FIRST DEBATE FOR LOCAL DEBATERS

PLYMOUTH HIGH DEBATERS WILL MEET ROYAL OAK DEBATING TEAM, FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 19TH.

Plymouth High school's first debate will take place next Friday evening, November 19th, at 7:30 o'clock in the Plymouth High school auditorium.

This is the question which will be debated November 19th, by all of the 224 High schools in the Michigan High School Debating League.

Plymouth has some unusually good material on this year's debating team. Franklin Atkinson and Josephine Schmidt have all of last year's experience to add to them.

The price of admission for this debate is 25 cents. Plan to hear Plymouth's first debate this season, Friday evening, November 19th, at 7:30 o'clock.

STOUT AIR LINE PASSES OVER PLYMOUTH

During the past three months many Plymouth people have noticed an airplane flying over the village shortly after nine o'clock five days each week, flying westward and then later in the afternoon it is making its return flight over the village.

Passengers carried by the machine during the three months totaled 369. Of these, 281 were "pay" passengers, 87 complimentary and 31 classed as company business.

The equipment consists of one Stout-Ford all-metal monoplane, powered by a Liberty engine and with the cabin upholstered and fitted for passenger carrying.

In September the cost of a single ride was reduced to $18, the round trip reduced to $35. The price of a ten-ride communication book remained at $160.

The ship leaves the Ford airport at Dearborn at 9 a. m. and leaves Grand Rapids on the return trip at 2:30 p. m.

WOMAN'S CLUB HELD MEETING

CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY INTERESTING MEETING LAST FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

The Woman's Club of Plymouth held its regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon, November 5th, in the L. O. O. F. parlors. The ladies present numbered about sixty.

The afternoon's entertainment was then placed in the hands of Division IV, of which Mrs. Stringer is leader. She was assisted by the Dramatic Committee. The program was opened by two selections rendered in a pleasing manner by the Larkins Trio.

The subject of the Little Theatre Movement was most ably handled by Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple. In her charming manner she gave a concise history of the movement from its inception in 1887, down to the present day, with reference to those most prominent on the continent and in this country.

The last but not least on the program was the presentation of a one act play by the dramatic committee, called "An Early Woman's Club Meeting."

The next meeting of the club will be November 19th, and the members are urged to be present.

CREDIT BUREAU BANQUET

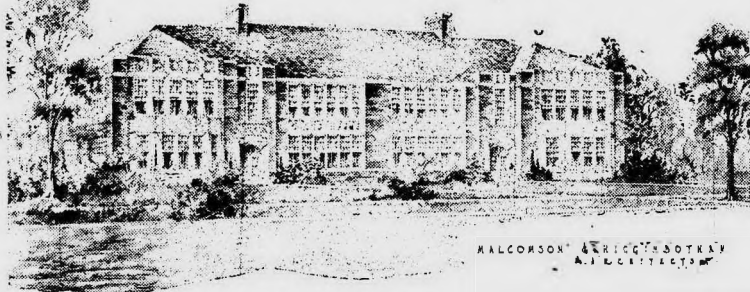

The Credit Bureau has been fortunate enough to secure Mr. R. V. Chaffee, Credit Manager of The First National Bank of Detroit, for the principal speaker at their banquet, which is to be held Wednesday evening, November 17, at the Park Hotel, Northville.

Mr. Chaffee has had several years experience as Credit Manager besides recently being chosen as Michigan State Chairman of the Retail Credit Men's National Association, and it is certain that his talk will be both interesting and educational to the business and professional men and women who attend.

New School Building for North Village

MALCOLMSON & ERICSSON ARCHITECTS

SPECIAL MEETING OF SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 1, FRACTIONAL

The Proposition of Bonding School District for $148,000 for New School Building in North Village to Be Submitted to Taxpayers, Monday, November 22nd.

The Polls of Special Meeting Will Be Open from 3 O'clock P. M. to 8 O'clock P. M.

We are pleased to present herewith a perspective of the new school building to be erected on the property recently purchased of Robert Walker, in North Village. The architects are Malcolmson and Ericsson of Detroit. This firm have been the architects for many of the modern school buildings that have been erected in that city.

The estimated cost of building and equipment is $148,000, which includes architects' fees as part of building cost. A special meeting of the taxpayers of District No. 1, Fra. has been called for Monday, November 22, 1926, at 3:00 o'clock p. m., to submit the proposition of whether the district shall bond for the sum of $148,000 for building and furnishing the new school building. The polls of the special district meeting will be open from 3:00 o'clock p. m. until 8:00 o'clock p. m.

A brief description of the building follows:

The first floor will house the kindergarten, four class rooms and the community room. The community room will seat one hundred seventy-five (175) people, using portable chairs, which can be conveniently stored under the stage. The room will be available for use as a lunch room and open day shelter on rainy days, or in bad weather, and will be used also for music, drawing, and physical training. A small office and examining room for the physical director will be provided. The power plant is included in the first floor layout.

The second floor will provide for eight class rooms, the principal's office, and a small teachers' rest room. The community room, and the kindergarten room, which will be arranged for use as a club room also, will both be accessible without using any of the rest of the school. Arrangements have been made to take care of the future extension of the building, as required by the State law.

Every care will be taken to select materials that are durable and economical. At the same time the building will be as attractive and home-like as a school can be made. There are no basement rooms in the building. Every square foot of space will be well lighted and usable.

The estimate is based on the following specifications: Building is to be of modern fire-proof construction, including roof. The structural floors and framing will be of reinforced concrete. Oak woodwork and Keene Cement Wainscots will be used throughout. Class rooms and Community rooms, and offices, will have maple floors. Corridors will be of linoleum with terrazzo border, and toilets will have terrazzo floor and base. Brick will be a good quality of face brick, tapestry. Colonial or equal. Stone trim will be Indiana limestone. Roof will be shingle tile. Concrete stairs with terrazzo treads will be used. Heating and ventilation will be of an approved type, equal to Detroit Standard Equipment—except that air washer is not included in estimate. Air will be distributed by plenum chamber under corridor with ducts in the wall for both supply and exhaust. Automatic temperature control and humidification will be furnished.

ROTARIANS HEAR INTERESTING TALK

Fred Frostie, superintendent of schools at Wyandotte, gave a most interesting talk before the Plymouth Rotary Club at their noon-day luncheon last Friday. Mr. Frostie by means of a large map of the state of Michigan drawn upon a blackboard, gave a most comprehensive description of the various rock formations which underlie our state, that was not only very entertaining, but very instructive as well. Mr. Frostie has made a careful study of the geological phases of Michigan. He has addressed the club on a previous occasion, and is always a welcome guest of the local club.

STATE BUILDS MANY MILES OF GOOD ROADS.

State Highway Commissioner Frank F. Rogers reports that there had been completed this year up to last week, 288.30 miles of State trunk line construction. Of this, 142.00 miles were concrete and 135.00 miles gravel, the rest black top. The mileage of this new construction given Federal aid was 143.33. Up to Oct. 22 contracts were awarded for 420.16 miles of trunk lines, of which 230.424 are for concrete. The contract figure for these awards is $7,460,176.87. Up to the same date contracts were awarded for 24 bridges to cost, according to the contracts, $487,261.00.

CELEBRATED 91ST BIRTHDAY

Edward C. Leach, Plymouth's grand old man, quietly celebrated his 91st birthday at his home in this village, last Sunday. Mr. Leach received many congratulatory cards and letters from relatives and friends upon the occasion of his birthday anniversary. Aside from poor eyesight, Mr. Leach is enjoying extremely good health for a man of his years, and nearly every day he is down town meeting old friends and acquaintances for whom he always has a cheery word of greeting and a hearty handshake. The Mail and his host of friends extend congratulations.

(All officers and chairmen are urged to be present for this ceremony.) Installation and program at 8:00 o'clock.

You are cordially invited to attend. "It is not the guns or armament Or the money that can pay: 'Tis the close co-operation That makes them win the day. It is not the individual Or the army as a whole, But the everlasting teamwork Of every bloomin' Soul." —J. Mason Knox.

ORDER OF EASTERN STAR HELD INTERESTING MEETING

About two hundred members of the Order of the Eastern Star met in Masonic Temple, Tuesday evening, November 9th. A delicious dinner was served at 6:30, after which the guests repaired to the chapter room where they were pleasantly entertained. Miss Ruth Allison played two piano solos in her usual brilliant and delightful manner, and Miss Doris Hamill pleased her audience with two violin numbers. Two vocal solos by Mr. Benjamin Stuart, of Northville, were thoroughly enjoyed. The meeting was called to order, and after the opening exercises, the officers of Orient chapter, Northville, were given charge of the ceremony of initiation. They gave their work in a most creditable and impressive manner. At the close of the meeting, Mae Babbitt, worthy matron of Orient chapter, presented Clella Smith, worthy matron of Plymouth chapter, with a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums. Visitors were present from Detroit, Sable, Farmington, Northville, other neighboring towns and California.

MUNICIPAL NOTES BY THE MANAGER

The water department records for October show an average use per day of 112,155 gallons. This is a decrease of about 28,500 gallons per day from the September figures. The reservoir level for October averaged 93 inches.

We are preparing our street numbering charts for the territory annexed in September. These will be ready in a few days, and then house owners in this area can obtain them on application at the Manager's office.

The Bluhm & Dickinson digger has finished the Pennington avenue sewer from Harvey to Moreland. A few manholes are yet to be built. The hand crew is still struggling with the sand and water back of the Pennington avenue stores.

Our own sewer crew will soon finish the Forest-Carol drain. This will relieve a number of wet basements in this locality.

We have started some of the tests asked for by the State, at our sewage disposal plant. One series of three tests is showing a very satisfactory removal of solid matter as the sewage passes through the tank and filter. Another test, for stability, shows that there is not enough organic matter remaining in the effluent as it enters the river to cause any putrefaction. This is, of course, a desirable situation.

Wednesday evening, the manager attended a meeting of the Detroit section of the American Society of Civil Engineers, to hear President Davidson and Secretary Seabury of that society.

We would call the attention of those living or owning property in the districts assessed for the 1925-26 sanitary sewers, that the first payments should be made surely on or before the 15th of this month.

Mrs. Ronald Leonard returned to her home in Chicago last Sunday after a brief visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Hill. We welcome Mrs. Hill back to Plymouth, she having spent the summer at their lovely home on Lake Maxinkuckee, Culver, Indiana.

SOCIETY TO AID CRIPPLED CHILD SEEKS MEMBERS

MOVEMENT BEGUN FIVE YEARS HAS GROWN TO STATEWIDE PROPORTIONS.

SPECIAL "ENROLLMENT WEEK" FOR MEMBERSHIP BEGINS WEEK OF NOV. 21.

About five years ago a group of business and professional men, thankful for their own success in life, and desirous of showing their gratitude in a practical way, became inspired with the idea of doing something for the unfortunate kiddies at the University of Michigan hospital. After a trip through the ward, their interest converged toward the more particular problem of the crippled child, for while the state had been quite generous in providing for deaf, blind and sub-normal children, it had done little or nothing for the cripple.

It is probable that this trip was a revelation to most of these men. Seeing these innocent youngsters, some with features drawn by constant pain, others with shining, sunny countenances, but all with twisted and crippled bodies which must be swung around on crutches, enveloped in plaster casts, or even strapped motionless to frames for months at a time, must have brought tears to the eyes of more than one of them.

At any rate, from this beginning has grown the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, an organization which has done wonders toward easing the lot of many of these little ones. For with proper care the majority of these seemingly hopeless cripples are restored to society as able and self supporting citizens. It has also done much in providing recreational facilities, working in conjunction with luncheon clubs, etc., principally the Rotary.

We cannot all experience the thrill that must come to the men who pioneered this wonderful movement, but we all have the opportunity of expressing our gratitude for the things we have received in much the same manner. During Thanksgiving week each person is asked to pay one dollar for membership in his County Society, now being organized, the need for which is evident in every section of the state. Of the 13,000 or more crippled children in Michigan, only a small percentage have been reached. This money will make possible an aggressive campaign to search out cases, decide how best to cure them, and trace them through to completion.

The Thanksgiving enrollment is being directed by the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, which has offices at Ann Arbor. Hugh E. Van de Watter, of Ypsilanti, is president and Miss Alberta Chase, Ann Arbor, executive secretary.

DISTRICT MEETING DEGREE OF HONOR

A Degree of Honor district convention was held in Old Fellow Hall, Ypsilanti, Tuesday. The district includes the lodges at Ypsilanti, Wayne, Sheldon and Plymouth. Grand officers were present and Crescent Lodge had charge of the work in the evening. A banquet was served at 6:00 o'clock. Election of officers took place during the afternoon. Several members of the Plymouth lodge were present.

YPSILANTI GIRL WINS PRIZE FOR CLUB WORK

Leona Gale, Ypsilanti, won a prize of $100 in the national contest for local leaders of boys and girls' club work. The success which has been attained in Michigan in this club work is due in a great measure to the fine work done by local leaders.

Entrants in this contest were from the states prominent in club work. Prizes were awarded on the basis of two years of work as a club member, the results accomplished as a local leader and a personal story of the entrant's experience as a local club leader.—Dally Ypsilantian Press.

Miss Gale is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Gale of this place.

NOTICE TO ALL DeMOLAY'S

The members and past members of Fellowship Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will hold a social meeting in the Northville lodge rooms on Thursday evening, November 18th, 1926. A chicken-pie dinner will be served at 6:30, the social meeting to follow with entertainment for all, including a speaker.

TOO NUMEROUS TO MENTION

The advantage of living in Plymouth is too well known to the average citizen to need comparison here. But it might not hurt to point out that finding a place to park is not to be overlooked. It is getting to be a serious problem in every city and in many of our larger towns. In fact, so serious has it become in many places that merchants are complaining that those living on the outskirts are actually driving several miles out of their way to do their buying in suburban towns. They can park at will, their machine is safe from molestation, they do not have to stand for the impudence or sarcasm of an officious traffic cop, there is far less danger of traffic accidents—and prices are as low, and in many instances lower in small towns than in the big city groceries and stores. The auto has hit the smaller towns some hard blows, but it promises to even up in other ways. And carrying city people to the country to trade in one of them.

LET'S NOT LAG HERE

A minister in Maryland recently sent a lengthy communication to his home-town newspaper condemning the radio which, he says, has been responsible for a great falling off in attendance at his church. He has broken ground for a good argument, and one in which every section of the country will be interested.

We have no desire to condemn the radio, because we believe it is one of the greatest blessings ever given to mankind. But we do want to warn citizens of Plymouth and vicinity who have radio sets against permitting themselves to fall into the habit of remaining away from church simply because they can tune in and hear a good sermon without leaving their homes. Hearing the sermon is all right, but when you do not attend church you are taking from that institution a great moral prestige. You are encouraging someone else to stay away, and you are also weakening the fellowship and friendly intercourse which is so vital and so valuable a part of church and community life. If you let the radio sermon keep you from hearing the sermons of your home minister you are encouraging the children of the community to grow lax in their church duties. And that is a serious thing.

The foundation of this country is based to a very large extent on its churches. They will perish when people quit attending them, and when the churches perish it isn't going to be a very good country or a very safe one to live in. Let's get all the information and enjoyment possible out of the radio. But let's not strike a serious blow at the future welfare of both ourselves and our community by letting it keep us away from church.

THIS IS APPROPRIATE

We note in a daily paper that an organization is being formed to raise funds for the erection of some prominent point west of the Mississippi river—a monument to the memory of the pioneer women who helped to settle the west. We believe it is a good idea. We also believe every one in Plymouth who learns of such a move will endorse it. We have books galore and moving pictures and memorial highways honoring the men who blazed the trail across the continent. But up to this time we seem to have lost sight of the vital part played by the brave and noble women who shouldered hardships and fought alongside their husbands to reclaim the wilderness.

It was no easy job the pioneer mother had, raising her children and helping to plant each season's crop and assisting in the harvest. The men didn't do everything in the way of pioneering and homesteading. The bounding west probably never have been claimed for civilization but for the bravery of the wives and daughters of the early settlers. If ever a class of citizens deserved a monument for good and faithful service, it was the pioneer mothers of the old west. So if we are called upon to subscribe for such a movement let's not hesitate to show how firmly we are of this belief.

OLD TIME SHARKS

In the good old days, when sharpers were practically allowed to roam at will throughout the state, the rural districts were constantly being invaded by gangs of the nimble-fingered fraternity, one of their favorite pastimes being the old soap trick. There was a lead man in the crowd, whose job it was to sell little bars of soap to the natives at five and ten dollars a cake. He was always accompanied by a few coppers to start business off and after that the rest was easy. Settling down on a main corner in the village, the leader would proceed to wrap ten and twenty dollar bills with each package of soap, leaving a corner of the bill protruding from the wrapper. Up would step one of their gang, purchase a cake for five dollars and in the presence of the gaping crowd proceed to extract a twenty dollar bill. The way the boys back home would fall for the gag was a sight to make the angels in heaven weep, they fairly fell over each other to put up five dollars for the torn corner off a twenty that had been cleverly substituted for the original bill right before their eyes.

The law finally chased the old gang out of business, but in their place have come the modern slicker who exhibits beautiful colored stock certificates, with seven per cent payable in gold printed in big letters across the face, and the wise boys of this day and generation fall for it as did their forebears for the soap trick a couple of decades ago. Every community can use for legitimate purposes its surplus capital. It is always a good plan to invest your savings where you can see them every day if you desire. And should you wish to put your money in outside ventures, there is always one unerring rule to follow—CONSULT YOUR BANKER FIRST.

NEWBURG

Rev. Walker preached a splendid Armistice Day sermon last Sunday, taking for his text Isaiah 2:4, making an earnest plea for peace. There were 78 in Sunday-school. They want to make it 100 before Christmas. Miss Louise Gency gave a fine financial report.

The Thanksgiving party will be held Monday evening, November 22. A nice program is being arranged by Misses Anna and Ada Youngs.

Visitors at church Sunday, were: Mrs. Ella Wight, Mrs. Harry Bassett, Miss Marjorie Wight and John Seymour of Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Egerton Woods and Mrs. Ada LeVan of Plymouth.

The Epworth League is holding a contest to see who can get the most members. The captains are Miss Joy McNabb, Miss Elizabeth Leonard and Miss Lydia Joy.

The L. A. S. held a very pleasant meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Gimsolly last Wednesday. All did ample justice to the New England dinner that was served at $10. They decided to divide the society into two circles. Mrs. Bertha Joy will act as captain of those north of Ann Arbor road, and Mrs. Metta Gimsolly captain of the south side. The mite boxes were opened, the result being $267. $225 was paid on the note in the bank, leaving an indebtedness of $137. The ladies think they will be able to clear that this winter.

Mrs. Clyde Smith entertained her Sunday-school class of girls, last Saturday afternoon, at the hall. The usual good time was had.

Rev. and Mrs. Walker and son, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ryder and son, Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith, Mrs. Charles Ryder, Mr. and Mrs. Joy McNabb and daughter, Joy, attended the supper and fair at Leveh, Saturday evening.

There was a large attendance at the Ivesonia Community church supper and fair held Friday evening in the Gleamer hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith and Mrs. C. E. Ryder, went to Brown's greenhouses, Sunday, to see the display of beautiful chrysanthemums. Coming home by the River Rouge-Ford Plant, they had the good fortune to see the Benson Ford ocean-going vessel come in, seeing two of the big lift bridges open to let it through.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Joy motored to Owosso, Sunday afternoon, calling on old friends there.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Guthrie attended a hard-time Halloween party at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Brand, Oak Knoll, Plymouth. The entertainment of the guests was rather unimpeccable a treasure hunt, which led them into some spooky places such as the haunted house and the cemetery. Mrs. Guthrie was the successful one in discovering the treasure which consisted of 100 new pennies in a tin box. The hostess served refreshments in keeping with the season.

Miss Clara Grimm arrived home from Harper hospital last Sunday. Her many friends are glad to learn of her convalescence.

Notable Changes Made in Meaning of Words

Of the great mass of words in the so-called Anglo-Saxon tongue which pass current today as English, less than one-twentieth are entitled to rank as Anglo-Saxon, writes Dr. F. H. Vizelety. So far is the English language from being Anglo-Saxon tongue that it is the most composite language known today. In none other do foreign words play so important a part, and by none other have they been assimilated in so great a number. From the very beginning the settlers on Britain's shores forced their various dialects on the natives, and their conquerors were not slow in following their example.

That the language is in a constant state of mutation can be shown conclusively by many words the meanings of which have varied as the years rolled on. The word agony, for instance, was used originally to designate the contortions or twistings of the body, resorted to by athletes and wrestlers in public contests or exhibitions of feats of strength. The word came to us from the Greek agōn, an assembly, or a place of contest, from ago, to assemble.

In early English, an agony was a violent contest or struggle, and a few years ago it was used to mean "the fad or fashion of the day," thus agony became synonymous with "style," and those who followed the style had ever ready on their lips the burning question, "What's the agony?" But in the course of the transition from one meaning to the other, the word itself assumed a third and a much more spiritual and expressive sense, and came to connote "anguish," that is, intense suffering and excruciating pain.

What will the bachelor girls think when they are informed that the term bachelor owes its origin to the Latin vacca, a cow? And as for the "girl" part, that is an evolution from verbe as used in the "Vision of Piers Plowman," by William Langland, written about 1332, in which the term designates "boys." In middle English, girl was sometimes used indiscriminately to mean a young person of either sex. Years ago a folk-etymologist traced this word to the Anglo-Saxon ceorl (ke-erl), a man, later corrupted to churl, a vulgarian.

Originally bachelor embraced both sexes, and Ben Jonson, when writing of a certain fascinating beauty whom he dubbed the "Magnetic Lady," said: "We do not trust your uncle, he would keep you a bachelor still, by keeping your portion." And keep you not alone without a husband. But in a sickness.

Unusual Episode

"Saw a funny thing yesterday, as I was coming here on the train," related Sigmund Smith of Rainpage. "A young couple across the aisle from me talked about going to Kay See, and acted like they might have been just married. When the train came to Mooraw, back down the road a piece, the young man went out on the car platform, apparently to look at something, and a bunch of young fellows rushed around the corner of the depot and yanked him off from the train."

"Did they know him?" inquired a hearer. "I don't know. The last thing I saw four of 'em had him by the corners and were bumping him against the depot, like they either knew him or had heard of him, and the young lady, that I judged to be the bride, had fainted."—Kansas City Star.

Before You Start Your Furnace

AT THIS season of chilly mornings and evenings health and comfort alike call for some means of heating bathroom and living room. You may not care to start the furnace yet and possibly over-heat the house on warm days—and it certainly is a bother to clean out the furnace and start a new fire.

The electric air heater helps out in these "betwixt and between" fall days. It will take off the edge of the first chill of fall; and it is often convenient to use for auxiliary heating during the winter. The small heater costs about three cents an hour for current. Turned on and off in an instant.

Picnic! Ye Gods! Another farm institution is passing. A new invention which threshes grain as it cuts has made hundreds of threshing machines useless in the West. At the same time it has removed from farm life one of its happiest institutions. In spite of the hard labor which it involved both for men and for women the threshing season was the happiest of the year for the rural communities. For every farmer it marked the fruition of a season's labor, the pay day of the year. When it came the biggest and best meals the American housewife could provide were served. For the youth on the farm the threshing season was a continuous picnic.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Elderly Twins The birthday of the oldest living twins in the United States has become something of a fête day in Mercer county, Ohio, peopled by the festival-loving German and Alsatian immigrants and their descendants. The twins are Mrs. Margaret Konrath, who lives near Coldwater, a few miles from Celina, and Mrs. Catherine Petot, of Loudenville, Ohio. They were ninety-two on July 20. The twins came to America from their home in Neulerheim, Alsace, in 1854. They do not boast they expect to reach 100 together, but admit "they wouldn't be surprised."—Indianapolis News.

Dumb Luck "I thought you told me you were experienced!" a much-shaken old gentleman spluttered as he crawled from the wreck of his handsome new car, which his chauffeur had just wrapped around a tree. "I am," asserted the chauffeur. "Why, I drove three years for an officer during the war and was wounded every year."

Wounded! Only wounded! snorted his employer disgustedly. "By George, he must have been a rotten shot or he'd have got you the first year!"

Science Advances as Slowly Rising Spiral There is nothing new under the sun. Science has developed, if not in a circle, at least in an ascending spiral, according to Dr. J. Newton Friend. It has continually followed earlier trends, but on increasingly higher planes, like a railway circling a mountain top, he told members of the Royal Institution in a recent lecture in London. Side by side with their pseudo-magic, the ancient priests of Chaldaea and Egypt gradually accumulated a varied stock of scientific facts which were of invaluable assistance in enabling them to carry out simple experiments to impress the mob. They learned, for instance, that gases expand when heated, and utilized the fact in performing many a miracle, such as forcing out a libation through a tube concealed in the arm of the idol, Hero of Alexandria, an adroit Greek physician who flourished about 100 B. C., has left an account of many of these "miracles." Among other things he has described what is usually known as the first steam engine. This consisted of a spherical boiler of water which, when heated gave off steam through several nozzles, causing it to revolve very much on the same principle as the pinwheels that delight little boys on the Fourth of July. The Greeks were not interested in experiment. That was mental work fit only for slaves. Accordingly they produced theories. Besides the well-known corollaries of Aristotle and others there was Democritus, who developed an atomic theory of matter, the essential features of which were generally accepted until the time of Dalton, said Doctor Friend. Alchemy did not come till the Christian era, but it lasted well on into the Seventeenth century till the time of Boyle, one of the early physicists. The industry and end-all of alchemy, transmutation of metals, after enjoying a couple of centuries of disrepute, declared Doctor Friend, now engages the attention of the best scientific minds, since the investigation of radioactive elements shows that they have probably been undergoing spontaneous change into other simpler atoms.

Mysterious Message Mr. W. K. Ludlum, a New York broker, has other problems than the fluctuations of the stock market to solve. Upon returning to his home one evening, Mr. Ludlum found the following note from the maid printed in capital letters: "MIS MARKS COULD'P SEZ ZINZ YAKOMOM GOLEHTP SEZ NOMATER HOW LET IS GONABEE COLERTP."

Mr. Ludlum studied the note for some time, but finally gave it up. In the morning he asked an explanation from the maid. In plain English the note was meant to say: "Miss Marks called up. Says as soon as you come home, call her up. Says to matter how late it is going to be, call her up."

There is reason for complaint, for Miss Marks is a customer of Mr. Ludlum, and when he called her in the morning he was informed that she had just left for the West.—The Outlook.

Comparing Advantages The country cousin was visiting her city cousin. She was pined with the city and was pointing out the many advantages of city life. The city cousin said: "Yes, we have our advantages and you also have your advantages in the country. In the country you do not have any of the smoke and dirt that city people have to contend with. I have always lived in the city and my lungs are black from the smoke in the air. You have always lived in the country and your lungs are nice and pink."

"Just think of it," said the country cousin, "your lungs are black and mine are pink, and yet we are first cousins."

Florida Saws Felix Isman, one of Florida's most active promoters, said at a Miami luncheon: "The Florida colored people are an interesting lot. Their proverbs are especially interesting. "They have a cynical proverb about marriage—'Marriage got teeth.' "Another marriage proverb of theirs, though, is hopeful and helpful—'A kiss a day keeps divorce away.' "And they have a sociological proverb with some truth in it—'Fat dog say to thin dog, 'Buck up!'"

Rustproof Swords The war office of Japan is considering the adoption of rustproof swords for all Japanese army officers. In Japan an officer is not regarded as fully dressed unless he wears his sword. Damp weather is so prevalent that swords must be polished at all times, and even then it is difficult to avoid rust. A sword-maker recently invented a rustproof weapon which he submitted to the war department.

Odd Articles Lost Only 42 per cent of the lost property turned in annually to Scotland Yard finds its way back home, according to the annual report of the metropolitan police of London. The total number of articles found and turned in to the police during 1925 was 183,576. Among the deposits last year were a ferret, two human leg bones, a glass eye, two white mice and a parrot.

Community Building

New Industries Must Fit Into Community

Indiscriminate efforts to grow a forest of American cities to grow a forest of smoke stacks by locating new industries within their limits were condemned by the conference of industrial managers of chambers of commerce held recently in Washington under the auspices of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

These trained specialists declared themselves committed in a practical way to the principle of seeking to locate in their cities only those industries for which there is prospect of economical and profitable operation. They concluded that the un-economically located factory is a loss not only to those who have invested their money in the enterprise but to the community in which it is located.

The conference discussed among other things, the industrial survey as the basis for the determination of economical factory locations. Information thus obtained is drawn upon in presenting the situation from the viewpoint of a particular industry. It covers the natural resources of the community, its industrial resources; its condition of industrial operations including cost of labor, fuel, power, materials, transportation; its social condition and conditions of trade; its financial conditions and available factory sites.

If the conditions disclosed do not fit the industry, it is better for the community, the conference decided, to do without it rather than suffer the ill effects its subsequent failure would entail.

Bricks and Mortar of First Importance Some suggestions to persons who are contemplating building a brick house are made by an expert on the subject who contributes a letter to the series on homebuilding in Liberty. "A few extra dollars invested in your brick will add much value if ever you want to sell," he writes. "Nine out of ten contractors buy cheaper brick than your contract calls for. Unless you have a good architect, buy your own brick. Make certain of the type of house."

"Go not to one but to half a dozen firms selling face brick," he advises. "Have their salesmen show you houses that have been finished at least a year, and see how the brick weathers. Select according to your personal taste and watch for contrast with nearby houses."

"Get the right color mortar for your brick. Many beautiful homes are spoiled by using white or common mortar with gray or white bricks. Red or chocolate is just the thing for buff or gray, but never for red brick. Don't spoil an expensive red or mingled brick by using white. It kills the color. Black will give the cheapest brick a rich appearance. Buff is the safe choice."

Select Plans Carefully The home builder today is short-sighted if he puts his money into anything but a well-built and well-designed home. It costs very little if any more to build from a good plan that puts in those clever little touches here and there that give the house that individual and attractive look which means so much when the place is offered for sale.

Many builders are still drawing their own plans and are not giving enough thought and study to them to keep them up to date and in line with what the best people want today.

Shoddy Building Hurts Even aside from the danger of storms, floods, earthquakes and other visitations of nature, the erection of flimsy, shoddy houses is to be condemned. Poor residence construction involves a tremendous financial loss, which falls directly upon the home owners of the land. A residence should reflect strength and character. A good house is always the best investment in the long run. It is the cheapest financially, and it offers the greatest return in pleasure and usefulness to the owner.

Americans Use Much Paint For every man, woman and child in the United States more than a gallon of paint is used every year. Can you imagine what our country would be like if, by some catastrophe, we were deprived of paints and var-nishes?

Paint brings light into dark corners. It is a protection against decay when put on wooden houses or metal structures, a means of sanitation as well as beauty when applied to the interior of our homes.

Highway Tree Planting The exercise of judgment, especially where trees are planted on only one side of a highway, often satisfies both parties. Property holders are frequently not consulted, and the fact that citizens have rights under certain conditions is not recognized until there is an outspoken protest from citizens with a proper sort of pride in the possession of these fine adjuncts to a landscape.

A CARD—We desire to express our sincere thanks and deep appreciation to the neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness during our recent bereavement; especially do we wish to thank those who sent the beautiful flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Singer, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Leonard, Mrs. Coda Kelly and daughter, Ione.

PLYMOUTH BOY ON ALBION DEBATING TEAM.

Albion's second international debate will be held Friday evening, November 19th, when the Albion team meets three young men from the University of Sydney, Australia, on the question "Resolved, That Democracy is a Failure."

The Australian team is composed of three graduates. The leader, Sydney Houghton, is an ex-service man who is now on the editorial staff of a Sydney newspaper. Mr. John Goddall, the second speaker, is a medical graduate, on the resident staff of St. Vincent's Hospital, Sydney. The third speaker, Noel D. McIntosh, winner of athletic honors, is now engaged in the practice of law. This team comes to the United States with the hope, not only of exchanging points of view with American university men, but also of bringing about a better understanding between the United States and Australia.

Albion will be represented by three seniors: Eugene Fowler, Saulte Ste. Marie; Richard Chamberlain, Newberry; and Kenneth Bartlett, Bartlett. A Plymouth boy, president of the student council and debated against Cambridge last year. The men have represented the college in debate each of their four years in college and are outstanding in the life of the campus.

LIVONIA UNION CHURCH NOTES

The Sunday School is planning for a rally day some time in the near future. Date will be announced later. The prayer meetings are growing better and better every week. Twenty-eight at prayer meeting last Thursday evening. There was a splendid congregation both morning and evening last Sunday. On Monday evening all members and friends enjoyed a pleasant evening when E. C. Smith of Dearborn, made it possible for them to enjoy another one of those famous dinners. This time it was a venison dinner. Safe to say everybody had all they wanted to eat and everybody who knows Bob knows he never does any thing half way. Mr. Smith just returned from a hunting trip in Kenney, Ontario.

Prehistoric Workshop

A complete prehistoric workshop containing 17 heaps of flint tools and weapons, numbering altogether 4,000 pieces, was discovered recently by geologists at Frindsbury, Rochester, England.

The tools include hand axes of large flint flakes, hammer stones of quartz, and large rounded pieces of flint.

The discovery was made in a queer saucer-shaped depression in a chalk cliff, and the relics are believed to date from the middle Pleistocene times—the age supposed to precede immediately that of present-day man.

Success at Last

"The secret of America's success lies in the fact that it gets what it goes after." The speaker was Charles M. Schwab. "It is the spirit of the American business man and the spirit of the American youth. Indeed, we can all take example from the young lover who was having difficulty with his sweetheart.

"I've told you for the last time, she protested, 'that you can't kiss me!'" "I knew you'd weaken eventually," he cried in triumph.

Thrill in Building Home

Few persons build a home more than once in a lifetime. When they build they ought to secure the very best that they can afford in design, materials and workmanship.

In this way they get a home that will be admired by everyone and one that can be sold if necessary.

Begin right now on building a home of your own. Consult the builder and building material man. They will help you realize that American ideal—owning a home of your own.

ZONE B MEETING HELD

Zone B was very pleasantly entertained at Elm school last Saturday, Nov. 6. The teachers held their business meeting in the morning. Miss Loraine Cochran, Wayne county helping teacher for the northern division, presided. Silent reading, seat work, arithmetic, especially Curtis practice drills, health and citizenship were the main topics for discussion. Citizenship being the subject to be most stressed this month. Miss Cochran taught a very helpful demonstration lesson in it.

Mrs. Sharpe, Wayne county nurse, gave a short talk on health. She especially urged the teachers to organize safety patrols and to teach safety in every way they could.

Mr. Carr, county club leader, explained that he was ready to organize handicraft clubs wherever they were wanted and to be of whatever assistance he could.

At noon members of the Elm P. T. A. served a delicious dinner to all present. The afternoon meeting was called to order at 1:30. The audience sang "America the Beautiful." Then members of the Elm Citizens' Junior club presented a short but very interesting Thanksgiving program.

The Zone was divided into two divisions and plans were formulated for a contest between the two. The aim of it being a better attendance at these meetings by the patrons. This is the lineup:

X Group—Pierson, Livonia Center, Chouville, Patchen, Beech, Cooper.

Y Group—Elm, Bradward, Wilcox, Stark, Permsville, Walkersville.

Patrons boost your group by attending as many of these meetings as possible.

The principal speaker of the afternoon was Mr. Moffat of the Detroit Teachers' College. His subject was "The Conservation of Our Natural Resources," a problem which all should heed.

(Signed) Ina Wolfson, Secretary.

A Ring Has Made These Two Happy

Through ancient and honored custom lives are bound together with the symbol of the ring. The pride and joy of the girl on whose finger sparkles for the first time the ring of betrothal is a tribute to this happy tradition. She knows that the ring—sign of completeness—has made her life complete.

And today—by newer custom—she, too, receives a ring. The exchange of tokens was the happiest moment in both their lives. Naturally they were selected with the most loving care. "Any old ring" would not do for this immensely important rite.

So they asked to see W-W-W Rings. They wanted them for their matchless beauty, their flawless workmanship, their lasting qualities. For W-W-W Rings are amply guaranteed against accidents to settings. If they are loosened or lost they are replaced free of charge and none of the value of sentiment is lost.

SCHOOL NOTES

Boy Scouts

Boy Scouts of Plymouth went to Camp Brady, Saturday, Oct. 30.

At six-thirty Saturday morning nine scouts, one assistant scoutmaster, scoutmaster, and two of the scouts fathers, left for Detroit to join with the rest of the 2,500 scouts who were going to Camp Brady.

We all met at Cadillac Square. The city of Detroit gave 20 busses with paid drivers to take the boys. There were 600 private cars driven.

We arrived at camp, which is 34 miles north of Detroit, about 11:30. After a few minutes of rest, fires were built on which we cooked our dinners.

In the afternoon at 1:30 there was bugle call for all scouts to meet. We took part in games of push ball, speed ball, base ball and foot ball. After the games came the planting of the first tree by Eagle Scouts.

Some of the old scout leaders spoke on the subject of "How Scouts Came to America" and about "The Life of George M. Brady." After this dedication of the camp, we had supper which prepared us for the "Mystery Hike."

Just as soon as it was dark we all lined up four wide and started through the woods on a rough and crooked path. The first half mile was through a large woods. Then we came to a lane which was bordered by ghosts and pumpkins sitting on fence posts. Then came the hard climb up to a natural theatre where the leaders put on a play called "The Devil and His Witches" which had a very thrilling ending. A ghost made our blood run cold. Then we had to go back through woods and over hills the same way we came. When we got back to the camp grounds it was about 8:30. We then started for home and arrived in Plymouth at 10 o'clock.

After the games we had the Grand Review. The Detroit Scouts were divided in their respective areas under the commissioned officers of that district. The officer in charge of the ones outside of Detroit was on the Board of Review and so was not able to take charge of this division which was composed of Wayne, Dearborn, Plymouth and Fordson. This being the case it was the privilege of the Plymouth troop to have their Scoutmaster appointed in charge of this area.

Cars for the Plymouth Scouts were donated by Charles Root and Clare Travis.

The names of the scouts who went were as follows: Mr. Snavely, Scoutmaster; Mr. Travis, Ass't. Scoutmaster; Donald Atkinson, Forbes Smith, Harvey Segnitz, Leroy Segnitz, Teddy Baughn, Chas. Root, Edwin Patrick, Jack Caldwell and Clare Lyke.

Grade Notes

Norman Van Arsdale and Irma Strohauer are back in school. Irma has been having a long illness. Norman has been moving, and it was made difficult for him to be with us for a few weeks. We are glad to see both of them back.

Mrs. Bloxson's 2-A room is glad to see George Smith back after his long illness of a broken leg. They have a new pupil, Evelyn Johnson, who has come to us from the Webster School in Detroit.

Mrs. Charles Rathburn visited the sixth grade room Tuesday afternoon. We are hoping that she will visit us again soon.

The sixth-B division of Miss Ballaban's room is beginning the study of Europe. The newspaper reporter for this week is Catherine Dougan and the librarian is Irene Humphries. The sixth-A division are making maps of Africa. J. D. McLaren was absent a few days last week because of blood poisoning in his finger. Our teacher brought back some penmanship papers from the teachers' convention last week. We are trying to improve our writing by these papers. In arithmetic, the A division is studying interest.

Seventh Grade Home Economics

The seventh grade home economics classes are still working on their rugs. They have made them quite large. The girls are taking them home to finish. They will soon start on Christmas things.

Eighth Grade Home Economics

The eighth grade home economics class had a practical test for this month's work. The dishes prepared were written on separate sheets of paper. Each girl drew a slip and prepared her dish without a recipe or the aid of the teacher. The girls are anxious to become real cooks, not "cook book" cooks.

Physical Training

In physical training the seventh and eighth grade classes had a posture test last week. They are going to have physical examinations given by the county nurse next week.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says he notices that most doctors are good-natured, and he supposes they have to be, dealing with the kind of people they do.

One nice thing about having to listen to some fellows talk is you can be thinking about something else at the same time.

"Maybe the reason there is always room at the top," says Dad Plymouth, "is because everybody wants to get in on the ground floor."

Dancing, they say, is merely wasting time but some young fellows seem to squeeze a lot of pleasure out of it.

Dad Plymouth says that when a fish escapes he probably strains his fins trying to tell how big the hook was.

Dad Plymouth says the trouble with the crime situation in this country is the crooks are all travelling in high-powered cars while the cops are trying to catch them in flivvers.

PERRINSVILLE SCHOOL NOTES

Reporter—Margaret Knorfske

We organized our sewing club November 4th, 1926. The officers elected are as follows: President, Margaret Knorfske; vice president, Bernidine Berneski; secretary, Edna Knorfske; treasurer, Anna Kartje. We elected three women for our advisory board, who are as follows: Mrs. Henry Klatt, Mrs. Henry Kubie, Mrs. Joseph Bock. Our local leader is Miss Rabel.

Miss Lorraine Cochrane, our helping teacher, brought our Gold Star Card, Thursday, November 4th. She also brought our Citizens' Junior Club constitution and Stanford achievement tests for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

The second and third graders have been making some very nice health posters as a result of their study of hygiene.

Our attendance for the last month was 95%, due to the fact that we had a contest, and the side that lost had to treat the other side.

MEANS OF COMBATING CORN BORER GIVEN IN U. S. BULLETIN.

Recent field experiments conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture have demonstrated the value and necessity of plowing under corn stalks and corn refuse and other plant debris as a means of corn-borer control. This method leaves the borer without adequate winter quarters, with the result that most of them finally perish either being eaten by birds, beetles, or ants, or killed by various native parasites or by exposure to the weather.

The use of plows with wide bottoms and a chain or wire to aid in burying all debris is an important help in doing a clean job. It is important that the material turned over not be dragged up by later cultivation.

In the experiments, where the stalks were piled down and plowed under, as high as 97 per cent. of the borers were killed. The disking of cornfields gave very unsatisfactory results. This practice, says the department, will have to be discontinued if effective control of the corn borer is to be achieved. Circular 84-M gives details.

MICHIGAN AT THE CHICAGO STOCK SHOW.

In recognition of its educational value to the stockmen and farmers along their lines, all railroads in the Upper Michigan granted an open round-trip rate of a fare and one-third to the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago, November 27 to December 4. Tickets will be sold from November 25 to December 1 inclusive and will have a return limit of December 10. All railroads in Lower Michigan will put in effect a rate of a fare and one-half with a similar period of sale, and a return limit of December 6. This offers an excellent opportunity to enjoy a visit to the world's greatest agricultural show and a trip to the metropolis with all its attractions at special reduced rates.

Michigan will be represented in the Non-Collegiate Live Stock Judging Contest at the International Live Stock Exposition, November 26 by its state champion team from Washtenaw County, composed of Raymond Girbach, Saline; Mac Olds, Ypsilanti; Clifford Boyer, Saline; and Rodney Lincoln, Saline. This team from the Washtenaw County Live Stock Club won first in the junior judging contest at the recent Michigan State Fair. It will compete at Chicago against similar state champion teams from all parts of the country to decide the national title. The three highest ranking individuals will receive agricultural college scholarships of $500, $300 and $200, offered by the Chicago Association of Commerce. Michigan has entered a team in the national contest every year since it was established in 1919.

EXPERIMENT SEEKS SCIENTIFIC CHECK OF REASON FOR MARKET CUTS FOR CERTAIN GRADES.

Is there a sound reason for the fact that "heifer beef" brings a lower price than steers when the farmer consigns a shipment to market?

An answer to this question is being sought in a special beef production experiment being carried out in the feed lots at the Michigan State College, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the college cooperating in the tests.

The almost universal custom of a lower price scale for heifers on the beef market has come under fire, and the specialists at Michigan State College are out to prove the right or wrong of the practice. Complete scientific data will be kept all through the experiment, ending in a careful chemical analysis of the meat after the animals are finally slaughtered.

Thirty head of calves which are on feed were separated into lots according to sex, and then split into sections for various rations used in the test. The analysis when the beef is dressed out also will show the difference between the three rations used. Cattle men are said to be especially anxious to determine whether or not ensilage affects the quality of the meat.

The calves, grade Shorthorn and Angus, were purchased on the Chicago market, according to Prof. G. A. Bramaman, of the Michigan State College animal husbandry department, who is conducting the experiment.

A PLEASANT EVENT

On the evening of October 30th, the Waterford Hounds were hosts to a large party of the rural residents around Northville and Plymouth at a Halloween Barn Dance. This party was given for the benefit of the farmers and their families, whose lands have been used by the Waterford Hounds for hunting as well as those whose lands the hunters expect to use within the next year or so.

A large tent was pitched on the Clubhouse grounds and Jules Klein's orchestra did itself proud with snappy music for old and new dances. Refreshments were served throughout the evening. At a late hour, the farmers, happy though tired, left for their homes, pronouncing the party a huge success.

BAPTIST NOTES

The sunshine last Sunday morning gave a loud call for people to attend church. The spirit of the meeting revealed the help of the special meetings just closed. Before the sermon, the pastor gave the right hand of fellowship to several new members.

Next Sunday evening, we are planning for a baptismal service.

The male quartet sang fine last Sunday evening, and the chorus was great. It will do you good to get into the song service each Sunday evening.

Do not forget the donation to be given to the Baptist children's home near Birmingham. Anything in money, groceries, vegetables or fruits of any kind, canned or whole. They can be brought to the church from this week Thursday until Monday, or to the parsonage. Last year a fine load was taken. Let's do as well or better this year.

Last week Friday evening, November 5th, was the Wayne Association of the B. Y. P. U. Rally in the church. A crowd of young people were present to enjoy the evening. Miss Gertrude Coe, president of Walled Lake, opened the meeting. Rev. Ketchum of Pontiac, assistant pastor to the "Little Radio Church," led the song service and sang several solos. New officers were elected. Rev. Kelsey, assistant pastor at Temple Baptist church, gave the address. Bethney Baptist of Pontiac carried home the banner. They had 33 delegates. This is the third time they have won. Novi had a good delegation of about twenty. There were some lights and shadows during the evening as the fuse burned out twice and left the crowd in darkness, but all ended well. So come again.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The Busy Women's Bible Class met Tuesday at the church, when business work and pleasure all had a place. Preparations are under way for the annual bazaar, and also for the sending of the usual missionary bale.

Mrs. Shaw's class gathered at the home of their popular teacher on Tuesday evening. After discussion, it was decided to organize the class, and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. B. E. Champ; vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Kaiser; secretary, Miss Regina Polly; treasurer, Miss Louise Webber. A good year's work is before this class.

A. E. Lofquist is taking charge of the organ and choir, and begins his new work next Sunday.

The Sunday-school is at work upon the Christmas entertainment which promises to be very fine.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at 10:30 a. m., Thanksgiving morning, in the Methodist Episcopal church.

METHODIST NOTES

The Quarterly Conference will meet Tuesday evening, the 16th. Dr. John Martin of Ann Arbor, will be present.

Mrs. Soti's circle will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Albert Groth, 311 North Harvey street.

Mrs. Richwine's circle will hold an all day meeting at the church Wednesday. Come prepared to tie comforters.

Mrs. Larkin's circle meets Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. W. D. Stewart, Dodge street.

LIVONIA CENTER COMMUNITY CHURCH BAZAAR AND SUPPER GREAT SUCCESS.

The bazaar and chicken dinner given by the Church Aid Society of the Livonia Center Community church last Friday, Nov. 5th, at the Glenner's hall in Newburg was a tremendous success in every way.

There was a splendid display of quilts, rugs, needlework and articles of use and beauty. The artistic painting and clever arrangement of the various booths was a real treat to the large crowds who voiced their appreciation in no uncertain sound. The country store, fish pond and cider mill attracted a great deal of attention. There was a ready sale for all the array of beautiful and useful things on display.

The marvelous chicken dinner was a veritable feast of good things. All expressed a feeling of profound satisfaction on leaving the tables and many remarked, "there was no good thing lacking." 300 guests were served while the splendid Star orchestra of six pieces rendered many beautiful selections of both classical and popular music.

Much praise for the success of this affair is due to the efficient and much loved president, Mrs. Harry Booth, who has had throughout the year the hearty cooperation of the 40 active members of this wide awake society.

The Young Peoples Club conducted a popularity contest and created quite a little excitement and fun. Several hundred votes were cast. Thelma Hahn and Max Tanner receiving the largest number of votes. The receipts of the Bazaar were $335. The society plans on a very progressive program for the coming year.

WORK ON MICHIGAN'S NEW STADIUM BEING PUSHED.

University of Michigan's new football stadium which will seat 7,000 persons and will be ready for the referee's whistle in the fall of 1927, is progressing rapidly. The latest type of excavating machinery is gouging into the side of a hill selected as the best available site for the stadium and the workmen are busy erecting the rows of reinforced columns on massive foundations.

The new stadium will be in the shape of a rectangular bowl, the seats on the sides being parallel with the side lines of the playing field and those on the ends being parallel with the goal lines.

As the bowl is being built on the side of a hill, it will be sunk into the ground and entrance from the west, south and north will be effected over the top from the high side of the hill. Entrance from the east, the down hill slope, will be by means of tunnels approximately two-thirds of the way up.

More than 40 acres have already been purchased by the board of control of athletics for the new stadium site which is considered ideal from a transportation standpoint. Main highways approach it from all directions. It is close to the main line of the Ann Arbor railroad from which a side track may be constructed to divert passenger trains to the stadium.

To purchase the site, erect the stadium and other buildings devoted to the advancement of athletics and physical education generally among the student body, the board authorized the issuance of $3,000 stadium bonds of the denomination of $500 each. All alumni and citizens of the state of Michigan may purchase these bonds and they are being snapped up in true "hurry up" style.

The bonds carry an unusual privilege: that of purchasing two tickets for seats between the 30-yard lines, for each bond owned. This privilege is good for ten years, beginning with the season of 1927, for home games only. As there is an average of five home games each season, the bond holder may purchase approximately 100 tickets in the ten year period for each bond owned.

PLYMOUTH AT RIVER ROUGE

Plymouth kicked the ball off the side and was penalized five yards second kick off side, then the ball was put in play on River Rouge thirty-five yard line. River Rouge made an end run for their first touchdown. They made a few line smashes and then an end run, which netted them a touchdown.

The River Rouge team tried a few passes in which they were successful and another touchdown was scored. During the first and second quarters it seemed as if the Plymouth team would be defeated by a larger score, but at the end of the second quarter the Plymouth team began to brace up and the half ended 39 to 0 in favor of River Rouge.

The third quarter began with River Rouge kicking the ball to Plymouth. Plymouth received the ball on the thirty-five yard line. A few passes were tried but were blocked by the River Rouge team. Doudt punted to their thirty-five yard line. In this quarter the two teams battled more furiously and River Rouge was forced to punt on their fourth down. Plymouth again was unable to gain through their line. They punted and River Rouge was down on their twenty-yard line, however they gained a touchdown. They made another touchdown shortly after this one.

The last quarter was shortened five minutes. It was in this quarter that Hickey made a run of thirty-five yards on receiving a punt. Plymouth was held again until the fourth down and then punted. River Rouge punted on their first down and Doudt recovered a fumble and ran from the twenty-five yard line for a touchdown. The game ended 52 to 6 in favor of River Rouge. Plymouth allowing River Rouge to only score twice in the last half.

THE THEATRE

"HER SECOND CHANCE"

A young girl's battle with the courts and the manner in which she is enmeshed in their skeins is the theme of "Her Second Chance," booked for Saturday, November 13th, at the Penniman Allen theatre. Anna Q. Nilsson has the leading feminine role, with Huntley Gordon playing opposite her and Charlie Murray cast in a featured comedy role.

Miss Nilsson, portraying the part of a wild Kentucky mountain girl is brought before the bar of justice accused of stealing a horse. In reality she has used the horse merely to fetch medicines for her ailing mother. But the judge will not be convinced by her story and she is sent to prison.

The rest of the story concerns itself with the manner of the girl's seeking revenge on the cruel judge. It is never satisfied, however, for a surprise twist in the story alters her desires. "Her Second Chance" is an adaptation of a novel by Mrs. Wilson Woodrow.

Direction of "Her Second Chance" was entrusted to Lambert Hillier, with June Mathis exercising editorial direction. The adaptation is by Eve Unsell.

"THE ACE OF CADS"

Adolphe Menjou, that ace of actors, comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday and Monday, November 14th and 15th, in a film version of Michael Arlen's "The Ace of Cads." Menjou portrays "Beau" Maturin as no other player could possibly have done. The dissolute young Guards lieutenant who reforms for love of a woman, is betrayed by a false friend, loses her and comes back twenty years later only to kill a second love so that the first may live—becomes an intensely real person in Menjou's skilful hands.

Those who have read Arlen's story (and who hasn't?) know that it concerns Beau's love for Eleanor, a beautiful English girl. Basil de Gramercy "frames" Maturin and compromises him in such a way that his sweetheart thinks him unfaithful. Her lack of faith makes the youth forget everything, and he soon receives a dishonorable discharge from the regiment. Eleanor marries the other man and Beau goes to Paris—and forgetfulness.

Years later, thinking time and the war have healed all scars, he returns. Then what? Director Luther Reed has endowed "The Ace of Cads" with one of the most amazing twists ever seen. You'll never guess what happens so why spoil your pleasure by divulging the finale?

Suffice it to say that Menjou has trumped "The King on Main Street" and "A Social Celebrity" with "The Ace of Cads." Alice Joyce and Norman Trevor are featured. Forrest Halsey wrote the screen play for Paramount.

"VARIETY"

"Variety," Paramount's latest picture, is distinctly different from anything that's been shown in Plymouth during the past few years.

The film opens on a prisoner—old, discouraged and weary—telling his story to the warden. We then "flash back" and the man's tale takes place before the eyes of the audience.

It seems that once on a time, twenty long years ago, this man had been a member of the world's greatest acrobatic act. They were prime favorites at the Berlin Winter Garden.

Then—something happened which spelt the beginning of the end. The prisoner's partner had made love to his pretty wife. And she, faithless, had returned the affection, completely forgetting her husband. Things went along quietly, until some one whispered in his ear telling of her faithlessness.

That night—high over the heads of a huge audience—he had debated whether or not to kill the man who had stolen his wife. Just a movement of a single finger—and he'd be rid of him. What should he do? Looking down, a thousand faces seemed to say, "No!"

Thoughts kept racing through his head—but the act continued as usual. Now the audience was applauding. Howling, they ran off.

But, hours later, he could stand it no longer. This man . . . snaked, viper . . . had stolen his wife—worse than a thief—he deserved no pity or justice. And so—he had killed him.

Then the scene fades out and we find ourselves once more in a dark room with the prisoner and warden. The official tells him a pardon has been granted—he is free.

There—that's "Variety!" Imagine what you're going to see. Scenes behind stage. On the trapeze at the Winter Garden. Marvellous acting of the principals—Emil Jennings and Lya de Patti. Great direction of E. A. Dupont, the "Griffith of Germany," and marvellous photography.

From advices received, "Variety" is said to be the finest film that has ever been the cinema studios. It comes to the Penniman Allen theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, November 17 and 18.

Today's Reflections

The Plymouth boy who everybody said was going to the dogs a few years ago, now is a man who thinks other boys are going to the dogs.

One of the first things a new motorist notices is what poor drivers all the other fellows are.

A sport writer is a fellow who tells in advance who is going to win, but who doesn't know any more about it than the average man.

Who can remember when it was customary for the Plymouth man who borrowed your shotgun to bring you a rabbit occasionally?

As a general thing the meek inherit the earth, but only about six feet of it.

We're always notified that it's no trouble at all for a Plymouth man to dig up an excuse for making a mistake after he has made it.

Maybe the great number of railroad wrecks lately are due to the scarcity of red petticoats.

Why is it that an old maid never seems to complain as much about her singleness as some of her neighbors.

The biggest coal problem around Plymouth about this time of year is how to divide about five tons into seven months.

They claim there is a style of bob to fit every shape head, but up to this time we haven't seen any square bobs.

We all have different ideas about hardships, but any Plymouth boy can tell you that hardship is having to wash his neck and ears every morning.

Another thing to be thankful for the latter part of this month is that there isn't another election this year.

When you see a Plymouth girl with a lot of powder on the outside of her face and a lot of gum on the inside of it you see what the funny writers refer to as a flapper.

The only opportunities some fellows seek are the ones that will enable them to get by without having to work.

A lot of men would rather be the moon than the sun. They figure that they'd see a lot more.

Even if a woman doesn't get married until she is 45, she will likely throw it up to her husband later on that she was robbed of her girlhood.

"A lot of this stuff they're drinking now is dangerous," declares Dad Plymouth. "When a fellow tries to light a cigar after imbibing some of it his breath is apt to back-fire on him."

SALEM

On Wednesday, the 3rd inst., the Salem Federated church held the first church night of the season. Approximately two hundred partook of the roast pork supper which was served by the Ladies Aid, in the church dining room. A musical program followed in the church auditorium, that revealed the merit of the musicians of the community. This was followed by an excellent address by Mrs. Isabel Kinch of Grindstone City, Mich. Mrs. Kinch lived up to her reputation—one of the foremost women speakers of the state. Her address was very helpful and was enjoyed by all present. The next church night will be held on Wednesday evening, December 1st. The speaker for the date will be Mr. Replie, superintendent of the young people's work for the Michigan State Sunday-School Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Franz Power and Mrs. Currie Herrick of South Lyon, were Sunday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. John Herrick.

GALPIN-PATRICK

The marriage of Miss Gladys Patrick daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Patrick, Danville, to Ivan Galpin, Dixboro, took place Saturday afternoon, October 30th, at 2:30, at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. E. L. Moon, Ann Arbor, pronounced the single ring service, following which he read an original poem on Home Building. The bride wore a pretty simple green crepe gown and carried a bouquet of opheila roses and valley lilies. Only the immediate families were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Galpin will make their future home on the Galpin farm, which Mr. Galpin is conducting in company with his father. Mrs. Galpin is a graduate of the Danville High School, and Mr. Galpin was graduated from Ypsilanti High School and Michigan State College.

REALTY BOARD MAKE PLANS

The Plymouth Realty Board has charted a course for 1927 that is destined to leave a wholesome impress on the future development trend of this village.

At the regular meeting of the board held in the office of the president, Roy Parrott, last Thursday evening, a unique questionnaire was presented to the members, which had the effect of bringing forth a wealth of ideas, many of which are being incorporated in the 1927 program.

The most important question and one that elicited the greatest interest was: "What, in your opinion, should be the principal objective of your board in the coming year?"

It was the consensus of opinion that the greatest good to the greatest number and to the city as a whole would come through the board initiating a community advertising campaign. Several members pointed to the fact that other Michigan communities were now using with great success the advertising columns of the Detroit and local newspapers, and in every case the city advertised was showing remarkable growth and sensible development.

Plymouth's strategic location, her splendid transportation facilities and unexcelled home environment, it was pointed out, were of such character that a dignified advertising campaign could be written around them and mark the first step in a "Greater Plymouth" development.

The matter of establishing the multiple listing plan among members of the board was also discussed, and is under consideration. In case the board decides to adopt the plan a special article dealing with the subject will appear in the Mail.

Other matters taken up by the board were suggestions concerning cooperation with the village commission regarding a building code, building restrictions in the business district, building inspection and business zoning.

Another question, "What else have you in mind that might help the board in becoming a greater factor in the development of our city?" is treated in another article in this issue. The principal thought suggested was "Eliminate the use of the phrase 'Lower Town' in describing North Plymouth." The board was enthusiastic in the adoption of the suggestion.

The officers of the board are elated over the increased interest that is being shown in the semi-monthly meetings, and are looking forward to the greatest year in the history of the village.

DETROITERS BUY PROPERTY IN PLYMOUTH DISTRICT.

Whether it is a portent of coming events is not known, however, two executives of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company have purchased residential sites in the Plymouth district, within the past week. One purchase almost adjoins the property recently acquired by Harry C. Robinson, president of the Plymouth City Commission, at the junction of Five Mile road and Bradner, and the other is a corner in Plymouth Gardens, adjoining the above and fronting Phoenix Park.

It has been rumored that three large Detroit plants were surveying the transportation possibilities and facilities of the Pere Marquette on this side of the site selected by the Peninsular Stove Works.

Indications and a multitude of rumors point to the rapid development of the Pere Marquette trackage toward Plymouth in the next year, and in the opinion of many who are studying the situation, we may expect a development surge shortly that will overshadow anything that Plymouth has known before.

ELIMINATE USE OF "LOWER TOWN"

At a meeting of the Realty Board last Thursday night, it was unanimously decided to urge and work for the elimination of the phrase "Lower Town" in designating North Plymouth. It was the opinion of the board that the use of the phrase was misleading and calumnious, created the wrong mental picture and was entirely opposed to the facts.

While it is well known that local citizens have never used the phrase disrespectfully, rather the result of habit, it is felt that a finer consideration would be paid this beautiful section of the city by using a more dignified phrase, preferably "North Plymouth." Many new residents, upon hearing "Lower Town" used for the first time, have asked why it was so designated, and with the repetition of the phrase, have themselves fallen a victim to the habit.

All sections of Plymouth have elements of beauty and charm that we are proud to record, and it is the feeling of the board members that all Plymouth benefits through the elimination of such a misleading misnomer.

MANY GOING TO MAKE TEXAS TRIP

Frank Rambo is calling attention this week to the fact that all who wish to join the Plymouth group on the trip to Texas and Old Mexico the 17th of this month, must make reservations before next Monday evening. This trip, which embraces both social and educational features, has been arranged for the express purpose of seeing that section of the United States which seems to have the call at the present time. Hundreds of Michigan farmers and city people, as well, have heard of the marvelous reports emanating from the Rio Grande section of Texas, and have gone down to verify the reports.

Following requests from several of his friends, Mr. Rambo has undertaken the task of organizing a local party, feeling that a greater enjoyment of the trip would be possible under such circumstances. It is essential, Mr. Rambo says, that all reservations for the trip be made before next Monday evening.

He also stresses the fact that there are positively no obligations regarding the purchase of any property there. It is purely an inspection trip which is to be made doubly enjoyable by a splendid entertainment program.

The Plymouth Special will leave at 7:00 p. m., Wednesday, November 17, and will return the night of the 23rd, two days before Thanksgiving, giving the local people ample time to prepare for observance of the day at home.

The program of pleasures includes a sight seeing trip into Old Mexico and many other instructive and enjoyable activities. All expenses incident to the trip are included in the price of the ticket and includes berth on the Pullman, diner, hotel, all meals, transportation to Old Mexico, and all local social activities at Carrizo Springs, in the Winter Park district.

Next Monday evening at 7:00 o'clock, is the zero hour for reservations.

To Get Best Results From Use of Paint

Even when lumber is properly seasoned no painting should be attempted if there is evidence of surface moisture, as will be the case after a damp, foggy or frosty night or a rainy spell. Moreover, it is unwise to do any outside painting in extremely cold weather. If satisfactory results are to be obtained, the temperature should not be lower than 50 degrees Fahrenheit.

When it is sure that the wood is perfectly dry the surface should be prepared for the first coat by being scraped and brushed to remove any dirt, mud or other foreign matter that may have adhered to it. This done, all knots and sappy streaks should be shellacked with pure alcohol shellac brushed out very thin, care being exercised to work it well into the knots and to cover one-half inch on all sides of them. It is advisable to allow the shellac to dry half a day before priming begins.

Three coats of paint should always be applied to exterior wood which has never been painted—a thin priming coat and two heavier coats. Two coats only are sometimes used on new wood for the sake of economy, but it is not true economy. A third coat makes a job look better and last twice as long.

Exterior work should be allowed to dry from two to four days before the next coat is applied. In fact, the longer the time between coats the better.—Washington Post.

Shade Makes Facing of House Important

In what direction should the house face? Eastern folks face west. In nearly all the central portion of the United States the popular idea is that a home fronting the east is most desirable; in the south central parts, a north front is thought next best, followed by the south frontage, with the western outlook generally condemned. Some are of the opinion, however, that the house facing the west has sometimes a real advantage.

If there is plenty of shade all around the house, the direction it faces makes little difference, though in the northern part of the country entrance doors on the north side are prolific sources of heat wastage in winter. The old east front idea arose from the use of the front porch in the evening, a practice that has given way to the habit of taking the air in the automobile after the evening dishes are washed. And a house without shade can be neither comfortable nor beautiful.

A level above the street is better than one below it, because of drainage difficulties as well as lack of air connected with the latter, but if the terrace be too high, the householder will grow very weary with the panning of the years from climbing the steps to his front yard. Two or three feet above the street grade line is ideal, with the lot so graded that rain-water will run away from the house in all directions.

Brick Construction Gains

Solid brick construction is steadily gaining in favor for small homes, owing especially to the relatively low cost of upkeep for the exterior walls. The amount of painting is much less. Also in some districts the insurance rates for this type of building are lower. There is an almost endless variety offered nowadays in brick, so that all sorts of interesting effects can be gained at moderate cost. The many brick bonds possible in solid brick construction give a most desirable variety and texture to the walls.

Care Will Prevent Fires

If everybody cleaned up the premises, and if everybody constantly inspected the lights used, and if everybody extinguished every match and cigarette or cigar after use, fires would become so infrequent that the work of the fire department would be rarely needed.—Chicago Post.
