HAS LOCATED IN PLYMOUTH

Dr. Fred H. Stauffer and family of Muskegon, have moved to Plymouth, and are located in the apartments over Calvin Whipple's store on Penniman avenue, where he will open an office Saturday. Dr. Stauffer is a graduate of the Palmer School of Chiropractic of Davenport, Iowa, the largest school of its kind in the world. Dr. Stauffer has his office equipped with all the best appliances, including a neurological meter. Dr. Stauffer has been a resident of Muskegon all his life, and for nine years has been a member of the council at Muskegon Heights, and has taken a prominent part in all civic affairs. Dr. Stauffer has an announcement in today's paper.

A BRONZE TABLET FOR THE NEW HOTEL.

One hundred years ago the pioneers of this community left an older civilization, and blazed a path through the wilderness to make a home for themselves, and now their descendants are blazing a new way by joining together as one large family in building a community hotel, not only to entertain their own guests, but also that the stranger who may be within our gates can be made welcome and comfortable. When this new building is completed, why would it not be a good idea to place in the lobby of the hotel a bronze tablet containing the names of every person who joined in the effort to build this community hotel, that visitors may learn of the public spiritedness of Plymouth citizens.

Tentative Perspective of the Type of Hotel to Be Built in Plymouth

INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN FOR NEW $200,000 HOTEL TO START MONDAY NIGHT

Supper Meeting in Banquet Hall of Masonic Temple to Be Opening Gun in Big Drive.

130 Salesmen to Start Selling Stock Units of $200 Each.

The following announcement was made from headquarters today by Edward C. Hough, chairman of the executive committee, that the campaign for Plymouth's new $200,000 hotel will start Monday night, September 20th.

The opening meeting, which will consist of a complimentary supper to the entire sales organization of 130 men, will be held next Monday at 6:30 p. m., at the banquet hall of the Masonic temple. At this first meeting of the entire organization, plans for the campaign will be discussed and a sales demonstration will be staged. These 130 salesmen will be out next week selling 6 per cent preferred stock to the citizens of Plymouth and vicinity. The stock will be sold in units of two shares of preferred and one of common, which is given as a bonus, each unit selling for $200. This big organization of Plymouth's business and professional men are giving their time and energy so that Plymouth's greatest need will be met.

Sales Demonstration

In order that the personnel of this large sales organization may grasp the proposition quickly, a sales demonstration will be given on Monday night, before every one present. J. M. Larkins, chairman of the citizens' organization, states that the following men will take part in this demonstration: Edward C. Hough will take the part of the "hard-boiled prospect," and C. H. Bennett, together with some of his associates on the executive committee, will take the parts of the star salesmen.

It is expected that this sales demonstration will be very instructive as well as interesting.

Urge Attendance

Every man who has volunteered in the putting over of this project, has been notified of the big kick-off meeting, next Monday night. In order to insure success, it is absolutely important that every team member be present Monday evening. An absent member will make a handicapped team, a handicapped team will do likewise to a division. A division so affected will jeopardize the success of the whole campaign.

It is Mr. Hough's wish that every man be in his seat at 6:30 Monday night, when the "opening gun is fired."

Pleasant surprises are in store for every one, and a good time is assured. There will be a table for every team of men and every team table will be arranged according to the division to which the team belongs.

The executive committee, which has a membership of 43 of Plymouth's business men, will also be seated at one table. The Eastern Star ladies will serve the dinner on the opening night and the dinner luncheons at all meetings thereafter.

While the opening meeting will take the form of a banquet, the meetings during the following days of the campaign will take the form of luncheon meetings, which will start at 12:10 daily and close at 1:10. The entire sales organization of 130 men will be present at every one of these meetings.

The campaign executive committee, which has been functioning for the past few weeks, is meeting daily at the hotel campaign headquarters. The men on this committee are getting their work in such shape that the opening of the "drive" can be started with a "bang." These men who are very busy with their own personal business, are out working every day and making sacrifices in the interests of Plymouth's new hotel, and are showing a splendid civic spirit and their work has been highly commendable.

Sales Organization

Elsewhere in this issue is given the names of the Plymouth citizens who have agreed, up to the present time, to help put over this worthy project.

This organization chart shows the names of the salesmen by teams and by divisions. It also gives the personnel of the executive committee.

Erect Score Board

The huge score board, which will graphically portray the progress of the campaign during the next week, has been placed at the corner of Main street and Penniman avenue, directly across the street from the hotel campaign headquarters. This score board will show just what every team, every division and the whole organization are doing from day to day, and since it has been placed in position, it has caused much favorable comment on the part of Plymouth's citizens. The first figures will not be placed on the score board until after the opening kick-off meeting next Monday night.

Backing us Urged

In order to make this campaign a success, the executive committee respectfully urge the citizens of Plymouth to back this project financially and morally to the best of their ability. If this is done, Plymouth's greatest community need will be fulfilled next week. The purchase of stock in the new hotel affords a good investment opportunity, and it is also a civic duty and as such should appeal to every citizen in Plymouth's present and in her future progress.

Mr. and Mrs. James Chambers of Wayne, spent last Thursday evening with the former's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers.

FATAL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Thomas F. Ward of Detroit, a mechanic and tester for the Chrysler Corporation of Detroit, was instantly killed at the intersection of the Cherry Hill and Canton Center roads at about three o'clock last Saturday morning. Mr. Ward, accompanied by his wife, was driving east, and due to a heavy fog which prevailed at the time, the driver did not see the signal light at the intersection until he was almost upon it, and in turning out to avoid a collision, the car skidded across the road into some loose gravel and turned over. Mrs. Ward was uninjured. The remains of the unfortunate man were brought to the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, and later taken to his home in Detroit.

A coroner's jury was empaneled by Justice Patterson, and the inquest was held at the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Monday evening. The jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death in an auto accident while performing his duties as a tester for the Chrysler Corporation.

KIWANIANS OBSERVE CONSTITUTION WEEK.

Constitution Week was observed by the local Kiwanis Club at their noonday meeting Tuesday of this week. J. B. Hubert and Henry J. Fisher were in charge of the program. Superintendent of Schools George A. Smith, gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the American Constitution, which was greatly appreciated by the members present.

Prof. John L. Barnhart of the Department of Mathematics of the Michigan State Normal, and Mr. Erickson, Superintendent of Schools of Ypsilanti, were present, and gave very interesting talks on the advantages of a band for Plymouth and the benefits to the schools. It was a very pleasant and profitable meeting and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

CELEBRATED NINETIETH BIRTHDAY.

On September 14th, Mrs. Sarah Holmington of 180 South Union street, reached the ninetieth milestone of her life. She came, with her parents, to this state 83 years ago, at the age of seven years, and has been a resident of Plymouth and vicinity continuously since that time.

It seems quite remarkable that on her 90th birthday, she is able to review with clearness of mind and with satisfaction, a life of activity incident to caring for a large family, and taking her full part in the life and activities of a pioneer community.

That she has always done her full part is abundantly and beautifully evidenced by the many tributes of love and respect from friends, both old and new. Friends and relatives from Detroit, Plymouth and vicinity made the day pleasant with calls and expressions of love, respect and well wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. William Powell were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bordine, in Detroit.

PLYMOUTH DAY AT NORTHVILLE FAIR

PROCESSION WILL FORM AT KELLOGG PARK AT 12:00 O'CLOCK NOON.

Arrangements in charge of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs have been completed for a general observance of Plymouth Day at the Northville Fair, next Thursday, September 23rd, as has been the custom for several years past.

The business places have been requested to close at 11:00 a. m., and the procession will get away from Kellogg Park at promptly 12:00 o'clock noon. Parking space will be reserved for the Plymouth contingent at the fair grounds.

It is expected and urged that everybody make a special effort to join in the procession to the fair, and make it a gala occasion. Load up your car with your family and get into the procession. Arrangements are being made to have a band meet the procession at the fair ground gates, and lead the Plymouth contingent into the fair grounds and past the grandstand. Everybody join the procession.

MISSION FESTIVAL

The rain on Sunday kept many members and guests from attending the mission festival at St. Peter's Lutheran church, yet the attendance was fairly good and all enjoyed the splendid sermons. The collections were less than last year. All members, who have not been able to attend, should bring or send their mission offering to the pastor.

In the morning service the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Minchert and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Drews were christened. They were named Arlene Augusta and Arlene Marie.

The splendid dinner and supper served by the ladies of the church to about 150, were enjoyed by all.

O. E. S. INITIATION

A special meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star will be held in Masonic temple, Tuesday, September 21. Initiation services will be held at four o'clock in the afternoon, and at eight in the evening. All members are urged to be present at both sessions. Dinner will be served at 6:30.

TEACHERS CAN AID

With our schools now well under way for another term, we want to take just a few lines to ask teachers around Plymouth if they won't go a little farther than their regular courses of study in the interest of the young people under their care. If they will do so, we feel sure they will earn their reward in the heartfelt thanks tendered them in return by the parents of our school children.

Why not take a few minutes during each week to tell them of the great need for carefulness, now that the automobile is collecting such a heavy death toll all over the country. Deliver a little safety talk, get the pupils interested in writing essays on safety. Then go a little farther and teach them the value to both themselves and the community of respect for law. Take the newspapers now and then and read to them the fate of young people who lost respect for law, and the penalty they have to pay. You can find good examples in almost every daily paper you pick up. Teach them that the laws of the land are made to protect them, but that they cannot expect protection if they do not themselves obey the law. They will also find much interest in writing essays on obedience to law.

These subjects can be discussed briefly in the schoolroom without detracting from the regular studies, and there is no means of measuring the good effect such discussions will have on our boys and girls in after years. Could there be anything more important than teaching the children of this community the value of safety and of obedience to the laws of their land

OUR MOVIE BILL

Figures have just been given out by the government, based on its war revenue collections, showing that the people of this country spend one billion dollars a year on moving pictures. This is a vast sum, especially when one reflects that it is paid out in small sums, and yet we know of no other luxury which gives any more in return. Too much work and no play shortens life, so the moving picture is doing its bit to lengthen life by entertaining us and easing our minds and bodies after a hard day's work. It is a backward town or hamlet that can't appreciate the value of clean movies, and Plymouth citizens will agree with us when we express the belief that money spent to see the right kind of movies is money spent sensibly.

BETTER STAY PUT

Fall is right here again, and with it the usual number of rural residents giving up their present locations for homes in the cities. Higher wages is usually the lure, and yet the distance between farm and small town wages and the big city wages is not so very great when the larger expenses of living in the city are considered. What's more, small town wages more nearly approximate real wages for after all wages are not measured by the dollars in the pay envelope so much as by what those dollars will buy of the necessities, comforts and luxuries of life. Of these less money in small towns generally buys more than more money in big towns with the result that workers and their families in small towns live better, happier and longer. Statistics show that small town wage earners can afford to visit the big city oftener than the big city wage earner can visit the country. There's two sides to this question as every fellow finds out who refuses to see but one side and that the lure of the city. If you're the "moving bee" in your bonnet stop and think it over. It might save you both money and time.

LIBRARY NOTES

The library will be closed Thursday, September 23rd, Plymouth Day at the Northville Fair.

Some items about the corn-borer: All corn or other infected plants should be cut close to the ground as early in the season as possible.

The pest spends the late fall, winter and spring until June, as a fully grown worm, and it is then it may be most easily destroyed by burning, feeding to livestock, making into silage, etc. This table shows what may be accomplished by early cutting:

When cut Sept. 16, 6-inch stubble contained 7.3%. When cut Oct. 9, 6-inch stubble contained 8.7%. When cut Nov. 3, 6-inch stubble contained 22.7%.

More complete information may be obtained at the library, such as how to recognize the worm, its habits, etc.

STADIUM BOND SALE WILL END SEPTEMBER 30TH.

TWO INTERESTING RELICS

John F. Root brought to the Mail office, two interesting relics of long ago. One was a deed for four hundred one and twenty one-hundredths acres of land in Section 31, Township of Plymouth, District of Detroit, Territory of Michigan, granted to Roswell Root of Cayuga County, N. Y., August 18, 1825. The deed was signed by John Quincy Adams, then President of the United States. Roswell Root was the grandfather of John F. Carman and Louis Root, who now reside in Plymouth township. When Roswell Root arrived in Plymouth from his home in New York state, there were only two houses in Plymouth. He was one of the early pioneers of this section, and for many years was prominent in the affairs of the township. The old deed is well preserved and entirely legible.

The other relic is a small poster advertising a soldiers' picnic, which took place in 1863. It reads as follows:

Soldiers' Picnic. Those brave boys about leaving us in the defense of our country, may meet their friends at a picnic to be held in Root's grove, three miles west of Plymouth, on Saturday, August 23. The funds will be appropriated by Bowdino Aid Society for the benefit of our sick and wounded soldiers. The afternoon will be devoted to patriotic speeches, enlivened by martial music, after which refreshments will be served. Dancing in the evening. Tickets—Gentlemen, 25c; boys under 15, 15c. Including dancing, 50c.

Every lady is expected to contribute to the bounties of the table. All are cordially invited to attend.

J. F. Root says that he was a small boy at the time, but he remembers the picnic very well. The corners near the J. F. Root home were known in an early day as Bowdino Corners.

ELM

The Parent-Teacher Association of Elm school will hold the first meeting of the year, on Tuesday evening, September 21, at 8:00 o'clock. In accordance with all of the recommendations of the past two years, it is hoped that there may be a large and interested attendance for this opening meeting, in order that plans may be made for the work of the coming year.

Those entering Plymouth High school from Elm, were: Dorothy Bentley, tenth grade; Fred Wilson, Jr., tenth grade; Richard Smith, Jr., ninth grade, and Mary Eskra, ninth grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolfram and daughter, Helen, recently took a northern motor trip, spending a few days at Houghton Lake and other points.

Dale Wilson has just returned from a 9,000-mile western trip through Yellowstone Park, up north into Canada, and down the Pacific coast through Washington, California, nearly to Old Mexico, and back home via the southern route. He reports a splendid trip.

TEMPLE THEATRE

Theodore Roberts, "grand old man of the screen," headlines the bill at B. F. Keith's Temple Theatre for the opening of the fall and winter season starting Sunday matinee. Mr. Roberts is touring Keith-Albee vaudeville by special arrangement with Jesse L. Lasky and makes a personal appearance in William C. DeMille's brilliant success, "The Man Higher Up." It is a striking story of reprobance by mental suggestion on a white slaver who has deflowered an innocent girl under wantonly cruel circumstances. Others billed: Amelia Allen, international dance star with George Clifford, Nell English and Frank Allen; the Four Camerons, America's greatest comics in "Like Father, Like Son"; Art Frank and Harriet Towne in "The Hick and the Chick"; Madley and Duprey in "Peanuts"; Sargent and Lewis offer "Laugh Lyrics"; Diaz and Powers in "Frolics on a Silver Thread," and the new screen subjects.

NORTHVILLE FAIR OPENS SEPTEMBER 21.

The tenth annual Northville-Wayne County Fair opens next week Tuesday, September 21 and continues Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with a varied program of entertainment. President Nelson C. Schrader and the other officials of the fair association have left nothing undone to make the fair this year the best that has ever been held in our neighboring village.

The program includes horse races, a better baby contest, vaudeville acts, band concerts, a dog show and horse riding exhibitions. Horseman's Day will be on Wednesday; Plymouth Day on Thursday; Friday, Children's Day and Farmington and Redford Day; Saturday, Detroit Day and Home-Coming.

On Thursday morning, the Plymouth Merchants' base ball team will play the Dehoco team of the House of Correction prison farm at 10:30 o'clock. A large delegation of the local fans are planning on attending this game, which is sure to be a closely contested one. In the afternoon, the Northville and Plymouth High school foot ball teams will contest for honors on the gridiron. About everybody in Plymouth is planning on attending the fair Thursday, Plymouth Day.

Fair tickets are on sale at the Community Pharmacy, Dodge Drug Store, Beyer Pharmacy and Schrader Bros. store, at 3 for $1.00.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The Plymouth League of Women Voters is most happy to extend to the Wayne County League and their friends, a most cordial invitation to attend their meeting September 29, at the Northville Riding and Hunt Club. Lunch will be served at 12:00 noon.

We will have for our speaker, Miss Elva M. Fornerock of Ann Arbor, State Chairman of Child Welfare. Miss Fornerock had a wide experience in Europe, during the war; has been connected with the Women's Police Division of Detroit, and is well fitted to tell us of some of the needs of the children of the state and to prepare us for the visit to our county and city institutions in this vicinity—the House of Correction, where the Women's prison is under construction; the Training School and the Tuberculosis Sanatorium. This promises to be a very interesting meeting, and all women are welcome. Luncheon tickets may be secured from any League member, or telephone Mrs. A. B. VanAken, Plymouth 306-F3.

The Plymouth League will hold a business meeting, no speaker, on Monday, September 20, at 3:00 p. m., at the school. Plans for the luncheon will be completed, reports of standing committees given, and work for the coming winter discussed. We need a good attendance at this meeting, for the responsibility of entertaining 150 county women should be shared by all of our women here at home.

MICHIGAN CROPS IMPROVE DURING AUGUST REPORT.

With few exceptions, Michigan crops showed improvement during the month of August, Verne H. Church, Federal statistician for this state announced.

"Corn is now up to the ten-year average," Church's report said. "And with the exception of hay, beans and oats which are slightly below average, all crops are above normal."
Heavy rains caused some damage to beans, potatoes, sugar beets and grain in the shock in the east-central counties but general favorable conditions prevailed elsewhere.

The corn crop is estimated at 52,490,000 bushels compared to 65,680,000 bushels last year, according to the report, and Michigan is expected to thrash 54,667,000 bushels of oats compared to 53,248,000 last year.

The condition of the potato crop is unchanged and a harvest of 28,585,000 bushels is expected.
Sugar beet crop is in good condition and production will be practically the same as last year.

Apples were estimated at 77.4 per cent of normal. White potatoes were estimated at 77.5 per cent of normal, indicating a total crop of 352,000,000 bushels or 109.8 bushels per acre.

Although 3,625,000 tons of hay were produced compared to 2,971,000 last year, the yield was still slightly below the 19-year average.

Learn What Chiropractic Is

Chiropractic is a drugless health science of the cause of so-called dis-ease and the art of adjusting the human spine when its segments are out of natural alignment, so that mental impulse can transmit naturally through the nerves to provide normal health function to every organ and part of the body.

It is a system that includes the use of nothing but the bare hands to locate a sub-luxated vertebra (small bones of the spine) and effects its replacement to normal position by a peculiar move, made in a particular direction, with a technical degree of speed and force.

The Brain is the power plant of the body. The nerves are the electric cable distributing the power by way of the spine to the different parts of the body to produce life. The stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs are motors which are run by power delivered through the nerves.

If the power is severed, or interfered with, the motor quits running. Connect up the power and the motor starts running. Same is the case with our bodies. We are simply a complicated piece of machinery and each part must work in harmony to make HEALTH, which is LIFE. The Chiropractor connects up the power that has been interfered with by releasing the pressure and allowing the power (Vital Force) to flow uninterruptedly to the various organs, which then function normally. If there was no good in Chiropractic it would have died of its own accord years ago; but it still lives and is progressing very rapidly.

I am pleased to announce to the people of Plymouth and vicinity that I have opened an office in the rooms over Whipple's store on Penniman avenue, for the practice of Chiropractic in the very latest and most improved methods.

What The Neurocalometer is--What It Does

The Neurocalometer is a very delicate, sensitive instrument, which, when placed upon the spine:

1. Verifies the proper places for adjustments.
2. It measures the specific degree of vertebral pressures upon nerves.
3. It measures the specific degree of interference to transmission of mental impulses as a result of that vertebral pressure.
4. It proves the exact intervertebral foramina that contains bone pressure upon nerves.
5. It proves when that pressure has been released upon nerves at a specific place.
6. It proves how much pressure was released, if any.
7. It verifies the differences between cord pressure or spinal nerve pressure cases.
8. It establishes which cases we can take and which we should leave alone.
9. It proves by an established record which you can see, thereby eliminating all guess-work on diagnoses.
10. It establishes, from week to week, whether you are getting well or not.
11. It makes possible a material reduction in time necessary to get well, thus making health cheaper.
12. It removes all doubt as to what we are doing for you.
13. It will establish all these things to your satisfaction.

SCHOOL NOTES

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By Carol Birch

Mrs. Whipple's Public Speaking class is studying essentials of delivery consisting of voice, standing position and directness.

The High school orchestra and the boys' and girls' glee clubs have large classes and are starting out nicely.

The new class in Household Mechanics is starting well with new problems.

The pupils of the Farm Carpentry class are making model gates, which they expect to exhibit at the Northville Fair. There are two types, double action and swinging action.

There are six pupils enrolled in Miss Schaffmaster's eleventh and twelfth grade Home Economics class. Their first problem is a silk dress. The ninth and tenth grade Home Economics classes are preparing for winter by canning fruits and vegetables.

The Animal Husbandry class went to the State Fair, Friday afternoon, to see the exhibit of live stock for class study. They are getting ready to judge live stock at the Northville Fair. A trophy cup is being given for judging by the Wayne County Live Stock Bureau.

Mrs. Hillman is substituting for Miss Cary until she returns.

The seventh grade geography classes are planning to start a museum consisting of a collection of stones, shells, newspaper and magazine clippings.

There are fifty-eight pupils in the new seventh B grade.

Before school started, the H-Y boys held a conference, and arranged their program for this semester.

The H-Y boys from Hayoweneha, had charge of the services at the Methodist church last Sunday evening.

GRADE NOTES

By Leona Beyer

Miss Hartford's second B grade has organized two clubs, The Helper's Club and The Bad Club. They meet the last fifteen minutes of each day. The Helper's Club play games or have story time. The other club members must study. So far nearly all belong to the Helper's club. Thirty-five are enrolled.

The pupils of the Five B grade have organized a society to be called the "True American Society." The purpose is to improve our English the coming year. The officers elected are: President, Raymond Gill; secretary, Daniel Carmichael; treasurer, Jeanette Lott. The pledge of the organization is, "I will try to speak the speech of America, correctly, clearly, sincerely and in a pleasant voice."

Thirty-nine pupils are enrolled in Mrs. Shaub's first grade class. The pupils are busily engaged making fruit baskets for a border for the blackboard.

The kindergarten class has an enrollment of ninety-seven little tots. Forty-eight attend the morning class and forty-nine the afternoon class.

Miss Orr's four B class has thirty-seven pupils enrolled for the coming year.

The four A and five B classes in Mrs. Moles' room have started a contest in spelling. They receive a gold star on the chart for each perfect lesson. For perfect lessons all the week, they receive a blue star.

The five B class is reading the "Story of Aladdin."

The four A class is reading about "Sivard the Youthful Warrior."

The sixth B enrollment in Miss Fenner's room numbers thirty-three. They have named their Hygiene class the H. L. class. The H. L. stands for Healthy Living. We are studying

Greece in our History class, and are using an outline to make the work more interesting.

A Place Where Tired Nerves Can Rest and Recuperate

For Sale—15 acres on the Huron river, 5 miles north of Dexter, 1/2 mile from Portage Lake, where there is plenty of good fishing, good bathing. The location is ideal and beautiful. An extra good house, built three years; seven rooms and bath; electricity; buildings lighted; electric pump in basement. One chicken house, 15x60 feet; another, 14x30 feet. Seven acres young orchard. Delicious apples and Hale peaches planted alternately. This place will bear investigation and will be pleased to show it any time.

PROMISE OF FUTURE IN "GOLDEN YOUTH"

Time of High Ideals, Hopes and Roseate Dreams.

"It is well to have been young in youth," says Robert Louis Stevenson, "and, as years go on, to grow older. To travel deliberately through one's ages is to get the good out of a liberal education."

There spoke the man whose keenest impressions had been those of boyhood. Like old John Trebonius, who saluted with a raised cup the lads whom he saw playing in the roads, because he recognized in them the burgomasters, chancellors and magistrates of the future, so Stevenson smiled on every sunburned updon, recognizing in him the future manhood of Great Britain. And manhood is none the less a virtue because of the long delays of youth; it is none the less sound because many blunders have taught it understanding. The boy lives in a world whose horizon is not yet bounded by facts. He has no sense of proportion, because he has taken no measurements. If he would accept the measurements correctly defined by those who have walked their way before him.

If he would let, as none will do, Another's heartbreak serve for two, he would of course save himself, and save his family and friends, a vast deal of trouble. But he would have lost his youth, and it may be that with it he would have lost the noblest strain in his nature.

The temerity of the boy is not only full of give—it has in it the qualities that make for manhood. We know now that Sir Walter Scott was learning his best lessons when as a lad he limped bravely over the Scottish hills, fed like a young raven at cottage doors, making friends wherever he set his foot, forgetful of work, indifferent to hardships, absorbed wholly in the love of adventure and the passionate joy of life.

"The pride of youth is in strength and beauty; the pride of maturity is in wisdom," said Democritus, who, as the most cheerful of philosophers, found something good in every state of existence. Indeed, the Greeks, who saw life clearly and saw it whole, were content to accept serenely and mentally balance as some compensation for the departed joys of youth. If they sighed wistfully, as all men must, when the shadows deepen, they looked with cheerful tolerance upon their sons and grandsons, radiant with the promise of the future.

The one god that these Athenian youths were never taught to worship was manhood; the one virtue they failed to respect was worldly prudence; the one ambition foreign to their souls was the desire to outstrip their comrades in the race for wealth. The Greeks knew that preoccupation with money is incompatible with the mental ease, the high ideals, the generous citizenship they coveted for their sons.

And if boys ever grow practical and pennywise before their time, if success and not achievement is their aim, if their dreams are vulgar and their standards low, whose fault is it? Not theirs, of a certainty! The talk that young Americans constantly hear about vast fortunes quickly made; the glowing manner in which life today dwells upon wealth and breathes the names of millionaires into their ears—these things taint the soul before it takes its first flight; and of all wastes none is so pitiful as the wasted glory of youth.

If we are ever to be foolish, youth is the time appointed for folly. If we are ever to cherish noble ideals, youth is the period for their expansion. If we are ever to aim high, we fix the shining mark in youth.—Agnes Repplier in the Youth's Companion.

Pluvius Sheds Red Tears

Recently after a light rainfall the inhabitants of Catania were astonished to see the houses and streets turn red. Even the white walls took on a red hue. The superstitious among the Montanegrins thought it was raining blood, and many of them hurried to church to seek pardon for their sins. In the evening the sunset was gorgeously colored with deep red. It is thought a distant volcanic eruption had filled the sky with fine red dust, and the precipitation brought the dust to the earth, coloring the countryside.—Chicago Daily News.

Aqueduct on Historic Spot

Over the same route taken by the famous marathon runner when he hastened to inform the Athenians of the Hellenic victory over the Persian hordes, American engineers are building a great aqueduct to supply the ever-growing population of Athens and Piræus with water. The new system, costing $10,000,000, replaces the antiquated Hadrian aqueduct, built by the famous emperor of that name 140 years after the death of Christ.

RAISE FAIR CROPS ON SEMI-ARID SOIL

Zuni Indians Have Mastered Secrets of Nature.

Two thousand Indians in western New Mexico own something like 200,000 acres of land. This is the Zuni reservation. Two hundred thousand seem like a lot of land for so small a number of people to own, but an Indiana farmer seeing the country for the first time would consider it poor picking for cattle and hogs, says a writer in the Indianapolis News. And yet, the Zuni Indians make a good living out of the semi-arid land, which is cut up into hills, mountains, buttes, mesas, arroyos and a few broad valleys, where corn and melons and squashes are raised. There is some irrigation, but even where there is no irrigation an Indian can, with a crooked stick, punch a few holes in the ground, drop in some grains of corn and raise a fair crop. "With all our scientific knowledge of dry farming and our improved machinery we cannot do as well," declare the white ranchers living in the vicinity.

Centuries of fighting for an existence in the midst of adverse climatic conditions have given the Indian an uncanny knowledge of nature in all her moods. In his own country, which was his when Coronado and the conquistadores came 300 years ago in search of the fabled seven cities of Cibola, he knows exactly where the underground water lies nearest the surface. It is there that he plants his corn, his squash and his watermelon seeds.

The Zunis, together with the other Pueblo Indians, have been able, for the most part, to hold on to their land because it came to them as an inheritance, or rather was left to them by the Spaniards when the latter relinquished their rights in the Southwest. In the treaty with the United States it was stipulated that certain lands surrounding the pueblos should remain in possession of the original owners forever.

The Zunis are independent and self-supporting. They know not the meaning of the word ration. The government furnishes them schools, aids them in obtaining water, improves the breed of their horses and sheep and provides dipping vats for the latter.

The Zuni is peaceable, kind in his family and devoted to children. No orphan in a Zuni pueblo is neglected. "I never heard a Zuni Indian speak a cross word in his home or to his wife, and I never will. It simply isn't done," was the statement made to two Hoosier tourists recently by the principal of the day school in the pueblo for Zuni.

Not a Good "Risk"

Joseph Auslander, the poet, recently applied to a life insurance company for an endorsement policy which would pay him a good sum of money regularly after 20 years have elapsed. Several days later, an investigator for the company rang the door bell of one of Auslander's neighbors, Annette Margules, who played the role of Tondeleyo in "White Cargo," and asked for information about him. "Why, Mr. Auslander is one of the greatest living poets—listen to this," cried Miss Margules, and, producing a copy of his volume of verse, "Cyclops' Eye," began to read one of the poems. "But," interrupted the investigator, "has he any money in the bank?" "What difference does that make?" Miss Margules almost shouted. "Why, the man's immortal." "My gosh!" the investigator answered, "that's bad for the insurance company."

Theater for Children

A special theater for school children is being organized in Stockholm as an offset to the influence of the more commercial forms of entertainment. At the outset only matinees will be given at the Oscar theater. Under the leadership of their teachers the pupils of the Stockholm schools, public as well as private, will form an organization, the membership fee in which will entitle each member to attend at a low cost a certain number of performances. Classical plays, high-class comedies and recitals by capable artists will make up the program. The idea is to train discriminating audiences, rather than amateur performers.

Famous Monastery Closed

General Pangalos, President of the Greek republic, recently signed an order dissolving the famous religious community of eight thousand monks established in a monastery on Mount Athos. For thousands of years this monastery has withstood every invasion of the Balkans, Turkish rule and the wars between the states. It was conducted under monastic regulations of the greatest severity. Not only was women and girls, but even to female animals.

Spanish Motor Highway

A direct motor highway from Madrid to Valencia, Spain, 370 kilometers long and paved with cement to a width of twenty meters, is proposed by a company in Spain, according to Augustus W. Ferrin, consul at Madrid. This highway would cross three provinces and pass through or near a number of cities and towns, of which the most important are Toledo, Aranjuez, Guadalupe, Alabacete and Chelva, crossing six rivers, whose power would be available for industrial purposes.

Welding Theory Changing

As a result of experimental work with atoms of hydrogen the theory of welding may be revolutionized. The idea behind the experiments is to pass the hydrogen atoms through an electric arc which produces a flame vastly hotter than the acetylene torch, heretofore principally used for welding. By getting this heat welding of ordinary materials will be possible, it is said, that will make the welded portions as strong as one original piece. If the experiments are developed commercially it may mean the passing of riveting to a large extent.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

Through the courtesy of Christ Schliesewitz, the boiler at the village hall has been given a thorough cleaning.
 The results of the annexation election held Tuesday, showed the area south of the village to have been voted into the village safely, but we will have to see how the county board combines the votes on the district north of the village before we can make any definite statement as to the outcome there.

The sewer contractors, Blohm & Dickinson, are nearly through with the sewers in the part of town between Starkweather avenue and the railroad. Next they will go to Gravel avenue.

The Wayne County Road Commission has finished the concrete street intersections leading from the new South Main street pavement. The curb remains to be done.

We are putting in underground conduits from the corner of Penniman and Union, across the park to the new telephone building to carry the wires leading to our fire siren control in the new operator's room. This, of course, must be in working order when the new exchange starts.

Power is one reason for Pontiac Six popularity

Powered by the largest six-cylinder engine used in any car costing less than $1000, the Pontiac Six exhibits a performance range entirely new in its field. Power to soar up hills. Power to lug smoothly and steadily through mud and sand. More power than any other six at its price—and a permanent source of power too. Beauty, comfort, economy and roadability—in all these qualities the Pontiac Six represents a decisive departure among low-priced sixes. Yet, on the basis of power in relation to wheelbase, weight and price, it ranks as the one outstanding engineering triumph of the day.

Pontiac Six, Sedan or Coupe, $825. Oakland Six, coupe to Pontiac Six, $1025 to $1295. All prices at factory. Easy to pay on the Liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

MRS. MURDOCK, BELLEVILLE, DIES.

Clara Chadwick, wife of the late James Murdock, former residents of Plymouth, passed away Thursday morning, September 9th, at 3:00 o'clock at her home at Belleville, following one year's illness. Funeral services were held at the home in Belleville, Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

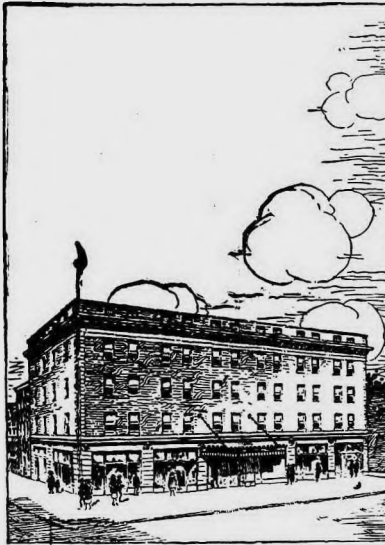

Mrs. Murdock was born in Sault Ste. Marie, August 14, 1867, but has spent most of her life in Belleville. She is survived by two children, Mrs. Myrtle LaForte, and Claude; one granddaughter, Phyllis LaForte, Belleville, and two brothers, William Chadwick, Zanesville, O., and George Chadwick, Ypsilanti. She was a member of the Rebekah Lodge. Mrs. Murdock was for several years, matron of the Arnold Home, Detroit, until her health failed. She spent the past winter in California. Burial was in Belleville cemetery.

AN INTERESTING TRIP

Mrs. Pauline Cobb of this village, who operated the "Rose Beauty Parlor" in Charlevoix for two months, has just returned to her home at 620 Hollbrook avenue, after a pleasant and profitable summer. Leaving from Detroit on the steamer Juanita, to Mackinac Island, her trip included a visit to that island, Petoskey, Harbor Springs and Traverse City. Returning to Charlevoix by way of Intermediate Lakes, Mrs. Cobb took up her work there for the resort season.

One trip of especial interest, was to Cross Village, an old historical town, about 85 miles north of Charlevoix along Lake Michigan, then through 21 miles of forest on a newly constructed road, following what was known as the "Lost Trail." Cross Village is where the missionaries landed on the high banks of the lake. A large white cross still marks their landing. The village is inhabited only by Indians. The "Lost Trail," through "Nature's Playground," as it is called, is but one of the many beautiful drives through northern Michigan.

The "Benwood," at Effingham, Illinois

Among the 115 towns and cities that have financed and built their modern hotels on the same program as that being used in Plymouth, is the little town of Effingham, Illinois, with a population of only 2800 at the time their financial campaign was carried through.

The citizens of Effingham realized their town was incomplete without a modern hotel, and as a result had a thorough survey made to find out definitely what the needs were. After this was done and it was proven that Effingham had sufficient potential hotel business to support a forty-room hotel, the citizens generally got behind the project and sold stock in their own community and built the hotel shown above.

The Benwood made a good profit from the time it was first put into operation, and within the past two years has built a large new addition to their original structure.

Today Plymouth desperately needs a good modern hotel and will get it during the next few days only if every citizen joins wholeheartedly and is willing to invest and help put it across.

It is generally known in Detroit and all over the state of Michigan that Plymouth is financing a new hotel, and because of this Plymouth does not dare to fail.

Come See—and Admire—and Drive the beautiful New Jewett

The Second Most Beautiful Car in America

You will scarcely believe your eyes when you first step inside this beautiful new Jewett and see the luxury that surrounds you. Certainly no earlier car, at so moderate a price, has ever approached the atmosphere of style that envelops this car.

Every line, every fitting, every appointment is in perfect taste. The instruments are clustered in a beautiful, indirectly-lighted panel. The deep cushions, over nested springs, have cleverly placed arm rests, and silken toggle-straps are in easy reach to assist entrance and exit. Skillfully inlaid walnut-finish panels, twin smoking sets and corner lights complete the custom-built air.

Mechanically, this Jewett is dependableness itself. A larger motor than former Jewetts possessed gives even quicker acceleration, smoother performance, longer service. Paige-Hydraulic 4-Wheel brakes insure maximum safety. Every proved mechanical superiority of the day is here—such features (associated usually with cars of highest cost) as an air cleaner, balanced crankshaft, high-pressure lubrication, bronze-backed bearings. Larger balloon tires and snubbers for comfort.

Come see this car soon. Drive it—enjoy its luxurious charm. Come in any time, there's no obligation.

Today's Reflections

The next great invention by man will probably be something the women will refuse to wear.

If all the money in the U. S. was divided equally, each man in Plymouth would have $40.02 to spend for gasoline.

Scientists say stretching is good for the health. Then catching a fish isn't as good exercise as telling about it.

The first quarrel after marriage worries a man almost as much as the first dent he gets in a fender of his new car.

Some of the young people around Plymouth might think more of the future life if you could play jazz on a harp.

A woman can single her hair, put on knickers and smoke cigarettes, but she will still scream when she sees a mouse.

If Plymouth men ever have to do the housework, factories that make paper plates and cups will be working overtime.

Why is it that when a man is satisfied with his job his wife is seldom satisfied with him in the job.

Maybe the reason the supply of homely girls never runs out is nature wants to be sure that the man who wants a good wife can get one.

We've about come to the conclusion that some of the amateur weather prophets around Plymouth don't know much more about the weather than our government forecasters.

A couple without children always seems able to find trouble of some sort to fill the vacancy.

It takes a lot of money for a woman to keep up with the new styles—and also a lot of nerve.

Sometimes you can tell by looking at a Plymouth woman's husband whether or not she married just to keep from being an old maid.

We see where a sad-looking hero has arrived in the United States to teach Americans how to be happy.

About all college does for some farmer boys is to educate them so they can't tell when it is going to rain.

WEST POINT PARK GALA DAY, SEPTEMBER 18.

West Point Park will have its first Gala Day Saturday, September 18, to which the public is cordially invited. There will be two ball games, the Clyde the Northville teams to play the first game; West Point Park team to play the winning team. First game at 1:00 o'clock, second at 3:00. The Farmington band will furnish the music. Supper from 6:00 to 8:00, followed by dancing in the new Community Hall.

You will get quick results and satisfaction from a liner ad in the Mail.

UNCLE SAM TO ATTEND NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE EXHIBIT WILL MARK A DEPARTURE IN TYPE OF DISPLAYS USED.

Uncle Sam will serve as the Government's personal representative at the National Dairy Exposition at Detroit in October, and will bring the U. S. Department of Agriculture's exhibit with him, it is announced by W. E. Skinner, secretary.

Accompanying Uncle Sam will be Dr. C. W. Larson, chief, U. S. bureau of dairying, who promises that the various displays will give each visitor at least one suggestion that will help him to make money.

A departure will be made from the usual manner of preparing exhibits. The old style chart and picture type of exhibit is not in evidence, in this year's display. Each booth will have many real and life-sized models, as well as moving parts that add interest.

The effect of feeding well cured and poorly cured alfalfa hay on the calcium needed for milk and reproduction, and the normal growth of dairy heifers will be illustrated by machinery and photographs. A part of this exhibit shows that one half of the pure bred dairy bulls are slaughtered each year, many before their daughter's records are known.

Economic exhibits will give information on the world supply and demand for dairy products. Motion pictures will depict the history of co-operative marketing in the dairy industry. The story of the agricultural news service will be told, and how standardization is increasing dairymen's profits.

THE THEATRE

"THE BROWN DERBY"

Johnny Hines, who comes to the Penniman Allen theatre next Saturday, September 18th, in "The Brown Derby," a First National picture, is the prototype of the typical American youth. Having lived and been brought up in a small town, where a boy is free to play, Johnny has managed to instill in his comedies the many spontaneous tricks that the average kid is usually up to. He plays just the sort of pranks any average boy would play on his teacher, at a party or on his boss. He is one of those who in his fun-making can take a joke upon himself as well.

He has surrounded himself in "The Brown Derby" with such star performers as Diana Kane, Ruth Dwyer, Bradley Barker, Harold Foshay and a host of others who are known for the excellence of their screen characterizations. They are all players of reputation, and while Johnny is the star, he delights in seeing others share with him in his success.

Johnny's status as the idol of American boyhood becomes more permanent with each passing day. The enormous amount of fan mail that he receives daily from his young admirers has grown to such proportions that the First National comedian has found it necessary to engage a special staff to handle and expedite the requests for photographs that pour in by the thousands.

In "The Brown Derby" Johnny will not only add to his youthful fans, but will undoubtedly make great appeal to fandom in general, since his vehicle is reported to be the best thing he has done in his highly successful career. "The Brown Derby" comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre heralded as a feature comedy of unusual laugh provoking power.

"SENOR DAREDEVIL"

An entirely new type of outdoor picture.

Great, open and spacious settings and a star, Ken Maynard, who is a superb horseman and athlete, are the only points which classify "Senor Daredevil," which comes on Sunday and Monday, September 19th and 20th, to the Penniman Allen theatre as a "Western," according to persons who have seen it in review and given it their enthusiastic approval. It is a Charles B. Rogers production, directed by Al Rogell, who, although one of the youngest directors, has a long list of screen successes to his credit.

"We are in the comedy arc of the screen cycle just now," said Rogell, "and 'Senor Daredevil,' with one of the most adept of comedienesses, Dorothy Devore, as featured lead, we have plenty of laughs. Moreover, with a cast including such actors as George Nichols, Josef Swickard, J. P. McGowan, Sheldon Lewis and others, we were assured of fine portrayals of the widely divergent characters of the story. The greatest attention was paid to the selection of beautiful settings and backgrounds for the dramatic and romantic episodes, and with Sol Polito, A. S. C., at the camera, the beauty spots were transferred to the screen at their full value.

"Senor Daredevil" is Rogell's first directorial contribution to First National pictures, as it is Maynard's first appearance under that brand. It is a modern story, dealing with the work of the pack-train freighters in keeping remote communities of gold mines and prospectors supplied with the necessities and a few luxuries of life.

"SAY IT AGAIN"

"Say It Again," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Wednesday, September 22nd, is the third romantic farce in a row for Richard Dix, under the directorship of Gregory La Cava, and it is funnier and faster than either of the other two successes, "Let's Get Married" and "Woman handled."

The picture has a long, colorful sequence of the whole-hearted, two-fisted scrapping worked out in one of those side-splitting comedy situations, which have caused such laughter and excitement in so many of Dix's features. Moreover, the fighting involves nearly one hundred people, all punching at once. The situation is funny because Dix, as the central figure in an intrigue around a throne, is not responsible for his predicament, being kept in ignorance of what all "the shooting's for."

The comedy becomes a riot when Chester Conklin, last laughed at in "A Woman of the World" and "A Social Celebrity," appears as the prince for whom Dix has been mistaken.

As a background for the story we see the quaint streets, houses and citizenry of an imaginary small European kingdom, with the pomp and spectacle of its royal court.

Running through the picture is a thread of romance with real thrills, glamour and heart-tug in it. The center of this is beautiful, blonde Alyce Mills, Dix's new leading woman, "Princess Elena." She is slender and tall—as all princesses should be—weighing just 122 pounds and being five feet five inches in height.

She will be remembered as Conway Tearle's leading woman in "Morals for Men," William Powell's in "School for Wives," and Lou Tellegen's in "With This Ring." Little more than a year ago, Miss Mills played a vampire role in Dix's Paramount picture, "Too Many Kisses."

Picked Up About Town

"The difference between a sweetheart and a husband," says Dad Plymouth, "is one comments on the looks of her dress and the other on the cost of it."

A New York traffic cop has just married a girl he bawled out for speeding. Now it's her turn.

Dad Plymouth wants to know why it wouldn't be a good idea to print the air mail stamps on fly paper.

Collisions between locomotives and automobiles would not be so bad if the locomotives only got the worst of it now and then.

"I see where a Vermont man shot his wife because she didn't love him," comments Dad Plymouth, "and I wonder if that improved things any."

In Egypt they dig into the ground to find dead towns. Over here they just hunt for those where the people don't support their home-town paper. They're always dead enough.

Dad Plymouth says, "you can eat best on an empty stomach, but you can't think best with an empty head."

"Money talks," asserts Dad Plymouth, "but a dollar doesn't say much to a tax collector."

If you want to find a Plymouth girl who thinks she is the unluckiest girl in the world, try to find the one who has to wear her big sister's dresses when she grows tired of them.

HOUGH PARK SUBDIVISION

Saturday, September 18th

Splendid Homesites

Highly Restricted

Ideally Located

We take great pleasure and pride in submitting for your approval HOUGH PARK Subdivision on West Ann Arbor Road, in the village of Plymouth. Reflect, for a moment on what this location means to you, if you want to live in a well restricted subdivision.

The sixty-foot winding drives are now being graded and cinderized; five-foot walks are being installed, and contracts have been let for sewers, water, shade trees, electric lights, and gas. Landscapers are now working on plans to make HOUGH PARK, which is to be in the center of the subdivision, the most beautiful in Plymouth. This park is to be a block in length, and planted with trees and shrubbery.

Restrictions will be of a character that will insure the home builder protection, and of such a nature that will bring about an enhancement of value after building takes place. If you have not seen this natural beauty spot, you should avail yourself of the opportunity of selecting your future home-site while a good selection is possible.

We will call and take you to the property, or meet you there at your convenience. Awaiting your call

Above is shown the "Urbana-Lincoln Hotel" which was financed on the Community plan, and, as Mr. John H. Thornton, president of the Urbana Banking Company, Urbana, Illinois, says in a letter written about their new Community hotel—"It is operating at a very nice profit."

Plymouth's opportunity to get its new hotel is here and the next few days will determine how much faith the citizens of Plymouth have in Plymouth's future.

The New Hotel will be financed by the sale of 6 per cent preferred Stock. First payment of twenty per cent will be due October 15, 1926, and twenty per cent every third month thereafter until October 15, 1927.

"Every Man Owes Something to the Community in Which He Lives"

THE MAN WHO SAYS "I WILL"

There may be some men in Plymouth, who, perhaps lacking faith in Plymouth, or from an attitude of indifference, say that they doubt the wisdom of building a new hotel here and doubt that it will pay, or they may favor the project, but selfishly prefer to sit back and reap the benefits from an institution which OTHERS have made possible.

Fortunately, Plymouth hasn't many such men. Most of us have vision.

Against this "I Won't" man is the "I WILL" man, the man Plymouth welcomes. He is the fellow who stands back of Plymouth and who has faith in her; the fellow who, when his community desperately needs something, buckles into it with a smile and says "I WILL."

There are just two kinds of men in Plymouth; the "I WILL" men and THOSE WHO JUST LIVE HERE.

Plymouth's new Community Hotel will be financed very largely by the "I WILL" men, because it is the one great outstanding need of our community.

Are you pulling WITH Plymouth, or AGAINST her? Are you an "I WILL" man, or do you just live here?

The new hotel will be built—and will pay as other modern hotels the country over are paying. The fact cannot be denied that the patronage is here awaiting such a hotel.

The enterprise calls for one hundred and thirty of our community's liveliest wires who will be out selling 6% Preferred Stock. The stock will be sold in units of two shares preferred and one of common, which is given as a bonus, each unit selling for $200. Practically twelve months will be allowed in which to pay for the stock. The first installment of twenty per cent will be due October 15, 1926.

They will make it a Community Enterprise—PLYMOUTH'S OWN NEW HOTEL. They, as individuals, will buy stock, and in addition, will give of their time and energy to the end that Plymouth will have this much needed Community Hotel.

Will Plymouth back them in such an unselfish enterprise? We prefer to believe that she will.

Unseen Sources of Long Life

The basic sources of automobile value are not always apparent to the eye.

A motor car, like a house, may LOOK a great deal more substantial than it really is.

Because of this difficulty, more and more thousands are turning to Dodge Brothers product for insurance against disappointment.

The years have proved, and each year proves anew, that Dodge Brothers are as deeply concerned with the UNSEEN goodness of their motor car, as with the seen.

The mileage it will deliver, the safety it will provide, the expense and trouble it will save the owner over a period of years, are quite as important to Dodge Brothers as the mere obvious details of equipment and style.

DEHOCO VS. POLICE DEPT.

The Dehoco Club defeated the 10th precinct of the Detroit Police Department by the score of 17 to 2, Saturday, September 4th. Welsh, who started for the cops, lasted but one-third of an inning. After the Farmers had scored 6 runs of 2 hits and 3 bases on balls, Watson replaced Welsh. The Farmers touched Watson for 12 hits and 11 runs. The game ended in the fifth inning on account of squabbles.

DEHOCO VS. DETROIT REDUCTION

In a well played game, the Dehoco Club defeated the Detroit Reduction team by a score of 7 to 2, Sunday, September 5th. The support given Koester was ragged, which was responsible for the defeat. The hitting and hurling by the youthful pitcher deserved a win instead of a beating. The slugging of the Farmers was too much for the Reduction team. Trombley held his opponents to 7 scattered hits, and was never in any danger throughout the game.

BAPTIST NOTES

The morning service was well attended, last Sunday. The pastor's sermon was from the thirteenth chapter of Luke, the theme being "Repentance." The male quartette sang well, last Sunday.

On account of the windows being repaired, the church was a little cool, as the lower sash had been taken out on the south side of the church.

All other services were taken up, and we joined in the report meeting of the H-Y, at the M. E. church in the evening.

Mrs. Sayles' Sunday-school class held their class party at Phoenix Park, last Tuesday evening, and all enjoyed the occasion.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The Busy Woman's Bible Class meeting at Mrs. Bradner's home on Irvin street, Tuesday of this week, was well attended and much enjoyed. The reports of work accomplished and the plans for work ahead indicate much interest.

Rally Day will be observed in our church and Sunday-school, Sunday, September 20th. The different classes and organizations are expecting to be on hand in full force for that date.

The Men's Class is planning a social gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Partridge, Penniman road, on Friday evening, October 1st.

October 3rd will be Communion Sabbath.

METHODIST NOTES

Annual Conference at the Metropolitan church this week. The pastor is attending. There will be no services Sunday, as many are planning to hear Bishop Nicholson.

Dr. Lendrum has received a unanimous call to return to Plymouth church.

Twenty-three were in attendance at the first missionary meeting of the year, held at the home of Mrs. Fred Thomas. Those who were not there missed the splendid program given by Mrs. Doerr and Mrs. Gill.

Prayer meeting always held Wednesday night from 7:15 to 8:00 o'clock. This is a real inspirational service.

Scene of Gloom When Sailor Goes to Rest

When Shelberg died we were far south of the end of Staten Island, and I was at her helm. It was a gloomy though not a too dark night, a moon breaking now and then through the masses of cloud above the sea.

"He's gone, Billy," said Clegg, the second mate, coming to my side. "Let's toll the bell."

He took the lanyard of the bell in his hand and tolled the bell, its brazen clapper striking a lonely sound that echoed round us.

It was at eight bells of the following morning, eight o'clock, when the ship staggering under her six topsails, we bore the canvas-hidden form of dead Shelberg aft to the quarter railing for his burial. I was one of those who bore the stretcher whereon he rested. Mad Kylon, his chum, of Helmsingfors, walked beside me. The ship was storm beaten, the sea lashing high above her rails. We clung to the life lines, water waist deep. Those who were not burdened with the stretcher whereon Shelberg lay so fast asleep, so unconscious of the wintry seas that roared above and under him, leaped to the shrouds to escape the swamping water. The bearers bore Shelberg on.

At the quarter rail we paused, resting his feet on the railing top. The Old Man came out, bare of head, though we were one and all lashed up in oilskins, our heads half hidden in sou'westers. The mate was there, staring nervously aloft where the mizen-compass strained madly at its sheets, gale-bellied.

The deck was lost in smother. The mastheads reeled, lifting unsteadily against the clouds of the Horn. The wind was sleet-laden, bitter, crazed with hatred.

"Our Father which art in heaven," read the Old Man from a small book in his hand, his other hand firm to a ladder stanchion. Clegg uncovered his head. The Old Man stopped his reading, for a gray-black sea, crashing over the bulwarks to windward, swept many of us from our feet.

"Let go," said the Old Man, motioning to us: the stretcher bearers. Shelberg went to his rest.

"Take them upper topsails off her," said the Old Man.

A gloomy funeral morning upon a gloomy sea. The mate cried orders half heard in the uproar. Halyards rattled, ropes washing to and fro along the watery deck.—Bill Adams in Adventure Magazine.

Fraternity Houses Open

The Yale Junior fraternalites have abandoned their traditional meeting houses with their deep and impressive secrecy. No longer will trembling undergraduates be led into theinky blackness of the "tombs." The Yale campus is studded with queer-looking "tombs," which are usually fairly large buildings with iron-barred doors and no windows at all save a few tiny slits high up toward the roofs where for more than 100 years Yale societies have held their secret meetings. They are one of the great mysteries to visitors to New Haven. With the opening of the new fraternity center, the century-old tradition has been abandoned. The new building will be the new clubhouses. There will be private halls for fraternity meetings but the rest of the building will be open to nonmembers as well as members.—Parliament Magazine.
