PLYMOUTH LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS ENTERTAIN

Ladies from Detroit, Northville, Grosse Pointe, Redford, Dearborn and Royal Oak Were Guests of the Local Club at Cass Benton Riding and Hunt Club Last Week Wednesday.

The Cass Benton Riding and Hunt Club bustled with excitement on Wednesday, September 29th, when the Plymouth League of Women Voters held their luncheon. The club, attractively decorated in autumn flowers and brilliantly colored autumn leaves, buzzed with conversation almost constantly. You see, there were 125 ladies present from Plymouth, Northville, Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Redford, Dearborn and Royal Oak, and women voters always have very important topics to discuss when they get together.

After a delicious and well served luncheon, Mrs. VanAken, president of the Plymouth League, welcomed all the out-of-town guests, and presented Mrs. Sherrard, state president of the league. Mrs. Sherrard, after giving a synopsis of the work the League is to carry on this year, told just a bit about the state convention and urged all the members to go to Saginaw for it if possible.

Mrs. VanAken then introduced Miss Thorburn, Chairman of the Welfare Work of the League, the speaker of the afternoon. Miss Thorburn held everyone so enthralled by the interesting things she told that the half hour given her slipped by all in a few minutes, and all of us wished for more time in which to hear more of Miss Thorburn's experiences and reflections on life. She told of the high-grade feeble-minded, the Morons, and the great help they are getting from state institutions; she explained their peculiarities and mental lapses, and left everyone a very complete set of ideas about our feeble-minded and the care of them.

At 2:45, the crowd started out to visit the three institutions near Northville—the new Wayne County Training School, the prison farm of the Detroit House of Correction, and the Tuberculosis Sanitarium. Through the courtesy of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, automobiles were provided for all those who did not have cars. At the Training School, Dr. Haskell was waiting with a bright smile of welcome and escorted them over that very remarkable institution. Work among the feeble-minded there has just started during the last month, and we predict great things for the school. After this tour of inspection, many of the cars started homeward, and we have never heard if anyone completed the tour of the three institutions. If so, did they see the prison farm by moonlight?

WILL GIVE HALLOWEEN CHARITY BALL

A Halloween charity ball will be given at the Penniman Allen auditorium Friday evening, October 29th, and is sponsored by the Plymouth Rotary Club, for the benefit of the local crippled children's work. Further particulars next week.

The old stone shop which has been a landmark in Northville for many years has been torn down. The land upon which the building stood will be converted into a park.

PLYMOUTH YOUNG MAN AND DETROIT GIRL WED

Chrysanthemums in bronze and yellow tones, together with palms, ferns and tall ivory tapers in Gothic holders, banked the fireplace in the living room of the Ingle-side Club, where Miss Margaret Reid, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wesley J. Reid of Detroit, and Cass Sheffield Hough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Hough of Plymouth, spoke their marriage vows, at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, with Rev. Dr. William T. Jaques officiating.

Gothic standards, entwined with smilax, held the satin ribbons forming the aisleway, which led to the improvised altar. Miss Reid, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of ivory satin, fashioned on straight lines, with long sleeves. Godelts of Brussels lace trimmed the front of the skirt and a cascade of the lace fell from the neck line in the back to below the bottom of the skirt. A cap of Brussels lace, held in place the tulle veil, which was laced in satin and ornamented with clusters of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of bride's roses, carnations and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids, Miss Alice C. Hirschmann and Miss Athalie Hough, a sister of the bridegroom, were crowned similarly to the maid of honor, only in yellow and peach-colored chiffon, and carried bouquets of chrysanthemums and asters.

Margaret and Janet Richardson, twin cousins of the bride, served as flower girls and wore apple green georgette dresses, trimmed with tiny ruffles of taffeta. Their hats were of yellow hair cloth and velvet ribbon in green and their bouquets, colonial in design, were of yellow roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Reid's gown was of chantilly lace, in rose and cream, over a chiffon slip of the same shades, and her hat was of black satin and lace. She carried Ophelia roses and larkspur. Mrs. Hough wore chimney red chiffon, with a hat of gold cloth and gold lace, and her bouquet was of American Beauties.

Alfred Connable, Jr., of Kalamazoo, attended Mr. Hough as best man, while Russell Skinner of Des Moines, Ia., and Dr. Wesley G. Reid, a brother of the bride, were ushers. Both Mr. Connable and Mr. Skinner were roommates of the bridegroom at the Culver Military Academy and the University of Michigan.

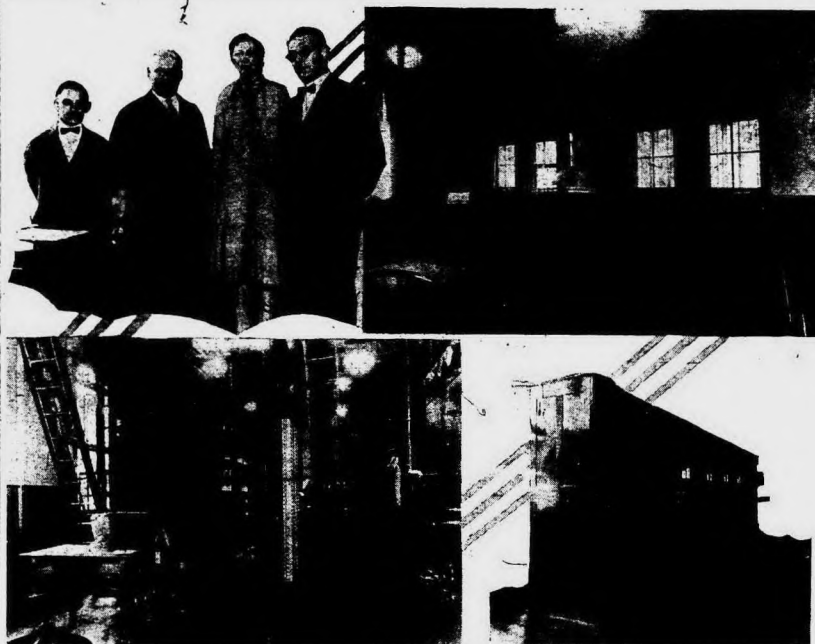

A reception followed the ceremony. At ten the guests were seated at small tables, adorned with baby "mums." The bridal table was decked with bride's roses and white tapers in crystal holders.

A number of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity of Ann Arbor, of which the groom is a member, were present, as also were a number of the girls of the Sorosis sorority of Ann Arbor, of which the bride is a member.

After a three weeks' motor trip through the East, Mr. and Mrs. Hough will take up their residence on Main street, in Plymouth.

The Michigan Union at Ann Arbor last Monday night, was the scene of an inter-city meeting of the Kiwanis Clubs of Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Chelsea, Plymouth, Wayne and Wyandotte. The occasion was a formal reception to the new governor-elect, Lewis Remond of Ann Arbor. Many prominent Kiwanians from several cities were in attendance, and the evening was an enjoyable success.

A GREAT PICTURE COMING TO LOCAL THEATRE.

Starring in a lavishly produced sequel to the screen story, which brought him his greatest fame, Rudolph Valentino comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 13, 14 and 15, in the picture which metropolitan critics have hailed as his greatest.

It is "The Son of the Sheik," a fiery, blood-and-thunder desert, with Vilma Banka, Montague Love, Karl Duno, George Fawcett, Bill Montana, Agnes Ayres and other noted players supporting Valentino. Love, life and adventure are not sugar-coated in this screen version of the E. M. Hull romance; instead the makers of the picture, according to reports, have given the original twentieth century sheik a vehicle permeated with realism and replete with daring situations and thrills.

Valentino does many things other than make love and ride Arabian steeds in "The Son of the Sheik." He rescues pretty girls from the locks of runaway horses, leaps from balconies onto swinging chandeliers, battles desert brigands with sword, pistol and fists—in short, the sheik, or rather, "The Son of the Sheik," is mixing athletics with his amours.

Photoplay-goers who witness the return of Valentino to the desert lover role will see him in a story which has been widely praised as authentic by world travelers familiar with picturesque Algiers.

Portraying the impulsive son of "The Sheik," a powerful desert ruler, Rudolph falls in love with a dancer (Vilma Banka), daughter of a rene-

HOW PLYMOUTH DOES IT

(From the Redford Record)

Over in Plymouth the folks wanted a dandy, up-to-date hostelry. It was necessary that the men of that town step out and sell stock in the project. Well, those Plymouth men have a wonderful loyalty to that town and it isn't a sit-down and do-nothing loyalty either. They sold stock in to sum of $209,000 in about a day.

That is one of the most splendid community undertakings that has been accomplished herabouts in many a day and it is but right that we accord to our enterprising neighbor the applause that is justly her's. Hats off to Plymouth and her organizers.

There were knockers (there always are) but they were lost in the shuffle. Hurry!

NORTHVILLE MASONS CELEBRATE SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

Grand Lodge officers and members of the Wayne County Masters' Association were guests of honor at the sixtieth anniversary celebration of Northville Lodge, No. 186, F. & A. M., in the High school auditorium at that place, last Friday evening. A banquet was served at 6:30 p. m. Charles A. Donaldson, most worshipful grand master of Michigan, was the principal speaker. George Bushnell, president of the Wayne County Masters' Association, gave the history of the Grand Lodge in Michigan, while C. R. VanValkenburg, past master of Northville Lodge, told the history of 60 years of Masonry in Northville. Northville Lodge has 371 members, and is one of the oldest lodges outside Detroit, in the state.

PLYMOUTH WOMANS CLUB HELD INTERESTING MEETING

Nearly One Hundred Members and Guests Attend Meeting Held at I. O. O. F. Temple Monday; Luncheon Was Served and Splendid Program Given.

TELEPHONE COMPANY MAKING MORE IMPROVEMENTS.

The new central office building and its equipment represent an expenditure of new money here by the telephone company of more than $120,000, in addition to which approximately $70,000 is being spent on the expansion of outside plant to provide added facilities in various parts of the community. The telephone company's local construction program does not stop with the completion of this work, however. In the belief that Plymouth's growth and its future prospects warrant it, the company will continue adding new plant, Mr. Crowe states. In fact, the company now has under way in this vicinity a considerable program of toll and long distance line construction that is costing many thousands of dollars, and which is bringing into the community a great deal of money in workmen's wages.

The telephone company is building a toll and long distance cable west from Detroit to Ann Arbor, which reached Plymouth last year, and will, when completed, cost upwards of a million dollars. That cable will contain 258 circuits, or more than would be carried on two of the heaviest open wire toll leads. It is proposed to have that cable completed by the opening of the coming fall ball season.

The Plymouth-Ypsilanti section and the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor section of the cable are now building, that from here to the Normal College town costing $178,000. The section from Ypsilanti to Ann Arbor will cost $100,000. These circuits, being encased in sheathing, will be well protected against damage or destruction by electrical, sheet or wind storms, and will be easier of maintenance than the open wire leads, although much more costly to construct. With the growing use of the toll service, it is the desire of the telephone company to protect it against interruption as much as possible. Mr. Crowe states. Utilization of cable for toll circuits has been highly successful, as the result of years of scientific development and experimentation, and is expected to save the users of the service and the operation companies enormous sums of money.

Approximately $27,500 also, will be spent in providing toll circuits for handling business to points outside the city, over which Plymouth's ever-growing number of messages to cities throughout the country will be handled.

Mr. Crowe also announces that the building of additional toll circuits from Plymouth to Northville and Walled Lake is well along toward completion. This project calls for the expenditure of $3,000.

THANKS

Mr. L. B. Samsen, Editor of Plymouth Mail, Plymouth, Michigan. Dear Mr. Samsen: The Chamber of Commerce wish to thank you for the publicity given us through the Plymouth Mail, during the Hotel Campaign. Your loyal support and earnest cooperation was greatly appreciated and was a great help toward making the hotel project a reality. Yours very sincerely, Harry S. Lee, President.

October 2, 1926.

Mr. L. B. Samsen, Plymouth, Mich. Dear Mr. Samsen:

Before leaving on my vacation today, I want to take time to tell you that your article in the October 1st issue concerning our new telephone exchange, is considered highly complimentary and very much appreciated.

For any other than a telephone man to grasp as many of the new features as there are involved in our system and present them in an adequate manner is to my mind a very credible achievement. ROY E. CROWE, Manager.

On Friday, October 1, the Woman's Club of Plymouth had their annual Monday luncheon at the Odd Fellow's Temple, with about ninety ladies present. After an informal reception of guests and a short business meeting, the ladies went to the dining room and were served to a bounteous luncheon by the Relekah ladies.

After the luncheon, the toastmistress, Mrs. Charles Rathburn, presented the following program in a very clever manner.

Address of Welcome—Mrs. R. E. Cooper, president 1916-1918, 1926. Toast, Little Girl, Little Girl, Where Have You Been—Our guest of honor, Miss Hartsough. Miss Hartsough is our only honorary member, and was president during the years 1905-1900.

Toast, Mistress Mary, Quite Contrary—Mrs. F. B. Adams, president 1900-1902. Vocal Solos, Just a Cottage Small, by Hamlin and Naughty But Nice Little Girl—Wayne Vandine.

Toast, Jack and Jill Went Up a Hill—Mrs. Elmer Chaffee, president 1903-1905. Mrs. Chaffee was unable to be present.

Toast, Sing, Sing, What Shall I Sing—Mrs. Fred Liddle, president 1905-1906. Toast, There Once Was a Woman Who Lived in a Cave—Mrs. Samuel O. Hudd, president 1906-1908.

Toast—There Once Was a Woman, and What Do You Think—Mrs. John Travis, president 1911-1915. Toast, Little Miss Muffet Sat on a Tuffet—Mrs. Fred Bennett.

Music was furnished by Daniel Patterson and Wayne Vandine, accompanied by Miss Catharine Penney. This was a very original and entertaining program, and was one of the most pleasant affairs ever held by the club.

Guests of the club were: Mrs. F. B. Adams, Mrs. Samuel Hudd, Mrs. Paul Voorhies and Mrs. Charles Reekie of Detroit; Mrs. John Travis of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Fred Bennett of Ypsilanti, and Miss Ursula Hartsough and Mrs. Edwin Hodge of this place.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the Odd Fellow Temple, October 15th.

TEACHERS OF ZONE B ENTER-TAINED.

The teachers of Zone B were very pleasantly entertained at Pierson school, Saturday, October 2nd. Miss Cochran, Wayne county helping teacher of the northern division, had charge of the morning meeting. After the envelopes for the following month had been gone over and discussed, Mrs. Sharpe, Wayne county nurse, was introduced to new teachers in Zone B. She outlined the health work for the ensuing month. Miss Olliphant, county librarian, next told the teachers how they might take advantage of the Wayne county library.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year, as follows: President—Eliza Wagenschutz, Vice President—Lelah Appleton, Secretary—Ina Wolfson.

Mr. Norton, from Glean & Company, gave a talk on the Beacon method of teaching reading and phonics, which completed the morning program. At 12:30, the Pierson ladies served a very appetizing meal.

The afternoon's program consisted chiefly in singing, a few numbers by the Pierson children, and last, but not least, a splendid address by Superintendent Myron of the Belleville schools.

LOCAL KIWANIS AT WAYNE

About thirty-five members of the Kiwanis Club of Plymouth went to Wayne last Friday night to attend the first dinner of the Wayne Kiwanis Club, which was organized and sponsored by the Plymouth Club. AN OLD FRIEND PASSING

According to the health department of Washington City, our friend, "the old wooden bucket" ought to be condemned as unhealthy and unsanitary. We don't believe this view will meet with the hearty endorsement of the general run of people around Plymouth, and we also believe that if ever attempted in this community, there are going to be a good many votes cast in favor of keeping the old wooden bucket, the moss covered bucket, the iron-bound bucket hanging in the well. The health officials say that at any season many people are driving into rural communities, and that they will give little heed to the quality or purity of the water they drink. As a result, the healthiers claim, typhoid fever and kindred diseases will claim many lives. That may be true. But so dear to our hearts is the old-wooden bucket that we're still willing to take chances. We've been robbed of most of the delights of early days. Now we're ready to fight, at least here in our own territory, to preserve this one, and one of the last ones, left to us.

STILL CARELESS

Travelers along the highways of the country are still prone to disregard the danger always present at a grade crossing. For years the message of safety has been proclaimed all over the country, but too frequently there comes to Plymouth reports of another grade-crossing accident, in which someone known in this community lost his life. All railroad crossings at highways are marked with some kind of warning signs, and there is no reasonable excuse on earth for disregarding these signs. At no place is as great care needed as where a railroad track crosses a public highway—and at no place does there seem to be as much carelessness displayed. Even the frequency of the accidents at grade-crossings does not seem to have the effect of making others more careful at the same spot. Isn't there someone with a suggestion for reducing deaths at grade-crossings? If they will come forward with a suggestion that will work toward this result, they may be sure of earning the thanks of the entire nation.

teacher into their homes occasionally; others ask them for an auto ride from time to time. As a result, the teacher feels that he or she is in much closer harmony with the entire community, that their work is being appreciated, and they strive to do still better work. Parents who drop in at the school house their child is attending, are always welcomed. Such little visits encourage the children and also indicate to the teacher that the visitor is anxious to co-operate in every way possible to advance the educational system of the community. It is quite a business to raise a family of children, or even a single child. If parents and teachers work along purely independent lines and never consult together, they are apt not to work for the same ends. A little more co-operation would help very much. Some of the teachers who are away from home feel rather lonely at times, and wish for friends and a little social attention. In view of the fact that in their hands rests a large part of the child's welfare, it would seem to be only an obligation fulfilled to see that this is provided them.

TAKES REAL SALESMANSHIP

Because of the big profits, the unlimited field, short working hours, there has been attracted to the fraternity of "doorbell ringers" a galaxy of real salesmen. It is a mistake to underestimate their ability, as many a business and professional man can bear testimony after having arrived home at the end of the day to find that his wife had fallen victim to some oily-tongued individual with something to sell.

All of us have a natural suspicion of the man who knocks at our door and asks us to listen to his sales talk. It takes real salesmanship under such a handicap for him to make a sale. The firm that invades this territory and reaps a rich harvest without having the responsibility and cost of maintaining this community, can well afford to put good salesmen out on the road to dispose of their products. It is for that very reason that we should discourage the peddler by refusing to invest in his proposition. Every dollar we spend with him goes out of the community and never a cent of it returns, while a good portion of the money spent with the home merchant remains to enlarge and enrich the place where we live.

Unless we spend our money at home we cannot hope to achieve community success. It is time that we learned this simple lesson of economy. Your home merchant will give you better value for your dollar, and therefore should be your first consideration.

ODD FELLOWS NOTES

Our lodge has appointed a committee to start working on a program in connection with celebrating our first anniversary in our new home.

The committee has secured the celebrated first degree team from Clar-eneville I. O. O. F. Lodge, to confer this degree on our first anniversary candidates.

All members who can make it next Tuesday evening, October 12th, will not be disappointed, for the committee in charge have given us to understand that this event is a sample of what is going to happen during our anniversary exercises.

The committee is asking all the brothers who can to bring a lunch, for it's going to be a pot-luck supper, so the more you bring, the more you eat.

Our initiatory degree team stepped out of a brand new box last Tuesday evening, when they put on our new robes and conferred this degree on a class of candidates, and it was worth the time spent last Tuesday evening to see this team in their new robes conferring this degree.

Now, brothers, remember, next Tuesday evening is the date, October 12th, and come and help start our first anniversary in our new home.

ELM

ELM P. T. A.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Elm school met Tuesday evening, October 5th. During the business session, it was voted to change the regular date of meeting from the first Tuesday, to the second Friday evening of each month. The speaker for the evening was Mr. Sawyer, former superintendent of the Redford schools, who gave a very interesting address concerning the characteristics of adolescent youth, which he said is the age of greatest change in the life of the boy or girl, and should be understood and considered by all parents and teachers; it is also an age of doubts which must be assured by them: an age of adventure, which must be satisfied in a constructive way; an age of ideals or dreams, which should not be repressed but allowed to grow, as the greatest accomplishments of the world have been the results of visionary dreams—the dreams of Columbus, Thomas Edison, Bell and Marconi, were given as examples.

The needs of this period of development were taken up by Mr. Sawyer. Needs which are many and which should be studied and supplied in order that we may have boys and girls with the right kind of ideals. The boy should have a room of his own, which is pleasant, to which he may invite his boy friends; a room with beautiful pictures from which he receives a silent inspiration; also a library, a number of good books that he may call his own, out of which he may find material for building the best foundation for his life. Games should be provided for the leisure time.

Never before in the history of the world, said Mr. Sawyer, has there been such great opportunity for the right kind of boys and girls. He compared this demand with that of a bushel of grain. If scarce, good grain brings a high price, because of the law of supply and demand.

He said there are just two kinds of boys. "You must boy," who does everything he does because someone else says "You must do so," and the other boy is the "I must boy," who assumes the responsibility of doing the right because he wishes to do his duty.

The musical numbers of the evening were given by Miss Norma Schaffer and Miss Edna Burger, who entertained with piano solos, which were enjoyed and added much to the pleasure of the evening.

UNION CHURCH NOTES

The Ladies' Aid Society held a very pleasant meeting at the church, Thursday, September 30th. A pot-luck lunch was served. It was voted to hold a bazaar and supper December 10th, and it was also voted to serve a dinner and supper at the church on election day.

On Friday evening, October 15th, there is to be a home-coming and supper at seven o'clock to which all members and friends of the old Livon church are most cordially invited. A fine program is being prepared. Don't forget the date, October 15th. Come back home and meet all the old friends of former years. No charge will be made.

ODD BANK NOTES OF EARLY TIMES

Before Nation's Currency Was Made Stable.

Issues of Confederate money provided some interesting incidents, says Farran Zerbe in "The Story of Money." The earliest issues were from Montgomery, Ala., the first capital, and are rather rare. The plates for these were produced in the North, in advance of the outbreak of the war. Their denominations ran from $50 to $1,000. When the capital of the Confederacy moved to Richmond, Va., the notes were issued from 50 cents to $500. Some plates for Confederate notes were made in England and were seized by the Union government on their way over to the Confederacy. When the Civil war came to an end notes printed on one side and uncut were found at Richmond.

Among the extraordinary episodes of the Civil war is this: A proclamation was issued in May, 1862, by the Confederate commander at Mesilla, Ariz., declaring it to be treason to refuse Confederate money. Shortly thereafter the California volunteers drove the Confederates and their money out and arranged with a mercantile house to issue money which was signed by the commander of their forces. This money was known as "rag money" because it was printed on muslin. When this was issued the commander of the California volunteers issued a proclamation in Spanish declaring it treason to accept Confederate money.

Speaking of California, there were some interesting notes issued in that state in the early days. Among them were the "shin plasters," which were payable in gold dust, harking back to the gold rush days. Evidence of how California kept on a specie basis during the Civil war is shown by checks which indicate that a depositor was given an account to correspond with the kind of money he deposited. For example, if he deposited gold he could draw checks payable in gold. If he deposited silver he was entitled to silver; if currency, currency. The common money of the pioneers was gold dust and nuggets, to be later followed by private coinage from 25 cents to $50, the latter, octagonal shape, being the well-known California "slug."

Some notes in this country have been printed in other than English. For example, notes of several banks in Pennsylvania were printed in German. In Louisiana from 1830 to 1850, the period of wildcat banking, notes were printed partly in French and partly in English. Notes in Texas were printed partly in Spanish and partly in English, and in New Mexico some scrip was entirely in Spanish. In troublous times in this country producers have issued scrip payable in their own wares for exchange purposes. For example, a strawberry firm issued a scrip payable in strawberries, others issued it payable in labor, dentistry, yarn, whisky, etc.

Way of a Word

Is it not strange that almost invariably when one speaks of some one in public there is some person within earshot who is (if not the person himself) a relative or friend of that person?

Illustrative is the following incident:

Mrs. Frank Wallace, wife of the state entomologist, reported to her husband one evening recently she at last had learned his correct title. While riding on a street car that morning she said she had overheard her husband's name mentioned by one of two persons in the seat ahead of her.

"Frank Wallace? Oh, yes," said the other. "I've heard of him. He's the state emptyologist."—Indianapolis News.

Seek Rare Flower

More than 100 years ago a small white flower, said to grow only on Unalaska island in the Aleutian group, was found there. During the last century botanists vainly searched for it. This summer the second specimen was obtained there by Prof. George Haley of St. Ignace college, San Francisco. The bloom was first reported by a Frenchman who accompanied a party known as the Kotzebue expedition to this island in 1815-19. Five other parties visited the island to hunt for it and left empty-handed.

MUNICIPAL NOTES BY THE MANAGER

Last Monday, a notice was received from the County Clerk, stating that the annexation of the half square mile south of Plymouth, was recorded in the office of the Secretary of State at Lansing, on September 29th, and that therefore, becomes the official date on which the annexation became effective.

As most of you know, the area taken in runs from Mill street west to a line half a mile west of South Main street, and includes land as far south as Golden road.

The assessor has completed the special assessment rolls for the sanitary sewers of the 1925 and 1926 contracts. The Commission, Monday evening, after making a few slight changes, confirmed the rolls, which are made out in nine sections or districts. As soon as practicable, the statements for these assessments will be mailed out. There are 391 benefits assessed on these rolls, each of $70.65, making a total of $27,524.55. One-fifth of this amount will be payable within 30 days of the date borne by the statements when they are mailed.

The Starkweather and Main traffic light is now reset on a post, and is more easily seen than heretofore. The post and light will be repainted.

The Wayne County Road Commission early crew is at work constructing concrete curbs along the new South Main street pavement. This will add a finishing touch to the street that will much improve its appearance.

Blum and Dickinson have been held up in their machine sewer digging by a bear shaft on the digger. Meanwhile, their hand crews have finished the two blocks of sewer on North Mill street, north of the railroad, and have started the sewer in the rear of the Main street and Pennington avenue stores.

A deed has been accepted by the village from William Eckman, for a piece of ground for street purposes, to connect Harvey street at the south end of the Nash subdivision with the same street in the Puritan Hill and Sunshine Acres subdivisions. This will make Harvey street continuous from Junction avenue near the railroad, south to the Golden road and on through Palmer Acres.

INCREASED TELEPHONE RATES AUTHORIZED IN PLYMOUTH.

Increased telephone rates in Plymouth, authorized by the Michigan Public Utilities commission, mean that the Michigan Bell Telephone company will be enabled to operate its service here on a better basis, at the same time giving the city adequate service and continuing its program of expanding telephone plant as the village grows, according to R. E. Crowe, manager for the telephone company.

Mr. Crowe states that, although Plymouth has enjoyed a remarkable prosperity and growth the past few years, the engineers of the telephone company look for even greater growth as the local industries expand and bring many more residents to the community. That future growth cannot help but add to the problems by the telephone company here, he declares. These problems somewhat parallel and, at times, exceed those faced by the village departments that have charge of the schools, streets, water and other public services.

"The problems faced by these departments and by the utility companies here are comparable with those met in many larger centers," Mr. Crowe points out, "and mean increasing costs of operation as well as large expenditures of new capital for additional plant."

"The increase in local telephone rates is timely," he continues. "Our rates here, in general, are the same as they were a good many years ago when we had a relatively small telephone development, and in recent years have been inadequate to meet the expense of operation and to earn a fair return upon the value of our property. Growth of the community the past few years has made it necessary to enlarge our plant here considerably, to rebuild or replace much of it, and considerable amounts of cable have been added this year alone at a cost of many thousands of dollars."

"We have just placed a new central office in service in Plymouth which, with the associated equipment and additional outside plant facilities already added, represents a new investment of more than $190,000. The central office and equipment alone cost $120,000. And we are still working on plant extensions in this neighborhood. Last year, the telephone company expended its new toll cable from Detroit to Plymouth, and has just completed the work of building it on to Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor, offering greater protection for the lines from storm and electrical and other interferences with the service, besides increasing the number of circuits. This means speedier connection with the outside world. Our local lines have been extended into many parts of the town that are newly building up and

MORE SCHOOL NOTES

High School Notes The monthly tests are being given this week.

The third year Latin class is studying "Cicero's Defense of Roscius." First try-outs for the debating team were held Monday, October 4th. Second try-outs will be held Monday, October 11th.

The library is open to any outsiders who wish to get books.

Future Debaters Chosen

Six students contested on Monday, October 4th, for a place on our 1926-1927 debating team. Miss Leona Meyer was first speaker with a plea for "National Disarmament." Miss Josephine Schmidt next told of the crying need of a Student Council in our school. Mr. Murphy then explained "Why Plymouth Needs a New Gymnasium." Miss Elizabeth Spicer presented "Improving Plymouth's Thoroughfares," and Franklin Atkinson upheld the negative of the Student Council proposition. The sixth and concluding speaker, Miss Luella Crizer, presented a stirring plea for "A Place for Germany in the League of Nations." All of these presentations were well given.

The five who retained their places will contest for definite team places on October 11th, on the state debating question, "Resolved that the United States Shall Own and Control the American Coal Mines."

Extemporaneous Speaking Contest

At the weekly meeting of the National Forensic League of Plymouth High school, which was held Wednesday afternoon, it was definitely decided that the league should sponsor an extemporaneous speaking contest. This contest will be held either the 20th or the 21st of October. Contestants will study the three subjects, "Child's Punishment," "One-half hour before the time assigned for the elimination contest, each person will be given a specific topic upon which to speak. The contests for boys and girls will be separate, thus giving both an equal chance. Besides being eligible for membership in the National Forensic League, winners and runners-up will be awarded medals. If you have any public speaking qualities whatsoever, you will surely want to try out for this interesting, unusual event."

ANNUAL MEETING OF LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS.

Plans for the seventh annual convention of the Michigan League of Women Voters, to be held in Saginaw, November 18, 19 and 20, was one of the important items under discussion at the October meeting of the State Board of Directors, in session Tuesday, at the Women's City Club in Detroit. Although Saginaw has the largest and oldest League in the Michigan organization, and was one of the first Leagues to be established in the country, this is the first state-wide meeting to be held there.

No detailed announcement of program can as yet be made, according to the president, Mrs. Henry Gray Sherrard of Detroit, although it is understood that much time will be devoted to the questions of organization and program of work, with speakers of national and international reputation contributing to a wider understanding of some of the political questions before the country.

Although the League of Women Voters is comparatively new among women's organizations, its growth has been conspicuous, and the annual conventions of the Michigan League have attracted a large number of women from different parts of the state who are deeply interested in its program of non-partisan political education.

The first meeting of our Citizenship League was held Friday, October 1st. Our new officers are as follows:

President—Persis Fogarty.
Vice President—Flora Gerst.
Secretary—Jeanette Merriman.
Health Officer—Mary Truskowski.

One of the most important things we did was to change the name of our "Busy Bee Club" to "Happy Helpers." We like our new name very much.

The fourth grade are starting a pioneer project in connection with geography.

Miss Winchell, the Wayne county nurse, visited us Tuesday, and gave a talk on "Toxin-Anti-Toxin," which every child ought to receive for protection against diphtheria.

Three of the Kiwanians from Ypsilanti, visited our school one day last week, and invited us to the autumn festival, which is October 6th. The girls sewing club will exhibit their work at Masonic temple. Their work was also on exhibit at Northville fair. We are very proud of Flora Gerst, who won two first prizes and one second prize, and also of Phila Gust, who won third prize.

The eighth grade agriculture classes are making maps showing the increase and decrease of crops in the United States from 1909 to 1919.

Our Parent-Teacher meeting will be held on October 8th. It is hoped that we have a large attendance at this meeting.

ROADS BUDGET IS $5,665,500

ESTIMATES SUBMITTED TO WAYNE SUPERVISORS FOR HIGHWAY WORK IN 1927.

An expenditure of $5,665,500 will be made on new highways and improvements of others in 1927 by the Wayne County Road Commission, according to the commission's budget, submitted by the Board of Supervisors September 30.

Of this amount, $2,050,000 will be spent in acquiring rights of way for road widening in conformance with the Master Plan of thoroughfares within the city. This will be done under an agreement between the commission and the Council, which provides that the county shall acquire the rights of way in outlying districts.

On maintenance of roads and bridges, $493,000 will be spent, while $1,762,500 will be spent on construction of new roads. $450,000 on construction of highway bridges, and $910,000 on construction of grade separation bridges.

The money specified in the budget will be raised as follows:

Mill tax, $3,405,500.
Automobile weight tax, $2,230,000.
Rental from D. U. R. on bridges, $30,000.

In its report the board states that Wayne County has now provided an outline system of roads extending to every city, village and hamlet in the county. The greatest need for roads today, the report states, lies within the immediate vicinity of the 15-mile circle, and therefore the paving program consists mainly in widening old roads in congested areas and the continuance of the grade separation program.

The following new roads will be paved:

Bonaparte, from Division to Telegraph, 20 feet wide; Base Line road, at Northville, 20 feet wide; Huron River drive, Belleville to County Line, 20 feet; Lahser, Five-Mile to Six-Mile road, 20 feet; Meridian road on Grosse Ile, 20 feet; Monnier road, Seven-Mile to Eight-Mile, 20 feet; North Line road, Fort street to Dix, 20 feet; Six-Mile road, Grand River to Telegraph, 20 feet; Seven-Mile road, Mt. Clemens Drive to Kelly road, 20 feet.

Grading will be completed and drainage sewers laid along Town Line road, from Division to Oakwood, and along Emerson road from Michigan to Oakwood. All the new pavements will be similarly improved. The total cost of this program is set at $800,000.

THE THEATRE

"THE HIGH STEPPERS"

The danger to which the modern family is exposed when the head of the family is too occupied making money to interfere with his family's diversions is set forth in "The High Steppers," coming to the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday, October 9th. This is an Edwin Carewe production for First National, featuring Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes.

The story of the film is based on Sir Philip Gibbs' novel, "Heirs Apparent." In this tale it is brought out how a father's carelessness in regard to the pleasures pursued by his wife and children drives the family to the brink of ruin. It is saved only by the sudden waking up of the son whose love for a sensible girl opens his eyes.

Lloyd Hughes is cast as the son, Mary Astor plays opposite him as the girl who preferred stepping on firm ground to high stepping to furious jazz tunes. Others in the cast are Rita Carewe, Alec Francis, Edward Davis, John Stepping, Clarissa Selwynne and Dolores del Rio.

Senorita del Rio is the sensational film "find," who scored such a personal triumph in her debut in "Joanna." She is a Castilian beauty and one of the wealthiest society girls in Mexico.

Edwin Carewe directed "The High Steppers." Lois Leeson made the screen adaptation.

"THE STRONG MAN"

If you came to America looking for a girl, whom you knew only through letters and a worn photograph, how could you find her? Especially if she had moved from her last address, and you couldn't even speak English?

Those are only a few of the predicaments which faced Harry Langdon as the Belgian immigrant in "The Strong Man," his laugh riot, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, October 10 and 11.

The stranger got himself into many scrapes because of his inquiries for the girl, although his final discovery of her was worth all the trouble.

Langdon's search for the girl gives rise to the various backgrounds of the story, which include New York, a northern border town, and many intermittent localities.

Naturally Harry's face has a searching look, a wistful inquiry; and in this role he is hilariously pathetic.

MICHIGAN CATTLE ENTERED IN SHOW

One hundred and sixty of Michigan's blue ribbon cattle are among the 1,304 head of pure-bred dairy cattle entered in the National Dairy Exposition being held at the State Fair grounds, October 6th to 13th, according to J. E. Barnett, superintendent of cattle exhibits. They will compete at the "court of last resort" with prize-winners from eighteen states and two Canadian provinces.

Michigan is exceeded only by New York with 164 head, in the total number of cattle entered. The state leads in the number of Holsteins registered with 75 head, and is second in Ayrshires, with 46 head. Wisconsin is first with 53 head. New York leads in both Brown Swiss and Guernseys, having 32 and 49 head entered respectively. Out of 165 exhibitors at the Dairy show, 22 are from Michigan.

Considerable interest is centered in the Ayrshire classes, 202 head being recorded. W. C. Wylie, Howick, Quebec, is showing Nellie Osborne of Elm-land 16th, the pure-bred Ayrshire cow recently making a new world's record by producing 23,225 lbs. of milk and 1,003 lbs. of butterfat. Strathglass Rosmer, owned by James E. Davidson, Bay City, and declared grand champion Ayrshire bull at the Sesqui-Centennial, is also entered.

The famous Michigan cow, Daisy Annie Grunsky 3rd, from the Lakeside Farms, Clarkston, is also exhibited. A few weeks ago she created a new state record by producing 44.85 lbs. of butterfat in seven days.

It is evident that competition is keen at this year's exposition. Names famous in the dairy industry stand out prominently among the entrants. Quality is the dominant factor making up the greatest gathering of dairy cattle on the continent.

STATE FARM GROUPS TO SEE CORN BORER

BIG ROUND-UP CALLED BY M. S. C. FOR MONROE STATION ON OCTOBER 21.

Agricultural interests of Michigan will gather at the special European corn borer experiment station in Monroe County on Thursday, October 21, to inspect the ravages of this imported crop pest and to study experimental and test work.

County agricultural agents, farmers, farm organization heads, and business men of the state have all been invited to view the work of the corn borer at first hand, and to learn of the methods being developed to combat the pest. The Michigan State College, the State Department of Agriculture, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture are all interested co-operatively in the special work of Monroe station.

Seriousness of the corn borer menace was reflected in the appointment last week at the college of an emergency corn borer committee, with all agricultural department heads and agricultural division executives at M. S. C. included in its roster. The work of this committee will include the projects and the extension of educational pushing of experimental and research tional material on the corn borer to the farms of the state.

"It looks at this time as though the corn borer would become the greatest menace which has ever faced American agriculture," said Dean R. S. Shaw of M. S. C., in appointing the special committee.

The fact that the borer has penetrated as far west in the state as Kalamazoo County, was emphasized recently by Prof. J. F. Cox, head of the crops department at the college. Fourteen days of east and northeast winds in July are held responsible for the unusually rapid spread of the pest this summer.

Good posture campaign is in order for this year in the girls' physical training class, in which girls are graded according to ability to hold good posture while walking and taking exercises.

Physical examination for eye, ear, nose and throat, height and weight, will be given by the school nurse and the physical training teacher in a few weeks. Many defects are discovered, of which the child and parents are often unaware. For this reason, examinations are very beneficial. It is hoped that the parents will cooperate for the health of the child in carrying out the suggestions of the nurse.

PLYMOUTH IS FOOTBALL VICTOR AT DEARBORN, SCORE 14 TO 7.

The Plymouth Rocks stood their ground Friday at Dearborn, and came through victors with a score of 14 to 7.

Plymouth has a good chance for championship in the Suburban League this year. Having won the game from Dearborn, gives Plymouth even more enthusiasm to plunge through the three remaining League games.

and come through successfully, but they need your support.

Plymouth kicked off and sent the ball down the field to Dearborn's twenty-yard line. Dearborn made a pass and started down the field for a touchdown, but Doudt intercepted them. A second attempt was made which was broken up by Carney.

Second quarter found Dearborn on their twenty-yard line again, struggling for a touchdown. This time Carney spoiled their plans. Sayles caught a pass and went for a touchdown, but was stopped by Dearborn who kept the ball.

Dearborn made a big gain toward a touchdown, but was stopped by Rambo, only to make a touchdown the next play. Plymouth pushed steadily toward their goal, when the half ended with the ball in Dearborn's possession.

Plymouth kicked off, which gave Dearborn the ball, and Plymouth lost some ground when Foster broke through the lines and brought Plymouth a touchdown, making the score a tie. A small loss was made, only to have it more than regained by Doudt. The team furiously forged ahead, and Rambo made a touchdown.

The remainder of the game was an exciting struggle near Dearborn's goal. The game ended without either team increasing their score.

Dearborn's line-up was as follows: L. E. Proctor, L. J. Suthit, L. G. Thiel, G. Zamanigan, R. G. Hayes, R. T. Arndt, R. G. Sisson (captain); Q. B. Scott; L. H. Shaw; R. H. Bapprich; F. B. Stanton.

CONDEMNATION VICTORY URGED

R. K. PARROTT, PRESIDENT OF PLYMOUTH REAL ESTATE BOARD, CALLS ATTENTION OF VOTERS TO THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT.

"All voters of the state were vigorously urged in a resolution adopted by the Michigan Real Estate Association at its annual meeting held in Kalamazoo, September 28, 29 and 30, to support the amendment to the state constitution providing a legal way for the elimination of waste in condemnation proceedings—otherwise known as the Excess Condemnation Method—which is to be balloted on November 2," states R. K. Parrott, President, Plymouth Real Estate Board, who attended the convention.

"This proposed amendment would merely permit a municipality in widening or extending a street, building a school or library, or replanting a park, or making any other public improvement, to condemn more land than is needed for the actual physical work, which it cannot now do under the straight condemnation method.

"Economic reasons why the municipality needs this additional power are as follows:

"Control of land adjacent to the improvement;

"Replanting of remnants and irregular building lots; and

"Saving in expense to the municipality through sale of excess property at increased value due to the improvement.

"In the past all American municipalities have been hampered in economic and civic development by the free and unrestricted use of abutting property by private owners. The erection of sign boards, gas stations, stores, shops and factories promiscuously has had a tendency to decrease property values and the attractiveness of the municipality as a whole.

"It is to the undoubted financial advantage of the private owner as well as that of the municipality that neighborhoods should not be allowed to run down and that our public places should not be surrounded by buildings not in keeping with the improvements made.

"If Michigan municipalities are given the power under the proposed amendment to sell or lease land subject to suitable restrictions when improvements are made the conditions given above cannot prevail. The convenience and enjoyment of a community should take precedence over the whim of the private owner, especially when he has been paid well for his property as is the rule under our present methods of jury procedure, findings of which are passed on by the courts.

"While the necessity of excess condemnation rests chiefly upon the control of adjacent land and the replanting of remnants it is often possible for the municipality to make substantial savings on the cost of the improvement by the sale or lease of those excess lands which were not actually used in the physical widening but which were necessary to the economical consummation of the project.

"Where a municipality is forced to take a considerable portion of a lot or building under straight condemnation it has to pay practically the cost of the entire parcel and would be in a far better financial position if it could acquire the fee to the whole plot and secure the benefit from the increased value of the remainder left after the improvement was made.

"It might be reasoned that the various owners of irregular remnants could regroup them, remove buildings onto them and themselves accomplish all that the municipality could. In actual practice this does not materialize. Perhaps one owner wants more for his holdings than is equitable, he therefore prevents the whole scheme of rejuvenation and often as a result the street is left for years looking like a devastated storm area.

"In such cases property on the widened or improved street which should normally increase in value does not do so, and values in adjoining areas are also adversely affected, which is bad for not only that particular section of the commonwealth, but for the community as a whole.

"Also when these remnants remain under individual control they are often so small that the assessment, if any, is negligible, therefore their owners pay no taxes. Were it possible to regroup these parcels one large piece of valuable property could be created and through taxation bear its part of the burden caused by the improvement.

"In many cases also the owner would prefer not to be left with a remnant on his hands, it being of little if any usable value to him, but under our present system of condemnation the commonwealth cannot purchase it.

"The time is coming when many commonwealths of our state will need excess condemnation for the creation of civic improvements to meet the demand of greater vehicular travel and larger internal development due to growth and expansion and I believe that we should get it now and save, whenever possible, the money of not the municipality, but of the taxpayers.

"As this amendment is for the purpose of doing the greatest amount of good to the greatest number of people of our state and will work injury to none, it seems to me that in the interest of economy and progress we should place our seal of approval on it at the polls, November 2."

Retail Merchant Has Post of Importance

If the small restaurateur would serve a meal that would vie with home cooking, if the druggist would have any article a drug store should have when desired, if the small-shop laundryman would turn out crisp, spotless linen—

Then two specific needs in the merchandising of the nation would be removed, according to Ray Morton Hardy, business analyst of Lansing, Mich.

"And this would be much better than finding the town merchant serving his community by sitting on civic boards. His place in civic boards might better be a recognition of the effective, efficient and honest service he has rendered the public through his merchandising," said Mr. Hardy.

"If the retail merchant attends to his business and does his work well he is a vital organ in the business body of his city or town. He is the distributor of good food, good clothing, shelter, warmth and every means of health, comfort and pleasure."

The retail merchant's first need is education, thinks Mr. Hardy. His second a recognized code of ethics.

"There are towns in the United States where 75 per cent of the retail business is lost to outside competition," he declared.

No Reason One Should Not Build in Winter

With due precautions and proper equipment, nearly all construction work can be carried on in winter and at no great difference in cost. The owner may often profit by saving interest on his investment and by securing earlier use of the structure.

Although equipment needed for protection and artificial heat in winter construction requires some expenditure and there may be some increase in overhead on the job due to delays from winter storms, these items may often be offset by the saving in salaries and the reduction in the contractor's general overhead. Labor in general is more efficient, as skilled workmen can be more easily obtained.

It is feasible to plan now and build next winter—Exchange.

Home Setting Important

Buy your lot well in advance of the time for building and landscape it with trees and hedges. Is the advice given by a far-seeing reader who contributes a letter to the series on home-building in Liberty. "In planning my future home," she writes, "I purchased two lots, 40 feet frontage each, in what I believe will be a fine residential district in the suburban development of the city. My building program will not commence until 1930. I suggest to lot holders with such future plans: Plant shade trees and fence hedges now. Four or five years of steady, natural growth will make for hardness that building activities will not disturb. The completed home will have the beauty and finish that otherwise would require four or five years to develop."

Ban Unsightly Billboards

A continuous campaign against the placing of billboards upon the state highways of Tennessee is now being conducted under the direction of the state department of highways and public works. Since December, when a state-wide "cleanup week" was proclaimed, the department has been removing disfiguring signs from the state roads in accordance with a law created by the state legislature in 1925 making it unlawful to erect signs of any character along the state highway system outside the limits of incorporated towns.

Build With Eye to Future

The home builder today is short-sighted if he puts his money into anything but a well-built and well-designed home. It costs very little if any more to build from a good plan that puts in those clever little touches here and there that give the house that individual and attractive look which means so much when the place is offered for sale.

Fire Waste Contest

The United States Chamber of Commerce has made these awards in its 1925 fire waste contest: Portland, Ore., first prize in cities of the first class; Long Beach, Calif., in class 2; Battle Creek, Mich., in class 3, and Albany, Ga., in class 4. Albany also won the grand prize for 1925.

Sign of Permanency

Not all individuals that are interested in industry own their own homes, but nearly all humans that own their own homes hold permanent positions. Their self-interest is on the job.

Protect Home Investment

It is indeed curious that, while we avoid, in so far as we can, any depreciation of our other investments, many of us do not adequately protect our home investment. We are constantly paying "neglect taxes" on our properties, which may be greater some years than the government taxes. Some idea of the extent of our carelessness may be gained from the knowledge that repairs to property, due entirely to neglect, cost American property owners about $1,800,000,000 a year. This truly appalling figure indicates a very deplorable condition. It is a sum nearly four times as great as the annual fire loss.—Exchange.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says barbers in the big towns are so busy bobbing hair that the only chance a fellow has to get a shave is to borrow his wife's skirt and wear it into the barber shop.

The richer the country the more of its wealth goes to the manufacture of anti-fat.

"If you want to get in real bad in the community," says Dad Plymouth, "just start out to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth."

An optimist is the fellow who is pleased at a puncture because it isn't a blow-out.

Dad Plymouth declares that whatever is worth doing is worth doing well, even if you're only making a fool of yourself.

The automobile has few drawbacks, but it does enable one's relatives to drop in on mighty short notice.

"The world may owe us a living," asserts Dad Plymouth, "but we've got to hustle all the time for the war tax."

"There are folks in our town who think they are just as good as anyone else," declares Dad Plymouth. And he adds that "some of them are in their own estimation."

REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE SUPPRESSION OF THE EUROPEAN CORN BORER IN THE STATE OF MICHIGAN.

1. These regulations apply to the area as quarantined on account of the European Corn Borer January first of each year, previous to the planting of crop, or any other townships specifically designated.

2. All corn stalks, remnants of stalks and cobs of each year's corn crop, in fields, buildings, stacks or elsewhere, if not fed, made into silage or shredded, shall be destroyed by burning or by plowing under completely or by a combination of burning and plowing, before May 15th of the following year. (Where corn is fed from the shock, remnants must be disposed of by burning.)

3. Corn fields or premises not properly cleaned by May 15th may be cleaned at the discretion of the Commissioner of Agriculture and a charge made against the owner for the same.

Definitions: For the purpose of this regulation, corn stalks refer to the whole stalks or high stubble left standing in the field, or the portion of the stalks removed by cutting.

Stubble two inches or less in height complies with requirements of regulation.

Burning is interpreted to mean destruction with sufficient heat to destroy corn borer larvae.

Plowing under completely means leaving no debris on the surface whatever.

Cultivation after plowing that drags debris to the surface or the discing of stalks or high stubble does not meet the requirements of the regulations.

Recommendations: Early and low cutting is strongly urged and recommended, as by so doing, the largest number of borers possible is removed from the field. All corn growers are advised to equip themselves with corn binders and all owners of corn binders are advised to equip their machines with low cutting devices now available.

Low cutting is especially necessary in fields which are to be seeded to grain as high stubble contains many borers and practically no suppression is accomplished.

Hogging down corn and allowing stalks to remain in the fields over winter as a practice is condemned as they make clean plowing difficult.

FRUIT YIELD IS TO BE HEAVY

The prospective commercial apple crop of the United States made a considerable gain during the month of August, the September 1st estimate being 42,051,000 barrels as compared with 39,530,000 on August 1st. The estimates show an increase in all important states east of the Rockies but a decrease in the Pacific states. Maine, Michigan and Idaho are the only states reporting a smaller production than in 1925, and the total for the country is a little more than one-fourth larger. In general, the winter fruit is sizing up well. Recent rains have increased the amount of scab in many localities. Unfavorable market conditions for early varieties have caused large quantities of inferior grades to be left in the orchards.

In Michigan a larger proportion than usual consists of summer and fall varieties. Only 51 per cent, or 829,000 barrels, is winter fruit, while 28 per cent of the crop is fall, and 21 per cent summer fruit. The total commercial crop in Michigan is placed at 1,626,000 barrels.

The peach crop of the United States is estimated at 65,636,000 bushels as compared with 46,565,000 bushels in 1925. It is the biggest crop on record and nearly all states report a much larger production than last year, the Michigan estimate of 1,513,000 bushels being more than two and one-half times as many. The quality is generally good throughout the country although the size is not as large as usual in some sections where sufficient moisture was lacking.

Pears are also an exceptionally large crop for the country as a whole, the estimate being 25,113,000 bushels. It is larger than last year in all important states except New York and is especially heavy on the Pacific coast, those three states have more than one-half of the total of the United States. The Michigan crop is estimated at 937,000 bushels which is 73 per cent of normal as compared with 35 per cent of a yield last year.

Michigan promises a grape production of 66,821 tons which is 79 per cent of a crop as compared with a 30 per cent yield last year. The state ranks third in the production of this fruit. The September estimates for other states are not yet available so that no comparisons can be made for the country as a whole. The quality is good but the fruit is about two weeks later than usual in ripening.

BAPTIST NOTES

The home coming that took place last week Thursday was a very happy and glad occasion. The supper served by the Ladies’ Aid was according to the usual plan, a great menu, and a crowd came to eat. All seemed to enjoy the supper. The dining room decorations were very pretty. The ladies had decorated the auditorium after the design of a harvest festival—corn-stalks, beautiful leaves, flowers of all kinds, and the platform was a mass of green.

The afternoon session opened by music. Rev. R. O. Thompson, pastor of Novi Baptist church, led the devotional. The pastor gave a few words of greeting. Mrs. S. L. Bennett gave a short account of the history of the church. Rev. A. K. MacRae of the Northville Baptist church, gave the afternoon address.

The pastor called the roll of those who were present, and many of the older people and members gave thoughts of other days in church and Sunday-school life. Mrs. Lucy Smith gave a very appropriate reading, and Rev. and Mrs. Sayles sang.

After the supper, Frank Hamill led the song service, with Mrs. Sayles at the piano. Then the male quartet sang. The devotionals were again led by Rev. R. O. Thompson. Ollivias Williams of Detroit, sang a solo, and after roll call, the two brothers, Ollivias and Morris Williams sang a duet. Letters were read from friends who could not come, and sent hearty greetings to the members of the old church. Some who spoke in the afternoon had been members for fifty years and more. Mrs. Sarah Bartlett, a member for 68 years, the oldest member of the church.

The male quartet sang several times during the evening. The reading by Miss Doris Hamill was well received and everyone was happy to listen to the youngest member of the church as she read, “Polly Anna.”

S. L. Bennett gave the history of the church, giving the number of ministers and supplies the church has had, and spoke of Rev. Grow, who for fifteen years was pastor of the church.

Friends from out of town came from Ann Arbor, Novi, Salem, South Lyon, Monroe, Pontiac and Detroit.

The closing address was given by Rev. George Barnard, D. D., of Detroit, who spoke on the church, what it is, its mission and final triumph. It was a wonderful sermon.

The day closed by singing, “Fill We Meet Again.”

Last Sunday, October 3rd, was a good day all around. The Sunday-school was larger than on Rally Day.

During the program of home coming, the church voted for Evangelist Conley of Akron, to come and begin meetings, November 7th. The meetings were delayed on account of the sickness of the evangelist.

Itoland Allenbaugh led the B. Y. P. U. last Sunday night.

The evening service found a very good attendance. Mr. Huff and family of Lansing, sang as a quartet at this service.

Rev. and Mrs. Sayles and Gaylord attended the Wayne Association at Wixom, last week Wednesday.

CATHOLIC NOTES

The supper given by the Altar Ladies at the M. E. Community hall, on Thursday of last week, was a great success. Special thanks are accorded to all who helped make it so by their patronage; also the workers, with Mrs. Peter Miller, chairman, and those who donated. Much credit is due Mrs. H. P. Lezotte for the advertising and the generous use of her car.

The ladies met at the home of Mrs. Baker on Whitbeck road on Monday afternoon, to complete arrangements for the supper and dance, held at the Penniman Allen auditorium, Thursday night. After the business meeting, a dainty lunch was served.

The ladies have decided to have something doing right along. The next affair will be the harvest party at Newburg, about the last of the month. Notice later.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

A fine evening was spent by the Men’s Class, Friday of last week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melburg, Partridge, Penniman road, who proved themselves most kindly entertainers. Plans for the year’s activities were laid with optimism and enthusiasm. A supper will be given at the church, October 19th, to which all men interested are invited.

Mr. Nichol will preach a series of Sunday morning sermons, based on the prophecy of Amos. The first, next Sunday, is, “God’s Inexorable Law.”

The young people at their meeting, last Sunday evening enjoyed a most interesting discussion on education. A fine year is promised this organization.

The Woman’s Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will hold its regular monthly business meeting in the

Mr. Holcomb’s class in the Sunday-school has begun the study of “Outlines of Bible History.” Next Sunday Donald Sutherland will review the MSS sources of the scripture, and Ray Weatherman will discuss development leading to the present American Revised Version. The new course has aroused much interest, and there has been a decided jump in attendance. All unmarried young men and women, beyond High school age, are cordially invited to enroll.

The regular meeting of the W. F. M. S. has been postponed one week in order to allow the members of the local society to attend the district meeting at Pontiac, next Tuesday and Wednesday. Arrangements are being made for cars for all who may desire to go.

Next Sunday will be rally day in church and Sunday-school, and there will be special musical selections in the church service, and a regular program for the Sunday-school session.

AROUND ABOUT US

Redford suffered a $25,000 fire last week Wednesday, in the business section of the village.

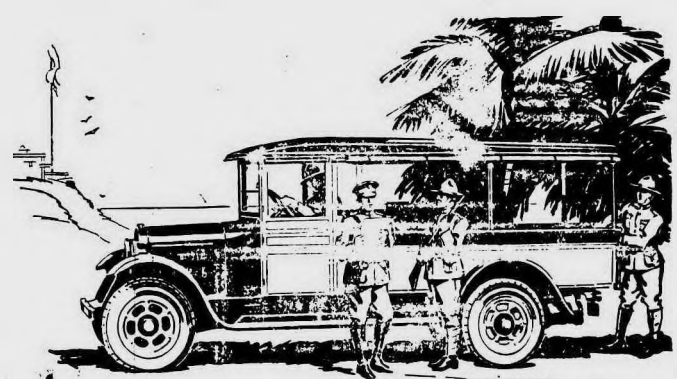

One of Redford's oldest landmarks the Millard dwelling house, has been razed, and the site converted into a base ball diamond. The old house once served as the village postoffice.

Wilson Schneider of Chelsea wrote his name on a toy balloon which was sent up at Pleasant Lake, August 2. On September 11, he received a letter stating that the balloon had been found at Glendale, Calif., it having traveled a distance of 2500 miles, from its starting point.

The Michigan Federated Utilities Co., who recently completed the laying of their gas mains from Plymouth to this city, announce the opening of their Wayne office Friday, in the new Smith building on Biddle street, next to the telephone office. All business with the company, such as the paying of bills, calls for service and the listing of complaints, will be handled from this office, according to Harry Wrench, superintendent. The company will also carry a line of gas stoves and appliances which may be seen in demonstration in their Wayne headquarters. —Wayne Weekly.

The club and community exhibits in the new vegetable building at the Northville Fair, were very attractive this year. The Triangle Club of the Plymouth High school was awarded first premium, the Plymouth Grange second, the Canton Center Community club third, the Dwarborn Garden club and the Brightmoor Junior club fourth. In the institutional exhibits, the Detroit House of Correction Farm won first premium this year and the Wayne County Poor Farm second. These displays were carefully arranged and added greatly to the attractiveness of the vegetable department, which was the best one yet.

A. Morrissey, former vice president of the Biltmore Financing Corporation, New York, announces plans to build a $1,000,000 hotel, to be known as the Michigan Hotel, at Huron street and Fourth avenue, Ann Arbor. It will be a nine-story, fire-proof structure and will be in operation by the time the new stadium is opened. R. E. Hampton, Detroit representative of the Industrial Bankers Corporation, is resigning that position to be affiliated with Mr. Morrissey in the Ann Arbor enterprise. The Biltmore Financing Corporation will provide the funds, with possible exception of $200,000, which may be raised locally in the form of stock sales. —Michigan Investor.

ARCTIC HAS TAKEN TOLL OF BRAVERY

Long List of Expeditions That Failed.

The successful return of MacMillan and Amundsen from their latest expeditions to the North recalls that many earlier explorers gave their lives to Arctic adventure and that a long line of sturdy ships have surrendered to the ice. Less than two years ago William Nutting and three companions set out from Norway to follow in Viking trail to America in their little ship, the Lief Ericson. They disappeared after leaving the coast of Greenland. Earlier centuries had their Arctic expeditions. In 1500 Gaspar Cortereal, a Portuguese explorer, ventured into Hudson strait in a small craft and was never heard from again, says Popular Science Monthly. His brother and a number of companions who organized a searching expedition likewise were lost. Four hundred years before there was a map of the Arctic, Sir Hugh Willoughby sailed into the North, later to be found dead with his crew and the ship frozen fast in the ice. Sir Martin Frobisher's search for the Northwest passage in 1590 met with partial disaster when one of his three ships foundered in a gale.

Bering made many expeditions during the middle part of the eighteenth century, but was finally wrecked on the island that now bears his name, and died there, legend says, of a broken heart. After a successful voyage into northern seas with Peary, in 1893, and a relief expedition, a year later, the Falcon, commanded by Capt. Henry Bartlett, a skilled navigator, was lost with all her crew. The first "mariner of the air" to be claimed by the Arctic was Solomon August Andree, who, with two companions, left Spitzbergen in 1897 in a balloon fitted with sails and trailing ropes. They hoped to reach the pole and return, but a few of the buoys dropped from the basket as a means of tracing the expedition and a message brought by a carrier pigeon, were all that came back from the ill-fated venture. In May, 1945, Sir John Franklin, with 129 men and the Erebus and the Terror, set out to find a northwest passage. Neither the ships nor any of the men returned. Thirty relief expeditions, over as many years, were sent in search of them, although a message found 14 years after the men had sailed stated that the ships had been crushed in the ice.

To Stop Walls' Scaling

The brownstone of which old Trinity church in lower New York is built is succumbing to time and weather. The scaling of the fine, old church has progressed to such a point that something has to be done about it. The whole exterior of the building is to be heated to 250 degrees Fahrenheit by means of an electric air blast and then melted paraffin is to be applied. The paraffin is expected to be sufficiently absorbed into the "skin" of the stone to make the crumbling stone waterproof so that moisture and frost can do no further damage. This was the process by which crumbling of the Egyptian obelisk in Central park, New York, was stopped several years ago.

Correct Posture

Correct posture is more a product of well-balanced muscular activity and development than a habitual assumption of a certain approved position. We were formerly told that children and others should lie straight in bed, so that they would be able to stand straight the next day. As a matter of fact the body assumed a very different and more relaxed position just as soon as sleep began to dull the consciousness. The purpose of sleep is to give rest rather than serve as a time for discipline.—Exchange.

Human Alarm Clocks

In parts of the Orient some natives have developed the ability to sleep a predetermined number of hours to a remarkable degree. An Indian scholar, for instance, slept three days and awoke within a half minute of the time set for arising. Others are said to have such power of mental concentration that they can submit to minor surgical operations without apparent pain. Generations of study along the lines of applied psychology have produced these faculties in the opinion of investigators.

Counter Suggestion

Mother had promised that Billy should have a birthday party and the boy was sending out invitations. "I think I'd just call it a party, dear," said his mother. "I wouldn't mention the birthday; it looks too much like asking for a present."

Billy protested vigorously against the suggestion, but finally gave in. "Well, mother," he said, "I won't mention the birthday, but don't you think it would be all right if I draw a picture of a cake with candles at the top of the paper?"—Boston Transcript.

Believed Work of Watteau

What is believed to be a two-hundred-year-old painting by the Frenchman, Watteau, has been discovered in a humble home in a suburb of Johannesburg. It depicts Mary Queen of Scots being led to execution. The signature, "A. Watteau," appears in the left-hand corner, but the value of the find, even if an original, is lessened by the fact that the canvas has been pierced in two places. It is said to have been brought to South Africa by a Huguenot.

Studying Favorite Foods

What is the favorite food for each section of the United States? The Department of Agriculture is going to undertake a survey in July to determine the kinds of food eaten throughout the United States, the quality and the quantities consumed in various sections. There are said to have been no adequate figures on food consumption available, and there is a demand for such information for scientific research and various other groups. It is planned to determine also whether an adequately nutritive diet is within the incomes of large groups of people.

Today's Reflections

The advice given the farmers since the first of the year included everything but having his tonsils taken out.

Plymouth citizens can agree on almost everything except religion and the size of hailstones.

A noted club woman says girl workers should have men's wages. They usually get that by marrying the men.

Speaking of the movement of youth from the farm to town, we think it should be restricted to about 35 miles an hour.

After she has attended several meetings a Plymouth woman learns that a sewing circle is a group of women who spends one afternoon a week talking about the members who are absent.

To make things still worse for "Ma" Ferguson, it happens that her term as governor expires on the thirteenth of January.

Some people are lucky enough to have more sense than to depend upon luck.

If you want to hunt for something hard to find, hunt for the Plymouth man who has at any time suffered an attack of writer's cramp from writing to his mother-in-law.

It may be that beauty is only skin deep, but some of the ladies seem to put it on thicker than that.

Citizens of Plymouth realize that the cost of living is pretty high, but they all seem to think it's worth it and are still trying to hang on.

Another argument that seems to have fallen by the wayside is the one that balded hair represents a saving of time.

Maybe it is better to be right than to be president, but everybody ought to try to be one or the other.

A knocker is a man who is always in debt to the fellows he uses the hammer on.

If there ever was a time when a Plymouth boy needs a friend, it's when he gets too big for short pants, but still has to wear them.

The saddest sight on earth is a one-arm man trying to show how big the fish was that got away.

It's a good thing for Plymouth men to remember that very often it takes more elbows than brains to push the front.

TOOLS HAVE STOOD TEST OF CENTURIES

Workers of Long Ago Not So Unscientific.

Modern civilization is very proud of itself for its achievements in technology. Everything, from the modern steam shovel to the tool that fashions mainsprings for watches, is hailed as proving how far advanced we are over the benighted, unscientific workers centuries ago. But an English scientist recently summed up the things wherein we use the same old methods employed hundreds and even thousands of year ago, and the list is a revelation.

Bricks furnish perhaps the most striking example. About 3,000 years ago a certain method was found for making bricks—the best method available then. We use practically the same composition today. An Egyptian brickmaker's mold of the Nineteenth dynasty is precisely the same in shape and construction as those which are used today in fields where bricks are still made by hand.

The modern square and plummet are also exactly like ancient Egyptian specimens, and the stone mason's mallet still retains the shape it had in 2350 B. C. Even the composition of the mortar has not changed for at least 2,000 years—lime and sand, with the addition of hair as a binding material, were used by Roman builders.

Consider the hide tanner. The chemist has made many changes, but oak bark is still the best—as it was almost the earliest tanning substance. Even linen has the first stage in its manufacture the same as it was in primitive times—the "retting" of the flax, either by steeping it in water or by simply exposing it to the dew, in order to remove the softer tissues and leave the fine fibers.

A humble thistle is still the best tool with which to raise the nap on woolen cloth, the nap being the external covering of fine short fibers that lie smoothly all in one direction. It is so expensive, however, that the machine process is usually preferred.

The origin of the potter's wheel is lost in antiquity, but those used today, although driven by electricity, differ practically not at all in pattern from those of ancient times.

From wall paintings found in Europe, it seems almost certain that the pipe of the modern glass blower has a direct descent of at least 4,500 years without essential change.

Machinery is all right for producing second-quality gold leaf, but the finest English gold leaf is still beaten by hand. The small pellet of gold is placed between layers of goldbeaters' skin (the prepared outside membrane of the large intestine of the ox) and hammered and rehammered with a wooden mallet, just as the best method has always been.

There are many more examples to this unending list of things where the tools of a past era are still supreme today—the snowshoe, the pestle and mortar of the chemist, the carpenter's nail, the navy's pick and—add your own observations.

Swinging Baskets Puzzle

For several months scientists have been puzzled by swinging baskets brought from Borneo and set up in the Peabody museum, Cambridge, Mass. As soon as they were in place, reports Popular Science Monthly, they began their peculiar swinging, which suggested perpetual motion. Many explanations for this phenomenon were offered, but none seemed to cover it satisfactorily. Some thought there was something supernatural about the baskets, since they were originally "grave offerings." Finally two young scientists succeeded in stopping them by putting a kink in the wire from which they hung.

Useful Organization

The organization known as P. E. O. was founded January 21, 1899, at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, by seven girls. At first it was simply a secret society of a local school, but spread until at the present time it is reported to have 30,000 members scattered through the different states. Its present object is the acquisition and disposition of an educational loan fund whereby young girls past high school, who have not the means to secure higher education, may make a loan for one or two years to carry them through the preparatory college classes.

Great Industry's Growth

The old Pearl street station in New York city was the first electric power plant to sell current. It began business September 4, 1892, with customers enough to use 400 incandescent lamps. One of the first subscribers was the firm of Drexel, Morgan & Co., predecessors to the present Morgan banking house. The first year's business saw an income of about $10,000 a month.

From this beginning the central station industry grew in 42 years to cover the country with plants and property valued at $7,500,000,000 and with an annual revenue of $1,470,000,000.

Evidently She'd Moved

Joseph had just returned from the country. Mamie, his sweetheart, who worked at the McDonald residence, had not written him during his absence and he greatly feared for her health. Therefore, he went straight to the McDonald house, even though it was after his customary bedtime.

As he came into the back yard, he noticed a dim light burning in the kitchen. He peeped in the window and beheld—a couple locked in loving embrace.

"I guess Mamie doesn't work here any more," said Joseph, and went on home to bed.—Princeton Tiger.

Cave's Evil Repute

Saved Soldier's Life

About three miles below Niagara falls on the American side is an immense cavern in the side of the gorge. It is reached from the bank by winding steps, cut in the solid rock, and a narrow path. The Indians believed that an evil spirit dwelt in this cavern, and that any one venturing in would meet with a swift death.

The entrance is low and forbidding, but the interior is large and lofty, a hill of clear, cold water trickles from the rocks at the further end. At the mouth of the cavern is a rock so shaped as to conceal the entrance from either direction until one is abreast of it—this is Ambush rock.

Not far off on a ledge jutting over the water and about a hundred feet above it is a rock fifteen feet long, the Council rock, around which the Indians met to transact tribal business, plan raids and smoke the peace pipe with friendly nations.

Bloody run, a small, turbulent stream, flows over the precipice above the ledge. It received its name when a detachment of ninety soldiers sent from Fort Niagara to Fort Schlosser to guard a wagon train of provisions was attacked by Senecas while encamped on the run, and massacred. Only three men escaped.

One leaped to his horse and galloped away, and one, a drummer boy, lodged in a tree halfway down the precipice when the Indians drove some of the soldiers over the brink. The third man fled to the cavern, and though pursued by the savages to the very entrance, so strong was the Indian belief in the evil power of the spirit of the cavern, and so sure were they that the white man would meet a more terrible death than they could devise, they went away without posting the usual couple of braves to wait for him to come out.

Women Poor Air Pilots

Women are not fit to pilot passenger-carrying airplanes and they never will be. So declares Maj. Oliver Stewart, English aviator. What is his reason? "They are too fearless!" "The fearless pilot is almost invariably a bad pilot," says the major. "Fear is the best of flying instructors, for it teaches the pupils what not to do, and it warns them in a memorable manner what will happen if they disobey. Women are without this instructor; they do not know physical fear. The typical Englishwoman, who is sufficiently courageous to play furlous football, and hic, hac, hockey, to fight for buses, to wear 'sensible' clothes in Paris, this woman, I say, should not be allowed with a blunt penknife in her hand, much less with the control stick of an airplane."
