REPUBLICANS SWEEP STATE IN TUESDAY'S ELECTION

Fred W. Green, Mayor of Ionia, Will Be Next Governor of the State.

A Light Vote Was Polled in Plymouth; Only 550 Voters Going to the Polls.

As a result of the election held in the State of Michigan, Tuesday, the Republicans were victorious and the G. O. P. swept the state. Fred W. Green of Ionia, will be the next Governor of Michigan.

The vote in Plymouth was not as large as was expected, only 555 went to the voting booths to cast their ballots. We give below the vote given on state and county tickets:

Table listing election results for various offices including Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Auditor General, Attorney General, Justice Supreme Court, Congress, State Representative, and County Ticket.

CONGRESSMAN MICHENER WINS BY HUGE MAJORITY

Earl C. Michener, Congressman, carried every county of the Second District, defeating Boris Dunsard, Democrat, of Monroe, by a huge majority.

CREDIT BUREAU BANQUET

The Plymouth and Northville members of the Credit Bureau will hold their second banquet, Wednesday, November 17th, at 6:30, at the Park House, Northville.

An out of town speaker is being secured to talk on the various phases of credit granting; also several members will be asked to give their experience with the Bureau and in what ways Bureau service has been beneficial to them.

The banquet is not limited to Bureau members only. All business and professional men interested in "credits" are invited to attend. Just get your ticket in advance from one of the committee or at the office.

VEGETABLE MARKET UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP.

B. E. Giles, who recently purchased the vegetable market of Everett & Fisher, took possession of the same last Monday morning. Mr. Giles, who is the local manager of the Great Atlantic and Pacific store in this village, will continue as manager of that store, and has engaged U. R. Horton to have charge of the vegetable market. Mr. Horton is well known in Plymouth, having been the local representative of the Fuller Brush Co. for some time, and has made many friends in Plymouth and vicinity.

It is the intention of the new proprietor to carry a complete stock of vegetables and fruits at all times. A special announcement is made in a large ad in today's paper, to which your attention is called.

WOMEN VOTERS LEAGUE

On invitation by Dearborn League, more than one hundred women of Wayne County attended a luncheon given at the Dearborn Country Club, Wednesday, October 27th. The meeting following, was addressed by Prof. Thomas G. Reed of the political science department of the U. of M. After listening to such an eminent qualified speaker as Prof. Reed, on the State Constitution, in regard to its revision and amendments, many women of Wayne County must have gone to the polls Tuesday with a clear understanding of how to vote on these questions.

Eight members of Plymouth's League were among those present.

FIRST DEBATE

Plymouth High school's first debate this season will be held in Plymouth High school auditorium, Friday evening, November 19th. Our opponent is Hazel Park High school of Royal Oak. Further details will appear in next week's paper.

A PLEASANT OCCASION

Last Friday, October 29th, Mrs. Edson O. Huston and Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple of Plymouth, with Mrs. Elmer C. Huston of Birmingham, were hostesses at a bridge breakfast, at Oakland Hills Country Club. The sports club house was beautifully decorated with oak leaves and Halloween novelties, including a real barn with a hay mow and blinking owls on each corner of the roof. At 11:00 o'clock, the breakfast was served at tables which were attractively decorated with bronze and yellow chrysanthemums. After the breakfast, the guests were entertained by a short program, including two piano numbers by Miss Czarina Penney of Plymouth, and two readings, "At the Bridge Table" and "The Symphony Concert," by Mrs. F. S. Crawford of Birmingham. Bridge followed the program. The party was attended by one hundred and twenty guests from Plymouth, Birmingham and Detroit.

MRS. EMOGENE BEEMAN PASSES AWAY

Emogene Byers Beeman was born in Carlton, Orleans county, New York, on the 12th day of February, 1853, and died at her home in Plymouth on the 28th day of October, 1926, at the age of 73 years. She moved to Williamston, Michigan, with her parents, Hugh and Marie Byers, and lived there until coming to Plymouth twenty years ago, July 10, 1870. She was united in marriage to Frank E. Beeman, who passed away ten years ago. To this union were born four children, Mrs. Coda Kelly, Mrs. Jessie Leonard and Mrs. Grace Singer, all of Plymouth; one died at the age of nine months. She leaves besides her three daughters, one granddaughter, Ione Kelly; one sister, Mrs. Eliza Lockwood of Williamston; two brothers, George Byers of Williamston, and Charles Byers of Coe, and many nieces and nephews and dear friends to mourn their loss.

The funeral services were held at Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Saturday, October 28, at 2:00 o'clock p. m., Rev. H. E. Saylor officiating. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

HALLOWEEN CHARITY BALL

The Halloween charity ball at the Penniman Allen auditorium last Friday evening, Oct. 29, sponsored by the Plymouth Rotary Club, for the benefit of the crippled children's fund, was largely attended. Donald Patterson's orchestra furnished excellent music for the dancers. As a special attraction, a troupe of Hawaiian musicians and a dancer furnished several staid, did numbers that pleased everybody. The club will realize a neat sum of money as a result of the party for the crippled children's fund.

ARMISTICE DAY DANCE

An Armistice Day dancing party will be given at the Odd Fellows Temple, Thursday evening, November 11th, for the benefit of the Ex-Service Men's Club of Plymouth. Good music will be provided, and there is sure to be a good time for old and young. Tickets are 75c. Ladies free.

Elected Governor of Michigan Tuesday

FRED W. GREEN

MUNICIPAL NOTES BY THE MANAGER

Members of the Commission had various conflicting engagements this week and so the meeting scheduled for Monday night was held Wednesday night instead.

At this meeting of the Commission, the Manager informed the commissioners that he would be unable to act for them in this capacity after the close of the fiscal year at the end of next March. This date will complete six years and three quarters of service.

Bahn & Dickinson have made good progress the past week. The soil under Penniman avenue is hard clay and the digger has been able to walk right along. The machine is nearly up to Garfield avenue. Their hand crew is encountering wet digging in the private right-of-way behind the stores on the north side of Penniman avenue, but are making fair headway. Two manholes on Amelia and one on Davis still bother the masons because of water conditions around the tile and manhole bases.

The grader is out at work, and will be kept out all the time the weather will allow, putting streets in order for winter.

The collections of the sanitary sewer assessments have been very satisfactory. Quite a number seventy or more—have paid up in full. These payments should be made before the fifteenth of this month.

Our own crew has finished the Brush street storm sewer, and has made a good start on the Forest avenue sewer, south of Brush street. This last drain will serve a number of houses whose basements have been better swimming pools than storage places.

One sure sign of fall and approaching winter is the removal of the seats from the parks. These are now in storage until another season.

A fire hydrant in front of the Detroit Edison Co. was hit by an auto, last Friday night, and somewhat damaged. Fortunately it did not start a leak. The auto was speeding, and unable to stop behind one of the big green motor buses, skidded over the curb and hit the hydrant.

ORDER OF THE EASTERN STAR

It will be necessary to have two meetings of the Order of the Eastern Star to receive the large group of candidates in waiting, Tuesday, November 9th, and Tuesday, November 16th, have been chosen for the initiation. The officers of Orient Chapter, Northville, have consented to visit Plymouth Chapter, November 9th, and take charge of the ceremony of initiation. Dinner will be served both evenings at 6:30, followed by an interesting program. The meeting will be called promptly at 8:00 o'clock. All members urged to attend.

"THE BLACK PIRATE"

The management of the Penniman Allen theatre announces the coming of another big feature picture, Douglas Fairbanks in "The Black Pirate," on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, November 10, 11 and 12. See big ad in today's paper.

ANNOUNCE NEW CLOSING HOURS

The Plymouth Motor Sales Co. is now closing their place of business every evening at 8:30 o'clock, excepting Wednesday and Saturday evenings, when it will be open until 9:30 o'clock. It will also be closed all day Sunday. The storage department, however, will be open all day Sunday and every evening until 9:00 o'clock.

AUCTION POSTPONED

On account of the serious illness in the family of Henry Pankow, the auction sale, which was to have been held on November 10, has been postponed.

GIRL KILLED, FOUR INJURED IN ANOTHER AUTO CRASH

Automobile Driven Into Pere Marquette Freight Train at Phoenix Crossing Last Sunday Night.

Miss Bernice Johnson, aged 19 years, a school teacher, of Grand Blanc, was killed and four companions were injured, one seriously, when the automobile in which they were riding ran into a Pere Marquette train at the Phoenix crossing on the Northville-Plymouth road at 10:15 o'clock last Sunday night. Ben De Main, aged 21 years of Rochester, Mich., was seriously injured, and was taken to a hospital in Pontiac. The others were Amle Althouse, Nathan Griffith and Floyd Niles, all of Rochester.

The injured were brought to Plymouth for surgical attention, and Miss Johnson died soon after she was brought here. The body was removed to Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, and Monday was taken to Pontiac.

The train crew did not know of the accident until after the arrival of the train at Plymouth. The auto, which is a total wreck, was owned by Lloyd Niles, who was driving the car.

Local officials will hold an inquest as soon as the surviving victims of the crash are able to be questioned.

This is the second fatal automobile accident that has happened near Plymouth in the past week.

A MISSION WEEK AT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Plymouth will be highly honored during the week of November 7-14, with the appearance of the Rev. Bernard Mulloy, a member of the Holy Cross Congregation of the University of Notre Dame, Indiana, one of America's highest institutions of learning.

During this week a mission of a so-called "religious revival" will be held in the little brick church around the corner, Our Lady of Good Counsel (Catholic church).

Rev. Bernard Mulloy is known as one of America's best educators, and gifted with that extraordinary talent of oratory. With these exceptional merits, he will endeavor as far as humanity allows, to explain and enlighten all upon those very necessary truths that man needs in order to protect his salvation. Religion, Christianity, is the foundation, the cornerstone of society, and the better we are posted, the better informed we are, the safer will our religion, our Christianity be, and the stronger will society grow. Knowledge is power, and power to him who knows just where he stands with his maker.

Rigidity is born from ignorance, resulting in persecution, and bloodshed. Dispell this veil of ignorance and learn the truth about matters that you oftentimes hear discussed but know very little about.

This week of 7-14, will be a week of education in religion, Christianity, and a very special invitation is hereby extended to the public at large to come and enjoy the knowledge that shall flow from the lips of Rev. B. Mulloy. A series of practical discourses on the Eternal Truths will be given each night beginning Sunday, at 7:30, and continuing until the following Sunday night, the week of November 7-14 inclusive each night at 7:30 p. m.

The order of services is as follows: Holy Mass at 5:00 and 7:30 a. m., with a short instruction. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, at 4:30 p. m., there will be special services for the children—the grammar school as well as the High school. The evening services begin at 7:30 p. m., promptly. Begin these services on Sunday, and you will not miss an evening. Remember, you are welcome and especially so for this favored occasion. —Our Lady of Good Counsel Church.

DEATH OF A LITTLE BOY

Alfred Junior White, three years and five months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred White, Jr., died at University hospital, Ann Arbor, Saturday morning. The little one had been an invalid from birth, and was a bright, cheerful patient, in his affliction, having a mind older than his years. He was loved by all who knew him. He leaves to mourn their loss, his parents, little brother, Robert, and baby sister, Marian Ileana, grandparents and several other relatives.

The funeral was held from the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred White, Sr., Tuesday afternoon, Dr. F. A. Lendrum officiating.

E. LEROY PELLITIER ADDRESSED KIWANISANS

One of the most interesting programs furnished by the Kiwanians at their weekly noonday luncheons, was given last Tuesday, November 2nd, by the program committee, Norman W. Cummins and Ralph Lorenz, in procuring E. Leroy Pellitier of Detroit, who took for his subject, "Commercial Aviation."

Prior to 1908, Mr. Pellitier was private secretary to Henry Ford; but during the past few years has devoted all his time in the various advertising fields. The speaker pre-ferred his talk on Commercial Aviation. In stating that he had flown over all the European countries; also over all the countries of the North American continent. Contrary to newspaper articles and reports, he infers that the United States is many years ahead of Europe in Commercial aviation.

All this talk about Europe having regularly established and organized commercial flying and transportation, and far ahead of the United States in this new enterprise, is all bunk. The United States right now is doing more and has accomplished more than all the European countries combined. The speaker stressed a very important point in his talk, in saying that the United States was particularly adapted, relative to atmospheric conditions and other necessary factors such as the topography of the land, to make this country most ideal for the continued development of the aircraft enterprise.

Great praise was given Edille Stinson, our Northville neighbor, who at the present time has commenced the manufacturing of commercial planes in that village for the several import and things he has added to the airplane. One in particular, is the braking system on the carriage wheels, which now permit an aviator to stop more easily and safely on the landing field.

Mr. Pellitier predicted that Dearborn will become Michigan's greatest aviation city; and its proximity to Plymouth will prove a great stimulus to the latter village.

What we need most in hastening commercial aviation is landing fields; and when the United States this problem solved, all commercial aviation will have been thoroughly established.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's Club held their regular meeting at 1, 040, E. Temple, Friday afternoon, October 29th, with about seventy ladies present. After a short business meeting, the program was opened by a piano solo, Polish Dance by Schwarenska, played by Ruth Allison.

Mrs. Cooper then introduced Mr. Kelle of the Interior Decorating Department of the J. L. Hudson Co., who gave an interesting and instructive talk about the home. For a few minutes after his talk, Mr. Kelle answered several questions asked by the ladies present.

The Meses Barbara Bake, Ruth Allison and Doris Hamilton closed the program with piano, vocal and violin numbers, "Old Folks at Home," "Home Sweet Home," "Go To Sleep My Ducky Baby."

The next meeting will be at the same place, November 5th. The dramatic committee has prepared an interesting program and are planning on a large attendance.

NEW BEAUTY PARLOR

Mrs. Pauline Cobb, who has successfully carried on her work as manicurer at her home, 650 Holbrook avenue, and operated a beauty parlor in Charlevoix this summer, is opening a new shop in the Mary Conner Bldg., over the 10c store, Saturday, November 6th. Mrs. Cobb invites her patrons and friends to call and see her in the new location.

ARMISTICE DAY

On Thursday, November 11th, this nation will observe the eighth Armistice Day since the signing of that historic document on the blood-soaked fields of Flanders. Men and nations forget. Wounds that were deep, wounds fostered and rubbed with the salt of hate, have healed in the sunshine of a new day, scars that were thought ineffaceable are vanishing as the years pass on. Once more men and goods travel the seas where sailed the grim destroyers, and the plow turns over deeper the buried hatreds of the greatest war. And it is well that we forget.

But let us not forget those who when the nation called in those stormy days, were the first to answer. So let us join on Armistice Day this year in paying silent tribute, due, reverent homage to Our Glorious Dead.

EDUCATIONAL WEEK

The state has just emerged from a strenuous political campaign, during which much was heard about those who neglect their duties of citizenship by remaining away from the polls. The right of franchise in a democracy should be exercised by every individual, but many deny themselves of that privilege and thereby permit rule by minorities and government by blocs. Not only in protection of our liberties is it important that we make use of the ballot, but there are many other duties that fit into a republican form of government in the making of a patriotic citizen. During the week of November 7-13, which will be known as "Educational Week," the duties of citizenship will be clearly outlined in a constructive program lasting over a period of seven days. The work and needs of the schools will be stressed, and it should not be necessary to urge the general public to take part in this program, which will be held in the schools and churches throughout the state and nation.

The program outlined will be substantially as follows: Sunday, November 7—"For God and Country Day;" Monday, November 8—"Constitutional Rights Day;" Tuesday, November 9—"Patriotism Day;" Wednesday, November 10—"Equal Opportunity Day;" Thursday, November 11—"Armistice Day;" Friday, November 12—"Know Your School Day;" Saturday, November 13—"Community Day."

FATHER AND SON WEEK

One of the most worthwhile among the many special weeks of the year is "Father and Son Week," which is announced this year for the week of November 7-13. This is a splendid institution, which has grown tremendously of late years, and rightfully so. The movement should receive the encouragement of everyone. It is a week when many things occur to bring fathers closer to their boys, and boys closer to their fathers. In the modern time in which we find ourselves, this taking an inventory of parental and filial obligations is a splendid thing.

THORNS AND ROSES

We overheard a little group talking in front of the Plymouth postoffice a few days ago, discussing a little tough luck a citizen of the community recently had. One spoke up and said that while the man had worked like a dog all his life he didn't have any more than a diver, a phonograph and a few farm implements to show for it. And then another cut in with a little philosophy we believe our readers will enjoy. "Yes," said the philosopher, "but think how well fixed he would have looked to our dads. Thirty years ago he'd have been a plutocrat, with what he's got. His house and farm machinery stacks up with the best, and that old diver, that back-number phonograph, that one-tuned radio set would have had everybody in this neighborhood gasping for miles around. It goes to show how hardships change, but ain't never done away with. In Dad's time a farmer was an object of pity if he had to hand-harvest his crops, and had only home-made furniture in a log or sod house."

There's a lot of food for thought in those words, and especially for those of our citizens who are inclined to be dissatisfied with what they have. They'll be feeling sorry for us, maybe, fifty years from now, and feeling that we had few comforts of life. But we won't be here then, at least a good many of us will not. So why not devote a little of the time we spend in wishing for the things we haven't got in being glad we have advantages and comforts people fifty years ago never dreamed of?

W. C. T. U.

The meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which was held Thursday, October 28th, at the home of Mrs. D. A. Jolliffe, was one of unusual interest, owing to the presence of Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Sayles, who sang a beautiful duet, after which Mr. Sayles gave an inspiring talk; reviewing briefly the progress of the temperance movement since the early days of the woman's crusade against the saloons, which resulted in the formation of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. While the speaker deplored the lack of enforcement of the prohibition laws in some of the larger cities, he could still see much of encouragement in the fact that so many sections of the country are comparatively free from any form of drunkenness.

The program concluded with the reading, by Miss Nettie Pellam, of two selections from the poems of Strickland W. Gillilan. They were entitled, "When the Joke's on Us," and "Watch Yourself Go By."

Mrs. Phoebe Patterson, who was to have given a report of the national convention held in Los Angeles, was unable to be present, and so the report will be given at the next meeting, which occurs December 2nd, at the home of Mrs. E. R. Daggett, and will be a tea meeting.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, who passed away four years ago today, October 30th. Friends may think we have forgotten. When at times they see us smile. But they little know the heartache. That our smile hides all the while. Sadly missed by her husband and children, Albert Gates and Family.

THE CHEVROLET IS MOVIE MAKING.

Sometimes only one car will do! Out in the motion picture sanctuaries of California, where money, genius and picturesque country unite to provide romantic and thrilling screen stories, the automobile is handed most strenuous assignments.

The motor car frequently gives its star performance behind the screen—unknown to the millions of movie-goers, who are often unaware of the vital contribution which the automobile has made to the making of the picture.

When the motion picture director sets out to make a western film, the transportation department is confronted with the gigantic task of getting the entire company with all of their paraphernalia out to the great open spaces.

Use of motor cars and trucks has made possible filming pictures in backgrounds that have the authentic atmosphere of the Old West. Year by year, motion picture men declare, it is becoming necessary to go farther afield to secure new and unspoiled scenic effects.

Hal Roach, of the studios which bear his name, recently established a permanent camp at the Big Horn ranch near Monpa, Nev., as a headquarters for the use of his production companies when engaged in making western pictures.

A marked absence of roads is one of the chief beauties of the surrounding country from the standpoint of the directors but the transportation department found it very difficult to establish communication to many of the localities chosen, where the dry bed of sand was the best possible substitute for a highway to be found.

"After various types of motor vehicles had been tried," says Hal Roach, "a Chevrolet truck was purchased. It proved so completely satisfactory that four more were added and the fleet of five has since, time and again, proved its ability to go anywhere and back again through the roadless desert around the Big Horn Ranch.

"For personal transportation I invariably use a Chevrolet. On my first trip to the Big Horn ranch, I set out in a larger car. In the first heavy sand encountered the larger car tore out the rear axle and I finished the trip in a Chevrolet.

"Now many of the other executives of the Roach studios employ Chevrolets for their excursions into the country where men are men and automobiles must be real cars."

NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES

By Avis Perkins

Just think! A carnival! To be held at Newburg school on Friday, November 12th. Plenty of refreshments, contests and entertainments. Be on hand for the trial.

On Wednesday, October 27th, Mrs. Sharpe invited one of the Safety Patrols to attend the National Safety meeting and luncheon held at the Hotel Starler on Friday, October 23, and enjoyed it greatly.

The Safety Patrols for this year are Orville Bennett, John Adams and Kenneth Gates of the grammar grades, while Clarence Levandowski, Warren Bassett and Wilbur Carr are of the intermediate grades.

The sixth reading class is making booklets showing the contrasts between early and modern times, especially in buildings, utensils and means of transportation.

The Hot Lunch and Sewing Clubs are now being organized.

The pupils of the intermediate room have sent letters to Miss Ohlphant, the children's librarian, to tell her of their enjoyment of reading, and in observance of the children's book week.

Richmond and Carl Meixner have moved from the district.

How African Natives Communicate by Drum

A member of the Congregation of the Faithful who, after many wanderings, has now at last set up his roof-top under a home rafter of the synagogue, has been telling us wonderful tales of his visits to Africa.

He was there years ago when but few white men had yet penetrated its jungles and its vast plains. And he says that Africa is some day to be a marvelous country. Its resources are inexhaustible. It is a land of lakes and rivers and mighty waterfalls. It will be the next retreat of civilization.

And this man, as he sat with us in a shadowy corner of the synagogue, was telling us of the drums that are used by the natives to communicate messages from village to village and from tribe to tribe.

He said that by means of the drums the natives can send messages over great distances. Messages that are quite as complete and understandable as our telegraphic messages are.

For instance, when our friend arrived at a certain native village the dwellers were fully prepared to receive him. The drums, across many miles, had given exact information concerning him and his companions.

And he had been heralded as a friend. The tale set us thinking again of the many strange things in the world that we, who think ourselves so wise, are not informed of. And how much there once was in the world that has been lost, and of which we have only a vague surmise.

If old Marco Polo could come back and talk over the radio now, how very interesting he would be.—Los Angeles Times.

Freak of Finny Tribe

It is reported that a singular species of fish, small in size, which, instead of laying eggs or roe, gives birth to fully developed young, is found along the California coast.

Specimens collected by members of the United States fish commission last July were stuffed with little fish apparently almost to the bursting point.

In some instances the young had begun to escape from the mother, the little ones being found in the water, and in nearly all cases they could be easily pressed from the body of the mother, in which event they were able to maintain themselves in an upright position in the water and swim about.

The adult is a silvery white, from 3 1/2 to 8 inches long, and the newly born were from 1 to 1 1/2 inches in length. "Surf fish" is the name prevailing in the California waters, and it is described by the fish experts as swarming in great numbers, during the spawning season, in the surf or in shallow water along sandy shores.

SOUTH SALEM

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Sieb, Sr., and Louis spent Saturday at the farm with Mr. and Mrs. Mayford Sieb.

The Jarvis P. T. A. will meet at the home of Walter Kruse, November 12th.

Clyde Blank had the misfortune to be badly hurt while turning out his horses. One whirled and kicked him in the face, breaking his nose, injuring his mouth and one eye. He is at Beyer hospital, Ypsilanti.

The Lapham school dance was well attended, and a fine supper was served. They wish to thank all who helped.

No school at Jarvis school, Monday and Tuesday, when the teacher attended the institute.

Mrs. Grace Nelson Hinkle died at her home west of Plymouth, Monday morning. She had been in ill health for some time past. She leaves four children, her husband, mother, one sister and two brothers. Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at Worden church.

Lloyd Taylor of Detroit, a nephew of John VanBonn, spent the week-end at the VanBonn home.

Mrs. Yeoman of Newburg, was a supper guest at John VanBonn's, Sunday night.

A CARD—We sincerely thank our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, the lovely flowers, and Roy Landrum for his many words of comfort in our bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred White and Family.

A CARD—We wish to extend our thanks and appreciation to the Plymouth people in general for their timely aid at the time of our misfortune, the burning of our home and contents.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hammond.

Microphone Told of Hidden German Guns

Although the World war is over and has almost passed into history, people still enjoy reading of the many triumphs of science achieved during that struggle.

How Yankee ingenuity defeated the efforts of the German camouflage artists in the matter of locating and destroying the big German guns has been revealed by a Chicago scientist, who has declined to permit the use of his name in a public discussion of this most amazing discovery.

A. J. Wedderburn, Jr., relates, in International Labor News Service, the facts herein related are true and thrilling.

The Germans were wonderful camouflage artists. They knew how to hide a gun so that not one of the reputed thousand eyes of a fly could find it.

Their greatest camouflage artists were fooled when one day allied airplanes flew over their most secretely hidden guns and dropped bombs on 43 of them.

The airplanes knew where the guns were before they started out. They knew it almost to a fraction of an inch. Their only problem was to turn loose a bomb at a given height, moving at a given rate, to strike a given place.

All because of a little machine called a microphone.

The microphone is so sound that a microscope is to sight. It catches the faintest murmur and magnifies it. All the allied army microphones had to do was to listen to the swish of a shell, the boom of a gun and the sound of the explosion to tell how far the gun was from the microphone.

The test for distance was made in two ways. One microphone worked only through the medium of the air, sound waves in the air having a known velocity. Another worked through the ground with still another known velocity.

Two separate conclusions were thus reached. When they compared the distance of the gun was known almost to an inch.

But it might be to the right or to the left of the place of observation. All that was necessary was to have three separate posts at known distances to the right or left of each other. When the three checks were recorded it was a simple problem in triangulation to find the exact location of the guns.

Hundreds of carefully hidden guns were found by this method and destroyed.

NOW DRIVE THE CAR

FOUR SIMPLE WORDS TELL OF IMPORTANT REFINEMENTS IN DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CARS.

"Now Drive the Car." These words which have just made their appearance on the well known blue and white bulletin boards and in the most prominent magazines and newspapers are arousing widespread interest in the results secured from recently announced improvements in Dodge Brothers Motor Cars, according to Earl S. Mastick, local dealer.

"The simple invitation to try the car and note the results," he declares, "is typical of the advertising policy of a manufacturer whose statements have always enjoyed implicit public confidence, thanks to a twelve-year-old reputation for avoiding extravagant or spectacular advertising claims."

"It is an inflexible policy at the factory that the reputation of Dodge Brothers Motor Car for dependability, long-life and endurance must be upheld. Everyone of these changes, in fact, means increased manufacturing cost—they were adopted for the sole purpose of giving the owner a quieter, smoother running car."

"Although I have watched a succession of refinements for the last twelve years, I confess that I had no conception of the surprising change that these major advances could make in the operation of what was before a quiet, easy-riding, thoroughly satisfactory car."

"In line with Dodge Brothers policy of constant improvement without yearly models," Mr. Mastick continues, "refinements are constantly being made, each being adopted as soon as the exhaustive tests have proved beyond doubt that the change would improve the performance and increase the value of the car."

"This policy benefits the owner because no one likes to buy a car today and find in a month or two that it has been rendered obsolete by the maker's announcement of a radically changed model. A change in model, also involves costly changes in dies and disturbance of factory production schedules. This naturally means loss to the manufacturer which he must pass on to the purchaser in increased prices."

"Some unusually interesting displays showing in detail the exact nature of the chief improvements have been examined during the past week by many visitors at our salesrooms at Plymouth. Everyone who has driven one of the improved cars has commented on the greater quietness and smoothness of operation and the increased handling ease."

The Ladies Aid Society of the Lutheran church will hold their annual meeting, Wednesday afternoon, November 10, at the church. There will be election of officers, and all members are urged to be present.

Esther and Ruth Bichy entertained thirty boys and girls at a Halloween party at their home last Saturday afternoon. Various games were played and refreshments were served. It was a most delightful occasion for all present.

George Robinson and son, Russell, Roger Payne and Wilbur Petz left here last Friday morning and drove to Baltimore, Maryland, for the U. of M. and Navy foot ball game, Saturday, returning Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vosburgh and little daughter, Yvonne, and Mr. and Mrs. John Blossom attended a Halloween party given for Yvonne at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Runyon. About thirty guests were present.

The Pleasure Club held its first meeting of the winter season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jewell, Wednesday evening. The honors for progressive poker were awarded to Mrs. Emil Schilling and A. Hartung, while the consolations went to Mrs. Stephen Jewell and Fred Boyce. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening's entertainment.

Solving the Problem

There had been a good deal of argument about the way the young people carried on in the town square these summer evenings. Many of the city fathers thought it a public scandal, but they didn't have a big enough appropriation to employ special police. The village hallwif, however, felt that he would solve the problem. He offered to do it for a can of black paint and $2. One of the town fathers was rash enough to furnish these requisites.

Next day the town was electrified to see that all the "No Parking" signs roundabout the square had, by the insertion of an "S" before the second word, become effective warnings to romantic youth.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Whale Industry Prospers

So little is said of the whaling industry in recent years that an impression prevails that it has become practically obsolete. There are today along the Pacific coast of North America whaling stations that yearly turn into marketable products about 1,000 whales, says the Detroit News. Besides oil, bone meal, whalebone, leather and glue, these mammals furnish meat in quantities, by no means unimportant in the human food supply. A 50-ton whale represents a food value equal to that of 100 steers of one-half ton each, or 300 hogs of 250 pounds each. In this one area, therefore, the value of 100,000 cattle or 50,000 fat hogs is taken from the sea.

Parrot Stowaway

In a banana crate a Stockport (England) fruiterer found a beautifully plumaged parrot. The creature, which had come from the Canary Isles, had lain in a warehouse for some weeks after its arrival in England. The voyage occupied three weeks, so that the bird, which had nested in the fibrous packing material, must have been confined to its unusual home for a considerable time. Bananas in the crate had formed its dietary. It had lost nothing of its liveliness, for as soon as it was freed it jumped about the place and enjoyed its hearty meal.

Go Slow in Buying Home

Buying or building a home requires the use of sound judgment in seeing that the personal needs of the family are best met with the funds available. It involves not only the carrying on of transactions of financing and buying or building, but it involves the proper determination of location with respect to school, to work and to neighborhood.

STARK SCHOOL NOTES

Roy Schmidt, reporter

The P. T. A. held its first meeting of the year at the school, Wednesday evening, October 27th. The meeting was followed by a Halloween program and party. Everyone had a delightful time.

The new school is completed, and will hold its opening Friday, November 12th. There will be a speaker, program and refreshments. Everyone is cordially invited.

The following pupils in Miss Wise's room, have been neither absent nor tardy during the month: Eugene Vantassel, Raymond Stroh, Betty Fisher, Marion Luttermoser and Lillian Swabley.

The first and second graders are making scrap books.

The third and fourth graders are collecting animal pictures for an animal book.

The following pupils in Mrs. Beyer's room, have been neither absent nor tardy during the month: Ruth Schmidt, Merna Vantassel, Jeanette Adams, Isabelle Winkler, Kenneth Kahrl, Oscar Luttermoser, Donald Adams, Leonard DeFog, William Adams, Phyllis Kahrl, Roy Schmidt and Viola Luttermoser.

The fifth graders are making health posters for hygiene lessons.

The sixth graders are making animal booklets in English, in connection with the study of the poem, "Autumn."

The seventh graders have been drawing product maps in geography.

We have organized a citizenship club. The following are the officers elected: President, Viola Luttermoser; vice president, Phyllis Kahrl; treasurer, Kenneth Kahrl; secretary, Roy Schmidt; health officer, Gertrude Schmidt.

FURS! FURS! FURS!

I am in the market to pay you top prices for all legal caught furs, and want them if possible while fresh, before stretching, unless they are well handled.

MICHENER IS GUEST OF VICE PRESIDENT OVER THE WEEK-END.

Earl C. Michener, representative in Congress from the Second Michigan district, returned to his home here today, after an enjoyable week-end visit in the home of Vice President Charles G. Dawes at Evanston, Illinois. Mr. Michener was invited by the vice president to confer with him over Sunday on the procedure to be taken in the Judge English impeachment trial, which will begin in Washington, November 10th. Mr. Dawes will be the presiding officer, and Mr. Michener as chairman of the House managers, will occupy a position analogous to that of prosecuting attorney. Mr. Michener was a Sunday guest in the Dawes home. Upon his return today, the Adrian representative was notified that he has been appointed by Governor Groesbeck as a delegate to the Great Lakes Harbor Association convention to be held at Buffalo, November 16 and 17, at which the diversion of water from the Great Lakes, the St. Lawrence waterway project and proposed legislation before the next congress will be introduced. Mr. Michener will accept the appointment, subject to his ability to get away from Washington during the English trial.—Monday's Adrian Telegram.

PLYMOUTH BOY INJURED SERIOUSLY.

Clyde Blank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Blank, formerly of East Ann Arbor street, but now living with his parents on a farm five miles west of Plymouth, was kicked in the face, last Sunday morning, while driving one of his father's horses to the pasture. The animal became frightened suddenly and the young man received the full force of the blow, for he had no time to protect himself. The young man's nose was fractured, and a deep angular laceration in the upper lip required several stitches by a Plymouth physician, who was called to attend the injured.

WILL CONDUCT A READING CONTEST.

The second week of November, beginning the seventh, is to be devoted to children and their reading throughout the country. Many children have already made book friends that will always be with them, and it is the aim of the library, school and parents to see that there are more books that will be suitable companions for the young readers.

Every child in the country, outside of Detroit and below the ninth grade, is invited to enter a contest, and the three winners will each receive a book for their own. To enter this contest, write a letter to the Children's Dept., Wayne County Library, 3661 Trumbull avenue, Detroit, and tell about some book that you have read recently and have enjoyed. This letter must be received by November 15th, when all letters will be read by a committee, and the three letters that give the best idea of the book read and the reasons for liking this book will be chosen.

The County Library wants to hear from the children for new books are constantly being bought, which are distributed to the libraries in the county and loaned to the schools. Also when one enjoys something themselves it is a deeper enjoyment when it is passed on to someone else. "After all there is nothing like a good book."

BURGETT-TOBEY

A pretty wedding ceremony took place on Monday, October 29th, in Toledo, when Mildred B. Tobey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tobey, became the bride of Lawrence H. Burgett, both of this place. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Michaels. The bride wore a charming gown of flesh georgette, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia flowers.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Burgett left for a motor trip to Ludington and other northern Michigan cities, and will be at home to their friends after November 15, at Phoenix Park Subdivision.

GOTTS-WATERMAN

Two well known young people of this community, Fred Gotts and Helen Waterman, were united in the happy bonds of marriage on Saturday, October 23rd, by Rev. William Richards at the Methodist parsonage, at two o'clock.

The bride was beautifully gowned in rose georgette crepe. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gray of Plymouth, Mrs. Gray being a sister of the groom. After the ceremony with the ring service, the happy couple left for Niagara Falls, where the honeymoon will be spent.

Miss Waterman was in the employ of the Bell Telephone Company for some time, and Mr. Gotts in the building business with his father. This business he will continue in Northville, living in their new home in the Oakwood subdivision North Center, on their return.—Northville Record.

All comparisons lead you to the Greater OAKLAND SIX

Go up and down "Automobile Row" as carefully as you wish—your investigations will merely confirm everything you have heard of Greater-Oakland Six value supremacy.

Look where you will, you cannot find another six of Oakland's price which combines such engineering advancements as Rubber-Silenced Chassis, Harmonic Balancer, tilting-beam headlights with foot control, four-wheel brakes, air cleaner and oil-filter, plus quality construction throughout and the luxury of Fisher bodies, beautifully upholstered and finished in two-tone Duco.

And that is why all comparisons will inevitably lead you to join the many thousands who have already made the Greater-Oakland Six the greatest success in Oakland history!

A Ring Has Made These Two Happy

Through ancient and honored custom lives are bound together with the symbol of the ring. The pride and joy of the girl on whose finger sparkles for the first time the ring of betrothal is a tribute to this happy tradition. She knows that the ring—sign of completeness—has made her life complete.

And today—by newer custom—he, too, receives a ring. The exchange of tokens was the happiest moment in both their lives. Naturally they were selected with the most loving care. "Any old ring" would not do for this immensely important rite.

So they asked to see W.W.W. Rings. They wanted them for their matchless beauty, their flawless workmanship, their lasting qualities. For W.W.W. Rings are simply guaranteed against accidents to settings. If they are loosened or lost they are replaced free of charge and none of the value of sentiment is lost.

SCHOOL NOTES

The 11th grade ancient history class went to the University of Michigan to view the Art Museum in Alumni Hall. They have just concluded the study of Greek art and architecture up to the time of the Ptolemaean war. The statues of Sophocles and such men helped very much to portray the customs of the time. They were very indebted to the keeper of the museum, for he gave them a very interesting story of each figure and made the class feel at home.

The great University library was also a source of wonder to the class as they did not realize there were so many books in the world.

The 10th grade English classes have planned to read Silas Marner this week.

The grade and Junior High school notes for the past eight weeks have been prepared by the eighth grade English classes. For the next two months the seventh grade will have charge of the newspaper work.

Grade Notes

Mrs. James Honey visited the kindergarten last week.

Mrs. Root's 1-B had a Halloween party last Thursday. The children are starting to make decorations for the board. They are learning a Thanksgiving poem. The Red Cross nurse weighed the children last week. For the month of October, most of them have gained in weight since September.

Mrs. Schaub's room also celebrated Halloween. Some of the boys and girls wore costumes and false faces. They have five new children.

Miss Stader's 1-A and 2-B pupils are making a black board border for Thanksgiving.

The spelling honor roll in Mrs. Moles' 5B class for the past two weeks contained the names Marie Bridge, Herbert Lorenz, Evelyn Smith and Burton Toley. The 4-A class for the same period had Haldan Burdett, Mary Kincaid, Gertrude Miller, Margaret Miller, Leon Parks, Ralph Patsch, Harold Schmidt and Goldie Toncray.

Mrs. Bird's 5B had a Halloween party last Thursday. Mrs. Paul Nash visited the room.

The subject of winds is being taught in Miss Fenner's Geography class. Several experiments have been tried to make the work more interesting.

In Miss Hallahan's room they have a librarian who keeps a list of books taken from the library. Irene Humphries is librarian for this month. The following people have not missed a word in spelling this year: Steve Dudek, Andrea Kreeger, Marjorie Clay, Eileen Jordan, Grace McGorey, Ruby Wilson, Gladys Zietsch and Catherine Dougan. The room has a copy of the Declaration of Independence which was presented to the room by Maynard Larkins.

Seventh Grade Domestic Art
The girls have written a description telling how they would like to have their bedrooms, if they could build one of their own.

Later they wrote a two-hundred word paper describing their own bedrooms. After discussing their own rooms, the girls are making braided rag rugs for their own bedrooms.

Eighth Grade Domestic Science

The eighth grade girls are now working on main dishes for breakfast. White sauce has been the foundation for these dishes.

Seventh and Eighth Grade Physical Training

The seventh and eighth grade girls are playing Skin the Snake, and the English country dance which are very interesting games.

They are also having examinations this week.

Beryl Proctor

High School Band

The Plymouth Band consists of twenty pupils and all the instruments of a band. Mr. Dykelhouse, the band leader, wants thirty-five pupils if possible. The meetings are held Thursday noons from 12:40 to 1:20. All the pupils seem interested and are trying their best to learn to play their instruments. There are seventeen boys and three girls. When the band is fully organized, they are going to play for basket ball games.

—William Hodson

Boys' Physical Training

The boy's physical training of the seventh and eighth grades of the Plymouth High school are training for posture, so as to be fit for soccer and basket ball. They have also been playing foot ball among themselves in order to be in readiness if they should happen to play other grades and classes.

The teacher, Mr. Page, is working very hard to make prompt, healthy and strong boys out of his seventh and eighth grade classes.

Bradner Homestead, recently purchased by Harry Robinson

Announcement is made by C. R. Lavegood this week, of the sale of the Bradner estate, adjoining Plymouth Gardens and Phoenix Park, to Harry C. Robinson, president of the Plymouth City Commission.

The home place is a solid brick structure of ten rooms, and is adapted to the conversion plans that Mr. Robinson has in mind. The home is situated on one of the most beautiful knolls in the Plymouth district, and commands a splendid view of the surrounding countryside.

Mr. Robinson has also purchased a considerable area surrounding the home tract and will beautify the grounds after a very comprehensive landscape plan now being prepared.

During the course of an interview with a representative of the Mail, Mr. Robinson said: "I have felt for a long time that when the property in the Phoenix district was finally opened for residential purposes there would be a quick absorption of it for there is certainly no section in Wayne county that has more elemental beauty than exists there.

"My plans for the development of the Bradner estate are still somewhat vague as to details, but I intend to follow out the same dignified treatment that T. Glenn Phillips, Detroit city planner, is working out for Plymouth Gardens adjoining my property on the Five Mile road.

PLYMOUTH HAS HEARD THE CALL OF TEXAS

Ever since Jack Frost descended on the lower peninsula and the vigorous blows have swept in from the north, the minds of a great number of our citizens have turned to the more congenial climes, and Texas seems to be foremost in their thoughts.

At the request of a number of his friends, Frank Rambo, local realtor, has undertaken the task of arranging a solid pullman excursion to Winter Park, Texas, the heart of the present great agriculture movement in that state, and is planning to have one coach of the train completely filled with Plymouth residents.

Carrizo Springs, and its immediate surrounding territory, forming the real heart of the famous Winter Garden district, is virtually on the same parallel of latitude that passes through the finest citrus fruit area of Central Florida.

No extremes of heat or cold have ever been recorded in this vicinity, and there is a particular absence of humidity, especially noticeable in the summer months, according to the weather bureau report. In winter the weather is said to resemble continental spring, with an abundance of warm sunshine blending with the bracing air.

Reports that Mr. Rambo now has in his office indicate that a net profit of $200 per acre has been made in four months' time on spinach, and in the following four months a like profit on onions, an actual net profit of $50 per month per acre, and these crops are not necessarily the most profitable.

The date of the special Plymouth excursion, which covers a period of seven days, has been arranged with a view of having all the local people home two days before Thanksgiving. The special will leave Plymouth at 7:00 p. m., November 17th, and will return at the same hour November 23rd.

The Plymouth Pullman will only accommodate thirty people, and Mr. Rambo urges that all who wish to go on this trip make reservations as early as possible. The earlier the reservation the better berth selections are possible.

There are no expenses incident to this trip except the cost of the ticket. Pullman, diner, hotel and all meals are included together with transportation into Mexico, with a splendid day of sightseeing there. Special social activities are also being planned for the Plymouth coach, all of which should contribute toward a most enjoyable week in the land of sunshine and palms.

Those interested are urged to get in touch with Mr. Rambo's office at once.

If you know of an item of news, send or phone it to the Mail Office.

Community Building

Small-Town Dweller Has Many Advantages

In his book, "American Villagers," recently published, Dr. C. Luther Fry says:

Village inhabitants constitute, on the whole, a more homogeneous population group than do city dwellers. In every case home ownership is more frequent in villages than in cities, and indicates that the villager is less apt than is the city dweller to drift from place to place. This should make for social stability within the village.

The proportions of boys and girls attending school are higher in villages than in cities. This undoubtedly reflects the fact that in villages there are fewer opportunities for galutful employment in industry. These figures, therefore, confirm the general impression that villagers constitute a more homogeneous and more conservative population group than do the inhabitants of cities.

In villages the ordinary man has a larger chance to become his own boss. The relative number of proprietors, officials and managers is at least 70 per cent greater than among city men. Women have a better chance, too. In every case the villages have fewer proprietors, officials and managers and professional persons in decidedly larger numbers than have the cities, but lower proportions of clerks and semi-skilled workers.

Without question the explanation for these variations lies in the fact that industrial life in villages is far less complex than in cities. Modern methods of big business have not yet affected village life to the same extent as life in cities. One does not find in villages the large stores and factories of the cities. Instead, industry is conducted on a narrow scale by small shopkeepers and proprietors. This is the fundamental fact which accounts for differences in the social-economic status of villagers and city dwellers.

City Expansion Must Be in Right Direction

Placing American cities on a diet to regulate their growth was among the steps advocated by Colin Brown of the United States Chamber of Commerce in an address before the Michigan Real Estate association at its twelfth annual convention, at Kalamazoo, Mich.

In seeking a legitimate expansion of their cities, chambers of commerce should have due regard to the nature of the community they already have, the speaker asserted.

"For instance," he said, "not all towns are suited to industrial development, although most of them are. In some towns manufacturing might destroy more values than it creates. Some towns can best be developed residentially, others as health and recreation resorts, and still others as educational centers."

Good Material Pays

The average person building a home is not careful enough about picking out the contractor or the building materials.

Both of these phases of home building are extremely important. A contractor may be a good workman and yet use cheap materials; or he may be a poor workman and use good building materials. In either case the value of the completed home suffers and the home builder does not get what he is actually paying for. There is a great deal of difference in the ability of contractors and the quality of building materials.

If more people realized how important it is to get the best of everything there would be more better homes built for less money and with less annoyance and expense in upkeep and repairs.

Have your job printing done at the Mail Office. Prompt service and reasonable prices.

FARM YOUTH TO BE HONORED AT INTERNATIONAL.

Rosy-cheeked boys and girls of the farms of America—the pride of today and the hope of tomorrow—will be given distinguished recognition at the International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago, November 27 to December 4th, known the world over as the greatest of all agricultural gatherings.

Starting even before the official opening of the exposition, the Non-Collegiate Live Stock Judging Contest will occupy the lime-light November 26th, when over twenty state champion junior judging teams will meet in the arena to decide the national title. The three individuals ranking the highest will receive agricultural college scholarships of $500, $300 and $200, offered by the Chicago Association of Commerce, and the winning team will be awarded the handsome trophy symbolic of the nation-wide supremacy.

When the curtain rises the following day on the "27th Anniversary International," the future farmers will again be the center of attention, as they lead out their highly-fitted baby heaves, lambs and pigs to compete in the classes of the Junior Feeding Contest. These animals were the outstanding individuals of the county and state fairs this fall, and have been carefully groomed for the supreme struggle at Chicago. A special auction will be provided for their sale on Friday, December 3rd. While the junior live stock titles are being decided in the arena, farm boys and girls will also be exhibiting samples of corn in the junior classes of the International Grain and Hay Show, for the honor of being crowned the corn Prince or Princess of 1926.

The Fifth National Boys' and Girls' Club Congress, fostered by the National Committee on Boys' and Girls' Club Work in co-operation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural Colleges, will be held in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition and over 1200 state and county champion club members and their leaders will attend from forty-one states, Canada and Hawaii. An entire building on the Exposition grounds has been dedicated to club work, and this will be filled to overflowing with junior activities. National contests will be held between state champion exhibits of clothing, preserved foods, home beautification, cotton and potatoes, and state champion teams will give continuous demonstrations of the various club projects. The girls will take part in clothing, canned goods and bread judging contests, and will appear in a style show wearing outfits made by themselves. The National Health Contest and Moses Leadership winners will be selected and introduced during the Congress. Monday night an inspiring tribute to the farm youth of America will be staged in the amphitheatre, featuring a parade of juniors and club products.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE

Reopening of the schools in all parts of the country has brought motordom and citizens generally face to face with a seasonal traffic hazard that calls imperatively for a solution.

This is the opinion of Raymond Bachelder, secretary of the Plymouth Branch of the Detroit Automobile Club, who declares that the practice of school children of crowding out into the streets and highways seeking lifts from passing motorists constitutes one of the gravest of traffic dangers.

Thousands of children are resorting to this dangerous practice and a serious effort is being made by the American Automobile Association to find a solution for the problem thus created," says Mr. Bachelder. Through its more than 800 affiliated clubs in all parts of the country, the A. A. A. is appealing to motorists and parents to do everything in their power to discourage children from endangering their lives and the lives of others in this way.

"It may seem heartless to pass by a child when one has room in one's car for four or five additional passengers, but that is only the superficial view of the question in the opinion of traffic officials. Motorists must realize that they are liable for any injury that may come to a child thus given a lift and unless they are capable of driving and at the same time keeping a close watch on their wards, it is far better to refuse them a ride.

"Parents should be willing to cooperate in ending this practice. They should make it their duty to impress their children with the dangers of such a practice.

Teachers, too, can give invaluable assistance in discouraging their pupils from taking such risks.

"Those who give the matter careful thought will realize that the interests of safety demand a quick and sure solution of this problem.

With the Winter season approaching, there is no more appropriate car for family use than the Ford Tudor Sedan. Affording weatherproof comfort for its occupants, the unrivaled popularity of this five-passenger enclosed car is due in no small measure to its splendid appearance as well as its dependability, utility and low cost of operation, while the new low price insures value that is unsurpassed. Body is of all-steel construction with such attractive features as one-piece windshield, hooded sun-visor, plate glass windows, that may be lowered flush with body sides by means of revolving regulators, durable, good-looking upholstery, nickel trimming and many others. The exterior finish is in Pyroxylin lacquer of a rich green color, emphasized by emerald green striping and black running gear. Crown fenders and balloon tires as well as the nickel-plated radiator and headlight rims add much to the attractiveness of this car.

BAPTIST NOTES

The revival meetings closed last Sunday evening, and they have been the means of reviving the church, and we see the need of more earnest work for the Master than ever. There were quite a number of young people who decided to live the Christian life. A great many of the people regretted that the meetings had to close. Two weeks more of meetings would have been a great blessing to all. Evangelist Erskine is a great bible preacher, and is clear in all of his teaching, and is a spiritual minister.

Rev. VanPatten, who led the singing and trained the children's booster choir is a unique man at the business. About seventy boys and girls sang last Friday night, and the house was crowded. Last Sunday, the closing day, found many back to hear the final message on the "Unpardonable Sin." A generous offering was given to the men. They began another series of meetings last Tuesday at Disco, near Washington, Mich. Many requested that they might return in the spring for another meeting here.

The Wayne Association B. Y. P. U. meets tonight, November 7th, at the church. We expect a large number of young people to be present. Everyone is invited to come and enjoy the program. Supper is served at 5:00.

The ministers conference of the Wayne Association meets at the Novi Baptist church, Tuesday, November 16th, at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. J. C. Clasper is moderator. A good program is being arranged.

All evening services will begin at 7:30 o'clock from this date through the winter.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

A large company of young people gathered at the church on Tuesday evening, and spent an enjoyable social hour. Supper is served at 5:00.

The Men's Class is looking forward to another dinner meeting at the church, Thursday, November 11th, at 6:30 p. m. The women of the Ready Service Class will serve the dinner. C. H. Bennett, president of the class, will speak, and we are also to have as our guest, Dr. Lucius Smith of Africa, who will bring a message to the men.

Following the dinner a public meeting will be held in the church auditorium at 8:00 p. m., at which Dr. Smith will give an illustrated lecture on Africa. Dr. Smith is much sought after as a public speaker. His messages make a very strong appeal to young people. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting.

The Woman's Auxiliary will hold their regular meeting on Thursday, instead of Wednesday, in order to hear Dr. Smith, who can be in Plymouth for Thursday only.

The Busy Women's Bible Class will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Raphael Mettetal, Tuesday, November 9th, Pot-luck dinner at noon. Each lady please bring plate, cup, fork and spoon—also material for making some article for the fancy work booth at the bazaar. Election of officers takes place at this meeting, so it is hoped each member will make a special effort to be present.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will hold its regular monthly business meeting in the lecture room of the church at 2:30 p. m., Thursday, November 11th. As this is the last meeting before the bazaar, a most urgent invitation is extended to the ladies to be present. The sponsor for this meeting will be Dr. Lucius Smith, who has recently returned from work in Africa.

METHODIST NOTES

The Booster had its annual Hal-low'en party at the church, last Friday evening, with about seventy-five in attendance. The program called for a "laugh" every minute.

The Church Training program opened with the prayer service this week, with classes in Bible, missions, stewardship and personal evangelism, with Bible stories for the children. Supper was served at 6:30 p. m.

The Woman's Missionary Society meets with Mrs. Paul Lee, Wednesday, November 10th. Mrs. S. O. Hadd, formerly of Plymouth, secretary for Spanish mission work of the W. H. M. S., will be the speaker.

The meeting of the women last Sunday evening, with Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple, speaker, was a great success. The political field was thoroughly reviewed, and no doubt all who were present voted with greater intelligence.

LIVONIA UNION CHURCH NOTES

The Ladies' Aid Society held a very pleasant meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Robert Sherwood, Thursday, October 28th. Twenty-seven ladies were present. It being the president's birthday, each member presented her with a gift; also a birthday cake with burning tapers.

The weekly prayer service was held at the church Thursday evening. Brother Flynn being the leader. This was a very inspiring meeting, and showed much thought and preparation by the leader. The prayer service will be led this week by M. J. Enell. It is wonderful the active part the men are taking in the prayer meetings.

Sunday evening the congregation was given a real treat. Mrs. Eugene Troost of Philadelphia, very ably rendered the Holy City. The Union church is the church of Mrs. Troost's childhood days. Monday evening a ghost party was given at the church. In spite of the inclement weather, about one hundred ghosts and goblins were present, and $51.98 added to the treasury. All enjoyed a most delightful evening.

Northville's new fire hall is about completed.

W. F. Hastings of South Lyon, has been elected president of the Isaac Walton League of Oakland county.

Redford's new $120,000 library is scheduled to open to the public, Monday, November 15th. The new building will house 15,000 volumes.

Lawrence C. Knox, for the past two years, a member of the Wayne detachment of Michigan State Police, has been appointed Chief of Wayne's newly authorized police department.

Prof. O. M. Melsner, for a number of years superintendent of schools at St. Clair, Mich., and a former superintendent of Northville schools, died last week Monday, after a long illness.

The Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution of Dearborn was confirmed in the name of Aquilla Sturges by the National Board at Washington, D. C., Wednesday, October 20th.

Here's a bumper crop of potatoes! Charles Cash of Lyon township has this year harvested 901 bushels of choice "spuds" from three acres of ground. If anyone can beat him, let's make it known.

The Brighton Producer's Association organized and incorporated six years ago for mutual benefit among the farmers and producers of that locality, has been dissolved, the dissolution taking effect October 15th.

The formal opening of the Northville State Savings Bank building in that village, will take place Saturday, November 6th. The entire front of the new building is constructed of Minnesota granite, and presents a very handsome appearance.

Screams of a wildcat were heard in an 100-acre stand of virgin timber fronting Fish lake, near Clyde, the other night. Tamarack swamp, containing many cottontail rabbits adjoins the timber. It is believed the wildcat depends on the rabbits for food.

A resident of Norvell has grown an English walnut tree from which he harvested a bushels of nuts this year. Although rare in this latitude, the tree has slowly become acclimated and is now about 20 feet in height. Red squirrels get quite a share of the nuts yearly, showing a preference for this variety.

During the remodeling of the St. James Episcopal church at Dexter, a zinc box containing many interesting relics was found under the cornerstone, some bearing the dates of 1830, 1840 and 1853. Franklin Pierce was president of the U. S. at the time, and Hon. Parsons, acting governor of Michigan.

J. W. Cleaver completed his apple harvest the first of the week and he gathered over 4,000 bushels. He sold to Herman C. Nagle of Detroit 3,452 bushels. The abundance of the apple crop generally made prices too cheap for profit because choice hand-picked stock sold in this section for $1.00 per bushel.—Northville Record.

The Ford Motor Company is making some marked improvements in the appearance of the residence property recently acquired on Main street, east New cement walks and curbs have been constructed, and a force of men with tractors and scrapers are now at work leveling and grading the land where the old stone building stood. This plot will be made into a beautiful park.—Northville Record.

Following several years of agitation for the tuberculosis test in the county, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors at a meeting held recently voted to place Oakland in the list of counties in the state where all dairy herds are tuberculin tested. An appropriation of $9,000 was adopted by the Board. The sum is believed to be sufficient to pay the county's share of the cost of the initial herd testing. Federal and state appropriations are available where the county makes application and puts up part of the cost.

Breakfast Is Ready

BREAKFAST is the pleasantest meal of the day, or should be. It follows the night's rest and brings the family together with restored vigor and fresh hope of the heart's desire.

Electric table appliances go far toward making breakfast a thoroughly satisfactory beginning for the day's activities. The housewife, especially, will appreciate the ability to serve delicious dishes without getting up from her chair.

Waffles electrically made on the table and served hot and brown are a delight. Table-made electric toast is a pleasure to eye and palate alike. Coffee prepared in an electric percolator has a quality rarely found in the kitchen-made article. And the cost of running any of these appliances is not more than 2 or 3 cents an hour.

THE THEATRE

"FINE MANNERS"

In "Fine Manners," her latest Paramount starring production, Gloria Swanson adds still another character to her large gallery of interesting screen portraits.

Gloria ventures into a field entirely foreign to anything she's ever before attempted. "Fine Manners" finds the star enacting the part of a little burlesque chorus girl.

Pretty, vivacious, happy and full of the joy of living, she attracts the attention of a wealthy young society man. He falls in love with her because of the girl's naturalness, so conspicuously absent in the debutantes he knows.

What happens when she is induced to take a course in "Fine Manners," provides the audience with a series of thrilling climaxes, and more than a few laughs. Gloria is better than ever, and aiding the star in her efforts are such fine players as Eugene O'Brien, Helen Dunbar and Walter Goss.

"Fine Manners" comes to the Penniman Allen theatre on Saturday, November 6th. James Ashmore Creelman and Frank Vreeland are credited with the story. Richard Rosson directed.

"TIN GODS"

"Tin Gods." The title's significant because it figures as a milestone in for more than one reason. Principally Thomas Melghan's career.

The picture comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, November 7th and 8th, and the audience will be introduced to a brand new Tom Melghan.

Aiding and abetting him in his efforts is a huge cast headed by two featured players, Aileen Pringle and Renee Adoree; William Powell, Hale Hamilton and John Harrington. Allan Dwan directed. William Anthony McGuire is the author of the play, from which it was adapted by Paul Dickey and Howard Emmett Rogers.

Imagine the story of a man who marries a beautiful woman. She loves him, but also has a passion for politics. Time passes and soon she has forgotten her first love for the second. A child comes but she continues to spend her time away from home. Then—on one day, the little boy passes on. After a terrible argument, the husband packs his bags, and rushes to South America.

At a small town which has sprung up because of the building of a bridge, he finds solace in rum. Losing his position as engineer in charge of the structure, he sinks deeper and deeper. Sickness comes, but he is nursed back to health by a native girl.

Days pass and then—like a wind from the North, the wife reappears. Misunderstanding his eagerness at seeing her, the second girl, whom he really loves, lustens away to kill herself. He learns of her intention and follows—too late.

The picture ends, as it began, showing him enter a chapel he has built under the bridge to the memory of his life's one beautiful love.

Here's drama that pierces the emotions. And when you see it, you'll never—oh, what's the use? See "Tin Gods."

"The Black Pirate"

Whenever the announcement comes that Douglas Fairbanks has done another motion picture, the question is immediately asked, "What is it this time?"

Fairbanks, through his pioneering work on the screen, is looked to for cinematic innovations. His leadership in the production field is undisputed, due to his record of past achievements.

The films with which he has commanded much attention are—"Rob in Hood," his "The Thief of Baghdad," "Don Q" and others.

Now he comes forth again with another very speedy adventure story in color. It is "The Black Pirate," a story of 17th century piracy.

The locale of the story is in Tropic seas. In the beginning, the star is not a pirate. In fact, he becomes a pirate through force of circumstances. The story deals with his innumerable adventures in avenging the death of his father who dies as the result of hardships inflicted by sea rovers. There is a lovely girl to be rescued, for which role Billie Dove was selected, and in the end she succumbs to a Fairbanksian wooing with much delicacy and grace. The story resonates with the clash of cutlasses, and carries with it the whine of the wind and the swing of the sea.

The cast was selected with usual Fairbanks care, every attention being devoted to the types. There are only two women in the piece, Billie Dove and Tempe Pigott. Among the men, whose histrionic ability ranks high, are Anders Randolf as the pirate Captain, Donald Crisp as a one-armed pirate, Sam De Grasse as a sinister second mate, Charles Stevens, Charles Behrer, Al MacQuarrie and others. The pirate crew is made up of expugilists, wrestlers, cow-punchers and others whose fearsome faces might well strike terror to the heart of any law-abiding voyager.

"The Black Pirate" will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, November 10, 11 and 12.

"Some men," asserts Dad Plymouth, "are stronger at saying what they will do than in doing what they say."

Today's Reflections

Plymouth citizens recall that old Dobin did go into the ditch occasionally, but he always managed to get out on his own power and never had to be towed back to town.

If the signing of the Declaration of Independence had been delayed until now there would probably be found some people against it.

Why is it that when you find a man around Plymouth who does not believe in insurance, he always has several children dependent upon him?

Drying out the wet planks is probably the cause of so much warring in political platforms.

As a general thing, if there are three or four girls in the family, a Plymouth father's clothes look like they were made for comfort instead of style.

Even the kind of man who thinks he is a Jonah can't make his wife believe he was swallowed by a whale if he stays out late.

A hunk of colored glass looks good in a church window, but it shows up differently in a ring.

Our idea of a model wife is the Plymouth woman who notices that a button is missing from her husband's coat, instead of one who is always hunting for a blonde hair on it.

After a girl has gotten over being thin, she has to start in and get over being fat.

Gertrude Ederle, who swam the English Channel, is the first woman to go fourteen hours without powdering her nose.

Who remembers the old-time Plymouth clerk who picked some threads out of a pair of trousers to show you they were all-wool?

Another drawback about living in a large city is you can't always go next door and borrow a cup of sugar.

We heard a Plymouth girl say she could tell a certain boy was in love with her by the way "he watches me when I'm not looking."

Wonder what these people who advise us to "See America first" think we've been seeing all our lives.

Love makes the world go round, but it doesn't always make both ends meet.

When The Boys Come Back

On Armistice Day, November 11th, we do honor to the boys who eight years ago lay down their arms in victory.

When our boys came back, they found a readjustment of life in their home a necessity.

It was our endeavor then—as now—to serve them and aid them to as glorious a victory in their own lives as they won overseas—Financial Independence.

HARRY ROBINSON

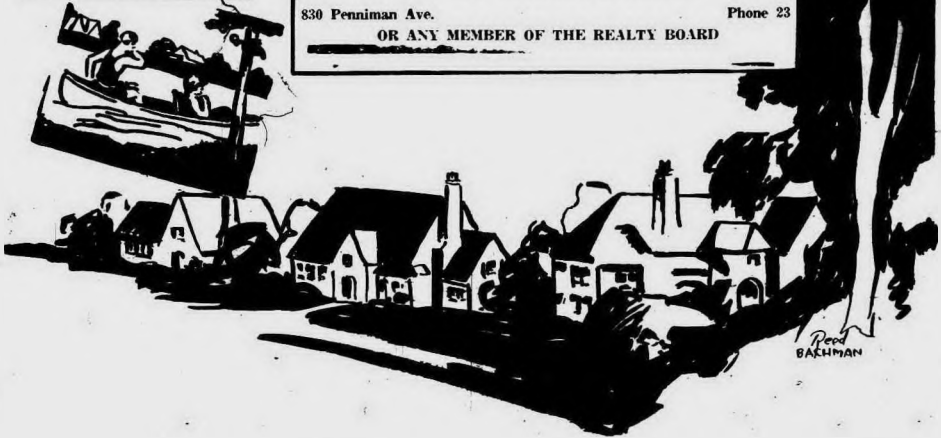

SAYS

"In my estimation there is no more beautiful property in all of Wayne County than that including Plymouth Gardens and Plymouth Hills Estates adjoining on the north. I intend to begin the immediate development of the property I recently purchased there, and will shortly bring to realization my idea of a beautiful countryside estate."

Plymouth Gardens, adjoining Phoenix Park and lake, is rapidly going into the hands of Plymouth's best known citizens. Residential values rise fastest where there is an environment of beauty. See this property now and judge for yourself.

To the MOTORIST

Cold weather is here. You will want your automobile to function properly, and in order to have it do so, you should take it to a responsible garage for inspection, and they will prescribe the necessary adjustment. Greases should be changed, carbon removed, valves refaced and resealed, ignition cleaned and adjusted, carburetor cleaned and adjusted, radiator flushed out, old hose connections replaced. Brakes should be adjusted or relined. Battery should be fully recharged and connections cleaned,

We have the equipment to do these jobs equal to factory specifications at a very moderate cost.

At present we are making a special low flat rate.

May we serve you.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth wants to know how it comes that motorcycle riders are never pinched in the city for breaking the speed limits.

In the old days the fellows in the country would go to town to buy liquor, and now the town fellows go out in the country in search of it.

"If the recording angel makes a note of everything," says Dad Plymouth, "I'd like to see what he writes down when a fellow stumbles over a chair in the dark."

Dad Plymouth says he saw a girl coming out of a beauty shop in the city a few days ago, who looked as though she hadn't been waited on.

Some women's idea of a happy home is to get a husband to support, instead of one to support them.

"Man comes into the world with nothing on," comments Dad Plymouth, "but just let him run for office and they won't be long getting something on him."

PLAN PAVING FOR THE OUTER DRIVE

COUNTY AND CITY MEET IN PLANS FOR IMPROVING BIG DRIVE.

The Outer Drive is a forty-six mile course circling the city of Detroit, from the Detroit river at River Rouge to the Detroit river at Grosse Pointe. Three miles of it are already paved, this section passing through River Rouge park. Another section, two miles in length, beginning at Lahser avenue is to be paved by Wayne county this year.

A recent meeting between the Council, the City Plan Commission and the Board of County Road Commissioners was held for the purpose of laying plans for the completion of the Outer Drive.

Of the 46 miles, 12 1-3 miles are in Wayne county, 25.1 miles pass through private property in Detroit, and the rest passes through city parks. For the completion of the drive, it is necessary to condemn 2.4 miles in the county and 3.1 miles in the city. The rest of the land has either been dedicated.

SHELDON RESIDENT DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Robert Sittlington, a prominent citizen of Sheldon, who had been ill with pleuro-pneumonia, died last Friday night at his home at that place. Besides his wife, he leaves one daughter, Gertrude; his aged mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Sittlington, who lives at Denton, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Howard, of Dearborn.

Funeral services were held from his late home, Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, Rev. Wallace of Ypsilanti, officiating. The services were in charge of the Masonic lodge of Wayne, of which the deceased was a member.

MICHIGAN HENS WIN BY STRETCH SPRINT

RECORDS ARE BROKEN FOR INDIVIDUAL PRODUCTION—NEW CONTEST HAS STARTED.

High production in the closing weeks of the Michigan State College egg laying contest won the contest cup for a pen of Michigan White Leghorns, owned by J. Pater & Sons, Hudsonville.

Birds owned by Hanson's White Leghorn Farm, Corvallis, Oregon, led the production race for forty-nine weeks, but faltered in the home stretch and finished third. The pen of White Leghorns owned by George S. Sutton, Aurora, Indiana, came up from behind to secure second place.

The previous record for production of individual hens was broken by hen number 4 in Hanson's pen. This bird laid 308 eggs in 358 days. The best previous record was 308 eggs in 365 days. White Leghorns won the first nine places in individual production and tied for tenth with a Barred Rock owned by F. E. Fogle of Okemos. To tie for tenth in this contest a bird had to lay 283 eggs in 358 days.

Records for average production for each breed showed an increase over that of any previous year. The increase made this year over the 1925 production are 23 eggs for Barred Rocks, 41 eggs for Rhode Island Reds, 10 eggs for Anconas, and 32 eggs for White Leghorns. This shows the value of egg laying contests for the stimulation of interest in the breeding of high producing strains, according to poultry men at M. S. C.

The 1927 contest is starting with 100 pens of fine birds. Most of the states of the union have birds entered in an attempt to set still higher records.

The jungle fowle ancestor of the present day hen probably would like to issue a statement condemning present day methods and landing the old days when 20 eggs was a year's work.

ROSEDALE GARDENS

Mrs. Jack Matland was the hostess for a very lovely bridge luncheon on Tuesday last. The guests of honor were Mrs. Matland, Sr. and Mrs. Dr. Richardson of Rosedale Park.

The Halloween party given by the Community Club was voted a huge success by all. The hall at Perrinsville was decorated with cornhusks and other appropriate things. Everyone entered into the spirit of the things, and the costumes were weird and wonderful. Prizes were given for the prettiest and for the best character costumes. The refreshments consisted of cider, doughnuts, pumpkin pie and coffee. Dancing was suspended long enough to give three hearty cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan, who worked hard to make the party a success, and for Mrs. Barnes, who is always ready to give her time and energy in the kitchen. An added attraction was a piano solo by Mrs. C. E. Walbridge.

Mrs. W. W. Hudson had for a weekend guest, Mrs. Frank O'Keefe of Detroit.

The Boy Scouts had a Halloween party on their regular meeting night. The temporary school at Elm is rapidly nearing completion. It is a one-room school, and will greatly relieve the congestion caused by the rapid growth of Rosedale Gardens.

Mrs. W. W. Hudson entertained the Dinner Bridge Club on Saturday evening.

FRUIT MEN WILL HOLD

ANNUAL STATE MEETING

STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

AND AMERICAN POMOLOGICAL SOCIETY WILL HOLD JOINT MEETING.

Horticultural leaders of the state will meet at Grand Rapids, November 30th to December 3rd, for discussion of the problems of the fruit growing industry at the fifty-sixth annual meeting of the Michigan State Horticultural Society.

The forty-third annual meeting of the American Pomological Society will be held in conjunction with the horticultural Society meeting. This will be the first meeting in forty-one years of the Pomological organization to be held in Michigan. Charles A. Garfield of Grand Rapids, was secretary of the Pomological Society at the time of their last meeting in the state. Mr. Garfield, who is now over eighty years of age will be one of the speakers on the program this year.

Cash prizes will be offered in twelve classes in the Apple Show, in addition to special premiums offered by manufacturers of materials and equipment used in the apple growing industry, in a special section of twenty-two classes. The State Horticultural Society is trying to persuade fruit men to grow fewer varieties, and is limiting the number of varieties eligible for prizes to twenty as compared to 120 varieties that were eligible in 1923. There will be a judging contest for agricultural high schools, and one for college students. M. S. C. students will enter in the oratorical contests on problems on fruit growing.

Prominent growers and leaders in the fruit industry will appear on the programs of both the Horticultural Society and the Pomological Society. M. S. C. men who will appear on the program are Prof. V. R. Gardner, head of the horticultural department, and Prof. R. H. Pettit, head of the entomology department.

Both societies will join in staging a banquet during the meetings. Paul Stark, president of the American Pomological Society will act as chairman.

PLYMOUTH HIGH WINS

FROM FARMINGTON

With the rattle of the Ford game in their ears, our team launched an attack against Farmington and came out victoriously, 10 to 0 making an attractive score, last week Thursday afternoon.

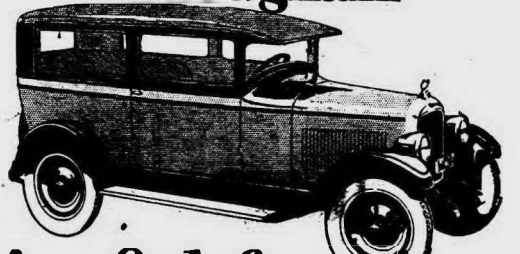

Several second team men played in the places of the usual first team fellows, who were injured in the Ford game.

Farmington caught the ball from a stormy sky and rushed to their 40-yard line, and although several attempts were made by Drake and Otis of Farmington to break through failed, so they punted the ball into friendly territory. The Rocks brought it back and made a first down near their 35-yard line. Then failing to make a gain, they punted. The ball was fumbled and came to a stop in Farmington's possession on her 25-yard line. Farmington rushed the field, but the Rocks were firm, and Doudt caught and carried the ball to middle field. Captain Hickey and Doudt made a first down with several end runs, and Ford playing in Rambo's place, made a short gain through the line. Doudt circled the end and scored a touchdown, after which he picked a point and the first quarter was over.

The second quarter started in a way of gains because the field was drizzle, neither team doing much in the wet. Doudt kicked a 25-yard field goal, and no scoring was done by either team after this.

No particular plays were made after the second quarter, as the steady down-pour made a good hold on the ball impossible.—Allan-Strong.

This New Jewett Brougham

is a Style Car, too!

FORTUNATE, indeed, are those who prefer the 2-door enclosed car! For in this beautiful new Jewett Brougham they can obtain the smartness and luxury and custom-exclusiveness of Paige built cars—at a cost no higher than they would expect to pay for only an ordinary car.

Much of the charm of this Brougham is due to its exceptional roominess—its extra-wide doors—its inviting rear seat—to the comfortable chair seats in front, adjustable to the driver's size—to the smart and tasteful trimming.

This new Brougham is powered with a large Jewett motor. It retains all of Jewett's remarkable ease of handling, quick acceleration and complete reliability. Drive it—soon!

There are in the charming new Paige and Jewett line, fourteen body types and color combinations (style leaders every one!) at factory list prices ranging from $1195 to $2245.
