finds in the meal, blessed and sanctified by his own hands, his chief ally in imploring the blessing of the good spirits which rule the Indian world, or in driving away the evil spirits which threaten to usurp the functions of the good. Growing corn will wither and die, seeds will not sprout, horses and sheep will perish, families cannot prosper and the evil spirits of misfortune and disease will sweep the villages unless the sacred meal is sprinkled at the beginning of all undertakings. The chief fetich of the Pueblo medicine man is an ear of spotless white corn, adorned with a plume of downy white feathers bound to the top. Known as the mother, this ear of corn represents the mother of all mankind. With it the medicine man performs wonders. Pollen of corn and squash, especially among the Navajos, performs an important function in sanctifying all undertakings. It is to them the most spiritual of material offerings and no ceremony connected with growth is complete without it. Its symbol, as well as that of growing corn, often appears in the sand paintings made famous by this artistic people. The ancestors of the Indians, the so-called cliff dwellers, cave dwellers and mound builders, used corn. Among arrowheads, pottery, stone implements and other artifacts found in the caves, cliff dwellings, mounds and ruins of communal houses of these prehistoric people, little ears of corn are often discovered. To these people the great American commodity probably was as essential as it became later to their descendants.

Feared Effect of Eclipse

Stirred to frenzy of a purely religious character by the sun's eclipse, hundreds of thousands of Hindus from Calcutta congregated on the banks of the sacred Ganges river, where they bathed and prayed for protection from the demon believed to be swallowing the sun, which, being too hot to retain, is causing it extreme anguish. The Hindus believe their lives are profoundly affected by this demon unless they bathe in the sacred river. Business and household activities were at a standstill during the eclipse and cooking utensils were broken and steep and travel were suspended.

Judges in Russia

Of 2,600 judges on the bench in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, 1,416 are peasants and 882 are workmen, according to data furnished by the people's commissariat of justice. Among 1,400 judges of instruction, 627 are peasants and 292 are workmen. Eighty-three per cent are members of the Communist party, candidates for membership or members of the komсомол (proselytes for membership under twenty-four years of age). Presumably the other 191 judges are of the intelligentsia. Only 112 women are in responsible positions—not on the bench—in the judiciary establishment.

Hair-Splitting

The railroad porter was a very careful man. In his youthful days he had been severely reprimanded for inaccuracy, and ever since he had been painstakingly correct.

An old gentleman approached on the platform and asked genially:

"Is that my train, porter?"
"No, sir," replied the careful porter; "it belongs to the company, sir."
"Don't be funny!" snapped the old man testily. "You know I didn't mean that! I want to know if I can take this train to Springfield?"
"There's no need, sir," answered the porter; "that's what we've got an engine for."

His Befuddlement

"Hello, Uncle Nile!" saluted Onestable Sam T. Slackpatter of Petunia, upon meeting the veteran. "What's pestering you?"

"It don't matter the least to me or anybody else in the world," replied old Riley Rezidew, "and so I'm trying to remember and can't get it out of my mind, whether the great blizzard of 1898 occurred in 1894 or 1897?"

If you date back to where you can remember when they called derbies "helmet hats" you are in the serene and yellow, all right.—Kansas City Star.

Moslems and Christians

Moslem women are not allowed to marry Christians by the terms of the modified form of the Swiss civil code now before the Turkish national assembly for ratification. The law, which prohibits polygamy and divorce by the mere whim of the husband, declares as null marriages contracted with Christians.

Courage Not Lacking in Neanderthal Man

If one has the Neanderthal type of skull, one ought to find compensation in having the Neanderthal type of physical courage. Not everything in primitive man is to be scorned. He may have been afraid of the thunder and have invented a mythological deity to which he attributed it, but he was not afraid of the wolf or the bear and went forth with his trusty stone ax to slay them.

We only wish that we could retain more of his sturdy qualities. Even the Neanderthal man had a soul. He understood nature and the procession of the seasons, though he had no chronology. He was very prehistoric without knowing it, and he cared very little for remote posterity, but he was solicitous of the welfare of his immediate descendants or we should not be here.

He was a creature of prodigious appetite and all his little Neanderthals had appetites in proportion, so that the daily hunt for food was his chief occupation. Sometimes he came home empty handed, but when he did make a killing there was a family gorge.

He was a being considerably like us anatomically and had a use for his vermiform appendix. Sometimes his intellectuals may have been stunted; and as he sat on the piazza of his cave of an evening, he may have pondered. A fine sunset may have moved him, but not so much as the sight of a mastodon. That moved him mightily or made him move. He went inside the cave.

He may have bludgeoned mastodons with the help of his neighbors; unless the scientists spoil this speculative hypothesis by pointing out that John W. Neanderthal and the mastodon were not contemporaneous.

In the Right Place

Many accidents had occurred at the foot of a dangerous hill and the county supervisors decided to erect a sign to warn drivers. The board was duly inscribed and handed over to a workman to be erected.

During the day one of the supervisors strolled round in order to see that the work had been done satisfactorily. When he arrived at the brow of the hill he could see no signs of the work.

After waiting for a while he journeyed on down. To his amazement he saw the man digging away at the foot of the hill. "What are you doing?" asked the supervisor.

"I'm making the hole for the notice board," was the reply.

"That's not the place for the board," said the supervisor.

"Well," replied the worker, "this is where the victims land, isn't it?"

Brakes Didn't Support Him

At a recent trial in a California city a young woman was suing for damages following injuries suffered in a street car accident. An ex-motorman testified that a car traveling 20 miles an hour could be stopped in a space of 30 feet. The young woman's counsel denied vehemently the ex-motorman's statement. Thereupon the judge and jury went to the scene of the accident and gave the ex-motorman a chance to demonstrate.

A special speedometer, consisting of a wheel attached to the side of the car, was used in the test, says Popular Science Monthly. Measurements made by this instrument showed that the best the driver could do, with the car going 20 miles an hour, was to stop the car in a space of 114 feet.

Her Mother's Mistake

While Audrey and her parents were out motoring the other day her father and another motorist coming along a side road each thought he could beat the other past the intersection of the tracks. Both were mistaken, and when it was just too late her mother screamed:

"Oh, our car will be wrecked and all of us killed!"

But little Audrey just laughed and laughed, for she knew the car was not theirs, but instead belonged to a driver-yourself company.—Kansas City Star.

Trees and Slams

One sign, and a bad one, of our advancing civilization is that we cut down trees. We cut and cut, and then—a better sign—we begin to think of planting them again. From trees to slams and from slams to trees; such is the historic method, only that we have displayed much more energy and enterprise in getting rid of the trees—and we are still doing it—than we ever do in replacing them in the neighborhood of our towns.—Manchester Guardian.

New Manner in Italy

The Bank of Italy of San Francisco has just discovered that in October it was the victim of a $100,000 embezzlement plot worked by "two unfortunate boys from the old country" named Julius and Ludwig Busch. This should make a good story for some after-dinner speaker. "It seems that there were two Italians named Julius and Ludwig Busch"—Arkansas Gazette.

Sex and Longevity

Women live longer than men owing to the fact that they lead a more sheltered life and run less risk of coming to an untimely end, said an official of the London health department. He was discussing figures which showed that of 382 deaths of people over 90 years of age, 278 were women. Of this number 128 were unmarried and 15 had reached the century mark.

Should Spread Lesson Learned in Sanctuary

When the poet wrote the often quoted line which tells us that the groves were God's first temples, he did not intend to provide an athlete with an apt quotation to serve as an excuse for not attending church. The offices and ceremonies of formal religion are compatible, and not in conflict, with an intense delight in open spaces and a healthy appetite for the wilderness country.

Any man who has confining employment knows moments when his mind plays truant to his task, when instead of the decimal places, the account books, the dictated letters, the conferences and board meetings, his fancy takes a long flight to the marshes where ducks are to be hunted, the streams where fish await the angler, the bridge path for a swift canter, the mountain whose ascent is invigorating exercise crowned with a far vista, the sea where a voyage spells relaxation and day-dreaming in a steamer chair.

Each man has in mind a favorite sanctuary whither he flies, a camp of refuge where he can retire, beyond all foes or wounds or mishaps. "They cannot hurt me where I live," said the captain of industry in Kipling's story, when his business rivals and their importunities crowded in upon him. The real self of any human being at a given moment may be far from the self that the world sees. We may be poor in the houses and the lands that can be parceled and marketed as real estate, yet rich to the point of lordliness in those interior demesnes whose map is invisible to all eyes but our own.

Yet after any retirement to these fastnesses where we may rest and refresh ourselves and be secure, we are bound to come forth to the world again with something for those who are less fortunate. It means little in accomplishment for ourselves, in lasting benefit for others, if we merely dream and ruminate. The thinking we have done ought to issue in a deed; the rest should be the renewal of our energy to go forth to active life and fruitful effort again.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

International Tune

The familiar melody of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," tradition says, was learned by the Crusaders from the Arabs in Palestine. Surviving in various forms, it sprang into great popularity in France in 1506 by being fitted to a lament for the Duc de Guise.

A century and a half later a French officer, on the eve of the battle of Malplaque, wrote a satirical poem on the English commander and wedded it to the old tune. "Malbrook s'en va t'en guerre" was sung throughout the length and breadth of France.

Beethoven used it in his "Battle Symphony" as symbolical of the French army. It came to England—and the English folk found that they had known it for a long time to the classic words which greeted the prince of Wales at Montevideo. The Arabs, they say, still sing it, and it is the favorite air of the people of Hawaii.—Chicago Journal.

Cooking by Exhaust

A mechanic of Columbus, Ohio, has invented a device by which motorists may now utilize the exhaust from their motors to cook their camp suppers, says the Scientific American. The contrivance uses a small petcock to close the exhaust pipe. A pipe connection is fitted to the exhaust manifold and joins with a round circular burner. This burner is provided with circular ribs, to prevent exhaust flames from jumping. Similar ribs are built to the bottom of pots and frying pans to obtain a maximum of heat. When the motor is idle the exhaust heat is forced through the burner. Sufficient heat is generated for any outdoor cooking.

Was He? Yes

The prosecuting attorney asked a colored defendant the following question:

"Mose, were you ever convicted or acquitted on any charge before this court?"

"No, suh; no, suh. Nothin' that sounded like dat."

"Now, listen, Mose. I mean were you ever acquitted or convicted of any crime?"

"Well, suh, boss, de judge he say, 'Go on along, an' I does, an' I gets picked up agin'. Yes, suh, I guess I waz.'"

Due Process of Law

"Say, Slack!" said the town marshal of Topheavy who had dropped over for a fraternal call. "What sort of a fool ordinance has your council just passed—about muzzling—haw! haw!—potato bugs?"

"Prohibiting potato bugs running at large within the corporate limits of our progressive little city unless muzzled," replied Constable Sam T. Slackpatter, the faithful guardian of the peace and dignity of Petunia. "Them pesterin' bugs eat the bottomholes out of ladies' gowns."—Kansas City Star.

Drab Realism

The poet Michael Strange—Mrs. John Barrymore—defended at a Greenwich village tea idealistic as contrasted with realistic art.

"Let us have idealism and romance in our poetry and pictures," she said, "for nowhere else are these jolly things to be found. Life itself is horribly drab and uneventful."

The fair poetess smiled, then she added:

"In life nothing ever comes off except buttons."

Readily Behaved Tourists

Robert Louis Stevenson's tomb on Mount Vaea, Samoa, which had been badly defaced by tourists scratching their names on it, has been renovated by the administrator of Samoa, who is greatly indignant at the childish treatment of the grave. All the marks have been removed from the tomb, and the cement has been washed.

Today's Reflections

We're called on to observe every other kind of week, why not have an "Early Spring" week?

How we've changed! There was a time in Plymouth when you could trade a bushel of wheat for ten quarts of liquor, but now the ratio is about ten bushels for one quart.

Why is it that a woman always feels complimented when you tell her she looks like an actress?

Life is a tragedy, for when a man goes back to the scenes of his childhood, he finds the old swimming-hole full of sand.

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth man, who used to drink a lot of Peruna just to get his picture in the paper?

Our idea of easy money is to bet that any girl's shoes are too large for her—and then leave it to her.

When possible, always park near a new, shiny car. It will back out without scraping you.

The grouch may have his faults, but he doesn't hold you up for an hour to tell you about it every time he meets you.

Why is it that when the average engagement is announced people always say: "Well, it's about time."

After rubbering around this world for awhile a man gets the impression that most of the single women are trying to get married and most of the married ones are trying to get single.

Wouldn't Plymouth be a wonderful town if every man worked as hard for his religious denomination as he is willing to work for his political party.

Old-fashioned girls used to ask, "who's got a pin, but now some of them are asking, "Who's got a watch?"

The commonest objection to the average tax bill is that it never seems to hit the other fellow hard enough.

DUROCK

the perfect material for bathroom equipment

COMMON writing ink will stain some lavatory, so that even scouring will not remove the stain until the surface of the ware is worn down to the depth of the discoloration. In this case a Maddock Durock Lavatory was filled with ink and left overnight. Next day the ink was drained off and the wash basin wiped out with a damp cloth, when the ware reappeared as spotlessly and purely white as before.

The Ariston Silent K-2904

Adequate outlet for the fine residue, maintains in operation. Tank and bowl of Durock with white enameled surface and cover. Top of tank held securely in place by two hidden spring clips. Concealed twin jets, giving a powerful flush. Large water surface in the close ground bowl. Continuous oval-shaped seat, with opening four inches longer than the ordinary; this is an improvement that eliminates discomfort and prevents soiling. Measurements: seat surface, 14 in. x 10 in. opening of bowl, 16 in. long; seat opening, 13 in. long. (Compare these measurements with those of your present toilet.) The flushing mechanism in the tank is of such superior material and workmanship that it always works smoothly and easily; it never gets out of order, and is never in need of repair or replacement of parts.

DUROCK is so hard and glass-like that nothing can penetrate it. The surface sheds liquids that would sink in and discolor other sorts of ware.

If ink, iodine, or acid is accidentally spilled on a Maddock Lavatory there is no damage done whatever. You can clean a fountain pen in the wash basin and there will be no discoloration.

A damp cloth will always wipe the surface spotless and glistening as new. Maddock Lavatories never grow old and dingy, grey, or brown.

Durock is not a coated ware; the surface cannot separate from the body, because the glaze is fused in, under terrific heat, so that surface and body become one and ever remain so. This ware is practically indestructible; even falling tumblers or bottles will not chip or break it.

Durock is produced solely and exclusively by Thomas Maddock's Sons Company. Come in and inspect the fixtures made of Durock that we now have on display.
