HOTEL CAMPAIGN

HEADS ARE ELECTED

Edward C. Hough Elected Chairman of Executive Committee and J. M. Larkins Chairman of Citizens Organization.

Outlook is Very Bright for Plymouth's New Modern Hotel as Committees Get Down to Real Work.

At a recent meeting of the Hotel Campaign Executive Committee consisting of 41 of Plymouth's business and professional men, Edward C. Hough was elected chairman of the Hotel Executive Committee which is in charge of the financing of a modern, up-to-date, 50-room hotel for Plymouth.

With the splendid spirit of co-operation that prevails in Plymouth, and the willingness of practically every one to do his part in putting over this hotel proposition and thereby making a better and more complete community, there should be no question regarding the ultimate success of the campaign.

Mr. Morris, representative of The Hockensbury System, Incorporated, of Harrisburg, Pa., who is here installing their system of financing and directing the campaign, explained the problem to the committee and took up the question of the need for this modern hotel of fifty rooms in Plymouth.

At this meeting Chairman Hough announced the names of the five men who will serve as chairman of the five Sub-Committees as follows: C. H. Bennett, chairman of committee number one; William T. Pettigill, chairman of committee number two; Frank Rambo, chairman of committee number three; Harry C. Robinson, chairman of committee number four; Paul J. Wiedman, chairman of committee number five.

Committee No. 1: C. H. Bennett, Sub-chairman; Robert O. Munnack, John L. Crandell, John B. Hubert, E. O. Huston, James L. Johnson, Charles Mather, Roy R. Parrott, George A. Smith.

Committee No. 2: William T. Pettigill, Sub-chairman; Arthur E. Blinn, Dr. B. E. Champe, Coello Hamilton, Allan A. Horton, J. M. Larkins, Harry R. Lush, Raymond Bachelard.

Committee No. 3: Frank Rambo, Sub-chairman; Fred Brand, John S. Dayton, Charles L. Finlan, F. A. Forsgren, Harry S. Lee, J. H. Patterson, C. G. Shear.

Committee No. 4: Harry C. Robinson, Sub-chairman; E. K. Bennett, C. A. Fisher, Carl Heide, J. W. Henderson, Ralph J. Lorenz, Oliver P. Martin, L. B. Samson.

Committee No. 5: Paul J. Wiedman, Sub-chairman; Roy E. Crowe, Edward Gayde, Fred Schmidt, F. D. Schrader, G. R. Whitmore, Wm. Wood, Wm. Petz.

Many phases of the campaign were then taken up and discussed at the executive committee meeting, and Chairman Hough called for a report of the committee on the form of note to be used in the campaign. This committee consisted of John S. Dayton, chairman; John L. Crandell, C. A. Fisher, and John B. Hubert.

Chairman Hough then announced the names of the men who will serve as three trustees until the Plymouth Community Hotel Company is incorporated.

These men are as follows: C. A. Fisher, Edward Gayde and John B. Hubert. All notes for stock will be made payable to these three gentlemen until such a time as the Hotel Company shall be formed.

Big Citizens Sales Organization Consisting of 100 Men to be Organized. J. M. Larkins, chairman of the Citizens Sales Organization, is now beginning to form this organization and to enlist the services of 100 Plymouth citizens who will co-operate and work together on teams during the intensive week of the stock sales campaign.

Mr. Larkins will have associated with him four division sales managers, who, in turn, will each have three team captains on his division, making the total of twelve team captains in the entire organization. Each of the twelve captains will have associated with him seven salesmen. This will make a very definite organization, and one consisting of one hundred men.

Mr. Morris, representative of The Hockensbury System, Incorporated, of Harrisburg, Pa., who is here installing their system of financing and directing the campaign, explained the problem to the committee and took up the question of the need for this modern hotel of fifty rooms in Plymouth.

The "Greystone" Hotel, Bedford, Ind.

In 1921 the citizens of Bedford, Indiana, realizing the need in Bedford for a modern up-to-date hotel, got together as a community and financed the hotel shown above, by using identically the same plan being used here in Plymouth.

Their hotel, which they named the "Greystone" because of the Indiana limestone quarried at Bedford, and of which the hotel is built, is a success from both a financial and a community standpoint.

The stockholders in the "Greystone" have received good dividends on their investment from the time the hotel was put in operation.

Plymouth needs a modern hotel as much as Bedford, Indiana, or any other community in the entire country, and now is the one opportunity to get it. It will be made a reality only if every citizen of Plymouth and vicinity will co-operate, boost and buy stock.

added business for the business men of Plymouth, and much revenue for the hotel.

Tenth—The United States Chamber of Commerce made a survey to find out the amount of money which the average traveler leaves behind him daily in the communities where he stops. This average was found to be $10 per day. If Plymouth's new hotel were entirely vacant for practically four months in every year with not a person in the hotel, or in other words, was running with a 70% occupancy, the hotel would still be making a fair profit, and the average guest spending $10 daily in Plymouth would mean that $127,750 would be left in Plymouth. This money will pass through the hands of merchants and business men and will mean more prosperity for citizens of Plymouth, in addition to helping to make the hotel a financial success.

There is only one thing for the citizens of Plymouth and vicinity to do during the next three weeks, if they desire to fulfill the needs of Plymouth with this modern hotel, and that is to boost the hotel proposition, co-operate when asked to serve, and to invest some of their money in their own community by buying this 6% Preferred Stock in the new hotel.

Mr. Whitbeck, in his usual pleasing manner, explained the reason for Plymouth's increased assessment valuation this year, and in comparing figures with the surrounding towns, it was clearly shown that the people of Plymouth had no cause to feel disturbed over their taxes.

At the conclusion of Mr. Whitbeck's talk, several Kiwanian members were called upon to give an accounting of the state meeting of the Kiwanians, which was held at the Soo recently.

Teachers and pupils, who have spent the summer in school and college, at lakes, on farms, or wherever it may have been, are now returning with the expectation of the joys or sorrows, as the case may be, of the opening of school, Tuesday, September 7th.

The school office is open each afternoon of this week for consultation and advice to any who have problems in regard to classifying for the coming year. Miss Allen, principal of the High school, will be at the High school office all day Saturday, September 4th, and Monday forenoon, September 6th, for the purpose of helping those who wish to classify at that time. It would probably be very desirable for those entering our High school in the ninth grade to classify on Saturday or Monday, because at that time more attention can be given to their individual needs.

As the High school student looks ahead to a year of work, he should first take inventory of his stock on hand, namely, credits already earned, physical health, general mental ability, special abilities and last but not least, ambition and desire to achieve. Any boy or girl who enters High school without a desire to succeed and be useful has as little hope of getting along as would a ship in a storm without an anchor, but for the boy or girl with ability, a desire to succeed and be of service to society there is probably no institution today which can take the place of the High school in helping him to realize his ambitions.

The Board of Education has done everything within its power to make the school system of Plymouth a creditable one, and they, along with the teachers, are looking ahead to a happy, successful and profitable year for all the boys and girls of this community.

So to the boys and girls let us say, pack up your troubles and leave them at home; pack up your books, desires, hopes and ambition and bring them to school, Tuesday morning, September 7.

WILL ENTERTAIN THEIR EMPLOYEES.

The Detroit Piston Ring Co. of this village will entertain their employees and their families with a trip to Cedar Point on the steamer City of Toledo, Saturday, September 4th. Three buses will take the employees and their families to Detroit, leaving here at 6:45 a. m., where they will take the boat for the Point. Arriving there, they will enjoy a picnic dinner and the afternoon will be spent in enjoying the various attractions at this popular resort.

APRONS FOR HUSBIES

At a recent convention of the Federation of College Women, "kitchen duty for husbands" was advocated. The man who helps his wife with the dishes and the need by American men for "kitchen culture" were among the subjects discussed, and practically every woman taking part favored some sort of domestic "rule" by which husbands would have to go "fifty-fifty" on the housework, while the women would, wherever possible, take a more active part in their husbands' business affairs. We haven't sounded out any Plymouth women to find where they stand on the subject, but we believe we know enough about them to warrant the assertion that if put to vote the proposition wouldn't carry here. They argue that kitchen work is a hard enough proposition as it is without having a husband hanging around in the way and that dishes are too costly to be buying new ones every time they have to be washed and wiped.

THE BEST LOSERS

They give the farmer credit for being the world's champion complainer and yet he isn't entitled to that reputation. A farmer will complain when a hot spell wilts his corn or when a hailstorm beats down his wheat, but a city critic makes more noise when the sun wilts down his collar and the hailstorm interferes with the ball game. A farmer may get discouraged at crop failures and low prices, but there are more farmers who can crack jokes over their hard luck than there are city men who can get a chuckle out of a real estate slump or a dull merchandising season. Somebody has pictured the farmer as a "chronic complainer," when the fact of the business is he is a far better loser than the city chap. And if you think he isn't just stand and listen to the city man squawk when the weather isn't just exactly what he would have it if he had the job of making it.

COSTLY RAINS

August of 1926 will be recorded as the month in which a record-breaking amount of moisture fell over all sections of the United States, and it is also going to be remembered sadly for a long time to come by thousands who lost money as the result of it. All in all we have fared reasonably well around Plymouth, but in hundreds of communities hay crops have been hard hit and thousands of dollars worth of late vegetables, such as cabbage and tomatoes, have been beaten into the ground by the heavy rains and rendered worthless for use. In quite a few communities, too, heavy property losses have been reported, small streams heretofore considered peaceful rising above their banks and drowning smaller farm animals, while numerous rivers have added to the general loss by destroying dwellings and barns in low-lying territory. Fortunately the greater part of the country's grain crops were out of the way before the general rains started, and while some damage is reported it is not as great as it would have been had the skies released their flood of water a couple of weeks sooner. This is about the only consolation we get out of it. We can manage to struggle along without tomatoes and cabbage and a few things like that, but a blow to our wheat and corn crops would be a blow we wouldn't get over very easily. There is still room to be thankful that things are no worse than they are.

GRANGE NOTES

The September meeting, which should have been held this week, has been postponed until next Friday evening, September 10th.

HAVE MICHIGAN

PEOPLE GOOD FEET?

INTERESTING DEMONSTRATION
TO BE HELD IN PLYMOUTH.

How many people in Plymouth have good feet? How many people within a radius of fifty miles have good feet? These questions may seem odd, but according to authorities on the foot only three out of ten persons have really normal feet. All the rest are either pestered with corns, annoyed by callouses, suffer with tired, aching feet, weak ankles, sharp shooting pains in the legs, or they endure, often for hours, agony with bunions. Yet all of this suffering is unnecessary, declares O. M. Cowden, a foot expert of Chicago, who is coming to Plymouth on September 9th. While here, Mr. Cowden, who is a representative of Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the famous foot authority, will give a free demonstration of Dr. Scholl's Method of Foot Correction at the Walk-Over Foot Shop, Woodworth Bldg., Main St. This store has issued an invitation to all foot sufferers to come and let Mr. Cowden look at their feet. He will, they declare, be pleased to show them how easily they can be rid forever of their aches and pains by simply being correctly fitted with shoes or perhaps with light appliances which are worn in the shoes.

Although this was planned for a picnic, the recent showers and the coolness of the day made the house seem more inviting than the lawn, and the guests were glad to remain indoors. The long table, which was set for the pot-luck dinner, was loaded with all sorts of goodies, and altogether the occasion was one which will be long remembered by the members.

BAPTIST NOTES

Sunday was a good day at the church. Quite a good many were away on a vacation, but the audience was fine.

The new singing books came during the week and will make a good addition to the number already on hand. We hope the church will have to order new ones each week.

The Sunday-school rally, which takes place in September, will be on the third Sunday in the month, the 19th. Everyone ought to be in their places that day, and boost for a large attendance.

The B. Y. P. U. had to do with missionaries in India and their work, last Sunday evening. The pastor led the meeting.

Announcements have been made for some time about the bazaar and supper the B. Y. P. U. division of the Ladies' Aid will hold at the Grange hall, this Friday evening. A splendid supper will be served for 50c. Come.

The one hundredth anniversary of the Farmington Baptist church will be held at the church in Farmington, September 15th and 16th. A good program has been arranged. Friends are invited.

Three years more and the Plymouth Baptist church will hold its anniversary, as it was organized ninety-seven years ago.

MEETING HELD AT LIVONIA CENTER UNION CHURCH.

A meeting of the Livonia Center Union church society was called at the church, Thursday, August 26th, for the purpose of electing a board of trustees and also to allow said society to express their desire regarding name of said church.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman of the board of trustees, C. B. Weaver, and was opened with a song, "Onward Christian Soldier," followed by a prayer. Mr. Weaver then introduced John L. Crandell, justice of the peace and attorney-at-law, who took charge of the meeting in a very able manner.

A list of the qualified voters had been previously prepared by the board of trustees, and when the roll was called it was found that fifty-four persons whose names appeared on the roll answered the call. There were many others whose names did not appear on the roll, but who were legally qualified to vote, as they were residents of the community, and had at some previous time been regular attendants of the church. Altogether over one hundred were present.

The election of trustees then took place, three being elected for a term of two years and three for a term of one year, which were as follows: C. B. Weaver, E. C. Smith and Harmon Kingsley, two years; George Bentley, Dan McKinney and Richard Smith for one year. The question then arose as to the name of the church, and it was a unanimous vote by every person present that the name of the church should not be changed, but should be known as the Livonia Center Union Church Society. Several who were present at this meeting were present at the dedication of the church in 1889. A motion was then made to adjourn.

It was like a great home coming to see the faces of so many old friends, who used to worship in this church in years gone by.

The new board of trustees will secure a regular pastor in the very near future. Services are held every Sunday at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. to which everybody is most cordially invited. It is also being arranged that all the old members of this society will hold a supper and home coming in the near future, for the purpose of meeting old friends and talking over olden times. This supper will be free to all who are interested in this church, no charge being made. Date will be announced later.

STARK

Mr. and Mrs. E. Jaklin, Bert Smith and family of Fowlerville, visited at the home of Mrs. Mary Maynard, Sunday. Dell Maynard and Will Smith were also guests there.

Mrs. Wm. Johnson of Stark, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bentley motored to Davidsburg, Sunday, to attend the Hutchinson reunion. They were very much pleased to find Mrs. Delbert Hutchinson very much improved in health.

John Baker is visiting at the home of his daughters, Mrs. R. E. Vantassel of Stark, and Mrs. Wm. Wilson and Mrs. H. Grimm of Wayne.

Mrs. Rollin Preston has returned home from a two weeks' visit with her sister-in-law in Owosso.

SEVENTY ATTEND SCHOOL RE-UNION.

About 70 people assembled at Fraim's Lake Saturday for the fifth annual school reunion. A pot-luck dinner was enjoyed on the school lawn. Following the dinner a program of music and readings was given. Prof. N. A. Harvey of Normal College, was present and gave a reading, "The Little Red School House," which was printed in a McClure's Magazine of twenty years ago.

The interesting program under the direction of Mrs. Scotchey was opened with community singing of America. Readings were given by George Staebler and Helen Lidke, Harold Koch, Mrs. Edward Lyke and Miss Evelyn Lyke, all of Ypsilanti, favored with solos and responded to encores. Freeman Covert, Ann Arbor, gave several organ numbers. Miss Lucile Staebler, Battle Mountain, daughter of Henry Staebler, a former student at Fraim's Lake school, who is visiting relatives in Michigan, gave a short but interesting talk on schools. Miss Staebler will teach in Akron, Ohio, this year.

Preceding the program a business session was called and the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Miss Carrie Crippen, Ypsilanti; vice president, Mrs. Fred Judson; secretary, Mrs. Fred Fishbeck; treasurer, Mrs. T. E. Lyke.

WALTERS FOR COUNTY CLERK

HIS USEFUL PUBLIC SERVICE WINS MANY ENDORSEMENTS.

AGAINST A 9TH TERM

Mr. Geo. A. Walters, Detroit, Dear Sir:

Your opponent in his campaign for a ninth (9) term after being County Clerk with a large income for sixteen (16) years, is extensively advertising an editorial that was printed in his behalf for special political reasons as long ago as eight years, August 26, 1918.

He now withholds the date in an attempt to fool the people into thinking it was a recent editorial.

On investigation I do not find that the dully press has given him any endorsement in recent years. On the other hand your useful public activities have frequently received the commendation of the press of Detroit. I am against a 9th term. The above for your information.

Very sincerely yours,
Edward Alexander,
Pres. Alexander Productions,
741 Free Press Bldg.

Friends of Geo. A. Walters, candidate for County Clerk on the Republican ticket Sept. 14, declare that he has made a good record for public service both in the Police Department, of which he was secretary under six different administrations, and as Sheriff of Wayne County now ending a second term.

Ever since he designed the first traffic semaphore about fifteen years ago, which was copied in cities from New York to Los Angeles, he has taken an active part in the work of regulating traffic and the prevention of crime, all with the chief purpose of saving human life.

Upwards of 1,000 business and professional men have signed the following endorsement:

"We believe that the record and qualifications of Sheriff Geo. A. Walters, who is prohibited by law from a third term as Sheriff, are such that it is in the best interests of the public that he be continued in the service of the people of Wayne County, and we urge his nomination for County Clerk on Sept. 14."

Mr. Walters is also endorsed by several hundred attorneys, including Col. Wade D. Mills, President of the Michigan Bar Association, and Judges of the Wayne Circuit Court, because of his service in the Police Department and in the Sheriff's office, and also because of his qualifications.

DEHOCO CLUB VS. MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES CLUB

The Municipal Team, a picked team of the best talent that the amateur ranks of Detroit could offer, defeated the Officers' team from the Farm, Saturday, by the score of 12 to 5. It was a good game to watch, and everything went along fine for the Farmers until the lucky seventh, when the Municipal bunch pounced on the weakening pitcher Rowland, and Trombley who relieved Rowland, for a sum of nine runs. A home run by Steffanowski over the left field wall was the feature of the game.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Of The Executive Committee

On Plymouth's New Hotel Project

FOR THE PAST SEVERAL YEARS, EVERY CITIZEN WHO HAS DISCUSSED THE NEEDS OF PLYMOUTH, HAS REFERRED TO A NEW AND MODERN HOTEL AS THE ONE GREAT OUTSTANDING NEED OF THE COMMUNITY. THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, REALIZING THE NEW HOTEL AS PLYMOUTH'S MOST URGENT NEED, APPOINTED A HOTEL COMMITTEE TO SECURE INFORMATION WHICH MIGHT DETERMINE THE EXTENT OF THIS NEED. THIS COMMITTEE HAD MADE A COMPLETE SURVEY OF THE HOTEL SITUATION IN PLYMOUTH. THE REPORT, WHICH WAS CONSERVATIVE IN EVERY RESPECT, SHOWED THAT A FIFTY ROOM HOTEL IS NEEDED AND THAT THE OPPORTUNE TIME HAS ARRIVED FOR PLYMOUTH TO BUILD THIS MODERN HOTEL, THUS PLACING HER AMONG THE BEST HOTELED COMMUNITIES IN THE STATE OF MICHIGAN.

As a result of this report, a Hotel Campaign Executive Committee has been organized, consisting of thirty-five of Plymouth's business and professional men. The work of this committee is to carry through the financial campaign that will actually supply Plymouth with a new and modern hotel which will meet the needs of our community. This hotel will have a decided influence in bringing to this community new business. It will cater to both the tourist and commercial traveller and will be built to take care of local social and business functions and will form a Community Center for Plymouth citizens.

Many distinctive features will be included in our New Hotel to make it attractive and popular. In addition to a comfortable Lobby and beautiful Dining Room and Banquet Hall, there will be a modern Coffee Shop, Lounging Rooms and Ladies' Parlor.

In seeking a location for the New Hotel, the Committee had a detailed survey made by The Hockenbury System, Inc., hotel specialists. The two main points in mind when locating the Hotel were to place it where it can produce the largest revenue for the stockholders and where it will serve the community and travelling public best. Such points were considered as income from shop rentals on ground floor, prominence of location, accessibility of location, line of most travel, cost and whether corner property or not. This survey showed that the site on the southwest corner of Main and Ann Arbor streets ranked highest. The committee was unanimously in favor of this site which has 80 feet frontage on Main street and 110 feet frontage on Ann Arbor street.

The question of operation and management of the Hotel will receive the most careful consideration. Prominent hotel operators have already been in touch with the local committee, and when it is known generally that Plymouth is to have a New and Modern Hotel, there will be many applications to lease and operate the Hotel. The experience and standing of all prospective operators will be weighed by the Hotel Company at the close of the financial campaign and the best operator with the best offer will be selected.

This being a project of the community, by the community and for the community, every resident of Plymouth and vicinity will be given an opportunity to participate in the purchase of stock. There will be no gratuities given to anyone in the form of stock or other concessions. Every officer, director and other interested party will purchase stock on an equal basis with every other stockholder.

THE NEW HOTEL WILL BE FINANCED BY THE SALE OF 6 PER CENT PREFERRED STOCK, FULLY PAID AND NON-ASSESSABLE WITH PAR VALUE OF $100.00 PER SHARE, AND WITH EACH TWO SHARES OF PREFERRED STOCK, THE INVESTOR IS TO RECEIVE AS A BONUS, ONE SHARE OF COMMON STOCK OF NO PAR VALUE. THE STOCK WILL BE SOLD IN UNITS CONSISTING OF TWO SHARES OF PREFERRED AND THE BONUS OF ONE SHARE OF COMMON; THE UNIT COSTING $200. THE HOTEL WILL BE FINANCED, BUILT AND OWNED BY THE CITIZENS WHO PURCHASE THE STOCK.

THE EARNINGS OF OTHER MODERN HOTELS IN COMMUNITIES SIMILARLY SITUATED AS PLYMOUTH, JUSTIFY THE STATEMENT THAT THE INVESTORS SHOULD RECEIVE A SATISFACTORY RETURN ON THEIR INVESTMENT.

THE SITE, BUILDINGS AND FURNISHINGS WILL COST COMPLETED, APPROXIMATELY $198,000. THE MONEY WHICH THE CITIZENS OF PLYMOUTH INVEST, WILL GO INTO ONE OF THE BEST SITES IN PLYMOUTH ON WHICH WILL BE BUILT A THOROUGHLY MODERN BUILDING, THEREBY ASSURING THE SAFETY OF THE MONEY INVESTED. THIS FIFTY ROOM HOTEL IS TO BE THOROUGHLY MODERN AND RANK WITH THE BEST MODERN HOTELS IN THE STATE. THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEMBERS FEEL THAT WITH THE EXTREME NEED FOR A MODERN HOTEL IN PLYMOUTH, THE CITIZENS OF PLYMOUTH WHO HAVE FAITH IN THE FUTURE OF THEIR COMMUNITY WILL JOIN WHOLEHEARTEDLY TO MAKE THE HOTEL A REALITY.

The terms of payment will be most liberal and will extend over a period of twelve months, with payments as follows:

20 per cent Oct. 15, 1926
 20 per cent Jan. 15, 1927
 20 per cent Apr. 15, 1927
 20 per cent July 15, 1927
 20 per cent Oct. 15, 1927

The purchase of this stock should appeal to every citizen; first, because the investment is represented by land, bricks, steel and good will in what is one of the most desirable locations in Plymouth; second, because the project is definitely a civic enterprise, and a New, Modern Hotel will be a very definite asset to the entire community.

The Executive Committee engaged in the success of the New Hotel Project ask the energetic, practical and loyal support of every public-spirited resident of Plymouth and vicinity.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

We have finished extending the Irvin street water main up to Farmer street. Maple street west of Harvey street is next.

Our second batch of 10,000 gallons of road oil has been applied throughout the town. Some streets, where the sewers are soon to go, were purposely left out and of course, all streets got a lighter coat than in the spring.

The new walk on Plymouth road is finished. It now remains to grade out from the walk, removing the old concrete.

There seems to be an epidemic of bill posting in the village. The candidates for county offices are responsible for most of it. If the people of the village will let the manager's office know when they see such bill posting going on, we will see if we can discontinue the posters. Our ordinance prohibits bill posting on the streets of Plymouth.

The county road crew has started pouring the side street intersections of the side South Main street pavement.

THE THEATRE

"BORN TO THE WEST"

In "Born to the West," Paramount's picturization of Zane Grey's story, which comes to the Pennington Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, September 5th and 6th, admirers of Jack Holt will declare that the role of "Colorado Rudd" is one of the finest he has ever given to the screen.

Holt is essentially a Zane Grey type. His superb horsemanship, ruggedness and he-man physique fit finely into this story of early Colorado. It tells of two boys who fought at school, marked each other for life and carried the scars of hatred up through manhood.

Grey has shown that he can combine charming romance with the outdoors, for there is a romantic love theme with Margaret Morris taking capable care of the feminine end of it.

The comedy relief is borne by Raymond Hatton, remembered for his sterling work with Wallace Beery in "Behind the Front." In "Born to the West," Hatton is a comedy cowboy, Jack Holt's buddy, and there is much hilarity wherever he is to be found. Arlette Marchal, Paramount's beautiful French player, is adorable as a dance hall girl, and has many big dramatic moments. The picture is filled with action.

"Born to the West" is the first directorial effort of John Waters. The production vindicates the faith Paramount had in Waters when they elevated him to the post. Lucien Hubbard is responsible for the screen play.

"THE LUCKY LADY"

Every once in a while a picture comes to town at which the inveterate moviegoer has a grand time. Such a film is Raoul Walsh's production, "The Lucky Lady," which comes to the Pennington Allen theatre, Wednesday, September 8th.

The story itself is amusing and the company which enacts it, stands far, far above the average. Greta Nissen was never cast in a part that fit her better than as Princess Antoinette, the girl who falls in love with a young American, and then has a terrible time manifesting and proving where her heart really lies.

Lionel Barrymore gives a distinguished performance as the dissolute roue, a role just a bit reminiscent of the part he played in "Enemies of Women." As fine a bit of pantomime as has been seen on our screen in many moons, is the sequence in which Miss Nissen disguises herself as a coquette in order to prove that the roue's heart is fickle. And on seeing the girl, he forgets his professed love for the princess, but follows the little beauty.

The two other featured players, William Collier, Jr., and Marc MacDermott, each give the splendid performances for which they can always be counted on. Collier is the young American lover and MacDermott, the prime minister who is "promoting" Barrymore's marriage to the princess.

"The Lucky Lady" was especially written for the screen by Robert F. Sherwood and Bertram Rich. James T. O'Donohue prepared the scenario.

WILL ORGANIZE SCHOOL PUPILS IN SAFETY WORK

When school opens this fall a brand new course will be given every student in Plymouth, that of public safety. The Detroit police department, the Michigan state police and the Detroit Automobile Club will combine in their efforts this year to reach every student and every parent in the state with safety messages.

Such a program was announced by Raymond Bachelder, manager of the local branch of the club this week, following a meeting in Detroit attended by Michigan Commissioner of Public Safety Ann Straight, Captain J. C. Senyarda of the state police, Gustavo C. Schinck, Detroit police inspector of traffic, Judge McKay Skillman of Recorder's court, Charles T. Bush, president of the automobile club, and George Walters, sheriff of Wayne county.

The following officers of the state police also attended the meeting to make plans for the fall educational campaign: Lieut. Walter T. Anderson, Flint; Lieut. Ova Jackson, South Rockwood; Lieut. R. W. Eaton, Wayne; Lieut. C. E. Demaray, Paw Paw; Lieut. J. C. Cleghorn, St. Clair; Serg. James Fredrickson, Lansing; Serg. William Hanson, Jackson, and twenty members of the force.

The educational plan as outlined by Commissioner Straight is for a uniformed state trooper to visit every school in the rural districts with automobile club workers, and present a safety program. Following such talks with the students, the boys and girls are to be enrolled in the junior state police. Each boy or girl joining the organization will be given a safety pledge card to take home and have signed by their parents. When a school room has been organized 100 per cent, the room may appoint officers who will have charge of at least 15 minutes a day before and after school to teach safety measures of conduct.

This work will be carried on in the state by the outposts, and in Detroit by the club and the local police safety department under Sergeant H. O. Rounds.

The local police, Inspector Schinck also announced, will work with the club in putting on brake tests and in an educational campaign to bring about somewhat more courteous driving conditions in the city proper.

Sheriff George Walters also pledged his aid to this work, and announced that his office would also co-operate in county work of this nature.

America's Long Lead in Home Ownership

As a home-building nation, the United States unquestionably leads all others just at present, according to the Common Brick Manufacturers' association.

The proportion of residential building to all other types of construction is growing in America each year. The statement often is made that one-half of America's building expenditure goes into homes, but an accurate check of the different classifications of construction shows that in 1925 nearly 62 per cent of the building in the United States was residential, based upon floor space area. The proportion in 1920 was 54 per cent; in 1921, 52 per cent; in 1922, 54 per cent; in 1923, 59 per cent, and in 1924, 61 per cent.

As a home-building nation the United States unquestionably exceeds all others at the present time. Dividing the various classes of construction into four, namely, residential, commercial, industrial and educational, in 1925 we find that the second largest volume was commercial, being 16 per cent of the total. The next largest, industrial, being 7 1/2 per cent, and the next, educational, 6 1/2 per cent.

Owners of Property Must Work Together

Improvement associations afford an inspiration and a medium for the study of conditions, remedies and possibilities. They make possible the formulation and application of definite, progressive policies. Without such policies there is only limited incentive for the individual property owner to keep his holdings in first-class shape or to make new or additional improvements. But when there are definite standards applicable to a whole street and observed by all the owners of frontage, each property owner not only enhances the value of his ground or building, but gains this additional value through the desirability of the street as a whole. Progress is slow at best if it depends on a few enterprising property owners; yet there has been a disposition in the past to do nothing to wait merely for the improvements made by others to increase their own values. This is a slow game—too slow. Whatever the cost of a general improvement policy recommended by any of these associations, it would be a good investment for the property holders.—Chicago Post.

Good Building Rules

When you build you will want to build well so that, like the descendants of the Colonists, future generations can point with pride to the work of your head and hands. This thought adds a new pleasure and a new sense of responsibility to your efforts.

In advising you to build well we do not necessarily mean that you should build expensively, although we do believe that if it is ever advisable to stretch a point, here is the place to do it.

Your success will depend primarily upon your plans, your choice of materials and the honesty and skill of the workmanship employed. A good residence is simple and dignified rather than fancy and fussy. A modest home, well planned, is far more desirable than a poorly planned mansion.—Boston Herald.

Decorative Values

Paint and stain, besides being valuable as means of protection and conservation, are the best decorative mediums we have. Before choosing a color scheme for a house, one simple rule should be heeded, a roof should be in perfect harmony with its surroundings or in definite contrast to them. This involves a study of the style of architecture, the character of the setting, and the geographical location of the house. Every roof is an individual problem. Among trees, hard rooflines, developed in spring colors, will contrast pleasantly with the softness of the leaves. But against a sharp horizon, a color which will soften the silhouette is desirable.

Protecting Belgian Lace

A law has been enacted for the protection of handmade lace in Belgium. The first article of the law provides for the protection of lace made entirely by hand, the second deals with handmade motifs applied by hand on machine-made tulle, and the third concerns accuracy in the marking of invoices and bills of sale.

Has Right to Title "Father of Want Ad"

In 1672 John Houghton, a fellow of the Royal Society, established a weekly paper for the improvement of husbandry and trade, and undertook to educate the merchants of England in the art of advertising. First he established a bureau for supplying servants to masters and masters to servants, carrying on operations through advertising. From this he went into the advertising of schools, houses and lodgings to let and so forth, laying down the idea of what has grown into our present "want ads." He instructed the public class by class, including lawyers, physicians and farmers to use his columns, and built up a large miscellaneous patronage for his paper. The clergy in particular found his columns an excellent medium for securing or disposing of second-hand sermons, for there were no Monday morning papers in those days, with ever-present reporters, and a sermon could be preached around in various parishes until it was worn out.

John Houghton was the first "little schoolmaster in the art of advertising," and his efforts resulted in great increases in the use of newspapers as a medium in furthering trade. Books continued to lead among the things advertised—particularly novels, which had an immense vogue during the Seventeenth and Eighteenth centuries. After the great fire of London the advertising columns of the paper were extensively used as a means of reuniting scattered families, and advertising was also in favor as a medium for perpetuating hoaxes on the public and of setting forth political opinions.

Daniel Defoe was the cleverest and most persistent advertiser of his day—from 1685 until 1728, when he published the last of a long list of miscellaneous books. Known now chiefly by his "Robinson Crusoe," it has been generally forgotten that Daniel Defoe was an active pamphleteer, writing upon topics that were uppermost in the popular mind and taking advantage of each whim or craze to sell his work.—Frank Presbrey in the World's Work.

Fined for Skinning Frogs

Frogs, some alive and kicking, others skinned to death, were produced in evidence at the Mixed court at Shanghai, China, when a Chinese hawk was charged with "killing frogs by skinning them alive contrary to a proclamation issued in the twelfth and thirteenth years of the republic of China." The city prosecutor pointed out that the proclamation prohibiting anyone from killing or catching frogs had been issued because they were good for the farmers. The accused admitted that he had skinned the frogs, but when dead, and said that they were considered quite a delicacy among both the Chinese and foreigners. He was fined, the dead frogs were sent to the city hospital for food, and the live frogs were released. During season frogs are frequently served at hotels and clubs, including the American club.

City Without Amusements

Angora, Turkey, is believed to be the only capital in the world where there are no cinemas, no theaters, dance halls, cabarets or other places of amusement. Although the Anatolian metropolis has a population of 81,500, there are no recreations or diversions of any kind. This is not due to any restrictions of the Koran or Turkish religion, but to the fact that Angora is just emerging from a mud village to a modern capital. Mustafa Kemal, the Turkish dictator, promises that in time the Turkish people and foreign residents will have ample amusements. Plans are now under way for the erection of an opera house to seat 3,000 persons.

The Copyright Act

The first act providing for the copyright of books and other publications in the United States was passed 136 years ago. The term of a copyright was then fixed at fourteen years, with a renewal privilege of fourteen years longer. In 1831 the period was extended to twenty-eight years and a renewal of fourteen years. For about a hundred years the principal protection of authors was extended only to citizens of the United States, while in England a similar injustice was practiced upon Americans.

International copyright conventions now exist between nearly all nations.

Has Saved Twelve Lives

Scoutmaster Louis Humphries of Tampa, Fla., was recently honored by the American Red Cross for conspicuous bravery in saving the lives of a drowning couple. The rescue took place at a bathing beach at Richmond, Va., two years ago. Humphries received the American Red Cross service medal and rescue bar, the highest award for heroism which the Red Cross bestows.

The scoutmaster has a long record for life-saving, having rescued 12 people from death. He is twenty-two years of age, and is a postal clerk.

For Coolness in Homes

Cold distributed on the same general principle as heat is an innovation of the newer apartment dwellings in New York and other large cities in the East. Instead of installing bulky machinery in individual apartments for iceless refrigeration purposes, one central machine is used in the basement, just as one furnace or boiler is used. From this central plant the individual apartment housewife can control the cold in her iceless refrigerator, turning it on or off as simply as she regulates a radiator.

Road Guide To State Fair

The above map shows how Michigan trunk line roads come into the Detroit area, and how to reach the State Fair grounds without entering the city's heavy traffic districts. By crossing the Six or Seven-Mile Road to Woodward Avenue, motorists, coming from any direction can reach the grounds easily without going "down town" at all. (Map drawn by State Highway Department.)

NEW FAIR BUILDING TELLS FARM STORY

A story of Michigan farm life, covered from all angles, will be told in the exhibits at the new agricultural building on the State Fair Grounds, September 5 to 11.

Final check of the organizations and groups which will exhibit in this newest unit of the State Fair equipment, shows that all leading farm interests of the state will be represented. The result, according to Prof. J. F. Cox of the Michigan State College, who is chairman of the agricultural committee of the fair board, will be the most complete story of Michigan farms ever told in exhibit form.

Among the groups which are completing their exhibits this week are: Michigan Farm Bureau, the Grange, the Gleasons, the Michigan State College, the State Department of Agriculture, the Upper Peninsula, the State Crop Improvement Association, the Cannery Association, the Detroit Market Gardeners Association, the Michigan Florists Association, and the agricultural press of the state.

Competitive exhibits in horticulture and crops will also be housed in this building, which is said to be the largest agricultural exhibit building in the world.

FAIR VISITORS WILL CAMP IN STATE PARKS

Michigan state parks near Detroit will be used as camp grounds by many of those who drive to the State Fair at Detroit from September 5 to 11, according to P. J. Hoffmaster, superintendent of parks.

Those who tour to Detroit for the fair, and who wish to camp out on the trip, will find the parks of great convenience. Several of them are within driving distance of an hour or so from the Fair Grounds.

Among the state parks within easy reach of Detroit are: Island Lake State Park, near Brighton on M-16; Dodge Brothers State Park, one-half mile off Woodward Ave., near Birmingham; Bloomer State Park No. 2, one and one-half miles southeast of Rochester, at the head of John R. street; Dodge Brothers State Park, six miles south of Utica, near Gratiot avenue.

SPECIAL DAYS MARK STATE FAIR PROGRAM

Special days, on each of which added attention will be given to the groups honored on that day, have been designated for the State Fair. All of the entertainment and educational program of the big exposition will, of course, run right through the week, but extra features will be planned for the special days.

Monday, September 6, is to be Labor Day; Tuesday, Children's Day; Wednesday, Fraternal Day; Thursday, Farmers' Day; Friday, Detroit Day, and Saturday, Automobile Day. Big time horse races are hooked for afternoons from Monday through Friday, with brilliant A. A. A. automobile racing on Saturday afternoon, September 11, the last day of the fair.

NOTES OF THE STATE FAIR

The 1926 Michigan State Fair will be the 77th in the history of the great state exposition.

The first Michigan State Fair was held in 1849. It has been held annually since, with the single exception of 1892.

Livestock premium lists for the 1926 Michigan State Fair rate with the leading three or four in the country, from the point of view to correct balance in allotments, according to Prof. G. A. Brown, of the Michigan State College.

Vacation Given to Rites

In China and India many persons devote their vacation period to performing religious rites and are not reconciled to making their recreation season each year one of pleasure. The same holds true in a measure in Japan and to some extent in Germany. It is only the Occidental countries which plainly make vacation a period of pleasure.

NAME BEST ROUTES TO REACH DETROIT

GOOD ROADS AVAILABLE FOR MOTORISTS FROM ANY PART OF STATE

Best road routings to reach the State Fair at Detroit from any section of Michigan have been prepared by the state highway department.

By following those road directions to the point where the routes join the highway system in the Detroit area, motorists from any part of the state will have an easy, comfortable ride to the big exposition, from September 5 to 11.

Special State Fair markers have been installed on the highways to make it still easier for visitors to reach the fair grounds. Arrows have been painted on the pavement in the Detroit district, marking the turns to the fair grounds. Metal signs are also being posted at all turns where a doubt might arise as to the proper route.

Thousands of visitors from all over the state are expected to drive to Detroit for the fair this year. Ease with which the motorist can avoid the heavy city traffic in getting to the fair grounds, and the generally good condition of state roads combine to make the trip an attractive one.

Hardly Worth While

When John L. Green fell twenty feet from a gas plant under construction at Harrison, N. J., his fellow-workers believed him seriously injured and had him rushed to the hospital. Physicians there took thirty minutes to undress him, for Green wore five sweaters, two suits of underwear, two coats, three pairs of trousers, and two pairs of socks. After the excavation they found only a splashed ankle.—Indianapolis News.

TIGERS DEFEAT WAYNEFORD AND BASE LINE 6-5 AND 3-2.

Sunday, August 29, the Newburg Tigers won their first double header of the season. This is the first time since 1920 that Newburg Tigers pitchers pitched such good games as they did Sunday, when they let Wayneford down with four hits, and Base Line with five hits. Both games should have been won by shut out scores.

Holmes started his first game of the season, but found himself wild when he let Wayneford have four runs with one hit. He walked three, hit three and an error gave them four, but the Tigers tied the score in the last half of the inning, and Hively let Wayneford down with four hits and a run in five innings. Wayneford tied the score in the first half of the sixth, only to see the Tigers score the winning run in their half of the inning.

Second game: The first four men up were safe on account of errors, letting Base Line score a run; here Ostrander struck out two and the other fled out. This game was also won in the sixth inning, and like the first game, Base Line didn't get a hit until the third. This was the best game of the season for the reason of the low score of three and two.

For the first time in several years, the Tigers will play a ball game on a Saturday. This game will be the opening game at Wayneford's circus and hippodrome. Remember, Saturday, September 4th, at Wayneford, at 2:30 p. m.

Sunday, September 5th, the Tigers will journey over to Worden to play the fast stepping Worden team.

Monday, September 6th, Newburg Tigers and Salem will hoop up in the final game of the season between these two teams. Both teams have won one game from the other, and the winner will be the better team for the season. Don't forget, September 6th, at Newburg at 3:00 p. m.

The leading hitters on the Newburg Tigers club: Marley, 585; Younce, 500; Levandowski, 450; Bennett, 409; Holmes, 370; Zlasko, 361; Hively, 357; Wilson, 353; Ostrander, 333; Hess, 321, and Pete, 316.

A MODERN HOTEL AT IDAHO FALLS.

Idaho Falls, Idaho, home of the famous big potato, and gateway to Yellowstone Park, has distinguished itself in a recent, successful community hotel project, securing, by local subscription to stock, $182,050, from 511 stockholders, on an objective of $145,000.

The culmination of the hotel program, promoted by the local Chamber of Commerce and directed by the Hockenbury System Inc., of Harrisburg, Pa., will give to this town of 8,500 population, a much needed 80-room hotel of five stories, to be located at the corner of Park avenue and C street, on a site 120 by 94 feet. The dining room will seat 100 and the banquet room an additional 200, providing for community social affairs, and future conventions, which heretofore have been very difficult to entertain. Seven shops will be included in the building, to be rented to local merchants.

Idaho Falls is the greatest potato shipping center of the west, being located in the center of a million-acre body of irrigated land, the largest in the country, which has never, in its history of forty years, had a crop failure. Two thousand cars of potatoes are shipped from the county annually.

In addition to its agricultural prominence, Idaho Falls is on the state highway to Yellowstone, being but 108 miles distant, a day's ride by auto from Salt Lake City. It has a five months tourist season, and will profit immeasurably, it is believed, by the addition of a first-class, modern hotel.

H. L. Stevens & Co. of San Francisco, is designing the building, and George O. Relf, operator of the Hotel Utah at Salt Lake City, is the lessee. The community hotel corporation, composed of local stockholders, is headed by O. A. Johannesen, as president, and W. L. Shattuck as secretary-treasurer. Mr. Shattuck also having been chairman of the executive committee of the sales program, with J. J. Polterin and J. Wesley Holden as general sales managers.

COMPETITION IN WORDS

One who goes into the market to buy a motor car today is naturally confused.

He has read the words best and greatest so often that they have ceased to be convincing. Where all is best, he reflects, there can be no best.

Thousand-dollar cars have been described to him in ten-thousand dollar language. And vice versa.

He finds himself the target in a war of adjectives; the helpless victim in a gigantic competition of words.

And so he is forced to rely on chance—the advice of friends—or his own limited experience.

Dodge Brothers, Inc., have never participated in this verbal competition.

They are content with the position they have long maintained in the far more vital competition of honest value.

They have continued steadily to improve their product, not only in comfort and beauty, but basically—beneath the body and hood where fundamental values lie.

Yet they have not unduly stressed each betterment that has marked the steady progress of their motor car toward a higher perfection.

And when economic conditions or greater sales have permitted them to reduce prices without reducing quality, they have announced the fact without excessive emphasis.

Unexaggerated truth is not spectacular. But in the long run, implicit public confidence has been Dodge Brothers reward, and this they propose to preserve forever by continuing to build just a little better than they tell.

NEWBURG

There was a goodly number out Sunday last, to welcome the pastor and wife back from their vacation. Rev. Havens had an appropriate text for the occasion, "I go a Fishing," St. John 21:3. The Sunday-school treasurer, Miss Louise Geney, gave the yearly report of $273.73. Church and Sunday-school at the usual hour next Sabbath. Everyone welcome.

The L. A. S. will hold a bake sale at Stever's meat market this Saturday afternoon, the proceeds to apply on their indebtedness. Everyone kindly asked to contribute something.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Mackinder accompanied their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Norris of Strathmore, to Pleasant Lake near Jackson, last Saturday, to attend a Knight family reunion, relatives of Mrs. Mackinder.

Peace, Goodwill

Columbia, Peace and the Spirit of Brotherly love have been personified in one person, a beautiful woman. This young lady was one of the central figures in a pageant staged at the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia, celebrating 150 years of American Independence. The Exposition continues until December 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stevens spent Sunday at Oakley, with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevens, at the Blunk cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ross and family of Ann Arbor, called at the Ryder homestead Sunday afternoon.

Word has been received from Roy Armstrong, a former Newburg and Plymouth boy, that he has gone into business for himself. On Saturday evening, August 21, occurred the opening of his fine new Ford agency building at San Gabriel, California. The Alhambra Post Advocate speaks in highest terms of Mr. Armstrong. He had been in the employ of the Ford company as paymaster in Alhambra, for the past thirteen years. His old friends extend congratulations.

Mrs. Donald Ryder called on Miss Florence Whitney, who is ill, at her home in Wayne, Sunday evening.

A letter received from Mrs. Grimm, Sr., who has been spending the summer in Germany, that she will sail for home the 17th of September. She travelled all through the month of July spending six days in Berlin, saying that Berlin is a large city with beautiful buildings, but not pleasant like Detroit. The first day, she went sight-seeing in one of the large auto busses. The guide explained everything in both English and German. It took two hours of continuous driving to see the most interesting places, all for the price of four marks, equal to one dollar. The second day, she visited the Royal Palace. To enter the palace, one had to pay a fee of three marks. Each visitor had to pull on a pair of felt slippers over their shoes; of course it is very beautiful. Adjoining the palace are lovely flower gardens, one called Rose garden, which looks like fairyland. Every color and size amid beautiful birds and butterflies. The third and fourth days, she visited all the large stores and warehouses. Mrs. Grimm says she has had a most wonderful time. However, she will be glad to get back to the country she now calls home.

Mrs. Havens' mother, Mrs. Bennett, called at the parsonage, Monday, on her way from Cleveland to her home in Pontiac. She is somewhat improved in health.

Burt Paddock entertained twelve children on the twelfth birthday of his son, Charles, last Friday. All had a fine time. Refreshments with birthday cake were served.

Tuesday evening occurred the fourth quarterly conference in the church, with Dr. Martin of Ann Arbor district presiding. A good attendance from Beech and Perrinville was present. The financial statements from all three appointments were very gratifying. Dr. Martin gave a fine missionary talk commending the charge on the way they had responded to the World Service program. A unanimous vote was given for the return of Rev. Havens for another year. After the meeting, a social time was had, the stewards serving light refreshments.

Today's Reflections

Saving for a rainy day is fine; but buy your coal now so you can give winter a warm welcome.

It's a pretty good idea for Plymouth motorists to remember that their brakes won't stop the car behind them.

Uncle Sam's figures show that each American should have $42.01, but some of us miss this amount by several hundred dollars.

If you think Dempsey isn't going to win his money when he fights Gene Tunney, just try hitting yourself in the nose a few times.

Telling the truth is the best policy in the long run, but the trouble with some Plymouth men is they don't run long enough.

Don't worry too much today. Things may be worse tomorrow and then you can worry twice as hard.

Some Plymouth people spend so much time wondering where other people get all their money that they never have time to make any of their own.

An alarm clock is a good deal more reliable than a rooster, but it doesn't make getting up any easier.

Maybe if Plymouth men took as good care of their complexions as women do, nature would give them better looking faces to work on.

There are many gasoline savings devices on the market, but a good pair of comfortable shoes is the best one.

Only a few more weeks left in which to get all washed up for the long cold spell.

What has become of the Plymouth man who was saying along about 1920 that "money is the cheapest thing we've got."

The time is fast rolling around when about the only thing that will scare a horse is to see another horse in town.

Starting something you can't finish isn't half as bad as starting something you won't finish.

Any Plymouth married man can tell you that having a heated discussion with your wife won't keep the house warm.

Some men live to a ripe old age and others go out hunting and pull the gun through a fence.

AROUND ABOUT US

The First National Bank of Dearborn will open a temporary office in that village, September 11th.

The citizens of Redford township enjoyed an old-fashioned corn roast at the Keeler school house, south of Five Points, last Sunday.

The seventh annual Washtenaw county fair is being held in Ann Arbor this week. Many from Plymouth and vicinity are in attendance at the fair every day.

Dr. E. F. Fisher of Dearborn is a candidate for state senator from the 21st District, at the coming primaries on the Republican ticket. Dr. Fisher has many friends in Plymouth.

A number of Sisters from the Home of the Good Shepherd of Detroit, have taken possession of the residence on the Richardson farm, which was recently purchased by that institution.—Northville Record.

The removal of bodies from St. Mary's cemetery, just east of the Redford High school, has been started. The bodies are being interred in the new Catholic cemetery on the Eleven Mile road, near Franklin road, where there is a cemetery of 600 acres.

Seventy-five gallons of moonshine whiskey and an automobile were confiscated by sheriff's officers, following an automobile accident at Dixboro. The car containing the liquor collided with a truck there and was wrecked. The occupants escaped before the officers were called.—Washtenaw Post.

A. E. Fuller, Northville's poultry fancier, received a telegram the first of the week, asking him to go to California in September, to judge two poultry shows to be held in the southern part of the state. He was assured transportation and all expenses would be paid and that he could set his own price for his services. To receive such a call is a distinct honor, and it clearly demonstrates that his reputation as a successful poultryman has spread far beyond the confines of his own county and state.—Northville Record.

NEW FEATURES OF KNOWN VALUE IMPROVEMENTS OF KNOWN WORTH

Known to all the motoring world is the definite, decided value of such features as Oil Filter and Air Cleaner.

Clear to every automotive engineer are the advantages of such improvements as Crankcase Ventilation, Two-Way Cooling and the Harmonic Balancer.

GREAT SOLDIER MET DEATH LIKE CAESAR

est Military Leaders

The man who probably came nearer to making himself a Napoleon than any other in Europe, from the assassination of Caesar to the appearance of the Corsican, was Wallenstein, whose tremendous influence made him an outstanding figure in history.

Just three centuries ago, in 1626, Wallenstein raised an army for the Holy Roman empire to oppose the Bohemians, after the latter had been augmented by the Danes and other northern Protestants. He smashed the forces opposed to him and drove them through Hungary. Then he drove north, clearing great sections of Germany, but was repulsed in an attempt to capture Stralsund on the Baltic. He had, however, been so thoroughly victorious that his foes seemed conquered. But as so often happens, the triumph had been too complete. Wallenstein had been arrogant in his treatment of the princes for whom he was fighting and they suspected he planned to overthrow them and make himself a dictator over central and eastern Europe. They brought about his dismissal by Emperor Ferdinand.

Gustavus Adolphus, who had made Sweden the master power of the North, then entered the arena and France was backing him with subsidies. The victors were suddenly put on the defensive by the march of the Swedes through Germany, while their allies, the Saxons, occupied Bohemia. The princes who had brought about Wallenstein's fall had to implore him to rescue them. At first he declined, then consented when offered not only command over all the imperial armies, but power over conquered territory greater than had ever been bestowed by a monarch.

Wallenstein quickly pushed the Saxons out of Bohemia and overran Saxony. Gustavus Adolphus had to march north to meet him and at Lutzen, in 1632, the great armies met. The Swedes won the day, but the defeat did not lessen Wallenstein's dreams. Plots and counter-plots thickened, until eight or nine of his officers were bought and agreed to assassinate their leader. On a February night in 1634, at a banquet in one of Wallenstein's castles, three of his followers were slain. The conspirators hurried to Wallenstein's quarters and found him in bed. With his customary courage, he threw his arms outward, lifting the sword thrusts. The blade of an assassin went through his breast.—Boston Post.

Posthumous Letters to Son

When J. S. Stevenson, of Vineland, N. J., died recently he left in the custody of an unknown person a collection of letters to be mailed one each year to his son who will receive it on his birthday. The little boy is now five years old and it is planned that he will receive these letters written by his father until the year he marries. Each letter contains advice suitable to the age of the boy the year he receives it. In the first letter the boy is told that his father has gone to see "Nisale Ann," a baby sister who died some time ago. "Some day," the father wrote, "you will come to see both of us." "Daddy is proud of his Dickie boy," the letter continued, "and knows that he will be good to his mother and take care of her always."—Exchange.

SHEDS NEW LIGHT ON URBAN GROWTH

Writer Makes Point as to Drift From Farms.

That the urbanization of the United States has not been so rapid as a casual reading of the census figures seems to indicate, is the contention of Robert W. McCullough in the Survey. Admitting that the relative decline of the rural population was marked between 1880 and 1920, he argues that the drift from the farms to the big cities has not been what is popularly supposed.

Use by the census bureau of the term "urban" to classify villages and towns of more than 2,500 inhabitants is misleading in that "urban" is usually thought of in connection with cities, whereas when this classification is subdivided it appears that growth has been by no means equal among villages, towns and cities of different sizes.

Many places formerly classed as rural, as their population was less than 2,500, have passed into the "urban" classification merely because their population now exceeds that figure. A part of the urban growth, therefore, may be said to be in reality a mere bookkeeping transaction.

Between 1900 and 1920 about 4,620,000 people passed from the rural to the urban classification without ever leaving their homes. Instead of the large cities receiving the bigger part of increase, places having from 25,000 to 100,000 population had the greater gain. Mr. McCullough also shows that the bulk of the immigrants settle in urban regions. They add to the bookkeeping increase of urban population without representing a loss from the rural regions. Making deductions for this element, the urban increase rate drops from 68.4 per cent to 52.1 per cent. The corrected rate of increase for the rural population is 23.6 per cent, which is about equal to the normal increase of births over deaths.

Interesting as are these figures, they should not be taken as indicating that the cityward trend has been checked. The back-to-the-farm movement has never been really popular, and the lure of towns and cities, even if only in the 25,000 to 100,000 class, continues to be so strong as to be a problem of national importance.

It is true that mechanical devices have greatly increased the agricultural output in proportion to the number of agricultural laborers, thus liberating a certain proportion of the farm population.

Old Manuscripts Verified

The Roerich museum of New York announced that an expedition sent from the museum has verified the existence of manuscripts in the Hemis monastery of Ladak written during the life of Christ and relating his travels and preaching in India, Tibet and Central Asia. The expedition, which has been in Chinese Turkestan since 1923, was detained in that region by the Daotai of Khotan. The members were later released after their weapons were confiscated by the native government. It is the opinion of the museum that the manuscripts at Ladak will throw much light on the vague years of the life of Jesus before his return to Jerusalem in his twenty-ninth year. Many are skeptical as to the authenticity of any such manuscripts.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Excuses

Representative Gilbert N. Haugen said in Washington the other day: "The men who block the Corn Belt's demands offer us very fine explanations and excuses. Well, they remind me of an anecdote.

"A married man at a shore hotel, tried to kiss a pretty girl, but she pushed him off and said:

"How dare you try to kiss me? Only this afternoon I saw you kissing your wife. And I heard you tell her, too, that she was all the world to you.

"Yes, that's right," the man answered calmly, for he was full of explanations and excuses. "There are two worlds, you know. Wife is the Old World, you are the new one."

Postwar Diplomacy

Representative Moore, who advocates revision of the passport laws, said at a dinner in Washington:

"Diplomacy seems to have gone crazy. The crazy way each nation judges its next-door neighbor reminds me of 'Chlorida Lyne.

"Men folks are fleckle," said Chlorida Lyne. "Dey ain't no reliance ter be put on 'em."

"Case why?" asked her girl chum.

"Dat wealthy young Rastus Dough come 'round Jas' night tryin' ter kiss me," said Chlorida, "and so as not ter seem too brazen and awdacious-like Ah bluffed him in de smeller wiv a hot flatiron, and jes' foh dat he flitted me."

Her Quaintness

"My Aunt Hetty, who has been dead these twenty years, was in some ways a remarkable woman and in other ways a thundering remarkable one," stated old Roswell P. Rasp. "For one thing, she didn't believe that the average old woman knew more about medicine than a doctor who had made it his life's study. For another thing she didn't believe that the boys were all going to the gallows and the girls were all flitty whoppets. And, lastly, she did not think the millinery of her day was any crazier looking than that of 1872. But, as I say, she has been gone to her reward twenty years."—Kansas City Times.

How It Happened

"How does it come that Yvonne is so happy in her marriage?" asked Blondie of the rapid-fire restaurant.

"Before she wedded she said her husband must be tall, handsome, eloquent, strong, healthy and brainy," replied Heloise, the head waitress. "By-and-by she married a fellow about as big and smart as a wash-room, and is so delighted with him that whatever he does is wonderful."—Kansas City Star.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

SHERIFF

WAYNE COUNTY

Mr. Ferguson was born 47 years ago in the town of Dryden, Lapeer County, Michigan.

Until 1902 he followed the occupation of farmer on a 320-acre farm.

In March, 1902, he went to work for the Detroit United Railway as conductor and later became a conductor in interurban freight service between Detroit and Flint, Michigan.

After much striving and hard work his ability was recognized and he was elected by his fellow workers to the office of Business Agent of the local street car union, the highest position of trust and confidence that they could bestow upon a fellow worker.

That he lived true to this trust is proven by the fact that he was elected four consecutive times to this office.

In 1920, as a further recognition of his ability as a leader, and his natural honesty and integrity as a man, the workers of this elected him President of the Michigan Federation of Labor.

In 1921, Mr. Ferguson was appointed Deputy Commissioner in the State Department of Labor and Industry. He became a lone arbitrator hearing and deciding disputed workmen's compensation cases. While in this position five hundred cases were heard by him, and it is a tribute to his justice and honesty to note that not one complaint was registered against his decisions.

On February 21, 1923, the late President Harding appointed Mr. Ferguson Collector of Customs for the District of Michigan. Each year the value of imports from foreign countries through his district exceed $35,000,000. Consequently the position of Collector requires a man of responsibility who is accustomed to hard work, and Mr. Ferguson's fitness to hold this position is proven by his continued efforts to better the conditions at the Port of Detroit in handling of Customs business, and these efforts on his part have benefited both the Customs employees and the ordinary citizen doing business through these channels.

Mr. Ferguson offers his record as a public servant to the people of Wayne County. He has always fulfilled the obligations and responsibilities arising out of his various positions in public life, and the voters now have an opportunity to elect an able and honest citizen to a position in which his integrity and ability may be employed to enforce the laws of the state for the protection of the people of Wayne County.
