PLYMOUTH WILL HONOR HER SOLDIER DEAD

A Splendid Program Has Been Arranged Under Auspices of Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs for Monday, May 31st, Memorial Day.

Members of Ex-Service Men's Club Will Have Charge of Decorating the Graves of Our Soldier Dead.

Memorial Day will be observed in Plymouth, Monday, May 31st, with appropriate exercises in Kellogg Park.

In years gone by the Memorial Day arrangements were in the hands of the G. A. R., but the diminishing number of the members made it necessary to disband that organization several years ago.

The Ex-Service Men's Club will have an important part in the decoration of every soldier's grave in Riverside cemetery.

Let us remember that the time is fast approaching when we can have the Civil War veteran with us only in memory.

The exercises of the day will be under the direction of J. M. Larkins, chairman.

The following program will be given: Kiwanis Orchestra "America," led by Calvin Whipple.

VanSickle, O. R. Pattin-gill, L. C. Hough, S. J. Springer, William Geer, J. E. Hoste, William Manchester, L. C. Sherwood.

Upon the consolidation with the First National, the bank was moved to the building occupied by the former, and now occupied by the Community Pharmacy.

The officers and directors are to be congratulated upon the reaching of this 36th milestone of a successful business in the bank's history.

DEATH OF AMMON BROWN

There passed away Saturday evening, at his late residence, 345 Blunk avenue, Plymouth, Ammon Brown, a well known and much esteemed citizen.

Eleven years ago, Mr. Brown, with his family, left the farm and came to live in Plymouth, where his kindly neighborliness endeared him to all who knew him.

The funeral was on Tuesday. After a private service at the home, the body was taken to the First Presbyterian Church, of which Mr. Brown was a member.

Following the dinner, President Dr. B. E. Champe of the local club, called upon Rotarian Edward Gayde for an address of welcome.

President Champe then turned the meeting over to President Joe Clark of the Algonac Club, which club furnished the program of the evening.

The visit of the Algonac club was a most happy occasion, and the local Rotarians are looking forward with much pleasure to when they will pay a visit to Algonac.

PLYMOUTH WINS THIRD IN STATE ORATORICAL CONTEST

Last Friday evening, May 21st, the 29th Annual State High School Oratorical and Declamation contest was held in Zeeland, Zeeland is a town of 2,500 people, situated five miles from Holland. It is a Dutch community, which gave all of the contestants and their coaches the most royal welcome and the most lavish of hospitality.

Their auditorium was packed with an enthusiastic audience of 400. Yells, music and a Dutch duet preceded the contest. Six declamations were given, with first place going to Gladys Drake of Midland, with Jagendorf's "You are the Hope of the World."

The oratorical contest was very close. First place was won by Murlin Ison of Cadillac, with "The Twentieth Century Challenge."

With the competition offered, and with the unusually splendid voices of Mr. Peck and Mr. Ison to be considered, Plymouth should be proud of having gained even third place.

This is the first time that Plymouth has ever succeeded in winning a place in the state contest. This is an achievement which means a goal for the future.

Julia Wilcox spoke with feeling, earnestness and with more than her usual vigor. She worked hard for the place, which she deserved, and won as the representative of Plymouth, as well as of the schools in Wayne county.

A SPLENDID EDITION The Christian Science Monitor of Boston, Mass., issued a Michigan supplement in connection with its regular edition of May 14th, in which Michigan was given a lot of splendid publicity.

Plymouth is given special mention in a well written article by Village Manager Sidney D. Strong. Among the many industries of the state mentioned, were those of the Ford Motor Company along the river Rouge, and the plants at Plymouth, Northville, Waterford, Phoenix and Nankin Mills were shown.

The Civic Committee of the Woman's Club delightfully entertained the Girl Scouts and the Girl Reserves at the High school building, Tuesday evening, about seventy were present.

Mr. E. Cooper, in a very pleasing manner, welcomed the girls. Miss Athalie Hough gave a most interesting talk on her recent trip to Europe, which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Miss Ruth Forsythe favored the company with two vocal solos, which were beautifully rendered. Ice cream and cake were served.

"SMALL TOWN STUFF"

Put out the lights in the farm houses and small towns in this country and Broadway, New York, would soon be as dark as pitch. That's because the money that makes Broadway lights possible comes from outside of New York. The city resident does a good deal of talking about "small town stuff," and yet at this season of the year he heads his auto toward the small town, where he knows he will find hospitality, wholesome food, clean sweet air and noiseless sleep. He knows he will find the one thing the city lacks to make it worth living in—friendliness and regard for one's fellowmen. So toward thousands of towns like Plymouth autos are wending their way. They are carrying the sons and daughters of men who originally came from the small town—men who made big cities possible and who are still depended upon to keep those cities prosperous.

AUTOMOBILE RACING FANS HAVE THEIR EYES ON INDIANAPOLIS

The army of auto racing enthusiasts is turning its eyes toward Indianapolis, where, on May 31, another of those annual motor speed classics, the Indianapolis Sweepstakes, will be run. Never before has interest in the 500-mile grind been so wide-spread, according to the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, which regulates official automobile racing.

The entrance list alone would have been sufficient to intrigue the followers of automobile racing, but to this is added the fact that the speed marathon will be run by midget motors, engines which are little more than vest pocket editions of those great houses of power which, a few years ago, roared around the track.

Added to the certainty that every driver of consequence in America will enter, and that many celebrities of European tracks will take part, is the fact that racing car engines reduced in size from 122 cubic inches to 91 1/2 cubic inches will make their debut at Indianapolis.

Whether this reduction will mean a reduction in speed has become a point of debate between those who wait from one year to the next for the classic. There are many who declare the average speed will not exceed 95 miles an hour, but an equally strong faction looks for a race faster than any ever run there.

While this controversy is being waged at every cross-roads where the lure of automobile racing has penetrated, the list of entries is lengthening steadily. It was revealed today by the Contest Board that at least five foreign drivers will participate. All the leading American Championship drivers will be on hand.

Following are the dates set by the Contest Board for the remainder of this year's Speedway events: Charlotte, N. C., May 10; Indianapolis, May 31; Altoona, Pa., June 12; Salem, N. H., July 5; Atlantic City, July 17; Altoona, September 6; Salem, September 25; Atlantic City, October 23; Charlotte, November 11; Los Angeles, November 25.

MICHIGAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION.

Michigan's only Inter-denominational standard training school for Sunday-school workers is announced again this year by the Michigan Council of Religious Education, to be held at Camp Warren near Benton Harbor, July 5th to 16th.

The school is to Sunday-school workers what the short term normal school is to the public school teachers. Classes will be held in all phases of Sunday-school work and expert instructors will be on hand to do the teaching.

Camp Warren has one thousand feet of lake frontage and much virgin timber. It is equipped with cottages and administration buildings. It is a gift of the E. K. Warren estate, Three Oaks. The school is conducted annually by the Berrien County Sunday-school Council and the Michigan Council. For the ten days it is arranged that the board, books, registration fee and cottage rentals will not exceed $20.

Each day's program is arranged so that an abundance of recreation and out-of-door activities off-set the heavier study periods of the forenoon. Inquiries should be addressed Rev. F. W. Halpenny, general superintendent, Michigan Council of Religious Education, Lansing, Michigan.

COMMENCEMENT DAY

Just at this season of the year, when schools around Plymouth are closing their terms and boys and girls are looking forward anxiously to the care-free vacation season it is a good idea for those of us who have passed over that part of the road and who are now in the thick of life's battle to reflect on what the "commencement" means to growing youth.

Too many of us are inclined to gloss over their enthusiasm, or to treat lightly what is really a very serious part of their lives. Finishing their high-school tasks means a new milestone in their lives. They know that it brings them well up to the time when they must step across the line that divides youth from manhood and womanhood, and they are anxious to believe that there is a high place for them in the world of business activity. If they set their goal a little higher than you think they can accomplish, keep that to yourself. Encourage them in aiming high and it will help them to become better and more successful citizens in the years to come. Rejoice with them in their grades, congratulate them on the part they played in the closing exercises of their school, and cheer them on their way with a word of encouragement and a promise to lend assistance in any way you can to make their lives the success they now feel sure they will be.

Commencement day means the turning point for the boys and girls of this community, and later on the weight of affairs of the community will be on their shoulders. That's why it is a fine thing to show them that you are just as proud as they are of the fact that they have reached this eventful milestone in their lives.

VISITING THE POLE

All of us are interested in any new and daring stunt, no matter who participates in it. So when we read that after many attempts man has been able to fly over the north pole in both airplane and dirigible balloon we naturally start wondering what they'll do next. There has always been more or less of mystery about the north pole, though we have long known that it was no different from other parts of the frozen arctic circle. But it is human nature to want to solve mysteries. Now that this one is solved we naturally wonder what our explorers will tackle next. What is left for them to discover? We know of nothing at all, unless it would be to center their attention on Plymouth and community and see if they can't discover a means of making all of us forever satisfied with our tax assessments and the state of the weather all the year round.

Thirty-six Years Ago

the Plymouth United Savings Bank opened its hospitable doors. For thirty-six years it has served the community in a constructive, progressive way.

This Institution has indeed, at all times capably fulfilled all of the duties that a bank should fulfill. It has made hosts of friends and the cementing of these friendships, through service, seems almost our most important accomplishment throughout these thirty-six years.

To old friends, of course, and to new friends as well, a cordial invitation is extended to make full use of the facilities offered by this Institution. The value of such a banking connection for the future, may easily be gauged by the record of the past.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

Our road oil is in town and is partly distributed on the streets. The weather has been so cold that we have left the oil in the cars rather than spoil its effect on the road surfaces by applying it on the cold ground.

Huhm & Dickinson have finished quite a portion of their sewer contract. Mill street now has a sanitary sewer from Ann Arbor street north to the P. M. station. Holbrook avenue has a sewer from East Union street north to the railroad, and York street from Liberty to Pearl.

Tom Nolan has finished his sewer on Ann Arbor street, except for the tunneling under the Main street pavement, and the shafts are down for that. Fairground from Ann Arbor to Maple and Maple from Fairground to Hamilton are all that remain on his contract.

The culvert has arrived for the creek across Moreland avenue. Two corrugated iron pipes, one five feet in diameter and one four, will be placed at this point, each sixty-five feet long.

We have put in place the street signs received last fall. The posts used are larger than those set two years ago, and should stand the grief that these signs seem to get, better than the small ones.

The lead pipe water services are all installed on South Main street. We have fourteen catchbasins to set on the curb line, and some water gate wells to build.

The Commission has made a change in their ruling on water taps outside the corporation limits. Hereafter a person in an area applying for annexation to the village of Plymouth may obtain a temporary water permit, pending the decision as to annexation. If the annexation carries, well and good, if not, the water will be shut off.

NOTICE OF CEMETERY MEETING

A meeting will be held at Livonia town hall Thursday June 3rd at 8:00 p. m., for the election of officers for the Livonia Center cemetery and for the transaction of other business that may come before the meeting. All those who are interested are requested to be present.

AN INTERESTING LETTER

Medford, Oregon, May 21, 1926.
 F. W. Samsen, Editor,
 Plymouth Mail,
 Plymouth, Michigan.

Dear Sir:
 We have read with a great deal of pleasure the letters published in your paper from former Plymouth residents, many of these letters coming from California.

We left Plymouth nearly sixteen years ago, located in Southern California for about two years, which was quite sufficient for us, then moved to the Rogue River Valley in southern Oregon, famous the world over for its wonderful pears. This is a great fruit district, however it is essentially a pear district, the principal commercial varieties being the Bartlett, Bosc, D'Anjou, Howell, Comice, Seckel and Winter Nellis. We raise more Bosc than any place in the U. S. Nearly all other fruits grow in abundance.

Jackson county, our county, is first in the production of pears and peaches, third in the production of apples in Oregon. Fifty-five percent of the entire production of pears in the United States are produced in the Pacific northwest.

Oregon has 1-8 of the standing timber in the entire U. S. The timber estimate in Jackson County is 20,000,000,000 feet; the estimate yearly cut 100,000,000 feet, and the annual growth 200,000,000 feet. At the present rate of cut, Jackson County's timber is unlimited. Oregon leads the nation with nine pounds as the average weight of fleece of Oregon sheep.

The largest rainbow egg taking station in the world is located at Diamond Lake, maintained by the state of Oregon, where they take from fifteen to twenty million eggs annually, hatching and planting about one million trout in Diamond Lake each year. These trout grow to 12 pounds and up. Jackson County was the pioneer county in highway paving in Oregon. The longest stretch of paving in the world extends from Canada to Mexico, through Medford. Air mail service will soon be established between Seattle and Los Angeles. Medford will be the only stop in the state of Oregon. The scenic wonder of the world, Crater Lake, three hours drive from Medford, is seven thousand feet above sea level, its banks rising one thousand to fifteen hundred feet. People come from all over the world to view its beauty.

Medford, the biggest little city in the west, is 98% American, a fine place to live, a good home town, wonderful climate. The average rainfall the past ten years is seventeen inches. If we had 1-10 of the rainfall these California people tell the tourists about, we would be glad indeed. Itain is one of the greatest assets of any country. We hope to get back to meet our old friends sometime, but as a place to live, "Oregon suits me." Get the song its not half bad.

With kind personal regards, I am,
 Very truly yours,
 C. H. Butterfield.

16-Year Old Concrete Street in Charlevoix Still in Fine Condition

Tourists from every section of the country, motoring over Michigan's fine concrete highways, come to rest and play at Charlevoix.

Back in 1910, Charlevoix decided to pave Dixon Street. As this street runs through one of the finest residential sections the pavement chosen was naturally concrete.

For sixteen years now this pavement has been giving the best of service, and it is in just as good condition today as when first opened to traffic.

Visiting motorists say that they have never seen better pavement anywhere, and that its neat, attractive appearance is matched only by other concrete streets.

The cities of Michigan now have hundreds of miles of this true, even, light gray street pavement, and are building more of it every year.

Has your community inaugurated a broad-gauged, consistent program of permanent paving?

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy

The first is the Palace of Agriculture and the second the Palace of Liberal Arts. Opposite the latter building is the big auditorium, which seats 20,000 persons on a single floor. ODDFELLOW NEWS

Again we have news for the brothers who are unable to attend the regular meetings which are held every Tuesday evening in our wonderful new home on South Main street.

The initiatory degree was conferred on a class of candidates last Tuesday evening, by our Past Grands, and they sure can still show the young members how it should be done. The captains of this degree should be congratulated on their ability to gather these old members together for this special degree.

Next Tuesday evening, June 1st, the first degree will be put on, and Brother Meidlaugh is working hard to get his team in shape to put this degree on in good style.

Our sick list for the past week has been almost wiped out. Most of the brothers are on the mend again. Brother Counterman is again able to move around a little, and Brothers Ward and Minehart have been reported as able to be out again.

The Memorial Day committee has made final arrangements for the Memorial services which will be held on Sunday evening, June 6th, at 7:30 p. m., at the Presbyterian church. The brothers will form at the lodge room at 6:00 o'clock, and march in a body to the church. Every member turn out and make this service a real success.

The second nomination of officers was held, and a few more names added to the list of candidates. The election of officers for the coming term will be held next Tuesday evening, June 1st. Come out and elect your candidates.

The old faces that were seen in the lodge room last meeting night, are a good sign that summer is here to stay.

Our lobby room gang has not elected their officers at this writing, so we cannot give the names of their candidates.

Oddfellows are, as a rule, considered to be odd, but who ever heard tell of one being so odd that he came into the lodge room without his shoes?

Attendance this week, 69.

SOCIAL CLUB RENTS I. O. O. F. HALL.

The Women's Club of Plymouth, which is a branch of a widely known organization of prominent women throughout the country, has leased the banquet hall and the entire second floor of the I. O. O. F. temple, for a suitable place to hold their meetings, and also for social functions, which, as we understand, will be many this coming fall and winter. The various committees which have been appointed have let it be known that they are working hard to make this year one of the greatest for the club. Their first meeting will be held on the first Friday in October, when a luncheon will be given in the dining hall. This promises to be a real event in the history of Plymouth.

The people of Plymouth and surrounding country should get behind this organization, for they are working for the betterment of the country and the town of Plymouth.

BOOSTER CLUB NOTES

The Booster Club of Plymouth which is an organization made up of Oddfellows from different lodges, held the first nomination of officers for the coming term, last Monday evening, and a large list of candidates have enrolled. The election is to be held the first Monday in June. There were various committees appointed, among which was one committee to make arrangements for holding their first picnic of the season.

Another committee has secured the House of Correction ball field for the purpose of holding a sporting carnival in the near future, and the committee assures us that this is going to be a big event in this line.

LITTLE JOURNEYS IN PRINT

Brother George Meidlaugh had just settled down to spend his 55th birthday in quietness last Saturday evening, when he was disturbed by a large crowd of Cantons led by General Bailey of Detroit, and Lieut. O. Matts of this place. A sociable evening was spent, and at the wee small hours of the morning everybody left, wishing George many happy returns of the day.

Brother Wm. Felt and family visited their daughter, Mabel, who is very ill at her home in Flint.

Brother Al. Heiman and family spent Sunday with friends at Clarencetown.

Brothers Roy Wheeler and A. Hood spent Sunday visiting the various creeks, and tagging the minnows for the opening fishing days.

Brother Albert Williams entertained a few friends from Ann Arbor, Sunday.

Brother Wm. Rogers and wife entertained their daughter over the weekend.

Brothers Rhead, Finelling and Schrader spent last Sunday in Ann Arbor.

Brother Horace Truesdell is the proud owner of a new Palge coach.

Brother Earl Gray is also sporting a new Ford coupe.

OFFICERS TEAM WINS FROM OTTAWA DRUG TEAM

The game between the Ottawa Drug Co. and the Dehoco Club, played on the home grounds Sunday, resulted in the home team winning, 7 to 2. Cromm of the Ottawa Drug team, pitched a good game, in fact had the edge on Whitney, striking out five men, and giving but one free pass, while Whitney and Rowland fanned four and passed four. The Dehoco Club got on first four times on errors, as against the Ottawa Drug team's none. Seven errors in all behind Cromm, however, decided the game. Nevertheless, the Dehoco Club played a bang up game, one of the best games played this season. While they are credited with three errors, none resulted in runs.

PRONUNCIATION AID

June Webster, descendant of the famous lexicographer, Noah Webster, presents a copy of her ancestor's work to the Publicity Department of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition Association to help them in pronouncing properly the name of the big event which opens June 1 to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. There are many types of pronunciations heard but there is just one proper way Noah says. It is "See-Kwah-sen-ten-nial" with the accent on the first syllable of the "Sesqui" and on the second syllable of the "centennial."

GIRL BEST SPELLER IN METROPOLITAN AREA

VIVIAN BREMER OF GROSSE ILE, WON THE GREAT TRI-COUNTY SPELLING BEE CONDUCTED BY THE DETROIT NEWS, LAST FRIDAY.

Before a crowd numbering many thousands, Vivian Bremer, little Grosse Ile girl, won the great tri-county spelling bee, which was conducted by the Detroit News, at the Coliseum at the State Fair grounds, last Friday afternoon. The spelling bee has been in progress for several weeks past among the grade children in the schools of Macomb, Wayne and Oakland counties.

There were sixty-seven contestants, and for several hours the contest waged while the number diminished to a single little girl. Governor Alex Groesbeck presided as moderator of the contest. This district was represented by Earl Goudie of the Beech school.

The little Grosse Ile champion will leave Detroit as the guest of the Detroit News, accompanied by her mother and a News representative, on Sunday, June 13th, for Washington, D. C., where she will take part in the great national contest.

BANK BANDITS AT ROMULUS

TWO WOUNDED BY POSSE AFTER CHASE ACROSS FIELDS, LAST SATURDAY MORNING; LOOK-OUT FLED, LATER CAPTURED.

Three bank bandits came to grief last Saturday morning when they attempted to hold-up the Romulus State Bank, at Romulus, and as a result William Beranek and Fred Lux, both 22 years old, and Delmar Sanders, 23 years old, all of Detroit, are now awaiting trial. A secret alarm brought the citizens of the village, armed with pistols and guns, into the street. Lux, the look-out man posted outside of the bank in an automobile, fled for his life, and although Beranek and Sanders had obtained $12,000 from the till and vault, they were shortly wounded and captured by the posse who gave chase after the fleeing bandits. John Smith, deputy sheriff, and Ray Jacob captured Lux at Belleville, after a chase of five miles. All but about $1,000 of the money was recovered.

WAYNE COUNTY MEN BACK WONDERFUL MOVEMENT

Recently a number of Wayne county men met at the Statler Hotel in Detroit, upon the request of Hon. Paul H. King, for the purpose of organizing a Wayne county chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, and a goodly number responded to the call with the result that the meeting was an interesting and enthusiastic one. Dr. R. E. Cooper of Plymouth, was among those present.

The object of the local organization is to divide Wayne county in sections wherein the work in the interests of crippled children can be made more thorough. The state society having already arranged clinics, provided nurses, hospital facilities, etc., the Wayne county chapter will be the outlet for service throughout Wayne county. Arrangements are being made to make a thorough county survey to obtain a complete census of all crippled children in Wayne county.

The following are the officers and committees selected for the year: Executive Board—Dr. William N. Bradley, Highland Park; William R. Bernard, Highland Park; Ralph Carr, Dearborn; H. A. Brooks, Northville; Frank Jamieson, Wayne; Dr. R. E. Cooper, Plymouth; Dr. Fred Barslack, Hamtramck; Paul H. King, Detroit; Dr. Wm. E. Hodgett, Detroit. Officers—Chairman, Paul H. King; vice-chairman, Wm. R. Bernard; secretary, Ralph Carr; treasurer, Dr. R. E. Cooper.

Committee on County Appointment—R. A. Brooks, Dr. R. E. Cooper, Ralph Carr, Frank Jamieson.

This work in behalf of crippled children is being sponsored by all Rotary clubs throughout the state, and some wonderful results have been obtained and relief brought to many little sufferers.

LOCAL MEN MAKE SQUAD AT M. S. C.

DATES INCLUDE PRESIDENT; WIN TWO OF THREE GAMES.

M. H. Strasen, catcher; Albert Sump, shortstop; D. D. Waller, pitcher, of Plymouth, were candidates on the 1926 freshman base ball team at Michigan State College. The team had only a short schedule of three games, but managed to defeat two of its opponents.

Grand Rapids Junior college was defeated by the freshman outfit, 11 to 0. Flint high school was defeated at East Lansing, 9 to 2, but won at Flint, 5 to 1.

Couch Lyman Frimodig, of the freshman nine, has hopes that many of his men will graduate to the Varsity next spring. The showing of the team in the few games that were scheduled was so good that Frimodig believes his proteges will be of great value to John Kohn, Varsity mentor, in the spring of 1927.

Probably the past season marks the close of outside games for freshman base ball teams at Michigan State. At a recent meeting, the board in control of athletics decided that it was not in favor of scheduling games for freshman teams at the institution.

RADIO DEMONSTRATION

Radio fans of Plymouth, Michigan, are due for many surprises when Maurice Francill, known as America's radio wizard operates a Chrysler automobile by radio without a driver, on Wednesday, June 9th, 1926.

Francill will also demonstrate the operating of a Chrysler automobile by radio without a driver at the various factories and schools. His biggest feat will be to operate a Chrysler car by radio without a driver at the business section of Plymouth, Mich., to which the public is invited.

Wizard Francill supplies the missing link of the radio by showing the sending and receiving of the radio simultaneously. He even allows members of the audience to operate the transmitting station that controls the automobile.

Francill will be remembered as one of America's outstanding inventors during the late World War. He received the personal assistance and cooperation of President Woodrow Wilson and then Senator Warren G. Harding, who later became President. He is the annual feature of the New York and Chicago radio shows and his demonstrations are certain to be interesting as well as thrilling. He also consents to answer radio questions for anyone visiting the exhibition and demonstration which is furnished thru the courtesy of Mr. J. L. Taylor Chrysler dealer for the Plymouth territory with headquarters at Walled Lake, Michigan.

The Senior class will leave for Niagara Falls, May 29th, and return to write their final exams.

Tuesday, May 25th, the Woman's Club will entertain the Girl Reserves and Girl Scouts.

The following Senior girls, Elsie White, Julia Wilcox, Zetta Travis and Leola Rowland received Girl Reserve rings at the Honor Court, held at the First Congregational church of Detroit. Katherine Wilcox, Leslie Rowland and Barbara Horton were present for the ceremony.

The operetta, which will be given Tuesday, June 8th, is progressing well.

The domestic art and science classes gave an exhibit Friday, May 14. The sixth grade class had holders, bags, nightgowns and slips as a display. The seventh grade class showed cooking-aprons, slips, one simple dress and a Christmas present. The advanced class had some better articles to show, such as pajamas, two dresses each and some color schemes in house plants. A well balanced meal was shown, and it was: Macaroni and cheese, whole wheat bread with butter, a glass of milk, a combination salad and a fruit cocktail. A ribbon was attached to each article of food, and with the country that provides that food for us. Punch was served to the departing guests by the advanced domestic science class.

GRADE NOTES

(By Pat Murphy)

In Miss Hallahan's sixth grade room, the spelling contest continues to be very interesting. The A class received 100% for their average for the week, and the B class received 96%. There were twenty-five people who received 100 each day in spelling for the past five weeks. Alice Chambers is at the head now, having a gold star and one blue star, which is equivalent to 75 perfect lessons this semester.

Our English classes are preparing a debate for next week. Dorothy Hubert and Billy Kirkpatrick are the captives. The question is "Resolved, that Country Life is Better than City Life."

The 5-B class in Mrs. Mole's room, have new readers. They are reading "Robinson Crusoe." All the pupils are trying to get A-plus in spelling every day. If all the class have it the same day, they are given a blue seal on the chart. Those who have A-plus every day for the week, will have a red seal. The hygiene books have been finished, and the review will be from other Physiology books.

The children in Miss Logan's room have studied the picture of Thomas Sullivan's "The Thorn Hat." They were glad to have Arlyth Wesseling back after a long illness. Brayton and Raymond Deal from Benton Harbor, entered school Monday, in the 2-A class. Ethel Davis, Herbert Fletcher and Billy Henry have not been absent or tardy for the past month.

The 6-A class was glad to receive a pair of shoes sent to them by Mr. Fletcher, who is traveling in England.

Section one of the 2-A are reading a third grade supplementary reader. They are studying sentence building for language. Berthold Davis Lenley has left school to go to Arcadia, Michigan. Caroline Rathburn is getting along nicely since her operation for appendicitis.

Miss Juffke's room is having a spelling contest between the girls and boys. The girls are ahead.

Advanced Domestic Art students are starting on their third dress problem.

The eighth grade class is making ice cream.

The seventh grade have just finished a 500-word theme on spinning and weaving.

The vegetable garden in the third grade room is growing nicely.

Levi Sockow and Beth Northrop have not been absent or tardy since the beginning of the term.

Levi Sockow of the kindergarten, has moved away.

NORTHVILLE-PLYMOUTH GAME

Plymouth High won its sixth victory in seven starts, when Northville was defeated by a 12 to 9 score at Northville, Wednesday, May 19th. The first inning was a display of bad base ball, since both teams had scored at least three runs. Working on their small lead, Northville, not having won a game all season, was fairly desperate, and when the sixth inning ended the score was 8 to 6 in their favor. Then Plymouth decided to pull the game out of the fire, and went in and got six runs in the last inning, while N. H. S. was getting one, ending the game.

YPSILANTI-PLYMOUTH GAME

This game was the seventh victory out of eight games, the score being 13 to 2. The line-up was as follows: L. Simmons, G. Simmons, S. Rambo, W. Doudt, C. Moore, S. Sayles, F. Wilson, T. Hickey and N. Lockwood.

ELM SCHOOL CLOSING THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1926.

The boys and girls of Elm school will enjoy a picnic at River Rouge Park, on Friday, following the close of school. A basket lunch will be given, and prizes will be awarded the winners of races in which the boys and girls will compete.

Mr. Fisher and Miss Cochrane will be at Elm, Wednesday, May 26th, at 3:00 o'clock, to present to the patrons and pupils of Elm, their Gold Star certificates. Of all the rural schools in Wayne County, only ten are gold star schools. Elm is one of the ten.

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold the last meeting of the year on Tuesday, June 1, at 8:00 o'clock. A report on the present convention at Holland will be given at this meeting.

PLYMOUTH GARDENS

Manager PIERCE

Of the Plymouth Branch
Bank [Says:

"I consider Plymouth Gardens one of the most beautiful locations in all of Wayne County. The pleasing contours of the land, the high elevation and natural scenic beauty create a combination that is hard to equal anywhere."

Wise investors in Plymouth have been quick to recognize the superior character of this beautiful tract.

They know that property with permanent scenic value is certain to yield the utmost in profit and home happiness.

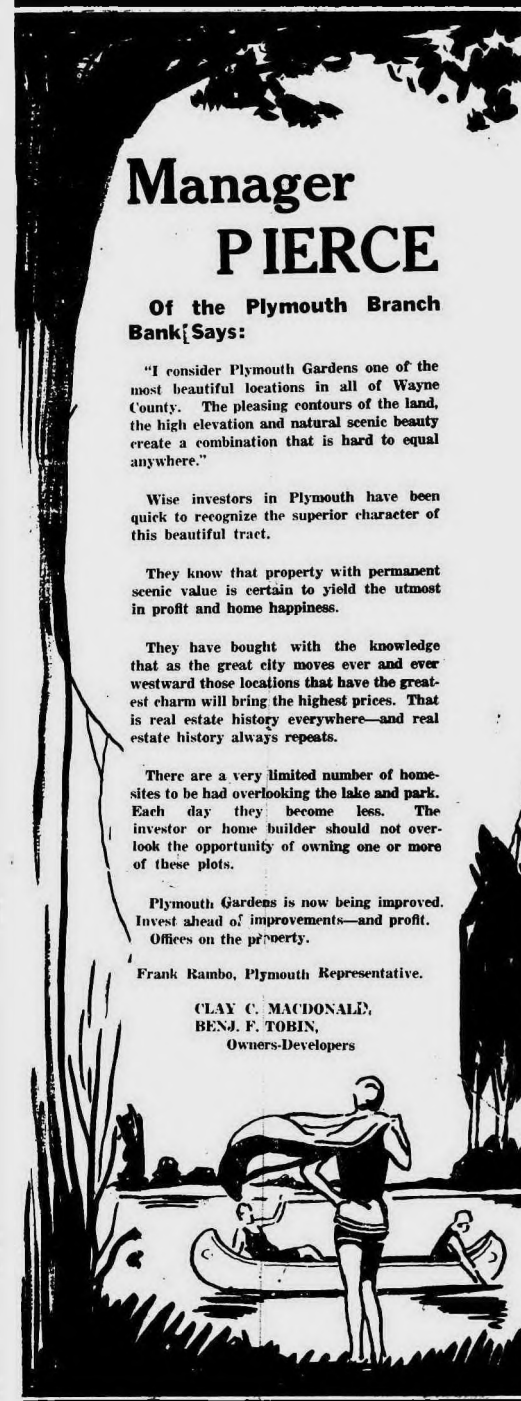

They have bought with the knowledge that as the great city moves ever and ever westward those locations that have the greatest charm will bring the highest prices. That is real estate history everywhere—and real estate history always repeats.

There are a very limited number of homesites to be had overlooking the lake and park. Each day they become less. The investor or home builder should not overlook the opportunity of owning one or more of these plots.

Plymouth Gardens is now being improved. Invest ahead of improvements—and profit. Offices on the property.

LOCAL REAL ESTATE BOARD MEETING.

The members of the local Real Estate Board had a very interesting meeting last week Thursday night at the Plymouth Hotel dining room, where a splendid dinner was served. The meeting was well attended.

Charles E. Sheridan, assistant vice president of the Union Trust Co., gave a very interesting talk on "Title Insurance." Title insurance is not a new proposition for it has been in use in this country for many years, but it is new to this particular section of the country. Mr. Sheridan went into details as to the origin of title insurance, its stability, its operation and as to how it guaranteed the title of property, where certain irregularities were evident. He also answered many questions asked him by those present.

ARE WE TOO NEAR A GREAT MOVEMENT TO SEE ITS MEANING?

(An Editorial by Robert Jemison, Jr., President)

The editor of a magazine of high standing recently asked individual business men throughout the country what in their opinion was the most important thing which has happened to affect the world's business within the last twenty-five years.

They did not all make the same answer. But in almost every answer there was the germ of the same idea. The great happening of the last quarter century has not been the development of radio, or the perfection of the airplane, nor any material invention or change on the face of things. It has been just as real. One man called it "a higher moral standard in business." One man spoke of "recognition of equal rights of buyer and seller." One spoke of the spirit of service and its deep penetration into business life. One put it in terms of the formulation by business and for business of recognized ethical standards and codes.

One emphasized the reaching out of one individual to another and of one branch of an industry to another in movements of co-operation. One analyzed it as a new willingness of individuals and individual firms and corporations to exchange ledger experience, to share the fruits of experience, and in return to share in the fruit of the experience of others.

It is difficult for a mind acclimated to the modern business attitude to subtract comparatively recent developments and to realize that this attitude has not always been taken. It is becoming difficult to go back and realize how short a time ago the word, "business" connected bigardness, sharp practice, something incompatible with the attitude of a gentleman.

We are coming to take it for granted that every business house of standing will make it an axiom that no transaction is a good transaction unless it results in advantage and satisfaction for the buyer as well as for the seller. The old Latin maxim "convent emptor," has come to be related in our minds chiefly with the faker's wares at a county fair, and the wiles of the curbstone broker. Legitimate business has done with it.

It would be interesting to draw a graph of the rise of conscious ethical standard in business relations and compare it with a graph that might show the rise of material prosperity, with a graph to trace the gain of democracy, or with a third graph to picture the upward curve of the industrial movement in this industrial and commercial age.

Whatever the causes, obvious and obscure, the time has come when the various branches of business are banding themselves together as the old trade guild did, and for a not dissimilar purpose—to standardize the quality of their product and their service.

Since the time of the Greeks, physicians have held themselves to the oath of Hippocrates. Lawyers have formulated their own code of what a lawyer may do, and what he may not do and remain a reputable member of the bar. Within the last twenty-five years more than 600 business groups have framed ethical codes, which recognize the social obligation of their function as definitely as do the old professions. Business not in spirit alone, but in method, in command of its facts, in scientific control of its forces, is approaching the place where it, too, will be a profession, probably a congeries of related professions. Indeed with the growing complexity of our economic life there is a growing need for a professional mastery of details in the conduct of every type of business.

We have gone far from the time when goods were exchanged only directly for other goods. And we are in a time when the whole structure of our business lives has come to be dependent on an intricate complexity of confidence.

I am proud that the association of which I have the honor to be president, has been among the first associations of business men to set up a governing code of ethics. But the significance

RECREATIONAL LAND KEYNOTE OF STATE CONFERENCE.

Every person knows the meaning of the word, "Co-operation." The Michigan Realtors are putting pep into the word in their recent conferences, held in conjunction with the state colleges and the state university.

City buyers of suburban farms, good roads and their effect on farm values, farm taxation, rural education and any number of other subjects concerning the farm lands of Michigan and their improvements were discussed at the Michigan Farm Conference at the Michigan State College in Lansing, April 8 and 9, under the joint auspices of the Michigan Real Estate Association at the state college.

A Builders' Conference of Michigan Realtors, which was held recently in Detroit, was made up of a two-day program of addresses and discussions by well known builders, accountants, contractors, material supply men and architects.

Before that a successful two-day conference in Ann Arbor for brokers and subdividers, under the joint auspices of the Michigan Real Estate Association and the Department of Business Administration of the University

The National Association of Real Estate Boards now has a membership of 611 Boards throughout the United States and Canada. The local Real Estate Board is a member of that organization.

METHODIST NOTES

Forty men of the Methodist church visited the members of the congregation, last Sunday afternoon, in their every-member canvass for church and benevolent interests. The campaign was organized on military lines, with four “generals,” namely Dickerson, Johnson, Lee and Richwine. Each general had ten lieutenants, and about 250 calls were made with gratifying results. On Thursday evening, Mr. Holcomb's Sunday-school class will serve supper to the generals, lieutenants and their wives, at which time the members of the winning team and their wives are to be guests of honor.

The official board will meet in the church parlors, next Tuesday evening, June 1st.

There will be no June meeting of the General Aid Society.

BAPTIST NOTES

The male quartet was enjoyed by all. The pastor's sermon was on prayer, and he spoke of the results of a prayerful life, and the testimony of such men.

Rev. Wormer of Detroit, superintendent of the “Lord's Day Alliance,” gave a wonderful address in the evening, showing that the crime wave of today is because of the lack of church and Sunday-school attendance among the young.

Dick Kimbro led the B. Y. P. U., and did it well. The subject was, “The Philippines.”

The reading in the Sunday-school each Sunday by Miss Scott, is helpful and very instructive.

The rehearsals for Children's Day have already begun, and the program will be of the best.

The flowers last Sunday were handsome and made the room cheerful and all felt that summer was here.

The flower bed in the lawn is filled with new plants, and will give beauty to the church grounds.

At a meeting of the trustees, Tuesday evening, at the parsonage, it was decided to invite the Rev. Austin of Lansing, to come and speak to us on Sunday, June 6th, and also to hold a conference on Saturday, June 5th, for on that date is the time for the every member canvass. Plan to be at church on Sunday.

FARMINGTON MILLS

Find Animal Pests Not Unworthy Foes

Mountain lions, bobcats, grizzlies, wolves, coyotes and other killers slaughtered between twenty and thirty million dollars' worth of live stock last year on the western range. That is why the government maintains a band of men, pioneers at heart, who concentrate every effort, night and day, on their extermination. These men belong to the predatory animal division of the biological survey, and the stories they tell in monosyllables sound like old medieval tales of werewolves and ghost-tigers. Do animals think? Listen to their experiences with some of these four-legged desperadoes.

Stanley P. Young is the boss trapper of the hunters on Colorado's stock ranges, with the professional title of junior biologist.

“You asked if animals think,” said Young in an interview. “Let me tell you how we have to go out after wolves.”

“A wolf has a regular run. It is a circle often about fifty miles in circumference. He makes the rounds regularly. We study a killer wolf's habits sometimes for months. Then we make a trap set for him on this run at some key point. Can't poison a wolf. He's too wise.”

“In setting traps for wolves we make two kinds of sets. Wolves have scent posts just like domestic dogs. We find the ground all scratched up around these. Sometimes we set traps at such points. To stir up the local wolf, get him all excited so he'll lose his head a bit, we often bring in the scent of some foreign wolf we have trapped. That makes the local wolf mad to find an invader in his bailliwick. He starts runnin' around and gets into a trap.”

“Some of them are so cunning they will not get into a trap at a scent post. They just sense there is something wrong and dodge the trap. Then we make what is called a blind set.”

“In making a blind set, the hunter waits until it is about time for the wolf to come by a point on his circle trail. These men get this figured out almost to the hour, because they may have been studying that particular wolf for weeks. Then they select a place where the trail is narrow. They dig a pit and put the set trap in it. They handle the traps with gloves and keep all the dirt they dig on what is called a setting cloth, setting cloth, trap and gloves has had the scent of man taken from it.”—Everybody's Magazine.

Would Save the Hawk

In some of the states there is a bounty on hawks. It is ill-judged legislation, not to call it by a harsher name. Nearly all of the American hawks are beneficial. There are only two members of the great hawk family which are almost always criminal—incubated and which are likely to be found in any numbers in the United States. These two birds of bad habits are the sharp-shinned and the Cooper hawks. The cooper hawk is a bad actor, but he is not abundant enough in the United States at any season to cause much alarm. All the other hawks should be allowed to live. They do good work every day.—Chicago Evening Post.

Boot and Shoe Beliefs

How many of us, no matter how we pretend to scorn such superstitions, would ask for trouble by placing a pair of boots or shoes upon a table, and how few would risk misfortune by cleaning a new pair of shoes before wearing them? In Scotland the belief still exists that to drop a pair of shoes before they have been worn is a sure portent of bad luck. Immunity can be bought, however, by burning the shoes or by burying them. To place new boots or shoes on a shelf higher than one's head is another harbinger of misfortune, according to a superstition which has prevailed in many parts of England for centuries.

Criminal's Washing Book

In tracing criminals, police have, in addition to finger prints and handkerchiefs, what is called the “washing book.” This comprises a register of all the laundry marks used in a particular district. Should at any time a mark crop up which does not appear in the police register it is photographed and sent round all the laundries until some one identifies it. Once the laundry which has last laundered the garment in question has been discovered, it is an easy matter to discover the name and address of the person for whom the work had been done and so follow up the clue.

THE THEATRE

"RAINBOW RILEY"

Strange as it may seem, Johnny Hines, who comes to the Pennington Allen theatre, Saturday, May 29, in the role of a cub reporter, does not produce a notebook to jot down notes while on the job. For years newspaper reviewers and critics have delighted in calling attention to the fact that newspaper reporters never use a note book, but that film reporters are invariably shown doing so.

In "Rainbow Riley," an adaptation of Thompson Buchanan's stage play, "The Cub," Johnny Hines, who is cast in the role of a reporter, never appears with the troublesome note-book in hand. In fact, he is kept so busy trying to evade trouble in the Kentucky mountains where he has been assigned to report a feud that note-books or any other kind of newspaper equipment are a burden instead of an aid.

In his role of the cub reporter, Johnny might be forgiven even if he did use a note-book, since he is employed because of his nerve and not because of his experience. Johnny isn't on the job more than a few days when he is given the Kentucky feud assignment, and as soon as he reaches his destination the action comes so fast that his main concern is to save his neck instead of worrying about his story.

But despite his hectic experiences, he not only manages to obtain a scoop for his paper, but finally brings peace to the feudists and happiness for himself when he wins the girl of his dreams.

"STEEL PREFERRED"

Realism in motion pictures—this has been the demand of the motion picture public ever since the screen became an entertainment factor in everyday life.

When the rights to "Steel Preferred" were purchased, by Metropolitan Pictures Corporation, the first move was to send a company of players to the heart of the steel industry—Pittsburg and its environs—where the big scenes were photographed.

During the filming of the picture one of the big scenes in the production was the destruction of a complete ladle train carrying many tons of molten metal. A portion of the railroad track was weakened, so that, when the train with its burden of red hot steel reached this point, the track collapsed causing the ladles to tip and spill their contents of liquid steel down the hillside, where Vera Reynolds and Nigel Barrie were standing.

All the members of the company followed the flowing metal from one stage to another, and many of the gigantic furnaces, Bessemer, mixers and converters, as well as the ladle train, play a big part in the production. "Steel Preferred" will be the feature at the Pennington Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, May 30 and 31.

The featured players in this big production are Vera Reynolds, William Boyd, Hobart Bosworth and Charlie Murray. The supporting cast includes Nigel Barrie, Walter Long, Ben Turpin and Helene Sullivan. The picture is thrilling and there are many laughs. The story has to do with the struggles of an ambitious mill worker who loves the daughter of a steel magnate, to rise in the world. How he wins against almost insuperable handicaps is graphically pictured.

"IBANEZ TORRENT"

One famous star in a role that portrays him in a startling glimpse into his future: another famous European star, making her bow in American pictures, are the two interesting personalities in the new Cosmopolitan production of "Ibanez Torrent," coming to the Pennington Allen theatre on Wednesday, June 2.

The first is Ricardo Cortez, delineator of fiery Latin lovers; he plays a young Spanish Statesman, rather the safe-and-sane type of lover except when big moments arise—and his most remarkable feat is toward the end of the picture, when he appears as himself at middle age after a lapse of years, and gives a characterization that is nothing short of astounding.

The other is Greta Garbo, the celebrated Swedish screen beauty, brought to America after the sensational European success, "The Attonement of Goesta Berling." Miss Garbo is beautiful—wears wonderful gowns—and is a revelation in the artistry of emotion-acting.

The story, adapted from the vivid Spanish romance by Vicente Blasco Ibanez, author of "The Four Horsemen," is told on a lavish scale in the new picture, under the direction of Monta Bell, and the settings provided for it at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios are spectacular, especially the great Spanish throne room in Madrid.

Miss Garbo plays an exotic Spanish opera star, and Cortez, her lover, a young statesman, and the love of the two, bridging diverging roads of destiny, forms the central theme. A great thrill is provided in the sensational flood wiping away a Spanish village, and a daring rescue by Cortez.

The rest of the cast is notable, including Gertrude Olmstead, Tully Marshall, Arthur Edmund Carew, Lillian Leighton, Lucy Beaumont, Mario Carilla, Lucien Littlefield, Martha Mattox, Mack Swain and others.

Some Altogether New Ideas About Success

Rules of success were "debunked" by Champe S. Andrews of New York in an address before 250 members of the Baltimore Association of Credit Men the other night. He spoke on "The Difference Between the $5,000 and the $50,000-a-Year Man."

"The first rule given in most anthologies of success is the command to work," Mr. Andrews said. "I deny that work will make you a financial success. The man who labors late at night with papers piled in front of him is not advancing on the road to success any more than the laborer digging a ditch. Both work harder than any man in this room and get less pay."

"Be honest." This is another slogan of the success magazine. Honesty is the commonest thing in the world. The man who draws $50 a month as caretaker is just as apt to be honest as the $50,000-a-year man.

"You must be ambitious," say the professional advisers. One of the most consistently ambitious men ever met was a barber I knew as a boy. He shaved me again the other day and he still is ambitious.

"Loyalty is extolled by all paid advisers of youth. But loyalty is a jewel worn by every honorable man and doesn't differentiate the financially successful from the unsuccessful."

"Specialize" is the favorite song tumbled by the troubadours of success. The specialist can be bought in any market. He is the tool of the general all-round business man who profits by his services in all professions.

"The hardest thing is to get the all-round man. The $5,000-a-year man has been defined as the man who can do one thing well; the $10,000 man as one who can do two things well; the $20,000 man three things; and the $50,000 man as one who can do many things and knows how to make other men carry out his plans.

"Be broad. The world in general, and captains of industry in particular, need men who understand general conditions."—Baltimore Sun.

Shakespeare's Mustache

The vital decision as to whether William Shakespeare was a country lout or the world's dramatist is, after all, to be made neither by scholar nor critic. The issue lies entirely with the barber. At least if any tonsorial specialist can prove that between 1600 and 1616 Englishmen had their mustaches cut and trimmed in the dandified fashion exemplified in the Stratford bust, the foremost enemy of the Shakespearians will capitulate at once. This enemy is Sir George Greenwood. He denies that the Stratford bust is authentic, for it does not harmonize with an old engraving of the Bard of Avon as to physical appearance. Result: Shakespearians and anti-Shakespearians are digging into tonsorial history to see if any one wore the waxed sergeant major mustache in the period when William is generally accepted to have lived.—Pierre Van Paassen, in the Atlanta Constitution.

Salt Lake City Fortunate

Snow has no terrors for the Salt Lake City street department. Water taken from municipally owned boiling springs is used to make it disappear as if by magic. The springs, located within the corporate limits, produce vast quantities of water which nature has heated to approximately 108 degrees Fahrenheit. This is carried in tanks to the business district, and the high-pressure pumps flush out the snow, clearing it within a few hours, regardless of the depth. The water contains 1,380 parts of sulphates to the 1,000,000. Thrown on the snow under high pressure, a cloud of steam arises and quickly the street is cleared.

Dot Dope!

A Mill Gross character, who called it the Cholston, and his girl were barred at the door of a night club which has successfully kept out the commoner. The uniformed lackey explained to the East sinner that he couldn't enter because he was not dressed correctly. But the objection failed to understand.

Pointing to a sign on the door, which read: "Only Those in Evening Dress Admitted," the doorman thundered: "Can't you read?" "Certainly!" yelled the East Sinner. "Who's smoking?"—New York Graphic.

Russian Nobility Toils

In Germany more, perhaps, than any other country, the strange and odd results of the Russian revolution are seen. Many noble refugees from the Soviet regime are operating businesses and pursuing trades in Germany and it is not unusual to see a taxi driver drop into a certain coffee house and suddenly sighting another shabby diner in the corner, go over and kiss her hand. She is a grand duchess and he an ex-officer of the imperial guard. The coffee house itself is operated by a former count and his children.

New City in Palestine

Designed to be the center of the textile industry in New Palestine, a city is being founded near Haifa, the future port of the country. It is being built as a result of an agreement between the Manor company, an internationally known European concern, and the German industrial companies operating under the name of Siemens-Schuckert. The city will be started upon a well laid out plan of a large international concern to enter the industrial life of New Palestine.

Today's Reflections

The old-fashioned Plymouth boy who was content with a piece of bread and jelly now has a son who demands an ice-cream cone every afternoon.

We don't know how much is pinned on these days, but we do know if a pin should stick a girl today she wouldn't have as much trouble locating it as her mother used to.

If we knew their actual circumstances we'd quit envying the people we do.

The most dangerous thing a kid in Plymouth can do is run in front of a driver who isn't going anywhere and is in a terrible hurry to get there.

A man can live and prosper with a wooden leg, but a wooden head is a decided handicap.

Bragging on his children may not cause the average Plymouth man to throw out his chest but bragging on his garden will.

The worst mistake the men who own the circuses ever made was to think that any of us would ever get too old to enjoy the parade.

If the mosquitoes could read, and get hold of a summer fashion magazine wouldn't they chuckle with glee?

The Plymouth boy who graduates this year will do well to remember that the fellow who is afraid of a fall will never get to the top of the ladder.

Some young men do not amount to anything because their parents will not give them a chance to show what they are worth.

Usually when a man is old enough to fall heir to a fortune and has sense enough to manage it he doesn't need it.

When a Plymouth father says he doesn't want his son to work as he did he can be sure that his son endorses that statement.

Nobody ever made any money sitting still but a shoe cobbler. The man and town which win are the ones that hustle.

Instead of complaining when it rains we ought to do as they do in Borneo. Let it rain.

CEDAR FORESTS OF LEBANON ARE GONE

Little Remains of the Once Mighty Groves.

Of all the mighty cedar forests which once clothed the gray heights of Lebanon there survive but a few huddled groups of trees, as the cedars above Ain Zaukita and those above Baruk. But of all these poor survivors there is one grove known above all others as Al Arz—the Cedars—the tiny forest of some four hundred trees which lies like a small black stain on the bosom of the mountains above the sacred valley of the Qadisha.

These insignificant groves are sole survivors of the fair forests which once spread over the whole Lebanon, and for their disappearance the axe is alone responsible. For centuries and tens of centuries the people of the Lebanon have hacked and sawn and hewn and felled, until not only the cedar, but the cypress, oak, poplar and pine as well have dwindled away.

Of all trees the slowly maturing cedar has most suffered. It furnished Hiram and his Phoenicians with the sweet-scented timber which they sold to Solomon and the other kings of the earth for their temples and palaces. The Greek settlers used it, and so did the Romans during their occupation—and so have all races, whether of the soil or foreign to it, which have utilized the resources of the Lebanon. It is only a sentiment approaching to religious awe which has preserved these last stragglers of a vanished host.

There is one guarded spot—the patch above the Qadisha. A wall has been built around the cedars, and the grove is looked upon as a national treasure, a national sanctuary. It is, in fact, the last sacred grove. Most people when they go to the Cedars take the new carriage road from Tripolis. But we preferred to take the old road which, as it climbs up from Shekka on the coast to Haddat, offers some of the finest and wildest scenery in the Lebanon.

It runs close to the forge of the Qadisha. Above, far away, towers the highest peak of the Lebanon, Qommatas-Sauda, and immediately above, like huge walls erected by Titans, sparsely grown precipices shut in the valley, their sternness softened here and there by terraced vineyards. Ever upward climbs the road until at last the mountain villages of Bosharreh and Eliden are visible on a distant height, with a black spot staining the mountain behind them. That spot is the Cedars.

And that remnant of a forest, fenced about with a gray stone wall outside which but a few trunks remain, is all. But when one gets closer one sees that it is a mighty remnant, after all. As one climbs up over the slippery, sweet-scented needles, layer upon layer deep, into the solemn and ancient wood, one realizes that it is enough to evoke all that the words "Cedars of Lebanon" imply.

They grow close, these trees, a few of which number their years not in hundreds but in tens of hundreds, and within their shade there is the gloom and hush of a holy place. Some of the veterans have attained an immense size, and five men are needed to encircle one aged trunk with their arms. It is reported to have seen two thousand summers and winters. Who knows? It may have seen the birth of Christianity, the first fearful years of the faith and its triumph.

The silence, and the twilight made by the thick branches, and the incense of the sun-warmed, aromatic timber, give the impression that one is in a temple so that the little Maronite chapel which pious people have built in the center of the wood seems unnecessary. The chapel bell is hung on the trunk of a cedar tree nearby, and once during the day its voice rings out through the wood calling people to prayer.

German Mothers on Parade

The fad of pushing their own baby carriages has taken fashionable German mothers in Berlin by storm. It used to be extremely bad form for a mother to be seen with her child on Kurfuerstendamm, Berlin's Montmartre. Now it is the proper thing for the Berliner frau to show off her latest spring hat or coat while giving the baby an airing. The avenue is crowded in the early afternoons with parades of baby buggies. Uniformed nursemaids are much in evidence, as usual, but mothers do all the work, the maids merely accompanying the youngsters.

Steer "Cow Pony"

The school bell rings and Kohler Lohelo, thirteen, of Bryan, Texas, runs out the front door, mounts his steer and rides four miles to attend his classes. The boy raised the steer and broke him to ride single or double. He has ridden about the streets of Bryan so regularly that the sight has ceased to cause any unusual interest. One of the favorite tricks of the steer is to round-up cattle. The youth says that in the steer he has the best "cow pony" in Texas.—Indianapolis News.

Discarding Formal Attire

Leaders of fashion are having a difficult time driving Englishmen back into evening clothes. Some of the prominent London clubs have adopted rules that only men in evening attire may dine in the main dining rooms. The result has been that a few members dine in lonely state in the big dining rooms, while the smaller rooms are crowded with diners in business attire. The war raised havoc with formal attire for men.

Emerald in Perfect

Form Hard to Find

The real emerald, which few are able to recognize, is the green form of the mineral beryl. The name emerald has come to designate later various green stones, such as the Brazilian tourmaline, olivine and garnet. The true emerald is of course superior in value and quality to these stones.

The chief reason for the great value attached to the emerald is the fact that there is a big demand for the stone and a very small supply. The emerald has become a favorite engagement ring stone. A beautiful arrangement has been effected by setting a diamond and emerald side by side in an engagement ring.

Perfect stones are very scarce. Many emeralds contain small cracks and foreign matter which tend to make them dull. Of course perfect large stones are the rarest, and they are therefore very expensive. One of the largest known to exist is the property of the duke of Devonshire. This famous stone is two inches across and weighs almost nine ounces. Such stones are almost priceless.

There are only two real sources of supply of emerald at present. Most of them come from South America, where they are mined in the Andes mountains. Another source of supply is Siberia, but since the war Siberia has not furnished many of these stones to the world. Emeralds never are found in gravel, like diamonds, rubies and sapphires. They always are imbedded in rock formations.

The sea green aquamarine has been mistaken at times for the emerald. As a matter of fact it has the same mineral composition as the emerald. The pale blue and sea-green shades take their name from the color of the seas. Of course, the aquamarine is not so rare, nor so much in demand, as the emerald.

Few stones are as popular as the emerald. It is the only stone that rivals the diamond in favor. Its high value is due as much to its beauty as to its scarcity.

Life of Oil Wells

The bureau of mines says that the average life of oil wells depends upon the location. Following are some computations: Bartlesville field, Oklahoma, 13 to 15 years; northern Texas and Louisiana with the exception of those of the Ranger, Towell and Mexia fields, 15 to 20 years; southeastern Ohio, 10 to 15 years; San Joaquin valley, California, 20 to 25 years; Appalachian sections of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, 20 to 25 years. It must be remembered that the average life of an oil well is quite variable. The rate of development is very important; rapid drilling and rapid production will lessen the life, while gradual drilling and gradual production will lengthen the life. New methods of recovery and other things enter into it.

Where's That Jones?

Hunting for Jones in the telephone directory is one of the national sports of Wales, judging by remarks made by Alderman Cornelius Roberts at Pwllheli town council. It was almost impossible to find a number when the whole of North Wales was compiled in one district, he said. If a subscriber wanted to find a Jones he would have to go through all the Joneses in North Wales before he could find the one he wanted. Councillor Josiah Williams said he knew of a medical man who failed to find the number of a patient named Jones, although he spent some hours looking for it. It was agreed to urge the telephone authorities to arrange that town and urban areas should be separate districts in the directory.—London Mail.

Holland Honors Great Men

Holland has paid warm tributes to two of her sons—H. R. Berlage, famous architect, who celebrated his seventieth birthday, and Prof. Kamerlingh Onnes, scientist, who died at the age of seventy-two years. Mr. Berlage was not only architect of the exchange building in Amsterdam—a splendid structure—but has contributed much more toward the renaissance of Dutch architecture. The Netherlands scientific world mourns Prof. Kamerlingh Onnes, who became famous by the establishment of the cryogenic laboratory at Leyden and by his discoveries regarding the liquefying of helium. His laboratory had become a center for scientific research work.

Diet's Effect on Stature

Dr. Victor G. Heiler, director in the Far East of the international health board of the Rockefeller foundation, has been convinced of the claims made by the Japanese Institute of Nutrition that a certain flour made from fish powder actually does increase stature. The flour is made from cooked and boned fish. Strangely enough, it is an American chemical manufactured by product, and it is thought it will correct short stature that has been produced by an unbalanced diet over a long period of years.

Extending Reindeer Herds

Alaskan Eskimos will be employed by the Danish government to instruct natives of Greenland in the care of reindeer. That government is making an effort to establish the reindeer industry in Greenland, evidently prompted by the remarkable success of the herds in Alaska since their introduction in 1891 by the Interior department, bureau of education. The application for permission to employ Alaskan natives was made through the Danish consulate in Seattle.

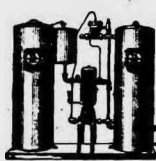

New Uses for Telephones

A new system of police signaling is being tried in the provinces. At 20 sites in Halifax telephone boxes have been placed, and in an elevated position near them are fixed colored lights. By the latter the officer on duty at the police station can call the attention of a constable on beat in the neighborhood, who will at once go to the telephone box for instructions.—London Answers.

GORILLA CALLED WISEST OF APES

Intellectually Easily Leader of the Species.

Of all the man-like apes which have been studied by psychologists, the gorilla probably is the leader intellectually. This is indicated by a series of tests recently completed on a young female gorilla by Dr. Robert M. Yerkes, professor of psychology at Yale university.

Doctor Yerkes recently returned from Jacksonville, Fla., where he spent six weeks testing the animal, which belongs to Benjamin Burbridge, Mr. Burbridge, an experienced hunter, captured the gorilla single handed in the forests of the Belgian Congo. On his last trip to Africa he caught four, but two died in Africa; one, which was taken to Belgium, has since died, and the other is Congo, the one that was studied by Doctor Yerkes. Probably it is the only example of its species, the mountain gorilla, that has ever been brought to the United States.

The chimpanzee, the most familiar anthropoid ape, has been the subject of many psychological inquiries. The Yale institute of psychology has several chimpanzees in its "primate laboratory," on which tests are being conducted, but, on account of the scarcity of specimens, the gorilla has never before been studied experimentally.

"One's first impression is that the chimpanzee is the more intelligent," said Doctor Yerkes, "but that is probably due to the temperamental differences of the two animals. The chimpanzee is the more emotional and impulsive; the gorilla is the more deliberate, and worked calmly and with better judgment, and I should expect that the gorilla would go further in the long run. I was able to work with Congo for hours at a time, and she stuck to her tasks. A chimpanzee by comparison tires quickly."

The animal weighs about sixty-five pounds, Doctor Yerkes stated, and is perhaps five years old. Although their average span of life is not certainly known, they probably attain the age of thirty or forty years. Congo displays great strength, for "when she tugged at me I felt as if something would break," he said. When tested with a spring balance, she pulled 160 pounds, which, considering relative weight, would be equivalent to a pull of four hundred pounds by a man. Despite this, however, the animal is quite gentle, in Doctor Yerkes' opinion, for, he said, "she doesn't realize her strength."

The methods used with the gorilla were similar to those employed on the other anthropoids. One consisted in arranging the animal's food so that it was necessary to pull on a rope to obtain it, and then, after this had been learned without aid, the rope was hooked at one end, and it was necessary for the monkey to uphook it before it could retrieve the reward. Several hundred feet of motion pictures were made of the ape while she was solving the problems, and these, in conjunction with many thousand feet which Mr. Burbridge made of the gorillas in their native haunts in Africa, will throw considerable light on gorilla psychology.

Picked Up About Town

The ant has plenty of industry, but it takes a mosquito to make things hum.

"It's beginning to look," says Dad Plymouth, "as though congressmen seeking re-election will have to stutter when they start telling what they did for the farmer."

If a man came from a vegetable growth, lots of them seem to have descended from pig weeds.

Dad Plymouth says he wonders what has become of the old-fashioned woman who used to get mad when she saw another woman riding in divided skirts.

"How do you like the sound of my fenders?" inquired Dad Plymouth as he was driving homeward in his bounding Ford. "I've just had them tuned they raised the right ones an octave, and I think it sounds better."

We told Dad Plymouth the other day that there are 600 broadcasting stations in this country and he said: "Yes, but you're not counting in the gossips."

France is going to eat rye bread for economy sake. She can do it, because she has that other thing that goes with rye bread.

"The question of bobbed hair," says Dad Plymouth, "worries the barbers and the hairpin manufacturers more than it does me."

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE VILLAGE COMMISSION

Plymouth, Mich., May 17, 1926.

A regular meeting of the Commission held in the Commission room of the Village Hall, Monday evening, May 17th, at 7:00 p. m.

Present—All five Commissioners. The minutes of the regular meeting of May 3rd were approved as read.

Mr. L. E. Cable was named for the Board of Review in place of George H. Wilcox, resigned.

Mr. Edward Lauffer was present and addressed the Commission as to the matter of the removal of bodies from the old Presbyterian cemetery, in which he considered that he and others had been unfairly treated.

Mr. Bert Gidding was also present, requesting the Commission to pay the interest on the contract for the purchase of Gravel avenue, and also the interest on the full amount of the purchase price for the two months prior to the drawing up of the contract. On action the contract interest was ordered paid, but the Commission declared their intention of imposing a penalty of five and no-100 ($5.00) dollars per day after May 24th, 1926, if the billings on the street were not removed.

The Commission then on action voted to cooperate with the township in replacing the washed out bridge on Morland avenue, with twin corrugated iron culverts sixty-six (66 ft.) feet long.

The Clerk was then authorized to advertise for a stenographer, bookkeeper and clerk to take Miss Ballen's place.

The Commission then authorized the transfer from the water fund back to the general fund of thirteen thousand one hundred twenty-two and 19/100 ($13,122.19) dollars previously loaned to the water fund. They also authorized the transfer of seven hundred sixty and no-100 ($700.00) dollars of cemetery perpetual care money to the Security Trust Company.

The G-BOY

Scores a Genuine Triumph

The enthusiastic welcome given the G-BOY, Graham Brothers new one-ton truck, has established this fact:

It is recognized at once as a real—a major—contribution to commercial haulage.

So great was the need for a light truck to transport the average load swiftly, easily, safely—yet at lower cost than ever before—that Graham Brothers newest product has scored an immediate triumph.

The revolutionary improvement in balance effected by a new system of weight distribution profoundly impresses every man who has ever had experience with the haulage problem.

The compact wheel base, ease of handling, generous body capacity, the advantages of the ever-dependable and always economical Dodge Brothers engine—all these important factors enter into the G-BOY'S marked success.

And then the price! So low that only Graham Brothers, the largest exclusive truck makers, with huge buying and building capacity, could possibly achieve it.

For the average load there is nothing like the G-BOY. We are eager to show you this latest contribution to commercial haulage.

To Clean Rifle Barrel

To remove lead from rifle barrels, if ordinary cleaning with a wooden plug and powdered pumice or finest emery are of no avail, wash the barrel well with caustic soda, then plug breach, and pour in quicksilver to cover the leaded portion. Shake well, let it stand for three or four hours, giving a good shake every half hour, then pour out the mercury, and you will find that the lead will come away on your cleaning rag. Acetic acid would do as well as the quicksilver or mercury, but is not so safe for expensive rifles, since there may be metals in the composition of the barrels that might perhaps suffer from being eaten into by the acid.

Calf Tackled Big Job

A blind ambition to eat its way through a straw stack on the farm of John Bollinger at Bowdle, S. D., nearly cost a calf its life. The calf had been missing 32 days when Bollinger heard its plaintive bawling. After finding where the calf had entered, he dug from the opposite side and finally came upon the calf, still at work on the biggest job of eating it had ever tackled. It had no water during the 32 days and when fed from the stack could hardly stagger to the barn, where a warm meal was given it.

Welcome Relief

Professor Matthews was commenting on the increasing popularity of trashy and sentimental magazines. "It is the natural result of our high-pressure mode of living," he said, and added:

"I think little Johnny summed up the situation exactly when I found him reading fairy stories one day and asked him if he liked them.

"'I'll say I do,' replied Johnny. 'There's so much that you have to believe that it's nice to read something that you don't have to.'"

Recipe for Success

Nothing ventured, nothing gained, is a saying with which all are familiar. The large majority of successful men assumed reasonable risk when they began their careers. Success results from a proper combination of brains, common sense and courage.—Grit.
