WATCH THE MATCH
The sap has slowed down in the trees and leaves and grass are getting dry. October winds will soon cover the ground with highly inflammable material. For the next few weeks it will be an easy matter to drop a match most anywhere outdoors and start a dangerous conflagration. And once a fire is started in the open no one can hazard a guess as to where it is going to stop, or how vast the damage will be as a result of it. We feel sure everyone around Plymouth recognizes this fact, and we trust that unusual care will be used by those who light matches or make camp fires. We haven't the means for fighting fires in the rural districts we may have in the years to come; neither have we so much property we can afford to let some of it go up in smoke. So handle your matches carefully. Be sure they are out before you toss them away. And make sure no live coals are left to blow about when you leave a camp fire.

THE AVERAGE MAN
We see where a famous British author has suggested that England build a monument to "the average man," just as several countries have built them to their "unknown soldiers." It may sound like a foolish proposition, and yet when we pause to consider the value to the world of "the average man" we have to admit that a monument to his honor would not be out of place.

Presidents rule and legislators make laws, but the average man puts them in position to do so. Millionaires own our railroads, but the money of the average man, paid in fares and for freight and express makes it possible for the railroads to operate. Learned men write books and talented artists act on the stage and screen. But the books would not be read and the actors would never be heard of if the average man didn't give them his approval. The general public made up of average men, is after all the power that makes the world go round; the average man's money pays for railroads and autos and good roads and schools and churches—for practically everything the world can't get along without.

Take it here in Plymouth and when everything is said and done "the average man" makes it a good place to live in. The man who does just one specific thing and stops at that doesn't help very much. The one who is interested in everything that is good for himself and his neighbors is the one who keeps grass from growing in the middle of the streets—and the average man is the one who does that. But he doesn't want any monument because he's a long way from being dead.

THE FIVE-DAY WEEK
If there is anyone around Plymouth who thinks the U. S. is going in for about 52 extra holidays every year just because Henry Ford has inaugurated a five-day week, he is doomed to disappointment. Ford has put all of his industries—auto factory, lumber mill, coal mines, steel plants—on a five-day week. None of his 100,000 employees will work on Saturday or Sunday, but he says they will make as much money as when they worked the full six-day week. But other industries do not appear to be making any move to follow suit. In fact, others argue it would disrupt the country to try to make it general. So outside of the Ford Industries the five-day week looks to be a long time off. It looks so far away, in fact, that we wouldn't advise any of our workers in this territory to start in planning what they are going to do with two days to loaf in out of every seven.

BAD CHECKS
For a long time Michigan seemed to be a fertile field for the bad check artist. Gangs recruited in Indiana and Ohio swept through the state, leaving in their wake a sadder and wiser individual who had listened to their plausible tale about being in need of temporary funds. Due to prompt work on the part of credit associations and the newspapers they have been curbed for the time being. As these fellows apparently move in cycles, going from one state to another following exposure of their operations, it is about time we were due for another visit. Watch for them. Make it a hard business rule never to cash a check for a stranger. Remember the policy of the restaurant keeper who put a sign over the cash register: "We have an understanding with the bank; we cash no checks, the bank will serve no meals."

Picked Up About Town
"One of the trying times in a woman's life," says Dad Plymouth, "is when she is too old to be a girl and not old enough to be a woman."

It isn't hard to kill time. The hardest thing is to dispose of the remains.

Dad Plymouth says the fellow who used to put notes on his gun now has a son who puts them on his bumper.

It's all right for a man to own a string of race horses if he doesn't have to depend upon them for a living.

We may be able to pick our friends, but when a friend is properly picked what good is he anyway?

"It's an art to know how to make money," declares Dad Plymouth, "and an accomplishment to know how to keep it after you get it."

Dad Plymouth says this would be a far better community if we'd quit worshipping heroes who live a long way off and take to paying a little more attention to good citizens who live around here.

PLAN MARBLE SHAFT FOR HISTORIC SPOT

Site of Fort Washington to Be Preserved.
Elaborate plans have been made for restoring historic Fort Washington and marking the site with a suitable memorial. A portion of the ground occupied by the fort has been set aside recently as a public park. The plans include the rebuilding of the famous ramparts and other details of the stronghold in their original form. From the site of the fort will also rise a great marble shaft, similar to the Bunker Hill monument, but rising to a greater altitude and set upon a more elaborate base.

The Fort Washington monument will rise to a height of 250 feet from the crest of the highest ground on Manhattan island. It will easily dominate the northern regions of the city and be a conspicuous landmark from the harbor as well as from points up the Hudson river.
Despite New York's wealth of historic associations it has no adequate memorial of the Revolutionary period. It is considered especially fitting that such a memorial should take form on the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Revolution. The Fort Washington shaft will doubtless be pointed out in future as one of the show places of New York.
The restoration of the fort will be carried out with intelligence and sympathy. By a fortunate chance a considerable section of the area occupied by the main fortifications has been preserved. When the city came to be laid out, several streets crossed the site and rows of apartment houses now closely encroach upon all sides. The greater part of the fortifications on the south, however, has not been built upon in a century and a half. A slight elevation may still be observed which once formed part of the ramparts.

The historians who have made a study of this region have been aided by several old maps which show in detail the original forms of the fortification. With these guides much of the ground once covered by the fort has been carefully dug over and the earth sifted for relics of the past. Many interesting mementoes have been discovered, including hundreds of buttons from the uniforms of the soldiers once encamped here, which serve to identify the various regiments of both armies. Many years ago when a farmhouse was built here many tons of cannonballs and other relics were discovered and sold as junk.

The monument will be built of granite, including the elaborate colonnade. Although its general lines suggest the Washington and the Bunker Hill monuments, the shaft at Fort Washington will have several distinctive features. The graceful colonnade or peristyle at its base will be an interesting decorative feature. This in turn will be banked by groups of trees and thick foliage.
The shaft will be ornamented with appropriate designs which will relieve the rigid appearance of so tall a marble.

Knotty Legal Problem
Divorce news from San Francisco: To whom does the warm spot in the bed belong on a cold night—the wife who first climbed between the icy sheets or the husband who comes home later and demands the coveted place as lord of the household? Superior Judge Van Nostrand has the perplexing problem to decide in the divorce suit of Mrs. Anna Welsinger and Jack Welsinger. The testimony was that the police were called to the Welsinger home one night last winter to quiet a war that started when Welsinger ordered his wife to move over and she insisted on remaining in the spot she had warmed up.—From "Americana" in the American Mercury.

Dog's Foot Fired Gun
Misses one eye and two fingers an Austrian game warden named Kurzbauer is now convalescing in the Vienna hospital from the effects of gunshot wounds inflicted by his own dog. Kurzbauer left his loaded gun leaning on the end of the boat while he jumped out to make the anchor rope fast. While Kurzbauer was busy with the rope the dog made a spring for the shore. One of the dog's feet had been resting on the trigger of the gun and as he jumped he fired the gun. Kurzbauer, who was bending over at the time received part of the charge in his left eye and part in his left hand.

Fruit Washed by Machines
Washing machines have been developed for service in the apple-packing industry. The fruit is cleaned, all residue from spraying removed, and the color of the fruit heightened by the friction by means of 500 bits of canvas whipped on and about the apples as they pass over the revolving rollers, with a fan for removing all particles of dust. The treatment insures sanitary fruit and adds greatly to its appearance.

Filipinos Take to Wheat
Consumption of wheat flour in the Philippines has increased in the last few years. Figures of the bureau of commerce and industry show that although rice is the chief staple the Filipinos are using bread as a supplementary food generally and in some cases as their principal article of diet. Wheat importations last year were 76,000 tons as compared with 45,000 tons in 1921. Four-fifths came from the United States.

Pastor's Unique Idea
Two hundred of the 950 couples married by Rev. Stanley B. Roberts during the 37 years he has been pastor at Minneapolis, Minn., were invited to attend a reception given by the pastor and his wife. Couples who are grandparents, down the scale of age to those who were still honeymooners, were included in the list. All would have been invited, but Doctor Roberts could find the addresses of only 200 couples.

EGG RACE CLOSE AS HENS ENTER STRETCH

ALL RECORDS BEING BROKEN IN ANNUAL LAYING CONTEST AT MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE.
With only forty-two eggs separating the four highest pens in the annual International Egg Laying Contest at the Michigan State College, and with less than a month to go before the end of the test, the closest and most thrilling finish in the famous "egg marathon" is being predicted by officials in charge.
All records for the Michigan contest are being broken by the birds entered this year. An average of 186 eggs per bird for the 1,000 hens in the contest was noted at the end of the 48th week, as compared with last year's record average of 168 eggs at the same period in the contest, which ends on November 1st.

The high ranking pens of ten birds each, on October second, were as follows: Hanson's White Leghorn Farm, Corvallis, Oregon, 2,384 eggs; J. Pater & Son, Hudsonville, Michigan, 2,360; Marshall Farms, Mobile, Alabama, 2,359; George S. Sutton, Aurora, Ind., 2,342; George B. Ferris, Grand Rapids, Mich., 2,327.

WHY WAIT ANY LONGER?

You're thinking about a new suit, aren't you? So why defer it—why not own one now, this week?

On meeting an old friend, you wouldn't say, "Hello there, Chuck, I want you to come up to the house to dinner some time in November 1930."

But that's what you're doing in clothing.

Why drive the old model any longer? Get a new one.

World Without Trees

Merely Barren Waste

Trees protect health by helping to purify the air. The foliage of trees exudes moisture in rainless periods, preventing extreme hot weather.

The forest floor absorbs most of the water from rain and melting snows, releasing it evenly and regularly into the streams, so that there will not be floods and the fertility of farm lands will not be destroyed by erosion.

Trees restore the fertility of waste lands by causing the accumulation of vegetation that forms a topsoil and contributes elements essential to plant life.

Trees shade streams from the sun, preventing evaporation and complete drying up of small streams.

Trees break the force of the wind, protecting homes, orchards and crops.

Trees shelter the birds which destroy insects that prey upon human and plant life.

Fossils furnish refuge for game, giving mankind food, furs and hunting.

Trees provide health through opportunity for recreation and through the pure air, water, herbs, oil and drugs they also men.

Trees furnish paper for newspapers, magazines and books and are important in advancing education.

Trees furnish nuts, berries, maple syrup, honey, flavoring extracts, many fruits and other foods.

Trees furnish lumber for the building of homes and the making of thousands of articles in daily use.

Trees are an important factor in transportation by rail or water; they provide also for telephone communication.

Forests are important in protecting water-power resources from which are obtained power and light to make homes comfortable and turn the wheels of industry.

Few Aristocratic Beauties

An effort has recently been made in Paris to decide once for all what type of face is truly aristocratic. In order to accomplish this, 70 women of the old aristocracy were photographed. To qualify for this distinction one must be able to prove that not for two centuries has there been an admixture of non-aristocratic or foreign blood. Those with an English or a German or an Italian ancestor or two need not apply, even though those forebears were dukes or princes.

Having secured the gallery of ladies of undoubted stock, generalizations as to features were then made. It then became apparent that the true French aristocrat was not necessarily beautiful. Her nose was long and thin and her eyes were well shaped, though a trifle prominent.

Soviet Claims Resented

A curious controversy has arisen with regard to a fund which was bequeathed by a Dutchman in 1514 to the Russian Academy of Sciences and which never was paid. It is claimed now by the present managing committee of the academy. As the Soviet government, however, has declared that it is not bound by the treaties concluded by Russian imperial governments with other powers, it is doubted whether the academy has any right to proclaim itself the legal successor of the former academy. There is no jurisprudence in the country providing for such cases, but Dutch public opinion strongly disapproves the assurance of the Russians to put in a claim while owing 1,200,000 guilders (about $480,000) to Dutch investors.

Where America Is Behind

Little New Zealand, an island under British domination, on the other side of the globe, has an infant mortality rate of 99.96 for every 1,000 live births, the lowest of any nation on earth. In Wellington, its important city, the rate was 35, and in Dunedin 38. In the United States the rate for 1925 was 72, nearly twice that of New Zealand. Despite American progress, we still have much to learn from our neighbors.—Capper's Weekly.

Wireless in Belgian Congo

Several wireless stations have been completed in the Belgian Congo. The one at Katubu was in full operation at the end of April, and the Soloto station was to be commissioned soon afterward. The wireless stations at Coquilhatville, Lisala, and at Albertville, will begin operations about the first of 1927. The Coquilhatville station will use short wave length, and the contractor has guaranteed through communications with Belgium.

TEMPLE THEATRE

Detroit, Michigan

Nicola, one of the most amazing mystics of all times, headlines the bill at R. F. Keith's Temple theatre starting Sunday, October 17th. Perhaps his outstanding feat is that in which a beautiful woman is tied with a rope to a rack and her head and limbs stretched for yards. Nicola makes a jail break from a prison cell in full view of the audience that is the last word in mechanical ingenuity. Others billed: Herbert Williams and Company, vanderbilt's favorite buffoon. "The Bells," Danny Dare in a Terpsichorean fantasy with Pauline Gaschins, Harriet Cole and Carrie and Eddy; James Thornton in "Just a Jester"; Hyde and Burrill in a routine of singing, dancing and instrumental music; Jean Boydell, known as "The Unique Peepologist"; Betts and Parrner, equilibrist; Gintano, the original top spinner, and the screen subjects.

ROSEDALE GARDENS

The Community Club, with Mr. Sullivan as chairman, held a dance on Friday evening, at Perrinville. Refreshments were served, and music was furnished by a Plymouth orchestra. Everyone attending reported a good time.

W. W. Hodson has returned from a business trip to New York City. He reports that the hottest day of the year there was October 6th.

The Tuesday Sewing Club met with Mrs. Sullivan.

The Rosedale Bridge Club met on Wednesday, October 6th, with Mrs. W. W. Hodson. Luncheon was served at one, and the afternoon spent at bridge.

The H. D. Sheldon Sons held a special meeting with the Livonia township school board on Tuesday evening, October 12.

LAND OF TUMULT AND BLAZING SUN

Cyrenaica Has Never Acknowledged a Conqueror.

Another revolt has been quelled in North Africa, according to news from Rome. Senussi tribesmen and an Italian detachment battled at a dry creek bed deep in Cyrenaica.

Many nations have endeavored to put the Cyrenaicans in their place, says a bulletin of the National Geographic society, that place being, of course, in control of a recognized power. The list begins with Greece in 700, B. C., not A. D., and is jeweled with such conquerors as Rome, the Moors, and, preceding Italy, came Turkey. But no matter what the title line, the text of every chapter in Cyrenaica's history has the word "revolt" sprinkled liberally through the pages.

Perhaps it is because there are few schools that the natives never learn to read the treaties solemnly signed in Paris, Vienna or elsewhere, which have given Cyrenaica to this nation or to that. Or it may be that nature leads the revolt. Possibly the nation has not yet risen which can impose her will in this kingdom of the blazing sun. Certain it is that news of a battle on the central plateau is not new, but the back drop against which the affair was staged is one to make a civilized audience sit up and take interest.

Cyrenaica can be called a Gibson headland of North Africa. The round brow of it facing across the blue Mediterranean toward Greece is surmounted by the pompadour characteristic of the "Gibson girl" in the form of a range of limestone hills. They rise from the shore almost as steeply as a cliff and then slope away toward the back. Benghazi, port on the west, and Solum on the Egyptian border, are in the position of "temples" to the headland. Cyrenaica runs inland as far as British Libya, covering an area almost as large as Texas. The British say that British Libya runs as far north as Cyrenaica. Exact location of the border is a secret whispered by the roving sands of the Sahara and understood by not more than a few very close-mouthed Arabs.

Nevertheless great men have been born in Cyrenaica. When civilization was in swaddling clothes the Greeks knew the limestone ridge as the Gardens of Hesperides. From ancient Cyrene, a city of 100,000, up on the ridge amid groves and grass, came poets, and philosophers and statesmen to contribute to the glory that was Greece. Cyrene today houses a few dirty Bedouin families in the rifled tombs of the "largest and finest graveyard in the world," preserved from the wreck of the Greek era.

Even back on the central plateau, which drops off to a line of salt marsh oases and then merges with the desert, there are remnants of a dead civilization. One comes upon broken bits of pottery and other mystifying relics in a region which is blasted and blistered by the red sun for eleven months of the year. The twelfth month is the brief season after the January rains. Every dried shrub miraculously produces olive-green leaves. The magic wand of water re-creates grass from under the bushes whose branches have protected the grass roots. Beautiful flowers carpet the plain. Larks sing and robins, down from Europe for the season, hop blithely about. Spring is just as wonderful in a land that has no winter.

Save Surveyor's Life

Scout first aid is credited with saving a member of a Kansas surveying gang from bleeding to death.

While Jack Taylor was clearing stumps from a new road site near Junction City, his ax slipped and severed two arteries in his left leg. The blood gushed from the double wound with alarming speed. Taylor's three companions, all former scouts, were, however, prepared by their training to meet the emergency. Applying a tourniquet they stopped the flow of blood, and then transported their friend 18 miles to the city for medical attention.

Without the first-aid measures, it was declared, Taylor would have died from loss of blood.

Good Turn in Miles

A good turn measuring hundreds of miles, is chalked up to the credit of Troop 23, a ten-year veteran group, of Newark, N. J.

Twelve blind men were conducted back and forth to work, a distance of one mile each day, for a specified time, by members of this troop. The good turn aggregated 1,500 miles. The work of escorting the sightless men required that the boys be on hand at 7:30 each morning and to report again at 5:00 at night.

So well did the boys accept the responsibility that not once during the period regardless of weather conditions did they fail to report.

World's Fastest Wheel

The fastest revolving wheel in the world, according to estimates of experts, is the turbine wheel on the special supercharger of the airplane used by Lieut. John Macready in his recent attempts to better the world's altitude record. It revolves at the almost inconceivable speed of 40,000 revolutions a minute—almost 700 a second, says Popular Science Monthly. This is about twenty times the highest speed of an automobile crankshaft.

Brick Industry Important

That the brick industry is one of the basic industries of the nation is a fact that is not quite appreciated by many well-informed members of the building public. In 1925 the approximately ten billion brick produced in the United States required for manufacture 30,000,000 cubic yards of clay and shale which was excavated or mined. This is equal to a column of clay covering an acre and just a little short of 24 miles high.

NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES

(By Elda Foerster)

Miss Cochrane visited school Tuesday. She complimented the Intermediate citizenship club.

The officers of the Intermediate grades citizenship club are: Clarence Levandowski, president; Warner Bussett, vice president; Amalia Zielasko, secretary; Harold Stevens, health officer.

The officers of the grammar grades are: Donald Dunn, president; Elba Foerster, vice president; Mary Bennett, secretary; Thomas Levandowski, health officer.

Miss Cochrane also left the gold star cards.

Miss Griffith visited school, Wednesday afternoon.

The fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades have received their geography work books. They are taking the Stanford achievement tests.

The third grade has enjoyed the reading books in seat work.

The boys and girls of all rooms are filling two Christmas boxes, to be sent overseas as Christmas gifts.

BARTLETT SCHOOL NOTES

(By Amy Blackford)

Miss Fisher examined our eyes, heads and measured and weighed us. Miss Winchell, our county nurse, came out to visit us. She told us how important good posture is.

We have started our health chores. They are very different from the ones we had last year. We are also having a race in inspection. The room is divided into two groups, each group trying to get ahead of the other. Each morning each pupil is inspected for clean hands, clean nails, clean teeth, combed hair and a handkerchief. If everyone in the group is perfect, they go twenty-five miles toward "Health Land." The health officers are Thelma Tegg and Beatrice Smith.

Miss Olive Grimm, the county social worker, came out to see us again. We were very glad to see her. She recalled some of the things she had told us before, to see if we had been thinking about them, and talked to the new children.

We enjoyed our first Parent-Teacher meeting, Monday evening, October 3rd, very much. In the business meeting, hot lunches were discussed. Miss Oliphant, the Wayne county librarian, was here and told some very interesting stories. Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Tegg and Mrs. Smith acted on refreshment committee.

We all had a good time at the autumn festival, last Thursday evening. We decorated the window of the "George Washington" confectionery store. Claude Maynard, Jack Travis and Walter Schroer judged corn.

The eighth grade has been studying pictures, which were: "The Boy With the Rabbit," "The Song of the Lark," "Dignity and Impudence," "Age of Innocence," "Sir Galahad," "The Money Counter," "Deer in Twilight." They were all very interesting, and we enjoyed them very much. Some of them were mounted.

Some very good relief maps of South America were constructed by the seventh grade. They will complete the study of it this week.

Leonard Hoek, Harriett Tillotson, Walter Schroer and Ina May Shotka were not absent or tardy last month.

We are very proud of the fact that two of the mothers have visited school. Mrs. Everett and Mrs. Reeder, and we hope more of them will come soon.

"I suffered from kidney trouble. Misery to stoop, agony to rise up, just sick all over. Foley Pills, a drastic stimulant for the kidneys, made a big difference in me. I feel like another person, stronger and better in every way."

Cortez' Restless Bones

Hernando Cortez, according to a recent report in an Italian newspaper, has been buried and reburied six times. Now the dust of the great Spanish conqueror of Mexico rests in fact in a secret crypt in a remote town in Mexico. But it is uneasy dust. Cortez is to be reinterred again. The Spanish government has requested the Mexican government to return the remains for burial in Spain. But Prince Valerio Pignatelli, an Italian and a lineal descendant of Cortez, asks that the remains be brought to Italy. There is a considerable movement on foot in Italy to see that this is done. The burial spot chosen is near Guernavaca, for many generations the ancestral home of the Cortez clan.—Chicago Daily News.

NEWBURG

Rev. Walker took for his theme last Sunday, "The Imprisonment of the Soul." The choir did due under the leadership of Mrs. Neal Leonard. Each member of the Sunday-school is requested to invite someone to attend. There should be at larger attendance in Sunday-school with the large day school.

Joy McNabb led the Epworth League Sunday evening. They meet at 7:30. Everyone cordially invited to all the services.

The L. A. S. home-coming and bazaar will be held Friday afternoon and evening, October 22, at their hall. All who will do so are asked to furnish an apron or piece of fancy work. Some home made candy and also vegetables and apples are also solicited. Don't forget something for the fish pond. Further notice in next week's Plymouth Mail.

Mr. and Mrs. James McNabb entertained Rev. Walker for Sunday dinner.

The pastor and wife expect to be settled in the parsonage this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ryder and son, Bert, called on their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ryder, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Norris and son, Walter, of Strathmoor, spent Sunday at the parental home.

C. E. Ryder attended the stock show at the state fair grounds, Tuesday.

The Lyovola Center Community church will hold their fair November 11, at the Newburg Gleaner hall.

Newburg P. T. A. Notes

The Parent-Teacher meeting, held last week Tuesday evening, was well attended and much was accomplished.

The meeting opened with community singing of "America, the Beautiful," followed by a very interesting talk on "Columbus," by Miss Mary Bennett. A recitation, "Sail On, Sail On," was given by Miss Avis Perkins, and "The Children's Hour," by little Miss Alice Bakewell. The business meeting, conducted by Mrs. J. F. Rousseau, president, resulted in the following committees being appointed:

Flower committee—Miss Hazel Reddeman and Mrs. Olsten.

Refreshment Committee—Mrs. Bassett.

Committee on social to be held the second week in November—Mrs. Bassett, Mrs. Olsten, Mrs. Hearn, Mrs. Thompson, Miss Grimes.

Committee to see about gas stove—Mrs. J. F. Rousseau and Mrs. Hearn.

Committee appointed to arrange for play to be given in January—Mrs. Harmon Gates, Alfred Bakewell, Mrs. Arthur Allen, Mrs. Thomas, Miss H. Reddeman and Mrs. Waterman.

A most hearty welcome was accorded our new teacher, Miss Grimes, after which refreshments were served. The meeting adjourned until the second Tuesday in November.

STARK

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Fisher and daughter, Mrs. A. Jeffries of the Robinson Subdivision, visited Mr. and Mrs. Amiel Larden, Sunday.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. McKluney has been very ill with stomach trouble.

Mrs. Herman McKillet of Northville, called on Mrs. Wm. Renyer, Monday.

Albert Willis was injured Tuesday of last week, when an automobile he was driving collided with one driven by Ralph Miller of Ann Arbor, at the Ford and Wayne roads. Willis was taken to his home, where it was said he was suffering from concussion of the brain, and on Sunday morning, while eating breakfast, his jaw broke. None of the occupants of Miller's car were injured despite the fact that the car turned over.

Miss Martha Swartz is on the sick list.

Delbert Maynard, who is working in Detroit, and John Maynard of Redford, called on Mrs. Maynard, Tuesday evening.

Bachelors Had Little Standing in Colonies

Romance is a subject not usually associated with the early New Englanders, but it, or marriage at least, was an absorbing interest which offered parents, relatives and dignified elders of the community a thoroughly enjoyed opportunity to manage, interfere and meddle, says the Antiquarian. Not to be married was more than a calamity; it was virtually a disgrace. A bachelor was a harassed creature, looked at askance and sometimes taxed for failure to assume domestic obligations.

Parents or guardians began to look around for suitable husbands as girls approached seventeen or eighteen. If not at once successful, the hunt became more and more feverish as time went on. A girl who was still single at twenty-four was given up as beyond saving, and by the time she was thirty she was regarded as being in what seems to us now the last stages of venerable spinsterhood. The popular name for such women was "thorn-backs."

As was the case with most New England customs, very practical reasons underlay this intense concern about marriage. A man needed a wife more than any other possession, for the scarcity of inns and the total absence in small settlements of any accommodations for single persons made a home imperative. A woman needed the protection of a husband among the dangers and uncertainties of colonial life.

Marriage was for the old as well as the young. So it was not unusual to find a widower of sixty-five, who had survived three or four wives perhaps, gravely conferring with friends a few weeks after his latest bereavement, as to the best choice for his next venture. Widows were much sought because of the stability which was thought to go with their mature years, and one may suspect there was an equal attraction in the comfortable inheritance which many widows had.

Rubber Paving Indorsed

Tests on rubber block pavement, laid one and one-half years ago at the entrance to the City hospital in Boston, are said to have shown marked advantages. In addition to having worn only little during the interval, the pavement has the advantage that snow and ice do not collect on it in winter as on other types of pavement, thus doing away with slipperiness. The blocks are also almost noiseless and vibrationless. These rubber paving blocks are an invention of R. F. Herick, a consulting engineer of Boston. They are made largely of reclaimed rubber. Those used in the present test are 12 by 6 inches in area and 2 inches thick, and are laid in plastic sand and cement directly on the street foundation. A coat of asphalt paint was given their edges immediately before laying.

Mountain Potatoes

W. B. Yates, the Irish poet, told an Irish story on one of his American visits.

"There was a village in the county of Waterford," he said, "where a shopkeeper once exhibited a number of coconuts for the first time. Of course they attracted a good deal of attention.

"A crowd of schoolboys gathered round the window, discussing the coconuts and giving their views as to what the curious things might be, and finally a Ballyduff lad named O'tourke walked into the shop and said:

"Plaze, sir, and what's the price o' them thunderin' big stumps o' mountain potatoes with whiskers on 'em in the window?"

THE BABY CLINIC

What is the real value of a baby? A baby seems to be a king at home. But what is the value to the community? The answer is, its worth in good health—most people are afraid of a sick baby.

The baby clinic Wednesday afternoon was one of the liveliest places in town—so very many babies came and brought their mothers for instruction and encouragement, and, oh, how much good cheer was in evidence. This clinic has been a remarkable asset to Plymouth, and has accomplished very much. This year there are already registered 56 babies under two years of age and many over two—the pre-school age. No fees are needed to join this mother-baby club, and all babies under five, who wish to keep well, are invited. It will soon be necessary to have meetings twice a month. Dr. Brady and Miss Bold, the Red Cross nurse, are in charge.

Tuesday, at one o'clock, toxin anti-toxin will be given both to school and pre-school age children, the former needing a written permit. Wise parents who know the terrible diphtheria effects will safeguard their children at once, and help make the disease ancient history in Michigan as other cities are doing.

BOXING PROGRAM DRAWS GOOD CROWD.

Young Matevia fought a draw with the fast light-heavyweight of Detroit, in the main go, at the Tomquish temple last week Wednesday evening. Doris had the best of the first three rounds, but from then on the Plymouth boy looked much the better. Matevia was handicapped in the early rounds, due to a foreign body in his right eye, and it was while he was blinded that Doris made his smashing attack which Matevia withstood, only to come back stronger in each succeeding round.

The fans repeatedly cheered and were much pleased at the gallantries of the Plymouth boy, and the showing he made against his more experienced opponent. They will again see him in action against one of the three challengers on October 27th.

Harry Webb easily outpointed Battling Monolski of Selfridge, and Lullar, another Detroit boxer, won from Stan Coulton by the knockout route. The preliminary was an interesting three round bout between Foster Howell of Plymouth and Dutch Schwab of Northville. This was the first bout for both lads, and each made a good showing.

LOCAL NEWS

Next Sunday, October 17th, they both sing and preach, Erskine and Vanputten, at Baptist church. Come.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierre S. Bennett left Sunday morning for a two weeks' auto trip to Boston, New York, Washington and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Shaw, Miss Partridge and Miss Minnie Traut motored to Ovid, last Saturday, where they spent the week-end visiting friends.

Mrs. Nettie Stewart, who has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. William T. Pettigill, the past two weeks, has returned to her home in Peru, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Burke M. Graham of Detroit, were 6:00 o'clock dinner guests, Tuesday, of Mrs. Graham's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Stringer.

For two weeks beginning October 17th, revival meetings at the Baptist church, Erskine and Vanputten. Everyone invited. Great preaching and singing.

Ray Murray will open a new auto supply store at 768 Penniman avenue, next Saturday, October 16th. Mr. Murray will also do battery recharging and tire repairing.

Henry Hutton and friend, Robert Lowry, who are attending M. S. C., spent the week-end at the former's home here. They also attended the foot ball game at Ann Arbor.

A report of the condition of the Plymouth United Savings Bank will be found in this issue. The totals show a nice increase over the last statement.

Miss Mabel Spicer has again taken up her work in the educational department of the Jello Company, and expects to be in Detroit for a month or two, and left for that city last Monday.

Egbert Isbell, a former Plymouth boy, who won a scholarship at the University of Michigan, landed in Europe, September 27th. He will study for the next year at the University of Breslau, Germany.

In the auction sale ad of August Krumm in last week's paper, the name of Jesse Ziegler as clerk was omitted by a mistake. Mr. Ziegler will act as clerk at this sale which takes place Thursday, October 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kluse and daughter, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wilson of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Burden and sons, Arvid and Haldor, called at the home of Mrs. T. Bird on the Powell road, Sunday evening.

Friends of Mrs. Etta Dunn Rider of Baltimore, Md., will be sorry to learn of the death of Mr. Rider, which occurred in that city, October 8th, 1926. Mr. Rider was very well known in the theatrical world, having been manager of several companies in Detroit and elsewhere. Mrs. Rider is well known in Plymouth, having been a resident here for many years.

Each Day New Proof of Pontiac Six Supremacy

Now rapidly approaching the 75,000 mark, Pontiac Six Production incontestably proves that there was a demand for a low-priced six of high quality—and that the Pontiac Six meets that demand like no other car in the world!

In all the thirty-one years of automotive history, the greatest first full year's production ever attained by any new make of automobile did not exceed thirty-three thousand cars. Yet the Pontiac Six, introduced only nine months ago, has already more than doubled that figure.

This impressive achievement is based not only on the brilliant beauty and spacious comfort that the Pontiac Six offers at so low a price, but also on stamina, ruggedness and thrilling performance which stamp it a triumph of quality car design and construction.

Pontiac Six, Sedan or Coupe, $825, Oakland Six, companion to Pontiac Six—$1025 to $1295. All prices at factory. Easy to pay on the Liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

Do not fail to see these automobiles in the Fall showing of General Motors Corporation, October 9-16th, in the General Motors Building, or here in our own showrooms.

Girl Reserves

This was the theme of the High School Setting-up Conference of the Girl Reserves, held in Birmingham, Saturday, October 9th. The Girl Reserves were compared with the builders of some great thing. Each part of the building corresponded with some part of the Girl Reserve aims and purpose.

The members of the cabinet who attended were: Katherine Wilcox, president; Beulah Fisher, vice president; Edna Gottschalk, secretary; Marie Miller, program chairman; Dorothy Hillman, social chairman; Ruth Allison, inter-club-council representative; Ruth Waterman, corresponding secretary; Marian Hickey, service chairman; Josephine Schmidt, treasurer; Joy McNabb, ring chairman; Barbara Horton, publicity chairman; Miss E. M. Allen, advisor; Miss Helen Wells, advisor.

In Plymouth, the Girl Reserve Club has always been limited to the eleventh and twelfth grade girls, but this year it was decided to have a new group organized for those girls in the ninth and tenth grades, and have only the eleventh and twelfth grades in the old club. The charter club was to organize and initiate the new club group.

The recognition service took place Friday evening, October 8th, at the Horton home. There were forty-six people present, five of whom were faculty advisers. The ceremony was very impressive, the candle service being used. Katherine Wilcox, the Girl Reserve president, presided. Ruth Allison gave an effective and impressive little talk on the Ideals of the Girl Reserves. Everyone enjoyed the apples, popcorn balls and grape juice served at the close of the service.

The members of the faculty who were present were: Miss Allen, Miss Wells, Mrs. Crumlie, Miss Roe and Miss Schmidt.

The girls initiated were: Kathryn VanAken, June Wagenschütz, Anna Wagenschütz, Dorothy Bentley, Velma Petz, Gertrude Grainger, Margaret Dennie, Ruth Hamilton, Rheia Peck, Angeline Rousseau, Alice Gilbert, Irene Krauter, Heloise Travis, Lillian Lee, Helen Carruthers, Hazel Rayner, Frances Sadow, Dorothy Sly, Leona Garchow, Naomi Huston, Luella Criger, Margaret Dunning, Charlotte Leonard and Florence Schmidt.

—Barbara Horton

The 4-A class had two perfect scores in the last arithmetic Workbooks test. They were made by Gertrude Miller and Harold Schmidt.

The 4-A names on the spelling honor chart were: Albertin Drews, Ernestine Hartung, Gertrude Miller, Mary Robson, Harold Schmidt, Goddie Tomcray, Marguerite Williams and Fredrick Stauffer.

The students of the 6-B who received twelve stars on the honor roll for the past month, will have a reading period given them Wednesday afternoon. They are: Kenneth Green, Ardath Baker, Mary Price, Burnse Delno, Ruth Hadley, Alfred Gates, Billy Roy, Margaret Stoneburner and George Straub.

In literature class, Friday afternoon, Kenneth Green rendered some very pleasing solos, which were greatly enjoyed. Ruth Hadley was then chosen chairman of the next Friday's meeting of the Literary Club.

The following monitors were chosen for the week: Room monitor, Ruth Hadley; hall monitors, Rose Albrecht, Marie Humphries, Frederick Hadley, Robert Johnson.

Domestic Science and Art

The seventh grade domestic art girls are learning the beginning steps in sewing. Running stitch, back stitch, combination stitch, gathering, overcasting and over hand stitches are first to be learned. Then comes seams, plain, French, flat fell and standing fell. The French hemming was done last week on tea towels of linen for the cooking department.

The eighth grade domestic science pupils have prepared a breakfast—beverages, cinnamon toast, French toast and buttered toast. They are learning the value of fruits and their place in the diet.

The next few weeks will be spent in preparing breakfast foods for the growing girl.

—Winifred Carl

Girls' Physical Training Fall Activities

The physical training classes are divided into teams, and leaders are chosen from the best athletes. In the games that are played, teamwork is necessary. Outdoor work is more beneficial, but often bad weather keeps us inside.

—Winifred Carl

In manual training the seventh and eighth grades are lettering. They printed signs for the game we had with Howell. The person having the best sign received a free ticket to the game. The same will be awarded to the person printing the best sign for the next home game.

The physical training boys of the seventh and eighth grades are enjoying exercises, playing games and marching.

BOY SCOUTS

Plymouth Boy Scouts, of which Mr. Snively is Scoutmaster, held their regular meeting at the Methodist Community Hall, Thursday evening, October 7th. This meeting was held for the purpose of initiation. As is customary the boys gave a banquet to which the mother of each Boy Scout was invited.

The meeting was well attended by mothers and members of the Court of Honor. Mr. and Mrs. Pocatnic, an Indian and his wife, who are touring America, were also there.

Mr. Pocatnic gave an interesting talk on the Indian Boy Scouts, of which he is Scoutmaster. In concluding his talk, he invited the Boy Scouts of Plymouth to his tent at the tourist camp, to give them instructions on blazing trails, scouting and various hints regarding Scout work. He presented the troop with a photo of himself in full Indian dress. This is the first photo he has ever given of himself to any troop in America.

Scoutmaster Snively introduced Mr. Page and Mr. Weatherman as assistant Scoutmasters of the Plymouth troop. Both of these men gave short talks on Boy Scout work, and thanked the mothers for their interest.

The new recruits to be initiated were: Harvey Segnitz, Donald Atkinson, John Randall, Steve Rihar, Gerald Hendorp and Andrew Patrick. They were given the degrees after the banquet.

The meeting and banquet was a great success, which serves as a real inspiration to the boys.

—Harvey Segnitz

Grade Notes

Clare Ruthuff and Miles Chapman entered kindergarten this week.

The kindergarten children are coloring and cutting out autumn leaves and squirrels.

Richard Kirehoff has left for Detroit, where he will finish the 2-B year.

Miss Stader is impressing the health rally upon the 1-A and 2-B, by drawing charts and pictures.

The children of the 1-B grade are decorating their room with red and yellow maple leaves, which they are making.

For nature study in the 1-B, the children are bringing cocoons and caterpillars to school.

In language in the 1-B, the pupils are memorizing the poem, "Come Little Leaves."

Mrs. Loth visited the 5-B of Mrs. Bird's room, and found the children preparing autumn designs.

Olive Adams has left Miss Dixon's room, and has moved to Battle Creek.

The 6-B Geography class made product maps of South America, this last week.

There are fifteen people in Miss

Halahan's room, who have not missed a spelling word this month.

Ira Stralman is absent from the third grade, because of scarlet fever.

Norman VanArsdale has left the third grade and moved to Flint.

Miss Feener's Healthy Living class has just finished the subject of "Sleep." They are collecting pictures representing sleep.

Mrs. Blossom's 2-A are glad to have Howard Gladman back again, after being absent on account of blood poisoning in his hand.

The "Brownie class" is increasing and now have a number of 22. The "Brownie class" is a self-directing reading class.

The 2-B children in Miss Hartford's room are making nature study booklets, about "Stories of the Month." Just now they are very busy making October's stories and pictures.

Sixteen pupils have been neither absent nor tardy this month in Miss Hartford's room.

The 5-B pupils in Mrs. Mole's room are working on booklets about South America. They have found pictures of the products of each country, studied and then pasted them in booklets.

The names on the spelling honor chart for last week were: Catherine Compton, Wilbur Kincaid, John Mandl, Clyde Roschke and Arden Sackett.

THE GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts meet once a week with outdoor hikes after school.

They are planning to initiate the Tenderfoot Scouts who have recently joined. The Tenderfoot test consists of (1) knot tying, (2) respect to the flag, (3) know chief officials of the town, state and country, (4) be able to make an American flag in correct proportions.

The group this year will number about thirty-five, and already show promise of a very busy year.

An entire group is called a troop. This is divided into groups of eight, which are called patrols.

Elizabeth Burrows was re-elected first lieutenant. The patrol leaders are yet to be selected.

Miss Grant has been invited to assist Miss Smith with the Girl Scout work this year. We are certain that the work will be interesting and instructive with Miss Grant and Miss Smith as leaders.

—Marion Tefft

The Seniors will give the Freshmen a welcoming reception Friday, October 15, in the High school auditorium. There will be an entertainment and refreshments will be served.

There were seven new members taken into the Girl Reserves this year. They are as follows: Leona Garchow, Lillian Lee, Dorothy Sly, Catherine VanAken, Frances Sadow, Naomi Huston, Gertrude Grainger.

Initiation was held at Barbara Horton's last Friday night. The cabinet members and officers of the Girl Reserves attended a conference at Birmingham, Saturday, October 9.

—Bernice Cline

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Joe Pocatnic, a Sioux Indian, gave an illustrated lecture Thursday afternoon, in the school auditorium. He showed Indian weapons and domestic tools, concluding his entertainment with a war dance.

Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Lendrum gave another of his interesting talks on Mexico, touching upon racial problems, which perhaps led to Mexico's present disorder.

The girls of the eleventh and twelfth grades home economics class have finished their silk dresses, and will now begin on their wool projects.

Part of the ninth and tenth grades home economics class served an informal breakfast Friday, to the other members.

—Joy McNabb

Debate Try-Outs

The debate try-outs were given Monday, 8th hour, in Miss Gwatkins' assembly room. The question up for discussion was: "The Nationalization of the Coal Mines," contestants being Luella Criger, Josephine Schmidt, William Murphy, Franklin Atkinson and Leona Beyer.

Mrs. Whipple acted as chairman, Elton Ashton as time-keeper, and Miss Allen, Miss Roe, Miss Gwatkins and Mr. Smith were chosen judges. The results were as follows: Josephine Schmidt, Franklin Atkinson, and William Murphy, regulars, and Leona Beyer, alternate.

—Dorothea Lombard

PLYMOUTH VS. HOWELL

The game began with Howell kicking the ball to Plymouth's ten yard line. Plymouth received the ball and carried it back to her thirty yard line, where one of our men caught the ball and ran back to Howell's thirty yard line. Howell took the ball to our thirty yard line, where we carried it back to center. Then our opponents carried the ball to Plymouth's goal line.

Dondt, who plays in the back field, was put out of the game when a Howell man jumped on him. Carney replaced him, and Plymouth's lighter line held Howell's heavy line until the players got discouraged.

Howell made a touch-down which gave them seven points. Dondt was put in again, and was hurt while tackling, and was taken out.

Plymouth held Howell until the end of the game, and the final score was Howell 7 and Plymouth 0.

The next game is one week from today, October 22; it will be played with Fordson Trade school at the Plymouth tourist camp.

—Helen Carruthers

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS

By the last of October we shall be thinking about the boys' and the girls' clubs which will be organized for work during the winter months.

The Clothing and Hot Lunch clubs will be under the direction of Miss Lois Corbett, Home Demonstration Agent, and the Handicraft Club will be under the direction of Ralph Carr, County Agricultural Agent.

On October 30th, there will be a meeting of all teachers and leaders of the above mentioned clubs in the auditorium of the Dearborn Library at ten o'clock a. m. Miss Sylvia Wixson and Nevels Pearson of the State Department will present the work as outlined by the state to these leaders at that time. It is hoped that every teacher who anticipates having a club in her school will affiliate herself with the state and attend the meeting in order to get all necessary directions and a uniform start.

RADIO HAS COME TO GLORIFY THE HOME; AN OPPOSING FORCE IS VANQUISHED IN THE FALL.

People who love their homes have been the target of two great opposing forces—one, the automobile which takes them out of their homes and into the great outdoors; the other, the radio receiving set which keeps them within their homes and in touch with everything on this side of the world.

To use a common expression, the owner of both an automobile and radio has been between the devil and the deep blue sea. But conditions are changing with the calendar. As winter rolls around and the chilly winds from Medicine Hat renew the drain on the coal bin, one of these attractions subsides and the other comes into its own, stronger than ever. Outside of the youngsters, radio becomes the chief domestic attraction. Between friends it becomes the chief conversation. And now a good many of them are talking about the Ortho-sonic Radio Circuit, a scientifically shielded circuit whose almost uncanny selectivity has caused many perfectly truthful users to be classed with Ananias and Baron Munchausen.

So to settle any controversy as to what might and what might not be the truth in such matters the purveyors of these radio circuits will shortly begin a series of public demonstrations to which the skeptic and the believer alike will be invited in order that the question may be definitely settled. This paper will give further details of the demonstrations which will be made with Federal Radio Sets. Everybody will want to take them in.

Deep Reasoning Seen in Childish Sayings

I know a certain mother who has made a collection of the bright sayings of her small son, a young gentleman now three years old. Little Gerard, impregnated with the salt of Paris, never lets a day pass without some ingenious and astonishing observation on life and its customs, and there runs through all his thoughts and words the evidence of a rather unusual mental functioning.

The other day, for example, Gerard, desiring his father to accompany him to the Jardin des Plantes (the Paris zoo), remarked with a protecting air: "You must come with me and see the big bear. You can give me your hand and he won't hurt you, because he knows me."

Maternite, a pedagogical review of child culture, publishes a collection of children's sayings. They are not extraordinary as a whole, yet all reveal the mechanics of reasoning and how the thought is born of the comparison of impressions. The most interesting of these child thoughts are the ones which show the background of human psychology. There is one especially which delighted me.

Jack was playing on the front lawn when someone rang the door bell—a lady visitor. Jack's mother appeared and, observing that the child's frock was astonishingly dirty, exclaimed: "Why Jack! Run at once and change that dirty dress!"

"What's the use?" inquired Jack. "She's already seen me."

The response, in a sense, is worth its weight in gold. Not to be seen in one's dirty frock—what a familiar theory it is! How many persons would neglect their appearance if they were not afraid of being seen in that condition! Hence the social value of keeping an eye on each other, for, thanks to this fear of being seen, we conceal our stains, both external and internal.—Louis Forest in Le Matin (Translated for the Kansas City Star).

Power From Niagara

While prolonged negotiations over St. Lawrence river water power proceeded at the state capital of New York, the greatest St. Lawrence power development of them all—at Niagara falls—steadily produces a vast amount of energy every day that is used all over the Northeast. Whereas forty years ago the total power produced was 2,000 horsepower, today the total rated capacity of machinery generating electricity by the aid of falling water at and near the famous falls is 1,400,000 horsepower. Actually only 1,000,000 horsepower of this is at work, because of limitations upon the use of Niagara water power imposed by the power treaty between the United States and Canada, but 1,000,000 horsepower is enough to perform a vast amount of work for the people of this country.

Largest Snake on Record

The longest snake of which there is authentic record was a python captured in Malaya and shipped to the Tierpark at Hamburg, Germany. This snake died immediately after reaching port, and was stretched on the deck of the steamer and measured by Dr. Arthur Irwin, then director of the Philadelphia Zoological society. It measured a few inches over 30 feet in length and weighed close to 300 pounds. This species, the regal or reticulated python (Python reticulatus) is the largest species of serpent. It is alleged to attain a length of 35 feet. The South American anaconda is also alleged to attain a similar length, but Raymond Dittmars, curator of reptiles at the New York Zoological park, doubts very much if it ever grows longer than 25 feet.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Women Do Inside Painting

Women are proving themselves capable of holding down another man's job—interior house painting. In New York many women are now engaged in this occupation. One woman has gone into the business on a comparatively large scale, but she employs women only. Many of them are ambitious artists and some chorus girls who for the present have no footlights. It is claimed that these girl painters are much in demand because some people think that the feminine touch is more careful and artistic than the masculine. Then, too, many people dislike to have strange men about the house.—Exchange.

Guaranteed

William Lord Wright, the serial king, is quite a collector of antiques and is always receiving bric-a-brac from friends who know Bill's falling.

The other night, one of these friends, recently returned from the Holy land, called at Bill's Hollywood home and presented him with a vase which he declared Rebecca used to take to the well.

"I'm sure it is genuine," said the friend, "because the boy I bought it from assured me it was the original, as he had stolen it himself, and I believed him because he had such an honest face."

Mosquitoes on Radio

The hum of the mosquito is to be broadcast throughout England. The song of the nightingale, caught by the microphone in woods 30 miles from London some time ago, proved such a success that now the buzz of insects is to have a trial. Prof. Moore Hogarth announces that he has in training a family of mosquitoes which, when proficient, will broadcast the high-pitched metallic ping so familiar to human ears.

Today's Reflections

Secret service men say married women make poor detectives, but the average Plymouth married man knows better.

The time to remember that silence is golden is just before you start in to say something smart.

Our rule of success in life is not to know when we are beaten, but we often have our suspicions.

Once in a while we run across an ill-natured husband who has good reasons for being that way.

There's still a lot of truth in the old saying that an Indian scalps his enemy and a white man skins his friends.

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth liar who used to boast that he never lied to his wife?

There are a lot of ways to borrow trouble but the easiest way is to elope with another man's wife.

We could make a still better town out of Plymouth if some people didn't use the Golden Rule as though they were afraid the shine would wear off.

The trouble with these salesmen who want to "let you in on the ground floor," is that they have already let several other fellows into the cellar.

We can't see why a Plymouth girl will spend good money for something to make her cheeks red when she can get the same effect over the kitchen stove.

We don't know when the auto will reach the "saturation" point, but the driver usually gets that way on Saturday nights.

Many a man who is willing to admit he doesn't know anything about the stage will still persist in acting the fool.

We've always noticed that it doesn't add to a Plymouth man's peace of mind for his wife to give him a piece of hers.

As soon as all the stranded American tourists get out of Europe maybe they will have room for another war.

For the ninth consecutive year Buick has won first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows.

This is Leadership! For this honor goes annually to the member of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce with the year's largest volume of business. For any other car to equal this would mean retaining continuous leadership until 1936—almost another decade.

Progress all Along The Line

The Science of Chiropractic has during the last quarter of a century been the means of getting so many sick people well that it has proved itself. It has a warm place in the heart of people who are seeking Health, and with the advent of the Neurocalometer, the Science has become even more exact. Chiropractic Adjustments given according to a Neurocalometer reading never fail to relieve the Nerve Pressure, which is the cause of the majority of disease. If you are sick, call and see us, have a Neurocalometer reading made, and we will give you Adjustments according to that reading.

Choir practice at the home of Mrs. Rousseau, Friday evening. We are glad to have new members join us; we could use two more men, bass and tenor.

METHODIST NOTES

The young people's choir, serving evenings, has been very much enjoyed, and has added materially to the evening worship.

The Women's Missionary Society will not meet this month. Eighteen members attended the annual district meeting at the W. F. M. S. held in the First Methodist church of Pontiac, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Next Sunday morning the Northville Commandery, Knights Templar, will worship with us—Hospitaliers' Sunday. The male quartet will sing. What do you believe, and what do you know about other religions? These are questions worthy of consideration. Dr. Lendrum will furnish the information. The first number, "Buddhism," will be given Sunday evening, and the young people's choir will sing.

The Junior and Senior departments of the Sunday-school are to enjoy a picnic supper together in the dining room of the church, Thursday evening, the 21st. The classes are to sing their class songs, and there will be a "social program" and a good time in general.

BAPTIST NOTES

The services on Sunday seemed to be good in spirit.

The primary department of the Sunday-school gave a number of rewards to scholars for faithful attendance.

The church elected as delegates to the state Baptist convention, held at Adrian, October 19 to 21: Walter Postiff, Mrs. H. E. Sayles, Mrs. Hugh Daly. Quite a number of other members expect to attend.

News came from Evangelist Conley of Akron, Ohio, on Monday, that he has had a complete breakdown, and the doctors say he will not be able to work for three months. He cancels his engagement with the church for November 7. Other evangelists are being corresponded with to take his place.

Gaylord Sayles led the B. Y. P. F. Sunday night. Madelyn Shackleton will lead next Sunday night.

The church extends sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dazert and family in this time of their sorrow and bereavement.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The Busy Woman's Bible Class held their regular monthly meeting at the church on Tuesday. An excellent pot-luck dinner was served and two beautiful quilts were tied.

The Ready Service Bible Class purchased a most attractive set of furniture for the church parlors. This is a decided addition to the appearance and equipment of the church.

The Men's Class and the Young Men's class will join in a supper meeting on Wednesday evening, October 20th, at 7:00 p. m. George A. Smith will be chairman for the evening, and an excellent program is assured. A good speaker will be provided for the evening. All men are welcome. The charge for the supper will be 75 cents.

The Young People's Society will elect officers for the ensuing year at the regular meeting, Sunday evening. A number of fine young people are taking an active interest in this organization, and the prospects are bright for a good year.

HOME-COMING OF LIVONIA UNION CHURCH SOCIETY

At a meeting of the Livonia Union Church Society, held August 28, it was decided to hold a home-coming in the near future. The date of this home-coming has been set for Friday evening, October 15, at 7:00 o'clock. All members and friends of this church are most cordially invited.

In one family, five generations are to be present at this home-coming, each member of the five generations having been actively connected with this church. The oldest is now ninety-two years of age and was one of the charter members when the church was built. The youngest is seven years of age and a member of the Sunday-school at the present time. Over one hundred invitations have been sent out, and it is most sincerely hoped to one has been overlooked, but as so many have moved away it would be a very easy matter to do so. If you have not received your invitation, come home to the church where mother once went. Dinner, program—no charge.

Through the mist of years I can seem to see
 The church of my childhood days;
 And its memories sweet as with joy replete
 Shall live in my heart always.
 And the old, old songs we used to sing,
 I'm singing them o'er and o'er;
 They give strength and cheer when the clouds
 Draw near.
 And lead to the other shore,
 There's a hallowed spot near that dear old Church.
 Where mother is laid to rest;
 What a joy 'twill be, her dear face to see
 When I join that church above.

CATHOLIC NOTES

The supper and dance held at the Pennington Allen auditorium on Thursday evening of last week, was a fine success. Our most hearty thanks is extended to all who attended or helped in other ways to make it so; very special thanks to Mrs. K. Allen for the many favors accorded the Altar Ladies.

The Altar Ladies will meet at the home of Mrs. Rousseau at Newburg, on Wednesday next, to make arrangements for the Harvest party, to be held at Newburg.

A mission, conducted by one of the "Fathers of Holy Cross," will be started on the 7th of November, and will last one week. We trust all will avail themselves of this rare opportunity of attending a mission in Plymouth.

Greatest September Sales

in Nash History

—and if it had been possible to build all the cars ordered September would have smashed all Nash records for a single month's business.

OCTOBER! At this writing it is a practical certainty that October sales and production will surpass by more than 50% the largest previous October on our books.

Announcement of new models—all powered with 7-bearing crankshaft motors, the world's smoothest type—sent Nash demand racing toward new heights.

September clicked the 25th consecutive month and October will register the 26th—with three exceptions—that Nash sales have exceeded the record set by the same month of the previous year.

The 16 models in the three new Nash series range in price from $865 to $2090 f. o. b. factory.

MUNICIPAL NOTES BY THE MANAGER

The wet weather of the last weeks has slowed up our street and sewer work. Many streets that badly need the scraper have been kept so wet that work on them was impracticable.

The Blum & Dickinson ditch digger has been undergoing repairs, but is ready to run again. The digger crew has been working with the hand crew finishing the sanitary sewer behind the Main street and Peniman avenue stores, and doing the Maple street sewer from Pine street west towards Main street.

The Wayne County road crew is making good progress building the concrete curb along South Main street. They also are doing some of the rough grading behind the curb.

Some of the figures on water consumption for the past summer may be of interest. This use of water, expressed in gallons per 24-hour day, averaged for each month as follows:

April—388,300
May—438,000
June—510,000
July—459,100
August—457,200
September—441,000

For this period there has never been less than four feet of water in the reservoir, with the average depth around eight feet, and a maximum of ten feet. The pressure as shown on the gauge at the hall, has been more even this year than for several years past.

President Robinson has left at the Hall with our other mementos, the bell which he pressed to change over the telephones here to the new common battery system. It is engraved "Used by Mayor Harry C. Robinson to inaugurate common battery telephone system at Plymouth, 9-28-1926."

We are now getting out the statements for the sanitary sewer assessments as authorized by the Commission. The 991 benefits are included in 865 statements which will probably be ready to mail the last of this week. The installments due this year total $13,883.01.

CLEAN-UP HOLD CORN BORER CHECK HOPES

WE CANNOT TRUST PARASITES TO STOP PEST, ACCORDING TO M. S. C. ENTOMOLOGIST.

The final hope for checking the rapid advances of the European corn borer rests largely with the "clean-up" in infested areas, is the opinion of Prof. R. H. Pettit, head of the entomology department at the Michigan State College.

Prof. Pettit summarized the state corn borer situation last week during a talk delivered over the college radio station WKAR. Calling attention to the seriousness of the imported crop pest, and the fact that it has continued to spread "on schedule," Pettit outlined informally the most recent developments in connection with corn borer control work and experimentation.

That parasites, important as they are as a control measure, can be counted on to destroy only a small percentage of the borers, was brought out by the M. S. C. specialist. No other natural agency or "mysterious source" was seen as likely to control the pest.

"Our only hope lies in getting very busy and simply killing the pest by main strength," said Pettit. "Aside from the adoption of practices unfavorable to the borer, and insistence on early cutting, low cutting, shredding or ensiling, or the cutting of stalks into sections a half inch or less in size, the control of the pest is going to be accomplished by the clean-up. By this, I mean a real clean-up of all crop remnants, stubble weeds, rubbish and trash.

"In other words, follow out literally the program of the United States Bureau of Entomology and the Michigan State Department of Agriculture, whose directions are identical."

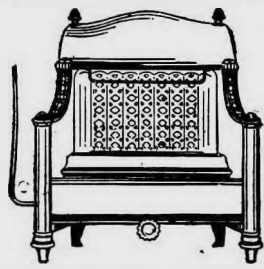

A special inspection meeting is to be held at the Monroe county corn borer experiment station on Oct. 21, with all people of the state who are interested in the borer invited to attend.

Community Building

Matters Determining Desirability of Town

The Kansas municipalities drew up a list of tests as those most pertinent to the question of what a stranger thinking of settling wants to know about a town. These were published in Community Leadership, a paper of the American City Bureau:

Healthfulness—How efficient are the milk and sanitary inspection, the health department, and the hospitals? Is the water supply pure, and have I and my family a reasonable chance of keeping well?

Education—Are the public schools, libraries, lectures and concerts, newspapers and higher educational facilities up-to-date?

People—Do the people indulge in religious, social or industrial prejudices? Do the people support artistic and educational programs? Where are the children, in schools or factories?

Recreation—Are there theaters, parks, gymnasiums and museums? Are there active agencies providing good entertainment?

Living—Can we live reasonably well in the town. Are there electricity, gas, telephones, good shopping conditions, good homes and plentiful truck garden products available?

Accessibility—Does the town have good roads and good train service?

Business—Is there active co-operation between business interests? Can I make good use of my capital?

Employment—Can I get a job in that town with fair pay and a good chance for advancement?

Progressiveness—Is the town up-to-date in its civic consciousness? Has it adequate police and fire protection? Is it a town with a future?—Nation's Business.

Excellent Slogan Is "Let the World Know"

Six banks of Tattall county have just done a fine thing in advertising. They are advertising their respective institutions in the county papers and in other ways to get more business and to keep themselves before the people who may have business to transact with the financial concerns. But in this recent piece of enterprise the six banks pooled forces—expense, thought, effort and interest—to get out a booklet telling the world about their county. The banks are those in Reidsville, Cobtown, Collins, and Glenville, towns in Tattall. The booklet is giving reliable information about Tattall county as an agricultural opportunity—setting forth the descriptions of climate and soil, of crops which have been demonstrated successful, of roads and schools and information concerning conditions generally that prospective settlers demand. The co-operation of the banks of the county in this work is good business—for the county, for the banking companies and for the prospects they will certainly attract to the goodly region of which Tattall is the center.—Savannah (Ga.) News.

Evergreens for Grounds

One of the most delicately graceful of the evergreens is the Carolina hemlock, and for the small house the Sargent's weeping hemlock, with broad flat top and pendant foliage, should be used as specimen plants where much inferior materials are now used. For some places firs and spruces may be too large, but the best fir, the Nikko silver fir, is a magnificent specimen of evergreen.

For spruces most builders want Colorado blue spruce. It is a beautiful little tree and easily grown. There are one or two places suitable for the small place, especially the Swiss stone pine, a compact, roundish little tree. The knee pine, dwarf and flat topped, is also fine for the small place.

Value of Shade Trees

The agents of "progress" will argue that there is no difference between the shade cast by a brick wall and that cast by a living, growing tree. But there is a vast difference, as science has demonstrated. One average tree in a single season throws into the air through its leaves 500 barrels of water. Shade from a tree, therefore, is always cool and moist, and that from a brick wall is only a scant measure of protection from the sun. Yes, indeed, trees are worth preserving.—Buffalo News.

Zoning Proved of Value

Committees on buildings and plumbing codes and zoning ordinances have been instrumental in revising methods of work in every state. The result has been greater uniformity in design and more economical utilization of materials. The zoning ordinances are helping to safeguard residence districts from wanton intrusion by uses of land which are best grouped apart from homes.

Home Owner Is Best Citizen

Maintaining a high percentage of individual home owners is one of the searching tests that now challenge the people of the United States. The present large proportion of families that own their own homes is both the foundation of a sound economic and social system and a guarantee that our society will continue to develop rationally as changing conditions demand.

Certain Magic Found in Ownership of Home

There is a magic in the ownership of property, especially when that property consists of a home. A man will lay down his life without question or thought when the integrity of his home is at stake. On the other hand, if the same amount of money were placed in stocks or bonds, or even a factory, it is extremely problematical whether he would even risk his life if they were threatened with destruction. The magic lies in the fact that a home stands for more than mere intrinsic value; it represents more than mere dollars.

It carries around it all the background of the family life and the search of that family for better living. It may have the scars of the struggle written all over its walls, but it is near and dear in spite of it. Little do we dream the real magic we are conjuring up for those dependent upon us when we gird up our belts, reach for the pen and ink and sign the pledge on the contract that commits us and our savings to a program of home-ownership. It is the most important thing a man and woman can do, because no one has yet been able to think of a single thing that will take its place.

Prepare Teachers for Their Important Work

Courses in rural education are provided in more than two-thirds of the state normal schools and teachers colleges in the United States, and in a number of colleges and universities. To assist in meeting the need for trained teachers in rural schools, normal training courses are given in selected high schools in some states. These courses, however, are apparently temporary expedients, and according to Rural School Circular No. 15 of the Interior department, bureau of education, there has been a decrease since 1922 in the number of schools offering this work. In 5 of the 26 states where normal courses were formerly available they have been discontinued, and in only 21 high schools or fewer in each of 6 states is such courses be obtained. Standards gradually are being raised in schools that continue the work, and in five states—Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Ohio, and Vermont—the course is maintained on a high school post-graduate basis.

Keep Up Property Value

The average rate per year which must be charged off for depreciation of house property has been found to be 1 1/2 per cent for frame and 1 1/4 per cent for brick. It was brought out by many of the authorities consulted, however, that this difference is almost entirely eliminated if proper care is taken of the home. A stitch in time saves many, and minor repairs here and there will often prevent extensive deterioration of the structure which would occur if such repairs were neglected. The painting of parts exposed to the weather and the prompt renewal of decaying sections are important factors in the longevity of the house. In other words, keep its face clean and its heart in good condition.

Use of Winter Months

Very often some civic body or other organization, with a great deal of community spirit, will be the start of a home beautiful campaign, or a committee of individuals from a given street or section will start the ball rolling.

In beginning such a campaign, it is a wise plan to start the work during the winter, that people might have a chance to think and talk over the plans of the coming campaign, and the committee has plenty of time to get their well-arranged plans in proper shape. The plan will then have time to reap the benefits of the news feature of the local papers, and by word-of-mouth advertising.

Keep Tree Wounds Clean

When filling a tree wound with cement, take care not to pour over decaying wood.

Clean out all signs of rotting. Insects in various stages spend their winters in the spongy section. Scrape it clean down to the growing tissue, called the cambium.

Paint it with shellac, and then with a coat of one-third creosote and two-thirds coal tar. Recoat it with tar if the first one cracks. Pure white lead or linseed oil also will serve.

Then fill the cavity with cement. The nicest care should be exercised in cleaning the wound. Use sharp tools.

Benefit in Ownership

A family that owns a home built exactly as they want it, with the utmost in convenience and comfort, takes pride in it, maintains it better, gets more pleasure out of it and has a more wholesome, healthful and happy atmosphere in which to bring up children.

Ideal Community

An aspiring people who desire to secure for the city and its people the very best in the realm of liberal culture are the foundation of the ideal community.

Girl Wins Cycle Honor

Miss Nancy Debenham has proved the champion motor cycle test rider of England. Against a field of some forty men competitors, Miss Debenham, still in her teens, won her race with a good lead, and received the gold cup for the best performance in a 200-mile reliability trial conducted by the Longdon Motorcycling club. She achieved the distinction on a two-and-one-fourth-horsepower machine, which was the lightest one taking part in the contest.

THE THEATRE

"BATTLING BUTLER"

At last a comedy star has made a "different" picture. It is "Battling Butler," the new Buster Keaton mirth-provoker, coming to the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, October 16th. Keaton can always be depended upon to provide good entertainment; in "Battling Butler" he excels himself. For the picture has a real plot, is replete with love interest, in addition to the kind of screen farce that made the frozen-faced comedian famous, and is clean and wholesome. Also, Buster has surrounded himself with an unusually capable cast. Sally O'Neill, Walter James, Tom Wilson, Francis McDonald, Mary O'Brien and other names to conjure with in Hollywood, have important parts. Miss O'Neill especially, in her role of Buster's sweetheart, and later, wife, gives an excellent performance.

The story of "Battling Butler," a successful stage play before it was brought to the screen, is a scream from start to finish. Keaton, wearing his traditional frozen-face, portrays a rich, pampered youth who goes to the country for an outing—and finds adventure. He falls in love, masquerades as a famous boxer to win the lady of his choice, whose family detests weaklings, and suddenly discovers himself hailed as a hero—the world's champion middleweight pugilist. To confess the deception imperils his status as a bridegroom; to go through with it endangers his heretofore lazy carcass. How he "saves face" and retains his wife's love is too novel a denouement to reveal to those who have not seen the picture.

Thousands of people appear in some of the scenes, and the settings and effects are as elaborate as those in the average feature production. The direction, by Buster himself, shows the star's skill as a laugh builder as well as a laugh provoker.

"Battling Butler" was made under the Joseph M. Schenck banner for Metro-Goldwyn release.

"LA BOHEME"

La Boheme!
The gay abandon of artists and poets in the Latin Quarter; the effervescence of true Parisians!

The ardent love of a poet whose soul breathes romance—of a maiden whose every thought is a poem—a flower of France.

Hope—grief—despair—and a faith that passeth understanding!

"La Boheme," a story that has thundered down the ages—that has charmed millions, has come to the screen—a masterpiece as always. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first starring vehicle for fairy-like Lillian Gish, coming to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, October 17 and 18.

Lillian Gish has given the world "Kamala," "The White Sister," and other great roles—but she literally is Mimi, waif of the art quarter, wistful idol of a poet's heart, whose last breath is a vow of undying love. She is inspiration and happiness—and untold woe. She is the embodiment of the tragedy of womankind.

The famous story was adapted from the Henry Murger novel, the original romance, rather than from the opera, which only used an episode in it—and the result is a story of dramatic power that those who know the opera would never suspect. It grips the audience with its mastery of human emotions, but never for an instant does it lose that ethereal spell of entertainment.

King Vidor's direction, faultless and artistic, was well expended on a remarkable cast. John Gilbert as Rodolphe, the romantic poet lover, handles the most difficult role possible with that rare understanding that makes it life itself, and Renee Adoree is charmingly French as Musetta.

Roy D'Arcy adds to the laurels he won in "The Merry Widow," with his portrayal of the suave boulevardier, Paul, while Edward Everett Horton and George Hassell as Rodolphe's Bohemian friends are a rare comedy foil. Karl Dane as the kind-hearted concierge, Frank Currier as the dignified theatrical manager, Rosita Marstini as the motherly wife of the concierge, add subtle touches of talent. The staging and photography are marvelous.

All in all, here is a picture that one can't afford to miss. To do so would be to live in the consciousness that one had missed one of the genuine film classics—one of the pictures that has contributed in no small degree to the reputation of the screen as a medium of genuinely thrilling art.

"SWEET DADDIES"

"Sweet Daddies," the new M. C. Levee feature comedy for First National, comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, October 20 and 21, in an extraordinary well-cast picture. In fact, try as you will, we cannot imagine any players that would have fitted more snugly into the various parts in "Sweet Daddies" than those that now fill them.

Charlie Murray, the first to appear on the screen, is a great comedian. Charlie does not spend his time as a mummer, exhibiting tricks and mannerisms, which have no particular appeal to an intelligent audience. Murray's humor is invested with character and a great human naturalness.

George Sidney is another featured player in this highly amusing photoplay. Sidney, whose name alone can carry any picture, is Murray's partner in the six reels of fun, and Vera Gordon completes the humorous triangle.

Jack Mulhall, who is soon to be starred by First National, plays the leading man, while alluring Jobyna Ralston carries the ingenue role off with high honors. Gaston Glass, protégé of the late Sarah Bernhardt, makes the very most of his role as the villain.

"Sweet Daddies" is replete with beautiful scenes of the tropic. The Jail Cafe sequence takes this season's prize for its originality. M. C. Levee, who conceived it, deserves much credit for giving us something new on the screen.

The story itself, unlike most comedies, has a fascinating plot, and the surprise ending puts the finishing touch to an altogether remarkable and entertaining film.

Alfred Santell, the young director, who has within the last year become Hollywood's man of the hour, directed "Sweet Daddies." In every respect it is a credit to him.

There Are Limits Even to Executive Ability

Crichton, until his health deserted him, was a salesmanager. Then he went to the country and became an apiarist. You know, he kept bees—or rather, the bees kept him. His "Blossomsdale" honey was sold at many of the better places. But some people bought the adjoining farm, and started another apiary. Crichton's bees no longer enjoyed a monopoly of the flowers and blossoms. Business began to fall off.

So Crichton did the usual thing. He held a round-table conference. He told the bees they must hustle up more business; they must get on their toes. The bees seemed grieved, but they buzzed off, filled with serious purpose and augmented resolve.

Still Crichton was not satisfied. He organized an interhive contest and spurred them on. He posted graphs and tabulated returns. He told them of business cycles, the bees, of course, found all this confusing, but they tried to make good. Their wings became frayed; they no longer hummed at their work.

One day Crichton posted this circular letter: "It has come to my notice that outlying territory in North Forty is being neglected. We need that business. Go out and get it."

That night while Crichton slept, unusual agitation might have been seen among the hives. Some of the bolder bees hurried from door to door, and the rest streamed to the rendezvous.

Scouts came back from Crichton's room and reported the window open. Across the garden, up the wall, over the sill and under the bedclothes thousands of bees crawled steadily. At a given signal they bared their poisoned stilettes and plunged them to the hilt in the flesh of the ex-salesmanager. He died at dawn.

Delightfully intelligent creatures, bees!—Kansas City Star.

Be Slow in Judgment

We are not always aware of the scars and we don't see the wounds of many a life we are tempted to condemn. If we knew all we might forgive all. We think we know, and discover that much has been hidden from us. Had we the trials of some it is quite possible that our achievements would be fewer than theirs.

There may be a score of unpleasant things about a man, but so long as there is one good feature it is worth our while to find it. Try for one week to put the one good fact of another's life by the side of the many things which you dislike and you will be surprised how happy you'll be.

There is still far more good in the world than badness. As we look round we can find many a gem in rough places and many a flower among the weeds.—London Tit-Bits.

Excess Optimism

Edsel Ford tells this story apropos of optimism:

"A bald-headed man went into a barber shop and asked the barber if he had any good preparations for growing hair."

"Here, sir," said the barber, who was bald-headed himself, "is an excellent thing." He took a bottle of pink liquid from a shelf. "My own invention, sir. Warranted to grow hair on the balddest head. The large-size bottle is worth five simoleons. The complete cure of six bottles would cost you twenty-five."

"All right; I'll take the complete cure," said the man.

"And he chuckled happily, looked round the shelves and added:

"By the way, you might wrap me up one of those patent electric hair-curlers, too."

FARM SHORT COURSE

TO OPEN AT M. S. C.

A general short course in agriculture, running for sixteen weeks in each of two winters, will open at the Michigan State College on October 25, according to announcement made here.

This will be the first of the more than a dozen special short courses in agriculture and home economics, which will be offered at M. S. C. during the coming winter, most of the others starting in January.

Forty different subjects are offered in the "Sixteen Weeks" general course, according to R. H. Tenney, director of the short course work. This course is said to be very practical, taking up nearly all important phases of Michigan agriculture, and giving the student a fund of everyday workable knowledge.
