PLYMOUTH'S COMMUNITY HOTEL CAMPAIGN NOW UNDER WAY

Organization of 125 Plymouth Business Men Now Being Formed.

After several months of discussion and deliberation regarding the financing of a new and thoroughly modern hotel for Plymouth, the Hotel Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is prepared to announce that the Community Campaign for carrying through the project is now started.

A joint meeting was called last Monday night consisting of the personnel of the Chamber of Commerce Hotel Committee, and the former Hotel Committee. These gentlemen met with the representative of The Hockenbury System, Inc., Mr. Bryant C. Morris, who is to manage the campaign which will result in a splendid 50-room modern hotel for Plymouth.

At this meeting the survey made by The Hockenbury System, Inc., a few weeks ago was reviewed briefly by Mr. Morris, placing special emphasis on the three main points in this survey, namely: the need for a small yet thoroughly modern hotel for Plymouth; the fact that Plymouth is prosperous and progressive and has the money to put into a good local business investment such as a new hotel affords; and last but not least, that practically 100% of Plymouth's citizens who have expressed themselves thus far on the proposition have been strong in their desire to see this new hotel in Plymouth and are willing to join in whole heartedly and put the project across.

Plymouth's One Opportunity to Get Modern Hotel.

The next few weeks will decide whether or not Plymouth will have a modern hotel. This present effort is strictly a community proposition, and it is felt that everyone will want to have a part in carrying through to a successful close this campaign for the new hotel which will place Plymouth in the front rank with the best hotel communities in the country.

A large organization is now being formed of approximately 125 Plymouth business men and prominent citizens. At present a Hotel Campaign Executive Committee is being organized. This will consist of approximately 25 men. A big citizen's organization will also be built later on. Much interest has already been shown by Plymouth men and women. By having the cooperation of every spirited citizen there should be no question as to the final outcome.

A Tried Plan

The Hotel Committee has secured the services of The Hockenbury System, Inc. of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, who have directed the financing of 115 modern hotels all over this country and Canada. These hotels have been financed on this community plan in towns with a population of from 2,500 up to large cities like Seattle, Washington. The nearest hotel to Plymouth financed on this plan by this system is the Huron at Ypsilanti. The Huron has been a very successful proposition in every way and is paying its stockholders a good fair dividend on their investment. The same tried plan will be used in Plymouth as used in Ypsilanti and Seattle, Washington, and many other cities and towns. To be successful, this plan requires the cooperation of the citizens of Plymouth, and the result will be a thoroughly modern hotel.

ROTARY CLUB HAS SOME ATTRACTIVE ROAD SIGNS.

The Plymouth Rotary Club has purchased three handsome "welcome" signs to be placed upon three of the most important highways entering the village. These signs are nine feet ten inches in height; and three feet ten inches in diameter. They are constructed of cast iron and steel, indestructible, fire proof, and very attractive. The top part shows a large Rotary wheel, the emblem of the club, and the words, "Welcome to Plymouth, Mich." The marker plate gives the meeting place and the luncheon hour of the local club. The signs are readable from both sides.

BRIGGS SCHOOL REUNION

The annual reunion of the Briggs school, Livonia, will be held on the school grounds, Saturday afternoon, August 28, 1926. Everyone cordially invited. Come and meet friends of "auld lang syne."
Nellie M. Riddle, Sec'y.

HORTICULTURE IS GIVEN STRONGER FAIR CLASSES

INFERIOR VARIETIES CUT FROM LISTS AND PREMIUMS ADDED TO STANDARD FRUITS FOR DETROIT SHOW.

Michigan's horticultural interests will have revised and strengthened premium classes in the competitive events at the State Fair, September 5 to 11.

New apportionment of the $3,000 premiums in the fruit sections is expected by horticultural authorities to result in a better balanced show than has been possible in the past.

Many of the old unimportant fruit varieties have been eliminated for this year's lists, with the premium money thus released added to the awards in the more standard varieties. This general change was made at the request of the State Horticultural Society, in order to emphasize the best commercial fruits for Michigan.

Fruit classes, as they have recently been finally set for the 1926 Fair, include plate entries for apples, pears, peaches, plums, and grapes, with prizes of five, three and two dollars in most varieties. Exhibition tray classes include apples and pears with prizes carrying seven dollars for first place, and five, three and one for the other places.

Retail market or roadside stand displays will make up a featured exhibit, the premiums here starting at $200 for first place. County exhibits from individuals or organizations will compete for more than $1,000 of prize money, $400 being up for first in this important class.

An Upper Peninsula class, special sweepstakes in different sections, basket classes for grapes, and other premium sections are included in the revised list, which is attracting the interest of fruit men all over the state.

FARMINGTON GALA DAY LABOR DAY, SEPTEMBER 6TH.

Groves-Walker Post, American Legion, is now preparing for its 1926 Gala Day, which as usual will be held here on Labor Day, Monday, September 6th.

The city park and town hall grounds will again be used to pull off the various stunts and attractions which will be varied, novel and interesting, including many vaudeville acts, sports and amusements. The committee is now formulating a program for the occasion which will be announced at an early date.—Farmington Enterprise.

MAYNARD REUNION

The second annual reunion of the Joseph and Sarah E. Maynard family was held at Phoenix Park, Plymouth, August 15th. Dinner was served at noon to about 130 guests, who were present from Lansing, Webberville, Fowlerville, Flint, Detroit, Davidsburg, Stark, Nankin, Livonia, Waterford and Plymouth. Alva Peck of Livonia was the oldest guest, and Irene Hutchinson of Davidsburg, the youngest.

Visiting and recalling old times furnished the social part of the day for the older folks, while the children enjoyed the playground equipment of the park.

The guests departed at a late afternoon hour, promising to meet again in August, 1927, and declaring it the "end of a perfect day."

FUNERAL OF CARL STIMPSON

The funeral of Carl Stimpson, whose death was mentioned in last week's Mail, was held from his late home on Kellogg street last Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, and was very largely attended. Rev. Walter Nichol of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. The services at the grave were in charge of members of Ann Arbor Lodge of Elks, of which the deceased was a member. He was also a member of the local lodge of Knights of Pythias. The floral offerings were many and unusually beautiful. The interest took place in the Northville cemetery.

An obituary and half-tone picture of the deceased will appear in next week's paper.

Preparing for the Big Show

WHAT HIGH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE SHOULD DO FOR A BOY OR GIRL.

Probably the greatest problem commanding solution in many homes today is, "Will it pay to send our boy or girl to High school during the coming year?" As the interested parent views imagination his boy in the group of successful High school alumni, who will be the leaders in industry, professions and government, he feels that surely High school is the direct avenue to success.

Then, as he looks about him and finds some of the worst criminals and ne'er-do-wells are also High school graduates, he finds himself asking, "Is High school attendance really worth while?"

It is well to remember, first, that High school does not create anything in or for its pupils, but rather is an institution in which experiences of those who have lived both in the distant and recent past are so classified that boys and girls may, by diligent study, avoid the mistakes of the past and build upon the successes of their parents and preceding generations. The courses are so arranged as to endeavor to prepare the boys and girls to compete more successfully in the economic world, not through idleness, but through hard work.

If anyone doubts the last statement they need only to compare the industry of those in High school with those of the same age who did not feel the need of such attendance. In order to find a conclusive confirmation of the statement in question.

Through the study of history, government, vocational civics and other social studies, he should certainly be better fitted to live peaceably and happily in our complex organization of society. The study of language, classics, music, art, sciences, oratory, etc., and membership in such organizations as Scouts, Hi-Y, Girl Reserves and Vo-

WILL HOLD REUNION

Former residents of Freesoll, Mich., will hold their second annual reunion and basket picnic on Labor Day, September 6, 1926, at the old A. M. Eckles farm, 1 1/2 miles east of Plymouth, corner Five Mile and Ridge roads. Those living or visiting in the vicinity of Detroit are cordially invited to attend and meet many old friends. The program committee consists of Earl Gilbert and William Tripp, Jr., of Detroit; Robert Kenyon of Pontiac, and Mrs. Lilah Blake and Fred Tobey of Plymouth.

DEWEY'S "OLYMPIA" AT THE SESQU

The famous old big ship is shown at her berth in Philadelphia Navy Yard, the background for the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition which celebrates 150 years of American Independence. Docked just in front of the Olympia is the U. S. S. Constitution, oldest fighting ship in commission. They daily attract thousands of visitors to the Exposition which continues until December 1.

THE WILLOUGHBY BROTHERS

The Walk-Over Shoe Prints, a monthly magazine devoted to the interests of the Walk-Over shoe dealers throughout the country, contained a splendid group picture of the Willoughby Bros., "Jack," "Bob" and Earl Willoughby, the Walk-Over shoe dealers in Plymouth and Ypsilanti. The magazine also contained a picture of the Ypsilanti store and a splendid tribute to the business abilities of these three brothers and the great success with which their two stores are meeting in their respective communities.

The story of their success is a real inspiration, and the volume of business which they are doing in both of their stores would equal sales in towns much larger than either Ypsilanti or Plymouth.

GET-OUT-THE-VOTE POSTER

This "Vote" poster is being distributed throughout the county by the Wayne County League of Women Voters as one device in a Get-out-the-Vote Campaign that is attempting to secure a larger vote at the coming elections. The opportunity to vote for state, county and city officials will occur again this fall, and the League is organizing this campaign, aiming to create a sense of individual responsibility for government.

In order to vote at the Primaries, Tuesday, September 14th, it is necessary to register before August 28th. Registration will re-open after the Primaries, from September 14th to October 10th, inclusive, to enable electors to register before the fall election on November 2nd.

Not only is the Wayne County League carrying on a drive to urge all qualified electors to register and vote, but the program of activities includes several unusual events. A First Voters Birthday Party is planned, inviting all girls who can vote for the first time, as special guests. This is the first time such a function has been held in Wayne county, and it is a unique feature of the program. A meeting at which candidates for certain offices will speak, is scheduled for early in September, and it is to be open to the public. Pre-election Citizenship schools are being planned by different district Leagues in the County, at which some of the issues of the election will be discussed and further studied by round-table groups.

Mrs. Edgar B. Cooper, chairman of the general Get-Out-the-Vote Campaign, is in charge of the activities and also the compiling of information concerning the elections, and free instructions in ballot-marking, which may be secured at the office of the Wayne County League in the Women's City Club, Detroit.

TWO NEW STORES FOR PLYMOUTH

Two new store rooms are promised for Plymouth. Mrs. Kate E. Allen is to remodel the Penniman Allen auditorium, a room 66x100 feet dimension, and construct two store rooms 20x100 feet each, leaving 16 feet on the west side for office rooms, to be used by the theatre management. Plans are being drawn now, and the work will be rushed by contractor J. H. Patterson as soon as completed.

LANDING PLANE KILLS WOMAN NEAR PLYMOUTH

Control Wires Loosened, Pilot Unable to Guide Machine; Scatters Crowd.

Mrs. Leona Masker, aged fifty years, was killed late Sunday afternoon, when she was struck by an airplane which made an unexpected landing at the Bessch and Plymouth roads. The pilot of the machine was Jack Litwak, 631 Stinson avenue, Detroit. The landing field is at the road intersection, and is conducted by a real estate company for which Litwak works.

The pilot's version of the accident was given in the Detroit News as follows:

"I had been in the air some time," Litwak said, "when I found my control wires and loosened suddenly. I was heading toward the landing field, on a flight across, but instead I headed toward the ground, waving to the men and women to get out of the way. There were so many people running about in confusion that I just let the plane run when it was on the ground and prayed no one would get in the way. I thought I would get through all right, but this one woman apparently couldn't get out of the way and the side of the plane hit her and knocked her down. By the time I had stopped and got out she had been carried to an automobile and was on her way to Plymouth."

The injured lady was taken to the office of Dr. H. Brishols by ambulance, but she died just after midnight. The body was removed to the Scharder Bros. Funeral Home where it was prepared for shipment to Saginaw for burial.

Ben Masker, the son, said he and his mother came to Detroit for the day, and were looking at lots in the subdivision.

Litwak reported the accident to the sheriff's office. A coroner's jury was empanelled by Justice Phoebe L. Patterson, and the inquest was held Monday evening at the Scharder Bros. Funeral Home. After hearing several witnesses, the jury brought in a verdict of unavoidable accident.

COOK-PASSAGE

Gladys M. Passage, a former Plymouth girl, and for the past several years a teacher in the Detroit public schools, was married to Harry R. Cook of that city, Tuesday, August 10th, at 3:00 p. m. The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hatton, 2655 Collingwood avenue, Rev. King, a former Plymouth pastor, officiating.

The house was prettily decorated in pink and white. The matron of honor was Mrs. E. R. Hatton, and E. R. Hatton attended the groom. The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Levl B. Palmer of Chelsea. The flower girls were Julia Hatton and Marian Hix. The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Mrs. Fred Hyde.

The bride was gowned in a New York model of pink moire taffeta, and carried pink roses. About forty guests were present. After a short wedding trip, they will be at home at 12811 Hubbell avenue.

The bride has many Plymouth friends who extend congratulations.

MERCHANTS DEFEAT YPSILANTI

The game played last Sunday at Burrough's field was far better than the score indicated, as both teams played good ball. Davis, pitching for Ypsilanti, had two bad innings, or the game might have ended differently, as the Merchants collected four runs in both the first and fourth innings. Millross featured at bat, getting six hits out of six times at bat.

Many times the team was endangered of being scored on, but good support overcame this. This makes 13 games won out of 16 played by the Merchants.

The team journeys to Rough & Ready next Sunday. Everybody follow the team, and help boost.

Dr. F. B. Hoyer and wife were called to Lima, Ohio, last week Friday, on account of the serious illness of the doctor's father, W. H. Hoyer, who had suffered a stroke of apoplexy, and who passed away the following day. Dr. Hoyer and wife returned to Plymouth, Wednesday.

FRANCIS W. BEALS PASSED AWAY

PROMINENT PLYMOUTH CITIZEN DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS, ON THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 12TH.

Francis Wayland Beals was born October 9, 1861, in Colton, New York state, and came to Plymouth in May 1873 with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Beals, four brothers and one little sister. All of these have preceded him to the better land, except the one brother, Gilman Beals of this place.

He attended school here and went to Kalamazoo College, later entering the business world as a traveller for the D. M. Ferry Co. He was with them eight years, then home for two years caring for his father until he died in January 1888. In May 1889, he was married to Miriam Evelyn Robertson. They made their home in Grand Rapids, where three children were born to them.

He was with the old D. L. & N., and the C. & W. M. R. R. and in 1900 moved to Saginaw, and was chief clerk for the Supt. Motive Power of P. M. until he was laid up by the serious fall which so sadly crippled him.

In 1902, he came to Plymouth where he has lived since. During his residence here he has served two years as township treasurer, two years as Village Treasurer and one year as Village President. He was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church, and a regular attendant as long as he was able.

In October 1922, he fell while in Grand Rapids, and broke his hip. He was brought home from the hospital there by ambulance, and since that time he has been laid aside from active duty, and a great sufferer at times. His physicians, friends and loved ones have done all loving, tender care could do to ease and help, but about five weeks ago his heart showed the great strain, and from that time on he grew steadily weaker. About 7:30, August 12th, after two days of intense suffering, he passed away, very peacefully at the last, surrounded by those who have tried to ease and help him for the long four years.

He leaves to mourn their loss, his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Brown of this place, and her family, and the youngest son, Francis Robert Beals. The oldest son passed away July 31, 1918, as a result of wounds received in the war. Also one brother, Gilman Beals, and a host of friends.

The beautiful floral offerings were an eloquent reminder of the close attachments he had formed, and the esteem in which he was held. The funeral was held from his late home, 436 North Mill street, last Sunday afternoon, his pastor, Rev. Nichol officiating. Six friends, who have "stood by" and lifted him so kindly many times while he was so helpless, tenderly carried him to his resting place in the family lot in Riverside cemetery, beside the dear son, Myron.

Those who attended the funeral from out of town, were: Miss Jean Robertson, Mrs. Beals' sister, of Toronto, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robertson of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Fern J. Myers (nee Miss Genevieve Beal) of Jeffersonville, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Irom Clements of Ann Arbor; Mr. Waldherr of Grand Rapids, and Ernest Nolan of Detroit.

A NOTED LECTURER TO VISIT PLYMOUTH.

Dr. R. L. Robie of Brooklyn, N. Y., a travelling speaker for the International Bible Students Association, will come to Plymouth, Tuesday, August 24. Two meetings are scheduled—both at Beyer's hall, north village. The afternoon will be for local friends, and the evening will be for the public, at 7:45 p. m. Topic, "The New World Beginning."

EVERYBODY RIDING

The best place for the Plymouth man who hasn't been won over to the side of the automobile is in the Solomon Islands, where there are 150,000 and only two autos, or in Afghanistan, with only one machine to each million people. Because in this country they are certainly getting thick, the latest census showing one auto to every six people. If trucks and motor busses were counted in there would be a machine for every family. The city man wants to get to the country and the country man wants to get to the city, so everybody rides. And while riding they are coming to know each other better, to like each other better and to get more out of life. Nothing, not even war, has served to bring the entire United States closer together and make one big family of it than the auto. The man who can't see this and appreciate the fact that the auto has been a great help toward prosperity is out of step. It's up to everybody to boost this new friend of the race, though he may not yet have one.

ANOTHER "MONEY CROP"

We took occasion recently to call attention to the opportunity for money making offered by a few colonies of bees, and hardly had it appeared in print until we received a government report showing that several thousand residents of the U. S. are making comfortable livings, some of them actually getting rich, in peanut culture. Government figures show that $20,000,000 was spent for peanuts and peanut products in this country last year. It shows that while 694,075,000 pounds of peanuts were raised in the U. S., we still had to import $3,000,000 pounds to meet the domestic demand. So here is another field for the Plymouth man who is always anxious to "try his hand" at new and different "money crops." Of course you can't grow peanuts in any kind of soil, nor in any kind of climate. But there are many thousands of unfilled acres in the south on which they can be grown, and while we would hate to lose good neighbors we are not the kind to stand in the way of the man who wants to better his condition. You might find in peanut raising the very path that will lead you to a fortune.

HAY FEVER DAYS

We're back around to hay fever days again. You may be fortunate enough not to have made the acquaintance of this disease, but if you have at any time felt a touch of it you know it is no laughing matter. Most anyone is subject to it and an attack of it is difficult to get rid of. Doctors say the only sure remedy is scientific eating—lots of fruit and no meat during the hay fever season. That will cure it—but here is the way to prevent it in the first place. Cut your weeds. Decaying weeds and other vegetable matter breeds hay fever in the fall just the same as green weeds breed disease-carrying germs in the spring. So if you want to do your part toward keeping down hay fever in Plymouth, cut your weeds now before they are fully ripened and the pollen and seed begin to be carried about by the wind.

KNOWS HER BUSINESS

We've had an excellent example in this country recently of the fact that nature knows her business and that she has a law of compensation which equalizes everything pretty well in the long run. Out of the West Indies came a hurricane to sweep the South Atlantic coast, destroying thousands of dollars worth of property. Fortunately the loss of life was not large. The wind wrought havoc, but the clouds accompanying it were filled with moisture, and these broke over the Middle West, all over the corn belt, at a time when nothing but soaking rains would have matured the corn crop. The winds brought damage, but the moisture with them more than offset that damage, from a financial standpoint. Some crop forecasters estimate the rains to have been worth at least $50,000,000 in increasing the size of the corn crop. In addition, pastures were refreshed and late gardens revived, adding several millions more to the total. Take it up one side and down the other and Plymouth people probably complain more about the weather than anything else and always without figuring that "it is an ill wind that blows nobody good." Old nature proved by the hurricane and the winds that she knows her business, and she has been proving it for hundreds of years. The only trouble with most of us is we don't look close enough for the evidence. We are too quick to find fault with the very thing that is working to our own interest if we could only realize it.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

We will have to ask those applying for water taps to give us more time. It isn't very often that we can conveniently stop a piece of work being done just anytime. Please give us two or three days notice.
We have had over fifty applications for water taps this season so far. We are a few ahead of last year.
The Commission Monday night granted a petition to pave Penniman avenue, the actual work to take its turn with the other pavements already provided for, and to include the whole length of the street from Harvey street to the west village limits.

A representative of the Tokheim Oil Tank and Pump Co., was present at the commission meeting, to explain the post type of traffic signal and the tendency in various parts of the country to install this form of light. He will send an adapter so that we can install the light at present hung over the intersection of Main street and Starkweather avenue, on a four-inch pipe post inside the south curb on Main street at this corner.

The notices of the special election on the annexation proposals are in this issue of the Mail. The election and registration boards were appointed Monday.

By the time these notes are read, the east side of the Main street pavement will be finished and the west side perhaps started. The county is doing us a fine piece of work.

A CARD—We wish to express our gratitude and sincere appreciation to everyone for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement.

AUTO CLUB CREATES SPECIAL BUREAU.

In an effort to do away with justice of the peace speed traps in this state, carry on a campaign of suits against parking lot owners who allow cars placed in their care to be damaged and to investigate organizations that are suspected of "gypping" the motorist, the Detroit Automobile Club recently announced the creation of a special bureau to handle this work.

Raymond Bachelder, manager of the local branch, announced today that W. E. Bembridge, an attorney, had been hired to conduct these investigations, under the direction of Howard D. Brown, head of the club's legal department. The department is created, Mr. Bachelder says, to assist the police, the sheriff, the state police, Better Business Bureau and motorists who are victims of "gyp" organizations in stopping certain practices that now exist throughout the state.

Motorists who fall afoul of the typical speed trap in this state should pass the information along to Mr. Brown, it is said. It will be the policy of this department to investigate all complaints, try and adjust the speed question with the city or village in question. Failing to do this, if fraud exists, the matter will be taken up with the attorney general at Lansing and legal steps taken to remove from office violators of the code.

Mr. Brown also announced that this part of his department would investigate the activities of certain service organizations that have sprung up in the state during the last year, claiming to give something to the motorist for nothing. The department already has enough evidence, it is said, to put two such promoters in jail. This information will be passed on to the police and the prosecuting attorney's office as well as the better business bureau.

The handling of auto theft information will also come under this new bureau. Mr. Brown, Inspector of Police Lucius Parker, assistant prosecuting attorney, Alexander Gage and Mr. Bembridge have just returned from Cleveland where this work was started. Plans were made whereby the police departments of the two cities will co-operate in exchanging the names, pictures and records of auto thieves, in order that they may not operate between the two largest cities in this district.

Similar plans will be carried out in other cities.

WASHTENAW COUNTY FAIR NOTES

Preparations Near Completion for County's Greatest Fair.

Auto Show

The auto show at the 1926 Washtenaw County Fair August 31, September 1, 2, 3, 4 will be much larger than previously and will completely fill a large tent approximately 200x100 feet which will be situated on the main east and west midway.

The show, consisting of more than seventy cars with various trucks and tractors, will display numerous 1927 models.

Sewell S. Platt, chairman of the automobile dealers' fair committee, and Robert H. Alber, director of Washtenaw County Fair, are completing plans for one of the finest tent auto shows ever held in the middlewestern states.

Rest Tent Centrally Located

Ann Arbor Public Health Service has volunteered to serve the women and children fair visitors in several ways. Mothers may leave their babies in the rest tent, which will be centrally located between the Merchants and office buildings, thus giving the mothers a chance to enjoy the fair without having to carry their infants.

Miss Virginia Hartwell, supervisor of Ann Arbor Public Health Service, and her assistant, Mrs. Edna Franklin, and Miss Eunice Hunn and numerous nurses in training have offered their services, thus any mother who wishes to leave her child in rest tent is assured it will be well cared for. In addition to caring for the babies, these women will operate a first aid station and they invite any fair visitor who happens to be ill or meet with accident to call at this tent for aid.

Entertainment (Fireworks)

The fireworks displays at Washtenaw County Fair Tuesday afternoon, August 31, and Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings will surpass in gorgeous effects and pleasing combinations any fireworks program previously offered Washtenaw County Fair patrons. The program displays numerous patriotic features including "The Spirit of 1776 and the Spirit of 1926," "Liberty Bell," "Colonial Soldier," "Minuteman of 1776," actual fireworks picture of the battle between the "Bonhomme Richard and the Seraphis;" Betsy Ross, Lafayette, George Washington, The Capitol, and a gigantic American Legion Emblem. In addition there are many comedy numbers including the "Auto speeder and the cop" and "That funny old moon." Tuesday afternoon the children will be treated to an especially amusing program of unique features. Shells, bombs, screeching geyzers, rumble and roar and a hundred other variations complete the most elaborate and highest quality displays ever presented to a Washtenaw County Fair audience.

Lots of politicians would like to get under the White House roof, even if it has been declared unsafe.

Employing Idle Land for Public Forests

Two-thirds of the cities in New York state have started, in one form or another, municipal forests, chiefly on city watersheds, and several already have planted more than 1,000 acres. Some of these forests in addition to the young plantations contain mature trees that may be utilized for lumber and wood. In the Albany city forest, which contains more than 600 acres, a considerable portion of the land is covered with mature pitch pine, a recent survey showed $50,000 worth of lumber for pine besides 2,000 cords of wood.

The conservative commission is receiving inquiries from all parts of the state in reference to the planting of municipal forests by counties, cities, towns, villages and school districts that are considering the use of idle land to grow lumber and wood to meet their local needs. Many cities in Europe have such forests that are more than one hundred years old and are steady sources of revenue. In Switzerland the city of Zurich regularly employs one man for every 33 acres of its forest, and in the winter and times of industrial depression employs more. What Europe has been doing successfully and profitably for two centuries American cities are just beginning to do, and are using for that purpose land not suited to raising agricultural crops, of which there are large areas.

Make Garage Conform to Style of House

The majority of the houses that are being built today—at least the better houses of today—are being carefully planned and executed so that when finished they are a credit to the neighborhood. They will always remain so, for they are not flimsy in construction nor structurally ornate with gingerbread work. In other words, they are planned on conservative lines.

However, even yet, we often find a house that is well built, following some certain type of architecture, such as the English cottage, the Dutch colonial or others equally well known, and this house is really a source of pride to the owner and the whole neighborhood, but many of these same houses have garages on the rear of the lot, simple boxlike structures without thought as to design. These detract from the general appearance of the property.

The garage should harmonize with the house in physical structure and finishing. It costs practically no more to build a garage after the Dutch colonial style than it does to build an ordinary shedlike garage. Trellises may be placed against a garage, adding to its decorative value.

Landscape Planning

In building a new home it is of course important that the landscaping be arranged in keeping with the house. Where the home is pretentious the services of a good landscape gardener are desirable. A good landscape man is an artist who knows how to eliminate the unsightly features of your home and how to accentuate its attractiveness by the use of shrubs, trees and vines, not to say anything about proper grades and terraces. Even in the home of lesser cost and smaller dimensions, such an outlay proves in every case a good investment.

Yet any number of home builders feel that they cannot afford such an expenditure. That may be true in a number of cases where the home purchaser is straining his resources to meet payments. However, that is no reason why such people should not try to make their homes attractive as those owned by people of greater means.

Color Scheme Important

We give scant thought to the colors that we paint our houses, to the tint of the body color, to the contrast of the colors of body, trim and roof, and to the relation of the colors to the surroundings, natural and artificial.

We apparently tell the painter that the house is to be white with green shutters, and accept his idea of the shade of green without considering that it may make the difference between charm and mediocrity. The house of loveliest design may be ruined by inappropriate colors, and color may give distinction and charm to a house that in itself is commonplace in the extreme.—Detroit News.

Home Needs Care

Are you one of those home owners who takes pride in his home and its surroundings and strives at all times to keep it at its highest efficiency and attractiveness? Or are you one who has the mistaken idea that your home will take care of itself without any effort on your part? If you are one of the latter, you are likely to find that your home-owning experience is not going to be as profitable and as satisfactory as you have every right to expect.—Chicago Evening Post.

Highway Signs Illegal

California lawmakers have passed an ordinance prohibiting the erection of signs and billboards along highways. Exception is made for legal and directional signs.

Some people will sit around homes for hours without saying a word and then go to the picture show and talk all evening.

Community Building

"Fresh Pastures" Best for Dissatisfied Man

Many living in the large centers of population long for the freedom and quiet of the countryside. They want to be away from the din, the tension and the nervous strain incident to life in the cities where the per capita per city block is far too high. And to large numbers living in small communities and the sparsely populated rural country, city life has a fascination that is well nigh irresistible—that leads some to violate the law in order to enjoy the intoxication of the crowd.

But the truth is that being satisfied with the place where you live does not depend upon the place so much as upon the individual himself. If he makes an honest effort to adjust himself to the conditions in the community, be it large or small, in which he lives, he will grow to be satisfied, to be comfortable and happy. If he is making the most of his talents only, he cannot ask for more. If he is dissatisfied, he is doing himself an injustice. Those who nurse a grievance against their communities should find new locations. They are harming themselves and the place they call home.—Rushville (Ind.) Republican.

Wardens Employed to Protect Roadside Trees

The roadside tree law, passed by the 1914 legislature in Maryland, was the result of the complaint of many citizens concerning the abuses chargeable to pole line companies. Under this law the services of a warden are required to supervise the work of tree trimming by any pole line company when the trees are within the right-of-way of any public road. The administration of the law lies with the state forestry department. Compensation to the wardens is paid by the forestry department, which, in turn, is authorized to collect from persons or corporations requesting assistance in roadside tree planting.

The Maryland Court of Appeals extended the constitutionality of this law at the time of a telephone company's suit on April 9, 1915, and at present there are about 50 wardens assigned to tree work, most of them supervising the work of the different pole line companies.

The Maryland forestry department is to be congratulated on the large number of cities and towns in the state which, through the department's work, now have tree census information and improvement plans for their trees. Kansas City Times.

Planting the Home

There is an old saying to the effect that "it's not a home until it's planted." A house may have cost thousands of dollars, but if it stands stark and bare, with nothing to tie it to its surroundings, as the landscapers put it, it lacks the atmosphere of conformity, of "homeiness." Therefore, in the planning for a home the lawn should be considered as a most important feature, for it forms, as it were, a setting for the picture. The planting of the trees and the shrubbery must be done with the idea of bringing out the best in the surroundings and of hiding any defects that may exist. A portion of the grounds should be reserved for an unbroken stretch of green grass to be kept clean and well mowed, with no shrubbery scattered over it to mar the effect of velvety smoothness. Where short walks are necessary, stepping stones are now regarded as preferable to solid cement.

Benefit of Zoning System

With the zoning system becoming general there is a brighter outlook for American cities, most of which have grown in rather haphazard fashion. The comparative benefits to these cities will depend largely on the intelligence, the taste and the courage of the zoning authorities. Some of these authorities will have much larger vision than others; they will plan for the indefinite future; they will make changes and adjustments as time and conditions direct. While in some instances they will prevent selfish exploitation, and make impossible certain profits that selfish indulgence might produce, the great result will be city-wide gain, materially and culturally.

You will get quick results and satisfaction from a liner ad in the Mail.

Aardvark Ranks High Among Animal Freaks

The aardvark, grotesque little animal with heavy pig-like body, kangaroo tails, long ears and dinosaurian claws, are most interesting creatures. It was not more than 20 years ago that an English scientist first reported their existence, and was immediately discredited as an adherent of the truth. Even when he exhibited the strange dinosaurian claws, skull and skeleton of the aardvark, fellow scientists told him that they didn't believe there was any such animal, nor had there been since the prehistoric times. But subsequent explorers confirmed the report, and finally a live specimen was taken to London.

The aardvark eats ants, tearing up their hills with its great claws and thrusting its long, sticky tongue into the squirring thousands of inhabitants. Aardvark is Boer for ground pig. It is not in the least ferocious, but mighty hard to capture. It burrows into the ground so rapidly that it takes a force of six men with picks a couple of hours to catch up with it. It is a strong little beast, too, although it is no larger than a domestic pig.

Agile little natives who have been set to watch a hole have manfully made barehanded grabs at the emerging aardvark, only to be dragged bodily back into its burrow unless they let go. It can drag a grown man helter-skelter along the open country until he is shaken off.

When the holes are dug into, just as apt as not, instead of an aardvark, a python will be found with the anteater digesting peacefully in its stomach. The great snakes crawl into the aardvark's burrow, swallow the occupant, lay their eggs and then coil up and go to sleep for a couple of weeks in perfect luxury. Nor are they the only native beast that usurps the aardvark's home. Nearly every other animal that has a desire for cave-dwelling just moves in and makes himself at home. The aardvark is the billeting officer of the jungle and plain.

Grows in Paradise

William McCarty, the "cross-words puzzle king," said on disembarking from the Mauretania in New York: "Conditions in Europe are so infernal that when an American grows I can't believe my ears. Grows in this American paradise of ours make me think of MacDougal."

"MacDougal, the stone mason, was drawing $14 a day, but when his brother from the country asked him how he was situated he shook his head.

"But your job's a good one?" said the brother.

"Sure is," said MacDougal.

"How about the hours?"

"Short."

"And the work?"

"Easy and pleasant."

"What's the trouble, then?"

"The wages—that's the trouble."

"But—"

"The wages—that's the trouble," MacDougal repeated furiously.

"They're so darn high I can't ever afford to take a day off."

Challapin Night Prowler

Challapin, who dislikes to go to bed, was quick to become one of the regular early morning walkers along the Thames embankment, according to a dispatch from the British metropolis. The first night of his appearance at Covent Garden, Challapin walked many miles, while most of London slept. He reached his hotel just in time to have a jump at the morning newspaper's comment on his first operatic performance. Another famous early morning walker is George Bernard Shaw, who knows every inch of the embankment from Black Friars to Westminster. It is his favorite promenade after midnight. One morning, when each wanted to be alone, the singer and the writer met. The conversation lasted but a few minutes, and when they parted Challapin went one way and Shaw hurried off in the opposite direction.

Cattle Country Blooms

The great cattle country of south-west Texas, usually an expanse of sunburned plains and hills in fact as well as in the minds of readers of Western fiction, this summer is a veritable garden. Due to the abnormal rains the grass is thick and long, and there is more range than is needed for the hundreds of thousands of grazing cattle. Cattle men say that not in several years has there been so much vegetation in the country between San Antonio and El Paso. Last year was a year of severe drought.—Indianapolis News.

BAND-GRIP
PATENTED SHOE
for WOMEN

Support for your foot—beneath the arch, above the arch, and all around the arch!

That's what the BAND-GRIP gives you. No other oxford ever furnished such firm support—which explains the ever-growing popularity in our city, of this unusual footwear.

Styled with the touch of smartness you like; but more than that, the BAND-GRIP is equipped with a built-in (invisible) band that grips and supports the foot in a manner that soothes and satisfies. You regulate the snugness of the band by merely lacing the shoe as you please—see illustration.

Why not stop in today—try it on and "feel the difference!"

Illustrations show only one of several styles we have.

A number of our fall models in Ladies' and Gents' footwear have arrived. They are wonderful merchandise. We invite you to look our line over before you decide to buy. Ladies, ask especially to see the Enna Jettick health slippers. This is a very popular slipper in combination last and arch support. We can point you to many Plymouth ladies who are wearing this slipper with success. It is an unusually smart combination of comfort and style. Ladies with stout feet have their troubles abated through this slipper, as we carry them in triple-E width. There is no longer any necessity of fitting one extremely long in order to arrive at a comfortable width. Prices are

Near Horrible Death

in Locomotive Boiler

One of the closest calls with the grim reaper that I ever had was while employed in the Baldwin Locomotive works in Philadelphia. My work was mostly on the inside of the engines when they were nearly finished. On this particular day we had an engine which had to be finished before the close of the day. Everybody was doing their very best and as is often the case, some very important things were forgotten.

One of them was to hang a sign on the outside to tell everybody that there was a man working on the inside. This proved to be very nearly fatal to me. They closed the fire door and started to test the boiler to see if there were any small defects in it. I happened to be in the boiler when they closed the door. The awful noise that is always made in that shop kept the men from hearing my cries for help.

They kept running the hot steam into the boiler and I kept hollering and pounding against the inside with my hammer until I nearly went mad. I could see some men walking around the engine, but could not attract their attention. It finally got so hot in there that I took off nearly all my clothes and tried to climb out of the drop pan at the bottom, but this hole was only six inches wide and eighteen inches long, so I got stuck in there and was just about to give up hope (as they were running steam in as fast as possible). The heat was so intense that I thought I just couldn't endure it another second.

But luck or fate was with me, for just at that second a fellow passed close to where I was fastened and I threw my hammer and hit him on the ankle. He looked around, saw me waving my arms, and was horrified to realize that I was a prisoner. It only took him a few seconds to turn off the steam (I thought it took an hour) and open the door to get me out. Believe me, not for a million dollars would I go through it again.—L. E. K., in Everybody's Magazine.

War on the Mosquito

Malaria, although not "catching" in the ordinary sense of propagation by contact, is borne from one person to another by the mosquito. It is now believed that a successful means of exterminating the mosquito has been found.

A fish known as the Gambusia patruelli almost instantaneously cleared an aquarium filled with stagnant water stocked with the eggs of the mosquito and the wiggler. This fish multiplies rapidly and lives in any available water. It does not attack other fish and does not migrate. It has been tried with success in Honolulu, Japan, China, Formosa, California, and other places.

With these little fish active in the pools and swamps of southern Europe, the mosquito's life would be exterminated before any danger could be done, and thousands of lives could be saved.

Grindstones Still in Use

Discarded grindstones have been utilized by a large Philadelphia hardware manufacturing concern in the construction of a wall several blocks long around two sides of the 65-acre tract occupied by the factory, as well as for a retaining wall along the Delaware river, the foundation of the factory building and in the building of a church nearby, according to Popular Science Monthly.

More than 2,500 grindstones, which were broken up into squares, were used in building the church, while those in the retaining wall were used in the same shape as they were discarded. The foundation for roads about the Philadelphia factory also was made from grindstones.

BASE BALL NEWS

DEHOCO CLUB VS. POLICE DEPT.

The Dehoco Club was beaten by the 3rd Precinct of the Detroit Police Department, by the score of 3 to 2, last Saturday. It happens that this is the first time a Police Dept. team has won a base ball game in three years at the farm. The game was by far the best and most exciting played this year at the farm. The Policemen came through with timely hitting, while the Farmers lacked the punch in the pinch. Trombley was most effective in the eight innings he pitched, being replaced by Rowland, when a pinch hitter was used to bat for him. Rowland walking the first man in the ninth, and Reek's long distance single to right field resulted in the winning run. Reek's beautiful catch of Hunter's low liner to center, added to his hitting, was the main reason for the defeat of the Farmerites.

DEHOCO CLUB VS. DODGE BROS.

Although the Dodge Bros. team put up a brave stand, with the excellent hurling of Saur, they were easily defeated by the Dehoco Club, 6 to 2, last Sunday. Poor support given Saur was mainly responsible for their defeat. Rowland pitched air-tight ball for the Farmers, allowing the opposition but six scattered hits. The Farmers hit timely and consistently with the help of fire errors, for six runs.

A SCENIC HOME
FARM ESTATE

Two choice dairy, stock and fruit farms, on trunk line road east of Lapeer, and but two hours from Plymouth, Northville or Farmington. In about the same time trucks with any kind of a load go to Detroit Markets.

The Pine Hill place has a temperate grove of pine, white birch, beech, etc., on hillsides, which is always beautiful. It has old-fashioned wild blackberry and other fruits galore. A good cabin stands at the top of the hill among the pines. Numerous slightly locations for other cabins, well shaded, are around the hillsides. From this place is a commanding outlook of the whole 400 acres in both farms.

The Wilson farm is all choice land and the best of soil. Alfalfa grows in abundance. More than 100 acres of this is sugar beet or garden truck soil, and within the past twelve years, have been cleared, tilled and drained by the owner. Concrete stave silos and special cow barns at each place. The Wilson has deep cement basement, 40x100 ft. Both farms are well shaded and present a handsome landscape appearance. Both are well watered and have deep rock wells, pure and cold, with windmills.

These places are as slightly and are much more agreeable home locations than many of the so-called lake places.

Numerous locations for one acre home sites, in good shade and soil, might be sold at good prices and not interfere with the farm plans or views.

The barns are filled with hay and alfalfa.

For references, either bank in Lapeer or A. G. Griggs and M. A. Grady of Pontiac; John R. Rood, 12248 Grand River Avenue, Detroit, and Ora Travis of Oxford, all of whom know these places.

Either farm is one of the best, and together they make a fine scenic estate, and as beautiful and striking as are many of the Bloomfield, Rochester, and other handsome Michigan estates. The location is such that many Detroit and Highland Park people spend their week-ends in this vicinity.

In Wayne or Oakland these farms would be in the one thousand dollar class. The buildings are all practically new. A most excellent home and large estate may be had if looked into at once.

Smart New Rumble Seat For Sport Roadster

Rumble seats are justly popular. They add a smart, rakish touch to roadster lines, and increase the carrying capacity by two passengers.

That Dodge Brothers Sport Roadster now provides this convenience, will be welcome news to thousands.

Like the main seat, it is deeply upholstered in gray Spanish genuine leather, and the seat back is high and well pitched, providing unusual comfort.

When closed, the rear compartment is absolutely waterproof, even in rainiest weather.

Ample space is provided behind the main seat for golf clubs, suit cases, tennis rackets, and similar luggage.

Brilliant pheasant green lacquer body and hood, strikingly in contrast with the tan top, black fenders and full special equipment, complete a general color scheme of exceptional dash and charm.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold a picnic, with a pot-luck dinner, Thursday, August 26th, at the home of Mrs. L. Clemens. A delightful time is anticipated, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of members. Those who have no conveyances can take the 2:00 p. m. bus, which passes near to Mrs. Clemens' home.

Today's Reflections

As a last resort the farmer can go to the city, where his sons and his profit went.

If you see a Plymouth man wearing a rusty looking suit, it may be the one that the merchant said would "wear like iron."

The eighteenth amendment also makes it unlawful for a fellow to make any "jack" off of applejack.

Some Plymouth mothers are looking forward to their own vacations, which will come when school starts again.

The farmer who is too busy shaking the hoe to stop and shake hands with political candidates is not losing anything.

Some Plymouth men will buy fake stocks and believe the weather man, but we never heard of one so foolish that he would set his timepiece by a woman's wrist watch.

When we see a fellow with bell-bottom pants, vaseline on his hair and a wrist watch, we wonder why they ever went to the trouble to search the African jungle for the missing link.

Most girls claim they dress for comfort, but now and then we see one dressed as though she wanted to give everybody in town a good laugh.

A scientist says the blood of a balloon is like that of a human. But how about it's conduct?

If we were asked what is the most taxed thing in the world, our first guess would be a mother's patience.

Nothing makes a Plymouth woman madder than to search her husband's pockets for a little small change and find a letter she gave him to mail two weeks before.

Why is it that the Plymouth man who goes around with a quart of scrap tobacco buried in his jaw always gets nervous when his wife chews gum?

A political machine can hardly be classed as a labor-saving device.

THE THEATRE

"THE CROWN OF LIES"

American girls have become countesses and duchesses through marrying foreign noblemen, but in "The Crown of Lies" which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre on Saturday, August 21, Pola Negri becomes a queen who ends up by wedding a likeable young American diver salesman, in order to rule his tiny cottage.

This new Paramount production unfolds a story of colorful romance. It shows gorgeous Pola in the simple garments of a boarding house maid. In an amazing conspiracy, she reigns as queen of a small Balkan kingdom and her striking gowns seem to sound a new fashion note for the coming season.

Pola's amazing resemblance to the missing queen of a tiny nation is made the basis of an intrigue by Noah Beery, an exiled cabinet minister. He plans to establish her as ruler while he makes millions for himself. Not knowing of this ulterior motive, she agrees to the plan, obsessed with the idea of freeing a nation from the oppressions of its dictator.

Robert Ames is Miss Negri's leading man. He is the husky young Yankee who pursues his quest of love across the seas, hazarding many dangers in her behalf.

"The Crown of Lies" has powerful sequences laid in America as well as in picturesque foreign settings. It was directed by Dimitri Buchowetzki. The story is an original from the pen of Ernest Vajda, a famous Hungarian playwright.

"BROWN OF HARVARD"

Life on the campus of one of America's greatest institutions of learning has been immortalized by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in their production of "Brown of Harvard" which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, August 22 and 23. The picture was directed by Jack Conway, and was adapted from the famous stage success of the same name by Hilda Johnson Young.

"Brown of Harvard" is by far the best story of college life that has yet reached the screen. It possesses a sincerity and a lack of the usual mock-heroes that have been noticeably missing in other stories of youth. The boys in the story are human beings, having as much fun as is permitted. They never appear automaton in the hands of a director.

Conway's direction, moreover, is consistently excellent throughout. There is a dominant and optimistic spirit of youth with which he has invested every scene throughout the picture.

The story tells of Tom Brown, a wealthy young egotist, who goes to Harvard to take part in athletics and increase his reputation as a Don Juan. He makes himself the idol of a group of boys, especially of Doolittle, his roommate. The story takes him through two years of college, and an affair with the daughter of Professor Abbott. The Freshmen crew race is excellently done, and the foot ball game between Yale and Harvard, many of the scenes having been photographed just full of the actual game, is by far the finest thing of its kind that has ever been seen in pictures.

"THE RUNAWAY"

A thrilling story of the Kentucky mountains with a little New York movie actress hiding from justice and causing a tremendous conflict between two powerful clans—such is "The Runaway." William de Mille's newest Paramount production which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Wednesday, August 25.

The mysterious shooting of a wealthy young New Yorker in a Tennessee city, a girl's flight from the scene of the tragedy, her plea to a young mountaineer to shelter her and the drama that results when the "dead" man appears in the mountain settlement seeking vengeance, lend suspense to the story. The girl is Clara Bow, Warner Baxter the mountaineer and William Powell, the New Yorker.

An interesting angle is given the plot when the rivals for Miss Bow become excellent friends. Further suspense results when Baxter's clan rebels against his housing a "painted woman." In the end Miss Bow has to choose between Baxter and Powell. George Bancroft, who shot to fame as the smiling villain in "The Pony Express" and as first mate in "Sea Horses," appears as the leader of a clan opposing Baxter's supporters.

U. OF M. CHANGES TICKET PLANS THIS SEASON.

University of Michigan foot ball ticket application blanks, mailed to 75,000 alumni and interested former purchasers in the last few days, will be received this year in the period between August 20 and September 1st, instead of on September 1st deadline as formerly. No priority will be accorded applications received within this period, the final day being as good as the first. All applications will be handled as though received August 31st.

When all applications have been received at the end of the month they will be turned over to a committee made up of a representative of the alumni, a representative of the faculty and one Ann Arbor citizen. These three will make the drawing for seats in a fashion similar to that of last year's drawing.

For the Minnesota game at Ann Arbor, purchasers will be allowed only four tickets each. Only two tickets will be allowed to a purchaser for the Illinois game, and three is the restriction for the Wisconsin game.

For games played outside of Ann Arbor, for which tickets may be purchased through the Michigan athletic association, four tickets may be obtained for the Navy game at Baltimore, and the Ohio State game at Columbus, and six for the Minnesota game at Minneapolis.

The following is the season's schedule:

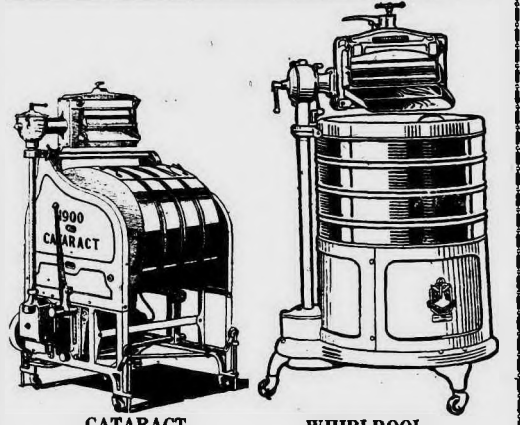

- October 2—Oklahoma Aggies at Ann Arbor.
- October 9—Michigan State at Ann Arbor.
- October 16—Minnesota at Ann Arbor.
- October 22—Illinois at Ann Arbor.
- October 30—Michigan vs. Navy at Baltimore.
- November 6—Wisconsin at Ann Arbor.
- November 13—Michigan at Ohio State.
- November 20—Michigan at Minnesota.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says one reason the stork isn't popular with some women is because they can't exchange what it brings.

Maybe if lawyers would charge still larger fees it would help to check the crime wave.

"My idea of an optimist," declares Dad Plymouth, "is the fellow who can exaggerate a sandwich into a full meal and make his stomach believe it."

Any married man can tell you that when a wife isn't talking about nothing she is talking about something else.

"I've always thought," says Dad Plymouth, "that these fellows who think they are 'some punkins' would be worth more if they were."

Maybe the reason some children have turned up noses is because their fathers always kept theirs to the grindstone.

"New Yorkers will drink anything in the way of booze," asserts Dad Plymouth, "but they raise an awful row if someone puts a little water in their milk."

NEW HOTEL FOR OHIO TOWN

Uhrichville, Ohio, a town of 10,000 which looms up big in the clay sewer pipe industry of the United States, has put through a summer community hotel project, raising $120,000 by popular subscription to stock. 330 citizens became stockholders in the sales program directed by The Hockenbury System, Inc., of Harrisburg, Pa., and a hotel of 50 rooms is planned, five stories in height, which will have a thoroughly modern equipment.

The hotel will be built on the site of the old stagecoach landmark, the "U. S. House," which will soon be razed. A register is in existence of this oldtime hostelry, bearing some notable names, among them being that of Commodore Perry.

The Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, and the Board of Trade, united in promoting the hotel project. J. C. Beck, local jeweler, was chairman of the Executive Committee of the sales organization, and Alex Robinson, of Robinson & Sons Sewer Pipe Co., was treasurer, being also an active leader throughout the program.

Uhrichville is said to be the biggest clay sewer pipe center in the United States, producing twenty-five per cent. of the world's supply. 27 of the 110 clay sewer pipe presses in the United States being located in Uhrichville, 2,000 men are employed in this industry, and 2,300 carloads are produced monthly, there being eight millions invested in this line of business in the ten or a dozen pipe companies in the town and neighborhood.

A CARD—We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to those who so kindly helped us to lay our precious loved one to rest; those who furnished autos, or in any way helped us in our time of need.

Sincerely,
