MAKING CRIPPLED CHILDREN SURVEY

Local Rotary Club Making Survey of the Village This Week.

Club Hear Splendid Talk by Secretary of Michigan Crippled Children's Association.

The members of the Plymouth Rotary Club had the great pleasure of hearing a splendid talk given by Miss Chase of Ann Arbor, secretary of the Michigan Society of Crippled Children, last Friday at the noon-day luncheon.

The local Rotary Club, through its committee on crippled children's work, with Dr. R. E. Cooper as chairman, has already done some very commendable work along this line, and this week the club is making a survey of the village to ascertain how many crippled children there are in Plymouth.

In other places in the state, the survey showed at least three children to the thousand population, who did not have a fair chance due to some physical handicap.

FALL RADIO SCHOOL OPENS AT M. S. C.

TWENTY DEPARTMENTS OF STATE COLLEGE CO-OPERATE IN OFFERING SUBJECT MATTER OF INTEREST TO EVERYONE.

Twenty departments at M. S. C. have joined this year in presenting programs for the fall term radio school from Station WKAR, which opened Monday, October 25.

A wide variety of subject matter is offered in the educational programs containing material of interest for everyone, and plans have been made to make the winter term school still more complete.

In addition to the radio school, there will be special educational programs furnished by the various Departments of State on Friday evenings from 8:00 to 9:00 o'clock.

The fall term schedule for the radio school is as follows: Mondays—Home Economics, English, Agricultural Engineering and Horticulture; Tuesdays—Engineering, Zoology, Forestry and Farm Crops; Wednesdays—Economics, Botany, Soils and Dairy; Thursdays—Education, Sociology, Animal Husbandry, and Farm Crops; Fridays—History and Political Science, Poultry and Dairy.

ANOTHER BOXING MATCH

Another boxing match will be held at the I. O. O. F. temple, Thursday November 4th. Young Matevia of Plymouth, will meet Eddie Jonosky of Detroit, in a ten round bout.

PLYMOUTH HIGH DEFEATED BY FORD TRADE SCHOOL

Outweighed and outclassed, but not outgamed, Plymouth High went down to defeat at the hands of Ford Trade school, last Friday, by the score of 43 to 0.

At that the breaks favored Ford. Sleep fumbled when he carried the ball over for the first touchdown, only to have it recovered by Hamsworth, Ford's right guard.

The third touchdown resulted from a similar march down the field, the best Plymouth could do being to delay Ford's progress slightly.

The Plymouth team looked their best in the third quarter. Doudt received the kick-off, and returned it to the 20-yard line.

The superior weight and condition of the Trade school team told in the fourth quarter, and three times in the last twelve minutes they pounded through the weakened Plymouth team.

Plymouth made a desperate attempt to score in the last two minutes of play. Doudt returned the kick-off nearly to the 40-yard line.

The line-up: Plymouth E. Carney I.E. Ford Fitz F. Carmichael LT Winchell E. Foster LG Casey O. Partridge C Grose C. Tillotson RG Hamsworth C. Wood RT Kopack G. Sayles RE Marchand T. Hickey QB Davidson V. Ford LH Pope C. Foster RH Wallek Rambo FB Sleep

Substitutions: Ford—Balsley for Sleep, Sleep for Balsley, Hamsworth for Marchand; Plymouth—Doudt for Ford, Miller for E. Foster.

Mr. John Cholsett and son, Frederick, of Bay City, were guests at the home of Mrs. Peter Gayde and Mrs. O. F. Beyer, last week-end.

STOVE COMPANY WILL LOCATE NEAR BRIGHTMOOR

PENINSULAR STOVE COMPANY BUYS NEW SITE JUST OFF OF PLYMOUTH ROAD ON P. M. R. R.

Plymouth's hopes of securing the Peninsular Stove Company to locate its new plant here faded away when Detroit papers contained the announcement last Saturday morning that the company had acquired a factory site for the new $3,000,000 plant, which takes in 18 1/2 acres at the northeast corner of Burt road and the Pere Marquette railway.

The site of the new plant is just eleven miles from Plymouth, and there is no doubt but what Plymouth will receive some direct benefits through its location at this point, but of course nothing like it would had the plant been located here.

Building operations will start at once, and the plant it is expected, will be occupied not later than January 1, 1928.

The officials of the stove company looked over sixty different sites before choosing the one purchased. The fact that the new site is near Detroit and adjoins Rouge park, which will have two nine-hole golf courses, a swimming pool and other recreational features had much to do with the selection of the new site.

The Peninsular Stove company, which ranks as the second largest organization of the kind in this country, will erect on the new site two buildings of brick, steel and fenestra sash.

DEATH OF S. H. HILLS

S. H. HILLS, a well known business man of Plymouth, being the senior member of the firm of S. H. Hills & Son, dairy products, passed away suddenly last Sunday afternoon, at his home on Blank avenue.

Mr. Hills had been in failing health for the past year, and had planned to leave for Florida on November 3rd, to spend the winter months. On the day of his death he was up and about the house as usual, and it was while passing from one room to another that he suffered a severe heart attack and died within a few minutes.

Mr. Hills resided in Plymouth for the last nine years, and was a man highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was a good neighbor and a loyal friend.

The funeral services were held from his late home, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, Dr. F. A. Lundrum officiating. Mrs. William Blake sang two beautiful solos, with Mrs. C. G. Shear as accompanist.

Last week Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Miller in Highland Park.

POLITICAL RALLY

A number of county candidates, together with Fred W. Green of Lodi, and Congressman Earl C. Michener of Adrian, who were making a tour of the county, were in Plymouth, Tuesday.

FRED W. GREEN Republican Candidate for Governor

At 1:30 a meeting was held in Kollong Park. George A. Smith presided over the meeting. Senator Herbert Baker, Congressman Michener, Prosecuting Attorney Robert Toms and Fred W. Green made short talks.

Philip Errington, beloved husband of Louise Stever Errington of Detroit, formerly of Plymouth, died at Harper hospital, October 23rd. Funeral services were held from his late home in Detroit, Monday afternoon, and the remains brought to Plymouth for interment in Riverside cemetery.

COWAN-HOUGH NUPTIALS ARE CELEBRATED

A beautiful and impressive wedding ceremony took place on Monday, October 25th, at "The Elms," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Hough on Ann Arbor road, when Corinne Kingsley Hough became the bride of Robert Howell Cowan of Detroit, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cowan of Chatham, Ontario.

To the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin" played by Miss Phyllis Larkins, Miss Hough, wearing a charming Paris gown of beige chiffon and gold lace, with a grille of maroon fur, entered on the arm of her father.

Miss Athalie Hough was prettily attired in an imported gown of Alice Lyle chiffon laced in velvet, and wore a small metallic hat.

Immediately after the ceremony, the wedding breakfast was served at the Meadowbrook Country Club. The table decorations were white baby bonnets and tall cathedral tapers tied with silver and white ribbons.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowan left for an extended motor trip to Toronto and other Canadian cities, and will be at home to their friends after December 1st, at 2637 Boston Blvd., W. Detroit, Michigan.

The bride is a popular member of the younger set here, and the groom has the distinction of being one of the youngest officers in the British Flying Force during the World War.

PLAY READER COMING

Miss Selma Lenhart, who is an interpreter of plays, will give the first number of the Redpath Lyceum Course in the High school auditorium on November 3rd.

Miss Lenhart's greatest accomplishments is the keen distinction which she makes between her characters. Without apparent effort, she differentiates the parts so clearly that it is easy to imagine that an entire cast is producing the play.

With such an entertaining, uncommon number, no one will want to miss Selma Lenhart.

DR. M. R. GRAINGER PASSES AWAY

Dr. M. R. Grainger, a former resident of Plymouth for many years, died at his home near South Lyon, Friday, October 22. During the time he resided in Plymouth, Dr. Grainger enjoyed a large veterinary practice.

He is survived by his wife, Ida, and two daughters, Mrs. Lottie Malthy and Mrs. Jennie Mason; and four brothers and one sister living in Canada, and one brother, Charles Grainger of Plymouth; also three grandsons and one granddaughter, the children of his daughter, Mrs. Mason.

Funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. H. E. Sayles officiating. Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47, F. & A. M., of which the deceased was a member, had a part in the service. The interment took place in Riverside cemetery.

The Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church will hold a thimble party, Wednesday afternoon, November 3rd, in the church dining room.

ENGINEERS START ON FORD'S YPSILANTI DAM

Ford's engineers have started on the footing for the Ypsilanti dam which will make a lake three miles long and add greatly to the beauty of Washtenaw county's second city.

The dam will be 32 feet high. The tremendous volume of water it will confine will make the electricity that will run the great fabric mill to be built immediately.

Approximately $3,000,000 will be spent for the construction of the buildings depending on the dam for their electric power.

WEDNESDAY EVENING

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple entertained with a Hallowe'en dinner at their home on Penniman avenue.

The Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church will hold a thimble party, Wednesday afternoon, November 3rd, in the church dining room.

THAT JUNK PILE

The attic, the cellar, and sometimes a corner of the hay-mow are half-way places in most homes around Plymouth for articles that have become fit only for the junk pile. Just now housewives are getting everything ready for the winter season, and as they come across articles that they will not need they put them away—just take up more room—instead of stopping to consider whether they will ever really need them again or not. As a result each year will find the attic, the cellar, or the hay-mow or woodhouse packed a little tighter. And with stuff that is of absolutely no value.

Why carry this stuff over to the spring season, when you know it will be necessary to get rid of much of it? If you've some old clothes you do not need, why not pass them out to someone worthy, who would be glad to have them now that chilly weather is here. If you have articles of furniture still in serviceable condition, but rendered useless by the recent purchase of other pieces, why not spend a few pennies to run a little ad in the paper. Someone may be glad to get what you are offering, and willing to pay a fair price for it. Toss the clean rags into the garage instead of the attic or cellar. They are dangerous in those two places, but in the garage they come in handy in wiping off the car, or in drying it when it is washed.

Don't build a fire-trap in the house with junk that ought to be thrown away or given away or sold. Don't leave it where a stray spark may ignite it or spontaneous combustion may set it in flames—and burn down the house with contents that are worth something. Get rid of the junk now that the time for building fires is here again.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

We came across an item in an exchange a few days ago that struck us as containing pretty strong evidence that the old spirit of helpfulness to others is not dead in the land. The husband of a Kansas woman died and left a 75-acre field of corn standing, and across from it a field of oats—10 acres and ready to cut. Everybody was busy in the neighborhood—but they were not too busy to lend a hand. Word was passed around following the burial of the owner of the little farm, and the next day twenty-seven able-bodied men, with corn knives and a reaper, made quick work of the crops. By dark they had saved them for the widow.

Sometimes we see things, or read about them, that leads us to believe that the old neighborly spirit is dead. And then we run across an example similar to the one in Kansas. Or we learn of a Plymouth citizen being ill and quickly see the old spirit revived through visits of neighbors to the bedside, along with frequent inquiry as to the patient's condition by those on the street. And it cheers our heart, and makes us glad. It convinces us that there are still a lot of good people in the world, and that the place to find them is in the small town and the rural districts. It is good to know that the spirit of the old neighbor who rushes in with a glass of jelly whenever anyone in the family is ill, has not vanished from the earth.

CONVICT LABOR

California's road mileage is not as great as some other states can boast, but no other state can boast better ones. For several years she has been building her roads with convict labor. But she has been doing it under a plan that makes not only better roads but better men. In the road camps the prisoners are placed on their honor. They are paid for their labor, too, in addition to their clothing and meals. One day's work on the roads counts the same as two days spent in prison. The men get in addition the advantage of pure, fresh air, and they have the feeling that comes of being trusted with a responsibility. They pay their debt to society, and leave the prison better men, and in almost every instance with enough to get them over until they can secure a permanent job. Convict labor as it is applied today is more of a blessing than a curse. And that other states are emulating California's example is evidence of that fact.

WHEN TO BOOST

Boosting is best in moderation. There can be such a thing as overdoing it. But never to our knowledge has there been too much of it in Plymouth. Sometimes a knock of the right kind is all right—if it serves the purpose of waking up the community to the point where it will start in boosting to overcome the knock. But always it takes more boosting than it takes knocking to improve conditions. So let's lay aside the hammer we are hiding behind our backs, and pick up a horn. We are nearing the end of what our merchants say has been a very good year. Let's do what we can find to do to make the few remaining weeks of 1926 prosperous.

HE'S STILL HERE

Here are some figures to convince the Plymouth man who feels that electricity and gasoline are putting the horse out of business that he is wrong. Canada reports a million and a half more horses today than she had twenty years ago. Uncle Sam's new statistics show that there are four million more horses in the United States than there were twenty-five years ago. Most of the countries of the world are reporting an increased number, and even though thousands met death during the world war. Europe reports more horses today than she had in 1914, before the war got well under way. This is not only interesting, but there is a good moral in it. It proves that things are never as bad as they seem. It also means that from the progress of the horse we can learn a valuable lesson. And that as long as you've got the goods, there will always be someone in the market for them.

ORGANIST LEAVES TO CARRY ON WORK IN DETROIT.

Miss Olive May Merz, organist and choir director of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth, has resigned from her position to carry on her work in Detroit. Miss Merz served three years as organist and each year gave an organ recital, the proceeds being donated to the Choir Chapter society. With this money, one of the silk flags and also the flag bearer's vestments were purchased. Four years ago, Miss Merz, Miss Thomas and Mrs. Gardner Laible gave a musical tea in the church parlors. There were sixty ladies present. It was at this social function that plans were made to organize a vested choir. Each lady present became a charter member of the Choir Chapter society. Election of officers followed: President, Mrs. Gardner Laible; secretary and treasurer, Miss Olive May Merz. In order to have a vested choir, it was necessary for the society to plan some way of raising funds to purchase the vestments. It was decided to give the "Womanless Wedding," under the direction of Harry J. Green. The High school auditorium was filled to its utmost capacity, and the proceeds were over two hundred dollars, which were used to purchase the robes for the choir. The bank account was turned over to the music committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper attended a Halloween party at Ypsilanti, Thursday night.

The Freedom Of the "Bob"

In America, every woman is free to have her hair bobbed, provided she can pay the barber. But this is not so everywhere.

In Landau, Germany, for instance, a woman who has her hair bobbed must, in addition to paying the barber, pay the city a tax equivalent to $12.50. This tax is called a "Bubikopfsteuer." It's liberal, too, in that the victim is free to have whatever kind of a bob she likes.

We much prefer the American idea of freedom for women. And one of the best symbols of her freedom a woman can possess is a growing bank account. It furnishes her the money to do as she pleases.

Walk-Over

"A dollar saved is a dollar earned" applied to shoes

Next time you are tempted to save a dollar or two in the cost of shoes, remember that old proverb. Choose Walk-Overs, and never pay for money saved in price by grief in aching feet, and shoes that lose their shape. Walk-Overs are quality shoes. They are tailored. They fit. SIMPLE RULES FOR WOULD-BE ORATORS

Expert Gives Some Advice on Public Speaking.

"William Jennings Bryan was a great national figure not always because of what he said, but how he said it," declared R. E. Pattison Kline, public speaking expert at the Mid-West Organization school at Saugatuck, Mich., recently.

"The spoken word can be made 1,000 times more effective than the written word," said Kline, "because the speaker may convey ideas by his eyes, his body movements, his hands, and by the inflections in his voice."

"Ability to speak effectively is the result of training. The first time Gladstone, the great orator, appeared in public his speech was a complete failure. He was hissed by the audience. He determined to make people respect his thoughts and began regular training by reading out loud and practicing his speeches many times before they were delivered."

"Abraham Lincoln, likewise, became an effective speaker after long, arduous practice in speaking out loud in private. The first time he addressed an audience he was so ungalloped both in speech and figure that people laughed at him. He became one of the most effective speakers of his day."

Kline makes the following suggestions for effective speech:

Speak distinctly.
Make your speech attractive. Make it alive, active. Put pep into it. No one likes a dead one.
Be positive. Adopt a note of authority.

Dominate your audience.
Learn to be direct. Talk to people, not at them.

Be spontaneous and so full of your subject that the words pour out fluently.

Never use a comedy story, or joke, in a serious speech. Laughter and applause divert attention from what you are saying. Don't try to get applause if you want people to keep interested in what you are saying.

Use plain language, short words, and be accurate in your choice of words. Profanity and coarse slang are detrimental to a good speech.

Learn to speak from an outline. Don't write out your speech unless necessary for press purposes.

Answer the questions, who, where, what, why, how and when in your speaking.

Divide your speech into introduction, discussion and conclusion, and make the introduction and conclusion very brief.

Modulate your voice. Don't speak in a monotone.

Don't talk too loudly; cultivate a resonant voice with tone quality.

Look into the eyes of your audience and they will not see your gestures.

Be aggressive. Lean toward your audience with one foot advanced and hands at the side when not making gestures.

Epstein's Sermonette

Jacob Epstein, the noted American sculptor, is the idol of Bohemian London, and at a girls' tea party in a Chelsea studio he preached a characteristic little sermon.

"My text," he said, "is beauty. Beauty is the rarest gift a girl can possess."

The wisdom of Socrates is nothing beside a slim figure in a one-piece bathing suit.

"An arched foot and a round ankle are worth more to a girl in a short skirt than the culinary skill of Brillat-Savarin."

"And to a girl in a sea wind all the virtues of the Pentateuch are nothing beside the natural curl in the hair."

Lighting Up Fireflies

William Creighton of Princeton university has succeeded in "short-circuiting" fireflies so they will remain "lit." The scientist injected adrenalin with a tiny syringe between the segments of the body of the insects. This caused muscular contraction which produced a continuous supply of oxygen to the light-producing cells. Creighton says that heavy doses of the adrenalin have kept individual fireflies "lit up" for an entire day.

Later, however, these insects died. It was found that lighter doses of the chemical produce from three to four hours of steady light.

Canned Food Lasting

Food that had been canned for six years was opened recently and tested by a Dutch physician, Van Leersum. It was a meat hash, including onions and potatoes, and the doctor's conclusion was that the food was quite suitable for human consumption. The essential thing in canning, Doctor Van Leersum decided, was that all the air should be exhausted from the can in sealing. Oxygen, he said, was responsible for any corrosion that occurred.

Had Craze for Hoarding

After living for thirty years in sordid conditions on less than $2.50 a week, a woman of seventy-four, died at Manchester, England, recently leaving an estate of more than $250,000. She died without direct heirs and two cousins have administered the estate. She never allowed any one in the house and large sums of cash were found beside her deathbed. Her craze for hoarding began more than twenty years ago when her father left her $100,000.

"Time and Tide"

The word "tide" in this phrase is merely a synonym for time. It does not refer to the tides of the ocean, as commonly supposed. "Tide" is the Anglo-Saxon word for time. The old form is retained in such compounds as Christmas-tide and Whitsun-tide. "Time and tide wait for no man" means exactly the same, no more and no less, as "time waits for no man."—Exchange.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE VILLAGE COMMISSION.

Plymouth, Mich., Oct. 28, 1926
A regular meeting of the Commission in the Commission room of the Village Hall, Monday evening, October 28, 1926 at 7:00 p. m.

Present: Commissioners Fisher, Henderson, Hornbop and Pierce. Absent: President Robinson.

President Protem Fisher in the chair.

The minutes of the regular meeting of October 4th were approved as read except as to a question on the resolution for the rebate of taxes which was referred to Mr. Payton for opinion.

Mr. Chas. Robinson was present asking concerning the sewer to be placed on Forrest avenue, and relating the conditions of the basements in that locality. He was assured by the Commission that if it was at all practicable, relief would be given this fall.

Secretary Larkins of the Chamber of Commerce, was present and presented a letter which the Chamber of Commerce had received from the Stout Air Services, Inc. at Dearborn, asking for a landing field at Plymouth. The matter was referred to the Commissioners with reference to the possible use of the vacant land on the Plymouth road owned by the Village.

On motion the school district No. 1 of this village and township, was ordered to be assessed regular water rates beginning the first of October, and water meters were ordered to be installed in each school building.

The report of the auditing committee recommended the payment of the following bills:

AROUND ABOUT US

Dearborn is to have a new postoffice building.

A Lions Club has been organized at Brighton.

The village commission of Dearborn has received a petition signed by two hundred electors of that village, asking for the incorporation of Dearborn as the City of Dearborn.

A Brighton resident, J. I. Sutherland, owns a clock that is 106 years of age, and still keeping perfect time. It has been in his possession for 51 years, and during that time has been repaired but once. The time piece was purchased by Mrs. Sutherland's grandfather in 1820, in New York.

In the expansion planned for the Howell Electric Motors plant an addition of 7,000 feet of floor space will be added. The new building will connect the two main buildings which are some distance apart. The company has employed a steady growth since its organization some eleven years ago.

S. E. Barrett, Inlay township farmer, received $888 for his crop of potatoes grown on five acres. Barrett received $125 per bushel for the first few loads he brought to the market, but the most were sold for $1.00 a bushel. This five-acre netted him better than $175 an acre.—Orion Review.

Lennavee county will not join Wash-ton and Monroe county in the establishment of a joint tuberculosis sanitarium. The Lennavee county board of supervisors had their meeting recently and turned down the proposition to build and equip their own sanitarium. They purchased a tract of one hundred acres of ground for that purpose.

It is announced that the Packard Motor Car Company has bought 350 acres north of Utica, and will develop the same for a testing track or proving ground for automobiles. Work will begin this fall, it is stated. This probably means that the tract purchased some time ago near Milford by the Packard Company, is not to be used for proving ground purposes.

About thirty members of Northville Community, Knights Templar, attended the services at the M. E. church in Plymouth Sunday morning. The six knights marched from the new Masonic temple to the church. The services were interesting and inspiring and the sermon by the pastor was deeply appreciated by the large congregation present.—Northville Record.

Outside of any large city, the heaviest traveled road in Michigan and probably in the world is Wilder Woodward avenue between Royal Oak and Detroit. A count was made on Wilder Woodward on Sunday, August 22. In 11 hours that day 21,706 motor vehicles passed over the highway between Pontiac and Birmingham. During the same time between Royal Oak and Detroit 38,852 motor vehicles passed a given point. This is an average of 2,775 per hour.

The Board of Supervisors of Oakland County have adopted a road program for 1927 that calls for 67 miles of concrete and 16 gravel roads. Among the roads to be paved are the Commerce road from the Orchard Lake pavement to the village of Commerce, 7 1/2 miles; the south Millford road, 4 1/2 miles, from the Grand River pavement at New Hudson to connect with the pavement through Millford. Oakland county now has 187 miles of paved roads.

The Salem Federated church will begin for this season, on Wednesday evening, November 3rd, a series of monthly church nights, similar to those that were held last year. At each of these church nights, a fine dinner is served and the dinner is followed by an address by some person of note. Around the address is formulated a program of music, etc. The dinner for the November church night will be roast pork, etc. The speaker will be Mrs. Isabel Kinch, one of the foremost Farm Women in Michigan. The music will be on the high standard of past events. Everyone is urged to attend as the object is to make the church a service institution for the community.

Painter's Free Ride
A civilian painter climbed inside a new airplane at Rockwell field, San Diego, Calif., to do some painting and was soon busy at it. Five minutes later a pilot took the plane up for a test flight. He was about one thousand feet above Point Loma when he noticed a paint brush emerging from the fuselage. Behind the brush peered the painter, who took one look over the side and then withdrew to the safest spot he could find.

RESTORED TO LIFE BY HEART MASSAGE

Many Cases Known of Revival of Patients.

The recent case in which a woman who had died (that is to say, whose heart had ceased to beat) on the operating table at St. Thomas' hospital, London, was restored to life for 36 hours by massaging the heart is by no means unique, says a surgeon in the London Mail.

Death is a relative term. Because the heart has ceased to beat and the lungs to draw in fresh oxygen the remainder of the body is not necessarily dead. It remains rather in a state of suspended animation for a varying period and if by any outside means the heart can be persuaded to beat again (always provided that no wound or organic disease of any vital part is present, such as would suffice to cause real "death"), this temporary assistance may suffice to tide over the breakdown.

It was, characteristically enough, the surgeon of the great Napoleon, Baron Larrey, who paved the way for the operation of heart massage by taking at that time boldly the original view that a wound of the pericardium (the membranous bag inclosing the heart) was not necessarily fatal. Yet as late as 1875 it was asserted that even so simple a matter as "tapping" it for fluid was madness.

There was a dreaded bogey then—the fear of septic infection, and it is that very same fear that in practice almost narrows down the application of this method of restoration to cases of collapse on the operating table. The time available is short, for deprived of fresh blood and oxygen the tissues will soon be dead in very truth.

But the operation, simple though it be (it is a matter practically of a swift incision through the abdominal wall, another through the diaphragm and the insertion of a finger and thumb to squeeze rhythmically the apex of the heart), involves the opening of two great body cavities. Infection without proper sterilization would be a certainty, and sterilization takes time. Only in an operating theater that is already in action, where hands and instruments are already "surgically clean," would there be any hope of success.

Nevertheless, the tale of successes is a long one. In a series of 39 cases recorded by the American surgeon, Ricketts, 12 recovered permanently. In one of them the heart had stopped for 20 minutes.

Antiquity of Bare Knees

The flappers of Greece have every reason to be satisfied with the most recent revolution which has displaced Madam Pangalos from power as a dictator of fashions. That woman decreed a conservative covering up of knees, and it was troublesome for the flappers to be compelled to wear elastic waistbands in order that their skirts might be lowered every time a policeman approached. In this sort of bootlegging, if it may be called so, these girls of Greece were appealing to a tradition and a custom much older than the conservatism of Madam Pangalos. They may not know it, but Lycurgus, giver of laws, who is believed to have held power almost three thousand years ago, decreed that all Spartan girls should go bare kneed. We are not told that these young women covered them up, except when a policeman approached, but they probably did.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Utilizes All Seasons

A Maine citizen who has discovered a successful method of farming the year round is George V. Brown of Caribou. Mr. Brown raises a large crop of potatoes every year at Caribou, planting upward of thirty acres. These he takes to Florida, where he disposes of part of them to farmers there for seed, also planting twenty acres of his own, which he cares for during the winter months, marketing them to good advantage later.

Ocean Resting Places

Edward R. Armstrong of Philadelphia is the inventor of a "sandbar" which, he says, can be anchored in the Atlantic ocean to serve as an air-plane base and will make trans-oceanic flights practical. The floating field is equipped with buoys and resistance disks, which give great lightness and at the same time are only slightly affected by winds and waves. He has been working on the model for twenty years.

Painter's Free Ride

A civilian painter climbed inside a new airplane at Rockwell field, San Diego, Calif., to do some painting and was soon busy at it. Five minutes later a pilot took the plane up for a test flight. He was about one thousand feet above Point Loma when he noticed a paint brush emerging from the fuselage. NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES By Gladys Allen

The sixth graders have been telling ghost stories.

Mrs. Sharpe visited school Wednesday, to select a Safety Patrol to attend the luncheon at Hotel Statler on Friday, October 29.

On account of Miss Grimm's illness, Miss Clemens is substituting in the primary room.

Clarence Levandowski is working on Lesson 33 of Courtis drills.

The citizenship clubs have selected their codes and sent them to the Commissioner's office.

Thursday, Miss Ollphant of Wayne County Library, brought twenty-five books for the intermediate room, and told the children the story of "Bou-jake."

Edna Greer has been absent because of removal of tonsils.

NAME OF "GIRAFFE" TRACED TO ARABIA

Animal Mentioned in Book of Deuteronomy.

Where did the very first giraffe's name come from?

That's interesting in view of the fact that we want a name for Washington's new giraffe, but it's a hard one to answer. We can only go back as far as recorded history carries us, and we must suppose that up to that time they had no particular names, although it seems reasonable to believe that the cavemen of Africa called them something.

Anyhow, about the first record we find showing that men were interested in giraffes is in the Bible. In the Book of Deuteronomy there is repeated reference to a creature which the Jews called the "zemer," literally translated into English, that means something like a chamol.

So, probably the first known name for a giraffe was "zemer." There is not much apparent similarity between the chamols of South America and the giraffe of Africa, is there? But that name probably developed from the fact that the giraffe's skin is very tough and very soft, something like that of the chamol.

The first time a giraffe was ever known to be in anything resembling a zoo was in the days of Caesar. Ancient history tells how strange, tall animals were exhibited in the same amphitheaters, where the Romans used to throw the defenseless Christians to the savage lions. But the Romans called them "camelopard."

In some parts of the world that name is still used to some extent. If you have ever seen a giraffe you can easily guess how the Romans got the name "camelopard." A giraffe has long legs and neck like a camel, yet it is spotted like a leopard. So it is a logical name after all. But such a name was only descriptive, it meant nothing at all.

Our word "giraffe" is really much better. It is not only descriptive of the animal's color, but it gives him a definite place in the animal kingdom. It was taken from the Arabic word, "Zarafah," which means "tallest of all animals." The Arabs still call giraffes "za-ra-fahs," and it is not at all unlikely that their name is even older than that used by the Jews, although we have no records to prove that.

We are told that giraffes were once plentiful over most of Africa. They were such inoffensive, friendly creatures, however, that they became easy prey for the natives and Arabs in the old days, and where they once roamed in great herds they have almost been exterminated, representing now one of the most valuable of all animals.

Their flesh provided the natives with ample quantities of delicious meat, and their tough hides, when cleaned and dried, served numerous purposes, from making good, tough ropes to offering an easy means of rainproofing the roof of a native home. It was not uncommon even a few years ago to see as many as 40 giraffes in a single herd. Six or seven is about the limit now.—Washington Star.

New Word to Her

"Choose your words carefully if you would be understood by your servants," is the recommendation of a housekeeper who recently had the following experience. She was especially fond of the small white peaches and had not yet seen any on the market. One evening when her cook started out, she remarked: "If you should by any chance see any of the small white peaches in passing through the market or any of the stores, buy them, and I'll reimburse you when get home." The reply came: "Sure, Miss Alice, I'll buy the peaches, all right, but what I want to know is, 'What is it that you is going to do to me when I get home?'"

Tit for Tat

A father was trying to make some confidential remarks to a visiting friend. His little son was playing near.

"If we could be alone," said the father to his visitor, "I would tell you something." The little boy did not move.

"No one must hear," continued the father. The boy sat still.

"Jimmy," said the father, "can't you take the hint that we want you to go away?"

"Yes, daddy," replied the boy, "but can't you take the hint that I want to stay?"

SOUTH SALEM

Mrs. Bordline of Morenci, visited her daughter, Mrs. Mayford Sleiff, a few days last week.

Don't forget the dance at the town hall for the benefit of the Lapham's school, this week Saturday night, October 30th. Good music and a good supper included.

Born, October 18th, to Mr. and Mrs. George Slyfield, Jr., a son, George Thomas, Jr. II.

The Lapham P. T. A. met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Baumgartner. A nice program was given and a good supper served. About forty were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Falot and family started Monday morning for Tampa, Florida, where they expect to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. John VanBonn and children spent Sunday in Detroit.

Miss Norma Savery is in Detroit this week-end to attend a Halloween party at the home of her cousin, Carol Savery.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dolecek, Mr. and Mrs. John Hansen spent one evening last week at the home of George Slyfield, Sr., before they move to their new home in Northfield.

WHITBECK'S CORNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rongert and daughter, also Mr. and Mrs. Gale and daughter of Ypsilanti, were guests Saturday and Sunday of friends at Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hanchett and Mrs. Parrish were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wagenshutz on the Five Mile road.

Otto Kaiser and Clarence Hix have gone on a hunting trip to a lake near Cadillac, where they own some cottages.

Louis Kaiser and two children, Norman and Madelyn, were calling on Mrs. Agnes Parrish, Sunday morning. Mrs. Walter Schiffe and Mrs. Wagenshutz, accompanied by their grandmother, spent Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hanchett of Perrisville.

Mrs. Parrish visited Mrs. Robert Johnston and Mrs. Yester at King's Corners, last Thursday.

Mrs. Kaiser, Sr., is still very poorly at this writing, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Livingway.

Kenneth and Hazel Kohnitz of Detroit, were calling on Louis Kaiser and family recently.

The Helping Hand society will hold their meeting and bazaar at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Belman, next Wednesday, November 3rd. A chicken supper will be served.

BEECH

The annual chicken supper and bazaar, given by the L. A. S. of the church will be held Saturday evening, November 6th. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to come and enjoy a good supper, and there will be lots of fancy work, aprons and quilts for sale. Supper, 75c for adults; 50c for children.

The Italy Day exercises held at the church, last Sunday evening, conducted by Mrs. DeFoe and Mrs. Tuck were fine. A good crowd attended.

NEWBURG

October 24th being Good Literature Sunday, Rev. Walker gave a splendid sermon on the subject. The young people are keeping up an interest in the choir. Miss Anna Youngs leads the singing in the Sunday-school. The superintendent announced there would be a Thanksgiving party in the hall, the date to be announced later. The Epworth League is to take up Mission study. The leaders are Alice Gilbert, Joy McNabb and Elizabeth Leonard.

The Halloween party given under the auspices of the Epworth League, will be held at the L. A. S. hall, this week Saturday evening. An admission fee of 15c will be charged by the Spooks and Goldies having charge of it. Refreshments will be served, and a hilarious time is guaranteed. The Hoodlums will convene at 7:00 o'clock.

The L. A. S. will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. L. Gussolly next week Wednesday, November 3rd. Dinner will be served at noon. Committee in charge—Mesdames Don Ryder, Mackinder, Chilson, Geney and Carney. The mite-boxes will be opened at this time. Money to apply on the interest. Gentlemen especially invited.

The L. A. S. home-coming and fair was a decided success, all doing well in the various booths. The receipts from the supper and booths were $226.35, 235 being served. There were a number of former residents and old friends. Following is a partial list of those from Detroit and elsewhere: Mr. and Mrs. A. Zanders, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laus, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gimore, Merritt Lemm, Miss Lena Johnson, Miss Ethyl Neelands, Mrs. Mabel Beaman Lacey, Mrs. Beckholt and daughters, Tillie and Dora, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Housington and Mrs. Helen LeVan Coleman, all of Detroit; Rev. and Mrs. Paul R. Havens and daughter, Vivian of Pontiac; Mrs. Sarah Rice Campbell of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bassett and Mrs. Elth Wright and daughter, Marjorie of Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. James Joy of New Hudson; Mrs. R. Lewis of Chelsea; Mrs. Blanche LeVan of Ann Arbor; and Mrs. Bert Dodge of Northville. The L. A. S. wish to thank all those who so kindly assisted in any way, especially the Plymouth Mail for advertising. The thirty-fifth annual fair and home-coming was a success.

Remember the date of the bazaar, Friday, November 5th, at the Gleaner hall, held by the Livonia Community church.

Mrs. Robert Holmes entertained Rev. Walker; also their son, Lawrence who is attending the Normal at Ypsilanti, and a friend, Miss Jean Quinn of Ypsilanti, for Sunday dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ryder and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith motored to South Lyon, Sunday afternoon, calling on Mrs. Louben Barnes, finding her quite feeble. They also called on James King at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. George West of Mass., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lomas.

Mrs. W. R. Greer underwent an operation for the removal of tonsils, last Saturday morning.

J. Horton and daughter, Gladys have moved into their house and store on the Federal road.

Mr. Turnbull and two nieces, Misses Ethel and Esther Turnbull, of Port Huron, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Carney.

Henry and Irvin Tuttle have endowed their family lot in Newburg cemetery.

Lyle and Earl Ryder and Henry Grimm and Fred Schmidt went hunting near South Lyon, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith visited relatives at St. John's, the forepart of the week.

Mrs. Sarah Rice Campbell of Birmingham, spent last Friday night with Mrs. Ann Farwell.

Miss Ethyl Neelands, Mrs. Mable Lacey and Mrs. Classic Burnett of Detroit, and Miss Reddeman, Mrs. Waterman and Mr. and Mrs. Rucker of Plymouth, were recent callers of Mrs. Mackinder.

The third annual "Harvest Party," given by the "railroad traffic managers" at the Gleaners' hall, Monday of last week, was the biggest party ever held at Newburg, there being over 300 present, including guests from Battle Creek, Lansing, Port Huron and Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rousseau and Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Gates were guests from Newburg. Patterson's orchestra supplied the music.

Mrs. J. F. Rousseau entertained the choir members, Friday evening last.

The ladies of the Altar Society of O. L. G. C. met at the home of Mrs. J. F. Rousseau on Wednesday of last week. A harvest party was planned, to be held at the Gleaners' hall on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kahrl and family attended the wedding of Miss Bessie Krumm and L. J. Clemens, last Saturday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Krumm, in Detroit.

MASQUERADE AT SALEM SATURDAY NIGHT, OCTOBER 30.

A mistake was made in last week's paper in giving the date for the Lapham school masquerade dance at Salem town hall for Friday evening, October 29th, when it should have read Saturday evening, October 30th. A good orchestra will furnish the music. Everybody come and help swell the P. T. A. fund.

If Winter Comes

Do You Need a New Furnace?
Is Your Plumbing in Need of Additions or Repairs?
Is Your Roof in Condition for the Long Winter Snows?
Do You Need a New Garage for an Extra Car?
Does Your House Need Painting or Decorating?

The chances are that your answer is yes to one or more of these questions, but the big question is, how can I do it? The man who has established himself favorably by his past credit habits, which is a matter of record with the Plymouth Credit Bureau, can readily avail himself of an easy payment plan with many of its members.

Better Understanding Between Merchants and Credit Buyers

is the primary object of the Bureau. The customer needs credit to enjoy many of the better things in modern life; the merchants need money to purchase these things for the customer. If he knows with reasonable assurance when he may expect his money he can better anticipate the customer's needs.

Credit Is An Endless Chain
A Chain Is As Strong Only As Its Weakest Link

If the merchant cannot depend upon his customers' promptness, the chain is broken and the effect is apparent from Raw Material Producers to Ultimate Consumers.

The Bureau's office is constantly open for consultation on credit problems to either Merchants or Customers.

This Railroad Plant of Ours and What it Means to You

AMERICAN railroads are hauling more freight than at any time in their history. They have averaged over a million loaded cars per week during the current year. This service consists in moving commodities from the point of production to the one of consumption. It is a tremendous work that has been done and it establishes a new high transportation record for the world. That service has been performed with regularity, uniformity and dispatch. Through these, the business of the country has been given added impetus. It has been estimated that through the improved service a saving of one and a half billions of dollars per annum has accrued to the people of the United States over the service that obtained in 1920. This sum represents the advantages gained through the orderly manner in which our railroads are now functioning. Our railroads have attained the highest record for the average daily movement of freight cars ever reached, and, likewise the best performance in use of fuel. So much for the new record of the railroad of the United States.

THE plant, which comprises the railroads that serve Michigan's varied industries, has contributed its share in this proud national achievement, and in the saving of one and a half billions of dollars, through lessened inventories carried by our business institutions and made possible by the accelerated service. This has been achieved, too, while facilitating the even flow of production as well as the orderly diffusion of commodities. Michigan has received great tangible benefits, since it is now a veritable beehive of industrial activity. Michigan will continue to progress only so long as its railroads continue to enjoy the undivided support of the communities they serve. Michigan people, as a whole, farmer and manufacturer, preacher and teacher, office employee and laborer, are cashing in through this new outlook on transportation, so vital to the public weal and welfare. Our people will continue to cash in only so long as this understanding is maintained. We have much to gain—the people and the railroads alike—in prolonging this understanding. We can keep Michigan in the vanguard of economic importance only through the continued expansion of our industries and by keeping our railroads just ahead of the country's transportation needs.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper visited relatives in Detroit, Friday.

Russell Partridge went to Lansing, Sunday, and on Monday took up studies at the M. S. C.

Mrs. Cora Rogers of Alma, Mich., is visiting at the home of her cousin, Mrs. H. J. Dye.

The Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church, will meet immediately after morning service, next Sunday.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Huston at Birmingham.

Al. Greseover, John Sweitzer, Sumner McCoy, Clarence Wolfgram, Carl Ash and Harry Pankow left Saturday night for a two weeks' hunting trip in the north woods.

About thirty relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. M. M. Willett, Thursday, helping her celebrate her birthday. A pot-luck dinner was served at noon, and a social afternoon was enjoyed.

Following the Illinois game, last Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple were guests of Miss Frances T. Gill at a dinner dance at Barton Hills Country Club in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Ruth E. Huston Whipple attended the League of Women Voters birthday party for first voters at the Women's City Club in Detroit, last Friday. Mrs. Franklin S. Roosevelt of New York City, and Mrs. Stanley Baldwin of Washington, D. C., were the principal speakers.

The Wolverine Athletic Club of Plymouth went down to defeat before Jack Dunn's Soldiers at the Northville fair grounds last Sunday. The Wolverines' aerial work was the feature of the game. The final score was 12 to 3. A drop kick by Ralph Wood gave the Wolverines their three points.

A meeting was held last Tuesday evening, by the Wolverine Athletic Club, in their new club room in the Woodworth Building, and the following officers were elected: President, Harold Stevens; vice president, Lee Asdell; secretary, Clifford Cline; treasurer, Douglas Carruthers; Manager of Sports, James Wood; custodian of equipment, Glen Arnold.

Those from away who were here to attend the funeral of S. H. Hills, Wednesday, were: L. R. Hills of Bolivar, N. Y.; Alfred and Arthur Hills of Friendship, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Frazer of Waukeon, Ohio; Mr. and William Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Lewis, Howard Hills and Mrs. Turner of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Honey and Mr. and Mrs. Hilborn of Detroit.

C. A. Sperling, wife and daughter, V. P. Cpton, wife and two children and Mrs. Alice Johnson of Lyons, Michigan, have been spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Johnson of this place. They motored to Plymouth in two completely equipped homes on wheels. In other words they have constructed upon a Ford chassis a regular home with all modern conveniences. A representative of the Mail had the pleasure of being shown these two homes, and they certainly have everything that we have seen along this line. Every convenience found in the modern home has been provided for. They expect to make a trip to Florida the coming winter.

ELM

The temporary school building is being erected at Elm, and will be ready for school in a short time.

The issue to divide School District No. 6, Livonia, was voted down, Wednesday evening, October 20th.

The offer made by Sheldon Sons Co. of ten lots in section No. 34, for a school site and the option to purchase ten adjoining lots, were accepted by the electors of District No. 6, Tuesday evening, October 26th. A new building will be erected on this site, within a year (or as soon as funds are available), making two school buildings for District No. 6, Livonia township.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Burk are the proud parents of a little son, born October 26th. Mother and son are getting along very nicely.

Richard Smith, Jr., returned to school this week, having recovered from his illness of a severe cold.

Nelson Bentley is now ill with the flu.

Mrs. George Bentley attended the first meeting of the Beech Parent-Teacher Association, held Friday evening, October 22nd, at which time the association was organized. The officers elected were: Mrs. Petoskey, president; Mrs. DeFoe, vice president; Mrs. Gladys Tuck, secretary; and Mrs. Albert Custer, treasurer.

Friends of Mrs. Clyde Ford of Dearborn, formerly Camilla Glass, will be glad to know of the arrival of a little son, Addison Clyde Ford, born October 14th.

Harold Douglas has gone on a short hunting trip.

This is the opening of a very sad time for the little animal folk of the woodlands, as many are taking out their guns for the open season.

PONTIAC SIX $825 SEDAN or COUPE

You need to drive a Pontiac Six for only thirty minutes to discover abilities and qualities absolutely unique at the price.

You experience a mastery of performance once undreamed of in any low-cost six—acceleration that borders on the sensational, lagging power and sustained high speed capacity that would be impossible save for the fact that the Pontiac Six engine is the largest six-cylinder power plant used in any car costing less than $1000.

Yet, unprecedented as they are, these performance results only typify the pronounced over-all superiority that has made Pontiac Six such a spectacular success from the day of its presentation.

In the beauty of its Fisher bodies, in its supreme roadability, in its economy of operation and its unflinching stamina, the Pontiac Six represents a decisive departure from the standards that once ruled in the field of low-cost sizes—

—a fact that you can prove to your own satisfaction by a thirty minute drive—at any time, under any condition.

The Modern Idea in WATCHES

THE modern idea in watches is FIRST a good "Time Piece". After that comes refinements of manufacture and design. Time has made clear to us, for example, that when a father buys a watch, he wants it to last longer than his OWN life. He wants to give it to his son, in turn.

This store has always specialized in "Time Pieces". As the minutes tick off, we care less about adornment than accuracy. Here you will find the dependable makes—priced acquisitions for the generations to come. And there are the daintiest, prettiest watches for women, too—new models, new designs. It will be worth your while to come and see them.

We wish to call your attention to the W. W. W. line of Guaranteed Fees, just in. Never were such pearls offered at this price and with such a guarantee. Then there are the new White Gold 18-K diamond rings, engagement rings, wedding rings—and mountings we can make for you, if your present rings are frankly "out of style".

SCHOOL NOTES

Domestic Art and Science
The eleventh and twelfth grades economics class has been making scrap books of Roman and Greek costumes. They are bringing it down to the time of the American Indian.
The girls have been interested in a cotton exhibit using posters to show how cotton is planted and how it grows. They have classified cotton into five different kinds, namely: (1) The raw cotton; (2) the cotton ginning; (3) the better cotton; (4) the still better cotton, and (5) absorbent cotton.

Samples of materials, which are cotton dyed in a piece and cotton dyed when it is a thread, have been shown to the students.

Freshman Reception

The seniors gave the freshmen a reception at 7:30 on Friday, October 22. They had a large attendance. To start things, four one-act plays were given. After this, half an hour was spent in games. All danced while the seniors furnished music. Each senior girl had a freshman boy and girl. The refreshments consisted of pumpkin pie with whipped cream, and cider.

Aggie Club

The following were initiated Monday: A. Wagenschutz, E. Spicer, W. Hank, D. Meinzinger, K. Miller, M. Taylor, R. Cochran, H. Travis, L. Krauter.

G. Sayles is the representative of the Aggie Club to the Student Council.

In the ninth and tenth grade cooking classes the students have been working on the main dishes for lunches.

They have also been doing a little body studying. They have been keeping their own weight, and they know if there is any loss or gain during the week.

They are studying what happens to the food they eat as it passes through the body, and how each different class of food has its own function in the body.

Grade Notes

The names on the spelling honor roll in the 4-A and 5-B for last week, are:

Eileen Drayton, Marian Kilnski, John Mandl, Arden Sackett, Halvor Burden, Margaret Miller and Harold Schmidt.
The 4-A and 5-B in Mrs. Mole's room have made covers for their geography booklets in regular drawing lessons. They will finish the booklets next week.

Mrs. Bird's fifth grade classes observed Carlton Day. Corinne Rathburn gave a speech on Will Carleton. Miss Orr's classes have learned the poem of "The Golden Rod."

The boys of the sixth grade played foot ball with the boys of the seventh grade, and the score was 13 and 0 in favor of the sixth grade boys.

At the beginning of each week Miss Hallahan's sixth graders learn a memory poem. Steve Dudek is leading the spelling contest in the room.

—Leah R. Lake

The first A and second B take more interest in their work since they are trying to keep their high marks in effort. These are on a chart in the room.

Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. William Rice and Mrs. Lockwood were visitors in the first B grade this week.

The advanced class in this grade are reading in the new Elson Primer, and are also making books which correlate with their reading. They are to have a Halloween party on Thursday afternoon.

Edward Norris from Springfield, Ill. entered this week.

Twenty-four pupils out of forty from the third grade, were given the toxin-antitoxin last Tuesday.

Mrs. Kenneth Kimball and Mrs. Walter Schille visited the room this week.

Thursday afternoon the children of the 2-B grade enjoyed a Halloween party. They have been learning to play friendly games, and drawing pictures of them. Mrs. C. Smith and Mrs. B. Ambros visited the room.

The room is divided into Fairies and Brownies. The girls are the Fairies and the boys the Brownies. They are having a contest, and the boys are trying to keep ahead of the girls. Mrs. Fred H. King, Mrs. Norgrove and Mrs. Madison visited the second A grade this week.

—Lavina Holmes

Seventh Grade Domestic Art Classes

The seventh grade Domestic Art classes are working on a rug project for their room. The girls have written themes describing their own bedrooms and their imaginary bedrooms. The rugs are to be made of materials from their mothers' scrap bags. Some rugs are of various colors while others carry the colors of the girls' rooms. Rugs are made of three strips of material braided together, forming the shape of the rug desired.

Eighth Grade Domestic Science Class

The eighth grade Domestic Science classes are still working on the bread fast unit. The girls have considered cereals and their importance in the diet. It is interesting to know that cereals furnish one-third of our food. They are so important that in any country a shortage of grain usually means a famine.

Camp Fire Girls

Camp Tahiti, of which Miss Grant is guardian, means "Beautiful Country." The camp contains the following girls: Elizabeth Burrows, Marguerite Wood, Dana Gallimore, Lucille Ebert, Veda Larkins, Jane Jewell, Georgina Mitchell, Irene Livingston, Camilla Ashton, Mary McKinnon, Janet Blickenstaff, Alice Chambers, Zephania Blank and Dorothy Fisher.

Each of the fourteen girls has chosen a name which symbolizes either qualities, characteristics pertaining to themselves or that which they desire to attain. The first individual camp meetings will be held Tuesday, at which time the girls will be taken into full membership, providing they fulfill the requirements. One of the requirements is that the annual dues of one dollar must be earned.

Miss Staffmaster's camp has chosen the name "Chickadee," which means "By the Lake." Several of the girls have already selected their camp fire names, giving thought to their own personality and character. The girls in this camp are as follows: Mary Haskell, Ellen Smith, Doris Jewell, Jennette McLeod, Virginia Giles, Elaine Hamilton, Virginia Woodworth, Helen Gosbel, Lucille Heiny, Georgiana Gricher, Evelyn Starkweather, Margaret Sackett, Mary Ellen Corcoran, Esther Vickery and Margaret Haskell.

Miss Smith has not yet chosen her camp's name, but hopes to soon. The girls in her camp are as follows: Jean Strong, Clarice Hamilton, Doris Dietrich, Elizabeth Strong, Betty Jane Robinson, Katherine Nield, Doris Hamill, Bernert Kilgore, Marian Gust, Jewell Bouzert, Marion Hadley, Marian Teft and Madeline Shingleton.

The girls are more interested in their new work because more girls are given an opportunity to be members.

—Ellen Smith

Household Mechanics

One of the two classes in Household Mechanics is designing and making of concrete a miniature model of a septic tank, complete with valves and pipes. The other class is designing a cement bird bath which will be constructed in school.

Manual Arts

The Manual Arts classes had a contest to see who could print the best poster for the foot ball game. Bruce Miller, seventh grade, and Maxwell Todd, eighth grade, had the best posters, and each received a free ticket to the foot ball game with Ford Trade school.

—Lester Daly

Boy Scouts

The Scout meeting Thursday night began the reorganization of patrols. Clyde Ferguson and Ford Smith were voted to become Scouts. Last Saturday the Scouts went on a hike.

October 30th, they are going on a mystery hike. Through the Detroit Council with which they are affiliated, this hike is to be the greatest hike in the history of the Boy Scouts of America. There are to be twenty-five thousand Scouts, and two hundred Scoutmasters. There is expected to be about six hundred automobiles, forming a parade and touring through to Camp Brady, where the mystery events will be held.

JOHN S. HAGGERTY FOR SECRETARY OF STATE.

John S. Haggerty, Republican candidate for Secretary of State at the November 2 election, is one of the best known business men and financiers in Detroit. He was born in Wayne county sixty years ago, and has always resided in this county. His father was a farmer and young John learned all the intricate methods of farming in the early days on his father's farm as a young boy. He attended the Springwells Township school with Henry Ford, where they received their entire scholastic training.

It was while Mr. Haggerty was serving as a member of the Wayne County Road Commissioners that he got the idea of a concrete road. His comrades on the commission did not agree with him at first, but he finally prevailed upon them and the first strip of concrete road in the world was built on Woodward avenue between the Six-mile and Seven-mile roads. Now there are thousands of miles of concrete road in every country in the world. As the originator of the concrete road, Mr. Haggerty is already qualified to act as the chairman of the road building committee of the state administrative board, which job he will have as secretary of state.

Mr. Haggerty has been a life-long Republican. He has served the party in many capacities, and is at present Chairman of the Wayne County Republican committee, and treasurer of the Republican State Central Committee. His nomination at the recent Republican State convention for secretary of state is evidence that he is well and favorably known in the ranks of the Republican party.

Mr. Haggerty has never married, but he has raised and educated more than 100 poor children, there being 19 in his Detroit home at the present time, and others receiving their education at many schools and colleges.

Mr. Haggerty is of a retiring and modest disposition, never talking of his own achievements, but there are thousands in Michigan today who owe their success in life to Mr. Haggerty's generosity, his friends say.

WATERFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waterman and family entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frank Magraw of Plymouth, and Mrs. Mary Louie for Sunday dinner.

Katherine and Donald Waterman are on the sick list this week.

John Ethier of Detroit, spent the week-end at Joseph Denton's.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gotts and children of Ypsilanti, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gotts, Thursday, Mrs. Gotts' mother, Mrs. Robert Bechtel, returning home with them.

Arthur Bechtel and Raymond Van-Dyke of Detroit, spent Thursday at Arthur Gotts'.

The Home Management Club, which is an extension course given by the Michigan State College, met with Mrs. Albert Ebersole, last Wednesday, and was greatly enjoyed by all who attended. The club will meet with Mrs. Earl Gray in Plymouth, November 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peck and son, Charles, of Hastings, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Arthur Gotts.

Miss Helen Waterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Waterman of this place, and Fred Gotts, son of Charles Gotts, of Northville, were united in marriage, Saturday afternoon, October 23rd, at the Methodist parsonage in Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Krumm and family attended the wedding of Miss Bessie Krumm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Krumm, and L. J. Clemens, at the home of the bride's parents in Detroit, last Saturday evening.

CHERRY HILL ENTERTAINS ZONE A.

Last Saturday, Cherry Hill held the meeting for Zone A. At the morning meeting the visitors were: Mrs. Sharpe, school nurse; Miss Gwinn, social worker; Miss Corbett, home demonstration agent; Mr. Carr, club leader, and Mr. Fisher, assistant commissioner.

The P. T. A. served a wonderful dinner in the hall above the store. The speakers during the dinner hour were: Miss Howe, Miss Corbett and Mr. Carr.

At the afternoon meeting there were twenty-five patrons of the Cherry Hill district and seven from Briggs district. This meeting was opened by singing, "America the Beautiful." The minutes of the last meeting were read. Roll was taken. Mrs. Ada Watson invited the zone to Briggs school for the next meeting on November 20th. Miss West played two enjoyable piano solos. The play, "Earth's Magic," was given very well by the Cherry Hill pupils.

Mr. Fisher called our attention to the institute in Detroit on October 28, 29 and 30. Then he surprised us by giving a speech of encouragement to the teachers.

Dr. McElroy of Detroit Teachers' College, spoke on "Counseling the Citizens' Team." He is an enjoyable, educative and interesting speaker.

We adjourned by singing, "Dixie."

BRIGGS SCHOOL NOTES

(By Evelyn Huttenbar, Sixth Grade) Viola Yatey entered school, Monday, October 25th.

Mrs. Watson and her sixth graders and Mrs. Wolf were at the zone meeting at Cherry Hill, last Saturday. We had a very enjoyable time.

The Lute children and the Reding children were absent from school on account of picking up potatoes all of last week.

We have a pretty Halloween border of pumpkin faces on our blackboard.

WORK OF SCHOLAR OF THIRD CENTURY?

Michigan University Prizes Bible Fragment.

An ancient scholar, probably the leader of a church, was writer or copyist of the earliest fragments of the text of the Bible known to exist, says Dr. Henry A. Sanders of the classical language department of the University of Michigan.

Doctor Sanders has spent two years working over the bit of browned papyrus, the most cherished item of the large collection of papyrus in the University of Michigan.

"It is written in the Greek of the common people," says Doctor Sanders, "this distinguishing it from the 'luxury city editions' of the complete Bibles of Antioch, Alexandria and Caesarea, in which the fine penmanship of the clerk or copyist was the observed characteristic." It has at the end of each phrase a little mark above the line. This Doctor Sanders construes to have been for the direction of the readers in the church to show the phrasing. It is the only punctuation observed.

The date of writing of the fragment is placed in the Third century or the century preceding that in which the city editions were copied. The text is a part of Matthew, telling of the Last Supper and the betrayal of Jesus Christ. It came into the possession of the university two years ago through the activities of its Near East research organization.

The first writing of the Bible was in the Greek of the common people, Doctor Sanders declares, as it was among the common people speaking and writing Greek that the faith had its first followers. It was written from 50 to 90 A. D. and he places the time of collection at before 138 A. D.

Later the faith appealed to the educated Greeks and the copying of the men of education is in a better handwriting and with corrections in the language. The late Third or Fourth century witnessed the copying of the Bible and establishes correctness of what Doctor Sanders calls the "luxury city editions." It is from these copies that the King James and other editions of the Bible have been made up, he says.

"In general," says Doctor Sanders, "the earliest known fragment of the Bible establishes the correctness of the earliest translations into the old Latin and the old Syrian languages as this earliest bit of scholastic Greek differs less in meaning with them than with the Fourth century copyings into Greek."

His Toe Slumbers On

"A strange thing happened on my vacation," a North end man remarked as he stamped on his right foot. "You see I drove my car 1,800 miles altogether. During that time I had to keep my foot on the accelerator. I noticed after the first day that the great toe of my right foot developed the sensations of 'being asleep.' Well, that kept up from day to day, and when I had a rest for a couple of days before starting back it made no difference, that toe remained asleep. Coming back the same conditions prevailed, and when I walked about any place I had little or no feeling in that toe. Since my return the condition has been virtually unchanged. Only in the last couple of days has the toe shown signs of waking up."—Detroit News.

Chief Dresses Once a Year

Clothing is despised by the Bush negroes of Dutch Guiana, but the gramman, supreme head of the tribes, dons the garb of civilization once a year when he goes to present himself to the governor of Surinam in Paramaribo.

On one of his visits, the discomfort of wearing clothes, especially shoes, was so great that the moment his audience with the governor was concluded, the gramman hurried out and removed his shoes, relates a writer in Travel. A photographer had arrived with a camera to take a picture of the reception and the finished photograph shows the Bush negro leader in full regalia, occupying a prominent position in front of the government house in his bare feet.

Oliver Twist's Old Home

The British ministry of health took over an old workhouse and farm at Claydon, near Ipswich, last November, and converted it into a training place for settlement in the Dominions of some of the thousands of young men drawing the dole.

The workhouse, built in 1776, is traditionally the place where Oliver Twist "asked for more." The men, about 200 in number, 50 of whom are destined for work on Australian farms—have been at Claydon for four and a half months. For hardening the muscles, renewing physical fitness, and restoring confidence, the experiment has proved a success.

Rowing or Not Rowing?

There is considerable question as to whether a man is rowing or not rowing in a novel boat invented by a Spaniard. According to Science and Invention Monthly, a rowing movement is performed on a pair of staves fitted like oars. However, these sticks do not touch the water, but are attached to a series of clutches and flywheels which rotate a propeller in the stern.

Although much more speed can be obtained than with the ordinary row-boat, the person operating it does not have to exert himself any more.

Public Careless of Money

Since June 10, 1876, when Charles F. Becker of Philadelphia found a 1856 nickel on top of a slot machine at the centennial, Mr. Becker has found $206.35 dropped by careless people in public places. He enters in a diary every coin or piece of money he finds and has never parted with any of it. He has his finds filed in a wooden box. The number of times he has found money in one year ranges from six times in 1906 to fifty-eight times in 1923. He has found money fifty-three times this year and hopes to beat his 1923 record.

Progress and Approval

For Dodge Brothers, Inc., 1926 already stands out on the calendar as a year of unprecedented progress and success.

From January to date sales have exceeded any previous year's total by a margin at once impressive and significant.

New engineering records have been established by a succession of major improvements extending back to the first of the year.

Never has Dodge Brothers Motor Car ranked so high in public favor. Never before has it so richly deserved the world's good will.

Before You Start Your Furnace

AT THIS season of chilly mornings and evenings health and comfort alike call for some means of heating bathroom and living room. You may not care to start the furnace yet and possibly overheat the house on warm days—and it certainly is a bother to clean out the furnace and start a new fire.

The electric air heater helps out in these 'betwixt and between' fall days. It will take off the edge of the first chill of fall; and it is often convenient to use for auxiliary heating during the winter. The small heater costs about three cents an hour for current. Turned on and off in an instant.

RIDGE ROAD CLUB FINISHES WORK

CANNING AND FOOD STUDY ACHIEVEMENTS REVIEWED IN INTERESTING PROGRAM.

Ridge Road Canning and Food Study, composed of nineteen members doing canning club work and seven members doing food study club work, held their Local Achievement meeting at the home of Lenore Hauk on the Ridge road, Superior township, Friday evening.

The program for the evening was in the nature of a Commencement program throughout. The first number was a song, followed by the president's address, given by Frances LeForge; this was followed by the history of the club, which was very cleverly given by Miss Leona Gale. A well written club song was sung by the members. LaVerne Freeman, first year canning club member, gave the canning club prophecy, which prophesied in great length what the future of some of the members will be in canning and food study club work. Miss Harriet Wilder, assistant state club leader, had the part of guffonian, announcing the local champions in canning and food study club work, as well as presenting each member with her achievement card for having finished her year's work. The class will be read by Lenore Hauk, in a very appropriate manner, disposing of everything that had given the canning club trouble during their year's work. A cleverly read class poem was read by Arley Elliott; this was followed by a short talk by County Club Agent H. S. Osler.

The canning club with a membership of nineteen finished 100 per cent, the food study club also finished 100 per cent. The two clubs were under the leadership of Miss Leona Gale, who was also a club member.

The local champions of the Food Study Club were: Dorothy Zimmerman, first; Leona Gale, second; Frances LeForge, third. In the canning club project, first year honors went to Helen Staehler; second year Ella Dickerson; third year, LaVerne Freeman. Second year canning club, first place, Dorothy Zimmerman; second place, Lenore Hauk; third, Frances and Virginia LeForge, tie. Third year canning club work, first place, Leona Gale; second place, Electa Murray; third place, Mary Murray. Fourth year canning club, first place, Arley Elliott.—Daily Ypsilantian-Press.

Today's Reflections

About the only thing around the house the average Plymouth man can claim for his own are the bills.

Why is it that a whole lot of people would rather have their own way than be happy?

After wondering thousands of years how to fix their hair, women finally decided to cut it off.

Wouldn't it be fine if the farmers around Plymouth could take the tons of advice they receive and use it for fertilizer.

Those who really have nothing to worry about seem to worry about twenty-four hours a day.

With the experience he has gained in 90 years, "Uncle Joe" Cannon ought to be able to live another ten years.

Our tip to the Plymouth man who is getting married, is to buy his wife such fine china that she'll never trust him to wipe the dishes.

We never expected to live to see the day when a girl wearing a heavy petticoat would be almost as out of date as wearing hoopskirts.

One way to keep from being run over by an automobile is to get a job on a police force.

No man in Plymouth can be classed as an old bachelor until he begins to worry for fear some woman will marry him.

We begin to see why European nations fight so many wars. It's the easiest way to open a charge account.

When a man reads a newspaper while driving an auto, he must be picking out a place for his headlines in next day's issue.

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth girl who thought she oughtn't go with anyone else after she became engaged?

In Europe blue heads are a token of bad luck. Over here the bad-luck token is a black eye.

"Severe backache, pain over hips and in my side, dizzy, floating specks, irregular pain, bladder action. Very miserable! Foley Pills, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, gave me prompt comforting and permanent relief."

RALLY DAY INVITES MOTHER TO COLLEGE

COLLEGE AUTHORITIES WILL WORK WITH LOCAL LEADERS ON HOME ECONOMICS EXTENSION PROGRAM.

The second annual rally day for women who are interested in home economics extension work will be held at Michigan State College, Saturday, October 30th. Many of the 1,000 local leaders who were trained last year by specialists of the college home economics department will attend the meeting.

The group will assemble at the home economics building at ten o'clock, where they will be received by Dean Krueger, who will explain the work of the department. The building and its facilities for the teaching of home economics will be shown to the local leaders. Dinner will be served in the People's church of East Lansing. The Reverend N. A. McCune will give a brief talk concerning the work of this church.

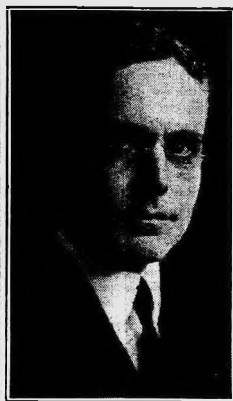

The afternoon program will include addresses by Kenyon L. Butterfield, president of the Michigan State College, and by John D. Williard, director of continuing education, M. S. C. Miss Fanny Buchanan of the Victor Talking Machine Company, will give a talk on music appreciation. Leaders and specialists in charge of extension work at the college will outline the plan of work, which will be carried on in the state this year.

Four projects in home economics extension work will be given in the state this season. One of these, the home furnishing project, is being given for the first time. The work in nutrition, clothing and home management has been very popular in the state during past years. Plans are complete for carrying on one or more of these projects in thirty-five counties this year.

You will get quick results and satisfaction from a liner ad in the Mail.

Children Enlisted in Fire-Prevention Work

Many cities have taken part in the fire-prevention movement. It has been found that good results come from instructing the school children concerning fire prevention. They take a pride in knowing about fire hazards and doing away with them whenever possible. The Baltimore Evening Sun has organized what is called the Baltimore junior fire department. Each boy who becomes a member pledges himself to help the fire-prevention bureau by collecting all waste paper, trash, greasy rags, loose matches and other inflammable material in his home. By placing such stuff in the proper receptacles, where it will be collected by the street-cleaning department. By using care in handling oils and other dangerous materials, cigars and cigarettes that I see. By urging my friends and neighbors to do all these things. And by keeping my home free from unnecessary inflammables in the future." The boy signs this pledge with the approval of his parent and the parent's signature also is appended. After the pledge is taken he delivers it to the office of the newspaper, where he is presented with a badge as a fireman, and a card showing that he is a member of the junior department. Most people have heard fire warnings so often that safety talk seems to make little impression on them. With the children, the work of preventing fires comes as something new. They are especially interested in making good records for their schools and their homes. Too much credit hardly can be given the children for what they are doing in this way.—Indianapolis News.

Fence Adds to Beauty of Home Surroundings

In winter or summer, fall or spring, an attractive fence, like a sundial or a blue roof, will contribute beauty to a landscape. And, more often than not, the well-designed enclosure will promote even neighborly admiration and approval, rather than an offended, shut-out feeling. Primarily, fences were used solely to prevent trespasses, but as people advanced in art and culture fences assumed a double purpose, that of decorating or enhancing the grounds they guarded. Consequently, fences of really exquisite design are appearing with increasing frequency.

A fence which will add and not detract beauty from the grounds it guards need not be so elaborate as to be prohibitive in price to the average home owner or even to those of slender purses. For comparatively few dollars can be erected an enclosure which will not only courteously perform the police duty of a "keep-off" sign, but which will add a final touch of nicety to a yard or garden. And furthermore, the task of building such a fence is far from difficult. The home carpenter can easily do the work in a short time.

City's Best Advertisement

No city needs press agents. It needs only an honest and fearless press, which faithfully and accurately reports the activities of the municipality and intelligently interprets them. Beyond that, a city's own good works are its best advertisement. If its public and private affairs are ably and honestly conducted for the benefit of its citizens, the world will know of it and honor and prosperity will be its portion. If its government becomes corrupt, or weak or dishonest public servants permit the lawless element to gain the upper hand in its affairs, the world will hear of that, too, and no amount of hallying by hired or self-appointed press agents will prevent it.—Detroit News.

Avoiding Damage to Sewer

The location of trees—those already planted or those intended for the yard—should be taken into consideration in placing sewers, cisterns, or drains, advises a reader who contributes a letter to the series on home building in Liberty. "Tree roots can press against tile and cistern walls with strength enough to break them," he points out, "and the damage is often difficult and expensive to undo. Some trees have a tendency to twine roots into any interstices they can find. Poplars have a bad reputation in this respect."

Away With Rubbish Heaps

Cleanliness and good order are the best safeguards against fire. If there is no trash to ignite, the carelessly thrown match or cigarette will find no fuel. It may be impossible to train every person to be scrupulously careful about matches or smokes, but the first rule of safety should be learned by all who are responsible for business and domestic premises, to keep them free from fire-making materials exposed to chance ignition.

Need for Co-Operation

It is necessary for the betterment and prosperity of any town for the citizens to co-operate and work together as a well-trained team in their effort to push the town onward and upward in the business world.—Crenshaw County (Ala.) News.

Consider the Trees in Highway Planning

Some years ago in improving Riverside avenue, in the town of Greenwich, Conn., a number of century-old elms were threatened in a plan to straighten out this thoroughfare. Unfired action on the part of the citizens, who were ready to fight to the last ditch for the lives of the huge trees, each a landmark and an ornament, won the day, and the cement roadway which replaced its macadam predecessor now skirts the huge elms, whose grateful shade in the summer is a boon to all who pass that way. In the same municipality within a few months permission to cut down an oak that grew on the street boundary was refused a bulldozer.

Long Island is having its own troubles in preserving the fine trees which line highways that are marked for widening. Many whose properties border highways are worth over-plans which call for the removal of hundreds of fine trees, most of them planted by individuals who have watched their growth with solicitude and felt a pride in having done something for the communities in which they live.

The growth of a tree occupies more than the life span of man. Its destruction with ax or saw is only a matter of minutes. Those entrusted with the care of improvement of highways should consider well and exhaust every expedient before destroying something that is as quick as the elements of humanity itself and brings delight to all those whose heads are not in the clouds.

Some Suggestions as to Road Maintenance

While a few states have good laws providing for tree planting, the remainder have either indifferent ones or none at all, according to Farmers' Bulletin 1481-F, "Planting the Road Side," just issued by the Department of Agriculture.

The traveling public has as much interest in the appearance of the road as a whole as the adjoining property holder. Furthermore, it is usually difficult to get each property holder to approve and act on a given plan. For these reasons, says the department, it is best to place the planting and subsequent care of roadside trees in the hands of a public body representing some such division as the state, county, town, township or parish, rather than smaller units.

Because of the intimate relationship between road construction and maintenance and the upkeep of the roadside, the closest cooperation between the highway department and those having the trees in charge is needed.

Suggestions relative to planning for the trees, planting and spacing them, kinds to plant, pruning, arrangement of shrubs and perennials and other phases of the work are given.

Work to Cut Fire Loss

Losses by fire in the United States constitute a direct tax of more than half a billion dollars, to say nothing of the loss of life.

Without doubt a substantial reduction in these losses is possible. Bad dunes and pipes can be made safe at a negligible cost. Paper and rubbish accumulated in basements and attics, which endenger spontaneous combustion and furnish ready fuel for a fire once it is started, can be removed with just a little effort. Bonfires and camp fires can be stumped out, leaving nothing to start a conflagration. Just a little forethought and action in these directions will pay a large dividend, and one which everyone can share.

Selecting Color Schemes

In the house on a small city lot we should want to use as much yellow as possible, just as much as we should in any small dark room. For a room exposed to the south with plenty of sunshine, we should use blue, mauve or gray; while for one exposed to the cold north, yellow, golden brown or rose. Also the size of a house, the distance from a street, the size of a room or the height of ceiling would constitute important factors to be considered in our selection of color backgrounds.

Sunday School Work

One great truth should be kept constantly in the minds of our citizens. The fundamentals of our civic life are identical with the work of our churches and Sunday schools. The noble band of men and women of every faith should have substantial and ready support of our citizens. Our city would not be fit to live in were it not for our schools and churches.—Tarrant City (Ala.) Booster.

Planning for Future City

There is a wholesome emulation and rivalry among the leading cities of the country in the matter of planning and zoning, and the influence of the movement is extending to the smaller cities and many towns. In time it even may reach thousands of small communities which have easily been overlooked.

"Lost Flower" Found

A species of flower which was discovered about the year 1750 and then lost for 175 years has been independently rediscovered by two scientists Dr. E. T. Wherry of the United States bureau of chemistry and Dr. J. E. Benedict of the United States museum. This rare flower is known as the pink turtlehead. It was found near Marlboro, Md.

The pink turtlehead grows in weedy ground, reaches a height of about three feet and has pink flowers resembling the neck of a turtle.

VOTERS TO DECIDE IMPORTANT ISSUE

IF CONDEMNATION AMENDMENT
CARRIES ENTIRE STATE WILL BENEFIT.

Villages and Cities Will Be Aided in Making Much Needed Public
Improvements.

The voters of the State, will on November 2nd, pass upon a proposed Constitutional Amendment, the adoption of which is important and necessary for all cities and villages in Michigan. This is the so-called "Excess Condemnation" Amendment. We call the power excess condemnation, a misleading name, when we really should call it "a bill to prevent waste in condemnation."

European countries have long had this power and similar amendments have been adopted in states throughout this country, but Michigan has no such amendment, primarily for the reason that the matter has not been properly explained to Michigan voters.

In the first place, this amendment merely gives the Legislature the right to exact legislation pursuant to it.

In the second place, cities and villages are not going into the real estate business on a large scale. They will not be permitted to condemn as much land as might suit the fancy of the municipal authorities. The taking must be reasonable and the excess land must be reasonably required to properly carry out the improvement.

Constitutional Rights Reserved.

An examination of the proposed amendment will show that:

In the first place, all constitutional rights are naturally reserved. The municipality must therefore show necessity for the taking and must pay fair compensation.

In the second place, the power is given subject to reasonable limitations. There can be no unreasonable appropriation of property.

The municipality is enabled to protect public improvements by controlling the nature and type of structures through restrictions upon property which the municipality owns.

Bonds issued are a lien upon the property and do not affect the bonding limit of the municipality. Of course, any profit made goes back into the improvement, to help pay for same thus removing the burden from the taxpayer and helping to remove it from property which is in the special assessment district.

With reference to this matter of profit, we find a number of fine examples in Europe. In the Northumberland Avenue opening in London, a profit of more than three-quarters of a million dollars are recouped through the sale of lands.

The best known improvement is, of course, the Kingsway, also called "Holburn-to-the-Strand." More than six hundred parcels of property were acquired for this improvement and more than four-fifths of the cost has been returned through the sale of land. The saving to the community is tremendous.

Large cities, naturally, need this power of Excess condemnation. At the present time in Detroit, if we need fifteen feet from the front of a house we pay for the entire house, but are permitted to cut off only that fifteen feet, or sell it back at one-fifth or one-one-hundredth part of its cost to the city. Those in the assessment district are burdened excessively. Property lines cannot be adjusted. Remnants and parcels are left, of no value to the owner, of no credit to the city, but good only for signboards, which cut off other lots from the street.

Every Community Benefitted.

At the present time the opening of a park or playground is followed by the erection of unsightly stands round about it so that the value of the improvement is lost to those who paid for it.

But it isn't the city only which will be benefitted by this Amendment to prevent waste in condemnation. Every village, no matter how small, if situated on a main road, will benefit. To explain:

Up until a few years ago, practically all condemnations took place in the larger cities and practically none in the smaller municipalities. That day is past. Every village on a main highway now faces the problem of providing adequate traffic facilities, which means the widening of its streets. Under the present method of condemnation they will find themselves in the same position as the larger cities. Small parcels and odd-shaped lots will remain. The main street instead of having fine looking stores will have bill-boards and unused plots.

In order that property lines may be properly relocated, if we wish to carry out the splendid highway plans throughout the state and leave parcels of suitable size for proper use, in order that we may carry out these improvements at least cost to the taxpayers—it is essential that all villages as well as cities join to obtain the right to carry out improvements—in a common sense manner.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

BY THE MANAGER

The cemetery trustees are considering the erection of a community mausoleum in Riverside cemetery. They went to Ypsilanti Tuesday afternoon, to inspect the one there, and will discuss the subject at the Commission meeting Monday night.

The wooden bridge across the small creek on the Flats has become unsafe and has been replaced by a twin culvert of 24-inch sewer crock with an earth cover.

An old Detroit Times, dated April 26, 1884, has been brought to the office by William Hayball, containing a Plymouth item to the effect that "The grounds for the new school building are at length cleared of all obstruction. The old school house was placed in position today, and in a week's time school will probably be resumed."

The 12-inch storm sewer on Brush street has been completed from Forest avenue to Herald avenue. This was a particularly hard one to put in as the bottom was hard clay and the ground water was continually flooding the ditch.

The Blum & Dickinson ditch digger has finished the Gravel avenue sanitary sewer and has made a good start on Peniman avenue. Their hand crew has finished the sewer on Maple avenue, and is at work behind the Peniman avenue stores.

The planking at the Farmer street crossing has been widened by the Pere Marquette railroad, at the request of the village.

There seems to be some question as to the right of the Commission to levy the special assessment for the sanitary sewers before some of them are in. This right is directly from chapter 9, section 5 of the charter of the Village of Plymouth, which is as follows: "Special assessments, to defray the estimated cost of any improvement, shall be levied before making the improvement. When the work is done by the Village, the spreading of the assessment may be deferred until the completion of the work."

GARDEN CITY

There was a good turnout at church, Sunday night. We are glad to see it. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hanchett and Miss Charissa and Arnold Hix were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Padfield at 7315 Fenkell avenue, Detroit. Mrs. Hanchett's little grandson, Douglas Newman, is still at the Herman Klefer hospital with scarlet fever, but is getting along nicely at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holman and children and Mrs. Ed. Holman of Detroit, attended church at Perrinsville, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Theuer moved to Fordson, Saturday.

There was a large crowd at the community gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bock, Thursday evening of last week.

Mrs. M. Steinbauer of Garden City, and Mrs. Alma White and Mrs. Mildred Fisher of Wayne, and Mrs. Alonzo Hanchett of this place, spent last Thursday, with Mrs. Edith Steinbauer, near Inkster.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kubik and children were Detroit visitors, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Arthur Hanchett entertained several ladies at dinner, last Friday. Arnold Folker was a caller at Arthur Hanchett's, Tuesday evening.

Don't forget the chicken dinner at the Perrinsville hall, Friday evening. Dinner will be served from 6:00 p. m. until all are served.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schiffler and children of East Plymouth, called on Mrs. Schiffler's mother, Sunday.

The H. H. S. will hold their annual bazaar and supper, November 3rd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beaman in Plymouth. Supper will be served from 5:00 to 9:00.

Have your job printing done at the Mail Office. Prompt service and reasonable prices.

SALEM

The birthday social given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Federated church, Saturday evening, was a wonderful success. Twelve tables were handsomely decorated appropriately for each month of the year, and a fine chicken dinner was served. Lovely music was furnished by guests from Detroit, and Miss Ruth Halliday sang two solos. Recitations were given by Mrs. Means. All left feeling that they had been well entertained.

Mrs. G. C. Foreman spent a few days last week in Detroit with her son, Harold and wife, and accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Merrell Renwick, to St. Mary's hospital to visit her husband. Mr. Renwick was able to return to his home in South Lyon, Saturday afternoon.

F. C. Wheeler and Dr. E. P. Waid of Ann Arbor, were calling on friends in Salem, Thursday.

Miss Dorothy Foreman spent Saturday night in South Lyon, with Mr. and Mrs. James Dickie, and they were Sunday dinner guests at the William Dickie home, near New Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Devereaux and the latter's father, Perry Austin, of Walled Lake, were Friday callers of Mr. and Mrs. B. Stanbro.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Lavendar and family of Whitmore Lake, and Mr. and Mrs. Y. Lavendar from near Ann Arbor, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foreman.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Foreman and Mr. Skinner of Detroit, and Miss Ruth Foreman were Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Merrell Renwick of South Lyon.

Mrs. Carrie Herrick spent a few days last week with her son, John and family.

Sunday callers at the G. C. Foreman home were: Miss June Waid and Clarence April of Ann Arbor, and Mrs. James Dickie of South Lyon. Supper guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Foreman and baby and Mr. Skinner of Detroit.

Mrs. John Melow and daughter, Ruth, and Miss Ruth Foreman were in Plymouth, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Delker of Plymouth, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Herrick.

Miss Anderson will entertain the P. T. A., Tuesday evening, November 2nd, at the G. Roberts home.

NATURE'S BOUNTY TO BE SHOWN AT CHICAGO.

Agriculture in all her glory will hold court at the world's farm capital the week following Thanksgiving, when the International Live Stock Exposition will celebrate its twenty-seventh anniversary at the Chicago Union Stock Yards, November 27 to December 4th. According to Secretary-Manager B. H. Helde, who has successfully conducted this greatest of all agricultural shows for over a quarter of a century, the approaching session will be the most completely balanced exhibition ever staged in its illustrious history.

For months the foremost breeders have been grooming their finest beef cattle, horses, sheep and hogs for the supreme test of the year at this acknowledged "Court of Last Resort." Champions from every large stock show on the continent will meet to decide the final honors of the season, many of them clashing here for the first time. The concentrated blood of generations of breeding will be gathering together in one great dazzling display of animal perfection.

The master feeders also have been devoting all their skill to the fitting of outstanding specimens of market live stock for the classic contests of the International. One of the tensest moments of the exposition will precede the awarding of the fat bullock grand championship by the celebrated judge, George Gordon-Davis of Buenos Aires, Argentina. In the pens of the adjoining stock yards will be assembled in competition over 200 carloads of prime slaughter animals, affording a stupendous spectacle to be witnessed no other place on the globe. More than 11,000 head of live stock will be entered in the 900 classes of the exposition for $100,000 in prizes and numerous trophies.

The International Grain and Hay Show will include around 5,000 samples of grains, small seeds and hay, selected from the choicest crops of the United States and Canada. Practically every state and province will be represented in this department.

An army of 1200 farm youths, picked from 650,000 Boys' and Girls' Club members, will attend the Fifth National Club Congress, compete in contests and give demonstrations in their own building on the exposition grounds.

Educational exhibits of the Department of Agriculture and state colleges will deal with such timely subjects as the corn borer menace. Brilliant evening entertainments, horse show, meat, shoppe, judging contests, auctions, organization meetings and many other events will crowd each day's program. Reduced rates on all railroads will allow thousands to visit this great gathering of the basic industry.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says that we can't all be president, but most of us can have a better time.

It takes two to start a fight or a family, and very often there isn't much difference.

"If it takes all kinds of people to make a world," declares Dad Plymouth, "then this old world is certainly well made."

Sometimes talk is cheap and sometimes it isn't. There are times when a little of it costs a man a lot of money.

Dad Plymouth says the worst months of the year for auto accidents are the last two months of the old year and the first ten months of the new.

"I've always noticed," asserts Dad Plymouth, "that the man who gets by on his looks never travels very far."

There's one way for a man to be boss in his own home, and that's to send the family away for a vacation.

Dad Plymouth says trying to keep a good man down is about as hard as trying to keep a good for nothing one up.

Have YOU seen this charming new car

More charming than ever before, this latest model of "The Most Beautiful Car in America" is style itself. Mounted on the extremely popular Paige Brougham chassis, this new 4-door Sedan presents the latest note in motor car smartness.

This newest Paige is for those people of good taste who love individuality in their personal possessions. For those who appreciate such visible niceties as skillfully inlaid walnut-finish panelling, clustered instruments, cleverly-placed arm rests, twin smoking sets, corner lights, quiet but luxurious upholstery—but who demand, too, those unseen appointments of quality such as silent and utterly dependable power, quiet bodies, nested springs, sturdy, long-wearing chassis.

Come see this charming car—soon. You will find it most satisfyingly complete.

THE THEATRE

"WAR PAINT"
The days of danger were the real days of romance. Today the modern woman is prone to judge her lover by his ability to dance, or his skill at sports, but in the frontier days it was the manliness of man that counted.

This is brought forcibly to the front in "War Paint," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's initial western film drama, starring Col. Tim McCoy, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, October 30th.

The early days of the frontier witnessed a spirit of general unrest among the Indian tribes and white settlers, and even the garrisons of the western forts were never safe from Indian attacks. The women of these days lived in constant danger, but they lived among brave men, and they had a real chance to judge the manliness of their men.

In "War Paint" Pauline Starke plays the role of heroine, who falls in love with a young army officer stationed at the fort in the Indian country. Her romance begins under the pall of an Indian uprising and continues to bud and blossom in the roar of battle and amongst the hardships of the frontier. Karl Dane, one of the trio of heroes of "The Big Parade," has the comedy role of "Sergeant Clancy," while Charles French has the role of her father, Major Hopkins, a blustering officer sent by the government to put down the Indian uprisings.

"THE WISE GUY"
Frank Lloyd's "The Wise Guy," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, October 31 and November 1, is a masterpiece. It is one of the sincerest and most powerful pictures that we can remember. There may be other pictures as fine as "The Wise Guy," but there are very few indeed that are finer.

The story of "The Wise Guy" concerns that of a faking evangelist who gathers the religion-loving crowds under his tent and while he holds them spellbound with his hypocritical eloquence his confederates strip their pockets. James Kirkwood has the role of his screen career in the titular character. Mary Astor carves a niche for herself as the girl crook, who joined the fake revivalists under the impression that their motives in spreading the gospel were what everyone else accepted them to be.

Betty Compson, seen in such a role as established here in "The Miracle Man," gives a convincing performance as a crudely gifted underworld creature. Mary Carr as a gray-haired sanctimonious crook to whom the despicable anomaly of her position is made clear by the power of the word, even though uttered by blasphemous lips: George Cooper, as the Bozo, and George F. Marion, as "the professor," complete the histrionically distinguished cast. Frank Lloyd has done a marvelous piece of directing here. We wish to congratulate him.

"THE DANCER OF PARIS"
The story of a man's relentless pursuit of a woman and the spirited manner in which she fights back will be unfolded on the screen of the Penniman Allen theatre, next Wednesday and Thursday, November 3 and 4, when the first Michael Arlen story to reach the screen, "The Dancer of Paris," is presented.

Conway Tearle and Dorothy Mackall have the leading roles in this production, which is presented through First National by Robert T. Kane. It was produced under the direction of Alfred A. Santell, who is responsible for "Bluebeard's Seven Wives" and "Classified."

The story is laid against a series of rich backgrounds. Starting in Florida, the scene quickly switches to Paris, where, in settings picturesquely revealing the night life of the famous capital, the plot moves on to its climax.

Supporting the stars are: Robert Cain, who has the "heavy" role; Paul Ellis and Henry Vitart.

The film holds out tremendous appeal to the admirers of Michael Arlen. His sensational popular works, such as "The Green Hat" and "These Charming People," have already been adapted to the speaking stage, but in "The Dancer of Paris," he is for the first time presented on the screen.

HANFORD SCHOOL P. T. A. MEETING.

The P. T. A. meeting of the Hanford school was held Monday evening, October 19, with a good attendance. Meeting opened with community singing, "There are Many Flags in Many Lands" and "Michigan, My Michigan."

Miss Sadie Dixon, a former teacher, of Ypsilanti, gave a few encouraging words for the children and district. A drill by the second graders and a recitation by Loretta Hank. Mr. Shepherd, our old Kiwanis patron, gave an interesting talk on the making of paper. Mr. McLeod, Kiwanis patron of Cherry Hill, favored us with a few jokes. Mrs. George Bentley or Elm, president of the P. T. A. of Wayne County, gave an interesting talk on literature. Closing song by the children. After refreshments were served, a social evening was spent.

Visitors present were: Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. McLeod and Mr. and Mrs. S. Dixon of Ypsilanti; Mr. and Mrs. Vandenberg and family of Plymouth, and Miss VanAken of Belleville.

LIVONIA COMMUNITY CHURCH NOTES.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Livonia Center Community church will give a bazaar and chicken dinner at the Gleaners' hall in Newburg, on Friday, November 5th. The ladies of the church are working hard and earnestly to make it one of the best ever. Many fine pieces of work will be displayed, and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The Young People's Society of the church is doing some fine work. Everyone is busy with renewed vigor to boost the society in spiritual as well as social welfare. The Y. P. S. is having a popularity contest, which began a week ago and will close on the evening of the bazaar. The contest promises to be of much interest, due to the enthusiasm which it is arousing. The polls will be closed at 9:00 p. m. sharp. Come and vote for your candidate early and often. The winners will be announced shortly after 9:00 o'clock p. m.

The society met last Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davey, of Plymouth. There were eighteen young people present. Pot-luck lunch and coffee were served after entertainment by the committee. A very fine time was enjoyed by all.

All young people are invited to attend these meetings, which are held every two weeks on Tuesday. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, day, November 22, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Smith on the Ann Arbor road.

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cook celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last Monday, with guests from West Branch, Detroit and Goodrich. They were married at Plymouth, spent a number of years on a homestead up in Ogemaw county near West Branch, and became residents of Northville in 1902. By their kindly manner and their interest in all the finer things in life which make for community betterment and uplift they have endeared themselves to a large circle of friends who would gladly have assisted them in celebrating this very happy event had it been possible for them to do so.—Northville Record.

HIGH QUALITY AND PRICES RIGHT... THE PRINCIPLES FOR WHICH WE FIGHT...

Speaking of quality plumbing—speaking of fair prices—speaking of rapid, dependable work—speaking of courtesy and all-around good business conduct—well as a matter of fact we're speaking about ourselves and hope that instead of taking all of this for granted you'll give us a chance to prove it.

BAPTIST NOTES

The revival meetings conducted by Evangelists Erskin and VanBuren, have grown in interest and numbers. The meeting last Friday evening, when the Booster Class sang, was a great evening, and almost every seat was taken. The children did fine. Another meeting will be held, when the Booster choir will again sing and give a unique service. They look for about seventy children to make up the evening's entertainment. Tonight, Friday, Evangelist Erskine is giving some wonderful sermons. They seem to get better every night.

Sunday will be the last day of the service. In the morning the topic will be, “The Greatest Question Ever Asked,” at 10:00 a. m. At 7:30 in the evening the subject will be “The Sin of Sin.” Everyone come and enjoy every service. No meeting Saturday night.

Remember the Young People's Rally, November 5th. The young people from the Wayne Baptist Association are to be here. Plan to come. Service at 7:00 o'clock.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

Preparations for the annual bazaar are in full swing. The Ready Service class met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. R. O. Minnick and spent a busy day sewing. The pot-luck dinner was quite up to the usual high standard. This class plans to meet each week until the bazaar is over.

Mrs. Buzzard's class had an enjoyable supper meeting at the church, Tuesday evening. The girls are planning a baked goods sale for Saturday of this week. Watch for posters.

November is national mission month in the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. The Men's Class is planning another supper meeting for November 11th.

Don't forget to attend the bazaar and delicious chicken dinner, given by the Woman's Auxiliary, Thursday, November 18th, in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church. Dinner at 5:30 and until all are served.

METHODIST NOTES

Mrs. Doerr has reorganized the Junior Missionary Society, with twenty-five members. All the boys and girls up to fourteen years of age are wanted, and the meeting time is the last Wednesday in every month, directly after school. Inez and Blanche Curtis have charge of the music, and Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. Frederick Thomas are the leaders this year. The new officers elected are: President, Miriam Jolliffe; first vice president, Jane Jolliffe; second vice president, Philip H. Doerr; secretary, Ruth McConnell; treasurer, Alice Lee.

Two of our families have gone to Florida to spend the winter. They are Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Curtis.

Over two hundred and fifty enjoyed the Sunday-school picnic supper, last Thursday evening. It was an occasion long to be remembered.

The Boosters are to have their Halloween party, Friday evening. Refreshments after the program.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet in the church parlors, Wednesday afternoon, November 3rd. Hostesses—Mesdames Hubert, Bartlett and Barrows. Entertainment—Mesdames Bake, Shear and Hillman.

November is to be observed as “Go-to-Church” month. More about this later.
