SITE HAS BEEN CHOSEN FOR PLYMOUTH'S NEW THEATRE

Woodward Theatre Co., Operated by Henry S. Koppin, Has Purchased George H. Wilcox Property Corner Union Street and Penniman Avenue.

J. A. Brown, representing the Woodward Theatre Company, operated by Henry S. Koppin of Detroit, was in Plymouth, Wednesday, and negotiated the purchase of the George H. Wilcox property at the corner of Union street and Penniman avenue, for the site of the new theatre, which that company propose to build in Plymouth, a description of which was given in last week's Mail.

The property, which was formerly known as the W. F. Markham property, is a splendid site for a building of this kind, because of a large frontage on both Union street and Penniman avenue.

Raymond Bachelord, Plymouth Reitor, negotiated the deal for the sale of the property.

Mr. Brown stated that work on the building of the new theatre, which will also contain several stores and offices, will be commenced just as soon as the architect's plans are ready.

Mr. Brown states that his company will also build a theatre in Northville.

PLYMOUTH BOYS ARE BUILDING LARGE CHURCH IN FLORIDA.

Messrs. Fred and Weber Ware, formerly of Plymouth, but just now of Tarpon Springs, Florida, are taking a ten days vacation to visit their brothers, Paul and Ralph Ware, in Plymouth. Contrary to the recent opinions of many, the boys report that prospects and conditions in Florida are as bright and promising as ever. It may be mentioned that only a few days after the arrival of these two brothers from Plymouth, nine months ago, they secured the contract for building the large new tile and stucco First Baptist church in Tarpon Springs. Construction on this has gone on uninterruptedly until now. Vacation over, the boys will immediately return to Florida to complete the work.

The approach of summer made no difference to the Ware brothers, although they do confess to a few uncomfortable warm days. While there they report the building opportunities have come to them without number. Just now they are looking forward to a new Masonic temple job soon to be under way in the same town.

An amusing situation occurred on the one day last winter when white frost appeared on the ground. Native workers on a neighboring job wanted to stay home on account of the cold, but finally built fires to warm themselves.

Fred and Weber, however, are not certain that they will remain in Florida permanently. It is possible that they will eventually return to Michigan and engage in business with their brothers. All four brothers are builders. Paul and Ralph are just completing a beautiful brick veneer house on a sixty-foot lot at the corner of Davis and West Liberty street in north village.

The club will have a booth at the fair fitted as a rest room for the use of members who tire of walking about the grounds. Telephone connections and drinking water will also be provided.

Mrs. O. D. Peck is in Battle Creek sanitarium, where she is receiving treatment.

CARL STIMPSON DIES IN AN ANN ARBOR HOSPITAL.

Plymouth citizens were shocked to learn of the death of Carl Stimpson, which occurred at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, where he had been taken last Friday suffering from blood poison in his right hand. Mr. Stimpson sustained an injury to one of the fingers on his hand while working with some wire on July 30th, and blood poisoning set in.

"Ky," as he was familiarly known, had been employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., for the past nine and one-half years, as a combination man in the plant department of the local exchange.

Being of a jovial, happy disposition, with a good word for everybody, he had a host of friends, who are sincerely grieved at his passing and by whom he will be greatly missed. The deceased was 37 years of age, and is survived by his wife and one son, together with his father, George Stimpson of this place and three brothers, Grant, of Plymouth; Earl and Reid Stimpson.

Funeral services will be held from his late home on Kellogg street Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

ACCIDENT IS FATAL TO RICHARD N. OLDS.

Richard N. Olds, 25, formerly of Dexter, was killed accidentally by an electric shock last week Monday, while working in Jackson.

Mr. Olds was born May 10, 1901, at Ishpeming. He attended University of Michigan, being graduated from the engineering college in 1923. He followed his profession in Pittsburgh, Pa., and later in Jackson. He was married September 4, 1922, to Marjorie Lyndon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lyndon of Dexter.

He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, Washenaw lodge, No. 45, F. A. & M., and Eastern Star Chapter, No. 302. He also was a second lieutenant in the officers reserve corps.

He is survived by the widow, a son, Richard, two years old; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Olds of Ishpeming; three brothers, Lester and Elvin of Chicago, and Bernard of Ishpeming, and two sisters, Jean and Marjorie, of Ishpeming.

Funeral services were held at two o'clock Thursday afternoon, August 6th, at the residence of Mrs. Olds' parents at Dexter. Rev. L. Butts of Jackson, officiated. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery, Plymouth, where Washenaw lodge, No. 45, F. & A. M., conducted the burial service.

LAST LINK OF M-16 OPENED LAST SATURDAY.

For the first time in the history of the state it is now possible to drive the entire distance across Michigan on concrete, according to Raymond Bachelord, manager of the local branch of the Detroit Automobile Club. Mr. Bachelord has just returned from a celebration at East Grand Rapids, marking the completion of this new highway from Detroit to Grand Haven.

Highway workers in the state, it is said, have been working for years trying to get the various counties together to build a single line of concrete across the state. The celebration at the junction of M-16 and M-30 marks the realization of this dream. The affair was attended by the eleven branch managers of the Detroit Automobile Club, Detroit officers and executives of that organization, members of the Wayne County Road Commission, state officials, Board of Commerce workers and others interested in road construction. It was in charge of Fred S. Pantland of Grand Rapids, and Frank Rogers of Lansing.

The gathering near East Grand Rapids was probably one of the largest congregations of road workers that has ever assembled in this state. It was freely predicted that within two years at least, two other such trunk lines would be ready for public use.

THE PLYMOUTH MERCHANTS VS. DOYLE A. C. OF DETROIT.

The Plymouth Merchants added another game to their string of victories, last Sunday, by defeating the Doyle A. C. by a score of 19 to 7. The game was loosely played by the Detroit team, their errors proving costly, and the hitting of the Merchants was good enough to defeat any team of Class A caliber. The Merchants collected 23 hits for 19 runs, while their opponents got twelve hits for 7 runs. Britcher featured at bat, getting five hits out of five times at bat, his playing at first also stood out. Ritchie also collected five hits out of five times at bat.

AGED PASTOR DIES AT HOME IN CHELSEA.

Rev. J. B. Oliver, one of the oldest pastors in the conference, died Tuesday, July 27th, following an illness of several weeks. He died at his home in Chelsea, at the age of 86 years.

Rev. Oliver had been a member of the Detroit conference for more than half a century, his last charge being the First Methodist church of Highland Park. At one time he was pastor of the Plymouth Methodist church, and while here made a great many friends, who remember him with kindest regards, and who regret the passing of so fine a character as he proved himself to be.

J. B. Oliver was born in Chatham, Ontario, May 24, 1840. In 1886, he married Grace McNeil of Corunna, Ontario, who died in 1919. In 1924, Rev. Oliver was married to Esther Reason of Chelsea, who with six children by his former marriage, survives him. They are: Mrs. Lois M. Hargard, Los Angeles, California; G. W. Oliver and Mrs. Mathilda M. Castle of Birmingham, Mich.; J. W. Oliver and Grant Oliver of Detroit; and Mrs. Grace Alwre of Groveton, Ohio.

The funeral services were held at the First Methodist church in Highland Park, on Friday, July 30.

The Waterford Community Club will hold its annual picnic at Benton Park, Thursday, August 19th. Pot-luck dinner at noon. Members and their families are cordially invited. Election of officers and collection of dues for following year will take place. Be sure and come.

WILL START WORK ON WOMEN'S PRISON.

Construction of the new women's branch of the Detroit House of Correction near Plymouth, will be commenced at once, and the branch will be completed by the end of the year. This announcement followed the approval by the Detroit City council, Tuesday night, of a contract between the commission and the W. E. Wood Company, contractors. The bid of this company, $579,750, was the lowest of three bidders.

ISLER REUNION

The annual Isler reunion was held on the banks of "Nankin Lake" August 8th, the weather being just splendid for the occasion. After an old-fashioned basket lunch, games and races were in order. The main feature was a ball game between the married men and single men, which was won by the former. A delightful time was reported by the seventy-five relatives from Royal Oak, Halfway, Detroit and Plymouth.

DOUBLE WEDDING

A double wedding party is spending part of their honeymoon in Cadillac, one couple to remain here to make their home.

The principals in the double ceremony are Mr. and Mrs. George Leutzinger and Mr. and Mrs. Seth Leutzinger. The brides were formerly Misses Fern Hall and Lura Smith. Miss Hall last year was director of music in the Cadillac Public schools, and Miss Smith was a Durand girl.

The wedding was solemnized in Lansing, August 4th, by Dr. A. W. Johnstone, who accompanied George Leutzinger to the capital city where the two brides-elect and the other groom awaited. The nuptial rites were performed in the First Presbyterian church at high noon, while the sound of the chimes of Plymouth Congregational church were pealing forth the noon-day interlude.

Mrs. George Leutzinger is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hall of Stockbridge. She made many friends while teaching in this city, and will be a welcome addition to the younger married set.

Mr. and Mrs. George Leutzinger motored up the west side of the state, after spending some time in Grand Rapids. They arrived here Friday evening, and will make their home for the present with a sister of the groom and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Beiman, 439 East Division street. Mr. Leutzinger is in business in Cadillac, having recently purchased the Cadillac Coffee Store of L. C. Schalow.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Leutzinger motored to Cadillac, where they will make a short stay before returning to Lansing, where they will make their home. Seth Leutzinger is a former resident of Cadillac.—The Cadillac Evening News.

Miss Hall was a former teacher in the Plymouth schools, and a sister of Mrs. J. B. Hubert and Mrs. Henry Baker of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cook and children, Beniah and Merle, of Willow, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Watson.

SELECT SITE FOR PLYMOUTH'S NEW COMMUNITY HOTEL

The Wiedman Property at the Corner of Ann Arbor and South Main Streets Was Chosen for New Hostelry.

The first step in the building of a new community hotel in Plymouth was accomplished last week, when the site for the building was secured. The new hostelry is to be located at the corner of South Main and Ann Arbor streets, and the property was purchased of Paul J. Wiedman. This is the site that was selected by the Hockenbury Company, Inc., hotel experts, who are to have charge of the campaign to build a new hotel here.

One of the chief reasons for the selection of this site was its location on two of the main thoroughfares leading into Plymouth, and another is its desirability for business places, and the fact that the hotel building will contain several stores. It is one of the most slightly locations for a hotel building in Plymouth, and we believe no better selection could have been made.

The property has a frontage of 110 feet on Ann Arbor street and 80 feet on South Main street.

As was stated in last week's Mail, a representative of the Hockenbury Company was in Plymouth several weeks ago, and made a survey of the hotel situation here. After interviewing a number of our citizens and a careful study of all phases of the matter, this report was submitted to the officials of the Hockenbury Company, and they in turn made such a favorable report to the local hotel committee of the Chamber of Commerce, that a contract was made with the Hockenbury Company to carry on a campaign to build a hotel in Plymouth.

Plymouth citizens are of one accord to the great need of a modern and completely equipped hotel. Plymouth is in line of a very rapid western growth from Detroit, and it is vital to the success of Plymouth in relation to this growth, that it provide at once modern and up-to-date hotel accommodations and facilities. Plymouth cannot expect to share otherwise in its proper proportion in this prosperous growth.

The Hockenbury Company has recommended that a fifty-room semi-fireproof commercial-tourist hotel be constructed, with provisions made in its construction that the building may be enlarged in the future to meet any additional needs that may arise.

Regarding the attitude of our citizens as to the needs of a modern hotel in Plymouth, we quote the following from the Hockenbury report:

"Aside from the information secured through other sources, during which many casual interviewers were involved, forty leading citizens were particularly interviewed during the survey, with reference to many phases of the proposed project. As a whole, these interviews were satisfactory. Generally speaking, they indicated a sympathetic attitude and a willingness to invest and to serve. They fortified our own opinion as to the need, profitable patronage, and ability to finance."

A representative of the Hockenbury Company will arrive in Plymouth this week, and will open an office, from which the campaign to build the new hotel will be conducted.

PERRINSVILLE SCHOOL REUNION

A reunion of the Perrinsville school will take place on the school grounds at Perrinsville, Saturday, August 21st. The attractions will be a basket picnic dinner, races of all kinds and a ball game. Everybody who ever attended the Perrinsville school and all former teachers are most cordially invited to attend this reunion and renew the acquaintances of school days.

DYE RESTAURANT CHANGES HANDS.

The Dye Restaurant on Starkweather avenue has changed hands. Messrs. Dye and Huntsinger, who have been operating the business for some time, have sold the business to George and William Read of Ypsilanti. The new proprietors are experienced restaurant men, having been in the restaurant business in Ypsilanti for some time. The Dye Restaurant has gained an enviable reputation as a splendid place to eat, and it has had a large patronage, which will be without a doubt retained by the new proprietors.

EXPRESSES THANKS TO TAXPAYERS.

George W. Richwine, village treasurer, wishes to express to the citizens and taxpayers of Plymouth his appreciation for their splendid co-operation in following his suggestion that taxes be paid when possible by check. More than 90 per cent of the taxes paid this year were paid by check, and much of it sent through the mail.

Tuesday, August 10th, was the last day on which taxes could be paid without penalty. More than $13,000 was collected on that date without delay and inconvenience to anyone.

The total amount of taxes to be collected this year, aside from water tax and miscellaneous receipts, is $91,758.51, of which $78,424.26 has been paid, leaving a balance of $13,334.25 or less than 15 per cent of the total to be collected between now and October 1st, when the tax roll must be turned over to the county treasurer.

DEHOCO VS. DETROIT INDEPENDENTS.

The Dehoco team got the jump on the Detroit Independents, when they won Sunday's game, 20 to 6, in a loosely played affair. Watson started the game for the Independents, lasting six innings being replaced by Boston, who in turn was replaced by Kelly. Rowland opposing them went the whole route for the Farmers. He was effective and allowed nine scattered hits for a total of six runs. The enemy's pitchers did not fare so well. The Farmers pounced on Watson for thirteen hits for eleven runs, and Boston fared even worse, giving eight hits for nine runs. Kelly finishing without any more scoring.

Loose playing by both teams with resulting errors, was a direct contrast to some of the fine exhibitions given by the Farmers and visiting teams.

The hitting by Eddie Denniston and the batting of Bathey by Kelly were the features that stood out to the goodly number of spectators.

Petrie starred at the bat and field for the visitors, knocking out a triple and a double, and playing errorless ball at first base.

The Philadelphia of Our Ancestors

Here is shown a section of "High Street," a reproduction of Philadelphia's famous Market street in the days of 1776. It is one of the outstanding features of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition now being held in Philadelphia to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Every building has been built to actual size and in actual architectural detail. The furnishings of each building are exact reproductions of those used in the Revolutionary days. Many of the pieces on display are the originals and today are worth thousands of dollars because of their historic value. The Exposition continues until December 1.

A SERIOUS PROBLEM

There probably never will be a time when it will be a problem what to do with the corn crop, wheat crop or our beef cattle, for there will never be a time when people can quit eating, and these things form the foundation of every meal. But we have reached the point where the cotton grower can do a little worrying, for it looks as though the race, insofar as the fair sex is concerned, is going to be able to get along with very few clothes. Already cotton stockings are becoming scarce, and more and more women and girls are going in for dresses and underwear made of other material than cotton. We are not intimating that we have made anything more than a casual long-distance inspection of the apparel worn by the fair sex of Plymouth. Please don't get us wrong there. But we see enough, and so does everybody else, to lead us to the belief that if styles change as fast in the next five years as they have in the past five, and the demand for silk and near-silk continues as great, the cotton planter is going to face a big problem. And yet, who knows but out of it all he will be forced to grow some other crop that will bring him more money?

A CHILDHOOD PERIL

The United States Department of Health is sending out a warning to parents to beware of epidemics of whooping cough during the summer months. They are urged to abandon the old belief that whooping cough is a fall and winter disease, and along with the warning figures are sent out to show that the death rate from this disease has been increasing steadily each summer for the past several years. Children are apt to develop whooping cough even in the hottest weather—a time when it is most dangerous—reads the warning. And it spreads more rapidly in summer, because more children are out in the open and where they can more easily contract it. So, along with their other worries, parents should not forget whooping cough. Guard against it in summer as well as in fall or winter—and do not overlook the fact that it is not a disease to be treated lightly, but one that shows a very high death rate all over the United States.

KEEPING BEES

We have always felt that citizens of this community not only those outside the corporate limits of Plymouth, but those residing in town as well, are overlooking something worth while when they do not put in one or more "stands" of bees. It is not hard to secure a colony of bees, and a little careful study, reading a few books devoted to bee culture, will quickly enable anyone to properly handle and care for them.

Few sweets that go on the dining table are more enjoyable than honey. Even if you had but enough bees to produce honey for your own table, it would be a good investment. But there is always a good market for this product. You can better understand this when you learn that last year almost $50,000,000 worth of honey was sold in this country and exported to other countries. Men who make bee culture a business have made comfortable fortunes at it. It requires but a small expenditure to get started, and each season finds a new colony of busy little workers, ready to occupy another "stand" alongside their birthplace, ready to devote their lives to gathering nectar, fanning it free of the moisture it contains and packing it—all ready for the market—in a place that is handy to get to when the honey harvest arrives. Fear of the bee will vanish, it is said, as soon as one learns their customs and habits, their likes and dislikes. We believe fear alone is keeping some of our citizens from engaging in bee culture, which is not only interesting but highly profitable to those willing to devote a little time and attention to it.

GOING FISHING

Along about this season of the year, the average Plymouth man begins to feel the effects of the warmer temperature. He rolls out of bed minus a good deal of the "pep" he feels when he gets up from a good night's rest in the fall and winter months, and by the time the sun climbs to the center of the sky and sheds its warm rays straight down he feels the temptation to yawn, to lessen his speed in working and walking—be sort of wishes he had a good excuse to go fishing.

Man, you don't need any excuse—just pick up and go. The fact that you are some day going to be where you won't be able to fish is excuse enough for doing a little of it now. President Coolidge once he couldn't see anything to it, and yet since he caught a fish a few weeks ago, they can't get him up as early in the morning as he would like to get up—just to go fishing. It isn't the fish a fellow catches that does him the most good; it is the fact that he is, while he is fishing, at peace with the world and himself. Fishing brings a fullness of heart and a quiet, peaceful joy of living that no other outdoor sport can produce. It is restful—and that is what the average man needs for both body and mind along about this time of the year.

Don't wait for an excuse to turn up—take a day off and go fishing now. You'll be worth twice as much to yourself and your community tomorrow. You may not catch any fish—but that doesn't make much difference. You'll get the rest—and rest is often far better than medicine.

MUNICIPAL NOTES
BY THE MANAGER

A six-inch water main has been laid on Brush street from Forest avenue to Herald street. Another is replacing the old small line on Elizabeth street, and a third is being laid on Auburn street north from Penniman avenue.

The county has opened the new pavement on the Plymouth-Northville road from Northville to the Phoenix road. The road commission and their engineers and construction crews are certainly to be congratulated on this wonderfully smooth concrete.

The courtesy of the Wayne County Road Commission in concreting the triangle in front of the hotel on Main street, and the small area across the road free of charge is much appreciated. This corner will be vastly improved by the widening.

Wednesday the big county mixer started its march down the east half of Main street, below Ann Arbor. The steam shovel and our village crews are hurrying to clean up the excavation and catch basin work ahead of the mixer.

A large amount of dirt from the South Main street excavation has been put along the south side of the Plymouth road, where the village will shortly build a sidewalk.

for a happy Vacation

Safe Money

First National Bank

Travelers Cheques

supply both

The carrying of loose money in your pocket is a temptation to criminals and a danger to yourself. Lost or stolen money is rarely recovered.

American Express Travelers Cheques are known everywhere. They are accepted as cash at ticket offices, hotels, resorts, banks, garages, etc.—practically everywhere. About the size of a dollar bill, sky-blue in color, they are easy to get—convenient to carry. They come in $10, $20, $50 and $100 denominations; and they cost only 75 cents per $100—a mere "tip," but a tip that gives you peace of mind wherever you go.

You simply sign your name in one corner when you buy them. When you spend them you sign your name a second time, in the presence of the acceptor. The agreement of your two signatures is your identification. If these Cheques are lost or stolen you get their value back.

Everyone should carry them on every trip. They are especially desirable for vacationists, motorists and women traveling alone with children. They are absolutely necessary for a really happy vacation.

Home Owner Leader in Community Life

How the ownership of a home has become the best way known to obtain a full enjoyment of the many comforts and conveniences offered by modern civilization, was discussed recently at a meeting of real estate men at Detroit. Among opinions expressed was the following:

"Both urban and suburban life offers finer attractions than in older times. Cities are ceaselessly spreading out and absorbing adjacent districts, giving city life and city conveniences to ever-widening areas. The services and sanitary benefits modern communities provide to home owners are vastly more than in former periods. The many devices now incorporated in the construction of homes, such as heat and electric refrigeration, insure greater comforts. "Yet, even long before the home was much more than a primitive shelter, land had acquired such a value as to bring about the long era of its control by the rich and noble. Long before America instituted its liberal methods of functioning, ownership of land gave the right to vote and was the sign of the freeman. "Only the home-owner can today feel himself a true part of the progress of his locality because, in all forms of social advancement, community life always has been the leader."

House Not Real Home Without Its Setting

Those who include a bit of the outdoors in their premises come closest to making their homes ideal. Too many builders ignore this feature of the home, erecting great, expensive houses on small lots which afford no possibility of proper treatment.

Every house should have grounds surrounding it, and they should correspond in extent to the size of the house, for the grounds are the setting of the house. Often a new house has a bare, forbidding appearance when the workmen left it complete and perfect in every detail, but a lawn and a few well-chosen and properly placed trees and shrubs change the entire effect and give the place an attractive and inviting aspect.

The setting must be thought of constantly. It must be in mind when choosing the lot, planning the house and in deciding what part of the lot the house will be on. A fine old tree and wild bush are valuable assets. They should be preserved and they add beauty and comfort to the house.

Duties of Civic Bodies

Through our civic bodies and local governments we should assure protection for residential districts from wanton intrusion by means of sane, comprehensive city planning and good zoning ordinances, playgrounds within easy walking distance of children in closely built districts, parks for breathing spaces, safety on the streets, and effective public health measures. Well-drawn and enforced housing laws requiring light, air, privacy, and sanitary facilities can do much to prevent the growth of slums.

High standards of business dealing among those who build and sell houses, and adequate, reasonable financing for home seekers, also help to advance home ownership. The services of public utilities may be extended over a great number of homes by sound policies worked out in friendly co-operation with local officials.—Herbert Hoover.

City and Town "Homes"

He who feels that nature has included him "in her program," must also feel that he is part—insignificant it may be—of the cosmic process. Stability and "rootedness" in a life clothe it with a dignity that it can hardly have without those qualities. The old Aeneas myth is everlastingly true. The dwellers in great cities seem for the most part to be content, and yet many of them must be conscious of missing something, though they may not know what it is, which is perhaps just as well. There are, of course, homes, and real ones, in the cities, even in the big ones. But conditions certainly are not favorable to their creation and maintenance.

Watch for Deterioration

The man who raises an awful "howl" if he thinks he is being "done" out of a little money, often does not realize that necessary repairs on his property may soon cause him really big losses. There is only one way to eliminate these expensive repairs, and that is to keep your property protected through painting before repairs are necessary. Property should be regularly inspected. Paint should be applied to all places that appear worn and not delayed until the appearance of rust or decay when repairs become unavoidable.

Keep Up Property

Keep your property well painted and you will have mighty few repair bills. Paint is far cheaper than new wood or metal replacements. Watch the less obvious vulnerable points, such as roof, eaves and down spouts, porch columns, etc. The trim is usually the first to suffer.—Exchange.

Find the cause for every wrinkle in the average man's face, and you'll find it was put there through worrying over something that worry couldn't prevent.

Brick's Lasting Qualities

In a building it is not possible to have real beauty without strength. The eye cannot be thoroughly satisfied if in the mind lurks the consciousness that the architect's creation is to be vanquished in the battle with time. Time is powerless to mar the beauty of or to sap the strength of brick. Generations may come and go, but the sturdy brick walls of the homestead stay on. Brick may reach a venerable old age—it never reached the state of decrepitude. Brick comes from the bosom of Mother Earth, in the form of plastic clay; it is hardened by the most powerful agency known in the world—fire—and is proof against the further attacks of fire; it defies wind and rain; it is as enduring as earth itself.

Color Scheme Important

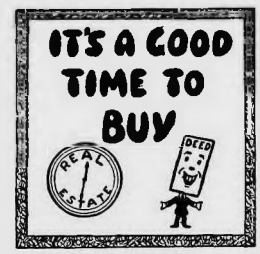

When we decide on a color scheme, we face a problem that seems to get larger the longer we look at it. It has so many phases and considerations, it is dependent on so many things, that it may be that the owner does well to make an arbitrary selection and to take a chance on results.

The safest and surest selections will be those that are expected; the colors that long experience and habit have associated with certain forms and outlines and masses. Being a conservative people, we hate to be startled; we do not like to do things that will attract attention and advertise criticism; unless we have an absolutely sure color judgment, we will be happiest when we are conventional.

Competition Worth While

Frequently a philanthropic and public-minded citizen of means will himself provide all the required prizes for such a campaign as a "home-beautiful competition."

Consider what such a competition will do for a town, even if conducted but for a single season; it will leave its impress on the community for years. But once staged and carried to a successful conclusion, it is more than likely the interest will prove so great that it will develop into a permanent annual feature of the community life, gaining momentum and increasing in size, as does a snowball rolling down a hill.—Philadelphia Ledger.

WASHTENAW COUNTY FAIR NOTES.

State to Place Exhibit at Fair, Department of Conservation to Show Deer, Fish and Bear in Washtenaw.

Washtenaw County Fair patrons are assured interesting, entertaining and educational displays in the poultry building and ravine in the nature of State Department of Conservation displays. These displays have many special features, including four fawn, cub bear and extensive aquarial exhibits of numerous species of Michigan game fish. In addition the state department is furnishing an exhibition of furs typifying predatory animal control and displays showing methods of game protection, fire control and reforestation. This exhibit was obtained for Washtenaw County Fair by Commissioner George W. Millen of Ann Arbor.

Expansion Program for 1926 Nears Completion

The completion of the new sheep barn and grandstand and the installation of much-needed high tension light and power system throughout the grounds; new fence along south and west sides; improved roads and track and erection of dining room and dance floor, which is well underway, will, when finished, round out Washtenaw County Fair's greatest expansion year since location on the new Jackson avenue grounds.

Improved and extensive exhibitions in each of the sixteen departments of the fair are assured and indications point to five great days and nights of pleasure, education and entertainment, August 31 to September 4th.

Base Ball Tournament Arranged

Representatives of eight base ball teams from various parts of Washtenaw county met at the Fair office recently and arranged for a tournament at the 1926 Fair. Each team gave a list of players it will use; posted forfeit of fifty dollars for appearance and drew number for its opponent. The eight teams are Salem, Worden, Dexter, Unadilla, Liberty street (Ann Arbor), Saline, Manchester and D. Malloy of Ypsilanti, winners of tournament at 1925 Fair. The drawing for opponents, which aroused keen interest, resulted as follows:

Salem drew Dexter and will play the first game at 1:30, Tuesday, August 31st.

Worden drew Unadilla, and will play second game at 3:30, Tuesday, August 31st.

Manchester and Ann Arbor will play at 10:00, Wednesday; September 1st.

Saline and Ypsilanti will furnish the entertainment at 3:30, Wednesday afternoon.

Tuesday's winners will play Thursday; Wednesday's winners will play Friday, and Thursday and Friday's winners will play Saturday for county championship and Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce trophy.

The diamond is in excellent condition. New dressing rooms have been built under the grandstand. Harold Guy of Milan, will umpire, and all indications point to an interesting tournament throughout.

COLLEGE COLTS TO BE SHOWN AT FAIR

M. S. C. to Enter Offspring of Champions of Previous Years in Percheron and Belgian Classes.

New members of the M. S. C. show string will feature this year in the college horse exhibit to be entered at the Michigan State Fair at Detroit, September 5 to 11, in a large exhibit of both Percheron and Belgians. R. S. Hudson, superintendent of farms, at the college expects to enter fourteen head of horses.

Among the entries in the Belgian group will be four yearlings, two stallions and two mares, sired by Treviso. Treviso was sired by the famous stallion Dragon and was Grand Champion at the Ohio State Fair in 1923.

Others to be shown in the Belgian class are the grand champion mare, Leila, with her filly foal; Utelem, junior champion at the International Live Stock Show at Chicago, last year; and a yearling colt from Marie, who was one of the group of three mares shown at Chicago last which won in the class for the three best mares.

The exhibit of Belgians will be made up largely of daughters of Range Line Phoenix, a stallion of unusual size that was twice reserve champion at Chicago.

Perveche, a famous individual with the best record among the college horses, will again be shown this year with her second foal. At the age of four years, Perveche had to her credit, seventeen championships and sixteen first premiums. She was grand champion at Chicago two years in succession, as well as at several state fairs, and last year won the mare and foal class at both Ohio and Michigan State Fairs.

Of especial interest will be two beautiful sorrels, half sisters of Perveche. One of them resembles Perveche very closely.

At the head of the Belgian show string will be John Dubois II, sired by the famous stallion John Dubois. This three-year-old stallion was purchased recently to take the place of Range Line Phoenix, transferred to the upper peninsula at Chatham station in the spring.

PERRINSVILLE
Rev. Havens preached to about thirty, last Sunday evening, his text being from St. John 4:28.

The brick school will hold their annual reunion August 21st. There will be races and a program in the afternoon. Come old friends and scholars and have a happy time together. Don't forget the date, August 21st.

A very good time was had at the union picnic Saturday at River Rouge.

Friends of this community surely sympathize with Mrs. Frank Outhwaite in her sickness, and hope for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. Belle Baehr called at Mrs. Lila Couzens, Saturday, finding quite a lot of old friends gathered there.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hanchett and Grandpa Hanchett started for New York state, last week Thursday.

Howard Baehr and Leo Brady motored to Onaway, last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holmes and family attended church here, Sunday evening.

About sixty-eight old friends and Glomers surprised Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Woods, who live near Chelsea, last Sunday. They had a picnic dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bills and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Raymo and Mrs. Emma Bills of Wayne, called at Mr. and Mrs. George Baehr's, last Sunday.

Why I'm going to the Greater MICHIGAN STATE FAIR

HOW FAIRS GOT STARTED.
The other day I got curious about fairs, so I got reading about them. Fairs are pretty old. Princes and magistrates used to encourage fairs in Europe so people could trade goods at them. Doneybrook Fair was started by King John in 1204. The first agricultural fair in this country was started by Elkanah Watson, of Albany, New York, in 1819. The Michigan State Fair was founded in 1839 at Detroit. It moved later to Adrian, then to Lansing, and then back to Detroit again. Its primary purpose is educational. You can learn a lot at the State Fair. You can get a picture of what the farmers of the state are accomplishing and a lot of new ideas and inspiration for the coming year. That's why I'm going to it in September.

PROGRESS OF THE GREATER MICHIGAN STATE FAIR
The Agricultural Fair is the predominant type of fair in this country. The Greater Michigan State Fair is primarily a Farmer's Fair but it is of equal interest to the city man. Every citizen of Michigan who takes pride in his own state should know something about its agricultural prosperity, its rich soil and resources, and vast future potential. The throngs who attend the Fair in September will learn a great deal about their state as well as enjoy a most good time.

ROUGH & READY VS. DETROIT K. OF P., NO. 55.

Rough & Ready defeated Detroit K. of P., No. 55, Sunday afternoon. Features of the game were Pitcher George Johnson and Center Fielder Roy Clement. Johnson getting 17 strike outs to his credit; Clement getting 4 safe blows out of five times up, including two two-baggers and a triple. Umpire Dan McKinney did some fancy nose diving in the fourth inning, getting out of the way of Clement's hot drive.

Next Sunday afternoon, August 15, at 2:30 Rough & Ready will play Barton Plumber Class A team, Detroit, at Rough & Ready. Everybody come and bring your friends.

Porto Rico University

Plans Important Work

The University of Porto Rico has the unique distinction of being bilingual, that is, since its students are to a great extent natives of the island of Porto Rico (now under the United States flag and Constitution), they receive instruction during the earlier courses in Spanish, but are given the concluding class work in English.

The university was established in 1903 on similar lines to any of our state universities, the island territory paying for its support by taxes. It has a college of education, a college of agriculture and mechanic arts, a college of law and a college of pharmacy; and recently it has decided to establish a post-graduate medical school for the particular study of tropical diseases.

Within the last few years the university has increased its activities and is equipping itself for two important functions. It plans to offer courses that will attract from continental United States students who wish an experience of a semester or even more in a tropical country, returning North with profit from this environment which in every respect except that it is tropical will be equal to the same length of time nearer home, and to attract students from Spanish-American countries—Venezuela, Colombia, Panama, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico, etc.—who will find in Porto Rico a university, study in which, partly in their own language, will serve as a stepping stone to prepare them, if they so desire, for admission into the older and more technical schools of the North.

The progress of this high-class university of Porto Rico should be followed with interest, and success for its future encouraged by every practical means.

Tale of a Dog

It took a collie dog which had been left at Cherokee, Iowa, 19 months to locate its master, who had moved away, but the animal finally accomplished the feat when it appeared at the home of Walter Lantsberger, a farmer living south of Watertown, S. D., says the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader.

Its master is Frank Howard, who 19 months ago came to this part of the state. A short time after Howard left Cherokee the dog became dissatisfied and started out to search for its master. How much territory the dog covered in its search and just how it happened to find Howard in this part of the country will, of course, never be known.

The dog was picked up near the Lantsberger farm as a stray and taken to the house, where it instantly recognized Howard and went into ecstasies of delight when his name, Mack, was spoken by his old master.

Steel Houses in England

In England modest houses all of steel are meeting the needs of workmen of small means. And now, in recent months, steel barns and steel bungalows have been making their appearance in increasing numbers in the United States, according to Popular Science Monthly. In Tarrytown, N. Y., for example, there has just been completed a novel dwelling in which the entire framework is formed of "metal lumber" riveted in the shop, transported to the site and there bolted together. The builders say that any person who knows how to use a monkey wrench, plumb line and carpenter's square can easily erect the frame for the house by following the plans.

Fat Real-Estate Deal

An example of increasing real-estate values is supplied by M. Menier, the French chocolate magnate, in his recent sale for $16,000,000 of the island of Anticosta, in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. He announced he would make a substantial contribution to the French exchequer to bolster the falling franc. Half a century ago he bought the island for only $100,000. Even at the present price the island goes fairly cheap, says the Manchester Guardian, for it is 140 miles long and 35 miles wide at its broadest part. M. Menier's profit hardly can be termed unearned, since he has built roads and railways, established a deep-sea port and developed the mines and fisheries.

Autos Hurt Railways

Passenger revenues of New Zealand railways are said to be much affected by the competition of privately owned motor services operating on parallel routes. In the neighborhood of Wellington alone some 30 cars are operating on routes from 15 to 125 miles in length, the main service being from Wellington to Wangarei. Ostensibly catering for intertown traffic, it actually does a little more than one-fifth interior traffic as against four-fifths through traffic. The quicker service and cheaper rates charged, added to the fact that connections with other bus lines are conveniently made, have diverted traffic from the railways.

Painful Memory

"One of my most bitter recollections," related J. Fuller Gloom, "was when, as a young fellow, I was rude and impertinent to a man much older than myself. I talked back to him and otherwise acted smart until he picked up a club and whacked me on the head with it, knocking me flat. Afterwards he kicked me soundly. The remembrance of the incident always comes up to take all the joy out of bright remarks at the expense of other people whenever I am tempted to utter them."—Exchange.

Flashlight Caught Thief
When E. R. Brown, an electrician of Fort Worth, Texas, found that small sums were constantly missing from his safe, he did a little amateur sleuthing. In a day or two after he began he showed the police a photograph of one of his employees rifling the safe. The picture had been taken by flashlight through means of a homemade electrical device.

Smart New Rumble Seat For Sport Roadster

Rumble seats are justly popular. They add a smart, rakish touch to roadster lines, and increase the carrying capacity by two passengers.

That Dodge Brothers Sport Roadster now provides this convenience, will be welcome news to thousands.

Like the main seat, it is deeply upholstered in gray Spanish genuine leather, and the seat back is high and well padded, providing unusual comfort. When closed, the rear compartment is absolutely waterproof, even in rainiest weather.

Ample space is provided behind the main seat for golf clubs, suit cases, tennis rackets and similar luggage.

Brilliant pheasant green lacquer body and hood, strikingly in contrast with the tan top, black fenders and full special equipment, complete a general color scheme of exceptional dash and charm.

Today's Reflections

The old days were those in which the Plymouth man who happened to get a little too much liquor didn't have to take a friend along to identify him at his own front door.

The only things worth while that ever turned up are those things you turn up with your own efforts.

No Plymouth man who ever tried to get a big meal in a little kitchen on a hot day ever blamed his wife for using a can opener.

Since there is as much sickness among old married people as there is among boys and girls, how can you blame it on kissing?

Any Plymouth married man can tell you that before he was married he hated it if his socks wrinkled at the ankles, but after he got married he didn't care if they didn't have either heels or toes.

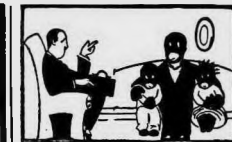

Money is talking as loud as it ever did, but its lists of speaking acquaintances seems to be growing smaller.

A woman can be narrow-minded and still have a hard time squeezing into a Morris chair when she sits down.

We heard a Plymouth woman say recently that moths are no more plentiful than they used to be, but that with present styles it only takes one moth to eat up a whole dress.

One-half of the world owes money that it can't pay, and the other half has money that it can't collect.

A Plymouth man never realizes what a big boob he is until he goes into a big city store with his wife on a shopping tour, and the first place she stops is the underwear department.

"Have you taken every precaution against the spread of contagion," asked the doctor, visiting the colored family.

"We suah have, doctor," chorused the family. "We've bought a sanitary cup and we all drink from it."

Take every precaution against the spread of fire . . . but don't stop there. Get sound insurance protection from this agency of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

UNUSUAL GIFTS TO CHARITY ON RECORD

Officials Never Surprised by Freak Donations.

Strange freaks and remarkable institutions are often the result of charity "running wild."

For instance the general hospital of a town in England some time ago received by registered mail the sum of $2,500. The following day seven trucks of furniture, much of it absolutely new, and including four pianos, appeared at the main entrance, sent presumably by the donor of the previous day. And then to puzzle the officials completely there arrived 100 paintings, some quite valuable, with the stipulation from the donor that certain designated ones should be hung permanently in the reception room of the hospital. This request was complied with.

On the day the pictures arrived, another charity organization in the neighborhood received four loads of furniture and three ricks of hay.

No many years ago a pious woman living in the south of England directed in her will that a certain tree on her estate should not be cut down until the Jews returned to Palestine. This strange circumstance, becoming known in the district, so impressed an elderly man of independent means that he left his entire fortune to found a society for the purpose.

Secretaries of great charities have many an interesting tale to tell. The national lifeboat institution once had a curious bequest. A woman left the residue of her estate, about $2,000, to the institution, but payable only on the death of her favorite pet, a cat. For a year the animal showed no signs of departing this life, until its caretaker suddenly changed her residence. Tabby immediately went absent without official leave, and, after much searching for, was recovered. But only temporarily; she disappeared almost immediately afterward, and this time for good.

Several months later the attorney for the deceased woman's estate paid over the $2,000 on condition that should the cat be recovered a home would be provided by the management committee. The latter promised to do this, even to taking care of any additional family Tabby might bring back with her.

Another story relates to a gentleman who walked into the office of a charitable organization one day and asked various questions concerning what was being accomplished. Finally he said, "Do you need any money?" The secretary answered, "We never refuse any." And thereupon the visitor placed notes to the value of $5,000 on the table and walked away.

But there are other sides to the stories of charity. Hardly a day goes by but "outside" requests are received for help. The majority are in the form of letters sent through the mail, some individual solicitations. One writer asked the loan of $150, adding a postscript to the letter, "You can keep $25 of this for your hospital."

Others send gifts through the mail for various reasons. One, a fisherman, sent $10, with the explanation that while out fishing he had made a vow that if he caught any within ten minutes (he had spent seven hours without any luck) he would give to charity.

And one old lady wrote to one of the most famous hospitals in the world, offering a gift of $100 if they would alter its name to that of her husband!

Women Work on Holiday

A woman inspector studied how a hundred French workwomen took advantage of their "English week," which means not working on Saturday afternoon, a recent importation from England, and found that 90 spent the afternoon in work and four in amusement. Most of them did their Saturday shopping on the way home. There they occupied themselves with their washing, if they lived alone or helped their mothers if they lived in family. Others earned a little extra money by working for their neighbors.

Another report on women's work in Paris by an inspectress of the ministry of labor said that there has been an enormous improvement in conditions since the war.

Right Up to Date

They've a story going the rounds in London concerning a British tourist who journeyed from Cairo to the Pyramids. Fired by romantic tales, he felt sure he had reached the land where criss-occidental life is unknown and nothing savoring of western "civilization" would be allowed to disturb the Arabian Nights' atmosphere.

When he reached the Pyramids and was hoisted to a camel by an exceedingly picturesque Arab, he quivered with delight. But he had a rude awakening.

"What's your camel's name?" he asked the Arab. "Mary Pickford," was the answer.—New York Morning Telegraph.

Paris Losing Population

Since 1921 the population of Paris has decreased by twenty-five thousand, or at the rate of about five thousand per annum. This loss is accounted for by the movement of people into the surrounding country. Nevertheless the housing shortage is as serious as ever, because, to quote Le Progrès Orléans, "the Parisians have been driven out by banks, shops, cinemas and music halls, which are occupying the buildings where they formerly resided.—Living Age.

Tomorrow is the day that the thing you didn't put off today will begin to sprout.

In spite of his ninety years, Uncle Joe Cannon goes to his law office every day. Maybe that's how he got to be ninety years old.

Picked Up About Town

One trouble about taking a vacation at the north pole is you can't bring back anything for souvenirs but frost-bitten feet.

"The main drawback about business," says Dad Plymouth, "is that it takes so much time that could otherwise be spent in fishing."

"Files," says Dad Plymouth, "never seem to know when to take a nap—and neither do they seem to know when a fellow is trying to take one."

Some people will not believe that money talks until they have heard it say, "Farewell."

A woman can paint her face and be decent, but a man can't get his nose painted without having to do a lot of explaining.

Dad Plymouth says the best way for a man to enjoy a watermelon is to be about fifteen years old and steal it.

Young America can now be said to be burning a lot of midnight oil—and also a lot of midnight gasoline.

When you see a man kicking a stray dog, you can bet he is the kind of fellow whose wife and children hate to see come home at night.

TABLE UTENSILS OF PAPER FIND FAVOR

Satisfactory and Save Household Drudgery.

We use paper napkins on many formal occasions without offering the apologies for them which not long ago were considered necessary whenever they were spread out in the presence of guests. Home-makers are slow to acknowledge that a new form may be good form and particularly so, perhaps, when the change seems to imply a laziness on their part or a lack of readiness to take a great deal of trouble for friends, a writer in the Christian Science Monitor sagely remarks. Are not all visitors, however, made uncomfortable by the knowledge that they are increasing the drudgery of those who are entertaining them, and is not conversation more spontaneous and mirth more free in the servantless house when there is very little implication of special labor in the form of entertainment?

The writer was present not long ago at a studio luncheon served on paper plates. They were square sectional plates and were fitted into metal supporting trays so that the weight of meat, vegetables and relishes caused no sagging when they were brought in and removed. The paper is nonabsorbent; gravies, sauces and juices behaved with absolute decorum, nor did the edge of the knife cut into this porcelain-finished paper any more than it would do into actual china.

After the meal the hostess threw away the plates. The supporting trays did not need even wiping, for the paper is impervious. No aftermath of unpleasant occupations dulled for her the pleasures of hospitality.

When there are no guests, in the ordinary routine of daily life, these plates are emancipators. The housekeeper is free almost at once after a meal for whatever the succeeding hours offer. In a very busy household where the acquisition of a little extra time really matters, that time being a contribution to important affairs, it seems almost a duty, if it offends no one in the home, to sacrifice day in and day out the luxury of pretty china and to give the time saved to service.

Veterans at the Top

Age for counsel, youth for action, is often quoted as the right combination. Manifestly our largest industrial companies thoroughly believe in age for counsel. It is rare for any director to be selected under fifty. The telephone company president is, as already told, only forty-one. General Electric's president, Gerard Swope, is fifty-three, but James A. Farrell, the Steel president, is sixty-three. The average age of these three is about nine years less than the average age of the directors. Even so, it is unusual rather than usual for a young man to be elected head of any huge organization, the popular notion to the contrary notwithstanding. Young Gifford really is a shining exception.

Plan and pioneer and plot and all the rest of it, but have patience. This is often called the day of young men, but it is not the day of young men at the very top.—E. C. Forbes in Forbes Magazine.

Fingerprint Setback

Trust in fingerprints as an effective means of identification has had a bad setback. A case has arisen in connection with two prisoners in New York whose fingerprints could not be classified under the Bertillon system—because they were bricklayers. The identifying ridges had been worn off during the exercise of their occupation. If this group of those who could not be identified embraced only bricklayers, the situation might not be without hope. But anyone could get himself a brick; even sundowner might serve the purpose. Those who hoped that fingerprinting the whole world would bring about something like a millennium in which no man, woman or child could escape the responsibilities of being who and what he happened to be will have to give a thought to the experience of the New York authorities with these bricklayers.

His Plunder

"As I have come along the pathway of life," philosophically remarked old Festus Pester, "I have picked up beside the track certain pellets of pessimism that sound as if they were of importance. I have learned that a good friend and a good photograph both flatter, that some people are as anxious to save the leeches as if he were a souvenir, and that the average self-made man is like most of the rest of the amateur performances. I have discovered that, although the quality of mercy is not strained, there is no necessity of building it. I have also found out that while these truths appear to be important I know of no way in which I can dispose of them to pecuniary advantage."—Kansas City Star.

Islands Ruled by Whites

The eastern half of the island of New Guinea, with a number of neighboring islands, are attached to Australia, partly under mandate of the League of Nations. New Zealand holds mandate for western Samoa and Nauru Island. South Sea islands under British rule include Fiji, Tonga, Phoenix, Gilbert and Ellice groups, part of the Solomon Islands, and a scattering of others of less importance. The New Hebrides group is under the joint administration of French and English officials.

THE THEATRE

"JOANNA"

He would have been a very unusual young man, indeed, according to present day standards, who would refuse to marry a beautiful girl because she was suddenly endowed with a mysterious million dollars.

But just such a rare young man presents himself in "Joanna," an Edwin Carewe First National production, which comes to the Pennington Allen theatre, Saturday, August 14th. Jack Myhall, impersonating the part of an ambitious young architect, breaks his engagement with Joanna, a gorgeous dress model, played by Dorothy Mackaill, when she refuses to reject a million dollar bequest given her by an incognito donor. And he keeps the engagement broken until she spends all her money.

"RANSON'S FOLLY"

One of the most interesting and picturesque phases of our national military history, namely life at a western army outpost during the Indian wars, is given vivid portrayal on the screen in Richard Barthelmess' new picture, "Ranson's Folly," which comes next Sunday and Monday, August 15 and 16, to the Pennington Allen theatre here.

"Ranson's Folly" is based on the celebrated novel by Richard Harding Davis. Dorothy Mackaill plays opposite the star.

Fort Crockett in the picture is represented as a United States cavalry post in 1885—the period which Frederick Remington made immortal with his highly colored drawings of Indian and army life. It was constructed in the San Fernando Valley on a desert plain fringed by the glowing Santa Barbara mountains. There were twelve buildings used in this scene, including soldiers' barracks, officers' quarters, the post hall and post hospital, etc., with Indian teepees on the outskirts and a horse corral.

The parade ground was three hundred feet long and permitted maneuvers of an entire cavalry troop in the main scene. A troop of experienced ex-cavalrymen was formed for the production, in command of Colonel C. C. Smith, famous Indian fighter, who plays the role of Colonel Holland in "Ranson's Folly." Colonel George L. Byrum, who also won his spurs warring against the Indians, was engaged as technical and military adviser.

During production, the set presented a colorful scene with mounted troopers in colorful uniforms. Indians with their squaws and papooses, six mule teams, trains of pack mules coming in from the hills and bucking bronchos in the corral. This life and color Director Sidney Oleott transplanted to the screen in "Ranson's Folly," with his usual deftness, and the result is a picture which every red-blooded and patriotic American will enjoy to the full.

Richard Barthelmess, who plays the role of Lieutenant Ranson, is supported by an unusually clever and well-chosen cast. Dorothy Mackaill plays opposite the star. Others in the cast include Anders Randolf, Pat Hartigan, William Norton Bailey, Brooks Benedict, Vera Burnet, Colonel C. C. Smith, Pauline Neff, Billie Benedict, Frank Coffey, Taylor Duncan, Chief Big Tree and Chief Eagle Wing.

"MONEY TALKS"

A man can impersonate a woman better than a woman can a man.

This is generally accepted as a truth, but Owen Moore, who is impersonating a woman for the first time in "Money Talks," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, which comes on Wednesday, August 18th, to the Pennington Allen theatre, has just discovered why this is a fact, especially on the speaking stage.

"Man's masculinity and virility is not a pose," says Moore, "but it is much easier for a man to lose these qualities than it is for a woman to gain them. Try as she will she can never walk like a man. She looks as if she is strutting, and her gestures are always exaggerated, overdone. When a woman tries to assume the deep voice of a man it sounds as if she has tonsillitis.

"On the other hand, a man can take short mincing steps, and with the aid of high heels and small shoes walk as uncomfortably as a woman. A man can also make use of his falsetto voice, and usually with great success.

"Even if a man does not give a good impression, there is something ludicrously funny about it, while a woman dressed up like a man looks as if she is just trying on another costume."

Moore is said to have given one of the most amusing female impersonations ever filmed, in "Money Talks," as "Dr. Murray," a famous woman surgeon. Claire Windsor plays opposite him, and the cast includes Bert Roach, Ned Sparks, Phillips Smalley, Dot Farley, George Kuwa and Kathleen Key.

At J. Lapham, one of Plymouth's oldest business men, has been confined to his bed for the past ten weeks. Mr. Lapham is nearly eighty-five years of age. His condition is such that he is very comfortable, and he enjoys visiting with his relatives and friends.

For luncheon on Monday, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Stringer entertained Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Knowlton and sons, Jack, Dave and Mart, also Mrs. Sarah Gelkie and son, Douglas, of Ann Arbor. Directly after luncheon the Knowlton's left by motor for their home in Birmingham Alabama. The ladies are Mr. Stringer's nieces.

The office building on Starkweather avenue, which has been occupied by Lott & Murphy as a real estate office, has been purchased by S. J. Winters, and is being moved to a lot owned by Mr. Winters at the corner of Liberty and Davis streets, where he will remodel it into a dwelling house. We understand that Detroit parties will build several stores on the Starkweather avenue site, made vacant by the removal of the office building.

Mrs. M. S. Stringer's brother, Rev. Henry Clay Miller and wife, Dr. Lucille Carr Miller of Aurora, Illinois, have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stringer since Monday evening. Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Miller, the hostess entertained at luncheon last Wednesday. Covers were laid for fourteen. Guests were present from Belleville, Ann Arbor and Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Miller left by motor Thursday morning, to visit relatives in Detroit.

SPORTSMANSHIP

We will have to hand it to R. E. Woodworth as a champion demonstrator of sportmanship. A short time ago at Pleasant Lake, he was demonstrating how to cast. He was standing on the shore, but failed to notice a tent guy rope. His line caught on this and his choicest bait broke loose and flew into the lake. A moment later he was showing a friend how it happened, and his casting rod came apart near the handle, and followed his bait into the deep.

Last Sunday, at Silver Lake, he decided to take a canoe ride. He was duly cautioned, but stated it was not the first time he had ridden in a canoe. It was not destined to be the last time either. All dressed up in his Sunday clothes, preparatory to a week's trip in Chicago, he stepped boldly into the canoe, but it slid from under him as though it was greased, and our genial storekeeper was precipitated headlong into the water. As we go to press, his friends are still laughing.

WHY IS CREDIT EXTENDED?

A great many people are under the impression that the Credit Bureau members who extend credit, find it necessary to do so in order to draw business.

This is a fallacy, proven by the fact that our biggest firms who give credit also do a large cash business. It is not necessary to do business on credit in the retail and professional lines to succeed—the business and professional men extend credit to some because they have implicit faith in their honesty and ability to pay when the bills come due. It is a superior service they extend to the person of integrity. And because they do give you this service, they are justly entitled to a settlement on the due date. Isn't that only fair?

The first of the month is the recognized due date for all bills of the preceding month, with privilege of payment by the tenth. It is up to you to show the creditor your appreciation for the credit service they extend by paying all bills promptly.

Over 4,000 cards at the Credit Bureau acquaint the members with your credit standing, keep the record on your card a creditable one.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Announcement is made this week of a business transfer, whereby Perry Woodworth takes charge of the billiard room and barber shop, formerly operated by T. P. Sherman on Main street. It is the intention of Mr. Woodworth to immediately redecorate and revise the interior of the billiard room to create a more congenial environment. A buffet lunch will be added in the rear of the room. The barber shop in connection, which has been under Mr. Sherman's direct charge, is now being operated by AL Knight, well known in Plymouth.
